Foreword

Music is with us in everything we do and is a constant reminder of our years at C. H. S. The slow, dreamy music of the Junior-Senior Prom, the lilting melodies of "Smoky Mountain," the classical music of the choir at Christmas, the hot tempos of the jazz enthusiasts, the spirited school songs of the fans at sports events, and the background music by which we study—these, as portrayed on the following pages, compose the various elements of our school life.

DEDICATION

We, the class of 1956, dedicate this edition of the Golden C to our advisor, Miss Beatrice Schwoerer, who has been an unfailing help and inspiration. By her skilled leadership, she helped to coordinate our class as the components of music are blended into a song.

*Best wishes
Beatrice Schwoerer*

The lasting melodies of the

As seniors we can look back on many and varied experiences here at C. H. S. These events during our earlier years, like single notes without definite melody or rhythm, at times seemed discordant. But now we realize that they have led to the harmony which will enrich our lives in future years, just as the notes of a song blend into the whole to produce the lasting effect.

the popular swing of the Popular music of today adds to the entertainment and enjoyment of our lives, whether the preference be slow mood music or fast tempos. Similarly we like to think of our extra-curricular program as providing the "popular" swing to our school life: a program which will suit the talents and interests of every student and furnish the background necessary for a well-rounded personality.

*Barbara,

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to promote high scholarship, leadership, service, and character among high school students. Five per cent of the junior class and ten per cent of the senior class may be elected if they meet the membership requirements. Character, service, and leadership are necessary for eligibility. In addition, a 4.5 average for juniors and a 4.2 average for seniors must be maintained, where A is equal to 5 and B is equal to 4. Final selection is based on a ballot of the faculty.

The hot jazz beat of the . . .

As jazz gives a more lively beat to the realm of music, athletics provide a faster tempo to our school life. In the gym and on the field, athletics develop not only physical ability, but good sportsmanship and school spirit from the fans to the players themselves.

ATHLETICS

Mr. Grayson, Mr. Weekley, and Mr. Martin, our three major sports coaches.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

"Time in with the whistle!" Carol-Ann Gingery

The Girls' Athletic Association, under the guidance of Mrs. Hilda Daley and Mrs. Ivy Sullivan, governs all girls' intramural and interschool sports. Following the regular class program, after-school sports include field hockey, archery, tennis, volleyball, basketball, and softball.

The basketball season marks the organization of the ref's club. Upon passing a special examination, the girls undertake all officiating and scoring of basketball games. The tumbling club is formed through keen competition testing the skill of each girl in certain basic stunts. Modern dancing also draws many girls from 9th to 12th grades. Membership in the beginners' group where basic skills are learned is open to all. Proficiency in these skills leads the girls to the intermediate and advanced groups. The cheerleading squad, chosen by its sponsor, captain, and an outside group of cheerleaders, leads cheers at football and basketball games, organizes pep assemblies and sells booster tags.

For participation in the various activities of the G.A.A., points are given on the basis of a system set up by the G.A.A. Council. Earning a specified number of points entitles the participant to her class numerals and finally the letter "C", all of which are awarded by the Council president at the annual spring awards assembly.

LASSMEN

Though little known at first, every song must travel steadily the road to fame and popularity. In the same way the underclassmen will work their way through the years to their position as seniors. We as seniors have known the underclassmen from the classroom to their many other endeavors: the Prom, the Follies, the magazine drive, class dances, and all other school activities.

Dear Cranford High:

Six years ago you greeted us on that first day of school with the tolling of your bell. We joined again with old friends and also made new acquaintances. Since that morning, you have been the center of our everyday lives — from junior high through high school. We have worked, played, laughed, and cried within your walls.

Many of the moments we have to remember are those which could not be pictured in this book. For how could we capture every milestone of our school years? Each morning we were greeted by the familiar voice of Mr. Zimmerman with the words, "Good morning, these are the announcements." This is just one of the memories we carry away, as integral a part of you as your very walls.

In the fall we remember the pep rallies — the magazine drive — your cloak of ivy changing from green to red — that first inevitable day of report cards. And how could we show on these pages the glow of the Christmas spirit — the thrill of an acceptance for the Follies, or the disappointment of a rejection — the excitement over tournaments? The annual concert heralded in the spring season — along with Easter vacation; and at your feet was a new carpet of grass adorned with flowers.

The year's end brought many exciting memories — the Prom — baccalaureate — senior class night — the signing of yearbooks — the climax of the school year with graduation and vacation. We will recall countless other things about you, Cranford High — hours spent in the guidance office — the "fear" of a call to the main office — monitors and the pass system — class elections — student council campaigns — assemblies — and many, many more.

Now we leave you, Cranford High, to the care of the underclassmen. We take with us these experiences and memories. Our feelings are expressed in the song which will always be a reminder of our years with you:

"When other nights and other days
May find us gone our separate ways,
We will have these Moments to Remember."
