Howard Triumphs; Monmouth Margin Tops 6,000

Case's Big Win Brings '68 Talk

NEWARK (AP)—Sen. Clifford P. Case, confirmed by a resounding margin as the most popular Republican vote-getter in New Jersey history, was boosted by jubilant supporters today as a possibility for the 1968 national ticket. Case, 62, rolled to a landslide re-election victory Tuesday over Warren W. Wilentz, a 42-year-old Perth Amboy lawyer who had the backing of the powerful and affluent Democratic state organization. In Monmouth County, Case ran ahead of Wilentz by almost 2 to 1, losing only in Roosevelt, 154 to 128, and Shrewsbury Township, 104 to 103. The county total for Senate was Case 80,290; Wilentz, 41,138. Robert Lee Schlacter, Conservative Party, 1,594, and Julius Levin, Socialist Labor Party, 304. It was the incumbent's greatest triumph in the county, overshadowing his impressive victory over Thorn Lord in 1960, a presidential year, and in his first campaign in 1954. Six years ago he outscored Lord, 85,497 to 49,301, with 80 per cent of 181,883 voters going to the polls. Yesterday's win was fashioned out of a vote of 72 per cent of a 180,000 registration. It was billed as a contest of "man versus the organization" and Case emerged a decisive victor, registering an even greater plurality than his 332,000-vote margin in 1960 when the late President John F. Kennedy carried the state by 22,000 votes over Republican Richard M. Nixon. Case's unofficial margin this time was about 460,000 votes, a plurality of 61 per cent compared with his 56 per cent total in 1960. Leslie Biau, campaign manager for the victorious candidate, said: "His victory gives us a big step up in the task of rebuilding the Republican party, not only here but in the nation. "It puts him in the top rank of those who must be considered for the national ticket in 1968. We in New Jersey are with him all the way." Wilentz, the son of Democratic National Committeeman David T. Wilentz, had complained during the campaign that Case was running for the vice presidency in 1968. Questioned at his victory headquarters in a downtown hotel, Case said he had no plans for national executive office. "It's up to the people to decide," he said. (See CASE, Page 1)

Middlesex Disappoints

FREEHOLD — Scoring a tremendous personal victory in the middle of a ticket bending Republican top and bottom, Democratic Rep. James J. Howard was re-elected by 9,435 votes yesterday. These are the major totals: Monmouth — Howard, 64,870; Coleman, 58,570; Watkins, 801; Ocean, Howard, 5,312; Coleman, 4,132; Watkins, 111; Middlesex, Howard, 11,162; Coleman, 8,207. The vote in Ocean between Howard and Coleman was 3,118 to 2,225 in Lakewood; 2,063 to 1,574 in Jackson; and 133 to 333 in Plumsted; and in Middlesex, 4,970 to 4,458 in Madison; 4,156 to 3,422 in Sayreville, and 2,036 to 1,328 in South Amboy. Congressman Howard's advantages in the distant counties fell far short of his expectations but, comparatively, his strength in Monmouth was surprising in the light of Republican trends in other contests. His aides had predicted a margin of five to seven thousand in Monmouth, but also had looked for at least as large a bulge in the three towns of Middlesex and at least 3,000 votes in the three Ocean County towns. For his campaign, Mr. Howard had put his record of support for President Johnson in Viet Nam and in the Great Society on the line. But he had also pressed his sponsorship of bills for "truth in packaging, water pollution control and traffic safety," as well as his personal service in his freshmen years. Assemblyman Coleman combated his claims with a charge of the "rubber stamp" of the Johnson spending programs which, the Republican claimed, had forced inflation in war time. In 1964, when Mr. Howard topped Freeholder Marcus Daly (See HOWARD, Page 3)

Districting, Race Issues Approved

NEWARK (AP) — New Jersey voters have approved a reapportionment plan to conform with the U. S. Supreme Court's call for legislative districts with balanced populations. It will enlarge the size of the State Legislature for the first time since 1844. NEWARK (AP) — Night horse racing has won approval in New Jersey by a runaway margin, possibly opening the way for a new race track where the New Jersey Turnpike bisects the desolate Hudson County meadowlands in Secaucus. Hudson County appropriately lent the strongest support to the referendum by rolling up a four to one margin in early returns. districts in the state counted. With 3,413 of 4,817 election the vote stood at 657,784 in favor and 426,203 against. Almost 10 per cent more votes were cast on the racing question than on the referendum for reapportionment of the State Legislature. The Monmouth County margin was narrower, 56,548 in favor, and 51,481 against. Hughes' View The New Jersey Council of Churches made morality and economics an issue in the racing question, but Gov. Richard J. Hughes said that the moral issue was settled long ago, and the state could use the extra money from a new track. For years, various committees have worried about what to do with the meadows. A group of wealthy promoters reportedly is ready to build a domed race track at Secaucus, a short drive from any point in Manhattan. Most legislators followed a hands-off policy during the political campaign, preferring to leave the potentially controversial question completely to the public. Little Reaction There was no widespread public reaction to the proposal, except for the church council's attack led by the Rev. Samuel A. Jeans of Merchantville. He charged that night horse racing was "economically unsound, socially disintegrating and morally wrong." (See RACING, Page 10)

Daly Runs High In County Test

By CHARLES A. JOHNSTON FREEHOLD — With Marcus Daly leading the way, Republicans held both seats at stake on the Monmouth County Board of Freeholders yesterday by wide margins. The Lincoln incumbent, who was the stormy petrel of the campaign, and running mate Harry Larrison Jr., of Neptune, outscored their Democratic foes, 4 to 3. Mr. Daly received 67,948; Mr. Larrison, who was appointed to the board in February and was running for the first time, 67,357; Councilman Alfred E. Sanders, of Freehold, 51,598, and Councilman Bruce J. Mangan, of Easton town, 51,481. "The power of the people proved to be greater than the power of the press," said Mr. Daly in a victory statement. His reference apparently was to the fact that none of the daily or major weekly newspapers had endorsed him and most (See DALY, Page 2)

Messina, 2 Republicans Triumph in Shrewsbury

SHREWSBURY — Independent Mayor Frederic Messina was re-elected and two Republicans were placed in office in a cliffhanger of an election here yesterday. Voting was heavy and close to the bitter end, when the contest was decided by the absentee ballots. The Republicans, Alfred J. Cooney and Joseph I. Brennan, were the high vote getters. Their victory was hailed by the GOP as a strong comeback, but it wasn't enough to take control from the Independent administration. Mayor Messina, starting his third term, will hold the tie-breaking vote over a council of three Independents and three Republicans. There are no Democrats in the picture. Defeated were GOP mayoral candidate John W. Hamilton, incumbent Councilman Paul F. Schisler and his Independent running mate, Victor Scotese. Councilman Schisler looked like a winner until the absentee ballots were counted. Here, with the pre-absentee figures in parentheses, is the tally: Although the Independents still hold the edge, this is the closest the GOP has threatened since Mayor Messina and three running mates swept into office in 1962. The Independents have been in control ever since.

There'll Be Some Changes Made A Sweep for Red Bank GOP

RED BANK — There will be some changes made. That was the word from Republican headquarters at 107 Monmouth St. last night as a jubilant crowd celebrated total victory. Four Republicans were elected. They will control the now-Democratic Borough Council and the appointments to be made Jan. 1. "We're not vindictive," said Mayor-elect John P. Arnone, "but we do plan some changes." He mentioned the posts of building inspector and borough attorney among others that may change hands. He deferred specific announcements until after a conference with the new GOP majority, but squelched rumors that the election would affect the Police Department. Mr. Arnone defeated Democrat Daniel J. O'Hern by 409 votes. His running mates racked up even wider winning margins. Councilman Thomas F. Oakley and Joseph J. Falvo won three-year council seats from Councilman John T. Illmensee and John H. Metzler by about 850 votes in each contest. William S. Anderson, low man in last year's election, topped the entire ballot. He defeated James M. Coolahan for a one-year unexpired council term by more than 1,000 votes. Here's the tally, including absentee votes: Mr. Arnone, 2,494; Mr. O'Hern, 2,085; Mr. Oakley, 2,659; Mr. Falvo, 2,850; Mr. Illmensee, 1,808; Mr. Metzler, 1,804; Mr. Anderson, 2,739; Mr. Coolahan, 1,710. Daly

BOOD KING
The freeholder drew adverse comment for booing Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., at a Monmouth College forum and for booing Martin A. Watkins, a Congressional candidate critical of the Viet Nam war, at a candidates' luncheon held by the League of Women Voters.

He was criticized by newspapers and public officials for his proposals to use welfare records to prosecute unwed parents for adultery and fornication if they sought aid for their children. This issue touched off volumes of pro and con sentiment which Mr. Daly indicated he believes was decided by voters in his favor.

Asked if he intended to pursue the suggestions he has made for prosecution, Mr. Daly said he was waiting for a reply from Prosecutor Vincent P. Keuper on 10 specific cases on which the freeholder had forwarded information.

The county Welfare Board resumed Oct. 19 to approve the Daly plan but the freeholder, asserting he had obtained information from other public sources, sent data to Mr. Keuper of 10 family units with between three and 10 fatherless children each.

"I understand the prosecutor is investigating this information and I expect to hear from him," Mr. Daly said.

"I know Vince very well," he added, "and I think he takes a different view than the governor of this state the laws should be enforced selectively."

Cotton Crop Drop Is Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government indicated no disappointment in hinting broadly that this year's cotton crop could fall below the currently reduced estimate of 10.29 million bales.

The hint was dropped in the Agriculture Department's cotton report yesterday noting the 1966 crop is so late in most growing areas that only 49 per cent—the lowest on record for the date—had been ginned by Nov. 1.

And the government said its downward revised total crop estimate did not reflect frost and freeze damage believed to have occurred this month.

Government planning together with farmer co-operation has accounted for much of the expected decline in output from the smallest planted acreage in nearly a century. But the setback has been plagued by bad weather and plagues of boll worms and other insects, sharply reducing yields per acre in major cotton states, including California, Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama.

In only one important cotton state, Louisiana, is output and yield now exceeding earlier expectations.

Domestic use is estimated to rise to about 9.6 million bales before the next crop is gathered.

Alibi Witness Contradicts Testimony Given by Doss

FREEHOLD — A defense witness for William G. Doss set up an alibi for the accused killer of 19-year old Donna DeRier, but it runs in conflict with Doss' own testimony last week.

Mrs. Dawn Bunche, 18, of Wall Township, who uses her maiden name, Dawn Bennett, told the jury before Superior Court Judge Elvin R. Simmill that Doss was home at 4 p.m. Aug. 3, when the killing is said to have occurred.

Mrs. Bunche, under cross examination by Prosecutor Vincent P. Keuper, said she has been living with Doss, a 29-year old knitting machine operator, for 11 months and is the mother of their four-month-old son.

Testifying while the jury was not present, Doss had declared that he was standing on a street corner in Manasquan at 4 p.m. the day of the murder and was picked up by Miss DeRier and an acquaintance, David L. "Block" Corwin, 24, of Neptune.

Doss testified that they drove him several miles to Belmar Blvd. and Rt. 35, Wall Township, where he got out, and that later Corwin told him he had killed Miss DeRier in a woods at Allaire State Park.

Mrs. Bunche, a heavy-framed, drooped hair, soft spoken witness, told the prosecutor she loved Doss and would do anything to help him.

Miss DeRier, of Hawthorne, a Montclair State College coed, was living with her family at Manasquan and was working at a Wall Township supermarket.

Doss, according to a statement read to the jury at the start of yesterday's testimony, told police when he was arrested Aug. 23 how he killed the girl.

Mrs. Carol Doebler, a stenographer in the prosecutor's office, read the statement, in question and answer form, from her original stenographic notes. The questions were put by County Detective Frank Muzzi.

Doss was quoted as saying he jumped into Miss DeRier's car when it stopped in traffic in Manasquan, directed her to drive him about five miles to a woods in the Allaire State Park, Wall Township, where he attempted to rape her.

The statement quoted Doss as saying that he beat her over the head repeatedly with a six-foot long plank he found at the scene when she thwarted his sex assaults.

Doss said in the statement that he was sorry that he had beaten Miss DeRier.

Prosecutor Keuper completed presentation of the state's case after taking Mrs. Doebler's testimony. Assigned defense counsel

Charles Frankel then asked the court to dismiss the indictment on grounds that inadequate proof had been offered, but Judge Simmill denied the motion and ordered the defense to proceed.

When Doss testified last week, he was arguing against admissibility of the alleged confession he had given, attempting to show he had not had opportunities to consult a lawyer or had not been advised of his constitutional rights.

Judge Simmill decided that his rights had been protected and admitted his alleged confession into evidence.

Whether Doss will take the stand before the jury still has not been indicated. In questioning prospective jurors at the outset of the trial which started Oct. 24, Mr. Frankel drew commitments that failure of the defendant to take the stand would not be considered prejudicial to him.

It Isn't Like That, Garr Advises City

LONG BRANCH—Like Magazine, a periodical of social events in the Shore Area, was attacked in a most unlikable way last night when Milton Garr told City Council a city advertisement in the magazine was in error.

The magazine, Mr. Garr said, had renamed Councilman Elliot Katz Irving and had dropped the first name of Councilman Amedeo V. Ippolito altogether, misspelling, in the meantime, the councilman's name Ippolito.

Mr. Garr, who prints Spotlight Magazine, the archetype of Like, said the city ad had been in error in a number of editions. He asked the council to rectify the mistakes.

To which Council President Henry R. Coffl responded: "Well, we have a bet on what they're going to call Elliot next time and you ruined that."

Rockefeller and Reagan In Big GOP Successes

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, overcoming a 3-2 Democratic registration edge and a strong Conservative vote, won a smashing victory over Democrat Frank D. O'Connor, as Republicans won spectacular individual victories across the nation.

The spotlight also was on California's actor Ronald Reagan who will be that state's next governor.

While Reagan was inundating Democratic Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, a new GOP star was rising in industrialist Charles H. Percy's trouncing of veteran Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas in Illinois.

In Michigan, Gov. George Romney barged into the 1968 Republican presidential nomination contention with a landslide third-term victory which swept GOP Sen. Robert P. Griffin and the party's state slate into office.

Edward W. Brooke claimed a voice in GOP councils by getting elected in Massachusetts as the first Negro ever chosen by popular vote as a member of the Senate.

In Tennessee, youthful Howard H. Baker Jr. won a seat in the flock shepherded by his father-in-law, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

President Johnson's home state of Texas sent GOP Sen. John G. Tower back for another six year term in the Senate. Texas also joined in contributing the Republican resurgence in the House by electing two GOP members to break the previously solid Democratic delegation.

Robert Taft Jr., seeking a comeback to Congress after being defeated for the Senate two years ago in the Goldwater debacle, held a slim lead over his Democratic opponent, Rep. John J. Gilligan, with two-thirds of the vote counted in Ohio's 1st Congressional District.

There were stunning GOP gubernatorial victories for Winthrop Rockefeller in Arkansas, Nelson's brother, and for Claude Kirk Jr. in Florida.

Democrats, with holdover majorities from their 1964 landslide, retained top-heavy numerical control of both houses of Congress.

But a Republican gain which could reach 45 seats—33 were nailed down—threatened to change the political atmosphere of the new House, boding ill for future "Great Society" proposals of President Johnson. Gone would be the current Democratic majority of 295 to 140 over the Republicans and with it the fine edge of support needed for several presidential programs.

A potential Republican gain of three in the Senate would not provide too much political pain for the Democrats, now holding a 67-33 margin there. The addition of liberal Republicans might assuage what little there was.

If the Republican gains in Congress were about in line with what could be expected in a non-presidential election year—the average is about 40 for the party locked out of the White House—the GOP increased its strength in governors' races where it counts most in future presidential contests.

Republicans gained control of eight statehouses while losing two, the latter in Kansas and Maine. In contests in 35 states in which Democrats held 20 and the GOP 15, they took governors' offices away from the Democrats in Arizona, California, Florida, Maryland, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico and Arkansas. Of the remainder, Democrats were leading in one and the Republicans in five.

House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford said the Republican showing is a "clear signal to Hanoi that the House will take a much stronger stand on prosecuting the war in Viet Nam."

Echoing this, Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, head of the GOP senatorial campaign committee, said the election outcome "has made it abundantly clear we mean business in Viet Nam."

Morton, Ford and GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss joined in denying that Viet Nam had been an election issue. They said dissatisfaction with Johnson's economic policies helped the Republicans.

It was an important Republican beachhead Kirk won in Florida when he defeated the Democratic Mayor of Miami, Robert King High, to give the GOP its first hold on the governor's office since Reconstruction days.

There was a small political aside in this. Gov. Haydon Burns, defeated by High in the Democratic runoff primary, said Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., had sent staff aides to Florida to help High.

The extent of the white backlash was clear in Alabama.

Mrs. Lurleen Wallace, running as a Democratic stand-in for her segregationist husband, Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, defeated Republican James D. Martin, not quite as outspoken as she and the governor on the issue. She was the first woman governor ever elected in Alabama and the first of her sex to win the office in 42 years in any state.

This victory put Wallace into gear for a third-party bid for the presidency in 1968, a maneuver that might cost the Republicans more dearly in electoral votes than President Johnson, if the latter does the expected and runs for a second elective term.

In Georgia, the lead saw-sawed between Democrat Lester G. Maddox, the epitome of segregationists, and Republican Howard (Bo) Callaway, something of a moderate on the question.

In Mississippi, Sen. James O. Eastland, who heads the Senate Judiciary Committee where civil rights legislation has been mangled in the past, easily defeated Republican challenger Prentiss Walker.

If there was political lesson in these results, it was that Deep South Democrats who voted for Barry Goldwater in 1964 after he had opposed that year's civil rights bill went back to the familiar Democratic column when they were offered an all-out segregationist candidate in that party.

But Rockefeller's victory over Democratic segregationist Jim

Johnson in Arkansas reversed this pattern. It was of the same nature as the success of moderate Republican Spiro T. Agnew in winning the governorship in Maryland over Democrat George P. Mahoney, an opponent of open housing.

Signs that the Viet Nam war figured in the over-all outcome were scant.

In Oregon, GOP Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, who had softened his criticisms of Johnson's war policies as the campaign wore on, was leading for a Senate seat in a contest with Democratic Rep. Robert B. Duncan, who made an issue of his support of Johnson's course in Asia.

In New Hampshire, Republican Harrison Thyng, a former Air Force brigadier general who favored escalation of the war was defeated by Democratic Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, generally a supporter of Johnson's Asia policies.

Republican James C. Gardner, a strong foe of the Johnson administration but a hawk on the war, topped veteran Rep. Harold D. Cooley, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, in North Carolina's fourth district House race.

The Republicans were credited with getting 14 per cent of the Negro vote across the country compared with 6 per cent in 1964. In the east the Negro vote was 21 per cent, compared with 4 per cent two years ago.

Low income voters supported Democratic House candidates 70 per cent and middle income voters 61 per cent, the analysis showed, while the Republicans got the votes of 54 per cent of those earning more than $10,000 a year.

Led by Rockefeller in New York, Romney in Michigan and James A. Rhodes in Ohio, the Republicans solidified their hold on the big electoral vote states. Besides these three, they kept Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin in their column.

By his substantial victory in Michigan, Romney marched to the forefront of contenders for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

But he might have to contend with Reagan, who won convincingly in the biggest-populated state, and who could become the focal point of a conservative drive to win the GOP presidential nomination two years from now.

On the Democratic side, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was having a struggle keeping his home base of Minnesota safe for the Democrats. Democratic Gov. Kay F. Roybaag, for whom Humphrey campaigned down to the wire, was trailing for re-election. Democratic Sen. Walter F. Mondale won a new term.

Robert Kennedy was not so lucky politically. His candidate for governor of New York, Democrat Frank D. O'Connor went down to defeat. Kennedy campaigned also for Democratic governor candidate, Brown in California, Patrick J. Lucey in Wisconsin and senatorial candidates Douglas in Illinois, G. Mennen Williams in Michigan and Duncan in Oregon. All but Duncan were beaten.

Snow, Cold and Wind Strike Midwest Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow, cold and strong winds swept from the southern and central Rockies into wide areas in the Midwest today and appeared headed into the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles.

The snow, which piled up to 18 inches in the high Rockies, spread from northern Colorado and southeastern Wyoming to the Dakotas and parts of Minnesota. Freezing rain and sleet pelted sections of northwestern Kansas and central Nebraska.

Snow amounts in most areas were from one to two inches. But the Weather Bureau issued heavy snow warnings for southeastern Wyoming; western and central Nebraska—and western Kansas. The snow and cold was expected to spread into the 'Upper Great Lakes region by tomorrow.

Snow also fell in northern Arizona, with four inches reported at Flagstaff and two inches at Grand Canyon in a six-hour period.

Below zero weather stung eastern and central Montana, northern Wyoming and western North Dakota. Skies were mostly clear in Montana and temperatures dropped to as much as 12 below zero.

Showers dampened areas from the lower Missouri and middle Mississippi Valleys to the North-east and in the central Gulf Coast area. Nearly one inch of rain splashed the Toledo, Ohio area in six hours and nearly one inch was reported at Cleveland and Findley in the same span.

Fairly mild weather covered areas from central sections of Indiana and Illinois to the northeast but colder weather appeared on the way for many areas. Cloudy skies covered the major part of the nation with clear weather reported in most of California and Nevada.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 12 below zero at Bozeman, Mont., to 78 at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Networks Pay $7 Million For TV Election Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The three major television networks last night put on marathon programs, estimated to have cost them $7 million, to broadcast national election returns and tell who would win when comparatively few ballots had been counted.

The computers that predicted winners shared star billing with the networks' commentators.

ABC called its projection system "RSVP," which stood for "Research, Selected Vote Profile."

"Forget that as soon as possible," said the network's Howard K. Smith. "Just pay attention to the projections."

Ready Predict

CBS had "VPA" — "Votes Profile Analysis." And NBC had "EVA," for "Electronic Vote Analysis." They all seemed to come up with predictions at about the same times. Each network fed its computers returns from precincts specially picked in advance.

Boy Injured In Car Crash

MIDDLETOWN — A five-year-old boy was treated for injuries after a two-car accident yesterday on Leonardville Rd.

The boy was Stephen Hauser, 12 Leonardville Rd., a passenger in a car driven by Marcus Peter, 129 North Lake Dr., New Monmouth. The Peter car was in collision with a car driven by Jozef Szrany of Alpine Manor, Highlands.

The boy was taken to River-view Hospital, then transferred to a doctor's office where he was treated for head pains.

Mr. Peter was given a summons for driving without a license in possession, and Mr. Szrany was given a summons for careless driving. Patrolman Robert Perkins investigated.

From Beer to Champagne

Howard's Celebration

By SANFORD R. STAROBIN

LONG BRANCH — The evening started out with beer, graduated to Scotch and ended with champagne when it became clear James J. Howard was still Congressman Howard.

More than 500 Democratic loyalists were crowded into the main dining room of the Harbor Island Spa to hear and cheer the news. The news, election returns from throughout the county, was good. There were numerous cheers.

Meanwhile, Mr. Howard, the freshman congressman who whisked into office on Lyndon Johnson's coattails two years ago, sat upstairs in a suite, his phone in constant communication with the tallies below, television and radio blaring out the latest.

Shortly after 11, his Republican opponent, Assemblyman James Coleman Jr., called to concede.

Asked when he quit worrying about the election, Mr. Howard said, "I haven't stopped yet."

He said he felt a bit better after the Coleman call, but added, "I have to read it in tomorrow's paper."

Fred Mutz, Mr. Howard's press aide, called Gov. Richard J.

Hughes when it became apparent the Democrats had a winner. He said the governor indicated that if Mr. Howard were elected this time, no one would ever beat him.

Another cause for cheer in the Howard household yesterday was Mrs. Bernice Howard's birthday. The party started shortly after the polls closed. Those first to arrive, generally the lower echelons on the Democratic totem pole, drank beer from cardboard cups and watched intently the changing figures on the rectangular blackboard.

While later, when the smell of victory was thick, the drinks were highballs. After 11:30, when Mr. Howard descended from his third floor observation post, the drink was bubbly, to the extent that fruit juice glasses had to be rushed into service to fill the demand.

As Mr. Howard started for the elevator, a group of partisans rushed him, filling the quiet floor with kisses and resounding congratulations.

The candidate, fielding the kisses and kudos, said, "It's still a little overwhelming. I'm still in a state of shock, I think, I think." As he entered the main lobby, a loud cheer arose. The cheer broadened as he wormed his way into the dining room to the stage. As he approached the dais, an announcer boomed: "They said it couldn't be done in Monmouth County and we did it."

Once on the stage, Mr. Howard said he was sorry that two Democratic freeholder candidates didn't make it. He added, however, that with his re-election the Democrats have a toothed in Monmouth County.

"Nobody can say that Monmouth County is a solid Republican county anymore," he declared.

He said he won this time by clinging to coattails, but the coattails, he told the audience, "were yours."

Democratic County Chairman P. Paul Campi was a man torn between two emotions. He was happy for Mr. Howard, but depressed at the freeholder candidates' showings.

"I'm sorry we didn't win all the way, but next year's another year," he told the crowd.

'Chippy' Coleman Wonders What Put Him on Desert

FREEHOLD — James M. (Chippy) Coleman wondered early this morning why, on a Republican day of plenty, he wound up on a desert.

While a Liberal on the ballot, U.S. Sen. Clifford P. Case, and an equally strong critic of the "Great Society," Freeholder Marcus Daly, were zooming to GOP victories, Jim Coleman was a loser for the first time in his political life.

Son of a great basketball coach and Asbury Park High School educator, and a Dartmouth man, Chip Coleman had the graceful know how of being second best even in a big arena.

He had just come back from finally-breaking through the telephone jam at the headquarters of the winner, James J. Howard, in the Harbor Island Spa, Long Branch, to give his own personal congratulations.

"Wasn't Comfortable" "I got through earlier, and Tim Sullivan (administrative aide) took my message," Mr. Coleman reported. "But I wasn't comfortable. After all, a winner likes to hear from the loser, so I kept at it until I could talk to him.

"Funny thing. We both had some shocks. He expected to go over big in Middlesex and Ocean and thought that was where the difference might be if I were to lose. But I thought the Monmouth result would be much different."

Someone said that the outcome showed a great personal victory for the incumbent and approval of his service record.

"That is obviously so," he agreed. "I emphasized the things I thought should be pointed up and if some of my friends think I did it too forcefully, that's the way I saw it."

PTA MEETS WEDNESDAY EAST KEANSBURG — The Parent-Teacher Association of St. Catherine's Catholic School will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the parish hall.

The PTA will hold a Mardi Gras dance Saturday, Nov. 26, in the parish hall, from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. Music will be provided by Jules Jaffe.

But with Sen. Case's 2-1 lead in the county, and the freeholders' grand spread, the congressional aspirant looks for an explanation.

Whatever the backlash vote may have been, on color, welfare, or war, Jim Coleman is satisfied that he didn't seek and apparently didn't get it.

"Civil rights is not a campaign issue with me," he said. "I didn't vote on a housing question in the Assembly because I didn't agree with it."

"But as chairman and attorney for the Housing Authority in Asbury Park where equal housing is not just talk, I did everything possible to get people out of hovels into decent places to live."

"I lost my own town (Asbury Park: Howard 2,561, Coleman 2,222) and I'm surprised that people have such short memories."

This is the system, a friend suggested, but next year if he chooses to run again for the Assembly or for the Senate in the newly-okayed Legislature, it will be a new world.

Yanks Uncover Caches of Arms, Other Red Supplies in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Only light, sporadic ground fighting was reported across Viet Nam today, but American infantrymen turned up a rich booty in Communist arms and supplies in Tay Ninh Province, the scene of almost a week of hard fighting near the Cambodian border. U.S. 1st Division infantrymen combing yesterday's battlefield uncovered a tunnel complex that had been part of a regimental command post. In it they found a "massive array" of supplies and equipment and 59 bodies, while nearby they uncovered a mine factory with 450 claymore-type mines.

In another tunnel complex the men of the "Big Red One" found eight submachine guns, 11 machine pistols, 3,000 hand grenades, 1,000 rifle grenades, and large quantities of ponchos, ammunition pouches and other equipment.

The U.S. military command said 885 enemy have been killed by ground fire and air strikes since Operation Attleboro began in Tay Ninh Sept. 14. Most of the casualties have been recorded in the past six days.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of American forces in Viet Nam, sent congratulations to the units taking part in the continuing operation.

As the ground action slackened, U.S. planes flew 132 multiple-plane missions against North Viet Nam yesterday and 481 single-plane sorties in the south, while the Vietnamese air force reported 281 sorties.

The American air attacks included four on targets in the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam. One B52 strike was reported today, against a Viet Cong staging area in Quang Ngai province about 350 miles north of Saigon.

Vietnamese military headquarters reported only light activity, chiefly involving road-clearing operations or convoy escorts.

Spokesmen said there were 11 Viet Cong attacks during the past 24 hours but most of them were minor.

In one, the Viet Cong set three claymore mines in a special forces training center 18 miles northeast of Saigon last night. Only one mine exploded, causing light casualties to government troops, spokesmen said.

northeast of Saigon, the 1st Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division reported light contact while sweeping a mountain area northwest of Tuy Hoa. The paratroopers said they had destroyed nine enemy base camps in the past 24 hours, and enemy casualties for the operation now are 41 killed.

U. S. casualties in both Operations Attleboro and Geronimo are officially described as light. The air action yesterday took U.S. planes to areas around Hanoi, Hanoi, Dien Bien Phu and the southern panhandle in North Viet Nam. Pilots reported they hit troop concentration areas, bridges, rail and highway lines, truck convoys, barges, radar and antiaircraft gun sites.

Vietnamese military spokesmen today gave a different version of a report yesterday that the Viet Cong had kidnapped the entire population of a hamlet 62 miles southwest of Saigon.

The number kidnaped was still put at about 90, but the spokesmen said the hamlet, Long Vinh, had a population of 500.

Most Freshmen Democrats Retain Seats in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than half the Democratic freshman House members from normally Republican districts whose votes were vital in enacting "Great Society" programs survived the Republican surge of strength yesterday.

But the loss of even a minority of these solid supporters in the new Congress could well cost President Johnson the chance to finance or expand some of his undertakings, originally approved by close representatives in the House.

The 44 representatives concerned were elected in 1964, the year of Johnson's massive victory over Barry Goldwater.

As the vote count neared completion, this was the status of their bids for re-election: Twenty-four had won second terms, 16 had been defeated—in some cases by the men they vanquished two years ago—one was leading a Republican opponent and three were trailing.

The freshmen's fortunes varied as did other candidates' in this election full of cross currents. All seven from New York and all four from Washington, for example, were re-elected. But of the five who stormed Republican fortresses in Iowa two years ago only one, John C. Culver, survived the counterattack.

Texas voters re-elected two Democrats who had defeated Republicans in 1964—but sent Republicans to Congress from two other districts now Democratic.

A measure of the freshmen's importance to the administration—and of the problems it will face with a reduced margin—is provided by some of the key votes in the 89th Congress.

The House voted 222 to 190 for the controversial open housing section of the Civil Rights Bill, which finally died in the Senate.

Democrat 44 Votes Short Of West Long Branch Win

WEST LONG BRANCH — Joseph J. Cieri, Democrat, yesterday came close to being elected a councilman in this borough, home of the county Republican leader, J. Russell Woolley.

By votes cast in the borough itself, Mr. Cieri led his Republican opposite, incumbent Fred L. Martinson, by five votes. When the 94 absentee ballots were counted, however, Mr. Martinson was the winner, 1,229 to 1,186 — 43 votes.

Mr. Cieri told The Daily Register that this was the largest number of absentee ballots cast in the borough in many years and that he thought there were a few irregularities. After consulting with his campaign manager, Joseph Chiarella, and the Democratic municipal leader, Paul Falcone, Mr. Cieri said he might ask for a recount, "but no definite decision has yet been reached."

Other borough Democrats lost by more substantial margins. Republican Henry J. Shaheen was elected mayor with 1,371 votes against the 952 of his opponent, Democrat Lawrence J. Neyhart. M. Conway was re-elected with 1,268 votes against 969 for his Democratic opposite, Anthony Cosentino.

Issues surrounding Monmouth College and a proposed new borough zoning ordinance played a heavy part in the campaigns of both parties. The Democratic challengers won their highest vote percentage in the third election district, which includes the college campus.

Councilman Martinson attributed the victory, the 14th straight without defeat in Case's 29-year political career, contrasted sharply with his hairline election to a first term in 1954. In that election he trailed far into the night and finally nipped Democrat Charles R. Howell by a mere 3,200 votes, thanks to the presence in the race of pig farmer Henry Krajewski, who died yesterday.

But this time, as in 1960, the contest was virtually decided minutes after the polls closed.

Case even carried Wilentz's home county of Middlesex by 33,000 votes. He piled up wide pluralities in counties such as Essex, Passaic and Mercer where Democratic organizations were at a peak of power.

In Bergen County, which he carried by 103,000 votes in 1960, he almost matched the margin this time with a 91,000 plurality even though there were fewer votes cast in this off-presidential-year election.

Only in the perennial Democratic stronghold of Hudson County did Wilentz make an emphatic showing and even there his plurality was substantially lower than previous years and well below that pledged by the organization.

Ironically, the size of Wilentz's defeat is certain to generate cross-currents in Democratic politics. Some of Wilentz's most vocal supporters, including Newark Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio, had been eying support from the Wilentz family for the 1969 gubernatorial nomination. Addonizio was campaign manager for Wilentz.

"We have a great opportunity, we Republicans, and hope we won't snuff it," Case declared at his victory celebration.

Wilentz, conceding victory when his tote board showed him trailing by 250,000 votes at 10:22 p.m., quipped: "I have decided not to ask for a recount."

But he was obviously disappointed.

Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes, who is barred by the constitution from running for a third consecutive term for governor in 1969, was the first Democrat to congratulate Case.

He watched the returns on television at the executive mansion in Morven and said afterward the people have spoken. He praised Wilentz for waging a vigorous, dedicated campaign.

ed Mr. Cieri's good showing to "the great amount of work the Democrats had put into the campaign and to their blowing up of the college issue, and the fanning of the zoning issue, and to their misleading comments about the new ordinances."

Councilman Conway, at a post-election party, called the election "a squeaker."

Defeated mayoralty candidate Neyhart said he considered the election results "very good for West Long Branch" and pledged an even more vigorous campaign "next time."

Mayor-elect Shaheen told The Register he was "humble and grateful to all those who had helped him attain office." He promised a full review of the whole zoning question, "now that politics is out of it, so that the best interests of the residents would be achieved." He also promised further action on the council's part in the recreation project begun a year ago.

Mr. Shaheen said that while the college and zoning issues may have hurt Republican candidates, it had been "an act of honesty on the council's part to raise the issues just prior to the election."

By 1,700 votes in Monmouth and Ocean counties, he was elected on the coattails of President Johnson, who won the county by 34,000 votes, the first Democratic presidential nominee in 50 years to get a majority.

But in his brief tenure at Washington, the congressman won the favor of the administration and frequently was asked "to steer parts of major legislation through House tests."

And in the campaign, President Johnson put his personal sign of approval on him in a speech in Newark and, over the last weekend, sent his chief political advisor, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, to the district to speak for the congressman.

Register he was "humble and grateful to all those who had helped him attain office." 17-24 Age Group Draws Bulk of License Revocations

TRIDENT — Traffic safety reports for this week with the major portion of license revocations are Monmouth County drivers in the age group 17 through 24, Miss June Strelceki, director of motor vehicles, reports.

Nineteen of the 32 county drivers losing their licenses for speeding and point system violations are in the younger age bracket. Though representing only about 16 per cent of licensed drivers, the group drew 59 per cent of the suspensions.

No county drivers lost their licenses this week for being involved in a fatal accident, but 17 drivers from other New Jersey counties drew suspensions ranging from six months to indefinite. Eleven, or 65 per cent of these drivers are in the age group 17 through 24.

Under the point system program, nine drivers lost their licenses for three months. They are Kurt E. Kruger, 19, of 66 Lenison Ave., Belford; Thomas R. Bennett, 19, of Allentown Rd., Clarksburg; Jeffrey M. Phillips, 21, of 236 Allen Ave., Allentown; Charles R. Falk, 46, of Rt. 38, Port Monmouth; Neal P. Murray, 20, of Crawford St., Shrewsbury Township, Richard D. Ave., Asbury Park, lost their licenses for 45 days.

One-month suspensions were given Clifford R. Toime, 23, of 510 Eighteenth Ave., South Belmar; Michael Malloy, 28, of 49 Riverside Ave., Red Bank; Vernon Sprengle Jr., 23, of Sutton Dr., Matawan; Louis L. Kaplan, 45, of 415 Brookside Ave., Oakhurst; Erik W. Sterner, 21, of Locust Ave., Locust; Robert Freden, 73, of 61 Linden Ave., Highlands, and Charles E. Earp, 24, of 28A LaSatta Ave., Englishtown.

Albert R. Dixon, 23, of Monmouth Rd., Cream Ridge, drew a 20-day suspension; David J. Garrison Jr., 41, of 151 Deepdale Dr., Middletown, lost his license for 15 days.

Two drivers were given 60-day suspensions under the 60-

70 excessive speed program. They are Frank M. Leggan, 18, of 25 Stephenville Blvd., Middletown, and Paul G. Sisolak, 34, of 25 Roosevelt Ave., Keansburg.

Thirty-day suspensions for speeding were given Franklin M. Stanford, 33, of 40 Waverly Pl., Red Bank; Leonard Wickis, 57, of RD 3, Freehold; Alex V. Terry, 51, of Fort Hancock; Frank J. Day, 19, of 23 Karyn Ter., East, Middletown and Nicholas P. Ivanovic, 51, of 602 Holly Hill Dr., Brielle.

The Register's Opinion

A Magnificent Victory

New Jersey voters used excellent judgment in giving U. S. Republican Senator Clifford P. Case a resounding re-election victory over his Democratic opponent, Warren W. Wilentz.

The liberal senator piled up huge margins in virtually all the state's 21 counties, making impressive showings in some of the most staunchly Democratic strongholds. There is no question that his strength served as a victory magnet for many other Republican candidates in the state. Monmouth showed its liking for the senator by giving him 80,390 votes to 41,138 for Mr. Wilentz.

As we have said so many times before, the hope for the Republican party in New Jersey and in the nation rests with men such as Senator Case. His appeal is strong not only among many voters in his own party but among Democrats and independents as well. The results of yesterday's election proved this conclusively.

Mr. Howard's Triumph

As personal victories go, the one achieved by Representative James J. Howard, the Third District Democrat, stands out in a category by itself.

While Republicans over him and under him on the ballot were recording triumphs, Mr. Howard managed to attract enough voters in Monmouth to receive 64,870 votes to 58,570 for Assemblyman James M. Coleman Jr., his Republican opponent. Voters in sections of Middlesex and Ocean counties, also part of the Third District, came through for Mr. Howard, too. But the fact that he managed to carry Monmouth bears testimony to the high regard in which the voters hold for him and for his record.

Mr. Howard was elected to office during the Johnson landslide of 1964. And, as a freshman congressman, he did an excellent job of representing

"We have a great opportunity, we Republicans, and I hope we won't miff it," Senator Case said in a victory statement. He said the Republican party has been too long in the shadows in New Jersey and the time has come for a resurgence of the two-party system.

Coming from the only statewide GOP officeholder, those words have great and significant meaning — and we hope they will be heeded by the Republican party in New Jersey.

It is important now that Senator Case use his influence and the even greater personal prestige brought about by his strong victory to help re-make and re-shape the Republican party in New Jersey.

The GOP in the state does indeed have a great opportunity before it. However, Senator Case must help lead the way — not only in the halls of Congress but among the policy-makers of his own party at the national and at the state levels.

the district and establishing a fine voting record. It is a tribute to Third District voters that they recognized Mr. Howard's achievements — and gave him the go-ahead to carry on for another term in Washington.

We would like to commend Mr. Coleman for the basically high-level campaign he conducted. County Republicans wanted badly to win back the congressional seat held by Mr. Howard. This was important to them. But, as important as it was, Mr. Coleman chose to mount a campaign on the issues as he saw them. A candidate, whether he wins or loses, deserves credit for this.

The Third District — and especially Monmouth County — can stand a bit taller today for re-electing Mr. Howard. His victory is our victory.

A Call for Responsibility

One can only hope, in weighing the effects of Republican Freeholder Marcus Daly's win, that it will not be construed as total voter endorsement of his controversial proposal to prosecute unwed parents for adultery and fornication when they seek welfare aid for their children. Mr. Daly, of course, thinks differently.

He received 67,948 votes yesterday and his victorious Republican running mate, Freeholder Harry Larrison Jr., received 67,345 votes. They defeated Democrats Alfred E. Sanders, a Freehold councilman, and Bruce J. Mangan, an Eatontown councilman, who collected 51,598 and 51,481 votes, respectively.

Mr. Daly's big issue, of course, was his welfare proposal. Mr. Larrison chose to remain silent on the subject. The closeness of the votes they received strongly indicates that theirs was mainly a combination partisan victory and a reaffirmation by county citizens of the entire Board of Freeholders' achievements. But — make no mistake about it — also included was a healthy welfare backlash vote. If that was what Mr. Daly wanted, that was what Mr. Daly got. And although he wanted no part of it, it came to Mr. Larrison, too.

We are pleased that the Republicans continue in control of the Board of Freeholders. They merited this in the absence of a constructive program by the Democrats.

The freeholders, ably led by Director Joseph C. Irwin, are striving to meet the problems of a growing county. This has certainly been a year of accomplishment in Monmouth.

As far as welfare programs go, we look for continued responsibility on the part of the Welfare Board as well as the freeholders. Mr. Daly, we hope, will share in this responsibility — now that the votes have been counted.

It is imperative today that the freeholders resume the important tasks at hand — and continue pursuing programs vital to the county's present and future progress.

Reapportionment and Night Racing

Monmouth County went along with the rest of the state in giving approval to the reapportionment and the night racing public questions on yesterday's ballot.

The reapportionment plan is designed to conform with the U. S. Supreme Court's call for legislative districts with balanced populations. It will enlarge the size of the state legislature for the first time since 1844. The Monmouth vote was 61,769 for the plan and 33,429 against.

On the proposal to approve night horse racing in the state, county voters were much more reluctant. A total of 56,548 voters favored the referendum while 46,552 opposed it.

The reapportionment plan — while not perfect — does answer the high court's "one-man, one-vote" decree. As we have said, no reapportionment plan ever will be perfect. The compromise proposal achieved at the state Constitutional Convention should meet New Jersey's problem for many years to come.

Approval of the night horse racing referendum, without a doubt, will open the way for a new trotting track in Hudson County. This, after all, was the purpose of bringing the question to the voters in the first place. It remains to be seen whether night racing will find its way into Monmouth County at the Freehold Raceway. This reportedly is under consideration, even though residents of Freehold and Freehold Township voted against the proposal.

The big job now will be to control night racing so that it does not grow completely out of proportion and bury more constructive pursuits in the state. If we are not careful, this could happen.

The Inside Washington Report will be found today on page 20.

"You Admit, Then, That You And The Decadent West Belong To The Same Old-Fashioned World"

Sylvia Porter: Your Money's Worth

Steps to Save Taxes

Yesterday's column explained the reasons you might want to convert paper losses on securities you still hold into actual losses in 1966. But you may not want to take your losses for tax savings purposes because you expect your securities to go back up in price. If so, there are ways you can create a tax loss for 1966 and still maintain your securities position.

Of course, you cannot simply sell your stock and then repurchase it the same day or at any time within 30 days. The repurchase makes this a "wash" sale and you cannot deduct the loss from a wash sale. Nor can you avoid this by having your wife repurchase the shares in her name, for that's still a wash sale. Here, though, are three moves you can make.

First, you can sell your shares and on the very same day buy shares in an equivalent company in the same industry. This will give you your capital loss on your initial shares and leave you with a roughly equal investment position.

SECOND, YOU CAN sell your stock to get your capital loss, then wait more than 30 days before repurchasing it. This delay will avoid the wash sale rule, but you'll run the risk that your stock will rise sharply during the 30-day wait.

Third, you can hold your shares, buy an equal additional total, wait more than 30 days after this purchase, then sell your original batch of shares to get the capital loss. This "doubling up" gives you a tax loss while you retain your position, but your risk here is that your stock may decline during the 30-day wait. This would increase your loss on your original batch and also give you a new paper loss on your replacement shares.

A fourth way to combine a tax loss with a retained security position will avoid the risks of the second and third method—but while a court has approved this method, the Treasury hasn't. Don't, therefore, try this unless you and your tax advisers are willing to fight the Treasury in court, if necessary. In this fourth approach, you sell "short" the number of shares you now hold, say 100 shares of XYZ on which you have a tax loss, and at the same time buy 100 shares of XYZ. After 30 days, your broker delivers your old 100 shares of XYZ to cover the short sale.

This gives you the tax loss on your old shares and leaves you with an identical amount of the shares you bought 30 days ago. You are protected from any price fluctuations of XYZ during the 30 days.

ONE CAUTION about all these switching methods is that each requires a sale and a purchase of securities which will cost you commissions both ways. Be sure that any tax saving from your loss will be substantially bigger than your costs before you go ahead.

Here are other points about year-end transactions:

If you have a large paper profit which you want to realize but on which you want to defer paying tax until 1967, you can do this by selling short. This will "freeze" your profit, but will defer any tax until you close the sale in 1967.

If you plan to realize gains, be sure you watch the six-month holding period, for if you don't hold your securities for one day more than that day of the sixth month following the month of the purchase, your gain will be taxed in full. If you bought stock on June 1 and sell it at a profit on Dec. 1, you will have a short-term capital gain, fully taxable. But if you sell at a profit on Dec. 2, you will have a long-term capital gain and only half of this gain will be taxable.

John Chamberlain: These Days

Shriver's Operation Erosion

Poor Sargent Shriver's Office of Economic Opportunity is suddenly getting it from all sides. The Republicans, naturally enough, have been assailing it for waste and bungling, but Shriver has shrugged this off as something to be expected in an election year.

The greater menace to Shriver's future comes from two other sources. One of these is the gang of hungry bureaucrats in his own Democratic Party who want to take over his programs for their own "empires" in the Department of Labor and the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The second source is the legal profession in the state of Florida, where a number of county bar associations are attacking the Office of Economic Opportunity's free legal services program, known as "ad-judicare," on grounds that it is flagrantly unconstitutional.

The flare-up against Mr. Shriver's attempt to establish federally run neighborhood law offices for the benefit of people who can't afford to hire their own lawyers began in Florida's Orange County where an Orlando and Winter Park attorney, Russell Troutman, brought suit against Shriver and the U.S. government for usurping a power that has not been specifically delegated to the OEO agency by Congress.

ACCORDING TO Mr. Troutman, if Mr. Shriver can subsidize local law offices under the guise of "fighting poverty," there is nothing to stop him from setting up dental offices, or grocery stores, or gasoline stations, or newspapers, on the ground that poor people must have free access to all these services. Carried out to the logical extreme, under this reasoning the OEO could have established Medicare without putting Lyndon Johnson to the trouble of getting a Medicare bill passed.

According to lawyer Troutman, the action of Sargent Shriver in setting up a country-wide legal service for the poor comes under the heading of "unbridled discretion." Some $26 million in tax money has been laid out by the OEO for legal services without getting a preliminary okay from the representatives of the people in Congress.

The Shriver office has countered the Troutman suit by asking that it be dismissed on the technical ground that the plaintiff has no "capacity" to bring a complaint. It seems that the action, in Orange County, was "premature," for the OEO had not yet gotten around to organizing any free legal services in that part of Florida.

BUT IF TROUTMAN has no valid complaint in his own central Florida bailiwick, his suit has picked up support in other parts of the state where the OEO is already in the business of supplying free legal services. Phillip Nourse, the head of the bar association of St. Lucie County, with headquarters at Fort Pierce, has joined Mr. Troutman in his action. St. Lucie happens to have a Shriver free legal service operation in full bloom. The Seminole County bar association has also joined with St. Lucie in offering itself as a co-plaintiff with Mr. Troutman. Back in the Thirties, some of the early New Deal programs were invalidated because no specific delegation of Congressional power could be cited to support them. The New Deal Administration quickly repaired the damage by drawing up new support legislation, particularly in agriculture, that could meet Supreme Court specifications regarding delegation of authority. In the intellectual climate of the Great Society, it is, of course, a question whether Mr. Troutman's complaint will ever reach the Supreme Court. But with his own side gunning for him, Sargent Shriver could be deprived of the funds needed to subsidize federal competition with local legal services.

When Congress reassembles, the drive to force "spin-offs" from the Sargent Shriver empire will surely pick up renewed steam. With idealists such as lawyer Russell Troutman attacking him for noble constitutional reasons, and with competing bureaucrats trying to chisel OEO functions away from him for cynical reasons of self-aggrandizement, Mr. Shriver could be in for a tough winter.

John's 83d Birthday

It was a good bash. Anything that can run through two days without a police raid is worth remembering. Big John was 83, and, as he observed sagely: "A man doesn't hit 83 every day." After the party was over, I began to think it was a good idea not to reach that year too often.

The night before the birthday, he put on a collar and tie. He donned a sports jacket that was cut out of a circus tent. The white hair was neatly parted, the teeth were in rightside up and he left the house looking like the last of the big spenders. The tan skin gleamed. The blue eyes sparkled.

We took him to the Carillon to see a Can Can show. Like a naive boy from Wet Moccasin, Okla., he asked what a Can Can is. I said: "Oh, come on. You remember." He said, "It sounds like two big beers." "It's girls," I said. He shook his head sadly. "Oh God," he murmured. "I remember them."

HE ORDERED SHRIMP and Vichyssoise and a slab of prime ribs. "Wait a minute," he said to the waiter, "better bring me a rye on the rocks. What's a birthday without a belt in the kisser?" The waiter said: "It's your birthday. How about a double?" "Make it a triple," my father said.

He had a couple of those. He could see the Can Can dancers without his glasses. He began to hum through the old French tunes. Hans Reiss brought some wine. My sister Adele said: "This tastes good with the entree." My father said: "It tastes good any old time." He waved his fork happily. "Tell me," he said, "is that dancer wearing anything? I mean, on top?"

My sister looked shocked. My father said: "Don't tell me. Let me see this thing my way." Everything was on the rocks, including my father. When the show was over, he and I left arm-in-arm and he said: "They say that when a man gets old, he forgets that stuff. Funny, I can remember, just as plain . . ."

The next morning, he found that the rocks had moved up into his head. "Oh boy," he said sadly, "it's been a long time since I had one of these. Look," he said, "my hands don't even shake." They had died.

IN THE AFTERNOON, he made his usual 10-lap pilgrimage around the swimming pool. Then a shower, and the slick hair shone and a photographer came in and made a picture of him cutting a cake, and using an electric backscratcher on our dog, Rocky. "What will they think of next?" he said. "Instant booze?"

Max Lewis arrived to play old songs on the piano, and everybody had a drink. "On the rocks," my father said softly. Then he winked at me. "This time I won't mix it with wine." Fred Schell came in and my father ordered another, to be sociable. In a little while, he was smiling at the ladies and uttering wittles.

Gayle asked him to open his gifts. For the man who has everything, he received a lot of candy, a desk blotter and a two-foot shoe horn. One of the cards said: "Happy birthday. Just think — six more birthdays and you get the return deposit on your bellybutton."

Frank and Ev Sacchetti sang songs with him, and my brother John mixed a few rounds and Dad winked at the ladies and said: "Happy days." Kathy and Karen had baked birthday cakes, so he had to blow the candles out on both. Some were non-extinguishable and he came close to blowing the icing off the cake.

BIG JOHN CLAPPED his hands and roared with laughter at anything. "I can't think of one kind thing to say about the good old days," he said to his daughter-in-law Anna. "These are the good old days." He winked again and snapped his fingers. "Hotsy tosy," he said. He was flying low.

Max played four versions of Happy Birthday to You, and the verses became somewhat risque. I began to think of how long Big John has been retired. He left the police department in 1933. He's been off longer than on. Young fellows who put the uniform on after my father retired are now retired.

In time the guests left, and Kelly picked up the debris. Everybody was fatigued except my father. "How about you and me going back to that Can Can," he said. Nothing doing. I said, "Hell," he said, "I just want to introduce myself to that Linda Gloria. She's some star."

He went to bed. Lying in the reclining chair, he looked like the ghost of John D. Rockefeller. In the morning, he got up and said: "Which of the mornings is this?" I said it was the third since the party started. "Well," he said, "let me thank all hands for a wonderful time. I mean it. But let's stop the damn thing right here. It's going to take me a year to get ready for the next one."

He'll be ready.

Long Branch Council Approves Completion of the Excelsior

LONG BRANCH — The City Council gave the green light last night for the construction of The Excelsior, a high rise apartment building at Avery Ave. and Ocean Blvd.

The council allowed Raff Construction Corp., of Hempstead, N.Y., to take over the reins of the apartment project, whose growth has been stunted by lack of financing. Robert Fasciani, president of the firm, said he would hold a press conference next month, one day before work is expected to resume on the structure.

Last night's action, taken after a public hearing, released the reverter clause in the deed to clear title to the property and allow the new firm to build.

Successor Is Sought For Erhard

BONN, Germany (AP)—West German politicians weighed the chances today of four candidates to head their government after Chancellor Ludwig Erhard finally agreed to step aside.

Stung by a sharp parliamentary setback, Erhard said last night he would support any one of these four nominated by leaders of his Christian Democratic party.

Rainer Barzel, the party's leader in the Bundestag (lower house); Eugen Gerstenmaier, Bundestag president; Kurt Georg Kiesinger, minister-president of the state of Baden-Wuerttemberg, and Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder.

Christian Democrats in Parliament scheduled a meeting today, but were not expected to take up the leadership issue until tomorrow. They may make a choice tomorrow or Friday, but there was also a possibility the decision might be put off until after the state election in Bavaria Nov. 20.

Because the Christian Democrats do not have a majority in the Bundestag, the party's choice will also have to get the support of the Free Democrats or the Socialists to supplant Erhard.

Erhard, 69, agreed to head a three-member commission to negotiate with the other two parties.

Erhard's coalition government fell apart Oct. 27 when the Free Democrats refused to go along with increased taxes to meet West Germany's obligation to buy U.S. arms to offset the cost of keeping U.S. troops in Germany.

Erhard's decision to step aside was announced yesterday a few hours after Free Democrats and Socialists pushed a resolution through the Bundestag urging Erhard to ask for a vote of confidence—a vote he seemed sure to lose. Erhard refused but said he would not stand in the way of anyone who could form a majority in the Bundestag.

Considered the man most responsible for West Germany's postwar economic recovery, Erhard succeeded the aging but still powerful Konrad Adenauer as chancellor three years ago.

As the party prepared to meet, it was far from clear which of the candidates had the edge.

Powell Wins Again By Big Margin

NEW YORK (AP)—Democrat Adam Clayton Powell has been returned to Congress for his 12th term by an overwhelming vote, but the flamboyant Negro representative from Harlem still faces a jail term today.

Powell was re-elected in yesterday's election by more than a 4-to-1 margin over his closest rival, Lassen L. Walsh, a Republican lawyer who is also a Negro.

The 58-year-old Powell wasn't around election night because of a warrant issued for his arrest for criminal contempt of court.

He did little campaigning in order to avoid arrest for refusing to obey a court order directing him to pay a $184,000 libel judgment to a Harlem widow he called a "bag woman," a graft collector for corrupt policemen.

A New York State Supreme Court justice, Matthew M. Levy, last week found Powell guilty of two counts of criminal contempt as the result of his refusal to pay the judgment. Levy fined Powell $250 on each count and ordered that he serve 30 days in jail on each count, with the sentences to run concurrently. Imposition of the order, however, was held until after yesterday's election.

Powell recently was stripped of much of his power as chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee.

Final returns showed Powell tallied 44,991 votes to 10,637 for Walsh; 3,814 for Liberal Richard Prideaux; and 1,246 for Conservative Ryland Chase.

Republicans Succeed Easily in Matawan

MATAWAN — Republicans captured both Borough Council seats here yesterday amassing their greatest pluralities in recent years.

Swept back into office was incumbent Councilman George W. Conhor with 1,201 votes, trailing behind his running-mate Lawrence J. Bucco, who tallied 1,321.

Defeated in their first attempt at elective office were Democrats Edward C. Dillon, 1,036 votes, and E. Scott Sunstrom, 1,015. The figures do not include absentee ballots.

The only district in which Democrats were victorious was district 2.

Total vote cast was 2,506 out of a possible 3,550.

The victory gives the GOP all seven seats on the governing body.

Oceanport Re-elects 2 GOP Councilmen

OCEANPORT — A pair of incumbent Republican councilmen were swept to an easy victory here yesterday.

Councilman Franklin Ingram polled 857 votes and Councilman George Barrett gained 830 ballots.

Sigurd Andresen, the lone Democratic candidate for a council post, received 471 votes.

Michael F. Kidzus, running with an Independent label, polled 173 votes.

In recent years, Republicans, although victorious, have been winning by narrow margins with top pluralities of generally less than 100.

Huge Dolphin Washes Ashore Problem: How to Get Rid of It

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — You should have seen it. It was seven feet long and weighed nearly 400 pounds.

This is the fish story police are telling here today but they have the evidence, a giant dolphin, to prove their tale. Now they would like to get rid of it.

The mammal, dead, apparently washed up on the sand of Cliffwood Beach during high tide Monday night. It was discovered yesterday by 14-year-old Kenneth Zaniewski, 45 West

Concourse, who lives near the beach.

Patrolman Kenneth Wickland was assigned to answer the lad's call and was stuck not only with the task of recording the fish story but with the task of moving the dolphin from the beach. The officer reported that a plea to Coast Guard officials brought the response that waters off the beach are too shallow to bring in a service craft to tow the fish out to sea.

A report from Patrolman Hugh Richardson had some members of the department considering the advisability of making steaks from the dolphin's flesh.

The officer said a man from an island north of the West Indies informed him that the meat from the dolphin is "very flavorful, like very tender roast beef, not like fish at all."

Latest reports indicate, however, the big fish remains on the beach.

Police Pay Going Up In Township

MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — Police paychecks will be a billion next year, and 7 cents the following year.

Despite opposition by Strathmore Township Council Democrats, the salary increase question was approved yesterday by a resounding 2½ to 1 margin — 2,721 to 1,132.

The Republican organization, and some "old guard" Democrats supported the question. The victory will add $600 to police salaries next year and another $600 in 1968 — for a total package cost of $22,000. It will mean a 1½-cent tax in crease per $100 assessed value to $3,900; sergeant, $4,800 to $5,800; starting patrolman, $4,200 to $6,420; first-year patrolman, $5,520 to $8,724; second-year patrolman, $6,870 to $7,070; and patrolman maximum, $8,230 to $7,430.

Police Search For Speeder

LONG BRANCH — Police continued their hunt this morning for the driver who led Sgt. Thomas Fleidner on a high speed chase Monday morning.

The five-mile chase ended at 2:50 a.m. when the car being pursued crashed into trees at Green Grove Rd. and Asbury Ave. The driver ran into the woods. The chase, police said, brought both cars up to 80 miles an hour.

Raymond Sharabba of Stoney Hill Rd., Easton, the owner of the car, later told police his car had been stolen.

"Our victory has been achieved through the combined efforts of loyal Republicans in every part of our borough."

"Organization, top to bottom, told the story," another GOP worker said. "The party had as many campaign workers as it could use, and they all worked hard."

Mr. Arnone said the reorganization of his party started Sept. 19, when he was elected chairman, and never stopped.

Mr. O'Hern, who is chairman of the Democratic party, made more use of press releases, speeches and public appearances than his rival, and chided Mr. Arnone for not meeting him in public debate. Mr. Arnone charged the Democrat with grandstand politics, and said his grassroots contacts did the trick for him.

District voting indicated that Mr. O'Hern's stand for integration of the Fire Department and First Aid Squad was a handicap in parts of the borough.

He had also campaigned for retention of the Democratic-appointed public works director and continuation of the central purchasing system. Mr. Arnone has not announced his intentions in those areas.

Mr. O'Hern will continue to sit as a councilman, and as acting mayor, until the end of the year. The mayor's post has been vacant since the resignation of Benedict R. Nicosia, a Democrat.

Mr. Arnone, as the new mayor, will hold the tie-breaking vote over a 3-3 council in a situation similar to the administration under Mr. Nicosia.

The election proved the wise tactics of the mayor-elect, who resigned his council seat to create another spot on the ballot. Mr. Anderson will take that one-year unexpired term, and Councilman Ilmensee, appointed by the Democratic majority to serve in Mr. Arnone's chair until the end of the year, will leave the council.

Mr. Oakley was re-elected to his seventh term, and Mr. Falvo, who lost by a hair last year, succeeds GOP Councilman Harold E. Williams, who did not seek re-election.

The Democrats sitting will be Mr. O'Hern, Charles K. Woodward and Theodore J. Labrecque. Mr. Metzler will continue as chairman of the Civil Rights Commission and Mr. Coolahan as a member of the Planning Board until and unless the Republicans make changes in those posts.

Districting

The plan swept to a resounding victory Tuesday despite stubborn opposition from the New Jersey League of Women Voters. With 3,413 of 4,817 election districts counted, the vote stood at 655,540 in favor and 385,673 against.

The first election under the new apportionment will be held in November, 1967.

The incomplete returns showed only two counties, Union and Sussex, rejecting the referendum.

Liked in County
In Monmouth County, it was approved by a vote of 61,769 to 33,420.

The plan presented to the voters was a compromise between Democrats and Republicans that ended a 17-week constitutional convention earlier this year.

The League of Women Voters called it a "political compromise to protect county party organizations."

There was little public debate or enthusiasm over the referendum, however, except the attacks by the LWV.

Under the old system, declared unconstitutional by the New Jersey Supreme Court, each of the state's 21 counties had one senator, regardless of population.

The new Senate will have 40 state senators from 15 districts made up of single counties or groups of counties.

The Assembly will have 80 seats, with two assembliesmen elected from each of 40 districts. These would be subdistricts of the Senate districts.

LWV's Objections
One of the LWV's strongest objections was that the Assembly districts would be drawn by a commission appointed by the state chairman of the Democratic and Republican parties.

Another objection was to the at-large election of senators, which "greatly reduces the chances of the minority party to win seats."

The at-large election of senators was the compromise concession to the Democrats, while the smaller Assembly districts were aimed at placating the Republicans.

The arrangement is expected to give the Democrats continued control of the Senate, and give the Republicans a good chance to recapture the Assembly.

Racing

His home county of Camden was the only one that rejected the night racing plan, according to the incomplete returns.

New Jersey has three flat tracks — Garden State, Atlantic City and Monmouth Park — and one harness track, Freehold Raceway.

College Homecoming Weekend Plans Told

WEST LONG BRANCH — The program for Homecoming Weekend at Monmouth College on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 18, and 19, has been announced by Richard Conte, Ballford, president of the senior class and general chairman of homecoming activities.

Activities for alumni planned by the Monmouth College Alumni Association will be interspersed with the student events. The alumni theme is "Tenth Anniversary of Greek Organizations."

There will be alumni registration and a social hour from 7 to 8 p.m., Friday, Nov. 18, in the lobby of the Physical Education Building. This will be followed by a concert, featuring Jay and the Americans, from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. in the college gymnasium. The public may obtain tickets through the college's student activities office.

Alumni will receive free tickets with compliments of the college's Student Government Association. After the concert, there will be a dance, sponsored by the Interfraternity Sorority Council, off campus.

There will be a luncheon, tour and informal hour for alumni from noon to 2 p.m. on Saturday. The homecoming parade, featuring floats, will start at 2 p.m. at Norwood Ave and Broadway. It will go to Ocean Ave. where a reviewing stand will be set up in Garfield Grant Park. Floats will be judged there and prizes awarded.

A cocktail party for alumni will end the afternoon activities. The annual alumni-varsity basketball game is scheduled for 7 p.m. at the gymnasium. This will be followed by the Homecoming Dance during which the 1968 Homecoming Queen will be crowned.

Senior Citizen Offices to Open Next Week

LONG BRANCH — The Senior Citizens of Monmouth County will hold the formal opening of their office next Monday at 2 p.m., in the MCAP Neighborhood Service Center, 158 Broadway, here.

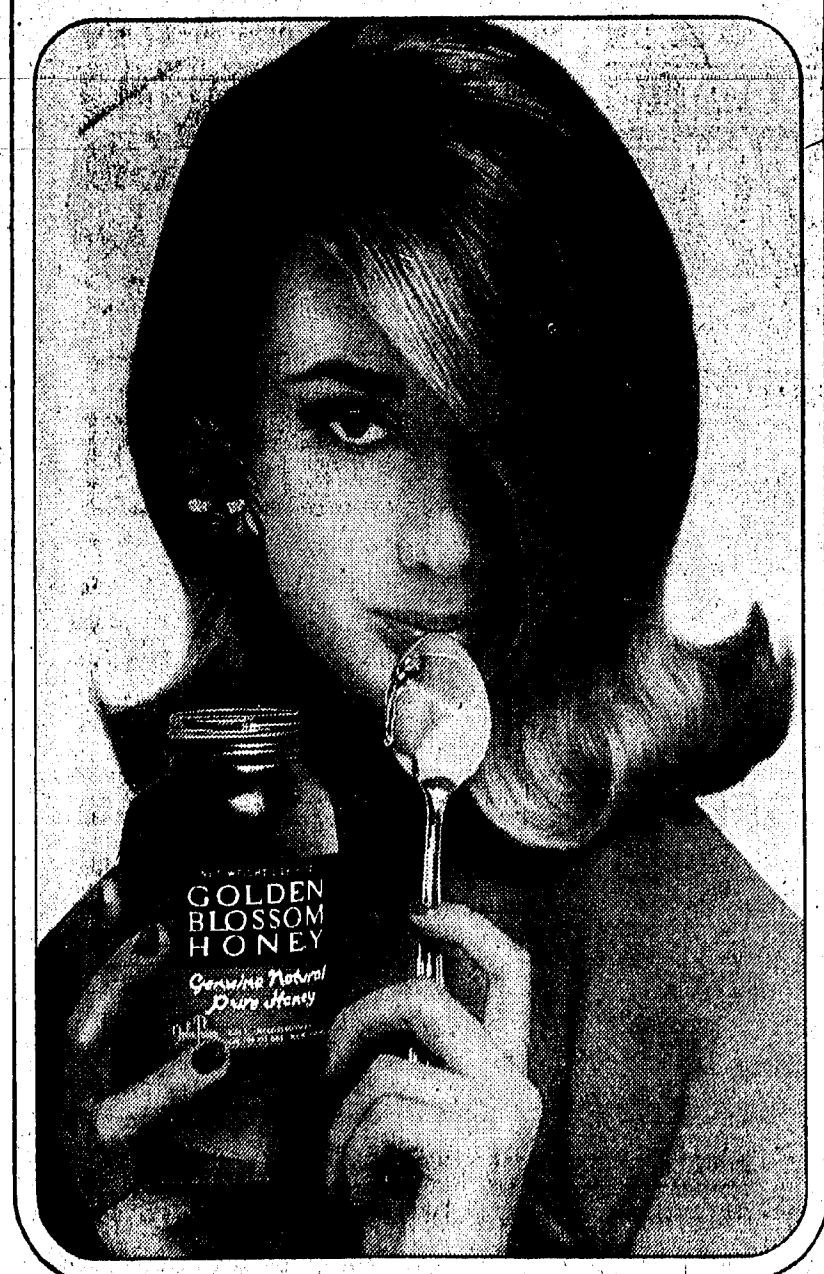

Harry Richardson, president, said the office will be staffed three days a week from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., by members of the Senior Citizens group, an off-spring of the Medicare Alert Program run early this year. Applications will be accepted for full or part-time employment in Monmouth County industries. All senior citizens of Monmouth County are invited to present their problems to the organization.

The Asbury Park office will open Tuesday, Nov. 15; the Red Bank office on Wednesday, Nov. 16, at 2 p.m., in the Neighborhood Service Centers of the respective towns.

CITED FOR SERVICE — Ed M. Kelly Jr., Little Silver, center, president of the J. H. Kelly Co., Rad Bank, was honored at a dinner-meeting Friday by United Motors Service, Division of General Motors, for his many years of service to the automotive parts industry. Presenting the plaque on behalf of United Motors, now merchandised as United Delco, is J. J. Travesias, zone manager, North Brunswick. Raymond McCue, Fair Haven, sales manager with the J. H. Kelly Co., smiles approval. (Register Staff Photo)

Station Move Won't Affect Traffic Plan

LITTLE SILVER — Borough Council has learned in a letter from the county traffic engineer that, should the local railroad station be relocated by the state, the flow of traffic at a proposed rotary intersection at Sycamore Ave. and Branch Ave. would not be affected.

In a letter addressed to the mayor and council, Henry J. Ney said that the county is "going ahead with plans" for a proposed circular traffic complex at the intersection.

He said that a county survey revealed that 15,600 vehicles pass through the intersection from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. and that 460 commuters board trains at the station at the intersection. He said that if the station is relocated under Gov. Hughes' recently announced $30 million transportation plan, the flow of traffic would not change and a traffic light would not be necessary.

The traffic engineer added that the number of persons who use the trains in Little Silver has decreased by 30 per cent since 1961.

The borough now is proceeding with condemnation of two parcels of property for the proposed intersection project.

Mayor Defends Speed Ruling

LITTLE SILVER — Mayor Charles W. Stephens Monday night read a prepared statement defending his administration's action on the issue of lowering speed limits on White Rd.

The mayor said that, in face of recent criticism, he felt he must "set the record straight."

He said that there has been no delay in borough action on the White Rd. problem.

Mayor Stephens said that state officials had agreed to reduce speed limits on the road at a meeting held Oct. 19. The meeting was attended by the officials, the mayor and August E. Roemer, chairman of the Borough Council's police committee, he said.

The mayor said that he had been advised by state officials not to take official action until they sent a report to the borough. To date, he said, the report has not been submitted.

The two-lane road, which runs approximately eight-tenths of a mile from Rt. 35 in Shrewsbury, to Branch Ave., here, has been the center of controversy in recent months. In August, 60 residents of the area petitioned the state to reduce the speed limit from 40 to 30 miles an hour because the thoroughfare, they claimed, is unsafe, especially for children. They also requested that the state declare a no-passing zone.

To Estimate Project Cost

LITTLE SILVER — Borough Council has authorized the borough engineer to solicit estimates for preliminary work to be done on the borough's ball field.

Mayor Charles W. Stephens said that the work would be limited to drainage and filling and the cost should not exceed $2,500.

The council's action stemmed from a recreation commission request that final renovation plans for the field be held over until next year. Mayor Stephens said that the commission had modified an original plan to do half of all the planned work on the field this year. At a recent meeting, he reported, the members decided that only necessary work of drainage and filling holes would be necessary at this time. They proposed that full-scale plans for the area should be withheld and considered under next year's budget.

In other business, Councilman Chester Apy said that the trustees of the borough library had voted to allocate funds in the next year to hire a consultant to study library needs here.

The Barracks will hold its next meeting in the Moose Hall on Monday, Nov. 21.

Keegan Gets Borough Post

RED BANK — Ronald J. Keegan, 224 Spring St., has been appointed by Acting Mayor Daniel J. O'Hern to serve on the borough's Plumbing Examining Board.

He will fill the vacancy left by the late Kenneth Jeffrey, and will serve until the end of this year, Mr. O'Hern said.

Mr. O'Hern also appointed Bradley D. Dupree a regular patrolman effective Oct. 1, when he completed the one-year probationary period.

Fall Bazar
At Medical Home Today

FREEHOLD — The John L. Montgomery Medical Home's second annual Fall Bazar will be held at the home today from 1:30 to 4 p.m., and again during the same hours next Wednesday.

Mrs. Anna Smythe, R. N., supervisor of recreation, said a variety of attractive articles will be offered for sale. All suitable for Christmas gifts, the selection includes ceramic objects, tile coasters, Christmas note paper, candles, free decorations, hot pads and crocheted articles, she said.

Mrs. Smythe said all articles are hand-made by the residents either during crafts activities, or at bedside under direction of volunteer workers at the medical home. "Last year's bazar brought a great deal of happiness to our residents because of the public appreciation of their handwork. We're anticipating an even larger number of visitors this year," she said.

Banker Says Tight Money
Situation 'Not So Gloomy'

By PENNY FISHER
RUMSON — The tight money market is, in the words of one New York City banker, "not quite as gloomy."

But according to Norman C. Ramsey of Bingham Ave., here, "The savings market is still very tender."

Mr. Ramsey, president of the Broadway Savings Bank in New York City, says his own bank "is considering loans again and making commitments," but adds that the market itself is still far from complete recovery.

"There's no doubt rates have gone up," he says, "but they appear to be leveling off somewhat now."

Mr. Ramsey has been in the banking business 30 years. He joined Broadway Savings in 1936 and was named president in 1961.

Norman Ramsey

His professional interest in helping the public is shared with his "off duty" interest in community and civic activities.

Last week he was elected president of Manhattan's Twenty-Third Street Association, a group of businessmen from 18th to 28th St. in Manhattan who are engaged in what Mr. Ramsey describes as a "Broad bank program of self improvement."

The association, organized in 1929, operates on a Chamber of Commerce-type format, aiding business, real estate and residential establishments in its area. Prior to his election as president, Mr. Ramsey served as a member of the board of directors.

In addition, he serves as a member of the board of directors of the Mc Burney St. Branch of the New York City YMCA. Locally, he is a member of the Riverview Hospital board of governors and chairman of the Rumson Zoning Board of Adjustment.

He recently was elected chairman of the board and president of the Mortgage Facilities Corp. of New York, succeeding Lefert Holz, former superintendent of insurance of New York State. He is also a director of the Instl Corp. Inc., Park Ave., New York, and the Institutional Securities Corp. of New York. The latter group performs real estate and mortgage services to New York savings banks. Mr. Ramsey serves as a member of the group's mortgage committee.

Area Residents Are Asked To Observe Veterans Day

LITTLE SILVER — Col. R. Tourtillot (USA-ret.) of 47 Laurel Dr. has called on area residents to observe Veterans Day Friday and to remember the freedoms and privileges Americans have gained through our veterans' efforts to quell aggressors who would disrupt the American way of life.

Col. Tourtillot is chairman of the Americanism Committee, Fort Monmouth Chapter of National Sojourners.

The colonel calls on Americans to review again the advantages of being an American and to rededicate themselves to our form of government. "We must be grateful," he said, "to that great multitude of veterans, over a million of whom gave their lives fighting for the freedoms we enjoy today."

"We must support our veterans of tomorrow," he added, "who are fighting communism in Viet Nam."

Col. Tourtillot calls for appropriate occasions, he adds, and attend the place of worship of your choice.

"If we do these things," the colonel said, "and teach them to our children, we can be sure that our heritage will be passed on to succeeding generations."

Schlesinger to Speak At Monmouth College

He returned to Harvard, as history professor in 1947, and has written articles for Life, Fortune, Atlantic Monthly, Harper's, Saturday Evening Post and other periodicals.

Mr. Schlesinger became special assistant to President Kennedy in 1961 until his death and thereafter, to President Johnson. He left the White House in March, 1964, to write "A Thousand Days," published in November, 1965.

GLASS GALORE — Holding one of his collection of some 1,500 bottles is Naval Lt. Albert J. Banasky, NAD Earle. Here he examines an old ink bottle.

Collecting Is NAD Officer's Hobby

1,200 Rare, Old Bottles

By PEGGY NOLAN
EARLE — When Naval Lt. Albert J. Banasky, 605 Green Dr., invites you into his "bottle room," be prepared for a unique experience.

There, housed in six wooden bookcases are 1,200 rare, old bottles of all sizes, shapes and colors, which the lieutenant has collected throughout the years.

In addition to this display, there are some 300 other pieces of glassware scattered throughout the house.

Lt. Banasky, an explosive ordinance disposal officer at the Naval Ammunition Depot, here, began his unusual hobby in 1951 when stationed in the Marshall Islands.

"One day, as I walked along the beach, I spotted a Coke bottle embossed with Arabic writing lying in the sand. I picked it up and that's how it all started," he commented.

Since then, he has spent most of his free time rummaging through dumps and combing beaches and back roads in search of antique bottles.

His collection includes everything from acid bottles to whiskey flasks.

Medicine Bottles
He is particularly fond of old medicine bottles, some of which are embossed with such slogans as "Bumstead's Worm Syrup," "Golden Age Liniment," "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and "Sloan's Liniment for Man or Beast."

The lieutenant's pride and joy was a 100-year-old, 10-sided ink bottle, which he recently dropped when moving his collection from one room to another.

"I handled it with kid gloves for so long, and then wouldn't you know I'd smash it to pieces," he noted sadly.

Lt. Banasky's bottles are not for sale, but occasionally he will swap with members of two bottle collecting organizations to which he belongs — The Antique Bottle Collectors Association and the Empire State Bottle Collectors Association.

"I'm in it for the hobby. When you start thinking in terms of dollars and cents, you can get carried away," he said. He estimates his collection to be worth $4,000.

According to the lieutenant, bottle collecting has been popular on the West Coast and in Florida and New England for the past five years.

"In another five years, I think it will be a big thing here."

To Write Book
Although he doesn't consider himself a bottle expert, upon retiring from the Navy he plans to write a book for amateur collectors "with good photographic examples to grasp the outsider's interest. I would like also to help form bottle clubs in Monmouth County."

The lieutenant sums up his hobby this way: "Every day we get away from glass; plastics are taking over. It's a shame because some bottles show a great deal of workmanship. Besides, bottle collecting is good relaxation."

Lt. Banasky, who has served in the Navy almost 27 years, is a former master diver.

In 1959, he participated in an expedition to explore Port Royal, Jamaica, a city which fell into the sea as a result of an earthquake in 1692. While there, he recovered several artifacts, among them a watch which is believed to have stopped at the exact moment of the quake.

This and other findings are on exhibition at the Smithsonian Institute, the National Geographic Society and the Jamaica Institute.

Union Beach Democrats In Victory

UNION BEACH — Although they never mounted a campaign, Democrats won victories for two Borough Council seats here.

Democrats Andrew J. O'Boosky and Thomas J. Perno tallied 990 and 845 votes, respectively, to top Republicans Charles A. Hart and his running mate, Ira C. Werley, 804 and 789, respectively.

This is the only municipality in the Bayshore where governing body seats were at stake that the GOP failed to come out on top, although the results were anticipated by party leaders in the area.

Near the close of the campaign, however, the GOP looked for an upset as Republicans Hart and Werley maneuvered for progress in sewers, street lighting and adoption of a municipal code of ethics.

The victory gives Democrats continued total domination of council although Mr. O'Boosky campaigned vigorously against Organization Democrats before the primary election.

Rumson Elects Teeter, Davis

RUMSON — Two unopposed Republicans were elected to Borough Council by local voters yesterday.

They are incumbent Councilman John O. Teeter and James H. Davis, chairman of the local Planning Board. Mr. Teeter received 2,083 votes, Mr. Davis polled 2,043 ballots.

Of the borough's 3,758 voters, 2,658 took part in yesterday's election. The figure does not include absentee ballots.

Top Recruiter

Sgt. Pasquale Spinelli
ASBURY PARK — Gunnery Sgt. Pasquale Spinelli, USMC, Marine Corps recruiting sergeant here, has been named recruiter of the month and outstanding recruiter for the year's quarter.

The sergeant has been stationed in the recruiting office here since November, 1964. He was formerly a recruiting sergeant in New York City.

Ayelet Chapter Initiates Members
MATAWAN TOWNSHIP — New members were initiated at a meeting of the Ayelet Chapter of Bnai Brith Women here in the Oak Shades Fire House. They are Mrs. Alfred New, Mrs. Max Cohen, Mrs. Melvin Singer, Mrs. Ted Krietzman, all of Matawan; Mrs. Elias Wolfe, Mrs. Arthur Lerner, Mrs. Paul Brown, Mrs. George Gordon, Mrs. Howard Friedman, all of Hazlet; Mrs. Leonard Dennison, Mrs. David Shavell and Mrs. Leonard Finkelstein, Lakeridge, Madison Township; Mrs. Jack Tawil, Holmdel, and Mrs. Theodore Furst, Union Beach.

After the ceremony all members of the chapter lighted candles to commemorate the 123rd birthday of Bnai Brith.

A make-up demonstration was presented by Miss Jo Anne Ferrara, beauty consultant. Miss Ferrara also demonstrated wigs and wiglets.

Murder Charge Lodged Against Hospital Patient

MARLBORO — Henry Clements, 26, a state hospital patient, yesterday was charged with the murder of another patient, Mrs. Kathleen Oberman, 28, of 27 Osborne St., Keyport.

Mr. Clements, of Bethany Rd., Hazlet, was arraigned before Magistrate Earle Harrington, who remanded him to the county jail to await a hearing scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 26, at 9 a.m. at the township hall.

He was held as a suspect Monday when the body of Mrs. Oberman was discovered in an outhouse near the pond on hospital grounds. Patients at the hospital told state police a man and woman were seen entering the building shortly before 11:30 a.m., when the body was discovered by an unidentified attendant.

The suspect was examined by doctors at the hospital to determine his competency to face Municipal Court charges, said John M. Gawler, county chief of detectives.

The woman died of a broken neck, hemorrhage of the brain and shock, said Dr. C. Malcolm B. Gilman, county physician. He added that it appeared that her head was repeatedly knocked against a wall of the building.

Mr. Clements was committed to the hospital Aug. 11, 1964, and was a "cottage" resident who had privileges of the grounds, said Leonard Dileo, public information officer for the state Department of Institutions and Agencies. Mrs. Oberman voluntarily committed herself Oct. 3, he said.

State Police Detective William Baum of the Keyport barracks is in charge of the investigation. He is assisted by the county prosecutor's office.

Buckley Tops Fair Haven's GOP Sweep

FAIR HAVEN — Lack of opposition caused no complacency among Republicans who gave their mayoral candidate, Councilman James T. Buckley Jr., the highest vote on the local ticket.

Councilmen Robert Matthews and William C. Rue outran their Democratic opponents nearly 2-1.

Total votes, including absentees and military ballots totaled 2,290. Mr. Buckley tallied 1,733. Mr. Matthews and Mr. Rue polled 1,462 and 1,440 respectively while Democratic Council candidates Robert T. Dudley and Philip Clark earned 772 and 739.

Mr. Buckley, who succeeds retiring Eugene M. Magee, offered thanks "for the confidence shown by re-electing my running mates. We will work hard to put in effect the programs on which we campaigned," he added.

HAPPY DEMOCRATS — Although of separated Democratic clubs, Edward M. Lewis Jr. of the John F. Kennedy Club and Walter J. Kozloski of the Regular Democrats share equal joy in their election to Freehold Borough Council. This gives the Democrats control of council majority by 5 to 1. (Register Staff Photo)

Two Democrats Win in Freehold

FREEHOLD — Democrats took control of Borough Council majority last night by 5 to 1 as candidates from two political clubs scored over their Republican counterparts.

Walter J. Kozloski of the Regular Democrats took the lead with 1,641 votes and Edward M. Lewis Jr. of the John F. Kennedy Democratic Club received 1,551 over incumbent Councilman Joseph R. Collins Sr., who got 1,355, and Theodore J. Narozanick, former mayor of Englishtown, who got 1,344.

Democratic candidate Alfred E. Sanders led in his hometown for county Freeholder with 1,941 votes. Closest to him was Republican incumbent Freeholder Marcus Daly with 1,612.

The newly elected councilman promised they would continue to work as a team although their clubs remain divided.

The Democrats gained one council seat and filled another held by Democratic Councilman Frank K. Woolley, who did not seek re-election.

Republicans Win Manalapan Posts

MANALAPAN — Republicans will be back on the Township Committee, following a one year absence, as a result of the victory of Thomas E. Corless and Thomas F. Whalen, who defeated Democratic incumbent James Sobochko and his running mate, newcomer Charles W. Matthews and independents Abe Magid and Mrs. Constance Dreyer.

Mr. Magid, a vociferous critic of the Township officials, who has been a regular at meetings, ran a strong third.

Timing Bus 105 Reverses Clocks

NEW SHREWSBURY — Bus 105, where are you? This was the cry at last night's Tinton Falls Board of Education meeting as Louis A. Steinmuller, board secretary, reported on the school transportation situation.

Bus 105, which delivers seventh and eighth grade students to Tinton Falls School, has a habit of being late in the morning, Mr. Steinmuller explained. Classes start at 8:15 a.m., but Bus 105 customarily arrives at 8:18 a.m., he said.

The difficulty has been partly solved, the secretary went on, by setting school clocks back five minutes, but even this expedient gives Bus 105 students barely enough time to make their first class.

"Setting school clocks back five minutes would work if we could get Bus 105 here on time," Mr. Steinmuller said.

Board member Halsey M. Hauber, a commercial airplane pilot accustomed to keeping accurate time schedules, grew more and more distressed as the discussion went on. Finally he could keep silent no longer.

"Now wait a minute," Mr. Hauber pleaded. "What about this bit with the clocks? I can see how it would help the problem, but setting all the clocks back disturbs me. Can't we set the time back, instead?"

Another board member, Anson W. Peckham, remarked that setting the clocks back seems to him "a little bit immoral."

"How about the children?" a spectator asked. "They set their watches back to school time every morning and then have to set them again when they go home."

"They do?" Mr. Steinmuller exclaimed in surprise. "I think the only important time to them is school time. As a matter of fact," he added, looking at his wrist watch, "I keep my watch five minutes ahead of God's time, which puts me 10 minutes ahead of school time."

"But yes," he went on. "We could change the time instead of the clocks. It might be simpler."

Voters in Sea Bright Elect 2 Democrats

SEA BRIGHT — The pendulum of political power again reversed its travel here yesterday when a pair of Democratic candidates gained council seats and reversed party-line voting strength in borough matters. The shift upset this year's 4-3 GOP margin.

Councilwoman Cecile Norton retains her post and former Councilman Joseph W. Stout, councilman Pat A. Long from the governing body as a result of yesterday's tally.

Democratic council voting power next year will be 4-2, with GOP Mayor Frank Van Duzer's vote to make or break a tie going to nought in party-line issues.

Mrs. Norton was again high vote-getter here with 344 ballots. Mr. Stout polled 306 votes.

Regular GOP Wins Set 3-Way Rule In Atlantic Highlands

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — An unprecedented three-faction government will be the order of the day here during 1967.

Joining the three Democrats and two Administration Republicans at the council table next year will be Regular Republican Robert B. Long and David J. De Groot, elected yesterday by 1,010 and 901 votes respectively, with Long high vote getter.

William Griffin was the only Democrat to gain office, polling 931 votes for the tax assessor's post. He defeated Regular Republican A. Ernest Schickedanz, who tallied 862 votes. Griffin was second high vote getter.

Defeated Democrat council candidates John M. Phair and Robert J. Levy polled 788 and 758 votes. Independent candidate Coert Engelaman received 118 votes.

Big Vote
A total of 1,815 of the borough's 2,403 voters turned out for the election, which saw the first and third districts voting Republican by a near 2-1 margin, and the second district supporting Democrats by a narrow margin.

A two-year split in the GOP party failed to help Democrats gain office again this year. Last year, enough Republican voters crossed party lines to insure a Democratic victory — the first party win since 1959.

Democratic leaders at the time conceded that without campaign help from Administration Republicans, the Regular GOP would have won.

Although this year's campaign again saw Regular Republicans fighting Democrats and Administration GOP over the controversial issues of urban renewal, municipal complex, regional sewers, alleged "bossism" and tax inequities, the Long-De Groot position on those issues was seen by Regular Republican Club officials last night as the reason for victory.

The exception, as evidenced by the election of Democrat Griffin as tax assessor, was the issue of tax inequities.

Administration Republicans at the table and Democrats in releases and flyers hammered away at one point—that the "Club House Boys" and their friend are the homeowners under assessed and that most of the homes were built by the same contractor.

Probe Promised
Griffin promised an investigation of tax violations "to make sure there are no privileged home owners, contractors, or politicians benefiting through tax inequities."

Democrats and Regular Republicans agreed during the campaign there is a need for improving the First Ave. business district, water, sewers, and borough facilities.

But the Republicans spoke out against urban renewal and regionalization of sewers, calling for local solutions of sewer problems.

The Democrats supported urban renewal, regional sewer, and municipal complex studies, initiated by Administration Republicans, to determine the best means of providing improved services.

David J. DeGroot

Robert B. Long

William Griffin

The three-faction government taking office in January portends problems in deciding major borough appointments not encountered by this year's coalition governing body, which reached amicable compromise on all openings.

The borough attorney's post could be the first stumbling block, with the three Democrats conceivably favoring a Democratic lawyer, and the two GOP factions at odds over a Republican counselor.

Administration Republicans are expected to offer Henry J. Saling for reappointment. Regular Republicans, however, have made no secret of the fact that they blame Mr. Saling for engineering and fostering the GOP party split.

In the Democratic camp, former Democratic Assemblyman Patrick J. McGann is being eyed for the post.

Police Board Gets Discard In New York
NEW YORK (AP) — New York City voters threw out Tuesday a controversial civilian-dominated board to review complaints of police misconduct.

The board had been instituted by Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay and was backed by Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., civil rights groups and others.

With 1,511 of 5,187 districts reported, the vote was 317,577 against the board and 195,242 for it.

Major support for the board came from Harlem, Bedford-Stuyvesant and other predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican areas.

The Federation of Associations for Impartial Review, an organization formed in support of the board, said shortly after 10 p.m. that the board appeared defeated.

Javits said the board's defeat "placed an enormous responsibility on the police who opposed it and they will have a special responsibility to keep the good will of the people."

Police Board Gets Discard In New York

Indications are that the attorney's job will go to Republican Michael J. Barnacle, Middletown.

Republican winners last night attributed their victory to voter rejection of "bossism," charged against Mayor Olinsky, and dissatisfaction with recent Democratic administrations.

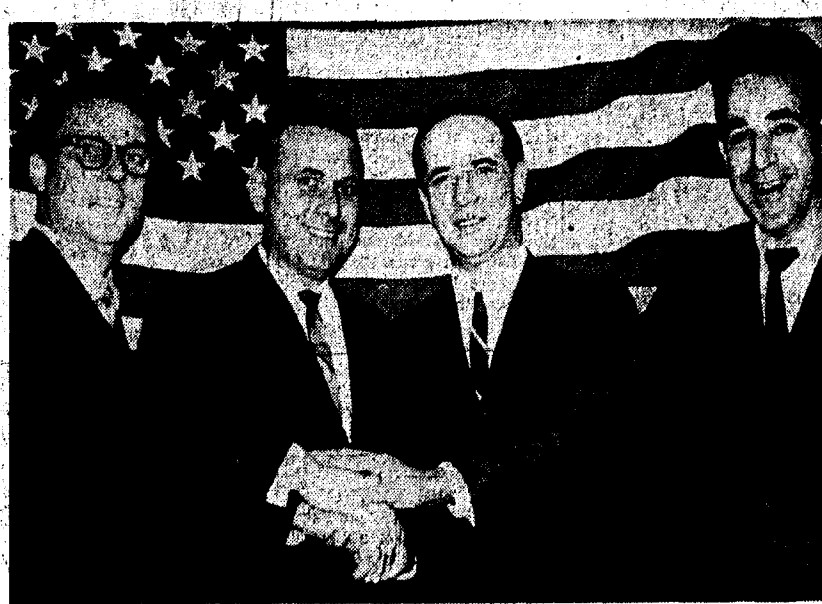

Settleducato Wins

Defeating Mr. Olinsky's bid for re-election was Republican Nicholas Settleducato, who captured eight of 12 election districts to outpoll the mayor, 2,811 to 2,452. The contest was for the single three-year term.

Raymond M. Anstett topped incumbent Democrat Paul A. Barrese for the two-year unexpired term, 2,692 to 2,541.

Although the GOP voters have not had a formal parley, there was general agreement last night that Mr. Morales will be elected mayor Jan. 1.

Said Mr. Settleducato: "At this point, based on the inexperience of myself and Mr. Anstett, and the experience of Mr. Morales, he (Mr. Morales) is most likely to be mayor."

AT LAST — After six unsuccessful years of trying, Raritan Republicans yesterday took control of the Township Committee, and won two other posts in the bargain. In victory clasp here, left to right, Michael R. Brennan, re-elected tax assessor; Raymond M. Anstett, who took a two-year committee seat; Nicholas Settleducato, three-year committee post, and Frank Agresta, township clerk. Only Democratic winner was Robert R. Brady, re-elected tax collector. Morales Seen as Mayor GOP Rules in Raritan RARITAN TOWNSHIP — In the major upset in the Bayshore, Republicans yesterday here ended the six-year Democratic reign over the Township Committee.

In crushing the local Democratic machine, the GOP swept four of five municipal posts, including two seats on the governing body.

The victory gives the GOP control of the committee for at least two years since none of its seats are at stake next year. It stopped Mayor Marvin Olinsky's bid for re-election after six years on the governing body.

It paves the way for selection of Committee member Joseph A. Morales as mayor and takes the township attorney post from Philip J. Blanda Jr.

Bayshore Republicans Celebrate Big Sweep

By JAMES M. NEILLAND
KEYPORT — Jubilant party workers packed into Bayshore Republican Headquarters on Rt. 38 last night to celebrate what amounts in this part of the county to a virtual sweep.

The election resulted in the best GOP showing in the Bayshore in a decade.

Local candidates took 14 of 19 municipal posts in the 10-town area. An election analysis report released by the BRO early in the campaign predicted GOP victories in 17 of the races, conceding defeat only in the contests for two Union Beach Borough Council seats.

Union Beach Republicans lost but they had very little company. The party lost the tax collector race in Raritan Township where four other Republicans went on to crush the township's Democratic machine.

Elections At a Glance

NEWARK (AP) — Here are New Jersey's election results at a glance:

SENATE — Clifford P. Case, a Republican, won re-election for his third U. S. Senate term by the greatest margin ever accorded a GOP senatorial candidate. He defeated Democratic Warren W. Hearnes by about 460,000 votes.

CONGRESS — Republicans picked up two more of New Jersey's Congressional seats to alter the Democrats' current 11-4 margin, reducing it to 9-6. Now Republicans are Charles W. Sandman Jr. of Cape May and John E. Hunt of Pitman.

NIGHT RACING — A referendum to allow night horse racing in New Jersey passed by a 3-to-2 margin.

REAPPORTIONMENT — Voters easily approved a bipartisan plan to reapportion the state legislature along lines drawn by a constitutional convention earlier this year, despite a spirited campaign against the measure by the League of Women Voters.

Middletown Republicans Win

MIDDLETOWN — Republicans won handsily here yesterday but before the night was out were already showing signs of party disunity.

While Mayor Kavalek and GOP leader Joseph Azzolina favor converting the post from part-time to full-time — which would be a precedent in Middletown's long history — GOP Committeemen Douglas R. Burke and Edward P. Makely staunchly oppose the move, and Committeeman Foulks, the "swing" vote, is undecided.

On Monday, Mr. Kavalek refused to reply to the question of whether the job will be converted, but said, "Tuesday night, as soon as the election is over, I will answer the question."

'Home Towners' Nix Night Racing

FREEHOLD — If local approval is needed for extension of harness racing at Freehold Raceway to nighttime, forget it.

Both Freehold Borough and Freehold Township voters rejected the proposition for night racing yesterday. The raceway is situated in both municipalities.

The borough vote was 1,866 against, 698 for; the township, 1,288 to 956.

Throughout Monmouth County, however, the plan was okayed, 58,548 to 46,552.

Split on Conrad — Kavalek Continues as Mayor

Middletown Fire Cause Is Told

MIDDLETOWN — Fire Chief Alvin Maxson said that a fire that forced a family of nine out of their home at 30 Melrose Ter. and caused heavy damage early Monday was apparently caused by spontaneous combustion.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Judd and their seven children were forced to leave their one-story home at about 5:50 a.m. The fire chief said that the fire started in a storage room beneath the basement stairs. Six of the children were in bedrooms in the basement when their parents were awakened by the smell of smoke and they all escaped unharmed.

Chief Maxson estimated damage at about $3,500. The Middletown and Old Village Fire Companies and the Belford Engine Co. answered the alarm.

Re-elect Democrats

ROOSEVELT — All Democratic candidates were re-elected with no opposition by the Republicans. Borough Councilman Bertram Ellentuck got 232 votes and Theodore Marton, 236. Tax Assessor Jeannette Koffler received 254.

PTA Activities

PROJECTIONIST CLUB FAIR HAVEN—The PTA executive board met in the Knollwood School Library. Mrs. Fred S. Brandt, president asked the PTA to sponsor a Projectionist Club for the seventh and eighth grade boys at the school. The club will encourage proper use of and care for projection equipment. Mrs. Marion Hamilton, seventh grade teacher, will be adviser.

Want Shore Rail Confab Held in Area

LITTLE SILVER—Borough Council has resolved to request that the state Highway Department's rail transportation division hold a hearing on shore trains in the shore area. Until now, the state has scheduled meetings with municipalities outside county lines.

The councilmen also feel that such a hearing should be held at night so that local commuters can attend.

Four members of the seven-man council are commuters.

Mrs. Wallace Becker and Mrs. John H. Gauch, vice presidents, reported on the recent membership drive. Assisted by Mrs. George Giffin and Miss Anne Dugan, they announced the largest total membership ever recorded with 658 members.

It was also noted there is 100 per cent membership with the faculty of both Knollwood and Willow Street Schools. The winning class at Knollwood School was the first grade class taught by Mrs. Marian Bennett and the third grade students of Miss Anne Dugan. A party will be given for the winning classes.

Ted Palumbo, safety chairman, announced the bicycle safety program has received favorable opinion in the community and that he hopes to have a bicycle ordinance introduced to the City Council at this month's meeting.

MEET THE FACULTY LINCROFT—"Meet the Faculty" was the topic of a Lincroft PTA meeting in the all-purpose room of the school.

President John Mulligan presented a check for $1,500 to Andrew Van Dyke, principal. Three hundred dollars of the money will be divided among the teachers to buy necessary items for their classrooms.

Mr. Van Dyke introduced the faculty after which the parents had the opportunity to visit the classrooms.

The new PTA officers were also introduced. They include Mr. Mulligan, president; Mrs. William Moore, first vice president; Mrs. Rodney Maxon, second vice president; Richard Gordon, recording secretary; Mrs. Peter Ghiloni, corresponding secretary, and Jack Silverstein, treasurer.

Mr. Mulligan named the following to his executive committee: George Smith, finance; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stearns, fair; Mrs. Keith Hogan and George Kuhne, movies; Mrs. A. G. Grotjohann and Mrs. P. A. Goff, book fair; Mrs. Donald Herring and Mrs. John Kay, library; Mrs. Raymond Salani and Mrs. Lou Holzman, membership; Mrs. Richard Gordon, room mothers; Mrs. Thomas Sheridan and Mrs. M. Kooistra, health; Mrs. Daniel Walk, bulletin; Mrs. Bruce Robinson, publicity; Mrs. Richard Noll and Mrs. Edmund Burke, hospitality; Mrs. Richard Fitzpatrick, music; A. Range and Ed Rosell, program; Mrs. Kenneth Leff, recreation; Maurice Stempier, board of education liaison, and Mrs. William Corbin, typist.

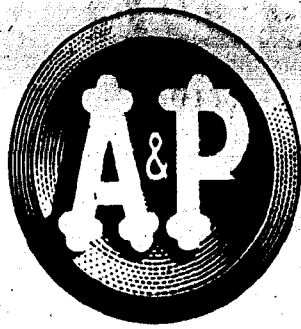

Set Veterans Day Rites at Eatontown

EATONTOWN—Veterans Day will be observed with simple ceremonies at the veterans monument on Main St. Friday by members of Eatontown Post, American Legion.

Local citizens are requested to share the tribute to fighting men of past wars and to show support of men now fighting in Viet Nam.

Past Commander Edward Moyes, building committee chairman, will discuss possible sites for a new post headquarters at a regular meeting tonight at 8 o'clock.

The annual Past Commanders' dinner will be at Crystal Brook Inn Thursday night. Guest of honor will be past Commander Vincent J. Moyes. Mayor Herbert E. Werner will be guest speaker. Mrs. James Kaufmann, past president of the post auxiliary, will also be a guest.

Successful Investing

By Roger E. Spear

Spear
Q) "Though I read your column every day, I've never seen you mention U.S. Smelting. I bought this at 68. Should I sell it? I'm too old to be interested in growth stocks." I. S.

A) "Never" is a bit too strong. My last advice on U.S. Smelting—in July 1965—was given to a reader preparing for retirement. At that time I considered the stock unsuited to his circumstances, and I am of the same opinion in your situation. Smelting is a low-yield speculative issue, responding to a variety of impulses within the economy—domestic and foreign.

Presently, the company is reporting a sharp upturn in share net for the first half of 1966 to $2.71 from 75 cents a year earlier. Cyclical factors in its nonferrous metal and brass mill products (through 1965 acquisition of Mueller Brass) can cause sharp fluctuations in earnings and wide price swings. I suggest a switch into a good income stock such as Reynolds Tobacco, Atchafalaya Rwy., or C.I.T. Financial.

Q) "A widow of 85, I rely on dividends for my living. Several years ago I bought American Motors at 21. I had hoped for greater improvement in company operations with a change in management. Should I sell my shares now? What is a safe dividend stock for replacement?" M.S.

A) I wish I could encourage you to hold American Motors for some worthwhile recovery, but a deficit of 22 cents a share was reported for nine months ended June 20 versus a 96-cent profit last year. A substantial loss is likely to be reported for fiscal 1965-66, ended last Sept. 30. No resumption of dividends is in sight, in my opinion. Among the stocks mentioned above, you should find an issue that will better meet your needs. I advise you to switch out of American Motors as soon as possible and put your capital to work again.

Sanitation, Gas Needs Delay Project at School

NEW SHREWSBURY — Two serious problems are holding up completion of the addition to Tinton Falls School, Louis A. Steimmuller, board secretary, reported at last night's meeting of the Board of Education.

The septic field installed to take care of the new facilities appears inadequate during rainy spells, and no facilities were provided for gas outlets in the new science laboratory, he said.

The board will meet with Richard O. Boyken, Hazlet architect who designed the addition, Thursday, Nov. 17, to determine whether specifications were followed, and if so, whether they were adequate in the first place.

Mr. Steimmuller said a 30x50-foot addition to the septic field will be necessary to make it effective. He estimated an additional cost of $500 to $1,000. Gas lines for the laboratory, he said, will cost about $450.

Refusal Regretted
Board member Anson W. Peckham, who represents the board in the proposed study of regionalization with Monmouth Regional High School and Eatontown schools, expressed regret that Eatontown has refused to participate in the study, but said the refusal was not unexpected. On Mr. Peckham's recommendation, the board will proceed with the regionalization study with Monmouth Regional High School alone.

Board member Halsey M. Hauber announced that he, John Thomson, board president, and board member F. Lawrence Singer, whose terms all expire next February, will seek re-election.

Harry E. Westlake Jr., who was not at the meeting, has made no announcement as to whether he will run again.

The board approved unanimously scheduling of one extra day a week of instrumental music instruction by John F. Liconieri at $25 a day. George C. Malone, superintendent, explained the extra day will make possible smaller classes and more efficient instruction.

Also approved unanimously were expenditure of $324 (reimbursable in state funds) for dental care of indigent youngsters; and $980 for a maintenance contract covering heating controls at Tinton Falls and Sycamore Schools.

Mr. Steimmuller was authorized to spend not more than $1,000 to blacktop two recreational areas at Swimming River School.

New Drive-In Units Planned At Bank Office

FREEHOLD — Drive-in customers at the Freehold office of Monmouth County National Bank will receive a speed-up in service as the result of three new outdoor units that will be installed in the bank's parking lot at West Main and McLean Sts.

Eatontown Keeps GOP Margin

EATONTOWN — Borough voters yesterday elected a solid Republican ticket headed by Mayor Herbert E. Werner, who won his fourth term unopposed. Councilman Theodore J. Zebrowski easily won his third term on the governing body. Newcomer Vincent C. Festa was elected to his first term with a margin of more than 200 votes. About 63 per cent of the borough's 2,776 registered voters gave Mayor Werner 1,213 votes to lead the ticket; Councilman Zebrowski 1,083, and Councilman Festa 1,101. Mrs. Kathleen McCloskey, lone Democratic candidate, who sought a council seat, polled 875 votes. The totals are exclusive of absentee ballots. The results maintain the 4-2 Republican majority on council. The Democratic councilmen are Bruce J. Mangan and Melvin J. Kohn.

Mayorality in Holmdel

Menges Sure to Win

HOLMDEL — The election of William H. Menges as mayor Jan. 1 was assured yesterday as Republicans took one of two Township Committee seats. The GOP victory went to incumbent Wallace A. Taylor. Former mayor James H. Ackerson, also an incumbent, took the Democratic victory, retaining his seat as the only Democratic member of the governing body. The vote: Mr. Taylor, 848, Mr. Ackerson, 917; Arthur E. Judd, Republican, 830; and Democrat Archie R. Price, 674. Total vote cast was 1,693 out of 2,201 registered.

The Republican majority has agreed that Mr. Menges, who has been municipal GOP leader four years, will replace Mayor Alfred C. Poole in the center chair. He will have the vote of Committee member Edwin Liebenow, Mr. Taylor, and himself, and his election could be unanimous. As in previous elections, Democrat Ackerson polled much of his vote from "old guard" Republicans. The September primary was one of the hottest contests in the Bayshore with the Young GOP capturing the vote by a better than 2 to 1 margin. For the two Township Committee nominations, Mr. Taylor, polling 461 votes, and Mr. Judd, 430, defeated former GOP Committeeman Vincent J. Maneri and Norman Schantz, running as a ticket, and Theodore Friedauer and Stephen Berentes. The six-way scramble in Republican ranks helped Mr. Ackerson, as newcomer Judd was unable to overcome the former mayor's popularity. Although Republican "Young GOP" and "Old Guard" party labels have somewhat disappeared, Mr. Menges originally took office as a Young Republican and remains active in county Young Republican affairs. The man he will replace as mayor, Mr. Poole, on the other hand, has consistently been in the "old guard" camp, and at odds with the Young GOP for more than three years.

Krajewski, 54, Dies; Often Sought Office

SECAUCUS (AP) — Henry Krajewski, founder of the Poor Man's Party and a perennial candidate for state and national elections, died yesterday on one of the rare election days when he was not seeking office. His career as a pig farmer favored his political campaigns. His slogan as a Presidential candidate was "No piggy deals in Washington." Unlike most candidates for office, Krajewski made no prominent claims and his platform read like a series of notes written to remind one to do something. "Start a cold war on parents of juvenile delinquents" was one of his planks, while another suggested: "The planks in his platform were often inconsistent. One plank was "Bring our boys home from overseas" while another was "Free all countries behind the Iron Curtain." Another of his foreign policy planks was "Stop making handshakes over foreign countries, sell them goods at cost." While President Johnson campaigned under his "War on Poverty" and "Great Society" themes in 1964; Krajewski maintained that false prosperity was the most serious problem facing Americans in this age.

Then Joins Howard Celebration

Sanders Extends Thanks

RED BANK — By 10:30 last night, the portable coffee urn in Monmouth County Democratic headquarters was stashed in the rear of the last departing bumper-stickered car. County Democratic Chairman P. Paul Campi and Alfred E. Sanders, a night-have-been freeholder, gathered up the lingerers and went to join Rep. James J. Howard at the Harbor Island Spa, West End, where things looked brighter. Among crumpled-up paper cups, smudged tally sheets and obsolete campaign literature they made the loyal, appreciative statements that politicians must always have ready. For every winner, there must be a loser.

"I think the Democratic candidates gave a good account of themselves," Mr. Campi said. "The people made the decision, and next year we will try again."

Mr. Sanders, ending his tour of headquarters throughout the county that started early in the day, made this statement: "Mr. (Bruce) Mangan and I want to thank the organization and the many people who worked for us. We were proud to carry the banner of the Democratic party in Monmouth County and hope that we have been worthy of the support given us. We wish the victors success in carrying forth the progress so vital to the county's growth and pledge our support to that end."

SS Recipients to Get Break

WASHINGTON—There is good news coming for Social Security beneficiaries who must work to make ends meet. Regardless of what Congress does about increasing benefits next year, the amount of outside earnings that individuals will be permitted to make and still continue to draw full Social Security benefits is going to be hiked.

As the first order of business when the 90th Congress convenes in January, congressional leaders of both parties and the Johnson administration are in agreement that the ceiling on "earnings limitations" should be relaxed. This legislative decision was reached during the furious round of politicking in the closing days of the 89th Congress after President Johnson announced plans to seek a $2.2 billion-a-year boost in benefits next year.

Although the frantic jockeying by Democrats and Republicans that followed the presidential pronouncement produced no agreement on the benefits, the legislative leaders did decide to move swiftly in January to ease the "earnings limitation" ceiling.

Only thing left undecided is how much additional outside income persons drawing Social Security should be allowed to earn before their benefits would be cut back. Under present law, individuals can earn up to $1,500 per year without loss of any benefits. Earnings from $1,500 to $2,700 result in a loss of $1 benefits for each $2 earned; and earnings above $2,700 result in a loss of $1 benefits for every $1 earned. There is no ceiling on outside earnings for persons over 72.

LIFTING THE CEILING—Social Security beneficiaries can count on being permitted at least an additional $10 a month in outside earnings next year without loss of benefits.

GOP Retains Little Silver

Chester Apy

Thomas Judge

Paul Bragar

LITTLE SILVER — The Republicans repulsed an aggressive Democratic campaign to remain firmly in control of borough government here.

Councilman Chester Apy led the triumphant GOP ticket, polling 1,407 votes in his bid for a second full term and outdistancing his closest Democratic rival, Raymond I. Florian, by 327 votes.

Councilman Thomas Judge, appointed to an unexpired term last year, trailed Mr. Apy by 31 votes to win his first full term.

Councilman Paul Bragar, named to a vacant seat this past summer, rebuffed Democrat John W. O'Mara by 159 votes in the race for an unexpired one-year term.

Mr. O'Mara, making his first bid for elective office, was high man on the Democratic ticket with 1,133 votes. He outpolled his GOP opponent in the first district, where he drew 267 votes compared to 231 for Mr. Bragar.

The final tally, including absentee ballots; Apy, 1,407; Judge, 1,376; Bragar, 1,334; Joseph Weber, 1,044; Florian, 1,080; O'Mara, 1,133.

There was one absentee written vote for Samuel Berger for Councilman.

Voting was heavy, although lighter than last year. Some 2,468 voters went to the polls and 69 absentee ballots were cast — about 78.2 per cent of the borough's 3,189 registered voters. There were 2,346 votes cast here last year.

RBHS Student Group Asks Special Transit

RED BANK — An organization of Red Bank High School students called the Red Bank Student Community Action Group has petitioned the Board of Education for bus transportation between the school and the westside.

The petition, signed by 338 high schoolers, was presented to the board last night by Richard Johnson, 58 West Westside Ave., and was supported by several of his fellow students and a parent.

They said the westside students, mostly Negroes and many of them from low income families, were forced to cross Rt. 35 and two railroad rights of way causing tardiness, wetting their clothes and books in bad weather, and exposing them to dangers. Many cannot afford public transportation, they said.

The parent, Mrs. Julien Clay, read a statement in which she said the situation was not conducive to good education. She pointed out that some eastside students do get bus transportation to school.

(No high school students in the borough ride school buses, but the school board does transport some seventh and eighth graders from the eastern part of the borough to River Street School.)

On a motion by member Donald D. Devine, the board tabled the request for study at an executive session.

The board also heard from Miss Elisabeth A. Kelley again last night on the subject of racial imbalance and high school construction.

Miss Kelley, a former teacher and frequent critic of the board, reminded the board that two years ago it had deferred action to erase racial imbalance pending construction of an elementary school, which would have accomplished that. But a school construction referendum was defeated and Miss Kelley asked the board to tackle the problem again without delay. It is a matter of policy and administration, not construction, she said.

She also called for a school budget that would attract good teachers and for Red Bank to take the initiative in talks with its sending districts in planning for a new high school.

GOP Keeps Full Control In Howell

HOWELL TOWNSHIP — Township Committee remains all Republican as two new Republicans scored over the Democratic candidates.

Republicans Paul H. Tucker got 2,165 votes and H. Roberts Rapp, 2,143 against Democrat Willard Jordan's 2,025 and Sigmund Shpack's 1,967.

Not seeking re-election were Mayor Charles W. Patterson and Committeeman Raymond Roe.

This was the first time that dissident Democrats did not buck the regular ticket with an Independent slate of candidates.

Water Line Red Bank Approves Head Start Money

HOWELL TOWNSHIP — A tentative agreement between the Freehold Regional Board of Education and the Howell Township Committee was reached Monday night on the township's request to purchase a water line from the board.

The pipe runs from the borough of Farmingdale to the Southern Freehold Regional High School along Southard Ave. and the municipality would like use of the line to sell water to the Avon Knitting Mills plant in its industrial zone.

According to Committeeman Lawrence Michnevich, arrangements are contingent upon the township and the borough of Farmingdale reaching an agreement over the use of the line.

Although no purchase price has been announced, the line was put in in 1964 at a cost of $15,999.94, Mr. Michnevich said.

PARTY AT SCHOOL

FREEHOLD — Cub Scout Pack 18 held a Halloween party in St. Rose of Lima School cafeteria. Costume prizes were awarded to Theodore Koch, Mark Heim and Kevin Lewis.

New cubs inducted by cubmaster Dominick Panepinto and committee chairman William Sweetnam were Robert Lane, Anthony LeMoine Jr., Edward Ruhl, Robert Sweetnam, Walter Wright, Gerald Polverino, Brian Maroney, Scott Powers, Mark Heim, Gilday Freeman, George McLaughlin, Rene Guillette, William Martir, John Higgins and Jack Higgins.

RED BANK — The Board of Education authorized application for funds for its third year of the Head Start program last night.

Dr. Robert C. Hoops, superintendent, said the applications for next summer have to be in earlier this year — by Nov. 22 — and that Red Bank has been given permission to operate five pre-school classes again. The board will probably run a six-class operation with Fair Haven as it did this year.

The allotment is $2,000 per class for the coming year. It was $2,500 per class this year, and the borough hasn't collected all of that from Monmouth Community Action Program, Dr. Hoops said.

But this year, he added, medical and health services will be provided countywide by MCAP, saving the district that expense. MCAP, according to the superintendent, will require a six-week program with a minimum of 120 hours and with teachers putting in a five-hour day.

Commenting on an MCAP report that Red Bank's Head Start project was the best in the county this year, Dr. Hoops said the youngsters responded readily to the program.

But making an allusion to the defeat of the board's elementary school construction referendum he added, "The big problem in Red Bank is that we don't have the facilities to follow this up."

Back on the subject of elementary school classroom shortages, Dr. Hoops asked for and received the board's authority to shift about 10 first graders from Allentown Republicans Returned to Office — ALLENTOWN — Republican incumbents kept their Borough Council seats by more than 100 votes over two Democratic candidates. Joseph H. Jones received 308 to Jerome J. Lonco's 220 and Harry H. Williams Sr., 315 to George S. Rose's 200.

Poor Man's Philosopher Popular Exercise: Running for Office

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Running for public office has become one of the most popular forms of exercise in America.

But thousands of candidates who woke up today were trying to figure whether it was really better to have run and lost, than never to have run at all.

Some of the losers suffered from head colds caught by kissing sniffling babies. Some had talked themselves hoarse. Some had spent themselves to the edge of bankruptcy or beyond in fruitless wooing of a fickle electorate.

Whether they ran for dog-catcher or senator, however, the thing that probably annoyed them most was having to congratulate the man who beat them.

The great game of politics is a winner-take-all game. To the victor belongs the spoils. All the loser usually gets in most races is a one-way ticket to limbo. His only souvenirs are a flattened wallet and a few holes in his thumb from tacking up his campaign placards on telephone poles and backyard barns.

Heart Not In It
So why should he congratulate the winner, when his heart can't possibly be in it?

He does it because it is part of the game. Politics, as practiced in the United States, is as ceremonial as tea drinking in Japan. One of its oldest rituals is the ritual of the graceful loser.

Everyone expects him to be a good sport about it all, let bygones be bygones, smile manfully and issue some unctuous statement such as:

"The people have spoken. I congratulate my opponent on his splendid triumph. It is now time to close ranks and march confidently together into a great future."

Nonsense, piffle and banana oil. That kind of tired pap fools nobody and bores everybody.

Political campaigns would be more interesting if we could start a new tradition — the tradition of the sorehead loser, the guy who is counted out with his mouth full of sour grapes.

As the television cameras in his headquarters train on the losing candidate to catch his brief speech conceding defeat, they find him weeping.

'We Wuz Robbed'
"This wasn't an election, it was a robbery!" he shouts, shaking a fist at the unseen audience.

"I said during the campaign that my opponent was an underhanded bum, and the only dif-

TROOP INVESTS
ROBERTSVILLE — Nine girls were invested into Brownie Troop 511 during a ceremony held in the Robertsville Fire House.

Receiving their pins were Stephanie Behaney, Donna Morin, Francine Herberg, Susie McNamara, Denise Carlton, Susie Carle, Heidi Schrieber, Vickie Schuber and Patricia Andrews. Membership stars were presented to Nancy Bronson, Robin Erdman, Kathleen Daley, Lois Gryzb, Nadine Hirsch, Lori Jensen, Diane McHose, Susan Hoffman, Cheryl Saskowitz, Donna Mays and Vickie Harold.

ference in him that I can see now is that he's a lucky bum. As for the people who voted for him, they can't be much better.

"At this time it is customary for a candidate to thank all his supporters who labored so long and earnestly in his behalf. Frankly, I don't think I had any. Most of my fair weather friends must have gone fishing on election day, and it appears that all the creeps who were supposed to be working for me spent their time in ginmills with my so-called campaign manager, whoever he was.

"My opponent should give them all jobs. He couldn't have won without them.

"I have been asked to say what my future plans are. My plans are first to stop by my friendly neighborhood psychiatrist and get my head examined for ever deciding to run for a public office in the first place. After that, I plan to go home, kick my dog, and slap the wife and kids around until I feel better.

"And now I have one final word for you all — BAH!"

Wouldn't you like to hear a speech like that from a defeated candidate? But, reluctantly, you'd have to come to the conclusion that it probably was a good thing he lost.

No guy that honest really belongs in politics.

Teachers Get Returns In Middletown

MIDDLETOWN — Township teachers helped speed election returns last night by volunteering their time and service to gather election returns from each precinct.

Participating in the News-Election Service set up by the major television and radio channels as well as the national press services, teachers received badges and other necessary credentials enabling them to be present when votes were counted.

Tallies were phoned immediately to a central Newark location from which returns were immediately broadcast via radio and television.

Participating in the project which covered all 31 election districts were Mrs. Florence Dugan, Miss Joan McConnell, Fred Gernsbeck, Miss JoAnn Laputa, Peter Rounds, Arthur Beadle, Mrs. Virginia Schwarz, Albert Ruck, Francis Caruso, Louis DeLaBarca, David Abdella, Jack Faust, Thomas Jannarone, Anthony Mazza, Floyd Guillaudeau, Walter Hughes, Joseph Badame, William Scharmann, Alvin Myers, Mrs. Laura Becker, Joseph Marion, and Salvatore Maggio.

The project, as explained by Mrs. Rita Sheehan, co-ordinator, is one of the New Jersey Educational Association's service to voters.

ONLY A FALSE ALARM
RED BANK — Whistles, sirens and bells came from the neighborhood of the various political party headquarters last night, but they were not part of any victory celebration. Someone pulled a false alarm from the box at Oakland and West Sts. at 9:30 p.m. and drew all the borough fire equipment to the area.

Robert J. Strang

Upset Goes To Strang In Keyport

KEYPORT — Overcoming a primary election split, Republican Robert J. Strang yesterday defeated Democratic Mayor Carlton H. Poling in one of the Bayshore's political upsets.

In a clean sweep, Republicans took the mayor's post and two council seats with incumbent GOP Councilman Joseph F. McQuarrie leading all candidates with 1,358 votes. His running mate, incumbent Councilman Robert E. Hartman received 1,138 ballots.

Council President Strang defeated Mayor Poling in his bid for a third term by 51 votes, tallying a total of 1,232 ballots compared to Poling's 1,181.

Defeated were Democratic candidates James K. Birmingham, polling 1,108 votes and Julius J. Rosato, receiving 977.

Cummons Remains
The Republican victory leaves Councilman Hillary J. Cummons the lone Democrat on the governing body.

Democrat Poling topped Mr. Strang in districts three and five, while his running mate Birmingham defeated both GOP council candidates in district three and Mr. Hartman in districts one and two.

When Councilman Strang assumes the mayor's chair, the governing body must fill his one-year unexpired council term. There has been no indication as to who will be his replacement.

Due to a lack of major issues, the political campaign was a quiet one, compared to the primary race, which saw Mr. Strang opposed by former GOP Councilman Frederick L. Kruser, and Mayor Poling and Mr. Rosato write-in candidates; Democrat Birmingham was the only Democratic council candidate whose name was on the primary ballot.

Democrat David S. Pangborn filed as a primary contender for the mayor's spot, but withdrew when Mayor Poling announced his write-in candidacy.

Board Asks Aid to Buy Books, Film

FREEHOLD TOWNSHIP — The Board of Education last night approved an application for $3,213 of federal funds to buy books, film strips and other teaching aids.

The money will come to the district under Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

The superintendent of schools, Marshall W. Erickson, said the total amount was based on the figure of $1.75 per pupil. Joseph Biro and Associates of Easton, Pa., engineers, were authorized to draw specifications for a fire detection system, to be installed in the Burlington Road School.

The board will purchase furniture for a total of $1,910 for the teachers room, conference room and a maintenance shop in the addition to the Clifton T. Barkatow School.

The furniture is being purchased from Paul Linnett, Howell Township.

A petition from residents of the Ryan Knoll area, off Rt. 79, has asked for additional bus stops. The board referred the petition to the transportation committee for study.

New Book On Rutgers Is Published

NEW BRUNSWICK — The first book-length history of Rutgers in more than 40 years will be published tomorrow by the Rutgers University Press.

"Rutgers: A Bicentennial History" is the product of two-and-one-half years of labor by Dr. Richard P. McCormick, chairman of the History Department and State University historian.

The 350-page book, published in connection with Rutgers' 200th birthday anniversary, traces the development of Rutgers from its beginnings as Queens' College in 1766 through its evolution as the state university of New Jersey. It contains 40 pages of illustrations.

The new history is the first which fully develops the theme of the relationship of Rutgers to the State over the years, culminating in 1956 when the State took majority control of the Rutgers Board of Governors.

"A person looking just at the present dimensions of this university could not possibly understand it," Dr. McCormick said. "It can only be understood by the addition of historical dimensions."

The book's other themes, all of which converge upon the present, are the evolution of the curriculum, traced from the classical are of the 18th century to the great variety of study programs in one of the nation's two dozen largest universities, including graduate and professional schools; the changing nature of the extracurricular world of the student, evolving from complete independence to the "total environment" of Rutgers today, and the gradual development of an administrative structure.

Police said Stephen Hauser, 5, of 12 Leonardville Rd., Leonardo, was released after treatment in Riverview Hospital, Red Bank, and ordered to bed by a private physician.

He was riding in a car driven by Marcus Peters, 28, of 129 North Lake Dr., New Monmouth. As the car slowed to turn into the driveway of the boy's home it was struck by a car driven by Jozsef Szirany, 40, of Alpine Manor, Highlands.

Mr. Peters was ticketed for driving without an operator's license in his possession. Mr. Szirany was issued a summons for careless driving, police said.

Close Race, But GOP Control Kept

FREEHOLD TOWNSHIP — Republicans will continue their monopoly on the Township Committee next year as a result of the election of Frank Marzulli and Charles C. Worthington in a close race.

Democratic contender Louis T. Figuerelli received 1,166 votes and his running mate, John W. Grant, 1,153 against 1,345 for Mr. Marzulli and 1,352 for Mr. Worthington.

The Worthington-Marzulli team defeated Mayor Albert V. McCormick and incumbent committeeman Ralph R. Beck in a bitterly fought primary battle in September.

Both Mr. Marzulli and Mr. Worthington are members of the Planning Board.

UPSETS GALORE — Sunday and Monday quarterbacks had to get out their own "play books" this week and digest them from cover to cover. They were looking for the plays the up-setters applied to the "big boys" to make Saturday an upset day.

Three perfect-record college teams tasted defeat on Saturday when UCLA, Florida and Harvard were trimmed. Then there were the close calls, too, as undefeated Georgia Tech just got by Virginia by a point. And there was Pete Elliott's first Illinois win over brother Bump's Michigan team in seven tries, and the upsets of Navy by Duke and Missouri by Colorado.

Along come the pros — the next day, and they too, were upset minded. Four favored NFL teams were knocked off, one in the AFL, and two other NFL games in the "almost" category.

A close call came when the Cards of St. Louis had to go all out to defeat the Giants. Pittsburgh dumped Cleveland, Philadelphia edged Dallas, Detroit tied Chicago, Minnesota dumped Green Bay and Boston was pushed out of first place in the AFL Eastern Division by Denver. Kansas City got a big win defeating San Diego.

Grid professionals really put on the show for their fans on Sunday. Timmy Brown returned kickoff 93 and 90 yards for touchdowns for Philadelphia's win over Dallas, and Aaron Martin dashed 67 yards with a punt for another score.

Two touchdowns by Bill Brown — one in the fourth quarter — sent Minnesota by the Packers. The Vikings' Fran Tarkenton, the hottest quarterback in the league the last month, completed 16 of 26 passes. Tarkenton also had the TV fans on the end of the chairs with his scrambling, not to mention how coach Vince Lombardi of the Packers must have felt when he kept slipping by Packers one after another. Lombardi's club is now in a much tighter spot with only one-half game lead over the always tough Baltimore Colts.

Despite New York's loss, Giant fans in attendance were treated with excitement as the game went down to the wire. St. Louis won by a close 20-17 score. Larry Wilson, Cardinal safety, saved it for the Cards when he intercepted a pass in the late minutes of the game. This one tied an NFL record with interceptions in the last seven games.

THE pros are building up to a real climax. It certainly is hard to tell about the pro leagues, at least not until the last week of the season. The way both leagues are hammering away, just don't be surprised if a playoff game develops.

In the NFL anything can happen and generally does. Green Bay, with a small edge over Baltimore and San Francisco, still has to play those clubs. In the other division, the Cards, now leading, have both Cleveland and Dallas to play and these teams still have a chance. Predictions, anyone?

Interest is riding high on Sonny Werblin's New York Jets. Sunday is a big one for Sonny. The Jets (4-3) will take on the leading Buffalo Bills (5-3). The Jets had a resting day last Sunday, but will have to put up with a home Buffalo crowd on Sunday. Joe Namath might just like it up there, he won't have to engage a "booling" New York crowd, or will he?

SHORT SNORTS — Dixie Abdella, grid star for Middletown Township High School a couple of seasons back, is being red-shirted by Duke University. Dixie still has three years of eligibility, so he should be an asset to the Blue Devils. Duke also red-shirted J. V. McCarthy, former Rumson-Fair Haven star, when he played at Duke.

Touchdown Award

HOUSTON (AP) — Rice University football Coach Jess Nease has been named first winner of the touchdown award to be given each year on a national basis to the outstanding football player of the year by the Touchdown Club of Houston.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parsegian will be guest speaker at the awards banquet Dec. 1 in Houston.

Robinson: Negroes Give NL Star Edge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "There are more Negroes in the National League and therefore more outstanding ones," he went on. "That's not all of it. But that definitely has something to do with it."

Elston Howard of the New York Yankees became the first Negro to win it in the American League in 1963. In the National League, which broke the color line when Jackie Robinson joined the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1947, eight Negroes have won award 12 times in the last 19 years.

"The first one usually is the biggest thrill," Robinson said. "But this award is even bigger than the first one because I've become the first to do it in both leagues. That's something that will be remembered."

Robinson became the first unanimous winner in a decade, just as he became the first Triple Crown winner in 10 years, and only the third unanimous winner in the 35-year history of the voting.

Chicago White Sox grabbed the top three spots. Acquired from Cincinnati in December, Robinson led the league in all three major hitting departments with a .316 average, 49 homers and 122 runs batted in.

Although Manasquan won three meets yesterday and Long Branch and Asbury Park ended up in the only tie of the nearly completed season, Brick Township was the cross country headliner yesterday, winning its eighth straight Ocean County team championship at Ocean County Park, Lakewood.

Led by Russ Taintor's meet record 11:48 clocking, Brick totaled 26 points to win easily from six opponents. Point Pleasant Beach, which had the runner-up in Gene Shirley (12:13) was a distant second with 70 points. Brick has never lost in the annual county title event.

Bob Bazley and Ken Capraun ran 1-2 for Long Branch, but Asbury Park still had enough to tie the Branchers, who romped in the jayvee meet, 15-47, behind individual winner "Ambush" Goele.

Jim Muehleisen and Perry Neare topped all entries from the four competing teams to lead Manasquan to its three victories. Rich Poe, Point Boro, was third, while Ted Rainer of Ocean was fourth. Joe Higgins, Shore's top finisher, was ninth.

At the 40th annual Metropolitan Interscholastic championships at New York City's Van Cortlandt Park, senior George Sheehan of Rumson led Manhattan College to its 19th team crown in the 40th annual meet.

Sheehan, former Christian Brothers Academy star, finished third in 25:51 to help Manhattan to its first crown since 1960. The Jaspers totaled 38 points to top a nine-team field that had NYU second with 78, Fordham third at 89 and defending champion St. John's fourth with 103.

Byron Dyce, NYU sophomore, was the individual winner in 25:18, upending defending champion Jim O'Connell of CCNY, second yesterday, by 25 yards.

Tim Sheehan, George's brother and a Manhattan sophomore, was 19th in 27:24, while John Homish of Lincroft was 37th for Fordham.

In the freshman race, Don Rowe, CBA star last season, was fifth to help St. John's to a 60-80 triumph over Manhattan. Dickinson was third with 84, followed by Rutgers, 86. Leo Bellarmino, ex-Central Regional High star, was sixth for Rutgers.

Rutgers' Bob Schroeder Is a Football Rarity

By HERSCHELL NISSENSON Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW BRUNSWICK — Some times, particularly near the end of each half, Bob Schroeder gets a little tired. But that's not the reason he stays by his lonesome in the middle of the football field while 10 Rutgers players leave the game and 10 others come in.

In an age of specialization in more areas than football, Schroeder has become a jack-of-all-trades in cleats, a throwback to the days when a man played most or all of 60 minutes on offense and defense.

"It's getting a little tiring although now that the weather's getting cooler it isn't too bad. I try to put out 100 per cent on every play. I suppose it has hurt me a little bit, especially near the end of the halves. After you've played 30 minutes it really starts to tell on you. You're a little slower off the mark and maybe a little easier to move."
