Four Yanks Killed in Viet Battle

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Four U.S. Army men were killed and six others wounded in hard fighting 20 miles west of Saigon, a U.S. military spokesman reported today. Two U.S. Army helicopters were shot down.

Thirty-three U.S. jet fighters and bombers made strikes against suspected Viet Cong concentrations within South Viet Nam today. Military sources said they damaged or destroyed a number of structures.

Reports of the fighting west of Saigon, in Hau Nghia Province, were fragmentary. Early reports said five South Vietnamese troops were killed and 20 wounded during the first phase, yesterday.

Helicopter Crewmen
Two of the American dead and some of the wounded were helicopter crewmen. The four dead brought to 320 the number of Americans killed in combat in Viet Nam since December 1961.

A large portion of the helicopters in the Saigon area were on standby, ready to fly more troops into the area. The fighting was on the western side of the Vaico Oriental River, in Viet Cong country.

Lt. Gen. J. L. Throckmorton, deputy U.S. commander in Viet Nam, flew to the 25th Division headquarters at Duc Hoa, 15 miles northeast of the battle zone, in an attempt to get information.

Near End of Viet Nam Review

WASHINGTON (AP) — Johnson administration strategists neared the end of their current Viet Nam review today amid some cautious optimism that the situation is taking a turn for the better.

Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was slated to brief House and Senate Committees before meeting with the National Security Council and President Johnson.

This will about wind up Taylor's one-week round of consultations here. He is scheduled to head back to Saigon tomorrow.

Johnson held a surprise news conference late yesterday just before a two-hour session with Taylor and the administration's diplomatic, defense and intelligence chiefs.

The President said the talks with Taylor are focusing on boosting efficiency of the Viet Nam campaign, but he declined to disclose any military plans. "I know of no far-reaching strategy that is being suggested or promulgated," he added.

As for the furor over use of nonlethal gas against Communist Viet Cong guerrillas, Johnson said "somebody made a mountain out of a molehill" with the allegations that America was engaging in poison gas warfare.

He said the President, as commander-in-chief, would "of course" know in advance and would have to authorize any use of poison gas. However "no one told me that the South Vietnamese were going to use tear gas . . . a standard, antitox item . . . but there is no reason why they should," he said. The United States supplied the gas.

The helicopter gunner was the 317th American killed in combat in Viet Nam since December 1961.

Thirty Viet Cong were reported killed yesterday when two Communist companies jumped a smaller Vietnamese force in Thua Thien Province, 12 miles west of the old imperial capital of Hue and 400 miles north of Saigon.

At least seven government soldiers were killed and 19 wounded before contact was broken off at dark.

Rushed to Scene

A battalion of troop reinforcements and one company of armored personnel carriers were rushed to the scene. The government forces seized a quantity of small arms and 150 grenades.

The nationalist Chinese government announced in Taipei it would send a medical team to Saigon to provide technical assistance. The Nationalists already have a 15-man military advisory team and an 86-man agricultural mission in South Viet Nam.

In Jakarta, the Indonesian-Vietnamese Friendship Association called on Indonesian mass organizations to draft "volunteers" for Viet Nam.

The new Indonesian ambassador to North Viet Nam, Sukrisno, presented his credentials in Hanoi and said "a second Dien Bien Phu is the predestined doom of the U.S. imperialists in Viet Nam," according to Hanoi Radio.

Justice Ackerson Is Lauded

SHREWSBURY — Two-hundred twenty-five members and friends of the Monmouth County Legal Aid Society hailed retired Supreme Court Justice Henry E. Ackerson, of Keyport, last night at a testimonial in The Shadowbrook.

They cheered him particularly for 12 years as president of the society, through last January. But more significantly they gave loud and steady support when the principal speaker, Supreme Court Justice Haydn Proctor, of Interlaken, said his life time of public service had gained for the 84-year-old jurist the title of the Number One Man of Monmouth County.

Both Justice Proctor and Monroe Eisner, of Red Bank, vice president of the society who wired congratulations when he was unable to attend, asserted that the judge and former state senator had done more in behalf of the law than any other resident of the county.

A highlight of the night was a vocal greeting, to the tune of Hello Dolly, entitled Hello Henry.

Justice Proctor stressed the affectionate title of "Uncle Henry" to which the guest has responded through most of his life. He served on the state's bench from 1919 until his retirement 14 years ago and earlier was a senator for two terms and county counsel for seven years.

At the Rutgers Law School in Newark, where the new $2 million law center has been named Ackerson Hall, Justice Proctor said, Justice Ackerson and his wife Elizabeth, are called "Uncle Henry and Lady Elizabeth on their frequent visits there.

The Ackersons will have been married 55 years on Tuesday. Mrs. Ackerson was among the guests at the dinner.

Presiding was M. Raymond McGowan, of Shrewsbury, who was elected president to succeed the justice this year. The rest (See ACKERSON, Page 3)

50 Raritan Valley Acres Sold

RARITAN TOWNSHIP — Build- ar: Howard Siegel has sold more than one-third of the "Raritan Valley USA" property. The Register learned yesterday.

The sale, Mr. Siegel reported, will not materially change plans for residential construction at the 131-acre site, which was the subject of 5½ years of litigation.

The sale is from Mestall Estates, Inc., to Rellim Building Corp. Mr. Siegel is president of Mestall. Nathan J. Miller, Fair Lawn, is president of Rellim and builder of the $2 million Madison Arms apartment complex and shopping center in Madison Township.

Apartment Question
The $11 million Raritan Valley project will consist of 499 houses and nine acres of garden apartment—538 houses. Whether the apartments will be constructed will depend on a decision by the Planning Board and Township Committee.

Mr. Miller's property, 173 building lots (approximately 50 acres) is on the westerly side of the tract.

The two builders said they will work together in developing the project, and maintain a joint sales office.

Mr. Miller automatically is bound to the agreement made late last year with the governing body. It calls for donation of an eight-acre school site; $100 per house toward school construction; compliance with major features of the anti-look-alike house ordinance; payment of building fees based on current schedules; bituminous concrete streets, and compliance with the township's new building code.

Models Going Up

Construction of four new model houses is now under way, with the work to be finished in about a month.

Water lines are being laid by the West Keansburg Water Co., and the site for the sewer plant is being graded.

The plant, to cost about $150,000, designed to service Raritan Valley only, will be located adjacent to the Garden State Parkway.

It will be separated from the garden apartments (or houses if apartments are not built) by only a street, and will be no more than 1,000 to 1,500 feet from the school site, Mr. Siegel revealed.

There has been no indication so far from township or Board of Education officials as to whether there will be objections to the plant proximity to school and residential tracts.

The proximity of Bayshore Sewerage Company's disposal plant to homes in Woodland Park has caused a hue and cry for several years.

Single Primary Is Seen For New Legislature

By WILLIAM HENDERSON

TRENTON — Chances of two, statewide primaries this year dwindled hourly last night when legislators were informed the cost of the elections would total over $2 million.

There had been a plan afoot to hold the scheduled June 1 primary for governor, Assembly and other offices and another election in September for the state Senate.

Acting secretary of state Robert M. Falcey is directed by law today to tell the 21 county clerks what offices must be filled on the June 1 primary day. Filing day for primary candidates is April 22.

Falcey said he will also send letters stating the number of senators and assemblymen to be elected is still a matter of conjecture.

The Register learned it costs more than $1 million to set up a statewide primary. This includes maintenance of voting machines; the printing of ballots and the mailing of sample ballots to voters; legal advertising; salaries for board of election members and extra workers; poll watchers and other expenses.

Counties and municipalities pay for these elections with funds collected from taxpayers.

A legal question about the plans to hold separate primaries for the New Jersey Senate and Assembly has also popped up.

Attorney General Arthur J. Sills and David J. Goldberg, counsel to Gov. Richard J. Hughes contend the state constitution refers to the Legislature as a single body and, therefore, have doubts elections can be held for each house.

The legality angle arose in the wake of the Supreme Court's ruling Wednesday that the Senate must be reapportioned on an interim basis, by June 3.

The seven court justices, however, said the Assembly and its 80 members does not need a new look.

The upper house had asked the court for a two-year delay in reapportioning the state. Instead, it received an order to do the

15 Seeking 3 Keansburg Borough Council Vacancies

KEANSBURG — A wide open political campaign shapes up here for Borough Council with 13 candidates seeking the three seats on the governing body.

Heading the list of last minute candidates to file yesterday before deadline was James J. Gravy, former mayor. Mr. Gravy is reportedly going to team up with Mrs. Marie Reaney, 75 Kennedy Way and Thomas Smith, 34 Lincoln Ct., to form a slate.

Mr. Smith filed some time ago while Mrs. Reaney filed yesterday.

A three-man slate backed by Benjamin Andreach, Democratic leader also filed yesterday.

McGrath Is Running

The slate is composed of retired Police Chief Alphonsus McGrath, Leonard Belleza, a local builder, and Harry Graham, Highland Blvd., a bank examiner.

Also filing yesterday was Thomas Wade, owner of McCormick's Inn, Beachway.

Filing previously were Councilman Martin C. Lohsen and T. Edward Kinlin. Mr. Lohsen is seeking his fourth three-year term while Mr. Kinlin is after his second full term.

Mr. Lohsen ran as a ticket with Mr. Gravy and Mr. Andreach back in 1961.

Mr. Kinlin ran with Mayor Louis T. Collichio who is not seeking re-election.

Mr. Gravy and Mr. Andreach lost out in the landslide victory of Mr. Collichio and Mr. Kinlin.

Another Slate

Another three-man slate in the contest is composed of Anthony Auer, Board of Health president; Thomas Kennedy, Planning Board chairman, and Daniel McLoone, health board member.

This slate was supposed to have Mayor Collichio's endorsement.

The mayor however, said he is angry over Mr. Auer's and Mr. McLoone's position on removing the conflict on interest provision in the borough health code. This paves the way for the appointment of James Davis as plumbing inspector.

Mayor Collichio fought to get the conflict code included in the legislation. This enabled him to

Rail Gates Meet Deadline

NEW SHREWSBURY — The Central Railroad of New Jersey just got in under the wire, Councilman Robert F. Henck said at last night's Borough Council meeting.

He reported that the railroad put the automatic gates, lights, and bells into operation at the Hope Rd. crossing at 2 p.m. Tuesday — "the last day specified by the Public Utilities Commission," Mr. Henck stated.

"The railroad could have made the gates operative many months ago," the councilman continued. "I hope Red Bank has better luck," he added.

Red Bank Deadline

The PUC has ordered the Jersey Central to install automatic gates and warning devices at the West Bergen Pl. crossing in Red Bank by May 1.

Both crossings have been scenes of fatalities in the past year.

Since the Hope Rd. crossing is on the boundary between this borough and Eatontown, the two borough councils recommended the safety installation jointly in early 1964.

The PUC ordered the installation and directed the railroad to come up with a price in March, 1964. The two boroughs and the railroad, after bitter comments from councilmen, agreed in June to a price of $31,205. Of this, each borough will pay 7½ per cent, the railroad 15 per cent, and the PUC 70 per cent.

Only one bid was received last night for the borough's obsolete 1947 fire truck. Donald Reevy, chief of the Pine Brook Community Hose Company, which used the truck until it was replaced recently, bought it for the fire company for $25.

Warned that the truck may not be used for fire-fighting in the borough, Mr. Reevy explained that the firemen hope to sell the truck at a profit and obtain a four-wheel-drive utility vehicle to help in fighting woods fires.

After considerable discussion council approved a recommendation for a use variance to permit Dr. Samuel E. Furman, a local dentist, to build a medical arts building on Sycamore Ave. adjacent to the Garden State Parkway.

Councilman Daniel J. Arnold voted against the variance, stating that he doesn't know enough about the project to approve it intelligently. He asked for more time to study it.

Councilman Henck voted no, claiming the project "has a certain nuisance value," and wondering "why it can't be put in an area zoned for it."

The area concerned is an R-1 residential district — "prime

Sewer Plan Meets Opposition

MONMOUTH BEACH — The Silver Councilman and chairman of the study committee, and William Martin, an engineer of and member of Manganaro, Martin and Lincoln, a New York engineering firm acting as consultants for the committee.

The largest and loudest gripe heard was that the sewerage treatment plant is due to be built in this borough on a 20-acre piece of land on Raccoon Island.

Residents complained that they would be in effect giving away the major part of the undeveloped land in the community without receiving anything in return. They argued for a reduction of their annual rates of $80 under the proposed plan, to compensate them for the money they would be losing by letting the land go.

They also stated that the odor from the plant would fill the air of the community, although Mr. Martin said the nearest home to the treatment plant would be 500 feet away and there would be

No Contest In Monmouth Beach

MONMOUTH BEACH — There will be no contest for Borough Commission seats here in May. Incumbents Sidney B. Johnson, Harold Peterson and Raymond Tierney were the only ones to file for the post prior to yesterday's deadline.

Mayor Johnson has served in that capacity since 1949. He is a lifelong resident here and attended local schools before graduating from Lawrenceville Preparatory School, Princeton University and Columbia Law School.

A World War II Army veteran, the mayor owns the Monmouth Beach Cold Storage Company. He is a member of the local Fire Department and is past president of the Long Branch Rotary Club.

He is a member of the Monmouth Beach Planning Board and of the Monmouth County Vocational School Board. He is married to the former Mary Eager.

Commissioner Peterson has been the borough's director of public works since his election in 1953. He attended the local school and graduated from Long Branch High School.

Mr. Tierney has been a borough commissioner since his appointment two years ago. He is the borough's director of revenue and finance. Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., Mr. Tierney purchased a home here in 1946. He has lived here 15 years. A graduate of Red Bank High School, he also attended Fordham University and graduated from Fordham Law School. A former associate of a New York law firm, Mr. Tierney since last year is a partner of the Tierney and Cabell law office, New York. He is a former member of the local Zoning Board of Adjustment and is a member of the Monmouth Beach Fire Department. He is married to the former Miss Alice M. Hoag of Rumson.

National, World News in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he doesn't want innocents hurt by any economic boycott of Alabama. However, he says he is withholding judgment until Dr. Martin Luther King drafts final boycott proposals.

This was the home-front highlight of a surprise news conference late Thursday at which the President also said that the White House "is willing to do all it honorably can to negotiate a Viet Nam settlement but sees no sign Hanoi is ready to talk under conditions that would be productive."

County Blood Bank to Be Open Soon

FREEHOLD — The Monmouth County Medical Society announced yesterday that it will soon have its proposed county blood bank in use in rented facilities at the Atlantic Superama, Shrewsbury Ave., Shrewsbury.

Dr. Daniel D. Featherston, of Asbury Park, has been named chairman of a board of trustees of the non-profit unit which will serve needs of all county hospitals.

An announcement said that an urgent need for the bank became evident to hospital pathologists last year with an upswing of infectious hepatitis and disseminated intravascular coagulation, available from commercial sources.

It was concluded, the announcement said, that screening procedures of donors to these agencies were inadequate.

Target date for the opening of the bank is May 15. The bank's facilities will include a laboratory, refrigeration units, and complete clerical services. Serving as organizers with Dr. Featherston are the pathologists of Pitkin Hospital, Monmouth Medical Center, and Riverview Hospital, Drs. George Hoffman, Raymond Conover and Martin R. Rush.

A board of directors also includes David T. Buck, of Freehold, a member of the board of Monmouth Medical Center; Lester R. Weller, 3d, of Interlaken, from Pitkin and Arthur Clapham, of Rumson, from Riverview.

Others are Frank L. Wilgus, county co-ordinator of civilian defense; E. Donald Sterner, chairman of the county planning board; John C. Giordano, Jr., an attorney, Miss Winona Darr, executive director of the Monmouth County Organization for Social Service; Frank Dalton, a vice president of the county Building Trades AFL-CIO Council; and Richard Refert, representing the Monmouth County Junior Chambers of Commerce.

employment and a seven-year jobless low, says the nation can continue riding the crest of its longest economic boom in history.

"There is much good news economically," Johnson said after the Labor Department reported Thursday that more than 70 million Americans were at work in March. The drop in the jobless rate from 5 per cent to 4.7 per cent of the labor force is also good news, he said, but still "unemployment is too high."

3 Years of Grace
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A three-judge federal court has given the Georgia Legislature three more years to complete reapportionment in a ruling which seemed to please almost everyone.

Gov. Carl E. Sanders called it "a victory for every citizen of our state." Republicans won a move for elimination of separate primaries. Urban citizens achieved the promise of more of a voice in government while rural areas were given additional time to develop minority strength.

Barry, Nixon Differ
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two top Republicans—Barry Goldwater and Richard M. Nixon—stood on opposite sides today in the debate over legislation to guarantee Negro voting rights. Goldwater said there are enough voting-rights laws on the books already—and added the legislation "does nothing less than change our Constitution."

But Nixon, the nominee in 1960, said action is needed now, and that "I think the Congress should act, but I think it should act judiciously."

Asks Bigger Teams
BOSTON (AP) — Dr. James B. Conant believes thousands of the nation's small high schools should be eliminated by consolidation, and he proposes this method: "Increase the number of players on the basketball team to 20."

Conant, president emeritus of Harvard and a national authority on public education, was speaking only half in jest when he made this suggestion last night.

He quipped that you might lump four small high schools into one, and that consolidating their five-member basketball teams might be a significant place to start to gain public support.

A Steady Job
WEST LONG BRANCH — J. Russell Woolley last night surprised Borough Council here at the end of the meeting last night when he announced that yesterday marked his 44th anniversary as borough clerk. The council hastily proposed and passed a resolution of congratulations.

STRUCK BY CAR
ASBURY PARK — Daniel Freedman, 50, of 4 Lakeview Rd., Deal, was treated and released at Monmouth Medical Center, Long Branch, yesterday for a fractured right leg received when he was struck by a car at Monroe Ave. and Main St. about 10 o'clock.

Patrolman Frank Brembos is investigating.

Riley

one sawed-off 12-gauge shotgun while parked in the west parking lot behind the Village Superette, Eatontown.

Once again the magistrate explained the defendant's rights. Listening to the explanation perfunctorily, Riley told the court he wished to waive preliminary hearing and to plead innocent.

"That is my considered decision," he stated. "On this particular charge, I believe I will waive the Grand Jury and proceed on accusation," he added. The magistrate ordered him held in $3,000 bail.

Apprehended Wednesday with young Jackson by Colts Neck State Police, Riley was arraigned Wednesday night before Colts Neck Magistrate Seymour Kleinberg. He is charged with rape, assault with a deadly weapon, and assault with intent to rape. Magistrate Kleinberg set bail at $10,000 and scheduled a preliminary hearing for 9:30 a.m. Monday.

At the magistrate's request, Red Bank attorney William T. Wichmann has been assigned as defense lawyer for Monday's hearing.

The Colts Neck charges stem from the Halloween rape of a 16-year-old girl by a man wearing a Halloween mask and armed with a .22 caliber rifle.

The victim and her escort, parked in New Shrewsbury, were forced by the rapist to drive to Colts Neck, where the girl was assaulted twice.

The three other cases occurred in Howell Township Oct. 17, 1964; in Ocean Township Dec. 12, and in Neptune Jan. 22.

The victim of the Jan. 22 assault escaped, but was wounded in the shoulder by a .22 caliber bullet.

Riley, an ex-convict, spent five years in prison for rape of a 17-year-old Eatontown girl in 1957. The conviction was upset by the Court of Appeals, but re-instated by the State Supreme Court in unprecedented action requiring special legislation. He was paroled in 1962.

Howell State Police reported no word yesterday on whether charges will be preferred there. Ocean Township police charged Riley with the rape of a 17-year-old girl off Cold Indian Springs Rd. in the Dec. 12 incident, adding charges of atrocious assault and battery on the girl and on the two young men with her. They also charged Riley with armed robbery of one of the young men. Riley will be arraigned in Ocean Township at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Neptune police have signed a complaint against Riley of atrocious assault and battery stemming from the Jan. 22 incident, in which the victim was wounded by rifle fire. Arraignment has tentatively scheduled for this morning.

Also involved in the Neptune incident was a juvenile, who is being held for action of juvenile authorities, police said.

John M. Gawler, chief of county detectives, said yesterday that the Monmouth County prosecutor's office is co-ordinating charges against Riley.

A statement was taken from the defendant in Freehold yesterday, Mr. Gawler said, and other charges will be made. He would give no details until charges have been filed.

Wednesday's arrests by Colts Neck State Police were the result of close co-operation and many hours of effort by state and local officers, local Police Chief William Zadorozny said yesterday. The borough's efforts were directed by Detective Lt. Fowler, "but everybody put a lot of man hours into it," Chief Zadorozny said.

Also co-operating were police of Ocean Township, New Shrewsbury, Red Bank, Asbury Park, and Neptune.

Caretaker Government?
Should the charter commission recommend a change of government to a form available under the Faulkner Act, the council elected next month may well become a caretaker government.

If people approve a change of government, the caretaker governing body would serve until either July of next year of January of 1967, depending on what option is selected under the Faulkner Act.

Municipal elections here have a history of being wild and rough affairs, and many officials feel this campaign will be the same.

Mayor Colichio already has made it clear that he will do everything possible to prevent the re-election of Mr. Lohsen and Mr. Kinlin.

job by June 2—or we'll do it ourselves."

Attorney Goldberg explained that even though the court deemed the Assembly properly apportioned, temporarily, that does not mean the Assembly will not be reapportioned.

Monmouth County Republican chairman J. Russell Woolley told The Register he is "sitting tight" on the primary issue until the meeting with Secretary Falcey in Trenton Monday morning.

At that session, county clerks, superintendents of elections and the county elections boards of all 21 counties will be present.

Also on hand will be the 21 county Republican and Democratic chairmen as well as GOP state chairman Webster B. Todd and Democratic state chairman Thorn Lord.

The talk will dwell on changes in the ballots and signatures and other new procedures brought on by the Legislature's stalemate on reapportionment.

In the meantime the lawmakers—some of them, at least—had kinds of thoughts about the court's new edict on restricting the voting lines.

"This is a very important decision to discuss. We are dealing with the Supreme Court, and I want to read the full text of its opinion before saying anything," GOP Assemblyman Alfred N. Beadleston, Rumson, stated, adding:

"I want to know what was said; who said it; what the unadorned fact is; how the legislators feel about it and the governor's reaction, among other things."

Democratic Assemblyman Patrick J. McGann, Jr., Lincroft, said this:

"Now that the muddiness has been cleared up, somewhat, we should be able to get together on a bipartisan bill which will pass the Legislature. The ground-work already has been laid because we have drafted four bills."

"The court basically upheld its original interpretation of reapportionment. It did not split congressional districts and it did not bother the Assembly. The Senate has been wrong; the Assembly, right."

Republican Assemblyman Irving E. Keith, Bradley Beach, had little to say, except that: "The problem still exists. The Legislature has to get around to agreeing on an acceptable redistricting plan."

As to what the legislators have up their sleeves is anybody's guess, but when they reconvene next Monday in the State House the first thing they'll do is to rush to the drawing boards to scan the bills again.

Then the leaders will try to work out a compromise measure with him.

The Republicans and the Democrats have several projects in the making. Mr. Beadleston said:

One that both sides appear to like is sponsored by GOP assemblyman Joseph J. Maraziti, Morris County, which divides the state into 14 senatorial districts to elect 33 senators.

This plan keeps Monmouth County as one district with two senators running in it. Program calls for three assemblymen to campaign.

Assemblyman Peter Moraites, R-Bergen has a program which would split the state into 19 districts from which 30 senators would be elected. It would not change the assembly.

Among the new plans is one by the Republicans which would have a 31-member Senate with weighted voting. Under this proposal, each county would get one senator while large counties would receive the 10 additional senators. Then all the votes would be weighed, according to a county's population.

Under this plan, the most powerful senator in terms of voting power would be Republican Sen. Richard R. Stout, West Allenhurst.

Stout would have more than six times the voting power of Senate president Charles W. Sandman, Jr., who hails from small Cape May.

The Senate had one go at weighted voting last December, passing such legislation only to have the court say it was illegal.

Senate Majority leader William E. Ozzard, R-Somerset, admits he will push for a bill permitting Republican and Democratic county committees to choose the legislators who would run in the general election next November.

He said it would enable the primary to go on as planned June 1, without legislative candidates who would be selected after a reapportionment plan is passed.

The governor says so.

Yes, Spring Is Here

But Where?

Spring is here — but no one knows where to find it.

Snow starting falling about 1:40 this morning and by 6 o'clock the snowfall measured 1 1/2 inches, according to William D. Martin, Weather Bureau forecaster at Long Branch.

The snow will stop late this morning, Mr. Martin said.

The local weatherman said it is not unusual for snow to fall in April. Fifty years ago tomorrow, this area was digging out from under a 9.2-inch snowfall, Mr. Martin said.

Spring arrived officially 12 days ago.

Mr. Martin predicted a high today near 40, and a high in the 40s tomorrow. Milder weather is expected Sunday.

Plan

"very little possibility of any smelt at that distance."

Many residents spoke up in favor of building a separate sewage plant for the borough and dropping out of the regional group. They were told by Mr. Martin that this would cost them about $127 a year or $47 more than the regional plan. A suggestion to hook up lines into the Long Branch sewer system also was rejected because it would not be economical and because the lines are already overcrowded in Long Branch.

The spectators became quite upset when told there would be no referendum on the feasibility of joining the regional plan. They were told the authority to join the plan would come under an ordinance and that even if the ordinance didn't pass, the regional group could still put in lines and the treatment plant within the borough's boundaries if they so desired.

The plan's first stage would become operative within three years and would sewer 87% of the borough. The remaining 13% would be sewered under the second stage of the proposal which would be started in 10 years.

The cost of the project would come to $175 for each curbside connection and an annual sewer rate of $80. Only one curbside connection would be required for each single family dwelling. Owners would also have to furnish a soil line to the curb connection.

Construction costs would come to about $12.3 million while engineering, legal, bonding and miscellaneous costs would increase the project by $5,310,000. Thus, the total cost of the plan would be $17,610,000 less a $1.3 million federal grant and $1,460,000 anticipated revenue from the district's connecting fees. The total bond issue of $14,850,000 would be amortized in 40 years.

Two small pumping stations are planned for the borough. One is to be located near the north end of Meadow Ave. and the second will be constructed near Tocci Ave. and Griffin St.

Assemblyman Peter Moraites, R-Bergen has a program which would split the state into 19 districts from which 30 senators would be elected. It would not change the assembly.

Among the new plans is one by the Republicans which would have a 31-member Senate with weighted voting. Under this proposal, each county would get one senator while large counties would receive the 10 additional senators. Then all the votes would be weighed, according to a county's population.

Under this plan, the most powerful senator in terms of voting power would be Republican Sen. Richard R. Stout, West Allenhurst.

Stout would have more than six times the voting power of Senate president Charles W. Sandman, Jr., who hails from small Cape May.

Miss Rubinstein Is Dead at 94

NEW YORK (AP) — Helena Rubinstein is gone, but the legacy she leaves will last as long as beauty is important to women.

For half a century the doughty little Polish-born cosmeticist who died yesterday at 94—with a complexion that would have made a woman half her age envious—had wielded a mighty influence.

Today millions of women feel lost without lipstick. Hundreds of thousands would rather go dancing without shoes than eyeshadow. But in 1915 when Helena Rubinstein came to New York, she found that a dusting of chalk white powder was all the respectable lady wore. Then Miss Rubinstein opened a salon, patterned after the thriving enterprises she had pioneered in Australia and Europe. Within two years her exclusive salons were opening in America's larger cities and women she had personally trained were giving individualized treatments and selling her products. When department stores begged for her cosmetics she started the huge wholesale business of today.

"No two women are alike," she once said, "and each one must study her own problems to learn how to deal with them. When it comes to beauty, I learn something new myself every day."

A funeral service Sunday will be private.

MRS. VICTORIA PURYEAR

LONG BRANCH — Mrs. Victoria Puryear, 77, of 232 Central Ave. died at her home yesterday.

She was born in Columbia, Va. A member of the Second Baptist Church, here, she was also a member of its Carnation Club. She was a member of the Golden Leaf Lodge of Good Samaritans and of the Missionary Society, Courts of Calanthe, both here.

Mrs. Puryear is survived by her husband, Thomas Puryear; two sons, Lester Puryear, here, and Alfred Puryear of Neptune; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Lou McPheeters, Mrs. Victoria P. Walker and Mrs. Rebecca E. Bottoms, all here; a brother, Neal Langhorne of Columbia; 17 grandchildren, and 14 great grandchildren.

The funeral will be at the Second Baptist Church at 2 p.m. tomorrow. Burial, under the direction of the Flock Funeral Home, here, will be in White Ridge Cemetery, Eatontown.

WILLIAM P. SKIDMORE
LONG BRANCH — William P. Skidmore, 78, of 625 Girard Ave. died Wednesday in Marlboro State Hospital.

Born in Navesink, he was the son of the late Thomas and Amelia Ayres Skidmore. He had lived here 47 years.

Mr. Skidmore was known throughout the county for his roller skating exhibitions.

Surviving are his wife, Alida West Skidmore; a son, Leslie W. Skidmore of Yonkers, N.Y., and one grandchild.

The funeral will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Posten Funeral Home, Atlantic Highlands, with Rev. Harry W. Kraft, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Bay View Cemetery.

MISS ANNA M. SICKLES
DEAL — Miss Anna M. Sickles, 62, of Queen Anne Dr. died yesterday in Ivy House Nursing Home, Middletown, after a lengthy illness.

Born in West Long Branch, Miss Sickles was a daughter of the late Edward and Annie Sickles. She had been employed as a domestic.

Surviving are a brother, William C. Sickles of Marlboro, and a sister, Mrs. John H. Fowler of Eatontown.

Services will be tomorrow from the Damiano Funeral Home, Long Branch, with Rev. Charles H. Best of Trinity Episcopal Church, Red Bank, officiating. Burial will be in Holmdel Cemetery, Holmdel.

CARD OF THANKS
We take this opportunity to thank the many, many people who were so thoughtful and unstinting during our recent bereavement.

The family of John B. Logan.

Lay Down Rules
On Street Width

WEST LONG BRANCH — Borough Council last night adopted an ordinance prescribing street width.

The ordinance, which amends a previous ordinance, stipulates that all streets shall be at least 55 feet wide between property lines and 40 feet between curb lines. The previous ordinance called for a width of 54 feet between property lines.

Councilman Georged M. Conway announced that police radios ordered some months ago would be installed in police cars and headquarters next week.

Jersey Natural Gas Stresses Its Continuing Safety Program

ASBURY PARK — The New Jersey Natural Gas Company has a continuing safety education program.

Leon Zuckerman, spokesman for the company, when asked by The Register yesterday about the firm's opinion of a recent Public Utilities Commission ruling regarding the company's safety policy, said the firm long has taken the initiative in contractor education.

Strathmore Delays Vote On Candidates

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — Strathmore Democrats, continuing the political cat-and-mouse game here, delayed a vote last night on candidates for Township Council.

Taking no action on the move to set up a 44 primary contest, the club's nominating committee named Walter H. Gehrke, Planning Board attorney, to the growing list of potential candidates.

Nominated from the floor was Mrs. Angela Schneider, a controversial club member. She is a leader in the move to gain council control for Strathmore and recently protested the use of the "One Nation Under God" pennants in the township.

Paris Is Nominated

In a move to snare votes from older sections of the community, members nominated St. Clair Park, an Industrial Commission member. Mr. Paris is not a member of the club but, like Committee member Charles W. Dryden, is expected to draw heavily from older districts, if he becomes a candidate.

Also nominated by members is Mrs. Marilyn Brenner, active in Strathmore Civic Association and a former Planning Board member in Passaic.

A newcomer to political circles here, Ernest May, was also added to the list.

The club's followed action taken by the Township Democratic Club Wednesday night, delaying its vote and scheduling a special meeting for Wednesday April 14, one week before the deadline for filing of candidates.

Stanley W. Dublin, press spokesman, reported that nominations have not been closed and will be accepted by mail until next Friday.

Going It Alone

Strathmore is the only club now prepared for an all-out primary battle, should one develop. Township Democrats have three nominees while the Regular Club has two, should Committee member Daniel H. Downey and Gilbert H. Hickman persist in staying out of the race.

Due to arrive back on the scene today is Mayor Henry E. Traphagen. He's been vacationing in Florida and is expected to be active in final stages of negotiation to produce a unified seven-member council slate, apparently still a possibility.

Named as Strathmore's county committee candidates are:

- Vincent Dwyer and Mrs. Nan Hudes, district five.
- Michael Rappaport and Mrs. Brenner, district six.
- Robert Shapiro and Mrs. Bea Palinken, district seven.
- Edward Kaufman and Mrs. Naomi Moessinger, district eight.
- Earl Silverman and Mrs. Ruth Nebus, district nine.
- Carl Zuckerman and Mrs. Reva Rudley, district 10.

The PUC this week ordered improved safety procedures by the gas company and implementation of a contractor education program. The ruling came about, according to the board of commissioners, after an investigation of two explosions last year. One caused the death of a 15-year-old Bonton girl and injuries to eight others in a duplex apartment blast. The second explosion injured three persons and demolished a Denville house. Both mishaps were blamed on leaking gas being ignited.

Mr. Zuckerman said the company has done much toward educating contractors in gas safety. He said that eight years ago the firm issued all-weather stickers for application to digging equipment with the company's telephone number affixed. All leaks and emergencies are to be reported by the contractors, he said.

He added that the company has made complaints in court against erring contractors to bring about enforcement of its safety policy. Company personnel also give safety talks and show films to firefighters, he said.

The PUC allowed a year for inspection of improperly installed gas sleeves, through which gas lines penetrate building foundations. It directed the firm to file monthly reports on its progress in such inspections for a year.

The gas company, which serves 110 Monmouth and Ocean County municipalities, was given a "satisfactory" rating on maintenance and repair of its distribution facilities and its processing of reported gas leaks during regular surveys.

Man Is Sent to Jail

LONG BRANCH — Magistrate Stanley Cohen yesterday found Harry Berhens, 53, of East Orange, guilty of larceny and sentenced him to 60 days in the county jail with psychiatric treatment.

Mr. Berhens was charged by his former wife, Mary F. Garrett, 63, Kennedy St., with entering her home Wednesday night and taking a $25 transistor radio and a bottle of whiskey.

Willard E. Hall, 36, of 77 Atlantic Ave., was found guilty of being a disorderly person. He was charged by a neighbor, James M. Moran, Jr., 79 Atlantic Ave., with creating a disturbance and making offensive remarks on Mr. Moran's property March 14.

Asks For 'Friendliness'

In levying a $25 fine and then suspending it, Mr. Cohen said he was taking this action "in the expectation that it will get you to stop this offensive use of language and get into a spirit of friendliness with your neighbors."

Samuel Juliano, 40, of 10 Catvert Ave., was fined $20 for careless driving on the complaint of Alice H. Yancis of 39 Woodrow Wilson Homes. Mr. Cohen found Mrs. Yancis not guilty on a similar careless driving charge brought by Mr. Juliano as a result of the same accident.

The accident occurred Feb. 13 at Avenel Blvd. and MacArthur Ave.

tiring president, who becomes president emeritus, had as his predecessors the late Judge Jacob Steinbach and the Rt. Rev. Joseph T. Casey, formerly of Red Bank and now of Bay Head. The society was established in 1950.

The society presented an ornamental table clock to the Ackersons as a gift.

Plaques of appreciation for services to the society also were presented by the general chairman, Leon Zuckerman, of Middletown Township, to County Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court Judge Leo Weinstein and District Court Judge Francis X. Crabay. A similar one will be presented at a later date to Monsignor Casey.

In his annual report, Amos E. Kravbill, director, said 926 applications had been processed in 1964 from persons eligible for aid and unable to pay for services. This was an increase from 903 in 1963.

Of the total, he said, 42 cases required litigation or special handling, 52 were handled by himself as director, and 832 required consultations with lawyers from the county bar association. All services were rendered without charges, even for expenses.

Four hundred twenty-four cases dealt with matrimonial and family disputes, 112 landlord and tenant, and 390 miscellaneous civil actions. Geographically, 433 complaints arose from the area of Asbury Park and south; 144 greater Long Branch, 133 greater Red Bank; 70, Freehold, and 146 Bayshore.

The society is sponsored by the Bar Association and the Legal Secretaries Association. George A. Bariscillo, Jr., and Mrs. Ruth Buxbaum, are presidents of the two organizations. Both served with Mr. Zuckerman, Mayor Benedict R. Nicosia, of Red Bank, co-chairman, and Samuel Carotenuto, Red Bank, as members of the dinner committee.

Bad Check Costs Man $25 Fine

EATONTOWN — Fined $25 in Municipal Court yesterday was William D. Mayes of Freehold, who pleaded guilty to issuing a worthless check in the amount of $15 to Montgomery Ward, Monmouth Shopping Center.

Magistrate William S. Throckmorton assessed a minimum fine because restitution has already been made.

William J. Mills, 22, a Fort Monmouth soldier, paid $10 on a charge of careless driving. Another soldier, John C. Chapman, 22, whose car overturned on the Eatontown traffic circle, Rt. 33, paid $20 for careless driving and lost his New Jersey driving privileges for 30 days.

Victor A. Pacelli, 44, of Carr Ave., Keansburg, was fined $10 for speeding 58 miles an hour in a 50-mph zone. He was also fined $10 for contempt of court. Mr. Pacelli failed to appear Feb. 17, when his summons was returnable.

Ownership Of Firm Is Changed

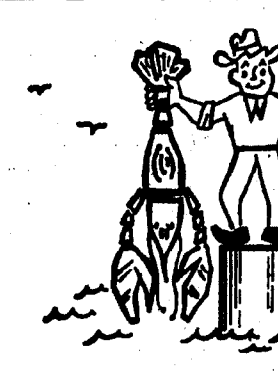

RED BANK — United Materials Corporation has announced a change in ownership, effective yesterday.

J. Harold Collins of Ridge Rd., Fair Haven, and Ira L. Crouse of Tyson Dr., Fair Haven, purchased the interest of Duncan Thecker in the corporation.

Officers are Mr. J. Harold Collins, president; Ira L. Crouse, vice president and secretary, and John B. Collins, treasurer.

United Materials Corporation has been in the ready mix concrete business since July, 1956. It operates and maintains concrete plant sites in Red Bank, Keansburg, Matawan, Lakewood, Eatontown and Wayside, with 80 pieces of equipment.

The main office is at 162 East Newman Springs Rd. J. Harold Collins has been in the concrete business 24 years. Mr. Crouse has been in the concrete business 33 years. John B. Collins has been associated with United Materials since its creation, and prior to that was associated with his father in the concrete business for five years in Keansburg.

Backs Humphrey Suggestion

ASBURY PARK — Mayor Thomas F. Shebell said yesterday he will ask the New Jersey Conference of Mayors to take a leading role in support of a suggestion Wednesday by Vice President Hubert Humphrey to establish a cabinet rank office to deal with municipal problems.

Mr. Shebell, founder and first president of the state conference, said he and other directors from Monmouth County will press the point at a meeting at Princeton May 14. The other directors are Mayors John McCaffery of Allentown and Eugene Lowenstein of Bradley Beach.

In a letter to Mr. Humphrey, Mr. Shebell expressed gratitude that closer attention and consideration may soon be given to the increasingly complex problems of governing the nation's municipalities of all sizes.

Asbury Park City Manager Post Filled

ASBURY PARK — Samuel W. Siciliano, city accountant and purchasing agent for the past eight years, was appointed acting city manager yesterday.

Mr. Siciliano succeeds Kendall H. Lee, who retired on the advice of his physician Wednesday.

At a special afternoon council meeting, Mayor Thomas F. Shebell said Mr. Siciliano was being appointed upon Mr. Lee's recommendation.

A "Transition Period"

The mayor called these weeks preceding the May 11 municipal election a "transition period" requiring a temporary city manager who had worked closely with Mr. Lee and knew the city.

Mayor Shebell and Councilmen James M. Coleman and Dr. Henry J. Vaccaro reiterated their earlier praise of Mr. Lee. "I don't know where you're going to find another city manager like him," the mayor stated.

Dr. Vaccaro noted that eight years ago he had been the lone council member objecting to Mr. Lee's appointment, but now, he said, "I don't see how we're going to replace Kendall for some time."

Mr. Coleman said he was pleased that Mr. Lee would continue temporarily as an advisor to the acting city manager.

Mr. Lee told the council that he is glad to act as an advisor because of his interest in many city projects already underway. "My retirement is with reluctance," he stated. He said his physician ordered him to seek a less demanding job.

Progress Praised

He congratulated the council for the progress of the last eight years, saying that it was able to adapt to meet the demands of modern city life.

Mr. Siciliano, married and the father of two children, is a graduate of Rider College, Trenton, where he majored in finance. He served four years in the Coast Guard.

The 47-year-old acting city manager had operated a heating and air conditioning business in the city prior to joining the city staff eight years ago.

Only 60 per cent of the council voted on Mr. Siciliano's appointment, Mayor Shebell said. Councilman Joseph F. Mattice was in Florida and Councilman Frank H. Rowland was ill.

Plan Board Chairman Quits Post

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — Harold K. Merritt, Planning Board chairman, resigned, without explanation, last night.

Mayor Russell W. Morgan read a note to the Board which was handed to him by Mr. Merritt before last night's meeting.

It read: "Please accept my resignation as a member of the Planning Board."

Although his resignation was accepted, it came as a surprise. Vice Chairman Robert M. Earle suggested the board send a letter of regret to Mr. Merritt and express its desire to have him continue interest in the Board.

Mr. Merritt was in his fourth year as a board member and was re-elected chairman for a second term Jan. 7.

Mayor Morgan said he will appoint a replacement, subject to council approval, by May 6.

Pay Cut Given To Magistrate

NEW SHREWSBURY — Magistrate Marvin E. Schaefer lost $20 a month at last night's Borough Council meeting.

He lost the money from his salary by an amendment to the salary ordinance introduced at a special council meeting March 25 and adopted unanimously after public hearing last night.

Explaining why the magistrate's salary was lowered from $320 to $300 monthly, Council President Edmond J. Norris said: "It's just to correct a typographical error."

The error was made when the borough salary ordinance was adopted shortly after the first of the year.

Shore Air Again Hit By Thieves

COLTS NECK — Thieves broke into the premises of Shore Air Service, Inc., Colts Neck Airport, some time Wednesday night, Shore Air president Gordon D. Donald, reported yesterday.

Gaining entrance by smashing glass and the lock in the office door, the intruders took $13 in silver from the cash drawer, a transistor radio, a German Leica camera, and a rechargeable flashlight, Mr. Donald said. They also smashed a soft drink machine outside the hanger and took $10 to $20 from its cash box, he added.

Losses, except for the cash, are covered by insurance.

Colts Neck state police are investigating.

Mr. Donald said this is the second burglary at Shore Air within a year. Last summer, several hundred dollars worth of tools were stolen from a hanger, he said.

Girl Hit By Auto

RUMSON — Eileen Hyland, 11, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William B. Hyland of 61 East River Rd., was admitted to Riverview Hospital, Red Bank, yesterday with a broken leg and a concussion.

Police said the girl was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Joseph T. Gause of 4 Second St. after she descended from a school bus stopped at East River Rd. and Wilson Cir. The child is a student at Holy Cross School.

The flashing red lights of the bus were on, police reported. Sgt. John E. Shea, investigating officer, will issue a summons to Mrs. Gause for passing a school bus unloading children.

Fire Department Is Commended

OCEANPORT — Councilman Clement V. Sommers last night commended the local fire department. He said the volunteers have coped with some "very tough" fires thus far this year and have produced excellent results.

Mayor Edward C. Wilson, Sr. added that borough residents should be proud of its fire department. "These boys do a fine job," the mayor said.

A Primary Battle Looms

Marlboro Democrats Split

MARLBORO — It seems that the local Democratic Party has split into two main factions and a primary fight appears in the offing.

The Register learned from informed sources that the first — and to date the strongest — faction consists of former Mayor Joseph A. Lanzaro and former committeeman George E. Creevey.

The second corner protagonists are Leland Garner, former director of Civil Defense under Lanzaro, and committeewoman Mrs. Eleanor Hartman, who has openly endorsed Mr. Garner for committeeman.

For certain a primary fight will develop in the second district, the Robertsville area.

April 22 Deadline

Deadline for filing for the June 1 primary is April 22. Walter Shellock, who has held the post of democratic committeeman for two years, says he plans to run again from the Robertsville area. But, according to most sources, Mr. Garner has filed against Mr. Shellock. Lanzaro has objected to Garner running.

Mr. Garner, however, has denied filing to date, explaining he was not sure he wanted "to get mixed up in this thing."

Carlton Borden, president of the local Democratic Club, confirmed that no candidate had yet filed in the township.

Aside from the committeeman post, there are three openings on the Council. Republican Charles T. McCue, senior member of the group, will run again, and so will Citizens Committee members Thomas Antisell and Norman Janwich.

The Democrats are out to win, with Mr. Lanzaro still leading the fray. The former mayor denied rumors of his ouster, explaining: "I still am the municipal leader in the township. The only way I can be removed is by the county committeemen and women, when they are elected in June."

Mr. Lanzaro, long-time Democratic strongman in the township, stands behind Mr. McCue in his bid for re-election.

"Mr. McCue is doing a fine job as the long time member of council," said the former mayor. "I would support him. He is entitled to continue."

The scheduled recall of Mayor Walter C. Grubb, Jr.; Joseph A. Brodnick, president of council, and Phillip Arnold, council member, is still on the minds of some — but not all — Democratic leaders.

Lanzaro's View

Mr. Lanzaro had this to say: "As leader of the Democratic Party, I think that as long as the Faulkner Act provides us with a recall, we should use it." (This could happen only after the first of June, when the Citizens Committee members have served one year in office.)

With Mr. Lanzaro backing Republican Mr. McCue, there is a strong possibility that Republicans and Democrats might present a coalition ticket in November, instead of having three separate Republican and Democratic running.

Mr. McCue is certain to lead that ticket. Other possibilities are Alfred Storer on the Republican side . . . and who ever has the upper hand in the Democratic Party.

2 Are Held for Jury On Lottery Slip Count

MIDDLETOWN — Magistrate Richard E. Burke ordered a man and woman held for the action of the Grand Jury yesterday on charges of possession of lottery slips.

They were continued in $1,000 bail pending the Grand Jury hearing.

Held were Frank Vonella, 170 Ocean Ave., Long Branch, and Miss Karen Peterman, 173 Forest Ave., Keansburg, an employee of Lily-Tulip Cup Corp.

They were arrested March 8 in a Rt. 35 drive-in after several days of surveillance by Detective Sgts. Robert Letts and Frank Gleason.

Sgt. Letts testified that he and Sgt. Gleason observed the pair on several occasions meeting at the drive-in. The sergeant said each time Miss Peterman would hand Mr. Vonella an envelope.

Sgt. Letts said that on March 8, armed with a court-ordered search warrant, he stationed himself in a storage room in the drive-in where he could observe the eating area in the drive-in. He said he carried a radio so he could be in contact with Sgt. Gleason. Detective Lt. Joseph McCarthy and Patrolman Arthur Stover, who were stationed outside.

The sergeant said the woman entered the premises, sat down and was later joined by Mr. Vonella. He said she took an envelope out of her purse and handed it to the man.

Sgt. Letts said he called Sgt. Gleason by radio, and both officers identified themselves to the pair and then searched Mr. Vonella.

The search uncovered an envelope full of lottery slips, Sgt. Gleason said.

Mr. Vonella and Miss Peterman were represented yesterday by Max M. Barr, Asbury Park attorney.

In other cases, Elwood Hicks, 49 West Side Ave., Red Bank, was fined $100 for atrocious assault and $25 for possession of obscene pictures.

He was arrested on Rt. 35 on March 20 for slashing John Bland, Belmont Ave., Long Branch, across the face with a screw driver. Police said the obscene pictures were discovered on Hicks when he was booked at headquarters.

Marry Ann Willis, 58 Atlantic Ave., this place, was fined $25 for using obscene language in police headquarters March 27.

Donald Hinds, Texas Rd., Matawan, was fined $50 for shoplifting $1.19 in merchandise from Sears Roebuck and Co., Rt. 35, March 19.

Chris Conomos, Texas Rd., Matawan, was fined $50 for shoplifting $1.29 from the store on the same date.

Action Slow, Stock Market

Prices Lift On Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market yesterday showed no disposition to change its sluggish ways as it began its April career. The list was a little higher, based on most indicators, and trading was slightly more active. The volume of 4.91 million shares compared with 4.42 million Wednesday but was far below the 1965 daily average of 5,584,736 shares for the first quarter.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average made a small gain of 1.26 at 890.33.

Of 1,349 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 531 rose and 507 fell. New highs for the year totaled 57 and new lows 26.

The rise, meager as it was, took place despite a fairly sharp drop in rails. The merger-minded rails may have been upset by a report from William White, head of the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad, that it will fight the proposed New York Central-Pennsylvania Railroad merger if it is not included in one of the Eastern railroad systems. Erie-Lackawanna lost 1/4.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.56 million shares, about the same as yesterday.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds showed virtually no change.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q "I would like to start an investment program, but in a small way. I'm a rookie policeman, starting a family, with a good equity in my house and money in the bank for emergencies. I would like to invest $250 now available and start a Monthly Investment Plan of $50 a quarter. What would you advise?"

A "It's a pleasure to help a man in your position. I like the Monthly Investment Plan—offer-changed by many New York Stock Exchange member firms—because it encourages periodic savings and allows you to buy stocks at a fair average price over a period of time.

The commission fees are rather high on small transactions, but I believe that this factor is outweighed by the advantages I have cited. For the $250 now available, I suggest Pacific Gas & Electric, one of our best public utility systems.

I would start my first Plan with American Hospital Supply, a strong leader in a growing field.

Q "I have recently taken some money out of the stock market. At present I have $100,000 in cash which I would like to keep liquid for six months to

Hughes Asks Drinking Age Be Raised

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey personally and pointedly reminded Democrats in the New York Legislature today of their pledge to raise the state's minimum legal drinking age from 18 to 21.

Hughes, in testimony prepared for a joint legislative hearing, recited a paragraph contained in the 1962 New York State Democratic platform.

"As part of our recognition of community responsibility toward youth, we will raise the drinking age to that in our neighboring states," the paragraph read.

Hughes, also a Democrat, said the New York lawmakers have a duty and responsibility to keep their promise. Democrats assumed control of the New York Legislature this year.

He reiterated his contention that too many New Jersey teenagers get involved in automobile accidents while returning home from New York taverns.

The New Jersey governor criticized suggestions that the subject be put to a referendum or that tavern owners be assigned the task of doing their own policing.

"This is indeed a vital issue, and it merits not a referendum but a decision by those duly elected to act for the public welfare," he said.

As for self-policing proposals, he said, they ignore the reality of human nature by expecting businessmen to voluntarily cut down on their profits.

"This is clearly evident in Rockland County where the tavern owners have all but abandoned a self-imposed identification card system to prevent 18-year-olds from purchasing alcoholic beverages," he said.

a year. My earnings are good (122). I'm single and fall into the 60 per cent income tax bracket. Are there any tax-exempt Treasury notes or what could you suggest?"

A) There are no Treasuries exempt from Federal Income taxes. In your bracket, the yield after taxes on Treasury notes due early next year would be rather negligible.

I suggest you ask your dealer about State of Connecticut 2.22 per cent notes due 12-4-65—which are exempt from Federal income

These have been recently available to yield 2.50 per cent. The taxable equivalent of that yield for you is 5.79 per cent which is about as good as you can expect to get on a short-term, readily marketable, tax-exempt issue.

Ask Agency To Protect Commuters

NEWARK (AP)—Essex County freeholders joined those of three other counties Thursday in calling for a state agency to insure continuance of adequate commuter railroad services.

Residents To Oppose Rezoning

HOLMDEL — Newstead residents will retain an attorney, probably today, to represent them in their battle against proposed rezoning here.

More than 50 persons, representing 39 families in the 45-unit development north of land in question, last night packed into the home of John F. Anderson, Board of Education member, to plan a course of action.

A resolution was adopted unanimously to obtain counsel for representation at Monday's Planning Board hearing on zoning revision. Each family is to contribute $10 for legal expenses and money began pouring in immediately.

Residents agreed to wage a telephone campaign over the issue. All will call each member of the Township Committee to express concern over the rezoning issue. The group also pledged to phone all friends within the township asking support. Each person contacted will be asked to attend the Monday night session to voice objections to additional industrial zoning.

Newstead is the residential area that would be most affected by the planned change.

The proposed amendment will also rezone an eight-acre tract east of the development eliminating a buffer zone shielding the homes from the present industrial zone.

Holmdel Young Republicans, who stress they are not opposed to rezoning, as such, but to the approach to solution of township problems now being used by officials, also plan to attend the Monday meeting.

involves a state takeover of passenger rail lines.

A resolution passed by the Essex group urged establishment of a public transportation authority "whose sole responsibility would be to assist the Erie-Lackawanna and other rail transportation facilities by providing adequate financing and other fiscal help necessary to continue passenger service without involvement by the transit authority in either ownership or management of such rail facilities."

A resolution passed by freeholders in the other three counties asks the state "to purchase, lease, construct, own, maintain, repair and operate any facility which may be needed to provide, continue or improve public transit service required to meet public convenience and necessity."

Albert M. Saldutti, Essex freeholder director, said his board differs from this stand because it "doesn't want the state to get into the railroad business."

He said there was a fear that counties may eventually have to subsidize the commuter operation if the state is given a blank check to run the services.

The Essex plan proposes that the state purchase railroad equipment and rolling stock of the commuter services and lease these back to the railroads to operate.

Delay Health Code Change in Keansburg

KEANSBURG — The Board of Health decided last night to delay taking action on a proposal to eliminate a conflict of interest clause from the health ordinance.

The action, by a 4-1 vote of the board, was prompted by a statement by Mayor Louis T. Collichio Sr., that he would ask Borough Council to adopt legislation establishing conflict of interest standards for all municipal employees.

Board member Daniel McLoone said the board should wait and see if council adopts such legislation before it moves.

He said the only reason he favors eliminating such a restriction from the health code is that as it stands now, only the plumbing inspector is prohibited from practicing his trade in the community while serving as a municipal employee.

— Calls It Discriminatory

He said singling out one man was discriminatory.

Mr. McLoone pointed out however, that he favors conflict regulations provided they apply equally to all employees.

He said he would re-introduce the amendment to drop the clause from the health code if council fails to provide general legislation affecting all municipal employees.

Should the health board go on to eliminate the conflict clause, it would pave the way for the appointment of James Davis as plumbing inspector.

He is the only one certified by the state Civil Service Commission to hold the post.

Mr. Davis had previously informed the board that he would comply with all regulations if appointed to the post.

Some officials however, feel that he should spell out his intention not to practice his trade in the community if named to the post. Mr. Davis has not done this.

The conflict clause was enacted at the insistence of Mayor Collichio when Mr. Davis' father, Edward J. Davis was the inspector.

— Gave Up Post

Enactment of the clause forced Mr. Davis to give up the post. The board has been under pressure from the civil service agency to appoint a certified man to the job.

Board member Arthur Robinson voted against delaying action citing a warning from the state Attorney General's office to act at once to name Mr. Davis to the post.

George E. Ostrov, borough attorney, said the state Attorney General was not aware of the conflict clause when it advised the board to act.

The attorney noted that the clause has been upheld in the courts and that the state was not aware of this.

Voting for the delay were Mr. McLoone, Anthony Auer, Walter O'Connor and John Price. Absent were John Kinsella and Benjamin Leon.

Druzick Boy Becomes An Eagle Scout

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — Dennis Druzick has become the fourth Eagle Scout in Boy Scout Troop 66.

The presentation of his award was made by Leo Weinstein, Monmouth County Domestic Court Judge, at a Court of Honor held by the troop Tuesday.

Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Druzick, 41 Park Ave. The troop is sponsored by the Matawan Grammar School Parent Teachers Association.

Gets Bronze Palm

At the same court of honor, Eagle Scout Richard Main received the Bronze Palm award. The presentation made by his father Fred Main.

William Keegan, Craig McKeen and Earl Siddons received the highest swimming honor, the Scout Life Guard award, which was presented by Steven Enterline, committee chairman. Other merit badge awards were presented to Glenn Pike, Craig McKeen, Earl Siddons, Alan Richards and Peter Bentley.

A special award went to Robert Fink, the physical education director of the Perth Amboy YMCA in appreciation for his and the Y's assistance in making the troop's swimming program so successful. Craig McKeen made the presentation.

Glenn Siss, George Keegan, Brent Lassen, Anthony Sidoti and Michael Hussey were welcomed as new tenderfoot scouts.

Sends Youth To Jail

LONG BRANCH — Charles Gresham, 20, of 83 Rockwell Ave. was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail with psychiatric treatment yesterday by Magistrate Stanley Cohen who found him guilty of being a disorderly person.

He was charged with stealing three cartons of Camel cigarettes from the First National Food Store, 320 3d Ave., on March 22.

Store manager Andrew Higgins and security employee Robert Eelman testified that they saw Mr. Gresham put the cigarettes inside his coat.

Mr. Gresham was represented by Ernest Fasano of Red Bank. In sentencing Mr. Gresham, Mr. Cohen said he was being lenient in the hope that the defendant would "straighten himself out."

Industrial Lands Seen In Holmdel

HOLMDEL — Members of the township committee and planning board conferred Wednesday with property owners along the south side of the New York & Long Branch railroad line relative to possible increases to the industrial zone in that area.

Myron L. Taylor, Monmouth County industrial representative, who attended, disclosed the meeting yesterday at the request of township officials.

Under consideration would be addition of about 150 acres to the industrial zone and construction of a road between Laurel Ave. and a cul-de-sac near Bethany Rd.

About 12 different parcels of ground would be affected by the rezoning plan, the spokesman said, and all are favorable to the general idea with reservations only as to the exact road pattern.

"The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the advisability of rezoning this area for industrial use as called for in the master plan for some years past," Mr. Taylor said, adding:

"Committee (Harry) Pitcher reported that at a meeting held Tuesday with the township board of education, a need was indicated for substantial expansion of school facilities if the township is to avoid double sessions.

"Mr. Pitcher pointed out that the best way to absorb the increased costs of these school facilities was by the development of increased industrial ratables."

And in order to obtain such industrial ratables, additional lands should be zoned for the purpose."

Richard Schultz, on behalf of Township Engineer Otis Seaman, presented photos outlining the projected rezoning plan. The access road, he said, would also serve as a boundary for the zone. The present 10-acre minimum industrial lot size and 200-

Studies and Sports

We usually leave basketball to our sports writers — but we cannot let this season go by without several comments.

The first is the outstanding record compiled by Christian Brothers Academy in Lincroft. That was a great team that won the state Parochial "A" Division Championship in Atlantic City.

And then there is Princeton University which set such a sizzling pace all season and wound up taking third place in the NCAA.

In the case of CBA, it was Kirk Robinson who gave the Colts their big spark. He scored 35 points in the championship triumph. And in the case of Princeton, it was All-American Bill Bradley who scored 58 points to push the Tigers on to victory.

Basketball is basketball — and it has its place. At Princeton — and at CBA—it is a part of the academic life that is so important.

And that is why we like to see schools come out on top who stress scholastic endeavors first. It shows that athletics can be combined with study—without compromising the real purpose of an institution of learning. Too many of our high schools and colleges wrongly place their emphasis on winning teams at the expense of scholarship.

Yes, Times Have Changed

Sears has come a long way from the catalogue and Woolworth's has come a long way from the "five and dime."

Now these two famous names in American retailing are going in for culture in the form of art.

Sears' two Monmouth County stores—in Middletown and in Neptune — will display famous actor Vincent Price's art collection. The paintings are for sale, of course.

And in Woolworth's Menlo Park store, a collection of original paintings valued at $500,000 went on sale recently. Sales are reported to be excellent.

Times have changed—and so have store images. Bargains always will be found at Sears and Woolworth's—but now there is something extra to be had. It shows also that the customer, too, has changed.

Taylor Will Give Answers

Ambassador Maxwell Taylor is returning to Saigon with answers to four far-reaching urgent recommendations made by General William Westmoreland more than a month ago.

Had several of them been promptly put into effect, there is every likelihood the murderous sneak bombing of the Saigon embassy would have been averted.

The U.S. commanding general's long-deliberated proposals were:

—Cordonning off all streets adjacent to the Saigon embassy; also strengthening the security defenses of other U.S. installations there.

—Establishing martial law in the South Viet Nam capital and areas surrounding it.

—Reinforcing U.S. troops in South Viet Nam with the equivalent of an infantry division, plus several special intelligence units. Such additions would bring the total of U.S. Army, Air and Marine forces there to around 50,000.

—Setting up a joint U.S.-South Vietnamese intelligence system under Westmoreland's command. At present, only the South Vietnamese have an over-all intelligence organization.

Westmoreland feels strongly that not only should the U.S. be an integral part of the intelligence structure, but he is in charge of it. Ambassador Taylor blocked the two Saigon security measures—cordonning off the embassy and instituting martial law—on the ground it is U.S. policy to interfere as little as possible with civilian control.

Westmoreland's request for some 20,000 reinforcements was submitted to Washington—where nothing was done about it pending Taylor's return for consultations. He favors this, but there is strong opposition among top State Department officials and influential members of the White House staff.

They contend such additional troops would raise the grave risk of direct Red Chinese involvement in the Vietnamese conflict.

This view is vigorously challenged by other civilian and military advisers of President Johnson. They argue that while Moscow and Peking are doing a lot of truculent talking, they are carefully limiting their Viet Cong support to providing arms and other supplies.

As an illustration, they are citing the unpublished fact that seven Soviet ships have unloaded weapons in North Viet Nam since March 15.

TRADING WITH THE ENEMY—Allied cargo ships, from countries that are heavy beneficiaries of U.S. aid, are pouring a steady stream of food, machinery, and other war-potential supplies into North Viet Nam.

Last year, more than 200 freighters flying free world flags unloaded thousands of tons of such vital shipments in North Viet Nam ports. These vessels were from Britain, West Germany, Italy, Japan, Greece, Norway, Panama and Lebanon.

Forty-one per cent of this traffic in the last half of 1964 was carried by British ships. That is the jolting disclosure by Representative Paul Rogers, D-Fla., on the basis of a comprehensive study. An influential member of the House Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee, he also flatly charged:

"Last year, 15 free world ships hauled Red cargoes into Communist North Viet Nam and then came into American ports to pick up or deliver shipments for the U.S. as well. It seems to me that the least our allies can do is to stop helping our enemies."

Rogers has introduced legislation to bar from U.S. trade ships doing business with North Viet Nam. His measure is pending before the House Merchant Marine Committee, and he is pressing for early action. Rogers holds this is essential for these reasons:

"Every free world vessel going to North Viet Nam means that another Communist ship is released for carrying munitions and other military supplies to the Viet Cong. Further, these ships flying the flags of countries we count as allies are actually helping an enemy which is in direct confrontation with the U.S."

"Finally, to allow these shipping interests, that are trading with an enemy engaged in military conflict with the U.S., to enter our ports and take cargoes from the American shipping industry has another serious ramification. The increasingly critical U.S. gold outflow is worsened by the dollars paid for the transportation of American cargoes aboard these foreign-flag vessels."

Stressing that these dual trading operations are going on right now, Rogers cited two specific instances only last month.

One vessel, flying the Greek flag, loaded a U.S. cargo. But the other, owned by the International Shipping Corp., of Monrovia, Liberia, was blocked by the refusal of the International Longshoremen's union to load it on the ground it had traded with North Viet Nam. The ship finally sailed without a cargo.

"The vessel Spalmatori, owned by Spalmatori Cia. Nav., S. A., of Panama, and flying the Greek flag," said Rogers, "sailed from Lake Charles, La., March 14, 1965, after having loaded rice. The Spalmatori went to Port Campha, North Viet Nam, with cargo for the Viet Cong in November 1964. Last year the Spalmatori also visited Tampa and Houston to pick up and deliver cargoes for the United States."

"Around the same time, the Severn River sailed from New York where she had been tied up for a week because the International Longshoremen's Association had refused to load the ship because she had been in North Viet Nam last year. The Severn River had also been in Richmond and Norfolk last year for the profits of American trade as well."

"The ILA acted in the best interests of American labor. The American merchant marine now employs only a fraction of the workers it used to. The U.S. shipping industry has slipped to the point where it carries less than 10 per cent of this nation's seafaring. The least we can do in this country is to deprive those foreign flag interests which ship to our enemies of their profits taken from U.S. shipping."

Other allied ships listed by Rogers as trading with North Viet Nam and hauling U.S. cargoes are:

You Can Slash Our Travel Gap

You, as an individual, can do plenty all by yourself and on your own to help curb the outflow of dollars from the U.S.

Just by doing a few simple things and not doing a few others, you alone can help dry up hundreds of millions of dollars of red ink in our balance of payments. Specifically:

If you've already scheduled a trip to Europe this year, go ahead. But fly on a U.S. airline or sail on a U.S. steamship and make your reservation through a U.S. travel agent. Thus, U.S. firms—and not foreign-flag companies—will get your dollars.

If you're going to Europe, okay, go. In the words of Commerce Secretary Connor, "No one, certainly not the federal government, wants to impose restrictions on travel by Americans." But while overseas, don't go on a spending spree. Congress soon will vote a cut in the amount of duty-free goods you're allowed to bring home, from $100 to $50. Stay within the new limit. Buy your goods in our own great stores.

If you haven't as yet made firm vacation plans, make 1965 a "See the U.S.A." year and postpone an overseas trip. The first blunt point is that, in 1964, we spent around $2.6 billion on overseas travel while foreigners spent only $1 billion here—a tourist deficit of $1.6 billion. The second blunt point is that this huge gap almost surely will widen in 1965 and offset our other efforts to reduce the difference between what we spend abroad and earn abroad—unless you shape your travel plans for a while in accordance with your country's needs. It's scarcely a hardship. Secretary of the Interior Udall isn't exaggerating when he remarks, "Santa Fe is as interesting as Seville, the Rockies surpass the Alps; the island of Kauai has more charm than Capri"—and what is wrong with visiting the New York World's Fair before it closes forever?

If you're a businessman who will hold conferences with your overseas representatives in coming months, bring them home for the conferences—instead of sending home-based officers abroad to see them—and bring them home in U.S.-owned carriers, of course.

If you're a member of a trade organization which holds international meetings, urge your officials to schedule the next meeting in the U.S. In 1964, 2,300 trade organizations held international meetings. U.S. groups participated in 750 of these but we were hosts at less than 60—or only 30 per cent! This is ridiculous. If we hosted only 20 per cent, we'd add $80-$100 million to our tourist income.

If you're a student or teacher planning a trip abroad, consider going to South America instead of Europe until our travel gap has been narrowed. Student travel to Europe has been a key factor in our outflow of dollars. Incidentally, there are more Rembrandts in New York than in Amsterdam.

If you have friends, relatives or business acquaintances overseas, encourage them to visit the U.S. Boast about what we have to offer: we're worth boasting about. Although the promotion efforts of the U.S. Travel Service helped attract nearly one million overseas visitors to our country last year, the number is still piddly. We could entertain many times this total and the travel dollar is all "plus." It brings in new money—yet, as Connor says, "takes none of the natural resources away."

If you're in the travel business, wake up to the vast potentials of domestic travel and start promoting "us." You have been concentrating on pushing foreign tourism and neglecting domestic travel.

If you have any connection with our own airlines, prod them into competing more aggressively with foreign carriers on charter flights. These dollars count.

The grim prospect now, I repeat, is that 1964's $1.6 billion tourist deficit will get worse in 1965.

But it would be so easy and so simple for you to astound the experts and make the red ink projections obsolete even before they're published. You could do it all by yourself.

Union of West to Save Dollar?

If there is a more dedicated man in the world than Clarence Streit, who has been laboring since the Nineteen Thirties to promote a true federal union of the western democracies, this column would like to know his name. Day in and day out, for 30 long years and more, Mr. Streit has been telling the West that it must unite or perish. He has had good men in his corner—the late Supreme Court Justice Owen Roberts was one—but the general verdict has been that "union now" of the democracies must wait the coming of the millennium, which means "never."

Now, however, Mr. Streit seems at last to be striking some pay dirt. He couldn't get anywhere when it was a mere matter of inviting the nations of western Europe and North America to combine their governments under one sovereignty to fend off the threat of Communist invasion. But the weakness of the U.S. dollar is at last giving Mr. Streit a telling talking point. What the external menace of the Communists could not do, the shaky condition of the U.S. monetary unit gives some hopes of accomplishing. Oddly enough, people worry more about their pocketbooks than about their lives. A double irony attends this: Mr. Streit has not only found money a better lever than military security to compel consideration of his concept of federal union, he has also managed to evoke commendation of his ideas from both Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

The reason for the sudden spurt of interest in Mr. Streit's "federate or die" proposition is that the U.S. dollar, despite the parous state of its gold backing, has, to use economist Eliot Janeway's phrase, become the "working capital" of the West. All the big western monetary powers need dollars as well as gold if they are to have new factories, new oil exploitation money, and new trading capital. A world without U.S. tourists with dollars to spend would be a disaster for hotels, restaurants, art shops, clothing manufacturers. There are numerous good, selfish reasons why West Germany, Britain, Italy, Holland, Belgium, and even France should wish to keep the dollar from collapsing.

Clarence Streit's proposition is that the dollar versus gold dilemma would disappear if the western democracies merged their monetary systems into a uniform system under a single federal government charged with sovereignty over three things: foreign policy, military policy, and the issue and protection of money. Mr. Streit recalls that the 13 original states of the U.S. were close to collapse in 1787 simply because they had 13 separate money systems. Their troubles ceased to be critical once the dollar was made supreme from Massachusetts to Georgia.

Mr. Streit's argument is so impressive that it has brought publishers such as Eugene Pulliam of Phoenix, Ariz., and Indianapolis, Ind., to his side. This is remarkable, for Mr. Pulliam's newspapers have been in the conservative camp. And conservatives, by and large, have tended to look upon Mr. Streit's ideas about western federation as no better than the ideas of those who argue for world government.

This column has always been beguiled by Mr. Streit's logic simply because it would result in a stronger East-West confrontation. But the logic that calls for western federation has weaknesses. A merging of the various democratic systems would certainly call for uniform central banking and uniform budgetary philosophy. How else would Mr. Streit accommodate the different Welfare State ideas of Britain, France, Italy, West Germany, Canada, and the United States without civil war? What the various "federal" states of a western union chose to do about taxing and spending for their respective Appalachians or school aid, or for meeting problems of socialized medicine, could not be left to six or seven separate authorities. Inflation can come from domestic drains as well as from an international raid on a nation's gold supply.

But regardless of objections to western federation ideas, the ball is now in Mr. Streit's court. It will be interesting to see how he can deploy Nelson Rockefeller and Barry Goldwater as members of his team.

The Prime Error

He is, I suppose, every woman's secret lover. We drove down the beach together and I kept glancing away from the wheel and the road to study this man. He has the pink cheeks and tiny surface veins of the weathered Frenchman. The hair is white, and straight, and stands up for its rights on top.

The eyes are blue and full of understanding, but beneath the surface there is a small laughing devil. Maurice Chevalier is 77, going on 21. He has intelligence, charm and romance. It is not a stage image; rather, it is as much a part of him as his fingerprints, or the jutting lower lip.

Except for the subdued roar of the air conditioner, his voice was the only sound in the car. I was driving him to Miami Beach, where he had promised Mayor Melvin Richard to participate in the 50th birthday celebration of the town. He spoke casually, gently and without reserve.

"I like to walk on the edge of the sea, at dusk. I walk alone and I walk like a glacier. A man should take time to examine himself, inside." We talked of writing. In France, he is a great showman, but also the author of six books. He likes to write. It is an additional love, and I goaded him to write his autobiography. I suggested, half-embarrassed, that it should be called Eternal Spring.

We spoke too of mistakes. "Many," he said, shaking the white cap on his knee. "I have made many. The worst was to marry. We met in 1921. She was an artist who worked in a show with me in Paris. We worked well together. This led to a friendship, which led to warmth, which led to a tenderness, which led to marriage."

"A mistake for her, and for me. We had no children. We were married in 1925; we said adieu in 1930; we were divorced in 1934. It frightened me. One cannot afford a marriage mistake. An affair of the heart, yes. But not marriage. I never married again. Neither did she."

There were many valentines before and after the marriage, but only one shook Chevalier's soul. He was 21, a young song-and-dance man in the Folies Bergere. She was 39, a great star named Mistinguette. "The difference in age," he said, shrugging, "was of no importance whatever. She was — how do you say, eat? — all woman. It was an enduring love, but in ten years, I was a big star in France and she was no longer quite so big. You understand?"

I understood. In America, we called Mistinguette the star with the million dollar legs. The romance died strangling in envy. Only in Mistinguette's final days would she permit Maurice to come to see her. Then, instead of love, they shared tears.

"In age," he said, "there is a penalty — or do you say penance? — for romance. Any woman who gave me her heart cannot be forgotten, and so, when I am in a strange city at times, I make a visit to a certain lady to kiss her hand, to look into her eyes once more."

He shook his white head from side to side. "Some are fat. Very fat. Some are sick. One is in an asylum far away when I hold her hand. All are old, as it must be. I see all of them, not today, but as it once was — a budding flower to hold tenderly in the hand. The crime of love is in forgetting."

The symbol of romance was pensive. The car kept gliding down the beach, and the palm trees saw him, but he did not see them. The ageless lover had married but once, and this, he said, was a mistake. And the product of his love was no children.

"Ah," he said, rousing himself and looking at me, "you must come to see me in Paris. I will write the address for you. It is a big house built by an Englishman. I call it La Louque. This is the name we called my mother. La Louque. It means nothing in French or English."

"It is in a village called Marnes-La-Coquette, in Seine-et-Oise. I will write the book you suggest if you will help me. I cannot help you — but you have inspired me to write."

"You must grow old the best way you can, I no longer fall in love; nor even think of it, except for the children." What children? "Oh, I have six or seven. There are three little girls of my nephew, and four children of the servants."

"May I tell you something?" he said. "These are the charming loves, which want only to give, not to receive. To them, I am 'Papa Gâteau.' In French, gâteau is pastry. You know, the pie and so forth. To the children of my heart, I bring the pastry, the little candies, also the flowers."

"At the age of 77, a man is busy with love."

I pulled the car to a stop. An old lady shrieked: "Maurice Chevalier, Maurice Chevalier. May I have your autograph?" He got out, held his white cap in his hand, and said: "Madame, you have made this a sunny day for me."

Praises Police Department

75 Highland Ave.
Leonardo, N. J.

To the Editor:

As a taxpayer in Middletown Township, for the past 15 years, I must take issue with the three Republican Township committees in Middletown Township, Mayor Ernest G. Kavalek, Committee Chairman Harold Foulks and Committeemen Douglas Burke, after reading the report in the local newspapers that you three men are in favor of bringing into Middletown Township an outsider to run the Police Department. This is not only a crime, but an insult to one of the best Police Departments in the great state of New Jersey. I feel it would be a big waste of the taxpayers' money to hire someone to run the Police Department. We have two divisions in the Police Department. The patrol division is doing a magnificent job in protecting our roads and homes and children. The detective division has an outstanding record of solving crimes in Middletown Township and assisting the county detectives and the neighboring towns in Monmouth County. I am a great believer of constructive criticism when it is called for. When it comes to destructive criticism it is a mortal sin when people use it to cover up their own mistakes. Gentlemen look in to your own conscience and then ask yourself if you are doing the right thing to the great Police Department of Middletown Township. If you feel that you don't know enough about police work then ask the men who have been doing a fine job for many years. Keep politics out of the Police Department. All of these fine men will be there when you are out of office.

Sincerely Yours,
Arthur F. Charles

Zion Church Starts Drive For $63,500

RED BANK—The AME Zion Church, Shrewsbury Ave., celebrating its 132d anniversary this year, is launching a $63,500 community fund drive for renovation and expansion of its worship and educational facilities.

Rev. Thomas H. Coursey, pastor, said that $3,500 is being sought to replace the roof of the 51-year-old building and renovate the sanctuary. Cost of a 35-56-foot addition to permit expansion of its educational facilities is expected to total $60,000, the minister said.

Rev. Thomas H. Coursey

Space in the present building is inadequate to serve the needs of the congregation and the church's youth and community activities, Rev. Mr. Coursey said.

The church was founded in 1833 in Fair Haven, and organized in that community two years later as St. James AME Zion Church. A few years later, the congregation moved to its first house of worship on Wharf Ave., here. The congregation erected its first church on Central Ave., here.

Construction of the present church was begun in 1912 and completed four years later. The fund drive will end May 23.

Named to the steering committee for the appeal were Baxter Daniel, Chester McEachern, John W. Barron and William N. Pulley.

Members of the committee in charge of the souvenir program book and patrons of special gifts are Mrs. Marian Smith, president; Mrs. Juanita Dozier, secretary, and Dr. James W. Parker, Jr., treasurer.

Also: Mr. and Mrs. William B. Vincent, Mrs. Mary Ann

Saunders, Dr. James W. Parker, Sr., Mrs. Levinia Wright, Mrs. Estelle Carter, Mrs. Lucille Gaskin and Rev. Mr. Coursey. The church will begin its 132d anniversary celebration Sunday, May 16, when Dr. J. Clinton Hoggard, editor of the AME Zion Missionary Seer will address a special afternoon service. The special events will conclude with a banquet Saturday, May 22.

Planners Study Green Acres Arguments

MARLBORO — It was Burnt Fly Bog and the State Hospital—both regarding Green Acres—that beset the Planning Board last night.

Gerald Bauman, vice chairman of the board, is the chief supporter of the bog being made into a Green Acres project.

Miss Edna Netter, local realtor, the chief opponent, is followed closely behind by Fred Von Rodek, Rt. 79.

According to Mr. Bauman, the state, in the form of Commissioner Robert Roe, is interested in turning the swamp into an area for conservation. Marlboro will have an answer from the state in three weeks, according to Mr. Bauman.

Miss Netter and Mr. Von Rodek both say there is enough land on the State Hospital grounds for a Green Acres project.

"The state will never appropriate the money to reimburse the township for the State Hospital," said Miss Netter. "You are doing a disservice to the community when you ask the state to take this land—to give the state any more of our land."

Want a Meeting
Mrs. Lillian Petronio, secretary of the Citizens Committee (Mr. Bauman is chairman) suggested that members of the Planning Board, Board of Adjustment, Industrial Commission and Board of Health all meet with Commissioner Roe when he comes to discuss the proposed Green Acres project.

Mr. Von Rodek then brought up the number of children from the State Hospital that attend schools locally. The township foots the bills for these children.

Mr. Bauman, who also is a member of the Board of Education, explained that the board recently had applied to the state for reimbursement and "indications are we will receive some reimbursement."

"That is only because the state wants something," interjected Mr. Von Rodek.

(He was referring to Burnt Fly Bog.)

"If two per cent of the children in schools come out of a state institution," informed Mr. Bauman, "then you can apply for reimbursement."

George T. Saathoff, Topanemus Rd., doubted that two per cent of the township children going to school are from the hospital.

Miss Netter ended last night's meeting with her favorite topic: Burnt Fly Bog should be used as a sanitary land fill.

(Dominick Manzo of Matawan wants the land for just such a purpose.)

FINED $50

RED BANK — Adrian E. Potts, a soldier stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., yesterday received a $50 fine and a 60-day suspended jail sentence from Magistrate William I. Klatsky. Potts was charged with speaking loudly and abusively to Patrolman Joseph Calver.

Leon A. Boeckel, 3d, of 123 Monroe Ave., Shrewsbury, was fined $10 for failure to make repairs to his vehicle and $10 for driving it with an expired registration. Magistrate Klatsky added $10 contempt fines to each count for appearing in court a day late.

Repudiate GOP Praise Of Wallace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Congressional Republicans repudiated today a letter of the Camden County, N.J., Young Republican Club that described Gov. George Wallace of Alabama as a "great American patriot."

The three — Sens. Clifford P. Case, N.J., and Hugh Scott, Pa., and Rep. William T. Cahill, N.J. — said State Sen. Frederick J. Scholz of Camden acted decisively to disassociate the GOP from what they called the blatant racism displayed by the "so-called Young Republicans."

"Their use of the name Republican is an insult to our party and its members, a cause not merely for sorrow but for anger," the three said in a joint statement.

"The Republican Party has no use for the contemptible mouthings of racists and no room for those who only degrade others," they added.

Mrs. Katherine Neuberger, Republican National Committeewoman from New Jersey who is attending the annual GOP Women's Conference, said the letter by the Camden Young GOP is a disservice to the party.

Only two weeks ago, she noted, the Republican Coordinating Committee said the party will have nothing to do with racism and will represent people of all colors, creeds and national origins.

William F. Tompkins, a member of the New Jersey GOP Executive Committee and a former assistant attorney general in the Eisenhower Administration, called the letter an affront to the party.

Republicans, everywhere, he said, will "repudiate this attempt to cast away the great heritage of our party for the exploitation of bigotry."

10 Contracts For Teachers Are Issued

MONMOUTH BEACH — Ten teaching contracts, including that of Principal Donald J. Gudaitis, were approved by the Board of Education last night.

An 11th contract was returned unsigned. John T. Fitzgerald wrote that he would not be able to accept a new contract.

Teachers during the 1965-66 school year will be paid in accordance with a salary guide adopted at a special board meeting March 22.

The scale sets a minimum salary of $5,000 for the holder of a bachelor's degree. Top of the 12-step scale is $7,750.

For teachers with no degree, the scale ranges from $4,400 to $6,900 in 11 steps. Holders of Call now.

Friday, April 2, 1965—7 THE DAILY REGISTER master's degree would be paid $5,300 to $8,650 in 12 steps.

To Explain Anti-Poverty Program

MIDDLETOWN — A progress report on the anti-poverty program in Monmouth County will be presented at the annual meeting of the Middletown Public Health Association Monday at 8 p.m. in the Richard Harshorne Memorial Health Center, Campbell's Junction. Election of officers will be held, and Mrs. Alice Nason, Monmouth County Organization for Social Service supervisor for the health center, will present her annual report of public health nursing service and clinic reports. Daniel Seitz is president of the association. The Public Health Association administers the health center, while MOOSS provides the staff of six public health nurses with headquarters at the center. Included in the broad program of family-centered health services they provide are bedside nursing care, health promotion, communicable disease control, physical therapy and nutrition consultation. Clinics held at the center include well-child conferences for infants and pre-school children of limited income families, pre-natal and chest clinics. The association provides volunteers who assist the nurses at the clinics held in the health center and in transportation of patients to clinics at the general hospitals. Sell Fast! ## Pupil Interviews Gen. Johnston

FORT MONMOUTH — Twelve-year-old Karen deSante, a seventh grader at Frank Antonides School, West Long Branch, received an A plus for her interview with Brig. Gen. J. Wilson Johnston, commander of the Army Satellite Communications Agency here. While her class was interviewing successful persons to examine the value of education, Miss deSante went to the Satcom

Agency where her father, Richard K. deSante, a former officer, is a civilian engineer. The report concluded, "Gen. Johnston is very easy to talk to." It was read aloud to the school and submitted as an outstanding piece of work to the Board of Education. PACK MEETING FREEHOLD — Cub Scout Pack 18 of St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church will hold its postponed March meeting Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The theme will be "International Festival."

Bridge Column

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

It's sometimes hard to know whether a bridge player is lucky or unlucky. South was lucky to get most of the high cards, lucky that cards were well placed for him, and lucky to bid a slam that he could make. South's only bad luck was the identity of the East player.

West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the ace, forcing South to ruff. Declarer cashed the top clubs and ruffed a club in dummy.

Now the slam was a cinch. South would get to his hand with the king of trumps, ruff another club in dummy, draw trumps, and try the heart finesse. Nobody could over-ruff the club, and the queen of hearts was well placed. What could be sweeter? East could have been sweeter. East was Terence Reese, one of the world's greatest bridge players. When South ruffed the third round of clubs in dummy, Reese dropped the queen of clubs.

Sees New Plan
South changed his plan of play. He drew two rounds of trumps with the queen and king but left the last trump out. Since West "obviously" had the last club as well as the last trump, South planned to cash the ten of clubs to discard a heart from dummy. Then he could cash the ace of hearts and ruff a heart in dummy without relying on the heart finesse.

When South led the ten of clubs, however, West ruffed with the jack of spades, defeating the slam contract. Wasn't that unlucky?

"Poof," you object. "South should not believe that queen of clubs. He could see Terence Reese in the East seat and should smell something fishy." Not at all. The hand was played some thirty years ago, when Reese was still a college student. Nobody knew then that Reese was destined to become a world-famous bridge expert. What bad luck for South!

DAILY QUESTION
Partner opens with two spades (forcing to game), and the next player passes. You hold: Spades — J 10 4. Hearts — Q 8 7 2. Diamonds — A K J. Clubs — 8 5 4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid three spades. You have fine trump support for a suit in which partner can make an opening two-bid. Another possibility is a jump to three no-trump, by-passing the negative response of two no-trump. There is no need to show the ace of diamonds at this moment, for partner can find out about your ace later if he wants to do so.

Brain-Injured Child Panel Wednesday

HOLMDEL — "Effective ways of Working With The Brain Injured Child" will be the subject of a panel of experts at the meeting of the Monmouth Ocean Section of the New Jersey Association for Brain Injured Children Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Holmdel Village School.

The guest panel includes Erling W. Clausen, moderator, who is superintendent of the Freehold Borough Schools and president of the Monmouth County Superintendents' Round Table. Mr. Clausen is preparing his doctoral dissertation at Rutgers University and also teaches at New Jersey State Teachers College.

Others are: Mrs. Dorothea Burnside, teacher of the Chronic Defects Class at Atlantic Highlands Elementary School, is continuing her studies in the field of special education. Dr. Gerald Kass, West Long Branch optometrist, is an associate of the optometric extension program. He works extensively with brain injured children. Mrs. Edla Morton, child study supervisor for the state Department of Education in Monmouth County, is also teaching at Newark State Teachers College.

Also, Alvin Krass, clinical psychologist at Brisbane Child Treatment Center, chief psychologist at Pollack Clinic in Long Branch, and consulting psychologist for the Freehold schools. He is studying for his doctorate at New York University.

And Dr. Harold A. Murray, practicing pediatrician in Sea Girt, consulting pediatrician for Monmouth Medical Center, Fitch Hospital and several other hospitals in New Jersey. He is also co-founder and chairman of the advisory board of the Essex County Clinic for Mentally Retarded Children. Dr. Murray is also president of the Monmouth County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Questions from the audience will be answered after the panel members have spoken.

Levitt Pulls Oceanport Back Appeal Pledges Safety In Manalapan For Children

MANALAPAN — Only a handful of interested residents greeted the Planning Board last night at its meeting.

This was in contrast to the committee meeting the night before, which filled the hall to overflowing. Levitt & Sons Wednesday night withdrew for 90 days its appeal against the township's moratorium on housing developments.

The board referred three applications for final approval of major subdivisions to its engineer, Donald Barr, for study.

Yorktowne at Holiday North has requested 247 lots on Gordon's Corner Rd.

Woodview Estates wants 49 lots on 31 acres on Peace and Union Hill Rds.

Portsmouth Village has applied for 23 lots on 16 acres on Pinebrook Rd.

Unless the engineer finds major faults, the three will be approved.

30-Day Wait

Taylor Palmer, Jr., chairman of the planners, said that the master plan probably will not be ready within the next 30 days. (Levitt postponed its action to allow adoption of that plan.)

The planning board would not bend to pressure of interested residents who asked about the contents of the master plan. Information will not be forthcoming until it is presented at the public hearing. John Beggs, Spring Lake is the master planner.

Walter Cycek, committee member on the board, added:

"I think this plan will go through without an ounce of trouble."

At the suggestion of Mayor Thomas Kerwin, the township committee and the Manalapan-Englishtown Regional Board of Education will meet with representatives of Levitt to discuss the school problem created by the many children from development homes.

Mission Speaker

Rev. Theodore H. Leonard

LITTLE SILVER — Rev. Theodore H. Leonard, Philadelphia, a director of the Division of National Missions of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church, will speak at a rally to be sponsored here Sunday at 7:30 p.m. by the New Brunswick District Missions Committee.

The rally will be held in Embury Methodist Church, Church St.

Rev. Mr. Leonard also will speak at the 11 a.m. services Sunday in the Embury Methodist Church.

Britain declines to grant independence to the self-governing colony of Rhodesia until voting rights are broadened to include most native Africans. They outnumber voters of European origin by two million to 200,000.

OCEANPORT — A letter from the Oceanport Parent-Teacher Association, regarding protection of children traveling to and from school, brought a promise from Borough Council last night to investigate safety measures and to take protective steps for their safety.

The letter referred to the death March 22 of Edward Morgan, 7, who was struck by a car on Branchport Ave. while waiting for the school bus. The child was struck on March 18 and died several days later.

The PTA called for investigation of traffic problems along streets where the school buses travel and it asked for a study to create protective measures for students waiting for the buses.

Although it was not inferred the driver of the car that struck the child was in violation of traffic laws, it was said that enforcement of such laws should be stepped up.

Mayor Edward C. Wilson, Sr. said local police will patrol school bus routes to check possible speed violations. He said that, if local police encounter problems in enforcement, he would invite state police to assist in the program.

In other borough business, a salary code, which was introduced last month, was approved. The measure increases borough salaries an average of five per cent.

Councilman Edward H. Urion noted that many local persons fail to remove garbage cans from the curb after collection. He called for enforcement of a regulation to remove containers to rear yards following garbage collection.

"It's amazing how few people show public pride in such instances," he said. "Many people would rather carry garbage out to the can at the curb each time than remove the can from the curb and conceal it."

It was said the borough health code provides penalties for persons who fail to remove garbage containers from the curb following collection. Mayor Wilson said the rule will be enforced.

Council approved a measure assessing variance applicants $40 for each application. Those seeking variances will be charged $25 per application and $15 for a legal reporter to record testimony of zoning board sessions. Adjourned meetings, it was ruled, would cost the applicant an additional $15 for the reporter.

Fire Destroys Lumber Building

WEST NEW YORK (AP) — A general alarm fire destroyed a half-block long lumber storage building and forced the temporary evacuation of some 300 persons Thursday night.

Residents of an eight-story apartment house across the street from the fire and other residents within a two-block area were evacuated by officials as the fire lit up the night sky across the Hudson River from New York City.

Firemen said only one person was slightly injured in the blaze, which was confined to the lumber building at the corner of 50th Street and Park Avenue. The one-and-a-half story building was owned by the West New York Lumber Co.

The fire knocked out several power lines and threw the North Hudson Hospital into darkness for an hour after the hospital's emergency generator also failed.

The month of April promises a 24-hour silly season. Every April 1, butchers get telephone calls from "Mr. Lamb." Fish markets turn away callers wanting "Mrs. Trout."

SCHOLARSHIP — Joseph Schapiro, right, treasurer of Jersey Shore Lodge, Knights of Pythias, presents a check for the establishment of a scholarship at Monmouth College to Jay O. Petersen, director of financial aid at the college. It will be awarded to a student who is a graduate of Asbury Park, Neptune or Ocean Township High School. The Financial Aid Committee at Monmouth College will select the student.

JUST A WRIST MAN

NEW YORK (AP) — "He fooled me by one year," says Matt Sczesny of Boston rookie outfielder Tony Conigliaro.

Sczesny, who managed Tony C. at Wellsville, N.Y., in the PONY League in 1963, predicted his slugging rookie would make the major leagues in 1963. Tony made it big this year, hitting 285 and driving 24 home runs despite the fact he sustained two broken wrists while playing for Sczesny at Wellsville.

"I said he'd make it in '63 and he made a liar out of me," says Matt.

"Pete Ramos of the Yankees broke Tony's wrist when Ramos was pitching for Cleveland. Another time this year Tony broke his wrist while taking batting practice in his yard before reporting other time this year Tony broke his wrist at Wellsville."

At Red Bank Luncheon

Madison Woman Named 'Mother of Year'

By HELENE MOORE
RED BANK — A widowed Negro mother of four, who entered the real estate field to work for better housing for members of her race, is the 1965 New Jersey "Mother of the Year."

Mrs. Mabel Jackson Robinson of Madison was selected for the honor here yesterday by members of the New Jersey State Committee of the National American Mothers Committee. The group voted for the state winner following a luncheon in Molly Pitcher Inn.

The other two finalists, who assume the titles of "Merit Mothers," are Mrs. Isora Dunlop Gray of Moorestown, a Negro and wife of a Baptist minister, Rev. Charles H. Gray, and Mrs. Ione Whitehead Presley of Margate City, a Sunday school teacher for 29 years and an alumna of the Crozer Theological Seminary, Chester, Pa., and the University of Michigan.

Record of Service
 The new state Mother of the Year has "an impressive record of service in the field of improvement of race relations," according to the New Jersey chairman of the American Mothers Committee, Mrs. Leslie D. Seely of Eatontown.

Mrs. Seely said Mrs. Robinson decided to enter the real estate business because "she was convinced that decent housing is one of the most crucial problems facing Negroes . . . and has vowed to devote all her time and energy to correcting this economic and social imbalance." Mrs. Seely was New Jersey Mother of the Year in 1963.

This is the second time a Negro mother has been chosen for the award since the annual state competition began in 1946. The late Mrs. Helen Lee Johnson of Atlantic City was named New Jersey Mother in 1956.

Born in Pennsylvania
 The New Jersey mother was born in Harrisburg, Pa., graduated from Howard University, Washington, D.C., and moved to Madison in 1921 as a bride. She is a member of the National Business and Professional Women's Club, and of her local election board and a life member of the National Council of Negro Women.

She becomes a candidate for the title of American Mother of 1965 to be chosen at the National Conference of the American Mothers Committee to be held May 1 through 7 at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York City. The state and national committees require that a candidate be a successful mother, as evidenced by the character and achievements of her adult children; that she be active in a religious group and in community affairs, and that she embody those traits highly regarded in mothers such as courage, cheerfulness, understanding, patience, affection, kindness and homemaking ability.

Mrs. Robinson was presented at the luncheon by Dr. James Parks, pastor of the Madison Presbyterian Church.

Luncheon Guests
 Among those attending the luncheon yesterday in the Molly Pitcher Inn were the three finalists and representatives of their sponsoring organizations, and Mrs. Dorothy Lewis, national president of the American Mothers Committee; Mrs. Seely; Mrs. Harley L. Dangremont, regional chairman; Mrs. Philip Gaffney, 1964 New Jersey Mother of the Year; Mrs. Lewis Augustine of Atlantic Highlands, a Merit Mother of 1963; Mrs. Leo Bjong, representative of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Louis Taylor, representative of the New Jersey Federation of Colored Women's Clubs; Mrs. Herbert Plisker of the American Association of University Women; Mrs. Richard Gormley, of the Catholic Daughters of America; Mrs. Charles Smith, a Merit Mother of 1963, and Rev. Rebecca Lassiter, 82-year-old Negro minister and also a Merit Mother of 1963.

MERIT MOTHERS of 1965 who are the runners-up in the competition for New Jersey Mother of the Year, show they are good losers following balloting yesterday in Molly Pitcher Inn, Red Bank. Photographed with Mrs. Leslie D. Seely of Eatontown, center, New Jersey state chairman of the American Mothers Committee, they are Mrs. Isora Gray, left, of Moorestown, and Mrs. Ione Presley, right, of Margate City.

Smith Alumnae to Sponsor Lecture

WEST LONG BRANCH — Any one can tour the Smith College Museum of Art without visiting the Northampton, Mass., campus. Via an illustrated lecture sponsored by the Smith College Club of Monmouth County, Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. here in Monmouth College (Room 108, Main Building), Mrs. Roger Williams Bennett will deliver a commentary on what is recognized as "the oldest and most important art museum of any women's college in the United States." Chairman of the art visitation committee, Mrs. Bennett has spoken to more than 65 groups all over the country since she began the educational program in 1958.

Mrs. Roger W. Bennett

The museum at Smith College was founded in 1879 during the same decade as the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. Although it is chiefly known for its paintings by French masters of the 19th and 20th centuries, the museum's 6,000 objects—paintings, sculpture, drawings and prints—range from ancient Egypt through medieval French and Renaissance Italy to English and American paintings. Early in its history, a director began the collection of largely ignored sketches and partially finished works by the great masters that today are considered vital to an understanding of a painter's creativity. Examples are two drawings and an oil sketch by Seurat for "La Grande Jatte" and Corot's "Blonde Gasconne" and "Jungles."

The lecture is open to anyone interested in the Smith art museum.

Planning Board Head To Address 3 Leagues

RUMSON — The annual meeting of the Monmouth County Council of the League of Women Voters will be a brunch to be held in the River House Inn, here, May 12 at 11 a.m.

Plans for the event, which will be attended by members of the leagues of Asbury Park, Red Bank and Middletown and the general public, were discussed at last Monday's meeting of the council in the home of Mrs. Roger Wilkinson, Oak Tree La., here.

Mrs. Wilkinson will accept reservations until May 5.

Miss Josephine Lang, coordinator for the county leagues on water conservation, announced that Charles M. Pike, director of the Monmouth County Planning Board, will speak at the brunch on water pollution problems in the county.

The three county leagues have been participating for the past year in "The Study and Evaluation of the Conservation of Water in Monmouth County," and Mr. Pike's talk is intended to provide a link between last year's and next year's study programs.

For the past 12 months, according to Miss Lang, local LVW study groups have been surveying the present and potential sources of water and the existing sanitary sewer facilities in the county, meeting with state, county and local officials and committees, and educating their members in the subject.

Auxiliary Plans May Card Party

KEYPORT — Mrs. William Ralph, president, conducted the March meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Keyport First Aid Squad in the squad building. A letter of thanks was read from the squad for the dinner and the gift given them by the auxiliary. The auxiliary expressed its thanks to the men for the dinner held in Ye Cottage Inn.

Mrs. Herbert Konish was welcomed as a new member of the auxiliary.

Church's Fund Drive Will Begin on Monday

NEW SHREWSBURY — The congregation of the New Shrewsbury Reformed Church will launch a capital funds drive Monday evening with a kickoff dinner in Lincroft Inn.

Earle Winters, field secretary for church extension in the Synod of New Jersey, will speak.

Rev. Isaac C. Rotenberg, pastor, said the congregation is seeking funds for construction of a new educational building.

Present plans call for a structure containing 10 classrooms, a youth lounge, an adult meeting room and an office for the church school secretary, the pastor said.

A large house, which was on the property when the church purchased it, has been serving as an educational building, but is no longer adequate for the needs of the growing congregation, Rev. Mr. Rotenberg said.

Teeters Gets Eagle Award

NEW SHREWSBURY — James Teeters, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. Robert Teeters, 88 Edgebrook Ct., was presented the Eagle Scout award at a special campfire court of honor held during an overnight campout by Troop 100 near Swimming River reservoir Friday.

Scoutmaster James E. Blowers presented the Eagle pin, symbolizing the highest rank in scouting. Following tradition, the badge was pinned on by the boy's father and a miniature eagle was given to his mother.

At the regular court of honor held in Swimming River School, a life scout award was presented to Tolle Rich.

Two new scouts, John Henshell and Brian Domkos, were welcomed into the troop during a tenderfoot investiture ceremony.

Murray Receives Advanced Degree

NEW YORK — J. John Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Murray, Jr., Sycamore La., Rumson, N. J., has been conferred a master of business administration degree in finance and accounting at Columbia University Graduate School. In his second semester he was named to the dean's list.

Mr. Murray, a graduate of Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., holds a bachelor of science degree in economics from Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, where he was a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He has entered the employ of Peat, Marwick and Mitchell & Co., and is residing in Philadelphia.

Especially for Women

Oleg Cassini Says

Soft Fabrics and Sunny Hues

A new season has officially been added to the fashion calendar. No longer an illegitimate halfheartedly-conceived off-spring, summer is now as full-fledged and accredited a member of the family as spring and fall; no longer is it confined solely to swim, resort, and sportswear, having become independent and self-supporting in terms of suits and dresses as well.

Well, almost independent. Because it is true that much of summer does derive from spring. But the big difference is in the fabrics which are softer, flatter, cooler, airier—cottons, linens, rayons, organzas, chiffons, and lace. And in colors, too, with lots of sunshine-drenched seasonal hues like warmly bright yellows, oranges, and pinks, more white than at any other time of year, still quite a bit of black for evening, and scads of colorful splashy prints, plaids, and stripes.

Summer silhouettes, however, do take their cues from spring. In suits, jackets are still in front with gently-eased backs, reaching down to the hip bone or, in the newest length, to finger tip, and usually boasting open necklines with notched standaway collars. In dresses, belting contributes mightily to the dominant closer-to-the-body shapes: high up a la the back belt coupled with just-below-the-bustline seaming; and with the waistline contoured and defined with a tie or skinny belt.

Costumes will continue as strongly as ever. In both dresses and suits the consensus is for contrast, but in the latter category matching shell blouses should also prove interesting.

Much of the stylistic news to be made will be in the sleeve which returns to the summertime dress in the form of the dolman and billow, to the suit set-in and skinny and stopping just short of the wrist.

Suit skirts for summer will be slimmer than seen in many a season—and often as straight as a string can be—but in dresses will remain on the move, still swirling with panels, pleats, and an even greater fullness, as exemplified by the resurrected dirndl.

In keeping with the traditional summer tempo and temper, I should point out that pants and jumpsuits will abound. The former may be either pipestem-straight or slightly belled or flared, often resting on the hip with the waistband all but forgotten, and frequently paired with an overblouse shaped high up or a midriff-revealing top. Jumpsuits will more than ever be made for rugged sporty wear—for driving, sailing, romping playing—but will also appear in sheerer fabrics for lounging. The newest variation on this theme will feature a billowy see-through skirt.

Swimwear will thrive on forbidden flesh—fishnets, lattice cutouts, scooped-out mailots, sarong suits slung over one shoulder, bikinis which bare the maximum the traffic will bear. And they'll more often than not be paired with see-through sheers of voile, organdy, and dotted swiss.

Some summer.

SUBJECT: APPOINTMENTS FOR TESTING

Our favorable class situation makes possible an unusually high level of achievement. Students who intend to transfer to our school, however, no matter how capable, find the adjustment difficult without preparatory work. An early testing appointment, preferably before Easter, and a discovery of any weaknesses would be useful to parents planning to apply for September admission.

Concerning new inquiries, we should like to issue the following statement:

The Ranney School is old-fashioned and authoritarian—dedicated to the maintenance of high standards of scholarship and conduct. Students assume that failure in either of these areas will lead to dismissal. Permissive, "progressive" parents would not be happy with these standards, and should be aware of these policies before considering application.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Red Bank

How the power of God operates in human affairs is explored in the Bible lesson to be read Sunday. The Golden Text is from Luke (18:27): "The things which eye cannot see, nor ear can hear, nor man can think, are the things which God has prepared for them who love him."

Several dramatic examples will be read from the Bible, illustrating the availability of divine power in overcoming the discordant conditions of material existence. The subject is "Unreality." Citations from the Christian Science textbook will include these lines: "From beginning to end, the universe is full of conscious life; the universe is Spirit, Mind, and Love. When man is governed by God, the omnipresent Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

Church and Sunday school are at 11 a.m.

Testimony meetings are held Wednesday at 8:15 p.m.

Punishes Four Youths On Alcohol Charges

RANTAN TOWNSHIP — Three youths received $25 fines and had their driver's licenses revoked for 30 days Monday by Ralph S. Heuser, Jr., acting magistrate, on charges of possession of alcoholic beverages.

Fined were Joseph R. Sidisin, 19, of 21 Schoeller Dr., Union Beach; Brian A. Gillett, 19, of 20 Lillian Dr., Hazlet; and Robert J. Holland, 300 Rt. 38, Union Beach.

A fourth youth, William R. Marotta, 22, of 626 Washington Ave., Union Beach, was fined $25 and received a 30-day suspended jail term for aiding and abetting in securing the alcoholic beverages.

All four were arrested on March 14 by local police.

The Gillett youth also drew a $5 fine for having a delinquent inspection sticker on his car.

Lawrence Scully, Sayreville, was fined $35 and had his license revoked for 50 days for speeding — 60 miles per hour in a 25 mph zone.

Two Fined By Morgan

WEST LONG BRANCH — Magistrate Charles L. Morgan Wednesday fined Thomas J. Byrne III, 21, of 2222 2d Ave., Spring Lake, $10 and Edmund C. De Vito, Paterson, $25, after finding both guilty of careless driving charges filed against each other.

Mr. De Vito received a heavier fine because Mr. Morgan felt he had "exercised less caution" than Mr. Byrne.

The charges stem from an accident March 12 at Beechwood and Larchwood Aves.

Mr. DeVito testified that Mr. Byrne, who was going north on Larchwood Ave., had failed to stop at the stop sign, thus causing the accident.

Mr. Byrne stated that Mr. De Vito, who was driving west on Beechwood Ave., was responsible for the accident because he had been going too fast. Mr. Byrne testified that he had indeed stopped at the stop sign and his testimony was supported by a passenger in his car, Philip Sterlazzo, 23, of 983 Elizabeth Terrace, Elberon.

Says Caution Lacking

Mr. Morgan ruled that neither of the men had exercised "due caution and circumspection" required by the law.

In other cases: Mrs. Rae Litzenberg, 56, of 590 Ocean Blvd., was fined $25 for careless driving March 26 on Wall St. Her car struck a utility pole after she went straight instead of following a turn in the road. She stated that she thought there was another road going straight.

Carmen Gonzalez, 27, of 99 North Broadway, was fined $20 and had his license revoked for 30 days for careless driving. He

Rutgers to Build Med School Model

NEW BRUNSWICK (AP) — Rutgers University will build a $104,000 working model this spring of one of the 16-man laboratories to be used in its new medical school.

Medical School Dean DeWitt Stetten Jr. said yesterday that funds had been donated specifically for the project, to be constructed at the University Heights campus.

He said the model would serve as a proving ground for testing the use of laboratory furniture, lighting, desks and other equipment. It will be put into use in the fall of 1966 when a token class enters the medical school, Stetten said.

Little League Registrations Are Slated

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — The Recreation Commission has announced that registration for Little League will be held tomorrow at Firemen's Memorial Field, West Highland Ave., starting at 10 a.m.

On Saturday, April 10, the commission will conduct its annual Easter egg hunt at the field beginning at 10 a.m. All local youngsters may participate. In case of rain, the event will be held April 17.

A bus trip to Paper Mill Playhouse Millburn, for a performance of "Most Happy Fella" will be sponsored by the commission Thursday, April 29. Reservations may be obtained from Mrs. Ruth Burke, 41 Second Ave., chairman, or Mrs. Evelyn Savage, 46 West Highland Ave.

Revoked List Driver Pays $200 Fine

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — Ivy Medler, Upper Mount Ave., this place, was fined $200 Monday by Magistrate Irving B. Zeichner on a charge of driving while on the revoked list.

Edward T. Quinn, 10 Ocean Blvd., this place, was fined $10 for careless driving.

Bruce Davis, 125 Water Witch Ave., Highlands, drew a $25 fine for careless driving and Charles Johnson, 70 Chestnut St., this place, $25 for disorderly conduct.

Colts Neck Democrats To Study Taxes, Library

COLTS NECK Members of the Democratic Club here will mix money and culture at their monthly public meeting in the Colts Neck Inn Monday night.

The two topics scheduled for the round table are "The Tax Future for Colts Neck" and "Should the County Library be in Colts Neck?"

The club will hear a special report on the recently-published township budget which, according to club president Robert Multer, "directly contradicts much of what our mayor had promised."

Mr. Multer charges that the 1965 tax rate would have been much higher if the town board had not budgeted a 25 per cent cut in the surplus.

"Eating Up Surplus"

"They can't keep eating up the surplus forever," he said, "so they should stop trying to conceal the fact that our ratables base isn't big enough to keep the tax from climbing."

The club also has scheduled a speaker from the Friends of the County Library Association to discuss the pros and cons of Colts Neck as the site for the new library building.

"We have much vacant land that is more central than any site discussed publicly so far," says Mr. Multer.

"We don't know that this is necessarily the best place for everyone, but we'd like to show everyone the advantages Colts Neck has to offer, if the final decision has not been made by the time of our meeting," he said.

Asked why the club did not move on this matter before now, a spokesman explained: "We felt that our town board would have looked into the possibilities of attracting the library here if it was at all feasible."

Lisa Kirk Guest Stars On the 'Hollywood Palace'

By HARVEY PACK
NEW YORK — Singer Lisa Kirk, a top star on the supper club circuit, has five and a half minutes assigned to her this Saturday night as one of the guest stars on ABC's "Hollywood Palace."

"It's almost impossible for a performer to make a big impression in that short a segment," explained Miss Kirk during a recent New York trip, "and that's why I limit my TV appearances."

Miss Kirk has been a lucky lady as far as show business is concerned since in two Broadway musicals, "Kiss Me Kate" and "Allegro," she struck musical gold when she was permitted to introduce three numbers like "Always True to You in My Fashion," "Why Can't You Be a Dope?" and "The Gentlemen Is a Dope."

More years than a gal as attractively constructed as Miss Kirk cares to admit have passed since those two shows were unveiled on Broadway, but Lisa still can use all three numbers in her safe act and win over any audience with the kind of applause a performer receives when certain songs become a trademark.

Sings Anyway
"If I leave out 'Always True to You in My Fashion' they invariably make me sing it anyway," she explained, "I try and eliminate it because I don't want audiences to think it's all I can really sing . . . but it is a good luck charm."

Unlike most singers, Lisa actually enjoys playing the supper club circuit and registered complaints of the customary complaints about traveling and overwork. She's a big hit and her annual stop at the "palace" of supper clubs, New York's Persian Room, is a tribute to her ability. The five and a half minutes she'll use on TV this Saturday she believes afford her the best opportunity to show off within the time limit.

According to Lisa there's some real TV in her immediate future since Blake Edwards, creator of "Peter Gunn," has asked her to star in a new series for him where she will play—of all things—a nightclub entertainer.

The gimmick, Lisa explained, is that this entertainer is a government agent spying for her country in the interest of comedy and adventure. She's quite excited about it and would be more than willing to give up the lucrative supper club trail for a chance to become accepted by audiences in something larger than a five minute guest spot.

Going Strong

Frankie Avalon, the kid from South Philadelphia experts figured would vanish into oblivion within six months of his first record, is still going strong some eight years later and seems to be firmly established as one of the boxoffice champions of the "Bikini Beach" set. Unlike Miss Kirk, Frankie hopes his cafe days are over and he can concentrate on making movies and playing golf.

"I guess I was as shocked as anybody when my records sold," said Frankie, "but I went along with the gag, did the one night bit and gathered in the loot. Now I'm older, have a family and realize how lucky I've been. From here on out . . . it won't be luck but hard work and careful planning."

I asked Frankie why so many successful young singers and recording artists are coming out of South Philly and whether he knew of any secret ingredient in the area, such as the famous drinking water, which might help oil up vocal chords.

"If I had to credit it to one person or thing," he began, "I'd say it was Mario Lanza's home. It's kind of like a shrine in the neighborhood."

Lanza's Success
"Everytime you go by somebody points to it and mentions Lanza's success, and you kind of get to dreaming about it yourself. In the old days I guess they pointed to some successful fighter's home . . . but when I grew up it was Mario Lanza."

Frankie has a dozen feature films to his credit and, by his own admission, he can't understand how anybody put up with him when they were shooting the first few. But he has really hit the jackpot as one of the staples in the lineups of such boxoffice goldmines as "Beach Party," "Muscle Beach Party" and "Bikini Beach," and, since the loot from those films helps pay for golf lessons, Frankie has no intention of getting out of his bathing suit.

The word hospital comes from the Latin word hospes, meaning guests. Hospitals in ancient times were shelters or guest houses for weary or sick travelers.

Television Highlights

7:25-10:30 (9) Exhibition Baseball. New York Mets vs. St. Louis Cardinals, from St. Petersburg.

7:30-8:30 (2) Rawhide. "The Empty Sleeve." A solid Western tale about salt-starved cattle featuring Eric Fleming, Clint Eastwood, Everett Sloane and Burt Douglas. The hero of this one is a one-armed drover who can do practically everything but suffers from the effects of a mysterious past.

7:30-8:30 (13) Speculation. A special discussion on the renunciation of Indonesia's withdrawal from the United Nations has Eugene Burdick, co-author of "Ugly American" etc.; David Mazingo, specialist on Communist China and Indonesia for the Rand Corporation; Sumarto Sosowardjo, Indonesian Delegate to the United Nations; and David Wilkinson of U.C.L.A. participating.

8:30-9:30 (4) Bob Hope Theatre. "Memorandum for a Spy." Part I. A good story, not in the James Bond tradition, but more like the slew of best-selling novels on espionage which have come along since. Robert Stack plays a spy who wants to "come in from the cold," since his last assignment resulted in the death of two innocent people. The Service—as all good fans know—cannot let a man quit. Tonight, he's pursued not only by our side but by an aging Stalinist who hopes to curry favor in Moscow by breaking him down. It will hold your interest and, unlike most two-parters, Robert L. Joseph's play stands up this week and next.

9:30-10 (2) Gomer Pyle. Fun for all. Gomer, assigned to night guard duty at a warehouse, calls Sgt. Carter every two seconds with reports on what he's seen with his own two eyes, and drives the Sergeant nuts. It's a good story idea for Gomer, and Nabors and Frank Sutton are in fine form.

9:30-10 (7) FDR. "Distant Thunder." This episode reviews the extent to which isolationist opinion dominated American thought in the late 1930's, while Axis powers continued their invasion plans and set the seal on the start of World War II.

10-11 (2) Slattery's People. "Bill Bailey, Why Did You Come Home?" Some interesting points are made in this drama about conformity in a large housing tract, but the play is weakened somewhat by characters that are overdrawn. Guest stars include Forrest Tucker, Fred Clark and newcomer Louise Troy.

10-11 (4) Jack Paar Show. Highlights include a monologue by comedian Godfrey Cambridge on problems he confronts on economy flights; an amusing song and dance routine by Genevieve and Reiko; and an interesting bit of hocus-pocus by the Muppet puppets about a talking machine (Color).

11-11 (7) 12 O'Clock High. "The Mission." An absorbing hour. Most of the action takes place aboard the "Piccadilly Lily," and Burt Brinckerhoff does very well in an otherwise routine role of a troubled airman who finds his courage during a mission.

10-11 (11) Harness Racing. From Yonkers Raceway.

10:30-11 (5) Decision: The Conflicts of Harry S. Truman. "The Smallest Nation." Former President Truman recalls an important dispute in the early days of the Cold War—struggle between Russia and the West involving a World War II agreement over Iran. Mr. Truman's recollection of this 1946 Russian "double-cross" is definitely worth your while.

11:15-1 (7) Nightlife. Jack Carter continues his hosting stint with his wife Paula Stewart, Cy Coleman, and trick-golfer Paul Hahn along.

11:30-1 (4) Tonight. Johnny Carson has Milt Kamen, Diahn Williams, and singer Donna Fuller on his schedule for tonight. (Color).

Television Mailbag Ex-Tarzan

By STEVEN H. SCHEUER

Question—I saw a very fine TV drama on "Ben Casey" not too long ago and I was wondering if the leading role of a handsome strongman who became ill from overwork was played by the actor who was once a regular on "Wagon Train." My sister-in-law claims this actor once played "Tarzan" in the movies, but he looks much too young.—Mrs. V. L. Whiting, Ind.

Question—Who played the role of the young man's stepfather in the recent "Ben Casey" drama titled "A Dipperful of Water From a Poisoned Well?" He looked very familiar, but I couldn't place him.—D. W., Old Bridge.

Answer—Scott Miller, who was billed as Denny Scott Miller in the "Ben Casey" drama, played the brawny laborer who ended up in the hospital from overwork. Miller was a regular on the "Wagon Train" series for a couple of seasons and did play Tarzan in one film, in which he was billed as Denny Miller. The role of Miller's father in the drama was played by Hans Conrid, who usually plays light comedy roles.

Question—Did Julie Newmar, who stars as "My Living Doll," ever play a running character in the "Route 66" TV series. I seem to connect her with the role of a "kook" who rode a motorcycle in a few episodes of "Route 66." Am I right?—T. N., East Chicago, Ind.

Answer—You have a very good memory. Miss Newmar played the role of a motorcycling nonconformist in two episodes of the now defunct "Route 66" TV series. She was very effective in the part and these two outings seem to have helped in boosting her stock at the time.

Question—Was the Doris Day movie "Move Over Darling" a remake of another film which may have already been shown on TV? As soon as the film started, I felt I had seen it before. Do I have ESP or is it a remake?—J. C., Memphis, Tenn.

Answer—Although many of Doris Day's recent films give you the impression you've seen it all before, "Move Over Darling" has a legitimate reason for bringing on that feeling . . . it is a remake of the 1940 comedy "My Favorite Wife" which starred Cary Grant and Irene Dunne.

Union Beach Delays A Development Project

UNION BEACH — Proposed developers of Conasconk (E a s t) Point ran into a cold shoulder from Borough Council last night.

Councilmen Bernard J. Crane and Frederick Heckelmann stayed away.

Councilmen William J. Langan and Paul J. Smith walked out immediately upon hearing that only John R. Murray, president of Coastline Utilities Construction Co., Newark, was on hand to present his firm's proposal.

Councilman Philip J. Cassidy left 10 minutes later when Mr. Murray disclosed he would not be prepared to offer a price for the land until he knows assessed valuation—which council doesn't know—and until the governing body states what other considerations are wanted.

Definitely Mr. Smith, as he departed, commented: "I'm interested. I'm definitely interested in it."

Both he and Mr. Langan indicated they want to hear from other Coastline officials despite Mr. Murray's assertion that he was prepared to present the entire proposal and answer all questions.

Gerard A. Barba, coastline engineer, had planned to be with Mr. Murray but is ill.

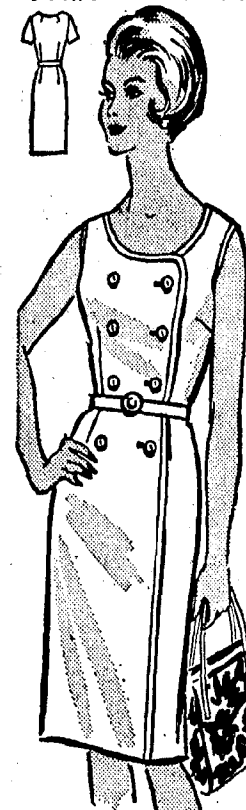

The company president told Mayor Maurice W. Oakley and Councilman Arthur Lembo that the Army Corps of Engineers will not listen to a dredging proposal until the governing body agrees with the planned development of the area. Also hinging on such agreement are discussions with Area Redevelopment Authority officials and investors interested in participating in development.

"All of these people have some indication that Union Beach is willing to sell the land," he commented.

Necessary Factors He said a six-month option is necessary to:

- Obtain Corps of Engineers permission to dredge.
- Obtain A.R.A. participation.
- Learn the extent of a land-fill operation.
- Learn the legal boundaries of the area.
- Plan roads for egress and ingress.

Delays Move To Retain Council Seat

LONG BRANCH — Councilman Henry R. Cioffi today said he was not moving to his new home yet because "there is an affinity on the part of certain members of council to leave council seats unfilled."

Mr. Cioffi, who represents the third ward and has two years left in office, is running for one of three at-large seats up for grabs in the May 11 election.

He has purchased a home in the first ward, but is deferring moving because upon doing so he would, under the Faulkner Act, be forced to resign from the governing body.

The council's tendency to leave vacant seats open, Mr. Cioffi claims, was evidenced when "I sought to have chosen for the seat vacated by Mr. McClintock a distinguished citizen and conscientious member of the Housing Authority."

Hits 'Power Bloc'

"A power bloc on the council would not have him, and now I can not allow this same power bloc, who are not in the least bit interested in the welfare of the City, to have the same opportunity to name my successor, in the same way, and for the same selfish reasons as in the 1963 filling of a vacancy in the third ward."

"I see no purpose in giving them more strength to manipulate City affairs and to weaken the cause for which I have steadfastly fought over the past two years. It is for this and only this reason I chose to stay on Council while the election campaign is raging. We need representation until July 1."

Mr. Cioffi said that he has lived up to his 1963 campaign promise to "be a leader, not a follower."

Votes on Issues

He added that he is neither a "yes" man nor a "no" man, but rather votes according to the issues.

He said his move to the Elberon section was precipitated by a growing family.

Mr. Cioffi disclaimed any political ties, adding that "some of the Council who express admiration for my services to the community are backing me, (as well as expressing support for others) to insure the City has, what they consider, the best at large men elected."

U.S. Homes Plans To Be Considered

MARLBORO — The Planning Board will consider two applications from U. S. Homes when it meets for an adjourned session Monday night.

Leon Avakian of Asbury Park, township engineer, found sections 2A (54 lots) and 3 (32 lots) both to be conforming in lot sizes and drainage specifications.

Section 5 (52 lots) and 7 (48 lots) were returned to U. S. Homes for resubmission. Section 7 has one lot more than was agreed on by preliminary approval. Drainage discrepancies are involved here. The two sections were deferred for two months.

Regarding sections 4 (60 lots) and 6 (49 lots), Stewart M. Hutt, attorney for U. S. Homes, promised to submit the revised maps by Tuesday, so that they could be acted on at the next Planning Board meeting. The need for additional catch basins was the only problem here.

After the board failed to act on sections 2A and 3, Mr. Hutt remarked:

"You omitted to take up our applications on 2A and 3 which were referred to your subdivision committee and scheduled for tonight. I don't want you to overlook this because you only have 45 days to act or approval may be granted by default, and I don't like to get anything by default."

There was a discrepancy between the township's minutes of the previous meeting and the U.S. Homes' court stenographer's transcript. This was in reference to the question as to whether or not sections 4 and 6 had to be brought up last night, or had another month to go.

This was deferred until Monday for action.

Clearly identifiable fossils have been discovered in sediments nearly two billion years old. The most ancient known living things are micro-organisms found in the Gunflint iron formations of the northern Lake Superior region of Canada and adjacent Minnesota. The ancient "germs" are known as microfossils.

All-Shore Symphonic Band Concert Is Tuesday

RUMSON — The 1965 All-Shore Symphonic Band Concert will be held Tuesday in the auditorium of Rumson-Fair Haven Regional High School.

The All-Shore Symphonic Band Directors Association, which prior to this year was known as the Shore Conference Band Directors Association, is composed of band directors from member schools in the county.

Students in Monmouth and Ocean counties are eligible to try out by individual audition for the band.

Unit's Purpose Purpose of the association is to promote the best interests of symphonic band music on the secondary school level and to provide for the exchange of professional information among the band directors of secondary schools in the county.

In addition, the association fosters co-operation, professional growth and good fellowship among its members. The association also provides for supervision and control of inter-school band activities within the county and encourages and develops a more active interest for the above average and advanced bandsman by active participation in a well balanced All Shore Symphonic Band.

The All-Shore Symphonic Band had its start about 20 years ago with four or five schools as members. Since its beginning, the organization has grown so that today there are 23 high schools participating. Not only has the band grown in quantity but the quality has improved each year so that it is now considered one of the outstanding groups of its kind.

Walters Director The director of the 1965 All-Shore Symphonic Band is Kenneth Walters, director of instrumental music at Rumson-Fair Haven Regional High School.

Mr. Walters has been band director in Rumson nine years.

Wants Rail Crossing Improved Mr. Walters served three years in the 389th Army Band at Fort Monmouth. During that time, he attended the Naval School of Music in Washington, D. C. and appeared on national television on the Guide Right program. He has also performed with Joni James, Elliott Lawrence, Ray Eberle, Dick Shawn, Olsen and Johnson, June Hutton, Bert Lahr, Bert Wheeler, Leslie Uggams and the Ray Bioph Associates Orchestra.

Mr. Walters is married and lives with his wife and three children in West Long Branch.

The officers of this year's All-Shore Symphonic Band are Mr. Walters, president; Frank Bryan, vice president; Dominic Soriano, treasurer, and Peter Rundo, secretary.

Mr. Walters said today he is in the process of composing letters to the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Chosen Board of Freeholders requesting improvement of the Washington St. railroad crossing.

He denied a report published yesterday which said he was writing to the state Public Utilities Commission, saying that only a copy of both his letter would be sent to them for their records.

Calling the railroad crossing "very hazardous," Mr. Roosevelt explained that anyone coming north on Washington St. who wished to get onto Joline Ave. going east would have a difficult time because of the angle of the turn at the present time. He said he is suggesting that the radius be opened and that an additional railroad gate be put in.

The City Manager said that since the railroad, the county and the city are all affected by the situation, he is "looking forward to the improvement becoming a joint project." The county is mentioned because Joline Ave. is a county road.

Mr. Roosevelt said he expected to send his letters today or Monday.

Master Plan Zoning Advice Is Discussed ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS—The planning board discussed various features of master plan zoning code recommendations and urban renewal last night.

Although no final action was taken on any particular feature, questions were raised as to feasibility of two- and three-family residences in low density residential areas.

Mayor Russell W. Morgan commented that this master plan is not only for the present but also for 40 and 50 years from now.

'Good Ratables' "The trend is toward garden apartments," he continued, "and you get very good ratables from them."

The master plan has verbal approval from the state Department of Conservation Economic Development.

When final approval is received, the plan will be introduced and public hearings will be held.

Stressing that the master plan is to be used as a guide and not law, Mayor Morgan said that three major changes are contemplated in the Zoning Code.

Proposed are: More zones. There are currently five and will increase to 13 — multi-dwellings in wider areas.

— Some restrictions on areas designated for commercial use.

The Board, Thursday, April 15, will act on amending specific portions of the plan before submitting it to borough council.

Conservationists believe widespread dispersal a rare species of animal into zoos will reduce the danger of extinction should disease or disaster strike down the native herd.

Charity Ball Chairman Appointed

Arthur S. Schreiber

FREEHOLD — Arthur S. Schreiber, owner of Freehold Office Services and publisher of the Colonial Merchant, has been appointed general chairman of the fourth annual Charity Ball for the Greater Freehold Area Hospital Fund.

Ernest Bencivenga, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, made the announcement today. The annual hospital benefit, a fixture on the area's social calendar, is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the Freehold Raceway. In the past three years the ball has raised almost $90,000 toward the hospital's building fund.

Mr. Schreiber has served on the Charity Ball committee since its beginning in 1962. He has been chairman of the program committee, and has also served on numerous committees.

He succeeds Daniel J. Boutote, who served as general chairman last year.

Mr. Schreiber was born in Freehold and graduated from Freehold High School in 1941. He earned his bachelor of science degree in commerce at Rider College in 1948.

Mr. Schreiber lives at 3 Spring Garden Apartments, here, with his wife, Ruth, and their son.

Bloodmobile To Visit Fort April 14
FORT MONMOUTH — After an absence of over two months, the Red Cross Bloodmobile has scheduled another Fort Monmouth visit for Wednesday, April 14, to allow military and civilian personnel to donate under benefits derived through the Fort Monmouth Blood Program.
The visit is being set up as a special convenience to the fort's civilian employees off the post proper.
This time, the Red Cross unit from the New York Regional Blood Center will operate from the Army Electronics Labs Hexagon building, functioning from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Hexagon cafeteria. The bloodmobile is also open to military members and units.
After April 14 the bloodmobile has five field house visits on its schedule for the rest of the year. The fort officials have high hopes of reaching the 50,000-pint mark in 1965. To attain this record, which started in June, 1951, some 2,100 pints are needed.

General to Receive Catholic Scout Award
FORT MONMOUTH — Brig. Gen. Paul A. Feyereisen, deputy commander for plans and programs for the Army Electronics Command, will receive the Pelican Award from Bishop George W. Ahr in Trenton Sunday.
The Pelican is a Catholic award for outstanding service in Scouting.
Gen. Feyereisen is a member of the executive board, Monmouth Council of Boy Scouts of America, and chairman of the council's advancement committee.

IRA to Hear Fort Lab Officials
FORT MONMOUTH — The technical director of the Army Electronics Command Laboratories, and civilian heads of two newly established major subordinate elements of the laboratories, will speak next Tuesday to the Industrial Representatives Association of Monmouth County.
Willie L. Doxey of West Long Branch, the lab's technical director, along with Lester M. Lang of Lincoff and Victor L. Friedrich of West Allenhurst, are the three Fort Monmouth officials to speak to the local professional organization comprised of representatives from electronic firms. The dinner-meeting will be held at the Cobblestones, Rt. 35, Middletown.
Mr. Doxey, who came to Fort Monmouth in 1946, will discuss the reasons behind the electronic lab's organizational changes, expected advantages of newly established lab elements, and how existing functions and missions can be better performed.
Formerly technical director of the Avionics and Navigation Aids Command Management, Mr. Lang is acting director of the Avionics Laboratory. A major objective of the new element is to consolidate in one group all of the Army's avionics research and development.
The other new laboratory subordinate is the Combat Surveillance Target Acquisition Laboratory, with Mr. Friedrich named acting technical director. This function is based on increased in-house capability in its particular area. In the dispersed and diffused ground warfare envisioned today, exact location of enemy targets before, behind or beside a friendly unit is of the greatest importance.
Both laboratory elements were established earlier this year.
The Industrial Representatives Association (IRA) was organized in January. Its purpose is to serve as a unified voice for the local representatives of electronics firms, a group of some 80 members, in promoting and maintaining better relations between the electronics industry and government agencies, and to strengthen industrial liaison with the Army Electronics Command.

Arrest Man For Disorder In City Bar
LONG BRANCH — Patrick J. Coyle, 28, of 421 Rt. 71, Spring Lake Heights, was arrested early yesterday morning on a disorderly persons charge.
He was released on $100 bail for a court appearance April 15.
Police said Mr. Coyle was in Paddy's Bar, 103 West End Ave., and that he became abusive and created a disturbance when they tried to get him to go home at the request of the proprietor, Paddy Murray.
Patrolman Gaetano Mistretta and Joseph Miller were the arresting officers.

Tax Revenue Holding Line In County
NEW YORK — With April 15th month County comes to approximately $80,797,000, according to a breakdown of the statewide returns reported by the Internal Revenue Service. Included is what was paid in the form of withholding taxes.
Local residents, as a result, contributed 5.06 percent of the taxes collected in the state of New Jersey as a whole, which amounted to $1,595,000,000.
Because of the changed situation since that time, the returns from the local area this year, based on preliminary earnings reports, are expected to be in the neighborhood of $3,693,000, a rise of $2,898,000.
The tax rates that went into effect in 1964 after the reductions, when they dropped to a range of 16 to 7 per cent on personal income, went down still further on Jan. 1, 1965. The range now is from 14 to 70 per cent.
Despite this additional cut in rates, which will apply to income received this year, the Administration estimates that tax receipts from individuals will rise by $12 billion in the coming fiscal year.
It counts on a continued expansion of the economy, duplicating the achievements of 1964, when the gross national product rose 6.5 per cent to a total of $623 billion.

Elect Knauff President Of Appeal

NEW SHREWSBURY — Paul C. Knauff was elected president of the New Shrewsbury Community Appeal Monday night at a meeting in the home of the outgoing president, Dr. Frederick Manasse, 25 Mulberry La.

J. Lester Rigby was elected vice president; Mrs. E. J. Norris, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank Stockhahn, recording secretary; Roger Walmark, treasurer; and Bruce Anderson, assistant treasurer.

Mrs. Paul Muench, Mrs. Norman Fields and Mrs. James Schell are newly elected members of the board of directors.

Other members of the board include Joseph Bannan, Andrew Thako, Mrs. Robert Patterson, Manasse. This year 125 workers

Robert Kufny, Stanley Downs, collected approximately $9,000 from 900 houses, an average of $9 per house. This was more than $2,000 above the previous year's collection though short of the goal of $10,000. According to Dr. Manasse, it is the "best ever" held in the borough and "portends well for next year."

Agencies included in this year's drive were Multiple Sclerosis Service Society, and Monmouth County chapters of the Red Cross, Cerebral Palsy, Girl Scouts, Mental Health Association, Heart Association, Muscular Dystrophy, Retarded Children Association and Salvation Army.

3 Decorated At Fort

FORT MONMOUTH — Three men have been decorated here for recent performance of overseas duties.

The Legion of Merit was awarded to Col. Earle F. Mitchell, Army, Commendation Medals were awarded to SFC Henry C. H. Hyun and SFC Javier Vanga, Jr., and Sgt. Hyun received first, second and third oakleaf clusters to his Air Medal.

Col. Mitchell, now retired, was cited for duty from 1959 to 1964 when he is credited with "diplomacy, diligence and technical knowledge" in his assignment in Russia, responsibility for development of the Central Treaty Organization permanent military communications system, and a major role in a system that provides this country with communications to Latin America.

He now lives in Deal and is chief of plans and operations for the new Combat Surveillance and Target Acquisition Laboratory under the Army Electronics Laboratories.

Sgt. Hyun, a 16-year veteran from Oahu, Hawaii, was cited for meritorious achievement in sustained aerial flight in support of ground forces in Vietnam and for service in support of U. S. objectives there.

Sgt. Vanga of Barceloneta, Puerto Rico, was honored for duty with a signal detachment in Vietnam.

Popovers that can't fail

- 1 cup flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon melted butter or oil
- 1 electric range

WITHOUT A FEAR of failure go right ahead and combine the ingredients in the order given. Then confidently beat them together with an electric beater. Grease six custard cups and fill halfway with the blended ingredients. Now comes the reassuring part. Put in the preheated electric oven and bake at 375° for 45 to 50 minutes. If you've mixed everything correctly, you can't fail. The reason why popovers often don't pop is that the oven temperature is not steady. That can't happen here. Because it's flameless, the electric oven can be sealed-in with insulation all around, including the top and bottom. Heat won't fluctuate.

New March Attempt Today In Alabama

CAMDEN, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights demonstrators were determined today to attempt another march on the courthouse of this small southwest Alabama town and the mayor was equally determined to prevent it.

Mayor Reg Albritton, 42, personally stopped three of the four marches staged here this week.

To Survey Traffic Problem

LONG BRANCH — City Manager James F. Roosevelt disclosed yesterday that traffic engineers of the state Division of Motor Vehicles would make a survey of the traffic problem at the junction of Broadway, Bath and Norwood Aves. "sometime next week if at all possible."

The survey is being made to resolve the traffic problem at this point and could result in a change of location for the familiar fountain monument at the junction. The fountain is in memory of the late Dr. Thomas G. Chatfield, father of the city's school system.

Traffic Flow

It would be moved only if it would permit a more efficient and safer flow of traffic at the intersection in question.

Mr. Roosevelt said that if the monument is required to be moved, "it will be to another point of prominence which would show this city's appreciation of this champion of educational reform."

The six feet by two feet area where the monument now stands was designated a park by the city in 1898. It has been inoperative for many years.

Army Units' Rules Being Questioned

WASHINGTON — New Jersey Army Reserve Officers Association officials will query the state's lawmakers regarding the proposed reduction of some Army reserve units and the transfer of others into National Guard organizations.

A resolution opposing such plans has been drafted by the Reserve Officers Association of the United States, Department of New Jersey. A committee has also been formed by the unit to present a set of questions to New Jersey senators and congressmen.

Maj. William B. Lawrence, president of the Monmouth County chapter is a member of the five-man committee which will carry members' opinions of the lack of wisdom of such a move to lawmakers.

The group feels it is unwise to reduce such units or to consolidate the reserve components in view of world commitment of U.S. armed forces. More particularly, the association stresses, in view of American commitments to Viet Nam.

The association has urged the defense department to strengthen the reserve forces of all military services. The ROA has also adopted a resolution pressing the Oklahoma legislature for its action in formally opposing an Army Reserve-National Guard merger. It has also called on the defense secretary to inform the citizenry of the importance of armed forces reserves throughout the nation's history.

Less Meters Asked, Plan To Be Viewed

LONG BRANCH — City Manager James F. Roosevelt said yesterday he would meet Monday at 10 a.m. with members of the parking committee of the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the committee's request for the removal of parking meters in four municipal lots.

Mr. Roosevelt said he had been authorized by the City Council to meet with the group, headed by Arthur Harmon.

In a letter to Mr. Roosevelt last week the committee said the removal of the back rows of meters from these parking lots earlier in the year had been a grand success and called for the removal of all meters.

Mr. Harmon said he felt that the city is losing money on the meters because they pay more for the upkeep of them than they reap in revenue as a result of them. He said the Chamber of Commerce was in favor of free parking with a two hour time limit.

Mr. Roosevelt said he would report back to the Council with the results of his meeting at a caucus set for Tuesday night.

once with smoke bombs. There were no injuries.

The mayor said Thursday he was responsible for the security and general welfare of the town of 2,500 — which has only three full-time policemen — and did not want to use force.

The mayor said he was willing to meet with any of the Negroes to discuss their problems. But, he said, "they shouldn't just come down here for the hell of it."

At Birmingham, Gov. George C. Wallace posted a $5,000 reward for the criminal or criminals responsible for a dynamite bomb which exploded in a Negro neighborhood. Pledges to a reward fund soared to $50,000 within hours after the incident.

"We are sure going to try to find out who did this," the Alabama governor said during a visit to the home of T. L. Crowell, a Negro accountant whose son, Weymouth, 13, suffered a hand cut in the blast.

Soon after the dynamite wrecked a garage behind Crowell's house, time bombs were found and disarmed at the home of Mayor Albert Boutwell and the home of a member of the City Council, Miss Nina Miglionico. — "but on what issue I don't know."

Police said the first bomb might have been a decoy to draw them to the Negro area across the city away from the locations of the other two bombs.

Boutwell was opposed in his campaign for mayor by arch-segregationists and after taking office he appointed a biracial committee to help solve the city's racial problems. However, neither Crowell nor Miss Miglionico was active in the racial campaigns.

Brings Realignment Down To Budget Level

NEW SHREWSBURY — That sticky question of reapportionment came down to the local level last night as Councilman Lawrence J. Kirk read to Borough Council a three-page statement.

"How far from 'one man, one vote' can you get?" Mr. Kirk asked, comparing the recent Supreme Court reapportionment decision and the 1965 Tinton Falls School District budget vote.

"One man, one vote" means that every person's vote shall have equal weight," the councilman's explanation continues. "Our state Senate must be reapportioned because a vote for a state senator in Cape May County is not equal to a vote for a state senator in Hudson County."

Urging council to "look under another rock," Mr. Kirk went on: "On Feb. 9, the school budget was defeated by the voters 541-319. The Board of Education cut $11,000 from the amount originally voted on. The budget was defeated a second time by a vote of 551-309."

"Up to this time, all votes have had equal weight, but please follow what happened next," the councilman continued.

He pointed out that by state law, the twice-defeated budget went to Borough Council and the Shrewsbury Township Committee. The two bodies were to agree, if possible on a budget figure to be certified to the Monmouth County Board of Taxation.

"Let me emphasize here," Mr. Kirk stressed, "that 839 people voted in New Shrewsbury and 21 people voted in Shrewsbury Township."

The two governing bodies could not agree, Borough Council voting a cut of $30,000 from the budget, and the Shrewsbury Township Committee refusing to take action.

In effect, Mr. Kirk alleged, Shrewsbury Township's 21 voters had a vote equal to New Shrewsbury's 839, "and in fact, the 21 ended up controlling the outcome, because their governing body refused to take any action."

Because the two governing bodies could not agree, the defeated budget went to the State Commissioner of Education, Dr. Frederick M. Raubinger.

"He decided unilaterally that it was a good budget," Mr. Kirk continued. "He, and he alone, had the power to decide the final budget, and he is an appointed official, not subject to the will of the people at the polls. The only change was the appropriation of an additional $15,000 from surplus."

Thus Shrewsbury Township voters, 19 of whose 21 ballots favored the budget carried the day, though the budget was twice defeated overwhelmingly in New Shrewsbury, Mr. Kirk explained.

"The New Shrewsbury vote, 290 for the budget and 539 against it, was a clear mandate of the people in a direct and democratic election. How does state law permit this mandate to be made null and void by the 19 people who voted for the budget in Shrewsbury Township?" Mr. Kirk asked.

"And let us not overlook that New Shrewsbury pays more than 98 per cent of the real estate taxes that support this school district."

"One vote in Shrewsbury Township was worth 40 votes in New Shrewsbury. This is even more disproportionate than the State Senate."

Other councilmen made no immediate comment on the statement.

Tuition Costs Are Fixed By Trade School Board

FREEHOLD — The Monmouth County Vocational Board of Education yesterday set tuition costs for its Technical Institute.

Residents of this county will pay $150 per year, plus an additional $15 for registration and laboratory fees. Non-county residents will pay $500 for the year plus the registration fees.

The amount set is per course, which runs for one year from 8:30 to 3 p.m. The institute is set for the former Nike Base on Sleepy Hollow Rd. in Middletown.

Entrance requirements are a high school certificate or the equivalent. The institute program is on a 13th and 14th grade level.

Mechanical drafting technology will be added to the already established course in automotive mechanics.

Retain Birthday Limit For Kindergarten Entry

MONMOUTH BEACH — The Board of Education last night moved its kindergarten registration date up to Thursday, April 22, but decided not to advance the cut-off date for five-year-olds until next year.

Registration, previously in May in the borough hall, this year will be April 22 from 9:15 to 11 a.m. in the school.

Children who would reach their fifth birthday by Nov. 30 will be registered.

The board is changing the cut-off date to Oct. 1 starting next year. Principal Donald J. Gudatis said about six children would have been affected if the date had been moved up for the next kindergarten class.

The board agreed to a meeting with the Sea Bright Board of Education to explore the possibility of co-operation between the two districts in such educational areas as physical education, music and art.

In a letter, the Sea Bright school board noted that facilities for the special classes are restricted in both boroughs because of limited space and resources.

The local board suggested a joint session of the two full boards the first time, and the naming of committees from each district to meet thereafter.

The board authorized the capital expenditure of up to $350 for the filling and leveling of the infield on the larger of the school's two ball fields. The amount will be in addition to $50 appropriated last month for improvements to the mound and home plate.

Driver Fined $15

FAIR HAVEN — John Flynn, 208B Valley Dr., Atlantic Highlands, was fined $15 in municipal court yesterday, on a charge of careless driving.

The cash balance as of Wednesday was $168,267.47. Of that, $91,123.08 is for the improvement authorization for the Long Branch building.

Rumson-Fair Haven School — Commitment To Excellence

By MARGOT SMITH
RUMSON — At Rumson-Fair Haven Regional High School, esprit de corps runs high and fervent among students and faculty alike, and the search for realistic values is part of the teaching philosophy.

A recent full-scale self-evaluation reinforced the enthusiasm and brought kudos from a team from the county Department of Public Education.

Occasioned by the periodic review required by the state Board of Education, the self-look resulted in a recommendation from County Superintendent Earl B. Garrison that the school be granted full five-year approval.

Since last fall, the faculty has been compiling a voluminous report on how well it is doing its job. Students' awareness of the study snowballed into an earnest and enthusiastic effort to put a united best foot forward the day Mr. Garrison and his "team" came to have a look.

It was reported by Superintendent Dr. John F. Kinney,

Dr. John F. Kinney, Jr.

Earl B. Garrison

Jr. that one young lady, asked by a team-member whether she liked the school, answered, with real-live tears in her eyes, "Like it? I love it."

Purpose of the "Approval Through Self-Study," as described by Mr. Garrison, is "to provide a procedure for encouraging schools to assess their needs and develop plans for improving." The team made no attempt to rate the school, but used the visit to review the present and future programs and suggest possible sources of assistance.

Mr. Garrison's report began with commendations for the preparation of the report, and for the school's successes in achieving intellectual goals and meeting special needs of college non-college-bound students. A recently instituted work-study program has been the result of stepped-up efforts in the latter area.

To the school that has often been criticized for offering too many tempting "outside" activities, Mr. Garrison's letter said, "Any measure of pressure that exists seems to be self-imposed by the students. We know that you are constantly checking on these so that they do not become serious."

The guidance program, increased utilization of staff through summer employment and unity of purpose on the part of staff and students were commended.

The letter stated "Your needs were clearly stated and your plans to meet these needs seemed to be specific; a clear distinction was made between short and long range plans."

Suggestions from the team included: clarification of the role of consulting psychologist, (the board has recently decided that its newly-acquired psychologist will advise teachers and parents rather than deal with specific students directly); that the lunch program be more nutritious, (new management in the cafeteria has already reduced the french-fry consumption and boosted warm dishes); that purposes of articulation be clarified and redefined; that the staff continue to try to find ways of fostering greater interdepartmental co-operation and utilization of staff talents and that new means and purposes be sought for broadening curriculum and adding new courses.

Master Plan To Be Heard In Marlboro

MARLBORO — This township's master plan is all complete and set to go to public hearings.

The Planning Board last night learned, in a letter from planner Herbert H. Smith Assoc., Trenton, that the work is done and the public hearings are all that remain before adoption.

The board did not set a date for the first hearing, but had earlier in the year expected to begin by the end of March.

The board approved recommended changes in two zoning ordinances. Both Mayor Walter C. Grubb, Jr., and Thomas Antsell abstained from the voting in the issues. They are both members of Council.

The first ordinance deletes the R-200 garden apartment zone from the township map. If the present zone were built to capacity, there would be over 2,000 garden apartment units in the township.

The second raises the number of lots permitted in a minor subdivision from two to three.

Erdman Appointed
Edward Erdman, citizen member of the board, was appointed to the subdivision committee. He replaces the interim appointee, Chairman Edward Legier.

In other action, the board approved the request of Anthony and Mary Chachula to increase the frontage of their Crine Rd. property by 10.75 feet.

Walter Thorik was denied a subdivision for his property on the east side of Rt. 79 south of Rt. 520 because it was not a conforming lot size.

The board is still waiting for the Jodith Investment Corp., East Brunswick, to resubmit revised maps.

Atlantic Seaboard, New Brunswick, wants its proposed subdivision on Rt. 79 to be classified as minor. This was referred back to the subdivision committee who will contact the applicants.

Last night's meeting will be continued Monday when the board will consider the ordinances now under study.

Middletown Bank Charter Is Approved

TRENTON (AP) — State Banking Commissioner Charles R. Howell today issued a charter for establishment of the Middletown Banking Co.

The new bank would be opened in a new building in the Middletown Shopping Center on Rt. 35 at the Middletown-New Monmouth Rd.

The Keansburg-Middletown, and the People's National Bank of Keyport objected to creation of the new bank. They said the area already has enough banks.

But Howell said Middletown, with an estimated population of 46,000, is entitled to the competition offered by a second bank. The bank was organized with $1 million in capital. The incorporators are John C. Giordano, Jr., Matthew J. Gill, Jacob R. V.M. Lefferts, John T. Lawley, Walter Reade, Jr., and Robert C. Stanley, Middletown; Arthur Efron, Rumson, and J. Raymond DeRidder, Fair Haven.

Says County Can End 'Scrap' Between Governors on Painting

By ELEANOR MARKO
MONMOUTH BEACH — Now really, Mr. Governor. Do we have to have another Battle of Monmouth, or a Battle of Governors?

Sam Steele Smith doesn't think so.

Author of the book "Battle of Monmouth" published in October, Mr. Smith, who lives at 10 Valentine St., is concerned with the fact that Gov. Richard J. Hughes has written a letter requesting that the University of California transfer a large oil painting of George Washington rallying his troops at Monmouth executed by artist Emanuel Leutze in 1845-57.

The governor was quoted as being "disappointed" at being turned down by California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown, and might ask again that the painting return to N.J. only on loan for its Pavilion at the World's Fair.

"I can't see any reason why we need a duplicate when we have an original," Mr. Smith stated to The Register.

"We" happens to be the Monmouth County Historical Association, of which Mr. Smith is a board member. The association owns a Leutze painting identical to the one at the Berkeley campus, except that it is about 3 feet by 6 feet. The painting in California is 23 feet by 13 feet.

"I haven't been able to find one bit of difference," Mr. Smith explained after examining photographs of the two works. The smaller painting hangs in the association's museum in Freehold.

According to Mr. Smith, the paintings have no exceptional historical value. Instead, as artist Leutze painted them in his studio in Germany, where he also painted the famous "Washington Crossing the Delaware" scene.

If Gov. Hughes wants this particular battle scene, Mr. Smith stated, "I'm sure it can be arranged." He added that the society has loaned the state other articles, for instance, for its Historymobile, and feels that a similar arrangement could be made for a loan of this painting.

The University of California at Berkeley was in communication with Mr. Smith before it released its national news story on the possession of the painting.

"They asked me about the battle, and bought several copies of my book," he said. The book contains a picture of the society's identical, but smaller possession.

That California now has a painting of the battle, Mr. Smith suggests:

"Lucky you. Now we (N.J.) have a representative on the West Coast."

As for a representative for N.J. history in the states "in between" the two coasts, Mr. Smith himself is doing a pretty good job. He states that there isn't a state in the union that does not have his "Battle of Monmouth" book. Libraries, colleges and historical societies have been requesting his volume for permanent records.

Unimpressed with the Leutze studio composition, anyway, Mr. Smith ended with: "General Lee didn't look like that. He was much thinner." Added discrepancies in the likenesses of the principals in the Washington at Monmouth scene are noted by Mr. Smith.

Historians will be historians, and governors will be governors.

Top Scout Award Presented

EATONTOWN — The highest adult award in Girl Scouting, a Thanks Badge, was presented last night to Mrs. August Bing of Avon at the annual meeting of the Monmouth Council of Girl Scouts, at the Monmouth Shopping Center Civic Auditorium, here.

This award is given for an outstanding contribution to the Girl Scout program.

Mrs. Bing, who has been a leader, a trainer, a member of the Board of Directors and a council assistant, is still an active volunteer in scouting as a neighborhood chairman. She is also a member of the Selections Committee.

In the presentation of this award, Mrs. Bing was described as inspiring others to the highest ideals of the Girl Scout promise and laws.

Special awards of year pins denoting 10, 15, 25, and 30 years of membership in the Girl Scout movement were presented to 49 women.

More than 300 delegates and guests representing the 2,500 registered Girl Scout adults of the Monmouth Council attended this meeting and elected Mrs. George Blair, Shrewsbury, first vice president, Mrs. Robert Ricker, Middletown, as third vice president, and additional members to the Board of Directors.

Presides at Meeting
Mrs. Harry R. Brindle, council president, led the meeting. She introduced the speaker, Mrs. Adelaide Brady of the executive staff of the Girl Scouts of the USA who spoke about the creative approach to community relationships.

Younger members in scouting, Junior Scout Elaine Nelson of New Shrewsbury, Cadette Scouts Laurie Gibson and Nancy Flanagan of Freehold, Senior Scout Maggie Schwartz of New Shrewsbury, and Carlene LaRason of Fair Haven described some of the opportunities that have been open to them through Girl Scouting.

GIVEN THANKS — Special thanks was given to Mrs. August Bing, center, of Avon, with the presentation of a Thanks Badge, and 25 and 30 year pins, respectively, were presented to Miss Marion Thom, left, Ocean Grove and to Mrs. George Blair, right, Shrewsbury, at the annual meeting of the Monmouth Council of Girl Scouts.

Youth Goes One Better Than Telstar

CHICAGO (AP) — Fifteen-year-old David Belkin said he spotted some shortcomings in Telstar so he built "Star Dust," his own communications satellite, with some extra features.

"I wanted to show how Telstar works and add a few ideas of my own," David said yesterday as he exhibited his model satellite at the Chicago students science fair.

Although Telstar was "a great achievement," he said, "it had no provision for a laser communications channel."

Star Dust has such a channel, he said, enabling it to "transmit voices on a coherent beam of light."

"It would have been an added feature for Telstar," said the high school sophomore. "It has to transmit by radio and if something goes wrong, that can't be used. If it had a laser, then it would have another medium to transmit voices or data."

A laser is an electronic device producing an extremely narrow beam of light.

Star Dust has another improvement over Telstar, he said.

"I armed it with a weapons laser so if another nation sent up a satellite that threatened it, mine could knock the other one out."

A spokesman for American Telephone & Telegraph, which built Telstar, said the satellite had no laser.

"We're engaged in laser research," he said. "If the boy's got one on his satellite, he's way ahead of us."

Winter Golf League

'Red' Gaeta Retains Title

SPRING LAKE HEIGHTS — Bam Hollow Country Club pro Vito "Red" Gaeta won his second consecutive professional crown in the annual Jersey Shore Winter Golf League championship tournament at Homestead Country Club yesterday.

Gaeta, who became the first golfer to win the title three times — he also won in '62 — shot a 43-41-76 over the par 72 layout.

Mike Burke of Deal was the low shooter in the eighth annual tournament, but his 33-38-71 won him only a daily award since he hadn't competed in enough weekly tournaments to qualify for the title round.

Lane Is Victor

Among the amateurs, there was a slight surprise. Tony Aldarelli of Jumping Brook, who had won the non-pro title in all of the seven previous tournaments, shot a 77 to finish second behind Charlie Lane of Asbury Park. Lane, 23-year-old golf superintendant at Twin Brooks Golf Center, Neptune, fired a one-under-par 34 on the out nine and finished up with a 74.

Bob McDonough of Spring Lake had an 82-10-72 card to win the low amateur net trophy on an 82-10-72 card. Joe Karilis of Asbury Park actually had the top card, 81-11-70, but was ineligible for the top prize, taking a daily award instead. Joe Lee of Colonial Terrace, Asbury Park Press sports editor, and Marty Vink of Asbury Park each had 72s on 82-10 and 92-20, respectively, but Vink was ineligible and Lee lost out to McDonough on the coin flip for the trophy.

William Harris of Asbury Park put a three-iron shot into the cup on the 183-yard fifth hole, but didn't win the hole-in-one contest because that contest took place on the 152-yard ninth.

The closest shot to the pin on that hole was a five-iron shot by Jim Rafy, Sr., that landed eight feet, one inch from the cup.

Harris' ace was his first.

The tourney, which drew a good field of 24 pros and 42 amateurs, held its annual dinner-dance last night where trophies were presented. Approximately 85 golf buffs attended the affair.

Branchers Plan To Stop Singles

Matawan Regional and Manasquan should make for a good one and there are nine others on the schedule, but all eyes may be aimed toward Long Branch following the first big weekend of high school baseball in the area.

It isn't that Long Branch has 20 returning lettermen or a player possessing the talent of a Sandy Koufax or a Mickey Mantle. And the Branchers don't even have a new coach — though it may appear that way.

"I'm sick and tired of getting beat by cheap, through the infield hits," is the way veteran coach "Red" Pierson of the Branchers puts it.

To cut off those "Long Branch beaters," Pierson has come up with an old — not new — defense. The Branchers will field a five-man infield this season, moving one of their outfielders into a position behind second base.

"I hoped it would fail," said Pierson after Long Branch scrimmaged 19 innings against Rumson-Fair Haven Regional 1 a s t week. "The kids just don't believe it will backfire," added the coach, who said the fifth infielder "robbed" Rumson-Fair Haven batters of eight hits up the alley in scrimmage play.

The first official test of the Branchers' infield setup comes this afternoon when Freehold Regional travels to Long Branch for a Shore Conference A Division opener.

Monmouth 9 Opens Season Defeating Paterson, 6-2

WEST LONG BRANCH — Monmouth College's baseball season opened on a successful note yesterday when the Hawks defeated Paterson State, 6-2, in a game that was marred by 11 errors.

Paterson State committed nine of the miscues with five coming in the third inning which resulted in four unearned Monmouth runs.

Don Rooney opened the action in the third by walking. He was forced at second by John Chrzan, who moved to second on a wild throw. Bruce Fischbein was safe at first on a bad throw by the third baseman. When Fischbein broke for second, the shortstop took the catcher's throw but heaved the ball over the catcher's head to allow Chrzan to score from third. Ed Henderson then

Final Registration Set For Middletown Loop

MIDDLETOWN — Final registration for the Major Division of the Middletown Youth Athletic Association, for boys aged 13 and 14, will be held tomorrow at the Middletown Township High School Stadium between noon and 1:00 p.m.

The Major Division is a fully uniformed league with teams entered from Middletown, Atlantic Highlands and Highlands. Six teams participated during the 1964 inaugural season. Two additional teams are being planned for this season and men interested in managing should contact the Major Division Commissioner Nick Mullaney, 453 Leonardville Rd., Belford. Major Division official play begins in the first week of June and extends through July.

Twin Double Ruled Out At State's Flat Tracks

TRENTON (AP) — The twin double betting system, which has made many a $2 better king for a day with new-found riches, won't be used at New Jersey's thoroughbred tracks during the 1965 racing season.

The State Racing Commission voted unanimously yesterday to drop the twin double at the Atlantic City and Garden State race tracks, where it had been in operation since 1963.

The twin double will remain in use at Freehold Raceway, New Jersey's only harness track.

Thomas J. Brogan, chairman of the commission, said he believes the twin double had almost turned betting at the thoroughbred tracks into a lottery because of the huge payoffs on $2 bets.

Brogan said another factor in the commission's decision was concern over incidents in other states involving twin double payoffs. He said the commission wanted to avoid similar incidents in New Jersey.

The commission's main reason for permitting twin double betting on a trial basis, Brogan said, was to boost attendance and the state's share of the betting revenue.

He said the commission doesn't think double pools have led to appreciable increase in either at the thoroughbred track.

The vote to drop the twin doubles was unanimous, Brogan said.

The twin double went into effect at Atlantic City Race Track and Freehold Raceway on Sept. 3, 1963. Later in the 1963 season it was permitted at Garden State. The three tracks used the twin double throughout the 1964 season.

The twin double has never been used at New Jersey's other thoroughbred track, Monmouth Park.

Brogan said the twin double would remain in effect at Freehold because the payoffs have not been as large as at the thoroughbred tracks. Another factor, he said, was the competition Freehold gets from Liberty Bell Park in Philadelphia, Pa., which allows the twin double. Liberty Bell is also a harness track.

New Jersey race tracks rang up a record betting handle of $315.9 million last season; with $28.5 million going to the state.

Spahn, Nearing 44, is Slugging Hero in Mets' Win over Detroit

Associated Press
Twenty-two days away from his 44th birthday, Warren Spahn helped pitch and bat the New York Mets to a 4-3 victory over Detroit yesterday.

Spahn hurled seven innings, scattering nine hits and giving up two runs. He also collected two singles, the first driving in two runs in the Mets' four-run third inning.

The runs that scored on the southpaw's single were the last two of the inning and proved to be the decisive rallies.

Senators Romp
Another perennial loser, the Washington Senators, bombed Kansas City, 11-4. Joe Cunningham clouted a grand slam homer in the first. Kirkland also singled across a pair in the second. A nine-run outburst in the seventh inning brought the Chicago White Sox an 11-9 triumph over St. Louis. Tom McCraw and Floyd Robinson each rapped two singles in the inning while Danny Cater drove in two runs with a double.

Reds Blank Twins
Bill McCool, Gerry Arrigo and Ted Davidson scattered nine hits in Cincinnati's 4-0 decision over Minnesota. Wade Pinson homered for the Reds.

Three Pittsburgh pitchers also shared a shutout, a 7-0 triumph over Baltimore. The Orioles got just six hits off Tom Butters, Tom Sisk and Steve Blass. Ossie Virgil knocked across four pirate runs with a triple and a single.

Dodgers Use Error
The Los Angeles Dodgers took advantage of Tony Taylor's fifth-inning error and defeated Philadelphia, 6-3. The Dodgers failed three times after Taylor dropped a potential double play ball. Willie Davis batted in four runs, two in the fifth.

The Los Angeles Angels came up with two runs in the seventh inning for a 5-3 victory over their Seattle farm club.

Two Arizona games, Cleveland-Boston and San Francisco-Chicago Cubs, were rained out. The Boston cancellation was only the second at Scottsdale in seven years.

Win Starved Aaron In Greensboro Lead

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Tommy Aaron, who has been following the professional golf tournament trail for five years without a victory, cracked par by five shots yesterday for 31-35 — 68 that gave him the first round lead in the $55,000 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament.

He was one stroke ahead of fledgling pro Bill Martindale, who ached the 171-year seventh hole with a No. 7 iron to win a $500 bonus and the British Ryder Cup veteran Bernard Hunt for second place with 67.

Seven-time Greensboro winner Sam Snead and Duff Lawrence shared fourth place at 68.

Five First Nine
Aaron, 28-year-old from Gainesville, Ga., crowded five of his six birdies into his front nine and stumbled slightly near the end, hitting into a trap for a bogey four on 18. His only other missed green, No. 18, was balanced when he ran in a seven-foot par putt.

Loser of two playoffs and second place finisher on two other occasions in 1963, Aaron was pleased and surprised at playing so well over the 7,000-yard, par 36.

Trimmed were pitchers Jim Brennen, Tom Dukes and Jim Marujo; catchers Jake Gibbs and Billy Madden; and infielders Mike Hegan and Horace Clarke. All go to the Yankees' minor league base at Hollywood, Fla., for reassignment.

The Yankees now are carrying 25 on their roster and two not on the roster, outfielder Arturo Lopez and catcher Bob Schmidt.

Yanks Cut 7

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The New York Yankees cut seven players from their squad yesterday putting them one below the opening day limit of 28.

Trimmed were pitchers Jim Brennen, Tom Dukes and Jim Marujo; catchers Jake Gibbs and Billy Madden; and infielders Mike Hegan and Horace Clarke. All go to the Yankees' minor league base at Hollywood, Fla., for reassignment.

Brick Rips CBA, 5-1, on No-Hitter

BRICK TOWNSHIP — Wayne Lindskog posted the second no-hitter at Brick Township high school since 1962 yesterday afternoon when he turned the trick against Christian Brothers Academy on the way to a 5-1 baseball victory.

It was the opening game for both teams.

The last player to toss a no-hitter for Brick was Dick Hudak.

Lindskog struck out seven CBA batters and gave up four bases on balls.

CBA's only run was unearned and came in the third frame. Charles Friedrich gained first on a throwing error by the second baseman and went to second on the miscue. A sacrifice bunt by Paul Christopher advanced Friedrich to third. From there, he stole home.

A three-run fourth inning broke the game open for the winners. Joe Holsie was hit by a pitch and eventually scored when Glen Lampa singled and Randy Schueler hit in to a force play. Lampa moved over to third on an error by the shortstop. He then tallied on a single by Jay Sendzik with Schueler going to third, from where scored when Sendzik stole second.

Giants Hope Injuries Don't Hurt 1965 Pennant Chances Again

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is an entry in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow on this page daily.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor
PHOENIX, Ariz.—"We've got as good a chance as anybody. There's nothing wrong with this club. We've got some good ball players here."

Herman Franks, one-time catcher for the Dodgers and Cards and a replacement for Al Dark as manager of the Giants this year, shifted a big cigar in his mouth as we talked about the Giants in their camp here.

Franks is on a one-year stint—and that's all he wants. He doesn't need the job for he has a mobile home construction outfit and a string of supermarkets in Salt Lake City and he's got enough to keep him busy and wealthy the rest of his life.

"I think we have a bunch of good arms here," he continued. "The pitching was good last year and it should be even better. I'm a little short in the bullpen and I'd say that's our No. 1 problem."

"We had a lot of injuries last year. We had Juan Marichal, Orlando Cepeda and Willie McCovey out at various times. We lost Marichal for five weeks. That hurt. The club which can escape those big injuries will have the best chance and I'm saying there are five-six clubs in this league which can win it."

"This club is supposed to have a lot of power and it's true. But some of them didn't hit what they should have last year. If it hits up to its potential this is going to be a rough club."

FRANKS admits the Giants have a flock of starters, with Marichal, Jack Sanford, Gaylord Perry and Bob Hendley a possible big four and Bob Garibaldi, the $150,000 bonus beauty, another who could cut in.

Sanford, the big star in the pennant year of 1962, has been idle since last July and if he comes back—and he's looked good in camp games—the Giants would get a big lift. Garibaldi, who had a sore arm last year, has looked good, too. Perry, who could be used in relief but is ticketed for a starting berth, has "looked great" in camp games, according to Franks.

Hendley, once with the Braves, lost some tough ones last year and still wound up 10-11. Among the newcomers here is Bob Priddy, procured from the Pirates, and he has done real well.

Franks was awaiting the return of the Japanese reliever, Masamori Murakami, who was involved in that stay-at-home bit.

"If we get him back," said Herman, "we'll be pretty well set. I sure like him."

Tom Haller and Ed Bailey, a recent acquisition, are the catchers although two youngsters, Jack Hiatt, who hit 23 homers for Hawaii and was in the Los Angeles chain, and Cecil Hundley, up from Atlanta, could figure.

And they should be even better. Jose Pagan, the shortstop, had an eye operation and is 12 pounds lighter and should do better than his .223 batting mark of last year.

The great Willie Mays heads the outfield, with the Alou brothers, Jesus and Matty, and McCovey. Harvey Kuenn is a good replacement here.

Among the rookies making an impression in camp is Ken Henderson, an 18-year-old California high school youth who may be kept as a fill-in for Mays. Henderson has looked great as a fielder but needs some help with his hitting. He's a switch hitter.

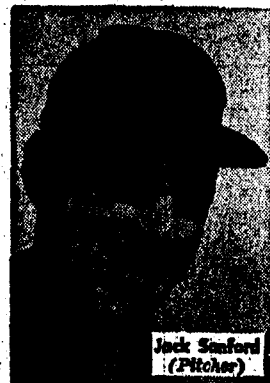

The Giants started their training at Casa Grande, a lush lay-out southeast of here where the farm clubs now have moved in, and complete it here in their beautiful new ball park, constructed a couple of years ago.

Registration Slated For Belford Blues

BELFORD — Registration for the Belford Blues will be held tomorrow at Bayview School Field No. 1, Leonardville Rd., between 1:00 and 3:00 p.m.

The team is open to boys between the ages of 10 to 12 as of July 31, 1966.

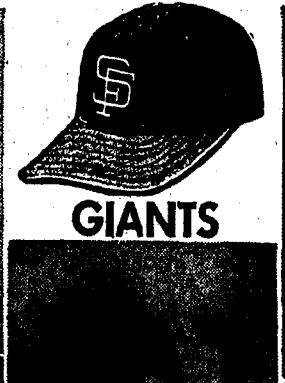

The Blues, a long time member of the Atlantic League of the Middletown Youth A. A., is a fully uniformed team that has won several titles in the past. The Blues will have a new manager this year in Bill Bintliffe, who formerly managed Little League teams in the Buffalo, N. Y. area.

Hayes' Records Are Recognized

LONDON (AP) — Bob Hayes, of Florida A&M University, the Olympic 100-meter champion who recently gave up his amateur standing to sign a professional football contract, was given official recognition yesterday for three world records.

Included in a long list of world track and field records approved by the International Amateur Athletic Federation were Hayes' 9.1 seconds for 100 yards, set in 1963; his 10 seconds flat for 100 meters in the 1964 Tokyo Olympics and the 400-meter relay record of 39 seconds by a U.S. team anchored by Hayes in the Olympic Games.

Henry Carr of Arizona State University and Mike Larrabee of Los Angeles also drew recognition as record holders in both individual and relay events.

Both were members of the U.S. 400-meter relay team that was timed in 3:00.7 at Tokyo. Carr's 20.2 seconds went into the books as the record for both 200 meters and 220 yards around one turn. Larrabee's individual mark was 44.9 seconds for 400 meters.

Torres-Pastrano Bout On TV Tomorrow

NEW YORK (AP) — Jose Torres' upset victory over Willie Pastrano for the world light heavyweight boxing championship can be seen on television tomorrow.

The American Broadcasting Co. announced yesterday it would reproduce the fight in its entirety on the Wide World of Sports between 5 and 6:30 p.m. EST.

Quick and inexpensive. That's the Daily Register Classified.

Splits and Misses

By
PAUL A. ALBRECHT

A short time ago we mentioned Tom Hayden, a 168 average knocker, had rolled a practice 236. Tom took his own game to heart and last week rolled 239-665 in the Ivy League. Tom started with a 10 timer and then left the five pin. All this for fourth place Crown Tire Exchange, which is only three games behind the leader.

The Walk Inn Boys team is front runner. Cronin's Battery & Ignition Service is second, with the Blue & White Bus Lines third. A half game behind Crown is Lloyd's Pharmacy, so there is a real close race here.

There is quiet a bit of action at the Keamsburg-Bowl through the week. There are a few youngsters there who think nothing of throwing 200 games, so watch for some future champs to come out of Keamsburg. In addition, the Keamsburg Ladies Monday Night loop gives away special prizes each week. Here is a sample of few—most nine pins on first ball, most spares for the night, high and low game—second game only, most 8 pins on first ball—second and third games only, low game—second game only, high game—first game only.

The Raynora Civic League is still a two team race between the Knights of Columbus and the Beach Merchants. Only one game separates these two. In the team high series battle, the two teams are in the same order with 2518 and 2728, respectively. Keamsburg Bowl has the high team game—304 and Henry Lahr's is tied with the Knights for second with 305.

Every Saturday night there is a group of eight to 12 couples—called the Evans Group which just rolls for enjoyment. Three members of this group must really enjoy bowling. Ernie Smith comes down from Newburg, N. Y., Carol Christian travels up from Tennessee, and Chet Martin from Virginia. Quite a bit of traveling each Saturday.

There is at least one late league in the County. Every Saturday night, starting at 11:00 p.m. the 11th Hour loop takes over eight lanes at Keamsburg. This is split into the Eastern Division and the Western Division. John Kovacs heads the averages with 182. Nick Atobello is second with 177, followed by Tom Mentall with 170. John also has high series of 659. Bob DiPuccio has the high game—247. All these men are in the Eastern Division. The best the Western group has accomplished is a 211 by Bob Young and a 245 by Bud Oberle.

Jim Crover of Keamsburg Bowl has a fine summer schedule arranged for the youngsters of that area. Each Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoon the kids will have their league—consisting of three games, followed by a luncheon and then a swim in the Crystal pool. All this for a nominal charge. Bowling prizes are included.

Slumping Henry Caronico of the Union Hose 1 in the Red Bank Firemen's loop got hot one week too late. Last week the team rolled a good 1000 game, in spite of Henry. Last Friday night Henry found the range and knocked over 177, 205, and 234 pins for a 616 evening.

It looks like the Women's Community Church loop is starting to circulate out in the Sycamore Ladies. Little Silver Embury Methodist is three ahead of second place St. Anthony's, which is, in turn, is two up on Red Bank Methodist and three over Red Bank Methodist 2. Trinity Episcopal, Red Bank Presbyterian 2 and Fair Haven Nativity are tied, seven off the pace.

The team honors are currently well distributed. Red Bank Presbyterian 2 has high team game—484, and Trinity Episcopal high team series of 1816. There is only one other team over the 1800 mark—Red Bank Methodist 1 with 1803.

Linda Meeker is average leader with 184. Mary Lansdown is next with 182 and Secretary Jane Knoll third, with 190. In high individuals, Jane sports 554, Mary 545 and Linda 533. For high game Mary, Jay Bottilini and Ada Carhart are deadlocked with 216. Linda has 212 and Jane 208. A nice race going here.

MG IN SENSATIONAL WIN AT LAGUNA SECA !!

MG PROVES ITS STAYING POWER AND TREMENDOUS SPEED!

It was no jolting surprise when MG finished both First and Second in its class, in the big race the weekend of October 20, 1963.

But the biggest upset of this gruelling event was when Ron Bucknum's MGB took Second Place over the entire field, only three seconds behind the first-place Cobra!

Eating the dust of the MGB were: Three Stingrays, four Corvettes, one Jaguar, three Lotuses, three Morgans, two Porsches, four Austin Healeys, four Triumphs and one Alfa.

Proof beyond measure that here's a car for that special breed of man who demands the performance and style of a thoroughbred — who insists on the last ounce of engineering skill and craftsmanship, including such luxuries as wind-up windows, all-steel mono-construction, and English leather upholstery in the roomy cockpit.

All in all, a real competition car. And the price? A lot less than you think. Test drive the MGB today.
