

Drum And Bugle Corps Wins Cup

Prize of a Silver Trophy Awarded to Red Bank Organization at Parade at Long Branch on Armistice Day.

On exhibition at the meeting of Shrewsbury post of the American legion of Red Bank Monday evening was a silver loving cup which was won by the Drum and Bugle corps of the post at Long Branch. Forty-one members were present at the meeting and Commander Morris Miller presided. At the suggestion of Morris VanSauter, president of the corps, a letter of thanks was ordered sent to Councilman James S. Parkes for having hired a bus to provide transportation for the members of the corps.

Morgan Elliot, chairman of the house committee, reported that the post's winter program of activities was being completed and that the improvements to the post rooms were nearly finished.

A letter was read from Leonard Alexander of Holmdel, who is a patient at Base Hospital No. 81 at the Bronx, New York, for United States veterans. Mr. Alexander is sick with heart trouble. He is improving, but it is uncertain when he will be able to return home. Victor Gregora, another member of the post, is at the same hospital. It was reported that Eric Ekerstrom was in poor health and that it would probably be necessary for him to go to the hospital.

Commander Miller made a report on the part which the post took at the funeral of Charles K. Swindell of West Bergen place last week.

Antonio Chiaravallotti received as a new member of the post.

A letter was ordered sent to Mrs. Sigmond Elmer thanking her for having donated the use of her automobile to the post on several occasions.

At the conclusion of the meeting a roast beef supper and a social time were enjoyed.

Off Relief Rolls; Back On Pay Rolls

Two Works Progress Administration Jobs at Red Bank Result in More Than 100 Men Finding Work.

More than 100 men who had been unemployed are back on the payrolls as the result of two Works Progress Administration projects started at Red Bank last week. One project is that of laying storm sewers on West Front street and the other is that of laying storm sewers in East Red Bank near Harrison avenue.

Capt. Robert A. Kennedy, overseer of the poor, reports that as a result of these two jobs and of work done at the Civilian Conservation Corps at Freehold a number of men who had been on relief are not receiving help now.

Mr. Kennedy said he would make a written report on the situation at the next meeting of the mayor and council Monday, November 18.

The officials at their last meeting made an appropriation of $2,150 for relief purposes during November. The state appropriated $2,470 for the same purpose to be used at Red Bank. The state appropriation is the smallest that has been made since relief work was started.

Republicans Give Testimonial

Mrs. Marie Cox, Republican committeewoman of Oceanport borough, will be the guest of honor at a dinner Saturday night at the Log Cabin Inn at Portauque. The affair is being arranged by the newly formed Republican club of Oceanport, and is in recognition of the work accomplished by Mrs. Cox at the recent election. Addresses will be made by prominent Republicans.

Mrs. Cox lives in the Portauque section of the borough. She has been active in political and civic affairs of the borough and was an active member of the Civic club, which was formed by her father, the late John P. Smith.

In charge of the arrangements for the dinner are Theodore Rowe chairman, Elliott Brainerd, Felix Foglia and Cecil Crawford.

Rainbow Veterans to Meet.

The next quarterly meeting of the New Jersey chapter Rainbow Division Veterans will be held next Sunday afternoon, November 17, at three o'clock in the Red Bank armory, Chestnut and West streets.

Francis Golden, president, and William J. Dowd, secretary of the chapter, are urging a full attendance as several very important matters will be discussed.

Public Meeting On Health Topics

Doctors and Dentists to Speak at Public Gathering Next Monday Night at Atlantic Highlands High School.

A public meeting to arouse interest in health matters will be held Monday evening, November 18, in the auditorium of the Atlantic Highlands high school under the direction of the board of health and the Public Health association of that borough. The program will begin at eight o'clock and the theme will be "Health Today and Tomorrow."

The two organizations in charge of the meeting believe they have a program which will interest young and old in their health as well as their duty in their neighborhood health problems. Most of the speakers will be doctors and dentists who will be heard on various subjects pertaining to health. The public is invited to attend and there is no admission fee.

The speakers and their topics include Mayor Chauncey C. Phillips, "The Value of Public Health Community"; Herbert E. McInerney, "The Value of the Atlantic Highlands public schools, 'The Value of a Health Program in the Schools'; Dr. A. Rosenthal, "Appendicitis"; Dr. A. W. Sweet, county health officer, "Toxin Anti-Toxin and Vaccination"; Dr. F. J. Altschul, "Tuberculosis and Chest Treatments"; and Miss Evelyn Walker, "Public Health Work."

The committees in charge of the meetings are Mrs. H. H. Bowtell, Mrs. Edward McHenry and George Stryker, publicity; Miss Helen Fleet, Mrs. John Pittcock and Mrs. E. K. Alice, contact; E. B. VanHise, Miss Eunice Rogers and Mrs. Peter Mortenson, program and speakers; and Mrs. Walter J. Roberts, Mrs. Sullivan and E. B. VanHise, advisory.

Seaboard Plant Has Social Club

Local Ice and Coal Company Organizes for Better Times—Russell Smith Elected President—Has 21 Members.

A new social club has been formed by the employees of the Seaboard Ice and Coal company. The club met last Thursday night and elected officers. The local plant is under the supervision of John B. Cooper.

This new organization, which has 21 members, includes members of plants at Red Bank, Sea Bright, Keyport, Highlands and Long Branch. Russell Smith has been named president, Joseph Frank vice president, Benjamin A. Parker secretary and Alonzo DeWitt treasurer. Meetings will be held once a month at the local plant where club members are being laid out.

The club has been formed to promote goodwill among the employees, to foster a better understanding of the value of co-operation and practice the same, to familiarize club members through the medium of group meetings, with various enterprises of the company, to provide a means of expressing the members as a unit in time of bereavement and sickness, to provide a means of assisting members of the club or their families in time of need and to foster a unity of purpose, that purpose being the intimate success of club members and the company.

STAMP CLUB TO MEET

Monmouth County Specialty Members To Exhibit Special Issue.

The Monmouth County Philatelic society will meet at the Red Bank borough hall Friday night, November 22, at eight o'clock. There will be a short business session to be followed by a special exhibition of the two-cent Columbian stamp, showing varieties, shades and cancellations. Special exhibits in this classification will be made by Alexander D. Cooper, R. V. R. H. Stout, Leroy S. Dangler and Robert A. Williams.

The notice pertaining to this meeting was received by members Monday morning, Armistice day, and it bore the special Red Cross stamp which was issued in 1931 in commemoration of "the greatest mother on earth."

LITTLE SILVER PLOT SOLD.

Brooklyn Man Buys Place on Point Road for Own Use.

Edward J. Flanagan, buyer for Loesser, well known commercial firm of Brooklyn, has purchased through the G. Howard Lippincott real estate agency on Monmouth street a large tract on the Little Silver Point road, which is part of the Lovett nursery holdings.

The property is located on the north side of the road leading from Little Silver Point toward the Little Silver railroad depot and is in close proximity to Prospect avenue. The premises in question are nearly opposite the Lippincott estate. The property has a 100-foot frontage on the Little Silver Point road and is over 700 feet in depth, leading through a meadow to a large grove in the rear of the property.

Mr. Flanagan plans to build in the near future a large modern cottage for his own use.

Joint Installation Of Officers Held

The New Officials of Vernon A. Brown Post and of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Post Installed Into Office.

A joint installation of officers of Vernon A. Brown post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and of the Ladies' auxiliary of the post was held Monday night in the post rooms. The officers of the auxiliary were installed into office by Mrs. Maude Ryan of Atlantic City, deputy president, assisted by Mrs. Emily Levering of Port Monmouth, deputy color bearer, who acted as conductress. The officers are:

President—Mrs. Elizabeth Castin. Senior vice president—Mrs. Ella McGregory.

Junior vice president—Mrs. Jennie Thompson.

Secretary—Miss Elizabeth McGrath. Treasurer—Mrs. Anna Goesch.

Chaplain—Mrs. Nellie Chandler. Historian—Mrs. Anna Tumbalaki.

Parrotte instructor—Mrs. Ruth Estelle. Club banner—Mrs. Lucy Ziegler. Mrs. Anna Marce, Mrs. Esther Emmons.

A past president's pin was presented by Mrs. Ryan to Mrs. Anna Kirk, the outgoing president of the auxiliary. Mrs. Ryan also presented a past secretary's pin to Mrs. Alfred Smith, who for three years had been secretary of the auxiliary. On behalf of the auxiliary Mrs. Castin gave a large bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Buella Hansen, the first president of the auxiliary. Mrs. Hansen is on the road to recovery from a long sickness. A gift of a bouquet was also made to Miss McGrath, the outgoing treasurer.

Remarks were made by Mrs. Rein Yarn of Atlantic City, aide camp to Mrs. Ryan; Mrs. Rose Guttman, council member of Middlesex county; Mrs. Margaret Giggins of Atlantic City, deputy chief of staff, and Mrs. Ryan.

The officers of the post were installed by County Commander Webster Linton assisted by Post Commander Harry Sanders. The names of the officers were published in The Register last week. A past commander's badge was presented to Mr. Sanders.

Remarks were made by John Ryan, past county commander of Atlantic county and present commander of Gall post of Atlantic City; Milton J. Guttman, deputy inspector of Middlesex county; George S. Morvin, deputy inspector of Monmouth county; and by the newly elected officers. Refreshments were served by members of the Ladies' auxiliary.

Two home-made cakes were disposed of in the co-operative plan. One was won by Mrs. Eva Heilker of Long Branch and the other was won by James Glendinning of Riverside Heights. Mr. Glendinning donated the cake to the post and it was auctioned off under an arrangement whereby five cents was charged for each bid and the netted $9.50 and the recipient of the cake was Walter Gogerty of Keamsburg. The money will be used for welfare work. Joseph Bahr of Keamsburg acted as auctioneer.

The auxiliary will hold its next meeting tonight and the post will hold its next meeting Thursday night, November 14.

TURKEY SUPPER TONIGHT.

Trinity Episcopal Parish House Scene of Woman's Guild Affair.

Plans have been completed for the turkey supper to be served tonight at six o'clock in the Trinity Episcopal parish house on West Front street. Mrs. Allan Frost is general chairman of a large assisting committee from the Woman's guild. Mrs. Leon De in Reussille, Sr., is in charge of the needy.

These suppers, arranged by the members of the guild, have always attracted an unusually large number of patrons and the committee anticipates the serving of an exceptionally large number at tonight's affair.

Fine Oceanport Estate Purchased

The Hedges Bought by James B. Madison of New York from Edwin B. Houghton—New Owner to Occupy It.

The Hedges, an estate of ten acres near Oceanport and one of the most attractive properties of its kind in this section, has been bought by James B. Madison, a New York business man, for his own use. The new owner purchased the place from Edwin B. Houghton of New York. Ray H. Stillman of Eatontown was the broker in the transaction. The house on the estate has been rented the past two years by Mrs. Cassa Lehman and she will continue her residence there until next spring, when Mr. Madison will have the house enlarged and modernized. A contract for landscape work has been awarded to Ralph Wiedeholt of Shrewsbury and this job is now under way.

The estate is at the northeast corner of the Eatontown and Long Branch boulevard and Main street, Oceanport, opposite the Lady Wakefield house and Mrs. Adam H. Groel's property. The last named place is occupied by Mrs. George H. Miles.

An outstanding feature of the Hedges is the beautiful and picturesque landscape. Many fine shade trees, a big rose garden and large quantities of shrubbery are on the place. The scenery harmonizes with the house, a huge colonial structure said to have been built about 150 years ago. The dwelling is apparently in as good condition as when it was constructed. On the first story extending all the way from the south to the north side of the building is a living room with a huge fireplace, a central hall with a Dutch door at each end and a dining room. These rooms are so located as to provide cross ventilation. Also on this floor are a kitchen and a butler's pantry.

On the second floor are four large bedrooms, two bathrooms and a maid's room and bathroom. One of the large bedrooms has a fireplace. The house has modern improvements.

On the grounds is a building with accommodations for four horses and three automobiles.

The estate has had many owners, one of whom according to legend was a German immigrant who came to this country on the ill-fated Titanic which was wrecked off Long Branch a number of years ago. The immigrant in question, according to the story, was one of the few passengers saved. The story has it that he came to this country with considerable cash and that he increased the store here. It is said that instead of putting his money in the banks he buried it on the farm where he lived. The amount is said to have been about $40,000. Its owner, while he was dying, according to the legend, started to tell about the location of the hiding place but expired before he was able to do so. Many searches have been made for the buried treasure, but no vestige of it was found.

A request from the Quadrangle club for the use of the athletic field for a football game on Thanksgiving was referred to the athletic field committee, of which Mr. Russell is chairman.

A letter was read from Henry D. Scudder of Riverside drive complaining about the conditions under which the game was played at Rutgers Saturday between the third team of the Red Bank school and the Rutgers school team. The letter stated that individual drinking cups were not provided for the players and that in washing their mouths the players used water from a bucket into which blood had been spilled from the injuries of players who had been hurt. It was stated that the bucket was not emptied and some of the blood. It was also said that the players while bathed with perspiration left the field insufficiently cleaned to prevent colds. Mr. and Mrs. Scudder were at the meeting and they augmented the statements made in the letter. The letter was ordered filed. Mr. and Mrs. Scudder said they did not wish to criticize but rather to prevent a repetition of such incidents.

It was voted to buy a heavy oil burner for heating the Mechanic street schoolhouse. This will involve an additional expenditure of $2,300, of which thirty per cent will be paid by the Public Works Administration. This action was taken at the suggestion of Architect Ernest Arend.

The family which has been occupying the Mulvey house near the River street schoolhouse is about to move, it was reported, and it was voted to board up the windows of this dwelling to prevent damage by hoodlums. The board of education bought the house last winter for use in teaching domestic science. It is proposed to put it into use at the beginning of the next school term. The Pinconaro factory which the board bought last winter for manual training purposes has been boarded up in similar way.

A letter was received asking permission to use the River street schoolhouse one night each week as a school for building and loan employees and others intending to take up this work. The board decided that the charge for making such use of the schoolhouse would be $5 per night. The instructor is Judge John W. Wood of Middlesex township and he donates his services.

The Society for the Advancement of Colored People, in a letter from its secretary, Mrs. Ruth Ramsey, asked for the free use of a schoolhouse for a dance. Japhia Clayton, secretary of the board, was instructed to inform Mrs. Ramsey that the board had adopted a rule that the charge for such use of a schoolhouse was $50. It was stated that another society had recently paid such a fee for a dance and that the event proved profitable and otherwise successful.

The Italian band, in a letter, asked for the use of the River street or Shrewsbury avenue schoolhouses for holding rehearsals on Tuesday

Bowman Farm Sold At New Monmouth

Twenty-Acre Tract Has Been Bought by Three Brothers, Douglas, Alfred and Melvin Edwards.

The Bowman property of twenty acres in Middletown township, near New Monmouth, has been bought by three brothers, Dr. Douglas, Alfred and Melvin Edwards of Campbell's Junction. Dr. Douglas Edwards is engaged in the practice of dentistry at Red Bank.

The purchasers have not announced what use they will make of the farm. They bought it from Mrs. Charlotte Bowman of Orange. The latter's husband, the late Ralph A. Bowman, was for a number of years secretary of the board of education of Middletown township.

The farm comprises twenty acres and it is on the north side of the road between New Monmouth and Cherry Tree Farm. A house was on the land, but it was destroyed by fire several years ago. A large up-to-date chickenhouse with metal floors is on the farm. There are several smaller outbuildings. The soil is very fertile and a lively brook runs across the land.

The farm was the birthplace of Charles R. Snyder, who for a number of years was engaged in the practice of law at Atlantic Highlands. One of the former owners was the late Gerarda Morris, who was collector of taxes of Middletown township. Originally the farm was considerably larger than at present. Part of it was bought by Stephen Greney and part of it by the late Henry Eastmond.

BUYS AT GOOSENECK POINT.

East Orange Resident To Build For Own Occupancy.

Ernest Bally of Brooklyn, a member of the firm of Bally Brothers, who operate the Studebaker automobile agency in Red Bank, has sold a lot at Gooseneck Point to Mrs. Alma D. Wood of South Orange. The sale was made by G. Howard Lippincott of Monmouth street. The lot is located on the east side of Shore road and has a frontage of 161 feet and a depth of 300 feet. Mrs. Wood plans to build a seven-room, modern dwelling on the premises for her own occupancy.

Canvas Fence For The School Field

Red Bank Board of Education Considers Means of Keeping Out Spectators Who Do Not Pay Admission Fees.

At the meeting of the Red Bank board of education Tuesday night the suggestion was offered by William Russell, one of the board members, that canvas be bought and fence to enclose the high school athletic grounds on West Bergen place so that football, baseball and other athletic contests cannot be witnessed by spectators free of charge. The contour of the field is such that games can be seen almost as well by people outside the field, especially if they are in parked cars, as those who pay for grandstand seats.

That the wealthy and others among the well-to-do take advantage of the situation to see games without paying admission fees was the subject of considerable comment at the board meeting. "You would be surprised to notice how many of this class are too cheap to pay admission fees," was the remark made at the meeting.

"They park outside in expensive cars and get entertained free of charge and they don't seem to be the least bit ashamed of being such cheap skates," was another statement.

The upshot of this chiseling in on games is that the Athletic association of the high school has made little or no profit on games. Paradoxically, attendance has never been larger than this year, but receipts have fallen off. The cost of buying canvas, it was stated at the board meeting, would not be large, but doubt was expressed that the Athletic association would be able to meet the outlay at the present time.

It was proposed that the board buy the canvas and later be reimbursed by the Athletic association through increased revenues which would be derived by reason of increased paid attendance.

The suggestion brought a favorable response from the board. Some of the members thought it would be well not only to buy canvas but also to plant privet around the field. After about three years the privet would grow high enough to prevent spectators from seeing games without paying to go inside. The cost of buying and planting the privet, it was said, would be small. It was said that at the last game there were more rooters for the visiting team who paid admissions to go on the grounds than there were Red Bankers.

In view of the fact that only a few football games are to be played this season it was decided not to do anything about buying canvas or planting privet at the present time. The board members said they would take the matter up again next spring before the baseball season started.

With regard to canvas, they said that it would be put up a short time and then would be rolled up and put away. They said it would be unsafe to leave it up because it would undoubtedly be cut into ribbons by hoodlums.

A request from the Quadrangle club for the use of the athletic field for a football game on Thanksgiving was referred to the athletic field committee, of which Mr. Russell is chairman.

A letter was read from Henry D. Scudder of Riverside drive complaining about the conditions under which the game was played at Rutgers Saturday between the third team of the Red Bank school and the Rutgers school team. The Italian band, in a letter, asked for the use of the River street or Shrewsbury avenue schoolhouses for holding rehearsals on Tuesday evenings. Mr. Clayton was instructed to inform the band that the River street schoolhouse was unavailable because plans were being made under the auspices of the Works Progress Administration to use it for an evening school. The Shrewsbury avenue schoolhouse is not used for public school purposes, although it is owned by the board of education. It is used for recreational activities, under the direction of Patsy Vaccarelli, and the request of the band was referred to Mr. Vaccarelli. The building has no heating system.

A letter was received from the Taxpayers association relative to the cost of making changes to the Pinconaro factory building and the Mulvey house for manual training and domestic science purposes. Mr. Clayton was instructed to reply. Last winter the people of Red Bank voted by a large majority to buy the two properties in question for the studies mentioned.

Contest For Fire Chief Of Rumson

Harold J. Peters and Francis Murphy Nominated by Rumson Fire Company, Which Has Choice of Selecting Chief.

There will be a contest for the office of chief of the Rumson fire department this year. That municipality has two companies and it is the custom for the companies to alternate in selecting the chief each year. Joseph Duryea of the Oceanic hook and ladder company is completing his term as chief and it is up to the Rumson fire company to select the man to head the department for the coming year.

Rumson fire company has nominated 14 candidates. Usually the man who has been holding down the job of assistant chief is elevated to chief without opposition. The office of assistant chief was held this year by Harold J. Peters. He will be opposed for chief by Francis Murphy, who has been captain of the hose truck the past year. If Mr. Murphy had not been nominated he would, through the customary advancement, be in line for the chief's job two years hence.

Another contest this year will be for second lieutenant of the hook and ladder truck between Walter Pomphrey and Ernest Swanson.

Other nominations by the company were Harold Benson for president, Harold J. Peters for vice president, Edward Andre for secretary, Richard J. Rogers, Jr., for treasurer, Frank Pfeifferberger for captain of the hose truck, Joseph Guervier for first lieutenant, John Pfeifferberger for second lieutenant, Albert Swanson for captain of the hook and ladder truck, Frank Hiltner for first lieutenant, Alfred Brighton, Jr., Raymond Porter, William Gaynor, Frank Pfeifferberger and Walter Carle for trustees, Walter Carle for sergeant-at-arms and John Boyle, James Shay, Harvey Tilton, William Gaynor, Walter Carle, Walter Neuhauer, Edward Andre and Robert Wilson for fire police.

VILLAGE PTA TO MEET.

The River Plaza Parent-Teacher association will meet Tuesday night, November 19, at eight o'clock when Mrs. Phyllis Davis, extension specialist at Rutgers university, will address the group on "Parent's Responsibilities."

The meeting will be held at the River Plaza schoolhouse. Plans were made for the December meeting at which time Mrs. Marie McDowell of Rutgers university will address the association. A holiday program will be presented by the pupils of the school. A tea was planned to be held during the holidays at the schoolhouse.

The officers of the PTA include Mrs. George E. Donohue, president; Mrs. G. S. Stevenson first vice president, Mrs. Albert Lindstruth second vice president, Edgar Alexander treasurer, Mrs. Fred Ayers corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Charles Meeker recording secretary.

DINNER-MEETING.

County Engineers and Surveyors to Gather Next Wednesday.

The regular meeting of the Monmouth County chapter, Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors, will be held Wednesday, November 20, at the Garfield Grant hotel, Long Branch. A dinner will be served at seven o'clock, followed with a business meeting at eight o'clock.

Louis P. Booz, consulting engineer of the Port Jervis, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be, "Perch Anboy Sewage Treatment Plant."

Beefsteak and Chowder Party.

The Red Bank Yacht club will have a beefsteak and chowder party Sunday, November 17, at the clubhouse, East Front street, near Spring. The affair will begin promptly at half-past six o'clock and the Entertainment committee urges members to come and bring their friends and make merry.

Scouts In Jamboree At Lakewood

Nearly 500 Boy Scouts had a wow of a time at the three-day jamboree at Lakewood over the past week-end. The scouts have nothing but praise for the Chamber of Commerce, the Hotel association and everyone who made friendliness the keyword. This jamboree the scouts will never forget.
The highlights of the jamboree were many. Saturday afternoon there was a field meet. In the evening the scouts gathered around a campfire by the lake. Especially interesting was a tumbling and pyramid-building act by the scouts of Jamesburg. On Sunday the churches held special scout services. In the afternoon a special train took the scouts to the naval air station at Lakehurst, where guides described the different ships and exhibitions arranged especially for the boys. Believe it or not, there was one boy who had never been on a train.
On Monday the Strand theater arranged and showed movies. The climax of the jamboree was the big parade Monday afternoon. This jamboree was under the guidance of Scout Executive Waldo Holbrook of Lakewood. His untiring efforts made this event enjoyable, interesting and well worth while for every scout and scout official present.

SURPRISE SHOWER.

Miss Sadie Downes of Belford to Wed
Ralph Thorpe.

A surprise miscellaneous shower was given Miss Sadie Downes of Belford Monday night by Miss Marie Houston of Leonardo at the home of Mrs. Ernest Elmgren of Sunset avenue. Miss Downes's engagement was recently announced to Ralph Thorpe. No date has been set for the wedding. Orange crepe paper and bouquets of chrysanthemums were used in the decorations.

Miss Downes, who is employed in the office of Sigmund Elmsner company, was the recipient of a number of useful gifts which were concealed in a large electric lighted bungalow with figures of a miniature bride and groom on the porch.

Those attending were Mrs. Carol Dowd, Mrs. Hilda Wolcott, Mrs. Viola Curtis, Mrs. Margaret Hull, Mrs. Loretta Shannon, Mrs. Grace Simpson, and the Misses Elsie Dreyer, Mary Reiss, Yetta Belgrad, Nan Mahon, Betty Sutphin, Katharine Dougherty, Agnes Nolan, Muriel Reid, Kate Higgins, Rose, Amelia and Frances Marks, Marie Houston and Myrtle Ayers.

AMUSEMENTS.

Carlton Theater.

"Metropolitan," a Twentieth Century-Fox film, with Lawrence Tibbett, star of the opera and concert stage in the main role, will be the feature attraction today and tomorrow (Thursday and Friday) at the Carlton theater.
In the supporting cast are Virginia Bruce, Alice Brady, Cesar Romero, Thurston Hall and Luis Albern. The film is based on a story by Rose Meredyth. Tibbett sings "Pagliacci," "The Road to Mandalay," the Toreador song from "Carmen," selections from "Faust" and "The Barber of Seville" and "Do Glory Road."

Tibbett plays the vigorous and ambitious young singer who strives against almost insuperable obstacles to attain his ambition.
Leaving the Metropolitan Opera because he receives no encouragement, he attaches himself to the company of Miss Brady, a temperamental and acrobatic prima donna. She loves Tibbett, and he in turn loves Miss Brady. But because he realizes that the fate of everybody in the company depends on his notions, Tibbett manages somehow to temperance.

Miriam Hopkins and Joel McCrea
in "Barbary Coast"

Finally, Miss Brady leaves the company stranded and penniless, just before their anticipated opening. The climax of the picture shows how Tibbett and his fellow-singers achieve the impossible and manage to open and win a success beyond their wildest dreams.

"Barbary Coast" with Miriam Hopkins, Edward G. Robinson and Joel McCrea in the main roles, will be the feature attraction on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The picture was produced by Samuel Goldwyn and was released through United Artists. The supporting cast includes Walter Brennan, Frank Craven, Clyde Cook, Harry Carey, Matt McHugh and Donald Meek.

Miss Hopkins has the role of Swan, who reigns over the crooked roulette wheel in the notorious Bella Donna cafe of San Francisco in the days of the gold rush. Robinson plays Charles, proprietor of the cafe, while McCrea portrays Jim Carmichael, a young miner who enters Swan's life and by his love transforms her. The story was written for the screen by Charles MacArthur and Ben Hecht.

Strand Theater.
"I Live for Love," a Warner Brothers picture with Dolores Del Rio, Everett Marshall, Guy Kibbee, Allen Jenkins, Berton Churchill and Hobart Cavanaugh in the main roles, will be shown for the last time today (Thursday) at the Strand theater.

The plot is said to carry a most unusual comedy twist, set against the background of a radio broadcasting station. The picture contains five catchy original songs, written by the song team of Wrubel and Dixon, and sung by Marshall, radio singer and former Metropolitan opera star. Other music includes the favorite Neapolitan street song, "Al Marie," in which Eddie Conrad and the vaudeville team of Shaw and Leo join Marshall in singing a humorous version. Busby Berkeley directed the dance sequences.

Two features, "Hot Tip" with Zasu Pitts and James Gleason, and "The Throwback" with Buck Jones, will be shown tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday.

"Hot Tip," produced by R. K. O. Radio, was adapted from the Red Book magazine story by William Stevens McNutt.

The plot develops against the colorful background of a typical race track. The protagonist is Jimmy McGill, hot dog stand owner, whose ambition is to beat the ponies. His aims are stifled by his prudent wife who controls the purse strings.

When his daughter's fiancé instructs Jimmy with his life's savings in an effort to swell the exchequer overnight and thus be able to marry, Jimmy goes haywire at the track. His subsequent efforts to recoup fills the story with comedy highlights, punctuated with dramatic and semi-tragic crises.

Helen Wessman
in "Trans-Atlantic Tunnel"

"Trans-Atlantic Tunnel," a Gaumont-British picture with Richard Dix, Leslie Banks, Madge Evans, Helen Wessman, C. Aubrey Smith and Basil Sydney in the main roles, will be the feature on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of next week. Also appearing in the picture are George Arliss and Walter Huston, who portray roles of the Prime Minister of England and the President of the United States.

Taken from Bernhard Kehermann's novel, "The Tunnel," this picture shows not only the hardships endured by superman working in a world under the sea, but it shows the dramatic problems of their domestic lives.

Dix and Banks portray engineers who are also bosom pals until Dix's mad devotion to the tunnel project wrecks his home and brings about a misunderstanding between the two men. Another dramatic angle is the efforts of nations lust for war to prevent the building of the tunnel, a tremendous factor for world peace. Another human interest angle turns on Dix's son whose life is sacrificed by the hand of his father when a volcanic eruption under the sea breaks through the tunnel-boring, bringing frightful havoc.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

Raritan Township Board Met at Hazel Monday Night.

The Raritan township board of education held their regular monthly meeting in the Hazel school on Monday evening, November 4.

The custodian's and clerk's report showed a balance of $22,419 on hand.

Bills amounting to $147.82 were ordered paid. Chairman Buntentbach of the house and grounds committee reported that the W. P. A. are now at work at both the West Keansburg and North Centerville schools. Mr. Buntentbach recommended that the wire fence located in front of the Hazel school be removed. The board voted to remove the fence and erect it across the school grounds in the rear of the school.

The clerk was directed to have window shades put up in front of the Hazel school, also to have basketball racks erected at each school. The board voted to have an emergency exit door cut in the rear of the North Centerville school providing the W. P. A. will do the work, the board to furnish material.

The board decided to hold their annual conference and dinner on the evening of December 14. Mr. Bezar was appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

Ladies Night Tonight.

The Minute Men of the Men's club of the Baptist church of Middletown village will hold an open meeting and "ladies night" entertainment tonight in the Sunday-school room of the church. There will be music, games and refreshments. The event will be in charge of a committee of which Ralph Moan is chairman.

Wonderful Exhibit Of Postage Stamps

Monmouth County Philatelic Society Held Its Annual Exhibition at the Borough Hall Last Friday Night—Many Awards.

The annual fall exhibition of the Monmouth County Philatelic Society was held Friday night at the Red Bank borough hall and it brought out many interesting specimens of foreign and domestic postage stamps, covers, cancellations, etc., which were viewed by a large number of members and guests.

Although the number of exhibits were not as many as in some of the previous exhibitions of the society, the number of entries was more than made up by the high quality of the specimens shown.

The winners in the various classes of the exhibit were Alexander D. Cooper of Red Bank for an exceptionally fine showing of United States departments, civil war revenue, and a choice collection of foreign stamps; C. W. Stout of Red Bank for a fine collection of New England, Hawaii and Irish Free State stamps; Thomas Irving Brown of Red Bank for his exhibit of 25 frames featuring the famous Farley Imperforate sheets of the recent National Parks series, full sheets of the Farley souvenir exhibition issues and full sheets of the Century of Progress issue; R. V. R. H. Stout of Red Bank for a most unusual as well as a high grade collection of United States pre-cancelled issues neatly arranged in eight albums; Sydney Stout of Red Bank for his advanced collection of United States and foreign air mail covers, many of which have cachets that are now no longer obtainable; and William J. Korbonitz of Asbury Park for his collection of "rocket mail" covers which was very neatly arranged in a special album with typewritten notations regarding each special rocket flight. This is probably the best collection of "rocket mail" ever shown in an Eastern exhibit.

Rocket mail is actual mail matter carried in a tube by rocket force instead of the usual postal means of transportation. Rocket mail is part of the regular mail service many of the European countries and is about to be introduced in this country.

The judges were Walter J. Quelch of Wanaamassa, Asbury Park; Leroy Dangler, editor of the Asbury Park Free and Mr. Korbonitz.

Other exhibitors were Herbert W. Hill, president of the Monmouth County Philatelic society, who showed Christmas seals and United States pre-cancelled issues; Mr. Quelch who exhibited a very attractive frame of early Monmouth County covers showing Asbury Park postmarks with a wide variety of cancellations dating from 1878 to 1888; Mr. Quelch has a most wonderful collection of early Monmouth county postmarks, many dating back before the days of postage stamps; and John Sutton of Atlantic Highlands who had a large album of his own make in which he featured a choice assortment of U. S. mint commemoratives in singles, blocks and strips and he also exhibited a large frame of Canadian stamps, both postage and postage due issues, in mint condition.

Extra interest was manifested in the meeting by the disposing of stamps and special articles on the co-operative plan. In the juvenile department Samuel Harvey and Jack Davis were each awarded pocket size magnifying glasses. In the adult division awards went to Mr. Korbonitz, Mr. Cooper, H. S. Berner and Morris A. Fetter with Mrs. Muriel Quelch capturing the grand prize in this offering.

R. V. R. H. Stout, who was chairman of the exhibition committee thanked the exhibitors for the interest they took in bringing their specimens and also extended his deep appreciation to those who came out to see them.

Previous to the general exhibition period there was a short business session of the society and Clark Holbrook of North Prospect avenue, Red Bank; and Sydney Stout of Broad street, Red Bank were admitted to membership.

Business Of The Fair Haven Council

Frank Leslie of Knollwood was appointed a special officer without pay at Monday night's meeting of the Fair Haven mayor and council.

Councilman Henry Friedlander said he had received several complaints from residents about gunners shooting near their homes. He said it was very dangerous and the hunters should be warned to stay away from the residential section. The borough has no ordinance regulating gunning.

A request from the board of education for $5,000 was granted.

A request from James LaBau, Sr., for the establishment of a curb line and grade at the corner of McCarter and Maple avenues was referred to the streets and walks committees with power to act. Mr. LaBau says he will start work shortly on the construction of a new house there. Bills amounting to $1,159.04 were paid.

NOW A COLUMNIST.

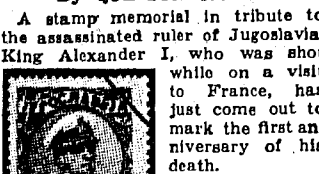

Local School Graduate Writes Story of Shipwreck Off Sandy Hook.

Appearing in the October issue of the University of Virginia magazine, student publication of the University of Virginia, is Robert Higginbotham's new feature, "Forenoon Watch." Higginbotham is a Red Bank high school graduate. The narrative deals with the tragic shipwreck of the schooner Jean Weir off the Jersey coast near Sandy Hook. It is one of a series written by Higginbotham, who is now in his second year at the University of Virginia. He is also a columnist for College Topics, a student newspaper. The University of Virginia magazine is published seven times yearly under the sponsorship of the Jefferson society, a debate and discussion group. It is devoted to student-written literature and discussion, including essays, articles, short stories and argumentation.

The World of STAMPS

By QUINTON JAMES

A stamp memorial in tribute to the assassinated ruler of Yugoslavia, King Alexander I, who was shot while on a visit to France, has just come out to mark the first anniversary of his death.

The stamps, in a five-value set, bear the date October 8, 1934. One of the late portraits of the king, showing him in admiral's uniform and without a mustache, is used. It is placed within a central medallion and surrounded by a decorative frame. In all previous issues in which Alexander's portrait was the principal design he was always illustrated with a mustache.

This group follows closely upon the first stamps to bear the picture of the young ruler, Peter II, since he took over his father's place on the throne. In numerical order, the stamps run: 75-papa, yellow-green; 1.50 dinar, red; 1.75-d, brown; 3.50-d, blue and 7.50-d deep rose.

About United States. Because the start of the trans-Pacific air mail service has been postponed until November 22, appearance of the new 25-cent air postage is being delayed in accordance therewith. First-day sales at Washington and San Francisco that day will be followed by general availability throughout the country November 23.

Stamp collectors with imagination and a magnifying glass who have been finding things in the Boulder Dam stamp, such as a man's profile, a liberty bell and the like, report they have noted also in the wall of rock at the top of the adhesive what appears to them to be vague lettering. Beyond this vagueness they have been unable to make anything else out of the symbols, if they are symbols rather than the natural shading of the engravers' fine lines.

Bellini Honored. Particularly remembered by opera lovers for his musical drama, "Norma," Italy's composer of the nineteenth century, Vincenzo Bellini, is the latest objective of a commemorative issue from that country.

In addition to "Norma," the title role of which is stated to be among the most difficult for a soprano, Bellini composed "La Sonnambula" and "I Puritani," among other works. He was born in Sicily in 1801.

The stamps are in two groups, six for regular postage and five for airmail. Bellini's portrait is the principal item on the four lower values of the regular postage, which comprise twenty centesimi, carmine; thirty centesimi, brown; fifty centesimi, purple and 1.25 lire, blue. His concert grand piano, with two hands at the keyboard, is placed on the 1.75 plus one lire orange, while the 2.75 plus 2-1 illustrates the entrance to his studio. It is gray-green.

Musical instruments are continued as the motif for all but one of the stamps. The 25 cent yellow-brown, the fifty cent brown and the sixty cent dark carmine show a partly adorned maiden strumming a harp at the seashore. The fourth value, one plus one lire purple, has two angel-violinists playing under the stars of the heavens. The highest denomination, five plus 2-1 green, has a group of cottages, with Pegasus to be seen in the background above the mountains.

The Italian coat-of-arms has been placed upon each stamp, either in the upper or lower left corners. The translated inscription reads, "Bellini centenary, 1835-1935."

The Father of the Chinese Republic. About 200 years ago, a certain powerful family in China gained control of the government. This family was known as the Manchus, and the period during which they governed was called the Manchu Dynasty. At first the Manchus ruled well, but towards the close of the 19th Century their government had become weak and incompetent.

The members of China's aristocracy realized that there could be no hope for the country's future until the Manchus were overthrown. But none would take an active step. It remained for a man of humble peasant origin to stir the people to action and initiate a revolutionary movement. This man's name was Sun Yat Sen. From his youth, plans for China's recovery were uppermost in his mind. He was an eloquent orator and had great influence with the people.

It was not long before this dangerous young radical was forced to flee to Europe, with a reward of half a million dollars on his head. While in exile, he worked tirelessly in behalf of his country, and it was his personal influence which was largely responsible for the Chinese revolution of 1911 which overthrew the Manchu regime. He returned to China to become its first president.

Dr. Sen's greatness lies in the fact that he realized that the overthrow of the monarchy was but the first step in China's recovery, and that to build canals and ships while neglecting the people was to begin at the wrong end. As tirelessly as he had worked for China's freedom, he now strove to establish universal education and to develop transportation and agricultural science. But his efforts met with disappointment. Greedy and unscrupulous politicians thwarted his aims on all sides, and when he died in 1925, China was far from realizing his ideals of peace and progress. However, he has shown the way, and the time may come when the people will be prepared to follow. In 1931 a series of stamps bearing his portrait was issued in his honor, and today he is revered as a saint by the Chinese people.

Armistice Sermon By Rev. Miller

Red Bank Baptist Clergyman Gives Forceful Talk on "The Higher Patriotism" Last Sunday.

"The Higher Patriotism" was the topic of the Armistice day sermon preached Sunday by Rev. Edward W. Miller, pastor of the Red Bank Baptist church. Those who were privileged to hear Mr. Miller give his discourse say it was one of the most forceful he has ever given of which patriotism was the basis. The Register has been fortunate in securing a resume of the sermon, which is printed here for the message it contains.

Jesus said, "Ye have left undone the weightier matters of the law, justice, mercy, and faith."

The Armistice day sermon has become increasingly difficult with the passing of the years since that memorable day, November 11, 1918. Peace ought to be a right of a privileged people, but we have made it another problem. We speak of the problem of peace. We have our Senate investigations. We have our magazine articles such as appeared in the Forum, exposing the munition manufacturers. We are told of American arms, manufactured in the United States, used to kill our American soldiers. We have revealed to us a most amazing complex international situation during the World war, when French guns were sold to the Germans to be used against French soldiers. British armaments made in England, turned on their own soldiers.

So we have a problem. The average soap-box orator can get up in any assembly and exhortate war, charging that it is waged to protect industrialists, that it is based on the profit motive in society and is brought about by propaganda.

We say, we have our eyes opened now, if there is another war we are going into it with our eyes opened. We were blind before and during the last Great War—talk to the veterans—then it was—now—now it is different.

Why do I bring you a message this morning on Higher Patriotism? Am I guilty of Christian propaganda? Can I be accused of standing for a Christian world? Well, let us not mistake the weightier matters of the law. In the day of Jesus the religious people were all mixed up in a very small issue of the law of tithes. To the Master's mind there came a note of impudence—he said, "Ye tithe mint and cummin and annise, but ye neglect the weightier matters—these ye ought to have done—aye—while not excusing them from carrying out the law—he did excuse them of leaving undone weightier matters.

So we are apt to be dragged in the same pitfall in our day. The purpose of the tithe in the heart of God was to make the people interested in justice and mercy and faith—faith in God and faith in our fellow man. Of one thing I am persuaded—this world needs an aroused interest in the weightier matters between nations. We ought not raise the question, who is to blame for the present conflict—Ethiopia or Italy. Who is wrong—Japan in her aggression or Russia in her defense. The British are raising the slogan—Watch Hitler. Germany is the country we have to watch. You see, we are always trying to evade our own responsibilities. It is just as true with individuals as with nations. The same spirit is revealed in our churches at times. We become involved in a problem of finance. We are missing the point. Giving to the Lord is a joy and privilege. There can be no problem of church finance with a consecrated people who love God and honor him in all that we do. The signs of a revival of religion are seen in the hearts of a people moved toward God. We might tithe mint and cum-min and annise, but leave undone the weightier matters in justice and mercy and faith—faith in God and faith in our fellow-man in God and in the church of the living God today is that we do not lose ourselves in the little things—the mint and the cummin and the annise. Now, we are not to leave undone the weightier matters of the law—justice and mercy and faith—faith in God and faith in our fellow-man. This is the Spirit of Christ. "Rise up O men of God—His Kingdom tarries long. Bring in the day of brotherhood and end the night of wrong."

Rise up a men of God—the church for you doth wait; Her strength unequalled to her task—rise up, and make her great. Lift high the Cross of Christ—tread where His feet have trod—as brothers of the Son of Man, Rise up O men of God.

The world today is the traveler on the road from Jerusalem to Jericho—the world has fallen among robbers who both strip and beat and depart, leaving a people half dead. The Christian church today is the Good Samaritan who comes along with justice to a world of injustice. The Christian church today is the Good Samaritan journeying along the road, and when we see what has been done, we are moved with compassion—our job is to bind up the wounds and take care of a bleeding world.

The question in my mind is: Are we big enough? Oh my soul, let us have done with problems and rise up to meet our privileges. "Go thou and do likewise."

"Rise up, O men of God; have done with lesser things; Give heart and soul and mind and strength to serve the King of Kings." Now, in conclusion, you might say, "That's all right, but you have avoided some questions." To which I reply, Yes I suppose I have—I have not faced the problem of my willingness to die for my country—but not to go out and kill and destroy for my country. I have not faced the problem of fighting for my country's honor—I am willing to fight for my country's honor—but not to protect the moneyed interests of invested capital. I prophesy that we will live to see the time when we will say, fighting won't get us any place. We face a problem in our life and in the life of our church, and it is the same thing—fighting won't get us any place. It is the spirit of Christ need-

Shrewsbury Towne D. A. R. Has Party

Fashion Show and Card Party Held at Molly Pitcher Hotel Proves Successful — Prizes Given to High Scorers.

One of the most successful card parties and fashion shows of the season was sponsored Friday by the Shrewsbury Towne chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, of which Mrs. James Matthee is regent. The affair was held in the ball room of the Molly Pitcher hotel and was under the supervision of Mrs. Charles Conover.

The fashion show was presented by the Towne and Country shop of Red Bank. The gowns were described by Mrs. Drusilla Baird, who gave the show, assisted by Mrs. Jerome B. Drew. The models were Mrs. Joseph Williams and Mrs. Paul Fielder of Red Bank, Mrs. Maurice Earle of Long Branch and Mrs. Onetta Suceop and Mrs. John Elliot of Freehold.

Sports, afternoon, cocktail and evening gowns were presented with hats and other accessories. The new length frock, seven inches from the floor, was featured, mostly in velvets and laces which also predominated in the evening frocks and coats.

During the afternoon tea was served from two large tea tables, decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and candles to match. Coffee and tea services were of silver, and the refreshments consisted of dainty cakes, nuts and mints.

Those presiding at the tea tables were Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. M. T. Hazeltine, Mrs. Daniel B. Olson, Mrs. W. Paul Stillman, Mrs. Raymond Quencher, Mrs. Stewart Van Vleet, Mrs. Walter Gupit and Mrs. J. Daniel Tuller. Among the outstanding guests present were Mrs. Charles Baldwin, regent of the Perth Amboy chapter, and Mrs. L. H. Bennett, regent of the Spring Lake chapter.

The ball room was decorated in palms and flowers donated by Kennedy's flower shop of Red Bank, and by the Honey Bee flower shop of Shrewsbury. Mints were donated by the Carmel Nut Shoppe, Red Bank, and cream by the Red Bank Dairy. The Venetian Blind which formed the background of the platform on which the gowns were modelled was furnished by Charles C. Conover, local dealer for the Wilson corporation.

A special prize of a crystal plate and complete set of Reussilles' jewelry store, Red Bank, was won by Mrs. H. F. Cook of Long Branch. Large crystal plates with etchings of grapes were awarded to all high scorers. Mrs. Edward Collins was chairman of prizes and Mrs. Horton Garrison, Allan B. Randall, Harold Hancock and Miss Cecelia Conover were in charge of tables. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Allan B. Randall, Mrs. Harold Hancock, Miss Geraldine Langell, Miss Harriet Wood, Dorothy Douglas, Ortrude VanVleet, Eleanor Wood and Jane Gupit. Mrs. John Edmund Bally and Mrs. Frank Quackenbush were chairmen of refreshments. A food table with home made food for sale was in charge of Mrs. Edwin E. Farrier, Mrs. Robert M. Cadman and Miss Katharine Britton.

Those attending were Mrs. Benjamin Atwater, Mrs. Edna Ficker, Mrs. Hamilton Battin, Mrs. Harold Bastock, Mrs. Oliver Hatfield, Mrs. Alma Zumbush, Mrs. Charles Scudder, Mrs. James P. Highlands News.

(The Red Bank Register can be bought in Highlands at DeDe's drug store, at Joseph Stamen's store and Mulligan's store.)

Fire Saturday night destroyed a car and garage owned by Jesse Havens of South Peak street. The car was in the garage when the fire broke out. The building was ablaze when the flames arrived, but they kept the flames from spreading to nearby buildings.

The first aid squad has ordered a new Cadillac ambulance, equipped with the latest improvements. The machine will cost $3,000 and is expected here December 2.

Mrs. Ethelyn Davies of this place underwent an operation Sunday at a New York hospital. Two blood transfusions were performed, one before and the other after the operation. The donors were Howard Monahan and Harry Duncan of Highlands. Wilhelm Fuchs, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fuchs of Miller street, was baptized Sunday morning at the Methodist church. Carl Marshall of Navesink avenue called a few days ago on the Bremen for a two months' stay in Germany. Mrs. John Kwik was removed to St. Francis's hospital at Jersey City on Tuesday for an operation for goiter.

Edward Weinheimer has transferred his retail liquor license from the Highlands house on Navesink avenue to the tavern on Bay avenue, adjoining the Lions Den. This place was formerly occupied by Thomas Hennessey.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Madnick of Long Branch, formerly of Highlands, are the parents of a son born last Thursday.

Harry Mahler has a contract to repaint the former Butler store, which will be opened as a meat market by Richard Swift.

Highlands officials who will attend the convention of the New Jersey League of Municipalities today and tomorrow at Asbury Park are J. S. Hoffman, Harry A. Brown and Henry Fehlbauer, members of the council, and U. Grant Johnson, borough clerk.

John A. Cordes of Richmond Hill, Long Island, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Frederick Schleber of Fifth street.

Over eighty persons attended a card party given Monday night by the Women's Democratic club. A set of glassware offered as a door prize was won by Mrs. Ernestina Fehlbauer. Miss Winifred G. Ahearn won first prize at pinocchio and Mrs. William Andrews captured first prize at bunco.

The report of J. S. Hoffman, police committee chairman, for October shows six arrests, four convictions, one accident and no first aid calls. "The Growing Kingdom" is the sermon topic for next Sunday morning at the Methodist church. In the evening Rev. Percy R. Comer will preach "The Bible Story of an Ancient Judge." On Sunday night, November 23, a stereopticon sermon will be given in observance of the 400th anniversary of the English Bible.

Miss Gladys Foster, who teaches school at Hillsdale, spent the weekend at her home here.

Miss Helen Cottrell, a student nurse at the Jersey City Medical Center, was home over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCall, who were married recently, were visitors here over Sunday from Kingston, Pennsylvania, where they have started housekeeping. Mrs. McCall is the former Miss Margaret Liming.

Mr. and Mrs. Earlhart Walstrom of Keyport spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Slevert Walstrom.

John Azzalina is building a new brick front on his store on Miller street.

Ernest Vaughan, Jr., has joined the Red Bank cavalry troop.

Mrs. Margaret Liming won first prize at the Trailer club party last week. Herman Quast won the "dark horse" prize.

Two Highlands residents have been undergoing skin grafting operations at the Monmouth Memorial hospital at Long Branch. They are Fritz

Dunst, whose leg was amputated several months ago when he was injured by a fall from a coal truck, and Perdue Robertson, who recently underwent an operation upon his ear.

Union Beach News.

(The Red Bank Register can be bought in Union Beach at the store of Gas Semon.)

Miss Kitty Tullis of Brooklyn has been visiting Miss Frances Lavin of Harris Gardens.

Miss Catherine Jamieson of Herbert street has been entertaining Miss Mae Selmer of Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dixon of New York visited Mrs. Sadie Mount last week.

Mrs. Lena Brent of Newark has ended a visit with Mrs. James Ross of Shore road.

Miss Mary Stewart of Harrison was the guest of Mrs. Nellie Ross last week.

Mrs. Bernard Stern of New York was the guest of Mrs. Leonard Charpentier on Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Peter Romano and Mrs. Marjorie Bobkov have returned from Truxton, New York, where the latter has a brother in a C. C. camp at that place.

Edward McCarthy, Jr., a sailor in the United States navy, is in a naval hospital with a broken leg.

Clifford Matthews has recovered from a sickness of several days.

James Cleary has returned from a visit in New York.

Mrs. Fred Claus is entertaining the Ladies' Afternoon Social club this afternoon.

A surprise package sociable was held at the Grace Methodist church Tuesday night. A feature of the sociable was a "saw-dust pudding," which created no end of enjoyment.

William Rockstein has been confined to his home for several days with sickness.

William Craig of Scranton, Pennsylvania, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Samuel Lavin of Harris Gardens.

The members of the Congregational church will have as a special speaker next Sunday Rev. James Mullis, a missionary who has spent several years in India.

The resignation of Thomas Lyons, a member of the board of education, was read at the regular monthly meeting of that body last week. Mr. Lyons said that his employment often made it necessary for him to be out of Union Beach a great deal, and he was, therefore, unable to attend the board's meetings.

The resignation was accepted. William Schober made a motion to have Harry J. McCandless, a former board member appointed to fill the vacancy. The motion was seconded by Charles Gobel and was carried with one opposing vote. Mr. McCandless will serve until the April meeting, unless he is a candidate for board member and elected at the school election in February.

Marlboro News.

The firemen were called out Monday afternoon to help extricate a horse that had fallen through a railroad trestle near here. Four horses had wandered onto the track, two leaving it before reaching the trestle. One horse went over the edge and was drowned, while the fourth became caught between the ties, but was finally rescued. The Central freight train was delayed over an hour.

Hugh Kilmartin, a student at the Teachers' college at Trenton was home over the week-end and holiday.

Mrs. Charles Franklin and daughter have returned from a visit with Mrs. Franklin's mother at Perth Amboy.

Mrs. Dora Hoyer of Hightstown was the recent guest of her sister, Mrs. Bertram Quackenbush.

Miss Nina Magee, who teaches at Fair Haven, has been home for several days, due to illness.

Miss Sarah Herbert of Asbury Park spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herbert.

David Huff has recovered from his recent illness.

MRS. DU FOUR TELLS HOW THIS FREE SERVICE CORRECTED HEATING TROUBLE IN A JIFFY

A True Story of John Barclay Service

"Finds 'blue coal' service wonderful"

says Mrs. Rosa M. Du Four

LAST February we were annoyed with gas in the house whenever coal was put into the furnace. I asked our dealer about it and he sent a Service Man. He found the smoke pipe slightly pulled away from the chimney. Because he knew his job, the trouble was located and corrected in a few minutes."

Stuffed Beets Are Different New Salad

Boiled Salad Dressing Particularly Good With Beet Salad.

For a salad that meets all the requirements of being tasty, different and attractive, try

BEETS STUFFED WITH CABBAGE AND NUT SALAD

Have ready young beets, boiled and skinned, heart leaves of a head of lettuce, washed and thoroughly dried, cabbage, chopped fine with pecan nut meats, and either boiled, French or mayonnaise dressing. Cut out the center of the beets and trim them, as needed, to make cases one-fourth inch in thickness. Reserve the trimmings to be chopped fine, to garnish a salad for the next day. Mix the prepared cabbage and nuts with the dressing and use to fill the beet cups. Dress the lettuce with French dressing, and on it set the cups. Serve at once.

BEET SALAD DRESSING

Yolks of 2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon mustard
1/2 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice
The white of 1 egg, beaten dry
2 tablespoons butter
1-3 cup double cream.

Beat the yolks until very light, add the seasoning and acid and stir, while cooking over hot water, until the mixture thickens; turn the egg white into the mixture and return the dish to the hot water (remove it while beating the white dry) while the two are folded together; continue the cooking until the whole is very hot, then heat in the butter, a little at a time and set aside to chill. When ready to serve fold in the cream. Remove the dressing from the fire before adding the butter.

CHEESE ROULETTES AND SCRAMBLED EGGS

"Pot Luck" Should Be Considered "Good Luck"

BY SIDNEY SNOW

You are really in luck if you get "pot luck," if pot luck is really worthy of the name. For oven cooking is good cooking and a baking pot is to the housewife what a piece of canvas is to the painter.

When the leaves are falling a good hot baked dish is exactly what your mouth has been craving. Something good in the pot, whether the pot be casserole, baking dish or individual if you prefer—makes it possible to have a one-piece meal. These type meals not only save on dishwashing, but give the housewife a chance to use up left overs.

And now for some new good things to go into your favorite pot:

SAUSAGE SURPRISE
2 cups boiled rice
1 sweet pepper
1 small onion
1 pound tiny sausages
1 cup milk
Butter

Remove the seeds from the pepper, chop and parboil. Add pepper and onion, chopped fine, to the rice. Mix thoroughly and put a layer in a buttered baking dish. Add a layer of the sausages (which have been partially cooked) and cover with rice. Pour milk over it all and dot with butter. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 F) for a half hour, then uncover and bake a half hour longer.

HAM AND APPLE POT
1 cup cooked ham, sliced thin
2 cups thin sliced apples
1/4 cups soft bread crumbs
1 cup water
1 cup dark corn syrup
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 tablespoons butter
Salt, pepper and mustard to taste
Arrange the ham, apples and bread crumbs in alternate layers in a well greased baking dish. Mix together remaining ingredients in a saucepan, bring to a boil and pour over mixture in baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) for about 45 minutes.

Stuffed Squash Is Tempting Main Dish

There are so many times when a hearty vegetable dish provides a most tempting main course for dinner. Baked squash, when used in combination with other vegetables, is ideal.

BAKED STUFFED SQUASH
Cut two small sweet potato squash in halves, lengthwise, remove seeds and scrape out all the stringy fibers. Dust with salt. Mix together two cups soft bread crumbs, one teaspoon sage, one-half teaspoon salt, few grains pepper and one-fourth cup melted butter and add enough liquid to moisten between two and four tablespoons. If canned beans are used, liquid from beans is excellent. Add one cup stringless cooked beans cut in inch pieces, and fill the squash with this stuffing. Bake slowly (325 F.) until squash is tender, from one to one and one-half hours. Serves four.

On Cool Evenings Serve Pop-Overs!

Pop over for some pop-overs! There's an invitation worth getting some cool evening. And by the way, how is your pop-over technique? To make these plump beauties, mix a half teaspoon salt with a cup of sifted flour, then beat an egg slightly, add a tablespoon of melted shortening or cooking oil, and a cup of milk; add these to the first (dry) ingredients and mix. Pour into hot oil gem pans or custard cups and bake in hot oven for a half hour. Then turn out the heat. Make a little crack in each pop-over to let out steam; let them stay in the oven for another ten minutes with the heat turned out.

Fall Berries Fit Into Many Delicious Recipes

Cranberries Have Come Into Fashion As Well As Coming in Season!

Cranberries are not only in season—but in fashion. For cocktail, meat sauce, and dessert they are being used in dozens of delicious and different recipes.

Now that the colorful summer fruits are gone, cranberries are a welcome arrival on the market, with their gay color and versatility.

Here are several recipes using these choice berries. They are simple to prepare and make any meal colorful and festive.

CRANBERRY JUICE COCKTAIL

4 cups water
4 cups cranberries
2/3 cup granulated sugar

Cook cranberries and water until the skins pop open (about five minutes). Strain through cheese cloth. Bring the juice to boiling point, add sugar and boil for two minutes. Serve cold. For future use put in sterilized bottles, well corked and sealed.

TENDERIZE MEATS WITH CRANBERRIES

For pot roast, or boiled meats that are of a cheaper, tougher cut add two cups raw cranberries for each three pounds of meat, to the gravy or juice of them cut while it is cooking. The addition of cranberries makes the meat tender and improves the flavor of both the meat and the gravy.

RAW CRANBERRY AND PINEAPPLE SALAD

1 cup chopped raw cranberries
2 cups crushed pineapple from which juice has been drained
Lettuce
1/2 cup cooked salad dressing
1 teaspoon powdered sugar

Combine chopped cranberries and crushed pineapple. Arrange on lettuce leaves. Serve with slightly sweetened salad dressing.

MOCK CHERRY PIE

3 cups cranberries
1 cup seedless raisins
1/4 cups sugar
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon almond or vanilla extract
Pie crust
Chop cranberries, add other ingredients.

dents. Line a deep pie plate with pie crust, add filling, cover with an upper crust. Slit or perforate with fork to permit steam to escape, and press edges closely together. Bake in hot oven (450 F.) 35 to 40 minutes.

Sunday Morning Breakfast Is Family Meal

Cook Has Chance to Show Clever Hand in Preparing Food.

By Helen Gwetholyn Rees

Sunday morning breakfast is the one leisurely breakfast of the whole week. It's the one morning that the coffee pot never wants to be empty, or the food drab. This meal—usually a substantial one—affords a housewife an opportunity to prove that her hand has not lost its cunning in the making of hot breads. These Cheese Roulettes were just made to go with scrambled eggs and bacon.

CHEESE ROULETTES
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons melted butter
Salt
Paprika

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening; add milk all at once and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out immediately on slightly floured board and knead thirty seconds. Roll into oblong sheet, 1/4 inch thick. Brush with melted butter. Sprinkle with salt and paprika. Cut in strips 6x4 inches, roll each strip, and place in greased muffin pans. Or roll sheet as for jelly roll, cut in 1/4 inch slices, and place slices on greased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (425F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes two dozen roulettes.

Desserts Made To Look "Almost A Picture!"

Fruit and Nuts Can Be "Placed" in Mold Without Extra Work.

Something so pretty that it's a shame to eat it! And you can make such dessert just as easily as you can those that look like every other kind of food.

Haven't you seen a gelatin dessert that is almost picture? Each color, each fruit and nut standing out by itself? Well, there really isn't any secret to making such desserts—it's only knowing your fruits and nuts. Certain fruits are heavier than gelatin—and they sink as a general rule these are canned fruits. Then there are fruits that float—fresh fruits. Nuts and marmalades are at the "floaters."

This means that you can tumble two kinds of fruit into one mold of gelatin—and they'll arrange themselves the minute you pour on the warm gelatin. We more preparing one layer of a dessert—then waiting for it to chill to arrange the next—now it all goes at once.

A Maraschino and Orange Mold dessert is a perfect example of this fruit arrangement—and it's a very easy dessert to prepare. And a beautiful one when it's finished. It's one of those that is "almost too pretty to eat."

MARASCHINO AND ORANGE MOLD

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 pint warm water
6 maraschino cherries, cut in eighths
2 oranges, sections free from membranes
Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Arrange cherries in bottom of mold. Pour on warm gelatin, being careful not to disarrange cherries. Add Orange sections. Chill until firm. Unmold.

A Tasty Dessert That Is Also Economical

Everybody enjoys a different flavored dessert. Here is one that is tasty and economical:

2 egg yolks
1/2 cup brown sugar
3/4 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups milk

Beat egg yolks with sugar; mix cornstarch with a little cold water to make smooth paste; add cornstarch mixture to egg mixture; add milk and salt; cook in double boiler until thick, stir constantly; remove from fire, add vanilla; cool, pour into pie shell; cover with a meringue or whipped cream. Serves five to six.

Boys can make extra pocket money selling The Register.—Advertisement.

In making light dumplings, mix sift one scant cup of flour, one-half teaspoonful salt and three teaspoons of baking powder. Add one-half cup of sweet milk and stir well. Drop by teaspoonful into slowly boiling stock. Leave cover off for three minutes. Then cover tightly and boil for twelve minutes.

Pollution the Destroyer.

For many years an effort has been made by organizations and individuals interested in conservation and public-health work, to formulate a program of purifying the nation's streams and preventing their pollution.

Much progress has been made by various Federal agencies, such as the United States Public Health Service, United States Bureau of Fisheries, United States Bureau of Mines, the War Department and the Department of Agriculture, to combat certain forms of pollution involving health, fish life, disposal of wastes and obstructions to navigation.

They were aided by various states which had adopted anti-pollution laws affecting industrial and trade wastes.

In recent years it became apparent that the combined efforts of the Federal agencies, acting independently, with the co-operation of private conservation organizations, were insufficient to prevent the rapid spread of pollution. Lack of uniformity in anti-pollution laws and activities, and ineffective methods of enforcement, were recognized weaknesses of the plan.

To meet the situation the United States Public Health Service encouraged the formation of compact watershed areas along certain waterways, and thus by encouraging uniformity of enforcement activities in such areas, made further rapid strides to prevent pollution.

It soon became apparent, however, that pollution was making headway against all of these efforts, and a call to arms was issued by the conservation organizations to "destroy pollution before it destroys us."

They urged the necessity for a nation-wide effort led by the Federal government, based on uniform laws, regulations or agreements with the states, and supported by adequate enforcement measures.

Senator Augustine Lonergan of Connecticut took a leading part in the national movement to end pollution. His interest in stream purification grew from his knowledge of conditions along the Connecticut river, where he had served on a commission to abate pollution and to provide for sewage disposal.

Since then the situation in other parts of the country was brought to his attention and he was invited about a year and a half ago to lead a movement for more vigorous action by the Federal government.

At a meeting at Washington, on December 6, 1934, experts and leaders from various parts of the country and to record their views on this subject as a basis for further action.

The necessity for adequate legislation to prohibit pollution was clearly brought out at the hearing. Of interest were the many views expressed by civic leaders from all sections of the land. So interesting were they and so complete was the picture that they presented, that in my next column, I will go into them at length.

However, one thing stood out clearly when the conference had concluded: Elimination of pollution is a simple and comparatively inexpensive problem. It can be solved by co-operation of all communities involved. Due to the fact that a "crisis" and not an "operation" is indicated, expense will not be great. There are no great dams, or mechanical feats to be accomplished to eliminate pollution.

Needed are simply a few teeth in uniform laws that will say to industry and municipalities: "Thou shalt not pollute, or else." At present our laws say, "Thou shalt not pollute," and let it go at that.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

TO LUMAN REED AND MARY EDNA S. REED:

The local girls H-Y club entertained the Rumson girls' H-Y club Thursday evening when they held a supper of frankfurters, rolls, doughnuts, cider and candy. After the supper games were played. Those in charge of the sociable were Jane Powers, Jean Stryker, Helen McKee, June Beers and Jane Hammill. Mrs. Glenn Wisard, adviser of the club, was chaperon.

The senior girls, with a score of 3-0, were victorious in their hockey game last week with the sophomores. The seniors scored two points in the first quarter and one in the last quarter. The seniors will play the juniors this week, providing weather permits. Those who played last week on the senior team were Betty Gooda, Millie Chinnock, Dorothy Griffin, Nancy Malchow, Ruth Reamer, Helen McKee, Virginia Curtis, Ruth Hance and Betty Bonrman. The sophomores included: Doris Rath, Rose Labovsky, Janet Mytinger, Wilda Elie, Helen White, Virginia Peterson, Violet Baden and Ella Schaeffer.

The second period Problems of Democracy class, under the direction of Charles Juckett, has started to organize a model senate. This section of congress functions on the same principle as the national congress at Washington. The class was divided into two sections, Republicans and Democrats, which held a caucus to select officers. The officers to be seated are president, clerk and sergeant-at-arms. At the first meeting of the senate Mr. Juckett hopes to present about fifteen bills to become laws. Later the president will be impeached.

Jack Hammill, Jack Baines, Stuart Powers and Fred Williamson were selected by the Boys' H-Y club to attend the H-Y convention at New Brunswick in December. Routine business was conducted at their meeting last week. Jack Hammill, president, and Glenn P. Wisard, adviser, presided.

H. Carl Kait, English teacher, has started an Annapolis and West Point club for boys of the local school. The object of the club is to help the boys who want to go to the service school to get information about entrance requirements. Mr. Kait's brother, Hart Kait, is a lieutenant at the naval academy. All freshmen, sophomores and juniors who wish to join should see Mr. Kait.

Banners, emblems, shields and pocketbooks, with the Red Bank high school seal upon them, are being sold in the art room by Miss Edna Hallock and Jack McHugh to raise funds for the senior class. The auctions may be purchased at reasonable prices.

The boys' junior H-Y club under the supervision of Marcus Higginbotham, 3d, held their meeting last week at the "Y" house on Branch avenue. Sigurd Thompson, president, was in charge. Plans were made to attend the Princeton-Lohigh football game at Princeton Saturday, November 16, and to go swimming at the Asbury Park Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday, November 20. Those present were Paul Fabry, Sigurd Thompson, Philip Jacobs, Joseph Val-leau, Joseph Verange, Frank Mount, Frank Hadley, Robert Davey and Roger Wingerter.

The boys' and girls' H-Y dance scheduled for November 18 has been postponed indefinitely. A new date will be decided upon at the combined meeting of the groups tonight.

Weight-lifting classes for physical development commenced last Tuesday and will be conducted on weekdays between 6:30 P. M. and 7:15 P. M. and 7:15 P. M. and 8:00 P. M. in the southeast room of the post gymnasium, first floor. Each class will workout three times weekly on alternate days, these being two classes held each evening. Instruction will be given by Private David Bolden, Company B, 51st Signal battalion.

The enlisted men's bridge tournament opened last Monday night in the post gymnasium. High score for the opening night was made by a team composed of Private George T. Schwartz, Company A, 51st Signal battalion, and Private Iel Willard B. McIntosh, Company A, 51st Signal battalion, who made 625.

Rules governing the play will be those of the Official American Bridge association. W. H. Woodruff of Newark, formerly a member of the 15th Signal Service company of this post, a member of the American Bridge association, will act as director. Ten games will constitute the tournament. A suitable prize will be awarded each week. The grand prize of an engraved cup will be awarded the winner of the tournament by the American Bridge association. A post bridge team has already been selected and outside organizations who would like to challenge it may communicate with Private Edwin Alberts, Company A, 51st Signal battalion, who will make the necessary arrangements for play. The post tournament will continue each Monday night in the post gymnasium and will begin at 6:30 o'clock sharp. Bridge enthusiasts in Red Bank and neighboring towns are cordially invited to act as spectators.

The following men have left on furloughs are indicated: Private Charles B. Moore, 1st Signal company, sixty days' furlough, November 2; Private Anthony Juncy, 15th Signal Service company, ninety days' furlough, November 8; Private (first class) Charles H. Wood, 1st Signal company, returned from furlough.

An Armistice day dance for enlisted men of the First Signal company was held Saturday night in the First Signal company barracks. Members of the Fort Dupont football team, who played Fort Monmouth on Sunday, were guests of honor. Music was furnished by Corporal Curtis N. Leister and his Silver King band. The committee decorated the barracks in red, white and blue, and served refreshments. Serving on the committees were First Sergeant William E. Stockwell, Technical Sergeant Charles H. Grant, Staff Sergeant Conrad W. Welser, Sergeant Richard A. Erbacher, Sergeant Vincent C. Kluczynski, Corporal Benjamin Cohen and Corporal Keith H. Kent, all members of the First Signal company, which is commanded by Captain William M. Mack of the Signal corps.

The culture details of the game between Fort Dupont and Fort Monmouth football teams on Sunday was donated to the Army Relief society, which is organized to give financial assistance to the widows and orphans of former officers and enlisted men of the regular army, who lack the necessities of life and might possibly become public charges.

Between the halves of the game, spectators witnessed an exhibition drill by members of the 51st Signal battalion under the command of Major Stephen H. Sherrill, Signal corps, and the First Signal company under the command of Captain William M. Mack. Captain Elton F. Hammond was in charge of the drill. All commands were silent. After the drill taps were sounded with a new and impressive echo effect. Facing West, the troops stood uncovered for a moment of silent prayer, while a flock of fifty homing pigeons were released from the east side of the field. Circling over the crowd several times, the birds took flight westward.

The enlisted men's golf tournament for members of the 15th Signal Service company got under way over the week-end with the following results: Private Thomas R. Schaffer eliminated Private Harry A. Graham, 2 and 1; Staff Sergeant Lester Winkler eliminated Private Philip L. Shuster, 6 and 5; Technical Sergeant Edwin A. Redding eliminated Private (first class) Walter Stanislawski, 2 and 1; Technical Sergeant Edwin A. Redding eliminated Corporal Walter M. Cynrosky, 6 and 5; Technical Sergeant Edwin A. Redding eliminated Private Thomas R. Schaffer, 1 up on the twentieth; Staff Sergeant George C. Kane eliminated Staff Sergeant Lester Winkler, 5 and 3. The finals will be played by Sergeants Kane and Redding when the weather permits.

Staff Sergeant Howard Dovey, Company B, 51st Signal battalion, returned from a furlough on November 2. Private Alfred T. Cox, company B, 51st Signal battalion, returned from furlough November 5. Corporal Joseph Griffith, First Signal company, returned November 6 from furlough. Corporal Clinton A. Cove, First Signal company, left November 6 on a fifteen-day emergency furlough. Private Theodore E. Christy, 15th Signal Service company, on special duty with the signal office, left November 6 on a thirty-day furlough. Master Sergeant Frank Denning, 15th Signal Service company, left on November 7 for a fifteen-day furlough.

Private Arthur Kazmierski, Company B, 51st Signal battalion, is now on recruit duty.

Corporal Thaddeus Ziniewicz, 15th Signal Service company, has been granted a seven-day extension of his furlough.

Private Cecil I. Sinker, 15th Signal Service company, was transferred to the Infantry and left November 8 for Fort Slocum, New York, awaiting sailing on an army transport to the Philippine Islands, for a tour of foreign service there.

The following named enlisted men have been assigned to the post football squad: Private Eric J. Braun, Company A, 51st Signal battalion, and Private Alfred T. Cox, Company B, 51st Signal battalion.

Private Joseph R. Rolo, 15th Signal Service company, was relieved from special duty at the Signal corps laboratories November 6 and transferred to the 51st Signal battalion.

Private Edward J. Cuddy, Company B, 51st Signal battalion, was transferred on November 7 to the 15th Signal Service company and detailed on special duty at the Signal corps laboratories, for duty aboard the United States army launch Rusel.

Private Durward M. Tidd, 15th Signal Service company, was transferred to the 51st Signal battalion on November 7, and relieved from special duty at the Signal corps laboratories.

Born at the Station hospital at 2:12 A. M. November 7 to Corporal and Mrs. Egedius Pederson, Company A, 51st Signal battalion, a daughter, Saye Laura.

The Boy Scouts held a meeting last Wednesday at Hangar No. 3 at 7:00 P. M., and will meet next week on November 20, at the same place and hour.

The Girl Scouts, headed by Mrs. Charles M. Simpson, scout captain, met last Thursday at the Fort Monmouth army mess at 7:00 P. M. Donations from mothers of left-over sweater yarn were received, from which the scouts will crochet a quilt which they will donate to the station hospital. The next meeting will be held tonight at the same hour and place. Following a formal meeting, tenderfoot will be voted as follows: Boy Gripper and Mary Josephine Moore.

A ball room dancing class for children of the post will be held in the Fort Monmouth army mess on Monday, November 18, with Mrs. James N. Vaughn instructing. Members of this class include Georgina Hammond, Elton Hammond, Allen L. Stowell, Jr., Margaret Shearer, Betty Gripper, Eleanor Clayton, Mary Josephine Irwin, Billy Allison, Billy Simpson, Bobby Heath, Evelyn Levens of Red Bank and Brook Albert of Shrewsbury.

"The Passing of War—When?" was the subject of the message delivered by Chaplain Peter Schroder to members of the Fort Monmouth garrison church on Sunday at the War Department theater. An Armistice day memorial service was conducted at 11:00 A. M., which included a solo by Private Alfred J. Brooks, Company B, 51st Signal battalion, "America, the Shouts of War Shall Cease," and the following prayers: Washington's prayer for the United States, Armistice memorial prayer, and a prayer for world peace. Church school for children of all ages was held at 9:45 A. M. Chaplain Schroder extends a cordial invitation to civilians in the neighborhood to attend the 11:00 o'clock Sunday morning service, which is held each week in the War Department theater here.

The services are non-sectarian. Rabbi P. Israel of New York will conduct Jewish services in the post library at 4:15 P. M. Thursday, November 14. Men of Jewish faith are cordially invited to attend.

The Signal corps band gave a concert last Thursday at 3:45 P. M. in Jagger park.

"Her Majesty the Cow," a free educational film, shown at the War Department theater November 7 for members of the post, was largely attended.

The moving of the post tailor and post cobbler shop on Saturday morning to renovated building No. 122, occupied by the post exchange store, was delayed due to a fire on the roof of the tailor shop. It was quickly extinguished, however, by the post fire department.

Radio programs of an educational nature are turned on every day from 2:30 P. M. to 8:00 P. M. in the foyer of the post library. Enlisted men who are at liberty from their duties during this period are invited to listen.

A DOUBLE CELEBRATION.

Rev. and Mrs. Elijah F. Reed Honored By Former Congregation.

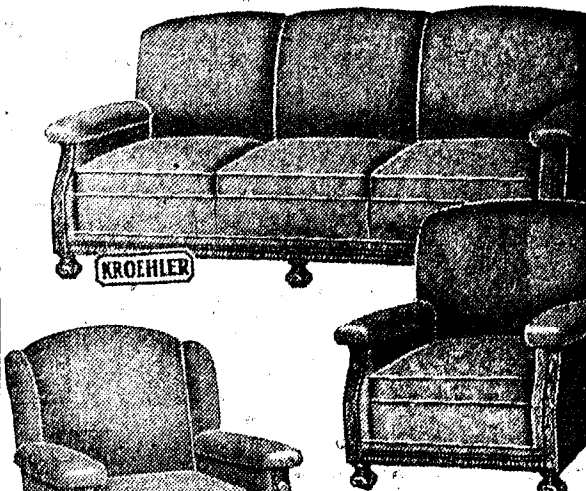

Thirty-seven years ago a Long Branch couple was married and entered the ministry of the New Jersey Methodist conference, being assigned to Herbertsville and Cedar Bridge as the first appointment.

Sunday the Herbertsville church had as guests speaker Rev. Elijah F. Reed, now stationed at Little Silver, for the roll call services.

At the close of the sermon Rev. J. F. Lelmon, pastor of the Herbertsville church, made a few remarks in behalf of the church and community, stating that it being the 37th wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Reed and 37 years ago in taking up the duties of the pastorate he wished to express appreciation of their labors among the Herbertsville people for three years and to present Rev. and Mrs. Reed with tokens of love and esteem. Mrs. Reed was presented with a handsome leather handbag and Mr. Reed was given a copy of the new Methodist hymnal.

Bound in Morocco with his name printed in gold. This was a great surprise to Rev. and Mrs. Reed and an appreciation that will be long carried with them.

Cristiani Farm Changes Owners

Property of 168 Acres on the Nutwamp Road Bought by Torvald Ueland of Cranford, a Flour Broker at New York.

The Pauline Cristiani farm of 168 acres on the south side of Nutwamp road, in Middletown township, has been bought by Torvald Ueland of Cranford, who is engaged in business at New York as a flour broker. G. Howard Lippincott was the agent in the transaction.

The farm is one of the best known and most fertile in this section. The new owner was formerly a ranchman in Minnesota and since leaving that state he has always had a desire to have a farm of his own in the East.

Mr. Ueland will remodel the house on the premises for his own use and he will build a house for his farm. In addition to the house occupied by the Cristiani family, a dairy house and stable are on the property. Other features of the farm include a large apple orchard and a profitable gravel pit. The house is picturesque, located on a desirable tract back from the road.

The farm is perhaps best known as "the old Applegate homestead." One part of the house is said to be very aged. It has timbers hewn with axe and the other usual features of ancient dwellings. Early in the nineteenth century it was owned and occupied by Joseph S. Applegate, a prosperous farmer among whose descendants are some of the best known residents of this section.

At that time the farm was considerably larger than at present and it was, on both sides of the road. Joseph S. Applegate subsequently built a finer residence on the opposite side of the road and made his home there until he retired from active work. This house was later destroyed by fire. Mr. Applegate owned several other farms and it was his custom when one of his sons became of age to make a gift, or as it was sometimes called "a lay," of a farm to the young man. Besides farming Mr. Applegate conducted a general store at Nutwamp in partnership with William Michan. The location of the store is still known as Michael's Corner.

After he quit tilling the soil, Mr. Applegate moved to Red Bank and occupied a house located on the land on West Front street now occupied by the residence of Miss Rosa Weiss. He had three sons, John S., Joseph S. and Richard Applegate. John S. Applegate became a lawyer and the other two sons were farmers. After the death of Joseph S. Applegate his farm was inherited by his children, eight in number, and John S. Applegate sought the interest of his brothers and sisters in the property. The law business which John S. Applegate founded was carried on after his death by his son, who bears the same name and who is the senior member of the firm of Applegate, Stevens, Foster & Reussell.

Joseph S. Applegate's children, in addition to the three sons mentioned, were Mrs. William B. Hendrickson, Mrs. George F. Cooper, Mrs. William Smith and Mrs. Joseph Hendrickson. All of them, like their progenitor, lived to ripe old ages.

For several years, while the farm was owned by the late John S. Applegate it was operated by Joseph S. Applegate, who now lives on Conover lane. John S. Applegate died in 1916. He sold the farm to the Cristiani family in 1907.

DANCING SCHOOL TO OPEN.

Ethel Mount Mozart to Direct Entertainers in Monmouth School Building.

The Ethel Mount Mozart school of dancing, which has taken rooms on the second floor of the building, 43-45 Monmouth street, has an announcement on the front page of today's issue. Ethel Mount Mozart, director, and Helen L. Fales, secretary and treasurer, announce that information regarding the schedule and tuition can be had at the studio on Saturday and Monday from one to seven o'clock P. M., or by telephoning Red Bank 2220, except Saturday and Monday afternoons.

The rooms taken by the school have been thoroughly renovated and made exceptionally attractive. Classes for children and adults of both sexes will be offered in ballet and toe dancing, modern interpretative dancing, tap and musical comedy dancing, character and folk dancing, limbering, exercise and acrobatic dancing, ballroom dancing for adults and ballroom dancing and social etiquette for children. There will be special exercise and recreation classes for women and business girls and restricted private classes will be formed on request.

Under New Management.
The dining room of the Globe hotel is now under the management of the former chef at the Ship Ahoy club at Sea Bright. A specialty will be made of sea food. Catering will be done for banquets, bridge parties, dances and weddings. Saturday night of this week a dance will be held with music being furnished by the Five Monmouth Rhythm Boys. A real hushenpfeffer supper will be served.

Foresters Meeting Tonight.
The Independent Order of Foresters will hold their meeting tonight in their rooms on Monmouth street. The High Standing committee of Newark will be present, and all members are requested to be present. After the meeting a clam chowder supper will be served.

Tract Purchased For Polo Games

Twenty-Seven Acres of Land on Broad Street, Shrewsbury, Bought by Group of Wealthy Sportsmen.

A tract of 27 acres of land on the west side of Broad street at Shrewsbury, a short distance south of the crossroads, has been bought for use as a polo field by a group of wealthy sportsmen, including Joseph Roebeling, Bernard S. Prentice, J. Ford Johnson, John Kemmerer, Mahlon Kemmerer and Sheldon Prentice. The purchasers are already having the field graded and otherwise made ready for polo playing in the spring.

The property was bought from Seymour, Incorporated, a corporation which acquired it from Christian Broderson about seven years ago. The tract is between the estates of L. L. White and Mr. Broderson. It has a frontage of about 1,600 feet on the street and in depth it extends to the property of Philippe Green. It is one of the most attractive features of the tract is a large grove of trees near the street. The land is almost level and not much grading will be necessary to put it into condition for its new purpose.

The sportsmen had been looking for a suitable tract for some time past and the Shrewsbury property was selected by them as ideal. This part of the tract is capable of producing a thick strong turf such as is needed for polo playing. The land is now being plowed by Ralph Wiedenhoit and when this is finished the work of grading it will be started, the contract for this having been let to A. P. Thompson.

Shrewsbury has a zoning ordinance which prohibits the use of property for other than residential purposes. This part of the tract is in violation of the ordinance to permit polo playing on the property in question was unanimously passed at the meeting of the mayor and council Tuesday night. It is scheduled to receive its second and final readings at the next meeting of the Shrewsbury officials Tuesday night, December 10.

The favorable action taken by the mayor and council is in accord with public sentiment in the borough. Prior to the matter being taken up a petition with about 75 names was presented asking that the amendment be passed. Some of the leading citizens of Shrewsbury spoke in favor of this action. No one voiced opposition. It was stated that the grading and other changes made would increase the beauty of the tract and would provide the additional expense. It was also said that more jobs would be provided by reason of additional men getting work as handlers and trainers of the polo ponies.

Atlantic Highlands Council Doings

H. N. Lawrie of Washington, D. C., who recently donated a strip of land on the site of the Highlands church, has been elected to the Atlantic Highlands council so that a memorial could be erected, appeared before the mayor and council of that place Tuesday night relative to back taxes on property he owns in that vicinity. The taxes date back to the time when the tract was owned by the Peck interests. Mr. Lawrie told the council he is planning to erect several log cabins of the higher price type, and recently awarded a contract for the first dwelling. An investigation of the tax situation will be made by John S. Filtrort, assessor, and Dr. Charles A. Reed and William Dunphy, chairman of the finance committee.

Current bills amounting to $5,800 were paid. The council also paid $6,000 on the 1935 county taxes, $2,000 state school taxes, $2,250 to the board of education and $250 to the library association.

TO AID RIVERVIEW HOSPITAL.

Red Bank Churches To Take Up Special Collection for Charity Aid.

Through the co-operation of the Red Bank churches of all denominations, a collection will be taken up for the charitable services of River-view Hospital at Red Bank. The collections will be taken up reasonably soon at the discretion of the priest, rector or pastor in charge of the respective churches and it is proposed that this will be an annual feature. The collection will be taken up on Thanksgiving morning at the union service of the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian churches to be held at the Methodist church and also at the Trinity Episcopal church. It will be taken up at the other churches when designated by the person in charge and envelopes will be distributed to members of the congregation in advance of the date decided upon.

Riverview hospital has an exceptionally large number of charitable cases of all religious denominations and it is in co-operation with the hospital that the churches are lending their financial aid at this time.

Baptist Guild Vesper Service

Plans Made at a Meeting at the Home of Mrs. Julian Parker for Event to be Held Sunday, December 1.

Twenty-seven members of Mary Mount chapter of the World Wide guild of the Baptist church of Red Bank met at the home of Mrs. Julian Parker of the Country Club Estates Friday evening. Mrs. Wellington Kennedy had charge of the devotions consisting of readings by Mrs. Kennedy, prayer by Mrs. Edward W. Miller and solo by Mrs. J. William Heim. The president, Mrs. Warren Fowler, led the business meeting at which reports were made showing that the book, "White Cross and Flower" committees were very active. Mrs. Homer Methot thanked the committees who assisted her in giving the annual guild progressive Halloween dinner recently.

Mrs. Fred Conover reported that $48 had been received Christmas cards. A "white elephant" auction will be held at the home of Mrs. Fowler Tuesday, December 3. Mrs. Edith Worth made a report about the recent state guild rally at Camden. It was voted to make the annual guild gift of $50 to the benevolence fund of the Baptist church. The guild will also give $50 to the state guild and another $25 to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clayton, missionaries stationed in China. Mr. Clayton formerly lived at Lincolnton.

Plans were discussed for the annual vesper service and tea Sunday afternoon, December 1, at half-past four o'clock at the Baptist church, in which all the guilds of the county will participate. Mrs. Eleanor Kenney will be in charge of the tea which will follow the service. The chapter endorsed holding the state guild rally at Red Bank in November, 1935. Mrs. Henry Conover gave a talk about her recent trip to South America and exhibited articles which she brought home from that continent. The meeting closed with the singing of "Blessed be the Tie That Binds," after which refreshments were served by the hostesses, namely Mrs. Julian Parker, Miss Annabel House, Miss Dorothy Brown, Mrs. Emil Coleman and Mrs. Harry Chamberlain.

Tuesday night the chapter gave a card party at the home of Mrs. Parker at which 54 persons were present. Mrs. Harry Chamberlain was chairman of the committee which directed the party.

School Recital On Stage Tonight

Monmouth County Progressive School to Give Show Starring Mary Daniel Vosseler at Molly Pitcher.

Everything is in readiness for the Monmouth County Progressive school endowment committee to present a Renaissance recital at the Molly Pitcher hotel tonight starting at 8:30 o'clock. The recital, which is being featured by Mary Daniel Vosseler, is being staged for the benefit of the endowment fund of the school. Mrs. Vosseler, who is the highest paid stock leading woman in America, will portray with her customary skill and experience, the three most inspiring romances of the Florentine Renaissance, Lucrezia Buti, Lucrezia Del Sarto and Mona Lisa. She took leads in several outstanding plays and leads of plays written by Mark Connelly and George Kaufmann, both of whom have since won the Pulitzer prize, and in Booth Tarkington's "Two Kildares" and "The Woodchuck Kimona."

Joseph Pulitzer has been scheduled to make his appearance here as well as Judge Frank A. Wingate, and Mark Connelly and George Kaufmann, well known playwrights. Mrs. Vosseler is now making her residence at the Molly Pitcher hotel.

The monologues which have been written by Miss Iris Papp, hostess of the Monmouth County Progressive school, will be in three parts. The first is the story of a nun, the second is in strong contrast to the first portraying the intrigues of a Florentine model, and the third is a brilliant and equivocal theme built up around the mysterious personality of Mona Lisa.

Besides a large number of local residents who have made reservations are a group of out of towners who will travel here for this occasion. Larry LaRoe, popularly known here in town and now music instructor at the Monmouth County Progressive school, is in charge of the musical setting.

Besides those already mentioned on the committee in last week's issue are Miss Mildred LaManna and Mrs. Arthur Mayhew.

Improvements To Church Interior

Main Auditorium of Fair Haven Methodist Church Renovated—Services Donated, Church Gets $1,000 Job for $8.

Special services will be held next Sunday in the Fair Haven Methodist church to mark the reopening of the main auditorium, which has been undergoing a thorough renovation. In the morning Rev. Henry P. Bowen, the pastor, will conduct a dedicatory service and his topic will be "The Reopening." In the evening a special program will be rendered by the Christian Endeavor societies and the Sunday-school in commemoration of the 40th anniversary of the English Bible.

Improvements in the auditorium include rearrangement of the pews, extension of pulpit platform, new portable altar, laying of new carpet in the aisles and on the platform, sanding and polishing floor, waxing and polishing pews, repairing of the roof and installation of sash cord in all the windows. The auditorium has been closed the past two months while the alterations were under way. The work was done gratis by the men of the church nights after their daily labors were over. It is estimated that if done by private contract the improvements would have cost more than $1,000. The cost to the church was $8.

Red Cross Drive In Full Swing

Results Encouraging in First Week of Campaign for 2,000 Memberships in Red Bank District—Merchants' Displays.

The Red Cross roll call campaign is now in full swing. Workers are engaged in a house to house canvass and reports so far are very encouraging. The quota for the Red Bank district is 2,000 members.

In a radio talk Mayor Charles H. English said in part: "I am informed that in the past eighteen years this branch has never failed to meet its Red Cross quota, and I believe I know the prevailing public spirit and the people of this community well enough to be fully confident that this year's goal of only 2,000 memberships will be quickly and cheerfully enrolled. Let me urge you to lend your fullest co-operation to Miss Shropshire, the local chairman and her workers. I commend the work of the American Red Cross to the people of this community, and especially urge your fullest support and co-operation."

Merchants co-operated in the campaign with attractive window displays. Among the places making special displays were Davidson Bros., fruit display by Dominick Ziporo; Sanitary barber shop, display by Runson private school; Red Bank Candy Kitchen, display by Theodore Musker; dress shop, Braille display; DeFazio florist shop; Ruby Lane dry goods store; Carozel Nut shop; Atlanta and Pacific store; Downy Flare shop; Loft's, Moller's bakery; Young's pharmacy; Fowler's market; Red Bank Standard, South Jersey Surgical supply company; Boy Scout display at 6 Monmouth street by Bert Frost and Robert McKee; Long Branch Regard, Carlton Sweet shop and Kohn's pharmacy.

Mrs. Chester Stuppel has been added as a worker in district B, Red Bank.

Mystery Stories Of Conover Lane

They Are Broadcast from Station WEAF Every Morning at Half-Past Seven O'Clock—Conover Lane Boy the Author

Each morning at half-past seven o'clock at Station WEAF two radio listeners known as "Jolly Bill" and "Jane" are reading a series of mystery stories based on the adventures of the children living in the vicinity of Conover lane, in Middletown township near Red Bank.

The stories are being written by Frank J. Williams of Conover lane. "Jolly Bill," who is a newspaper cartoonist, first became interested in these children when he read a series of "The Mystery of the Old Barn," in the Kids' News, edited by Kent Williams, aged twelve years. He asked for more stories of the same sort and now they have become a regular feature. The Kids' News is a mimeographed publication.

The two leading characters in the stories are Kent and Dick. Dick, who is the editor of the Kids' News, is the son of the author. The Neighborhood Gossip. These two are "The G Boys of Greenbank." The stories are in a setting of a rural community named Greenbank. It is expected that the stories will later be published in book form. The book will be illustrated by "Jolly Bill." It is expected that Jolly Bill and Jane will come down to Conover lane next Saturday to make sketches of the children who figure in his stories.

The Girl Scouts of Troop 25 met at the recreation hall, 19 Riverside avenue, Monday night and held a election of officers. Plans were made to go to the Ashbury Park pool tonight and a busy year has been planned by the captain, Miss Helen Mauser.

The officers elected were Corinne Field, secretary and Ruth Lewis and Lillian Spring, patrol leaders. A party was held at the home of Miss Mauser following the meeting.

PLAN CHORAL CONCERT.

Well-Known Radio Artists to Be Present at Elks on December 3.

The Thursday Morning Choral concert will be held Tuesday evening, December 3, at 8:30 o'clock at the Elks auditorium. W. A. Goldsworthy of New York will be the conductor. Artists will include Winifred Cecil, soprano, and Evan Evans, baritone, both well known on the radio. Miss Cecil recently appeared as a guest soloist with the Apollo club of Ashbury Park in the Ocean Grove auditorium. Dorothy Gravatt Winter, stello of Ashbury Park, who will accompany the choral, is also accompanist for the Apollo club.

WINIFRED CECIL

Next Thursday, November 21, a luncheon will be held following the rehearsal at the Elks auditorium. Edith Wynne Savage, guest artist at the choral concert in May, will again entertain. C. Edwin Kuhn of Ocean Grove, pianist, will also be present. The decorations are in charge of Mrs. Herbert Gasdill.

Third Election To Be Held Tomorrow

Eatontown Residents to Vote for Third Time for the Expenditure of $76,363—Polls Open from 2:00 to 9:00 P. M.

In an effort to have additions and alterations made to Eatontown school No. 1 at a cost of $76,363, the Eatontown board of education will hold their third special election tomorrow at school No. 1 between the hours of two and nine o'clock.

As the second election for the proposition was so close it was defeated by townsmen that another election be held, according to Richard Roberts, clerk of the board. The last election rejected the proposal by eleven votes. At the first election the project was turned down by a 216 to 93 vote.

The proposal provides for issuing bonds of the district to the amount of $12,000 and the remainder of the cost would be met by a grant from the Federal Emergency Public Works Administration.

This proposition is being submitted for the third time before the public as there appears to be an absolute need for such improved school facilities and it is the last opportunity to secure nearly half (45 per cent) of the total cost of such a project through an outright gift from the Federal government.

Persons to vote will be in the event that the voters of Eatontown accept the proposal of the board of education for improvements to school No. 1, that no local labor will be employed were refused today by the board, in an interview given to The Register representative.

The board of education has checked the records of other PWA projects that are in operation in surrounding towns with the result that they find that approximately seventy per cent of all workmen employed actually reside in the town where such project is being carried out, and the balance come from the immediate vicinity.

For example, in Red Bank, where two such school additions are being built, the driver employed in making up the payroll prove that the above seventy per cent is accurate.

In a letter received today from Arthur A. Engelson, engineering inspector for the PWA, located in Red Bank, the following statement was made: "Circulating rumors claiming that local labor and trade mechanics have not been given the place of honor in PWA projects is a baseless and uncalculated statement, for all records in this office and project payrolls do not substantiate this claim. Contractors employing both labor and mechanics on these projects are in duty bound to secure all through the National Emergency Agency in charge of the district."

The only requirement for the school is that the person seeking employment register with the U. S. Government Employment Bureau in Ashbury Park.

In Eatontown it has been intimated that it is necessary for men to secure employment, but such is not true, as the PWA has no condition whatever with which it is really entitled to put local men to work.

More Charges Of Illegal Voting

Complaints Have Been Signed by J. Ewing McGirr of Rumson—Hearings Next Monday Before Justice Wainright.

In the wake of the arrest of five men, four of whom are soldiers, on charges of voting illegally at Rumson on election day, complaints have been signed by J. Ewing McGirr against a number of other persons on similar charges. Mr. McGirr was a candidate for councilman on the Democratic ticket, but was defeated. The complaints were made before Justice Elmer C. Wainright of Shrewsbury, who has set next Monday afternoon at five o'clock as the time for the hearings. The first person arrested on complaint of Mr. McGirr was Mrs. Florence Johnson of Bay street. The charge is that she is not a citizen—she was held for the grand jury. Warrants were also issued for the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Stout, members of the Rumson society colony, and Iwina Wardell, superintendent of a Rumson factory, who is charged that Mr. Wardell aided Mrs. Johnson to vote. Theodore J. Labrecque will represent Mr. McGirr, and William A. Stevens, Rumson borough attorney, has been engaged to represent the defendants.

Yesterday Mayor Van R. Halsey, in a public statement, said, "It is unfortunate that the law abiding residents of Rumson should be subjected to embarrassment by a defeated candidate for exercising their duties as citizens of the United States. I want to assure each and every citizen of Rumson that in the event they are charged with illegal voting, and such is not the case, we will back them to the fullest extent in our power."

Mr. Stevens in a letter to Mr. Halsey said that "from the information and facts revealed to me, I believe their right to vote will be fully vindicated in due time." He continued, "A person has two or more residences at different times of the year, that will be deemed his domicile which he himself selects, or describes or deems to be his home, and where he votes or exercises the duties of a citizen. These conclusions have been repeatedly declared and affirmed not only by our New Jersey courts, but likewise throughout the country."

The four soldiers who confessed they were promised $150 each to vote the straight Democratic ticket, were arraigned before Judge Edward Knight at Freehold last week and remanded to jail to await sentence.

Remodel Place For Restaurant

Former Hotel Molly Pitcher Annex on Riverside Avenue Undergoing Alterations—Two New Haven Men New Owners

Extensive alterations were begun last week on the former Molly Pitcher annex on Riverside avenue, opposite the Molly Pitcher hotel.

The new owners, Otto and Assunta Milano of New Haven, Connecticut, are in the process of remodeling the building to suit the requirements of a high-class restaurant, which they will open as soon as alterations are completed. The main dining room will be most attractive with an Italian fresco mantel and fireplace, parquet floors and modernistic walls and decorations.

The barroom will be paneled in English walnut and decorated to reproduce an old English taproom. The kitchen is being completely rearranged to take care of modern equipment to be installed. Ladies' and men's rest rooms are being added, and a feature of the former is a powder room with vanity dressers built in.

A six-room suite on the second floor is being prepared for the owner's private use. All cooking will be done on the premises and the food will be served in a home-like atmosphere. The grounds surrounding the building will be used for parking.

The repairs are being made under the supervision of Edward S. Klausner, who is connected with the real estate office of Milton Berk, the broker who effected the sale.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Red Bank Elks to Observe Annual Lodge of Sorrow.

The annual memorial service of the Red Bank lodge of Elks will be held on Sunday night, December 1. The service will be held in the large auditorium of the Elks home, which will be fittingly decorated for this solemn occasion. James R. Irwin, esteemed lecturer knight of Jersey City lodge, who is judge of the convention plaza court of that city has been elected to be the speaker. A fine musical program has been arranged for this occasion.

Club Nominations.

A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. George Becker, Mrs. E. D. Lentolm and Mrs. Edwin H. Bensch was appointed Monday evening at a meeting of the 1-54 club of Middletown township at the home of Mrs. George Becker of Shrewsbury. The only nominees for officers were formerly of River Plaza. Fifty persons were present and cards were played after the business meeting.

Seventy-five members and guests of the Red Bank Lions club at the Elks Home Tuesday night heard former Governor A. C. Eberhardt of Minnesota give a graphic and highly interesting talk on "Dollars and Sense of the F. H. A." He was extended a cordial welcome by President Leon de la Reussille, Jr. Mr. Eberhardt joined the Federal Housing Administration because of his great interest in social control, home improvement and educational work last September and since then he has spoken in all of the States of the Union except seven. Last night was the 260th meeting he had addressed.

In his opinion the principal object of the FHA is the improvement of American homes. He says there is a lot of misunderstanding about the organization. In his opinion the National Housing Act has taken government out of business and put it in the hands of the public, by giving to business, through insurance, the profits they deserve. Mr. Eberhardt highly praised the bankers of the country for their interest in the program. He admitted the machine is reducing employment but feels it is here to stay and all should make freer use of it. He asserted 5,000 banks in the country have made loans to over 500,000 homes and thus over two and half million persons have been benefitted, proving a sound and practical way of lending money.

Mr. Eberhardt stated there was a need of 3,000,000 new homes in America and that nearly 250 new homes were being finished each day. Under both sections of the Housing Act an average of 2,000,000 loans are made every week and he feels the project is an "Act to convert relief rolls to taxpayers." Referring to the axiom of "Am I my brother's keeper?" he said the people in the bread line have to be taken care of and it is a problem that cannot be solved by the dole.

He claimed that half of the national debt is spent each year on crime in the United States and asserted, "A good home is the only sure defense against Communism." He asked the Lions and their guests to consider not only the financial but the social side of the program and urged all to make a personal effort in behalf of the project, adding that opportunities do not always knock at every door. In closing, the former Minnesota governor said that by the National Housing Act the Federal government had safeguarded business against loss. He then recited a poem, "The Tale of the Trail," which described the efforts of a youth from a humble home and poor environment to rise to better things.

Guests at the meeting included Warren H. Smith, vice president of the Rotary club, and Frank E. Price, Frank Quackenbush, Charles R. Weeks, Louis S. Conover and Herbert Schildt. In a communication, Mrs. James H. Mattenlee of Shrewsbury Towne Chapter, D. A. R., asked the club to endorse the campaign to have a national shrine made of the Allen homestead at Shrewsbury. The matter was referred to the Civic and Welfare committee, of which Warren D. Fowler is chairman.

Ross King of Brown place, a new member, was formally presented to the club. The attendance prize was presented by Mayor Charles R. English and was awarded to Mr. Quackenbush. Seven Lions have donated their autos to convey Y. M. C. A. youths next Saturday to the Princeton-Lehigh football game at Princeton. Chairman G. Howard Lippincott of the Speakers' committee reported Assemblyman Theron McCampbell will be the guest speaker next Tuesday night.

FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

Lambda Sorority Celebrates With Dinner at Masonic Hall.

In observance of their fifth anniversary, Lambda chapter, Sigma sorority, held a dinner at Masonic Hall, Long Branch, last Thursday evening with every active member present.

A meeting was held after the dinner when plans were made and suggestions offered regarding the chapter's annual charity activities for the holiday season. Miss Ella Healy was appointed chairman of a committee to investigate needy families in the vicinity. These plans will be furthered at the chapter's next meeting Thursday, November 21.

The members are now selecting shoes on a survey to be given away on the cooperative plan. The drawing will be made next Thursday evening.

SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY.

Frank Merritt Given a Party at His Home Tuesday Night.

A surprise birthday party was given Frank Merritt Tuesday night by his wife at their home on Pinckney road in celebration of his birthday. Mr. Merritt is proprietor of Merritt's machine shop on Mechanic street. During the evening games were played and dancing was enjoyed. Refreshments were served. Those attending were Mrs. W. and Mrs. Frank Merritt and son Frank, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hendricks, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hendricks, Mrs. Bertha Merritt, Mrs. Eva Brown, Miss Gladys Foran, Willard Emmons and Axel Ormberg.

Cashier Cut by Glass.

Miss Catherine Curley of Elm place, cashier of the Carlton theater, is recovering from injuries to her eye, received recently when the glass in the ticket office broke and fell upon her. The glass was broken accidentally by a patron of the theater, who was engaging in a good-natured argument with a friend about buying the tickets. One of the men had a firm grip upon the glass and when his friend pulled him away from the window it broke, showering the glass upon Miss Curley. She was cut quite badly about the eye and was forced to receive medical treatment. She has resumed her duties.

WINS HONORABLE MENTION.

Red Bank Child Honored in National Wide Photo Contest.

Florence Finelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Finelli of Red Bank, has been awarded honorable mention in the fourth Children's National Photograph contest, held under the auspices of the National association of department store studios. The contest was held in over 200 cities in the United States during August and September.

FLORENCE FINELLI.

The contest is held annually and awards are made for personality and character as reflected in the photograph. Among the judges this year was Ralph O. Ellsworth, art editor of the Parents' Magazine, donor of the prizes and awards. The Parents' Magazine aims to give children the right start in life and it also carries articles on child health, character building and adolescence.

The large portrait of Florence is displayed in the studio of Steinbach-Kresge company at Asbury Park, where the picture was taken.

Luncheon Held By Woman's Club

Annual Event of River Plaza Club Took Place Saturday at Rosevelt Tea Room—Gift for Mrs. Charles Thompson.

The annual president's luncheon of the Woman's club of River Plaza was held Saturday noon at the Rosevelt tea room at Little Silver. The dining table was elaborately decorated and there was a corsage bouquet at each place. Mrs. Charles Thompson, the president of the club, presided. Mrs. J. "Thar She Blows" To Be At Carlton Better Entertainment Committee to Present Chester Scott Howland in Story of Whaling in Days of Clipper Ships.

Another feature of the Better Entertainment committee will be presented Saturday morning, November 23, at ten o'clock at the Carlton theater. The picture, "Thar She Blows" will be shown.

Chester Scott Howland of New Bedford will show his amazing films and tell the thrilling story of whaling in the days of the clipper ships. Scenes will be shown of the actual whaling operations.

Mr. Howland knows this story of early American days as if he had lived them himself. And he has lived a good deal of it, for many of these pictures were taken when he was aboard the famous century-old square-rigged whalships Wanderer and Charles W. Morgan, and Mr. Howland vouches for the authenticity of every scene. As one old whaling man of Nantucket said after seeing these films and hearing Mr. Howland's story: "The feller's got it straight. He knows whaling and his pictures are the real thing."

Beginning with scenes of the old port, the story takes the audience right into the exciting days of the early whalers—some of the bravest men who ever lived.

Forty thousand dollars was expended to record this fascinating story of early American life. The motion pictures not only reveal the amazing incidents that were always associated with the pursuit and capture of the most colossal creature that has ever lived, but also as faithfully portrays the American village scenes of 100 years ago and the costumes and customs of the stout-soled men and women who lived in our sea ports during this formative period of the nation's pioneering spirit.

Mr. Howland's lecture is highly authentic and is of the dramatic type, so that the scenes in the old port, aboard the ship and out on the voyage are so realistic that the members of the audience sense a fine appreciation of the hardships and perils, romance and glory that so peculiarly feature the period of sailing ships and early American village history.

Amateur Show At Strand on Friday

When the regular weekly amateur contest is concluded tomorrow (Friday) at the Strand theater more than 150 acts will have been presented since the contests were inaugurated last fall by Manager Tony Hunting.

Mr. Hunting, who has dug up more talent than many people believed ever existed in this section, is of the opinion that the surface has been only scratched. There are many talented persons, he believes, who either feel shy about appearing on the stage or are too modest. Given an opportunity, he says, these persons will display a surprising amount of talent.

The Tennessee Mountaineers are among the acts booked for tomorrow night. Members of this group of "hill-billies" are George Comber, Harry Bennett, harmonica, Harry Comber and Harry Bennett on guitars and John Poole on accordion.

Others booked to appear are Ivan Voorhees saxophonist, Elizabeth Jetter recitations, Pennington sisters music and dancing, and Anthony Antonozzi crooner.

A WORD FROM THE WEST.

Clarence White Writes Interesting Letter to The Register.

The Register has received a letter from Clarence White, a former Red Banker now living at Westwood Hills, West Los Angeles, California. Mr. White, although now living in the West, has never lost his interest in Red Bank and keeps up with the local happenings through the weekly visits of the Red Bank Register.

In his letter Mr. White made special mention of the recent issue of the Red Bank Register issued in the interest of the Red Bank merchants for the Red Bank days. He said he was so proud of this particular edition that he showed a copy to the editor of the local paper.

The Register is very glad to hear from Mr. White; in fact, from any former Red Bankers now living in distant places. We are particularly glad to know that our columns carry such interesting items that our former residents eagerly look forward to The Register's weekly visits.

PROVING SUCCESSFUL.

Radio Program Over WRRB Has Increasing Popularity.

The radio program entitled, "Opportunity Hour," conducted by Charles Townsend, has been creating much interest during the past few weeks. The program consists of singers and other entertainers who wish to make appearances over the radio.

Local Car First On State Roads

The late E. Gerry Roberts had boiler car constructed at Roberts Boiler Plant near Railroad Station.

Pioneer days of automobilism were recalled this week when The Register received information concerning the first car ever built in Red Bank and probably one of the first ever to be seen on a road in New Jersey.

The antique, which was built in the years of 1895 and 1896, was constructed at the old Roberts boiler works near the local railroad station where the Seacoast Iron Works is now located. It was constructed for the late E. Gerry Roberts, Sr., head of the boiler company.

It was a steam boiler run by an oil burner with a home-made steel chassis made of tubing. The boiler was made by John Chadwick of McLaren street, who in talking with a Register representative, stated that the old timer had 563 copper tubes in the boiler, each tube being fourteen inches in length and one-eighth of an inch thick.

The engine, which was thought to have been made in New York, was shipped here and installed. Its cost was estimated at approximately $1,200.

Several pictures were taken of the vehicle and it created much interest at the time of its completion. A picture of the vehicle was given The Register with the late John M. Hoffmire, superintendent of the boiler works, at the controls.

A number of trial runs were taken in the vehicle, and one day, while rounding a corner of the railroad station in front of the boiler works, the rear left wheel buckled. Clarence Smock, brother of Warren Smock, was in the driver's seat. After this accident the car was dismantled and was hung in the rafters of the old boiler works, where it remained for a good many years.

FORT MONMOUTH NEWS.
Social Activities at Army Post Now Regular Part of The Register.

The Register this week carries an unusually newsy column pertaining to activities at Fort Monmouth. This is a new feature of The Register's news columns and we trust it will be interesting not only to those stationed at the military reservation, but also to civilians who are interested in our soldier neighbors. The items are sent to The Register through the public relations office at the fort.

"Under the Anthers."
Thomas Hackett's orchestra will be featured over station WHIRL tomorrow night in "Under the Anthers," the program sponsored by the Red Bank Lodge of Elks. Sketches of "Honeycomb Cottage" to be given next week by the Lady Elks bowling club, will also be presented.

Church Notes.

Rev. Walter Cowen, pastor of the Red Bank Lutheran church, was elected chaplain of the Central district of the Lutheran Brotherhood of New Jersey at a meeting held Monday at New Brunswick.

On Saturday morning the aid and the women's missionary societies of the church were held yesterday afternoon. Plans for a Christmas party to be held on December 17 were made by the aid society. Reports of the state convention held recently at Trenton were submitted at the missionary meeting. Plans were also made for the annual thank offering service to be held by the society Sunday night, November 24.

A regular meeting of the Sunday-school teachers was held last night at the home of Theodore Bixler of Harrison avenue. The pastor conducted the session, the topic of which was, "The Leader and the Pupil."

"Our Talents" will be the subject of the sermon to be given Sunday. On Saturday morning at ten o'clock the confirmation class will meet for its regular weekly instruction.

A meeting for the purpose of organizing a Lutheran brotherhood will be held Tuesday night, November 19, at eight o'clock in the church hall.

The subject of the sermon to be given Sunday morning at the Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. Albert L. Bancer, will be "To Whom Shall We Go?" The senior choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. Theresa Willey, organist and director.

At the evening service the pastor will preach on the subject, "The Victory That Overcometh." The service will open with the singing of old family hymns. Other meetings of the day include church school at 9:45 o'clock in the morning, with William Bennett in charge; a rehearsal of the newly organized young people's choir at 6:30 o'clock in the evening and a meeting of the Senior Epworth league at 7:15 o'clock.

Regular services will be held Sunday at the Reformed church. The singing class will meet at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. The morning service will begin at 10:45 o'clock. The senior choir will present the anthem, "Rejoice, Give Thanks," by Holton. A male quartet will sing, "Rise Up, O Man of God," by Shepherd. The subject of the sermon will be, "Honestly Now, How About Prayer?"

The Reformed service will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Pearl M. Ralph and John Zagala will be the soloists. The anthem will be sung by the girls' choir.

At the Baptist church Sunday morning the sermon topic will be "Signs of Revival in Religion." In the evening these signs of revival in pictures requiring an hour to show will be displayed. A picture of a trip through Burma will be shown and the hymns will be illustrated. The Ladies' Aid society will meet next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Albert Scott of South street. The meeting will be held a week earlier than usual because of Thanksgiving.

The sermon for Sunday morning service at eleven o'clock at the Red Bank Presbyterian church will be "A Faith for Today." At the evening service at 7:30, the pastor will speak on "The Atonement." This is the first in a series of sermons leading up to the crucifixion of Jesus.

The Christian Endeavor group will meet Sunday night at the usual hour at 6:45.

The regular meeting of the Golden Hour Circle will be held on Wednesday afternoon with dessert served in the social hall at 1:30 o'clock. Regular business and sewing will follow as usual.

Annual Praise And Offering Service
The Woman's Missionary Society of the Red Bank Presbyterian church will hold their annual praise and thank-offering service on Wednesday evening of next week in the church auditorium at 7:45 o'clock. Mrs. Edmund VonSick and Mrs. George Miller are in charge of the service.

Mrs. Maude B. LeDuc of the Oak Grove Presbyterian Chapel at Retreat, N. J., will be the speaker. She will also present a short play entitled "Another John Alden" with a cast composed of the young people from this Presbyterian mission in southern pine district of New Jersey. Special music will be given by a choir of the young people accompanying Mrs. LeDuc.

This service is held each year the week before Thanksgiving and the offering received at this time is used in the interest of missions. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

To Lay Cornerstone Of New High School
The Rumson board of education last night set Saturday, November 23, as the date for the laying of the cornerstone of the new high school building. The exercises will be held at 3 P. M., with Bertram H. Borden, president of the board of education, presiding. William M. Smith, county superintendent of schools, will be one of the speakers. Music will be furnished by the school band.

The board accepted with thanks the gift of a "jungle gym" from Mrs. Van B. Halsey for the playground at school No. 2.

Former Red Banker to Wed.
Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Dorothy Stadmeier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Stadmeier, to William Philip Rafferty, son of Mrs. Emma Rafferty of Hollis, Long Island, and the late Dr. Peter P. Rafferty of Red Bank. The ceremony will take place Thanksgiving morning at the Church of St. Francis of Assisi at Brooklyn.

Edward Duncanson, Sr., died last night at his home at Highlands after an illness of three years. He was 63 years old and had been a resident of Highlands many years. Surviving are his wife, three sons and a daughter. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

The Eatontown School Election

A Letter from Ray H. Stillman Regarding the Balloting to be Held Tomorrow - Writer Urges an Adverse Vote.

Eatontown, N. J., November 13, 1935.
To the Editor of The Register.

Dear Sir:-
Herewith is a letter I have sent to the taxpayers and citizens of Eatontown, protesting against the enormous amount of money planned to be spent in putting an addition to Public School No. 1 at Eatontown. I have secured some definite figures from an architect as to the cost of making such repairs that will be required by the state board of education. This town is not in a position to spend $42,000 when we are already in default of our present bonds, which are due for redemption on November 15.

Herewith are two telegrams, one from the Morristown Trust company of Morristown, who hold $8,000 worth of bonds, at present in default, and the other from the Fidelity Union Trust company of Newark, which holds $30,000 worth of bonds. The telegrams are as follows:

Ray Stillman, Eatontown, N. J.
I object to issuing more bonds until present are paid.
A. E. VanDerpoel, (Morristown Trust Co., $8,000 bonds in default.)

Appeared at board meeting and protest against new bond issue. New issue will be unfavorable to our present holding.
Fidelity Union Trust Co. ($30,000 worth of bonds.)

The Eatontown board of education has reduced the cost of their school building by the sale of their school property in the newspapers. May I ask your co-operation in printing the taxpayers' side of the story?

The letter which I sent to the citizens follows my name as the writer of this letter.
Ray H. Stillman.

Taxpayers and Citizens of Eatontown:
The undersigned represent taxpayers of the borough of Eatontown who have the whole interest of the borough at heart. They have thoroughly investigated the school situation at Eatontown and ask you to read over carefully the following facts.

The committee has consulted with County Superintendent Smith with reference to the school situation and Mr. Smith has assured us that the most he will do with reference to our schools is to condemn the two school buildings in the municipal building. This fact is true and the committee urges you to contact Mr. Smith if you wish verification of this statement.

The school board of our school rooms are condemned, and that is not at all certain. Mr. Smith has assured us that the school board will have until the opening of school in September, 1936, then your committee wishes to submit an estimate which they have secured from a reliable architect for the construction of a two-room school addition to the present school No. 1, meeting every requirement of the state board of education and complete with heating, ventilation, plumbing, desks, blackboard and other necessary equipment, for the sum of $13,000. Do not be misled and do not be hastened into an expenditure of $76,000 when an investment of $13,000 for two school rooms will meet the demands of the state board of education. This same architect has given your committee an estimate for the installation of an entirely new heating and ventilating system in School No. 1, with additional small repairs to put the school in a first class condition, for the sum of $8,000, so that a total expenditure at this time of $21,000 will more than meet the demands of the state board as far as our present schools are concerned.

For your information, Fair Haven has recently constructed a brand new grammar school building with eight class rooms, teachers' room, principal's office, auditorium, and a basement containing rooms for manual training, domestic science, and lunchroom, at a cost of $86,000.

Please compare this sum with the figure of $76,000 which our board demands for an addition to our present school of only two rooms, which would not provide for any future growth of our town.

For your information, also, the Shrewsbury township school at Tinton Falls is having a one-classroom addition constructed to their building, including alterations to the teachers' room, full equipment in the building, including heating and ventilating for the sum of $5,300. Does it seem reasonable to suppose that the taxpayers of this town will approve an expenditure of $76,000 for the addition of two class rooms and an auditorium, the practical use of which is very doubtful at the present time, when our neighbor, Tinton Falls, is adding one up-to-date class room for $5,300?

Many times, in endeavoring to elect a new board of education, we have been told by the town of jobs to be had if they vote their way. Do not be deceived. No board of education has any authority to promise jobs or the power to give out jobs when contracts are awarded for school work.

Good people of Eatontown, your committee and the taxpayers it represents are as much interested in the schools of Eatontown as the members of the board of education. They want the children of this borough to have the very best in the way of educational facilities and they are strongly for necessary repairs and additions to our public schools but they insist, and expect that every intelligent voter will insist, that any money which shall be expended shall be used wisely and shall go to that this town shall get value received for every dollar spent. Furthermore, your committee and the majority of the taxpayers of this town want any municipal or school work to be contemplated to be performed by the mechanics living in this town. It is the taxpayers of this town who would you still wish to plunge your borough into a debt of $42,000 which may result in its bankruptcy? Do you not think it the wiser course to calmly consider the present needs of our schools and have the work done by your own citizens and at a cost commensurate with the town's present financial condition?

Do not be alarmed by any threats which may be made that our two schools will be condemned or that the state aid of $9,000 will be withdrawn. These statements are most untrue. Trust the good citizens of this town who really have its interests at heart. They will not fall for this hour.

Committee:
George Winling,
Mrs. James B. Hathaway,
Max Phillips,
Ray H. Stillman.

TAX SALES.

The Ehren Realty Company Says It Will Do No More Buying Here.

EHREN REALTY CO., 350 Montrose Avenue, New South Orange, N. J., November 13, 1935.

Red Bank Register, Red Bank, N. J.

We are enclosing herein an article published in the Newark Evening News on November 6, 1935, to which article we are replying in your paper with the enclosed copy of letter sent to the mayor and council in Red Bank.

Very truly yours,
Ehren Realty Co.

November 13, 1935.
Mayor and Council, Red Bank, New Jersey.

Gentlemen:
In reading your article in the Newark Evening News on November 6, 1935, with reference to the proposal to end tax sales in Red Bank, which the phrase "tax sale sharks" is used, we think you were very unfair to us, inasmuch as we are the only buyers in your borough.

We are carrying people on our books who have been paying us $10 a month since 1930, others who pay us $2 a month, and we are carrying some properties without any interest.

It is because of a woman whom we carry on our books who wanted to be tax collector and couldn't get the support of your wise people.

As far as we are concerned, we are through buying in your borough, whether or not you hold a sale. We did not buy the second year after our first purchase and it was only through the courtesy of a telephone call from Mrs. Keough that we were induced to come down to Red Bank to the sale. You had hundreds of names on your sales list which you disposed of through our co-operation.

There is no one who can say that we did not give him an opportunity to protect his property. We did something for the property owners that the borough could not do; namely, carry them without any interest, and return their properties to them when they were not able to protect their interest.

Very sincerely yours,
Ehren Realty Co.

(Editor's Note:—The article in the Newark Evening News referred to above was a story of the proposal to end tax sales introduced by Councilman Harry Degenering at the last council meeting.)

NEW CORPORATIONS.
Red Bank, Highlands and Rumson Concerns File Papers at Freehold.

Fred D. Wilkoff, Benjamin L. Atwater, William H. Wilkoff and Harry Malchow, all of Red Bank, have formed a new corporation which has been registered as Pine-White, Incorporated. The incorporators hold 100 shares each of 12,500 shares to be issued at $10 per share. The firm will manufacture and distribute a chemical preparation known as Pine-White, which is a new insecticide especially for poultry houses and barns. It may also be used as an application for extra sanitation in garages and other buildings.

Seymour Manufacturing Corporation is the name of a new corporation which has filed papers, with its principal office at Navesink and Miller streets, Highlands. The corporation will deal in textiles. There are 100 shares of stock at no par value. The incorporators are George Saylor, who holds two shares, Antoinette Benvenuta, two shares, and George Ferris of 281 Broadway, New York, three shares.

William Meigs & Son is the title of a new corporation which has its principal office on the Avenue of Two Rivers in Rumson. The firm will conduct a general building business. The corporation has 1,000 shares at $10 each, Daniel A. Meigs holding 95 shares, William Hammond one share and Anna R. Meigs one share. All are residents of Rumson.

A SURPRISE VISIT.
Holmdel folks receive unexpected call from Newburgh Relatives.

Miss Catherine Stillwagon and her brother, Cyrenus V. Stillwagon, who live near Holmdel, received a surprise visit Monday from their cousin, David Stillwagon of Newburgh, New York. The latter's wife and his daughter and three sons accompanied him, making the trip by automobile. They brought along an ample supply of provisions for dinner to only for themselves but also for the two cousins whom they visited. It was on Armistice Day, 1934, that the Holmdel folks received their last previous visit from their cousin and his family.

His 85th Birthday.
On his 85th birthday at his home at Shrewsbury Sunday Nicholas Rutgers, Sr., enjoyed a surprise party given by his friends. A large gathering drank champagne to the health of the celebrant. For a man of his years Mr. Rutgers is surprisingly active and vigorous.

Women's League to Meet.
Various Women's Organizations to Gather at Presbyterian Church.

The Women's league of the First Presbyterian church will hold their monthly meeting Monday night, November 18, at eight o'clock at the church. Miss Mary Holmes, president, will preside. Refreshments will be served and a social hour will follow.

Various women's organizations including O. C. W. C. Improvement society, Golden Hour Circle society and the Missionary society, are requested to have full attendance. All are cordially welcome to attend.

Willert-Hesse Nuptials.

Red Bank Couple Honored At Party

Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Ely Surprised by Friends and Relatives on 35th Wedding Anniversary—Party at Eatontown.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Ely of Chestnut street were honored at a surprise party Friday night at Crescent hall, Eatontown, by a number of friends in celebration of their 35th wedding anniversary. As the couple entered the hall, where friends and relatives had gathered, the orchestra played Lohengrin's wedding march. The hall and tables were decorated in pink and white.

After the usual congratulations the evening was spent socially, interspersed with music by the orchestra, with Mrs. Louise Morris of Farmingdale at the piano. Mrs. Morris also sang several selections appropriate to the occasion. George Quackenbush, 2d, in costume, sang several selections, Elmer and Paul Ralph each sang solos, accompanied on the piano by Miss Pearl Ralph and Floyd May and son Walter rendered a cornet duet.

Refreshments were served, after which the young folks enjoyed dancing until a late hour. Floyd May's orchestra furnished music. Rev. William H. Carhart of Little Silver, an old friend of Mr. and Mrs. Ely, made fitting remarks. Many letters from relatives who were unable to attend were read and enjoyed, some causing much merriment. The couple received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Those present besides Mr. and Mrs. Ely were Howard Ely, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George M. Quackenbush, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Quackenbush and daughters Lola and Elmer and son George, 2d, Mr. and Mrs. George Hembling, Miss Myrtle Ralph, Rev. William H. Carhart of Little Silver, Mrs. Humphrey Miller, Miss Anna Miller of Bedford, Miss Ethel Burke of West Grove, Pennsylvania, Miss Miller of West Chester, Pennsylvania, Miss Elsie Ely, Mrs. Helen Rhoades and daughters Evelyn and Virginia of Milltown, Mrs. Roy Bennett and daughter Lillie, Miss Hannah Bennett of Long Branch, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gleason of Rumson, Mrs. Louise Morris and daughter of Farmingdale, Francis Miller of Englishtown, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Cresse, Mrs. Jessie Gill, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Terhune and daughter Marjorie, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Miller and daughter Jo Ann, Mrs. Alfred Ralph, Misses Pearl, Francis, Ralph and Alfred, Jr., Elmer and Paul Ralph, Maynard White and Russell Wynnis of Red Bank.

Obituary

Mrs. Daniel Booker.
Mrs. Fannie E. Booker, wife of Daniel Booker of Leighton avenue, died suddenly last Saturday morning at her home after a short illness. She was 45 years old.

Mrs. Booker was born at Riverhead, Long Island, and was the daughter of the late Sidney and Henrietta Smith Harrow. She moved to Red Bank with her parents forty years ago and had lived here ever since.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Booker is survived by a sister, Mrs. Bertha Jackson of Red Bank and three brothers, Addison Harrow of Red Bank, William Harrow of Keyport, and Albert Harrow of Freehold.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at her late home with Rev. Charles W. Nelson, pastor of St. Thomas's Episcopal church, officiating. Burial, in charge of the Worden funeral home, was in White Ridge cemetery at Eatontown.

Mrs. Sarah A. West.
Mrs. Sarah A. West died last Wednesday at the Chubberrain Rest home at Neptune at the age of 101 years. She was born in Eatontown, the daughter of William Cook, who operated a grist mill there. She had lived in Monmouth county all her life. She married the late Benjamin A. West and they operated a hotel at Long Branch for many years. After his death, 34 years ago, Mrs. West continued to operate a boarding house at Long Branch. When she was ninety she gave up this place and went to live with a daughter, Mrs. Frank Rogers, who died a year ago. She is survived by three grandchildren, Louise Rogers and Stanley and Lesley West, all of Long Branch. A son Frank died two years ago.

Mrs. Samuel S. Davis.
The funeral of Mrs. Albert Davis, wife of Samuel S. Davis of Port Monmouth, who died on Monday of last week of pneumonia in Monmouth Memorial hospital, was held last Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at her late home, with Rev. William H. Hebron, pastor of the Emanuel Baptist church of Shrewsbury, officiating.

Mrs. Mary E. Reynolds sang "Lead, Kindly Light," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. George Askew, and Mrs. Askew sang "Beyond the Sunset" and "The Evening." The bearers were James White, William Jackson, George Johnson and Mr. Askew. Burial in charge of the Worden funeral home was in Lincroft cemetery.

Edward Bennett.
Edward Bennett of Keyport died last Saturday week at the age of 68 years. Mr. Bennett was born at Middletown and commenced steamboating at the age of fourteen. He was a licensed marine engineer for 15 years. Mr. Bennett was engineer on the steamboats Wyckoff, Holmdel and Magenta. Later he was on the New Haven line and for nineteen years was chief engineer of the Keansburg steamboat company. He is survived by his wife and a daughter.

Augustine Revey.
Augustine Revey of Central avenue died last Friday night of paralysis. He was 68 years old. Besides his wife, he is survived by three daughters, six sons and two brothers. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock at his late home and at two o'clock at the colored Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. O. G. Goodman, officiating. Burial, in charge of R. R. Mount & Son, was in White Ridge cemetery.

Mrs. Ida Kugler.
Mrs. Ida Kugler of Somerville, mother of Mrs. William Ast and Mrs. Edward Bryan of Leonardo, died Monday, November 4, in her 83d year. The funeral was held last Thursday at the home of her son, John of Somerville. Mrs. Kugler was well known by many of the people of Leonardo, at which place she made long visits with her daughters, and their families each year.

WORLD TOUR IN PICTURES.

David G. Holmes Gives Stereoscopic Talk at Navesink.

The gymnasium of the Navesink library was the scene of an extensive world tour in pictures last Thursday evening, when David G. Holmes of Montclair showed his stereoscopic views entitled "Around the World in Eighty Minutes." Miss Marian Holmes, soprano, illustrated her father's talk with songs appropriate to the various countries of which the pictures were shown.

In imagination the audience sailed from New York, through the Panama canal, stopping at Hawaii, Japan, China, the Malay Peninsula, India, Egypt, Italy and Monaco before returning to New York. Miss Holmes' songs included "The Pattern of the Shoon," sung as representative of Japan, "The Singing City of Shant," and "Chinese Mother Goose Rhymes" for China, "The People's Hells" and "Kashmir Love Song" for India, and "Home, Sweet Home" and "Walk Till Your Ship Comes In" as pictures of New York.

Story hour for children will be held in the library at eleven o'clock Saturday morning, November 16.

On Wednesday, November 20, the D. L. & W. Coal company of Newark will show moving pictures in the gymnasium of the library on the coal mining industry. The pictures will be shown at four o'clock and there will be no charge for admission.

SHORE GROUP ENTERTAINS.

Red Bank Young Woman's Club Visits Asbury Park Young Women.

The Red Bank Young Woman's club was entertained by the Asbury Park Young Woman's club Thursday evening at Asbury Park. Mrs. Frederick Smith, Jr., president of the Asbury Park club, greeted the visitors. Miss Gertrude Norman, treasurer of the Red Bank group, was the guest speaker.

After the business session the music department entertained with a story in song by a kitchen band. The musicians were in costume and used kitchen utensils for instruments. The reader was Mrs. George Thompson and the leader, Mrs. Dorothy Welter.

The refreshment booth was decorated in red and white color scheme. Those present from Red Bank were Mrs. Ronald Mulliken, Mrs. R. Theodore Elix, Mrs. William Sherwood, Miss Cecile Connor, Miss Ruthie Eugene Fraugh and Miss Gertrude Norman.

ELEVENTH ANNIVERSARY.

Navesink Rebekah Lodge to Hold Birthday Party Tuesday.

The Navesink Rebekah lodge will celebrate its eleventh anniversary next Tuesday night, November 19, in Odd Fellows hall. The state president, Mrs. Edith Decker of Rockaway, and District Deputy President Mrs. Emma Lyons of Belmar, are expected to be present.

Mrs. Georgia Lawson is chairman assisted by Mrs. Carrie Patterson, Mrs. Della Amos, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman, Miss Pauline Beck and Mrs. Iona Cook. Members are expected to be present from Sea Bright, Long Branch, Asbury Park, Keyport, Toms River, Manasquan, Belmar and Red Bank.

Must Support Children.

Robert Miller, 38-year-old Lake contractor, has been ordered to pay ten dollars a week to his wife, Elizabeth T. Miller, for the support of their four children. Miller was arrested in 1934 on a charge of trying to poison his wife just before the last child was born. He was not indicted as his wife refused to testify against him.

Death Strikes

Two Pedestrians

Mrs. Sophie Winicki, 39, of Neptune and Miss Tusha Tapolnicki, 32, a cousin from New York, were instantly killed by a hit and run driver Sunday night as they were walking along the road near Mrs. Winicki's home. One woman was knocked fifteen feet up in the air and the other was dragged for about fifty feet before her lifeless body came to rest. Police found a crumpled horn and a quantity of broken glass at the scene of the accident. An alarm was immediately broadcast throughout the state to watch for a motor car with a horn missing and headlights broken.

On Monday night Melvin J. Tiedemann, twenty, of Corlies avenue, Shrewsbury township, appeared at Neptune police headquarters and admitted it was his car which struck and killed the two women. Tiedemann said he saw a large police dog in the road in front of him and swerved his car to the left side of the road to avoid hitting the dog. He said he felt his machine strike something and thought it was the dog but did not bother to stop. He is being held on a charge of manslaughter.

Mrs. Winicki is survived by a husband and three daughters. She was to have given birth to another child in about three months. Miss Tapolnicki had been staying at Neptune for the benefit of her health, having recently suffered a nervous breakdown.

Interest Paid on Bonds.

Holders of first mortgage bonds of the Berkeley-Carter hotel, Inc., Asbury Park, in the amount of $1,078,508.38, are now receiving their first interest checks covering the period of May 1, 1935, to November 1, 1935. The total amount being distributed in this semi-annual payment is $29,658.98.

Activities of Trinity Guild

An executive meeting of the Women's guild of Trinity Episcopal church was held Tuesday morning in the parish house of the church on West Front street, Mrs. Leon de la Reussille presided.

A devotional service was led by Mrs. George Chandler, Mrs. Harrison Bance reported that the musicals held recently for the benefit of the organ fund had been a financial success. Mrs. Allen Frost, adviser to the junior guild, reported that the following officers had been elected by that organization:

President—Miss Anita Matthews.
Vice president—Miss Marjorie Munden.
Secretary—Miss Rita Graft.
Treasurer—Miss Ruth Walker.

Mrs. Frost also announced that a turkey supper will be served tonight at six o'clock in the parish hall. Miss Dorothy Brown will be in charge of the tables and decorations. Mrs. Reussille is in charge of the sale of tickets.

The next regular meeting of the guild will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the parish house. Miss Evelyn T. Walker will tell of her experiences as a nurse during the World War. A musical program will be presented and coffee and home-made doughnuts will be served. The doughnuts will be made from a recipe by Mrs. Josephine Corlies, a former organist of the church. Any doughnuts remaining will be sold and the proceeds applied to the organ fund as a memorial to Mrs. Corlies.

The hostesses will be Mrs. Reussille, Mrs. Ralph Sickles, Mrs. Ferdinand Opper, Mrs. S. Emmons, Mrs. James Wolcott, Sr., Mrs. George Howgill, Mrs. Samuel E. Coggins and Mrs. Frank Curtis.

A chow main luncheon bridge will be held Thursday afternoon, December 12, in the parish house. The committee to make arrangements for this affair will be appointed at a later meeting.

Those present at the meeting were Mrs. Reussille, Mrs. James Hunter, Mrs. Eugene Brooks, Mrs. Fred Munden, Miss Mary Walker, Mrs. Harrison Bance, Mrs. Frank Curtis, Mrs. Frost, Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. Edward Allaire and Mrs. Jay D. Williams.

The third in a series of card parties being held by the guild was held Tuesday afternoon in the parish house. The hostesses were Mrs. Horton Garrison, Mrs. Edgar Denise, Mrs. Raymond Johnson, Mrs. William Lippincott, Mrs. Stanley Hamilton, Mrs. Edward Magee, Mrs. Ira Crouse, Mrs. James Wolcott, Jr., and Mrs. Edward Allaire.

Keyport News.

(The Red Bank Register can be bought in Keyport at the stores of Corlies, Mrs. Florence Velez, Gus Benson and Mrs. Clara Sussman.)

The Mother Hubbard stores have opened a general grocery, fruit and vegetable store on the ground floor of the Salz building at the corner of Broad and Front streets. The store has a large floor space, approximately 40x90, and has been entirely redecorated inside and out. W. H. Gelber of Freehold is the manager. The company operates stores in other Monmouth county towns, and employs local help as much as possible. Solomon Singer is arranging to open a store in the building on Front street owned by Leonard Roberts, and formerly occupied by M. Kaplan. Mr. Singer, who has been in business in Keyport for many years, will specialize in women's wear. Mrs. A. Howell is doing the work of renovating the store.

Rufus O. Walling has rented his building next to the Keyport Banking company on Front street to Joseph Martini, who will open a restaurant there shortly. Mr. Walling has made numerous improvements to the building in order to have it conform with Mr. Martini's requirements. Krueger and Reinhold are doing the mason work and Louis Chisnam the plumbing.

At a meeting of the board of education held on Wednesday of last week, it was agreed to present the matter of building an addition to the high school and grammar school buildings before the voters at an early date, and District Clerk Rufus O. Walling has been instructed to make a report on plans for the election at the next meeting of the board. The additions if the plans are consummated will be erected under the PWA funds, and assurances have been given the board that funds will be made available. It is understood that 45 per cent of the cost of the improvements will be an outright gift from the PWA and the balance loaned under very favorable terms.

A recent application to the PWA was turned down. The board of education is faced with the possibility of losing students from outlying districts unless certain requirements by the state board of education are met, which under present crowded conditions of the schools cannot be fulfilled.

Miss Pauline Ash has a position with the Monmouth County Social Service at their Red Bank headquarters.

Dr. S. M. Goodstein of Perth Amboy has rented offices from N. Sellman in his front street building and will open dental offices there shortly. Joseph Eyring spent the week-end with his parents at New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Baum of New York were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Detolt.

The annual meeting of the Red Cross roll call campaign was held Monday at the home of Mrs. Henry E. Ackerson, who is the local chairman of the drive. Miss Gladys Shropshire of Red Bank was the speaker of the afternoon. Members of the committees are: East Central division, Mrs. A. Stillwell VanBuskirk, Mrs. Samuel E. Tilton, Mrs. Harold E. Green, Mrs. Edward Maurer, Miss Dorothy Maurer, East Keyport, Mrs. J. E. D. Slocum, Mrs. Evert V. Slocum, Mrs. Charles Sheldon, Miss Bertha Henn, Mrs. George Jacobs; central division, Mrs. Arthur S. Walling, Mrs. Fred Bronkhorst, Miss Marjorie Bronkhorst, Miss Minnie Vander Waal, Mrs. W. H. Hitchcock, Mrs. John L. Cottrell, Miss Bertha Alcock; South Keyport, Mrs. Joseph D. Bedle, Mrs. Daniel Holmes, Mrs. Hargrave, Mrs. Lloyd Jackson, Mrs. Susie Hopson, Mrs. Henry T. Hopkins is in charge of publicity.

Following the defeat of his candidates at the election on Tuesday of last week, Mayor Chadiah Bogardus failed to attend the meeting of the borough council Monday night. The mayor's sole supporter on the council, Norman J. Currie, stated that the mayor was on a hunting trip. It has been rumored that the mayor would resign if his candidates were defeated. C. Leroy Bowne, president of the council, acted as mayor. George Rabin, attorney, was present and asked the council what they intended to do about the Frank Walling case. Mr. Haigh stated that he and other members of the council had nothing to do with the firing of Mr. Walling, as it was done without their consent and against the advice of Attorney Howard W. Roberts. Further talk resulted in no action. Mayor Bogardus fired Mr. Walling at the first of the year from his position in the water pumping station. Mr. Walling is suing for back pay and reinstatement, partially on the grounds that he is an exempt fireman and entitled to priority over other members of the water pumping station force. Needed repairs to the water pumping station will be made over the objections of Councilman Currie, who claimed that no appropriations had been made. Other members of the council stated that they were emergency repairs. Miss Alma Lockwood asked to have a vacant lot at the corner of Third and Walnut streets filled in with ashes, so that the boys in that section could play there. She claimed damage to property from baseballs. The council agreed that it was a good idea, but sought further information as to their rights to fill in someone else's property. Bills of nearly $7,000 were ordered paid.

Peacocks Win 3 To Lead League

Hawks-Buzzards Tie for Second—Decker Takes High Individual Series and High Average With 639 Score.

A battle to retain first place was staged Friday night at the local recreation bowling alleys when the leading Peacocks took three straight games from the second-place Hawks in the Red Bank Quadrangle bowling league. The Peacocks are now leading the league by eight points.

The Hawks and Buzzards, who lost two out of three games to the Peacocks, are now tied for second place with 35 points each. The Eagles, who unexpectedly hit the maples for three straight games and defeated the Cardinals, are now in fourth place with 28 points, and are closely trailed by the Cardinals by a single point.

A fighting late-place Jaybirds team netted nine more points when they also unexpectedly defeated the Cardinals in three straight games. The Cardinals formerly held down fourth place. They have been dropped into sixth place.

STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

Jaybirds	15	108	13.6	10

George Decker, a member of the fighting Eagle besides winning high individual series, moved from second into first place in the individual scores. For possession of his first-place position he rolled high games of 224, 179 and 236, giving him a score of 639. His average is 189.9, while Allen Churchill, Jr., former first-place leader, is now in second place with an average of 186.5.

High individual game being held by Clarence Beynon of the Buzzards with a score of 246. High individual series goes to Decker with 639, high team game is being held by the Buzzards with a score of 686 and high team series is being held by the Eagles with a score of 1,767.

Tomorrow night at eight o'clock will be the last game of the season between the Cardinals and the Peacocks. The Cardinals will bowl the Eagles, while on alleys one and two the Buzzards will bowl the Hawks and on alleys three and four the Hawks will bowl the Cuckoos.

A spirited contest was staged in the initial games of the evening when the Peacocks and Hawks battled for possession of first place. The Peacocks were given a handicap of 37 pins and the Hawks a handicap of 35 pins. High games by Churchill pulled the Peacocks through for their three straight victories. He rolled games of 179, 188 and 192. The victors won the opening game by six pins, the second by six and the final by 76 pins. The scores:

PEACOCKS:

The Eagles gained honors by winning three straight games from the Cardinals. The latter team is now trailing the Eagles by one point. Chick Forbes, a member of the Cardinals, failed to make an appearance and the Cardinals were forced to use a dummy score. The Eagles won the opening game by 110 pins, the second by 132 pins and the final match by 113 pins. The scores:

Shrewsbury And Clothiers Close

Farms Team, in First Place, Has Won 20 Out of 21 Games While Clothiers Have 19 Out of 21.

Having suffered but one defeat in 21 games, the Shrewsbury Farms team, the former Eatonville aggregation, held its lead in the Red Bank league for another week. The Clothiers and Insurance team, defeated twice in 21 starts, clings tenuously to second place. The Schneider Market team, which last week was a game and a half behind the Clothiers, are now three full games behind. The Red Bank Recreations, in fourth place, have the distinction of having made the best team score thus far this season, a mark of 1,154. The standing of the teams, compiled by Secretary Walter Schroeder and published below, does not include matches played last night.

COMING GAMES.

Monday—Acerra Bakery vs. Hansen Dobos, Recreation vs. Professional Men, Max's Tavern vs. Sigmund Elmer, Clothiers & Insurance vs. Schneider's Market.

Wednesday—Allen Shoes vs. Gardners, Melroy Seafood vs. Hoynton & Hoynton, Red Bank vs. Shrewsbury, Leonardo vs. Navesink.

Jordan of the Clothiers & Insurance team heads the individual standing with an average of 201.30. Joe Menzopane, also of the Clothiers, is second with 196.9, but he has taken part in 21 games, nine more than the number in which Jordan has rolled. Taylor of the Shrewsbury Farms is third with an average of 195.10.

Penteman's all-time record of 290 for a single game is not likely to be beaten for a long time, if ever. Penteman rolls with the Hansen Dobos. His 290 is not only a record for the league but for the alleys as well. Jim Acerra of the Recreations, while rolling with the crack utility, has won high until Penteman chalked up his remarkable score. Ralph Lewis of the Elmer team holds the record for the high total for three games, a mark of 686. The averages of the ten leading players, all of whom have rolled in ten or more games, follow:

The Shrewsbury Farms team won three more victories last week, the victims being the strong Red Bank Recreations. The Farmers rolled 1,034 to take the opening encounter by 15 pins. Forty-one pins separated the two teams at the end of the second match. The Recreations threw away their chances of taking the final contest, rolling 850 to lose by 26 pins. Taylor of Shrewsbury made the highest scores, 247 and 223, while Morris and Taylor of the same team rolled 238 and 221, respectively. Schroeder made 212 and 203 for the Recreations and the best Jim Acerra, crack Recreation player, could

Hunters Finding Game Plentiful

Good Bags of Rabbits Obtained Despite Unfavorable Weather Conditions—Quail and Pheasants Reported to be Scarce.

Hunters were hampered by wet weather the first three days of the gunning season, but most of them report having obtained good bags of game. The soaked ground and vegetation made it difficult for dogs to do effective work. Rabbits are said to be plentiful, but there are few reports of quail and pheasants having been shot.

Capt. Joseph Bray of the Red Bank police force and Mrs. Bray spent Monday and Tuesday hunting at Long Valley in the northern part of the state. They bagged fifteen rabbits, twelve being shot by Mr. Bray and three by Mrs. Bray. Mr. Bray also got four pheasants. For a number of years past Mrs. Bray has made a custom of hunting the first day of the law is up.

Herbert Schanck and a party of five friends went hunting on Mr. Schanck's farm near Holmdel. They started 20 rabbits and got 21.

James Sheedy, a member of the Red Bank police force, had the good fortune to kill five rabbits Tuesday and the misfortune to lose the hind piece of his gun.

L. P. Stout and Earl Stout went hunting near River Plaza Tuesday and they got two rabbits.

The members of the George C. Warren Sportsmen's association compared notes at their annual meeting at the Elk home at Red Bank Tuesday night. All of them agreed that game was plentiful.

Gilbert Dahlgren, a member of the Red Bank police force, went hunting Monday and Tuesday with his uncle, William Bray, on the latter's farm at Phalanx. Each day Mr. Dahlgren got the limit of six rabbits. Tuesday he accomplished this before noon. Mr. Bray got three rabbits on the two days.

The Feeny family of Fair Haven, John, Bill and Frank, did very well the first day. John shot six rabbits and six quail, Bill three rabbits and three quail and Frank three rabbits and two quail. Part of the quarry was bagged in Fair Haven and the rest in Holmdel.

Harry Eneeny of Red Bank and Morris Walsh of Navesink went gunning around Holmdel Monday and returned home with three pheasants, three rabbits and three quail.

Jay Duncan of Holmdel and two friends shot ten rabbits and two pheasants the first day the law was up.

Wilbur Hammond of Holmdel got the full quota of six rabbits Monday and on Tuesday he shot three rabbits and a squirrel.

Three Little Silver residents brought home game the first day. Otto Schneider got a pheasant and a rabbit, Charles Moore, Jr., two rabbits and Elliott Borden two rabbits. Sidney McLean had a group of friends on his farm at Nutswamp the opening day and they bagged twenty rabbits. With Mr. McLean were Joseph Kennedy, Lester Kennedy, Millard Talley, Dr. Theodore Doremus and George Brittingham. Harry Hoffman was the most successful bagger of game among a party of four hunters who went gunning near Lincolnton Monday. He got four rabbits, a pheasant and a woodcock. Charles Bruno killed four rabbits and Aloysius Peterson and W. Harry Benjamin each got two.

Benjamin Atwater of Red Bank and John Joseph and Leonard Mount, William Dorn and Fred Noble of Holmdel went hunting the first day the law was up on Mr. Noble's farm. They bagged 25 rabbits and a pheasant.

ROTARY CLUB MEETING.

Two New Members to Join Red Bank Group at Today's Gathering.

The speaker at the meeting of the Red Bank Rotary club this noon will be J. W. Duffield. He will have for his topic "The World Today—Conditions at Home and Abroad." Mr. Duffield recently spoke at Asbury Park and his talk was so interesting that he was invited to speak to the Red Bank Rotarians.

Last Thursday's meeting at the Red Bank club was one of good fellowship. The anticipated speaker did not show up and the club members met to discuss the subject of the "Milk." Mr. Priest is one of the foremost dairymen in Monmouth county and he went to great length in explaining the possible ill effects of drinking raw milk and the safety in using milk properly pasteurized.

Paul H. Axtell, supervising principal of the Middlesex township schools, and Japhin Clayton, secretary of the Red Bank board of education, will be welcomed to membership at today's meeting.

HOW THEY WON A HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Watson Beckwith to Publish Booklet.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Watson Beckwith are preparing to publish a booklet describing their experiences in building their new model home at Newman Springs Park, Red Bank. A news item outlining the privations and hardships which they endured in order to have a home of their very own appeared in The Register about two months ago, with the result that the house was visited by hundreds of persons and was designated as a model home by the Better Housing committee. The booklet will be issued in about two weeks and under the title of "Modern Pioneering in Depression Times" it will describe in detail the story of the building of the house. Mr. and Mrs. Beckwith are publishing the story at the request of friends and they have already received a number of orders. Parties who wish to receive the booklet may have copies reserved by telephoning to Mr. or Mrs. Beckwith.

Bridge Luncheon.

Mrs. Raymond Heliker and Miss Margaret Devereaux of Sea Bright gave a bridge luncheon recently for Mrs. Harold J. Doud, who returned a few days ago from Japan. Others present were Mrs. Paul Peterson, Mrs. Claude Minaldi, Mrs. Morris Caplan, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. Myron Minton, Mrs. Joseph P. Hintelmant and Miss Sigrid Nelson.

Building New Type Of House

Brick House With Two Separate Walls, Steel Beams and Concrete Floors Under Construction on Little Silver Tract.

The "thermos bottle" house under construction on Willow Drive near Little Silver by Milton Berk is attracting considerable attention. The house, which is of Cape Cod Colonial design, has many features not found in the average home. It contains seven rooms and bath. It has a recreation room in the basement, with a Dutch oven, and a drop living room, with a fireplace. A garage with inside entrance to the house is on the rear. Among the modern improvements are recessed radiation and copper plumbing.

The house is fireproof. In place of wooden beams to support the floor, there are steel joists of the truss type, with steel girders at intervals. On top of these beams will be laid reinforced concrete, and on top of the concrete will be hardwood floors set in mastic.

Around the entire outside are two separate brick walls with a two-inch air space between. There is another air space between the inside brick wall and the plaster. These air spaces, it is said, neutralize the atmospheric conditions existing between the inside of the house and the outside and prevent condensation or the formation of moisture. This is why it has been called the "thermos bottle" house.

Through the center of the house running from front to rear and from the basement to the top is a brick wall erected for strength, fire protection and sound absorption. All the partitions between the rooms will be of cinder block and plaster, no wooden studs being used.

Edward S. Klausner, the contractor, is a construction engineer. He says the same principles used in the construction of large apartment buildings are being carried out in this house. Mr. Klausner built the Santander apartments at Asbury Park along the same lines. He says the house at Little Silver is being built for permanency and economy. It's one place, he states, that termite will never be found. The house is being built by Mr. Berk as an investment and is being constructed with the assistance of the Federal Housing Administration.

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT.

Charles Cohen of Belford to Open Local Waiting Room Saturday.

Charles Cohen of Belford, who operates a general store at Belford, will open the Red Bank Waiting room at 23 West Front street, Saturday.

Mr. Cohen will operate his general store at Belford while his wife, Sarah, and two sons, Morton and Hyman, will operate the local store.

Automobile Fire.

Slight damage was caused by a fire caused by a fire which broke out in a Chevrolet sedan, owned by Mrs. George Olsh of Harding, last Sunday afternoon. A general alarm was turned in from Box 142 at Monmouth and Pearl streets.

POLO FIELD ORDINANCE.

Christ Church Clock to Be Illuminated on One Side.

An ordinance permitting the construction of a polo field on the property on the west side of Upper Broad street, Shrewsbury, was approved on Tuesday night by the Shrewsbury mayor and council after a petition had been circulated for its approval. Mrs. Ortrude C. VanVleet, borough clerk, read the treasurer's account with a balance of $6,861.14 and it was moved by Councilman Archibald Miller that the balance of borough taxes be paid to the county and $1,000 be paid to the board of education.

Borough Attorney John S. Applegate suggested that the liquor question which was voted on at the general election be placed on record. The approximate amount of $800 delinquent taxes for 1934-35 and 33 was considered and it was suggested that an extra effort be made to collect this small amount without a tax sale.

Councilman Harold McCormick moved that the clock on Christ church be illuminated on one side by a flood light. Action is being given this matter by Councilman Harold Nevius. The matter of widening the entrance of White street was laid over until next year when the proposed improvement will be included in the 1936 budget.

The revolver permits of Bruce Campbell, Jr., and George R. Decker were approved by the mayor and council. They use the revolvers for target practice. Bills amounting to $1,000.75 were approved. The next regular meeting will be held Wednesday night, December 4.

ATTEND CONFERENCE.

Two Young Women Represent Local Club at New Brunswick.

Miss Gertrude Norman, councilor, and Miss Catherine Russell, represented the Red Bank Young Women's club Friday at the third district conference of Young Women's clubs held at New Brunswick.

A box luncheon was held after which Mrs. Meredith Francis Parker, third district adviser, greeted the members. Mrs. P. Garretson Peltanus was the guest speaker. Reports of the year's plans were given by the representatives of the various clubs. The Red Bank club received first prize for the program of planned activities of the year.

HOSPITAL BENEFIT.

Tickets Selling Rapidly For Show at Carlton Theater.

Tickets are selling rapidly for the moving picture and vaudeville show to be given Wednesday and Thursday nights, December 4 and 5, at the Carlton theater for the benefit of the Red Bank auxiliary of Riverview hospital. Folks desirous of helping the hospital are urged to buy tickets in advance from the auxiliary members or at Storek's, the Gift Shop and the Madeline Candy Shop. It is only from the sale of tickets made in this manner that the hospital will receive any return.

Poster Contest Winners.

Robert Breitenbach and Jean Stevens won first and second prizes respectively in the poster contest conducted by the Oceanic free library in conjunction with Safety Week.

CITY OF RUBENS.

Antwerp Also Has the World's Most Famous Printers' Museum.

Although Antwerp, Belgium, has tried for centuries to make a name for itself as a city of lace-makers, diamond-cutters, brewers and shipbuilders, its vast influx of visitors every year come chiefly because it has a name for art. It is the city of Rubens and his pupil VanDyck, of Franz Hals, Teniers and Wappers. From the middle of the 16th to the 18th century, a hundred famous painters and sculptors were born in the city, and many of the houses in which they worked still stand. The greatest Rubens collection is in the Musée des Beaux Arts, while many other famous paintings hang in the Cathedral, St. Jacques, St. Augustines, St. Antoine's.

More than any other city of Europe, Antwerp interests journalists and printers, for here stands the now world famous Plantin-Moretus Museum. It is the palatial home and printing office of Christopher Plantin, who lived from 1514 to 1589, and whose fame as a printer is often judged second only to Gutenberg's. The vine-covered printing office, which was later administered by Plantin's son-in-law, Moretus, is as magnificent as a palace and attracts visitors from all over the world.

Within the furnishings have been kept just as though Plantin and his aides had stopped work for lunch and would return in a few minutes. In this memorial of Antwerp's greatness there hang fourteen Rubens and two VanDycks, while the tapestries and furniture are priceless.

Good Losers Never Lose.

A merchant in a small town ran for office, and was overwhelmingly defeated. He polled so few votes that he appeared ridiculous in the eyes of his neighbors, and both his local and business standing were in danger. It's hard to be laughed at and still hold your ground.

But this merchant was a good sport. What is more, he knew the perils of becoming the town joke. So he beat the town to it. The morning after the election he put this sign in his window: "25 reward for the name of the man who cast that vote for me!"

Everybody saw it, and everybody laughed. But they laughed with him and not at him. People came into his store to shake hands and congratulate him on his sense of humor and sportsmanship. The story of the sign went the rounds of the county, and farmers began to drop into his store to trade. Thus the merchant turned defeat into a personal triumph by proving that he was the town's best loser—Edgar A. Guest in The American Magazine.

Latest Developments.

One of Europe's latest automobile developments is a luminous motor-car which is coated with phosphorescent paint and can be seen at night for half a mile. A new Yankee invention is a radio alarm system for houses that, when turned on at night, creates a sensitive electrical zone around the exterior of the dwelling, several feet deep. When an intruder steps into this "field," the alarm sounds and floodlights brightly illuminate the walls and yards. Users fearing that their power lines may be cut can connect the device to a storage battery.

FOOD FACTS.

Did You Know That:
—Soil is now pasteurized like milk. Pathogenic germs are destroyed without impairing the good qualities of the soil.

—A very fresh egg has practically no "air cell," and is too full to make a good hard-boiled egg. Its fullness causes it to stick to the shell.

—The vitamin A content of chili pepper is very high.

—An adjustable belt of cardboard, for holding sliced loaves of bread tightly and which can be adjusted by the housewife so as to prevent spoilage, has been patented.

These "food facts" are compiled by the Division of Consumer Information, New Jersey State Department of Agriculture.

Honey, Most Ancient of Sweets Gains Favor of Modern Epicures

Bees Go Modern, Too, These Days—Some Live in Bee "Apartment Houses"

By FRED W. JACKSON
Director, Division of Consumer Information
Department of Agriculture, Trenton, N. J.

A "Bee Apartment House," containing twenty-eight hives. Inset, interior of the house, showing where the bees deposit honey.

County, Mr. Busch is a native of what was formerly Austria but is now part of Yugoslavia, where such apartment aplears commonly house fifty to one hundred hives. With uncanny certainty every returning bee, laden with pollen or nectar, knows its entrance and finds its own hive as surely as any householder returns to his own home.

How To Buy

Autumn and winter season always brings an increased demand for honey. Fortunately there are variations in flavor and color to suit every taste and fancy. Generally speaking, the lighter colored honeys are preferred for table use while the darker types are used more in recipes for cooking or baking. The color and flavor of honey is determined by the flowers from which the bees gather the nectar. Light colored honeys are of mild flavor and are made from nectar gathered from such plants as the clovers; while plants such as asters and buckwheat contribute fuller flavor and a darker color.

Honey can be purchased to advantage in larger containers. The smaller sized jars are usually more expensive when considered on the basis of actual honey content. Honey can be bought safely in quantity for it will not spoil, although a degree of crystallization may occur. This change is a natural one and gentle heating at about 140 degrees Fahrenheit will restore it to a liquid state without loss of flavor or aroma.

Bees' City Life

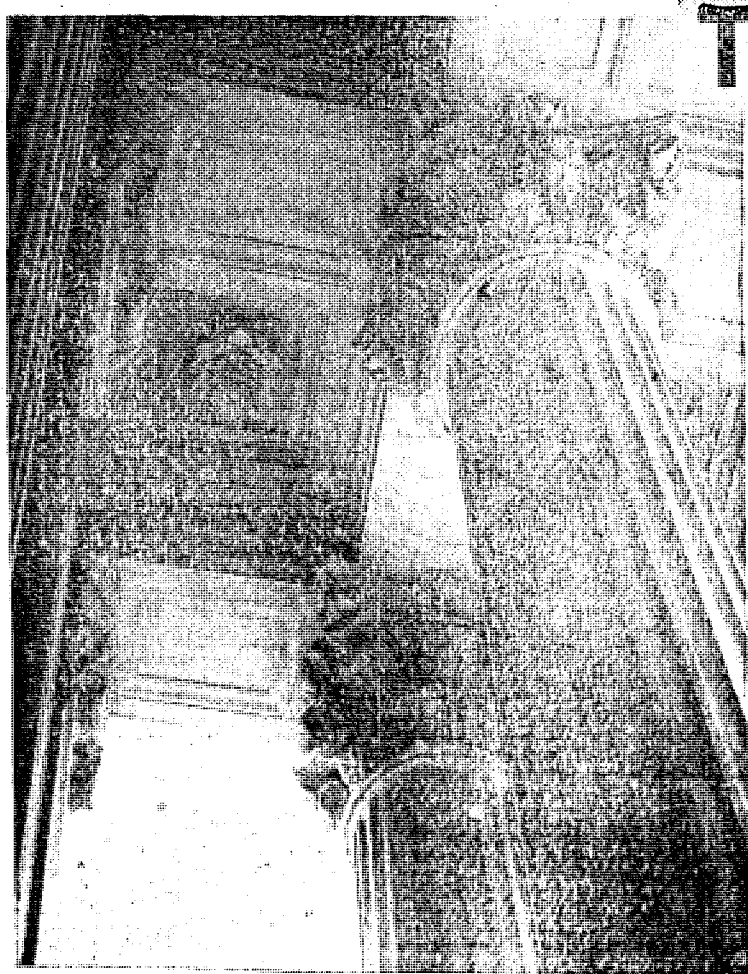

The bees enter and leave through individual openings on the outside, each hive having its own "apartment" entrance. Within the house the operator has access to the rear of every hive so he can conveniently attend to his chores under cover, with a number of hives within immediate reach.

Such a unit is operated by John Busch at White Horse in Mercer

County, N. J.

It Pays to Advertise in The Register

In this Changing World—One Thing as yet Unchanged

EXPLANATORY NOTE:—The Associated Press not being profit-making, its Board of Directors has always held that funds of the organization should not be spent for advertising. Not in any manner meaning to question the Board's policy employees of The Associated Press, of which this newspaper is a member, feel that attention should be directed in these crucial times to something that they believe affects not only the newspapers but the reading public.

This advertisement is, therefore, printed by this Associated Press member paper in response to a request from employees of the organization so that the public may know.

The Associated Press is today the only exclusively newspaper press association in America.

A general definition of one that sells news to advertisers, bankers, brokers, government offices, as well as newspapers is "news agency". Europe has such news agencies. They were created to serve at profit others than newspapers. Later they served newspapers too.

In America the reverse is now true. Certain press services operated here for years exclusively for newspapers as The Associated Press still does. Thus they were properly termed "press associations". Having started services directly or indirectly to advertisers, United States government offices, radio stations, etc., those others are now properly defined as news agencies.

The change is regretted. There is something sentimental to an A.P. man about the "smell of printers' ink". There is a glow out of collecting and writing news for whatever use newspapers make of it. It would bring a strange feeling even in this changing world if the A.P. man's duty was to try, among other things, to obtain and deliver a good news story that would satisfy a United States government office client or an advertising client in the same way he wants his news reports to satisfy A.P. newspapers. The A.P. man may be wrong about this but he would have a strange feeling in undertaking it.

The president of The Associated Press, Mr. Noyes, in a message to the recent meeting of managing editors of Associated Press newspapers said:

"I invite you to note that a privately owned news gathering organization has, directly or indirectly, accepted as one customer a very large industrial corporation from which it will (through a broadcasting arrangement) be in receipt of large sums of money.

"I ask you to consider the peril that would confront you if The Associated Press was in relations to larger financial interests of any kind—banking, public utility, oil companies or any other large interests—that involved the receipt by your organization of large sums of money and made it (possibly unjustly) in the view of the general public subservient to these interests."

There are those who have always believed, and still believe, that The Associated Press, with its co-operative form of organization, controlled alone by the newspapers in its membership and financed alone by them, is the greatest bulwark of a free press that exists in America today. If the newspapers in its membership ever would fail in their support of it or if it now suffers to the point of injury by the competition of news agencies heavily financed by the patronage of United States government offices, advertisers and others than newspapers, it would be a sorry day not alone for the future of the newspapers but for all the people of this country.

The employees of The Associated Press serve but one interest—the newspaper, and through its membership newspapers they serve the public interest.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The world's most important news service, the world's largest press association news service and larger than any news agency anywhere.

THE RED BANK REGISTER IS AN ASSOCIATED PRESS NEWSPAPER

The only news service in America operated solely to serve newspapers.

Hitlerism Exposed Dr. Clinchy's Topic

Famous Clergyman and Educator to Speak at Red Bank Elks Auditorium Next Thursday Night.

Dr. Everett R. Clinchy will address the November 21st session of the Red Bank public forum unit being sponsored by the Monmouth County Round Table and New York University. The session will be held at the Elks auditorium on Broad street. He will use as his subject "Hitlerism Exposed." Dr. Johannes Stiel, who was originally scheduled to lead the discussion, has been detained in Europe because of the critical nature of the Italo-Ethiopian situation.

Dr. Clinchy is eminently qualified to lead a discussion on Hitlerism, for his recent publication entitled "The Strange Case of Herr Hitler" has been widely read and quoted. He is also the author of "All in the Name of God." He speaks as dynamically and convincingly as he writes.

Dr. Clinchy, a clergyman, pursued graduate studies at Yale and Columbia universities in religion, social sciences and education, after which he became minister of the college church at Wesleyan university, Middletown, Connecticut. While at Wesleyan Dr. Clinchy arranged two intercollegiate parleys on education, a parley on war and an intercollegiate symposium on religion—the first of their kind in their respective fields. Leaving Wesleyan to become director of the National Conference of Jews and Christians, he in 1929 planned and carried out the Columbia Seminar on "The Relations of Roman Catholics, Jews and Protestants," the beginning of a long series of seminars and conferences held throughout the country. He directed the 1935 Williamstown Institute of Human Relations.

The speaker is an out-spoken foe of intolerance, and has dedicated his life to the elimination of ancient prejudices in the modern world. Recently he was designated by Jewish groups of America as the non-Jew who had made the outstanding contribution to the Jewish cause during 1934.

ON STATION WBBB.

Change in Director of Town Chatter Program.

Miss Evelyn Walder, heard frequently on the Radio Guild Hour on Station WBBB, beginning tonight will direct the presentation of the Town Chatter program hour on that station. Miss Walder takes the place of Miss Helen Mazza. The Town Chatter program is broadcast twice weekly. News of a social and civic interest is presented and guests are interviewed.

The Church of the Air, heard at four o'clock every Friday, will be conducted tomorrow by Rabbi Arthur Hershorn of the Congregation Etnai Israel. The guest soloist will be Mrs. Sidney Komar.

Miss Broadway will again be heard at eight o'clock tomorrow night. The Strand amateur show will be presented at nine o'clock.

TWO CARS COLLIDE.

Three Injured in Shrewsbury Accident Friday Night.

Two persons were injured at the intersection of Broad street and Sycamore avenues, Shrewsbury Friday night, when a car driven by Mrs. Hazel E. Kenny of Interlaken collided with that driven by James Weir of Brooklyn.

According to Officer Otto Herden, who investigated the accident, Weir, driving a florist's car, stopped for the red light and was rammed in the rear by Mrs. Kenny.

Two passengers in the car, Mrs. Helen Osborn of Interlaken and Mrs. Harriet White of Avon and Mrs. Kenny received cuts about the face and bruises. The injured were taken in the Blue Door taxicab where they were treated by Dr. Samuel Hausman. No charges were made.

CARD PARTY.

Entous Nons Club to Hold Charity Affair Next Monday.

The Entous Nons club at a luncheon meeting yesterday afternoon at the Roosevelt tea room at Little Silver made final plans for the charity card party to be held Monday afternoon, November 18, in the auditorium of the Red Bank Catholic high school. The proceeds will be used to buy wearing apparel for poor children. Mrs. Waldner Kistner is chairman and is being assisted by the other members of the club.

Fort Hancock To Oppose Hamilton

The Fort Hancock football team will meet its greatest rivals next Sunday when the artillerymen from Sandy Hook journey to Fort Hamilton to meet the doughboys from the east bank of the Narrows.

The Fort Hamilton team is coached by Lieutenant Edwards, who played right end for the United States military academy last year. The Hamiltonians have a clean slate to date and expect to go through the season undefeated. The Fort Hancock team is out for revenge after losing close games to Fort Jay and to Matawan. Injuries kept two of the star Hancock tacklers out of the lineup last week, but next Sunday, except for Schirmer, the Hancock team will be ready to take the Doughboys into camp.

Schirmer, left end, is out for the season with a bruised hip. Huzar, Nagle, Morse and Heit, the big guns of the Hancock backfield, will be seen in action behind that strong line of Bass, Woscyina, Aggar, Acampora and Baron. Robinson will be at right end and various reserves will endeavor to fill Schirmer's shoes at left end. The Hancock team is fast and shifty. Most of the rough spots due to a late start this season have been ironed out and the now seasoned team expects to show the Doughboys the strength of the heavy Artillery.

The Fort Hancock garrison is still understrength. A few vacancies exist for which graduates of high or vocational schools are desired. Young men with a basic training in radio work or who have experience in a band or with a drum and bugle corps are especially desired.

The Red Bank Quadrangle footballers have made plans for repeating their victory over the West End Wildcats Sunday when the local eleven will travel to the West End gridiron for a return game.

Last Sunday afternoon the Quads in a bitter encounter upset what is supposed to be one of the strongest teams in Monmouth county by a 6-0 score. Manager Bill Mernin of the Wildcats and Chet Ebbe of the Quads agreed to a return game this Sunday as both teams had open dates.

The steady improvement of the Quads, who this season attempted their initial football team, is most likely to again set back the Wildcats Sunday when they clash. However, backed by the strong defense staged last week by the Quads, it is doubtful whether the Wildcats will be able to push over a victory or not.

HORSEMANSHIP AWARDS.

Louise Finch Wins Reserve Titles in Two Events at New York.

Miss Louise Finch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Finch of Rumson, was defeated by Miss Rosamond Murray of Brooklyn in a close decision in the "good hands" cup championship Saturday at the National Horse show at the Madison Square Garden. It ended a five-year duel between the two young women for the country's premier horsemanship honors, as Miss Murray has won the title three times. Both Miss Murray and Miss Finch are fifteen years old. The latter won the title in 1932.

On Saturday evening Miss Finch also won the reserve title in the horsemanship trophy championship, an event similar to the "good hands" cup except that the riders perform over low jumps. Miss Phyllis Saks of Elberon was fourth in this event.

Westside Bowling League.

Eight three-men teams are members of the West Side bowling league, which was formed this week. The league series will close on May 22. Games are played on the Arcade alleys on Shrewsbury avenue.

The season opened auspiciously for the Casagrande cigar store team, which won three games over Scotty's market. In the other set of the evening the Smoke Shop tavern team lost two to the Arcade aggregation.

Wins Amateur Contest.

Miss Peggy Rankin of Fair Haven was the winner of the amateur contest held last Friday night at Long Branch by the Sons and Daughters of Liberty. Second prize went to Miss Edna Brand of Asbury Park. Bobby Albert of Long Branch was third. The prizes were cash awards. The judges were William Bennett of Oakhurst, W. Roland of Fair Haven and Mrs. Claire Kraft of Longford. Twenty-one acts were presented.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT HEALTH?

By FISHER BROWN and NAT FALK

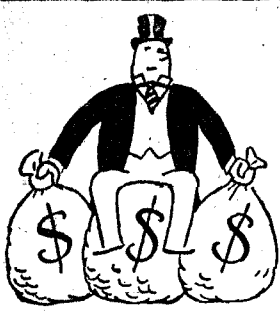

Answers: 1. Because colds are contagious. Sneezing into the air sprays water droplets laden with germs. These may be breathed by other persons, infecting them with the disease.

2. A famous English surgeon who is called the father of antiseptic surgery. His work made many of today's surgical miracles possible. He died in 1912.

3. Because the sun generates Vitamin D in their bodies. In fall, spring and winter, when the sunlight is too weak, they should receive Vitamin D from other sources, such as cod liver oil or Vitamin D milk. This vitamin builds strong bones, sound teeth.

Rumson Woman's Will Is Probated

Miss Sara B. Aylward of Rumson, who was employed for many years in the Second National Bank and Trust company of Red Bank, made her will last November. She left $200 to the Organization for the Propagation of the Faith of the diocese of Trenton for perpetual membership in that society for her parents and her brother. All the rest of her estate was left to the orphanage home of the Catholic diocese of Trenton and Hopewell and the home for the aged of the diocese of Trenton to be divided equally between them.

Mrs. Eliza E. Vincent of Allentown left her daughter, Jennie Dillon, $100. All of her personal effects were left to her four daughters, Jennie Dillon, Minnie Wilson, Alice Stephens and Grace Vincent. She appointed her daughter, Grace Vincent, as executrix and bequeathed to her all the rest of her estate.

Mrs. Filomena Boniello of Long Branch left all of her estate to her husband, Rocco Boniello, in a will she executed in 1931. She appointed her husband as executor.

TWO FIRE HAZARDS.

Eatontown Council Request Property Owners to Make Repairs.

The Eatontown mayor and council met last night and moved that the owners of the two cordwainers on Railroad avenue and Main streets be notified of the poor condition of the buildings and that if they were not cleared up in two weeks further action would be taken by the council.

The two houses, the Dangler and Woolley properties, as reported by Building Inspector Wesley Watkins and Fire Marshal Albert L. Wagner were fire hazards. If no action is taken by the property owners the work will be done by the borough and charged to the owners.

A hearing on the transfer of the liquor license of the Monmouth County Country club was laid over for further discussion. The club has planned to close up for the winter and use the Max Phillips cottage on Tinton avenue as club headquarters. Councilman Frank VanDoren reported that the Foanite generator proved successful in a demonstration Sunday. Bills amounting to $866.30 were ordered paid. A resolution was passed that the borough go on record as approving of the widening of the Shrewsbury river.

The board of education was granted permission to use the borough voting booth Friday in the school board election for new additions and alterations to School No. 1.

Card Party at Keansburg.

Star of Bayside council, Daughters of America, will hold a card party on Thursday evening, November 21, at the Manning place here house at Keansburg. Prizes will be given and refreshments served. The council will hold memorial services in the Keansburg Methodist church on Sunday evening, November 21.

PRESS GROUP TO DINE.

Prof. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Olson to Be Received in Monmouth.

Prof. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Olson of New Brunswick will be tendered a reception by the Monmouth County Press association next Monday night, November 18, at seven o'clock in the Colonial Tea House, 94 Main street at Steamboat lane, Matawan. This tea house known as the Burrows mansion is of Revolutionary interest.

Prof. Olson at the beginning of the fall semester became the head of the department of journalism at Rutgers university at New Brunswick and the first executive secretary of the New Jersey Press association.

Following a turkey dinner, there will be a round table discussion of particular interest to the county newspaper fraternity.

A special effort will be made to have as many Monmouth County papers represented as possible in order to have the executives and their co-workers meet Prof. and Mrs. Olson and also to have them take an active part in the discussion that will be of general interest as well as benefit to the newspaper folk.

WILL ADDRESS ROTARIANS.

Freehold Club To Hear Hon. Charles V. Duffy on Baby Bonds.

The meeting of the Freehold Rotary club to be held at the American hotel Tuesday, November 26, plans to be a most interesting gathering. Dr. J. Berkeley Gordon, chairman of the program committee, has secured Honorable Charles V. Duffy, collector of internal revenue, Newark, to address the club on the subject of "United States Treasury Baby Bonds."

The meeting will begin promptly at half-past twelve o'clock and the club cordially invite any members of local clubs who have missed a meeting to make up with them on that date and any non-Rotarian who wishes to come in as a visitor will be welcome.

GIRL SCOUTS MEET.

Names Selected For Patrols For Presbyterian Troop No. 24.

Girl Scout, troop No. 24 met Friday at the Presbyterian church when Marjorie Ewing and Patricia Elliot were selected to go to the Red Cross for some materials to work on. Names of patrols were chosen as Beaver, Pocahontas and Evening Star. A hike and bunco party were suggested.

Those attending the meeting were Ada Fowler, Doris Fowler, Margaret Woods, Thelma Neilson, Jeanne Matthews, Barbara Knapp, Jane Hervey, Marjorie Ewing, Patricia Elliot, Joyce Goodspeed and Capt. Ida Goodspeed.

River Plaza's School.

The next regular meeting of the River Plaza Parent-Teacher association will be held Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the River Plaza school. An address will be made by a special speaker and a discussion will be held as to the advisability of having a cafeteria in the school. All interested persons have been invited to attend.

Weddings

Cohen—Silverstein.

Miss Georgia B. Cohen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cohen of Deal, and Benjamin Silverstein, son of Mrs. Gertrude Silverstein of Belmar, were married Sunday afternoon beneath a bower of palms at the home of Miss Cohen's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Martin M. Marx of Broad street, Shrewsbury. Rabbi Ralph B. Hershorn of Temple Beth El, Asbury Park, performed the ceremony.

The home was attractively decorated with flowers and autumn leaves. An aisle for the bride and groom was made through the home by chairs on each side.

Miss Cohen, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a Burgundy panne velvet gown with turban to match and a corsage of orchids. The bride's maid was Miss Jeannette Cohen, cousin of the bride, who was attired in a black and white crepe gown. Miss Helen Cohen, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore sapphire blue velvet with turban to match. Both wore corsages of Tallman roses. Benjamin Marx of Belmar was best man.

Mrs. Marx played the wedding march and Miss Evelyn Elsenberg of Asbury Park sang "O Promise Me" and other selections.

Following the ceremony a buffet supper for more than 100 guests was served after which the couple left for a week's wedding trip to Washington, D. C. Upon their return they will reside at their newly furnished home at 904 F street, Belmar.

The bride's traveling outfit was a rust shade with accessories to match. Miss Cohen is a graduate of the Asbury high school.

Todd—Hartridge.

The wedding of Miss Margaret Catherine Todd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert O. Todd of Memorial parkway, Atlantic Highlands, and G. Gadson Hartridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Hartridge of Flushing Long Island, took place Saturday afternoon at the Central Baptist church at Atlantic Highlands. Rev. Webster S. Davis of Athens, Pennsylvania, an uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. George R. Elin, pastor of the Central Baptist church.

The bride was attired in a white satin gown, princess style with train, tight-fitting sleeves and cowl neck. She wore a tulle veil, hip length and face veil tucked up with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and lilies of the valley.

Her sister, Miss Helen L. Todd of Trenton, was maid of honor. She was dressed in a rust velvet gown with rust hat and accessories. She carried bronze chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, Miss Helen Kenney and Miss Helen Cloughton of New York, wore green velvet gowns with hats and accessories to match. They carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Julian Hartridge, father of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Herbert M. Todd, brother of the bride; Chauncey Whitley of Providence, Rhode Island; John Heaton of Flushing and James Stevens of Orange.

Miss Jeannette Knight played the wedding march and Alexander Taylor of Bloomfield sang "I Love You Truly." A reception was held at the bride's home and afterward the couple left on a trip to Virginia. The bride is a graduate of the Atlantic Highlands high school and the New Jersey college for Women. Mr. Hartridge is a graduate of Exeter and Harvard university of the class of 1932.

Johnson—Ring.

The wedding of Miss Hanna Johnson and Douglas H. Ring, both of Red Bank, took place Friday evening in the First Presbyterian church, with Rev. John A. Hayes, pastor, officiating.

The attending couples were Mr. and Mrs. William Mumford of Little Silver, Miss Madge Gleeton of Red Bank and Henry Obre of Shrewsbury. After a dinner party at the Molly Pitcher hotel the couple left for New York city, where they spent a few days.

Mrs. Ring is a member of the faculty of Red Bank high school and a graduate of the University of Minnesota. Mr. Ring is a member of the technical staff of the Bell Telephone laboratories at Holmdel and a graduate of Leland Stanford university. The couple are now residing at Winfield drive, Little Silver.

Nielsen—Ackerman.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Louise Alfreda Nielsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nielsen of Jackson street, Fair Haven, to Arthur R. Ackerman, son of Mrs. Emily S. Ackerman of Harrison avenue, Fair Haven. Mr. Ackerman is employed in the engineering office of George K. Allen on Broad street.

Nyl Pu, a young Burmese actor, appeared tonight Miss Mitsuko Taka in "Daughter of Japan," a recent Japanese motion picture.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

Women's Club Meets at the Home of Mrs. Dora Tarnow of Belford.

The Women's Democratic club of Middletown township met at the home of Mrs. Dora Tarnow of Belford Tuesday evening. Each member made a promise to bring in a new member at the next meeting, which is to be held Tuesday, December 3, at the home of Mrs. Robert Porter near Middletown village. Plans will be made at this meeting for the club's annual theater party. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Tarnow.
