Special Edition

S. R. Chic Morse dead in this city on Friday night last. The funeral services will take place at St. Paul's Episcopal church on Tuesday afternoon, March 30th, at 4 o'clock. The members of LaFayette Lodge No. 37 A. F. & A. M. and of LaFayette Chapter No. 18 R. A. M. will assemble at Masonic Hall on Tuesday afternoon at half past three o'clock, to pay the last offices of respect to their departed brother.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.

HARTSHORN PUDDING.—Take two pounds of suet, two pounds of flour, two pounds of currants, two pounds of raisins, two pounds of sugar, two eggs, half a pint of milk, salt and pepper, and a dessertspoonful of hartshorn. Mix the suet, flour, salt and pepper, and a dessertspoonful of mushroom catsup, flour and water enough to make it very stiff; then add the hartshorn, and serve in the dish. It may be turned out if the gravy in the pudding-dish can be retained. Mutton, veal and ham, fowl and game may be served in a similar way.

POTTED HAM.—Cut the shell from about two dozen eggs, and place them in a well, place in layers of ham and eggs, and cover with water, and let it boil; take out each layer of ham and eggs, and a few whole allspice or cloves. Cover the ham with cider vinegar, and pitch brown paper over the pot, set in a moderate oven, and let it stand for a moderately cool night. Ham cooked in this way will be delicious, except the backbone, which will be soft.

HAMS HEAVY.—Make a sponge of about a pint of milk or water, with a small piece of PARKLAKE-CLARKE's saleratus (about a cent as high) in the morning; knead with it a stiff dough, and let it rise; then add lard (melted and cooled) and knead very well. In warm weather, lard enough; in cold weather, less lard will do. Let it stand an hour in the pans; bake quickly.

THE PATENT STEP-LADDER.

"Tom, dear, the man's come that holds that patent over-the-parlor-door thing-the-pans, and it will fall down, if you don't do it," a woman I only know as Mrs. Tweed, as her husband was last seen, called out to him as he was at work in a place in the morning, just before starting for business.

"Why, the pictures! I never saw such a hoss!" he exclaimed, irritably throwing down his lighted match and untied horse.

"Well, I can't help it, Tom. That's it, really, dear," said Mrs. Tweed, trying to some mosquito bites on her school-girl arms.

"Pictures! pictures. That's it, really, dear," said Mrs. Tweed, trying to some mosquito bites on her school-girl arms.

Tweed frowed a mechanical smile, and assured her that he understood her meaning perfectly, and would do everything in her power to make the pictures look as well as possible under the circumstances.

"Where is the pictures? I never saw such a hoss!" he exclaimed, irritably throwing down his lighted match and untied horse.

"Well, I can't help it, Tom

CITY CONVENTION.

The Democratic City Convention will be held at [illegible] Hall on THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH [illegible], at [illegible] o'clock to nominate candidates for city offices; each Ward will be entitled to [illegible] delegates. [illegible]

The Republicans having lost one railroad man from the Council during the past year, seek to repair that loss by nominating two of the Pennsylvania's men for a position in the board—one in the 3d and one in the 4th ward.

The Republican nominee for Mayor, Mr. Marshon, seems to have a large capacity for office. He is now a member of the Water Board, being elected for three years and having served only one. Many of the that party think it is piling office on one man a little too thick, and will vote in such a way as to have him serve out the time for which he was elected as Water Commissioner.

The Democrats made good tickets in all the wards, on Tuesday evening, and now all that is required to obtain a victory over the old ring managers, is earnest work by the friends of economy. Let the old controlling power get into the ascendancy, and we will have another period of high salaries, numerous officers and higher taxes.

Mr. Marshon will, of course, make an economical Mayor if he should be elected. In referring to the record while he was a member of Council we find that when the Democrats were advocating a resolution requesting the Legislature to pass a supplement allowing a reduction in the percentage of the city treasurer he said "he believed the percentage ever taken to be the true one, and opposed any reduction, as he thought one-and-one-half none to much."

The Advocate man labors in about a column of editorial last week in an endeavor to show that Democratic economy has been much [illegible] during the past three years, and compares the tax levies with three years of Republican rule. He is very careful to conceal the fact that a large portion of the levies as made by the Democrats was to pay the old debts contracted by the Republicans. There is not a person of intelligence in the city that does not know that the current expenses have been reduced about one-half under Democratic rule.

The Republicans, after much trial and tribulation have succeeded in filling their city ticket, we understand. They had a little "caucus" (as some of their party expressed it) on Friday night last, at which they only succeeded in nominating a portion of the officers—not being able to settle upon a candidate for Mayor. They adjourned until Monday night, when they succeeded in securing the use of the name of Mr. Marshon, for that honorable position [illegible]. He is certainly a very accommodating gentleman, so often to step into the breach for the gratification of his party.

It's JUDGE MCCORMICK.—T. F. McCormick was nominated by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate, last week, as Law Judge of Union county, in place of E. W. Kenyon whose term expires. Well, as in the course of human events it becomes necessary for Elizabeth to have that officer as well as everything else, nearly, we know of no other lawyer of that city whom we would prefer to Mr. McCormick. We have been intimately acquainted with him since we both held positions by the grace of the Board of Freeholders a few years ago, and we have always found him careful and correct in all his legal undertakings. He will, no doubt, do honor to the bench.

CORRECTIONS ARE "OBNOXIOUS."—The Advocate mathematician last week in his endeavors to make it appear that the Democrats have not been economical since they have had control of the city, gives the amount of the tax levies for three years under each administration, which shows only a few thousand dollars in favor of the Democrats. If he had possessed a spirit of fairness he would have stated the deficiencies the Democrats have been compelled to make up since they came into power. For instance, we will take the first year they obtained the majority—1875, for the year previous the Republican Council made their tax levy, putting the figures very low, with the hope of deceiving the tax-payers with the belief that they were trying to be economical—in fact that had been their practice for some years. To show how matters stood at that time we will place side by side the amount appropriated in their tax levy and the amount reported expended when the Democrats came to make up the new tax levy:

	Tax Levy.	Expended.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Showing a deficiency to be made up of $16,[illegible], to which add $4,000 deficiency in the appropriation for the water board the same year—aggregating $20,[illegible], which had to be provided for by the Democrats in their tax levy. So much for the tax levy comparison!

The Democrats this year, after paying off the old Republican debts and cutting down the current expenses continually, have just commenced to make their economical administration felt, as all tax-payers realized when they received their last tax bills. As we have said before, the only matter the Democrats can be accused of squandering [illegible] in, is for the legal expenses incurred in trying to recover some of the missing funds of the city.

This country is on the eve of another period of inflation, of brisk business, lively speculation and great seeming, and perhaps for a time real prosperity.—Newark Advertiser.

What? What? This can't be the work of a Democratic Congress, you know. This can't be the result of the Tribune's yell of ruin.—For goodness sake, gentlemen—Republicans, don't begin to better us, or we shall doubt the evidence of our senses! We pronounced the country prosperity if it gave us the administration of affairs; and if, in spite of the Fraud, which defeated the people's will, with only one branch of the Government in our hands, we can still show the way to prosperity and bring it back, we must be even abler than we dreamed.—New Brunswick Times.

Two Georgians, Messrs. R. B. Wooten and W. D. Dodd of Brooks county, got into very serious trouble while on a visit to Arkansas recently. They were on a prospecting tour in the last named State, and one night a [illegible] at which they were stopping was entered [illegible] [illegible] they had not made themselves known [illegible] they would have been lynched.—[illegible] they had considerable difficulty in [illegible] [illegible] their complete acquittal.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Other matters last week cut our report shorter than usual, bringing it up only to Monday night. In the Senate the act forbidding municipal corporations appropriating money for paying expenses of committees to attend the Legislature, was lost. The act requiring the destruction of gambling instruments was passed.

In the House Mr. W. T. Stevens offered a resolution requesting our members in Congress to oppose what is known as the Wood Tariff Bill. Mr. DeWitt offered resolutions of respect to the memory of Hon. Charles Sitgreaves, who was a member of the Legislature in 1831 and 1833. The following were passed: a further supplement to act establishing a uniform system of weights and measures, an act to facilitate the erection of certain premiums for the fire departments of cities from fire insurance companies was at first lost, then reconsidered and passed, supplement to act regulating divisions, act in reference to street improvements, supplement to act for the punishment of crimes, making it misfeasance in office for boards of Freeholders and other public bodies to vote for disbursements of public moneys in excess of appropriations, provided it does not extend to expenditures for the relief of the poor, supplement to an act requiring the court of Chancery, giving the Chancellor power to order the disposal of real estate held by charitable and religious associations, an act incorporating societies for the prevention of [illegible], [illegible] purposes, an act to regulate the [illegible] transfer of moneys of the State School Fund.

In the Senate on Tuesday a bill was introduced by Mr. Babe, extending the "Boarder" [illegible] and to apply to persons who may be disorderly in any house or dwelling, or vacant lot. The following were passed: act to regulate primary meetings or caucuses of political parties, supplement relative to the crime of [illegible]; to change the name of the town of Red Bank; supplement to act concerning [illegible] [illegible] relative to property of married women living in a state of separation. The report of the State Prison Committee on charges against Keeper Mott was presented, exonerating him.

In the House the bill for a constitutional convention was ordered to a third reading, providing for as many members as there are Senators and Members of Assembly, to be elected the same way. The following were passed: act defining the duties of township committees in certain cases, supplement to an act concerning dower, providing the purchase of real estate to set off dower of the same and more than such [illegible] any dower interest, supplement to an act regulating proceedings in criminal cases, relating to persons stealing goods to the value of $20 being tried before two Justices of the Peace and a jury, an act relative to fees of Justices of the Peace and constables, supplement to act relative to system of public instruction, authorizing the creation of school libraries. A supplement to the usury law was introduced providing that more than six per cent. shall not be collectible by suit neither shall the borrower or debtor recover back any such excess when once paid.

On Wednesday in the Senate Mr. Magie introduced an act providing for the appointment of two members of the House, two members of the Senate, and three persons to be appointed by the Governor, to prepare a system of general laws for the government of cities. Mr. Cantrell, a supplement to an act for the relief and settlement of the poor, providing that the order for removal may be made by a Justice of the Peace. The following were passed: act to provide armories for the National Guard; act declaratory of the power of the Chancellor to issue and determine writs of habeas corpus; act to authorize Gaslight Companies to increase their bonded indebtedness; act to establish a bureau of statistics in regard to labor; supplement to act concerning crimes, providing that any person stealing property in another State and bringing it into this State, shall be convicted and punished as if the theft had been committed in this State.

In the House Mr. Tilden introduced an act providing that it shall be the duty of the justice of the peace, within five days after the list of delinquent taxpayers has been received, and to make out and deliver to the constable a warrant requiring him to levy the tax so in arrears, with costs, &c., giving four days' notice, the tax to be paid to the Township Collector within forty-five days after the date thereof, excepting from said $200 worth of tools, &c., and all wearing apparel. By Mr. Coward, an act concerning Justices of the Peace and District Court Judges, empowering them to give judgment upon the filing of a transcript of a judgment obtained before any other Justice of the Peace or District Court Judge. By Mr. A. D. Nichols, further supplement to an act for the relief of such portion of the militia as may be called into service, which provides that six dollars per month shall be paid wives, widowed mothers or mothers who depended during term of service for support upon any naval recruit credited or entitled to be credited to the quota of this State, whether such pensioners were residents of this or any other State. By Mr. Stiles, supplement to an act concerning townships and township officers, which provides that hereafter that at all elections by ballot of any Township Committee the Township Committee to be elected may be required by law to consist of five members, only three of them shall be voted for upon any one ballot, and if the Township Committee to be elected may be required by law to consist of three members, only two of them shall be voted for upon any one ballot.

The following were passed: act for the relief of Michael Fallon; supplement to act respecting the Court of Chancery; supplement to act for the punishment of crimes; act relative to inchoate dower; supplement to act to regulate the practice in courts of law; supplement to act to regulate fees; supplement to act for the punishment of crimes; supplement to act for the preservation of the early records of the State; act to better secure depositors in Savings Banks.

On Thursday the sessions in both Houses were short on account of a visit from a delegation from the New York Legislature.—Resolutions of welcome were passed by both Houses, and in the afternoon most of the members, with the visitors and others paid a visit to the permanent exhibition in Philadelphia.

In the Senate Mr Magie introduced an act for additional accommodation for the Supreme Court. Mr. Babe, an act providing for the election in every city of Municipal Boards by the voters at large, and for minority representation therein.

On Monday evening, in the Senate Mr. Emson introduced an act providing that the places of holding elections in cities shall not be designated in any building in which liquor is sold.

Senator Randolph having appeared upon the floor, the Senate took a recess for ten minutes, when the Senators took occasion to meet and converse with Mr. Randolph.

The following were passed: Act relative to County Physicians, providing that Coroners shall not be entitled to fees for viewing a body unless the view shall have been made by order of the County Physician; act to regulate the sale of milk; act authorizing the enrollment of two additional companies of the National Guard, for drill in the use of the Gatling gun.

In the House Mr. Mathews introduced a supplement to an act to reapportion the several Assembly Districts of the State—a general bill including various counties. The following bills were passed: Act relative to past due taxes in cities and to the collection of the same; joint resolution No. 4, relative to the School Fund; supplement to act concerning cities; act relative to the purchase of lands and water rights by Water Commissioners; supplement to act to regulate the sale and manufacture of fertilizers; act to define ways and means to defray the State expenditure; act for the support of fire organizations in the townships of this State; supplement to act appointing Commissioners of the Sinking Fund.

Senator Randolph was received and made a brief speech.

The printing bill was again discussed. The Governor sent in a veto on the bill changing the name of Red Bank to Shrewsbury City, for the reason that it had not been properly advertised.

Another meeting will be held at the same place this evening when he hopes to have a full turn out of the singers of the city and vicinity. If stormy to-night the meeting will be held next Monday evening.

A full day's work was "put in" last Saturday in the examination of witnesses in the case of the City against the bondsmen of the late treasurer. A voluminous amount of testimony was taken, numerous city officers and others being summoned to testify. We have some valuable property in Rahway according to the testimony of some. For instance the Milton Lake [illegible] was put down for $100,000 and the Cherry street block $30,000, by the ex-City Engineer.

MORE FIRES.

Residents in the central part of the city were startled on Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock by the sudden cry of fire, and upon a response to the alarm it was found that the barn of George W. Hall, in the rear of his residence on Main street, was in flames, and beyond any hope of saving. It was a large old building, and the flames spread to all parts, almost with the rapidity of a powder flash. The only things saved were a horse and a buggy, both of which were somewhat scorched; Billy Cloke and Sam Squire blistering themselves considerably, in running the buggy out. The fire department was promptly on hand and did good service in confining the flames to the barn and a few surrounding sheds and small buildings, belonging to Mr. Hall, Mrs. Fox and J. T. Melick. The dwelling house of Mrs. Fox, on Dock street, was in great danger, and the furniture was all removed from it, but it fortunately escaped. Jonathan Woodruff's barn caught several times in the roof, but was saved by a small hose and constant watching. The house of R. F. Moore, on the opposite side of the river, also caught, in the roof, from cinders, but was fortunately noticed in time and extinguished before any damage was done. If the wind had been in an easterly direction, the whole business portion of the city would have been in imminent danger of destruction. The water works did good execution, the only draw backs being the bursting of the hose belonging to the fire department. Some persons lay the defect to the poor quality and old age of the hose, while others say it is on account of turning on the full force at the hydrant, which is too much for the best of hose to bear. Whatever is the cause, a remedy should be applied, as there were several lengths of hose bursted at this fire.

There was a large amount of agricultural implements, stoves, etc., in the barn, all of which were destroyed. Mr. Hall estimates his loss at $5,000; insured for $500 in the Rahway Mutual, and $1500 in the Phoenix Insurance companies. The origin of the fire is unaccountable for, unless some one had been in the barn smoking.

ANOTHER.

Between one and two o'clock on Sunday morning the fire department was again called out by the burning of an old barn, sheds, etc., on the Jonathan B. Freeman property, in Leesville. It was first noticed by Sergeant Wright who gave the alarm. The property was occupied P. Gallagher, the railroad track walker. He had a number of cows and calves in the barn, which were rescued by assistant engineer Leonard and a few others. The property is owned by Dr. Daryea and the loss is estimated at about $600. Mr. Freeman holds a mortgage against it and has an insurance of $300. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

ALMOST ANOTHER.

About eleven o'clock Saturday night smoke was noticed by some of the family of Geo. Danner in East Rahway, and on investigation it was found that some one had emptied a pipe of burning tobacco in a sawdust spittoon which had ignited, and but for the opportune discovery would no doubt have made a serious fire.

A shed on the premises of Mrs. Joel B. Laing, near this city was burned Tuesday night.

"SCHOOL."—The entertainment at the Opera House last Friday evening was the finest of the dramatic order, ever given in this city, taken all in all. "The Wallack" although composed of amateurs who merely perform for their own amusement and not for profit, is composed of ladies and gentlemen from some of the best families of New York, some of whom having friends in this city, thus gave our citizens the pleasure of witnessing the excellent performance above alluded to. The characters were all well taken "Miss Tighe," "Bella," and "Krux" being especially well adapted for their respective parts. The audience was composed of most of the best families of the city and many of the friends of the "The Wallack" were present from New York. All who were present are enthusiastic in their praises of the manner in which the piece was "put on the stage," nothing equaling it outside of the large cities. Although the attendance was quite good, the expenses exceeded the receipts.

An old man giving his name as Rev. George Washington Jones alias George W. Adams, was arrested on Friday last by Sergeant Wright, suspected of being a confidence operator, having been spotted by detective Marbacher. He had been to a number of places and represented that he married a couple many years ago, in this section of the State, that he had received word from the lady that she was in destitute circumstances, and that he was a Presbyterian minister and had preached in the Jerry McAuley Mission of late and at other places. He was very well dressed, said he was sixty-five years old, and certainly of a very ministerial appearance.—No one appearing to make a charge against him he was allowed to depart after his photograph had been taken by Stacy to adorn the rogues' gallery.

E. St. Clair Moore, who has been suffering for a long time with consumption, died on Friday night last, aged thirty eight years.—He was a member of LaFayette Chapter No. 26 R. A. M. and LaFayette Lodge No. 27, A. F. and A. M. of this city, being the first High Priest of the former. His funeral took place on Tuesday, from St. Paul's Episcopal church, and he was buried at Hazelwood cemetery with full Masonic honors. Rev. Mr. Van Antwerp led the services at the church, and an appropriate address was made by Rev. Mr. Rollinson. Mrs. Atkinson being present sang in a very impressive manner "Nearer my God to Thee" at the conclusion of the address.

CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT.—The young people of the First Presbyterian Church will give another entertainment in the lecture room of their church, on Tuesday evening, April 9, at 8 o'clock. The entertainment will be similar to that given last week, which was successful beyond expectation in all respects; but, on this occasion, the programme will be entirely new and several persons will take part who were not present the last time. There will be good music, singing, solos, recitations, duets, dialogues and humorous pieces suitable to the occasion, after which refreshments, good and cheap, will be served. The proceeds are for for the church expenses. 1t

Prof. Bill Beekman (colored) got in some kind of a difficulty on Monday, by using disrespectful language to Mr. Herold. A warrant was issued for him, and Sergeant Wright and officer Tooker proceeded to arrest him when on Cherry street. The officer, we understand, did not read the warrant and Mr. Beekman insisted on that form being complied with, making things lively for a while by his elephantine strokes. Finally he was subdued and taken to the station house, but the Judge thought the whole matter of unimportance and dismissed the case.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.—On Monday evening, Franklin Hose Co. No. 2, with a number of their friends gathered in the parlor of the above named company, to witness the presentation to J. Lester LaForge, the newly elected assistant engineer, of a hat, belt, badge and trumpet. The presentation was made by W. E. Clark in a few brief and well chosen remarks. The surprise was complete and the new incumbent could not find words to express his thanks for the honor conferred upon him.

TURKEY STEALING.

MR. EDITOR.—Several turkeys during the past week have been stolen from roosts in the vicinity of Rahway, and five dollars reward will be paid for the conviction of said thief or thieves. There will be a "hot time" in the future, and shou'd any physician be called upon by any person to extract shot, it will be one of these turkey thieves, sure.

MR. EDITOR.—Having heard that some generous hearted person has circulated the story that one of the young men named in connection with the recent "birthday surprise" had left the city on account of the affair, I wish to hereby contradict the statement, as it has been his intention for some time to leave Rahway on account of business arrangements.

A tramp killed near Menlo Park about the middle of January last and buried in this city, it appears, by late developments, belonged to a family in good circumstances. It appears, by the decease of some of his relatives an inheritance had been left him.

What more beautiful sight can there be to a sorrow-stricken soul, groping in despondency through this vale of tears, than to witness a lady coming out of church and, as she reaches the pavement, balance, gracefully on one foot while, with the other little foot, the beautiful pull-back is kicked into the air as dexterously as an army mule would dislodge an annoying fly, and at the same time grab it with one hand, while with the other she seizes the arm of her attendant, and trudges off, resembling a half-reefed sail swelled with a strong wind? Beautiful!

LINDEN, N. J., March 21, 1878.

Last evening the members of the "Linden Chimes" and some of their friends gave a surprise party to their President, Mr. T. Schmalholz, and his family. The company numbering twenty-eight ladies and twenty-three gentlemen assembled at the residence of Mr. Wm. Tooth, and at about 9 o'clock proceeded to the residence of Mr. Schmalholz, directly opposite, where they were cordially received. The programme consisted of twenty-six dances, with an intermission for refreshments, which were served at 12 o'clock, and it was 4 o'clock in the morning before the company broke up and dispersed to their homes. Music was furnished by Mr. Edwin H. Gorham, of Elizabeth. The affair was in every respect a success, and was undoubtedly the most brilliant and select entertainment of its kind given at Linden this season.

ADVENTURES AND DEATH OF COL. M. H. BEAUMONT.

The following is the article we alluded to in our brief notice of the death of Col. Beaumont, in our last issue:

The arrest of Samuel F. Schwartz, the thieving Pension Office clerk, is connected with an interesting history of rascality, which is exceptional in its way for the reason that it points a moral. Schwartz, who was Chief Clerk in the Pension Office in this city, absconded in April of last year, in company with his partner in villainy, one Colonel Myron H. Beaumont who had been doing business ostensibly as a pension broker and solicitor. Schwartz is now cooped up in the County Jail, with every prospect of a long term of restricted liberty. Beaumont was deposited six feet under ground at Ukiah, about three weeks ago, having realized the uselessness of his existence and by taking morphine. Beaumont belonged to a good family in New Jersey. During the rebellion he obtained a commission in the Second New Jersey Cavalry, and by gallant conduct advanced to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. He was severely wounded on four different occasions, and retired from the service with a pension of $30 a month. Some years after returning to civil pursuits he experienced a partiality for his brother-in-law's wife, a Mrs. Randolf, and the passion being reciprocated, the result was an elopement. The Colonel abandoned a wife and family, with the exception of his eldest boy, whom he took with him in his flight, and Mrs. Randolf abandoned a husband and several children. The recreant couple naturally took the overland express, and continued their travels from San Francisco up the coast to Coos Bay. In this secluded retreat the Colonel devoted his energies to the editorial management of the Coos Bay News, and labored assiduously for several years in elevating of Coosite society. During the period of this mission Mrs. Randolf died. While she was prostrated with illness, her supposed husband, the Colonel, created much scandal by his flirtation with a young lady belonging in Oakland, who was visiting friends at Coos Bay, and in a few weeks after the death of Mrs. Randolf, Beaumont married his new victim. When the young lady's parents heard of this alliance they started posthaste for Coos Bay, compelled a separation without any recourse to law, and brought their daughter back to Oakland. Colonel Beaumont, finding his reputation becoming rather odorous, even for an Oregon mining district, shortly after shook the coal dust from his feet, and came to San Francisco. He did not succeed in effecting a reunion with his Oakland wife, and the deluded lady is now numbered among his bereaved widows, distributed here and there through the county. Soon after reaching this city, Beaumont discovered an auspicious opening for business as a pension broker, and at the same time found a valuable partner for his contemplated rascality, in Schwartz, chief clerk of ex-Pension Agent Thomas R. Mosby. Beaumont opened an office adjoining the Pension Office, and dried the papers for entitled to pensions and bounties, and in addition to this business he essayed the role of a war-worn veteran political stump speaker. The fact that he had been devoting several years to indoctrinating the Coos Bay people in Democratic gospel and preaching the utter demoralization and hopelessness of the Republican party, did not affect his eligibility for admission to the Hayes Invincibles, and he became a shining light in that organization. The Colonel's politics were of the pliant quality adapted to the requirements of any locality or community. He turned to and denounced the Democratic party as the falling of creation, a stench to the nostrils of the Almighty, and odious to the devil. It afforded him peculiar satisfaction to expose the rank hypocrisy and cold blooded villainy of Sam Tilden, as he was enabled to do from his intimate relations with Tilden before the depraved instincts of the man developed themselves and the Colonel saw his polluted character in its true light. While thus devoting his energies to the Presidential canvass Beaumont came in contact with another war-worn veteran, Colonel Georgi, and a sympathy of sentiment engendered a warm friendship.

THE MORAL TONE

had between six and seven thousand dollars uninvested, and he was persuaded to enter into partnership with Beaumont in the pension brokerage. The business of the house, which was continued under the exclusive management of Beaumont, was then extended to the discounting of pension papers and policemen's warrants on the City Treasurer. Not long after this enterprise was established Colonel Georgi was called away to look after some business interest at Visalia. He returned to this city just the day following the mysterious disappearance of his partner and also the simultaneous departure of the Pension Agent's clerk, Schwartz. Investigation readily determined that Georgi's money had been stolen, and that the pension papers and city warrants on which it had ostensibly been loaned were all spurious. In addition to this robbery, both Beaumont and Schwartz had borrowed all the money they could obtain from other victims and cheated every tailor and other tradesman sufficiently gullible to give them credit. One of the last transactions of the model officer was to persuade a crippled soldier to deposit a couple of hundred dollars for safe keeping. It was the poor fellow had, and he was compelled to seek the hospitality of the almshouse until his next installment of pension became due.—It was supposed that the fugitives directed their flight to Arizona or Mexico; but this was a misapprehension. Their circuitous line of travel converged at Ukiah, Mendocino county, where they resumed their partnership and conservatory of the pension dens, high-toned gin dispensary, gambling den and conservatory of promiscuous vice. Col. Beaumont altered the cut of his beard from the flying artillery style to the sutler style of full growth and adopted the name of Thomas B. Edwards. He became exceedingly popular with his patrons at Ukiah, and advanced himself in public esteem by imparting to one or two in strict confidence that he was a lineal descendant of the illustrious Jonathan Edwards, and had himself been educated for the ministry, and devoted some years of his early life to the diffusion of gospel light. Beaumont finally determined that he had prospered sufficiently well at Ukiah to warrant having always acted upon the divine precept that it is not good for man to be alone, and married a wife wherever he intended to settle down for a year or two. The person whom he last selected to join him in his virtuous walks was Lena Ortenaga, a Spanish lady, with whom he had become acquainted while she was on a visit at Ukiah. Unfortunately she already had a husband, who was engaged in business in San Diego, but this seemed to make no difference. The Colonel came to this city after Lenora about five months ago; she accompanied him back to Ukiah, and the pair were united in wedlock with due ceremony. Shortly after the marriage, Beaumont and Schwartz met with serious reverses in consequence, it is understood, of the advent of a gentleman in Ukiah who was engaged in the noble work of elevating the standard of "draw poker," by regularly dealing himself four aces. The unfortunate men closed up, and Beaumont, becoming disgusted at the result, found consolation in the comforting assurances of Beecher that life was a fleeting show and hell a base delusion. On the 6th instant he quietly went to rest with a dose of morphine sufficient to straighten out a rhinoceros.—San Francisco Chronicle, Feb 24.

Beaumont was at one time foreman for Mr. Shann when he published this paper, who informs us that he dispensed with his services for good and substantial reasons. At the close of the war he was for a time connected with the Advocate, in which he published a history of the 2d New Jersey Cavalry.—Afterwards he published for a time the Perth Amboy Era and subsequently was in some kind of a brokerage business in New York.—His life was full of adventures, rectitude, however, most frequently appeared, not being his motto.

APPLES OF GOLD IN PICTURES OF SILVER.

"A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver." When the body becomes diseased, the mind is thereby necessarily influenced. National wars, State dissensions, neighborhood broils, and family differences, are more frequently than otherwise the result of diseased and disordered constitutions. When the body is suffering, the mind, acting in sympathy, will become irritated and perplexed. When the physical system is in health, the mind perceives things in their true light, and the disposition assumes a very different phase. Nothing more directly tends to destroy the happy, cheerful disposition of a woman and render her peevish, nervous, and fretful, than a constant endurance of those ailments and irregularities peculiar to women take away the elasticity and buoyancy of health and reduce her body and mind to a mere wreck. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a real peace-maker in a family. No woman suffering from uterine disorders can afford to be without this remedy. The Favorite Prescription saves unnecessary doctor bills, prevents divorces, wards off suicides, brings back buoyant, joyous feelings, restores the woman to health, and her family to happiness. It is sold by all druggists.

Before life is imperilled, deal judiciously with the symptoms. Remember that the [illegible] strongly, incurable, disease to-morrow. As a preventive, use Simmons' Liver Regulator, which, by its mild and beneficial action on the liver, stomach and spleen, is admirably calculated to assist Nature in her efforts to re-establish a healthy condition.—It will also remove the cause of disease without any of that prostration which follows the use of drastic purgatives, or any of the injurious effects of mineral poisons. C. P. Brown, agt. for Rahway.

AN ASTONISHING FACT.—A large proportion of the American people are to-day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver.—The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, take the advice of Druggists and your friends, and try one bottle of Green's August Flower. Your speedy relief is certain. Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues, with satisfactory results in every case. You can buy a sample bottle for 10 cents to try. Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold by all Druggists on the Western Continent.

In the whole history of medicine, no preparation has ever performed such marvelous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long-continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life.—The protection it affords, by its timely use in the throat and lung disorders of children, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, Physicians use the Cherry Pectoral extensively in their practice, and Clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure where cures are possible.

Had they paid attention to their Teeth in early life, they would have been saved much pain. Young people Remember this; take warning, be wise in time; clean your teeth daily with a good dentifrice. Thurston's Ivory Pearl Tooth Powder is the most perfect; by it your teeth will be preserved through life in good condition, sound and white, it will harden the Gums, sweeten the Breath, and by preventing the decay of the Teeth, will keep away from you the Demon Tooth-Ache. Sold by all druggists, 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.

YORKSHIRE PUDDING.—Put six heaping tablespoonfuls flour in a basin; stir in enough milk to make a smooth batter; add a little salt; beat well for ten minutes; add three eggs, well beaten; stir in enough milk to make it of the consistency of cream; put a shallow tin robbed with beef dripping; bake it an hour; and then place it where the roasting meat is to be, that the drippings may fall into it. Take the meat when done, and put it on a dish to keep warm; pour into the tin enough of the drippings to moisten the pudding; cut it into proper pieces, and dispatch it to the table. It must be served quickly, or it will lose its lightness; and serving properly is one of the secrets of a good Yorkshire pudding.

BEEFSTEAK PUDDING.—Take cold meat, and cut it into small pieces; season well pepper and salt, and add a little onion or shallot; put a layer of suet pastry in a basin, and cover each layer with pepper and salt and a few white allspice or cloves. Cover the meat with water, and place a thick brown paste over. Half an hour will be sufficient to boil it, if the meat be warm; and if it be cold, half an hour more will be necessary, except in the thickness, which will be much greater.

HAMMY PICKLE.—Make a sponge of about a pint of milk or water, with a small piece of yeast—dry or compressed—and a little salt; when it is light, add a handful of ham, well boiled and well washed, and mashed or minced, and half a capful of butter and lard; season very sparingly with red pepper, and a little allspice; add a little vinegar, if you like it sour; when risen, put into small bottles, and cork tightly; it will keep good for months.

TO PREVENT STEAM LADDER.—"Tom, dear, the milk boils that potato out of the pot-hole; stop the pipe, and I will follow, if you can." Tom, a little fellow, was left by Mrs. Dwell, as her husband was leaving the breakfast table for a clean shirt, a glass of the morning ale, and a warming for business.

"Hang the pipe, Tom! can't you stick a bone?" he exclaimed, irritated at the interruption.

"Hang the potato, Tom! it will scald, dear," said his wife, softly, looking at some mosquito bites on her round chin.

"Tom, I wish you'd be a mechanical genius, and invent a method of the chambermaid and according to stand so, and for the sake of the morning, I should all wear the house. Stop that pipe, and I will follow."

"What's the matter now, Tom? Can't you keep it down? Put the potato in."

"Matter enough. Where's the stopper? Put it in! Put Peter's wife's potato in the pipe? Put a potato in the pipe? Put a potato in the pipe? Put a potato in the pipe!"

"Then put I'm sorry, so we know and sorry, and Mrs. P., coming up, stairs and looking at the door.

"Then I'd say one thing very day of our Lord; but it seems to me we ought to be sorry for what we do, and be thankful for what we escape, judging down from her chair.

"And sorry you going to do it, after all! answered his wife, as she saw him, pulling on his boots.

"Do wish you'd let me stop upon it." Tom, with his cap in his hand, asked, hesitatingly, giving one, pausing on her overcoat, and starting off for business.

On his way down Fulton street, he met a friend, who was in a cheerful mood, and inspired for a Saturday morning holiday. The business proposed for his inspection a money spring, self extending and double ladder, called "the Intrepid."

"There, sir, is one of the greatest inventions of the nineteenth century. Took the first prize at the Queen's County Fair, and won the silver medal at the Brooklyn exhibition over all competitors. Here you have a light, strong, and durable ladder, that, by a simple spring, is made to extend its length, and by a double ratchet, is fastened at any point. What has not been used heretofore, and never such layer with pepper and salt and a few white allspice or cloves. Cover the meat with water, and place a thick brown paste over. Half an hour will be sufficient to boil it, if the meat be warm; and if it be cold, half an hour more will be necessary, except in the thickness, which will be much greater.
