IRON IN THE BLOOD.
It is well known to the medical profession that iron is the vital principle, or life element of the blood. Pure healthy blood is life, and impure, sickly blood is disease. Iron is not properly digested, and by even a slight disorder of the stomach, it becomes in its chemical combinations, inert and inoperative, and consequently, it is not assimilated with the blood with nutritive iron, and, consequently, it is not assimilated with the blood with nutritive iron, and, consequently, it is not assimilated with the blood with nutritive iron, and,

Law of Newspapers.

Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

If subscribers order the discontinuance of their papers, they must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send them until they pay all arrearages are paid.

And if subscribers neglect or refuse to take their papers from the offices where they are directed, they are responsible until they have ordered their papers discontinued and settled their bills.

If subscribers remove to other places without informing the publisher, and the paper is sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.

The Courts have decided that refusing to take a paper or periodical from the office, or removing and leaving it uncalled for, while in arrears to the publisher, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Any person, whether he has ordered it or not, who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, or any part of it, for any purpose, is considered to be a subscriber.

The State canvassers, to count the votes cast at the late election for Governor, will meet at Trenton, on the 21st day of the present month.

Major General Judson Kilpatrick, of New Jersey, has been appointed minister to Chili, and Colonel Edwin F. Cook of the same State, secretary of legation.

The constitutional amendment abolishing slavery passed both houses of the South Carolina Legislature on Monday, with but little opposition. The Legislature has adjourned to the 29th instant.

Major Gen. John A. Logan has "tendered the mission to Japan" to President Johnson, and has intimated that Gen. Logan accepts the appointment.

Alexander G. Cattell is spoken of as the candidate for United States Senator by such of the Republicans as are willing to act aside the election of Mr Stockton.

THE MEXICAN LOAN.

The "Central Financial Agency" for the sale of Mexican bonds, formally assumed its public functions on the afternoon of Thursday, the 9th inst., in the presence of quite a considerable number of distinguished Mexican and American citizens, whose enthusiastic appreciation of the cause, in behalf of which the loan in question has been inaugurated, seemed to be alike universal and ardent. The meeting took place in the recently opened and handsomely appointed office of John W. Cadiz & Co., 57 Broadway, N. Y., (through which firm the constitutional Republic of Mexico, through President Juarez and Commissionary General J. M. J. Carvajal, have contracted for the negotiation and sale of thirty million dollars in coupon bonds of the denomination of $50, $500 and $1,000, bearing interest at seven per cent per annum) when, after doing justice to quite a sumptuous collation, provided by the agency, said meeting was at once called to order and organized by Signor M. Romero, the Minister from the Mexican Republic, taking the chair. In a few judicious remarks, evidently begotten of a noble confidence in the ultimate success of the sacred cause he has so much at heart, this worthy representative of his struggling country appealed in that gentlemanly and quiet style, so characteristic of him, equally to the political sympathies and pecuniary interests of New Yorkers; and the appeal, we are well satisfied, was not made in vain. Mr. Theodore E. Tomlinson replied to this modest call for sympathy and aid on the part of our Republican neighbor, in "thoughts that breathed and words that burned," making every one present feel that the time of Maximilian's usurped power would be short, and that, despite the hugbear of "French Bayonets," our government would eventually, and that soon, take its sister republic by the hand and set her free forever from all European interference. Mr. T. was followed by Maj. General Lewis Wallace, who gave his hearers to understand that his confidence and faith in the cause they were now met to support, were such as to decide him, instanter, to invest out of his little fortune of two thousand dollars, (which he had made in the war) par excellence, and he considered it, even in the way of dollars and cents, the best investment he had ever made. He had no doubt whatever that the holders of these bonds would prove the gainers in any contingency, seeing that even should Maximilian be permitted to occupy his tottering throne for a season—on condition that these bonds should be paid, he would jump at the privilege of paying them. Hon. S. S. Cox, of Ohio, spoke in the same strain logically showing that President John's administration had bound themselves to drive the French out of Mexico—in other words, to re-establish that Republic. The Hon. Robert Dale Owen was the last speaker, and a perfect personification of the distinguished gentleman is of "distracted being" to double nation with consummate prudence, even as he was once announce as life delivered conviction, that Mr. Seward had fully committed himself (quoting the documents) to the cause of the Mexican Republic, and that it was a moral as well as political impossibility that a monarchical government should continue in such close proximity to your United States.

THE FREED NEGROES.—The Cotton Cousin—A correspondent of the New York Times, who has been making a tour through Alabama, gives the following account of the number, condition and behavior of the negroes in that State:

"Half a million of freedmen are within the borders of Alabama. Forty thousand of them are aged, and infirm, and of course without the means and strength to assist themselves. The rest are in addition, one hundred thousand children, necessarily helpless. Those who are able and unwilling to perform labor prowl around upon the farms and plantations, and cost a miserable life by stealing and maraud. Take it throughout the State, it is believed that 10,000 hogs and 1,000 head of cattle have been stolen and killed by these indolent men and women, all of whom are able to perform any kind of work.

To this we may add the following from the Houston Telegraph, showing the condition of the cotton crop in Texas:

"We hear loud complaints everywhere of the scarcity of hands to pick the cotton and save it, and we saw acres of the finest cotton that ever grew dropping off the bolls and wasting for the want of hands to save it. The planters made contracts with their former slaves to remain with them and save the crops, but they proved unfaithful, and deserted the first opportunity. Thousands of bales of splendid cotton will be lost in Washington county by this cause, and the neighboring counties are no better off. We have heard good judges estimate the loss by this cause throughout the State to be 40,000. bales. It is a deplorable sight to witness large cotton fields wasting."

The leading Democrats of the city of New York have organized themselves into an association called the Manhattan Club, whose object is to advance Democratic principles, promote social intercourse among its members, and provide them with the conveniences of a club house. The club have purchased a handsomely furnished building at the corner of Fifth avenue and Fifteenth street, at an expense of one hundred and ten thousand dollars.

COLORADO ELECTION.—The Democrats will probably have the Legislature and the Congressman, with the entire State ticket, in Colorado. The official canvass of the vote on the adoption or rejection of the State Constitution shows a majority of one hundred and fifty five for the Constitution. The question of negro suffrage was presented at the same time, and resulted in a majority of three thousand seven hundred and fourteen against it.

The execution of Wirz, keeper of the Andersonville prison, took place on Friday last. On the scaffold he conversed with those near him, was apparently self-possessed, and continued to assert his innocence.

Gen. Kilpatrick and other claims of Gen. Grant were strewed on Monday and Tuesday of last week, for bribing voters

Local and State Affairs.

Mr. Benj. F. Yard, late Assistant Surgeon in the 14th N. J. Regt., died suddenly at his residence, near Pennington, on Saturday last.

The Second New Jersey Cavalry, arrived in Trenton on Saturday night. The regiment numbers twenty four officers and three hundred and eighty men.

WANTED TO KNOW—If turkies "roost high" in this vicinity, about Thanksgiving times. Address "gobbs trebly" this office.

Arrangements are being made by the clergy and other prominent persons in this State to hold a Grand Temperance Mass Meeting, the 30th instant. An invitation is extended to all to be present at this meeting as a very interesting time is expected.

SUDDEN DEATH.—We learn that Mr. Ritter, an elderly lady, residing in Mechanic street, was found dead in her bed on Tuesday morning. She had been complaining for some time, but her symptoms were not considered dangerous by her friends.

We direct the attention of our readers to the prospectus of the New York World which appears in our paper this week. Its merits are truthfully set forth in the advertisement and we recommend those desiring a good New York paper to subscribe for it.

BAGGAGE ACCIDENT.—The 8 o'clock Washington through line from New York, run off the track at East Newark, yesterday morning, causing a regular smash up, killing two men and injuring several others. One of the men killed was the baggage master at Willards Hotel, Washington, and the other a negro. The accident is supposed to have been caused by a switch being misplaced.

The Second, M. E. Church has not been sold, as was reported by some last week. The trustees have had the matter under consideration for some time, but have not yet come to a definite conclusion. The object in selling is to obtain a more suitable situation, the preacher and congregation are frequently disturbed by the passing of the cars, which run within a few feet of the church.

Dr. D. S. Craig, an old and respected citizen of this place, died at his residence on Thursday last, in the 80th year of his age. He has long suffered from the effects of a broken limb, being unable to walk, and scarcely able to be removed from his room, yet keeping well at heart, and manifesting a deep interest in the local as well as general affairs to the welfare of our city and country. He died in the same house that he was born, and in which he has lived all his life, with the exception of a short period when he was studying his profession.

We are pleased to notice that our enterprising friends, Gibby & Osborn, have recently been enlarging and greatly improving the appearance of their grocery store, 89 Main Street, their greatly increased trade rendering this more necessary for the accomodation of their customers. This is but another evidence of the importance of liberal advertising, as they have kept their business before the public, both by advertising through the papers and by circulars, ever since they commenced business, and to this fact they attribute their success.

BOLD ROBBERY.—A lady living in one of the principal streets up town had her clothes line stripped at an early hour on Monday evening last. The clothes were hanging near the door of the room in which the family were sitting. Among the articles were a number of dollars and under garments of considerable value. It is hoped our vigilant police will "work up" this case and succeed in capturing the thief and recovering the property. In the meantime we would advise housekeepers to see that their clothes are taken in before dark.

NEW MUSIC—We have received the following pieces of new music from Horace Waters, Publisher, No. 481 Broadway, N. York:—"Our Soldiers' Last March," introducing the celebrated "Peace Jubilee," composed expressly for the 12th Regiment, by Mr. E. A. Parkhurst; "The First Kiss at the Gate," a ballad,—words by T. Johnson, music by Augustus A. Orliey; "The Gem of the Mountain," (Mazurka) composed by Mrs. E. A. Parkhurst. Price 30 cents each.

Judge G. W. Savage was returning home on Monday evening, his carriage was upset in Mechanic street, and he, the driver, and driver, narrowly escaped serious injury. The accident was caused by the driver dropping one of the reins while reaching for a bandle, that frightening the horses, and by pulling on the other rein caused them to turn short around, upsetting the carriage. The escape of the party without injury was truly providential.

Correspondence.

TO THE WORLD. NOV. 11th, 1865.

Dear Mr. Editor:

I hope you won't think me imprudent or impertinent, in thus coming into your office, I have been reading your paper for some time, and have long felt a desire to let you know my mind in regard to your occupying so much space with politics—politics! I almost hate the word beside the exclusion of more entertaining matter. There, it's out now! now you know why I have dared to break in upon your sanctum. You won't be angry with me, will you? I hope you won't—no true editor ever gets angry at lady correspondents—I let my pen run along. Well, I commenced, should be speaking of sunny articles, and using so much valuable time, labor and money in trying to save political parties and the country. If they won't capsize and save for a longer period than a year or two, I'd just let them go; that's my view of the subject.

Notwithstanding this is the time for Indian Summer, still the weather prophets unfortunately, and it makes life very dreary out here in the woods, where there are few to visit or make call. This it is that makes me a more demonstrative of late and anecdotes, in the paper; anything, in fact, so long as it be interesting and pleasant to read. Will you accede to my wishes? If you do let me see oh you—I shall send you something nice, as a pan full of my capital mines, pies, and, perhaps, a little stone jug of cider! Don't your mouth water already, in anticipation of such good things? And then if you would only visit us, wouldn't matters look up? Well, I guess not, for you could show you so many objects of interest, such a pretty house, with its clustering vines running all over the front, (though, to be sure, they are dry the now!) and such lovely woods around us in all the gorgeousness of autumnal colors; each tree vying with its companion in splendor and beauty. Then in the evening, you might talk politics to your hearts's content with John, (John, the dear good fellow, is my husband you know) who is deeply versed in all the various schemes for preventing the country going to wreck and ruin, and will be able to converse with you on all the outs and ins of city politicians. I often flough when John finds himself at home of an evening with no one to converse with on his favorite topic, except mother or myself. After disposing of his supper, and while smoking his cigar, he proceeds to inform us, between the puffs, how the country is governed; how this one neglects some public duty, and that one has not performed what is expected of a legislator. How we drink in all this with the greatest of apparent interest.—How we open our eyes in astonishment at his revelations, and wish we were up north, if we only were, wouldn't we elect—John! We have such confidence in his ability, honesty, and—every other qualification necessary, that we would never hesitate to put in a ticket for him for any office. And after all, so far as I can learn, it is politics as in love; confidence, or the lack of it, makes or unmakes a candidate, either for the ballot or the elections. Yes, I certainly have confidence in John. If I was asked to say my "creed," I am afraid I should blunder into saying, "I—I—I believe in John!" and not be able to go on much further.

Very early in our married life, we recognized the necessity of that perfect faith in each other, without which matrimony is a farce; and we have always endeavored to exercise that faith. Do you remember what Tennyson has written upon this subject? Listen, and refresh your memory, while his opinion is being sung by the siren Vision in her appeal to Merwyn the sorcerer:

"In love, if love be love, there be cure. Faith and selfish can never be equal powers; Trust is strength, is wave of faith in all.

"It is the little rift within the lute, That by and by, will make the music mute, And ever widening, slowly silence all."

THE WORLD,

An Independent Democratic Daily, Weekly and Semi-Weekly Newspaper.

After four years of civil war, forced upon the people of the United States by the violence of sectional parties, we now enter upon a new era of national unity and of progress. North and South are cordial in operation of all honest means to heal and repair the waste of war, to establish a Peace through the triumph of sound constitutional principles in the administration of government, and our Unity by quenching the fires of sectional hate.

The great Democratic Party, whose hand has ever been in the labor of private progress of territorial extension, and of public reform, and whose counsels have ever been the Ark of Safety of the Nation, superior to all invidious passions, and to the jealousies of rival sections, and to the liberties of the individuals composing them, is the only party in the country, whose principles will be found to stand the test of time.

To the principles of this great Democratic Party, the WORLD will be devoted, as it has been throughout the ordeal of civil war. It will be devoted to the best interests of the trade of supplying those principles to the minds of the inner and weighty portion of political, social, political—which come upon us in the shape of Reconstruction, Finance, Commerce or all other, it will be enlisted by its ability, and by its fearless independence.

That the principles of American Democracy should thus be utilized, with no weak or timid hesitation, in the great work of reconstruction of American enterprise and commerce is a matter of vital importance to every citizen, it must recommend The WORLD to the confidence and support of men in all sections of the Union.

The WORLD will call on divine or energetic compliments will contribute to make The WORLD a welcome visitor to the family circle.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, which, in the majority of cases, is inherited, and poor, living in the circulation, it permeates the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, and there scarcely is a tissue it does not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously manifested by external glandular tumors, by a disordered or unhealthy food, unpure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever may be the immediate cause, the constitution, descending from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation," indeed, it seems to be the end of Hills who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects continuance by disease from the blood of everyone afflicted, some, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, and others subscribes in the glands, swellings, and on the surface, eruptions or sores.

Scrofula is the taint in the blood, depresses the energy of every function of life, and continues not to perpetuate itself in consumptive lungs, but, leaving the lungs to settle on other parts, it forms tumors, ulcerations, and a thousand painful and dangerous diseases, which, if not, in the early stage, cured, will, ultimately, cause the death of the patient. Many of the most distressing diseases that afflict humanity are still traced back by the taint in the system. Most of the diseases for which doctors prescribe mercury, are, in reality, only concentrated lues, or, in other words, secondary or tertiary syphilis, and, of the most destructive diseases of humanity, lately, that they are, in reality, only the effects of, or are aggravated by, the mercury.

One quarter of the population of Christendom, their parents are unknown to them, or the person, who, in the early stage, cured, in the blood, the taint, which, in the end, would, if not, cured, in the blood, destroy the healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most perfect, with which the medical skill of our times and doses, for the severest cases, are, in the majority of cases, sufficient, based from the most of our cures, in the most desperate cases, of Scrofula, in its, to the, most, dreadful, forms, of, its, manifestations.

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Hence it should be administered to those who are not, or, cannot, be, cured, by, Blood, Pills, and Salve. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Practical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all druggists everywhere.

AYER'S

Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF

Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, or Bilious Fever, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, Dumb Ague, Congestive Ague, Pernicious Ague, and all the other forms of fever and ague, induced by the malarious poison of marshy districts.

We are confident that we can offer our compounds with certainty, as will perfectly healthy in any country, where fever and ague prevails, or where these afflicting disorders prevail. The unfavorable effects of mercury, and other mineral, remedy, it produces no constitutional injury, and, in fact, it leaves the system in a healthy condition. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never been sick.

Fever and Ague, and other diseases, originating in the malarious districts, are, in a great variety of diseases, of a more dangerous character than, in the northern states, they are, and, in fact, they are, in the majority of cases, fatal, if not, cured, in the early stage, of, the, disease, and, if, not, cured, in, the, early, stage, of, the, disease, they, are, constantly, assuming, a, more, dangerous, character, and, are, occasionally, the, forerunners, of, the, most, dangerous, diseases, of, the, human, family, such, as, Dropsy, Liver, Complaint, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Cholera, Morbus, Spasms, and, Convulsions, and, Nervous, Prostration, and, Mental, Derangement, and, Paralysis, and, Insanity, and, Idiocy, and, Death, and, in, the, most, of, the, cases, of, Fever, and, Ague, and, other, Malarious, Fevers, and, Bowel, Complaints, and, Liver, Complaints, and, Dysentery, and, Diarrhoea, and, Cholera, Morbus, and
