

RED BANK IS NOW ZONED.

ORDINANCE TO THIS EFFECT PUT THROUGH MONDAY.

Buildings Must Conform to the Rules Laid Down by the Zoning Commission—Only One Protest—Other Public Business Transacted.

Red Bank is now zoned. The ordinance regulating the kind of building that can be constructed in various parts of the town passed its final reading Monday night.

There was only one objection. This was presented in the form of a petition signed by residents of the northern end of Shrewsbury avenue and by residents of a portion of Rector place. These two streets adjoin each other. Objection was made because part of Rector place in the vicinity of the feed and coal storehouse of Hanco & Davis was designated as an industrial zone. The signers of the petition wanted this territory to be made residential.

Harry G. Black and Mrs. Alexander Russell amplified the statements made in the petition. Mrs. Russell stressed the fact that the properties in question front on the river. She said the beauty of this river front land should be protected against the effects that industrialism would bring.

J. Daniel Tuller, a member of the zoning commission, advocated the passage of the zoning ordinance without change. He said that if the change desired by the Shrewsbury avenue and Rector place folks were made a delay of several weeks and considerable expense would be involved. He said the whole ordinance would have to be re-advised. Mr. Tuller stated that the mayor and council at any time could make changes in the ordinance. (Mayor William H. R. White made the same statement.)

Following Mr. Tuller's remarks the ordinance was unanimously passed. Councilman Thomas M. Goplin and William H. Francis were absent.

A resolution was passed for Red Bank to join the league of municipalities in Monmouth, Ocean and Middlesex counties. The cost of membership is $70. Councilman Charles R. English, who is president of the league, will represent Red Bank in the league.

Recorder William J. Poulson turned in $50 in fines which he had collected during the past month and he reported that he had sent $25 to the state for fines which he had imposed for motor violations. His report showed that 42 persons had been arrested, eighteen fined, thirteen discharged, six sent to jail and five fined for motor offenses.

ANNUAL NEW ERA SERVICE

THE SOCIETY MEMBERS PAY TRIBUTE TO DEAD.

Thursday Night a Testimonial Dinner Was Given for Augustus Kleinschmidt, Secretary of the Organization Twenty Years.

Fifty members of the New Era society and their wives and friends took part last Thursday afternoon in the society's annual memorial service at the West Long Branch cemetery. Henry Schoenlein of Long Branch made an address and Joseph Wildanger of Red Bank was orator. Many of the organization members are also members of the Elmhurst singing society and this group sang at the service.

The New Era, a German steamship carrying German immigrants to this country, was stranded off the New Jersey coast during a storm in 1851 and all its passengers and crew were lost. The bodies of 146 victims were recovered and buried at West Long Branch. The New Era society has maintained the graves since its organization and has conducted a service at the cemetery annually.

Augustus Kleinschmidt of East Front street last month retired as secretary of the organization after twenty years' service in that office and a testimonial dinner was given for him Thursday at his Monmouth hotel after the memorial services. Seventy-five persons attended the dinner. Mr. Wildanger was toastmaster. The speakers were Henry Kessler of River Plaza, president of the society, and George Pigage and Mr. Schoenlein, both of Long Branch. They gave synopses of the organization's history and said Mr. Kleinschmidt was largely responsible for maintaining the society. They praised him for his good work and a silver fountain pen and pencil set was presented to him in appreciation of his services. He also received many gifts of flowers. Mr. Kleinschmidt made a fitting response. Dancing followed after the dinner until half-past eleven o'clock.

Among those at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mink, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mittenbacher and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Munch and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bauman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moeckler, Mr. and Mrs. August Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. Guido Liebman, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wohl, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bahr, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Felder, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. John Pergen, Mrs. George Pigage, Mrs. Joseph Wildanger, Mrs. Henry Kessler, Mrs. Kleinschmidt, Miss Mary Lederer, Miss Martha, Miss Elsie Kleinschmidt, Alfred Prackel, Carl Huhn, Rudolf Malchow, Joseph Eschelbacher, Charles Hoffman, Judith Schickler, Charles Schneider, Godfrey Hilmer, George Ahlers, Ernest Frank and Max Yager.

SCRAPPING FOR OFFICE.

THE FIGHT WAXES HOTTER IN MIDDLETOWN TOWNSHIP.

Vigorous Campaigns Being Waged for Nominations on the Republican Ticket—A Battle Royal in the Leonardo Election District.

The fight in Middletown township between Carl Grossinger and Daniel H. Collinson for the Republican nomination for township committeeman is waxing hotter. Both candidates are expected to be present and to make short addresses at a Republican mass meeting which will be held at the Middletown township high school at Leonardo Friday night. Edward H. Morford of Fair View is also a candidate for township committeeman, but as no fight is being made against him, his nomination is generally conceded. Two committeemen are to be nominated.

Mr. Grossinger is making his campaign chiefly on his record as a committeeman for two terms. He says that if he is re-elected, will give the township the kind of service that he has in the past. Mr. Collinson, in his campaign, stresses the need of more police protection and water service for the Bayshore section. He defines himself as a progressive and he says that if elected he will put forward-looking policies into effect. Mr. Collinson has started to make a house-to-house canvass of the district where he is now well known. He states that he has been endorsed by the Republican club of Hillside, near Navesink. An impartial survey of conditions at the present time shows Mr. Grossinger apparently having the advantage because he is better known and because he has the support of the township Republican organization. County politics, as well as township politics, are in the fight. This is so because Mr. Grossinger is supporting Frank E. Price for the Republican nomination for freeholder and Mr. Collinson is supporting Harry G. Borden for this nomination.

The scrap between Thomas B. Day and Melvin P. Yard for the Republican nomination for township road supervisor is being vigorously waged by both candidates. Mr. Yard is a house-to-house canvasser and he will get a large majority at Belford where he lives and that will offset whatever majority Mr. Day gets in the rest of the township. Mr. Day is the organization candidate and he is running for re-election. His friends scold at the claims made in Mr. Yard's behalf. They look for an easy victory for Mr. Day.

The scrap in the Leonardo election district for members of the Republican executive committee is very sharp. Both sides are making a house-to-house canvass. The candidates who are running for re-election are Henry VanDusen and Mrs. William Noble. They are opposed by Andrew Watts and Mrs. Lena Maier. Mr. VanDusen and Mrs. Noble have kicked over the party traces and they are working for the nomination of Mr. Collinson for township committeeman. Mr. Watts and Mrs. Maier are supporting Mr. Grossinger. There are other features besides this question of organization regularly, but this is the main issue.

MEMORIAL DAY PARADE.

A BIG CELEBRATION AT RED BANK LAST THURSDAY.

All Seven of the Civil War Veterans Who Live in This Section Were in the Parade—One Old-Timer From Freehold Walked All the Way.

The Decoration Day parade at Red Bank was larger than has taken place here in recent years. Thirty-five years ago, when many civil war veterans were alive, Red Bank had bigger parades. Last Thursday's celebration was a nearer approach to the old-time events than any that has been held here in late years.

There were several unusual features. For one thing Irving Ray of Red Bank and Leroy Chilton of Keyport flew over the parade and dropped flowers. Nothing like that ever happened here before. The veterans also dropped flowers when they exercised at Fair View cemetery.

The fire, drum and bugle corps of the association of veterans of all wars turned out forty strong. The corps never made a better showing either in point of numbers or in the rendition of music.

Arrowsmith post of the Grand Army has seven members and all seven of them were in the parade. They rode in an automobile. Everywhere along the line of march there was respect and veneration for these doughty old warriors. The seven members are Capt. Benjamin Eldridge, who is commander of the post; William K. Storms of Matawan, senior vice commander; Charles Pittman Worthley of Fair Haven, junior vice commander; Joseph Grover chaplain and patriotic instructor; Thomas L. Davis officer of the day and Patrick Carter of Everett and Horace K. Rogers.

Arrowsmith post had one visitor. The guest was Samuel Hankins of Freehold, who is 85 years old and a civil war veteran. Unlike the Red Bank veterans, Mr. Hankins did not ride in an automobile. He walked all the way. The distance was about nine miles and when the marching ended he looked a whole lot fresher and less tired than many of the paradees who were much younger.

The exercises at the memorial monument at the town hall and the various other features took place as outlined in last week's Register.

HEALTHIER CHILDREN.

First Red Bank Clinic Shows Better Conditions than Last Year.

The first clinic for children at Red Bank below the school age was held at the town hall Monday, with Dr. William D. Sayre as the examining physician and with Miss Hansen and Miss Williams as nurses. Twenty-one children were weighed, measured and examined. There was a marked improvement over other years in the condition of the children. Four of the children were underweight and in an undernourished condition, but the other seventeen were all right in these respects. Fewer other defects were found than was the case last year. Six of the children were recommended for tonsil treatment and four had flat feet.

The chief object of the clinic is to have families get their children to school free from remedial defects and physically fit to assume their school responsibilities. The next clinic will be held at the town hall tomorrow morning from ten until twelve o'clock. There will also be clinics at the same place on Monday, June 10th, and on Thursday, June 13th.

AT THE HOSPITAL.

Two Persons Injured in Auto Accident—Rumson Man Hurt.

Howard VanVleet of Scotch Plains and Miss Louise Smith of Plainfield were injured in an accident Decoration day and received treatment at the Red Bank hospital. VanVleet was cut on the wrist and face and Miss Smith suffered a probable fracture of the knee.

Henry Shappert of Rumson was at the hospital last week for an X-ray photograph of a fractured collar bone.

Mrs. Sarah T. Ketchum of Fair Haven was admitted as a medical patient last week.

Summer Camp Registrations.

Registrations for the Christian association summer camp in Burlington county are coming in rapidly. Three weeks of the camping period are already closed. This leaves only three more weeks open for registrations, which can be made to the county office at Freehold.

CONTRACTS FOR SCHOOL WORK

One Contract Has Been Awarded and Two Others Will be Soon.

The board of education of Middletown township has awarded a contract to the William F. Whittle company of Philadelphia to place an ornamental fence around the grounds of the public school at Middletown village. The work will probably be started this week. The cost will be $500.

Next Monday night the board will award a contract for coal to be used in the schools of the township. It requires about 500 tons of coal to heat the schools for a year.

On Thursday night, June 20th, the board will award a contract for a new heating system at the Belford schoolhouse. The old heating system is being torn out by Charles Brown of Belford.

PREPARING FOR BIG FAIR.

ELKS TO DISPOSE OF A NASH COACH THIS YEAR.

Fair Will be Held on the Home Grounds on West Front Street From July 5th to 13th—Seven Merchandise Booths to be Operated.

The fair committee of the Red Bank lodge of Elks has purchased a Nash coach from the Snedeker Nash corporation of Atlantic Highlands to be used as the grand prize at the annual fair, which will be held from July 5th to 13th. At a recent meeting of the committee William J. Oakes of Atlantic Highlands was chosen secretary and Kenneth H. McQueen of Red Bank treasurer. Lester E. McQueen was appointed chairman of the decorating and lighting committee, William Dowd of the dancing committee and Leo Green of the refreshment committee.

The grounds at the home will be much larger than in previous years because of the removal of a building at the rear of the Elks home. This year the committee plans to operate seven booths, which will present a wide variety of useful and ornamental

Now more than a MILLION FRIGIDAIRE have been built

With every department of the Frigidaire factories running at maximum capacity, with orders greater than at any time in the history of the business, on Thursday, May 16th, the Millionth Frigidaire was built

In both the Household and Commercial fields Frigidaire leads in sales to customers

THERE are definite reasons why more Frigidaires are in use than all other makes of electric refrigerators combined; why it is the choice of home owners, of builders, of apartment owners, of commercial refrigeration users throughout the world.

Beauty, power and convenience
Frigidaire has surplus power that meets every emergency in the hottest weather, and yet operates economically always.

Frigidaire cabinets are beautiful—they are finished in gleaming porcelain enamel, or white Duco—clean and easy to keep clean. The mechanical part is completely enclosed and so quiet that you don't hear it start, stop, or run. Food shelves are elevated so that stooping is unnecessary.

The famous "Cold Control"

And in addition to the standard temperature regulator which automatically maintains an ideal temperature in the food compartment, Frigidaire is equipped with the famous "Cold Control" that speeds the freezing of ice cubes and makes possible dozens of new and delicious desserts and salads.

Low Prices

Because Frigidaire has achieved the million mark—because it is the overwhelming choice of the majority—the economies of quantity production have made prices so low that every model represents a tremendous saving to the buyer.

TOWN TALK.

and Farming for Fun.

Considering the tough times which farmers are having just now, the pain for good financial judgment probably would not be accorded by popular verdict to a man who gives up a highly profitable business to take to the soil. But such an instance, like nearly everything else, has another side to it than mere money making.

The action of W. Albert Burdge of Red Bank in buying a big farm at Scobeyville and in arranging to turn over his bus and truck business to his sons so that he can give all his time and attention to agriculture is an example of the sort cited above. Mr. Burdge was born in farm surroundings. He says the desire to own and operate a farm has percolated in his mind since childhood. He has been spending nearly all his time on his farm since he bought it and he plans to build a house there for his own use.

Examples of successful business men giving up their work and finding contentment and happiness on a farm are few and far between. If Mr. Burdge succeeds in doing this he will be an exception to the general rule. The average business man spends the greater part of his life toiling up a steep hill, with the expectation of an easy ride down hill in the latter part of his life. The trouble with most of these business men is that the climb takes too long. Many of them find, if they survive the climb, that the hobby or pleasure to which they had looked forward with so much anticipation has lost its charm.

Love of the soil is deeply implanted in many natures. If it is as elemental in Mr. Burdge as it is in many other persons he will have made no mistake in his hobby. He is fortunate in being able to retire at the age of 47 years, for he still has the health and strength for the strenuous exercise that farming requires.

Any business man who can quit working for money and work for fun is a success. The work which he chooses to do for fun may not be financially profitable, but that is not the main consideration. A man who can find happiness in such surroundings is really more of a success than a man who piles up millions but who never finds surcease from business cares and duties. There are certain things which cannot be measured in terms of worldly possessions, and the ability to lead a happy retired life ranks high among these things. And who knows but that Mr. Burdge, in farming for the fun of it, may be able to make his farm financially profitable?

Lawyers to Doctor Up the Laws Lawyers Made.

President Hoover's commission which he has appointed to investigate the lack of law enforcement and to recommend changes to bring about greater respect for law and a greater degree of law enforcement consists of ten lawyers and one other person, this person being a college professor. Lawyers comprise only a small part of the population, but the belief that they are better equipped than anyone else to pass laws and to deal with methods of law enforcement is generally prevalent. It seems reasonable to infer that President Hoover shares this belief or he would not have appointed a commission which is ten to one lawyer-minded.

The belief that lawyers are more competent to make laws than other folks and better qualified to deal with methods of law enforcement was probably never stronger than it is today. But if this were really true, why is it that it is necessary to appoint a special commission to inquire into the causes of the growing disrespect for laws and the lack of law enforcement? If the lawyers make a good job of passing laws why are any changes necessary?

Lawyers are more numerous in the national congress than any other class. The same is true in nearly every legislature. In New Jersey it is especially true. The preponderance of lawyers in the state legislature is always very heavy. The lawyers, dominating as they do the work of law-making and the methods of law enforcement, have had every opportunity to cure whatever defects which may exist. They have not done so. Now it is proposed to doctor up their work and to bring this about President Hoover appoints a committee of eleven persons, consisting of ten lawyers and one man of presumably horse sense.

While this investigation is proceeding at national scope, a special New Jersey state committee is investigating the election laws of New Jersey with a view of remedying defects in these laws. Woodrow Wilson, when he was governor of New Jersey, gave to this state the best election law it ever had. When his influence was removed the laws were doctored up and changed for the benefit of the politicians. The Republicans have had control of the legislature almost continuously since Woodrow Wilson was governor and every year they changed the election laws for partisan advantage. Conditions are worse now than they were in the old days before election reform was attempted at all.

So many alterations have been made that no one knows just what the election laws mean. They have been changed out of all semblance to their original meaning. When they were originally passed they were definite, clear and plain. As an example of these changes, consider the handicaps which have been created to keep independent candidates from being elected. When the election laws were passed during Woodrow Wilson's term as governor an independent candidate had as good a position on the ticket as a Democratic or Republican candidate. For example, the names of candidates for governor were printed in a row with the party classification or independent classification opposite each name. The same was true of candidates for other offices.

Under the present election laws the name of independent candidates are put in an inconspicuous out-of-the-way place on the ticket. Moreover, the requirements for filing an independent nomination petition are much more exacting and difficult than those of regular party candidates. The result is that few if any independent candidates run for office these days. There is no good reason why this condition should exist. There are thousands of voters who are not satisfied with the rule of either of the old parties. These independent voters are virtually disfranchised by a lack of independent candidates to vote for, except under conditions where an independent candidate has absolutely no chance of election.

But when everything is summed up the people have no one to blame but themselves for this condition. They have repeatedly elected men to the legislature who have passed partisan election laws. Both political parties want these kind of laws. All the investigations and recommendations in the world won't change this fact, so long as the people care more about party government than they care about good government. Changes may be made, but they will be changes of form only. The spirit of real representative government, common-sense election laws will continue to be lacking so long as partisanship dominates the public mind instead of free, clear, intelligent thought devoid of partisan considerations.

Award Increased.

Timothy Hurley of Spring Lake, has secured an award of $5,000 from the borough for a tract of land fronting on the ocean, having a depth of 250 feet and located at Wreck pond. Condemnation commissioners had allowed Mr. Hurley only $3,000. He valued the land at $10,000.

Police Scared Off.

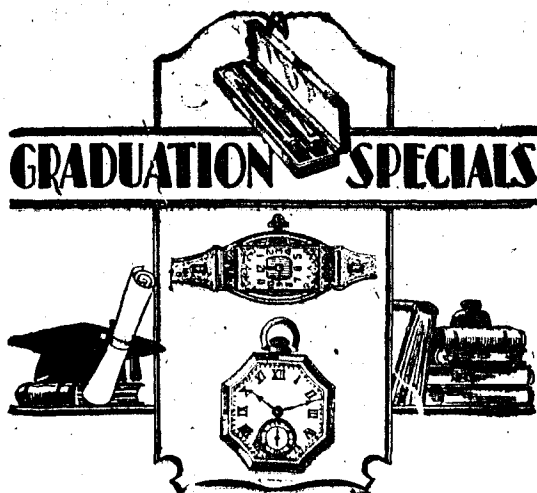

Asbury Park policemen who went to a home recently to serve a warrant on a charge of possessing liquor were foiled when the woman of the house appeared at the door and told the officers that her children were confined to their beds with scarlet fever. The officers quickly withdrew.

A directory of desirable homes is The Register's Want page.—Advertisement.

A NEW HOSPITAL.

A. E. Fitkin Gives $500,000 to Spring Lake Institution.

A. E. Fitkin of Allentown, Pa., New York, public utilities magnate, has announced the gift of more than $500,000 to the trustees of the Spring Lake hospital for constructing a new building, which together with money now held by the trustees and a valuable plot on Corlies avenue in Neptune township will give the hospital a $1,000,000 plant. The donation will be known as a memorial to Mr. Fitkin's son Raleigh, who died at Allentown fourteen years ago, and Paul Morgan of Interlaken, who was formerly manager of the Jersey Central power and light company at Asbury Park and who died recently. Plans for the hospital were drawn some time ago and it is expected that work will be started soon. The new hospital will have 150 beds and it will be equipped with all the modern appliances known to medical science. In addition to making the cash gift Mr. Fitkin will also donate the famous Howard Christie Chandler portrait "The War Nurse," which he purchased for $100,000.

by permit the berries to become a deeper red. For the oysterman, the station is endeavoring to develop seed beds in Barnegat Bay. It has also established facts concerning the influence of food, environment and natural enemies on the propagation and growth of oysters. These studies point the way to more intensive methods of oyster culture. Queen honeybees of a strain highly resistant to European foulbrood are being made available to the beekeeper. Many varieties of Jersey cranberries are not satisfactorily colored when the time comes to remove them from vines. No practical method of applying light and heat for coloring the berries has been developed and to permit them to remain on the vines exposes them to the possibility of frost.

As a protection against the first cold spells experiments have been made with lines of overhead irrigation. Berries were uninjured where the water from this irrigation fell upon them while outside the water zone the temperature went below freezing. It is believed, too, that spray materials may eventually be distributed through such overhead lines.

Spraying is required in the cranberry bogs against the blunt-nosed leafhoppers which have been held responsible for spread of false blights. This affection of the plant, recognized in New Jersey bogs for years, is becoming more and more a serious menace. Where it becomes dominant, practically no berries can be grown for the reason that the plants become sterile. In addition to seeking new oyster grounds in Barnegat Bay, the station aided the oyster shipper of Maurice river cove by satisfying the federal government that oysters could be floated with safety before shipment. In the floating process the oyster washes itself and the experiments conducted by the station determined, at varying temperatures, how long the oyster would remain open and active and how much water would be absorbed by it under varying conditions of temperature and salinity.

Jellyfish, one of the worst enemies of the oyster spawn, are believed to have interfered with attempts to obtain a set in Barnegat bay. Through the activities of these jellyfish the spawn were reduced in number so rapidly that only an occasional specimen survived to the setting stage. The spawn which succeeded in setting, grew rapidly showing that conditions for growth were good. The source of the jellyfish is the Atlantic ocean and in some years they come into the bay in great numbers while in other years they are absent. "Over and against this gloomy picture," says the annual report of the experiment station, "is that of great promise for the Cape May shore of Delaware bay. Here lie thousands of acres of hard flats, bare at low tide, upon which oysters set heavily on any suitable cultch. It is our belief that on these flats could be obtained seed oysters sufficient to augment to a considerable degree the seed from the natural bed, leaving a large surplus for export to other oyster producing areas."

If you wanted a job would you print 7,500 circulars telling all about it and distribute them among 7,500 homes? You would not. It would cost too much in time and money. Wise men get the same results by classified advertising in The Register.—Advertisement.

SOLD FOR BUSINESS SITE.

A NEW BUSINESS ON THE STATE HIGHWAY CUTOFF.

Edward E. Young is Building a Restaurant and Service Station on Land Which He Bought from Henry Jones—Two Other Sales.

Alfred E. Young of Keansburg has bought one and three-quarters acres of land from Henry Jones on the north side of the new state highway cutoff near Middletown village. Mr. Jones' farm is across the road from the land bought by Mr. Young. The location is a short distance east of the junction of the cutoff with the old part of the state highway.

Mr. Young paid $3,000 for the land. Last week a party who did not know that the land had been made stopped at Mr. Jones' farm and made an offer of $6,000 for the property.

Mr. Young, who is engaged in the building and contracting business, is putting up a building for use as a restaurant and automobile service business on the land which he bought from Mr. Jones. He will conduct the business himself and he expects to have it in operation by the Fourth of July.

The building will be 28x34 feet. It will have a stucco front and it will be of the Spanish type of architecture. There will be large plate glass windows. On the land is a pear orchard. This will be made into a park for the use of patrons of the new business. A large tent will be on the grounds. The building will cost $3,250. Mr. Young is doing the work. Besides selling this plot, Mr. Jones sold two small pieces of land to Calvin and Clinton Heath, two brothers whose residence properties adjoin land bought by Mr. Young. The d bought by Calvin Heath has a frontage of 100 feet on the cutoff and it is 42 feet deep. The price was $104. Clinton Heath bought a piece of land, with a frontage of thirty feet on the state highway and a depth of 60 feet. The price was $75. The new owners expect to offer the land for rent as sites for roadside booths.

Frank L. Piney of Keyport has opened a roadside booth business in a building on Calvin Heath's land. The booth was built by Mr. Piney. He has leased the land where the booth is located from Calvin Heath for five years at the rate of $500 a year. The booth is the first one to be opened on business since the state highway cutoff was made. It is expected that many other booths will be opened on the cutoff before the warm weather season ends.

SALE OF AVENEL HOTEL.

NEW YORK MAN BUYS HOTEL AND ADJOINING LANDS.

Tract Comprises Fourteen Acres, Including the Hotel and Three Bungalows—Land to be Subdivided and Sold as Building Lots.

Fourteen acres of land at Pleasure Bay, including the Avenel hotel and three bungalows, formerly owned by the Patten steamboat line, were bought last Sunday by Frank Terregola of New York for $30,000. The property is on the south side of River road. This road extends from Port-au-peque to Long Branch. The hotel, bungalows and land were owned by the Second National bank of Red Bank, this institution having bought the property and also the Patten steamboat line from the Patten company about two years ago. The steamboats and a piece of land adjoining the steamboat dock were recently sold by the bank.

The Avenel hotel has eight large rooms on the first floor, including a very large kitchen, a very large dining room, a lobby and a wide porch all the way around the hotel. It also has 25 bedrooms. The hotel is unfurnished but it is in perfect condition. All that is necessary before moving in is a little sweeping and dusting. It was leased a couple of years ago and the tenant put it in perfect condition. It was operated during that season under the name of the Biarritz club.

The three bungalows are near the hotel and near the steamboat dock. Like the hotel, they are in excellent condition and are ready for immediate occupancy. These bungalows are on a private road leading from River road past the steamboat dock.

The property has a frontage of about 2,000 feet on the South Shrewsbury river. Two new roads will be laid out through the property and the land will be divided into 130 lots.

Most of the lots are 25x100 feet, but a few of them are larger. These lots will be put on the market within the next month or so. Not less than two lots will be sold to a customer and as most of the lots are river lots they are expected to find a quick sale. The hotel and the bungalows will also be offered for sale.

WIKOFF FARM LOTS SOLD.

EIGHT LOTS ON THAT TRACT WERE SOLD LAST WEEK.

Two Lots Are on the Tinton Falls and Freehold Highway—Three Others Are on Forest Avenue and Three on Lakeside Avenue.

Eight lots were sold on the Wikoff Farms development last week. The lots sold ranged in price from $400 to $2,000 each. Two of the lots sold are on Freehold highway, three are on Forest avenue near the highway, and the three others are on Lakeside avenue, near the Tinton river company lake.

The two highest priced lots were the two on the highway. These lots are 137 feet on the highway and are 728 feet deep. They were bought by James H. Horne of Tinton avenue, Eatontown, who paid $2,000 each for them.

John Colby of Branch avenue, Little Silver, bought three lots on Forest avenue, near the Freehold highway. These lots are 150 feet front by 600 feet deep. Mr. Colby has a greenhouse on his present residence plot and he will build a very large greenhouse on the lots he has just bought. The greenhouse is expected to be completed by September.

Three other lots which were sold on the Wikoff Farms tract during the past week are on Lakeside avenue, on the rear of the tract and facing on Tinton lake. This section of the tract is heavily wooded. These lots are 75 feet front with an average depth of about 350 feet. The prices varied a little in accordance with the depth of the lots and their location on Lakeside avenue. William D. Layton of Broad street, Shrewsbury, paid $400 for one of this part of the tract; Frederick B. Plow of Brooklyn paid $550 for another lot on this part, and Douglas R. Balloch of Red Bank paid $450 for a lot. Mr. Balloch has already built a very fine bungalow on his lot. The bungalow has five rooms and a garage is connected with the building. Mr. Layton has moved lumber on his lot for a house which he will build for his own use.

TWO GATEWAY LOTS SOLD.

New York and Orange Residents Were the Buyers of These Lots.

George and Beatrice Ganteaume of Orange last week bought a lot on the Gateway development at Highlands for $1,385. The lot is a large one, it having a frontage of 122 feet on Hillside road and it is 234 feet deep. The new owners intend to build a fine home on the property. The other lot which was sold at Gateway was bought by R. L. Tins of New York. This lot is on Bay-side drive and it is 50x125 feet. The price of this lot was $400.

LOT SELLS FOR $3,000.

It is on the King's Highway Near Headen's Corner.

A lot on the east side of the King's Highway, a short distance south of Headen's Corner, was sold last week for $3,000. The sale was made by the Peck Sales agency. The lot is 50x150 feet. It was owned by Sarah Jane and Charles Van Ness and the buyer was Lucian Dorian of New York. The new owner contemplates erecting a filling station on the lot. This is the highest price so far paid for any lot in that locality.

Rumson Lot Sold.

Edward A. Jeffrey has bought a lot on Park avenue in Farmly Park from Raymond Pullen. The lot is 75x168 feet and the price was $1,800. Mr. Jeffrey plans to build a seven-room house on the lot for his own occupancy. Mr. Pullen bought the lot several years ago from Mr. Farmly for $1,100.

Finding a Job.

Howard Roosevelt to Build Bungalows at Fair Haven.

Fourteen lots at Fair Haven have been bought by Howard Roosevelt of Red Bank from George T. Linton. Ten lots are on the west side of Forest avenue, two on the south side of Beekman place and two on the west side of Lake avenue. Each lot is 50x150 feet. Mr. Roosevelt paid $12,000 for the property. He will erect bungalows costing about $6,000 each on the lots. The sale was made by the Hadley-Hall real estate agency.

MANASQUAN DOCTOR DEAD.

Dr. Clarence Norris Died in a New York Hospital.
Dr. Clarence A. Norris, who had practiced medicine at Manasquan more than 25 years, died at a New York hospital Thursday night. He was taken to a Morristown hospital on May 27th for treatment for diabetes. It was found he was also suffering from other ailments and it was decided to remove him to New York for observation and treatment. On Wednesday an operation was deemed advisable, but peritonitis developed and caused his death. Dr. Norris was born at Seagriff 32 years ago. He was a member of the staff of the Spring Lake hospital. He is survived by a widow, three sisters and two brothers.

Found War Hero's Grave.

The Keyport American legion members discovered the grave of a Revolutionary war soldier in Cedarwood cemetery last week and decorated it. The grave was that of Thomas Carhart, who was at the Battle of Monmouth and also took part in other engagements.

HOLMDEL NEWS.

Children's Day Exercises to be Held by Two Sunday-Schools.

Children's day will be observed by the Sunday-school of the Reformed church Sunday night. No service will be held at the Baptist church that night in order to give the members of the congregation an opportunity to attend the entertainment. On the following Sunday night the Sunday-school of the Baptist church will observe children's day.

Elizabeth Sherman, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John Sherman, received a prize of a five-dollar gold piece last week from the Exchange club of Red Bank. From the same club Robert Voorhes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Voorhes, received a prize of a fountain pen. These awards were made as first and third prizes for essays on "Benjamin Franklin and the Declaration of Independence."

Mrs. John S. Holmes received a sprained ankle in an accident last week. She met with this injury while walking when a stick slipped beneath her when she stepped on it.

Mrs. Jacob Stern has almost fully recovered from her sickness and she is no longer under the care of a nurse.

Nearly all the potato fields in this neighborhood present a fine appearance and there is every prospect now of a good crop. The wet, cold weather or early this spring caused some damage but not enough to make it seem likely that there will be any great curtailment in the yield. Apparently the potato acreage in Holmdel township is almost as large as it was last year.

A number of the residents of this place attended an athletic meet on the grounds of Peddie Institute at Hightstown on Saturday. On Monday there was also a considerable number of Holmdelers at Hightstown to attend the graduation exercises of Peddie Institute. Quite a few residents of this place are graduates of Peddie Institute and they retain an interest in the place.

Holmdel cemetery was never more elaborately decorated with flowers and flags than it was on Memorial day. Visitors thronged the place all day. There is much praise for Howard Wagner for the fine condition in which he keeps the cemetery.

George Ely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel S. Ely, is home for the summer vacation from Lehigh university.

Holmdel has no baseball team this year, due to the fact that there is no place for games to be played. However, there is usually a large attendance of Holmdel residents at the games played by the Everett baseball team. James and Ralph Maher are members of the Everett team. The games are played on a field on Grove Thacker's farm, which is about midway between Holmdel and Everett.

Rev. John Sherman and Taylor Hance, who are partners in the chicken business, increased their stock last week when they received a shipment of 400 chicks from Frenchtown. Most of the birds are on Mr. Sherman's place and some are on Howard Wagner's property. The partners now have 700 chicks.

The public school will close for the summer vacation on Friday of next week.

The work of preparing the road between this place and Matawan to be paved with concrete was started on Monday by the Jannarone contracting company. The job was begun on the Matawan end. Next year it is proposed to extend the road southward to Colt's Neck.

The ladies' aid society of the Baptist church held a cake sale Saturday. The ladies' aid society of the Reformed church is planning to hold similar sales during the summer.

Chickens and crows continue to take a large toll of poultry in this section. Scarecrows and other means of frightening the birds seem to be of no avail.

Mrs. Charles Conover has recovered from the injury which she received in a fall a few weeks ago. She was painfully hurt, but she did not receive a broken bone as was reported.

TINTON FALLS NEWS.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid Society to Hold a Meeting Tomorrow.

The ladies' aid society of the Methodist church will meet tomorrow at the home of Mrs. E. H. Ehinger. One of the questions which will come up is that of deciding whether or not to hold a harvest home. Nearly every year this festival is held, but sometimes it is omitted.

Walter LeStrange has returned to New York after a visit to John H. Carney.

Dr. Herman Reiman and family of New York have moved to their house here for the summer.

Paul Gibson and family of New York spent part of last week with Mrs. Harry Mayberry.

Stanley Wilkins, son of Wellington Wilkins, is home from Hahnemann medical college at Philadelphia, for the summer vacation. The Sunday-school of the Methodist church is practicing for an entertainment in celebration of children's day.

Colt's Neck is in charge of the work.

Prayer meeting will be held tomorrow night at the Methodist church. None was held last week because Thursday was Memorial day.

Mr. and Mrs. Helm and son of Philadelphia spent a day last week with Mrs. Charles Dreyer. David Scott caught a trout which was thirteen inches long near the dam of the Monmouth consolidated water company last week. He has caught 27 trout so far this season and he is the most successful fisherman of Tinton Falls. Early in the season he was not so fortunate, but he was persistent and later on he got a lot of fish.

Mrs. Samuel J. Bennett is having her house wired for electricity. Donald Smith of Red Bank is doing the work.

A short time ago a small building on Theodore Parney's farm was moved to a woods a considerable distance from the house. Mr. Parney's son, Theodore Parney, Jr., Ernest Pills and David Scott have made some changes to the building and have converted it into a sort of a camp. They have been sleeping there nearly every night since the building was moved.

The old swimming hole at Pine brook, near Water street, found large use last week during the hot spell. Pretty much all the young folks of the village, as well as some adult persons, enjoyed the cooling waters. Within the memory of the oldest residents of Tinton Falls this spot has always been used for a swimming hole. Among those who find recreation and refreshment there are a considerable number of farmhands. They say that after a hard day's work in the hot, dusty fields nothing makes them feel better than a cooling dip in the old swimming hole.

Samuel Cummings caught twelve trout in four hours last Wednesday morning at Pine brook. This is the biggest catch of trout made here in a short space of time so far this season.

There is every prospect of large hay and grain crops in this section. The wet, cold weather which prevailed during most of the spring caused a rapid growth of these crops and it is not likely that any late unfavorable conditions will offset the good, early start.

Zion Methodist church of Pine brook cleared $5 by a necktie and apron social last week.

Mrs. William Bowles is a patient at the Allenwood sanitarium. She was taken to that place last week.

School will close for the summer vacation on Friday, June 21st. This is later than usual, due to the fact that the new schoolhouse at this place was not completed until late last September.

A FIVE-YEAR-OLD FORECAST MORE THAN REALIZED

JUNE 7 1924

" + + + the Chrysler is, in reality, the first step in the general revision of motor car design which is bound to follow its advent. + + + For it is an entirely new type of car, built on a new kind of engineering, which produces results radically different from any heretofore registered in the industry."

—Advertisement Saturday Evening Post June 7, 1924

CHRYSLER'S INFLUENCE ON YOUR CAR

It has become an axiom of the motor car industry that much of what comes tomorrow originates in what Chrysler engineering does today.

For five years, Chrysler has been the acknowledged leader in thrilling performance. For five years, Chrysler has led the way in individuality and modern smartness of design.

Those in possession of the facts know that there is scarcely a motor car today that does not owe some improvement in its make-up to Chrysler—and has not become a better car by reason of Chrysler engineering achievement.

Emulation is a nice compliment to Chrysler leadership, of course. But the mere copying of features cannot equal the complete Chrysler results.

To you who are about to choose a new car, a natural question arises: Why not enjoy a Chrysler itself, so long as Chrysler smartness, comfort, performance and quality are the goals to which other cars are striving? Let us show you in a test of your own choosing the superiority of Chrysler to anything aspiring to compete with Chrysler.

Who are the people who have made this car such an overwhelming success?

The New Pontiac Big Six is scoring a tremendous success. All previous Pontiac production records have been surpassed in meeting the enthusiastic demand for this car. But the most interesting phase of Pontiac's latest and greatest success lies, not in the number of people who are buying it, but in the kind of people. They give the real clue to what this car provides.

The New Pontiac Big Six was created for those progressive people who had been seeking a finer low-priced automobile. It was designed to enable them to step up the quality of their motor cars without stepping out of the low-priced field. As a result, they have bought the New Pontiac Big Six by tens of thousands, enabling us once again to tell the familiar story . . . Pontiac Six reaches a new high point in sales.

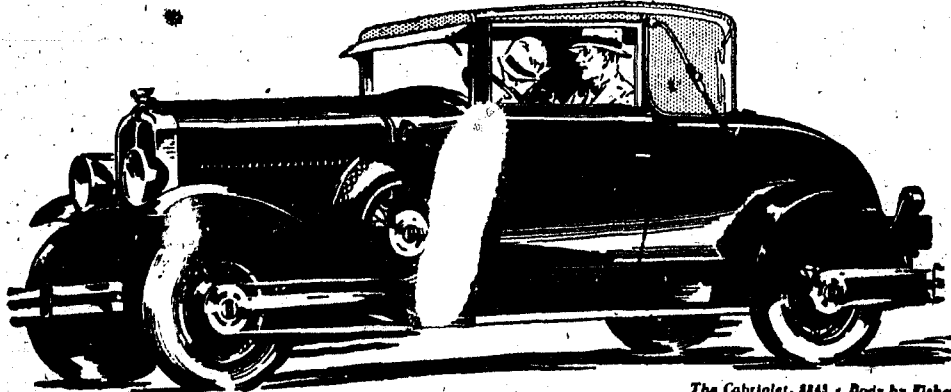

A special demonstration has been arranged to show how thoroughly the New Pontiac Big Six lives up to its name. If you will come in for this demonstration, you will learn the reasons for Pontiac's success.

More doctors more lawyers more business men buy Buicks than any other fine car

Professional men know automobiles. Their very standing in their communities demands that they drive cars of outstanding merit and reliability. It is significant therefore that more doctors—more lawyers—more business men the country over buy Buicks than any other fine car!

You will find these discerning owners agreed that Buick combines the maximum of tasteful luxury and distinction . . . and, in addition, a margin of clear-cut leadership in power, getaway, swiftness and stamina so remarkable as to single out Buick as the great performing automobile of the day!

As a result of this leadership—in traffic—on hills—on the highway—Buick wins more than twice as many buyers as any other car priced above $1200 and pleases them so thoroughly that Buick owners alone purchase more Buicks than the total production of any other quality car.

JUDGMENT AGAINST DOCTOR.

David H. Dickey is Awarded Verdict of $12,000.

David H. Dickey, formerly school principal at West Long Branch, has been awarded judgment of $12,000 against Dr. Joseph P. Cleary of Mineola, New Jersey, for alleged slander, improper diagnosis and treatment and committing him to the state hospital at Trenton. Dr. Cleary had an office in Dickey's home when the latter lived at Easton. Dickey became sick and Dr. Cleary prescribed for him and finally, with Dr. Samuel Hausman of Red Bank, signed papers committing Dickey to the state hospital. Dickey spent thirteen months in the hospital. Following his release he divorced his wife, naming Charles K. Hopping of Red Bank as co-respondent. Dickey some time ago secured judgment of $10,000 against Hopping for alienation of his wife's affections.

COLT'S NECK NEWS.

Twelve Pupils to Graduate from the Public School.

The public school will close for the summer vacation Friday. The closing exercises will be held tomorrow night. The graduates will be Mary New, Margaret Bordick, Catherine Golden, Olga Kissel, Dorothy Decher, Cora Douglass, Elizabeth Matthews, Alice Hyatt, Frank McCue, Frank Estelle, John Swingle and Edwin Sherman. The usual trip to Trenton by bus will be made, but the date for this event has not yet been fixed.

Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Thomson left Monday for Holland, Michigan, where they will attend the general synod of Reformed churches. They made a brief stop at Binghamton to visit relatives. The synod will open tomorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Thomson will return home next week. No preaching services will be held at the Reformed church Sunday, but the usual Sunday-school session will take place.

The members of the Colt's Neck gun club had a fine time Saturday afternoon and evening at an outing and supper at William Matthews's log cabin south of the village. The dinner was prepared and served by the members of the helping circle and sewing club of the Reformed church. It was a tasty and wholesome repast.

The Jannarone company continues to make rapid progress with the work of putting concrete on the county road. It is probable that the work will be finished within two weeks. On Monday the Jannarone company began the work of paving the road between Holmdel and Matawan.

Louis Plotkin has had the large wooden steps in front of his store replaced with concrete steps.

Children's day was celebrated by the Sunday-school of the Reformed church Sunday night.

Floral tributes were numerous at Atlantic cemetery on Memorial Day and there were many visitors. The cemetery grounds are in fine condition.

Arnold Conover, son of Christine Conover, has received a graduation gift of an automobile from his father. Arnold will graduate from the Red Bank high school.

The sewing club of the Reformed church will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sidney Beers of Oceanport, formerly of this place. The helping circle of the church will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter D. Fields.

A team made up of farmers played the boys of the Pioneer club at baseball last week. The farmers won by a score of 5 to 2, but in view of the farmers' greater size and strength the general opinion is that the boys did remarkably well to keep the score so low. Joseph Hamernick and Leroy Hunt were the battery for the farmers.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Plotkin of New York spent last Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Plotkin.

Agnes Schunk, Catherine New, Marie Shuler and Arnold Conover will graduate from the Red Bank high school.

Dorothy Decher, daughter of Conrad Decher, celebrated her fifteenth birthday with a party last week. About thirty guests were present. Dorothy received many fine gifts and she and her friends had a fine time. Sherman Hunt has given up his position as superintendent of Mrs. Euron Downing's farm and he has moved to Freehold. He is employed by Louis Snyder, who has charge of the bridges in this part of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Umber will move in a few days from the Decher house to a house owned by E. Elwood Douglass.

The Colt's Neck gun club held a shooting match on Memorial Day on Russell Hault's farm. The best score was made by Walter Conover, who broke 21 clay pigeons out of 25. Louis Snyder was second high man with a score of 19.

James Maher pitched for Everett and he allowed only a few hits. Charles Kelly was the Everett team's catcher. The Red Bank team used two pitchers and both were knocked out of the box. The Everett batsmen hit doubles and triples galore and a home run was made by Lee War-nock. Vincent Hammond, an Everett fielder and the youngest player on the team, made a triple.

The Blessed Sacrament guild will meet next Tuesday night at Mrs. Raymond McCue's at Long Branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haley and Miss Marion Dzilezy attended the wedding reception Saturday night at Red Bank of Miss Sophie Kazanska and David Haley.

Hardest tests prove that Puritan burner can't burn out

IN A FAR CORNER of the huge Perfection Laboratories, in March, 1917, we began a test to find out how long a Puritan burner would wear. We were going to burn it until it wore out. It has now burned every week day for 12 years, 8 hours a day. This would equal 22 years of kitchen use. Today that burner is still going, as good as new! We can't wear it out. This is why we can say to you: "If any Puritan burner burns out, you get a new one free."

Giant burner gives 55% more cooking heat

New oil stove shown here is equipped with these Puritan burners: three regular-sized ones which give plenty of heat for ordinary cooking, and one Giant Puritan which gives 55% more. All burners have clean, close-up flames, controlled by automatic wick stops.

This stove has a finish that cannot rust or wear out: porcelain enamel and Perfectionlac in snow-white, silver gray and dove gray. Special features are: extra large grates . . a warming shelf . . another shelf for kitchen vessels . . removable tray below burners . . reversible reservoir . . large lower reservoir.

See this model and other new Puritans at your dealer's. Prices, $18 to $145. He will doubtless offer you easy terms.

Puritan Stoves are made and guaranteed by the Perfection Stove Company, the world's oldest and largest manufacturers of oil-burning devices.

Use a "Live Heat" Oven

For perfect baking use a Perfection or Puritan "Live Heat" oven, in which heat rushes in at the bottom, circulates quickly around the foods, and down between the double walls. This gives a third wall of "live heat", speedier baking and better flavored foods.

She was the daughter of a prominent family and was a student at the Middletown high school. She was visiting her father at Red Bank. The shooting occurred in the back yard of Crumwell's home. Crumwell, after shooting the girl, attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself. The attempt failed. The bullet did not hit Crumwell. The young man then went to police headquarters and gave himself up. Later he made a complete written confession. He is now in the county jail. The shooting occurred in the back yard of Crumwell's home. Olivia Green was a member of the graduating class of the Middletown high school at Leonard. She was a bright girl and she stood high in her studies. Crumwell had been employed by the Burns Bros. coal company of Red Bank. About two months ago his leg was injured in an accident and he had not worked since that time. His father is employed by Burns Bros. Last night young Crumwell drove to Olivia Green's house and invited her to go for a ride. The young couple went to Red Bank. There Olivia stayed for a short time at Crumwell's home while Crumwell returned with his two friends and returned with Olivia as one of the members of the party of four young folks, went to the home of Caroline Mattison on Willow street. They stayed there until midnight and then the party went to the Crumwell home. Up to this time there had been no quarrel and everyone was in happy spirits. The four young people, upon returning to Crumwell's home, entered the house but stayed at the yard and carried on a conversation while seated in Crumwell's car. A quarrel broke out between Crumwell and Olivia. This was for a short time and then Crumwell got out of the car, stating that he would be back in a few moments. Crumwell got a large revolver at the house and put it in his coat pocket. When he returned to the car Olivia had no idea that he was armed. The quarrel was resumed and Olivia asked Crumwell to take her home. Crumwell turned on the light switch of the automobile, but only one headlight responded. He asked the girl to step outside and fix the damaged light, but Olivia refused to do so. Crumwell then stepped out of the car, drew the revolver from his pocket and fired three bullets at the girl, who was seated in the car. Two of the bullets struck Olivia beneath her left shoulder, near her heart. The other bullet missed the girl and hit the car. After discharging three bullets at Olivia, Crumwell pointed the revolver at his own head and fired one bullet. He fell on the ground as though dead, but the bullet did not hit him. However, the powder scorched his face. Either Crumwell fainted or he was feigning an attempt at suicide. Olivia did not die instantly. After Crumwell fell to the ground, Olivia got out of the car and started to walk to Crumwell's house. While she was walking Crumwell got up and followed the girl. Olivia was about to step on the back porch when she fell dead in Crumwell's arms. Crumwell's mother appeared on the porch about that time. She had been asleep and was awakened by the shooting. Hurriedly dressing she rushed downstairs and out on the porch. She saw Crumwell holding the dead girl and she asked her son the cause of the noise. Crumwell responded that he had shot Olivia. The mother became hysterical. She is still in a very nervous condition. During the quarrel and shooting, Caroline Mattison and Oscar Scott were in the back seat of the car. They were the only witnesses of the tragedy, aside from the parties directly concerned. Crumwell immediately went to police headquarters and confessed to the murder. He made his confession to Lieutenant Edward Connors and he was then taken to Justice Henry P. Hylin's office, where he made a written confession. He was taken to county jail early this morning. When Crumwell made his confession he turned over to Lieutenant Connors the revolver which he had used. It was an unusually large revolver and it had chambers for six bullets. Two cartridges which had not been used remained in the revolver. Olivia would have graduated from the Middletown high school next week. A large part of her conversation last night, before she was shot, related to her graduation plans and her plans for finding work after the close of school. In the automobile where she was shot were several invitations to the graduating exercises which had been intended for Olivia's friends. Her body was taken to Albert W. Worden's undertaking parlors to be prepared for burial.

NEW RESIDENTIAL PARK.

IT WILL BE ON THE RIVER AT FAIR HAVEN.

The Owners Are Edwin R. Conover, Howard S. Higginson, Henry H. Kohl, Jr., and Lester R. Ross, All Residents of Red Bank.

The Dudley Farrand property on the river front at Fair Haven has been bought by Edwin R. Conover, Howard S. Higginson, Henry H. Kohl, Jr., and Lester R. Ross. Mr. Conover is president of the Broad Street national bank. Mr. Higginson is a Red Bank lawyer, and Mr. Kohl and Mr. Ross are New York brokers who live at Red Bank, the former on Rector place and the latter on Hudson avenue.

The property comprises about 10½ acres of land. It has a frontage of about 500 feet on the Shrewsbury river and about 1,200 feet on Fourth creek, which forms its western boundary. It was formerly owned by Horace P. Cook, who built a fine residence on the property. Mr. Cook afterward moved to Red Bank and he served for a time as mayor of Red Bank. Besides the house there are a number of other buildings on the tract which were also built by Mr. Cook. These buildings include a caretaker's cottage, garage, poultry houses and other outbuildings. The grounds are laid out with winding driveways, surfaced with bluestone, and there is also a profusion of shade trees, fruit trees and shrubbery. Included in the sale of the property are the riparian rights in the Shrewsbury river and in Fourth creek.

When Mr. Cook moved to Red Bank he sold the place to Dudley Farrand, who occupied it as his home. Mr. Farrand died a few years later and the property went to his widow. She died about a year ago. The place was then offered for sale at $75,000. From time to time the price was reduced and Mr. Conover and his associates, after considerable negotiations, finally bought the place for $55,000. At this figure the property is considered a bargain.

The new owners intend to retain a portion of the property for their own homes. Mr. Conover will take over the Horace P. Cook residence and a portion of the river front. Mr. Higginson will build a house for his own occupancy on the river front adjoining Mr. Conover. Mr. Kohl will reserve for his own home a wooded point of land extending out into Fourth creek and commanding a view of the creek and the river. Mr. Ross will build at the junction of the river and the creek, on the western portion of the property.

The rest of the tract will be developed as a residential park. It will be divided into lots of generous size, each plot to have the advantage of a right of way to the river and the creek. The streets will be winding roadways conforming to the lines of the plots and preserving the private character of the premises. The property will be closely restricted and the place will be converted into a community of fine homes.

A VERY QUIET CAMPAIGN.

BUT CANDIDATES ARE MAKING AN AGGRESSIVE FIGHT.

Mayor W. Warren Barbour Has Made More Than Forty Addresses—Other Candidates for Republican Nominations Also Very Active.

The primary election so far has been very quiet. While there has been considerable interest manifested it has been manifested chiefly by the candidates and their immediate friends. This is usually the case in Monmouth county at the first primary and election after a Presidential election.

Mayor W. Warren Barbour of Rumson, who is one of the candidates for the Republican nomination for state senator, has probably done more speaking than any other candidate. He has spoken at upwards of forty meetings and the chief planks of his platform are a demand for reduction of taxes and against wasteful expenditures by the legislature. Mayor Barbour is supported by the Republican organization and by many of the wealthy and influential Republicans of the county. His appearance at public meetings has been greeted with outbursts of applause.

Assemblyman E. Donald Sterner, who is also a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator, is making an energetic campaign. His supporters are chiefly among the young men of the county and especially among those who were in the World war. Mr. Sterner himself was a member of the World war. He has been an assemblyman two years. His distinguishing services in the assembly were his support of the Raritan bay bridge connecting the Bayshore of Monmouth county with Staten Island and making a short automobile driveway to New York, which was vetoed by Governor Landon; and his big fight for the small loans bill, which reduced from 35 per cent to 18 per cent the rate of interest charged against borrowers of small sums.

The Republican machine is standing strong for Joseph McDermott for county clerk. Robert M. Holmes, who is running against Joseph McDermott for the Republican nomination for county clerk, is making a close canvass of the county. By election day he expects to have visited every borough, city, village and hamlet in the county. He is making a very good impression on the voters wherever he goes and he has received many pledges of support. Joseph McDermott, however, has supporters in every nook and corner of the county who keep him notified continually of conditions as they exist in their neighborhoods.

The fight for freehold is as yet anybody's race, but there are indications that the Republican machine is shifting its support to Frank E. Price of Red Bank as one of the freehold candidates. Whether it is Harry G. Borden or Borden A. Jeffrey whom they will support as the other Republican candidate is uncertain. Mrs. Lewis S. Thompson is a strong supporter of the Republican organization and she wants Mr. Borden elected; and on this account the machine is likely to turn its back on Mr. Borden's favor.

Robert C. Thompson still seems to have the inside track for the Democratic nomination for sheriff, but John A. Butler, who is also a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff, is making a warm campaign and his friends say that his prospects are getting better every day. His campaign manager is Cornelius B. Barker, of Freehold, a former sheriff of the county. William O'Brien, chief clerk in the sheriff's office, seems to still have a strong grip on the Republican nomination for sheriff. Harry J. Bodine of Asbury Park is Mr. O'Brien's opponent for the nomination. Mr. Bodine would get a tremendous vote in Asbury Park and all the southern part of the county, except that Mr. O'Brien also comes from that neighborhood.

The three assembly candidates for the two places on the assembly ticket are apparently fighting a personal combat. So far there are no signs of any two of them making a combination to get votes for themselves and letting the other candidate look out for himself. However, there is ample time still for such a move. In past campaigns two or three days before the primary has been ample time for such a combination to be made.

There seems to be a big apathy among the people, outside of those persons directly interested and their immediate friends, and those who make politics their profession, so to speak. But usually as a campaign nears its close the general public begins to take much more interest in the struggle, and this is likely to be the case in the present primary.

BOAT SERVICE LEASED.

RIVERSIDE BOAT SERVICE IN NEW HANDS.

Many Visitors Came to Red Bank Last Week From Places Between Perth Amboy and New York to Enjoy Fishing and Crabbing. The Riverside boat service at the Riverside grill, at the Red Bank end of Cooper's bridge, has been leased for the season by John and Kerin Nolan of Long Branch, who are experienced boatmen. The equipment consists of a large float, a fleet of 42 rowboats holding three to six persons each, and seven canoes. The boat service was operated the past two years by the owners of the boats as an outside venture, but their regular business demands so much of their time that this year they leased the boat business to the Brothers Nolan.

The season last year began about the first of July but this year business began before the first of June. Not many Red Bankers patronized the boat service last year, but there was a constant stream of persons from out of town, most of them coming from places between Perth Amboy and New York. Many of them come regularly once a week for a day's outing on the Shrewsbury river. One man, who lived 51 miles away, frequently made two trips a week during the best fishing and crabbing season.

A few of the people came by train, but most of them came by automobile, and it was not uncommon to have thirty or more cars of these fishermen and crabbers parked on the fishing grounds of the boat service. Most of the fishermen brought their own fishing tackle but they depended principally on the boat service for their bait. From the amount of business already done this year the new managers of the business look for a big increase over last year's business and it is probable that the number of boats in service will be considerably increased.

HORRIBLE CAR ACCIDENT.

THREE LEONARDO GIRLS RUN DOWN BY AN AUTOMOBILE.

The Children Are Now at the Red Bank Hospital, With Their Lives Hanging in the Balance—The Occupants of the Automobile Injured.

Three children and five grown persons were injured Sunday morning in a very unusual automobile accident at Leonardo. All the injured children live at Leonardo. One of them, Jane Sheridan, received a crushed leg. She is eight years old and a daughter of Mrs. Mary J. Sheridan. It may prove necessary to amputate the leg.

The other two injured children are sisters, Ruth Martin, aged nine years, and Alice Martin, aged five years. They are daughters of Edward Martin. Ruth has a fractured skull and Alice has concussion of the brain. All the injured children were struck by an automobile as they stood on the side of the road. The five grown-up persons who were hurt were in the automobile. None of them live in this section. The automobile turned over after it hit the children and this threw out and injured the occupants of the automobile. The children and all except one of the people in the car were taken to the Red Bank hospital. The occupants of the car were not hurt badly enough to require hospital attention.

The accident occurred about half-past ten o'clock Sunday morning on a short distance west of the Middletown township high school at Leonardo. The road is paved with concrete and it is the most direct route for city folks to go to Atlantic Highlands in the Highlands and other places along the coast.

The three children had been playing in the Martin yard and they had intended to walk across the road to the Sheridan yard. A car was approaching and the children stood on the side of the road and waited for it to pass. They were not on the concrete.

A car for which the children waited was owned and driven by Lawrence J. Helgeson of Weehawken. It was going towards Atlantic Highlands at a fast rate of speed. Mr. Helgeson turned to the left to pass another car which was going in the same direction as his automobile. Suddenly, for no apparent reason, Mr. Helgeson's car swerved further to the left. It ran off the concrete paving and struck the three children. Then it struck a pole and turned over and over crashing through a fence as it did so. In the course of turning over it struck and uprooted a large cherry tree and it stopped going after it did this. The fence which was knocked down was between the car and the road. Mrs. Mary J. Sheridan, Mrs. Mary J. Sheridan and Mrs. Lillian Miles and when the car stopped it was in Mrs. Miles' yard.

A crowd soon gathered and they were confronted with a gory and sickening sight. Some of the people were made faint by the terrible spectacle and had to leave the scene. Mrs. Miles' Martin had been knocked in the head and she lay there unconscious with blood dripping from her head. Ruth Martin lay beside the overturned car with bloody wounds. Jane Sheridan was pulled out from beneath the car with one leg hanging helpless. The injured leg had been broken in two places and the flesh had been terribly gashed and cut in places. Five persons who had been in the automobile were lying about the yard with varied injuries, but none of them was hurt so badly as the three little girls.

Irving Wright of Leonardo was one of the first persons at the scene. He sent for Edgar J. Baker of Leonardo, who has an ambulance automobile. Mr. Wright called a telephone call to Atlantic Highlands police headquarters brought him from that quarter and automobiles responded to the Red Bank hospital. Mr. Baker took the injured girls to Dr. Harry J. McClellan's office at Atlantic Highlands in his ambulance. Ruth Martin and Jane Sheridan, after receiving first aid treatment, were taken from the doctor's office in Mr. Baker's ambulance to the Red Bank hospital. Alice Martin remained at the office until later in the day when she was taken to the hospital. All three of the girls are still in a serious condition, but the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Helgeson was painfully but not seriously injured. He was at the hospital a short time only. The other occupants of the automobile were Mrs. Helgeson, who received a wrenched back; Dennis Gorman of Brooklyn, who received a broken collar bone; Mrs. Jennie Gorman, who received a broken left arm; and Mrs. Frances McDermott of Leonardo, who was injured in the head.

The car was a Buick sedan. It was owned by Leo Herbert's garage at Leonardo. Mr. Herbert was arrested and he was held in $10,000 bail to await the outcome of the injuries of the children. The bail was fixed by Judge Stenbach on the basis of $5000 bail for the injuries of each child.

The only witness of the accident, aside from the parties directly concerned, was a sister of Mrs. Miles who was sitting on the porch. She was in poor health and the dreadful sight made her condition worse.

The condition of Mr. Helgeson and his friends after the accident showed that none of the occupants of the automobile had been drinking. There was no liquor or drink of any kind in the car.

Mr. Baker made a very quick trip with his ambulance. He ran the machine so fast that the bearings were burned out, but he did not discover this until he started to return home.

OIL IN JERSEY?

State Geologist Says Odds Are Against It.

Trenton, N. J. (AP)—The odds against the success of wildcatting for oil in New Jersey are "very great indeed" in the opinion of Meredith E. Johnson, assistant state geologist. Since before 1868, the files of the state department of the interior, development show there have been ten major attempts to locate oil in the state without success. Wells have been dug from 500 feet to 5,000 feet in one in Ocean county, two in Cumberland, one in Atlantic and Somerset, one in Middlesex and the earliest on record "in the Ramapo Valley."

"We have no bone to pick," it was stated, "with those who are engaged in ventures with open eyes, in fact we learn much from such operations whether or not they are successful, but we do want those who undertake such ventures to understand the hazards of the game and the probability that only financial loss will result."

Two of the latest efforts to locate oil were at Jackson Mills, Ocean county, and Dunham's corner, Middlesex. It was understood by the department that work had not been abandoned entirely on either of the projects, although the Jackson Mills well had been drilled beyond 5,000 feet.

Work was started on this well in 1920 by the New Jersey Oil and Gas Fields Company, Inc., which later became the W. & K. Oil Company. After drilling for nearly a year, the first hole was abandoned when the drill became jammed at a reported depth of 2,200 feet. After the rig was shifted from 50 to 100 feet, a second hole was started and extended to a depth of 5,000 feet. It was said, when the tools became lost in the hole. That was in the summer of 1927, and efforts were concentrated on clearing the well.

"The Middlesex development company has so far been equally unsuccessful with its well located near Dunham's corner, almost exactly three miles south by east of the bridge over Lawrence brook at Milltown," the department stated. "Although it is reported that 'showings' of oil were obtained during the drilling, results to date are such that it is doubtful whether it is

Old Times Return to Middletown Village.

Old times have come back to Middletown village. The community is more like it used to be in the old days than at any time since automobiles came into general use. Fully eighty per cent of the traffic which used to go through the village has been diverted by the new state highway cut-off. Probably there will be a further decrease later on, for some autoists are apparently not yet acquainted with the fact that the cut-off is a shorter and more direct route.

Middletown village is not at all sorry that the change has been made. The route through which the old highway passed was almost entirely residential in character. Only a few businesses are on the old route and most of these are of a type not benefited by heavy traffic. Since the change was made residential property values have increased, as has been shown by several recent sales. As a natural accompaniment of this condition the demand for residential properties has increased.

On the other hand there has been a still larger increase in the value of land along the cut-off and a still larger demand for this property. The cut-off is entirely a new road built through farms. This farm land had small value previously, but it is business property now and it has soared in price. Probably within three years both sides of it will be lined from one end to the other with roadside booths, restaurants and other business buildings designed to cater to transient trade.

Middletown is one of the oldest communities in the state and it is restored to its old-time quiet, staid residential character by the change in the highway route. A few years ago such a change would have been deemed little less than a calamity. Today there is no such feeling about state highway traffic in residential districts and even in some business districts. Many Red Bankers will remember what a big protest was made when Broad street was taken off the state highway route and a more direct course was chosen. Probably today there is not a single Broad street business man or house owner who wants the highway route changed back to Broad street.

It is not often that a state highway route confers so many advantages as this new cut off does north of Middletown village. Not only the traveling public but the property owners on both the new and the old roads are benefited. There are many other places along state highway routes where distance and time could be saved by straightening the roads and no doubt the good results would be equally as large and widespread as they are in this Middletown village case.

River Improvements by Private Workers.

Everyone who uses the river or who appreciates its value should have a feeling of gratitude toward the Sunrise rod and gun club of Red Bank. A few days ago the members of this club did a big lot of work in clearing away snags, stumps, fallen trees and other obstructions from Swimming river. They expect to do more work of this sort on Saturday, so that boats and canoes can go as far up the river as the dam of the Monmouth consolidated water company.

It should not be necessary for private citizens to have to do this work; but since it is necessary it is fortunate for the town that it has a bunch of young fellows willing and able to do it. The various municipalities through which the river passes should unite in keeping the stream open to navigation. These municipalities have better equipment for doing the work than private individuals and for various other reasons a better job could be done. It is just as much the duty of these municipalities to keep the river open to traffic as it is to keep roads open to travel. The river is a highway. The municipalities through which it flows are not making the most of their opportunities when they neglect to keep it open to navigation.

Bus Conditions in Middletown Township.

The township committee of Middletown township has called off the public meeting which was to have been held at the high school at Leonardo relative to the application of the Pennsylvania railroad company to run a bus line through the township. The railroad company wants permission to take on and leave off passengers on a bus line which is to be operated between Asbury Park and New York.

The action of the committee in calling off the meeting is virtually a notification to the railroad company that the application will not be granted. The township committee cannot stop the railroad company from passing through the township, but the committee members feel that there is no public demand at the present time for granting the railroad's wish. The township is well served by the bus concerns which now pass through it.

These bus companies jumped into the breach when the trolley cars stopped running several years ago. Except for their activities Middletown township would have no public transportation service. The bus owners are entitled to protection for this reason. Slight should not be lent to the fact, also, that the railroad companies have done everything in their power to stifle bus service and thus deprive the people of a popular means of conveyance. In many cases the railroad companies have been successful in doing this.

The only part of Middletown township that does not receive good transportation service at the present time is the Bayshore section. It is not proposed by the railroad company to run busses in this section but to run them along the routes now covered by private bus owners. There would be no gain in this for Middletown township and it might result in a monopoly of the bus business for the railroad company. The township committee has done well to throw the proposal in the waste basket and to spend no more of its own time or the public's time on the matter.

Firemen's Fairs and Firemen's Public Services.

Summer will soon begin, according to the calendar, and it will usher in the season of fire company fairs. Most municipalities make larger appropriations for fire service than was the case a few years ago, but it is still necessary for firemen and their auxiliaries to resort to fairs and other means to raise money. All the fire companies in this part of the county have discontinued the tag day method of collecting money.

The firemen deserve the ungrudging support of the public. There are a great many demands made for various causes, but none of them is in exactly the same category as that of the firemen. Past experience has shown that they make good use of the money which they realize at their fairs. It all goes into a fund for community protection. Widespread and general support of its fairs is to be desired for this reason. Folks who do not care to patronize the fairs can assist along other lines. Now is the time for these people to give aid, while preparations are being made for the annual festivals.

Some day Red Bank will not have a volunteer fire department. The growth of the town will eventually bring about a paid fire department. It is to be hoped that this change is a long way off. It will be more expensive for the town than the present volunteer service, but that will not be the principal loss. When the town has no volunteer fire department it will lose a good deal of its community aspect and character and its chief unselfish public service will come to an end.

There may have been better payers than The Register but nobody members ever having seen one—Advertisement.

Adolphe Menjou

Beau Brummel of the Screen

ONE view into CLOTHES PSYCHOLOGY of Hollywood may be interesting.

TAKE ADOLPHE MENJOU for example. He is selected because he freely admits that fifty per cent of his success is due to his apparel. MENJOU has probably been made more offers for commercializing his name in connection with wearing apparel than any other living person.

SO eager is the public for information on the subject which has made of Menjou such a success, that this star has been forced to establish a veritable fashion bureau to answer inquiries of his fans.

TO Menjou dress is a study. Style to a person is what his particular build requires, he says. Effects are more important than the clothes themselves. Effects are achieved by such a minor detail as the placing of a button, or the IMPERATIVE matter of proper GROOMING. Many shots are said to be made over to banish a single wrinkle from Menjou's suit. Such immaculateness may seem exaggerated to the average layman, but it is his admitted stock in trade, the secret of his Success. If correct dress could do as much for any layman, would it not be worth while to follow it out to its utmost intricacies?

MENJOU wears the same clothing on and off the screen. In private life he continues to dress to type, exacting immaculacy in every detail of his dress. He would NEVER wear a suit whose colors were dimmed by dust or soil, and a stain to him would be anathema.

HE has built up a fame that preceded him on his trip to Europe last summer. His perfect grooming was made much of in London. Paris said "he is French. He was born in Pittsburgh, but his parents were French, which is almost the same thing."

ASKED for his opinions on dress, Menjou said in part that not one man in ten thousand is truly well dressed. The business man generally does not seem to find time to dress properly, and he is cheating himself out of half the blessings of life. Not more than a handful of screen actors come in the well-dressed category, although many of them expend much money on their wardrobe.

IT is not clothes alone that count—other things being equal—but the way you wear them, and of Greater Importance still, the way they are CARED for by the DRY CLEANER.

Let LEON'S be the custodian of your wardrobe, and keep you well dressed with a suit that is DRY-CLEANED and WELL-PRESSED.

AN ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR THE FIRST! ...THE ONLY ONE!

This General Electric is the only refrigerator built entirely of steel! Think what that means! It is sturdy and durable beyond anything that you ever believed a refrigerator could be.

This small-family model freezes a generous supply of ice... and in a shorter time. One tray freezes in two hours, both trays in four. It uses less current because the cabinet is so efficient that cold does not leak out and heat does not creep in.

And, of course, it has the exclusive advantage of simplified mechanism, enclosed in an hermetically sealed steel casing and mounted on top. This leaves the greatest area available for food storage and makes possible the up-on-legs model which is so easy to clean under.

In operation it is extremely quiet. It never needs oiling. You just plug it into any convenient outlet. See all its unique features yourself. Come in today. And ask about the very convenient plan on which it can be bought.

Karagheusian's Famous Oriental Reproductions at Lower than Usual Prices

HOW often have you admired the beauty of a Persian Rug... the gorgeous colors... the thick texture... the brilliant silky sheen. Here are fine Isfahan and Sarouk designs... with a gorgeous profusion of floral motifs... and actually the same jewel-like lustre that characterizes the finest Persian Rugs.

Ordinarily, you would have to pay up to $100 for these truly authentic reproductions, but tomorrow you may have your choice at $99.50. Perhaps, you wonder what causes this sudden drop in prices. A sale, you say. No... these rugs are never embodied in a general clearance. There is just one reason why you can save up to $50 tomorrow.

In the process of manufacture at Karagheusian's Freehold Rug Mills these rugs developed some little irregularity which was discovered in the inspection room. All the care, all the imported wools, all the expert workmanship that go into a perfect rug also go into these imperfects; for they are manufactured side by side. Only the slightest defect, in most cases hardly visible to the eye, separate them into classes and prices.

See these rugs tomorrow. Find the defects, if you can. Compare these rugs with the perfects, and you will hasten your purchase.

Many hotels are using these fine Oriental reproductions for their lobbies, foyers, etc. They give a rich appearance and an air of elegance

Paint a House with a Garden Hose?

Lucas Paints
water free

OF COURSE NOT! Yet the idea is somewhat the same when you use ordinary paints. For they often contain as much or more than 20% of water. Lucas Paints are water-free—that's why they look better . . . wear longer . . . go further . . . and in the end, cost less.

WHY! WHY! WHY!

A Heart to Heart Talk With Bankers.

Why is it that every man, woman and child does not have a savings account?

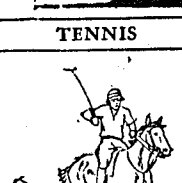

This question is put to us very often by people who have always saved regularly, and who enjoy sports and pay for vacations, autos, college tuition, radios, homes, etc., through the savings account.

Discussions with thousands of people during our long banking experience convinces us that the chief reason why there are so many non-savers is—MANY PEOPLE HAVE THE MISTAKEN IDEA THAT THEY DO NOT HAVE LARGE ENOUGH SUMS OF MONEY TO MAKE SAVING WORTH WHILE. How to break down this idea that has kept thousands from getting what they want through a savings account? When this opinion has been expressed to us, personally, we say, "SURELY YOU CAN PUT AWAY $6.03 A WEEK?" "Yes, but what does that amount to?" they reply.

"Well, in just 36 months (and they roll around very fast), with what the bank adds, YOU WILL BE THE HAPPY OWNER OF $1,000.00. Or, $9.25 A WEEK WILL GIVE YOU $1,000.00 IN 24 MONTHS."

Well! Well! Why didn't I tumble to this before? That's how some of my friends, with no larger income than mine, have been getting what they wanted—they discovered long ago the fact that DEPOSITS, NO MATTER HOW SMALL, IF MADE WITH REGULARITY, SOON BUILD UP WORTH WHILE BALANCES. Here's $6.03, and every year I am going to take an additional $6.03. About the time it begins to hurt, the first $1,000.00 will be mine, and I will be on my way to easy street."

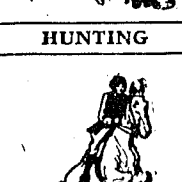

We hope you will come to us and let us have the pleasure of helping you get your first $1,000.00. We have shown you how easy it is—won't you please take advantage of it?

NEWS FROM MIDDLETOWN

A TRIPLE AUTO COLLISION AT LOCUST POINT.

New Heating System for Belford School—Work to be Started This Week on Township Jail—Many Visitors at Bayside, Memorial Day.

An automobile owned by James O'Neill of Brooklyn collided with another car at Locust Point Sunday. No one was hurt and not much damage was done to either machine. A few minutes later the rear of Mr. O'Neill's automobile was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Gertrude Mahoney, of Brooklyn. Mr. O'Neill's daughter and the latter's baby were thrown out of the car. Mrs. Mahoney was arrested on a charge of reckless driving and she was fined $15 by Justice Louis Meese of Belford.

The heating system at the Belford schoolhouse is being taken out by Charles Brown to make room for a new one which will be put in during the summer. The contract for the new system has not yet been awarded.

Stakes have been put in the township property at Campbell's Junction to mark the outline for the new township jail. Frank Frisk, who has the contract for the building, expects to start the work this week.

Many folks from New York and other cities were at Port Monmouth over Decoration day. The shore was thronged with bathers. Some of them arrived here last Wednesday and pitched tents, where they spent the night. On Sunday, due to the cool weather, the beach was almost deserted.

A double surprise party was given for John Smith of Newark and his son John at the home of Mr. Smith's sister, Mrs. William Lovejoy of East Keansburg, Saturday night. Cards and other games were played and a luncheon was served. Music was furnished by a fife and drum corps and dancing was also enjoyed. Mr. Smith received a signet ring and his son a wrist watch. Those present were August Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hergenroth, Miss Mildred Hergenroth, Mr. and Mrs. James Comiskey of Newark, Mr. and Mrs. John McCann of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Serbe and Gilbert Serbe of Rahway, Robert Hawkins of Keansburg, Mrs. H. Lentz, Miss Clara Lentz, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Benz and Mr. and Mrs. William Lovejoy of East Keansburg.

The alumni association of Middletown township cleared about $75 Saturday night by a dance at the clubhouse of the Harmony country club. Montgomery Jones directed the dance. The profits will be used for a dance which will be given by the alumni association for the graduating class of the high school.

Rev. F. A. DeMaris, district superintendent of Methodist churches, will conduct the service at the Belford Methodist church Sunday night and he will preach. There will be special singing and other features. Beginning with Monday night and continuing on Friday night Dr. and Mrs. James M. Taylor will conduct a series of Chatauqua lectures at the church. Dr. and Mrs. Taylor have been extensive travelers and they have visited every country in the world. They will tell about their experiences, as well as other facts. Each lecture will begin at eight o'clock.

Children's day will be observed by the New Monmouth Baptist Sunday-school on Sunday morning with an entertainment. Mrs. Fred Pentemann, Miss Aida Helwig and Miss Gladys Coe will direct the program. At the preaching service there will be a cradle roll dedication and a sermon on "Can I Teach My Child Religion?" At the evening service Mrs. William T. McDowell of Blossom Cove road will give a talk on "The Welfare of Children."

Twenty-five members of the primary department of the Belford Methodist church enjoyed a beach party Saturday at Foster's beach at Belford. The children were accompanied by Mrs. Elmer Wilson, the principal of the primary department, and by three of the teachers. The teachers are Mrs. Jennie VanMerebeck, Miss Muriel White and Miss Jennie Post.

The junior choir of the New Monmouth Baptist church cleared $22 last Friday night by a play entitled "A Friend in Need." The performance was ably rendered and the audience showed its pleasure by frequent applause. The profits will be used to buy a diamond jubilee bond from the church.

Miss Mabel Snedker of Belford took part in entertainments which were given last week by the Shepherds of Bethlehem of Long Branch and by Hollywood council of Sons and Daughters of Liberty of Long Branch.

Arrangements have been completed for the euchar party and dance to be held at the Port Monmouth schoolhouse Saturday night for the benefit of St. Mary's church of New Monmouth. Miss Nellie Molloy and John R. Murphy will be in charge. Mr. and Mrs. William Schramm, who have been living with Mrs. Schramm's mother, Mrs. Harriet Codrington of Navesink, have moved to their new house at the Shrewsbury river country club estate near Red Bank.

An automobile owned by Mrs. Augustus Volkland of Belford was hit by another car on Main street at Belford Sunday. No one was hurt, but considerable damage was done to Mrs. Volkland's machine.

A new sewing guild has been organized at Port Monmouth. The guild held its first meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Martin and it will meet at the same place next Monday afternoon.

The ladies' auxiliary of Chemical fire company of Belford will meet at the company's firehouse Monday night. Officers will be elected and summer activities will be planned.

Rolliston Compton, Chester Henry, William Thompson and Daniel Ahearn of Belford went to New York on Decoration day and saw two baseball games.

The members of the ushers' union of the New Monmouth Baptist church met Monday night and made plans for their annual fair in September.

Today's Child
May be Tomorrow's Champion!

Every mother cherishes the fond hope that some day her boy or girl will eventually become a champion in their chosen field of endeavor. Whether the child will actually attain this goal is to some extent governed by the foods given him. Meat in reasonable proportions will give that boy or girl the essential proteins their growing bodies call for, and besides it is palatable enough to tempt those "lazy" appetites that are so customary with children.

WELCOME FOR A FIGHTER.

WILLIE PATTERSON GETS A RIGHT ROYAL GREETING.

Thirty-Three Red Bank Devotees of the Golden Fists Went to Philadelphia to Accompany Patterson to Red Bank.

Willie Patterson, the Philadelphia pugilist who has been representing the Westside athletic club of Red Bank in the squared arena, moved to this town last week. He got a royal welcome.

Thirty-three members of the Westside club chartered a bus from the Rollo company and made a trip to Philadelphia to bring Willie to Red Bank. On the sides of the bus were large placards with the words, "Welcome to Red Bank, Willie Patterson."

The bus was gaily decorated with flags and streamers. The Red Bankers went to the home of Patterson's parents, where they were treated to a big dinner. A sight-seeing tour of Philadelphia was taken before the return journey was made.

Patterson is lodging at the home of Mrs. Josephine Grause at the corner of Bridge avenue and Herbert street.
He trains every night from six until eight o'clock at the clubhouse and a general invitation has been extended to the public to watch him.

Patterson is no stranger to Red Bank. He has often visited here.
About a month or so ago he defeated Mike Frantz of Freehold in a bout at Lakewood and became the idol of many Red Bank fight fans by this victory. It is said that about $800 of Red Bank money was bet against Freehold money on this battle. Patterson has engaged Martin and George Dwyer of Red Bank as his managers.

Two other Red Bank fighters who are in training every night are Alfred Mazzucca and James Donato.
Donato is scheduled to fight at Freehold tomorrow night. It is expected that a number of the Westside pugil-ists will take part in matches at Long Branch during the summer.

FRENEAU ARENA TO OPEN.DONATO WILL BOX IN THE MATCHES TOMORROW NIGHT.

The Winner of the DeFelle-Stout Match Will Meet Mazzucca Next Week—Much Activity at the West-side Athletic Club.

The Matavau boxing club's new open air arena at Freneau will be inaugurated tomorrow night with six snappy bouts. Three will be six-round bouts and the rest will be four-rounders. The main bout will be between Eddie Marks of Perth Amboy, better known as "The Blond Tiger," and Mike Frantz of Lakewood, who knocked out Al Mazzucca of Red Bank recently at Lakewood in a bout for the amateur junior welterweight championship of Monmouth county.

Jimmy Donato, a featherweight of the Westside club, who has showed up well in a number of professional fights, and Red Rose of the Cornell athletic club will match their skill for six rounds and the other six-round match will be between John DeFelle of Cliffwood and Elmer Stout of South Amboy.

The four-round scraps will be between Mike Sardella of Cliffwood and Joe Finney of Matavau; Bob Chapman of Perth Amboy and Carl Buchman of Farmingdale, and Young Rocco of Keyport and Artie Bright of New Brunswick.

Mazzucca, who has been enjoying a rest for six weeks, has started training and Thursday night of next week he will meet the winner of the DeFelle-Stout scrap in a semi-final match at Freneau. Other fighters who have commenced training at the Westside gymnasium for bouts in the next few weeks at Freneau, Long Branch and New Brunswick are Willie Patterson, junior welterweight; Eddie Barton, lightweight; Sid Lawrence, middleweight; "Angel Face" Joe Lucia, flyweight; Melvin Dwyer, lightweight; and Reddy and Mickey Travers, welterweights.

Boxing will start at the Long Branch open-air arena Friday night of next week and one or two Red Bank boys are expected to be on the card. Oscar Bass, a colored junior welterweight of Long Branch, will take part in the show. He is managed by Ralph Citarella of Red Bank.

Charles Julian and Martin Dwyer of Red Bank manage and train the fighters of the Westside club. "Gypsy" Smith, a member of a tribe of gypsies camping in Middletown township, has begun training under Dwyer's supervision at the Westside gymnasium.

Thirty members of the club made a trip to Philadelphia recently in one of the Rollo buses. At Philadelphia they were entertained by Willie Patterson and his family. They visited Independence hall and other places of interest.

WON IN THE TWELFTH.

Buster Keyes, Mighty Buster Keyes, Was Equal to the Occasion.

In an exciting twelve-inning game at Atlantic Highlands Sunday the Monmouth athletic club of that place defeated the Entente club of Brooklyn by a score of 12 to 10. In the fourth inning the visitors were ahead by a score of 8 to 0. J. B. Brown of Asbury Park, a new pitcher for the Monmouth club, was replaced in that inning by Buster Keyes. This was Keyes' first opportunity to pitch for the Monmouth boys. He usually plays second base.

He held the hard hitting visitors in check, while his team-mates began to climb. When the Monmouth team came to bat at the end of the ninth inning the score was 10 to 6 against them. Three men got on base and then Keyes came to bat. He slammed out a home run to the great joy and enthusiasm of the spectators. This tied the score. The Monmouth boys made two more runs in the twelfth inning and this won the game. Buck Wingo, a one-arm player, was the batting star for the visitors. Kenneth Brown made five straight hits for the Monmouth boys. Next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock the Erie athletic association of Brooklyn will play against the Monmouth club at Atlantic Highlands.

KEYPORT STILL WINNING.

Belmar Took a Bad Lacing Sunday Afternoon.

Keeping up their terrific batting pace, the Keyport baseball team, handed Belmar a 14 to 4 lacing at Keyport Sunday afternoon. Fourteen safe drives were piled up by the visitors off Bob Stewart's slants. Stillwagon's homer in the first with two on sent Keyport into a three-run lead, and Dietz's circuit clout with Carhart on in the fourth added two more. Belmar's first hit off Petroski came in the fifth, and three more hits in the sixth gave Belmar their first tally. Keyport came right back in their half of the inning and scored four times, the entire team batting around. Six hits in the eighth brought Keyport's total to 14, and Petroski was removed in the ninth, giving way to Hope, who supplied plenty of comedy before he gave way to Carhart, who retired the side after two runs had scored. Keyport fielded splendidly, and three double plays were chalked up. Saturday Keyport will play Belmar at Belmar, and Sunday afternoon the Iron bounds of Newark come to Keyport.

WIN TWO; TIE ANOTHER.TOWN BASEBALLERS DOWN DUPONT AND JERSEY CITY.

They Also Played a Draw With the Cuban Stars—Red Bank Will Play Brooklyn Royal Giants Tomorrow and Astoria Athletics Sunday.

Sunday afternoon the town team posed out an aggregation from Jersey City by a count of 5 to 3. Calvin Spann of Atlantic Highlands, a portlander, pitched the entire game for Red Bank. Hunter's baseball strategy and prowess as a batter contributed largely to the victory. He was ably supported by the bats of Troyano, Pecora, Newman and Egbert. In the first frame Hunter, McCormack, Newman and Egbert amassed four hits, including two doubles, for three runs. Bingles by Troyano and Newman accounted for another run in the second inning and the eighth Kaell came through with the hard smash to right field scoring Bliss, who had shorted up in the round was taken to retire Hunter at second.

Red Bank had one of its strongest lineups this season and with the support of Stryker or Clayton, the principal fixtures of the town team's pitching staff, they could be classed with the best semi-professional teams in these parts. They were uncaged in the field and two errors were scored against Bliss at third. Bad throws by Spann and Kaell put the Jersey City team in a position to score easily in the eighth inning. The combination of Pecora and Porter at shortstop and second acted as a blockade for hits in that section and the strong and accurate throwing of the fielders kept the Jersey City team from adding to its runs. A nearly perfect throw by Egbert in the first inning prevented Hyer's scoring from second on a hard hit to right field by McCormack. Hyer was held at third and he was later retired at the plate when he attempted to score on a fly to Egbert in deep rightfield. A throw by Troyano stopped Hyer from making a home run later in the game. Newman's throwing was also outstanding.

Tomorrow night at a quarter after six o'clock the town team will play the Brooklyn Royal Giants and next Sunday afternoon the towners will meet the Astoria athletics. Both teams rank high in semi-professional baseball and Hunter will try hard to steer his boys to victory over these teams. Stryker is slated to pitch tomorrow's game and Clayton will see service Sunday.

The Red Bank town team played an eight-inning tie with the last Wednesday night with the Cuban Stars, the score being one to one. Joe Stryker twirled for the towners and he was in his best form. He allowed only three hits, struck out six batters and gave no free bases. McCoy, the Cuban pitcher, struck out twelve Red Bank men, gave three walks and allowed seven hits.

Troyano got on base by a hit in the first inning and after stealing second he tried to score on Egbert's drive to centerfield, but was cut down at the plate. Hunter made first on an error in the fourth inning and tallied on a three-base hit by Bliss. The Red Bank third baseman tried to stretch the hit to a home run and was put out. A single and a three-bagger after two were out in the sixth inning were responsible for the Cubans' run.

Charles Clayton, a former Asbury Park high school pitcher, worked the entire game on Memorial day and won a creditable victory over the Dupont club of Earlin. The score was eight to one. The Dupont players came well recommended as hitters and fielders. They played some of the best team outside of the professional leagues and have lost only a few games. Clayton was in danger only once or twice and he wormed himself out of the pinches by good head and arm work.

The Red Bankers drove the ball all over the lot against Stuart, a speed and curve ball pitcher, to the dugout in the fourth inning. Hunter, MacIntosh, Troyano, Egbert and Clayton led in the stick work. Bliss and Troyano aroused the crowd by stealing home from the third base. French, shortstop for the Dupont club, poled a three-bagger to centerfield in the eighth inning and later scored on a hit by Dane.

The box score of Thursday's game is:

HOLIDAY ON THE RIVER.JUNIOR LANGLEY'S BOAT MADE A CLEAN SWEEP.

The Boat Won Every Event for the Outboard Class—Frederick Adams's Hacker Boat Won the Race for the Runable Class—Many Saw Races.

About 1,000 persons witnessed the motor boat races on the river at Red Bank on the afternoon of Decoration day. Many people were lined up on the shore and others watched the contests from boats on the river. Junior Langley with his Baby Whale boat, Charles P. Irwin III, made a clean sweep in the events for outboard boats.

The first race was over a course of seven and one-half miles. Mr. Langley's boat covered the distance in thirteen minutes and twelve seconds. Samuel Crooke's Sam's Bullet finished second with a time record of fourteen minutes and sixteen seconds. J. N. Vandeman's No Foolin' was third with a record of fourteen minutes and eighteen seconds.

In the second race the C. P. Irwin III covered the same distance in twelve minutes and nineteen seconds. Three other boats were entered, but they did not finish.

The third race was for all outboard boats and the distance was ten miles. Mr. Langley's boat bettered her previous performance by covering the course in thirteen minutes and ten seconds. R. M. Keator's Miss Monmouth was second and C. P. Irwin III, driven by Joseph Irwin, did not finish.

The final race was for runabout boats. It was won by a Hacker craft owned by Frederick Adams of Middletown village, who bought the boat a few hours before the race from Floyd Brady. Other boats were entered in this race by Gerald Holbrook, Bertram E. Linde and John J. Quinn.

VICTORY AND DEFEAT.

The Bayside Baseball Team Tasted of Both During the Fast Week.

The Bayside baseball team, on its home grounds at Belford on Memorial day, defeated the Holy Name society of St. Anthony's church of Red Bank by a score of 6 to 1. Neither team made a hit nor a run until the seventh inning, but in that frame things broke loose. Bayside got another run in the eighth inning. Harry Bennett pitched for the winning nine and Spotted of Perth Amboy pitched for the Holy Name aggregation.

On Sunday the Bayside boys met their first defeat of the season. They were beaten by the Leonardo Cubs by a score of 3 to 2. The Bayside team was defeated largely through overconfidence. Until the ninth inning they led by a score of 2 to 0. The Leonardo Cubs got three runs in this session as the result of a base on balls, a two-base hit and a disputed decision. In their half of the ninth inning the Baysiders pushed a man around to third base, but they could not score him. Bennett and Carhart were the battery for the Bayside nine. Macon and Collins pitched and caught or the Cubs. Next Sunday afternoon the Red Bank fire department baseball team will play against Bayside at Belford.

Prominent Specialists Prescribe Yodina Discovery

The above double guarantee is published so that every reader of this paper who suffers from any form of hemorrhoids will positively give the Yodina Treatment a trial.

Relief in 5 Minutes
No matter how bad, nor how long you have had piles, hemorrhoids or rectal ulcers—quick, safe certain relief is now assured by this discovery of a New York specialist, Dr. H. H. Luntz.

The Yodina pile treatment has already been used extensively in the famous Lindlar Sanitarium, as well as in other well known health institutions. The results from Yodina certainly must be unusually good if so many doctors praise it. Hence,
Dr. Oscar Lee of Washington, for instance, calls Yodina "a remarkable treatment" for patients afflicted with all manner of hemo-roids—internal, protruding, itching, etc.—

with quick results.

Hemorrhoids Dry Up
Dr. A. W. Herr of Cleveland, and formerly physician, Battle Creek Sanitarium, says "Yodina suppositories are the best I have ever used. They seem to dry up the piles. And they are perfectly harmless.
Even though you have bleeding hemorrhoids, insert one suppository at bedtime and you will feel much better in the morning."

The London Health Center and other internationally known health institutions don't wait. Try Yodina—it is something healing, and in time will help abolish all forms of piles. It induces comfort and a normal condition.

CLIP THIS AS A REMINDER
Take this to Dr. Luntz's local representative, who in full payment of a Yodina treatment. If, however, Yodina does not bring desired results, bring back partly used package and get your money back. Mail orders filled. Broad and White streets, telephone 1512, 1513, 1514.

Woman's Big Labor-Saver

STEAMING, running hot water will shorten Mother's hours in the kitchen. It hurries her cooking forward, it dissolves grease from used dishes in a jiffy.

It shortens her kitchen labor by hours in a week, by days in a year, and by years in a lifetime.

Aren't years of labor saved for her worth the comparatively small cost of installing one of our hot water heaters? We can show you that there's no GOOD reason for doing without it.

ADVANCED, modern engineering throughout the entire chassis of the new Superior Whippet is responsible for smoothness and reliability of performance, consummate ease of handling, and maximum driving safety.

Whippet's big four-wheel brakes are of the positive, mechanical type—acting quickly and surely. Both the Whippet Four and Whippet Six have considerably greater braking area than any of their competitors. Other important Whippet advantages include extra long wheelbase, oversize balloon tires, full force-feed lubrication, silent timing chain, "Finger-Tip Control," higher compression engine, invar-strut pistons, and, in the Six, a heavy seven-bearing crankshaft.

90° V-EIGHT PERFORMANCE for the First Time in the Medium Price Field

VIKING
PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

The Viking introduces distinctly new and desirable principles of engineering design to the medium-price field. It makes available, for the first time at a medium price, the definite superiorities of the ninety-degree V-type eight-cylinder engine. It embodies new beauty and tailored smartness—the latest creations of Fisher artist-engineers.

The new Viking is particularly outstanding in performance. Its ninety-degree V-type eight-cylinder engine delivers 81 horsepower, with exceptional smoothness throughout the entire speed range. Its response to the throttle is remarkable, both in getaway from a standing start and in acceleration at the higher speeds. Its top speed is greater than the average motorist will use.

Advanced Engine Design

The natural compactness of the Viking engine, combined with the added strength obtained through ribbing and trussing the crankcase, provides exceptional rigid-ity—an important contributing factor in smoothness, quietness, and long life. The short, rigid crankshaft is counter-weighted for maximum balance and is supported by oversize bearings. The entirely new arrangement of the valves in the Viking represents an important advancement in automotive engineering practice, since it combines a high degree of fuel efficiency with quietness, simplicity, and rigidity. A distinct advancement in efficient fuel distribution results from a new type of controlled manifolding based on the down-draft principle. After leaving the carburetor, the path of the vapor is always downward, assisted by gravity, an equal distance to each cylinder. The lubricating and cooling systems are also remarkably efficient. Thermostatically-controlled radiator shutters are standard equipment.

PRODUCT OF

Important Chassis Features

The Viking chassis shows remarkable strength and endurance throughout its construction. The frame tapers to the front to permit a short turning radius and is double-dropped to provide a low center of gravity and great roadability. To assure deceleration in keeping with its speed and getaway, the new Viking has oversize mechanical four-wheel brakes of the new two-shoe internal-expanding type.

Every provision has been made for riding and driving ease. Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, synchronized with the springs, provide restful riding. Fingertip steering and easy parking result from the worm-and-split-nut steering gear and short turning radius. Both steering wheel and driver's seat are adjustable.

Latest Fisher Style Creations

Viking bodies by Fisher are smartly styled and beautifully proportioned. Trim radiator-sweeping full-crown fenders—graceful hood—tailored body lines—all blend into a pleasing and harmonious design . . . as smartly patrician in appearance as any car on automobile row. Upholsteries are rich in quality, tasteful in design. Seats are deep-cushioned, and incline at just the right angle to provide armchair comfort. Appointments and hardware of dignified pattern are expressive of fine automobile luxury.

The new Viking is now on display. Come in and see this outstanding new eight. Study it . . . drive it . . . match it against the field in appearance, performance, and engineering. Your own good judgment will tell you that it stands entirely alone in value, among cars of medium price.

A JERSEYMAN IN JAPAN.

R. L. Durgin, formerly of Atlantic Highlands, Tells of His Work.

R. L. Durgin, who for several years was head of the young men's Christian association at Atlantic Highlands and who has been in Japan for the past six years, has written a letter to The Register in which he sends greetings from himself and from Mrs. Durgin to all his friends in Monmouth county. Mr. Durgin is now at No. 3 Sanchoke Mitoshiro-cho, Kanda, Tokyo, Japan, and he would no doubt be glad to hear personally from any of his former friends hereabouts. A big new building for the Christian association is under construction in Tokyo and in this work Mr. Durgin has taken a large part. The building is expected to be finished by the first of the coming year. Most of the money for the building has been contributed, but about 80,000 yen ($40,000) is needed in order to have the completed building totally free from debt when it is dedicated and this money is steadily coming in.

ROBERT M. HOLMES
Candidate for County Clerk of Monmouth County

It appears to me that a change is necessary in the office of County Clerk of Monmouth County, because the present incumbent has held office for thirty years and it is hardly possible that the people of Monmouth County are willing to create a life political job for any man.

It is said that the office of County Clerk should be filled by a younger business man and that the County Clerk should be one who should devote his entire time of twelve months of the year to the position. The duties of this office are to keep all records of Monmouth County; a great majority of which are title transactions. I am 43 years of age and have been in the Real Estate business for ten years, and am thoroughly familiar with the procedure to be taken.

As one of the organizers and first Secretary of the Board of Trade in Avon, and as one of the organizers and first President of the North Jersey Shore United Chambers of Commerce, I have endeavored to serve fully in the work of those organizations.

The County Clerk should not simply act as a man of record, but because of the prestige of office he can with perfect propriety serve with individuals and organizations in constructive work beneficial to living conditions and to agricultural and business interests of every kind.

If elected I pledge myself to the work in hand.

The primary is an important function of American life. All men and women should exercise their right of suffrage. Tuesday, June 18th, is the primary day in New Jersey.

May I ask your vote and support for the office of County Clerk?

ROBERT M. HOLMES,
(Paid for by Robert M. Holmes Campaign Committee.)

a visitor here Saturday and Sunday. Dr. and Mrs. Imbleau of Union spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Francis Goertner.

Mrs. M. A. Madison will leave on Saturday, June 15th, for a tour of Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

Mrs. Charles Keefe is laid up with a sore foot, due to a rusty nail running in it.

Miss Emily Dyett of Flushing, Long Island, was a recent visitor here.

David Po Vey is home for the summer from a bible school which he has been attending in Pennsylvania.

J. A. Donnelly of Newark is spending a week's vacation at his house here.

Mr. Elcar of Elizabeth was a visitor at Leonardo Sunday. He flew here in his airplane and parked it on a field in the Ocean View section.

WAR ANNIVERSARIES.

This Year Marks Several Important Revolutionary Dates.

Newark, N. J. (AP).—Sequel-centennial anniversaries of Revolutionary events have been moving upstate from the central and southern sections. Somerset and Morris, Union and Hudson were the theater of the desperate conflict 180 years ago, and within their limits the commander in chief of the continental army as well as some of the British generals were encamped.

In the winter of 1776-1777, Washington had his headquarters at Mifflintown and in the Wallace house in Somerville. General Greene was at Flanders. Lord Stirling was at the home of Philip Van Horne between Bound Brook and Somerville. In days before the Revolution Van Horne had been a judge of the Court of Common Pleas.

Two of the eighteen battles which occurred on Union county soil were fought in 1776, the second engagement at Ash Swamp, and the second of four at Springfield. The first of the 18 were at Springfield and Elizabethtown, December 17, 1776, and the second at Rahway Meadows in 1781. The battle of Paulus Hook, in what is now the heart of Jersey City, was fought in August, 1779. In October of the same year, the British burned the Somerset county court house at Millstone.

In the winter of 1779-80 Washington moved his headquarters from the Ford house, in Morristown, while his ragged army braved the hard winter in small log huts on the hill back of the court house. The one-pointed tent extended several miles into the county. It was this winter that Alexander Hamilton courted Betty Schuyler at the Campfield house. Both this and the Ford house are among Morristown's treasures of the Revolutionary period.

In June, 1930, will occur the 150th anniversary of the most celebrated of the four battles of Springfield, the engagement commemorated by State Route 1 in his poem "Caldwell of Springfield." During the bloody fight, the Rev. James Caldwell took the hymnbooks from the church, which is still standing, and threw them to the soldiers for wadding, shouting, "Put Watts into 'em boys'."

A month later will come the anniversary of Washington's occupancy of the Doory mansion at Prentiss. The house still stands and a measure introduced in the 1929 Legislature would have authorized acquisition of the property for the state.

Washington was at Prentiss in 1780 and three years later he returned to this state to make his headquarters at Rocky Hill, four miles from Princeton, where he wrote his farewell address to the army. The house, which was the residence of John Burriel, a justice of the Supreme Court, stands to this day.

The celebration of sequel-centennials began in Trenton, in the closing days of 1928 when President Coolidge and representatives of many of the original thirteen states came to the state capital to celebrate Washington's crossing of the Delaware, the battle of Trenton and that at Princeton early in 1777.

The sequel-centennials of 1928 included that of the battle of Monmouth, turning point for victory of American forces in the north, in which Molly Pitcher, Lafayette, Alexander Hamilton, General Greene and Wayne gained fame and Major Charles Lee disgraced. The state of New York next Sunday will dedicate five cedar trees forming the background for the grave of Margaret Corbin, "Captain Molly," whose name has been conferred with the Molly Pitcher of Monmouth.

FARM TAXATION.

Survey Shows That Development of Towns Affects Farm Land.

New Brunswick, N. J., June 4. (AP).—Professor A. G. Waller, economist for the New Jersey agricultural experiment station, in announcing results of a survey in the counties of Burlington, Gloucester and Camden, reports that urban development is aggravating the farm taxation problem to a marked degree. The survey was made at the request of the New Jersey farm tax committee, representing the state, county and federal departments of agriculture co-operated in the study.

Data collected on 76 county farms revealed that taxes rose from $1.11 per acre in 1915 to $5.12 in 1927. With the exception of 1917, when a rate of $1.25 per acre represented a three cent decrease from the 1916 rate, each year has shown an increase in the tax exacted from farm land. The greatest increase was in 1928-1929 when the tax per acre jumped from $3.33 to $5.43.

In Burlington county, where the survey included 90 farms with a total of more than 10,000 acres, the increase in tax rate per acre has not been so great as in Camden county. From a levy of $1.15 an acre in 1915 there was a gradual increase to $2.22 in 1920, and from that point to $3.85 in 1927. This represented more than a three-fold increase during a 13-year period.

On 58 Gloucester county farms with a total acreage of 5,742, there also has been more than a three-fold increase in farm land taxes in the period 1915-1917 inclusive. From a tax of 95 cents in 1915 the land tax has mounted to $2.97 in 1927. Gloucester's greatest single increase came during 1918-1920, when the levy jumped from $1.38 to $1.93, a gain of 55 cents.

"These figures show what has been happening in some counties where agricultural land is being affected by urban development," Waller says. "This competition for the utilization of land between urban and agricultural purposes, which is going on in many parts of New Jersey, presents during the transition period a real problem in taxation. This is because of the difference in values represented in the use made of the land."

"The growth and expansion are greatest in most sections, so that land which owners wish to continue in bona fide agricultural production is often affected by surrounding values or expected values of years to come, which may be considerably in excess of the land's earning power in crop production."

OLD FIRE ENGINES.

Long Branch Contractor Buys Them for Resale.

Long Branch, N. J., May 27. (AP).—Railroad coaches of other days, the kind that would splinter in wrecks and burn, are selling for summer shacks. The tobacco tin's wooden Indian has been taken into the museum, but, in these parts, fire engines of the pre-horseless age are again to be seen on the streets.

A retired fire chief, William G. Pressley, has rescued the one-time pride of many a firehouse, near and far, from oblivion, and has made it not a collector of antiques. He sells the steamers to practical minded persons who are not at all interested in keeping them bright and shiny.

Recently he bought one of these some profit in doing it. But Pressley, from Baltimore for the sum of $200 and he has his eye on another one in that city which, he has been told, pumped water for days in the great fire of 1904.

Pressley sells the machines to contractors. The new owners did not buy in sentimental reverie over days when "Firemen Save My Child" may have been more of a popular ditty than a memory. They may not have recalled times when every plane in the block was banged and thumped to exciting measures of "The Midnight Alarm" by amateur firemen.

Contractors are buying the machines for the sole reason that they are stout and cheap and will suck a lot of water out of a hole in double quick time. Since the termination of his smoke eating days Pressley has brought 32 of the old engines into this kind of service.

CENTURY PLANTS.

William Becker, foreman of the greenhouses at the New York botanical garden, states that the Agaves, the so-called century plants, are always puzzling to many people. Why is it that they flower so seldom? Of course, it doesn't take one hundred years for them to flower, but it does take sometimes fully 45 years.

Two plants grown for that length of time on an estate in New Jersey then brought to the New York botanical garden, flowered respectively at 45 years old and 47 years old. After blossoming, the main stem and all its leaves die, but new side shoots come up from the roots, so the plant often spends a half century storing up nourishment for one flowering season.

The flowers are then truly an imposing sight. The flower stalk grows twenty feet or more tall and bears a large cluster of blooms at the top. While the century plant grows very slowly during its early life the flower stalks shoot up in a great hurry. The Vera Cruz Agave at the botanical garden has a young flower stalk which grew more than two and one half feet during one week. It is growing in a house of "Conservatory Range." In about a month's time this century plant will be in full flower. Meantime its flower stalk will be growing at a tremendous rate.

The century plants or Agaves are all interesting relatives of the lily. All grow in the desert and many of them yield useful products. One of the Mexican century plants is the source of sisal hemp and the natives distill its sap to make an alcoholic drink they call pulque. There are several species of these century plants or Agaves growing in the greenhouse and all of them are thorny and have thick leathery leaves. They enjoy the same kind of dry conditions as do the cacti and are planted with them.

Several of the cacti are likewise getting ready to flower. Numbers of the prickly pears have their yellow and red blossoms and others of them have ripe fruit, which are edible and used in making candy. The prickly pears also are the hosts for the cochineal insects which yield a red dye used in coloring candy and for lipsticks. It is the safest dye for this purpose and as brilliantly colored as any of them.

One of the night blooming cereus is now in blossom and several buds give promise of more flowers during May. These flowers open for only one night, then die. The fleshy joints of some of the cacti are used by the people of the tropics for salad and are said to be very good to eat.

THE NEW STAMP.

One Issued to Honor Thomas A. Edison and Electric Lamp.

Menlo Park, N. J., June 3. (AP).—In this town, which not only had the first electric lights, but free ones at that, a little postoffice recently threatened with discontinuance, is coming into its own.

This is the birthplace of the electric light and the first postage stamps commemorating the half century of that invention of the great Edison will be sold in the front hall of Postmaster James F. Shephard's little bungalow on Wednesday.

The first stamp will be mailed to Edison, the second to President Hoover, and the third to Henry Ford, lifelong friend of Edison, whose representatives recently acquired the property on which stood the six dwelling houses and small brick structure, comprising the Edison plant of fifty years ago.

After the great have been served Shephard's office, which handles 40 or 50 letters a day, expects such a great crowd of collectors, that lanes for entrance and exit are being hoped for. A cancellation machine is to replace the old hand stamp and a crew of one postal employee from Washington and two from Newark will lend a hand. The front of the house is to be decorated with flags and bunting. Mrs. Shephard is moving a pen of chickens to the back yard so that they will not be trampled and killed by the throngs of people, who expect to do a big business in ice cold soda and pop.

The stamp is to be of standard two-cent size, printed in red ink. It will picture the original lamp with glowing rays of light. Above the lamp will be the words: "Edison's First Lamp." In the corners will be the dates "1879" and "1929."

Taken all in all, the village expects more stir than it knew in the three-less days and sleepless nights 50 years ago when Edison was experimenting and when the villagers refused to have their houses wired for electric lights. The few hardy souls who permitted the new fangled contraption in their homes received current free for many months.

During the two years before the successful completion of the lamp experiments, between 40 and 50 men were employed. Emulating the example of their leader, most of the staff, who were young men entering engineering careers, took little sleep. Five or six hours a day was the most rest the employees had and it was the custom to serve lunch at midnight so that work on the experiments would not be interrupted. A marker was erected on the site recently, and it is planned to mark additional spots and beautify the place with shrubbery.

Edison's home was distinguished by a huge windmill that pumped water for the settlement. In addition to his work on lamps, the wizard of Menlo Park conducted many other experiments here, working on the dynamo which, until that time, had not been a success. He applied for 60 patents in his Menlo Park days, including one for a method of preserving fruit.

THE BEAN BEETLE.

Expert Says Entire State Will Probably Be Affected.

New Brunswick, N. J., June 3. (AP).—Robert C. Burdette, associate entomologist of the New Jersey agricultural experiment station, is authoring a theory for the state that the Mexican bean beetle, a destructive insect preying on the bean crop, will probably infest the entire state this summer and fall.

The beetle was first reported in New Jersey last summer, and is now found over the entire county of Cape May and to a lesser degree in the counties of Atlantic, Cumberland, Salem, Burlington, Middlesex and Warren. A spread of the beetle is expected from these localities in view of the fact that the pest can make long flights and may also be spread by air currents, flood waters and by various mediums of transportation.

String beans and lima beans are the favorite food of the beetle. When present in large numbers the insects may destroy the foliage of bean plants in three or four weeks. Even a moderate amount of feeding results in considerable reduction of the crop.

Burdette describes the beetle as a "robust, hardshelled, copper-colored insect of hemispherical form bearing 16 black spots on the wing covers. Typical adults are one-quarter of an inch or slightly more in length and one-fifth of an inch or more in width. The eggs are light yellow and are laid in masses of 40 to 60 in the under sides of bean leaves."

"Control of the bean beetle may be effected through use of poisonous sprays and dusts and by the destruction of seriously damaged plants. Natural agencies such as birds, insects, hot weather and unsuitable hibernation places, also are playing a part in keeping the beetle population down."

"As bean foliage is very susceptible to burning, considerable care must be taken to use the proper insecticides. Arsenate of lead can not be used on bean foliage, but calcium arsenate and magnesium arsenate have been found satisfactory. Manganese arsenate is preferred for the reason that it gives good results in controlling the beetle without injury to the plant."

"The bean beetle is a prolific breeder and with favorable conditions may increase in such numbers as to destroy the entire bean crop in a community. There are probably three generations of the bean beetle in South Jersey at this time. The eggs are light yellow and are laid in masses of 40 to 60 in the under sides of bean leaves."

VIGILANT SOCIETIES.

They Have Not Entirely Gone Out of Existence in New Jersey.

Flemington, N. J. (AP).—The vigilants of Hunterdon county, organized a century ago to run down horse thieves, in a territory more or less off the beaten track, continue their existence to this day. Monmouth county also had its vigilant society and the Hazlet protective association of today is patterned after those societies.

In 1925, the vigilant society at Alexandria, said to have been organized in 1818, and to be the oldest in New Jersey, was given a new lease on life. There were few horse thieves, but the automobile and cattle thieves were more numerous, and it was decided to revive the old outfit. Sheriff William B. Wean was selected president.

The society was originally founded with 62 members and stories handed down say its "pursuers" had many a hard chase after horse thieves, sometimes bringing them in, sometimes not.

The Flemington vigilant society, created in 1820, continued actively until 1885, after which no meetings were held until 1904. From that its activities have been practically limited to gathering for annual meetings and dinners.

In contrast to the vigilant societies of the old West, the organizations in New Jersey never took the law into their own hands. When a thief was caught, he was turned over to the sheriff. There is no record of culprits having been hanged or shot.

A person who owned a horse in those days found it expedient to belong to these vigilant societies. In addition to having the entire strength of the organization to help him recover his loss, a member would be reimbursed if the animal was not recovered. The dues paid was a form of insurance. If insufficient money were in the treasury to compensate a member for a stolen horse, an assessment was levied for the balance.

If a pursuer brought in a horse it was turned over to its owner and the society had done its work. If an outsider returned the animal, he was rewarded.

A familiar sight in those days was a picnic with pictures of members of the vigilant society in pursuit of a fleeing horse thief at the top, and announcement of the reward at the bottom. Cards bearing the names of the members of the society also were stamped with the same pictures. The man, both pursuer and pursued, were always pictured as wearing tall beaver hats. All the vigilant societies have their official pursuers still, but the positions are more honorary than heroic.

Thefts of horses were not the only slight for summer residents. The local society, The Bloomsbury organization had for its object the "detection of horse thieves, and mutually insuring horses, mules, carriages and harness stolen."

IVY POISONING.

Methods of Allaying the Poison From This Plant.

New Brunswick, N. J., June 2. (AP).—Although advising that external use of lead acetate, milk of magnesia, and yellow laundry soap is helpful in the treatment of ivy poisoning in the early stages, Miss Jessie G. Fliske, seed analyst of the agricultural experiment station, urges that a physician should be consulted in severe cases or where the poisoning spreads.

Lead acetate, sugar of lead, may be obtained at any drug store. Concentrated crystals should be dissolved in grain alcohol or water, using as much lead acetate as will readily dissolve in a given amount of liquid. The milky fluid should be rubbed into the skin several times daily.

Milk of magnesia, if applied to the blisters and allowed to dry, has been found helpful and there is apparently no danger in frequent applications.

Washing with warm soap suds and water will frequently allay the poison in its first stages. In this treatment, Miss Fliske recommends those brands of laundry soap having a high percentage of lye.

EXPERT GOING TO EUROPE.

Dr. Lipman to Study Soil Conditions in the Old World.

New Brunswick, N. J., (AP).—Dr. J. G. Lipman, director of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station and dean of the College of Agriculture, has accepted an invitation to participate in the opening ceremony of the experimental farm being established near Maidenhead, England, as a center for research in fertilizers and allied problems.

The ceremony will be held June 28 and Dr. Lipman will sail from New York on June 15. He will also attend meetings scheduled for Budapest and Stockholm, where plans for the Second International Soil Science Congress will be outlined.

WARNS OF BROOK WATER.

Carry Water from Home When Motoring, Says Mr. Cox.

A warning that water from brooks and streams may be dangerous to health, even though clear and cold, was given by Charles R. Cox, a sanitary engineer in the state department of health, in a health talk given recently.

"Now that Old Man Winter has taken his departure it won't be long before most of us will be fixing up the car and driving out into the open country whenever time and opportunity permit," Mr. Cox said. "What ever harm the automobile has done in making walking almost a lost art, has been counteracted in part at least by the aid it has been in getting us out into the fresh air and sunshine."

"There is a great deal that can be said in favor of this growing tendency to seek the open places; there is much to be said in favor of the picnic lunch if it is prepared with due regard to a balanced diet; but there is nothing that can be said for the habit which some people have of trusting to luck to find water to drink wherever it happens to be convenient to stop."

"Many persons have the idea that water from any running stream in the country is pure and fit to drink if clear and cold, because 'running water purifies itself.' There is a grain of truth in that old saying, but, like some other traditions, there is a pound of falsity there also."

"If a running brook crosses a farmyard or pasture or flows near a highway it is bound to pick up human or animal pollution, which, taken into the human system, may cause disease. True it is that certain factors begin at once to render the water less dangerous, but what chance has it of becoming fit to drink? Let us see. First of all, solid material tends to settle out, the heavier particles first, but the amount of sedimentation depends on the rate of flow. If the stream the stream the less settling. Thus solid material may be carried long distances from the place where the stream became polluted."

"Moreover, disease bacteria are so light in weight that there is comparatively little chance of their settling so long as the water remains in motion. If other streams join the first stream the pollution may become greatly diluted and then much less dangerous, but on the other hand, these tributaries may be highly contaminated and so increase the danger. Oxidation of impurities by air is rapid in fast-flowing streams if the water flows over rocks or falls. Sunlight also has a better chance to kill harmful bacteria if the stream is turbulent, so that fresh surfaces of water are constantly exposed. Disease germs tend to die off rapidly outside the human body."

"But all of the factors mentioned are frequently insufficient to purify water in a stream so that it is safe for drinking purposes. There is no way to tell by the appearance of a water whether it is safe to drink or not. Not even an expert sanitary chemist can tell except by a careful analysis."

"Why take a chance of a serious infection by drinking water of whose history you know nothing? Carry water from home along with you when you are taking to the road. If you are going any great distance replenish your stock in some one of the larger communities where the water supply is under supervision. Don't drink from the roadside stream or spring."

ARISTOCRACY IN VEGETABLES.

Many We Know and Like Today Were Well Thought of by Ancients.

(From the New York Times.)

There is an aristocracy of vegetables that springs from the family vine. The housewife of today may pronounce this root and leaf low class, according to her taste and its price, and without a thought for its history. Some of the humblest occupants of the vegetable stand have a family history the age of which a human aristocrat might envy. Many of the very same vegetables that the modern housewife lugs home in brown paper bags from the green grocer's, the Grecian slave brought away from the marketplace of ancient Athens. And many a Roman senator has sat down to the same vegetable dishes that now are served up on the twentieth century table.

The ancients, also, though they never heard of vitamins, had their vegetable theories worked out into elaborate details as to just what ill this vegetable remedied or what benefit resulted that one brought about. Of all the common vegetables the cabbage, perhaps, has passed through the most vicissitudes as to reputation. Nowadays, when the cabbage is coming into such high repute for vitamins that specialists go so far as to prescribe its leaves in infant diets, the esteem the ancients felt for it seems justified. Greek legend has it that the cabbage sprang from the sweat of Jupiter's brow, as he was tied with himself to explain two contradictory oracles. One writer says that the Romans preserved their racial health for six hundred years by the use of cabbage as a cure-all. It was considered good for the stomach and the sinews, to be easily digested and to clarify the senses, if ordinarily eaten. Men took it raw to offset the effect of excessive drinking—that is to sober them after they had drunk too much. It was also prescribed for palsy.

Cabbage juice with honey was used by the Greeks and Romans as an eye salve and a liniment made from it was recommended for swelling glands and for bruises. Its juice with goat's milk, salt and honey was a favorite remedy for stiff neck, and taken raw with vinegar, honey, rue, mint and lavender, it was thought effective for headaches, gout and various other ailments. Preachers took it with raisins to cure hoarseness.

Many centuries after the time of the Greeks and the Romans cabbage was still so highly thought of as a health giver that the story was told of a doctor going to settle in Denmark, who, when he saw fields of cabbage everywhere, lost heart, deciding that Denmark would be a poor market for his services. But an English writer of half a century ago recounted with apologies instances of the high regard in which the vegetable had been held. His age, said he, looked on all members of the cabbage family as hard to digest and affording little nourishment.

Though scientific opinion of cabbage has proved inconsistent, popular opinion apparently has changed little. Even in the time of Pliny it was the vegetable of the people, "in great request in the kitchen and among our riotous gluttons."

The ancients knew many varieties of cabbage, the curled, the ruffed and sprouts. Cauliflower, which entered France in 1694 from Cyprus, had been pronounced by one Roman herbalist the sweetest and pleasantest to taste of all the coleworts, but of no value in medicine, an enemy to the kidneys, unwholesome and hard to digest.

The artichoke, it appears, has always been a patrician among the vegetables in spite of its kinship to the thistle, on account of which Pliny confessed himself ashamed to give it rank with choice plants. Still, he admitted, it was more prized and more expensive than any other garden herb. At one time consumers were even prohibited by law from eating it. The nobles used to have it preserved in vinegar and honey and served with the costly root of leaseworts and cumins. Those who could afford to used its juice also as a hair tonic and its root to excite a desire for liquor.

Asparagus, too, stood well with the ancients. Long known as a straw-like shoot springing up in the wild, it is said to have been used as food first about 200 B. C. In the time of Pliny it had been brought under expert cultivation. Asparagus was held to be an excellent appetizer.

Turnips, beets and radishes were a respected trio of ancient Greece, all three having been acceptable offerings at the temple of Apollo in Delphi. Their respective rank may be judged from the custom of dedicating turnips in dishes of lead, beets in silver and radishes in beaten gold. Though radishes are thought to have come originally from China, their cultivation is of great antiquity in Europe. In earliest times they were eaten with salt before breakfast. A syrup made from them was used to cure whooping cough and maladies of the chest. Turnips, too, were thought good for hoarseness and coughs, and also effective as a poultice for the feet. So important were turnips to the poor, in the middle ages that they appeared on armorial bearings to denote a person of good disposition who relieved the destitute.

The beets of ancient Greece were black and white and the leaves as well as the roots were used. The leaves were generally preferred to the roots, though lettuce was highly thought of for its cooling effect. There are accounts of lettuce being served in its natural state at the tables of Persian kings as far back as 550 B. C. The Romans generally cooked it. Roman lettuce was black and its milky juice was said to induce sleep. In sixteenth-century England, where eight varieties were found, it was cooked or served with oil and vinegar.

Only in recent years have mushrooms been anything like abundant on the market, and outside the large cities they are considered a rarity still; yet mushrooms have been available for thousands of years. Said Pliny, "The last device of our epicures to sharpen their appetites and tempt them to eat inordinately is the cooking of mushrooms." Often they prepared the dish with their own hands to enjoy the odor. The mushroom, however, fell into discredit at the death of Emperor Tiberius Claudius, on account of the aid it had rendered Agrippina, his wife, in poisoning him.

One of the oldest vegetables is the onion, of Egyptian origin. The details of the Ptolemies used to swear by it, and lack of it was one of the complaints of the Israelites against Moses in the wilderness. Carrots, too, have a long history. The ancient Greeks held them to be particularly beneficial to consumptives, strengthening and fattening them and helping their cough.

Many of the comparative newcomers to the vegetable stand still have a record of centuries behind them. Spinach, though unknown to the ancients, has been cultivated in England since 1568. The eggplant, a native of India, grew in England for more than 200 years before it appeared on the market from which it was kept on account of its evil name as a nightshade; and broccoli, with which Americans are just becoming acquainted, has been eaten for more than a hundred years.

HELPING ONE ANOTHER.

The Daily Creed of William Morris, Poet and Artist.

A life without love in it is like a heap of ashes upon a deserted hearth—with the fire dead, the laughter stilled, and the light extinguished. It is like a winter landscape—with the sun hidden, the flowers frozen, and the wind whispering through the withered leaves. God we need all the unselfish love that can come to us. For love is seldom unselfish. There is usually the motive and the price.

Do you remember William Morris, and how his life was lived, his fortune spent, his hands busied—in the service of others? He was the father of the settlement movement, of co-operative homes for working people, and of the arts and crafts revival. In our day, he was a "soldier of the common good."

After he was gone his life began to heap in radiance and power, like a beacon set high upon a dangerous shore. In the twilight of his day he wrote what I like to think was his creed: "I'm going your way, so let us go hand in hand. You help me and I'll help you. We shall not be here very long, for soon Death, the kind old nurse, will come back and rock us all to sleep. Let us help one another while we may."

Small tasks, small pleasures and small opportunities make up the average life, after all, and we are wise—for we are most of us just average folks—if we learn the great lesson of extracting happiness from small things.
