RAHWAY, N. J., MARCH 24, 1875.

GENERAL RAILWAY LAW

At the present writing it looks very much as if we should not be able to report a general railway law for the session of 1875. Two bills have passed the Legislature, and both have received the Governor's signature, but neither of them is what we want, and what we should have had if the Legislature had been in session a month ago. The Senate bill, which passed the Legislature in the beginning of the time, was vetoed by the Governor because it was too indefinite and too liable to be misinterpreted. The Assembly bill, which was passed in the latter part of the time, was vetoed because it was too stringent, and would, if it should be found to be constitutional, be very injurious to the interests of the State. At present we do not know what will be done in the matter.

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY

The Senate was in session only one day last week, and the Assembly two days. The Senate was occupied with the consideration of the Assembly bill to provide for the appointment of a commissioner of railroads, and finally passed the bill by a vote of 14 to 7. The Assembly spent the greater part of the time in the consideration of the Senate bill to provide for the appointment of a commissioner of railroads, and finally passed the bill by a vote of 41 to 17. The Senate bill was then taken up and considered in Committee of the Whole, and was finally passed
