

Mayor Rigby, in Inaugural, Urges 'Grass Roots' Harmony for Peace

NEW SHREWSBURY—Mayor J. Lester Rigby, in an inaugural address on New Year's day, told a packed audience that efforts toward peace, understanding, freedom, dignity and progress have the home community as their best starting place.

He called this "through a grass roots community," and said that, in America, it is the "grass roots community that provides the moral fiber of our national political pride." And he asked for co-operation, one with the other, among all who live here.

"There is no corruption in the grass roots communities," said the new mayor. "There should be no political hypocrisy."

Deplores 'Dividing Fences'

Mayor Rigby expressed regret that most citizens are unwilling to take part in community affairs and deplored that, with this, "those few who do participate allow fences to be built to divide and impede their common purposes."

This indirect reference was the only one made in connection with the political upheaval that, in November, led borough voters to replace the Republican administration with one having a Democratic majority.

To reporters, after the session, Mayor Rigby gave the promise that "we (the Democrats) do not intend to undo work done by the previous administration. Our only goal is for co-operative forward progress for the good of all residents here."

Mayor Rigby told the newsmen that he has been given assurance by the Garden State Parkway commission that some routing problems which had been considered likely to cause a personal hardship to some property owners would be re-studied and probably changed. But he said he had asked for no changes that would conflict with decisions already made.

Altogether the meeting was one of apparent near harmony, shadowed only twice when two of the Republican councilmen who continued in service would not go along with appointments recommended by the new mayor. The school assembly room was filled to overflowing with visitors.

Gleim, Little 'Pass'

Councilman Harry S. Gleim and Francis P. Little "passed," without voting, when the mayor suggested the names of Milton Mausner, of Applegate, Foster, Reussell & Cornwell, as the new borough attorney; and John Osborn, as building inspector.

They, however, were not joined in these instances by Clarence Unterberg, Republican, elected last month by ex-Mayor George Stevens as a replacement for ex-Councilman Richard W. Liebert, who resigned, because he is moving to Pennsylvania. Mr. Unterberg voted for all appointments, others of which were confirmed unanimously.

The new body was presented with a six-foot high basket of flowers by Leon Williams and a group of members of the Community Center, an inter-racial organization.

In extending the gift, Mr. Williams said, "We wish you a happy administration of government of the people, for the people and with the people."

The meeting was opened with a prayer for peace and community strength, given by the Rev. Arthur (Continued on page 7)

Denise Begins Sixth Term as Fair Haven Mayor

Mayor Edgar V. Denise, center, sits at table with municipal officials at the borough's reorganization meeting New Year's day. It was the final meeting in the old fire house. Sworn into office by M. Floyd Smith, borough clerk, were Mayor Denise, who begins his sixth term as mayor, and Councilman Russell H. Minton, both re-elected in the November election, and Eugene Magee, who is beginning his first term as councilman. From left to right are Councilmen Peter J. Eichele, Tony E. Hunting and Magee, Mr. Smith, Mayor Denise, George Curchin, collector, and Councilmen Arthur H. Rieman, Minton and Jesse J. McIlroy. Mr. Minton was elected council president.

Chamber Warns Of Selling Scheme

Citing a bulletin from the National Better Business Bureau, Ray E. Taylor, executive vice president of the Red Bank Community Chamber of Commerce, today urges householders to report "bait and switch" tactics in the selling of rebuilt appliances.

"This scheme is a nationwide problem, according to the National Better Business Bureau," Mr. Taylor said. "The most effective way to stamp it out is for the public to know what the scheme is, how it works, and to report to us every instance of bait practice."

Labeled as typical "bait" offers are those of some firms engaged in the selling of rebuilt vacuum cleaners and sewing machines which feature famous brand names, ridiculously low prices, and all sorts of reinforcing inducements, such as "free machines" to the first ten to respond.

Customers can easily detect "bait and switch" selling methods, Mr. Taylor said, by looking for three tell-tale signs. The first is "knocking" of an offered rebuilt vacuum cleaner, sewing machine, etc., by the salesman after the consumer responds to the high pressure selling.

"He may not start knocking the wonderful 'bargain' offer until after he has made a sale, but the disparagement of the rebuilt appliance is the beginning of the 'switch' process. After making it clear that the advertised rebuilt cleaner is a poor bargain the salesman switches the customer's interest to a new one, much higher in price, and usually with a much less famous brand name than that of the rebuilt machine. From the start of the operation the intent of both the advertiser and his salesman has been to sell this new appliance. The 'bait' was used to get the salesman into the home for a demonstration or to bring the customer to the store."

The second sure sign for the householder is evasiveness over delivery of the rebuilt appliance in case the customer insists on purchasing it. The N.B.B.B. reports that salesmen who actually sell the advertised bargain often lose their jobs. So if they can't switch the customer to a new machine by running down the one advertised and building up the new one they "just happened" to bring along, the customer is likely to find he can't have the rebuilt machine at any price.

"This evasiveness," according to the National Better Business Bureau, "takes several forms. The item is sold out, and only orders against future delivery will be taken. Promise of a delivery date is purposefully vague. If the order is taken, persistent attempts follow to persuade the customer to switch to the new, and readily available, machine."

Failure to obtain delivery is the third mark of a bait practice. Mr. Taylor said and should also be reported whenever a firm engaged in promoting rebuilt appliances at ridiculously low prices, with all sorts of extravagant inducements to serve as "bait."

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Olive B. Gilbert Tuthill; a daughter, Mrs. Helen, wife of George Edward Gilbert, Abconco; a sister, Mrs. Marion, wife of Dr. John Philip Stout, 511 River rd., this place, and two grandchildren.

The funeral was held Monday night at the Red Bank Methodist church, with Rev. Charles S. Webster, pastor of the Red Bank Presbyterian church, officiating. John Forcia was organist, and Mrs. Therese McClintock was soloist. Burial under the direction of the Worden Funeral home was in Fair View cemetery, Tuesday morning. A prayer service for the immediate family was held Tuesday morning at the Methodist church, with Rev. Mr. Webster officiating.

Red Banker Held For Grand Jury

Oscar H. Lomax, 24, of 239 Bridge ave., who was released from the state prison at Annapolis in September, after serving 18 months on a burglary charge, was held for action of the grand jury Saturday morning by Magistrate John V. Crowell on a charge of burglary.

Lomax was arrested New Year's eve after being shot in the left leg by Patrolman Irving Krakowitch. According to Deputy Police Chief George Clayton, Red Bank police received a message from police at Camden Wednesday afternoon of last week saying they wanted Lomax in connection with six burglaries there. He was stopped on Shrewsbury ave. later that night by Krakowitch and Patrolman Edward Brooks, Lomax, Deputy Chief Clayton said, started to run away and was shot in the leg by Krakowitch. He was treated at Riverview hospital.

According to Clayton, Lomax had been breaking into Charles' West Bergen market, West Bergen pl., Dec. 30, and stealing $50 from the cash register. Deputy Chief Clayton added Lomax also admitted attempting to break into the same market New Year's eve.

Deputy Chief Clayton said Lomax had been wanted by Camden police since October when he allegedly broke into a bearing foundry there. He was caught, according to Clayton, but escaped by slipping out of his coat and running away. At the time of his arrest here, Lomax was carrying a suitcase. Police said he was going to Philadelphia with Doris Jordan of 239 Bridge ave.

As a reward for outstanding sales achievement Jack Mount and his wife Phyllis will sail from New York January 7 aboard the RMS Caronia, as guest of General Electric Appliances company, for an 11-day cruise to South America, Cuba and the West Indies. They will be part of a group of 128 G-E dealers, their wives and key G-E distributor personnel earning the trip. Ports of call will include La Guaira and Caracas, Venezuela; Willemstad, Curacao, and Havana, Cuba.

Local Couple Wins Southern Cruise

BLOOMFIELD—J. C. Saur, manager of the North Jersey Branch of General Electric Appliances company, Bloomfield, has announced that J. H. Mount, local G-E dealer, is one of the winners in Caribbean Fiesta, a sales contest recently conducted by the company.

As a reward for outstanding sales achievement Jack Mount and his wife Phyllis will sail from New York January 7 aboard the RMS Caronia, as guest of General Electric Appliances company, for an 11-day cruise to South America, Cuba and the West Indies. They will be part of a group of 128 G-E dealers, their wives and key G-E distributor personnel earning the trip. Ports of call will include La Guaira and Caracas, Venezuela; Willemstad, Curacao, and Havana, Cuba.

According to Mr. Saur, this Caribbean Fiesta activity represents the company's most successful sales proposition of 1952 in the North Jersey G-E distributorship.

T. W. Osborn, G-E sales counselor for this district, has likewise been awarded the trip for his outstanding sales achievement during the Caribbean Fiesta contest and will be a member of the party.

Middletown Names Rauch As Treasurer

MIDDLETOWN—J. Francis Rauch, director of civil defense, was appointed township treasurer by the township committee at its organization meeting New Year's day as Mayor Lawrence A. Carlton, Jr. reported that a conservative estimate of the municipality's population now exceeds 20,000.

Mr. Rauch was appointed for a one-year term to succeed the late Joseph E. Johnson, who had died in the post for 26 years when he died in October. The committee passed a resolution thanking Mrs. Elizabeth Hubbs, assistant clerk, and Mrs. Dorothy J. Dorsett, assistant treasurer, for carrying on the duties since Mr. Johnson's death.

Another new officeholder named at the organization meeting is Francis W. Lawley, Conover lane, who was appointed to the newly-created post of legal adviser to the board of adjustment. The salary for the job will be fixed at the budget meeting, the committee decided. Mayor Carlton said the position was created because the township had requested several times that a legal adviser be present at its meetings. The resolution appointing Mr. Lawley states that "it is understood that he should attend all meetings" of the board.

Committee member J. Crawford Compton, re-elected in November, was sworn in by Clerk Howard W. Roberts. Mr. Carlton was elected to succeed himself as mayor, or chairman of the township committee.

The annual message delivered by Mayor Carlton is as follows: "A brief review of 1952 in Middletown township reveals that it has been a year of expansion and growth. A conservative estimate places the present all year population at a figure in excess of 20,000. The completion of the Parkway and the increasing attractiveness of residing in the suburbs forebode a much larger population in the coming years.

"This growth has brought with it many new problems and has added complications to some of the old ones. Fortunately many of these have been anticipated. The township committee has adopted numer-

Price Takes Oath For Third Time

EATONTOWN—The swearing in of F. Bliss Price to his third term as mayor, highlighted the reorganization meeting of the borough council here at noon New Year's day.

Also administered the oath of office were Councilmen George V. Odell and Leon B. Smock, Jr., and Tax Collector Albert C. Wolcott. Following these ceremonies, council re-elected Councilman Spencer M. Patterson president of the council.

Council committees reappointed by Mayor Price, the chairman being named first in each instance, were finance and ordinances, Mr. Odell, Mr. Smock and Fred S. Morris; parks and playgrounds, Mr. Smock, Mr. Morris and Mr. Patterson; roads, streets and sanitation, James N. Wolcott, Jr., Mr. Morris and Ralph L. Lewis; police, lights and public welfare, Mr. Morris, Mr. Wolcott and Mr. Smock; fire and water, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Patterson and Mr. Smock, and borough property, buildings and insurance, Mr. Patterson, Mr. Odell and Mr. Wolcott.

Speeches were held to a minimum, Mayor Price extending his and the council's New Year greetings to the residents. The meeting was attended by about 25 persons, including Mr. Price and three children.

Officials appointed by the Mayor included Albert C. Wolcott, treasurer and tax searcher; Howard W. Roberts, attorney; O. Wolcott, Morris, engineer; Charles W. Roberts, building inspector; Charles Krueger and Andrew G. Becker, members of the board of health; Mrs. Elizabeth Wolcott, Mrs. Hazel Cadman, Mrs. Doris Angiebeck, Mrs. Eleanor Compton and Mrs. Betty Dietz, library board; Clifford Caron and Theodore McGinniss, four-year terms and Mayor Price, two-year term on the planning board; Wallace Jeffrey, auditor; Herbert Werner, board of adjustment; and Edward Emmons, board of assessors.

Special police officers are Mayor Price, members of the council, J. Ely Miller, Benjamin VanKuren, Daniel Terry, Clifford Brower, Ralph Norwood, Edward Emmons, Stanley Dussman, Charles E. Becker, Arthur Coltrane, Nicholas Meyer, Jr., Harry Covert, Harry N. Kirkgaard and Henry Riddle.

George Winning was sworn into office by Borough Clerk Andrew G. Becker as fire chief. Following it, Mayor Price presented an ex-chief's badge to Stanley Dussman, Councilman Lewis, representing the fire company, presented a set of ex-chief's pins to Mr. Dussman and praised the outgoing chief for having done "an outstanding job."

The first National bank of Eatontown, New Jersey Trust company of Long Branch and Merchants Trust company of Red Bank were designated depositories of borough funds.

A temporary budget of $17,940 was adopted.

Line officers advancing in the company are Jerold Franklin, captain; Mr. Sicksel, first lieutenant; and Everett Brower, engineer. Fire police who have been re-elected include Fred Brower, Fred Menden, Milton Reed, Roy J. King and Joseph Whalen.

Committee appointments will be offered by Mr. Holiday. One of the most important posts to be filled, according to the incoming president, is the ways and means committee which supervises the collection of waste paper, a project the company plans to increase during the coming year. The paper collections are made the second Sunday of every month. The next collection will be Sunday, Jan. 11.

Relief to Install New Officers

Joseph Holiday will be installed as president of the Relief Engine company at a meeting tonight at the fire house on Drummond pl. He will succeed Fred Colmorgen.

Other company officers to be installed include Earl Stout, vice president; Joseph Eschelbach, secretary; August Colmorgen, treasurer; John G. Cron, chaplain; John L. Allen, assistant chaplain, and Edmund F. Sicksel, sergeant-at-arms.

There was no change in the mayor's council committees. Included, the chairman being named first in each instance, were finance and ordinances, Mr. Satter, Charles W. Stephens and Mr. Weigel; roads, and sanitation, Mr. Stephens, George R. Woodhead and Joseph F. Lord; lights, ordinances and insurance, Mr. Woodhead, Mr. Lord and Mr. Satter; fire and water, Mr. Lord, Mr. Satter and Donald E. Lawes; police, Mr. Lawes, Mr. Weigel and Mr. Stephens; public buildings and grounds, Mr. Weigel, Mr. Lawes and Mr. Woodhead.

Named as depositories for borough money were Merchants Trust company, Second National bank, Sea Bright National bank and Alenhurst National bank.

A temporary budget of $19,182.30 was adopted.

Crochet, Rieck Are Re-seated At Oceanport

Foggia Elected To Head Council As Group Reorganizes

OCEANPORT—Arthur L. Crochet and John D. Rieck, re-elected to council in November's election, were sworn into office by William P. Flockner, borough clerk, at the reorganization meeting of the mayor and council New Year's day. Councilman Felix Foggia was elected council president.

Committee appointments made by Mayor Edward C. Wilson are as follows, the first named in each case being chairman: Mr. Crochet, Adrian Clough and Mr. Rieck, fire; Mr. Foggia and Mr. Rieck, police; Mr. Clough and Mr. Crochet, finance; Franklin Ingram and Clinton W. Wood, ordinances; Mr. Wood and Mr. Ingram, streets; Mr. Ingram and Mr. Wood, parks; Mr. Foggia and Mr. Crochet, street lighting, and Mr. Rieck and Mr. Crochet, sanitation.

Named to office by Mayor Wilson were George C. D. Hurley, treasurer; J. W. Seaman, engineer; Lloyd N. Sicksel, road supervisor; Thomas N. Ross, building inspector; Walter P. Brown, plumbing inspector; Mrs. Gladys Myers, municipal court clerk; Henry J. Anderson and Charles J. Hoyt, board of health; Mayor Wilson and Alexander Borros, local assistance board, and Mr. Fleckner, searcher of assessment liens. Charles W. Jones, re-appointed borough attorney by Mayor Wilson with confirmation of council, was sworn in by Mr. Fleckner. Mr. Hurley was named searcher of liens by resolution.

William P. Brown and Arthur L. Myers, recently elected chief and assistant chief, respectively, of the fire company, were presented badges by Mayor Wilson. John J. Murphy, retiring chief, was presented with an ex-chief's bar met.

Council adopted a temporary budget of $20,000. The first and third Thursdays of the month were set as official meeting days of the mayor and council. The Long Branch banking company was designated the borough depository by resolution.

Council held its first official meeting of the year immediately following the adjournment of its reorganization session. Mr. Clough reported the borough attorney had filed a complaint against the Portaupeck water company with the Public Utility commission and expressed hope the commission would have a hearing on the matter within a week. The borough has been fighting for an improvement in water service in that part of the borough, where the pressure is extremely low, for a number of years. Mayor Wilson expressed the hope that 1953 will see an end of the problem in Portaupeck.

There was no change in the mayor's council committees. Included, the chairman being named first in each instance, were finance and ordinances, Mr. Satter, Charles W. Stephens and Mr. Weigel; roads, and sanitation, Mr. Stephens, George R. Woodhead and Joseph F. Lord; lights, ordinances and insurance, Mr. Woodhead, Mr. Lord and Mr. Satter; fire and water, Mr. Lord, Mr. Satter and Donald E. Lawes; police, Mr. Lawes, Mr. Weigel and Mr. Stephens; public buildings and grounds, Mr. Weigel, Mr. Lawes and Mr. Woodhead.

Named as depositories for borough money were Merchants Trust company, Second National bank, Sea Bright National bank and Alenhurst National bank.

A temporary budget of $19,182.30 was adopted.

March of Dimes Appeals for Help

ASBURY PARK—The appealing face of a husky youngster on crutches, greeted several hundred Monmouth county residents as they open their mail this week. The boy is Freddie Baker of Long Branch, a polio victim, and his picture is on a folder mailed by Roland J. Hines of Asbury Park, chairman of the county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Accompanying the folder is a blank "check" on which residents can inscribe the amount of their donation to the 1953 March of Dimes campaign to "fight polio."

Also pictured on the folder are six other shore residents, all crippled by the dread disease within the past two years. They are Marie Schoro of Cliffwood Beach, Mrs. Antonette Kingdom of Fair Haven, Lois Schneider of Oakhurst, Orville Schaeffer of Deal, Shirley Wilf of Asbury Park and Bernice Ahern of Belmar.

Shirley and Marie, who were returned to their homes last month after being patients more than a year in the polio ward at Monmouth Memorial hospital, are still confined to rocking beds. The others still require regular treatments at the hospital and will for many months to come.

The funds for those special pieces of equipment and the treatments come from contributions made to the March of Dimes by the men, women and children of Monmouth county. The county needs $48,000 this year to pay the current cost. Only 25 cents from each resident would help reach this quota, Mr. Hines said.

Resolution

BE IT RESOLVED by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Rumson, that the time and place for the regular meeting of the governing body be and the same are hereby fixed as the second and fourth Thursdays of each and every month, at the hour of 8:30 o'clock P. M., at the Council Chamber of Memorial Borough Hall, and that the Clerk be and he is hereby authorized and directed to publish notice thereof in the Red Bank Register for one publication, to-wit: January 11, 1953.

Broad St. Merchant Sells Out To Partners—Will Live in Florida

Harry B. Clayton, Sr., member of the well-known clothing firm of Clayton & Magee, 19 Broad st., sold his interests last Friday to his partners, Mrs. Elizabeth Magee and her son, Eugene M. Magee, Jr. The sale not only includes Mr. Clayton's interests in the clothing business but also his interests in the firm's building and real estate.

Eugene M. Magee, Jr.

Mr. Clayton began his local business career as a salesman in Ford & Miller's shoe store in 1899. In 1912 he became associated with the First National bank of Red Bank, which later merged with the Red Bank Trust company, and remained in the banking business until 1924, at which time he, together with Eugene M. Magee, Sr., and James T. Clayton, sold their partnership under the firm name of Clayton & Magee. The firm bought out the estate of Henry N. Supp, who had operated a clothing store on the same site, and in the same building since 1870.

James T. Clayton died in the fall of 1934, at which time Eugene M. Magee, Sr., and Harry B. Clayton bought out the interests of James T. Clayton's widow in the business. The following spring, May 1935, Mr. Magee died, and his widow took over his interests, and she has been active in the firm ever since. Her son, Eugene M. Magee, Jr., joined (Continued on page 2)

Farrell Heads Police, Jacobsen Council President in Sea Bright

SEA BRIGHT—Mayor George H. Kraus re-organized the local government New Year's day, and in a move for unity, named ex-Mayor Thomas Farrell, chairman of council's police committee, one of the top posts the borough has to offer.

"I am sure we are going to have harmony and will get along very well together in our efforts for community progress," Mayor Kraus told a reporter in discussing the appointment.

Mr. Farrell, who has been a good mayor and councilman in his many years of unselfish and hard-working public service, is very welcome on this board. It's good to see him back."

Situation Reversed

It was Mayor Kraus who, in 1951, defeated Mr. Farrell in his race for a fifth term as mayor. During the Farrell administration, Mr. Kraus had served as one of his council bodies as councilman. Now the same situation exists in reverse.

The mayor and council paid homage to Councilman Neils Jacobsen who has been on the board for more than 25 years, by naming him council president, a post he has held before.

Borough Clerk Clarence Stevens administered the oath of office to Mr. Farrell, Democrat, and Charles Eilenberger, Republican, each of whom were elected to full three-year terms. Also sworn in was Mr. Jacobsen who was elected in November to the unexpired term of Clarence Stevens. Mr. Jacobsen was appointed in Jan., 1952, to fill the vacancy created when Mr. Stevens resigned to take office as borough clerk.

In a brief New Year's day message, the mayor wished peace, prosperity, health and success for residents of this shore resort in the year ahead. He asked that the council prepare to do a job that will win the respect and approval of the voters, and stressed that much can be done for the improvement of the town. His remarks won him applause both by town members of the local government

With the aid of an aroused community, we were successful in persuading the State Highway commission of the need for this protection. We are grateful to Commissioner (J. Randolph) Abbott for his help and that of the State Highway department, and also all those who aided in the campaign. We are also working on lights for highway intersections at Port Monmouth, Leonardo and Hendden's Corner.

"In 1952 also was begun a program for relieving the erosion of the beaches along the Bayshore. We are hopeful of obtaining additional financial aid from the state to aid in this program.

"The road improvement program undertaken several years ago is still in progress and 1952 saw many new roads improved, as well as the older ones resurfaced. This program will be continued and, we hope, augmented in 1953.

"A difficult problem requiring immediate solution is that of garbage disposal. Consideration is being given to the creation of a sanitary land fill similar to those successfully employed in other municipalities in New Jersey.

"A tax map is an increasing necessity. We hope to begin such a map this year.

"The township committee feels that 1952 was a year of solid and satisfactory progress. It could not have been so without the aid of the employees and officials, as well as the people of the community. A special word of commendation should go to the members of our volunteer fire department for their co-operation. We pause, too, to express appreciation of the often unsung work of the civil defense council, and all those helping in the civil defense work, under the able guidance of J. Francis Rauch.

"During the latter part of the year we lost by death an old and faithful friend and official, Township Treasurer Joseph E. Johnson. We mourn his loss and will miss his friendly help, and also that of our late fire chief, John Fowler.

"The township committee and all the members of the official family extend to the citizens of our great township New Year greetings and our best wishes for a happy, prosperous and peaceful year. To all those in the armed service of the United States we wish an early and safe return to their homes and families."

The following were re-appointed by the committee: Craig Finnegan, township engineer; Collector Earl E. Eastmond, tax searcher; Mr. Robert's assessment searcher; Dr. Marc Krohn, township physician; Mrs. Dorsett, assistant to collector; David Simpson, building inspector; William A. Sternkopf, Jr., township auditor; and Charles H. Tindall, board of adjustment for five years.

It was decided the committee would continue to meet on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at 3:30 p. m. The Atlantic Highlands National bank and the Kenansburg National bank were again selected as the depositories.

The following were appointed to the Compton's Creek Harbor commission for the periods indicated: William Dennis, five years; Charles Schmoor, four years; Mr. Finnegan, three years; Victor E. Grossinger, two years, and Charles H. Lohsen, one year.

The following standing committees were appointed, with the first named on each committee being the chairman: finance, Frank F. Blaisdell, Mr. Compton and Walter J. Bills; roads, Mr. Carlton, Mr. Blaisdell, Mr. Edwards, police, Mr. Bills, Mr. Carlton, Mr. Blaisdell; welfare and health, Mr. Edwards, Mr. Bills, Mr. Compton; public works, Mr. Compton, Mr. Edwards and Mr. Carlton.

The township was divided into the nine election districts in another resolution, with a member of the committee responsible for each district in the event of emergencies needing immediate attention that cannot wait until the next regular meeting. The division of districts is as follows: first, Middletown, and fifth, Lincoln-River Plaza, Mr. Blaisdell; second, Navasink, and seventh, East Kenansburg, Mr. Edwards; third, Belford, and sixth, Port Monmouth, Mr. Compton; fourth and ninth, Leonardo, Mr. Bills; and eighth, Hendden's Corner, Mr. Carlton.

No action was taken on the appointment of a township attorney. The post had been held for many years by the late William Foster, who died during the year. Members of his firm of Applegate, Foster, Reussille and Cornwell continued in that post after his death. A temporary budget, provided by statute, was adopted in the amount of $94,020.

Mr. Blaisdell thanked and commended Mr. Carlton for his work as a township official, much of which is done without the knowledge of township residents. He also commended William Stoba, who acted as fire chief after the death of Mr. Fowler.

Mr. Bills announced unofficially that the state highway department has contacted the police department about making some streets in Leonardo one-way, indicating progress is being made in efforts to get a traffic light on Route 36 in Leonardo.

The following were named special officers: J. Harold Cruise, Ned E. Hammond, Jerry Generelli, James E. Hubbs, Harold Neumiller, Joseph J. Murphy, Richard F. Lockwood, Harry P. Butler, Arnold Wood, Jr., J. Russell Clark, Robert Fowler, Charles Oberlin, Charles H. Hubbs, J. Stanley Thurn, Steven Hueth, Richard W. Wetter, Thomas Vivian, George C. Yarnall and J. H. Schanck.

The township board of health also held its organization meeting, and William C. Johnson, assessor, was again named president. Mr. Roberts was re-elected secretary and was designated as the official to issue disbursement permits.

Other appointments by the health board were: Dr. Krohn, inspector and registrar of communicable diseases; Dirk Hoffman, plumbing inand by an audience that filled the borough hall.

It was a very brief session, largely devoted to the appointment of borough employees and council committee.

Confirm All Jobs

The mayor won endorsement of his appointments, including that of Otis R. Seaman to replace O. Wolcott Morris as borough engineer. Mr. Morris was repeatedly under council fire in 1952 for what members criticized as over-delay in making reports and handling official requests.

Mr. Stevens, who was elected collector in November, was continued in his triple role of borough collector, treasurer and clerk, posts he has held since the death of Edmund C. Cline, who had been collector for several years.

Other appointments confirmed retained in their jobs George A. Gray, attorney; Joseph J. Seaman, auditor; Herbert Fowler, building inspector; John P. Weir, magistrate; James Thorsen, superintendent of streets and plumbing inspector; Ida Jacobsen, overseer of the poor; Dr. John D. Powers, physician, and Victor C. Perotti, borough electrician and chairman of civil defense. Mrs. Adeline Covert was named librarian, to replace Mrs. Marie Brown.

The Sea Bright National bank was designated as official depository and the Red Bank Register, Long Branch Daily Record and Asbury Park Press, official newspapers.

It was decided to continue to hold regular meetings at 8 p. m. on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Council confirmed the mayor's incouncil committees, as follows, with the first named being the chairman of each:

Police—Farrell, Ellenberger and Kenneth Anderson; finance and insurance—John J. Picknelly, Farrell and Jacobsen; beach—Anderson, Ralph W. Lawrence and Ellenberger; fire and water—Lawrence, Anderson and Picknelly; streets and lights—Jacobsen, Picknelly and Farrell; sewers and sanitation—Ellenberger, Jacobsen and Lawrence; and playground—Lawrence.

Mayor Kraus and members of council endorsed a proposal to construct an inlet in the South Beach section, a plan being backed by the Sea Bright Lions club. Official approval of the proposal was requested by Councilman Ralph L. Lawrence, who pointed out that Mayor Alexander Vneburg of Long Branch and others are in favor of the inlet, according to Mr. Lawrence the inlet would bring financial returns to shore communities and would be invaluable in national defense.

The election of Charles Dillone, Jr., and Charles Carlson as fire chief and assistant chief, respectively, was confirmed by council. Approved as fire drivers were Henry Renshaw, Harry Lake, Frank Covert, Bert Emmons, John Carlson, Edmund Ryan and John Foraman.

Mr. Jacobsen announced that Leonard Dreyfuss, state civilian defense director, had authorized the reopening of this borough's "Operation Skywatch," the ground observer station. The station he added will reopen immediately. Watchers who have had 100 hours' service will receive awards Jan. 30, according to Mr. Jacobsen.

the firm in 1934. Arch Brown, who has been head salesman with the firm, took employment in the establishment in 1935.

Harry B. Clayton is a native son, all his life having spent here. He received his early education in Red Bank public schools and has been an outstanding civic leader as well as a reputable merchant. He served on the Red Bank board of education six years, Red Bank borough council four years, board of health 25 years and for the past two years was its president. He is an active member of the North Shrewsbury Iceboat and Yacht club, and former member of the Red Bank Rotary club and the Monmouth Boat club. He has recently purchased a residence in St. Petersburg, Fla., and has planned to spend six months of the year there and the other six months in this vicinity. He and Mrs. Clayton will leave in a few days for their new location, on the Gulf coast.

The business will be continued under the same firm name of Clayton & Magee and at present there is no contemplated change in the policy of this well known established firm.

Eugene M. Magee, Jr., served overseas during World War II with the 9th Armored division, United States Army. He is an active member and past treasurer of the Red Bank Lions club, an active member and past master of Mystic Brotherhood lodge No. 21, F.A.M. Red Bank, and is a newly elected member of the Fair Haven borough council, being sworn into office last Thursday. He is also an active member of the First Baptist church, Red Bank; Hiram chapter No. 1, Royal Arch Masons; Field Council No. 12, Royal and Select Masters; treasurer of Bayview Forest, No. 18, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, and Male Glee club of the Apollo club of Asbury Park.

RETURNS TO COLLEGE
Marshall Whitfield, son of Mrs. Jacob B. Rue, Jr. of Holmdel, returned this week to St. Lawrence university at Canton, N. Y., where he is a first-year student. Mr. Whitfield is majoring in business administration. He also is a member of the college R.O.T. unit.

Plan Programs For Women

TRENTON—What home life is like in other lands, how to brighten a home with color, new types of carpeting and freezer food plans will be among topics discussed at this year's meetings for women Jan. 28 and 29 in connection with annual New Jersey Farmers' Week. The meetings are under the auspices of the New Jersey State Department of Agriculture and the home economics extension service. They are open to all women without charge as an educational service.

"Strengthening Family Life" will be the theme of the opening session in the Stacy-Trent hotel at 10 a. m. Speakers will be Edward Pope, extension specialist in child development and family relationships at Cornell university, and two homemakers recently from other countries, one from Asia and another from Europe.

A luncheon will be sponsored Wednesday by homemakers who attended the extension service women's camp at the New Jersey 4-H club camp in Stokes forest last summer.

Attention in the afternoon will be focused on home beautification with Mrs. Helen Taylor, colorist of W. T. Grant Co., speaking on "What Color Does for You" and Walter Guinan of Karistan rug division of Marshall Field Co., reporting on "Carpeting Today."

"Farming in the Sea" will be the lead-off subject Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, with John Van Glin of the New York Fishery council as speaker. Freezer food plans will be discussed by Mrs. Nancy Mastermann of the Crooley Corp.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Frank Maguire, South Orange, and Mrs. John Sangree, Glassboro, will report on the national home demonstration council meeting in Raleigh, N. C., in October. Final speaker will be Mrs. Ruth R. Honey, professor of family economics and housing at Penn State college, who will talk about using cupboards efficiently.

For the benefit of women staying in Trenton for evening meetings, a session of photographic slide viewing will be held at 3:45 p. m. Slides will be shown of the women's camp held this summer by Mrs. Doris Anderson, of 18th century houses by Charlotte Hurley and of Alaska by Mrs. Mary Armstrong, all of the extension service staff of Rutgers university.

CAR Society Marks 18th Birthday

A birthday party marking the 18th anniversary of Mary Stillwell society, Children American Revolution, was held last week at Trinity Episcopal church parish house on West Front st. Guests included Miss Joan Seng of New Brunswick, junior state president of the C.A.R., and Mrs. Jacob B. Rue, Sr., who was regent of Monmouth chapter, Daughters American Revolution, when that group found Mary Stillwell society.

Mrs. Carlos Ordonez, senior president of the C.A.R., introduced guests, and Susanne Jones, junior president, presided. The society members attending were George and Betsy Castleman, Jehu P. Cooper, 4th, Pamela Cooper, Gail Cooper, Lynne Day, John Gibson, Martha Gibson, James Hague, Nancy Dent Kendall, Anne Moeller, Peter and Mary Moeller, Patricia Ordonez, Betsy Nen Parmy, Stephen and Susanne Perkins and Clara Tilton.

The society gave a silver serving dish to Mrs. Minor B. Tilton, ex-senior president who served for two years. Refreshments included a large birthday cake, decorated with 18 candles.

Guests of the society were Jon Beers, William and Charles Parkell and Virginia Lengendort. C.A.R. members attending were George and Betsy Castleman, Jehu P. Cooper, 4th, Pamela Cooper, Gail Cooper, Lynne Day, John Gibson, Martha Gibson, James Hague, Nancy Dent Kendall, Anne Moeller, Peter and Mary Moeller, Patricia Ordonez, Betsy Nen Parmy, Stephen and Susanne Perkins and Clara Tilton.

Central Railroad Adds New Lines

JERSEY CITY—The lines of railroad in Pennsylvania, now operated by the Central Railroad company of Pennsylvania will be operated by the Central Railroad company of New Jersey under lease and will be designated as the Pennsylvania division of the Central Railroad company of New Jersey.

E. T. Moore, president of the Jersey Central Lines, announced last week. All officers and employees of Central of Pennsylvania will become employees of Central of New Jersey without change in seniority, rules, rates of pay, working conditions or other terms of employment. Mr. Moore said, and all assets and liabilities of CRP will be taken over by CNJ.

He added that the Central Railroad company of Pennsylvania will be continued as a separate corporation owning the branch line connecting with the main tracks of the Pennsylvania division at E&W Junction, 4.38 miles west of Easton, and that this branch line will be leased to and operated by the Central Railroad company of New Jersey as a part of its Pennsylvania division.

Police to Study Youth's Problems

NEW BRUNSWICK — Police officers of New Jersey municipalities are being invited by Rutgers university to attend a five-day school on juvenile problems on the state university campus here Feb. 16 through 20.

The school grows out of co-operation with the governor's committee on youth, state department of institutions and agencies, New Jersey department of law and public safety, and the New Jersey Chiefs of Police association.

The school is designed to assist police officers in handling problems of the youthful offender. One-half of the program will be devoted to psychological and sociological approaches and the other half to legal aspects, functions of detention and institutions, the role of the state diagnostic center at Menlo Park, and the part probation, social work, and the community play in working with youth.

The instruction will be given by members of the Rutgers staff in psychology and sociology and selected individuals in the state who are working with youth problems.

Rutgers representatives include Harry C. Bredemeier, assistant professor of economics and sociology; Francis M. Dowd, lecturer in psychology; Paul A. Fine, research associate in sociology; Myron J. Lefcowitz, instructor in sociology; Dr. Charles F. Marden, assistant professor of sociology; Dr. John W. Riley, head of department of sociology; Dr. Jay Rumney, professor of sociology; Dr. Anna S. Starr, director of psychological clinic and head of department of psychology; Richard M. Stephenson, instructor in sociology, and Dr. Jackson Toby, lecturer in sociology.

Visiting lecturers include Bertram M. Beck, chief of special juvenile delinquency project, U. S. Children's bureau; Dr. Ralph M. Brancato, director of the diagnostic center; L. Van D. Chandler, chief probation officer, Bergen county; Sgt. William DiCrista, police department, Hackensack; Donald H. Goff, supervisor of training and programs, state department of institutions and agencies; Stephen H. Kneisel, superintendent of Essex county parental school; Douglas H. MacNeil, director of community services, state department of institutions and agencies; Judge David Nimmo, juvenile court, Hudson county; Doris D. Swain, director of child and family service bureau and lecturer in sociology; Lieut. Owen Toolen, police department, Hackensack, and Judge Thomas L. Zimmerman, juvenile court, Bergen county.

SENTENCED TO JAIL

John Jones of Cherry st., New Shrewsbury, was sentenced to from 30 to 45 days in the county jail Wednesday morning of last week by Magistrate John V. Crowell on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. Jones was found in the back yard of 221 Pearl st. early Wednesday morning. He was arrested by Patrolmen Alonzo Curchin and Emerson Williams after he started a fight with them when they told him to leave the yard.

Questions and Answers To Veterans' Problems

Q. I have a 20-year endowment National Service Life Insurance policy, and I find that the premiums are too much for me to handle. Can I exchange it for another permanent plan with lower premiums?

A. Yes. You may exchange it for another permanent plan having a lower reserve value but not to a term policy. Your new insurance would bear the same date and be based on the same age as your present policy. Your current policy, however, must be in force under premium-paying conditions, and you must pass a physical examination.

Q. I am a World War II veteran and I was recalled to active duty. My NBLI term policy now is under waiver. Now that I'm about to be discharged, I want to pick up my policy again. I realize that my first premium is due 120 days after I get out of service. But, in case I need it, will I have the regular grace period, after that time, to pay it?

A. Yes. The regular 31-day grace period is allowed for payment of your first premium.

Q. What does VA consider full-time training under the Korean GI Bill in an undergraduate course offered by an accredited college?

A. Full-time training in such a course would be at least 16 semester hours or the equivalent.

Q. Are there any charges made for obtaining a GI home loan?

A. VA makes no charge for guaranteeing the loan. No commission or brokerage fees may be charged, either. The lender, however, may charge reasonable closing costs. He also may make a reasonable flat charge to cover the costs of originating the loan.

CHRYSLER'S New Yorker DE LUXE

IT IS MORE CAR THAN YOU BELIEVED COULD EXIST...

If you're buying a car in the better ranges, there's a special reason this year to drive a Chrysler New Yorker before you decide. In this car are values you won't find elsewhere at any price today. Its great engine is not just surpassingly powerful, but new in performance and ruggedness. Its Power Brakes, full-time Power Steering and Oriflow ride give you not just better control... but a new kind of control, a new sense of safety. Its beauty is splendidly its own... splendidly right. Interiors are exquisite beyond compare—with fabrics and appointments that are the final word in luxury. Except for Chrysler's own Imperial, here is a car which is unequalled, and is unlikely to be equalled for years to come. Your Chrysler dealer cordially invites you to drive it at your convenience.

Jersey Fourth In Truck Crops

TRENTON—Almost half of the total 157,200 acres planted to vegetable crops in New Jersey in 1952 was harvested for processing, according to preliminary reports of the New Jersey Crop Reporting Service.

The crops from 74,980 acres were sold to canning and freezing plants last year, accounting for $15,514,000, or about 31 per cent of the total $48,640,000 value of commercial vegetable crops grown in the state.

New Jersey now ranks fourth in the nation in value of truck crops harvested for processing, and sixth in total value of all commercial vegetable crops.

Tomatoes accounted for 34,000 of the total acres devoted to vegetables for processing in 1952. Last year's total production of 187,000 tons was valued at $4,470,000, compared with $16,200 tons worth $10,751,000 produced in 1951.

The 16,700 acres of asparagus, grown exclusively for processing in New Jersey, had a value of $4,446,000 in 1952.

Other crops marketed to canners, freezers and other plants included lima beans (11,800 acres), $1,529,000; peas (3,280 acres), $494,000; snap beans (2,800 acres), $737,000; spinach (1,900 acres), $1,092,000; beets (650 acres), $138,000, and miscellaneous crops (3,880 acres), $408,000.

Frank J. Hall, a mayorally appointed, who did not seek election last November, for "putting his shoulder to the wheel to help us over the rough spots." Mr. Hall replied that "teamwork and co-operation were major factors toward council's progress last year. Although many obstacles were overcome," Mr. Hall said, "many problems remain."

At a meeting Tuesday night of last week, council approved veterans' exemptions of $300 for Edgar F. Haupt, Robert E. Johnson and William R. Beatty.

Text of the mayor's address on New Year's day follows:

May I first extend to each of you a most happy, prosperous and healthy New Year, and again thank you for the confidence you displayed by electing me to the office of mayor. I assure you that I will do my utmost to carry out the duties of that office to the best interests of the residents and taxpayers of the borough.

It is a pleasure to again welcome the return of Mr. Bahrs on his re-election to the council. Mr. Bahrs has ably served as chairman of the finance committee and has assisted in the operation of every department since he has been a member of the governing body. I also desire to welcome Robert G. Diebold as our new councilman. Mr. Diebold has been active in all borough matters and has served as chief of the fire department. His interests and activities in the borough will stand him in good stead in his duties as a councilman.

I desire to thank the members of the council who have co-operated with me in the past year and assure each of them that it has been a pleasure to work with them for the interests of the borough. I commend all the borough officials and the borough employees for their loyalty and co-operation in the past year.

Water Problems

As we review the accomplishments of the past year, I think you are all familiar with the fact that we have run into a number of difficulties, some of which have been corrected. I refer particularly to our water and sewer operations. We had hoped to have both utilities self supporting but due to unexpected expenditures we have not been able to accomplish this. During the year 1952, it will be necessary to make a revision of rates, and I intend to review the matter with the council and advise at a plan whereby both departments will operate from the income from those departments. In the water department we expect to replace a number of mains and extend some mains in order that we can assure the residents of a proper supply of water. This, of course, cannot be done within one year but, if a program is arranged and strictly followed over a period of years, I am sure that we can eliminate the difficulties which have confronted us in the past.

We have had difficulties with the drainage problem particularly from the state highway, and I plan to arrange a meeting for the council with state and county officials to make a permanent improvement so that this difficulty also can be eliminated.

Lands Held

I would be remiss in completing my talk without particularly extending the appreciation of the residents of the borough to our retiring councilman, Frank J. Hall. Mr. Hall's work and advice as a councilman has been invaluable, and I am sorry that he has seen fit to retire from the council. On behalf of the residents of the borough, I extend to him their appreciation.

During the coming year we will need the co-operation of every elected borough official and I ask that each assist in the performance of the duties assigned to him, bearing in mind that we are all working toward one goal, and that is the betterment of the community in which we live. Likewise I request and solicit constructive criticism from our residents and taxpayers, assuring them that we will do everything within our power to carry out suggestions and plans for the betterment of Highlands, and in closing I again wish to thank each and every one of you a happy New Year.

Trinity ClubPlans Card Party

The Mr. and Mrs. club of Trinity Episcopal church, at its meeting last week at the parish house on West Front st., made plans to hold a card party Wednesday night, Jan. 28, at the parish house. A Christmas party, in charge of Mrs. Alfred Williams and Jack T. Zoloth, Jr., followed the business session. Attending were Rev. and Mrs. Robert H. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Zoloth, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ernest Boskey, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan E. Byer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Euman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Reeves, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. S. Leonard Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Pratt, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Charles Keyler, Mrs. Irene Lott, Charles L. Reeves, Jr., and Carl A. Swartzinger.

The Fair Haven Spirit

The Register joins with its neighboring communities in congratulating the Fair Haven fire company on the completion of its new fire house. Modern in every detail, its design blends with the surrounding area. The firemen held their first meeting in the new building Monday night. The mayor and council, which will meet there regularly, will hold their first meeting there next Monday night.

The new fire house is another example of the progressive spirit that has made the fire company one of the most efficient in the state. In past years many projects for the betterment of the community have been carried out by the firemen, and they frequently have been commended by the borough governing body for their generosity and public spirit. Once more, congratulations to a fine group of citizens.

No Half-Way Americans

Patriotic Americans will laud the action by Judge Irving R. Kaufman in turning down the application of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted atom bomb spies, for a stay of their execution order. Patriotic Americans, too, will be shocked to learn that Judge Kaufman, who was the trial lawyer, has been subjected to a "mounting organized campaign of vilification, abuse and pressure."

Efforts are being made in a nationwide campaign to make martyrs of the Rosenbergs. This martyr label can only be the product of Communists and Communist sympathizers in this country for no true American would ever think of calling the Rosenbergs—who are traitors to this country—martyrs.

One of the arguments in the drive to keep the Rosenbergs from going to the chair is that Russia was a "friendly" power at the time of the treason. Judge Kaufman answers that the sentences were not imposed "for peacetime espionage, but for wartime espionage. This court would not have the power to impose these sentences for peacetime espionage."

We think the following statement by Judge Kaufman is sufficient answer to all the hullabaloo about granting clemency to the Rosenbergs:

"Even as the Soviet Union took our help and demanded more, while we were battling a common enemy, they were stealthily picking our pockets of our most secret atomic data. What right have these defendants now to cry 'Russia was our ally' when they were the very ones caught with their hands in our pockets trying to fitch from their own country this weapon which, were its secret inviolate, might have been crucial in maintaining peace in the post-war world?"

There is no such thing as half-way patriotism, no such a person as a half-way American. He or she is either for or against his country—body, mind and soul.

Which Way? Straight Ahead!

In the halls of the United Nations, particularly at the recent session of the General Assembly, it became routine for Vishinsky and Gromyko and the other Moscow orators to cry out against members of the "capitalistic, imperialist American bloc." It has made the Communists wild to see more than 50 nations sticking together against them in open debate. Ours is a decadent system, they say, held together by war, and doomed to early failure.

The Communist mind is a tragic thing. It feeds upon poverty and misery. It cannot see beyond itself, for if it did it would see that where in the world men are free they are making the greatest progress. In the United States, men and women of all ranks are living a better, fuller and more solid life than ever before—the product of their own labors and free enterprise. Wherever one finds people taking inspiration from "the American way" positive gains are being made.

Still some in this country apparently listen to the Communist line and foretell of dark things to come. Some say the Republicans soon will have the nation down at its heels in a depression. Others worry what will happen if general peace breaks out and we turn in our sword for a plowshare. Such people seem to forget that this is America and here we go forward, always building new things for a better life tomorrow.

No, our ambitious people, in and out of government, Republican and Democrat, are not to be satisfied with yesterday's laurels. Mistakes we have made, yes, in the past and we're going to make some more. But each of them contains its own lesson. History has shown we know how to use what time has taught us.

Word from Washington is that U. S. economy is in good shape. A look ahead through next year foretells prosperity. By 1955, says a report, private business will have expanded to a point where it could take up any slack that could be caused by a reduced defense program. Let's make the most of all our good chances for tomorrow, and show the world there just isn't anything like good old American "can do" enterprise.

Erosion—Enter Uncle Sam!

The state and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers are working together on a study aimed at getting federal assistance in the fight against beach erosion. Peter J. Gannon, chief of the Bureau of Navigation, State Department of Economic Development, states that U. S. aid may be available within three years.

This possibility should be heartening to municipalities on the Jersey coast resorts where storms tear away the beach sands. Uncle Sam's money would be limited to the protection of lands owned by "states, counties or other political subdivisions." In short, funds will be available for public, not private, lands. Nevertheless, it would be a big help in many cases.

The process of getting the money is a bit complicated. It would require approval right on up the line through Congress to the President's signature. But it would represent important savings for this state and its hard-hit resorts.

It is encouraging that efforts are being made to bring Uncle Sam into the erosion picture. The beaches, site of the tourist industry, must be numbered high among America's natural resources. Their waste is a national loss.

New Jersey Again a Leader

New Jersey, which has become a leader in traffic control, law enforcement and many other things affecting the motorist is undertaking a major step in the simplification of highway numbering. There's going to be an elimination of many state numbers, with the U. S. highway number on signs big enough to see at a glance. This should do much to alleviate the confusion and annoyance for travelers who start out on highway number thus and then find it turn into highway number such and such and end up this and that.

Along with this excellent plan of the state, we think it would be a fine idea if each municipality would join in letting the motorist know where he is. Signs at the entrances of a community would be helpful. If the pattern set in Rumson is followed, the sign would not only be informative, but decorative as well. Revamping the highway numbering should help cut down on accidents, for drivers will be able to concentrate on local hazards rather than wonder where they are.

Too Young to Drive

According to a national survey, six states permit 14-year-old children to drive motor vehicles and, in others, age requirements go to a high of 17 years in New Jersey. All states, except South Dakota, require drivers to take examinations and be licensed, says the American Optical Co.

Knowing today's traffic for what it is, the motor vehicle as a competitor of all wars in the national toll of killed and injured, and the average youngster for the chances he takes, we are shocked to find so many states with their backs turned on safety. In age requirements, we are glad to find New Jersey is the leader.

Surely, South Dakota's devil-may-care attitude toward drivers is a shame. Any 15-year-old youngster there can just drive away. And for states like Texas, South Carolina, Arkansas, Idaho, New Mexico and North Dakota to test but permit children of 14 behind the wheel appears ridiculous. Small wonder the death toll on America's highways continues to run away with new records.

Reciprocal motor vehicle laws make it possible for youngsters from the "14 and 15-year-old states" to enter upon the crowded highways of other states. What can happen to them or others who may get in their way is all too obvious. Surely, in the interests of national safety and common sense itself, isn't it time to remove such risks?

So much good for the nation could result from uniform regulations, state by state. For America, there should be a sensible minimum age for drivers, the same everywhere; as well as standard tests for ability, intelligence, safety and sight for the permitted to drive; required liability insurance for protection in accidents, and standard direction and warning hand signals. The nation could well follow the good rules of the road handed down by this state.

MUNICIPAL SUGGESTION BOXES

Mayor Vinberg's plan to set up suggestion boxes in which residents will be asked to contribute ideas for city improvement will be an interesting experiment. Monthly awards for the best, with a grand prize at the end of the year should stimulate thought concerning municipal problems which in itself should prove wholesome. Of course there will be an abundance of crackpot ideas submitted, but out of the whole some should be useful.

The best government has been said to be that which proceeds upward from the people, not downward from grandiose schemes or would-be Caesars or little Caesars.

Long Branch has an assortment of problems which the public should welcome an invitation to help solve.

There's the ocean front and various phases thereof, including removing safety islands from a busy portion.

There are soaring school costs and their relation to the multitude of apartments going up.

There is the glaring inequality in tax assessments and the question of how it shall be remedied.

That's only a few for a starter. To have the people put their brains to work trying to find the best answers to these vexing problems. By all means let's get busy as we can as rules and regulations may be drawn up.—Monmouth American.

CRIME ON THE WATERFRONT

Recently in this Column we noted the oft-quoted reference by Governor Driscoll to "the amazing vitality of our states." We stressed the recent creative role of New Jersey in developing, with our neighboring states, interstate cooperation designed to meet many and varied complex interstate problems. The last public benefits which have already been and can yet be achieved from such cooperative ventures becomes apparent with each passing day.

The recent illustration is the joint battle against waterfront crime and racketeering, organized crime and restrictive practices which have increasingly, during the past 50 years, plagued the largest waterfront in the world—the Port of New York.

It is only natural that our State, which in recent years has led the way in a great many interstate cooperative ventures, should be the one to inaugurate and follow through this process in the task of tackling the waterfront octopus. The joint investigation obtained through New Jersey and New York the drive against racketeering, organized crime and restrictive practices which have increasingly, during the past 50 years, plagued the largest waterfront in the world—the Port of New York.

many of them succumb to economic hardships could sap the vigor of the whole idea.

Modern urbanized, industrialized civilization demands an education that is the simpler societies of the past. Then preparation of the young for the tasks of life was far more a training in skills than education. The goals were tangible, the penalties concrete, and the connections direct. One learned the skills of hunting and fishing or one went hungry. One learned to distinguish between the friendly and the dangerous among man and beast or one suffered immediate consequences. And one could acquire the needed skills in early adolescence.

The modern world demands skills also, like the three R's, which schools can teach. But they are many. And to make them of sufficient use, learning requires a degree of concentration and specialization that risks missing the woods for a very few trees.

This is not to disparage proficiency in technology or the professions. The development of nuclear energy nor the course of next year's economy. It is to say that the nation today has at least as much need of those who have acquired some sense of history, had some contact with the world's greatest thinkers, gained some awareness of moral guidelines fashioned by inspiration and tested by the hard experience of mankind. It is to say that the world suffers from having the atomic bomb than from confusion over what to do about it.

There is no question of dispensing with either the technical specialist or the "liberal" educated. We must have both, and as often as possible, combined in the same individuals. The key to this utter necessity is the preservation and encouragement of the liberal arts approach to education.

For all the arguments of self-interest and of self-evident objectives in behalf of vocational, technological, or professional training and at the expense of education in broad fundamentals. Yet the former without the latter could turn the "ship of state" into a vessel equipped with engines, communications, weapons, and comforts beyond compare, but lacking officers and crew with any clear idea of destination and mission.

It is a grasp at very least an awareness of the broad fundamentals that best furnishes a people with the tools for thinking and thus for meeting new situations. And if there is any one prospect discernable for the next 50 years it is that new situations will be both numerous and challenging.

—The Christian Science Monitor.

HAM AND EGGS, USA
 Out in California . . . there was a vague for a while for a self-christened "ham and eggs" plan which provided old age pensions for everyone. All right, but the insurance program it was based on, and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States wouldn't have touched it with a 10-foot pole.

But as of this very present moment, the Chamber is polling its members on a national ham-and-eggs plan . . . which . . . does not quite reach ham-and-eggs proportion.

The plan is for a pay-as-you-go social security system. This would be the Old Age and Survivors Insurance program that covers everybody who is gainfully employed as well as all present retired persons. There would be no attempt to build up a fund for paying the benefits, but every gainfully employed person and every employer would be taxed to provide for whatever has to be paid in current benefits.

In effect it would cease to be an insurance program and would become a pension-fund plan paid for by a special income tax levied on the pay-as-you-go basis.

There is a lot to be said for such a scheme. It would end all federal payments for old age assistance, the public welfare program for the needy aged. It would bring together all the present federal pension plans, like railroad retirement and civil service. It would eliminate the huge reserve fund, now $11.7 billion and increasing a $9 billion a year, which is a constant temptation to Congress to dilute in improvident benefits. And for some years it might be possible to operate such a plan on a slightly smaller tax than at present contemplated under the insurance principle.

But there is one radical innovation here which this country should completely understand before it leaps too blindly. The present social security system is based on a well-established principle that the pension a man receives is based on what he has earned over his income-producing years. The benefit he gets bears some relation to the contributions he has made. It is true that this principle is well stretched, for a person may win minimum benefits for the rest of his life by the contribution of only $10 in taxes. But the idea of insurance in this connection is not at all new.

The pay-as-you-go plan cuts this aside, and detaches benefits completely from contributions. It assumes that every man has a right to a pension at 65, and all gainfully employed persons will be taxed to pay it.

This is a form of ham-and-eggs, and is open to some of the same serious objections. It is a plain invitation to Congress to buy the votes of a huge pension bloc with ever greater liberality. And how businessmen, who have dealt with honest insurance plans, can contemplate the change comfortably is amazing.

This does not mean that the social security system should not be extended and liberalized. It should. . . . But let's not leap blindly.—Boston Herald.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

25 Branch Ave.
 Red Bank, N. J.
 December 27, 1952.

To The Editor:
 The editorial entitled "Tolerance Exemplified," which you wrote and published in last week's issue of your paper is very much appreciated.

This example of tolerance is a direct result of the teaching which the children receive in their various grades in our Red Bank public schools.

When children sing together, especially at Christmas time, they are not conscious of the many creeds or races represented in their choir. The spirit of Christmas is expressed in their faces as they joyously sing the carols.

The teachers join me in thanking you for your interest in the endeavors which made the carol service a success.

Sincerely yours,
 Emma Jane Lafetra.

To the Editor:
 May we take this opportunity to thank your paper for the splendid article on the Lions Club sponsored Christmas lighting.

May we extend a vote of thanks to Andy Duncan for his efforts in helping to make our Christmas lighting successful.

Yours truly,

The "No" Deal
 Proposals for new or heavier tax impositions appear to have little voter appeal. Fourteen questions involving tax changes were submitted to citizens in 11 states at the Nov. 4 election. A summary of the response has been prepared by "Tax Review" and is reported here by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

This shows that voters defeated five of the six tax increase proposals involved in the fiscal questions.

Two proposals were for new taxes. Both were voted down. A new five per cent severance tax was rejected in Colorado by a substantial margin. The other new tax proposal, a three-cent cigarette tax, was voted down by voters in Oregon.

One-cent increases in gasoline tax and sales tax rates were defeated in Montana and Oklahoma, respectively. Minnesota voters defeated a constitutional amendment calling for tax increases of $11 million for roads in rural areas.

The lone tax increase in Kansas, where the voters authorized a minor increase in the state property tax to establish a permanent building fund for benevolent and charitable institutions.

Tax reductions through lower rates or increased exemptions were considered in four states. Georgia voters reduced the state property tax from five mills to one-quarter mill. In Louisiana, movable household furniture was exempted from all property taxes. Because of legal complications, the vote in North Dakota to exempt food and medicines from the two per cent sales tax will require action by the 1953 Legislature to make it effective. In Colorado, a measure doubling personal property tax exemptions for heads of families was overwhelmingly defeated—presumably because it was tied to a provision exempting for six years all property used for processing products from coal and oil shale.

Propositions approved in Nebraska and Oregon, while not directly calling for tax increases, pave the way for legislative enactment of higher motor vehicle levies. Two other tax measures considered had no direct result in a tax increase or decrease.

In the Middle Ages when churchmen went into battle they often carried warlike with heavy, sometimes spiked heads because canonical rules denied them the sword as a weapon of bloodshed.

EVENTS OF YEARS AGO FROM REGISTER FILES

Fifty Years Ago

Alonso Jackson, Bank st., who lived near the river, won a small pig disposed of by Fenberg Stock Co., appearing at the Red Bank opera house. One of the conditions was whoever won the pig should go on the stage and catch the pig which had been put in a pen on the stage. To add to the merriment, just as Mr. Jackson would get his hands on the pig the lights would be turned down. He finally caught the animal, carried it home and put it to sleep until morning. During the night, the pig got out and swam across the river, but was recaptured the following morning with the assistance of Edward Denyes.

The 15th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Riddle of Oceanport was celebrated with a party at which 20 guests were present.

Relief Engine company of the Red Bank Fire Dept., elected Arthur Jeffery, foreman; William Hulse and Joseph Sweeney, assistant foremen; Fred E. Foxworth, secretary; Charles E. D. Foxworth, treasurer; and William Hulse, janitor.

Mrs. Margaret Morgan Smith, widow of E. Danafield Smith, died of pneumonia following three days of illness at the age of 71 years.

Mrs. Mary Jacobs, widow of William Jacobs, Port Monmouth, died very suddenly of heart disease. She was 82 years old.

The new officers of St. James club of Red Bank were installed by Rev. James A. Reynolds. The officers were president, Peter Lang; vice president, William P. Snyder; treasurer, Timothy Hounihan; recording secretary, Edward O'Grady; and secretary, John F. Hollan, warden, Martin Moore, and board of managers, Michael McGarvey, Joseph P. Riely, John Kearney, Charles A. Hawkins, John McNeil, Michael Maloney and Martin Griffin.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wood of Maple ave., entertained a large group of relatives and friends in celebration of their golden wedding. The couple were assisted in receiving guests by their daughter, Mrs. William H. Wood.

The North Shrewsbury Iceboat and Yacht club was arranging to send the ice yacht, Scud, and Dreadnaught, to Gull lake, near Kalamazoo, Mich.

Byron Webster of Philadelphia was visiting his brother, Warren Webster of Harmony in Middletown twp. It was the first time that the brothers had met in over 25 years.

Miss Viola Smith, daughter of Ennet Smith of Oceanport and Henry Allen, a clerk in Henry Wolcott's store at Eatontown, was married at the home of the bride's parents to a young man named Carl.

The newlyweds were driven in a carriage to a new house in Eatontown where the groom had ready for their occupancy.

Leslie Reckless, who was on the USS St. Mary, returned to his ship after spending quite sometime with his parents on Maple ave.

The William H. Knapp property on Riverside ave., fronting the river, was bought by Henry S. Terhune of Long Branch, N. J. The property was 100x25 feet on which there was a modern 15-room dwelling.

John Kahle, who was engaged in a general grocery business with his brother, Charles Kahle, was held up in his barn on Beech st., near Branch ave., by a would-be robber. He was beaten on the head with the butt of a revolver and afterwards was shot at. The assailant escaped without taking any booty being frightened away by Mr. Kahle's scream of "murder."

Philemon Crellin of Lincolnton, went skating for the first time in several years and astonished Lincolnton people with the ease in which he cut figure eights, pigeon wings, grapevines, initials, etc. John R. Antonides said that he was willing to back Mr. Crellin against any Red Bank skater in either fancy or speed skating.

George Crawford of Holmdel, Watson Stillwagon of Cliffwood, and Trevonian Bennett of Red Bank, left for a gunning trip several weeks in North Carolina.

The Portland hotel, Atlantic Highlands, owned by Mrs. E. S. Champion, was totally destroyed by fire. It was the finest hotel in Atlantic Highlands and was valued in excess of $25,000.

Edwin Beckman of Middletown, decided to give up farming and to make his home at the famous Smith and McNeil home-like hotel, New York city. The farm was taken over by Mr. Dallenbeck, who had managed it for several years.

John Mauser of the Phalanx, spent New Year day with his father, Adam Mauser of Lincolnton. During the afternoon he "monkeyed" with a gun and sawed one of his thumbs to the bone.

Fred Boschel of Locust Point, sustained a broken arm and a badly strained neck when he fell down stairs at the Amsterdam hotel at that place.

Isadore Walling of Port Monmouth, who was employed at Sandy Hook, was helping to move a car loaded with a 15-ton mortar when his foot got caught under the wheel of the car and his heel was badly crushed.

Dr. Fred V. Thompson of Holmdel was laid up with blood poisoning in his foot, caused by scurping it on a step while getting out of his wagon.

Frank Tarnell and Laura Runyon, Elwood Runyon and Olive Johnson, two Bedford couples, started with a horse and carriage to attend a play at the Red Bank opera house. At Hendricks Corner the horse stumbled and fell, breaking the shafts of the carriage. A farm wagon was borrowed from Peter Connolly, and the trip was continued. Owing to the delay, the couples missed the first act of the performance.

The pupils at the Little Silver public school with perfect school records for December were: Grammar department, Mary Ayers, Matilda Conover, Louise Dowling, Grace Carhart, George and Roy White, Frank Parker, Willis Shrewsbury, Arthur McNeil, Walter McNeil and William Dowling. Intermediate department, Edward Lippincott, Emerson Quackenbush, Lillie

Moore, Frank Ayers, Ada Pope, Jennie Curtis and Lena Carhart. Primary department, Louisa Wilby, Mae Van Nest, Mabel Fox, Edwin Wilby and Frank Dean.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

The Red Bank Boro Bus company bought the bus route between Long Branch and Atlantic Highlands which had been operated by the North Shore Bus Corp., headed by Harry Bruckley of Long Branch. Harold E. Neiman of New York city, son of Charles E. Neiman of Riverside ave., was conductor of bus at Chanin's 48th st. theater. New York city, and had under his direction one of the largest theatrical orchestras known.

The Red Bank Hebrew association planned its annual mid-winter festival to be held at the Smoke Shop Tavern. A new dance called the Lindy-hop was to be the principal dance of the evening. Each couple taking part in the dance would have an opportunity of winning a free airplane ride offered by the Red Bank Aero club.

National prohibition officials acting on evidence to the effect that liquor was being illegally sold, put padlocks on the Village Inn at Middletown. Two days after this occurrence, Samuel McMillin, the licensee, moved from the village and left the building without a tenant.

The estate of a dead, daughter of E. C. R. of Tinton Falls, received first prize, a cash award, for making the best ten-minute sketch of an Eskimo at the Bamberger store at Newark.

Tinton Falls was to regain an old beauty spot when Mrs. Samuel J. Bennett was to restore the old mill pond. The old mill dam was to be rebuilt and the ancient gristmill to be retained, but the sawmill on the premises was to be demolished.

The county board of assessors, amounting to $258,075.75, an increase over $4,180.82 over the previous year, was adopted.

A new real estate development was staged at Shrewsbury by the Red Bank Development Co., composed of William O'Brien, Mort V. Pasch, George H. White and Victor Grossinger. The tract was part of the Benjamin John Parker tract and by reason of this former ownership the development was named Parker Heights.

The newly organized Dry company of River Plain received its incorporation papers. The firm was using a hand-drawn horse cart pending the raising of sufficient funds to have a motorized chemical engine.

Forman O. Cosanboom resigned as principal of the Sea Bright public school where he had been teaching for eight years. He planned to retire and enjoy country life at Marlboro village.

The new part of the Grace Methodist church property at Broad st. and Harding rd. was sold by Lewis Corn to Henry L. Sobel of Sea Bright. The plot bought by Mr. Sobel had an 85-foot frontage on Broad st. and 175 feet on Harding rd. He paid $40,000 for the church property, but did not buy the parsonage lot adjoining, valued at $15,000. Mr. Corn bought the entire church property for $55,000 about two weeks ago.

John E. Hurd of Tinton Falls, died suddenly of an acute heart attack. He was 55 years old and had lived at Red Bank 42 years. He had been employed by the Western Union Telegraph Co. nearly all his life. At the time of his death he was the only known person who could send and receive telegraph messages at the same time. He was survived by his wife, Mrs. Hurd, and two daughters, Mrs. Hurd, daughter of the late Sherrard Kollock, a daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Harrison, and a son, Theodore Hurd.

George K. Allen of Broad st. and Harry G. Borden of Shrewsbury, were at Cleveland, Ohio, where they were attending a convention.

Ira E. Wolcott was elected president of the Eatontown National bank to succeed Otto Applegate who declined re-election because his time was largely taken up with the management of his hotel in Florida.

George Lange, Joseph Silver, Jr. and his son, George, all of Shrewsbury, returned from a

New Police Chief at Eatontown

S. Joyce, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Shrewsbury.
Mrs. Margaret L. Reed, clerk, swore in the new officials, Mayor
Rigby, and Councilmen Arthur A.
Erickson, Herbert L. Willett 3d, and Coletto M. Epps, as well as Walter Canfield, assessor. Mr. Willett was named council president.

The Mayor's Appointments
Next in line of business came the mayor's appointments, some of which reflected the change in administration.
They were Mr. Mausner, attorney, who succeeded Lawrence A.
Carton in that post; Henry Labrecque, engineer; Mr. Osborn, building inspector, succeeding
George L. Main; Mrs. Ruth B.
Crawford, treasurer and tax searcher; Mrs. Reed, clerk and improvement assessor; Ernest Hiltbrunner, road overseer; Joseph J. Seaman, auditor; Charles D. Loee, health board member for three years;
Charles Wilson, health board member for one year; Angelo Zanetti and W. Harrison Hubbard, board of adjustment members for three years, and Louis A. Steinmuller, planning board member for six years.

Mayor Rigby explained that while there has been some local controversy about a mayor's place on the planning board, the mayor is an ex-officio member of that body by state law, and, as such, holds a planning board vote. He named Councilman Erickson as a Class 2 member of that board. And council selected Councilman Willett as a Class 3 member. The classifications refer to governing body members accredited to planning board service.

Committees Are Listed
There was unanimous endorsement of Mayor Rigby's in-council committees, supervising borough departments. With the first named to be chairman, they are:

Police—Unterberg, Gleim and Erickson; fire—Erickson, Epps and Gleim; financial—Little, Willett and Unterberg; building and zoning—
Willett, Unterberg and Erickson; street lighting and water—Epps, Little and Willett; and sanitation and health—Gleim, Little and Epps.

Council voted to continue regular meeting nights on the first Thursday of each month, at 8 o'clock at Tinton Falls school. However, this month, the body will meet at the school next Thursday evening, Jan. 8, to go over preparatory details of the 1953 budget.

The last order of business was the mayor's speech—given before
ment-social, arranged by a committee headed by Mrs. R. C. Hallett, in the school cafeteria.
In his opening remarks, the mayor said it was not his purpose to give a long address at any time, but he had something to say that "I hope will set the tone of community life here this year."

His speech, that, in essence called for community unity between all factions, and full co-operation for the future, follows in full:
The Mayor's Address
If we as Americans envision a world of peace and understanding, a world in which all men may live in freedom and dignity, then we must make that vision a reality in our own nation, in our own state, and in our own community.
We are all familiar with, and proud of the American concept of freedom. We are all proud of our national heritage. We are all proud of our democratic form of government. If we want to preserve these ideals, then we must accept the full responsibility.

In fact, we must not be satisfied with its preservation alone.
We should look forward to greater, more far-reaching progress in the fields of human and civic betterment. There are no specific rules about where this begins, but each of us here might ask ourselves that very familiar question,
"Where can it better start than right here at home?"

I point this out to you today because this is a very solemn and serious occasion, and this is a day of retrospection. We are a grass roots community. Just as the family and the home provide the moral fiber of our social structure, so too, the grass roots community provides the moral fiber of our national political structures. There is no corruption in the grass roots communities, there should be no political hypocrisy.

With there being such an unwillingness on the part of most citizens to actively participate in the affairs of their communities, it is indeed unfortunate that those few who do participate allow fences to be built to divide and impede their common purposes. Who can foretell the amazing things which might be accomplished if we had the desire and the will to unify our forces?
It is my most sincere hope that we are starting in a year of friendliness and helpfulness. Friendliness is not a mere habit, it is a necessity of one's nature. Helpfulness is not an act of conscience, it is an impulse. The fact that so many of you came here today indicates that we are on the right track.

We must recognize that progress is not automatic. It requires the motivating force of an enthusiastic awakened people. Enthusiasm is one of the greatest assets in the world. It is nothing more than the spirit in action.
An awakened community is one in which the individuals have begun to realize their responsibility and their strength. When such action develops, something exciting, something new and good is already at work to strengthen the life of the community. Its spirit has already been lifted. There is a new sense of pride, of heightened community self respect.
I appeal to you for your friendly help. Let each of us do our share for the betterment of our community, to develop a sense of unity and pride, and to awaken a spirit of co-operation that will make this a more pleasant borough in which to live and grow.
The members of the Council join me in wishing you a happy and prosperous New Year.

SUBURBANITE
by GOOD YEAR

The Suburbanite tread is completely different—so perfect in design that it outperforms any other snow tire you can get! The Suburbanite actually has nearly two thousand knife-like edges that bite right into snow and take hold on ice. Its wider, flatter tread puts more rubber on the road for longer wear and quieter operation when the pavement is dry. Come in today—get Suburbanite for safer winter driving. The best snow tire money can buy!

- Up to 91% more "start-ability"
- Up to 39% more "stop-ability"
- Plus longer wear—quieter running.

ROLSTON WATERBURY

A broker in another city recently told me of 3 experiences which taught him this lesson: To advise sellers to place a fair value on their property, or risk getting less.

Why?

Here's the way he told it.

"I took the listing each time and I knew the price was too high. But I figured the owners really wanted to sell their homes and would take a more reasonable price if offered. Each time, I found a logical buyer. But the owners refused to cut their price. Many other prospects passed it up as too high. Finally, in desperation, the owners cut their prices WELL. BY-LAW the figure we had recommended and sold out.

"I'm frank with owners now. If the price is reasonable—in tune with the market—the property will sell without a big price cut. But by insisting on a price which is too high an owner will soon wear out the customers, and also the reputation of the home. Then they've lost their best chance to sell. A big price cut is usually the only solution."

We agree with his conclusions. You are well advised to be realistic in setting a price on your property.

And, for best results—let us help you! Call RM 6-3500.

Czech Countess Describes Life With Nazis, Reds

Radio Free Europe
An Essential Item,
Woman's Club Told

Marie Antoinette Kerssenbrock, a Czechoslovakian countess sponsored by the Crusade for Freedom, spoke at the meeting of the evening department of the Woman's club of Red Bank Monday at the clubhouse. The program was arranged by the legislation chairman, Mrs. H. Conant Speer.

Miss Kerssenbrock said the only way people living behind the "iron curtain" may be reached by the outside world to denounce Communism is through Radio Free Europe and Radio Free Asia. She praised the projects, entirely sponsored by the American people, and told of their value.

The speaker, who came to the United States two and a half years ago, said: "You are most fortunate to have been born under the Stars and Stripes." She then told of experiences in Czechoslovakia during and after the war. Because the speaker's family was anti-Nazi, she said, all their property was confiscated and Miss Kerssenbrock was sent to Germany as a slave laborer in 1943. With the war's end she returned to Prague where she became a student at the University of Prague.

In 1948 she was dismissed from the university because she refused to join the Communist party or be interested in its activities. Because of her views, she was accused of being a U. S. agent, and in 1949, was told by members of the underground that she was marked for arrest. She fled her native land by walking more than 30 miles through the Bohemian forests to enter the U. S. occupied area of Germany.

Conditions in Czechoslovakia, according to the speaker, make it difficult for people to live because the nation is economically ruined. "Everyone works," she said, "but no one knows what for or for what goal." Children, she added, are taken from their parents while very young, placed in Communist controlled schools, and educated on Marx ideology only.

Mrs. Mahlon Grimes will be chairman of the department's charity ball Feb. 14 at the Molly Pitcher hotel. Mrs. Margaret King, ways and means chairman, announced the annual fashion show and bridge will be Mar. 16 at Willowbrook in Fair Haven, with Steinbach's of Red Bank showing clothes and accessories for spring. The American home department will meet Tuesday night at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Harry Schnable in Rumson. Mrs. Judson Richardson will speak on "Furniture Refinishing." This department will be in charge of the Jan. 19 meeting, when Miss Marie Lefebvre will speak on textiles. The arts and crafts department, of which Mrs. George Drake is chairman, will meet Wednesday night at the clubhouse. Guests were Mrs. Robert Upson and Mrs. George W. Haviland. Hostesses were Mrs. William Lee, chairman, Mrs. Charles P. Hurd, Mrs. Lewis E. Connor and Mrs. Wallace Bennett.

PROMOTED IN KOREA

OCEANPORT—Robert G. Rosch, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Rosch of 10 Main st., was recently promoted to sergeant while serving with the 48th Infantry division in Korea. Rosch, who arrived in Korea last May, is a platoon sergeant in the 17th regiment's heavy mortar company. He entered the Army in August, 1951.

Keller, Curry Sworn in as Councilmen

Councilmen Reamer Keller, seated extreme left, nationally-syndicated cartoonist, who replaced former Councilman Edwin P. Phillips, and Everett C. Curry, who began his third term, were administered the oath of office last Thursday afternoon at the organization meeting of the Atlantic Highlands borough council. Now a resident of Cooperstown, N. Y., Mr. Phillips telephoned good wishes during the meeting. Mr. Curry was re-elected council president. Others seated, left to right, are Borough Attorney John M. Pillsbury, Mayor Waldron P. Smith, Borough Clerk Nelson H. Roberts and Councilman Patrick J. McConnell. Standing, same order, are Councilmen Robert J. Corro, Edward G. Walder and Harry B. Murtha.

Thomas Estate Goes to Aunt

FREEHOLD—Lucius Thomas of Matawan, who died June 13, 1948, willed his estate to his aunt, Matilda Blackstone. This was disclosed last week when his will was filed for probate in the office of Surrogate Dorman McFadden.

Alfred B. Dobbins of Freehold, who died Dec. 16, willed his estate to his daughter, Marie Brown.

Fred Brown of Wall township, who died Dec. 19, willed his daughter, Rose M. Clayton, $500, property in Spring Lake Heights and a lot in New Bedford. Another daughter, Helen Brown, will receive the homestead and a vacant lot adjoining it. The rest will be shared by the two daughters.

John F. Skirrow of Manasquan, who died Dec. 15, willed a $4,000 bond and mortgage to his daughter, Dorothy Power. The rest goes to the widow.

Robert C. Wilson of Loch Arbour, who died Dec. 13, willed $1,000 to his sister, Euphemia H. Neudeck. The rest goes to the widow.

Georgianna F. Hankinson of Long Branch, who died Dec. 18, willed her estate to her niece, Alma W. Dickerson.

Jacob Tannenbaum of Long Branch, who died Dec. 18, willed his estate to his daughter, Hannah Curran, and son, Nathan Tannenbaum.

Charlotte Harris of Asbury Park, who died Dec. 20, willed her estate to her sisters, Sadie Jones and Amy Thompson.

John Weiss, Sr., of Brielle, who died June 30, willed $25 to a son, Charles Weiss. The rest goes to another son, John Weiss, and daughter, Irma Manning.

The respective widows will receive the estates of John C. Tanis of Frenchtown, who died Oct. 31, and Benjamin Katsman of Millstone township, who died Dec. 15.

Highlands Seats Mayor, 2 Councilmen

Army Reserve Is Expanding

KEARNY—Col. Hayden A. Sears, chief of the New Jersey military district said today that over two million dollars will be expended on the construction of four Army reserve training centers within the state. A fifth center is presently in the planning stage for the Newark area.

When completed, the centers at Trenton, Camden and Paramus will accommodate 600 reservists with the possibility of expanding these accommodations to 1,000. Each of these centers will cost approximately $400,000. The center at Union will accommodate 2,000. The cost of this center is estimated at $685,000.

Trenton center is now under construction and will be completed by April, 1953. Bids for the Camden center have been let and construction is expected to start during January, 1953. Bids for the Union and Paramus centers will be accepted in 1953 or as soon as suitable sites for construction can be acquired.

The centers are primarily designed for training reservists in the theoretical and technical aspects of military subjects through schools and class room training sessions. These subjects will be put to practical application during the summer encampments.

The projects include armory buildings consisting of a main wing which will contain officers' library, classrooms, storage rooms, lavatories, rifle ranges, arm vaults and boiler rooms. One floor will be at basement level and one floor at ground level.

Adjacent will be one-story assembly hall and a one-story connection between the main wing and assembly hall, which will contain kitchen, lavatories, storage rooms and a corridor.

Farm Income Tax Due in January

NEW BRUNSWICK — Farmers who keep books on a cash basis and use a calendar year must file their income tax return and pay their taxes during January. The deadline is Jan. 31, reminds Dr. Frank V. Beck, extension farm management specialist at Rutgers university.

It pays to keep good records for income taxes, he declares. The better records of expenses you keep, the more deductions possible. Good inventory and depreciation records save taxes, too.

Now is the time of year to look over your inventory of farm supplies, insecticides, fertilizer, lime, purchased feed, etc., to determine if you have less of these items than a year ago.

A change in the tax law will affect livestock producers this year, Dr. Beck stated. If you own livestock and kept them 12 months or longer before selling them, such sales are treated as capital assets and only 50 per cent taxable. This applies even if the livestock was raised on your farm. Of course on depreciation charges apply to purchased animals.

More details about income taxes are found in a new bulletin, "Farmer's 1952 Income Taxes," available from the county extension service.

Clark Lists Fertilizers For Vegetable Growers

FREELAND — Fertilizer most commonly used by vegetable growers in Monmouth county is a 5-10-10 commercial mixture. This mixture can be used to grow the entire crop or it may be supplemented with a nitrogen fertilizer alone or a complete fertilizer high in nitrogen.

A representative soil test may indicate that some other fertilizer mixture is better than 5-10-10, advises M. A. Clark, county agricultural agent. For instance, on many market garden farms where heavy applications of fertilizer are used each year and where manure has been applied, the test may show soil to be high in potash. Under these conditions a grower can get good results with a 5-10-5 mixture.

For early onions grown from sets, a fertilizer with a 1-1-1 ratio is general. This includes 7-7-7, 8-8-8 or as high as a 10-10-10 commercial mixture. One of these is used mainly in the early season when the soil is cold and the liberation of nitrogen is not as rapid as later when the ground warms up.

For early peas a 4-12-8 is widely used and for sweet potatoes either a 4-8-12 or a 3-9-12 fertilizer is common. Sweet potato fertilizers are usually reinforced with magnesium because sweet potato soils should be acid and in many locations the sweet potatoes show soil magnesium deficiencies.

The amount of fertilizer to apply varies with the crop and the fertility level of the soil. In the case of snap beans 600 pounds to the acre applied the band way has given as large if not larger yields than 1,200 to 1,500 pounds applied in the same way.

For tomatoes, eggplants, sweet corn, and other crops, applications vary from 1,000 to 2,000 or more pounds to the acre. This depends on soil fertility and the good judgment of the grower in applying fertilizer when the crop shows it needs extra stimulation.

KEANSBURG—The local plant of Charles Komar and Son of South Amboy at May and Highland aves. here has received a $4,800 bonus, an increase of $1,000 over last year, through a profit-sharing plan maintained by the company. The plant, in operation more than two years, manufactures ladies' slippers.

Callahan Retires From Clerk's Post

FREELAND—William N. Callahan, 67, of 53 Manalapan ave., chief naturalization clerk here for many years, retired Dec. 31 on a disability and service pension under the state employees' retirement system.

Mr. Callahan had been an employee of the county clerk's office since 1903. County Clerk J. Russell Woolley disclosed that he had been on sick leave more than a year and recently applied for retirement. For a time during his year in the county's employ, he served as deputy county clerk.

Mr. Woolley said Mr. Callahan's successor will be chosen from the office staff, with a reassignment of existing personnel. His work during his illness was handled by Miss Mary Collins.

Mr. Callahan is a past master of the Masonic lodge in Freehold. Human beings have 12 ribs on each side.

Farm Prices Dropped 3% in 1952; Expect Further Decline This Year

NEW BRUNSWICK—Prices received by the nation's farmers in 1952 averaged about three per cent lower than those of 1951, according to agricultural economists at Rutgers university. Some further downward trend in the level of farm prices may occur in 1953, they predict.

Factors leading to this belief, they say, are: a very high level of production of crops and livestock in 1952 and an anticipated high production in 1953, and a less favorable export situation. This will probably mean a further decline in net incomes of farmers this year, the economists point out, because costs of producing food are expected to remain high. Here is how they view the situation as it affects New Jersey farmers:

Dairy farmers have a moderately favorable outlook, with net incomes little if any, higher than in 1952. Certain items of cost, such as farm wage rates, milk cows and building maintenance have increased at a faster rate than has the price received for milk. The average of all costs of production is expected to edge higher in 1953.

Poultry farmers had a rather bad year in 1952, with an unusually unfavorable ratio between the cost of feed and the price of eggs and poultry meat in the fall months. In 1953 they are expected to raise fewer laying birds.

The total output of poultry products, however, is expected to exceed the average of the last four or five years with around 385 eggs, 30 pounds of chicken and five pounds of turkey produced for every person in the United States. Broiler output is expected to increase even over the large 1952 production.

Fruit and vegetable growers face an over-all situation not greatly different from last year. With costs continuing to rise, both vegetable and fruit growers may expect a price-cost squeeze on net incomes. From the consumer standpoint, supplies of fresh and processed fruits and vegetables are likely to increase if weather is favorable.

Some increase in white potato acreage is expected in New Jersey and nationwide. Sweet potato acreage may also be up somewhat from the last two seasons but probably will be below the past ten-year average.

In the last 30 years more than a thousand commercial varieties of fruits and nuts have been introduced.

Beef Production To Be Discussed

TRENTON—Various aspects of beef cattle production will be considered at the Farmers Week meeting sponsored by the New Jersey Aberdeen Angus Breeders association Friday, Jan. 30. President Joseph C. Thomas of Whitehouse Station will preside.

At the morning session, the selection, care and management of a profitable breeding herd will be discussed by William L. Landauer of Rumlunds, Red Hook, N. Y., and Lee Leachman of Ankoky Farm, Rhinebeck, N. Y. Dr. Milton A. Sprague, farm crops specialist at the state agricultural experiment station, will trace developments in the renovation of hill land pastures.

In the afternoon, breeding problems will be the topic of Dr. Leo M. Cropsey of Shadow Isle farms, River Plaza, Dr. D. C. Reid, of the New Jersey Cooperative Breeders association, Inc., Annandale, and Robert E. Montgomery of Ash Grove farm, New Hope, Pa.

Following this, the economic aspects of beef cattle production will be presented by Dr. K. T. Wright, professor of agricultural economics, Michigan State college, East Lansing, Mich., and heifer calf projects discussed by Ernest M. McCulloh, of the American Aberdeen Angus Breeders association, Chicago, Ill.

January Dance Aids Dystrophy

WANAMASSA — Sammy Waldman's orchestra will play for the second annual dance of the Monmouth county chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America Saturday, Jan. 17, at Wanamassa Gardens. Students of the Toland Dance studio of Red Bank, will entertain.

The dance is being held in conjunction with the second annual drive for research funds, which will continue until the end of this month under the chairmanship of James C. Mitchell. The county chapter is seeking $10,000 to help support research into the cause and cure of muscular dystrophy, for which no treatment is known.

Miss Ann Kaney of Middletown and Miss Sari Goldwyn of Belmar are chairmen. Charles McMahon and Frank W. Curley will auction off a canary and Mrs. Frank Kuhl is in charge of special awards. The refreshments committee includes Misses Jane Test, Ruth Knecht, Faith Way and Peggy Lawhorn, Mrs. Peter Kiasna, Mrs. Herbert Tanzman and Mrs. Daniel Test. In charge of the check room are Misses Joan Potlick, Eileen Tuohy, Jane Test, Peggy Lawhorn and Ethel McGee, Mrs. Test, Mrs. Perry Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kronlach. Miss Kaney is in charge of tickets and Miss Goldwyn, entertainment.

Tickets may be purchased from committee members, at the service desk at the Steinbach company, Asbury Park, or at the door.

BUICK'S GREATEST CARS IN 50 GREAT YEARS

Television treat—the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR—every fourth Tuesday.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT
BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

On Display January 9th

COLONY BUICK, INC.

163 to 169 Monmouth Street

RE 6-2089

Red Bank, N. J.

HERE you see pictured the Golden Anniversary ROADMASTER—engineered, styled, powered and bodied to be fully worthy of its paragon role in this fiftieth year of Buick building.

A quick listing of simple facts will reveal just cause for celebration.

- ★ It has the world's newest V8 engine. Vertical valves; 12-volt electrical system; 180 pounds lighter; entire engine is so compact, a new, more maneuverable chassis has been built around it.
- ★ It has 180 fireball horsepower. A new Buick record; engine horsepower per pound increased 40%.
- ★ It has a compression ratio of 8.5 to 1. Highest compression on the American scene today; bettered fuel economy.
- ★ It has a dynamic-flow muffler. For the first time in automotive history, a muffler with zero power loss.
- ★ It has a new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive. Now adds for swifter, quieter, more efficient getaway to infinite smoothness at all speed ranges.
- ★ It has new braking power. Most powerful braking action of any Buick in fifty years; plus the new ease of Power Brakes, optional at extra cost.
- ★ It has a still finer ride. The softest, steadiest, most buoyantly level ride that Buick's advanced engineering has yet produced.

It has, also, wondrous handling ease, with Power Steering as standard equipment. It has superb comfort. It has sumptuous fabrics and tailoring. And its acoustics are so thoroughly mastered that it may well be one of the world's most quiet cars.

But no listing of facts can do true justice to this phenomenal automobile, or to its brilliant brothers, the 1953 SUPERS and SPECIALS.

And no words can really tell you the beauty you see, the comfort you feel, the excitement you experience—when you look at and drive any one of these big, beautiful, bounteous Buicks for 1953.

Will you come in and see for yourself that these are, in simple truth, Buick's greatest cars in five brilliant decades?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Liberty Auxiliary Has Dinner

RUMSON—The auxiliary of Liberty Hose company of Red Bank held its installation dinner Saturday night at Rumson inn with Mrs. Jennie Siciliano, as installing officer. Gifts were presented to the retiring president, Mrs. Alex Rensio; the retiring secretary, Mrs. Frank Cannavo, and Mrs. Thomas Mead, treasurer, who this year will start her second term. Installed were Mrs. George Belovus, president; Mrs. Peter Galatro, vice president; Mrs. Catherine B. Douglas, secretary; Mrs. Edward MacSturdy, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Mead, treasurer. Following installation, members exchanged gifts, and "secret pals" were announced. Prize winners were Mrs. Mead, Mrs. Dominick P.

Figaro and Mrs. Peter DeFazio. The next meeting will be Wednesday, Jan. 14, at the firehouse on White st. Others attending were Mrs. Claude Borchardt, Mrs. Waynard Applegate, Mrs. Howard Havens, Mrs. Bruno Mazza, Mrs. Jacob Bloom, Mrs. Gregory Figaro, Mrs. Christopher D'Andrea, Mrs. Joseph Mazza, Mrs. Angelo Migliara, Mrs. Samuel Scialzo, Mrs. William Anderson and Miss Angie Verange.

Typing Champion to Appear Here

Cortez W. Peters, world champion typist, will appear at Red Bank high school tomorrow at 11 a. m. to exhibit his typing speed. His appearance is sponsored by Joseph R. Serpico of Red Bank, Monmouth county distributor for the Royal Typewriter company. He also will make appearances in Keyport, Middletown township, Long Branch, Matawan and Manasquan.

Belford

Mrs. Albert Conson entertained members of her Sunday school class Monday evening at a party. Attending were Beatrice Parleman, Barbara Smith, Arline Smith, Barbara Harnett and Betty Wilhalm. Mrs. Evelyn Morris was injured in a fall last week and is recuperating at her home.

A meeting of the Monmouth County Exempt Firemen's association will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at independent fire house, Main st. All exempt firemen are invited to attend. Any exempt fireman desiring to join the association may obtain application blanks at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bausbach entertained the past two weeks for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hackney of Miami, Fla., and Mrs. Anne Curtis of Seattle, Wash. for the past month. Guests over the holiday were Miss Anne Curtis, a student nurse at Monmouth Memorial hospital, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stobe of Riverhead, L. I.

Richard Benson, who is attending air school at Memphis, Tenn., spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson.

Mrs. Delores Dora of St. Louis, Mo., has returned home after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Conson.

Bruce Miller, A-3, who was home for the holidays, was given a party last week at the annex of the Methodist church by the Youth Fellowship and presented a gift. Attending were Ardeth Beam, Frances Tarnow, Barbara Smith, Arline Smith, Audrey Hyers, Betty Wilhalm, Barbara Harnett, Catherine Jackson, Zella Bennett, Margaret Ring, Beatrice Parleman, Thomas Starinck, Ronald and Ormond Hyers, John Werner, James and August Miner, Doreen Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Miller, Rev. Robert Blackman, Mrs. Albert Conson, Mrs. John Lentz, Mrs. Harold Tarnow and Mrs. Russell Bennett.

Carol Ann Brown, who has been a patient at Betty Bachach Home, Longport, several years, has been released and is home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. John Lents of the arrival of their son, P. C. Jack Lents, in Taegu, Korea.

Mrs. John Bevers entertained members of the executive board of the PTA at her home last week. Plans were made to show movie slides at last Monday's meeting. A card party is planned for February. Attending were Mrs. John Razimowicz, Mrs. Gerald Scaturro, Mrs. Virginia Foran, Mrs. Mark Green, Mrs. Dorothy Vaccarello, Mrs. Otto Hacker, Mrs. Luther Walling, Mrs. Olive Hanner and Mrs. John Geiger.

The boy scouts held a Christmas party last week at the scout building with their leaders and committee members. There were 28 boys present. Plans were made to go camping at Camp Brihane and also for a skating party and troop swim within the next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Phillips and son Bruce have returned from Florida, where they spent the holidays. James H. Howell, a graduate of Cornell university and now in his second year at Princeton seminary, was the preacher at Sunday morning's service in the Holmdel Federated church. His sermon topic was "God's Gift to the Magi."

Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Gallup moved into the parsonage Tuesday. Rev. Mr. Gallup will begin preaching Sunday in Holmdel church. Residents of the community have been invited to attend a reception to be given for Rev. and Mrs. Gallup Wednesday, Jan. 14, in Fellowship hall at 8 a. m.

Miss Margaret Riker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Riker, is a member of the Vassar college choir which recently presented its annual program of Christmas music in the college chapel. Miss Riker, a junior, was president of her class and was in the class play last year.

Mausner Holds Three For Juvenile Court

HIGHLANDS — Magistrate Milton A. Mausner Monday night remanded Kenneth Harvey, 17, of 71 Bay ave. to the juvenile detention center at Freehold to await action of the juvenile court. A probationer, Harvey was charged with driving without a license and taking his father's car without permission. Also held to await juvenile court action were two brothers, 14 and 16 years old. It was alleged that they broke into Kait's stationery store on Bay ave. New Years day. They were charged with taking $100 in cash and a .25 caliber automatic pistol.

SCHOOL PATROL PARTIES

River Street school's patrol members gave a Christmas party in the school gymnasium recently. Invited guests were Police Chief Frank W. Reuther, Mrs. Stuart Edington, P.T.A. sponsor, members of the school student council and class presidents. Captains Angelo Scotti and Geraldine Roche led the grand march. The program consisted of songs and dances by Nancy Fredmore, Anna Rovito, Danelia Pharr, Patty Puglisi, Joyce Peluso, Nicky Piroso, Charles Norton, Carl Bradley, William Cain, Ebb Thomas, Otis Williams, Robert Buckalew and Joseph Malinconico. Games, a special contest and dancing followed. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served under the direction of Capt. Shirley Clarke.

THE NEW WONDER LUBRICANT

now available to every car-owner

AUTOMOTIVE

Big savings on gas, oil, engine wear

What is LIQUI-MOLY?

LIQUI-MOLY is a plating process for auto engines. It plates a coating of Molybdenum Disulfide on all friction surfaces inside your motor. Simply add the one-treatment can to your regular motor oil every 3000 miles. The action of your motor does the rest.

Millions of microscopic "ball-bearings" drastically reduce engine friction

Instead of metal grinding against metal, engine parts now slide smoothly on millions of microscopic moly "ball-bearings". This reduction of friction results in more miles per gallon, less oil consumption, higher speeds, additional horsepower, and a reduction of engine wear. The only way to remove this moly film is to wear it off (which takes a good 3,000 miles). Engine heat and acids cannot affect LIQUI-MOLY.

Eliminates dry starts

When your car stands idle, the dead weight of engine parts squeezes out the vital motor oil, leaving the bearings without lubrication, with metal resting on metal. The resultant grinding "dry start" is one of the major causes of engine wear. With a LIQUI-MOLY coating on the bearings, you get lubrication from the instant you start—LIQUI-MOLY CAN'T be "squeezed out"; it's PLATED ON. This is especially important in cold weather, when your oil won't flow readily—LIQUI-MOLY carries the load at ANY temperature, until your oil flows. LIQUI-MOLY assures much faster starts and warm-up on cold days, without engine strain.

Protects engine if oil or water is lost

In actual emergencies, LIQUI-MOLY-treated cars have run for many miles without either oil or water, and have come through without the slightest damage to engine parts.

For break-in of new cars at high speeds

LIQUI-MOLY smooths out the rough metal surfaces of new engines to a mirror finish, reducing engine wear, and preserving the compression and close tolerances that make for new-engine performance.

Contains absolutely no kerosene or graphite

A PERSONAL MESSAGE FROM THE INVENTOR OF LIQUI-MOLY:

Your car is as fine a piece of mechanism as the most powerful jet engines and it deserves the very best in lubrication. Buy the best oils on the market, but FORTIFY them with LIQUI-MOLY for the ultimate in performance, long wear, economy and safety.

When I first started working on LIQUI-MOLY, all we knew about Molybdenum Disulfide (MoS_2) was that it had the lowest coefficient of friction of ANY available lubricant, which was what we needed to enable us to operate machines, guns and planes at higher speeds, higher temperatures, heavier loads. Navy, Army, Bureau of Standards, Atomic Energy Commission laboratories all agreed on this point, but as a dry solid, MoS_2 was unsuited for use on conventional oiling and greasing equipment. My job was to "make it work".

LIQUI-MOLY was my solution to the problem, and the rewards of my labors are the satisfaction of seeing it adopted by the Air Force, used in every Atomic Energy installation in the country, seeing it perform miracles of lubrication in heavy industry, making possible operations that were heretofore impossible because of the limitations of ordinary lubricants, and in short, enabling America to shoot harder, faster and further than any other nation, and enabling Americans to do things that had never been done before.

Not the least of my satisfactions has been that through my efforts hundreds of thousands of Americans are extending the lives of their automobiles, enjoying trouble-free operation, and saving dollars on gas and oil by using AUTOMOTIVE LIQUI-MOLY in their cars—the same purified, micronized and "liquified" MoS_2 that flies with our jets. Your car deserves it.

A. J. Lockrey

Various grades of LIQUI-MOLY are used regularly on tough lubrication jobs by:

U. S. Air Force	General Electric
Atomic Energy Commission	U. S. Steel
Ford Motor Company	Westinghouse
Union Carbon & Carbide	Union Oil
Curtiss-Wright	DePent

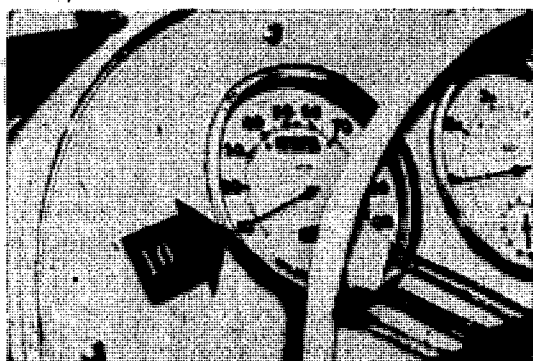

Other users of LIQUI-MOLY include over 3,000 large industrial plants, air lines and military installations.

PHOTOS OF TEST by "SPEED AGE" MAGAZINE

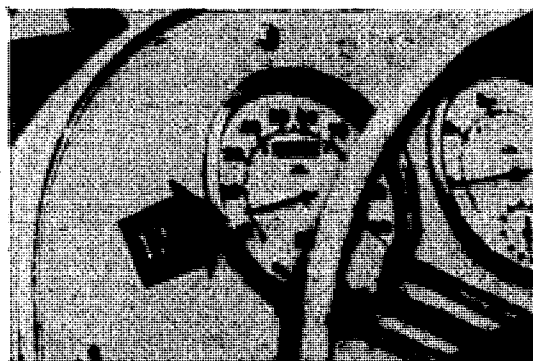

(in the January, 1952 issue)

Before Liqui-Moly Treatment

One rear wheel of this car was jacked up, the car put into high gear, and the throttle pre-set at a given point. After the engine was warmed up for ten minutes, the speedometer showed a speed of 10 miles per hour.

After Liqui-Moly Treatment

At this point, a can of LIQUI-MOLY was poured into the crankcase. Thirty minutes later, the speedometer needle read TWELVE miles per hour, on the same throttle setting—an increase of 20%!

In literally hundreds of tests, these same amazing results have been shown—and the gain is permanent, as long as LIQUI-MOLY is used.

KW Daily Output Hits New Mark

ASBURY PARK — An all-time record in customer peak demand of 225,000 kilowatts was reached by Jersey Central Power & Light company Dec. 29. The figure exceeded by 18,000 the 207,000 kilowatt peak of 1951.

Clyde A. Mullen, vice president in charge of operations for the company, explained that the mark represented the greatest demand for electricity by customers during a peak one-hour period.

Mr. Mullen reported that in 1952 a new record was also set in gross output of 1,185,604,818 kilowatt hours. This compares with 1,116,836,696 kilowatt hours for 1951.

The utility official said, "New customers moving into the area and the expanded use of electricity by all classes of users reflects the continuing growth of the area. J. C. P. & L. is privileged to serve. The company is connecting new customers at the rate of more than 10,000 a year. More and more new industries are opening their doors for trade in the area and many others are expanding their production facilities. The average family, we serve now uses twice as much electricity today as it did ten years ago and three times as much as it did 15 years ago. Preliminary figures indicate that the average family served by J. C. P. & L. used 2,135 kilowatt hours in 1952.

"The company is constantly planning and expanding to meet future requirements. A new $19 million electric generating station nearing completion and a $24 million addition under way at the Raritan River power plant will, by 1955, double the company's present system generating capacity of 179,000 kilowatts.

"J. C. P. & L. is presently engaged in a three-year construction program to cost in excess of $60 million. In a ten-year period since World War II, it will have spent $60 million in expansion."

Conditions In Prisons Criticized By Committee

TRENTON (AP)—Formula for a prison riot:

A heterogeneous group of the state's toughest convicts, locked up in an overcrowded, archaic jail staffed by underpaid and some untrained guards; for good measure keep about a third of the inmate population unoccupied; and to save money don't give the men enough soap.

That's what the governor's committee investigating disturbances at the New Jersey state prison found at the Trenton institution.

In a 130-page report to Gov. Driscoll, the committee, headed by State Supreme Court Justice Harry Heher, went beyond mere recommendations for improving plant facilities and raising the pay of guards—it also offered a penal philosophy.

The purpose of jails, said the committee, is "the protection of society by holding prisoners in secure custody during their sentences, and by preparing as many as possible for return to free society as law-abiding, self-supporting citizens."

"Programs of rehabilitation, training and treatment demonstrate beyond dispute that such programs pay dividends to the taxpayers for in excess of the cost of the necessary personnel and facilities."

"We can ill afford, from purely selfish motives even if we shrug off the humanitarian principles involved, to neglect any effort that may turn a substantial percentage of these prisoners from future crime. It is personnel primarily that makes such an effort fruitful."

"We must pay the bill for personnel now or a much bigger bill later for crimes committed by men who might have been salvaged."

The committee repeatedly pointed out in its report that New Jersey is a rich state which could well afford a modern prison, competently staffed, to replace the Trenton institution built in 1836.

The committee noted that property damage alone in the several riots this year at Trenton and Rahway totaled about $200,000—a figure that could have been used more profitably to remove the causes of riots.

"The value of the state property destroyed and the other costs to the state resulting from the Trenton and Rahway riots far exceed the comparatively small savings affected by the 'economies' that formed part of the basis of these riots," the committee said.

Bates Lauded
The committee lauded Sanford Bates, Commissioner of Institutions and Agencies, and his efforts to replace the Trenton prison. It quoted Bates as saying:

"When the 1949 bond issue for institutions was proposed, an item of $4,500,000 for a new maximum security branch prison was included. This project, however, did not fall within the approved list when the amount of the bond issue was reduced from the first total of $45,000,000 to $25,000,000."

"Strangely enough, certain estimable people in our communities declared that if the bond issue was to include a new prison they would vote against it, even though this might mean the insane, the feeble-minded, the sick and the needy would be obliged to go without the new and safe quarters that they required."

Here are some comments prepared by Justice Heher and his two associates on the committee—Austin H. McCormick, executive director of the Osborne association and professor of criminology at the University of California, and Stanley P. Kahn, former president of the American Prison Association and former warden of the Western penitentiary at Pittsburgh:

On Education: "Educational and vocational training programs and other rehabilitation activities are virtually non-existent at Trenton prison."

Guard Pay: "There can be no question that the inadequacy of salaries has been the main reason, and in some instances the only reason, why it has been impossible to recruit and retain a sufficient number of fully qualified corrections officers."

Prisoner Clothing: "Warden Carthy stated . . . that he has seen prisoners go two or three months at a time without socks . . . there have also been frequent and prolonged shortages of soap . . ."

Idleness: "For prisoners at the Trenton prison who are able and willing to work, enforced idleness causes double bitterness because they lose the small wage . . . and also lose the so-called work-time. This is a shortening of the sentence of working men by one day a week . . ."

Trenton Plant: "All informed penologists have recognized that the state prison at Trenton has long since outlived its usefulness and that its physical facilities, staff and program have fallen far short of the standards set by the newer and better institutions in the department."

Fourth Offenders
In its discussion of parole, the committee was severely critical of sentencing fourth offenders to life terms. Said the report:

"We doubt the wisdom of the mandatory life sentence for the fourth offender. The rigidity of the statutory rule tends to defeat justice. Where in the particular circumstances life imprisonment is deemed harsh and unreasonable, the prosecution becomes abortive. And the life sentence may frustrate rehabilitation while there is still hope. The absolute rule cannot be justly applied in all the varying circumstances."

"A reasonable discretion to impose a life sentence for a fourth offense, governed by the particular case, would seem to be a more just and certain instrument of law enforcement, just as in the case of second and third offenders the imposition of sentence greater than that provided for a first offense is discretionary."

Holiday Party For Civic Chorus

RUMSON—The Monmouth Civic chorus of Red Bank enjoyed a holiday party last week at the Village Green. Refreshments were served and Christmas carols sung by the group.

Among those present were William Gordon Bagdin, conductor of the chorus; Mrs. Germaine Sayers, Mrs. Ruth Crawford, Mrs. Marie Mayskens, Mrs. Jean Watson, Mrs. Geraldine Scheffer, Mrs. Polly MacLean, Mrs. Charlotte S. Barg, Mrs. Jane Gunderson, Mrs. Margarite Lindner, Mrs. Geraldine Husenitz, Mrs. Etta Stryker, Mrs. Ruth Brower, Mrs. Zenia Davis, Mrs. Erna McIntyre, Mrs. Jean Crozier, Mrs. Patricia Blair, Mrs. Janet Pagdin, Mrs. Virginia Hornberger, Mrs. Esther Clark, Miss Anneke Brower, Miss Joan E. Mumford, Lewis Lowry, Glenn C. Holcombe, Oscar Hennings, A. Eldridge Brower, Rudolf W. Barg, Charles Gunderson, Gerard H. Lindner, John C. Schoening, W. W. Mumford, J. Patrick Magillcuddy, Wesley Crozier, Edward C. Hinkelman, G. Millard Sherk, H. Duncan Peckham, Harold Hornberger, Don MacLean and Frank S. Grenger.

The chorus will present Mendelssohn's "Elijah" in January. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening in the Holy Trinity Lutheran church in Red Bank. Mrs. Virginia Hornberger is accompanist. Plans for a spring concert are under way, at which time the "Hora Novissima" by Horatio Parker will be given in Latin.

Community Church Holds Christmas Program

PORT MONMOUTH—Members of the Sunday-school of the Community church here presented a Christmas program directed by Mrs. Clara K. Magaw Sunday night of last week at the church. Candy, fruit and copies of the New Testament were distributed after the program.

A contribution to the current building program of the first aid squad here was presented to Walter Fink, first lieutenant of the squad. William T. McKibben, on behalf of the official board of the church, presented a pen and pencil set to Lawrence W. Wise, Sunday-school superintendent. Rev. A. D. Magaw, pastor, received a Sunday-school award for 25 years' perfect attendance. Others who received awards were Mrs. Magaw, 23 years; Donald Magaw, Jr., seven years; Beulah Edith McKibben, four years; Winifred Smith, Mrs. Zelma Thorne, Mrs. Helen Wise and Mr. Wise, two years, and Judy DeGroat, Betty Thompson and Charles Downa, one year.

Gas Company Names Redmond Area Manager

FREELAND—Jack Redmond of 702 Sixth ave., Belmar, has been named district manager of the New Jersey Natural Gas company's Freehold area. He replaces George Kluska, who recently was appointed manager of the company's Red Bank district.

A native of Belmar, Mr. Redmond attended Monmouth Junior college, Long Branch, two years, and the University of Alabama two years. He previously was associated with the Shell Oil company in New York city and the Bendix Aviation company in Red Bank. During World War II, he served with the U. S. Air Force and spent two years in China as an intelligence specialist.

HERD CLASSIFIED

BRANDON, VT.—The registered Ayrshire dairy herd of Charles D. Miffin of Allentown was recently classified for type by official judge, William S. Watson of Hutchinson, Kan. The herd attained an average score of 866, placing it among the top 10 per cent of the breed on type characteristics. According to an announcement made by the Ayrshire Breeders' association executive secretary, Chester C. Putney of Brandon, Vt., the Miffin herd of three purebreds included two members that were classified with a rating of 85 to 90 which is the second highest rating given any Ayrshire. There are now more than 20,000 herds of Ayrshires in the United States, and at least 900 of these have the distinction of being classified. The Miffin Ayrshires comprise one of the four classified herds in this state.

School Budget To Be 'Average,' Carling States

Calls for $190,500 To Cover 2 Schools; Was $124,115 for One

EATONTOWN — After hearing the local school budget for '53-'54 will compare favorably with other school districts in this vicinity, the board of education Monday night voted tentative approval of a budget calling for a total of $190,500.

Mr. Carling explained that he compiled statistics covering four other districts in this vicinity which will be operating two schools next year. The districts were Fair Haven, Neptune, Shrewsbury township and Union Beach. The principal point raised was that Eatontown's tax rate for school purposes will be 4.65, while the average will be 4.71. The number of pupils per teacher here next year will be 27.2, while the average for the other four schools will be 30.2. In the matter of teachers' salaries, the local total is $76,000 compared to an average of $81,674. Last year, the average for the other schools was $53,561 while Eatontown—which then had but one school—was $39,046. In such matters as text books and supplies, Mr. Carling said the figures show that local pupils will receive "as much or more" than the average district. He estimated that the two local grammar schools will have 600 pupils, plus 140 high school tuition pupils. The present enrollment in the grammar school is 511.

Comparisons Shown

District Clerk George Winning read the tentative budget, which will have a public hearing Friday, Dec. 22. It showed actual figures for last year, anticipated figures for this year and anticipated figures for next year. The total, in the order mentioned, is $105,584.30, $124,115 and $190,500. Principal parts of the budget included: current expenses, $120,000; repairs and replacements, $20,000; interest, $10,000; and miscellaneous, $10,500.

George W. Carling, chairman of the board, said that the board has been set as the goal for breaking ground and that the board hopes the new building will be ready for the '54 term. Kenneth Hampton, chairman of the health and safety committee, was directed to write Miss Laura Harding of the M.C.O.S.S., relative to a speech correction program that organization is planning. Mr. Hampton said the board is interested in such a program and would like to learn more about it.

Nurse Service Up

The M.C.O.S.S. also advised that public health nurses will not be available to any school for such matters as class trips. The shortage of nurses and increasing demands were the reasons given. Mr. Winning reported that the M.C.O.S.S. contract for nurse service will be $433.30, based on $2.30 per pupil. Last year the cost was $394.50.

Mr. Hampton reported that the school is still without basketball facilities. He said Fort Monmouth authorities had been contacted, but that the post does not have enough facilities for its own personnel.

The resignation of Mrs. Mary Murray from the faculty was accepted "with regret." Clifford Cadman, chairman of the teachers' committee, said he would write a letter of recommendation and appreciation for her service. Mrs. Murray attended last month's meeting to make the request, but action on it was delayed. She said she is to join her husband in France by next month.

To Discuss Eye Exams

A request by Mrs. Wanda Zank to have her two sons finish their terms in Red Bank high school was approved, provided she pays the difference in tuition between Red Bank and Long Branch. The family intends to go overseas in August.

Permission was granted Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Edwards to enroll their son, Mark, in the kindergarten. The child will not be five years of age until Feb. 7, which is below the minimum age, but the board's action followed the reading of a report card from an accredited school in England. Mr. Winning and Mr. Carling said the enrollment would be in the nature of a normal transfer.

Dr. Richard B. Thomas, who is living here in semi-retirement, was invited to attend the board's next meeting to make "specific suggestions of proposals" relative to "more complete eye examinations."

Mr. Carling said Dr. Thomas had written him about the matter. Dr. Thomas now conducts a limited practice in Long Branch after having practiced in Jersey City for many years. Eye exams now are given by Dr. Norman Thetford, school physician, and the health nurse.

Red Bank Police Wear Fluorescent Belts

Members of the Red Bank police department standing duty on traffic posts at night are now equipped with fluorescent Sam Brown belts. It was announced this week by Chief Frank W. Neutheer.

The new belts, according to Chief Neutheer, glow at night and should help in protecting officers from traffic hazards.

Burning of Greens Set for Saturday

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—The local Garden club will sponsor a Christmas greens burning ceremony Saturday at 7 p. m. at the municipal harbor area. Mayor Waldemar Smith will light the pyramids of Christmas trees and other greens, with members of the fire company on duty to give assistance if necessary.

Saturday morning, Boy Scout and Explorer Scout troops will tour the streets to pick up greens, using borough-owned trucks. At the ceremonies there will be community singing with music by the municipal band. In case of bad weather, the burning will be held the next clear night. Mrs. Elbert Mason and Mrs. Harry Donoghue are chairman of the event, the first of its kind in the borough.

Mayor Denise Starts 6th Term At Fair Haven

Minton, Magee Seated as Council Has Reorganization

FAIR HAVEN — Edgar V. Denise, re-elected in the November election, was sworn in by M. Floyd Smith, borough clerk, at this borough's reorganization meeting New Years day for his sixth term as mayor. Councilman Russell H. Minton, also re-elected, and Eugene Magee, elected to his first term on council, were sworn in by Mr. Smith. Mr. Minton was elected council president.

The reorganization session marked the end of council activities in the old fire house, in continuous use since 1907. The municipal governing body will move to its new quarters in the new fire house on River rd. for its Jan. 12 meeting.

Appointed by Mayor Denise were Mr. Smith, clerk; Joseph A. Seaman, auditor; Attorney General Theodore D. Parsons, attorney; George Curchin, treasurer; Arthur Davidson, chief fire truck driver; Retiring Fire Chief Charles Meier, recording officer of the fire company, and Mr. Smith, acting overseer of the poor. Council committees will be named by Mayor Denise on Jan. 12 meeting.

The Merchants' Trust company and The Second National bank of Red Bank, The Central National bank of Freehold and the Allenhurst National bank were designated by resolution as official borough depositories. A temporary budget of $17,300 was adopted.

Mayor Denise, pointing to James Enright, who didn't run for reelection to council, stated "We're losing a good man." He explained that Mr. Enright was unable to run because of the press of other duties. Mayor Denise expressed his pleasure and that of the council at having Mr. Magee serve with them.

Tax Rate Jumps $20.50 to $89.80

SHREWSBURY — Mayor John Hawkins presided at his first meeting here Monday night and heard Borough Auditor Joseph J. Seaman announce that he estimates the '53 tax rate will be $89.80 per $1,000 valuation, an increase of $20.50. The total budget goes from $194,702 in '52 to $276,531. Principal reasons for the hike, Mr. Seaman explained, are an increase of $36,729 in school costs from $98,116 to $137,845 and an increase of $9,028 for local appropriations from $57,200 to $66,228.

Mr. Seaman said the municipal budget was held "as close as it could possibly be," but that since "we need schools, we have to pay for them." The auditor added that Shrewsbury's finances are "in excellent condition," a factor he attributed in part to the fact that tax collections in '52 were "a very high" percentage of $8.21. He said that the large collection percentage helped in keep the rate below $80. The budget was approved on a reading. It will appear in its entirety in next week's issue of The Register. The public hearing will be Feb. 3. The school board's budget probably will be introduced at its meeting Monday night, the figures used in the borough's budget having been best estimates.

Purchase Cape Cod House in Shrewsbury

SHREWSBURY—The Cape Cod house at 50 McKies pl. has been sold to Capt. and Mrs. A. J. Kavka by Stanley M. DeWitt, realtor. The house contains a living room with colonial fireplace and bay window, a kitchen, glass enclosed breakfast room, two bedrooms and tiled bath. The new owners have taken occupancy. Capt. Kavka is connected with the Evans Laboratories in Belmar. The former owners, Mr. and Mrs. William Ralley, have moved into their new home on Hope rd. here. Mr. Ralley recently retired after 28 years of service with the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

Korean Vet Presents Grid Award

Eugene MacDonald, right, Korean vet, presents the Harry 'Ripper' Collins Memorial football award to John Trozze of Middletown township's undefeated football team. Trozze was selected as the outstanding lineman of the squad. Mr. MacDonald was given up for dead by the Chinese Reds and later was rescued by a medical unit. He was in Valley Forge hospital for a year and is now at the Veterans' hospital, Orange. Mr. MacDonald was a member of the 1944 Middletown township football squad with Harry Collins, who was killed in Korea. The presentation was made Monday night at the Middletown township board of education banquet honoring the squad, at Crystal Brook Farm inn, Eatontown.

Eggenberger Sells Home to Gummels

Willis Conover, realtor of Front st., this week announced the sale of Mrs. Margaret Eggenberger's home at 42 Monroe st., Little Silver, to Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Charles Gummel, who recently returned from Japan. Col. Gummel succeeds Col. Henry C. Owen as Fort Monmouth quartermaster.

The home was built by Irving Burke and held by the Red Bank Land and Development company until it was purchased by the late John B. and Mrs. Eggenberger. The house is largely fireproof, having been built of brick except for the roof. It has a large studio living room with a white brick fireplace that leads off to a porch. The kitchen has been modernized by the new owners. A library-den completes the first floor. There are three large bedrooms and a tile bath on the second floor, with storage space in the attic and to the side of the rear bedroom. Half the basement is used for a recreation room with fireplace. The other half is used for utilities and a hobby shop.

Mount Memorial Changes To Adams Memorial Home

Effective New Years day, the name of Mount Memorial home at 310 Broad st. was changed to Adams Memorial home, Frederick K. Adams having taken over sole ownership from Miss Almira E. Mount of 62 Monmouth st. and Mrs. Chester B. Adams of 214 Broad st.

The change marked the first time in 25 years that the firm was not owned by members of the Mount family. Founded in 1883 by the late Capt. Robert R. Mount when he returned from Civil War duty, he took his son, the late William B. Mount, into partnership in 1900. Both of them died in 1922, after which Mr. Adams became manager. He had joined the firm Mar. 12, 1917, soon after graduating from the Renowned Training School for Embalmers in New York city. Except for service in World War I, from October, 1917, to January, 1919, he has been with the firm continuously for 25 years. Miss Mount was the daughter of Capt. Mount and Mrs. Chester B. Adams.

Five Former Mayors At New Years Meeting

KEYPORT—Five former mayors of this borough attended the organization meeting of the council here New Years day when Herbert R. Rothberg and three new Republican councilmen were sworn into office. They were Rufus O. Walling, Robert Rothwell, C. LeRoy Bowne, George Birch, Jr., and Peter O. Weigand, Jr.

Atlantic Appliance Co. Receives Dumont Award

Murray Connors, executive director of Atlantic Appliance Co., Inc., was awarded a cup recently by the DuMont laboratories for outstanding merchandising achievements in 1952. The presentation was made by Dr. Allan B. DuMont, head of DuMont laboratories, at a meeting at the Essex House, Newark. Mr. Connors said this week the cup will be displayed for a week in the Asbury Park showroom of the Atlantic Appliance company. It will then be put on permanent display at the company's general offices.

Adams, the daughter of William B. Mount. The funeral home—described by Eugene Firth, inspector of the state board of Embalmers and Funeral Directors, as "one of the finest and most modern in the state"—has been on Broad st. since May, 1951, when Mount Memorial purchased the former home of the late Sara C. Thomas. The three-acre tract, which also has frontage on Maple ave., was known as Elm Court, a name derived from the fact that an elm tree on the front lawn is 200 years old.

Before the purchase, the firm was located at West Front and Pearl sts., where it had been for 28 years. It originally started on West Front st., later moving to the building now owned by Maurice Schwartz and Sons, auto dealers. Before their deaths, the Mounts had made plans for constructing the building at West Front and Pearl, but they never lived to occupy it. That building is now leased by Video Products corporation.

Mr. Adams was born at Chewa, near Camden, a son of the late Rev. and Mrs. William Adams. A past president of the Red Bank Rotary club, he is a member of the Red Bank lodge of Elks, the Methodist church and Monmouth and Ocean County Funeral Directors association. He is licensed to embalm by the state of New Jersey and New York. Other memberships include Myrtle Brotherhood lodge, Free and Accepted Masons and a life member of Hiram chapter, Royal Arch Masons, and Field council, Royal and Select Masters, and Shrewsbury post, American Legion.

Associated with Mr. Adams are David J. Murdoch, a licensed director and embalmer; Glenn C. Holcombe of Trenton, a trainee, and William J. Connolly of Portaupeque, who is expected to return home soon from Army service. Mr. Adams is married to the former Marion C. Frey of Red Bank and has a daughter, Miss Joan Adams, by a former marriage to the late Alice Shreve Adams, who died in 1932.

Hawkins Appoints Ogden to Council

SHREWSBURY—A new councilman joined this borough's official family Monday night at swearing-in ceremonies which highlighted the reorganization meeting. He is John H. Ogden of Garden rd., who was appointed by Mayor John Hawkins to fill the vacancy caused by the mayor's elevation from councilman. Mr. Ogden has lived here two years, coming from Jersey City. He is associated with the Coca-Cola corporation in South Kearny. After describing the new councilman as "the father of two children who has shown keen interest in borough affairs," the mayor heard his first appointment win unanimous confirmation.

Also sworn in by Borough Clerk Ortrude C. VanVleet were Councilmen William D. Layton and Herbert E. Schild, who were re-elected in November. Mr. Schild later was elected by his fellow officials as president of council.

Following a custom instituted by his predecessor—Alfred N. Beadleston—Mayor Hawkins was sworn in to office New Years day by Mrs. VanVleet at his home. The new mayor served as a councilman in Little Silver four years before moving to Shrewsbury. He has been active in affairs here, having been a councilman three years and council president the past year. He has been chairman of the planning board, director of Civil Defense and a member of the zoning commission.

Monday's meeting Mr. Hawkins again put into use a gavel presented "from the borough of Little Silver to the borough of Shrewsbury" in 1924. Little Silver and Shrewsbury formerly were parts of Shrewsbury township. Little Silver broke away in 1923, Shrewsbury two years later. At present the only territory remaining as Shrewsbury township is that section known as Vail Homes. During Mr. Beadleston's reign as mayor he used a gavel presented to him by friends in the borough and members of his family.

42-Acre Farm Sold at Phalanx

Roiston Waterbury reports the sale of Fred H. Heppner's farm estate on Hop Creek rd., Phalanx, Atlantic township, to Mr. and Mrs. William Bradley of Little Silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Heppner purchased the property in 1934 from Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Cundell and remodeled the main house, which is located on a high knoll overlooking the countryside, with old trees and box bushes.

The farm consists of 42 acres and, in addition to the seven-room home with tile bath, powder room and patio, contains a small tenant cottage, box stalls and corn crib. Mr. and Mrs. Bradley expect to take possession of the property Feb. 1. Mr. Bradley is co-owner of Monmouth Radio Supply company, wholesale electronic supplies, in Red Bank.

Draft Board Wants All Address Changes

Daniel S. Weigand, chairman of the Red Bank Selective Service board, announced this week that all men, regardless of age or draft status, should notify the board of any change of address.

Mr. Weigand also stated that anyone wanting information should obtain it directly from the draft board rather than any other source. He added many persons have received misleading information from un-informed sources.

Nary Appoints Carton Assessor; 2 New Councilmen

Six Officials Sworn In at Reorganization Meeting New Years

RUMSON—This municipality began the new year with the swearing in of a new assessor and five councilmen, of whom two are new members. The oaths were administered by Mayor Francis J. Nary at the reorganization meeting of the mayor and council New Years day.

Mr. Carton, who relinquished his seat on the council to take the assessorship, succeeds Neil W. Chichester, who resigned several weeks ago. The new members of the council are W. Dinsmore Banks, who was elected in November, and William F. Halleran, who was appointed to succeed Mr. Carton. Halston P. Lamborn, who has been serving on the council, was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Harold J. Goetz. Also returning to office in the November election were Councilmen Charles B. Harding and Garrison C. King. Councilman Harding was elected president of the council.

Mayor's Appointments

The following appointments by Mayor Nary were unanimously confirmed by the council: Mrs. Mary M. O'Rourke, as borough treasurer; Theodore D. Parsons, borough attorney; George K. Allen, borough engineer; Thomas J. Gilligan, road superintendent; Robert T. Wilson, road department mechanic; Daniel M. Shea, fire department mechanic; Walter R. Neuhauer, janitor; Elmer Pearsall, building inspector; Mary M. O'Rourke, official search officer; J. Stanley Teunon, borough auditor.

Mrs. Ruth H. Clejka, clerical assistant in clerk's office; Charles R. Thompson, road department foreman; Dr. Stephen Casagrande, police surgeon; Charles B. Harding, member of planning board for three years; John W. Carton, Jr., member of the planning board for one year; John T. Black, member of planning board for six years; Peter H. B. Cumming, member of zoning board of adjustment for three years; Ruth H. Clejka, member of board of health for three years; Philip E. N. Greene, Jr., member of board of health for three years.

Van R. Halsey, member state tax commission for three years; Elizabeth P. Zobel, member of local assistance board for two years; Peter Cartmell, member of local assistance board for one year; John W. Carton, Jr., assessor of the sewer district; John H. Noonan, sewer plant operator; Arnold Tulip, magistrate of municipal court for three years; Marjorie L. Wirth, clerk of municipal court for three years; Julius Kissel and George J. Trautmann, as special officers.

Councilmen Named

Mayor Nary appointed the following committees, with the chairman named first in each case: Finance—Cartmell, Harding, Lamborn, Banks; Police—Harding, King, Cartmell, Lamborn; Fire—King, Halleran, Cartmell, Harding; Road—Lamborn, Banks, Halleran, King; Public properties and utilities—Halleran, Cartmell, Harding, Banks, Halleran, King; Sanitation—Banks, Lamborn, Halleran, King.

VanHorn Reports Record in Sales

FAIR HAVEN—The Ray Van Horn agency, realtors, with offices located at 804 River rd., reports breaking all previous home sales records last month for any month of December for the firm.

Usually December is not a particularly active month for a home buying standpoint, in as much as home purchasers are more than busy with Christmas shopping and holiday festivities. However, just as retail stores throughout the county and nation report an all-time record in Christmas business, the Van Horn organization reports that in dollar volume their sales of homes was 200 per cent greater than December, 1951, about 60 per cent ahead of December, 1950, and 80 per cent ahead of December, 1949.

The price range in residential property sold in December was from $13,500 to $50,000.

The buying surge is continuing through the holidays, according to Mr. Van Horn, with sales closing since New Years day indicating that January may also be a record month for home buying.

Members of the Van Horn agency are Ray Van Horn, Florence D. Van Horn, Joseph F. Hunter, Harold K. Jones, George K. Boyce, Florence E. Dolan and Eleanor T. Maloney.

Young Airman Writes Exciting Description of Plane Crash

RUMSON—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. McCue of Ridge rd. have received a letter from their son, Airman 2-c Charles J. McCue, who was aboard the Air Force plane which crashed Dec. 18 on the outskirts of Oujda, French Morocco, while en route to Sidi Slimane from Rome.

"By this time, he and I were the only two in the ship. He gouged his head above the eyes trying to get out. Then I made a stab for the door but was thrown back when the plane surged over. I don't mind telling you that I was afraid to go. When I looked up and saw no one else in the plane—that's when I began to hustle.

"The plane circled several times before it hit and blew. As last man to go, I was first to reach the wreckage. Everything was a total loss—the Tripler out, cameras, a $175 sewing machine the major bought for his wife in Rome, uniforms, everything.

"Within a few minutes some Arabs appeared but would not come out of the darkness. If the plane hit their village as we expected, they would have been ready to give us the axe. Instead, they were extremely friendly and helpful. One of the officers gave his shoes to an Arab so that he and the colonel could walk to the nearest outpost, 20 miles away.

"Eventually, everyone gathered at the wreck. One man broke his leg and a small party remained with him. We tore up a chute for a windbreaker and the Arabs kept a fire going. By 3 a. m. Friday, we got a French doctor to take care of the injured. Day five, we reached the nearest town, Guercif, about 30 miles from us. We landed in a valley and the terrain was impossible, full of ravines, etc. However, when at daylight I saw snow covered mountains all around us, I almost became sick. One more minute in the plane and that would have been it."

In another part of his letter, the 24-year-old airman described Rome and told of a visit there to Rev. Albert Daly, a cousin of Mr. McCue's, who teaches at the College of St. Angela. McCue enlisted for four years' service Nov. 6, 1950. He has been overseas the past three months. Prior to that he was stationed at Biloxi, Miss., San Antonio, Texas, and Tucson, Ariz. A graduate of Red Bank Catholic high school, he attended St. Michael's college, Vt., and Seton Hall university. His father operates the Joseph C. McCue real estate and insurance agency here.

Keller, Curry Sworn as Councilmen; Mayor Calls for Bandstand, Beach

Baynton, Pichler Change Agencies

Harold A. Redden, president of The Redden Agency, Inc., 16 Monmouth st., has announced the association of Harold H. Baynton and C. Edward Pichler as members of the real estate department.

Mr. Baynton will manage the department, giving special attention to the commercial end of the business, and the placing of mortgages which will be a feature of the firm's expanded service. Previously associated with the Charles Tindall agency, Mr. Baynton was appraiser for the Mutual Savings and Loan association of Freehold for ten years, and has had wide experience in the real estate field.

Fuller Brush Service for Middletown, E. McKall, 15 Broadway, Fair Haven.—Advertisement.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—Borough Clerk Nelson H. Roberts administered the oath of office to councilmen to Reamer Keller, nationally syndicated cartoonist, and Everett C. Curry, who began his third council term, at the organization meeting of borough council here last Thursday afternoon. A telephone interruption just after they were sworn in brought the good wishes of former Councilman Edwin P. Phillips, who last year moved to Cooperstown, N. Y. Mayor Waldemar Smith spoke with Mr. Phillips and relayed his message. Mr. Keller replaced Mr. Phillips on council. Mr. Curry was re-elected council president.

In his annual message, Mayor Smith called for the erection, by the municipal harbor commission, of a bandstand for summer concerts at the yacht basin. He also said that council will take into consideration the establishment of a municipal bathing beach.

Committees Named

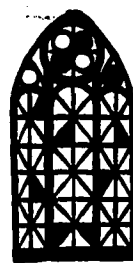

In a resolution, council approved the following committees, with chairman listed first: Finance, Patrick J. McConnell, Edward G. Walder and Reamer Keller; streets, sewers and sanitation, Everett Curry, Harry B. Murtha and Robert J. Corre; parks, buildings, street lighting and advertising, Walder, Murtha and Keller; fire, Corre, Curry and Walder; harbor, Murtha, Curry and McConnell; and water, Keller, McConnell and Corre. Mr. Keller long has displayed an interest in the water utility.

Council confirmed Mayor Smith's appointment of John M. Pillsbury as borough attorney; Mr. Roberts, searcher of assessments for municipal improvements; William J. Sternkopf, Jr., borough auditor; Philip J. Dinkelberg and Herbert M. Todd, members of the board of health for three years; Mrs. Ella Krasan for one year; Norman Conover, two years, and Mr. Walder, one year, as members of the local assistance board; Paul Muir, secretary of the police pension fund; Patrolman Algio Drinkwater and Capt. James J. Egidio, constables; Mr. Curry and Mr. Corre, members of the municipal harbor commission for one year, and D. A. Caruso and Mr. Walder, members of the planning board for three years.

Other Appointments

Also confirmed were the following appointments by the mayor: Arnold Trux and Capt. Egidio, members of the recreation commission for three years, and Patrolman Nelson Morris, Bradley VanBrunt, high school principal; Rev. Roy E. Williams, Jr., pastor of the Methodist church; Rev. Francis L. Nolan, pastor of St. Agnes Catholic church; Sterling Keyes, Mrs. Margaret Conover, Magistrate Irving B. Zeichner and Harry Wolford, members of the juvenile conference committee for one year.

The Lesson-Scripture on "Sacrament" to be read in Christian Science services this Sunday shows that true communion with God comes through spiritual mindedness and spiritual living.

The Golden Text is from I Cor. "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?" (10:16.)

The following passage from the King James Version of the Bible will be read: "He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him" (John 6:56).

From the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following corroborative passages will be read: "His true flesh and blood were his life; and they truly eat his flesh and drink his blood, who partake of that divine life. . . . Are all who eat bread and drink wine in memory of Jesus willing truly to drink his cup, take his cross, and leave all for the Christ-principle?" (p. 25, 33.)

Consumer Finance Members to Meet

Announcement was made today by Ralph H. Belknap, president of Bell Finance company here and chairman of Monmouth-Middlesex county area of New Jersey Consumer Finance association, that the first meeting of its kind will be held Thursday, Jan. 22, at Shadowbrook Inn, Shrewsbury. Senior and junior executives, along with all employees of member offices, will attend.

Michael Ross, president of the association, will preside. A question and answer panel, according to Mr. Ross, will be helpful to all, especially to new members. Booklets on the story of New Jersey Consumer Finance business will be distributed.

According to Mr. Belknap, most license lenders in the consumer finance industry in this state are members of this association. However, an invitation has been issued to those who are not members to attend the meeting.

"Public relations are important to any business, but especially important to all those who are privileged to serve others in the consumer finance field," Mr. Belknap said.

C. D. A. MEETING

A representative of the Carmelite movement will be the speaker at the business meeting of Court St. James, Catholic Daughters of America, tonight in the Red Bank Catholic high school auditorium. Reports will be made on ticket sales for the movie, "Our Lady of Fatima," which will be shown at the Carlton theater Jan. 11 through Jan. 14.

Try this for size, sir!

When your youngster grows into these man-sized clothes at age 21, how would you like to give him a man-sized estate of $10,000?

Here's how you can do it — at surprisingly low cost! National Life's Estate Builder policy, a new idea in life insurance for youngsters, is issued from birth to age 14. If you buy an Estate Builder policy for your youngster now, its face value will increase five-fold when he reaches age 21 (a $2,000 policy automatically increases to $10,000).

Yet

At age 21 there is no increase in premium and no physical examination is required, regardless of health, occupation, war or aviation hazards.

The Estate Builder is so named because not only does the face amount increase five-fold at age 21, but substantial cash values are built up for educational purposes, emergencies, a start in business — or, later in life, retirement.

Here's your opportunity to start your youngster off on a sound financial program at low premium rates that cannot be duplicated as he grows older. Write or call your National Life representative for full information.

League to Train New Provisionals

The 13 women recently admitted to the league as provisionals are Mrs. Jehu Patterson Cooper, Matamoras; Mrs. Eric Cross, Oceanport; Mrs. John Gordon Dixon, Mrs. Alan L. Duke, Mrs. Richard Smith and Mrs. Ernest Theimer, Rumson; Mrs. William A. Johnson, Mrs. D. F. MacConnell and Miss Nancy Williamson, Fair Haven; Mrs. Henry Miltenberger and Miss Nancy Smith, Red Bank; Mrs. Dana Stair, Long Branch, and Mrs. William H. Zilger, Little Silver.

Following a training course of lectures and field trips each girl will do 100 hours of volunteer work in this area under league supervision before being accepted as an active member.

Mrs. Francis Taylor, past president, welcomed the new provisional members and explained to them the meaning of Junior Service League membership.

Acting for the president, Mrs. Bernard White, Mrs. Gagnebin introduced the other executive officers of the league: Mrs. Peter Cartmell, secretary; Mrs. Thomas Beers, treasurer, and Mrs. C. Donald English, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Cartmell, who will be chairman of the group during their provisional year, then introduced other members of the board of directors: Mrs. John H. Bowers, chairman of placement; Mrs. John Bassett, education; Mrs. Norman Stoffel, community arts; Mrs. Craig Haaren, welfare; Mrs. Willis Sisson, thrift shop; Mrs. William Saladin, ways and means; Mrs. Julian Blake, public relations; Mrs. J. Spann Jeffers, nominations, and Mrs. Edwin Irwin, projects.

The training course which will acquaint the new provisionals with community resources and opportunities for volunteer work is as follows: talks on municipal and state government by Alfred N. Beadleston, state assemblyman; Mayor Katharine Elkus White, Red Bank, and Mayor Edgar V. Denise, Fair Haven, Jan. 14, 8 p. m., at the Red Bank YMCA; field trips to League Thrift shop, 9:30 a. m. Jan. 20, followed by a tour of River-view hospital and a lecture on hospital service; field trip to the State Hospital at Marlboro, at 10 a. m., Jan. 26, followed by tour of Briarcliff Child Care center; talk by Mrs. Harry Neuberger, only woman member of the New Jersey Crime commission, 2:30 p. m., Feb. 3, at the Red Bank YMCA, covering the state crime commission, the Red Cross, Monmouth County Organization for Social Service, and the public health nursing associations of Rumson, Fair Haven, and Sea Bright; and a talk by Thomas S. Field, Jr., 2:30 p. m., Feb. 17, at the Red Bank YMCA on the history of Monmouth county.

The group will be introduced to the league at a luncheon meeting Feb. 10 at the home of Mrs. C. C. Perrine in Fair Haven and during the last week in February will attend the dress rehearsal of this year's children's theater presentation. Each girl will also attend during this period a meeting of a local juvenile delinquency committee.

Following an examination Mar. 12, new provisional members will then meet with placement chairman Mrs. Bowers for interviews assigning them to league activities.

Sodality Elects 1953 Officers

Miss Rose Phillips was re-elected prefect of the Children of Mary Sodality of St. Anthony's Catholic church at the annual meeting held recently. Elected were Misses Sophie Clambrone, vice president; Maria Cordina, secretary; and Josephine Best, treasurer.

The sodality held its Christmas dinner party at the Casino at Atlantic Highlands, Dec. 30. "Secret pals" were revealed and new "secret pals" names drawn.

Hy .. Spotting Sports By Hy Cunningham

ALL AMERICAN MOTORBOAT RACING TEAM OF 1952 named by Yachting Magazine. In the 1953 edition of the Show issue of Yachting Magazine, W. Melvin Crook, associate editor, announces the names of the seven inboard and outboard motorboat drivers chosen to form the 1952 All American Racing team.

Stanley S. Sayres, Seattle, Wash., and his unlimited hydroplane Sno-Mo-Shun IV were named to the top spot on this distinguished list. During the past year, Sno-Mo IV not only took the Gold Cup when driven by Stanley Dollar, San Francisco, Cal., but Sayres also set the world one-mile speed record of 178.47 m.p.h. in this craft.

The other members of the team, the positions on the team and the classes in which they raced are: limited inboard hydroplane, Robert Rowland, South Norfolk, Va.; a 280 cubic inch; inboard runabout, Sherman Crichfield, St. Petersburg, Fla.; a 100 cubic inch; outboard runabout, C. A. Pierre, Cocoa Bay, Ore.; a stock outboard hydro, Dean Chenoweth, Xenia, Ohio; a stock hydro; outboard hydroplane, Paul West, Muncie, Ind.; Class C; stock outboard runabout, Robert Switzer, McHenry, Ill.; Class D.

What makes this a local item is Crichfield and his Hell's Angel. For several seasons Crichfield made his summer home here at Pullen's dock, Rumson, where he was a popular guest. He was also well known around Irwin's Boat Works.

CAN YOU PICTURE THIS? A lot of people won a lot of money at New Jersey race tracks in 1952, but didn't collect. The New Jersey Racing commission, in its report to the governor, stated that it turned over to the state $121,452.80 in uncashed pari-mutuel tickets from tracks at Atlantic City, Camden, Monmouth Park and Freehold. A state law provides that if a winning ticket is not cashed within 60 days after a race, the winning money is turned over to the state. A very forgetful person forgot to cash a $50 ticket that was worth $1,300 on the closing day of the Camden meet.

FREEHOLD RACEWAY, historical New Jersey track, was the first N. J. track to test the revenue producing possibilities of the pari-mutuel wagering law. In the commission's report, it said: "With the advent of pari-mutuel wagering in New Jersey, legalized in 1949, harness racing was conducted at the Freehold track in 1941 under the pari-mutuel wagering law, making it the first New Jersey track to test the revenue producing possibilities of that law. That year, the Freehold track operated for 22 days, with a total attendance of 13,171 persons, a mutual handle of $685,597 and a revenue to the state of $23,706.73. A comparison of those figures and the results of this year, during which Freehold Raceway operated for 50 days, with a total attendance of 72,845, total mutual handle of $6,851,801.00 and a return in revenue to the state of $240,475.56, testifies to the increasing popularity of harness racing."

"The Freehold track has been the scene of racing for the past century, and plans are being formulated by the management to mark the centennial celebration during the 1953 meeting at the Raceway, where the best spirit of friendly competition and good fellowship, associated with the racing of trotters and pacers, has been preserved."

"The story of Freehold Raceway over the years has been an inspiration and an example for all genuine followers of this sport, one of the oldest in the country. The efforts of many men have gone into keeping the fine tradition of Freehold alive, until today it is stronger than ever."

"To Fred Fattler, president of the Raceway, and to Charles Davenport, vice president and general manager, commendation should be given for the improved Freehold Raceway. It is the wish of the Racing Commission that Freehold Raceway will continue to grow and prosper."

Comes the trotting season in 1953, it will be interesting to see just what type of Freehold Raceway will conduct for its centennial year. Nothing in this mark is something to blow your horn for and we'd like to be one of the first to congratulate Freehold officials and wish the raceway all the best of luck and a prosperous 1953 meet.

DETERMINATION TO WIN on the football field paid off on the battlefield for a former Middletown township high school graduate. There's quite a story in the Korean war experience of Eugene MacDonald, who played end on the 1944 gridiron team of Middletown township high school.

Gene was in the thick of the battle in the Korean war, or as Washington officials would say, "Police action." And from the MacDonald story, and numerous others, it sure is the most police action any country ever had to cope with.

MacDonald was left behind with a small detachment to execute a delaying action while the rest of his unit retreated. There wasn't much chance for delaying action as the Chinese Reds practically wiped out his entire unit with every means of warfare with the exception of gas. He was seriously injured with machine gunfire and left for dead by the Reds. The Reds advanced, but later retreated. On the retreat, a Red soldier stepped on his face. All this time Gene "played possum" better than any actor could ever emulate. He was finally picked up by a medical unit and hospitalized. Coming back to the States, he spent a year in Valley Forge hospital and currently is at the Veterans hospital, Orange.

While in the hospital he conceived the idea of a "Rip" Collins memorial trophy for another Leonardo gridders who was killed in Korea. MacDonald was a great at the Middletown township board of education football banquet Monday night at Crystal Brook Farm Inn, and presented the award. Gene told the gathering what "a great guy" Collins was on the football field and how "a great guy" Collins was in life. A great character MacDonald followed. "My mother and father were killed by this time that the fighting spirit and determination to win, which is taught high school and college footballers, is a tremendous asset to the kids in these days when they are swept away from their homes to serve Uncle Sam in the armed forces."

SHORT SNORTS FROM SPORTS—William P. Pasicky, principal of River Street school, returned Sunday from a ten-day sojourn in the sunny southland. Bill makes the trip during the holiday season each year where he serves as publicity director of the National Women's Aquatic Forum, Hollywood, Fla. Johnny Cittadino and Dick Steadman attended the Men's Aquatic forum at Lauderdale.

George Poole, Shrewsbury, is at Tropical Park training the steeds of Greentree stable ... Harry Vain, another thoroughbred trainer, is residing at Dania, Fla., and is awaiting a visit from Bill "Red Foot" Frazer of Airport Inn fame. Bill and Johnny Gualtieri, master of the Wheel club, are now in Florida vacationing. Daily double windows elsewhere are sure to see a couple of new faces for a few days, anyway. Paul Ratti, Eatontown, is also patronizing Tropical Park.

According to latest reports, Milton "Red" Nichols, the man with gestures in the officiating circles of the county, will hang up his football officiating shoes at the conclusion of the 1953 season. How about basketball, Red? Retiring from the court racket or will you continue to carry your little black book for a few more years? Fans enjoy Red's court antics and call him the "Pat Kennedy" of the county.

Lou Jacobs, physical ed director at River Street school, inaugurated his intramural program this week ... Tinton Falls grammar school basketball squad is practicing at River Street's court and will play all of its home games there. In the grammar school circuit, St. James dropped its first game of the season to St. Rose Friday night at the Convention hall. The Little Casey had been making out victories with ease until looking up with the Roses, who still kept their points in this encounter.

George "Buffy" Strimwies, Maple ave., was one of the well known sports figures present at the banquet given for the O'Brien twins of basketball fame. Johnny and Eddie, 23-year-old hard winners of South Amboy, are putting Seattle university on the map with their court talent. Little 6-9 Johnny, college basketball's new scoring champion, and Eddie, a point phenom in his own right, were told Seattle now is known as "O'Brien's Corner." Other well known sports figures on hand for the affair were Alie Clark, Philadelphia A's outfielder from South Amboy, and Joe Collins, first baseman of the New York Yankees.

Everett Wilson, superintendent of Monmouth Park, was one of thousands who witnessed Tony DePittile's record ride last week. Everett headed for the southern tracks to try his luck with the race cars there after getting in treatment when selecting winners at Monmouth. However, he was waiting for the New Year to roll in so that he could receive credit for his first win of 1953. Did it work, Ev?

Mike Bricease, Keyport's gift to the baseball officiating business, stepped at the office last week for a short visit and reminiscence of his baseball and basketball days. We mentioned Mike in this corner last week and only a couple of days ago by and in drops the Keyport resident. Mike expects to leave Jan. 12 for Bill McGowan's umpiring school, where he is an instructor. In the middle of April he will start his umpiring duties in the Triple A circuit, one step from a major league assignment.

George Maschold will walk down the aisle come spring time. George is the first son of the new year to make wedding plans and will tie the knot with Trudy Van Vleet, daughter of The Register's now Van Vleet, Burd, Field and Stream columnist.

Charles J. Sheehan, secretary of the New Jersey Racing Commission, is building a home in Elmhurst. It will be a pleasure to have Charlie in the county. Now, if newsmen just can't seem to reach him by phone, they'll be able to dash to his residence and pound on the front door. Of course Charlie is always co-operative when it comes to handing out information and is just as helpful in keeping newsmen straight on commission matters. An early welcome to the county, Charlie Sheehan.

Rumson 5 Leads YMCA Cage Loop

The Rumson Lakers wound up in top position of the senior division of the Y.M.C.A. basketball league at the conclusion of the first round last week.

Rumson finished up the first half of the campaign with six wins against no setbacks. In a tussle with the BT-5 Friday, Charles Curtis pulled the game out of the fire for the Rumsonians when he sank a field goal in the last two seconds of the game to give the Lakers a 29-28 triumph.

In other games Rumson romped over New Monmouth Bulls, 45-21, with Russ Wheeler sparking the win with a 19-point production. BT-5 swamped Leonardo Tigers, 67-38; Little Silver Hi-Y knocked off St. Rose JV, 44-17, with Omar Sickles setting the pace with 23 points. Keanburg Dukes defeated BT-5, 33-24; Leonardo won over Red Bank Hi-Y, 29-22; Rumson Lakers swamped the Dukes, 47-23; Leonardo trimmed New Monmouth Bulls, 35-11, and Rumson edged Red Bank Hi-Y, 35-25, with Wheeler leading the way with 22 points.

Long Branch Edge: South River, 61-59

SOUTH RIVER—South River high school was the victim of a fourth period rally by Long Branch as the Green Wave edged the Bricktowners, 61-59, Friday night on the high school court here.

Long Branch came up with an 18-10 fourth chapter score to forge ahead of the home town club and to pull victory out of the red hot coals. Wilbur Russell, Long Branch forward, led the offensive attack with 22-point scoring offensive. Al Mursch topped the South River scoring with 21 markers.

Cal Hogue of the Pittsburgh Pirates had the longest losing streak in the National League in 1952. It was eight straight losses.

A Shooting Star Shoots

George Saxenmeyer, Red Bank Catholic's offensive star, is caught by the camera as he flies through the air to send off a one-hander which clicked to make the score 33-33 in the third quarter of the Casey-Buc game Tuesday night. Other courtmen, left to right, are Gene Kennedy, Casey center; Milton "Sweetboy" Morris, Joe Condina and Ralph Soldo of the Buccaneers combination. Red Bank high school won the intraborough affair, 62-48.

St. Rose Five Edges Caseys in Overtime

Red Bank Catholic Blows First Half
Lead to Lose, 48-45, in Extra Period

ASSBURY PARK — Breaking loose with a second half rally enabled the St. Rose of Belmar quintet to defeat Red Bank Catholic's courtiers 48-45, in an overtime thriller Friday night on the Convention hall court.

Coach Vinnie Gorman's Caseys boasted the first half play and led by a 24-15 half time lead which was posted on a 13-4 first quarter and an 11-9 second chapter. The Roses caught fire in the third session to register an 18-9 lead and then battled to an 11-11 score to tie up the ball game at the end of the final quarter.

In the overtime session, St. Rose posted a 4-3 margin for the triumph. Cliff Farren was the man of the hour for the Belmar cagers in the closing seconds. With three seconds remaining in the fourth period, the lanky center connected with a set shot to knot the ball game, 44-44.

In the extra session the Roses picked up points on Russell's and Cooper's free throws and Perry's one-hander from the side. George Gill tossed in the only Casey point when he shook the cords with a one-pointer.

Proctor Bush and Gill sparked the Caseys in the 15-4 first quarter with a pair of buckets each. Gill and George Saxenmeyer protected the early Casey lead of the first quarter by setting the pace in the second period.

In the second half the Roses tightened their defense and held the Red Bank Catholic club to six field goals, four by Saxenmeyer and one each by Gill and Tom Farrell. Farren was the offensive cog in the St. Rose machine in the final drive as he led the way with eight points, all on field goals.

Farren capped scoring honors for the victors with 18 points. Perry and Russell gave the Roses first support with 12 and 10 markers, respectively.

Bucs Triumph In 'Y' Circuit

The Red Bank Knicks continued their winning streak with a 69-14 trouncing handed the River Plaza Royals in a circuit encounter in the junior division of the Red Bank Y.M.C.A. basketball loop Friday afternoon.

Dom Manza sparked the triumph with 34 points tossed through the hoop on 11 dunks and a pair of fouls. Assisting in the scoring parade were Schwenker and Alexander with 16 points, each netted on eight baskets. Haley was top scorer on the losing quintet with six tallies.

The Red Bank Bucs edged the Ranger Jr. Hi-Y in a nip-and-tuck 24-23 tussle. Patton and Iacopino led the victors with nine and eight points, respectively. Dupree was the offensive star for the losers with 15 points tossed through the hoop on six baskets and three fouls.

SURF, FIELD AND STREAM

Timely Notes On The Great Outdoors

BY STEW VAN LIET

NEW YEARS EVE IN A LUMBER CAMP

The following story is a page out of my scrapbook of the wide open spaces. We did not know at the time that the millwright had served a term in the New Mexico penitentiary for manslaughter, and was out on parole.

The camp was located at the head waters of one of the many small tributaries of the Rio Grande river, some 50 miles in the mountains from the little ancient adobe Indian village of Taos, N. M., the home of the Chimio Indians. They were a peaceful tribe whose sole occupation was weaving blankets and selling burro loads of kindling wood to the residents of Santa Fe. Today it is famous as an artists' colony, and many of the pictures portraying Indian life of the Southwest originate from there.

I was offered a job as a time-keeper of a tie camp of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, and because it offered plenty of excitement for a "Tender Foot" I accepted it, not knowing what was in store for me.

After gathering our supplies our wagon train started for the camp. It was a tough looking outfit. The trip took two days, and from the time we left the Rio Grande we were on the upgrade. The camp was located at about 9,000 feet elevation, and when we arrived, it presented a sorry looking sight. It consisted of a commissary, small mill and about 24 slab shacks made out of the first cuttings of logs. A little mountain stream ran through the center.

My partner in the shack assigned to me was a powerful, red headed Irishman by the name of Hoolihan. He had been in the lumber camps all his life, and had come down from British Columbia to work in the mill. He was a popular, happy-go-lucky fellow, and his most prized possession was an old photograph with a half dozen cracked records, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "Where the River Shannon Flows" being his favorites. Many times I saw tears rolling down his cheeks while the old needle scratched along.

Before long our shack became the hang-out for most of the lumberjacks, who were made up of Scotchmen and French Canucks. The millwright was a tall, lanky westerner who, as we mentioned above, was out on parole from the New Mexico state penitentiary after serving a number of years of a long sentence for murder. More about him later.

T-M-B-E-R

The camp was to cut timber all winter, sliding it down the mountain sides, where it was hewn into ties, some by hand and some by the mill. The ties were then stacked in long piles along the banks of the stream where they would be floated down to the Rio Grande river when the spring thaw began. My job, besides keeping time, was to cover 20 miles on foot, counting ties on a little hand calculator. This required several days to make the rounds, and by that time it was time to repeat it.

My companions were a splendid gang of hardy, happy men, who had spent their lives in lumber camps, working all winter at the hardest kind of work, only to hit town in the spring and blow it all in a week, then back to the hills again.

Everything went along smoothly until New Years eve, then all hell broke loose in that little mountain camp. The millwright had been given a short leave and had gone into Santa Fe, where he got himself well tickered up. At about 8 o'clock New Years eve he drove into camp and proceeded to our shack, where five of us were playing poker by the light of a big oil lamp which sat in the center of the table. Suddenly the door burst open and in came the millwright. He was in fairly good condition and insisted on joining us in the game. He brought with him a bottle of Yellowstone whiskey, and we all had a New Years drink.

As the game wore on he kept hitting the bottle. I was sitting directly opposite him. A bet was in progress and it fell to my lot to raise his bet. Then, without warning, he raised up, pushing his chair over backward and reached for a gun in his hip pocket. Fortunately he had none. Then leaning across the table he said to me, with a string of oaths, that he would get me before morning. Before anyone had time to grab him he picked up the lamp, raised it high above his head and crashed it down on the table. Fortunately, again, the speed with which he brought it down extinguished the light before the crash. In the excitement and darkness which ensued he made his escape out the door.

So there we were with a long night before us, not knowing what would happen before morning. It was a pretty tough spot to be in. No one dared go in his shack for fear that he had a gun in his shack. No, one by one, they crept silently to their shacks. Hoolihan and I proceeded to barricade the door and windows. I remember using an axe handle to slip through the latch on the door.

There was no thought of sleep for us, so we armed ourselves with axes and sat patiently waiting for morning to come. As dawn broke we carefully made our way from the shack and took shelter behind stacks of ties. We had hardly reached them when we heard a rifle crack, and we felt certain that some one had been shot. Then everything became quiet.

It seems that the millwright had known that the only gun in camp belonged to the man in charge of the commissary, and that this rifle hung on the wall over the bed. Silently entering he crept to the bed, and without awakening the sleeper, reached over and got his hands on the gun. In taking it off the pegs he made a noise which awakened the commissary steward, who grappled with him, and in the struggle which ensued the rifle was discharged.

We all rushed to the rescue and quickly overpowered him. No time was lost in rushing him to civil authorities, and that's the last time we ever heard of him. If he had succeeded in getting the rifle it might have been a different story, but as it was it was plenty exciting while it lasted.

THE KNOW HOW OF EEL SPEARING

Soon the Navasink river will be frozen, and that's the time to get out your eel spear and start jabbing in the mud for these tasty wigglers. It doesn't require too much brains or too much brawn to jab a spear in the mud, but for a novice it is mighty hard work. For old timers who know all the tricks of the game, it requires very little effort. I have watched them in action, and this is the way they do it: After cutting a hole in the ice about 18 inches in diameter they will "test" the mud with the spear to see if it is the right consistency. This is most important, because if the mud is too hard the eels will not bed in it. When they are satisfied that it is "right mud" (taken from an old eel spearer), they will start jabbing straight up and down, gradually widening the circle in order to cover every inch of the bottom within reach of the long-handled spear.

This is not all. At each stroke of the spear they will twist it a quarter turn in case an eel is imbedded in the wrong direction to the spear head. They have developed a rhythmic action with all their muscles co-ordinated and can keep it up all day without tiring. They have also developed a sensitive touch, so fine that when the spear comes in contact with an eel no longer than a pencil, they can "feel" him.

One thing of great importance is to always push the cut pieces of ice down under the surface so it does not become a danger for skaters and iceboats.

EELS OF THE SARGASSO

While on the subject of eels it might be interesting to point out something about their breeding and migration habits. The common or fresh water eel, according to J. R. Norman, is divided into two kinds: Yellow eels, which represent individuals in their ordinary feeding and growing coloration, and Silver eels, which are those in their special breeding livery.

Yellow eels are found in both salt and fresh water, inhabiting the regions among rocks and weeds close to the shore, in harbors, estuaries, rivers, lakes, small brooks and isolated ponds. They vary in length from a few inches to five feet or more, and the female grows to much larger size than the male. Toward autumn a certain number of Yellow eels assume their breeding livery and prepare to undertake the long journey to the spawning grounds. Of these the males are generally about eight or ten years old, the females several years older.

They make their way down the rivers in the late summer and autumn, and so powerful is the reproductive call that even those individuals isolated in ponds and lakes will make an effort to reach the sea if a river be fairly near at hand, wiggling across stretches of meadows at night when the dew lies on the grass. Once in the sea they migrate across the Atlantic ocean to their breeding grounds, which lie in the Western Atlantic, south of Bermuda. Even eels from the farthest regions of the mouth of the Nile and the northern end of the Adriatic Sea make their way to the Atlantic for this purpose.

This stupendous journey, which may be as much as 3,000 or even 4,000 miles, is undertaken because it is only in this particular part of the Atlantic that conditions suitable to the procreation of the species are to be found. Having completed their mission the parents die, for it is not to be expected that such a journey could be undertaken more than once in a lifetime.

The eggs float for a time and the young when hatched out, feed and grow at or fairly near the surface of the sea, and gradually move in an easterly or westerly direction approaching the coasts of Western Europe and North America within two to three years. They now undergo a metamorphosis and turn into little eelers, or glass eels, about two and one-half inches in length. These move in shore and commence the ascent of the rivers.

Few obstacles seem too great to be overcome by the eelers in their ascent and they even wiggle overland if the ground be wet in order to reach a suitable resting place. Here they will feed and grow for some seven to nine years, until the time arrives for them to set off on their own breeding migration.

The remarkable life-story of the eel may be divided into four chapters. These are: (1) a pelagic larval stage—a period of active growth and passive migration; (2) the metamorphosis into the eel; (3) the growth of the ordinary Yellow eel; (4) the change into the breeding Silver eel, and the migration to the spawning ground, which ends in death.

SALT WATER FISHING CONTEST

Out of 258 clubs which entered the sixth annual R. J. Schaefer Fishing contest, the Worcester Striper club of Worcester, Mass., took first honors.

The three top clubs from New Jersey are Bergen Hill Sporting club, South Amboy; Manasquan River Marlin and Tuna club, Brielle; Highlands Striped Bass League club.

In the bluefish division Manasquan River Marlin and Tuna club came in second, with Paul Bennett of the same club in second place in the individual scoring. Mrs. Ann Frank of Shrewsbury, representing the same club, took first place in the ladies' division with a weakfish weighing seven pounds, eight ounces. Mrs. Frank also took second place in the all-over ladies' division.

PICKEREL SEASON OPENS

The winter season for walleyes and pickerel went into effect last Saturday, and will run through Jan. 25. Limit catch is 10 walleyes and 10 pickerel a day, with a 12-inch limit except in a few lakes where the pickerel limit is 15 inches.

In addition to the regular state fresh water fishing license, trout fishermen will be required to purchase a trout stamp. It will cost $1 for residents and $5 for non-residents.

Don't destroy your Christmas tree. It makes a swell bird-feeding station. We put ours in a hedge and tied pieces of suet and fat to the branches and scattered bread crumbs through it. It didn't take long for the birds to find it.

In 1952 the New York Yankees hit 129 home runs. This marked the 29th consecutive year that the Yanks hit 100 or more homers.

BY PAUL A. ALBRECHT

That explosion heard 'round the county Friday night was not the H bomb but a few of the firemen finding the range on the 1-3 pocket. We were up in the Red Bank Recreation bowling emporium, rolling on the pair of alleys next to Red Bank's Union Hose 1 team. Union was leading "B" division at the start of the evening and after their first game it was apparent that they had all intentions of staying there. Their 962 seemed to pep them up a little as they roared, and we mean roared, back with a scorching 1,088 count. Harry Hopkins was the loudest voice in this score with 277. The last game the boys let down slightly and could only amass 682 pins. Their grand total came to 2,922. Hoppy's opening game was a 204 and his closing effort a 211 for a beautiful night's work of 692. The sad part is that Harry had a miss in the fourth frame, the "mother-in-law" pin, and then after a triple he got tagged on one or else he would have had that elusive 700 set. The story does not end here as the night's work put all the top honors in Union's record book. The 1,088 and 2,922 are top scores for "B" in the team events. Hoppy's 277 and 692 are tops for the individual and anchor man Ray Pearce is the average leader in this division. The Union 2 team continued its march on first place in H by making it 21 in a row. Its lead has now increased to eight lengths. The second place Avon 3 team had a postponed match so this league could be out to five games. All the big scoring was not confined to alleys 3 and 4 at Recreation. Eddie Taylor, rolling for Eatonstown in A, not only strengthened his hold on second place in the average race but moved a little closer to leader Tex Tomalino in spite of Tex's 642 total. In fact, Ed rolled exactly 97 pins better. Yes, Ed had 230, 242 and 257, a real steady bowler. This 729 is the second 700 set of the season in the county. The other was rolled by "Catt" Palandrano a few months back. Eddie's Eatonstown teammates did not let him down either. They came up with 952, 976 and 1,035 for a new team three-game total in the county, 2,963. This tops the 2,958 rolled by the Baird-Reid quintet in the Red Bank Businessmen's league.

Tex Tomalino received his "Bowler of the Year" award Friday night at the Highlands and then went out and led his team to a sweep of Liberty 1, thus pushing Liberty 5 1/2 lengths behind the leading Phil Daly's. This makes it six in a row the Liberty boys have lost and unless they get back on the ball they will make a poor prophet of yours truly. We picked them to win, and if not, then no lower than third. They are still in that third slot by a half game. Eatonstown's three wins brought them to within a half game of Liberty. Liberty 2 found its winning way again by taking all three from Point Pleasant's Ocean 2 ladders. This leaves them 2 1/2 games out of first place, Glendole and Sea Girl being tied for that position. Liberty 3 took the odd one from Shrewsbury 3 in "B" but the Volunteer Hook and Ladder contingent made it a sweep to move back into a tie with Liberty for that spot. A real dog fight here as Shrewsbury 2 is just one game out. Union 1 in "B" with all its fine kiegling, is not in the clear yet as it has only a two-game bulge over Deal 1, Oakhurst 1 and Wansamassa 1. The big leads are in "B." where Unexcelled holds a five-game bulge and in "H" with Union Hose 2 eight lengths in front. We believe Union Hose 1 deserves a great hand for the fighting spirit and fine team work. Here are the members: Paul Mancini, Ray Pearce, Harry "The Bowler" Hopkins, Henry Canonic, Buster Murphy and Harry Hoffman. These 3,993 Eatonstown boys were: Steve Corcoran, Duke Meyer, Vince Royce, Councilman Ralph Lewis and Taylor. In the average race Red Bank is well represented. Lupo Ruffini is third in A, Ray Pearce first in B, Greg Figaro first in C, yours truly first in F with Bob Lanfrank tied for fourth. At Found 5th in G and Low Hendricks, Al Bogel and Dom Clementi 1, 2 and 3 in G. That's nine Red Bank legions among the first five in all divisions. Almost 25 percent of the top bowlers. Nice going gang, keep it up!

The Bendix Nite league looked like a runaway until recently. The Old Timers are running well in front but either they have slowed down or the Underdogs have gotten hot. The present picture shows the Old Timers with a 2 1/2 game lead and the Underdogs have 31 and 17, a 3 1/2 game deficit. The Old Timers, Underdogs, Nite Flyers, Bombers and Upstarts are all holdovers from last year and the Knights, Bankers, Punchers, Jets and Champs are all new team names. The oddity is that the team positions are just as we have given them. The old teams in the first division and the new teams in the second. Another oddity is that the last place Champs have a higher average than the sixth place Knights and yet they are five games further back. It is no wonder that the first two teams are up there as the top five places in average belong to these two teams. First and second place go to Don McCue, 183, and Gat Corson, 176, for the Old Timers. The other three positions belong to Art Cummins, 177; Ray Pickett, 176, and Chet Eble, 169, for the Underdogs. John McDrews and Frank Dugan are the rest of the Old Timers and Bob Fisk the last of the Underdogs. These two teams reverse positions for high game and series with the Underdogs showing 775 and 2,184 to the Old Timers' 795 and 2,162. If these scores look a little low, it is because these are four-man teams, not five, so the scores are comparable. McCue's 255 is his single individual game with Jim Williams, Sr., second at 245. Ray Pickett and McCue run 1-2 for high series with 623 and 600. Yep, these boys don't fool around. This loop is getting together with the Bendix Men's loop Sunday, Jan. 25, at 3 p. m. at the Red Bank Recreation house. Tickets are being sold at the plant with all proceeds going to the March of Dimes. This will be an annual affair as Bendix has donated a beautiful trophy which will go to the winners for one year. Next year it will be on the line again and each year after that. The top six men in each league on that day will face each other. Bendix goes all out to aid their employees in getting together in outside activities and has been a great factor in promoting bowling in Monmouth county.

Here and there around the county: What's in a name? The November edition of Bowlers magazine has a cover picture of a bowler bringing home a turkey. The picture could be Randy Cook of Fair Haven. Who should win the turkey shoot held by Pop Aumack at the Fair Haven lanes? Why Randy, of course. The 277 of Harry Hopkins not only gives him high game for B division but also means a check from Naf's Jewelers. Jake Mazzaropi received the best Christmas present anyone could ever receive, a son. This makes the count even, two boys and two girls. Congratulations, Jake. Could this have been why your bowling has been a little off lately? The team won and lost records in the Shore Firemen's loop are not the only thing to keep your eye on. These are tight races, it is true, but watch those individual average fights. They are close all around the circuit and if Ed Taylor continues in his present vein, even Tex's near 200 average will not stand up. Before Friday's action Tex had led Ed by eight pins per game, now he only has him by five pins, 193 to 193, and after rolling a 632 set! What does a bowler have to roll to win average honors in this county? What past president of the county association and police chairman of his home town was given a ticket New Years day? What past president of the county association would be rendered tongue-tied if his hands were tied behind his back? The Oakhurst Businessmen's loop is turning into a runaway for Danielson's Masons team which is aiming at 70 wins out of the scheduled 90 games. This will be doubly hard even though it has only lost seven games out of the first 45. The second half of the schedule will be on the bumper system and to top it off the star bowler, Walter Warden, is spending the next two weeks in Florida on vacation. Good luck, Walt, hope you and Nora enjoy yourselves as you well merit your vacation. Good luck to your team also as we certainly hope they attain the goal they have set.

Middletown Retires Rutgers Trophy

Art Matsui, third from right, Rutgers university backfield coach, presents the Rutgers trophy to William K. McGill, Middletown township high school principal, after the Lions retired the trophy which is put up for Shore Conference competition. Coach Arnie Truex and Middletown teams won three legs on the large trophy since it had been in competition since 1946. Others in the photo, left to right, are Co-captain Alan Ecklof, Mayor Lawrence A. Carton, Jr., Coach Truex and Richie Collins, co-captain. The award was made Monday night at the board of education dinner at Crystal Brook Farm inn for the undefeated gridgers.

Last Sunday was the day for the monthly meeting of the Monmouth County Bowling association and as has been the custom in the past few years, approximately 40 members were present. This is probably the best turnout of such an association in the country as there are only 56 leagues registered to date. Speaking of being registered, it was reported that two leagues had sent in Telley trophy entries and they were not even sanctioned. Here it is better than two months after the deadline and there are some leagues that have not been sanctioned. There is no excuse for this delay. George Bancroft, the A. B. C. eastern representative, was present to present the A. B. C. awards to Norey Aschettino, Bruce Oltmer and Sid Baum for rolling the highest three-game total in the country for a three-man team last season. Norey had 641, Bruce 639 and Sid a hot 727 for a total of 2,007. Wow! Pete Flingstone, sponsor of the team, was also present and was given the honor of making the awards. Among those present were Past Presidents "Dapper" Dan Dillons, Fred S. Morris, Ellsworth Barker, Low Hendricks and Rudy Zipper. Incidentally, Rudy is moving to Florida in two weeks where he has a better job and we will all miss him. Rudy has been a hard worker in promoting bowling in this county and we all wish him the best of luck. Hope to see you every now and then, Rudy. Bill Thornton, secretary of the Mercer county association, was also a guest once again which makes us feel proud that he drops in every now and then. The March meeting will see this association host to the state association. Don't forget the county tournament starts Mar. 11 with the Telley trophy event at the Neptune alleys. All applications are now in the hands of the league secretaries so get yours in early so you can have the date you want. Averages, as of Feb. 1, will be used.

43d National Motor Boat Show
Opens Tomorrow at New York City

NEW YORK CITY—The biggest show in recreational boating history—the 43d annual National Motor Boat show—will open at Grand Central Palace on Lexington ave. and 44th st. tomorrow, according to Joseph E. Choate, general manager of the show.

Featured in the annual mid-winter nautical spectacle will be some 280 boats of all sizes shown by 64 exhibitors, Mr. Choate said. These craft will range from a six-foot play boat to a luxurious 55-foot cruiser. Prices vary from $89 for an eight-foot pram kit to more than $75,000 for the large cruisers. For the first time in the show's history there will be an outstanding group display of outboard cruisers, assembled on the fourth floor and carrying a special appeal for those budget-minded families who thrill to the joys of boating.

George W. Cordington, Cleveland, O., president of the National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers, sponsor of the show, will officially open the boating extravaganza with welcoming blasts on the beach's whistle. At this signal an honor guard of Coast Guard auxiliary members, lined up on both sides of the main staircase, will snap to attention and the doors of the Lexington ave. showplace will be thrown open for the eight-day run. The C.G.A. members will be on hand for an honor presentation to the member who conducted the most individual courtesy inspections in the New York area during the past boating season.

The Historical Marine Museum, which made such a hit with boat show visitors last year, is back again for an encore with a grand new display of nautical memorabilia. The Mystic Seaport of the Marine Historical association of Mystic, Conn., and the Seamen's Church Institute of New York will again join in this display. A feature of this museum will be several small craft from distant lands—the Philippines, Brazil and the Aleutians—showing the master craftsmanship of aboriginal boat builders. Also on display here will be the Harold Keates Halsea trophy, emblematic of Atlantic ocean speed races, awarded last summer to the superliner United States. This was arranged for by the Seamen's Church Institute.

The theme of the show, "Boating's Fun," points up the healthful and recreational aspects of boating and is carried throughout the four floors of Grand Central Palace with brilliant summer colors. A Mondrian-type mural in the modern T-square art style, depicting all types of pleasure craft, greets the visitor as he climbs the main staircase.

For the second year a panel of authorities in the fields of boating, education and recreation will meet, during the show, the All-American Boating Family. The name of the winning family will be announced Sunday, and the family will be guests of the NABEM in New York from Sunday to Wednesday.

The flagship of the show—the 55-foot Dutch-built Capri—is one of the largest cruisers ever to make its way to a mooring in the palace. It will be surrounded on all sides by beautiful sport fishing craft, luxury cruisers, fast runabouts and sleek sailboats in the wondrous main floor display.

The special outboard cruiser display on the fourth floor will assemble for the first time a representative group of these sturdy, inexpensive craft, ranging in size from 16 to 24 feet long. Whether in molded plywood, plank or in aluminum, the outboard cruisers generally have cruising accommodations for two, and can attain speeds up to 25 m.p.h. with a single large outboard motor.

The show will open tomorrow night for four hours, and then will be open from 11 a. m. to 11 p. m. Saturday through Saturday, Jan. 17, except for this Sunday, when it will remain closed all day.

Officials, Police, Firemen Praised To Start 1953

Council Learns Tax Collections Reach 93.21% in Past Year

SHREWSBURY—Praise for borough firemen, police, officials and employees and routine appointments were among principal items of business as the mayor and council reorganized here Monday night.

Mayor John Hawkins, calling Shrewsbury Fire company "one of the most efficient, attentive and rapid companies to be found anywhere," complimented ex-Chief Monroe Marx's annual report, which showed there was an estimated fire loss in '52 of but $1,915. Mr. Marx's report showed there was 65 per cent attendance by the membership at nine house fires, 18 grass fires, one forest fire, one wire fire and two drills. The mayor added that firemen "deserve a lot of thanks" for their work in decorating the borough Christmas tree at Sycamore ave. and Broad st., which again this year "was the most beautiful to be found anywhere."

Others drawing special commendation were Tax Collector Isabel Parker, who reported a 93.21 per cent collection of taxes. The mayor said council owes Mrs. Parker "a vote of thanks" for her work. He added the taxpayers deserve credit, too, for their "loyalty in helping to keep taxes down."

Miss Ella H. King, overseer of the poor, was cited by Councilman David W. Russell. He said she should be commended for "a continued fine job," adding that "we are fortunate in having her serve."

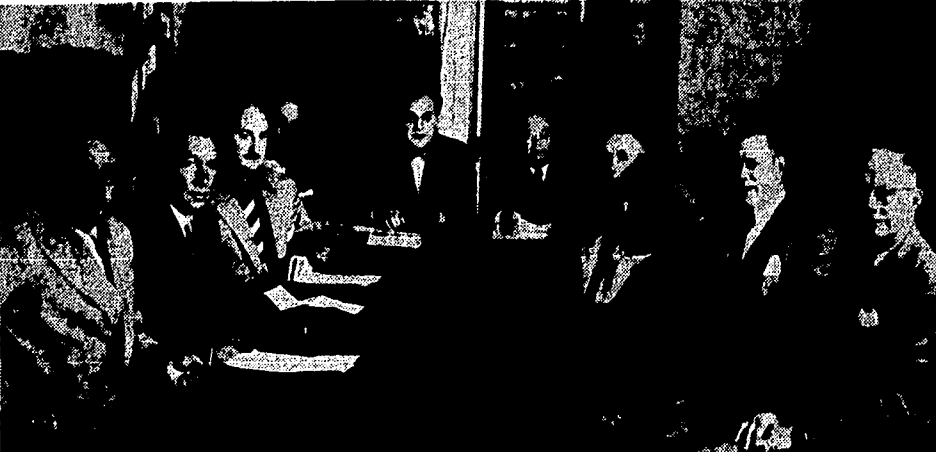

Committee Chairmen

The mayor's council committee appointments, the chairman being named first in each instance, were: Finance, Mr. Russell, Herbert E. Schild and John H. Ogden; police, William D. Layton, Mr. Schild and Harry T. Slickles; fire, Harold McCormick, Mr. Russell and Mr. Slickles; streets, Mr. Slickles, Mr. Layton and Mr. McCormick; utilities, Mr. Schild, Mr. Ogden and Mr. Layton; health and welfare, Mr. Ogden, Mr. Russell and Mr. McCormick.

Mrs. Harriet Smith, secretary of the shade tree commission, resigned after completing a five-year term. Mayor Hawkins appointed Robert T. Russell to succeed her.

Reappointments include Leon Reussille, attorney; George K. Allen, engineer; John W. Parker, superintendent of streets; Dr. Clarence C. Combs, keeper of the pound; G. Harold Nevius, board of adjustment; Lester McKnight, board of health; J. Robert Sagurton, building inspector; Lester C. Scott, member at large of the borough pension fund, and Richard Griffith, planning board. To fill planning board posts created by state law, the mayor named himself and Councilman Russell.

Special police officers named were Howard Matteson, Curtis Bradley, Percy Soden, John W. Parker, Edward Hounihan, Mayor Hawkins, Mr. Layton, Mr. Schild and Mr. Slickles.

The fire prevention bureau will consist of: Fire Chief Emerson Pierce, Ex-Chief Monroe Marx, First Assistant Chief Rudolph Barga, Second Assistant Chief Willard Willis and Building Inspector Sagurton.

Firemen Approved

Council confirmed the complete list of officers of the fire company. Included besides those mentioned in the preceding paragraph, were Rev. Theodore E. A. LeVan, chaplain; James A. Curley, president; Frank Lane, vice president; George Marx, treasurer; John W. Parker, secretary; George H. Lange, recording secretary; John W. Parker, Chester L. Foran, Harold Riordan, Monroe Marx and Frank J. Curley, Jr., trustees; J. Grover Carter, captain of fire police; James W. Ely, Mr. Sagurton, Mr. Foran and John Poole, fire police; Mr. Lane, representative to the Relief association; Councilman McCormick, Mr. Riordan and Mr. Lange, Sr., sick committee; Mr. Lange, Sr., chief engineer; Mr. Lange, Jr., first assistant chief engineer; Mr. Curley, second assistant chief engineer; David L. Emmons, George Farrell, William Herden, Joseph Fedorka, John Poole, Mr. Layton, Samuel York, Mr. Sagurton, Charles Buckalew, Mr. Willis, Mr. Barga, James Poole, George Marx and Monroe Marx, engineers.

Mr. Sagurton's report showed there were 111 building permits issued in '52 for construction totaling $481,680, a decrease from '51. Included were 37 new residences, $370,460; six new businesses, $53,700; 66 residential alterations, $51,720; and two business alterations, $5,800.

Dog Licenses Due

Incidental statistics included among the reports were that there were 63 births here in '52.

Mrs. VanVleet asked that residents be reminded that licenses for dogs are available for purchase. She reported there were 277 licenses issued last year, making the dog population about one for every seven persons. The fee for licenses is $1.25, of which 25 cents goes to the state. Council said it will consider raising the fee in future years. This point was emphasized later in the evening when C. H. Hall of 73 Garden rd. asked for an ordinance to curtail the free running of dogs. He said considerable damage is being done to shrubs and trees. Mr. Hall said it seems as though "all dogs in the borough are turned loose the first thing in the morning." Mayor Hawkins explained the borough has wrestled with the problem for many years and that council will try to "come up with some sort of remedy."

The mayor reappointed the juvenile conference committee. On it are Jack A. Weinheimer, chairman, Magistrate Merritt Lane, Jr., Mrs. Irving Feist, Miss Ella H. King, John W. Parker, Rev. Arthur S. Joyce and Father LeVan.

Police physicians remain unchanged. They are Dr. John A. Boyd and Dr. A. A. Podell, both of Red Bank and both Red Bank police department physicians.

Pick J. T. Lawley For FHA Position

John T. Lawley

Occasions arise when the F.H.A., by foreclosure proceedings, assumes ownership of residential properties. They are then entrusted to the Lawley agency for maintenance and resale, with liberal F.H.A. financing arrangements.

Before the government designates an office for this trust it first makes a thorough investigation of the principal members of the organization with particular reference to their local reputation, established ability and financial stability.

Mr. Lawley, a resident of Conover lane, is a member of the Monmouth County Real Estate board, of which organization he was recently elected third vice president. He also has affiliations with the Monmouth County Insurance Agents association.

Voorhees Takes Oath of Office

FREEDHOLD—Freshholder Abram D. Voorhees was sworn in Friday by County Clerk J. Russell Woolley for his fourth term on the board and pledged his best efforts on behalf of the county. The ceremony took place at the board's organization meeting.

The board again elected Freshholder Joseph C. Irwin, Red Bank, as director. He made the following committee appointments, which were confirmed by the board: Freshholder Walton Sherman, finance and administration; Freshholder Victor E. Grossinger, public welfare; Freshholder Earl L. Woolley, public property; Mr. Irwin, highways, and Mr. Voorhees, bridges.

Albert S. Maxson, Port Monmouth, was appointed to a four-year term on the mosquito commission to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert N. Seeley, also of Port Monmouth.

The following appointments were made: County Auditor John L. Montgomery, board representative on child welfare matters; Miss Winona E. Darrah, county advisory nurse for one year; Oliver B. Presley, county fire marshal for one year at $500; Mrs. Anna B. Rooney, five-year term on welfare board; Frederick E. Neaves and James B. McAfee, three-year terms on mosquito commission; Thomas B. Harper, five-year term on county library commission; and Mrs. Roberta Albright, five-year term on Allenwood hospital board of managers.

Mr. Irwin and Mr. Grossinger were renamed as the board's members on the county welfare board, and Mr. Irwin was again chosen as the board's representative on the State Freshholders' association.

Miss Elizabeth Durand was selected to succeed Mrs. Adeline M. Moffat for the one year remaining of her term on the library commission.

Miss Jeannette Adamokos was chosen for a one-year term as county tuberculosis supervisory nurse.

Raritan Grange Officers Seated

The officers are: Master, Walter J. Meyer; overseer, Victor Harnyk; lecturer, Ethel Beyer; chaplain, Nana Helwig; steward, Harry Smith; lady assistant, Vivian Johnson; gatekeeper, George Harnyk; treasurer, Ira Coon; secretary, Agnes Harnyk; Cora Minnie Hillier; Flora Virginia Dobbs; Pomona, Minnie Bekalski; members of executive committee, Peter Weiland and Roy Farley; chairman of home economics, Cora Walters, and pianist, Anna Schultz.

Dorothy Toland of the Toland Dance studios of Red Bank and Asbury Park taught ballet at the holiday season of the Philadelphia chapter of the National Association of Dance and Affiliated Artists Sunday at the Broadwood hotel in Philadelphia. One of her students, Jeanie Comber of Fair Haven, performed her dance from the studio production of "Midsummer Night's Dream," as a demonstration of Mrs. Toland's choreography.

Dancing teachers from many sections of Pennsylvania attended the convention. Also teaching were Oreste Sergievsky of New York city; Toni DePalice, Washington, D. C., and Lou Crescenzo, Philadelphia. Mrs. Toland has been scheduled to teach modern ballet at the February session of the Manhattan chapter of the same dance organization at the Park Sheraton hotel in New York city.

RUMSON — Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffrey of Tyson lane have celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday of last week. Rev. Richard A. Ewing, curate, offered a mass of Thanksgiving at Holy Cross Catholic church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey were married Dec. 31, 1902 at St. Mary's church, Col's Neck, by Rev. Aloisus S. Quinlan, who is now non-signor at St. Ann's church, Wildwood. Msgr. Quinlan, who celebrated the 50th anniversary of his ordination in June, 1951, erected several churches in this diocese, including St. Dorothy's at Eatontown and St. Catherine's at Farmingdale.

Son of the late Jacob and Anne Jeffrey, Mr. Jeffrey was born at Pleasant Valley, near Holmdel. Mrs. Jeffrey is the former Susan Dugan, daughter of the late Michael and Susan Dugan. She was born in Atlantic township, near Col's Neck. Mrs. Jeffrey's late sister, Miss Nellie Dugan, was maid of honor and Jacob Jeffrey was his brother's best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey are parents of two sons, William Joseph Jeffrey of Fair Haven, and Edward Egan Jeffrey, who lives at home, and three daughters, Mrs. Luella Irwin of Bonton, Mrs. Ruth Mulford of Brookline, Mass., and Mrs. Catherine Symington of Bellevue, N. J. They have three grandchildren, Ralph and Jeffrey Mulford and Susan Symington.

River Street School Has 'Traffic Safety' Day

The River Street school held "Traffic Safety Day" Monday when 40 members of the outside patrol and 20 members of the inside patrol met in the lower hall for formal inspection by the principal, William Pasick; the PTA sponsor, Mrs. Stuart Edington, and the directors, Mrs. Eleanor Wright, Charles Grippaldi, and Mrs. L. W. Bell.

Following inspection, the patrol, led by Capt. Angelo Scotti and his assistant captains, Geraldine Roche, Shirley Clarke, Robert Buckalew and William Cain, marched into the assembly. There they were addressed by C. J. Kreyer of the state traffic safety department. Mr. Kreyer spoke of the importance of obeying the simple laws of motor traffic and how the same rules apply to bicycles. Later he showed a picture illustrating these laws.

Dr. Levin Speaker At Congregation

Dr. S. Benedict Levin of Little Silver will be the guest speaker at the weekly services at Congregation Bnai Israel tomorrow at 8 p. m. His subject will be, "Is Your Mind a Pendulum?" An "Ones Shabbat" will follow.

Miss Elinore Benfer Engaged to L. Mitchell

FAIR HAVEN — Miss Elinore H. Benfer, daughter of Chief Warrant Officer and Mrs. Elbert L. Benfer of Dartmouth rd., is engaged to be married Feb. 8 to Second Lieut. Walter Eugene Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mitchell of Seneca, Mo. The marriage will take place at Fort Monmouth.

Miss Elinore Benfer

Miss Benfer, who is now employed at the Watson area of the Signal Corps Engineering Laboratories, was graduated from Rumson high school in 1950. She attended Rider college in Trenton, and is attending Monmouth Junior college.

CWO Benfer, although a native of Allentown, Pa., has resided in Fair Haven many years. His wife is the former Margaret Haun of Atlantic Highlands. A holder of the Bronze Star for distinguished military service in Korea, CWO Benfer is presently assigned to the department of Nonresident Instruction of The Signal School at Fort Monmouth, where he is chief of the student administration branch.

Lieut. Mitchell attended Northeastern Oklahoma A and M of Miami, Okla., and was graduated from the University of Arkansas in 1950. He received his commission in July, 1951. He is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, and both he and CWO Benfer are members of the Ancient Free and Accepted Masons. At present Lieut. Mitchell is an instructor in the wire division of the officers department of the Signal school.

Nancy VanNote Engaged To Arthur C. Herry

WEST LONG BRANCH — Mr. and Mrs. Reginald F. Van Note of 547 Cedar ave. announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nancy Marion VanNote, to Arthur Charles Herry, son of Mr. Edward Herry and the late Mr. Henry of Long Branch.

Miss Nancy VanNote

Miss Van Note was graduated from Long Branch high school, and is employed by the Maintenance Engineering branch, Watson area, Fort Monmouth. She is a former member of the Monmouth Little Symphony orchestra. Mr. Herry, also a graduate of Long Branch high school, is a Navy veteran, having served in the South Pacific in World War II. He is employed by the Signal school at Fort Monmouth.

Recent developments seem to indicate that the subject of outside organizations meeting at the house in Fair Haven will be discussed at the company's next meeting, with possible negative results, and this led the stamp collectors to seek other quarters for their meetings.

Stamp Club Meets In Eatontown

The Monmouth County Philatelic society, which for several years met at the Red Bank borough hall, and more recently in the borough council chambers at Fair Haven, will meet tomorrow night at the Eatontown borough hall in the heart of Eatontown on state highway 16. The society is very appreciative of the courtesy extended them by the Red Bank and Fair Haven officials.

Cubs to View Locomotive Shops

LONG BRANCH — Monmouth county's cub packs have been invited to the Elizabethtown locomotive shops as part of the January programs featuring the transportation theme.

Monmouth Council of Boy Scouts, in co-operation with officials of Jersey Central railroad, have arranged for guided tours of the shop. Some 700 cubs and their leaders are expected to take part. Special group fares will be available and a schedule of six station stops is planned on three Saturdays, starting Jan. 17.

First group scheduled will be Saturday, Jan. 17, from the Long Branch, Farmingdale, Freehold, Matawan, Keyport and Keansburg areas. A train will leave Long Branch at 8:50 a. m. and Matawan at 9:25 a. m., returning to Matawan at 12:50 p. m. and Long Branch at 1:25 p. m.

Cubs from the Red Bank area, Middletown township, Highlands, Atlantic Highlands section will leave the Red Bank station Saturday, Jan. 24, at 9:15 a. m., returning at 1:15 p. m.

The southern district of Monmouth Council will make the trip Saturday, Jan. 31, with stops scheduled at Manassas, 8:25; Belmar, 8:37; and Asbury Park at 8:45 a. m.

Fares will be about half of the regular price for the groups, scout officials stated. Cubmasters will make reservations one week in advance of the district date. Each pack is to appoint a "transportation officer" and a "ticket collector." A representative from the railroad will travel with the contingent. Cubs will see the big repair shops for both the Diesel and steam locomotives. The train trip in many cases will be the first train ride some of the Cubs have ever taken. Arrangements for the trip were made by Monmouth Council as part of the educational program of the organization. During October, 1,400 Cubs visited post offices throughout the county and boarded a special "post office on wheels" provided by Jersey Central and the railway post office.

Colt's Neck

Douglas Newbold, school board member, will address the Atlantic Township Parent-Teacher association at a meeting held at the school at 8 p. m. at the school. $40,000 Sought In Assault Case

FREEHOLD — Harold Connett and his wife, Margaret, Highland ave., Keansburg, have filed county court suits asking $40,000 from John C. Wilson, 22, and his father, John R. Wilson, both of Carr ave., Keansburg, as a result of a fight, which has led to four criminal complaints being filed.

The Connetts, represented by Edward W. Wise, Jr., Red Bank, contend in their civil suit that the younger Wilson knocked out two of Connett's teeth and broke his jaw in a fight on Sea Breeze way, Keansburg, Nov. 18.

Mrs. Connett, who claims she was injured in the altercation, is asking $10,000 for injuries. Connett is asking $3,000 for his wife's injuries and $25,000 general and punitive damages for himself.

The Connetts also have filed criminal complaints of assault and battery and atrocious assault and battery against the younger Wilson, for which he was held in $1,000 bail in Long Branch district court to await grand jury action.

The Connetts were held in $500 bail for grand jury action in Keansburg police court on the younger Wilson's charge of atrocious assault and battery. Connett was held on an additional charge by the senior Wilson that he attempted to extort money from him by threats. The bail on that charge is also $500.

Fair Haven Cubs Hold Tree Burning Ceremony

FAIR HAVEN—Cub Scouts held a burning of the green on Saturday night on the grounds of Knollwood school.

Fifty trees, gathered during the day by cubs and their fathers, were stacked near the school. The trees were ignited by Mayor Edgar V. Donise, who commended the cubs for arranging the tree-burning ceremony as a means of minimizing the fire hazard of uncontrolled burning of individual trees in the borough.

Members of Fair Haven fire company stood by to keep the bonfire under control and wet down the embers when the flames died away.

The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. William E. Magness, pastor of Fair Haven Methodist church. Frank Kingdom, assistant cubmaster, and chairman of the committee which organized the event, said the group hopes to make the ceremony an annual event.

"Sergeant" originally meant "foot soldier," but it has come to mean a non-commissioned officer.

Scouts, Leaders To Get Training

LONG BRANCH—National Council of Boy Scouts and the training committee of Monmouth council will conduct a week-end specialization scoutcraft course Jan. 23, 24, 25. John Moore of Jamesburg, training chairman, has announced that a team of 50 key scout officials would be invited to the session. The course will be under the direction of Robert Sprout of Boston, assistant national director of training. Sprout plans a full week of meetings with training personnel and scout officials.

Although arrangements are still tentatively set for Camp Woods, Fort Monmouth. The latest and most effective training techniques will be used. Coaching teams for the big districts of Monmouth council will be organized following the completion of the course to provide trained scout officers who will assist in instruction of new leaders throughout the area. Twenty-five new scout packs, troops, post and ships are scheduled for 1953. Over 150 new leaders will be in need of training, the committee stated. The January training session will start at 7 p. m. Friday, Jan. 23, and will be concluded with graduation ceremonies Sunday, Jan. 25, at 3 p. m.

Credits Extended For Service Time

ASBURY PARK—Social security wage credits for persons who have served in the military service since Sept. 16, 1940, and continuing until the end of 1953, were provided by recent amendments to the Social Security Act. This applies to all branches of the service regardless of where the service is being, or may have been, performed, J. Herbert Reid, manager of the social security office here, said this week.

The new law provides for wage credits of $160 a month for every month of service. Until the enactment of the new amendments social security coverage was possible only for the period from the beginning of World War II, Sept. 16, 1940, until its ending on July 24, 1947. Under the new law all persons who have served, or are serving, in the military forces will be given credits for each month of active service from the 1947 date until Dec. 31, 1953, Mr. Reid said.

An extremely important phase of the new amendments, he continued, is that some servicemen may be insured even though they never have worked in private employment. The military coverage is expected to be sufficient to provide an insured status for many of them. A large number of young men have gone in to the service fresh out of school or college, or had worked in employment not covered by the law before 1950.

Survivors of servicemen who died since July 24, 1947, may be entitled to monthly benefits on the basis of the new social security credits given for such service, added Mr. Reid. Lump-sum death payments, together with monthly benefits, may be given to survivors of those who die after the new amendments go into effect Sept. 1, 1953.

The wage credits will be automatically given at the time claim is filed, based on the military record required to be filed at that time. Veterans and servicemen currently in the Armed Forces do not need to do anything at the present time to establish these wage credits. The service record will be accepted as evidence of the claimant's right to these credits.

Survivors of those who served in the Armed Forces since July, 1947, and who died since, should immediately inquire at the nearest social security field office to determine if any monthly benefits are payable. This would apply where there is a widow over 65, or where there are surviving children under the age of 18. Where there are minor children, the widow, regardless of age, also might be entitled to monthly benefits, if the children are in her care. If the deceased insured service person left no widow or children, dependent aged parents may be entitled to benefit payments.

Persons contemplating filing claim under the new military service amendments should bring to the social security office the service record of the deceased service person to assist in speedy determination of whether or not there is an insured status, Mr. Reid said.

AIR FORCE FILMS

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—Motion pictures of Air Force operations will be presented at a meeting of St. Agnes Holy Name society next Monday at 8 p. m. at the school on Center ave. Men of the parish, over 18 years old, have been invited to attend, William J. Lamers, secretary, said today.

After licorice is extracted from the roots of the licorice plants, the residue is used to make a fire-fighting foam and insulating board for builders.

Two Die as Truck Dives Off Pier

LEONARDO — The navy is investigating the death of a 21-year-old Marine and a civilian who lost their lives when a navy panel truck plunged off the Earle ammunition depot pier here Saturday night.

The marine was P. F. C. George William Harris, who lived at 240 West Front st., Red Bank, and the civilian, Milton Klein, 37, Brooklyn, employed by the Military Sea Transport service. Their bodies were in the cab of the truck when it was raised Sunday by divers from a navy school at Bayonne.

The driver of the truck, Marine P. F. C. Richard A. Carlson, 30, Roosevelt, N. Y., was unable to explain how he escaped from the truck, but was pulled aboard a navy tug docked at the pier. He was taken to Fort Monmouth hospital and admitted for pneumonia. He also suffered cuts of the arm and both legs. His condition is described as good.

A spokesman at Earle headquarters said the investigation is being made to determine the cause of the accident, which happened about half-way out on the two-mile pier.

Naval officials said Privates Carlson and Harris were on routine patrol duty in the vehicle. They had just picked up Mr. Klein and were transporting him to the main gate. Mr. Klein had completed a day's work on the pier.

P. F. C. Harris is survived by his wife, Alma E. Harris, The Little funeral home, Owego, N. Y., was in charge of funeral arrangements. Mr. Klein, who is survived by his wife, Dianne Klein, was buried Tuesday afternoon in Brooklyn.

Leon Reussille Named Attorney By 5-to-1 Vote on 2nd Ballot

Leon Reussille, Jr., member of the law firm of Applegate, Foster, Reussille & Cornwell, and borough attorney for many years, was re-appointed Monday night in a surprise action after the first attempt by Mayor Katherine Elkus White, Democrat, to reappoint him had failed.

When the attorney's name was first suggested by Mayor White, Councilmen Harold E. Williams, Everett C. Baynton and George A. Gray voted no on confirmation. Councilmen Harry Malchow and Harold Hurley voted yes, and Councilman Thomas Oakley said, "I'm not voting," and offered no explanation. Mayor White then dropped the matter and proceeded to other business.

Recess Called

Just prior to adjournment, Mr. Reussille announced to Mayor White and the council he had noticed something in the meeting he would like to discuss with council in private. He suggested a recess, and council concurred.

After the recess, Mr. Reussille explained the vote on his appointment amounted to a tie in his interpretation based on law, and the tie could have been broken by the mayor had she noticed it. He said, "I hesitated to call it to your attention at the time because it was my appointment that was involved."

Mr. Reussille later explained in his interpretation of the law, Mr. Oakley's action without explanation and without any indication that he was opposed to the appointment in question could be construed as an affirmative vote. That meant there were three votes in favor of Mr. Reussille and three against.

Mrs. White favored Mr. Reussille, and would, no doubt, have cast her tie-breaking vote for him. When the appointment was offered the second time, Mr. Gray, Mr. Baynton, Mr. Malchow, Mr. Oakley and Mr. Hurley all voted in favor of Mr. Reussille. Mr. Williams stuck to his stand and continued to vote no.

Mr. Reussille, who has been referred to several times in the press as a Democrat, told The Register after his appointment that he was a Republican, but didn't always vote a straight ticket, and had been unalterably opposed to the Democratic administrations of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

Other candidates for the borough attorney's post were reported as Mr. Gray, his law partner, William Klatsky, and Edward W. Wise, Jr.

Addressing the council, Mayor White said she was confident she and the council could work together for the best interests of the borough, despite the fact that she was a Democrat, and all the councilmen were Republican. She thanked all the borough employees for their help, especially the department heads, and paid tribute to the members of the council for the service they have given the borough without remuneration, and to the press.

Councilman Everett C. Baynton, stating his second term, and Councilman Harold E. Williams, beginning his first elective term after having served part of last year as an appointee, were sworn in with Mayor White. They both spoke briefly as did Mr. Malchow, dean of the council. Mr. Williams was named council president, succeeding Mr. Baynton.

An amendment was introduced to the controversial Broad st. zoning ordinance, invalidating the off-the-street parking provision and the driveway requirement.

Frederick Forrest was appointed a member of the planning board for six years, replacing former Councilman Harold S. Allen, who had moved to Fair Haven. Bruce W. Crispell, 135 Mechanic st., was named a constable, succeeding Terence O'Donnell. No appointment was made to the post of water superintendent, which was made vacant by the recent death of Richard C. Hackstaff.

Councilmen named committee chairmen were Mr. Williams, finance; Mr. Hurley, fire; Mr. Baynton, lights, parks, docks and recreation; Mr. Gray, police and borough hall; Mr. Oakley, sanitation, streets and parking; and Mr. Malchow, sewer and water. A temporary budget totaling $122,685 was approved.

Keaveney Buys Cahill's Home

SHREWSBURY—John and Jane Keaveney of 618 Gramercy ave., Interlaken, have purchased the brick home on the west side of Garden rd., Shrewsbury Gardens, from Frank Cahill. Walker & Walker, local realtors, negotiated the transaction.

Mr. and Mrs. Keaveney's new home is situated on a large, landscaped plot, which adjoins the Richard and Nevin, and the Charles McManus residences. The new home contains a center reception hall, a living room and stone fireplace, knotty pine den, lavatory, modern tile kitchen and dining room. The second floor consists of two master bedrooms with dressing room, two guest rooms and two tile baths. This property has a covered patio in the rear and an attached two-car garage.

Winfield S. Wainwright, Little Silver builder, designed and constructed the dwelling in 1949.

Mr. Keaveney is employed by the U. S. government. His wife was the former Jane Brown of Ocean Grove and Asbury Park.

Patience Pays Off, State Teaches Morris

FREEDHOLD—Easton's Councilman Fred S. Morris, chairman of the police committee, should have easier days, provided an announcement by the state highway department is followed through.

The Board of Freeholders yesterday heard that the highway department will install a traffic light on route 55 at Wyckoff rd., Easton. This has been a project Mr. Morris has pursued more than two years. In addition, the state asked the county to widen Wyckoff rd. to 50 feet and have curbs installed. Mr. Morris' next problem: a traffic light on highway 55 at the Bendix plant.

Jacobs Raps Salary Guide For Teachers

Offers 10-Point Plan For Improvement of Red Bank's Schools

Louis J. Jacobs, president of the Red Bank Teachers' association, this week criticized the salary guide for teachers for the 1953-54 school year adopted by the board of education at its December meeting. He offered a ten-point program for improvement of the borough's public schools.

The board, at its December session, granted maximum salaries of $4,850 for teachers with bachelor's degrees and $5,000 for those with master's degrees. The maximums are now $4,550 and $4,700, to which is added a bonus of $150. The bonus has been incorporated in the new salaries. The teachers sought top salaries of $5,700 and $6,000. Teachers expressed their disapproval of the new schedule at the December meeting.

In a statement issued this week Mr. Jacobs said: "Public apathy is the cause of the crisis in public education. The citizens in each community must be prepared to meet this crisis by direct measures. Parents must attend board of education meetings."

In his statement Mr. Jacobs referred to a recent report of the Field Studies Institute of Teachers college, Columbia university, in

Chamber Formed, To Elect Tuesday

EATONTOWN—The incorporation meeting of the Chamber of Commerce here was held in the borough hall Monday. Charles L. Carroll presided in the absence of Thomas Wilderpin, due to sickness. Peter J. Edwards acted as executive secretary.

By-laws were approved and adopted and Mr. Edwards' office at 15 Main st. was designated as the principal office.

The future of the Chamber and its activities was discussed. Chamber members stressing they would "perform a beneficial service to the community." Members were requested to give thought to activities and functions the Chamber could perform.

It was decided to adopt a slogan pointing out the importance of Eatontown and its relation to certain types of industry, which slogan would be placed at vital points throughout the borough.

Christmas decorations were discussed with a view to encouraging more displays.

It was explained that one reason for the incorporation of the Chamber was so that it could affiliate with the national organization.

The board of directors will meet Tuesday at Whitel Industries, at which time there will be an election of officers, a budget will be adopted and appropriations made and a program for the activities of the Chamber set up.

Schweitzers Buy Stone Hill Farm

ATLANTIC TOWNSHIP—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Goosman have sold their Stone Hill farm, located on the south side of Vandenberg rd., to Mr. and Mrs. William Schweitzer of Hillside. The farm contains 160 acres of pasture and hay fields, and is fenced and cross fenced.

On Stone Hill, commanding a view of the countryside, is a colonial style house containing ten rooms, four baths and center hall. The original owners of the property were the Hoyer family. Several years ago Morton Newhall purchased the place, rebuilt the house and converted the farm into an Aberdeen Angus beef cattle farm.

Other buildings are a six-room tenant house, a three-room guest house and garage, a cattle barn and an implement shed. There are also eight acres of woodland and two fast-running brooks.

After selling the Stone Hill farm Mr. Newhall bought Lady Astor's farm estate in Virginia. Sale of the property to the Schweitzers was negotiated by Traveres Crawford, of the Charles M. Tindall agency, Red Bank.

SHREWSBURY—Councilman Herbert E. Schild is now the owner of the Monmouth Bookkeeping Service, specializing in tax returns, bookkeeping systems and related services. He recently sold his Monmouth Dairy business here to Leroy A. Muller of Tinton Falls.

Mr. Schild recently sold the Monmouth Dairy business—which he owned since 1935—to Leroy A. Muller of Tinton Falls. He will conduct his new business from his home at 116 Monroe ave. Mr. Schild Monday night was sworn into office as a councilman here, a post he has held the past ten years.

Girls 'Misbehave,' Denied Bus Ride

EATONTOWN—Three high school girls and two of their parents appeared before the board of education Monday night as the result of complaints by a school bus driver of misconduct on route home from Long Branch high school.

Henry O'Neill, the driver, said the girls had misbehaved several times, but that it came to a head Dec. 22. At that time, he notified District Clerk George Winning. Mr. Winning said he rode the bus for part of the route and that in his opinion the girls were "rude." The clerk said he told the girls they would be denied transportation in the future and directed them to have their parents attend Monday night's meeting.

Monday was the first day of school following the holidays and the girls were refused transportation. One of the parents told the board he was present to determine why his child was being discriminated against. When told by Mr. Winning that his daughter had been instructed to tell him why transportation was being denied, he said his daughter had not given him the message.

Leo J. Carling, president, warned the girls that the board is not required to provide transportation for those "who do not appreciate it or who make it dangerous for others." He said the driver is responsible for the safety of all pupils aboard the bus and that he should not be distracted.

Samuel Howard, chairman of the transportation committee, added that the girls' misconduct would not be the only disturbance on the bus, but that other offenders will be dealt with in the future.

The board voted to restore transportation privileges to the three girls after they admitted misbehaving.

NINE ELKS INITIATED
Red Bank lodge of Elks recently held initiation services for Robert A. Hendrickson, Robert W. Parker, Frank V. Sundt, Seymour Pappas, Reuben A. Berman, Capt. Frederick Badle, Jr., Albert R. Pink, Charles W. Woodward and John J. Ryan. New members not yet initiated include Thomas Doyle, Harry Alikas and William R. Newman.

Borough Raises Employees' Pay

SHREWSBURY—A salary ordinance was introduced here Monday night calling for increased pay for four borough employees, the assessor, clerk, collector and patrolman.

The new and old rates are assessor, $1,500-$250; clerk, $1,000-$1,500; collector, $3,000-$1,350; patrolman, $3,000-$2,500. Other salaries are magistrate, $800; chief of police—an unlisted post—$3,500; overseer of the poor, $150; fire company engineer, $500; superintendent of streets, $850, and attorney, $750.

The raises are in line with recommendations made by Mayor Alfred N. Beadleston during his last days in office. At that time, he said—Amosess, Kenneth Walker would be required to be on "12-month-a-year" duty in the future if borough assessments are to be levied fairly and efficiently. He also said council should face the necessity of paying its policemen a decent wage and to expect an expansion of the department. At present there is but one patrolman, Raymond Mass, and two special officers, Edward Hounihan and John W. Parker.

The increases for Borough Clerk Orville C. VanVleet and Collector Isabel Parker are designed to make up for past inequities and in view of the fact that both women use their homes to transact borough business. In addition, Mrs. VanVleet holds the unpaid posts of assistant traffic violations clerk and municipal assessment searcher. Mrs. Parker also holds the posts of treasurer, official tax searcher, traffic violations clerk and court clerk. The magistrate's court is located in her home.

Mrs. van den Bogert in Coma

Mrs. Mary van den Bogert

BELFORD—Mrs. Mary van den Bogert of East rd. here—who celebrated her 100th birthday Nov. 24—went into a coma Monday. She was thought to be sleeping when her daughter, Mrs. Bertha Brouwer, returned from the postoffice to find her mother in a chair.

Mrs. van den Bogert has taken some nourishment since then, and has grasped the hands of members of her family. She is under Dr. Marc Krohn's treatment. Also at her bedside is another daughter, Mrs. Berge Lakhovaki of New York city. A third daughter, who lives in Rochester, N. Y., recently underwent surgery, and has not been informed of her mother's condition.

Shrewsbury Twp. Educators Set Record Budget

May Ask $209,935,
But Still Hope for Cut in Tax Rate

TINTON FALLS—A four and one-half-hour trial run through the figures Tuesday night indicated the Shrewsbury township school district probably will have another record budget in 1953-54—one of about $209,935. Over-all, that represents an operating cost of some $22,785 over 1952-53's outlay.

But, thanks to more money coming from state aid and federal payments as the result of recent gains in school enrollments, it still appeared it may be possible to slice an edge off the current tax rate needed to meet the bill. With a reported $22,000 surplus in the bank the officials called school finances very sound.

Louis A. Steinmuller, school board president, who supervised the making of the computations, forecast a modest tax rate cut.

Red Bank Tuition High

Of the $209,935, the biggest item aside from teachers' salaries was an estimated $55,000 sum for tuition of a prospective 138 students of whom all but four are expected to attend the Red Bank high school next year.

And, because of this cost, the Red Bank school board came in for its share of criticism for asking the full amount allowed for the tuition of each student, $400 a head. By comparison, Asbury Park and Long Branch sent in letters asking considerably less per pupil.

Ellie C. Osborn, district clerk, read a letter from the New Jersey State Board of Education saying that the formula under which Red Bank sets its fees allows receiving districts the latitude used in upping the tuition costs. So, with some outspoken reluctance, the board prepared to pay the bill.

For the past year, Red Bank charged $346 for high school pupils and $357 for junior high students. The tuition item in the 1952-53 budget came to $11,350—some $13,650 less than the forecast for the coming year.

May Trim Figure

But the new figure is subject to something of a downward revision. The township district has been basing its tuition estimate on the possibility that all graduates of elementary schools will go on to high. But, while it was figured some 110 would do so last year, enrollments show only 90 in Red Bank and four in Asbury. Mr. (Continued on page 2)

May Modify Parkway Route

NEW SHREWSBURY—Mayor J. Lester Rigby told a reporter New Years day he had been informed by representatives of the Garden State Parkway commission that the route through this borough is being modified. He said he had suggested some changes but none involving agreements made by ex-Mayor George Stevens and his council.

He said details of the cut-back would have to come from the commission itself, although he understood less land would be required for the superhighway's right of way. Others present said they had been told that the right-of-way, which was to have been 700 feet wide, to accommodate four lanes and a central island, may be reduced to 350 feet.

One said he had been told that in making a final check of costs, upon the study of some prospective bids, it was found the highway would cost more than had been set aside for parkway construction.

Mrs. Margaret L. Reed, borough clerk, said parkway engineers had been making a survey of her land and had measured her house, without full explanation of the reason.

W. Carman Davis, public relations director for the Garden State Parkway commission, yesterday branded these reports "rumors" and "premature." He said there is a "possibility of a reduction of the right-of-way from 700 feet to 350 feet, and it is under consideration." Mr. Davis said the commission is "making a check of figures" in connection with costs of the highway, but said "nothing official" has been determined.

He said announcement will be made of any changes planned by the commission.

A.B.C. Sets Hearing For Keansburg Hotel

KEANSBURG—Helen Haley, proprietor of Hotel Berkeley, 48 Pineview ave., will appear before the division of Alcoholic Beverage Control Tuesday, Jan. 20, on two charges lodged against the hotel.

The first was that "lewdness and immoral activity" took place on the premises Dec. 12 and 19 when rooms were rented "for the purpose of illicit sexual intercourse." It was also charged that alcoholic beverage was sold "in other than their original containers for consumption of the licensed premises" Dec. 19.

LANE FINES THREE
SHREWSBURY—Virginia Selts of Cramer ave., Eatontown, was fined $7 and $3 Monday by Magistrate Merritt Lane, Jr., for passing a red light. Peter A. Fragale of Long Branch was fined $5 and $3 for speeding. Bert DePedro of New York was fined $5 and $3 Dec. 30 for improper passing.

$955,201 Middletown School Budget Shows Net Increase of $156,774

Joseph G. McCue

RUMSON—The Joseph G. McCue agency here has been cited for "long, loyal and meritorious representation" upon the completion of 25 years' association with the London and Lancashire Insurance company, Travelers Insurance company and the America Fore Group.

Plaques commending the firm—which was founded here in 1928 by Mr. McCue—have been received at the local office. Robert D. McKee of Red Bank, a partner, now handles the insurance department of the firm, permitting Mr. McCue to devote full time to real estate activities.

Maj. Johnston
To Leave Fort
For Washington
Gen. Lawton Lauds
Former Red Banker
For 'Unusual Ability'

FORT MONMOUTH—Fellow officers and other personnel associated with Maj. Frederick J. Johnston assembled yesterday to witness a ceremony in his honor at which he was presented a citation by Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton, post commander, for "meritorious performance throughout his tour of duty at Fort Monmouth since January, 1950.

A summary of the budget follows: Current, $1,789,650; maintenance, $31,050; capital outlay, $30,800; manual training, $19,920; vocational, $6,850, and bonds and interest, $74,826, for a total of $2,053,201.

The budget will be sent to Joseph E. Clayton, county superintendent of schools, for approval. Tentative date for public hearing of the budget was set for 8 p. m. Friday, Jan. 23, at the grammar school here.

The board last night appointed J. Francis Rauch of New Monmouth as custodian of board of education funds at an annual salary of $600. Mr. Rauch was confirmed as Middletown township treasurer at the organization meeting of the township committee New Years day.

Dr. Wylie G. Pate, superintendent of schools, will indicate to the Monmouth County Organization for Social Service that the board is interested in plans for the employment of a speech therapist for remedial work with pupils with speech impediments. Costs will be borne by school systems using the service of the M. C. O. S. at a rate of 25 cents per average daily attendance. In this board's case, the average daily attendance is 2,800—for a cost of $700. The figure was not included in the budget, pending further developments.

Construction Proceeds

After the special session was adjourned, Mr. Davidheiser told the board that the construction of forms for the foundation of the 11-classroom central school on Tindall rd., New Monmouth, was started Monday, with concrete pouring scheduled for today or tomorrow, weather permitting. The district clerk said tests of soil at the site are being undertaken to supply data for construction operations.

Robert Marton Heads Civil Defense Council

SHREWSBURY—Robert Marton of East End ave. was named Monday night by Mayor John Hawkins as director of the local Civil Defense council. He succeeds the mayor in that post.

The mayor said Mr. Marton is particularly qualified for the appointment because of his past service in C. D. His war service, police work in World War II and his present civilian affiliation with detention work. Mr. Marton was co-chairman of the police reserve the past two years, during which time Mr. Hawkins was C. D. director. The mayor said he backed up his appointment with the knowledge that "of all the people associated with me in Civil Defense, Mr. Marton has carried through his assignments and expended time, energy and interest" in developing an effective council.

Born in Atlantic Highlands, Maj. Johnston was graduated from Red Bank Catholic high school and Monmouth Junior college, Long Branch. For three years prior to entering military service he managed the Red Bank office of the "Daily Record." He is president of the Fort Monmouth Holy Name society and served on the board of governance of the Fort Monmouth Officers club.

Maj. Johnston resides with his wife, Victoria C. Johnston, at 37 Russell ave. here. They have three children, Patricia Ann, 6, Joan Sherill, 6, and Robert, 4.

HOLIDAY GUESTS
Mr. and Mrs. Al Konworth of Irvington were guests over the holidays of Mr. and Mrs. John Fichter of Sea Bright.

LEONARDO—The Middletown township board of education last night introduced a budget totaling $955,201 for the 1953-54 school year. Of the total, $501,780 will be raised through local taxation, a net increase of $156,774 over the 1952-53 figure of $344,986 similarly raised. The budget will reflect an increase in the tax rate of $14.25 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Meeting in special session at the grammar school here, the board heard District Clerk James W. Davidheiser review factors contributing toward the net increase of $156,774. Mr. Davidheiser said salaries will account for a total increase of $119,700, comprising $68,700 for new personnel—teachers, instruction supervisory, and custodians—and $50,000 for raises in salary for present personnel.

Other Hikes

Other items were increased as follows: A $16,100 hike for bonds and interest—due, the district clerk said, to interest on bond anticipation notes and bonds to be issued this year for the $562,000 central school at New Monmouth; $8,500 for increased costs of transportation in 1952-53, which must be appropriated in the 1953-54 school budget; $5,500 for books and supplies—based on the same ratio of cost per pupil as three years ago, Mr. Davidheiser said, with the increase due to the greater number of pupils; and $6,000 for increased operations, a result of double sessions and greater use of heat, light, water, and similar needs.

Of the $955,201 total budget, state funds of $175,520.92 are anticipated. Other anticipated amounts are: $2,000 in federal funds and $60,000 in revenue—$55,000 from tuition and $5,000 from the cafeteria. The budget appropriates $25,920.08 from surplus, leaving $90,335.82.

Tuition rate for the 1953-54 school year will be $290 per pupil—a drop of $17 from the present rate of $307, to make the township's tuition rate one of the lowest in the county, Mr. Davidheiser said.

Budget Summary

A summary of the budget follows: Current, $1,789,650; maintenance, $31,050; capital outlay, $30,800; manual training, $19,920; vocational, $6,850, and bonds and interest, $74,826, for a total of $2,053,201.

Colt's Neck Woman, 66, Found Dead at Home
COLT'S NECK—Mrs. Jennie Gilpatrick, 66, of Rt. 34, was found dead in bed Tuesday afternoon by her husband, Fred Gilpatrick, according to state police at Shrewsbury barracks.

Police said Mr. Gilpatrick, who had been separated from his wife but who was living in an adjoining building, found Mrs. Gilpatrick about 8 p. m. She was pronounced dead by Dr. Donald Reynolds of Freehold. Police said she apparently died between 6 and 7 p. m. Tuesday. Her death was attributed to natural causes by Dr. Julius A. Toren, county physician. The body was taken to the Worden funeral home.

Parkway Administration Center To Be Built at Telegraph Hill

EAST KEANSBURG—The 18-mile Garden State parkway will have its administration building and law enforcement agency located on Telegraph hill, which is in both Middletown and Holmdel townships.

This disclosure was made Saturday by State Highway Commissioner Randolph J. Abbott in a speech at the Middletown Family dinner at Bachstadt's tavern. The dinner is given each year by township officials for some township residents and county officials.

Mr. Abbott also said the New Jersey Highway Authority, of which he is chairman, has set the end of this year as the "target date" for completion of the Monmouth county section of the parkway. He asserted that although this may not be accomplished, he is certain that "this will be the last summer" residents of the shore area "will have to put up" with congested highways because the parkway in Monmouth will definitely be opened by Easter of 1954.

"Monmouth Has Everything"
Describing Monmouth county as a place that has everything—resorts, residential areas and hilly terrain—Mr. Abbott told his audience that these factors have led to the decision to place the administration building on Telegraph hill.

In addition, Telegraph hill, located in a beautiful section which is divided by the boundary line separating Middletown and Holmdel townships, is just about the geographical center of the parkway, according to Mr. Abbott. The extra advantage of being atop a hill makes it even more desirable as the site for the parkway administration building and the parkway's law enforcement agency.

The highway authority will distribute construction contracts worth $75,000,000 for work in Monmouth county within the next two months. He said the impact on Monmouth county will probably be greater than in any county in the state, but "none of us has any estimate" of just how much benefit there will be.

$3,000,000 Saving
Mr. Abbott revealed a decision made the day before when he announced that it had just been decided to place the restaurants and service stations in the center island, instead of on each side, resulting in an overall saving of $3,000,000.

The commissioner also explained the plans for a "reversible" lane, which would mean that traffic on the inside lane could be shifted to coincide with the flow of traffic. For instance, he said, when shore visitors are headed southward, one of the northbound lanes could be used for southbound traffic, making four lanes available for southbound traffic and two for northbound. When the crowds start heading home, he added the process could be reversed.

The greatest problem now, the commissioner related, is the fabrication of steel for the large bridge to span the Raritan river parallel and slightly to the west of the Edison bridge. He said even if the steel is not ready by the time the Monmouth section of the parkway is ready, the road will be opened and traffic in the vicinity of the Raritan river will be rerouted over the Edison bridge.

Mr. Abbott was introduced by E. Donald Stine, chief of the Neck, former state highway commissioner, whom he credited with being responsible for the planning of the parkway.

Blaisdell Was Toastmaster
Township Committeemen Frank P. Blaisdell took over the job as toastmaster when Mayor Lawrence A. Carlson, Jr. showed up with a large group of people. Those who spoke briefly were: Township Clerk Howard W. Roberts, Freeholder Director Joseph C. Irwin and State Sen. Richard R. Stout.

The following were introduced: Assemblyman Elvin R. Simmill, Freeholders Abram D. Voorhees, Victor E. Grossinger, Earl Woolley and Walton Sherman, Sheriff Ira E. Wolcott, County Auditor Fred L. Woolley, County Treasurer Merrill Thompson, Farmingdale Mayor Edgar O. Murphy, Atlantic Highlands Mayor Waldron P. Smith, Assistant Prosecutor John M. Pillsbury, Township Committeemen Walter J. Bills and Joseph K. Eastmond, Engineer Craig Finnegan, Treasurer J. Francis Rauch, Collector Earl K. Eastmond, Magistrate W. Gilbert Johnson and Assessor William C. Johnson.

which, he said, public schools were regarded as a bulwark of national defense.

The teachers' association president quoted the report as follows: "Throughout the nation the compensation of teachers in comparison with that of other professions is so slight that not sufficient teachers can be found to conduct the schools. The number of college graduates entering the profession has dwindled, the enrollment in teacher training classes has fallen off, the membership of normal schools has decreased. At the same time, when America needs to attract the finest minds and hearts to the task of molding the minds and hearts of its future citizens it sees not even sufficient numbers of the even efficient coming forward to undertake the work. The influence of every community that takes an advanced step in increasing the dignity and security of the teaching profession is felt far beyond the bounds of the town or state."

Teachers are expected to do more than impart instruction during the period of the daily session. They must take part in the life of the community. They must keep in such connection with art, literature, educational progress and general cultural influences that year by year their contribution to the lives of their pupils becomes richer and richer. Without a cultural wage, returns are of necessity more and more narrow.

A recent letter to the board of education of the teachers' association listed the following ten-point program for improvement of local schools:

1. Proposed minimum adopted by the board is commended. However, it was pointed out that while the minimum may attract inexperienced teachers, the maximums are too low to retain them. (Note: The board has adopted minimum salaries of $3,000 as compared with this year's minimum of $2,700.)
2. Red Bank will become a training center for new recruits in teaching.
3. The turnover will be great. Teachers will be attracted to districts where the maximum salaries are higher.
4. The increments are too low to hold qualified teachers.
5. Red Bank and New Jersey in general has lost its competitive position to attract well-trained and properly certified teachers.

This community wants a well-financed educational program. Recent census reports indicate that the educational level of Red Bank is an average of 11.5 years of schooling compared to the average of 12 years for New Jersey and the United States.

7. Red Bank is capable of supporting as good an educational program as it wants to support. The average net family income after deductions is over $6,700. This is considerably above the average for New Jersey and the United States.

8. The turnover in staff and the proportion of new teachers to a well-established staff will be such that the educational program will become impaired.

9. The teachers' association again requests a meeting with the whole board of education. The board so far has not fulfilled the pledge made last May that it would meet with the Teachers' association to discuss these critical problems.

10. The responsibility for good schools rests upon the community. Mr. Jacobs pointed out. Red Bank must awaken to the need for increased support of the school personnel, in terms of salaries as well as the professional relationships between the board and the Teachers' association. The teachers are a well-trained professional group. They are willing to pool their resources with the board of education as a sensible way of solving educational problems. It has become an accepted practice that teachers participate in the formulation of general school policies.

Want More Nursing
One thing sought by the board was to double the scope of its nursing service and, if possible, have the nurse also serve as a transient or attendance officer. Mr. Jacobs said he was sure that the money this would cost would be more than made up by added state aid payments that more children attended school.

Mr. Jacobs noted that in November the school system here had a very poor showing—with only 87 percent of the Vail annex enrollment attending classes and 92 percent of the Tinton Falls students in school. He fixed blame for this upon neglect of parents and truancy in addition to illness. He called for "missionary work" to convince parents of the necessity for school and said that at least half the number of absentees were unnecessary.

It was noted that while Asbury Park had a record of 95 percent of enrollment, maintaining daily attendance, the township average has been about 90 percent. The missing ten per cent cuts deeply—well over $25,000 a year—into state aid.

Parkway Posing Problems
Mr. Waddell said that as a result of present Garden State Parkway routing, which will demand and substitute parallel interchanges to underpasses, more money will have to be spent for school bus transportation in the coming year. Ex-Mayor George Stevens, who attended the session, said he did not think the additional travel time (expense) including that to cover the new school, the estimate of $24,000 was set up in place of $28,800 budgeted last year.

Another matter given considerable talk was water. Mr. Stevens said he believed it certain the Monmouth Consolidated Water company would extend its mains to Tinton Falls school by or before next September. The company had said the town felt it sure insurance rates would drop if the water is sent in.

Robert Brandt asked the board to let the local Civil Defense council put a radio tower atop Tinton Falls school at its own expense. The board said it could get insurance underwriters' approval and freedom from board liability, that could be done.

Deportation Personal
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vines of Wolf Hill ave. recently visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eulian, at their new home at Merion, Pa. They are former residents of West Long Branch.

Mr. Mitchell in Western North Carolina is the highest peak in the Eastern part of the United States, rising to 6,694 feet.

Holy Name Men To Honor Kniffin

Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton, commanding general at Fort Monmouth, is to be principal speaker at a memorial dinner for Harry B. Kniffin, retiring president of the Holy Name society of St. James church.

This was announced at a meeting of officers and committee chairman of the society in St. James rectory Monday. The dinner is to be given in the cafeteria of the Red Bank Catholic high school next Monday at 8 p. m.

State Legislature Opens Tuesday; Top Billing to Crime, Budget, Taxes

TRENTON (A.P.)—Politics, crime, and a blend of both, are slated for lots of attention at the opening of the 1953 session of the legislature next Tuesday.

Reapportionment of assembly seats to conform with the 1950 census—a subject tackled without much heart and fumbled by a special session last month—is the number one purely political hot potato. Stripped of legal verbiage, the problem boils down to this: How to give additional representation to counties with big population gains without hurting too much the sensibilities (and power) of those counties which are to lose.

The crime angle has many facets—gambling investigations in Bergen and Burlington, the waterfront probe in Hudson, and crime council inquiries in general.

Investigations are, of course, a two-edged sword: You get credit for uncovering corruption, but if your friends are involved, you also get a black eye. The jailing of gamblers Joe Adonis and Frank Erickson is good for two feathers in the G.O.P. cap but may be canceled out by the indictment of Harold John Adonis for allegedly accepting $223,000 for gambling protection.

Harold John Adonis—no relation to Joe Adonis—served as executive clerk in Gov. Driscoll's office at the time the alleged bribes were made.

Testimony before the New York Crime commission linking Mayor John F. Kennedy to waterfront racketeering elements was music to Republican ears. Kennedy has denied the allegations and charged that the accusations came from his foes in the Frank Hague faction of the Democratic party.

Gov. Driscoll, who will ask for additional money to carry on the work of the New Jersey Crime council, also plans to propose legislation to curb waterfront crime. Any laws enacted here are expected to conform with New York state laws.

$212 Million Budget
The governor is at work on the 1953-54 budget which is expected to top the current budget of some $212,000,000 to $150,000,000. The heavy Republican majorities in both houses usually go along with Driscoll's recommendations.

Other legislation—most of it up for consideration before—includes:

1. Binge—Gov. Driscoll vetoed a bill last year which would have submitted the question of legalizing bingo to the voters. Charitable, veterans' and religious organizations would have been permitted to sponsor bingo games if the referendum were approved.

2. Absentee voting—Gov. Driscoll favors the extension of absentee voting to civilians. Only servicemen now enjoy the privilege.

3. Courts—Gov. Driscoll wants the county courts integrated with the state superior court system. This type of legislation is opposed by local political leaders since it reduces their patronage power.

4. Greater state aid for schools and roads—This proposal runs smack up against Driscoll's pledge of no new taxes. Tied in with greater state aid to schools are sales taxes and other taxes for raising more money.

The Republican state committee plans to hold a routine meeting at the Hotel Stacy-Trent Tuesday morning—one hour before the legislature convenes.

To Flee Lawmakers
Many of the county organizations also plan to hold parties during the day for their representatives. The largest of these will be the one sponsored by the Somerset county G.O.P. for Senator Malcolm S. Forbes and Assemblyman Anderson Fowler.

Forbes is a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

26 County Scouts Sign for Trip To California

6,000-Mile Journey
For 7-Day National Jamboree Scheduled

LONG BRANCH—Monmouth County's expedition to the national jamboree at Santa Ana, Cal., in July is progressing in fine style. There are 26 scouts from 16 communities in Monmouth county who have already paid reservation fees and are signed up for the 6,000-mile train trip across the nation and the seven-day camp on the shores of the Pacific.

Kendall Lee, chairman of the county's jamboree committee, has appointed Fred Fitch, Jamboree member of the executive board, chairman of the leadership selection committee; Lawrence Heppa, Spring Lake, head of the committee on equipment; Wilfred Fine, Ocean Grove, co-ordinator of transportation.

More than 100 scouts are expected to make the cross-country trip. About 50,000 scouts from America and foreign countries will set up their tent city on the huge Irving Ranch in Southern California. Scouts will earn part of their way to the jamboree, Lee said, by doing odd jobs, such as paper collections, etc.

To Cost But $250
According to the bulletin from Monmouth council, the total cost of the trip, including sightseeing, meals, equipment, insurance, travel, ship, hotels, side trips, is $350. Both Eastern and Western railroads reduced fares for the scouts and many of the towns in the Yellow Stone and Grand Canyon were also given at a lower rate.

The Monmouth county delegation will have a special train with three other scout groups from New Jersey. Baggage cars will carry their tents and cooking gear which they will use at the California camp.

All scouts twelve years of age or older are eligible for the trip if they are second class rank and can prove their ability as campers. Already signed up are Roger F. Friedrich, troop 39, Jay Keller and Richard Rogers, troop 104, Jay Vineburg, troop 33, all of Long Branch; Barry Tunbridge, Sanford Paterson and Lyle Antonides, troop 40, Belmar; Allen Neilton, troop 71, Oakhurst; Richard Wiegler, troop 85, Neptune; Lee Neary, Stanley Krausleuski, Frederick Mueller, Gustav Wedin, Harvey Thompson, Allen Clerick, troop 28, Manasquan; Charles Parkell, troop 67, Red Bank; Richard Ripke, Richard Reiter, Richard Fitch, all of Troop 22, Atlantic Highlands; David Benton, troop 121, Matawan; Thomas Stames, troop 73, Matawan, and Charles Buscaglia and John G. Burfield, both of Troop 14, Freehold. Although troop leadership positions have not been confirmed by the jamboree committee, it was announced that Thomas Rogers and William Scott of Long Branch, Francis Bruce of Eatontown and Philip Panos of Farmingdale will organize troop A from the Long Branch-Freehold area. It will take 25 scouts and three adult leaders to comprise a full jamboree troop.

Red Bank Leaders
Troop B from the Red Bank area will be organized by Harry Feld, Russell Tetley and Dr. Edwin Stewart.

The area from Matawan to Sandy Hook including Keyport, Keansburg, Middletown township, Highlands and Atlantic Highlands will be organized as troop C with James Flynn, Matawan and Albert Quackenbush, Port Monmouth, as leaders.

Troop D will be composed of scouts from the southern district from Dept. to Brielle, Taylor Gregory, Manasquan, Wilfred Fine, Ocean Grove, William Bauer, Spring Lake, and Lawrence Heppa, Spring Lake, are heading the committee in charge of recruiting.

Fred Fitch, chairman of the leadership selection committee, stated that full assignment of leadership will be awarded as soon as it is determined how many scouts will attend. If the full contingent of four troops is recruited, 16 trained scout leaders from Monmouth council will serve as jamboree officials.

A side trip to the 127,000-acre shore of Lake Michigan, 10 years of age is planned. They will stop off at Glenview, New Mexico, and return home two weeks later.

Full details are available from the jamboree committee or from the council office at 181 Broadway.

MEETING POSTPONED

NEW SHREWSBURY—It was announced yesterday by Mrs. Margaret Reed, borough clerk, that the meeting of the mayor and council, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until Thursday, Feb. 5.

Council Withholds Confirmation Of $15,000 Price for Housing Site

HIGHLANDS—Borough council Monday night withheld confirmation of an agreement, made Saturday at a joint meeting with the municipal housing authority, to sell the borough's incinerator property to the authority for $15,000 for the site of a proposed 20-unit low-rent housing project here.

Borough Attorney John M. Pillsbury will confer with officials of the federal Public Housing administration and the municipal housing authority before council acts further on the sale of the property. The decision to defer action on the sale followed efforts by Councilman Alexander F. Baehr to increase council's asking price for the tract to $30,000. Objections to the hike in price were voiced by Clifford S. Schenck, chairman of the municipal housing authority. Prolonged discussion led to the referral to Mr. Pillsbury.

Saturday's meeting resulted in agreement on the "fair" price of $15,000 for the site after council asked for $20,000 and the housing authority offered $12,000. The housing authority's figure was set by Commissioner Paul Klerman of Long Branch and Irving Kaye, real estate and insurance broker of that city, who acted as agents of the authority, as the value of the incinerator site.

Mr. Schenck said Saturday that the complete project will cost $322,000. Construction is tentatively scheduled to begin Apr. 1. Plans are expected to be approved by the federal housing administration by next Thursday. The authority here plans to advertise for bids by Feb. 15 and to award contracts Mar. 15. The project will consist of two buildings of two stories each and another three stories high. It will contain three, four, five and six-room apartments, a play area for children and parking facilities.

'Jennie Parker' Manor
In honor of a deceased resident of the borough for her "outstanding contributions to the town in patriotism," the housing authority—meeting in regular session after the joint meeting with borough council Saturday afternoon—named the proposed project "Jennie Parker Manor." Mrs. Evelyn Kwik was confirmed as executive director and secretary of the authority to succeed James Kinlan, whose resignation will become effective next Thursday. The authority also approved the following committees appointed by Mr. Schenck: Screening applicants, Mr. Schenck, chairman, Andrew Kornek and Frank Hall, and finance committee, Mr. Schenck, chairman, William Lohls and Mr. Kornek. Mr. Lohls is vice chairman of the authority. Other members are Dr. John L. Oppermann and Timothy Lynch.

Council Monday night approved the appointment of Councilman Herbert Hartgrove as chairman of the public buildings, piers and bulkheads committee. Appointment was deferred at council's organization meeting New Years day because of Mr. Hartgrove's absence. Council's sole absentee Monday night, Councilman William V. Raucher, was approved as chairman of the sidewalk committee. Mr. Hartgrove also will serve on the finance and audit, fire and parks and beaches committees, and on the sewer and water committees, which are comprised of council as a whole.

Referred to Otis R. Seaman, borough engineer, was a petition signed by persons living in the vicinity of the Shrewsbury river frontage in Water Witch requesting repair or replacement of the existing bulkhead there. The petition also will be enclosed with a report of local engineer costs to be prepared by the engineer and sent to State Sen. Richard R. Stout, who sought the information.

Other Appointments
Also approved were Mayor Charles Hattenbuecher's appointments of: Mrs. Florence Kornek, for two years, and Edward Rysnar and Borough Clerk Frank Bolen, three years each, to the board of health; George Ellis, Alfred Moray, Demarest Newman, Charles Kinney, Leonard Gauthier, Joseph White, Frank White, Francis Mariner, George Colby, John Rast, Wallace Reat, Vincent Mendez, Jack Early, Joseph Oswald, Alfred Marler, Vincent Crist, Michael Goring, George Corbett, and Theodore Chodnicki, special policemen; Henry Quast, Harry Duncan, Andrew Daino, Edward Finlay, Albert Daut, Sr., and Sherman Smith, are police; Mr. Chodnicki, William Beatty, Hubert Ryan, Mr. Smith and Mr. Duncan, first aid police, and James Welsh, special patrolman at the R. 36 crossing near the school of the Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

State Encampments Sought by Long Branch

LONG BRANCH—State Department of New Jersey, Army and Navy union, has been sent an invitation by the Long Branch Garrison 56 to hold its 8th annual state encampment in June in this city, according to a statement released yesterday by Post State Commander Louis Silk.

Commander Silk also announced that Mayor Alexander Vineburg has mailed an invitation to State Commander David Newberry of Camden and to Past National Commander Henry W. Gerber of Atlantic City, chairman of the committee to pick the location for the annual convention, to hold the encampment.

Commander Silk also stated that he expected the Army, Department of New Jersey, to hold its annual state convention here, if he has contacted State Commander Fred Jones of Linden and the state service officer, Stephen J. Siksky. Mayor Vineburg has also invited the Army to hold its 1953 convention in this city.

LOCAL WEDDINGS

Mid Winter Bride

Mrs. William John VanPelt

KEANSBURG—At the Methodist church Saturday afternoon, Miss Dorothy Helen Hnilicky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hnilicky of Wood st., became the bride of William John VanPelt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John VanPelt of Eastontown. Rev. Edward Zelley, pastor, performed the ceremony in a setting of all white flowers and greens. Frank Grenger sang "Because."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Evelyn Hnilicky. The bridesmaids were Misses Jean Rockefeller and Kay Westendorf, of Keansburg. Joan Hnilicky, another sister, was flower girl.

The bride's gown was white satin, designed with a yoke of Alencon type lace, long pointed sleeves and a skirt which fell into a train. Her illusion length fingertip length veil fell from a cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and other white flowers, with ribbon and lace streamers.

The maid of honor was dressed in a coral berry-colored velveteen gown with matching hat and mitts. Her bouquet was pink roses. The bridesmaids also wore velveteen gowns of coral berry with matching hat and mitts. Their flowers were light pink roses, with streamers of light pink lace and ribbons.

Weinstein Named Deputy Jury Head

FREEHOLD—Samuel Weinstein, 36 Buena pl., Red Bank, was appointed deputy foreman of the January session grand jury by Superior Court Judge Frank T. Lloyd, Jr., on Monday.

County Clerk J. Russell Woolley administered the oath to Mr. Weinstein and the foreman, Stephen J. Day, Spring Lake building contractor.

Although he had nothing specific which he called to the attention of the new panel, Judge Lloyd delivered the following remarks: "There is no justification for crime waves, numbers waves or gambling waves. They exist only because of the complacency of the community and the failure of those charged with administration of the criminal law to maintain and preserve order and decency. It is essential to combat indifference and inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community and to the government."

Red Cross Sewing Program Is Busy

SHREWSBURY—The county Red Cross chapter has never slackened its sewing program, with which the public became familiar during war times. Miss Flora Williams of Red Bank is sewing group chairman, assisted by a large corps of volunteer workers.

Members recently finished drapes for a military police detachment barracks at Fort Monmouth. Miss Williams and her volunteers have made 233 curtains, 114 valances and sewed 350 yards of material in the past two months for Fort Monmouth buildings. Assisting on this project were Mrs. Ida Brown, Mrs. Harry Madanaky, Mrs. Lena Miller, Mrs. S. H. Sims, Mrs. J. H. Harrison, Mrs. Fred Dugan and Mrs. Fred Boydall of Red Bank, and Mrs. S. A. Battin of Eastontown. Sewing groups meet in Shrewsbury, Asbury Park and Sea Girt. More volunteers are welcome.

PUPILS TO WATCH INE

TINTON FALLS—Principal George C. Malone wants to have the pupils at Tinton Falls school see the inauguration ceremonies for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower Jan. 20 as a special current events topic.

He asked the Shrewsbury township school board Tuesday night to approve a deal whereby he can get two TV sets installed on a loan basis if the board pays $75 for two antennas. Board member Steven Hayden told him he and friends would put up the aerials if he can borrow the sets without cost.

Mayor and Friends Have 'Burning' Job

NEW SHREWSBURY—One of the things that the officials at Tinton Falls school want as an improvement this year is a good incinerator to dispose of waste without mess and bother.

Mayor J. Lester Nigby informed the Shrewsbury township school board all that's necessary to get one is to buy the materials alone.

The mayor, Harrison Hubbard and friends of their plan to roll up their sleeves and build the incinerator themselves. They promise it will be a good one, too.

The school board expressed its pleasure Tuesday night that a substantial savings can be realized through this volunteer labor.

KEANSBURG—After hearing objections to one of the conditions of the sale of a 660-ft tract at Belvedere Beach—a condition held by several persons to prevent competitive bidding on a fair basis and, therefore, as contributing toward a "closed sale"—borough council Tuesday night returned, unopened, two sealed bids for the tract.

Declaring that the objectionable condition of the sale required the successful bidder to purchase several privately owned lots in the middle of the tract to permit the extension of Sea Breeze way—a dead-end street to Laurys ave.

George Ostrov, an attorney with offices at 58 Church st., presented a protesting petition, signed by 18 persons. Mr. Ostrov said he also represented 35 other persons who also sought the elimination of the questioned condition of sale. He told council that it is his understanding that the original bidder has obtained an option on the privately owned property—a circumstance that renders his position more advantageous and one that places the borough's sale into the category of a "closed sale."

Suggests Condemnation

Agreeing that the extension of Sea Breeze way is commendable, Mr. Ostrov suggested that council change the condition of sale: If the successful bidder on the 660-ft tract is unable to purchase the privately-owned property, part of the Flynn estate, let the borough condemn the property, then be reimbursed by the owner, he suggested. This procedure, he declared, would give all bidders a fair chance to purchase the tract. He added that he had advised one of his clients, Emanuel Swartz, Red Bank builder, not to submit a bid for the present in view of the condition. He said that if he did

Attention, School Election Voters

Mrs. C. L. McGovney of Rumson, voters' service chairman for the Red Bank region of the League of Women Voters, stated yesterday that mounting interest by local citizens in their school board elections, to be held Feb. 10, prompts the league to call to the voters' attention the qualifications for school board members, the method of nominating candidates by petition, and the final date for filing such petitions.

The qualifications for board members as set forth in the New Jersey school laws, stated Mrs. McGovney, are: Title 18, chapter 7, section 11: A member of a board shall be a citizen and resident of the territory contained in the district, and shall have been such for at least three years immediately preceding his becoming a member of the board. He shall be able to read and write. He shall not be interested directly or indirectly in any contract with or claim against the board.

The league recommends these additional desirable qualifications for school board members:

1. All members of the board of education should believe in the public school system of education as a vital part of our democratic tradition.
2. The members should have as their prime object the attainment of the best possible education for all children. This is attained by securing the most able professional personnel available and then by giving them complete co-operation.
3. Board of education members should be public spirited. They should be willing and able to give adequate time to the fulfillment of their responsibilities.

4. The individual member must have moral integrity. He must have a co-operative spirit toward his fellow board member, parent groups, and the professional personnel of the school system.

5. In considering the board as a whole it is advisable that at least one member should have had experience as an educator, one a professional man, one a business man, and one a housewife. It is imperative that they represent the interests of the entire community. In this way the community can be assured of equal opportunities of education for all the children.

Mrs. McGovney also stated: "In New Jersey candidates for school board candidates are nominated by direct petition addressed to the district clerk, signed by at least ten qualified voters of the district and accompanied by a certificate signed by the endorsed candidate, stating that he, or she, is eligible and consents to stand for election. These petitions must be filed with the district clerk on or before Jan. 21."

"In our state the quality of education our children receive is largely determined by the character and standards of the local boards of education. They establish policies, hire the professional personnel, approve or veto the curriculum, and decide how the money raised for education shall be spent. Therefore the League of Women Voters believes it is of utmost importance that all citizens give careful consideration to the selection of local board of education members."

LEAGUE BOARD MEETING

The board of the League of Women Voters, Red Bank region, will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. H. O. Wiley, Shrewsbury ave. The 1958 program will be reviewed.

'Gay 90's Revue'

At Paramount Jan. 18

LONG BRANCH—"Gay 90's Revue," a big time variety show, will be the stage attraction Sunday, Jan. 18, one day only, at the Paramount theater. Fred Bartholdi, theater manager, said the troupe of Broadway stage stars of yesterday will present one matinee and two evening performances. A first-run motion picture program will round out the program. On the screen will be "Battle Zone," starring John Hodiak and Linda Christian.

The revue, headed by Will Oakland, stage, radio and night club singing star as master of ceremonies, has been touring New England and New York city theaters, and will make the Paramount theater date prior to undertaking an extensive tour of the West.

J. F. Burke Promoted To Corporal in Korea

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—John F. Burke, son of Mrs. Mary Burke of 93 East Washington ave., has been promoted to corporal while serving in Korea with the 25th Infantry division—the outfit with longer service in Korea than any other American division.

A rifleman in the 35th regiment, Cpl. Burke has been in Korea since June. The 25th division entered the fighting in July, 1950, soon after the Communist attack on South Korea. Before entering the Army in June, 1951, Cpl. Burke was employed as a clerk by the National State bank in Newark. He attended Seton Hall university, South Orange. His wife, Elizabeth Burke, lives at 504 Baltimore blvd., Sea Girt.

Curtain at 8:40 Begins Wednesday

"Curtain at 8:40" the program devised by the Walter Reade Theatre to show outstanding foreign films, will return this winter. Walter Reade, Jr., circuit president, announced that, in addition to a winter series of four at the Carlton theater here, beginning next Wednesday, another series of four films will be started at the Paramount theater, Long Branch, next Thursday.

Each evening's program will start at 8:40 and end by 10:45. Refreshment stands will be closed and coffee will be served without charge in the theater lounge. Music appropriate to the program will be presented. Tickets will be sold in advance, limited to house capacity, with special series subscriptions available at reduced rates.

At the Carlton, next Wednesday's opener will be Jean Renoir's film of India, "The River," with "Pacific 231" as the accompanying short. The film Jan. 21 will be "Never Take No for an Answer," with "Mountain of Fire" as the selected short.

The French drama, "Casque d'Or" will be presented Jan. 28. Subtitled "The Story of a Blonde," it is a story of France in the 1920s, with Claude Dauphin in the male lead, and Simone Signoret in the title role of the girl with hair which was literally a "crown of gold." The accompanying short will be the technical subject, "Curtain Call," a photographic account of the life and works of the French artist Degas, famous for his ballet and cabaret scenes.

The Carlton's concluding show, Wednesday, Feb. 4, will be the latest Al Guinness comedy, "The Man in the White Suit," in which Britain's famous comedian is cast as the inventor of a material which won't soil, wrinkle or ever wear out—much to the consternation of the British woolen industry. The accompanying short will be "Composers in Clay," photo story of how famous sculptors make their sculptures, starting with the first clay figures.

The opening program at Long Branch, Jan. 15, will be "The River," with "Pacific 231," which won awards at the Cannes and Venice film festivals, supplementing the program. The top-caliber Italian comedy, "Father's Dilemma," accompanied by "Mountain of Fire," a color record of a recent eruption of Mount Vesuvius, will be shown Jan. 22.

Somerset Haugham's latest picture, "Encore," starring Glynnis John, along with the prize-winning British Information Service short subject, "John Glimp," an experiment in art, poetry and music is set for Jan. 28. The concluding show, Feb. 5, will be "Never Take No for an Answer," the Paul Gallico story which was filmed in Rome and the Vatican with an English speaking cast. The short winner will be the Academy Award winner, "Danger Under the Sea," an account of undersea searchings for sunken treasure.

State to Pay $50,000 for Roads

FREEHOLD—The Board of Freeholders yesterday learned that the state highway department will distribute $50,000 to Monmouth county municipalities.

Scheduled for aid, and the amount, are: Little Silver, $3,500; Middletown township, $5,000; Oceanport, $3,000; Ocean township, $3,000; Wall township, $3,000; West Long Branch, $3,500; Harritan township, $3,000; Upper Freehold township, $3,000; Neptune township, $3,000; Howell township, $3,000; Marlboro township, $3,000; Englishtown, $1,000; Manasquan, $3,000; Interlaken, $3,000; and Spring Lake, $3,000.

In other business, A. P. Thompson of Red Bank was awarded repair work on the old Main st. drawbridge between Keosauqua and Cliffwood on a bid of $28,000. It was the only bid submitted, although Freeholder Abram D. Voorhees said that four contractors had obtained specifications. Mr. Voorhees said the span is a "problem," two piers being in poor condition because of the condition of the bottom of Matawan creek.

Stephen J. Remsen, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for freeholder in November, was on hand to praise the board for its safety campaign in '52. He asked, however, that the board urge the state to install a traffic signal at route 33 and Millhurst rd. in Manalapan township. He said the county was among the few in the nation which showed a reduction in traffic deaths from '51.

Freeholder Director Joseph C. Irwin answered that an additional stop street warning sign will be erected at the site, scene of serious accidents. The top-caliber Italian comedy, "Father's Dilemma," accompanied by "Mountain of Fire," a color record of a recent eruption of Mount Vesuvius, will be shown Jan. 22.

Somerset Haugham's latest picture, "Encore," starring Glynnis John, along with the prize-winning British Information Service short subject, "John Glimp," an experiment in art, poetry and music is set for Jan. 28. The concluding show, Feb. 5, will be "Never Take No for an Answer," the Paul Gallico story which was filmed in Rome and the Vatican with an English speaking cast. The short winner will be the Academy Award winner, "Danger Under the Sea," an account of undersea searchings for sunken treasure.

Deaths in Red Bank and Vicinity

MRS. THERESA B. MCGRATH

Mrs. Theresa B. McGrath, 65, of 59 Wallace st., Red Bank, died Monday night of last week at the King's county hospital, Brooklyn, where she had been a patient several days.

Born in New York city, Mrs. McGrath was a daughter of the late William and Katherine Hickey Bailey. She had been a resident of Red Bank 32 years and was a member of St. James Catholic church. Her husband, James H. McGrath, died in Apr. 1950.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Kathryn Bloom, 30, Washington st., Red Bank; Mrs. Mary Carter, 30, 1000 N. York; and Mrs. Ann Alvarado, 30, 1000 N. York; two sons, William J. McGrath, Brooklyn, and Joseph E. McGrath, 28 East Front st., Red Bank; a sister, Mrs. Mary McGough, New York city; a brother, James Bailey, Flushing, L. I., and 15 grandchildren.

A high mass of requiem was offered Saturday morning at St. James church by Rev. Joseph T. Casey, with Rev. Paul Carter as deacon and Rev. Paul Carter as sub-deacon. Mr. Edward T. McDonough was organist and chanted the mass. Michael Bergin was soloist. Burial, under the direction of the Worden funeral home, was in Mt. Olivet cemetery. Rev. Joseph A. Bischoff, curate of St. James church, offered benediction at the grave. Mrs. Casey recited the Rosary Friday night at the funeral home.

MRS. LYDIA A. RAMSAY

SEA BRIGHT—Mrs. Lydia A. Ramsay, 70, of 1088 Ocean ave., widow of John Ramsay and a lifelong resident here, died Saturday at Monmouth Memorial hospital, where she was a patient 11 days. Daughter of the late Smith and Alice Adams Newman, Mrs. Ramsay was a member of St. Mary's church, Rumson; Ladies' auxiliary of the fire department, Woman's Democratic club here, Sea Bright Sons and Daughters of Liberty and Rebekah lodge.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. John P. Weil of this borough, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Wood of Teaneck.

Born in Holmdel, Miss Farrin was a daughter of the late George and Honore Maloney Farrin. A resident of this area all her life, she was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic church.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Day funeral home, Keyport.

Theater Group Is Being Organized

A theater group is being organized which will offer modern, dramatic plays in this and surrounding communities and promote the production of more in-the-theater entertainment throughout Monmouth county.

It is planned to offer a series of plays in local legitimate theaters, utilizing local talent. Under professional direction these plays will be presented during the winter and spring months as a community project. As the population of this area has increased, the need for such a group has seemed more apparent. There are many successful theatrical groups throughout the country bringing live productions to community audiences who would not otherwise have the pleasure of a night at the theater. With the talent available in this area this group will serve as a means of bringing these persons together and uniting their efforts for the benefit of all.

This organization offers an opportunity for persons interested in the theater to work in association with each other to present worthwhile comedies and dramas. Naturally, the group will include not only those wishing to participate as actors and actresses but also various other phases of state production, such as design and construction, publicity, promotion, lighting, costumes, properties and stage management.

The original group will be limited to 50 persons, and the preliminary meeting will be announced privately. It is suggested that any person interested in becoming a member of the organization, write to Grandin K. Hammill, 76 East River rd., Rumson, or telephone Rumson 1-0611 any evening between 8 and 9 o'clock.

Sea Scout Ship Pays

$1,043 for New Roof

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—A bill for $1,043 for a roof installed by Caruso Construction company here on the Sea Scout ship Joshua Barney at the municipal yacht harbor was paid Monday night.

The sum comprises $743 from the Sea Scout treasury and a $300 loan from the Atlantic Highlands Lions club, sponsor of the ship. The roof was installed after the ship suffered damage in a windstorm last August.

Manuel Maciale, chairman of the Lions club's Sea Scout committee, this week said plans are being made to raise funds to retire the $300 loan.

Merrily We Roll Along

By HAROLD JACOBSEN

Last week we all received a brand new year, consisting of 52 weeks. We have already spent one and will be well on the way to spending another by the time you read this. Have you spent yours wisely? It's a good time to take inventory of yourself and see that you get the most of the remaining weeks.

The first of the year is a good time to reminisce, so will go to the filing cabinet and get out a copy of our writings and see just what happened ten years ago this week.

Ten years ago we were engaged in the bloodiest war in history. Our column and the rink played a very important part in this war. That year we seemed to open Christmas Eve and had a skating party for boys away from home and stationed at Fort Monmouth. There was no cashier that night. It made the boys feel at home. The Christmas tree was in the center of the floor, and I will remember the boys singing the carols. I say the boys because, if my memory does not fail me, there were only three girls present, and they acted as hostesses. You see, the cash drawer was missing from the refreshment counter.

Now, as then, tears roll down my otherwise many chin as I tell of the incidents. A quiet soldier came to me. His manner was far from that of a warrior. He wanted to pray. He told me he was afraid to die. He told me how much he longed to be home. He spoke of his sister for whom he feared. At first I was bewildered. I had never helped someone pray. I had not seen a man cringe who was not hurt. Then it dawned on me, that perhaps all the boys felt the same way. But this fellow was either stronger or weaker than all the rest. That moment was the birth of that "Minute of Silent Prayer," which you skaters have had here at the arena many times.

The Singing Wheels arena held a Red Cross roller skating party that year. The skaters turned over to the Red Cross for one evening's skating $800. Mayor Alfred N. Beadleston, now your assemblyman, was the auctioneer that night and a swell job was performed by him. I well remember his insisting that you could not pay too much for an article when the entire amount went to a good cause.

The arena had one of the grandest groups of persons as employees that any organization could boast of. I would like to run over the list in case you know some of the names: Charles Lagate, skaterman; Ann Lagate, cashier; Ruth and Kenneth Robinson and Helen Johnson, Jr., instructors; James Scaris, Ed Cook and Hugo Crelin, judges; Alex May, my neighbor, Leslie Berthon, organist; George Fordham, caretaker; Walter Wilson and William Stubbs, skate boys; Dale Weinwright, Reliance Jacobsen, relief organist; Gloria Woodruff, disc jockey, and William Morrow (deceased), poor man.

Now you know why I would like Tuesday nights to be dedicated to "Old Times' Night." They are by no means "old" now, but they used to skate here "when." So let's all get together on Tuesday nights. If you don't feel like skating, just drop in and say "Hello" for "Old Times' Skate."

The F. Y. L. Bureau
We just learned that Miss Marcia Spray, secretary of the Stardusts Dance and Figure club, just celebrated her 21 birthday. Congratulations, Marcia. (You're not out of the woods yet—you'll be out in the center of the floor—H.)

Betty Wordman, who is it now? Arnold or Osaie? Why do you go around trying to choke a certain boy?

Why isn't Richard D. skating with Barbara any more?

Why does Buddy Hubbs always skate with Mae Smith? Is there a romance in it?

B. L. "You Know Who" wants to know if you're still going with Patty G.

John H. we are sorry to learn that you have left old S.W.A. But good luck in California.

Maria A. who do you have your eyes on?

Amelia, how is soda jerking?

Lucy G. why don't you come skating any more?

Gloria F. are you doing all right with Billy Burdge?

Who are the "She-Devils?" John H., a girl named Diana G. wonders why you had to move so far away. (She was very unhappy Saturday night, H.)

Porty G. why didn't you skate Saturday night? Someone was disappointed.

We were pleased to see two of Red Bank's finest skating. They used to be regulars, and we hope they will soon be regulars again. Whitley and Patterson.

Fay Hodgkins, who are the five boys you like?

Anne N. is your favorite song still "My Heart Cries For You"? or is it different now that you like another person?

Joe Cleary, we notice you are improving greatly in your skating. When are you going to get into a show? (Ask Harold).

Has Lori F. got a new name from Pennsylvania? university?

Jim C. and a certain Lillian are skating with stars in their eyes lately.

Brisbane Doctor To Address P.T.A.

WEST LONG BRANCH—Dr. George H. Lusner, director of the Child Treatment Center at Brisbane, will speak prior to the business meeting of the Parent-Teacher association Tuesday night at the school on Locust ave.

Arrangements for the meeting and other activities were made at an executive session Tuesday at the home of Mrs. James McCosker on Locust ave.

The P.T.A. will stage a Valentine's dance Saturday, Feb. 14, at the Berkeley-Carter hotel, Asbury Park, with Mrs. Samuel Levine as chairman. A better type health program for the school will be discussed at the parent-education group meeting Jan. 22 at the home of Mrs. Henry Shultz on Wall st.

Mrs. Marvin Stein reported on board of education meetings she has attended as P.T.A. representative. She said the new proposed budget calls for salary increases and improvements to the school. There will be a forum meeting with candidates for election to the board of education as speakers Monday night, Feb. 2, at the school.

William Smith, former superintendent of Monmouth county schools, will be moderator. Pupils of Miss Ena Havens' and Mrs. Jane Winslow's grades will hold a cup cake sale at the school Jan. 21. Ammon Hollinger, principal, reported that through the efforts of County Clerk J. Russell Woolley, the school was receiving service from the mobile unit of the Monmouth county library.

William Paszky of Lafayette st. returned home Sunday after spending ten days in Hollywood, Fla., where he was publicity director for the National Women's Aquatic forum.

The Parent-Teacher association of Holy Cross school will hold a card party Friday night, Jan. 30, at Holy Rosary hall. Mrs. John Ellis, chairman, will be assisted by a committee comprising Mrs. William Reed, Mrs. Thomas Leary, Mrs. Ignatius Canale, Mrs. Edwin Corey, Mrs. Clifford Doerle, Mrs. William Cromey, Mrs. Stephen Cooke, Mrs. John Dixon, Mrs. Leo Dixon, Mrs. George Grause, Mrs. Hobart Leonard, Mrs. Charles Reals, Mrs. Bartlett Bibby, Mrs. James Carter, Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. John R. Deisler, Mrs. Edward Cartier, Mrs. Raymond Hensler and Mrs. Charles Abel. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Perri and children, Jeff and Lynn, of Navesink ave. are spending three weeks in North Miami Beach, Fla., with Mr. and Mrs. William R. Fowler of Sea Bright.

Michael C. Benson of Ward ave. entertained on Dec. 23 at a dinner party for his father, Oscar N. Benson, who was observing his birthday. Guests were Miss Nona Golay, Miss Carol Berg, Miss Patricia Morrissey, Robert Benson and Edgar VonGehren. Monday, Dec. 29, Michael entertained at another dinner party for his friends and following dinner guests attended a dance at Rumson high school. Guests were Misses Stephanie Guiden, Nona Golay, Carol Berg, Nancy Byrnes, Nancy Kirk, Nancy Davis, Robert and Michael Benson, Edgar vonGehren, Pat Talbot, Bruce Goodwin and James Galtier.

Belford

The P.T.A. met Monday at the school. Plans were made to hold a card party at the school Feb. 11. Members are invited to attend a meeting at Leonardo school, Jan. 26, to meet the candidates seeking election on the board of education.

Mrs. Joseph Haner was appointed to assist in the school cafeteria. Mrs. Otto Hacker showed slides of the trip she made this summer with her husband and family in Colorado, Wyoming and Arizona. The next meeting will be held Feb. 2.

William Samuel Lockwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lockwood of highway 35, was christened Sunday at St. Mary's Catholic church by Rev. Robert Bulman. His godparents were John Lapham of Newark and Miss Margaret Fay of Jersey City. A buffet dinner was held at the home of his parents for members of the family and friends. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lockwood, Sr., Jersey City; Mrs. John Lapan, Newark; Mrs. Stephen Bloom, Miss Mary Maloney, Jersey City; Mrs. Irene Alsback, Samuel J. Alsback, Port Monmouth; Miss Helen Lenovich, Middletown; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pacylowsky and Lester Lockwood, Jr., this place.

Fire Co. Holds First Meeting in New Building

Mayor Edgar V. Denise, right, congratulates Robert A. Matthews, who was installed as chief of the Fair Haven fire company at the company's first meeting in its new $84,000 fire house Monday night. Looking on are Herbert Hawkins, left, who was installed as president of the fire company, and Charles Moeller, who is the retiring chief. Monday night's meeting was the first activity to be held in the new fire house. The building was designed by Robert C. Edwards of Rumson and constructed by Charles B. Hembling and Son of Red Bank. Mayor Denise and the borough council will hold their first session in the new building next Monday at 8 p. m.

A $250 Drive

The little colored church at Reevetown is endeavoring to raise $250 to finish paying for interior work in the church. A short time ago the Presbyterian church of Red Bank gave the Reevetown church some pews. The pews had to be remodeled to fit in the little edifice, and other interior work was done at the same time, leaving the balance mentioned above.

Mrs. Norman Reevey, R. D. No. 8, Neptune, has taken upon herself to raise this amount. A concert will be held in the church Friday night, Jan. 10, in the support of same. Contributions will be received directly by Mrs. Reevey or they can be sent to Thomas Irving Brown, publisher of The Red Bank Register, Register Building, Broad st., Red Bank.

H. F. Collins Completes 35 Years With Oil Co.

PORT MONMOUTH—Harry F. Collins of Grace ave. here was presented a service emblem and certificate for 35 years' continuous service with Tide Water Associated Oil company at its Bayonne refinery during a recent ceremony, where 168 employees with 25 or more years' service were honored. Heading the list of employees was Harry Russell of Cliffwood Beach, who received a 55-year diamond-studded emblem. Mr. Russell retired in March, 1951, after completing 55 years with the company.

Mother, Son Burned When Tree Ignites

Mrs. Katherine Vorel, 40, of 2 Willow st., Keansburg, and her year-old son Cornelius, who were burned when the Christmas tree in the Vorel home ignited New Year's day, are still in Monmouth Memorial hospital. This morning the child was reported in a critical condition and his mother as fair.

The child suffered burns of the face and arms and his mother burns of the face, hands and arms. They were treated by the Keansburg first aid squad which took them to Riverview hospital. After further treatment there, they were transferred to Monmouth Memorial.

The interior of the Vorel house was burned out by the blaze, which also destroyed almost all the contents.

Shrewsbury

The P.T.A. executive board will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. George Blair, Buttonwood dr. Mr. and Mrs. William Kelly and children spent the holidays with Mrs. Kelly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McConnell of New Castle, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard White and children Jeffrey and Pamela are vacationing in Palm Beach, Fla. The Mother's club will meet Monday evening at the parish house of Old Christ church.

Troop 92 met Tuesday at the parish house of Old Christ church. The meeting opened with the flag ceremony. The girls danced the Virginia reel and square dances, then made hats of the badges they want to earn. Girl scout songs were sung and the meeting closed with the friendship circle. At the Christmas party held by the troop Dec. 26, the girls provided their own entertainment, each girl giving a song or dance. Gifts were exchanged. The troop then went to Riverview hospital, where they sang carols to the patients.

Hint Frankel May Get Federal Post

Charles Frankel, Asbury Park, first assistant prosecutor of Monmouth county, is being considered for the $7,000-a-year job of chief assistant to the United States Attorney for New Jersey.

If given the job, Mr. Frankel will be the head of 13 assistant U. S. Attorneys for New Jersey serving under U. S. Attorney Grover C. Richman. Mr. Richman is a Democrat, but his term does not expire until 1955.

The assistant attorneys are selected by the U. S. Attorney General, who will be Herbert G. Brownell, Jr., after President-elect Eisenhower's Jan. 20 inauguration.

State Republican Chairman John Dickerson made the announcement that Mr. Frankel had been recommended for the job, and said his name was given to him by J. Russell Woolley, chairman of the Monmouth county G.O.P. Mr. Dickerson said he passed the recommendation on to Sen. H. Alexander Smith, who is now top authority of federal patronage in the state.

Miss Evelyn Porter's second grade has started a trip through Eskimo land with the "Eskimo Twins" Mable and Monnie. Robert Viliard is a new member of Miss Porter's second grade. Robert came from Florida.

Mrs. Frisella Wimpers' third grade was elected this week to receive mail from Arthur Pausis, a classmate. Arthur is in Florida and sent a postcard to which he added "Wish you were here."

Mrs. Grace Heller's fourth grade was awarded the banner for the highest attendance record during December.

Alex Getty, in Mrs. Mary Johnston's fifth grade, went skiing in New Hampshire and Peter Lund flew to Minneapolis to visit his grandmother.

Mrs. Frances Noonan's sixth grade elected officers for the remainder of the school year at a class meeting Monday. Officers elected were: President, Donald Kerr; secretary, Jean Max; treasurer, Irene Thompson, and assistant treasurer, Geoffrey Wyckoff.

Plans were made to raise funds for a class trip to be taken in June. It was decided that each pupil would pay weekly dues. Later in the spring a money raising project will be launched. On the honor roll for December, being neither tardy nor absent, were the following:

William Cierdin, Donald Krouse, William Leckoff, Jonathan Logan, Bruce Lowe, Howard Kohnstamm, Denise DeLange, Susanne Eichler, Marion Konow, Mary Meyer, Judith Saladin, Donna Norton, Brenda Tanner, Douglas Howie, Roger Keadrup, Clinton Kuehl, Kent Ross, Robert Thaler, Pamela Brewster, Ellen Lichtig, Judith Scully, John Baumgart, Richard Butt, James Day, Frederick Kuehl, Sheppard McHenry, Harland Bunney, Catherine Foreman, Patricia Murray, Shirley Sanborn, Rosalie Uherchak, Nicholas Adamson, Richard Johnson, Thomas Mett, Louis Scott, Peter Thorndike, Kathy Butt, Mary Kelly, Susanne Bloum, Lynn Lincoln, Bill Atwell, Morgan Colto, Robert Pringle, Frank Shaw, John Tulp, Donna Richter, Mary Hunter, Janet Robertshaw, James Jacobson, Harry Johnson, Roger Martin, John Scheid, James Kerner, Sandra Hubbard, Maide Kerr, Donna Robertson, Alice Topp, Arthur Adamson, Philip Amusek, David Clark, Christopher Winkler.

ONE ENCHANTED AUDIENCE sees the finished product Junior Service League members spent months preparing. Members cart scenery, costumes and actresses to 22 schools a year. "The Magic Tinder Box," "Rumpelstiltskin" and

"The Emperor's New Clothes" bring live theater to school children. The community also enjoyed a league-sponsored children's symphony concert and an outdoor art show.

THEIR FIRST HAYRIDE delights children of the Cerebral Palsy Clinic at a JSL Halloween party. The League gives several parties a year for the handicapped children. Doctors praise the parties' therapeutic value.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR VOLUNTEER WELFARE WORK and facilities of the Monmouth County Organization for Social Service are outlined for provisional members of the Junior Service League by Miss Winona Darrah, executive director of MCOSS. New members are required to attend a series of lectures on local government, welfare and hospital services, and cultural and recreational resources of the community. They must pass an exam at the end of their training course to prove they are familiar with the community and its problems.

MENTAL PATIENTS at Marlboro State Hospital work on Christmas aprons, guided by two JSL volunteers. The League annually provides spring and fall fashion shows, teas and picnics; assists in the recreational, occupational and musical therapy programs at Marlboro. Volunteers supervise open discussion groups and help patients conduct club meetings.

HELPING THE RED CROSS collect blood for the armed services occupies nurses' aides from the Junior Service League. Members also volunteer for clerical work and telephoning prospective donors at Red Cross Chapter headquarters in Shrewsbury.

Junior Service League Puts Emphasis on Giving

Thirteen years ago seven young women met to found the Junior Service League of Red Bank, their aim to offer efficient volunteer service to the community.

Membership has since grown to more than 100, and the scope has expanded beyond welfare services to include activity in social, economic, educational, cultural and civic fields.

The League's Thrift and Consignment Shops support a milk fund and, with proceeds from bridge parties, fashion shows, and dances have made possible large donations to causes such as Riverview Hospital and the Ransohoff Rehabilitation Center.

But emphasis is on the giving of service rather than funds. Members last year averaged 125 hours each of service on projects such as those pictured on this page.

THREE OF THE MANY CHILDREN who benefit from the Junior Service League's annual gift of 3,500 quarts of milk to needy families in the Red Bank area. The Milk Fund is maintained by proceeds from the League's Thrift and Consignment Shops at 106 Shrewsbury Avenue.

LEAGUE MEMBERS SERVE in the all-volunteer coffee shop at Riverview Hospital. Many work as Gray Ladies providing extra services for the patients. Although primarily a service group, the League raised funds to give a room on the hospital's new maternity floor. And proceeds from the Junior Service League Thrift shop provided an additional gift to Riverview, in December, of $2,500 for soundproofing the new building's corridors.

Church Women Prepare for '53

SHREWSBURY—The 1953 program of the Women's association of the Presbyterian church was announced at a meeting last night at the church house by program chairman, Mrs. Joseph C. Irwin. The subject last night was based on a national mission theme dealing with migrant workers' problems. A film, "Again Pioneers," was shown.

The following program has been arranged: Feb. 4, "Our American Heritage," Miss Julia Killian, Monmouth county librarian, speaker; March, to be announced; April, foreign missions; May, pilgrimage of historic buildings of Shrewsbury; June, strawberry festival; and October, a reception for Sunday-school teachers and parents of the school's pupils.

Mrs. William Crome, president, said that the association has collected and sent more than 400 pounds of children's clothing to Korea for orphans. The association also adopted a budget of $1,850.

Mrs. Francis Swartz, president of the United Church Women of Red Bank, will be a guest at the Feb. 4 meeting. She has invited members to join this group, and she will explain its program and objectives.

Board to Introduce Budget Tuesday Night

The Red Bank board of education will introduce its preliminary budget next Tuesday night at the high school, provided approval is given by Joseph E. Clayton, county superintendent of schools.

The board's finance committee will discuss the budget tomorrow night. The board has set Jan. 22 as the date for a public hearing on the budget. If approved at that time it will appear on the school election ballot Feb. 10. Paul Young said this morning as yet no one has filed a petition as a candidate for the board. Deadline for filing petitions is Jan. 21.

Presbyterian Group Has Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Women's Association of the Red Bank Presbyterian church was held last night at Westminster house atop Tower Hill on Harding rd. Circle chairman and committee directors gave reports.

Rev. Charles S. Webster, pastor, and Harold Dowstra, chairman of the church building fund, were the speakers. Retiring circle chairmen were hostesses at the coffee-hour which closed the meeting.

Members of circle two, of which Mrs. Joseph Serpico is chairman, will be hostesses at the luncheon at the next meeting, Feb. 4.

'Y' Auxiliary To Form Here

Plans are under way to form an auxiliary of the Community YMCA and the first informal meeting was held last night at the "Y" house on Riverside ave., with 25 prospective members present. Clarence Moser, associate secretary of the Central Atlantic Area "Y" Council offices from Newark, spoke and outlined some of the objectives of such an organization.

The first public meeting, to which all women interested in serving with the group are invited, will be held Thursday afternoon, Jan. 29, at the "Y." At this time administration, membership, programs and projects will be discussed by "Y" personnel active in those fields. There will also be election of officers.

Named to a nominating committee were Mrs. Ruth E. Atwater, chairman, Mrs. Edgar Werner, Mrs. Herbert Werner, Mrs. Harry Schnable and Mrs. Irving Bartlett. The new auxiliary was proposed at the suggestion of the "Y" adult program committee of which Arnold Tulp of Rumson is chairman. Mrs. Gardiner C. Klein of Lincoln served as temporary chairman at last night's meeting.

Conferees Receive Annotated Report
ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — A summary report of an educational planning committee meeting held in mid-November was mailed this week to participants in the conference by the board of education here.

The report summarizes proceedings at the meeting, with annotations by a board of education committee, headed by Mrs. Robert McTaggart, board president. Members of the faculty, representatives from business, school board members and other interested citizens took part in the meeting.

Forrester Lee Gives Talk Before WSCS
Forrester A. Lee, executive director of the Westside "Y," was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Red Bank Methodist church last night in Fellowship hall. His topic was "Modern Samaritans." A talk also was given by Rev. Roger J. Squire, pastor.

Husbands of society members were guests. The meeting opened with a covered-dish supper served by members of circle D, with Mrs. James Bennett and Mrs. Frederick Krill in charge. There were 75 persons present.

Alvin Whiting led in hymn singing. Miss Eleanor Morris, secretary of missionary education, introduced Mr. Lee. Mrs. Krill directed devotions.

RETURNS TO SCHOOL
Miss Margaret Conover of Holmdel has resumed her studies at the Berkeley School of Secretarial Training in East Orange after spending the holidays with her family.

Club to Landscape School Grounds

FAIR HAVEN—As their civic project for 1958, the Fair Haven Garden club will take over the landscaping work at the Knollwood school. The project was discussed at a meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. Lewis E. Connor on Poplar ave.

To raise money for the project the club will hold a card party Wednesday night, Feb. 11, at the Willowbrook, with Mrs. Kenneth L. Hahn and Mrs. Tony E. Huntington as chairmen.

Guest speaker yesterday was George Seelye, science teacher of Long Branch high school, who showed colored slides of wild flowers and Audubon bird pictures from the American museum.

Guests were Mrs. William Detmar, Mrs. William Kacen and Mrs.

Harry C. F. Worden. Mrs. Worden received the meeting prize. The Feb. 4 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Goodell on Oxford ave.

Madge Takes Oath In County Office

FREEHOLD—County Judge John C. Giordano administered the oath as deputy surrogate to Wrexford G. Madge, chief clerk of the surrogate's office Monday.

He succeeds Miss Lida B. Hendrickson, who retired at the end of the year after serving as deputy surrogate 34 years and working in the surrogate's office 54 years.

Miss Ida M. Huff of Ardara also was sworn in to the job of special deputy surrogate, to which she was promoted.

To Face Three Counts In Union Beach Court

UNION BEACH—Howard Bothers, formerly of this place, who had been wanted by police here for non-support, passing a bad check and taking a car without the owner's consent, is being held in county jail pending a hearing Wednesday night before Magistrate Henry Giordano.

Bothers, who was arrested Tuesday night at Trenton by state police, was arrested here Dec. 25 by Patrolman Joseph Knappi on a charge of taking a car from Franklin township without the owner's permission. He was remanded to the Keanburg jail pending a hearing. According to police here, Bothers told them last night he escaped from Keanburg when he found the jail door open and walked out.

False Alarm Count Costs Man $10 Fine

UNION BEACH—William Hill of North Centerville, who pleaded not guilty to a charge of calling in a false fire alarm from Henry and Mary's tavern, Union ave., was fined $10 as a disorderly person last night by Magistrate Henry Giordano. The complaint was made by Sgt. Richard Trembley.

Fined for traffic violations were Adelbert E. Lolite, 150 Morningdale ave., Union Beach, speeding, $10; James Williams, 94 West Front st., Kappert, speeding, $5; Thomas E. McGrath, West Keanburg, failure to stop at a red light, $2.

TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Installation of officers and a penny sale will be held at the meeting next Tuesday night of Pride of Monmouth council, Sons and Daughters of Liberty.

The lodge's charter was draped for 30 days in memory of a member, Mrs. Anne Smith of Matawan.

EGIDIO INSTRUCTS SCOUTS

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—Plans for district collections of Christmas trees for the Tuletime burning ceremonies Saturday night in the municipal harbor area, were made at a meeting of the Boy Scouts Tuesday night at the Methodist church. Boy Scouts, Explorer Scouts and Sea Scouts will participate in the event, sponsored by Atlantic Highlands Garden club. Capt. James J. Egidio of the Atlantic Highlands police continued his first aid instructions for troop members.

What to Do About Korea Vet's Study?

TINTON FALLS—There's a Korean war veteran, who lives at Alfred Vail homes, attending the Red Bank high school. Red Bank asked the Shrewsbury township school board to pay his tuition. Louis A. Steinmuller, board president, reported Tuesday night. The board's decision was to ask Red Bank to inquire if the vet's education is not covered by the GI Bill of Rights. If not, the board decided it will be glad to pay all costs.

HENRY CROSS 'SERIOUS'
HOLMDEL—Henry Cross of this place is reported in serious condition today at Riverview hospital, where he is a medical patient. Mr. Cross was admitted to the hospital Monday of last week.
