DEDICATION

Through the challenges of the music he has brought to Cranford High School, he has asked of us a certain height. His friendship and guidance have given many his philosophy of the beauty and discipline of that music—of life itself—that we may always be on top of the tone.

We, the students of Cranford High School, dedicate our yearbook to James Lenney, to the man and his belief that we will:

“Choose something like a star
To stay our minds on
And be staid.”

SENIORS

enter to learn . . .

Our senior year has been one of excitement and challenge. Through an introduction to the many aspects of man's knowledge, we have increased our understanding of ourselves and of our world. We have engaged in many activities that have made us aware of our abilities and resources and have united us as a class. We have had a winning basketball team that has heightened our school spirit and enthusiasm. Our school choir has represented us at the World's Fair and on television. We have had a united effort to present the musical "Oklahoma" in the spring. Senior Day and our Senior Dinner helped to emphasize our class as a unified whole. The class of '65 has had an active and profitable last year in Cranford High School. We leave the high school with memories of our days there, and a sense of excitement and purpose in regard to our future lives.

GO FORTH TO SERVE

Competition's keen between Dapper Dick, his best dressed friend, Kathy, and Ron and Marie, the best looking twosome around.

Wayne Atlas Huckel is holding up the world, but what male can survive without the help of females like Brenda and Ruth?

Lanny and June are smiling nicely while Ellen and Shelly, our class flirts, are thinking other thoughts.

Fred and Sue hold back the blushes as Nancy and Shel, our school personalities, lap up the publicity.

Uncle Ollie remembers the good old days of puppy love at Rockville Center as Miss McCartney extends a helping hand.

"Take it easy, Nor, Erik's only being friendly." Mel and Shel stand by innocently (?).

Nancy and Andy, our class clowns, look on skeptically as Lanny wittily remarks, "Let Sandy be . . . and then there was light."

Popular Mike and spirited Pete Sweep Nancy off her feet!

Class leaders, Mike and Nancy, play it cool while our politicians, Judy and Max, lean to the left.

"We're just one big happy family," beam our close-knit pairs, Barb and Jan, Don and John.

A likely quartet—intellectuals Barb and Steve team up with class cuties Lexie and Paul. Or should it be the other way around?

Sing on top of the tone!

Remember the snack bar?

Right?

MEMORIES OF C. H. S.

Our four busy years at Cranford High School have been filled with memorable events and people. We have all been influenced by them, whether happy or sad memories. Following are just a few of the things which form a composite picture of our high school years. We remember:

Two years of split-sessions with madhouse homerooms in the auditorium; bomb scares—the day we had to walk home in the rain and the last day of school; this year's most quotable quotes: Mike DellaRosa—"This concludes our assembly"; Mr. Zimmerman—"If you go by bus, you must return by bus"; all of those extra snow days spent in school; CHS Choir at the World's Fair, the Port Authority building, and on NBC-TV at 1:30 Christmas morning—and half of CHS that stayed up to watch the celebrities; an extra holiday every year on Golden C picture-taking day; toasting marshmallows over bunsen burners in Chemistry lab; the infamous bus trip to Stratford—"Nyack or bust"; the "Great Drum Major Kidnap"; singing "Happy Birthday" to Uncle Ollie; our "almost prom" of '64; the chocolate candy man; Mr. Daley's Bible classes enlivened with shouts of "Fiddle-dee-dee," "Pooh-pooh," and "Ballyhoo!"; Miss Hubbard's gym "shots" and "lawyers"; Uncle Ollie's "Factor that baby, just for the halibut!"; a successful innovation: the Pep Club Band; patch tests—dirty backs; daily Lenney sermons and full-fledged tirades before every concert; "Magnificat"; November 22, 1963; our world record holder—Mr. Sylvester who said "Right!" exactly 88 times during one period; Mr. Y: "Let's pick up time, people"; Mrs. Kirn's shower in 6th period gym class; our need for a debtor's prison after breakage slip day in Chemistry; our heroes—the "Hamburger Bandits"; Miss Hubbard's physically-fit seniors(?); those aromatic dissection labs in Bio; the day Mr. Zimmerman forgot the Pledge of Allegiance; Mr. Marcus' questionable English course—Is the Bible becoming a required text?; Dr. Harold Lett; Kathy Preston, tried and convicted of the most serious crime imaginable, washing the school steps with a tooth brush; All-State concerts and Mr. Lenney in his "monkey suit"; Union County Tournament basketball victories of '64-'65; the snack bar; watching basketball games and wrestling matches in gym period during split-sessions; walking home in the dark at 6:00 P.M.!; '64-'65 Soccer Season; "those smoke-filled rooms"; that special bookcase for "our books" in the library; Spotlight Editorial Staff—Fights of the Week; French with "La Sorciere"; Flipper's Friends; Uncle Haar's German Philosophy course; all-night and all-day choir rehearsals with J.R.L.; grand entrances (late) into 4th period class following Choir; Mr. Boyle's Story Book Hours; "Comic-Tragedies" of report card days; Rollo and Tillie; Business Department dress-up days; casts and bandages of all shapes and sizes after Christmas vacations—the winners . . . Mr. Marcus & Mr. Sylvester; before and after our driving tests; all of those expert assemblies; Goldstein + Acid = -Pants; Anatomy of a Revolution by Seymour Weiss?; that mysterious detective story about the man with the swollen feet; National Honor Society flashlights; Uncle Ollie's greatest hit song: "+ + + +, + + + +, + + + +, + + + +, + + + +, + + + +"; 1st period George Gordon Youth Forum with Mr. Hein; the Lenney Mouse-keteers; the Johnson-Goldwater campaign; walking the 660 in record breaking time; the Freedom Concert; Group Therapy in 202.

Grand Opera comes to C.H.S.

"Of course not, I bring my lunch from home."

Now boys, tuck your heads and roll down.

The quietest place in the school.

Hey Steve! That's not in the lab manual.

No Mr. Grayson, a pull-up is with your arms.

The Art Room, where creativity abounds.

I didn't know you cared.

Swing it, Dave!

Double Session, when we went home at night.

The Faculty Eating Club, Mr. Jones, Sponsor.

And a week yet until payday.

"Why yes, I do wear the long coat to cover acid holes!"

They also serve who only stand and wait.

Our notorious "Drum Major Kidnapers."

Our choir at the Port Authority Terminal.

Mr. Marcus grading term papers.

Industrial Arts, home of all those wooden bowls.

Seven plus four is eleven, take away eight. . .

THE LANGUAGE ARTS

Mrs. Ritvo cuts her English IV class

Mr. Müller gives Glenn helpful hints on how to succeed in Harvard without really trying.

*"Speech is the index

The English and Foreign Language Departments at Cranford High School have a common purpose—to perfect the art of communications. Communication involves not only self-expression, but also appreciation of the expression of others. Thus, the Language Arts Department concentrates on writing skills, as well as on literary analyses.

Four years of basic English are required for graduation. In addition to this, a speech course is offered, with emphasis placed on the development of oral self-expression. Junior English is centered on the evaluation of American literature, while Senior English traces the growth of English literature. In both courses, teachers frequently employ supplementary materials such as films, records, magazine articles, and slides. Finally, active class participation and group discussions make English classes lively and interesting.

In the same way, Foreign Language courses emphasize student participation to develop speaking skills. Listening comprehension is perfected by use of films, records and tapes, and reading comprehension, by exposure to all forms of literature. Writing skills are given much consideration in all years of the foreign languages. Four complete years of Latin, French, Spanish, and German are offered to students. Aside from individual skills, a thorough background in the history and culture of the languages is imaginatively presented by each language teacher.

Thus, the Languages Arts Department is concerned with the development of a skill very vital to everyday life—the art of communications.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

Mr. West points an accusing finger at Ned Roberts, who is taking the Fifth.

"Mathematics when well digested is nothing but good sense and reason."

(Stanislaus, King of Poland)

A junior class learns some of the basic concepts of problem solving.

A fundamental understanding of mathematics is essential in today's world. With this principle in mind, the Cranford High School Mathematics Department has sought to offer to its students comprehensive courses in this area of study. Courses in intermediate and advanced algebra, trigonometry, solid geometry, and business math are offered to the students, building upon courses taken in their junior high years. Accelerated programs of study are offered to the more advanced students. It is hoped that through a full and complete study of mathematics in Cranford High School, the student will gain a better understanding of the importance of this subject in our changing world.

Miss Schwoerer employs visual aids to explain a mathematical concept to her students.

Mr. Jones' Chemistry class delves into qualitative analysis during the lab period.

In our modern, technological age, the sciences have gained a new importance in our lives. In realizing this new importance, the Science Department of Cranford High School has sought to offer a program of study that will prepare today's student for an understanding of the basic concepts of the various scientific fields and their application to the present age and the future. Building upon the general science and biology courses of the junior highs, the department offers both general and college preparatory courses in chemistry and physics, and also a combined, two-year course of the latter two entitled "Chemics". Through lectures, problems, readings, reports, and laboratory sessions, the student is taught and, hopefully, comes to understand the physical world in which he lives and the principles and laws that govern this world.

Mr. Goldstein lectures his college prep Chemistry students on the fundamentals of writing equations.

Mr. Y charts his course through the periodic table.

SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

*"History teaches everything,

*Seem's Schaner's got something else planned besides completion

Realizing the great importance of the social sciences in modern society, Cranford High School offers its students a wide variety of courses in this field of study.

All students are required to complete two courses in American history in order to graduate, one a comprehensive study of the history of the United States and the other an analysis of the problems of American democracy. Pupils are also given the privilege of electing courses in world history and modern European history.

There is a new course, Economics, offered, this year, exclusively to seniors. It is expected to become a regular part of the school's curriculum.

Mrs. Petti gives some helpful typing pointers.

The Business Department trains students who are interested in going into the business world after graduation. One course offered trains students to be secretaries, while another course is for the general clerical worker. The only difference is the use of shorthand in the secretarial course.

Besides extensive training on machines most widely used in business offices, most of the students take an actual job for ten weeks which prepares them for employment after graduation.

Because English is so important to businessmen, a special course of English is given to the business students.

The minor business subjects such as law and geography and merchandising are also offered to the students.

*"And you see, folks—school store sales

Mr. Lenney lectures on morals in America.

Another important part of complete scholastic development is an active interest and participation in the courses offered in the arts—fine, home, and industrial.

The choral music department offers courses in theory and literature besides vocal instruction. An excellent concert band, dance band, marching band, as well as a modern jazz sextet provide opportunity for participation in instrumental music.

Courses in Art I through IV give instruction in the fundamentals of sketching, painting, and sculpture.

The home arts give the students invaluable experience in the noble art of homemaking.

The more technical, mechanical and industrial arts serve to give valuable experience to those who pursue them.

FOOTBALL

Mr. Grayson seems to be giving Dick some last minute pointers of strategy.

Although not having an outstanding record the Cranford High football team displayed an aggressive spirit throughout the season. This spirit can be attributed to the devoted coaching efforts put forth by retiring coach Stan Grayson. The Cougars began the season with a thrilling 7-6 victory over Linden in the final minutes via Dick Britton's touchdown pass to John Dreyer and extra point to Tom Nolan, which won the game. The next three games proved to be rough for the Cranford gridders, dropping a 20-6 loss to a powerful Westfield squad in a game marred by injuries; next came a heartbreaking 21-12 loss to Clark; and finally a crushing 25-0 defeat at the hands of Rahway. Cranford broke into the winning column in the Watchung Conference with a strong 25-13 victory over a fighting Hillside eleven. This hard fought contest was highlighted by the strong line play of Dave Van Brunt, Bill Northcutt, and John Worster. Following a 28-0 loss to a high scoring Springfield combine the Cougars rebounded with a well played 19-0 victory over Roselle High. Although losing the final two games the Cougars definitely outplayed two powerful foes. First came an 18-7 loss to Scotch Plains in a game which was anyone's until the last two minutes, with Wayne (Skip) Burr, Charlie Bolcer, and Rich Schlinger turning in tremendous efforts. Then came the Thanksgiving Day tilt with Jefferson which proved to be the highlight of the season as well as a bitter 12-8 defeat, underdog Cranford came through with a valiant effort for Coach Grayson's final game as Cranford High football coach. Co-captains VanBrunt and Nolan received highest praise from local newspapers by receiving third team all-county and second team all-Watchung Conference respectively, along with Burr, Bolcer, Schlenger, and Dreyer receiving honorable mention all-Watchung.

SOCCER

Rest period Italian style.

In 1964, the Cranford High School Soccer Squad finished up another winning season, compiling a 5-3-5 slate. Although top contenders for the Watching Conference and Union County Conference crowns, the Cougars were nosed out of the running by a total of five deadlocked games. While the Cranford club hammered away at the opposition in all five contests, four were 0-0 deadlocks and one was stopped at 1-1.

Seniors Paul Buonaguro and Willie Loxley led the offensive team; Buonaguro garvening a total of nine goals and a school scoring record for one season's play, while Loxley set him up for seven of the nine tallies. Pat O'Connell, Dave Ward and Phil Coraggio backed them up, while Gary Kott and juniors Mark Aaron, Steve Rabin and John Bodnar rounded out the line. All-around athletes Shelly Mittleman, Wayne Huckel and Paul Lingerfeldt teamed up with Joel Ostro, Tom Pavics and Skip Herman to form Cranford's burly backfield.

Captains Paul Buonaguro and Shelly Mittleman, both of whom made the second All-County team while Buonaguro garnered All-State honors, led the squad to the winning season. The five brawls in regular seasonal play will go with the graduating class, but the familiar cry of "Two of you, Two of you!" will be heard by next year's squad.

CROSS COUNTRY

Once again the spirited Cranford High School harriers returned to Warinanco Park where, for the third year in a row they established themselves as one of the county's finest. Under the direction of Coach Bill Massa the Cougars completed a 9 win 5 loss record. Using his superior training techniques, Coach Massa developed a group of relatively inexperienced runners into a powerful nucleus. Senior and captain, Tom Albans, and junior Dave Ladanye led the team with clockings of 13:12.5 and 13:13.0 for the 2½ mile course.

The Cougars got off to a fast start by sweeping the first three places and defeating Linden 29 to 30. After a loss to Columbia, 40 to 21, the Cougars amassed five victories before they were defeated by Hillside on a course which was unfamiliar to them. After another loss to county and state champions Roselle Catholic, the Cougars bounced back on the winning trail by defeating Union and North Hunterdon Regional. But they closed out the season with losses to Westfield and Plainfield.

A cross country meet cannot be won by just one top runner; it must be a team effort. It is for this reason that many of the victories can be attributed to senior lettermen Fred Vogel and Bill Raftery, and junior lettermen Mike DeMicco, Bob Baly, and Robert Read.

BASKETBALL

The Cranford High basketball team amassed one of the best records, 22-2 (at this writing), in the school's history, during the past campaign. The team, led by All-County Selections Wayne Huckel and Shelly Mittleman, and coached by the Union County Coach of the Year, Bill Martin, was one of the best in the state, losing only one game to a New Jersey foe despite a tremendous 26-point effort by John Dreyer. This defeat was at the hands of Westfield in the county tournament finals, with a final score of 61-53. The other loss was to Linton, 64-61, in the Schenectady Christmas Tournament.

The Cougars handily defeated all other foes, demonstrating an excellent press and a scorching fast break. Mittleman was the backcourt ace of the team, and also an outstanding defensive player. Teaming up with Shelly as guard was the only junior starter, George Goodwin, an able ball-handler and one of the best shots on the team. The starting forwards were Huckel and Don Auerbach. Huckel was one of the leading scorers in the county and a top rebounder. Many people believed him to be the best player in the county, and one of the best in the state. Auerbach was a good scorer and rebounder, and usually covered the other team's high scorer. The starting center was big John Dreyer. Though starting out slowly, John has been improving in the latter part of the season, consistently hitting in double-figures and using his 6-5 frame to good advantage off the boards.

Another asset of the team was its good bench. The reserves were led by senior Mike Jordan and juniors Ed Beadle and Tom Archdeacon. These boys came off the bench in many games to help the Cougars win.

INDOOR TRACK

"When the going gets tough, the tough get going." This was the motto of Coach James Phipps and his Cranford High School Indoor Track Team. The Cougar trackmen exhibited their toughness in practicing daily outside during the winter.

The big medal winner for the indoor track team this year was senior Tom Albans. Tom excelled in the 440, the 660 and 880 yard runs. The highlight of the indoor season came when the sprint relay team took third place in the North Jersey Championship at Jersey City. This victory was the culmination of a season of hard work for the team consisting of Bob Donnelly, Ed Biederman, Mark Ettin, and John Sorge. Two other bright spots for the team this year were the high jumping of senior James Fair and the distance running of junior Mike De Micco.

The Cranford High wrestling team, though under the usual fine coaching job of Mr. Farrell, had to struggle to a 6-6 season. However, the team was continually plagued with injuries and weight problems, especially in the lighter weight classes.

Co-captain Roland Scheller (136 lbs.) was again the mainstay of the team as for the second year in a row he placed fourth in the state. Also having fine seasons were co-captain Dave Van Brunt (167), Doug Nordstrom (156), Russ Olawski (177), and Wayne Burr (Hwt.).

Highlights of the season were a close third place finish behind Union in the Christmas Tournament, Bill Loxley's continual motion, Don Grote's pin against Jeff, and Jerry Friedman's tardiness.

Other varsity wrestlers who will be returning are Dave Ladanye, Tom Bride, Ed Gill, Dave Fielder, soph Gary Bradfield, Dave Prill, and Dundy Ganzemuller.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, one of the most vital organizations in the school, provides an opportunity for the student body to voice his opinions and to take action on various issues concerning the school. A homeroom representative and an alternate are elected from each homeroom to serve on the council.

This year the Council, under the leadership of Michael Della Rosa and the sponsorship of Mr. Naylor, has been a determined organization. Plans have been made with the American Field Service to have a foreign exchange student.

GOLDEN C

Theoretically, the history of each "Golden C" begins in the junior year of its editors when they are appointed by the Executive Committee. Yet it actually starts long before that when we first enter Cranford High School. The yearbook is a 140 page coverage of four important school years with specific attention given to those events occurring the last one.

To accurately compile such a permanent record, five staffs work together under the direction of five respective editors. The material is composed by the Editorial Staff, typed by the Typing Staff, arranged by the Art Staff, and illustrated by the Photography Staff. The business Staff assumes the responsibility of advertising and selling the final product. The combined interests and working efforts of all "Golden C" members were primary necessities in the production of this yearbook, but could not have worked efficiently without the guidance of Mr. Hein, Mr. Longenbach, and Miss Robinson, our sponsors.

Theoretically, the history of the 1965 "Golden C" ends with graduation; yet actually it will continue moving forward with the futures of the people pictured within...

SPOTLIGHT

The Spotlight is the oldest student activity in Cranford high School. When first published, it served as a combined newspaper, yearbook, and creative writing magazine. Today it functions as a newspaper providing a means of student expression. It had staffs for reporting, feature writing, art, photography, sports, typing, make-up, and proofreading. This year, besides presenting articles on school activities, editorials, and sports news, the Spotlight edited a supplement containing student writings of interest. It is the aim of the Spotlight to provide valuable experience in organizing, managing, and editing a newspaper of current student opinion.

It provides a medium of self-expression to students who display an interest in becoming better informed and who are willing to participate. The activities include monthly panel discussions, debates, and an occasional field trip.

FORUM CLUB

ASSEMBLY USHERS

The Assembly Ushers are eight well-qualified senior girls, who are responsible for quickly and quietly seating the student body before assemblies. They are chosen each year by the graduating usherettes and the faculty. Mr. Boyle is the sponsor of this staff.

STAGE CREW

The stage crew, although it must be at every assembly, does most of its work after school hours. Every program put on at the high school must have at least one stage crew member present. This means that the stage crew member in charge represents his school in meeting and cooperating with stage participants. Hence, a great responsibility rests on each member of the crew.

VISUAL AIDS CLUB

The Visual Aids Club is primarily a service organization. It is one of the few clubs that doesn't have formal meetings. Because of this, there is a great emphasis on the responsibility of the member. The club depends upon the coordination of the faculty and the members rather than work within the club itself. Proper treatment and care of the equipment are stressed, as well as promptness and courtesy.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club's purpose is to familiarize students with the customs and culture of Germany. Activities of the club include speakers from Germany, German games, music programs, slides, trips, and parties.

At the monthly meetings of the Spanish Club, interested students are given the opportunity to enrich their understanding of Spanish speaking peoples and countries. Film, slides, and talks are just some of the methods used to enable the members to gain an insight into Spanish culture. The Spanish Club helps students become aware of the vast and colorful background of the language of Spain.

The Creative Writing Club has, in addition, served as the welcome vehicle for the founding of a literary magazine, Quiddity, to which any student in the high school can submit original work, written in or outside of school.

The Chess Club is an organization designed to develop the talent of the members in the game of chess. It is both a team and a club. This year, under the guidance and leadership of Mr. Sylvester, the members meet regularly to play, increase their skill, and exchange ideas.

ARCHITECTURAL CLUB

LIBRARY COUNCIL

The Library Council consists of about forty-five members, both boys and girls, who enjoy library work and who also desire to serve their school. They are really library assistants to Miss Prophett and Mrs. Darby, and their aid is invaluable. Their duties include such things as stamping books, typing, filing, checking attendance, keeping the library in good order, making exhibits, etc. The experience they receive is helpful to them also, especially in college.

MASK AND BAUBLE CLUB

The Mask and Bauble Club exists to provide an opportunity for interested students to learn about the theatre, and to develop, by actual experience, their talents in acting, directing, lighting, make-up, and costuming. Auditions for membership were abolished, so as to open the club to all who wanted to participate.

Mask and Bauble presents an annual assembly, in addition to shorter skits and, this year, a satirical revue concerning CHS apathy, was presented by members of the club on behalf of the Student Council.

The club organized a Christmas program for the crippled children at the Children's Country Home, and arranges several theatre trips and a club picnic during the course of the year.

A chapter of the New Jersey Junior Classical League and an affiliate of the national organization, the Latin Club of Cranford High School is open to all students sharing an interest in the classical world. Interested members attempt to gain insight into the ways of the ancient Greeks and Romans. The club tries to coordinate its activities and themes with the programs of he state and national organizations. With the coming of spring, the club's interest turns to the state convention, which embodies numerous workshops, contests and entertainment. Members are also asked to attend the national convention held in the summer, at which JCLers from the entire country gather.

The club sponsor, Miss Jaffe, the officers, and the members all believe in Vergil's words:

ART CLUB

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers of America is an organization for students who are interested in entering the teaching profession. Activities are planned to help members gain insight into the work of a teacher, the training and qualifications necessary for teaching, and the many opportunities that are open to those who enter the profession. Some of the club's activities are: listening to guest speakers, visiting colleges, observing in the local schools, and assisting teachers.

PEP CLUB

The Pep Club, now in its third year, is one of the largest and most enthusiastic groups at CHS. With the support of a lively Pep Club Band and its many members, the club adds much to school spirit at CHS. Ever-faithful Pep Clubbers can be found at almost any sporting event selling programs or sitting on the bleachers, but always cheering on the team. Wherever a blue and gold beanie is found, a spirited Pep Clubber is probably directly beneath. The only ill-effect from membership in this club seems to be the inevitable case of laryngitis after every game. Nevertheless, the Pep Club has promoted an "esprit de corps" which has become an integral part of the athletic program.

GIRLS' ENSEMBLE

The Girls' Ensemble is a select choral group of nine senior girls. The group performs not only for school assemblies and concerts, but also for various civic organizations. The members of the Ensemble realize the privilege and tradition involved and they work very hard to maintain their fine reputation. But, all is not work. A strong sense of rapport develops within the group and the girl's spirit grows. During the year, the Girls' Ensemble, along with the Boys' Double Quartet, gains a repertoire of modern, folk, and classical numbers. The resulting performances are enjoyed by the audience as well as the singers themselves. The Girls' Ensemble, as individuals and as a group, displays the same enthusiasm for music as can be seen in the entire Music Department.

The boys are chosen annually from the choir and also perform for local vicic organizations.

Under the capable direction of Mr. James Lenney, the choir performs two major concerts each year, one at Christmas and one in the Spring. This year the choir has had the additional honor of performing on network television and at the New York World's Fair.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club presents an extension of French culture, encourages the use of the language, and provides opportunities to apply skills learned. The club's activities include music programs, slides, talks by those in the club, and a plan to write and produce an original French play.

The Marching Band, under the skilled direction of Mr. Yurochko, has undergone a successful renovation this year. Mr. Yurochko began his crusade to support the Cougars by increasing membership and enthusiasm in the band. The musicians, headed by Drum Major Larry Nann, march in new uniforms to the tune of new routines. Following tradition, the band entertains during halftime at our football games. With help of our talented Twirlers, captained by Pat Lewandowski, the Marching Band has gained recognition during the past year.
