Volpe Again on Trail In County for Nixon

LONG BRANCH — Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe had a busy day in Monmouth County yesterday, when he held a press conference in Old Orchard Country Club, Eatontown, addressed a crowd of potential Republican voters in the Long Branch armory and was whisked away to make a political speech in Wall Township. Gov. Volpe in his eighth political trip to the state this year told a press corps in the country club that Richard M. Nixon, the GOP presidential candidate, asked him to campaign here as well as in Pennsylvania, New York and New England as he considers New Jersey an important state to win. He said Mr. Nixon's concern follows the general trend of concern in three important issues. He said those issues are the Vietnam war, a more stringent law and order program and the devaluation of the dollar. He said the Republican doctrine is to "get the bombing stopped" in Vietnam without exposing our troops to additional dangers. He added, when asked if the Democratic administration could effectively garner votes should a bombing halt be implemented now, that the move would appear to the public as a political maneuver just before election day. He said he doubts if such a move would have much effect on the outcome of presidential balloting next week. Gov. Volpe predicted a major GOP win in Vermont and New Hampshire. He said Massachusetts, his home state, and Connecticut will be "battleground states," but showed confidence in a GOP victory in (See VOLPE, Pg. 3, Col. 6)

Further Gaming Probe Is Set In Trial of Police Director

NEWARK (AP) — The prosecution plans to probe further today the effectiveness and strength of the vice squad under Newark Police Director Dominick A. Spina, on trial on a charge of willfully refusing and neglecting to crack down on gambling. Scheduled to take the stand again is Capt. John A. Nott, second in command of the city police department's Division of Investigation under which the squad operates. In his brief appearance Friday, Nott said that his squad was "decimated" by the riots of July, 1967. The squad handling the investigation of vice in the state's largest city went from 44 men prior to the riots to 19 men now, he added. Nott noted that ever since the racial disturbances the squad had periodically been shifted to City Hall security "any time there were rumors of a threatened riot." Nott is one of three law enforcement officers to have testified, as the third day of the nonfeance trial before Superior Court Judge Samuel Lerner got under way. Other witnesses were Lt. Bart J. Dougherty, head of the five-man gambling squad for the Essex County prosecutor's office, and Lt. Bernard J. McCauley of Newark's Investigation Bureau. Dougherty disclosed Friday to a jury of eight men and six women that five major "banks" for illegal lottery operations flourish in Newark and that such operations do business in the open and are "relatively easy to pick up."

Retrial of Russo Opens Under Curbs

MOUNT HOLLY (AP) — The retrial of reputed Cosa Nostra figure Anthony Russo of Deal on charges of false swearing and perjury before a Grand Jury opens here today under stringent regulations governing publicity. The regulations were set down by Monmouth County Court Judge M. Raymond McGowan who will preside during the retrial. Russo's first trial on charges, which stem from a Monmouth County Grand Jury investigation into allegations of political interference in the Long Branch Police Department, ended in a mistrial. This happened last May when the jury was unable to reach a verdict after eight hours of deliberation. In setting a new trial date last Oct. 3, Superior Court Judge Elvin R. Simml granted a change of venue from Freehold and said he was "now of the opinion that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had in this case in the county in which the indictment was found." The indictment, returned last November against Russo, 32, charged that he falsely denied telling three Long Branch policemen: "We can take care of the mayor. We got three councilmen. Tonight or tomorrow we'll have number four." Under McGowan's regulations, no photographs may be made in the court area, photographic and recording machines are barred from the court, principals in the case may not make statements to newsmen and no publication of anything that doesn't develop in court.

Armed Fugitive Gives Up To Red Bank FBI Agent

BRICK TOWNSHIP (AP) — A fugitive described as "armed and dangerous" withstood an all-night siege by more than 30 lawmen before surrendering today to a Red Bank FBI agent who had trailed him for five days. Police learned yesterday that Vincent Amato, 44, a native of Newark, had holed up here in the white frame ranch house of his daughter. As federal, state, and local law officers closed in yesterday, they found that the daughter, Mrs. Rose Ann Guarino, was inside, along with her husband Robert, and their children, Kelly Ann, 5, and Michael, 7. They were reported unhurt after the surrender. Amato, a parolee from the New Jersey State Prison, who escaped in a hail of bullets after an Oct. 15 robbery at a New Haven, Conn., loan office, was sought by the FBI for unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution. He was paroled in New Jersey Sept. 10 while serving 10-to-14 years for parole violation in connection with another robbery.

Agrees to Surrender When he emerged in the glare of floodlights that bathed the house, Amato arms overhead had agreed by telephone to surrender to FBI agent James Hoffman of the Red Bank office, who had been a part of the team that had followed him since last Wednesday. He had resisted police entreaties, a plea by his former wife and the shutting off of the electricity. Wednesday, a motorist escaped on foot from a state trooper writing a traffic ticket. After tracing the abandoned car to Amato, State Police issued a statewide alert describing him as "armed and dangerous."

Man Sought In Slaying Of Woman

ASBURY PARK — Mrs. Barbara Pitts, 22, of 38 Ridge Ave., was fatally stabbed here last night. Police Chief Thomas S. Smith reported. A county alarm has been issued for a man reported to be the victim's husband, Chief Smith said. He was identified as Claude Pitts, 22, who may live on Westside Ave., Red Bank. County Medical Examiner Dr. G. Malcolm B. Gilman said Mrs. Pitts died of shock and hemorrhage caused by multiple stab wounds. The James H. Hunt Funeral Home here will be in charge of arrangements. Claude Pitts was described as Negro, five feet seven inches tall, wearing a gray and white sweater, orange shirt and black pants. The police chief cautioned authorities that he may be armed with a knife. Chief Smith said members of his department were in Red Bank last night looking for the man.

He was trailed to the house on quiet Spruce Drive by three events. First, neighbors spotted him at a nearby shopping plaza. Then, earlier in the week State Trooper Robert Maziarz found a car parked several hundred feet from the house that also was registered to Amato. Two pistols and 100 rounds of ammunition were found in the car, State Police said.

Third, three bloodhounds were used to trace his scent from the car to the house, which they did repeatedly. Of the family, State Police Lt. Joseph Babick said after the surrender that officers had "feared that he might have been holding them hostage because a man in that desperate frame of mind could have done it." However, he said there was no evidence that they were hostages.

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese infantrymen smashed into troops from a veteran North Vietnamese regiment that spearheaded two offensives on Saigon this year, government military headquarters announced today. A government spokesman said 32 soldiers from North Vietnam's Dong Nai Regiment were killed and 13 other captured in heavy fighting yesterday 24 miles north of Saigon. The prisoners included a battalion deputy commander and a company commander, the spokesman said. The South Vietnamese troops also seized 21 weapons in the battle and turned up two munitions stockpiles in the surrounding area that included 400 mortar shells, bazooka-type rockets and grenades.

Six South Vietnamese were reported killed and 20 wounded. It was the first time a sizable force of the Dong Nai Regiment had been in action since last May 5, when the regiment was badly mauled in an attack on Saigon. Its reappearance indicated it may be back to full strength now and orders for a third offensive against Saigon. The Dong Nai Regiment also was in heavy fighting in Saigon during the Tet offensive last February. South Vietnamese headquarters said the Dong Nai Regiment may have been preparing to attack the key district town of Ben Cat, and the government operation was launched "in order to destroy the enemy in the area southeast of Ben Cat."

Biggest Halloween March Held

RED BANK — At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in perfect Indian summer weather, the "balloon man" was doing a brisk business among the young spectators already lining Broad Street and the devils, ballerinas, ghosts, princesses, Indians, witches and pirates were gathering at Marine Park. A half-hour later, stepping to the music of eight bands, Red Bank's biggest Halloween Parade and Carnival was underway. The results were almost as traditional as the parade itself — last year's grand prize winners took top honors again, but with a switch.

He said that lawmen found four rifles and ammunition inside the house, all of which belonged to Amato's son-in-law. The son-in-law, Robert Guarino, came out about 5 a.m. to talk with State Police. Shortly thereafter, his wife yelled out to call on the telephone. When the arrangements were completed, Hoffman approached the front steps with his gun drawn, but when he met Amato, they shook hands and hurried off.

Police tried to enter the house when they arrived, but Mrs. Guarino yelled, "Go away. Don't come back unless you have a search warrant." Then, they brought Amato's former wife, now Mrs. Connie Nappi of Howell Township, to plead with her daughter to open up. Mrs. Nappi said, "Let me in, I want to talk to you." "No! All you want is money," her daughter replied. (See AMATO, Pg. 2, Col. 6)

2 Other Actions It was one of three actions reported around Saigon. U.S. and South Vietnamese forces killed another 38 enemy soldiers and seized 27 weapons in two clashes 10 and 12 miles south of the capital. Two Americans were wounded, and no South Vietnamese losses were reported.

The U.S. Command announced that American infantrymen sweeping in the demilitarized zone captured more than 250 North Vietnamese weapons in one of the largest battlefield hauls of the war. The troops of the 5th Mechanized Division found 242 rifles and 17 larger weapons on the battleground in the southern half of the DMZ where American infantrymen, tanks, artillery, planes and offshore warships killed 232 North Vietnamese in an all-day fight Friday. The larger weapons left behind included eight light machine guns, four mortar tubes, two heavy antiaircraft machine guns and three bazooka-type rockets.

OUT OF THE WASH — Susan Grzankowski, 15, of Perth Amboy put on her soap boxes, bleach bottles, and mop wig yesterday and, as "Miss Suds" of 1968 took the 1968 grand prize in Red Bank's annual Halloween Parade and Carnival. Red Bank Mayor John P. Arnone presented her with prize; a radio. (Register Staff Photo)

Second grand prize, a typewriter, went to the Michael Palumbo family, 15 Center St., Oceanport, first grand prize winner last year and a frequent winner in past parades. This year, five of the six Palumbo children portrayed the characters in Peter Pan, with Mr. Palumbo as Captain Hook and Mrs. Palumbo as Nanna, the dog.

Third grand prize, $25 in gift certificates, was awarded Sandra Gabriel, 20 Buena Place, here, costumed as a witch. 5000 Watched According to Deputy Police Chief Leroy McKnight it was Red Bank's biggest Halloween parade ever. He said more than 5,000 persons watched along the route from Marine Park to the W. Bergen Place recreation field, and the line of march extended a full mile. There were more than a dozen drill teams in the march. There were seven divisions. Four prizes were awarded in some, three prizes in others. But no child went home empty-handed — there was a small gift, along with cider, soda and candy — at the recreation field for each young marcher.

The winners were: Division A, ages 1-7, Susan and Charles Maxson, 93 E. Highlands Ave., Atlantic Highlands; Nadine Zaorski, 53 Lincoln St., Middletown; Ronald (See PARADE, Pg. 2, Col. 4) The Double Sizzler A unique, new, luncheon special only 99c at Bonanza, Rt. 35, Middletown. (Adv.)

Alfred R. Davis, 147 W. Push New Shrewsbury Site For County Airport Location

FREEHOLD — Democratic candidates for freeholder in Monmouth County today advocated prompt action to establish a county airport in New Shrewsbury.

The stand taken by former Freeholder Eugene J. Redell and running mate Frank K. Woolley runs in the face of the apparent position of the all-Republican board to buy up the privately-owned Monmouth County Airport in Wall Township.

"Title questions are involved at the Wall Township site," said Mr. Redell, "and could lead to costly and lengthy litigation. Furthermore the principal need at this time is to enhance the county's electronic industry and its relations with Ft. Monmouth. Thus, an area in New Shrewsbury between the Hexagon and Earle Naval Ammunition Depot is the most desirable."

'Engineers Agree'

"Engineers who have studied the situation agree that the New Shrewsbury location is the better and they endorsed the Wall Township site only because it was a going business."

"There is also a political question which is unsettling. If the Republicans were sincere in wanting to meet the need for an airport, they should have moved long ago. The delay merely permits prices to become more inflated."

"If in the county welfare to take over Monmouth, it should take the entire plant so that there would be adequate revenues to offset the huge investment to be required."

"Initial cost at New Shrewsbury would be significantly lower and there is sufficient area to develop for industrial facilities."

Mr. Woolley, a former Freehold councilman, said that the future growth of Monmouth County should concentrate increasingly on the electronics and other light, clean industries.

"The seashore resort industry will ever remain the most important in Monmouth," he said, "but it will continue to fall short of its full potential until a bonafide county airport is created."

Orders 2 Marlboro Candidates to Court

FREEHOLD — The two Marlboro councilmen, subjects of the Nov. 26 recall election, will have to show cause Friday in Superior Court how they can be candidates in that election to succeed one another.

The order, signed by Judge Elvin R. Simmill, was filed by former Marlboro Mayor Walter C. Grubb Jr. and his running mate, John J. McLaughlin, both Citizens Committee members.

The complaint charges that the two councilmen in the recall election, George E. Creevy and Alfred L. Storer, members of the Purpose and Principle Coalition, cannot place their names on the ballot as candidates to succeed one another because it is contrary to law and because they are ineligible to appear as candidates on the ballot.

Also named defendants are Marlboro Township Clerk, Floyd Wyckoff; Monmouth County Clerk, J. Russell Woolley, and the two Marlboro Action Party candidates, Robert Netchert and Steven Adler.

Mr. Creevy was selected by the Democratic County Committee as its candidate to succeed Mr. Storer should he be recalled. Mr. Storer was selected by the Republican County Committee as its candidate to succeed Mr. Creevy should he be recalled.

The order wants Mr. Wyckoff and Mr. Woolley restrained from placing Mr. Creevy's and Mr. Storer's names on the special ballot. It also wants the two clerks to place the names of Mr. Grubb, Mr. McLaughlin, Mr. Netchert and Mr. Adler on the ballot without any designation to the office they are seeking.

It contended that Mr. Wyckoff had ruled that candidates must designate the name of the incumbent councilman whose office they are seeking. The order said this requirement is improper and contrary to law.

The complaint was filed by James R. Minogue of Middletown.

Youth Sought In Probe Of Stabbing

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS — Police have issued a teletype alarm for a Red Bank youth who allegedly stabbed a teenager while attempting to crash a party here Friday night.

The arrest bulletin was broadcast yesterday afternoon for William Safford, 20, whose last known address was 113 Shrewsbury Ave. He is described as a Negro five feet 6½ inches tall, weighing 145 pounds with brown eyes and black bushy hair. He is considered dangerous.

According to police the assault took place at the apartment of Scott Reilly, 139 Front St.

Mr. Reilly was entertaining several of his friends at a party when Mr. Safford and four other unidentified youths attempted to gain access. When the intruders were denied entry a brief scuffle broke out and during the melee Mr. Safford allegedly slashed Dean Stepp, 17, of Hillton Road in the abdomen.

The intruders apparently fled the scene by car, police said. The Stepp youth was taken to Riverview Hospital, Red Bank, where nine stitches were required to close the two-inch gash.

More Fake Bills Move

LONG BRANCH — Police Chief Joseph D. Purcell Jr. warns city merchants that bogus $10 bills continue to be uncovered here.

The chief said that four more phony bills were passed here last week. One such bill, he said, was passed at Michael's Shoe Store, Broadway, and three others were discovered in deposits at the N.J. National Bank and Trust Co. here.

Chief Purcell added that plate number D 20 appears on the face of bogus $10 bills and number 12 is engraved on the rear. He said the coloring of Hamilton's picture is also of poor quality.

Probe 2 Fires In Residence

LITTLE SILVER — Slight damage resulted from two fires, apparently the work of arsonists, at 2 Daniel Drive early Saturday. Police Chief John Foster said.

Chief Foster said the fires started in the third floor closet and second floor landing of Peter Samaras' home and burned themselves out by the time house painters discovered the scorched remains at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

The fires were apparently ignited with paint brush cleaning fluid after entry had been gained through the rear door of the home, said Chief Foster.

The fires were started sometime between 9:30 p.m. Friday, when Mr. Samaras left his home, and the next morning when painters, remodeling the home, discovered the singed flooring and closet, said Chief Foster.

the peace negotiations, I call on him to spell it out now — openly."

Humphrey also joined Johnson yesterday and again today in disputing Nixon's statement that Democratic administrations had created a security gap and that America must maintain arms superiority over the Soviet Union.

"He (Nixon) is risking miscalculation by our enemies," Humphrey said in remarks prepared for an Akron, Ohio, rally. "He is urging a mad escalation of the nuclear arms race. And he is advocating an increasing militarization of American life and American foreign policy."

Nixon, meanwhile, accused Humphrey of loose talk on Vietnam and said: "When negotiations are in progress, an undisciplined tongue can be the worst enemy of peace."

"By trying to please every audience and appease every faction," Nixon said, "he (Humphrey) can only have sown consternation among our friends and confusion among our enemies."

President Johnson lambasted both Nixon and third party candidate George C. Wallace Sunday and predicted Humphrey would win an upset victory Nov. 5 much as Harry S. Truman did in 1948.

Wallace, meanwhile, began concentrating the final week of his campaign on border states and large industrial cities, talking like a winner and belittling polls showing him losing support.

The polls "are liars . . . trying to rig the election," Wallace said in Montgomery, Ala. And he said after the election "we're going to put some of the polling outfits out of business."

Top of the News

MOSCOW — The unmanned Soviet space ship Soyuz 2nd landed in the Soviet Union today after three days in space, Tass announced, but Cosmonaut Georgy Beregovoy continued in orbit in the sister ship Soyuz 3.

Beregovoy had followed the unmanned ship in tandem around the earth for two days and during this period had maneuvered his Soyuz 3 so as to approach the pilotless sister ship.

If any attempt was made to link up the manned and unmanned ships, something the Russians have not done, it was not announced. Tass, the Soviet news agency, said Soyuz 2's "program for checking its system and for joint maneuvering and approach of the spaceships Soyuz 2 and Soyuz 3" was fully carried out.

Meanwhile, Beregovoy was reported to have completed his 33rd orbit of the earth, and all the systems of the ship continued to function normally, Tass said, adding: "Beregovoy feels well."

Five Officers Commended For Heroism

LONG BRANCH — Five city police officers who apprehended a woman with a gun on Broadway Thursday have been commended by Police Chief Joseph D. Purcell Jr. and Mayor Paul Nastasio Jr.

Cited for making the arrest without a serious mishap were Sgt. Alex Rota and Patrolmen John P. Naylor, Gaetano Mistretta, Gerald Russomano and George Huhn.

Chief Purcell said the officers' devotion to duty and the keeping of cool heads brought about the arrest of Rosemary Algeria, who attempted to hold police at bay with a gun, without causing injury to anyone.

The 26-year-old woman is being held pending a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court here. She resides at 5 Pearl St.

Mayor Nastasio commended the policemen for a joint act of heroism in controlling an explosive situation and preventing injury to scores of onlookers, the gun-wielding woman and to themselves.

Hughes Terms Howard a Most Valued Member of Congress

FREEHOLD — Rep. James J. Howard, D-N.J., seeking reelection, was praised by Gov. Richard J. Hughes as one of the most valued members of Congress and as a man who has earned the confidence of his fellow citizens.

The governor, also aimed sharp criticism at George Wallace and Maryland Gov. Spiro Agnew during his brief speech Friday to 85 attorneys at the Monmouth County Lawyers for Howard Committee luncheon in the American Hotel here.

This election presents special problems for attorneys, said the governor. He added that the people believe in them and look up to them as they do to judges. He asked them to think very deeply about the election.

Gov. Hughes said that Gov. Agnew was bitterly critical of the Chief Justice Earl Warren, for not remembering that everything he has owes to the Republican Party. "The chief justice doesn't owe anything to any party," declared Gov. Hughes, or to any group that would distort the Constitution of the United States.

Says Guard Assigned He added that the Republican Party has assigned a guard to Gov. Agnew to keep check on what he says.

Turning his attack to Mr. Wallace, Gov. Hughes said that the former Alabama governor was the man who stood in a school house door and defied his country. He doesn't believe in laws, he charged.

He added that Mr. Wallace's state has the highest murder rate in the country and that Gov. Agnew's has the highest crime rate in the country.

"These chief apostles of law and order mean suppression," said the governor.

In announcing that Mr. Wallace intended to crash a state police graduation in West Trenton, Gov. Hughes said that this would be an unforgivable, an almost indecent thing for him to do. The Alabama former governor, however, did not attend the graduation.

Gov. Hughes said that this country's problems could not be solved with policemen's clubs, nor with atom bombs.

'Worst Extremist'

The governor called Max Rafferty, the Conservative Republican seeking a U.S. Senate seat in California, the "worst extremist. Next to him, George Wallace looks like a social worker."

Gov. Hughes said that Richard M. Nixon has billboard signs in California stating that he needs Rafferty. He said that the extremists on the right and those on the left are both no good.

He hoped that Americans would not be thrown off balance by these spurious cries for law and order.

Qualifications Exhibited

Turning his remarks to Congressman Howard, Gov. Hughes told him that his conduct has exhibited full well his qualifications for the job. This man has earned the confidence of his fellow citizens, he said, adding that Mr. Howard was trying to unite them.

"We've got to come together," he continued, because this is one nation with liberty and justice for all.

Americans should have more confidence in their country, he urged, adding that they should look at their country with pride.

Officer Finds Two Carried Heroin Cache

HOLMDEL — Two Asbury Park men were arrested by state police on the Garden State Parkway Friday afternoon and charged with possessing narcotics and carrying a concealed weapon.

According to police, the pair, identified as Edward Knight, 39, of Asbury Ave., and Glenn Settles, 21, of Asbury Park Village, were stopped by Trooper William Anthony for a motor vehicle violation.

Further investigation by the officer revealed that the men were in possession of 134 decks of heroin, three syringes, needles and other narcotic paraphernalia, plus a fully loaded 32-caliber pistol.

Municipal Court Judge Seymour R. Kleinberg held Mr. Knight, who was also charged with possessing a forged driver license, in $4,000 bail and Mr. Settles in $3,000 bail.

Detective Alan Merken is continuing the investigation.

Seek Clues About Safe

OCEANPORT — Police have had more inquiries but no leads in the mystery of the burglarized safe abandoned here.

The 500-pound safe had been dumped in a hole in a wooded area off Burnt Mill Circle, a new, unpaved road. It was found on Oct. 2 by William Nundell, Turf Drive, while he was walking his dog.

A state alarm has been issued concerning the safe, and police from several communities have examined it.

"A man called about it yesterday," police here reported, "but it wasn't his."

The dial on the front door had been punched in a vain attempt to open it, police said. They said entry was gained by tearing through the safe's rear walls and concrete liner. Police said this morning that the safe is empty.

The safe has a serial number 54856 and a red metal fire label with the name of the North American Safe Association.

Panic won't solve the problems, he said, again calling for a unification. This country's heart is beating, he said, wishing that Americans would not be thrown off balance.

The national Democratic ticket is bound and tied to a courageous implementation of the constitution, he said, adding that it has men trained in integrity for President, vice president and for Congress, "like Jim Howard here."

Mr. Howard thanked the group of lawyers for their cooperation in the past. He said that there was one serious issue in which he differed from his opponent, that was an amendment to a bill which he opposed to prohibit use of federal anti-poverty funds for legal aid to persons accused of participating in civil disorders. After speaking to attorneys, continued Mr. Howard, he learned that he was on the right track. It said that it was not the American way to punish anyone before he is convicted.

Mr. Howard told the group that he appreciated the turnout, knowing that so many of them of different political affiliations were there.

Cochairmen of the event were Theodore F. Labrecque Jr. of Red Bank and Stephen A. Argeris of Deal.

Disabled Vets Cite Howard

FREEHOLD — The Disabled American Veterans, Chapter 74, here, presented Rep. James J. Howard with a Citation of Merit.

The chapter paid its tribute to Mr. Howard, a Navy veteran, who, E. Grant Taylor, chapter commander and service officer said has aided and assisted all veterans, their wives, widows and children and orphans whenever he was asked.

He is the veteran's friend and particularly the disabled veteran, continued the chapter commander. "We want to keep him in Washington where the action is. Our citation is our way of saying thank you, a good old American custom," he added.

Mr. Taylor summarized Mr. Howard's record, in particular the expressway, his vote against the 10 per cent tax increase, his fight against oil depletion tax exemptions and to close tax loopholes.

Volpe Pushes Nixon in Area

both states. He lacked confidence in a GOP victory in Maine, saying there "is a chance of carrying" that state.

Flanking the governor at the press conference were J. Russell Woolley, county Republican leader; state Sen. Richard R. Stout; Mrs. Ann D. Flynn of Deal, president of the N.J. Federation of Republican Women; and Webster B. Todd of Oldwick, state Republican chairman.

Cites 'Double Squeeze'

Gov. Volpe said the public is the victim of a "double squeeze" with the decline of the dollar's buying power. He said the cost of living and taxes spiral, while wage increases fail to keep pace.

He added that new federal programs have created new agencies with attendant personnel and operating costs, adding to the administration's "bureaucracy and cost of operation."

Mr. Nixon, he said, proposes more efficient operation of federal agencies and better distribution of government services.

Taking a verbal slap at George Wallace, Gov. Volpe said Americans should combat his "fragmentation" of the two-party system and work to strengthen that system. Reiterating most of his comments later in the armory, the speaker added that he is "a very concerned American."

He said he is concerned about the war abroad and the "war at home." He said there has been a tremendous change in the nation since former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Mr. Nixon left office.

Going Downhill

"Under Ike's administration, he said, "there was no communist Cuba and there were no Americans fighting anywhere in the world." Since then, he added, the nation has been going downhill.

Touching only briefly on lawlessness, Mr. Volpe said that 41 per cent of Americans are afraid to go out in the streets at night and called for a major effort toward correcting such a condition.

Gov. Volpe also called for a federal program in which all citizens are afforded the opportunity to scale the ladder of success "rung-by-rung" without being shoved off. "That," he said, "is Dick Nixon's goal."

Also attending the session were Robert Mauro, Long Branch Republican chairman; Assemblyman Louis R. Aikins, toastmaster for the rally; incumbent Freeholders Joseph C. Irwin, director of that body, and Benjamin Danskin, and sheriff candidate Axel Carlson.

Mayor Paul Nastasio Jr., here, and Mayor John Arnone of Red Bank, were also in the throng.

Joseph D. Purcell Jr., city police chief, estimated the onlookers totaled between 800 and 1,000 persons.

DON'T LET 'WINTER KILL' KILL THE BEAUTY OF YOUR HOME

You have a big investment in the landscaping around your home. "Winter Kill" can rob you of it. Your lawn, evergreens, and shrubs, especially newly planted ones, are particularly vulnerable to this condition, which is caused by failure to apply plenty of moisture to the soil before the freezing weather sets in. It is most important to thoroughly soak the soil and apply a mulch under the evergreen trees, shrubs, and other perennials. Now's the time to do it! You'll be glad you did.

James Mooney, 67, A Polar Authority

WASHINGTON (AP)—James E. Mooney, 67, polar authority and writer, died yesterday in Suburban Hospital at nearby Bethesda, Md., after a heart attack.

A lifelong friend of Adm. Richard E. Byrd, who named an Antarctic mountain for him, Mooney had been active in the field of polar exploration since the 1920s. He was deputy projects director of the U.S. Navy's Antarctic projects at the time of his retirement in 1966.

At the end of 1938, Hahn and his collaborator, Dr. Fritz Strassman, sent her the details of their experiments for her to analyze. From this she calculated the enormous amount of energy that would be released by splitting the uranium atom, and her conclusions were published in Britain in February, 1939. Meanwhile, she had informed Danish physicist Niels Bohr of the discoveries, and Bohr carried the news to scientists in America.

Six years later, the United States dropped an atomic bomb on Hiroshima. The bomb was a surprise to Dr. Meitner, who disclaimed any responsibility for this use of her work.

Dr. Meitner, 'Aided Atom Data Study

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP)

—Lise Meitner, 89, the Austrian nuclear physicist who did much of the theoretical groundwork on which the atomic bomb was developed, died yesterday.

The scientist worked for 30 years at the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute in Berlin with Prof. Otto Hahn, who received a Nobel Prize for discovering that the uranium atom could be split.

In 1938 she was forced to flee from Nazi persecution of Jews and for the next 20 years she lived in Stockholm.

At the end of 1938, Hahn and his collaborator, Dr. Fritz Strassman, sent her the details of their experiments for her to analyze. TIRED OF COMMUTING THREE HOURS EVERY DAY?

You can live and work in New Jersey and still realize your potential. Here's how!

I'm looking for a man of executive character who is capable of directing his own activities. He must be effective in dealing with important clients and have a good measure of sales ability. Sales experience is desirable, but not mandatory. However, the job demands a self-starring man who is looking for a lifetime career with rewards in direct proportion to effort.

Our firm is nationwide and our reputation among business leaders is excellent. We have offices only in principal cities and we perform a professional service of a confidential nature to a limited clientele. Sixty per cent of the men who have been with me three years earn in excess of $25,000 a year.

I want a man who's making $10-15 thousand now, but who wants to make $20-25 thousand. He should be on his way up, with a record of success. No traveling is necessary, and he will not be transferred.

We are planning interviews locally and in Essex County. If you would be willing to invest your time in discussing this career, please send me a short note, or your resume, today to R.C. P.O. Box 3098, East Orange, New Jersey 07018 and I will phone you to make a convenient time to get together.

"An Equal Opportunity Employer"

Our Choice for Congress

Third District voters this year have the good fortune of having two excellent major party candidates seeking a seat in the next Congress.

Incumbent Rep. James J. Howard, a Democrat, is without question one of the finest congressmen ever to represent this district. At the same time, he has gained national stature for his list of accomplishments.

Opposing him is State Sen. Richard R. Stout, a Republican, who serves with distinction in the legislature, has never lost an election, and represents, to a great extent, the more positive Republican thinking that has started to manifest itself in New Jersey.

The campaign conducted by both candidates has been an enlightened one. They have debated. They have discussed issues. They have set forth programs and ideas for the district, the state, and the nation. They truly have sought to keep the campaign on the highest level — and we hope this will continue until the last minutes of the pre-election activity.

But, as we said here when Sen. Stout announced his candidacy, the key issue continues to be whether there is any reason why Rep. Howard, after serving so well, should not be returned to Congress. Sen. Stout had the highly difficult task of trying to convince Third District voters that he, instead of Rep. Howard, would make a better congressman.

As the campaign developed and the candidates debated, it became even more dramatically apparent that to make a change now would not be in the best interests of the district and the nation. We respect Sen. Stout — but Rep. Howard has compiled too outstanding a record to be denied another term. Matter of fact, this intelligent, dynamic, creative and independent young congressman should be returned to Washington with the solid and convincing voter approval that he so richly deserves.

Rep. Howard's impressive leadership and service are there for all to see and admire. Let's take a look at the record again:

The Central Jersey Expressway project appeared to be doomed until Rep. Howard employed superb legislative skill in obtaining the necessary funds for it. A major building program for Ft. Monmouth was beset with delays and indecision until Rep. Howard labored to get it approved. The result will be much-needed facilities for the fort and tremendous economic gains for the county.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Capital Controversy for Clark

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, whose soft-handed policies and views on law enforcement have become a major election issue, is adding new fuel to the torrid controversy.

To vehement demands for protection for merchants terrorized and robbed by ghetto marauders and killers, Clark maintains that "the right to operate business is not in and of itself a right secured by the Constitution, and there are no federal statutory provisions securing the right to operate or maintain a business."

In effect, Clark argues that neither the Constitution nor statutes provide a claim for protection to maintain and operate a privately owned business.

This is hotly challenged by Rep. Joel Broyhill, R-N.Y., who raised the protection issue with Clark following a series of robbery-murders of ghetto merchants in the capital.

AS PROOF OF HIS contention, Broyhill, an influential member of the House District of Columbia Committee, cites the following:

—The fifth and 14th Amendments of the Constitution which he holds "provide that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property." This has been interpreted as encompassing within its meaning the entire domain of civil rights. The Supreme Court has held that corporations and businesses are entitled to protection.

—Section 214 of the U.S. Code which provides, "If two or more persons conspire to injure, oppress, threaten, or intimidate any person in the full exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the Constitution or laws of the United States . . . they shall be fined not

He has been a champion in the fight against water and air pollution. Conservation and the protection of our natural resources have been among his goals — and he has worked at them. Only last week, the Advisory Board on National Parks, Historic Sites, Buildings and Monuments endorsed his proposal to create a Sandy Hook National Seashore. Think of the recreational opportunities that would be made possible by this move.

On Vietnam, Rep. Howard last March called for a de-Americanization of the war, drafting of 18-20-year-old South Vietnamese youths, and putting South Vietnamese youths "in the front lines." His independence came through at the Democratic National Convention when he supported the minority peace plank "because it gives a new direction."

He has pledged to continue his fight for tax reform and against what he labeled the "tax-giveaway" oil depletion allowance. He voted against the Johnson administration's recently-passed 10 per cent income tax surcharge, contending that "millionaires get away without paying one single penny in federal taxes" while the average American shoulders the burden. He is the only member of the House of Representatives to file a discharge petition against the oil depletion allowance in order to force it onto the floor of the House for a vote.

Rep. Howard introduced a bill to increase the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $1,200 to help low income families meet a rising cost in living. He was a leader in the fight to bring federal school aid to districts where large numbers of pupils are children of servicemen stationed at military installations or children whose parents are civilian employees at the military posts.

His social concern was evidenced by his support of Medicare and his approval of increased Social Security benefits to meet higher living costs.

This is but part of the exciting story of Rep. Howard. It is one that vividly points out achievement and aggressiveness, all in the interests of the Third District and all of New Jersey.

The congressman has ignored partisan politics to bring the finest representation and service to his constituents. Democrats, Republicans and independents should respond in the same manner and return Rep. Howard to Congress.

more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than 10 years, or both; and if death results, they shall be subject to imprisonment for any term of years or for life."

—Title I of the Civil Rights Act of 1968 which Broyhill asserts explicitly states that "Whoever by force or threat of force willfully injures, intimidates or interferes with any person or in order to intimidate such person or any class of persons from participating in or enjoying any benefit, service, privilege, facility or activity provided for or administered by the United States shall be subject to fine or imprisonment or both."

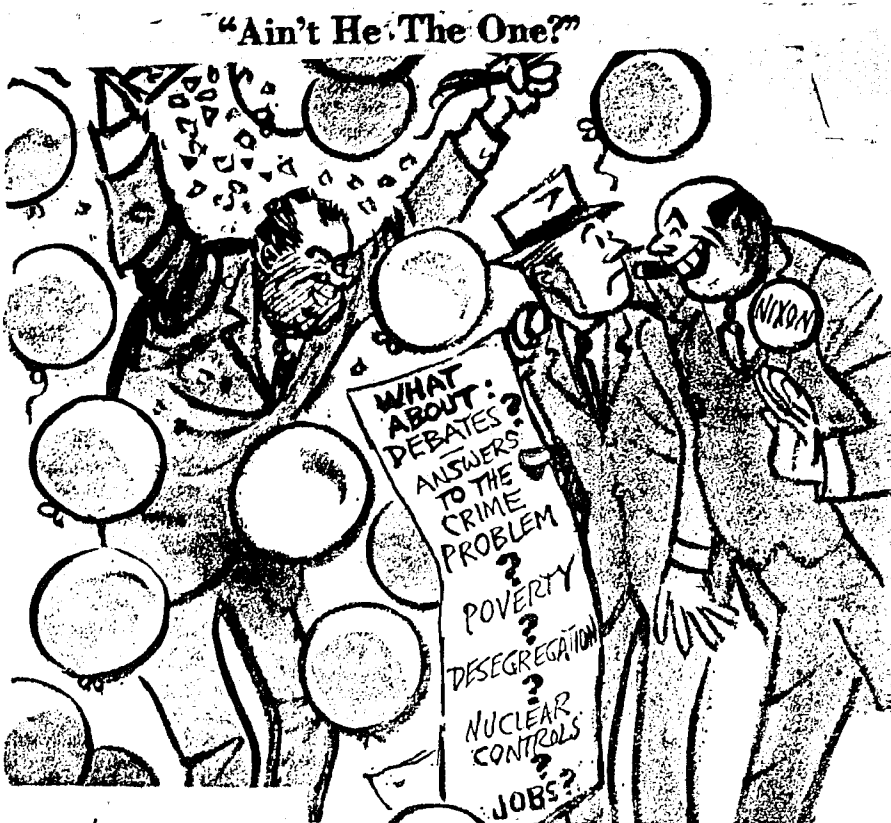

"IT IS OBVIOUS," declares Broyhill, "that the conduct of business is provided for by the government. And there can be no question that business is taxed, regulated, licensed and controlled by the government, as every merchant can attest. So why is business exempt from protection under the Ramsey Clark interpretation of the Constitution and the statutes?"

LATE AND DO-NOTHING — Rep. Broyhill urgently sought Justice Department prosecution of ghetto marauders following the April riots in the capital.

In a forceful letter to Atty. Gen. Clark, Broyhill "formally requested an immediate investigation to determine if there exists in the District of Columbia a conspiracy by so-called Black Power groups." He particularly called attention to "anti-Semitic actions by representatives of Black Power groups."

Broyhill heard nothing regarding his plea until nearly three months later. On July 22, he finally received a letter from Asst. Atty. Gen. Stephen Pollak, head of the Civil Rights Division, replying for Clark.

In this answer, Pollak asserted that neither the Constitution nor statutes afford businessmen protection from violence and pillage. As for Title I of the Civil Rights Act of 1968, Pollak held that while it specifies penalties for "intimidation on account of race or color of individuals," it does so only "in the exercise of certain enumerated rights such as attending school, utilizing public accommodations and serving on juries."

A CONSERVATIVE VIEW

Nixon, the One, Is Still No. 1

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK

KILPATRICK

After two weeks on the trail, campaign impressions run into each other like the colors on the carpets of old hotels. The Humphrey rally of Missouri becomes the Nixon rally of Ohio becomes the Muskie rally of New Jersey. We travel across a terminal moraine of paper cups and press releases. Some one is forever rising humbly from his seat to ask, "Where are we?"

In time the froth evaporates. Impressions crystallize: Nixon's still the one. It will take a miracle — more of a miracle than Truman wrought upon Dewey 20 years ago — for Humphrey to catch Richard Nixon now. It won't be a landslide; it won't produce a Republican House or Senate; but the current of this campaign will carry Nixon to the White House.

So let me write of Nixon in Ohio, and store up the rest. It is Tuesday the 22nd, and the Nixon Victory Special has made its triumphant way from Cincinnati to Toledo. Monday night's rally in the Cincinnati Gardens was a spectacular success — 16,000 persons, and only a handful of hecklers among them. The rally started on time and ended on time; the jelly-bean balloons came down on cue. The local platoons of Nixon girls — blue dresses, straw boaters — were as fresh as a field of bachelor's buttons. Nixon said nothing in particular, but he said it well.

HIS SPEECH was mainly a speech of exhortation: "I want to tell you this, my friends, that the work between now and election day can make the difference. So let's get out and work as we have never worked before. This time we're going to make sure we win. We're going to pour it on from now on. We're going to 'sock it to 'em'." He was the distance runner starting his last-lap sprint. He had an over-the-shoulder glance at Humphrey "the man of the past, applying principles of the thirties to problems of the seventies," but mostly he drove ahead in his own lane — new policies in defense, new policies in foreign affairs, an escalated war on crime, tax sharing with the states, Social Security benefits geared to a rising cost of living.

It was well after one o'clock that Monday night before Nixon got to bed. He was up again at six on Tuesday morning. At 7:30 on the dot of the Nixon schedule, the 15-car train moved out of Cincinnati, the Nixon girls yawning and the reporters grousing. The sky was baby pink and baby blue. Middletown, Dayton, Springfield, London; cornfields brown as tattered parchment, small town Gothic, houses with back yards, clotheslines, children's swings. This was Nixon country. At Dayton and Springfield, a few student hippies appeared. They were insolent but impotent; they could not survive the germfree air. And the train rolled on.

Two hundred reporters were aboard. They are professional Nixon tasters, constantly sipping the Nixon sauce, complaining of the salt, asking what is different. Nothing can please them. It is all too much — too much to eat, too much to drink, too many handouts. Too many staff assistants, too much organization, too much striving for perfection. The reporters hunger for a Nixon blunder. They grow petulant when blunders are denied them. The familiar hyperbole of a political campaign they condemn as demagoguery. They have come to judge Richard Nixon, but they sit as a hanging jury.

NONE OF THIS fazes the Nixon entourage. To be sure, the candidate is engaged in demagoguery. He knows that the rise in crime cannot truly be blamed on Johnson-Humphrey or on a dozen high court decisions. He knows that last year's growth in federal spending stems more from Vietnam than from welfare programs he proposes to repeal. He knows that he himself cannot reduce prices, expand employment, end inflation, lower taxes, boost farm income, and share revenues with the states — all in a single breath. But neither can Humphrey pull rabbits from hats. Those who feed on politics learn early to dine on baloney.

Perhaps it is mere prejudice — I hope it is something more, but it seems to me that something genuine in Nixon shows through the glossy surface of this highly waxed campaign. The professional Nixon haters will never believe it, but the crowds respond to his appeal. They are with him when he cries that the American flag "must never be used as a doormat." Their applause is not bogus — it is real — when he says that "the greatness of this country does not lie in what government has done for the people, but in what the people have done for themselves."

This is old-fashioned stuff. It is as corny as — well, corn. But it is the good ground meal from which successful candidates are made. Nixon is not perturbed when cynical reporters carp at his red, white and blue. He has forgotten more of politics than most of his tormentors have ever learned. So the courthouse squares merge into one another. The balloons come down on cue, and the indistinguishable local candidates become men of high distinction. The trail runs down a narrowing railway track toward the end of the line. Nixon's still the one.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

Christmas Club Bonanza

By SYLVIA PORTER

On this day more than 10,000 U.S. banks and savings institutions across the land are in the process of mailing out a record $2,113,624,000 in Christmas Club savings to a record 15,725,000 savers.

PORTER

This fantastic sum is double the total of Christmas Club savings as recently as 1958 and, of course, it will help support store sales in these weeks, thus be a "plus" factor in our economy.

But the above is the obvious point of the Christmas Club story. Not so obvious, yet deeply significant, is why Christmas Clubs exist at all, much less thrive as they do.

For the fact is that the 15,725,000 savers this year have forfeited enormous sums of interest which they could have earned on money they could easily have deposited in other types of savings accounts paying up to 6 per cent a year. Christmas Club savers this year alone will be giving up as much as $10,000,000 in interest!

AT LAST COUNT, only 13 per cent — one in eight — of the nation's banks offering Christmas Club plans paid any interest. Most of these paid interest only to those who completed the plan. And most of the banks paying interest paid only half or less than half the going rate for savings accounts. Some banks today are even making a service charge for Christmas Club accounts.

counts. The cost of an average of 35 separate, small deposits each year more than offsets the possible profit to be made on the funds, says the American Bankers Association. Many banks, in fact, look upon their Christmas Clubs as "loss leader" — just like Saturday meat specials at the supermarket.

Typically, a Christmas Club member deposits from 50 cents to $20 each week or two in his account. The average is a little over $2.50 a week, and the average 1968 total is $134 for an individual member, according to a New York firm with the unusual name of "Christmas Club a Corporation," which is releasing the Christmas Club results today.

IRONICALLY, AFTER sinking over $2 billion into low- or no-interest Christmas Club accounts, savers this year will immediately redeposit a full 28 per cent — $592,000,000 — of their club savings checks in regular savings accounts.

And why do Christmas Club members accumulate their money in accounts paying no interest? Because, as so many will admit, "it's a convenient way to save small amounts regularly" or "it's a good way to save for other things besides Christmas gifts."

Translated into plain words, what the Christmas Club saver means is that he just can't manage to put aside money regularly unless he's forced to.

In sum, what the boom in Christmas Club saving suggests is that in affluent America, "forced savings" is playing an ever larger role. We want to save; we want to be compelled to be thrifty; we want to accept a penalty in return for the discipline. We are not so far away from the Puritan ethic as you might think.

An Officer's Legs

By JIM BISHOP

He took a long pull on the bottle of bourbon standing on the dresser. "It takes legs," he said. "Legs will carry an officer up front with his men, or they'll carry him back to GHQ." He set the bottle back gently. "Legs have guts, or legs are jelly."

BISHOP

It was the last summer of the war. Richmond was hot. The creek beds were dark damp. Gen. Lewis Puller of the United States Marine Corps strode back and forth across the little hotel room. He looked like a fighting cock; he had the broad flat face of the ventriloquist's dummy. He had the legs, but the Pentagon had recalled him from the Pacific.

He was "on leave." The whispered word was that the general was battle happy. His Marines, in concert with an Army division, had taken the island of Peleliu. It was done the hard way. Chesty Puller's kids had killed 10,000 Japanese troops and captured one.

The general sent the one prisoner back to GHQ with a big sign on his shirt: "Herewith one prisoner with apologies. Puller." The word got out and the general was recalled.

Away back in 1918, he had been too small, too skinny and too young to make World War I. He lied on a Marine Corps enlistment form and the Corps took him and ran him through the toughest boot camp in the world — Parris Island. He came out of it the toughest Marine in the world.

ENLISTED MEN seldom reach high rank. The rare one who makes master sergeant is in clover. Nothing could stop Puller. His chest became bigger and bigger and his leg muscles were out of a quarry. He made rank after rank. By the time he was finished with World War II, he was a major general, with four — count 'em — Navy Crosses, and enough additional medals to run across four rows of his chest.

I sat on the bed in the hot hotel room, making notes for a magazine article. He took another drink, and stood the Christmas tree in a corner of a wall. "Christmas in July?" I said. The mean features softened. The wide mouth cracked in a smile. "Ah," he said and stopped. "Well, I meant to tell you, I married sort of late. Then they cut orders for the Pacific, you see, so I never got to see the baby."

I had caught him on his way home to a small Virginia town. "I don't give a damn what month it is, my boy is going to have Christmas when I get home. Tell you something else — I'm having Christmas with him." We talked of war and peace and his inability to resist running up to the front lines to tell each platoon what was expected of it.

"If you explain it to the kids, they understand. Hell, they'll go out and execute the order. I'm always afraid that some captain or lieutenant won't tell it straight." He was a hero's hero without consciously trying, but he couldn't understand why the brass despised him.

He left me, and the half empty bottle, and carried the tree under one arm and a bag of baby toys under the other. "Imagine having a kid at my age," he said. We both laughed.

THEY BROUGHT HIM back to action in Korea. Chesty Puller led the U.S. Marines all the way up the bowling alley to the edge of the Yalu. Gen. Douglas MacArthur had promised to send "the boys" home for Christmas, but they were caught up there by a gigantic Chinese "volunteer" army which seeped through the passes and cut the men off.

Puller waited for orders. The word was to try to retreat through the mass of Chinese and rejoin the main forces. The general cursed. Then he passed the word to cut the heart out of anyone who tried to block the Marines. They did. He walked beside the lead tanks and heled them back through a sea of shrieking Chinese. It was a textbook retreat, but a retreat.

Chesty Puller was retired as a lieutenant general. Years later, he testified for Drill Instructor Matthew McKeon, a soft-hearted platoon commander who tried to punish his "boots" by marching them through the oozy boondocks at night. Six drowned. Puller's legs brought him back to Parris Island to testify in favor of vigorous discipline, even in the face of a tragic accident. Puller studied the complete record and said that McKeon was a good sergeant; a good Marine.

That night, the general officers invited Puller to a formal dinner. He declined, and drank beer with 600 NCO's at their club. After that, Puller retired to his home. I never heard of him or his baby again.

Last week, an Associated Press dispatch opened: "The Marines at Da Nang said Tuesday that Lt. Lewis B. Puller Jr. lost both his legs in a booby trap explosion and has been awarded the Silver Star."

'Y' Faces Challenge

The Community Young Men's Christian Association
166 Maple Ave.,
Red Bank, N. J.

To the Editor:

On behalf of the board of directors, I want to thank you for your recent editorial in support of the Community YMCA, and for the fine news coverage you have given our activities in past months. The most recent stories and pictures of the move of Miss Dibben's house down Maple Ave., were developed with the fine human touch that again illustrates why The Daily Register is such a valued member of the Monmouth County community.

In the months ahead, the YMCA leaders face a tremendous challenge to build a first-rate facility and to raise the additional funds still needed to pay for it. We know that we can count on The Register to continue to tell our story to those who must understand it, the good citizens of our area.

Sincerely,
David J. Lewis
General Secretary

Murphy Hits At Collector

MIDDLETOWN — John Murphy, Democratic candidate for tax collector, pulled no punches in statements at two kaffee klatsches.

Charging qualifications of his opponent, Republican Herbert E. Bradshaw, are "grossly exaggerated," Mr. Murphy charged Mr. Bradshaw's campaign material is ghost written.

"It is one thing to claim 17 year's accounting experience with utilities and another to have been an ordinary bookkeeper. It is one thing to claim ownership of a farm dairy and quite another to have been a milkman," Mr. Murphy declared.

"They think tenure is our only issue," the Democrat continued. "They are wrong. I promise never to seek tenure as tax collector. Let my opponent match that."

Old Helmets On Display At Hexagon

FT. MONMOUTH — A collection of old German Army helmets, the property of an Army Electronic Command artist, is on display in the lobby of the Hexagon.

Included in the collection, which will be exhibited for two weeks, are the famed "Death's Head Hussars" (First Royal Body Guard Hussars) fur busby, and the Garde du Corps parade helmet, circa 1872, worn by the elite regiment charged with the personal safety of the German emperor, and a favorite headpiece of Kaiser Wilhelm II.

The helmets belong to William J. Kalwick of Silverton, an artist-illustrator in the Army Electronics Command's Technical Illustrations Division. He is a Ft. Monmouth employee of 10 years and an Art Students' League graduate.

He began collecting helmets four years ago, during a visit to Germany. He also makes paintings of helmets, and is an amateur authority on regimental insignia.

Say Jersey Must Spend to Reap Revenue

By DON BATTLE

TRENTON (AP) — New Jersey is not spending the money it should to promote business and tourism when compared to other states.

So declares Richard Larkin, chief of promotion for the Garden State, as well as Mall Dodson, secretary of the New Jersey Travel and Resort Association.

Image building or promotion has been worth about $400,000 annually to the state legislature for the last two years, says Larkin. Of this figure, half is used to promote tourism, considered the No. 1 industry in New Jersey, and the remainder goes for attracting new business and industry.

"Our appropriation is not nearly enough to do the kind of job we should be doing," Larkin commented.

MILLION MINIMUM

Both Larkin and Dodson contend the minimum the state should be putting out for promotion is $1 million.

At least 16 other states spend more than $500,000 a year just on drawing tourists.

Dodson believes that it is this static approach to promotion that caused New Jersey to slip from third to fourth in the nation in the travel and resort industry in the last six years.

Last summer, the travel and resort industry accounted for $2.6 billion in gross business. However, it still ranks fourth behind Florida, New York and California.

"Every state is upping its budget in promotion, but we in New Jersey stay static," Dodson added.

Such states as Georgia and Kentucky that don't generate anywhere as much business in tourism as New Jersey have a larger state promotion budget, claims Dodson.

Individual communities, such as Atlantic City, have tried to take up any promotion slack created by the state. New Jersey's No. 1 resort community allocated some $400,000 in promotion last year with small communities — such as Ocean City and the Wildwoods — kicking in an additional $300,000.

By way of comparison, New York State provides some $800,000 just for promoting tourism. The figure reaches $7 million in front-running Florida when one counts money allocated not only by the state but local city and county governments.

ASSAULT CONTINUES

The assault on the legislature for more promotional funds has been carried on for the last 25 years, notably by Atlantic County and Cape May County legislators, whose constituencies have the most to gain. However, with the travel and resort industry spreading rapidly throughout the state in form of ski resorts in the northern counties — and a Playboy Club recreation complex planned for Sussex County — Dodson predicts that more legislators will become interested in allocating more money for promotional purposes.

When it comes to drawing new business, the emphasis in the past several years has been on attracting research and development outfits. The advertising or promotional dollars have been spread throughout all the media, according to Albert R. Post, head of the bureau of business and industry for the Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

MONEY FOR JOB

"We could, of course, do a much better job if we had more money," Post commented.

An obvious reason for wanting research and development outfits is that they represent "clean operations" that don't further aggravate New Jersey's air and water pollution problems.

Persons employed in such operations also receive higher salaries and have more to spend in other New Jersey businesses.

But new manufacturing enterprises are always welcomed and represent a base upon which service industries can be built, Post said.

RESPONSIVE AUDIENCE

DENVER (AP) — The Rev. Charles E. Blair, Denver minister, in a series of television sermons appealed to his listeners to mail him some suggestions on what they thought a preacher should be talking about.

He said he received more than 5,000 letters with material enough for 11 sermons and a book.

Three Crash Victims Still Hospitalized

OCEAN TOWNSHIP — Three persons remain hospitalized after an accident Friday at Monmouth Road and Corlies Ave., West Allenhurst.

Admitted to Monmouth Medical Center, Long Branch, were Mrs. Nancy Dargard, Washington St., Long Branch, a driver of one of the vehicles, and Mrs. Theresa Dargard, also of Long Branch.

The driver, according to police, suffered head injuries. Her passenger, it was said, received head and chest injuries.

Miss Beatrice Lamberto of Harmony Road, Middletown, driver of the other car, was admitted to Jersey Shore Medical Center, Neptune, with a possible fractured arm.

Treated and released at the same hospital were Miss Nancy Federowski of Westfield; Miss June Krepow, Cherry Hill; Miss Betty Rutkin, River Road, Rumson, and Miss Joan Gintoff of Meriden, Conn. All were passengers in Miss Lamberto's car, police said, and all are Monmouth College students.

Physician in London To Report on Work

LONG BRANCH — Dr. Martin J. Salwen, co-director of pathology at Monmouth Medical Center, is in London at the invitation of England's National Institute for Cancer Research to report on his work in tumor transplantation immunity.

The studies were performed over an eight-year period at Monmouth Medical and at Yale University, where Dr. Salwen holds an appointment as assistant clinical professor or pathologist.

Using hamsters, guinea pigs and rabbits, Dr. Salwen has studied the animals' response to transplanted tumors and the treatments that were effective in changing tumor growth patterns.

The presentation to the British institute will characterize the growth patterns of transplanted lymphomas and describe changes in lymphoid tissues in response to the transplants.

In discussing his work before leaving for London, Dr. Salwen said:

"With the active worldwide interest in organ transplants, such as kidney and heart, it has become extremely important to understand the immuno-mechanism and the ways in which the body is able to distinguish between self and non-self. Two basic kinds of responses have been described: The 'humoral' mechanism is often called circulating antibody or gamma globulin, and the 'cellular' mechanism also known as hypersensitivity.

The production of tumors in animals receiving transplants of non-tumorous tissues, Dr. Salwen said, suggests that the immuno response may be imparted in the development of some tumors.

"Like so much else in life," he said, "the immuno mechanism is capable of rendering great good and real harm." During his trip, Dr. Salwen said, he expects to also have the opportunity to study tissue typing techniques that have been recently developed.

Dr. Salwen came to Monmouth Medical Center in 1967 and assumed the co-directorship of the pathology department with Dr. Martin R. Rush last January. The department is undergoing a major expansion both in staff and equipment as it assumes an increasing role in the broad program of patient care offered by the center.

Much of the equipment is automated and a computer program is being developed to increase speed and accuracy in laboratory tests.

Spear

Successful Investing

BY ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — At 76, my wife and I are having difficulty making ends meet. I retired two years ago on Social Security, a small pension and dividends from Cities Service Co., Ford Motor Co., Sante Fe Industries, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Affiliated Fund and Wellington Fund. Should we invest some of our $20,000 savings to get more income?—L.H.

A — Your portfolio offers a good balance of adequate income and moderate growth potential.

Because Cities Service moved up sharply on its participation — through ownership of Atlantic Richfield preferred shares — in the Alaska oil boom, yield is currently on the low side. Nevertheless, shares should be held for their appreciation prospects.

Jersey Standard needs no additional comment — having been recommended here repeatedly.

Sante Fe — holding company for Atchison, Topeka — has the added appeal of continued diversification into nonrail activities and should be held for income.

Ford has begun to recoup its normal 26 per cent segment of the total automotive market after last year's strike which reduced this figure to 22 per cent. Your mutual funds should be held for their yield and gradual growth.

By investing about one-half of your savings reserve in A-rated West Penn. Power 7 1/4% of 1968 you will increase your income modestly. These bonds, trading now below their call price, offer better than 6 1/2 per cent interest.

Q — A $2,000 legacy is to come my way and I want to invest part of it. I am in my 20s, single, working and have $500 saved. Could you suggest a stock for purchase with this inheritance plus $50 a month from now on?—B.K.

A — Priority should be given to increasing your savings. Thus, I would not recommend putting more than one-third of your legacy into stocks.

Belding Heminway, manufacturer of home furnishings, sewing notions and fabrics for retail and industrial consumers, is an attractive purchase. Shares, now trading at about 17 times estimated 1968 results, appear to have further upside potential. I would bank $50 a month and invest later in another promising issue.

APPENDICITIS IS STILL A KILLER

Anyone's appendix can be affected. This disease is common among children and particularly dangerous for the elderly. Their appendix tends to perforate easily, leading to serious infectious complications.

Cramp-like pains, nausea, and a slight fever are warnings of a possible appendix infection. If these symptoms persist, it is wise to consult a physician. Self-medication may delay treatment too long, sometimes actually permitting a dangerous appendix rupture. Often appendicitis is difficult to diagnose, for its symptoms mimic other abdominal diseases.

ANN LANDERS

Lot of Sense

Dear Ann Landers: I am a boy 13 years of age. A few days ago I did something my parents did not approve of. My punishment was that I had to stay home while everyone went for a picnic.

I decided they were terrible to treat me like that and I started to pack my suitcase and run away. After I finished packing I decided to write a farewell letter. I thought I'd better tell them why I was running away and, to be fair, maybe I should apologize for a few things I had done.

Well, after I started to write, I thought of a lot of things I ought to apologize for. I also started to thank them for the nice things they had done for me over the years and there were an awful lot of them. By the time I finished writing I unpacked my suitcase and tore up the letter.

I suggest that all kids who think they want to run away from home sit down and write a letter to their folks. Then they won't go. A ROTTEN KID WITH GREAT PARENTS

Dear Kid: You don't sound rotten to me. You sound like a good guy who has a lot of common sense as well as humility. Thanks for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: My sister and I are both middle aged. We live together. Neither of us has ever married. Here is her history:

Rena has been fired from three jobs for stealing. She has taken money from the purses of friends and relatives. She has swiped blank checks from my checkbook and forged my name. She has charged expensive items (like a fur jacket and a three-piece suit) to my account.

I know Rena's problem is our mother. She was a tyrant who never had a kind word for her children. Mother especially hated Rena and she made no secret of it. My sister went to a psychiatrist for three weeks but quit because she wasn't "getting any place."

Now the question: Is it wrong of me to want to live apart from her? Am I my sister's keeper? Must I stay with Rena till the end of my days, paying her bills, letting her forge my name to checks, paying for the things she steals, in order to keep her out of jail? (They call her a kleptomaniac.) What do you say, Ann? — DEPRESSED

Dear Depressed: I say your sister is sick but you don't owe her your life. Perhaps if you move out and she can no longer depend on you to save her hide, she'll straighten around. Some people jump only when they know there's a net under them.

Urge Rena to try another therapist. You can do nothing more for her beyond that — so do something for yourself, please, and clear out.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits—the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Sex—Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A cartoon illustration of a man in a top hat and tuxedo, looking surprised, with a speech bubble saying "DADBURN GAMBLIN' VARMINT!!". He is standing next to a jail cell where a small, scruffy dog is looking out. The man is wearing a top hat, a tuxedo with a bow tie, and a star on his lapel. He has a surprised expression on his face. The speech bubble is large and contains the text "DADBURN GAMBLIN' VARMINT!!". The jail cell is made of vertical bars, and a small dog is visible inside, looking out. The dog is scruffy and has a worried expression. The background is simple, with a door and a keyhole visible on the cell wall. The overall style is that of a classic cartoon.

South might then repeat the trump finesse, lead a third trump, cash the king of spades and lead a diamond, but to avail. West would be in position to take two diamond tricks with the king and ten. The West would lead a club through dummy's ace-queen, and East would get the setting trick with the king of clubs.

DAILY QUESTION
As dealer, you hold: S— 8 5 H— A Q J 8 D— J 9 7 C— J 5. What do you say?
Answer: Pass. The hand is not quite worth an opening bid despite your 12 points in high cards and the 1 point for the doubleton. Don't strain to open the bidding when you are counting points for unsupported jacks. But add 1 point for any description to this hand, and you would open the bidding with one heart.

Present—For You and Yours . . . Aspects could create difficulties in marriage and other partnerships. Don't force issues. Time is a great healer if you can hang onto your patience and your temper. Protect business and professional interests as there is some chance of fraud or deceit. Not a good time to sign papers.

HIGHTSTOWN — Assemblyman Chester Apy of Little Silver will be one of three speakers at a political forum to be held at the Peddie School Friday.

For each of the last nine presidential elections, Peddie has had a public forum at the school during which each of the major political parties is represented by a panel. The chairman and a student from each of these groups speak on behalf of a candidate, there is a questioning period in which the audience may participate, and a straw vote is then taken.

Assemblyman Apy will chair the panel for the Republican party. Elected to the Assembly last year, he is vice chairman of the Committee for Institutions and Welfare and a member of the Committee on Taxation.

In addition, he is a member of the Republican Steering Committee in Monmouth County. In both town and county politics he has been active for some years, and in 1965 was awarded the distinguished service award by the Red Bank Junior Chamber of Commerce and named "Man of the Year."

Assemblyman Apy was himself a Peddie student. He graduated in the class of 1949.

12 Plead Innocent, Await Trial Dates

FREEHOLD — Trial dates are to be set for 12 persons who entered innocent pleas before County Court Judge M. Raymond McGowan.

Mrs. Josephine M. Develin, 10 Chesapeake Road, Manalapan Township, denied contributing to the delinquency of three teenage boys by encouraging them to steal. She also denied receiving $85 worth of housewares stolen from Holiday Park Model Homes, owned by Hovnanian Brothers Inc., June 26 in Manalapan Township. The indictment says two of the boys are 15 years old and one is 14.

Judge McGowan also accepted innocent pleas Friday from: William John Hill, 37, of 191 Park Ave., Keansburg, and Charles John Heuser, 43, of 8 Fifth St., West Keansburg, Hazlet, who denied gambling activities March 29 in Hazlet.

The former was charged with keeping a gambling resort and permitting a lottery and the other was charged with book-making and operating a lottery.

Herman Williams, 34, of 117 Atlantic Avenue, Long Branch, who denied maintaining a gambling resort March 17 in Long Branch.

Raymond Cook, 49, of 99 River St., Red Bank, who pleaded innocent to a charge of lewdness in an incident involving a four-year-old girl May 25, 1966, in Red Bank.

Angel M. Molina, 24, of 18 E. Main St., Freehold, accused of breaking into the rooms of William Betz and Clifford L. Chappel at the American Hotel Aug. 9 and stealing cash and goods valued at $700.

Joseph M. Fers, 20, of 40 David Terrace, Middletown, charged with breaking and entering with intent to steal at the Red Bank School of Music, 92 Shrewsbury Ave., Red Bank, owned by Seymour Lowy, March 27.

David F. Swislosky, 20, of 25 Bayberry Ave., Middletown, accused of aiding and abetting Fers.

Bobby Ray Anderson, 30, of 307 Belmar Ave., Neptune, charged with attempted breaking and entering with intent to steal at Sears Roebuck and Co., Neptune, March 22.

Alfred Klingler, Montville, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old girl Oct. 17, 1967, in Howell Township.

Anthony Michael Devino, South Plainfield, accused of desertion of his wife and four children Feb. 8, 1968, in Middletown and of nonsupport.

Such awards are decided upon by the publications committee of the U.S. Department of the Interior.

The book, which Clark calls "a guide to thoughtful use of the Atlantic estuaries," summarizes the value of estuaries and the problems that beset them, and includes a state-by-state cataloging of the present threats to salt water wetlands.

The book was published earlier this year by the society, a national organization of coastal fishermen, divers, and naturalists, with offices here.

The award was presented to the American Littoral Society and to Clark by John Gottschalk, director of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, "for superior achievement... this important and timely publication deals so effectively with one of our most important conservation problems as to warrant a special award."

RED BANK — Jack M. Rein, manager of the Carlton Theater, will produce a pep rally on stage Friday at 7 p.m. as a kickoff feature of the movie, "The Paper Lion."

Guests of Walter Reade Theatres that night will be Red Bank High School's cheerleaders, members of the football team, the coaching staff and school administrators, including the superintendent, Dr. Robert C. Hoops.

The movie is based on the book by George Plimpton, English writer who gained international fame for such research feats as entering the ring against Sugar Ray Robinson and going through training camp with the Detroit Lions football team. He even played in one of the Lions' exhibition games.

Alan Alda is star of the film, which has such supporting "actors" as Vince Lombardi and Frank Gifford of football fame, the Detroit Lions team and Robinson.

In preparing the setting for the rally, Mr. Rein is arranging appropriate decorations in the Carlton.

If this is all news to you, we're not surprised. Until recently only a few people—among them certain science and medical authorities—knew that most of cigarette smoke is actually gas. And that certain of these gases are harsh.

But now people are beginning to get the message.

And people are switching to Lark. Because Lark's Gas-Trap™ filter actually reduces certain harsh gases by more than twice as much as any other filter on any other popular brand. Lark's unique reduction of these harsh gases explains why Lark's flavor is also unique.

Now you've got the message, too.

Howard Says He'd Go For Top Vote Winner

WASHINGTON — Rep. James J. Howard, D-N.J., says he is deeply disappointed that his opponent in the Nov. 5 congressional election disagrees with him and Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon over who the congressman should support if the presidential race is thrown into the House of Representatives.

"I have said I would vote for the candidate who receives the most votes cast by the American voters, but my opponent said he will go right down the line with his party, regardless of what the majority of American voters say.

"I am very glad that Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, told a Knoxville, Tenn., audience Oct. 15: 'I think that if the man who wins the popular vote is denied the presidency, the man who gets the presidency would have a very great difficulty governing'."

Mr. Nixon went on to say: "In such a case, the House of Representatives should elect the man who wins the popular vote."

"The possibility that the presidential election may be put into the House of Representatives makes it all the more important for congressmen and congressional candidates to agree to express the will of the people, not of any political party," Mr. Howard said yesterday.

The Third District congressman, who is seeking re-election, has introduced legislation to abolish the Electoral College and has pledged to support the presidential candidate receiving the most popular number of votes in the United States, regardless of whether it is Humphrey or Wallace.

He said "the true spirit of democracy provides that the leaders of this great country be elected 'by the people' and it is important that in this presidential year the man selected to sit in the White House should be the true choice of the American people."

Mr. Howard added that electors of each state are committed to vote for the candidate receiving the most popular votes in that state — even if the candidate won by a less than 1 per cent margin. Since the number of electors is equal to the total number of representatives in Congress (House and Senate) of that state, the 12 largest states, comprising only 25 per cent of the population, could elect the President, simply because they have more members in Congress.

"This year, with electoral votes being split in three directions, it is conceivable that none of the candidates would receive a majority of the Electoral College votes — no matter who received the majority of the popular votes."

"If this situation becomes a reality, each state receives one vote, regardless of population; and state delegations must caucus to determine who the state vote will favor. Thus, of a total of 50 votes (the District of Columbia is not yet represented in Congress), a candidate must receive at least 26 to be elected."

"As an elected representative from New Jersey, I feel a strong responsibility to cast my vote in the state caucus for the man who is the choice of the people of the United States, despite his party affiliation."

"The reason that I have decided to vote for the man who receives the most votes throughout the nation is because limiting it to individual states could conceivably see the 26 smaller states — which do not have a majority of the population — actually selecting the next President. Therefore I feel it should be done on a national level."

"Three times in our history, in 1800 and 1824 and in 1876, men have occupied the White House without winning a majority of the popular vote. In 1948 and 1960, we came all too close to repetitions of those three earlier elections. In 1968, we cannot afford another 'close call.'"

Hazlet vs. Raritan Question Again Going Before Voters

By NANCY J. KUBINSKI
HAZLET—Does any resident know that a referendum on the Nov. 5 ballot will call for changing the township name back to Raritan?

Does anyone care? Last year, in a burst of sectional pride and hurt feelings a group of residents from West Keansburg obtained enough signatures to force this referendum. They hope to override the original name change to Hazlet last November.

But since January, the issue has lain dormant. With eight days left before the election, proponents on both sides of the issue are beginning to move toward informing the people of their reasons.

To clarify the uncertain history of the name and the township, J. Carlton Cherry, last prominently involved with the group spearheading the drive for Hazlet, has done research and has offered a short history on the origin of the name.

According to Mr. Cherry, the New Jersey Legislature officially created the township of Raritan on Feb. 25, 1848. At that time, the land area included sections now known as Keyport, Union Beach, Holmdel, Matawan and Matawan Township.

In the middle of the last century, a New York physician, Dr. John Hazlet, acquired substantial acreage in the southern portion of the township, erected a home on the property and brought his family to the area, Mr. Cherry said.

When, in 1875, the New York and Long Branch Railroad was completed through the township and began operating, and when in the following year a post office was established, they were assigned the name "Hazlet" in honor of one of its benevolent citizens.

The Hazlet family plot containing the graves of Dr. Hazlet, his wife and other members of his family is in Cedarwood Cemetery on Florence Ave.

When the name was changed last fall, much to the chagrin of some township officials and volunteer organizations, the official seals, insignia and stamps were retained in case of a reversal this year.

Most officials have remained silent on their preferences, and many residents claim voting back and forth on a name is silly.

One organization—the Chamber of Trade and Commerce, formally announced this week it is against a name change.

George Molinaro, chamber president, said the change would result in renewal of confusion that existed during the period the township was known as Raritan.

"We feel we have made considerable progress with the name of Hazlet Township," Mr. Molinaro said. "It is in widespread use by all of the business establishments in their advertising signs, etc. It has become familiar to out-of-town people and has helped create an individual community identity."

Proponents of the name change in 1967 argued that confusion arose because no one knew where Raritan is. They climbed the Garden State parkway exit is called Hazlet, the post office is Hazlet and railroad and bus schedules read Hazlet. Parkway officials also encouraged the change.

Opponents claimed the changeover would cost thousands. In reality, the changes on township buildings, police cars, insignia and other items amounted to about $1,000.

Robert Wertheim of West Keansburg, who heads the movement for the change back to Raritan, said conferences have been set to plan last minute campaigning for the project. "We want to keep the issue out of partisan politics," he said.

Most support for the new change has come from West Keansburg, one of the oldest sections of the township. Residents there are bitter that the name of one section of the township should become the name for all.

Stout Wants Draft Reform

OCEAN TOWNSHIP — Republican congressional candidate Richard R. Stout today called for a six-point reform of the draft.

"Our draft laws," he said, "are inefficient, archaic and unfair. The draft is a good example of what happens when government programs go on for year after year without change or even serious study."

The most important change advocated by the state senator is "to reverse the order of the draft call, so that the youngest man eligible in the 19-26 year-old age group is called first. This would reduce the uncertainty that each young man and his family faces when he is confronted with the possibility of being drafted out of school or out of a job."

Sen. Stout said that under existing law, the President and the Selective Service System have the option to make this change, but have failed to do so.

The GOP candidate also called for a program "to continue student deferments, but with a tightening up of regulations so that a student deferment does not automatically become a means of avoiding the draft."

His proposal is to make a four-year college deferment possible but, at the end of that time, the registrant would be returned to the exact draft status he had when he received the deferment. Thus "back-to-back deferments would be impossible."

Other recommendations by Sen. Stout include:

"The law should assure uniform major criteria for classification to end discrimination in a system where local draft boards are permitted — and compelled — to establish their own criteria for deferment."

"Universal criteria should not impair the discretion of local boards to consider each case on its own merit, but a uniform framework of draft classification policy is definitely needed."

"The draft law should be amended to assure that draft standards are in line with enlistment standards. Today it is possible for a man to be turned down for voluntary enlistment on his mental examination and still be drafted."

"The maximum period of draft eligibility should be reduced from eight years to four years — exclusive of any deferment a young man might receive. This reform would minimize the difficulty which each young man faces today planning for his future."

"The administration of the Selective Service process could be substantially aided through the use in Washington of modern data processing equipment. There are more than 32 million files for Selective Service registrants. The absence of computer machinery in the maintenance of these files assures inefficiency in manpower procurement."

Fort Develops Meteorology Aid

FT. MONMOUTH — A simulator equipped with nearly 200 controls and dials is giving Army meteorological researchers a new capability for solving problems dealing with complex forces of the atmosphere.

Known as the Low Level Meteorological Simulator, the equipment — viewed as the most advanced of its kind — was designed and developed by the Atmospheric Sciences Laboratory of the Army Electronics Command through a contract with Texas A&M Research Foundation. The system is in the feasibility study stage.

Essentially, the simulator functions as a special-purpose analog computer. Voltages are set on the arrays of controls in proportion to the meteorological values obtained from observations.

The simulator then makes an electronic analogy, or comparison, with the atmospheric factors, weighs the extent of the relationship of each of the items with the others, and arrives at an answer to a meteorological research problem.

The simulator is not intended to provide general weather forecasts. But in using it for advanced research, Ft. Monmouth's atmospheric scientists say they are finding it practical to solve quickly problems on atmospheric interactions which heretofore have been considered too complex and time-consuming to attempt.

As a research tool, the simulator's capabilities include working out such problems as those dealing with wind speed and direction, air temperature and humidity in 12 atmospheric layers ranging from the surface up to 3,300 feet.

It also analyzes problems on soil temperatures to a depth of six feet and moisture evaporation from the earth's surface. It has a special capacity to aid in research on local specialized conditions.

Among the leaders in the simulation program are Dr. Donald Swingle and Abraham Golden. Dr. Swingle, who lives in Shark River Hills, Neptune, is chief of the Techniques and Exploratory Technical Area. Mr. Golden, of River Plaza, is leader of the Atmospheric Simulation Team of the Atmospheric Sciences Laboratory, which is directed by Kenneth M. Barnett of Shark River Hills.

Among members of the simulation team are Anatole Samusenko, an electronic engineer from Lakewood; Capt. Michael Hudlow, who holds a doctorate in meteorology, and technician Charles Dresser of Neptune. George E. Spaeth Jr., a Drexel Institute student, also has been working in the simulation program under a cooperative arrangement.

FLAG DAY — Incumbent 3d District Congressman James J. Howard, right, presents a flag that once flew over the nation's Capitol in Washington to Jamie Schaeffer, 10, at ceremonies Friday in the West Keansburg Grammar School. Looking on are Principal Winfield Kistler, second left, and Albert Herzog, PTA president.

Talbott Talks Tonight On 'Anatomy of Fear'

RUMSON — Malcolm D. Talbott, who will speak on racial issues tonight in Rumson, said in a weekend interview he will discuss "the anatomy of fear, and why violence occurs."

Mr. Talbott said violence results "whenever people are recipients rather than participants in decisions that directly affect their lives." He cited labor outbreaks before collective bargaining was devised, recalling that more than 200 persons were killed 40 years ago when violence broke out in a single U.S. city, exceeding the current number of deaths resulting from riots in 60 U.S. cities.

Mr. Talbott also will raise the question: What do white people do to develop black leadership? He will expand on the proposal that whites must be willing to work under black leadership.

The speaker also said he will cover the need for accelerating the rate of change in our society. "One out of every 40 white men owns his own business. One out of every 1,000 non-white citizens owns his own business. If we proceed at that rate of change, he contends, 'there will be equal opportunity for minority groups in the year 2741.'"

Mr. Talbott, vice president of Rutgers University at the Newark campus, will speak tonight at 8:15 o'clock in St. George's-by-the-River Episcopal Church. Middletown Candidate Appeals Tenure Order

FREEHOLD — Middletown Township Democratic candidate for tax assessor, Hugh Dugan, will seek an Appellate Division stay to keep his name on the township ballots for the municipal post.

Superior Court Judge Elvin R. Simmill upheld the constitutionality of a 1967 state law Friday which gives municipal tax assessors tenure. The judge upheld a suit by Middletown's assessor, John T. Lawley, to have Mr. Dugan's name removed from the Nov. 5 ballot.

In his suit, Mr. Lawley maintained that he will be on tenure when his present term expires June 30 and, therefore, no one can run for that office. His attorney, Fredric Baar of Middletown, said that the courts have upheld similar situations, even where, in one case, the incumbent assessor lost the election but the courts held that he was on tenure and was reinstated.

Joseph Ferraro of Red Bank, representing Mr. Dugan, however, argued that the law was unconstitutional because it deprives others from obtaining the post and deprived the electorate from picking the assessor it wanted for an indefinite time.

It would have been just as simple for the legislature to have written the law so that it took effect after an election, he said, but it didn't. He acknowledged that the law was adopted to take the assessor's post out of the realm of politics.

Mr. Ferraro told the court that it could strike down the law since it has never been attacked before.

He said that the sample ballots have been printed and the voting machines are locked with both names on them. It will cost the county more money if a special election has to be held later, he said.

Mr. Baar said that Mr. Lawley was elected to the post Nov. 3, 1964 and has been issued a Tax Assessor's certificate by the state. He added that the law deprived no one of anything and therefore was not unconstitutional.

This office is not open, he said. The names on the ballot will serve no purpose but to confuse an already confused electorate, he said, adding that he was speaking of a general confusion.

Judge Simmill said he was only concerned with the constitutional law. He said that Mr. Lawley met all the prerequisites and came squarely within the purview of the law. He ruled that the law was not unconstitutional.

The judge added that he agreed with Mr. Ferraro that the legislature should have given tenure after an election so that the people would know that they are marrying their assessor for life but that the legislature didn't do this.

Mayors to Cite Middletown

ATLANTIC CITY—The 300th anniversary of the establishment of the township committee form of government in Middletown will be observed by the New Jersey Conference of Mayors at the annual fall meeting here Nov. 21.

Believed to be one of the oldest continuous forms of local government in New Jersey, early histories of the state indicate that "the Towne of Middletown" in December, 1668, organized a government complete with Overseers and Towne Clerke."

In an early county history, written by Franklin Ellis, actions taken by the Middletown Township Committee in 1668, when one James Grover was Township Clerke, indicate that the municipal governing body was an autonomous local government.

A citation commemorating the event will be presented to officials of Middletown Township, headed by Mayor Ernest G. Kavalek.

Also to receive citations will be Long Branch, celebrating its 300th anniversary. Gov. Richard J. Hughes will speak at the meeting. The principal address will be Robert Lilley, president of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. Members of the state Senate, the governor's cabinet, the state's congressional delegation and other leaders will be among the 650 guests at the Shelburne Hotel.

Dungan Talk Slated

EATONTOWN — Ralph A. Dungan, New Jersey chancellor of higher education, will review the outlook for higher education in the Garden State in an address at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Civic Auditorium, Monmouth Shopping Center.

His appearance was announced by E. Donald Sterner and D. Louis Tonti, chairman of the Monmouth County Bonds Yes Committee, which is sponsoring the appearance in cooperation with other county groups.

Mr. Dungan will discuss the significance of the shortage of higher education facilities for New Jersey students of today and tomorrow. He will comment on plans and prospects for building additional facilities. (Adv.)

The proposed Public Buildings Bond Issue, to be submitted to the voters, Nov. 5, will provide less than half the recommended amount, $202.5 million.

Other organizations which are cooperating in presenting Chancellor Dungan include: The American Association of University Women, Jersey Shore and Northern Monmouth County Branches; Brookdale Community College; Monmouth County Council, League of Women Voters; and the Monmouth County Council of Parents and Teachers.

New York Sweep: Jets Breeze, Jints Squeeze

NEW YORK (AP)—End Jerry Philbin and cornerback Johnny Sample sparked a defense that intercepted five passes, recovered three fumbles and led the New York Jets to a 48-14 victory over the Boston Patriots yesterday.

The triumph boosted the Jets' lead to two games in the American Football League's Eastern Division. At 5-2, the Jets are the only Eastern team above .500.

Until Boston scored on a club record 87-yard touchdown pass from Tom Sherman to Jim Whelan late in the fourth quarter, the Jets got into New York territory only three times.

But all three times they lost the ball—the first time when Philbin recovered Mike Taliaferro's fumble and the other two times when Al Atkinson and Sample intercepted the quarterback's passes.

The Club Mark

Sample intercepted another pass at the Jet 29 while Billy Baird and Jim Hudson each picked off one, enabling the Jets to tie a club record with five. Carl McAdams recovered the other two fumbles.

Joe Namath, meanwhile, kept his interceptions to two, both by Leroy Mitchell. Namath's passes to Emerson Boozer and George Sauer also powered two touchdown drives.

The Jets were leading 7-0 in the second quarter when Philbin, who was in the Patriots' backfield most of the day, recovered Taliaferro's fumble at the Boston 40. The Jets got to the Boston one-yard line, but the Patriots held and New York had to settle for Jim Turner's 12-yard field goal.

Turner kicked another field goal in the third period, a 23-yarder, four plays after Baird grabbed a Taliaferro loss at the Boston 35 and raced to the 19.

Break It Open

That gave the Jets only a 13-0 lead, but they proceeded to break the game wide open, scoring after both McAdams' fumble recoveries and Hudson's interception.

The Jets scored the first time they got the ball, marching 80 yards in nine plays. Boozer figured in the two big plays, racing 18 yards to the Boston 49 after breaking three tackles and scampering 23 yards with a screen pass from Namath to the two. Matt Snell dived over on the next play.

Midway through the third quarter, Namath hit Sauer on consecutive passes of 18 and 25 yards, putting the ball at the Boston five. Snell again dived over for the score, this time from the one.

Parilli Relieves

Babe Parilli, a former Patriot, relieved Namath in the fourth period and directed the Jets to their final four touchdowns.

Parilli ran across from the two following McAdams' second fumble recovery and then handed to Billy Joe for the other three TD's, on runs of seven, 16 and 32 yards.

Boston's first touchdown came with less than six minutes remaining, after Sherman had taken over for Taliaferro. With third and 37 to go at his own 13, the rookie quarterback passed to Whelan, who eluded a would-be tackler at the Jet 40 and raced the rest of the way.

With 59 seconds left Sherman threw another touchdown pass, this one a 33-yarder to Rob Scarpitto.

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York, twice denied by goal line stands, ground 80 yards in the final quarter with Tucker Frederickson plunging across from the one to nip Washington 13-10 in a National Football League duel yesterday.

Frederickson, playing in place of injured Ernie Koy, cracked into the end zone on the Giants' third try after a pass interference penalty gave them the ball at the Redskins' two.

Rookie Ken Barefoot rambled eight yards with a blocked punt in the third period for the Redskins' only touchdown as the Giant's time-consuming ground game and a stubborn defense kept the ball away from Washington for all but five minutes of the second half.

Go-Go Game

New York's Pete Gogolak booted two short field goals—one more than his younger brother Charlie had for Washington—for the three-point Giant margin of victory. The Redskins' Gogolak missed a 43-yard attempt to tie the game in the last 19 seconds.

Washington halted the Giants twice inside the five in the first half to force a 3-3 intermission tie. Then they bolted ahead when Barefoot scooped up the punt blocked by Walt Barnes on the first series of the third period.

Tulane rookie Bob Duhan amassed 56 yards on slashing runs and short passes in the Giants' march for the only offensive touchdown of the game with six minutes to go. The key play was a 13-yard pass interference penalty on Redskins' safety Brig Owens.

Pete Gogolak kicked his field goals from 10 and 18 yards out, while brother Charlie hit from 36 yards.

Washington quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, playing with a cracked rib, missed his first nine passes and completed only seven of 25 for one of the worst days in his long career.

Colts Neck Sailor 2nd

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)—Bill Shore of Stoneham, Mass., overcame gusty winds and 77 other entries yesterday to win the 16th Frostbite Regatta on the Potomac River in his Lightning class sailboat, "Technique."

All three races of the scheduled two-day regatta were held Sunday after high winds forced postponement of the Saturday program. Of the 78 sloop-rigged 19-foot Lightnings, three failed to finish.

With the wind gusting to 28 m.p.h., two of the three-man racers capsized and one was stripped of its mast. No one, however, was injured.

Howard Mullins of Colts Neck, N.J., finished second in his "Prejudice," and Bill Newman of Bloomfield, N.J., third in "Willie's Whim."

The Baltimore Colts combined an overpowering defense with Earl Morrall's timely passing to wallop Los Angeles, 27-10, and tie the Rams for the NFL's Coastal Division lead with a 20-3 halftime lead as Jerry Hill and Morrall scored on short runs and Morrall passed 44 yards to Jimmy Orr.

The Chicago Bears prevented Minnesota from taking the Central Division lead by nipping the Vikings, 26-24, on Mac Percival's 47-yard field goal, his fourth of the game, with three seconds left. The Vikings had gone ahead a minute earlier on Joe Kapp's 25-yard pass to Gene Washington.

Meanwhile, San Francisco defeated first-place Detroit, 14-7, when Dick Wietheer scooped up teammate Gary Lewis' fourth-period fumble and ran 12 yards for a touchdown.

In the Century Division, Cleveland and St. Louis remained tied for the lead. Leroy Kelly scored twice and Bill Nielsen riddled Atlanta with 17-for-26 passing as the Browns drubbed the Falcons, 30-7. Cleveland's defense threw Atlanta's passer eight times.

St. Louis scored twice in the final four minutes to break a tie and defeat New Orleans, 31-17, dropping the Saints out of a three-way tie for the lead. Jim Hart passed 53 yards to Dave Williams for the tie-breaker and Willis Crenshaw added an insurance touchdown in the final minute.

Tucker Frederickson's touchdown plunge and Pete Gogolak's two field goals gave the New York Giants a 13-10 triumph over Washington, 30-7. Quarterback Martin Beiscoe took over for Steve Tensi in the second half and rallied Denver past Miami 21-14 with two touchdown runs.

One of his clients was the Northeastern New Mexico Fair Association, which was building La Mesa Park Track. When this track opened in 1946 Erwin was named general manager.

He broke a deadlock with seasoned Chi Chi Rodriguez yesterday, and went on to win the $110,000 Haig National Open Golf Tournament.

The big fellow from Tulsa, Okla., 24, who made history in winning both the U.S. and British Amateur championships in 1967, withstood all manner of pressure to hold off the challenge of wiry little Chi Chi, who finished second.

Dickson shot a two-under par 69 for a 72-hole score of 271, 13 blows under par, while Rodriguez, winner of the $100,000 Sahara Invitational in Las Vegas, Nev., last Sunday, had a 71 and 273.

Dickson, playing in his 15th professional tournament, collected $22,000 and Chi Chi, who celebrated his 33d birthday last week, settled for $13,200 to go with the $20,000 he won the week before.

Bill Collins, an infrequent tour player and a club pro in Purchase, N. Y., had a 69 for third place at 274, while young Bobby Mitchell from Danville, Va., came from virtually nowhere with a 66 for 275.

There was a jam at 276 that included the pretournament favorite, Billy Casper, and Ken Stoll, each with 71; Don Messengale, who finished with a 71; Jack Montgomery, 69, and Bob Rosburg, 67.

Yanks Are Olympic Champs

By BOB GREEN

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Big George Foreman stood there in the center of the ring, a tiny American flag clutched in his huge black fist; a battered, bleeding Russian hulking nearby — a near-perfect symbol of American domination of the 19th Olympic Games.

Foreman, a 6-foot-3, 218-pounder, held aloft the little flag — a broad grin on his face — as he accepted America's record 45th gold medal after demolishing Lones Cephus for the heavyweight boxing championship, the last event on the last full day of competition in the trouble-riddled Games.

His victory was icing on the cake for the Yankee team which collected a total of 107 medals and clearly outscored the Soviets in total medals for the first time since the Russians entered the Games at Helsinki in 1952.

Russia finished with a total of 92 medals, 30 of them gold. In 1964 at Tokyo, Russia led in total medals 96-90 while the United States led in golds, 36-30.

Naturally enough, there was an excuse for the Russian showing this year. It came from Gabriel Korobkov, the Soviet's track and field coach.

"Most of the world lives downstairs. They hold the Games upstairs," he said, referring to the 7,347-foot altitude of Mexico City. "It throws the Games out of balance."

Perhaps a more accurate explanation would be found in the almost incredible performance of the United States' swimming and diving team, along with the gymnastic exploits of Vera Caslavskaya of Czechoslovakia — the sweetheart of the Games — and Japan, which cut heavily into the Russian potential total.

The United States' swimmers and divers bagged 23 of the 33 gold medals and a total of 47 of the 89 medals up for grabs. Twelve more golds came in men's track and field, and three more in women's track and field — where the Russians failed to score a single gold.

The Americans also picked up two golds in boxing, two in sailing, one each in shooting and equestrian. And Henry Iba's superbly coached, pick-up basketball team, spurred by many of the top collegiate stars, continued its unbeaten string.

The U.S. basketball squad won the gold in convincing fashion, whipping Yugoslavia 65-50 in the final game behind the superlative play of Spencer Haywood.

World records, most of them by Americans, fell almost as quickly as arose controversies, incidents and demonstrations.

In the latter category, the most flagrant was by American sprinters Tommie Smith and John Carlos, both Negroes, who finished 1-3 in the 200-meter dash.

On the victory podium, after receiving their medals, they raised a black-gloved fist as a sign of racial protest and refused to look at the American flag as the Star Spangled Banner was played.

The incident threatened to split the American team, but other American Negroes continued to compete — and win.

Under pressure from the International Olympic Committee and the group's re-elected president, 81-year-old Avery Brundage of Chicago, the U. S. Olympic Committee ordered the two athletes out of the Olympic Village and apologized to the world.

The Games themselves were threatened by bloody riots that left scores dead and hundreds injured just days before the start of competition.

There were hints of under-the-counter payoffs to athletes by manufacturers of athletic goods, charges of fixed wrestling matches, a Dutch masseur was sent home for giving vitamins to his cyclists, a Bulgarian wrestler was disqualified for sniffing smelling salts.

Problems, large and small, plagued the Games throughout. But, in the end, the Games belonged to the athletes.

And there America stood supreme.

The United States' athletes broke or tied eight world records in track and set four more in swimming.

Holy Cross Crushes Caseys, 33-0

By HY CUNNINGHAM
RED BANK — Red Bank Catholic High School hooked up with a smooth operating Holy Cross machine out of Riverside yesterday afternoon, and the Lancers took a 33-0 victory back home for their fifth straight of the season.

Dennis Mazar, the outstanding back of the afternoon, paced the attack, along with hard running Pete Whelihan, Tom Cunningham, and an all-around general in George Holtzmann. Holy Cross also demonstrated how a good defensive unit should work.

Deepest Penetration
Near the end of the game the Caseys reached Holy Cross' 20 with the help of a 15-yard penalty, but another 15-yarder shoved the home team right back to the 31, where two incomplete passes kept the Caseys at that mark. The 20 was the deepest penetration for Red Bank Catholic.

Late in the first quarter, the Lancers posted the first touchdown after taking over on the RBC 24. Dave King set the stage when he intercepted a Mike Kelsey pass on the 30 and reached the 24. In four downs Holy Cross had a first on the 14 as the result of a Mazar plunge. After a jump pass backfired, Whelihan rolled out to his right and toured right end for the touchdown.

Quick Thinker
The extra point was made, but only by quick thinking. A bad pass from center sent Holtzmann scurrying for the ball. He scooped it up, and tossed what appeared to be a soft basketball pass to end Larry Lally for the point.

Early in the second quarter Mazar took off on a 41-yard jaunt for the second

TD, and Tom Stecher booted the point.

Starting on its own 19, Holy Cross advanced the ball to the 26 for a first on a seven-yarder by Whelihan, and a six-yard gain by Mazar. Mazar got a first on the 32, Whelihan took the next two carries and he chalked up a first on the Casey 44. Another two plays put the ball on the 41, from where Mazar started to his right, found a big hole and went all the way. Stecher kicked the point.

Late in the second period Holy Cross stretched its lead to 20-0 on a 44-yard march. In two plays, and reversing ends, Whelihan had a first on the 37. Holtzmann passed to Mazar for 28 yards, being stopped on the three for another first. Mazar went through the middle for two and Holtzmann took it over on a quarterback sneak.

Stecher's kick went wide.

Back to Work
Holy Cross went right to work after the second half kickoff when the Caseys got off a poor kick. Cunningham brought the ball back from his 30 to the Casey 39. On first down, Dave Miller came up with an excellent run. He headed down the sidelines, eluding tacklers, cut back toward the middle, and went all the way just 30 seconds from the kickoff. Stecher booted the point.

After the ensuing kickoff, the Caseys had the ball for four plays and bingo, another Holy Cross score. Taking a Casey punt, Miller brought it back to the Casey 48.

On second down, Mazar had a first on a power play at the 31. Whelihan on one carry went to the 33 where he was stopped rudely by Casey Jim Maloney. On the next play he went to the 16 on a desire drive, spinning most of the way. Mazar carried on the next three downs, and went over from the five through the center of line. Stecher's kick went wide to make the score stand at 33-0.

The Caseys were contained most of the game, and when reaching the Holy Cross 20 with the aid of a penalty, lost that territory on a 15-yarder in retaliation.

Wayne Trotter, the fine passer for the Caseys, also looked tremendous operating as a line backer. Pat Donofrio was one of the hardest and toughest runners for the Caseys.

It was a busy day around the athletic field. It was home coming day for Red Bank Catholic with Peggy Woolen, of Red Bank crowned queen.

Shortly before the game concluded, Red Bank's Halloween parade marched into Memorial Field where prizes were awarded.

At half time, the huge Holy Cross band and drill team were on the field giving a performance, along with the Red Bank Catholic's band doing its show.

Holy Cross Coach John Czarnecki has developed a fine back in Mazar. Once he found out Mazar went out for track and did the 100 in .09.9, he knew he had a ball player. Mazar was declared the outstanding player of Holy Cross by a Mount Holly radio station broadcasting the game.

Athletic Director Jack Rafter was on radio during intermission and gave his views on girls' track.

Maple Leafs Rip Rangers

The Toronto Maple Leafs roared from behind with five straight goals and defeated the New York Rangers, 5-3, in a National Hockey League game last night.

Defensemen Tim Horton and Jim Dorey led the Leaf comeback, each scoring a goal and assisting on another after the Rangers had jumped into a 2-0 first-period lead.

Dorey, a 21-year-old rookie, and his partner, Horton, 38, then teamed to hold off the Rangers through the last period.

The Rangers jumped in front with two goals in the first six minutes.

Ron Gilbert's power play goal opened the scoring and then Vic Hadfield unloaded a 55-foot slap shot on which goalie Bruce Gamble ducked.

The Leafs tied it with two quick goals midway through the period. Dorey scored his first NHL goal on a 40-foot slap shot at 9:46 and 31 seconds later veteran Floyd Smith tied the score.

Horton broke the tie with a power play goal at 3:29 of the second period. Then, 1½ minutes later, Murray Oliver, killing a penalty on Horton, broke in alone on Ed Giacomin and made it 4-2.

Wings Whip Hawks
Gordie Howe, reunited with old linemate Alex Delvecchio, scored his third and fourth goals of the season on Delvecchio setups to lead the Detroit Red Wings to a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks.

The Wings were away to a comfortable victory when Howe made it 4-1 at 1:54 of the third period. But the Hawks turned it into an exciting finish for the crowd of 12,943 and the Wings, when brothers Bobby and Dennis Hull scored 43 seconds apart midway in the period.

Howe opened the scoring at 10:07 of the first period when he took a pass behind the Chicago defense from Delvecchio and fired over goalie Dennis DeJordy's shoulder.

Stan Mikita, the NHL scoring leader, netted his fifth goal of the season and 16th point in seven games when he deflected a Bobby Hull slap shot during a Detroit penalty at 5:44 of the second period.

Habs Lose First
Fred Stanfield contributed a pair of goals as the Boston Bruins ended a long scoring drought and handed Montreal its first defeat in seven NHL starts with a 4-2 victory behind the fine goalkeeping of veteran Eddie Johnson.

Stanfield scored on a power play in the first period, ending Boston's scoreless string at 116 minutes, 57 seconds. Then he added another goal, his fourth of the young season, in the second period.

The Bruins nailed down the decision on goals by Phil Esposito and Eddie Shack with in 37 seconds early in the second session.

SURROUNDED — Ron Carhart, Middletown Township back, failed to get distance on this carry attempt as he was surrounded on four sides by Lakewood Piners. It might have helped on this play, but not the game. Middletown won, 33-0.

Shore Conference 'A'

Kleva Has Lions Snarling

MIDDLETOWN — Coach Dick Kleva of Middletown Township started the football season slowly, but he has his Lions snarling at just over the midway point. On Saturday, Middletown rolled over the Piners of Lakewood, 33-0.

The win put Middletown over the .500 mark at 3-2 overall, but the Lions certainly have no chance for the Shore Conference "A" championship with their 2-2 league record, including Saturday's game.

Kleva's gridders lost little time demonstrating what team was going to control the game. The Lions scored the first time they gained possession of the ball, and made it 14-0 by quarter's conclusion.

Two strikes through the airwaves were successful in the first period. Lakewood gave the ball up at midfield, and the Lions struck. Two line plays moved the ball to the Piner 37 for a first down. Bob Nyman chewed off three yards, and then on the next play he kept the ball on a quarterback "keep" and ran wide to his left. Nearing the sidelines he fired to Ron Carhart, who ran about 20 yards for the first score at 8:13. On route, Steve Bertonic tossed a beautiful block to clear the way. Nyman kicked his first of three extra points for the day.

That TD Feeling
Middletown, getting the touchdown feel, came back on the third possession of the quarter to score again. This time the parade started at the Middletown 30. A 40-yard pass play, Nyman to Carhart, ate up 40 yards to put the Lions on the Lakewood 36. Two plays gained another first on the 25. On first down, Nyman passed to Rich Steward, who ran it 15 yards for the score at 0:22. After the kickoff the quarter ended.

Nyman almost had another score just before the second period ended. On a second down near the 50, he went to his right, cut back through tackle and was knocked out against the flag on the goal line. Officials ruled that he has stepped outside before hitting the flag. At that point the time ran out.

Despite being cooled off in the second quarter, Middletown regenerated its offense in the third period with 13 points and concluded the fourth with a TD, no extra point period.

The Lions started the third exactly the way they did the first, scoring the first time they had possession of the ball.

Recover Fumble
Steve Halgring set the stage by recovering a Lakewood fumble on the Piner 41. Two plays posted a first down, then a Kleva strategy play crossed up the Piners. End Stu Bertonic came around from left end, took the handoff and ran to the 11 for another first. Nyman went to the three, from where Jack Kauffman carried the ball over at 9:15. Nyman's kick went wide.

Late in the third, Middletown started from its own 42 after a punt and a clipping penalty. Six plays and two firsts had the ball resting on the Lakewood 36. On a second down, quarterback Bob Abbott passed to Ed Jones which was good to the 13. Three plays later the Lions were on the seven, from where Abbott went wide around right end for the six points at 2:28.

Early in the fourth an interception of a Middletown pass gave Lakewood the ball on the Piners' 8. Middletown retaliated by recovering a Lakewood fumble on the 10. After a toss to the 13, Steward settled the issue by going through a big hole at tackle and carried the ball over. Nyman's kick failed.

Coach Kleva substituted freely, and the reserve defense gridders were not giving up any more territory than their big brothers. The Lakewood team could not pass the Middletown 30-yard line.

Bertonic, big Kenny King and Paul Brown, produced outstanding defensive plays for the Lions.

Conference "A" games were scarce Saturday, but Brick continued ahead of Middletown by defeating Neptune in an odd 19-0 win in which there was a safety and a field goal.

The victory gave the Green Dragons a 3-2 overall record; and 3-1 in the Shore Conference race.

Tom Fahey scored Brick's two touchdowns, and both came in the second quarter. Edgar Byrd, Neptune back, was nabbed by Ken Scott, Brick guard, for the safety in the first period, and Ron Caso booted an 18-yard field goal in the third period.

Fahey went five yards around right end to score on the first play of the second period. Quarterback John Myers set the stage when he passed to Tom Jones for 39 yards on the last play of the first quarter.

Fahey's second score was on a six-yard run with 5:07 left in the second quarter. The TD climaxed a nine-play drive from the Brick 25. Myers also threw to Jones for a 33-yard aerial gain to jazz up the drive.

Along with his field goal, the soccer-style booter Caso also had two extra points by kicking.

Long Branch Rebounds To Top Blue Bishops

LONG BRANCH — It wasn't easy, but Coach Ken Schroeck and his Long Branch High School gridders kept their unbeaten and untied record intact at 5-0 with a 20-12 victory over stubborn Asbury Park Saturday.

The Green Wave came to life in the fourth quarter with two touchdowns to pull out the win before a huge crowd on hand for a glimpse of the players of the great 1932 and 1935 Long Branch teams.

Glen Covin accounted for two of Long Branch's touchdowns, while Al Butler, the hard-plunging Blue Bishop back, posted Asbury Park's pair.

The Bishops shocked Long Branch by taking a 6-0 lead by going 49 yards after Tom Murphy intercepted Wave quarterback Penta's pass on the Asbury Park 30, from where he dashed it back to the Wave 49.

Asbury was forced to kick, but when the ball bounced off Preston Spencer, LeRoy Hayes pounced on it for Asbury on the Wave 28.

In six plays Asbury scored, with Butler going over from the two standing up.

After recovering a fumble, Long Branch scored again, this time in three plays. Covin had a 14-yard run through tackle to place the ball on the four. In two plunges, Covin scored.

Asbury took the ensuing short kick and scored in 10 plays, slicing off 51 yards on the way. Butler climaxed the drive going over from the three on a slant, but the Branchers still had the edge, 13-12.

The Branchers wrapped up the victory on the final play of the game when Penta, on a "keeper," went around right end for a 12-yard dash and scored. Howard Edwards booted the point.

Warriors Wreck Huskies; Buccaneers Rack Rebels

MATAWAN — Manasquan continued to make it tough for Monmouth Regional High in the Shore Conference "B" Division, as the Big Blue Warriors kept their slate clean by defeating Matawan Regional, 19-6, on Saturday.

Manasquan is 4-0-1, and is leading the division by a margin of two points, with only a tie with Red Bank marring what could be a clean slate. Red Bank and Monmouth Regional trail with 2-1-1 league records.

The Warriors spread their scoring, getting single touchdowns in each of the first, second and fourth periods, but were held scoreless by the Huskies in the third quarter.

Junior fullback Len Warick scored two of the three six-pointers, and Gene Landis tallied the other. Frankie Allison scored for the Huskies.

Drive 66 Yards
Manasquan drove 66 yards for its first score. Short yardage advanced the ball down to the Huskies' 30. After a penalty, Bill McKelvey passed 28 yards to Norm Hall for a first on the seven. McKelvey went for two, then Warick took it over. Hall had the only kick of the day for the extra point.

At the start of the second period Kevin Nolan had a 24-yard run to place the Warriors on the Matawan 11. Three plays later, Landis went in from four yards out. On the last Warick TD he also had one smash for 14 yards to put the ball on the one, then took it over on the next play.

Huskies Drive
Matawan had a drive near the end of the second period, going 54 yards. A big play was a 24-yard pass to Allison for a first on the Manasquan 18, with six seconds left. Szyarto tried a pass to Allison in the end zone as the clock ran out, but the ball was batted down.

After the second half kickoff Matawan started another drive and had reached the Warriors 15. A 24-yard run by Szyarto on an end sweep was the big play. But the Warriors held three runs on the 15, and a fourth down pass missed the target.

Matawan recovered a Manasquan fumble on the 11 on the next play, and the Huskies scored when Allison swept left end for the score. Szyarto tried a run for the point, but he was stopped.

Matawan came right back and inserted a 76-yard drive with Szyarto getting 25 yards on two plays, and fired passes to Allison for 13 and 28 yards. Szyarto's fumble, recovered by Manasquan, ended the threat.

Another opportunity existed for the Huskies, but they lost it. John McKinney recovered Manasquan's Dave Roden's bobble on the five, but lost it when Wilkes fumbled and Marty Fletcher recovered on the eight for Manasquan.

Rock Sparks Bucs
Pete Rock sparked Red Bank High to its 13-7 victory over Howell.

John Lee, Buc tackle, started the first score off when he intercepted a Dan Powles pass and ran it back to the Howell 40, with only three minutes of the quarter shot. After reaching the 30 for a first down, the Bucs were bogged down. However, on fourth down, quarterback Warren Josey fired a pass to Rock near the sidelines, he broke through two would-be tacklers at the line of scrimmage, and raced 30 yards to go in for the touchdown. Bob Douglas made the kick count.

Touchdowns were scarce until the third when Howell clicked for one. Rebels' Gerry DeGentilo started it off when he returned a Red Bank punt to the Bucs' 35 for a 20-yard hike. In seven plays Howell was on the one. Three plays later Powles had the score going over on a quarterback sneak. Wentz tied the count with a good boot.

Coach Bob Morris kept his Buccos going with their running game in the final quarter, going to the Howell 20 at one point. The Rebels held for the three plays, but Rock managed to get loose and twisted his way for 20 yards and the winning touchdown.

Following the kick-off, the teams exchanged punts, and Howell was cornered in their own territory with slightly over two minutes on the clock.

Keansburg Trowned

HADDON TOWNSHIP — Frank Goman gave first-year Keansburg High School an early indication that its long journey here would result in defeat Saturday.

Goman scored three touchdowns in the opening period to pace Pope Paul VI to a 51-6 victory. He hauled in TD passes of 60 and 53 yards from quarterback Gene Coia and romped 25 yards to paydirt with an intercepted pass.

Tom Lovitt tallied the Titans' six points, crossing the goal line from six yards out in the second period.

Keansburg, winner of one game, a 31-6 trouncing of Marlboro, another first-year school which is winless in five outings, will be at home next Saturday against St. Joseph's of Hammonton.

Devils' Demaree Breaks Bulldogs

By CHUCK TRIBBLEHORN

Register Sports Editor

WEST LONG BRANCH

Gusty winds played a big part in Shore Regional's 14-6 victory over Rumson-Fair Haven

Regional here yesterday,

but the Blue Devils' Jim Demaree played an even bigger role.

Demaree, forced to carry the brunt of the attack when

Barry Ashley, Shore's leading scorer and ground gainer, was out of the contest with an ankle injury, scored both of his team's touchdowns and piled up most of the yardage.

The clubs entered the contest with identical 1-3 records on the campaign, Shore stepping out of the Shore Conference and Rumson-Fair Haven, playing out of the Garden State

Conference for the first time this fall. The departure from conference play didn't seem to faze either team. Both showed lack-luster performances.

Neither team tallied in the opening period, but when they got the idea the scoring came quickly.

Shore scored first, and the touchdown came about after a series of miscues by both teams. It all started when Rumson was faced with a fourth down punting situation on their own 46. The Bulldogs punted, but were offside and were forced to kick again after a five-yard penalty, this time from the Blue Devils' 49.

The second punt attempt was blocked by Shore's Jesse Zic-carello and pounced on by Joe Agnellino. Shore took over, but prosperity quickly faded when

Rumson's Tony Kerbs intercepted a first down pass on the 13.

Three plays and a minus

three yards later, the Purple

Bulldogs again were forced to punt into a stiff wind. The boot went scarcely more than five yards from scrimmage, and the Blue Devils took over on the Rumson 16.

On the first play Demaree skirted around right end for the TD. Mike Barker successfully booted the first of his two conversions which gave him

nine in a row without a miss this season.

McFarlane Goes 89

The chilled crowd barely recovering from this display of you-take-it-I-don't-want-it, when Rumson struck for its only touchdown of the afternoon. On the ensuing kickoff, Bulldog halfback Ed McFarlane took the ball and romped 89 yards to paydirt, picking up several fine blocks from his teammates

along the way. A bobbled snap from center felled the extra point attempt, so the score was 7-6 at the half.

It remained that way until midway through the fourth quarter when Shore sowed up the verdict. Demaree almost single-handedly shut the door on Rumson.

The winning drive, the Blue

Devils' best surge of the game, covered 54 yards and 11 plays.

Demaree carried nine times for 41 of those yards, the last two for the touchdown.

Rumson-Fair Haven's first serious threat came the first time it had the ball. The Purple

Bulldogs drove from the Shore 36 — taking an against-the-wind Blue Devil punt — to the home club's 21. However,

Shore recovered a Bill Fallon

fumble to halt the march.

Late Drive

The Purple Bulldogs drove again late in the contest and reached the Blue Devils' four-yard line at the final gun, but with Shore's eight-point lead it mattered little.

Shore showed a 12-6 edge in first downs, but managed just 128 yards on the ground, 82 of which was churned out by Dem-aree in 26 carries. Rumson had 51 yards net rushing.

In the almost-non-existent

passing attacks for both teams,

The Blue Devils hit on only two of 18 aerials for 15 yards, while the Purple Bulldogs connected on three of 10 for 34 yards.

Each team was guilty of penalties throughout the afternoon. A total of 105 yards was paced off against Rumson on 11 violations, five of a major (15-yard) variety. Shore was penalized 65 yards in five walk-offs, four 15-yarders.

While Rumson-Fair Haven

departed from Garden State

Conference action, Carteret

continued to lead the circuit

with a 34-25 victory over South

Brunswick, and second place

defending champion Highland

Park ripped Roselle, Rumson's

home opponent next Saturday,

42-0. Clifford Scott, Rumson's only victim this fall, turned back Metuchen, 20-12. Roselle

Park (GSC) tripped Wayne

Hillis, 20-6, in a non-conference game.

TURN OF EVENTS — The pass was intended for Shore Regional's Marty Connelly (92, white), but when he realized Rumson-Fair Haven Regional defenseman Tony Kerbs (33) was ready for the catch, he did everything to foil the interception attempt. (Register Staff Photo)

SHORE ENOUGH — Jim Demaree, Shore Regional's leading ball-carrier Saturday against Rumson-Fair Haven Regional, rips for several of his 82 yards late in the game. The Blue Devils won, 14-6.

Warner Title Tilts Sunday

The Fair Haven Tigers of the

Pop Warner Football League

will meet West Long Branch

next Sunday for the championship of the "B" Northern Division at the Rumson Fair Haven

Regional High field starting at 3 p.m.

In the preliminary game at two o'clock, it will be the undefeated, untied and unscored

on Fair Haven Pee Wees

against the Red Bank squad in this division for the Northern

"B" championship.

Middletown will meet Mana-squan at that location for the Northern "A" title. Overall championships will be played the following Sunday, on Nov. 10.

Fair Haven defeated

stubborn New Shrewsbury, 13-7, yesterday.

Bruno Sharp

Following a scoreless first half, Fred Bruno, who gave

Fair Haven its during the afternoon, sent New Shrewsbury into the lead in the third quarter when he scored on a

22-yard play. The PAT scored on a pass play, to put Fair

Haven behind, 7-0.

Bruno also had an unlucky

afternoon as he had two touchdowns called back. He ran 72 yards for one, but it was called back on a clipping penalty.

Bruno went for another, and it was called back after a 41-yard jaunt.

Fair Haven pulled the win out in the fourth period. Tom

F. Murphy went over guard to get loose for 25 yards for the first TD. Jeff Jerolamon fired to Rich Conley for the PAT.

On a 35-yard play, Jerolamon threw to Murphy who was stopped on the five. Next play,

Murphy went over tackle for the score. The extra point failed to click.

Jeff Pezutti was the star for Rumson, scoring four touchdowns and racking up 285

yards from the line of scrimmage.

Steve McCormick, kicking specialist for the winners, booted his eighth consecutive extra point when he scored on four during the afternoon.

Pezutti's longest run of the day went for 65 yards, but he also scored on 10, 30, and 10 yards for his other three.

John Blake scored the other touchdown on a 10-yarder.

Both Rumson teams are 6-1 on the season.

Atlantic Highlands romped

over Matawan for a 34-0 varsity victory, while its Pee Wee squad wound up with a 21-0 win over Matawan.

Bob Noonan went on a 10-yard jaunt for the first score with Donald Merker getting the point.

Jay Sciortino scooted four yards for the second TD with Merker again converting the

PAT.

Dick Hoffman got off the longest of the day on a 24-yard run, but this time, Dick Hoffman made the extra point.

John Connell plunged two yards for the third TD, and

Hoffman clicked again for the point. Hoffman switched for a touchdown on the next score going in from 12 yards out.

Howard Hagerman converted the point.

Manasquan won a 13-6 triumph over Ocean Township.

Mike Vignola went off tackle

for 14 yards for the only Ocean score.

Mike Hackett scored first for Manasquan on a seven-yard pass. John Banta scored the

PAT. On a two-yard end sweep,

Ted Rafetta posted the second

Manasquan six pointer, with a

Hackett to Ken Taylor pass net-

Soldier Injured In Middletown

MIDDLETOWN — A Ft. Hancock serviceman was injured early Friday when his car struck a pole on W. Front St. and Middletown - Lincroft Road.

Spec. 5 Wallace Jordam Jr.,

Edwin Placilla

Anne-Louis Girodet (1767-1824), one of the great French painters of the nineteenth century, used his hat as a candlestick. Like many masters, he did his best work at night and preferred to paint after sundown. At such time he would don a large black felt hat with a wide stiff brim. The brim was provided with forty sockets and could hold an equal number of wax candles. Forty was the maximum extent of the illumination he used. He had the curious whim of basing his fee on the number of candles he used in his work.

Protest Vote Unappealing To Socialist

ASBURY PARK — Henning A. Blomen, Socialist Labor Party candidate for President, said here he is not interested in a protest vote, and will not get it.

Commenting on an editorial in Life Magazine, which said disillusionment with major party candidates will cause some leftist dissenters to "cast legitimate protest votes for fringe parties like Socialist Labor," Mr. Blomen said such a vote would be oriented toward reform or reaction, not simply protest.

Candidate Night Set by LWV

NEW SHREWSBURY — A candidates' meeting is being planned by the Red Bank League of Women Voters.

Candidates for the offices of mayor and council in the borough have been invited to respond both to questions submitted by the league and to questions from the audience.

The meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 4, at 8 p.m. in the Tinton Falls School gymnasium. All New Shrewsbury citizens are urged to attend.

Mrs. Thomas McNamara, Wellington Drive, is in charge of arrangements.

2 Car Collision Hurts 6 Persons

MIDDLETOWN — Six persons were injured Thursday afternoon in a two-car collision on Rt. 35 at New Monmouth Road.

Treated and released at Riverview Hospital, Red Bank, were driver Sandra K. Furley, 25, of 24 Oneida Ave., Atlantic Highlands, with facial contusions; her son Daniel, 4, with facial contusions; Sally Turell, 51, of 11 Marine Place, Highlands, with a fractured nose and rib; Margaret T. Obelme, 30, of 187 Leslie Lane, abradions and her sons, Matthew, nine months, bruises and John, 5, lacerations of mouth.

Investigating officer Leonard Moon issued no tickets to the two drivers. Both claimed to have a green light when the collision occurred.

Judge in Eatontown Penalizes 11 Persons

EATONTOWN — Municipal Court Judge William Throckmorton has fined Mrs. Eloise Chisom, 1623 Sewall Ave., Neptune, $110 for shoplifting $62 in merchandise from Bamberger's, Monmouth Shopping Center. Mrs. Chisom received a 90-day suspended jail sentence and was put on probation for one year.

David Rijah, 30 Market St., Newark, was given a 90-day suspended jail sentence and placed on six-months probation for shoplifting $194 in merchandise from Bamberger's, Monmouth Shopping Center.

School Poll Lifts Arnone And Nixon

RED BANK — Mayor John P. Arnone and presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon both gained in a Red Bank High School poll.

Interviewing 226 shoppers, the members of the American government course in World History found that Mr. Nixon is leading his chief opponent, Vice president Hubert H. Humphrey, 52 to 24 per cent.

Those people who were interviewed and were from Red Bank favored Mayor Arnone over his opponent in the local mayoralty race, Councilman Daniel O'Hern, by a whopping 82 per cent to 18 margin.

For Mayor Arnone, this was a 14 per cent increase over last week when the question was first asked.

Mr. Nixon picked up five points in this week's poll, the fifth in the presidential series, and Vice President Humphrey dropped six.

George Wallace remained at 10 per cent for the third straight week; other candidates received two per cent; and 12 per cent said they are still undecided.

In the Congressional race, incumbent James J. Howard dropped two points to 56 per cent; State Sen. Richard R. Stout has the other 44.

Other questions in the poll showed little change. Seventy-seven per cent said they favored their candidate's choice of running mate, and the same number said they approve of their candidate's position on Vietnam.

On civil disobedience, 73 per cent, down two, said they do not like the present methods of handling civil disorders; of these, 86 per cent think the methods are too lenient.

The poll has now covered about 1,300 persons and will end the day before the Nov. 5 election.

4-H Vaqueros Elect Officers

MORGANVILLE — Norman Townsend of Crine Road has been elected president of the 4-H Vaqueros.

Others elected were George Miller, vice president; Pam Plank, secretary; Donna Lee Bien, treasurer, and Carolyn Bien and Mary McCormick, reporters.

Members will hold their annual fund raising rummage sale at the Englishtown Auction, Saturday, Nov. 2.

An overnight trail ride also will take place next month. Donna Lee Bien tied for third place in English and in the western divisions at the Trenton State Fair winter show. Carolyn Bien placed sixth.

Mrs. George Townsend, the club's leader, will be chairman of the 1969 Monmouth County 4-H Show.

Sgt. Shrinski Arrives at Post

FT. MONMOUTH — U. S. Army Signal School Command Sgt. Maj. Charles W. Shrinski assumed his new post here last week, after reporting to the fort from Vietnam.

He succeeds Sgt. Maj. Frederick T. Lee, who becomes an administrative assistant to the chief of staff, Col. L. S. Salisbury.

Sgt. Maj. Shrinski, a major in World War II, with more than 26 years of active military duty, was sergeant major of the 63rd Signal Battalion at Phu Bai.

A native of the Philippines, Shrinski enlisted in the Infantry on graduation from high school shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor and served on the Islands in the South Pacific until 1944, when he was selected as an officer candidate.

HOWARD SHOULD GO!

Very infrequently does the United States come face to face with a real crisis which would affect the country and the entire world. Such a crisis existed in May of 1968. The basis of worldwide trade is the United States dollar. The basis of Municipal improvement is the United States dollar. The basis of your purchase in the local grocery store is the United States dollar — what it will buy today, tomorrow and next year. Just six months ago the World wondered whether the American people could restrain themselves enough, from a built up orgy of self indulgence, to protect their United States dollar. The Dollar was losing its purchasing power, day by day, faster and faster!

What was offered to save the United States dollar? A modest tax increase; hardly more than was given in reduced taxes a few years earlier. A majority of the Representatives saw the danger, gave up politicking, took the statesmanship road and voted for the tax increase. The Representative from Monmouth County failed to meet the crisis. He could not comprehend the situation. He chose to offer excuses for failing to protect your money. Irrespective of minor successes, you can not return such a man, one who does not meet major crises, to the United States Congress. This November vote for DICK STOUT to represent you in the next Congress.

Paid for by Charles C. Schock Jr., 209 Washington Street, Sea Girt, N. J.

Volkswagen announces automatic. Better late than never.

The Volkswagen Squareback and the Volkswagen Fastback are now available with a fully automatic transmission.

So now you can drive a Volkswagen and not even know you're driving a Volkswagen.

Except for a few reminders.

Like the 25 miles you get to a gallon of regular gas. The oil you still take by the pint.

And the time and money you don't spend on anti-freeze.

Of course, the new automatic is strictly optional. Just like on most other cars.

But we've got something no other car offers even as an option. Electronic fuel injection.

And it's as standard as the electric clock, electric rear window defroster, 49-position front seats, front disc brakes and wall-to-wall carpeting.

All of which is enough to make you forget it's a Volkswagen all over again.

"BUHLER-BITTER NEVER LOOKED BETTER"

We didn't say it, a nice customer did. We're getting lots of compliments about our new Factory Showcase on Route 35 in Hazlet. Some like the wide-open way we display our 1969 CHRYSLERS and PLYMOUTHs. Others say that with our sensible lighting and nearly an acre of black top parking for used cars — they get a real kick out of "tire-kicking."

Library Unit Meeting Set

MONMOUTH BEACH — The Library Association announces its annual meeting and open house will be held in the new library building Wednesday at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

Currently on display at the library is a diorama depicting the building of the U.S.S. Constitution.

Also displayed is an atlas of Monmouth County by F.W. Beers dated 1873. This is the oldest map of Sea Bright and Monmouth Beach. Both displays are loaned by Oscar Williams of Monmouth Beach.

A working model of a seagoing steam tugboat has been loaned to the library by Herbert Gaarder of Monmouth Beach. This was built by Mr. Gaarder in 1950.

Library hours are Monday, Tuesday from 2:30 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Saturday morning the library is open from 9:30 a.m. to noon. The library is closed Wednesdays.

Farr Tract Is Shaping Up As Site of Red Bank School

RED BANK — With about 35,000 cubic yards of usable fill already moved in, the Farr Tract at the end of River St. is beginning to take shape as the site of Red Bank's new elementary school.

The filling operation started late last month and is proceeding according to plan, according to Sal Giovenco, Board of Education secretary.

The fill will bring the land up to a height of about seven feet at the site of the building itself. The remainder of the 21-acre tract will taper off somewhat.

The filling operation is to be completed in two stages. The first, going on now, will move about 78,000 cubic yards. This will be completed next month. After allowing a period for settlement, the second stage will move about 26,000 additional cubic yards in an estimated 20 working days.

By agreement with Borough Council, the fill is obtained at the borough dump and moved the few blocks to the Farr Tract by the Muccio Excavating Co., Long Branch.

Mr. Giovenco estimates that the borough has already recovered about 10 years of dumping from fill already removed. "We are both benefiting from this operation," Mr. Giovenco said.

Mr. Giovenco noted that although the building itself will be supported by pilings, the filled land had remained firm after recent rains.

In the meantime, other plans for the 33-room, K - 4 school are progressing.

Bonding procedures are being worked out; final detailed building plans are being drawn for state approval; and preparations are being made to take bids on construction.

"All these things take time," Mr. Giovenco said, "but by June, we should have everything pretty much under way."

Target date for the opening of the $2.5 million school, which was approved in a referendum last January, is September, 1970. At that time, the Mechanic and Oakland Street schools, both nearing their centennial, will cease to be schools.

Contractor Muccio estimates that it has taken about 2,500 truck trips to move the fill already taken to the site.

Found Innocent Of Assault

FREEHOLD — After a two-day trial, an Eatontown man has been found innocent of assault with a motor vehicle.

Benjamin Messing, Sands Motel, Rt. 35, had been accused of assaulting Robert Herbert, 1400 Chestnut Avenue, Wanamassa, by hitting him with the open door of his moving car and knocking him to the ground last Nov. 15 in Ocean Township.

Assistant Prosecutor Franklin A. Goldstein presented the state's case. Red Bank attorney Philip G. Auerbach represented Mr. Messing. County Court Judge M. Raymond McGowan presided.

$5,000 Bail Frees Woman

FREEHOLD — Mrs. Virginia Powell, 38, of Robertsville Road, Marlboro, is free on $5,000 bail pending Grand Jury action for the murder of her 40-year-old husband, James, Oct. 13.

Represented by Deputy Public Defender William J. Gearty, Mrs. Powell waived a preliminary hearing sending the case to the Grand Jury for action.

A bail hearing was heard by County Court Judge M. Raymond McGowan. Assistant County Prosecutor John W. Applegate represented the state.

County Medical Examiner Dr. C. Malcolm B. Gilman said Mr. Powell was shot in the chest with a 12-gauge shotgun while he was on the back porch of the Powell home.
