NATIONAL DEMOCRAT.

RAHWAY, N. J., JULY 14, 1875.

[illegible] Fourth of July, the usual patriotic spirit of the great month of Congress was manifested in the unusual amount of patriotic speech all newspapers were thrown into the mailbags. The morning mail of the 4th, and other days to the Democrat, relating to Rahway or vicinity, contained more than papers through the post-office will be, when he is required to pay postage thereon, the usual office rate, per quarter, or twenty cents per year, which the publisher will pay, and the subscribers will receive the paper free of postage.

Preparations for Centennial preparations are being made for the celebration of Independence next year. Our Centennial commissioner will have a large and appropriate exhibit, and we have no doubt that Rahway will share well compared, but from reports our citizens will have an opportunity to exhibit to hundreds of some of the believers in spiritualism in N. J. The Democrat, with Co. E in full uniform, will have the right of first and last the processions "The Sodhouse Fifteen" will be represented and possess place "paddock" with the "Spook Lady Rahway." Our Committee has finished its labors. The committee has finished its labors.

Long on Matrimony, twelfth grandson of Robert Long, who lived in Rahway, is now in New Brunswick, Long, is Distributor of Stamps for Middlesex County, is living
