Geddis Named Principal Of Summit High

Dr. Geddis was appointed to the post last Thursday night by the Board of Education after several persons in the audience of 40 questioned his background and his outlook on contemporary education and its problems.

Dr. Geddis, who is 37, will be the school's third principal since 1918. He is currently director of business finance for the State Department of Education.

In explaining the process by which the Board and the superintendent of schools selected the new principal, William Caming, a Board member, explained how a large number of the leading colleges prominent in education had been contacted. He also noted that candidates for the job had been interviewed in-depth.

Dr. Geddis received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Seton Hall University, and his doctorate in education from Rutgers.

City GOP "Endorsement" Challenged by Lachner

Marshall S. Lachner, Republican candidate for a Ward 1 Common Council seat, this week labeled as "a violation of the law" a statement made in a letter to the editor in last week's Herald that the Republican City Committee made Mrs. Naomi Faison its "unanimous choice."

In his charge, Mr. Lachner cited a 1930 New Jersey state statute which reads that "no state, county or municipal committee of any political party shall prior to any primary election endorse the candidacy of any candidate for a party nomination or position."

The statement referred to by Mr. Lachner was included in a letter to the editor from Alfred E. Heuttel, chairman of the Republican City Committee's screening committee which choose Mrs. Faison. The letter says in part that "we urge all Registered Republicans in Ward 1 to vote for Mrs. Faison, the unanimous choice of the Republican City Committee for Summit

No Hike In School Lunch Price Seen

It looks as though school lunch prices will remain the same next year, according to a statement by Walter S. Eddy, business manager, at the Board of Education meeting last Thursday night.

Mr. Eddy pointed out that it is expected that new federal legislation will raise the cash subsidy to 12 cents for 1970-71.

This year, the federal cash subsidy was supplemented by a state subsidy, with both sources guaranteeing a total of nine cents per lunch.

Senior High Student Challenges Board On Black Culture Studies in Curriculum

A Summit Senior High School senior last Thursday night told the Board of Education that black culture should be interwoven in American history, English, music and science as well as other subjects.

The student, Miss Betty Morse, said the black history course, as it is now being taught, "doesn't involve me or other black people."

In reviewing the steps that had been taken in the school system to incorporate black history, Superintendent of Schools Robert Salisbury explained that the role of blacks has been incorporated in school subjects, ranging from illustrations in new Kindergarten books to units in American history books.

"That's just it," countered Miss Morse, "you're talking about units in American history. We want black culture blended into the history as it happened—not just stuck in where it's convenient."

Howard Prunty, a resident, noted that most history books—"even the most recent ones"—are not doing the job of accurately relating the "black experience in this country."

Miss Morse also charged that the atmosphere of Roosevelt School was "not up to par" with other Summit elementary schools.

To this, Dr. Salisbury and members of the board noted that some of the best teachers were assigned there; that the facilities were excellent on all counts and that the school's class sizes are smaller.

Authority to Readvertise For Glenwood Construction Bids

Construction bids for the Glenwood place housing project will be received by the Housing Authority June 18 at 4 p.m. at City Hall.

Following receipt of the single bid on the general construction of the project and several bids on the mechanical trades last month, the Authority was compelled to reject all bids because they were substantially in excess of budget estimates.

After extensive consultation with HUD, city and state officials, prospective contractors and others, the Authority directed its architects to undertake a number of significant changes in the project designed to achieve substantial reductions in cost to permit the project to move forward as quickly as possible. The Authority pointed out that these revisions will not reduce the size or scope of the project but are primarily in the area of changes in materials, finishes, construction techniques and in certain procedural matters.

The factors which contributed to the excessively high bid

Mrs. Faison, Lachner Wind Up GOP Primary Race With Final Statements to Ward 1 Voters

Mrs. Faison Lauds City Planning

"Responsible planning and a continuity of good government" are the major reasons most city residents chose Summit as their home," Mrs. Naomi Faison, GOP Common Council candidate in Ward 1, observed this week.

Winding up a two-month campaign before the June 2 balloting, Mrs. Faison said her conclusions were reached as a consensus of local opinion obtained from talks with numerous Ward 1 residents during house-to-house campaign walks, meetings, and other campaign activities.

City residents, she noted, "have repeatedly said that they want the future of Summit to be a steady, consistent forward motion through planning that will reflect and maintain the city's solid position as a desirable residential community."

"This city is over 100 years old," she said, "and did not arrive at this age so gracefully without careful planning and follow-through by experienced and dedicated members of the

Three-Year Plan Urged By Lachner

Marshall S. Lachner, GOP candidate for the Ward 1 Common Council seat, this week suggested that Common Council develop a formal, three-year plan as a "systematic means of achieving the goals of the Master Plan."

"Just as businesses must project their planning in five-year stages to meet changing economic and market conditions" he stated, "so should we outline, after long-range study, research and planning, the priority areas that will help us to keep pace in a volatile climate".

"Certainly this would give us an orderly device to meet the problems of garbage disposal, pollution, sewage treatment and a revitalization of our business district. Such a plan, if in existence, surely would have prevented a hasty commitment by Council to a swimming pool without taking into consideration alternate proposals presented by citizens. The hearing, by the way, displayed a total lack of sensitivity on the part of the Council in dealing with people; a fact which was brought to light in a Summit

"These are the type of leaders we have always had," she said, "and, for the sake of the city, must continue to have."

Mrs. Faison said her campaign has shown her that "most people want elected officials who know and understand the needs and desires of residents, will truly represent them, and will govern without overreaction to currently popular causes."

"People want to feel the welfare and security of the community is under control," she noted.

During 10 years of contact with city residents through her local business, Mrs. Faison said she has "built a valuable background of knowledge of why people chose Summit as their home."

"I have both the time and the desire," she said, "to use this knowledge to the fullest and help preserve the values and environment that are Summit."

"Summit was carefully put together as a desirable community," she added, "and like all well-built things it needs the constant care of interested people to keep it in good condition."

Faison said, "are aware of the pressures that now face the city - garbage disposal, pollution, traffic, to name a few - and demand knowledgeable leaders who are willing to carefully study these problems and ascertain the best, if not the most profitable solution."

"Even more important," she said, "city residents require leaders who will have the foresight to anticipate future pressures to our community and will act to prevent or minimize their effect."

Herald editorial last week. This editorial represents our sentiments completely," he said.

"Priority projections would have a two-fold advantage; eliminating a sudden extra tax burden on the citizens, and also allowing for the introduction of new projects with available funds."

"Suburban communities can no longer avoid the problems of pollution, drug abuse and the creeping urbanization which threatens our natural environment. They also cannot ignore the increasingly heavy burden being placed on the homeowners, especially the older residents. Instead, they must take the initiative to force increased state and federal involvement and capitalize with and on the imagination of local businesses and industry."

"Unless we utilize the utmost resourcefulness on existing, as well as future, problems, we will not preserve the qualities that have made Summit such an outstanding community."

"Today's Councilman must, of necessity, be able to foresee these changes and have the time and inclination to study them and offer solid solutions. I think my qualifications, and deep interest and concern along with the element of time that I can contribute to the job, indicate to the people of Summit my willingness to accept the exciting challenges which lie ahead."

Continuing support of these efforts are essential since, as stated more than a year ago, the success of this project is dependent upon the unique combination of public and private funds."

Local Anti-War Group Starts Petition Drive

At a meeting last week of the Citizens Concerned about the War, Nick Wyman reported on the success of a petition drive which he is heading to stimulate support for the McGovern-Hatfield amendment. The amendment would prohibit support of military operations in Cambodia one month after enactment of the bill, in Laos after December 31, 1970, and in Vietnam by June 30, 1971.

The Group decided to continue the petitioning with a door-to-door drive on Saturday, June 6.

Discussion followed on the support of the amendment both through petitions and through continuing the letters to Congressional representatives.

The petitions which have been signed before the door-to-door campaign will be taken to Washington on Thursday, June 4. Area residents interested in joining the group on the bus trip can call Ruth Hamann at 273-1357.

Persons who are interested in signing a petition but have not been contacted can sign one at either the YWCA or YMCA.

Area Mayors Endorse Boro Picture Contest

Five area mayors this week voiced their approval and endorsement of the "Dirty Picture Contest" being currently sponsored by Colonial Camera of New Providence. Details of the competition are included elsewhere in this week's issue. The Mayor's comments follow:

Mayor Edward Bien New Providence

"Ecology, in all its aspects, is obviously uppermost in all our minds, and the picture contest now underway is a great example of a public service rendered by (Colonial Camera) a local retailer."

Mayor Douglas Costabile Berkeley Heights

"Although many of our citizens are aware of the litter and pollution problems in this community, many may be unaware that a quick call to either the Board of Health or the Police Department will prompt an immediate check by the proper authorities, and if an obvious infraction of an ordinance is involved, an investigation will follow... Colonial Camera should be commended for its interest in this problem which involves all of us."

Mayor Elmer J. Bennett

"As you know I am, and have been on record for some time, as a foe of all forms of contamination in our atmosphere... I urge all interested "ecologists" to submit their entries to Colonial Camera's picture contest."

Mayor John P. Davidson Chatham Borough

"Litter and pollution have long been, unfortunately, evils that exist even in such well run communities as we have in this area... a picture contest such as this provides encouragement that action by the people will surface — continually and successfully."

Mayor Mary Koepf Chatham Township

"Litter and pollution are problems in all municipalities... the picture contest is a hard-hitting example of a member of the business community contributing to the welfare of the area."

YOUR VOTE IS IMPORTANT.—JOIN SUMMIT'S REPUBLICAN VOTERS AT THE POLLS ON PRIMARY DAY-JUNE 2.
Regular Organization Republican, Union County

How Senate and Congressional Candidates Stand on the Major Issues of the Day

(Editor's note: As a public service to aid voters in this Tuesday's Primary Election, the Summit Herald reprints the answers to questions asked by the League of Women Voters of candidates for United States Senate and the House of Representatives. Answering the questions were James A. Quereba and Nelson G. Gross, Republican candidates for United States Senate; Sen. Harrison A. Williams and Frank J. Guarini, Democratic candidates for United States Senate; Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer, GOP candidate for reelection to the 12th Congressional District which includes Summit and Democratic Congressional candidate Daniel F. Lundy. The two questions asked by the League include: (1) What do you consider the national priorities for the next Congress and why? and (2) How would you work to achieve the goals of these priorities? The answers follow)

James A. Quereba
Priorities

Speed the end of the war in Vietnam and build a lasting peace in Southeast Asia.

Scale down our global military commitments and cut defense spending to a reasonable level sufficient to insure national security.

End inflation.

End poverty and racial discrimination in America.

Provide every man, woman and child adequate food, clothing, housing, medical care, an education equal to his potential, and an opportunity to work in a meaningful job for a fair wage.

Provide a quality, healthful environment for all.

End air and water pollution and waste of earth's resources.

Encourage world-wide voluntary control of population.

Broaden the base of political participation and involvement and restore confidence in the American system of democracy and in our public institutions of government and law.

The Johnson Administration blundered tragically in pursuing a "guns and butter" course. Until the Vietnam war is ended, and the inflation it caused and now sustains is arrested, the United States will not be able adequately to fund vitally needed domestic programs. That makes peace the first imperative.

Action

Repeat the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution; appoint a high level negotiating team to the Paris, or a more comprehensive, peace conference; commit economic assistance to Southeast Asia through multi-national organizations.

Halt further expansion of the ABM and other unnecessary weapons systems, and press for international arms control agreements.

Implement the Nixon Administration's Family Assistance Plan with adequate funding and benefit levels.

Enforce civil rights legislation including open housing, voter registration and school desegregation.

Establish a single, Cabinet level Department of Environment and Pollution Control to coordinate existing programs and develop necessary new ones.

Increase federal funding of programs to improve and develop mass transit facilities and middle and low income housing.

Enact tough new consumer's rights legislation.

Launch a full scale federally funded attack on the problem of teen age drug use and addiction.

Abolish the seniority system and require full financial disclosure of federal judges and legislators and certain of their aides.

Nelson G. Gross
Priorities

There is one national priority which stands before all others. That is the prompt withdrawal of all American fighting men from the struggle in Vietnam and the resumption of the defense of South Vietnam by the South Vietnamese themselves.

In the next year's Congress, Vietnamization of the war should become the foundation for a new understanding that the United States cannot assume responsibility for the defense and development of the smaller, less stable governments of the world.

As an American involvement in the war diminishes, the next Congress should work to curtail military spending and free those funds for curing our domestic ills.

Those of us who join next year's Congress must make certain that the revenues saved by the reduction of over-all military spending are increased and channeled toward high priority internal social needs.

There are many needed, high priority domestic improvements which will require tremendous efforts and billions of dollars during the seventies, but there are three problems which the Congress must tackle next year, pollution, drug abuse and crime control.

Action

In the past decade I have worked to bring effective, responsive government to the Court House in Bergen County, to the State House in Trenton and to the White House in Washington. In this decade I believe I can work productively as a United States Senator with President Nixon and Governor Cahill to achieve the goals I outlined in answer to the first question.

In order to help ensure that the resources of the Federal Government are applied to our urban problems and not to further foreign entanglements, we need a man in the Senate who can work with the President, criticize when appropriate and make his voice heard.

Likewise, the national attack that I foresee on pollution, drug abuse and organized crime, would be aided by a man in the Senate from New Jersey who can work in close coordination and cooperation with Federal and State authorities.

I believe that I can meet those demands.

Frank J. Guarini
Priorities

Vietnam: This issue is polarizing our people and dividing our country. We are living in perilous times and are facing critical challenges from within. We must unify our youth, who are drained with anger and dismay. Our interests in Vietnam are secondary, and must give way to pressing priorities at home. We must forthwith withdraw our troops, with concern for the safety of our fighting men.

The Economy: Rising unemployment, increases in the cost of living, spiraling interest rates and inflation have seriously weakened our economy. For fiscal sanity, we must end the Vietnam war, re-examine our foreign aid, and reconsider trade agreements, to protect our sagging economy.

Aid to Cities: Federal funds and direct aid are needed to provide proper housing, jobs and education. We must get to the root causes of urban decay before it becomes suburban decay.

Organized Crime: Corrupts governments, destroys our youth by promulgating narcotics hurts legitimate business, preys on the unfortunate via loan-sharking, and costs each of us dearly.

Pollution: We must give priority to our environment and quality of life. Although I sponsored the most stringent anti-pollution laws in the country, there is need for more emphasis on enforcement.

Education: The answer to welfare lies in education.

Action

We must re-order priorities. Programs must be sound and not contain built-in self-defeating mechanisms, such as being underfunded. Existing foreign and domestic programs must be re-evaluated for their effectiveness. A fighting full-time legislator, attending sub-committee meetings where the laws are written and speaking out on the floor, would lend a strong voice for the people of our state.

Harrison A. Williams, Jr.
Priorities

We must end the war in Vietnam. The tragic drain of lives, energy and money must be stopped; America must not be plunged into total warfare in Indochina.

We must reinforce the national economy and halt inflation. Spiraling costs of living and soaring unemployment have resulted in immeasurable suffering.

We must increase health, education and anti poverty funds. Hospitals and schools are drastically undermanned, overcrowded and underfunded; poverty remains widespread while we have the economic capacity to overcome it.

We must end environmental pollution and destruction.

We must resolve racial injustice. Our national commitment to assist minorities has cruelly faltered.

We must restore respect for law and maintain order. Rising crime rates, including drug abuse, demand comprehensive and effective actions.

We must assist the "Forgotten Americans"; our senior citizens on fixed incomes; our young people unrepresented in the political process; and our isolated minorities.

Action

We must bring public and legislative pressure to bear on the Administration to minimize our military commitment in Vietnam while negotiating a comprehensive political solution to achieve peace in Indochina.

We must institute flexible monetary and credit controls and redirect Federal dollars, including funds generated by cutbacks in non-essential defense expenditures, toward critically important domestic programs, thus stimulating the economy while aiding our schools, hospitals, the aging, etc., and effectively fighting national poverty.

We must induce industry to find ways to stop pollution and assist communities in their clean-up efforts. The numerous Federal programs should be coordinated and provided with adequate financing.

We must assist Law enforcement agencies and our courts to more effectively administer justice.

We must stimulate minority enterprise, education, and employment opportunities with Federal/private coordination of funding.

Florence P. Dwyer
Priorities

Stop the killing in Southeast Asia - so as to heal the divisions between Americans, shift resources to higher-purpose programs at home, and avoid the weakening of U. S. defenses at a time when our strength may be needed elsewhere.

Reduce the mounting rate of crime and drug abuse, so as to ease the fear and insecurity which tend to divert people from more constructive efforts.

Arrest inflation - which is especially harmful to low and middle income families and which increases cost of important public programs.

Control environmental pollution (air, water, land and noise) in order to prevent permanent ecological damage and preserve a healthy, livable environment for all Americans.

Step up construction of housing, especially for low and moderate income families and the rebuilding of cities - so as to improve the quality of life broaden opportunities and reduce tensions.

Action

Ending the war in Southeast Asia is both the first objective and an essential means to the achievement of other priorities. A U. S. initiated, mutually enforceable ceasefire which I have proposed for several years, offers the best hope for ending the war and arranging a workable peace. Central to the accomplishment of other priorities must be a reform of government organization and operations to improve the delivery of public services; formal establishment of these priorities in a more meaningful and attainable way; a selective reduction in military spending; greater cooperation with state and local governments and private organizations; reform of outmoded Congressional procedures and establishment of higher ethical standards to improve Congressional performance and enhance public confidence; more adequate funding of priority programs; and enactment of my "more for the money" program to eliminate "red tape" and improve administration and management.

the polarization to which I refer is between generations, races, economic classes, and sections of the country. These groups must be united if we are to survive as one nation.

As a member of Congress, I would work to reduce military spending and apply the savings to programs that would provide housing, educational opportunity, hospitals, medical schools, preventive health services, facilities for transportation and environmental improvement and a complete revamping of our patronizing welfare system. These programs must be massive in scope and should for the most part be undertaken by the private sector under the impetus of legislation providing financial incentives that will promote the necessary investment, managerial enterprise and job opportunities.

Progress along these lines will create economic growth which, being real in terms of productivity, will eliminate inflation. Reduction of defense spending should coincide with a major revision of foreign policy. Vietnam has taught us that we cannot continue to police foreign aggression on a unilateral basis. We must insist that the U. N. assume responsibility for this function and Congress must represent our fair contribution to this effort. In the long run, this is our only hope for peace and we should not presume that Russia will refuse to cooperate. They have a large stake in world stability.

Voters will also be asked to vote for Democratic and Republican candidates for the Board of Freeholders. Republican candidates, running unopposed include incumbents Jerome M. Epstein, Arthur A. Manner and Charles S. Tracy. Democratic candidates for Freeholder include Thomas W. Cantrell, Jr., George J. King, Muriel Kranowski, Charles E. McNally, Everett C. Lattimore, Thomas W. Long and Harold J. Seymour, Jr.

The Board of Freeholders is the principal governing body of the county and is charged with the management of the property, finances, and affairs of the county. It is responsible for determining some county government policy, and it administers the day-to-day operations of county government except as otherwise provided by law. Municipal property taxes are the chief source of county revenue.

Operating through a system of standing committees, the Board exercises both legislative and executive power. Thus the Freeholders first enact the annual budget and then expend some of the moneys appropriated. In New Jersey, however, the county is still primarily an agent of the state, operating only within the areas specifically delegated to it. As new agencies have been created by the state to care for public needs, they have usually been separated from the direct control of a central governing body such as the Freeholders. Consequently, the agencies and officers who perform almost all major county functions are virtually autonomous, and the Freeholders lack substantial authority over many county activities. Although the Board of Freeholders is charged with the duty of enacting the budget, they control but a small portion of the over-all cost.

experience, Dr. Geddis has served as an administrative assistant to the Superintendent of Schools in Summit and as principal of Glassboro High School and Colonia High School in Woodbridge.

The Board noted that Dr. Geddis had expressed a philosophy of establishing a "completely open door" policy with students. "In fact," Mr. Caming said, "his primary reason for accepting the $21,500 job was so that he could be with young people again."

In other action, the Board accepted an insurance plan from the Connecticut General Life Insurance Plan which offered benefits "equal to, if not better than those of the Hospital Service Plan of New Jersey."

Approved a resolution honoring J. Bindley Hoff by dedicating in his name the library at Washington School in recognition of his contributions to Summit School.

Noted that this summer's Head Start program would be "More than adequate" for 60 youngsters in spite of a reduction of Federal funds to $14,000, down from a high of $21,000 two years ago.

Pre-School Nursery Has Two Openings

The Brayton Pre-School, the cooperative nursery school sponsored by the Brayton PTA, will begin its 30th year in September.

Established for four-year old children who will be going on to Kindergarten the next year, the Pre-school gives youngsters a varied and interesting program, and gives mothers an opportunity to observe the children and to participate in the activities.

When the school has its full enrollment of 20 children, each mother works with the teacher Mrs. Lynn Weaver 20 times during a school year: 10 times during each semester. This year the enrollment is not completely filled and there are still two vacancies. Children who will be four by November 30 are eligible. Interested parents are urged to contact Mrs. Joseph R. Send a letter to North Vietnam.

Right now hundreds of Americans are being held captive in North Vietnam. A few prisoners have made it back. They talk about bamboo cages. Vicious beatings. Malnutrition. Humiliation. But the North Vietnamese will tell us nothing. And it's this silence that makes our appeal more urgent. For the families at home, there is no word on who's alive. Who's dead. Or even who's being held. There is nothing. Except the anguish of not knowing. Maybe you can change this. By writing to the one man who can change it: The President of North Vietnam. Ask him to release the names of prisoners, allow them to write to their families, and let the Red Cross inspect the prisons to insure proper medical treatment and living conditions. Remind him that he is bound by the 1949 Geneva Convention which his country signed. And by the Istanbul resolution. North Vietnamese leaders do care about American public opinion. And if they think they can gain something by bowing to it, they will. But one letter won't do it. Or a thousand. Maybe it will take millions. So we've got to write now. All of us. And often. Write a letter tonight. And send it to: Office of the President, Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, North Vietnam. It'll cost you a quarter. But it might save a life. THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

Maybe they'll open it.

The Ward 1 Contest

This year residents in Ward 1 have two articulate, responsible and dedicated persons seeking the Republican nomination for Common Council - Mrs. Naomi B. Faison, a local Realtor and a member of the Planning Board, and Marshall S. Lachner, a local businessman also with excellent credentials. To many in Ward 1, the choice will be a difficult one since both have conducted dignified high level if not low key campaigns.

Both candidates, in our estimation, deserve the job, but as has been the practice for the 81 years the Herald has been in business, a personal stand must be taken.

Insofar as Mrs. Faison is concerned, we believe she has a grasp of the inner workings of city government as a member of the Planning Board for over a year. In her capacity as a member, she has worked closely with the Mayor, the City Engineer, a member of Common Council and with five other civic-minded residents chosen because of their ability in city planning.

Mr. Lachner, on the other hand, also has many credits. As chairman of the Concerned Citizens for Summit Police, he not only helped to gain a raise for the Police Department two years ago, but after due Council deliberation, helped in gaining raises for other members of the paid municipal family. For this, we are grateful. Also, Mr. Lachner has had massive experience in the world of business as president of several major firms.

However, as to a choice, we give Mrs. Faison our support.

Two years ago, Mrs. Faison ran as an "anti-Council" candidate. We trust she has not lost her zeal as far as independence is concerned. We know she still is her own "man", and if elected, will show the independence she demonstrated two years ago. At that time, she said in the May 23, 1968 edition of the Summit Herald that residents in Ward 1 "never hear from their Councilmen", that contact with Common Council "is remote", and that in many cases residents "conveyed a feeling of vagueness as to the workings" of Council. We assume her fervor remains the same after two years and that she will take it upon herself to dispel this so-called vagueness, and that she will establish direct contact.

Therefore, she merits our support. However the election turns out on Tuesday, we are certain that voters in Ward 1, or for that matter, the entire city, will not lose, since both candidates are qualified, dedicated and eager to serve their town.

Although there are no contests in Ward 2, we would hope that Mrs. Alan T. English, Democratic candidate for Council, and Watson B. Smith, jr., Republican candidate, will receive strong mandates from their respective parties.

We would also hope that Republicans cast their primary votes for Nelson G. Gross as candidate for United States Senator, and Democrats for Sen. Harrison A. Williams of Westfield for that party's nominee.

We also urge the Republicans provide support for unopposed GOP incumbent Freeholder candidates Jerome Epstein, Arthur C. Manner of Berkeley Heights and Arthur Tracy. The Democratic Freeholder choices are so numerous that we decline to cite any favorites in the Primary Election.

What is really important, however, is to vote on Tuesday, June 2, for your party's choice. Endorsements are immaterial if the voter neglects his duty.

Not a Solution

Senator Proxmire's proposal that a manufacturer's tax be imposed on all items which will require ultimate disposal, thereby to pay the costs of that disposal, will just become another tax burden if it ever is enacted.

It does nothing to serve the crux of the waste problem, which is to find suitable sites to place the collections of waste whether it be a few paper bags or a discarded automobile.

Senator Proxmire would levy 1 cent per pound on all disposals. This tax would go into a fund to pay for trash collection. There the matter ends. At no time is there mention of final disposition.

Every community is faced with a waste problem and many, like Summit, are finding a solution either difficult or short-termed. There is no problem in collecting garbage and trash. The problem comes in finding a place where this waste may be discarded.

The Senator's plan closes its eyes to the basic solution. Unless that phase is settled, the tax would become just another tax which would finance some good government jobs but accomplish little toward eliminating a vexing situation.

If the Senator were to propose this fund, for instance, to melt down junk cans and store them away in an abandoned mine, or do the same with paper, glass, or other solid wastes, we might see some benefit. In essence this after all would be a restoring to the earth of elements originally taken from it.

As usual, there is a good side to this proposed tax. If manufacturers are involved in a tax procedure that involves what ultimately become public funds, they may bestir themselves to find ways of overcoming solid waste.

But not even this supports a satisfactory thought. It may be possible to produce bottles that disintegrate after a year or so. But what is to be done with an automobile? No one wants a car that will disintegrate. A collision may cause a disintegration of some parts, but the solid waste still remains.

(Success - Hillsboro (Ore.) Argus)

Practically every person, whether man or woman, boy or girl, regardless of age and circumstances, hopes and intends to make a success of life.

Stated in general terms, this ambition is common to all of us. It is only when we attempt to define the meaning of "success" that differences of opinion develop. It might be a good idea for the individual to stop long enough to ponder the question and answer it.

The individual, in his or her zeal to be successful, often accepts a popular definition of the term and thereby loses sight of the real goal. One's success is not to be measured by the wealth accumulated, the wordly honors received, or the fickle acclamation of so-called public opinion.

We suggest that the individual reader analyze his or her conception of success. It should be obvious, we think, that one can be successful only when life is in harmony with our inner convictions. Yet, if your principles are wrong, life will be imperfect.

We challenge young people to outline definite principles which are considered acceptable guides. As a start, one might try to discover a definite principle upon which to base one's daily activity and to which one is willing to be loyal under all circumstances. This might sound easy, but test it for yourself.

The ways of mankind demonstrate very clearly that it does not take much hokum to elate the vanity of most people.

The Port Authority

More Audits Urged

by State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo
When the New Jersey Legislature reconvenes on June 8, I intend to bring up an important piece of legislation that I laid over two weeks ago when it fell short of attracting sufficient support.

The measure, S-144, would simply have required an audit of the books of the Port of New York Authority at least once every five years. Under present law the financial arms of the New Jersey and New York state governments are merely "authorized and empowered" to make such an audit.

I was frankly disturbed and disappointed that my colleagues did not concur with the compelling reasons for this legislation.

As things stand now, the Port of New York Authority is one of the great "untouchables." The courts, unfortunately, have held that it is not answerable to a committee of the United States Congress. Failure to adopt legislation requiring mandatory audits by the states that created the Authority for the past several years. I have found them to be masterpieces of obfuscation and ambiguity and singularly uninformative.

The opponents of my bill maintain that there is no need for such legislation because the authority to perform audits already exists. However, the value of a post-audit is reduced if such an examination is carried out infrequently or irregularly. Continuity may be lost. Improper actions are difficult to rectify, and improper procedures may become institutionalized if post-audits are too few and far between. Therefore, a post-audit to be of value should be carried out on a regular basis and without too long a period between such audits.

Furthermore, the curious fact of the matter is that there has been only one public study of the Port Authority's books in 50 years. That took place in 1967, when New York State Comptroller Arthur Levitt conducted an audit of Port Authority operations up until that year. One of his findings—that the Holland Tunnel was apparently arbitrarily assigned a debt service charge of $3.3 million although that facility's most recent bond issue was supposed to have been retired more than a decade ago—certainly points up the need for regular audits.

There were other examples of curious financial findings: Although the George Washington Bridge took in $22.8 million in 1967, the Port Authority claimed only $10.3 million in profits after deducting $12.5 million for debt service. The Authority showed a loss of $12 million in the operation of PATH. Strangely, or not so strangely, this figure is 10 percent of the PA's general reserve fund. And 10 percent just happens to be

Leaf Burning

In recent weeks suggestions have been made that open burning by private individuals of garden debris and leaves should be prohibited. The most recent letter was received at the last Council meeting signed by Doctors Ackerman, Diefendorf, Nestler, Partenheimer and Specht stating that they "feel that leaf burning is a public health problem which deserves the attention of our local government and urge the Common Council to seriously consider an anti-leaf burning ordinance".

Last year the city incinerator was closed down by the order of the State Board of Health to avoid violations of the State Air Pollution Code. The extent to which this facility was used was evidenced by the enormous amount of debris, rubbish, and material of every sort and description that was picked up by city trucks during the Clean-Up week which has just ended. This year over 3,000 cubic yards of various household rubbish was collected which is equal to 600 truck loads, as compared to 2,100 cubic yards last year or about 450 truck loads. It is believed that the closing of the incinerator and the city disposal grounds was responsible to some extent for these additional 1,500 truck loads collected by city personnel. It is estimated that this extra work and material will cost the city taxpayers about $5,000 over and beyond what was expended in 1969.

While the State Board of Health closed down the incinerator and the unrestricted use of the disposal grounds, the city was still permitted to use part of the area for the disposal by residents and gardeners of leaves and garden debris. No burning, however, was permitted.

The State Air Pollution Code contains the following regulation:

"Open burning of plant life grown on the premises is not intended to be covered by this Code."

Therefore, although the State Board of Health can control and prohibit burning by the municipality, industries and businesses having incinerators, it cannot regulate a private resident burning leaves or garden debris on his own property.

The local Board of Health recognized that open burning by residents of our city could be a health problem and at the meeting of May 11 took official action "requesting the Common Council to give every possible consideration to an anti leaf burning ordinance".

The Council had, prior to the receiving of the Board of Health's recommendation and the suggestion from the doctors requested that the City Solicitor review the State Code and the present City Ordinance, which allowed burning if a permit were obtained from the Fire Department, to determine if the city could adopt regulations prohibiting burning by individual property owners.

Upon review it was determined that other municipalities had legally prohibited such burning and had made provision for the disposal of leaves and garden debris in some other manner. The suggested revision of our present ordinance was referred to the Public Safety and Public Welfare Committee for study and report. It is anticipated that this report will be received by the Common Council in the very near future and action will be taken before the advent of the fall leaf burning season.

It is interesting to note that the Council also has before it at this time a proposal to have an all year round leaf collection program rather than offer this service just during the fall months. It has been estimated that such a program would cost the taxpayers about $35,000 annually or over 3 tax points. The extra cost for 1971 should such a program be started would be due to the extra help or extra hours, additional equipment required, and to the weight of

Agrees With Editorial
Editor, Summit Herald:

I agree with your editorial, "Why a Public Hearing?" (The Summit Herald May 21). And I too wonder why a public hearing was held on the ordinance to provide $13,500 to pay architect's fees for the proposed swimming pool. Council was willing to hear anyone wanting to speak, but I doubt that Council was listening to everyone.

Cites Issues
Editor, Summit Herald:

Your lead editorial in the May 21 edition has earned the sincere respect of every civic minded citizen in Summit. Failure to recognize its forthright honesty and courage would be an unforgivable dereliction.

It's ironic that the same edition should carry a letter by the chairman of the screening committee of the Summit Republican City Committee which clearly displays his complete unawareness of the prevalent situation. The assertion, in his closing paragraph, contending that no "issues" exist, would be ludicrous if it were not such a pathetic misconception.

Marshal Lachner has taken an unequivocal posture on priority issues such as garbage disposal, water pollution, drug abuse, Master-plan implementation, swimming pool location down-town parking problems and municipal taxes. If these are non-existent issues to which the chairman alludes, I would welcome the opportunity to debate them at a time and place of his choosing.

I wonder when

City officials will start enforcing the new law prohibiting homeowners from blocking intersections with overhanging bushes and branches.

Now that spring is in full swing, trying to get through some of these intersections in a automobile takes all the will and daring of a driver at the Indianapolis 500.

Certain areas in the city come specifically to mind. But, it would be unkind to be specific, especially since police patrol cars use the same intersections and police officers certainly know where the danger spots exist.

Let's get out and enforce the law. Otherwise there's no point to the law.

Certainly, the states which established the Authority have a right to know which facility is making money and which is not, so that we can determine whether the public is being overcharged for use of certain facilities. Those publicly held corporations that have been reluctant to disclose division-by-division earning figures have come under severe criticism, both from the government and the accounting profession. Certainly a government-created corporation engaged in a non-competitive enterprise should have no justification for limiting disclosure.

the limit that can be expended for mass transit under legislation adopted by New York and New Jersey at the Port Authority's behest in 1962.

Comptroller Levitt's 1967 audit noted rather pointedly that the Authority's report to the public and the state legislatures fails to break down the facility-by-facility profitability of each Port Authority operation. Certainly, the states which established the Authority have a right to know which facility is making money and which is not, so that we can determine whether the public is being overcharged for use of certain facilities. Those publicly held corporations that have been reluctant to disclose division-by-division earning figures have come under severe criticism, both from the government and the accounting profession. Certainly a government-created corporation engaged in a non-competitive enterprise should have no justification for limiting disclosure.

Comptroller Levitt's audit turned up a number of areas in which the Port Authority's reports could be more specific and more informative. Although most of these matters were highly technical in nature, the inference that must be drawn from his excellent report is that the public is entitled to know more than the Port Authority permits us to know about its operations.

Adoption of my bill, S-144, would be an important first step in the direction of full disclosure, and I can see no honest justification for opposing its enactment into law.

Backs Lachner
Editor, Summit Herald:
Summit needs Marshall Lachner! Events of the last few weeks have conclusively demonstrated that we need a new and independent voice on the City Council. A man who will make a critical analysis of a situation, arrive at a decision based upon the facts, and with the courage to hold to his position.

The recent action of the Common Council in squandering $13,500 of the taxpayers' money on studies for a swimming pool is an example of why we need new leadership. Every unbiased study has shown that the pool is not wanted by the great majority of Summit residents. It will be located in one of the most inaccessible and difficult places to police. Further it is committing ecological mayhem by destroying the last eight acres of woods in Summit. This leads one to wonder what else influenced the Council since the decision obviously was not based upon reason.

It is in this and similar actions of late which show that the time has come when we must have a man on the Council who can make unemotional, undictated and business like decisions about our future needs and priorities. With his proven business ability, his independence from local political control and his willingness and ability to devote several hours a day to the task, it should be readily apparent to all concerned citizens of Summit and particularly those in Ward 1, that Marshall Lachner is the man for the council.

Suggestions Offered
Editor, The Summit Herald:
What can we in Summit do to improve our environment? Here are some suggestions:

1. Use detergents low on phosphates and no enzymes.
2. Fertilize lawns moderately—run-off after rain pollutes streams and the water table and reduces oxygen level. Do not use fertilizers with arsenate (arsenic).
3. Write your local and state officials about evidence of pollution in your area.
4. Don't leave your car engine running when waiting; keep motor tuned for efficient combustion. Gasoline powered tools such as snow blowers and lawn mowers should be kept in top condition.
5. Don't burn leaves—have them carted away or make compost heaps.
6. Voice your support for high speed ground mass transit systems.
7. When you save paper and string you save trees; junk mail makes good scrap paper.
8. Do not use long-lived pesticides (chlorinated hydrocarbons) such as DDT, dieldrin, aldrin, heptachlor, chlordane or lindane.
9. Use short lived pesticides such as malathion and rotenone. Read labels of new products to be certain they do not contain hard pesticides.
10. Encourage the planting of trees. They reduce noise, absorb carbon dioxide, product oxygen, screen dust and provide habitat for wildlife.
11. Push for compulsory conservation education in the public schools.
12. Support municipal open space and urge a local conservation commission.

So stifle the inner voice which says, "this little bit won't hurt." Multiply it by 200 million and conserve.

Write for Peace

Editor, Summit Herald:
I am writing to you on behalf of the antiwar movement at Cazenovia College. During this week of the discontinuation of "Business as Usual," hundreds of similar letters are being written by students to their home countries, both here and at other campuses across the nation. This is an effort to inform everyone of the degree of concern now being expressed about our country's involvement in Indo China without having to rely on campus violence as the only effective means of insuring that these facts are reported.

The nationwide strike received immediate recognition from the major news media. However, it was rather disconcerting when the first question asked by the major TV networks was if there had been any violence as yet. By giving coverage priority to violent demonstrations, they are ignoring any constructive accomplishments that take place, and are also showing minority voices all over this country that violence is a sure-fire method for making oneself heard.

Of course this is wrong. Violence cannot be used to publicize antiwar sentiment any more that war can be used to obtain peace. So we are side-stepping the headlines and sending word directly to you.

Though we are certain that Mr. Nixon believes he is taking the best course of action, we cannot agree with him. The simple fact that violence eventually begets only more violence is a lesson that hasn't been learned by man through countless wars and it is being proven in Cambodia today, with the renewed prospects of Chinese involvement during Mr. Nixon's "Trial Period" in that country.

The decision for everyone to teach the administration this lesson must be made now before we have unwillingly fathered another commitment. As Mr. Nixon has said, the morality of a war cannot be debated once it is in full swing. This more than emphasizes the urgency of the present situation.

Although Vietnam and now Cambodia have been a political nightmare for the U.S., they are something more permanent and much worse for the families of those who have died there.

As Americans with a conscience, we can no longer tolerate this insanity.

To prevent the number of these families from growing, everyone (not just college students) must act immediately. A massive letter writing campaign is already underway at several colleges. You are urged to write the president and your congressmen as part of this campaign. If we all act now, it might save us all from becoming personally involved in a much greater war in the near future.

People Are Wonderful
Editor, Summit Herald:

In the past few months with all the trouble in our nation and abroad (Vietnam, college students, riots, strikes, drugs, crime) you can begin to lose faith in people, but a near disaster proves otherwise.

Last Monday night our home caught on fire. Our children ran next door to our neighbors and they called the Summit Fire Department. In a few minutes they were here. The police had the road blocked off, everything was done like clockwork.

Our home was badly damaged but saved, as were all our children and all the pets: two cats, three kittens, one hamster and one skunk.

We wish to thank our neighbors for their cool heads and help, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Poole, the Summit Fire Department and the Summit Police Department and also our Summit Chapter of the Red Cross who saw to it we had a place to sleep that night. People are wonderful. God bless them all.

Offers Solutions

Editor, Summit Herald:

The Chairman of the "Screening Committee for the Summit Republican Party" has still failed to come forth with the names of the people on the ad hoc committee.

As to the selection of his candidates, I can only reply that a few years back, after our successful attempt to support a Police Department raise, it was well known that I was available and willing to run for public office. Since that time I have not heard from anyone on any committee to find out if I was still interested. It has also been brought to our attention that the Committee had not approached other eminently qualified candidates.

I have, however, on a number of occasions been asked to support other Republicans seeking election, and I have willingly done so. In the decision to run for Council, I came to my own conclusion, in my own way, and free of any commitments.

As to the Screening Committee Chairman's comment that we are making "frantic efforts to find issues were none exists", I think it is wholly unrealistic to assume that any community today is without its problems and issues. It was interesting to note that in the May 21 issue of the Summit Herald, the Committee's candidate has now come out, after five weeks of campaigning, and finally agreed with us that Summit does have its serious problems. As a matter of fact, their candidate, for the first time last week, admitted such problems — "garbage disposal, traffic, transportation, conservation, ratables, etc." — which we have been bringing to public attention for the past five weeks.

We are not seeking issues — we are offering solutions. We feel we can bring to the citizens of Summit a more creative and responsible leadership.

Urges Positive Thinking

Editor, Summit Herald:

On May 19, Common Council held a public hearing on the ordinance appropriating $13,500 for the drawing of the plans for the proposed municipal pool.

Common Council and the Board of Recreation are to be commended for the foresight in passing and recommending the ordinance, respectively.

However, I was struck by the negative and regressive tone displayed by most of the residents present against the pool project. The predominant theme was one of gloom and fear: gloom over added financial expenditures in times of "recession reminiscent of 1929"; fear of vandalism and safety related to the location of the pool.

It is at difficult times in our history, such as we are now experiencing, that the "American way" should prevail: optimism, enthusiasm, vision for the future, social betterment for our citizens understanding and tolerance of our differences, and united effort to overcome negativism, self-interest and racism.

I think all concerned citizens, including our youth, can effectively channel their efforts, frustrations and protests, into constructive action on a local level. Attend open Common Council meetings, open Board of Education, Recreation, Housing and Substandard Housing Authority meetings and find out what goes on. Get an ear and eye of the mood of your fellow citizens and discover how much you can do to implement progressive and beneficial projects for our city and its people.

Let's keep up the support for the Municipal Pool which is so necessary for rounding out Summit's recreational facilities.

Need to be Counted

Editor, Summit Herald:

I am a resident of Summit and an undergraduate at Harvard College. A couple of weeks ago I went down to Washington with a large group of Harvard students to lobby for peace and withdrawal for Southeast Asia. I am writing this letter to report on a small part of that trip to Washington; and I hope you will print it, for the benefit of voters in the Summit area.

I was one of a group from Florence Dwyer's district. We spoke with Mrs. Dwyer for about an hour. We disliked some of the things she said and she disliked some of the things we said. We were frustrated by the political instinct for evasion. However, she did make some statements.

Mrs. Dwyer agreed with us that the voting age should be lowered to 18. She said the Tonkin resolution was "the worst thing we ever did." She would not advocate a specific policy for ending the war. She said she would stand by Nixon's commitment to get us out of there, and repeated many times that she didn't know all the answers and she didn't know all the facts. She did say that she wondered to whom Nixon was listening. She could not see how it was possible to justify sitting around a peace table in Paris while men were shooting each other in Vietnam.

Some of the students in the group advocated immediate and complete withdrawal from Southeast Asia. Mrs. Dwyer objected on the grounds that it might jeopardize the safety of our troops there, and also the safety of prisoners of war. I don't think many of us had thought about the plight of prisoners of war.

At the end of the hour, the question was asked: if we could pull out in order, would you?—even if you knew that North Vietnam

You can speak Spanish by July 23rd

The trick is how we teach you. On May 18th, when the course starts, you start right in with simple words. El almuerzo. (Lunch.) Más vino. (More wine.)

After the first lesson, you're speaking easy sentences. Useful stuff, like ¿Quién es esa señorita? (Who is that young lady?)

And by the time the course ends, on July 23rd, you'll know enough Spanish to get around. ¡Camarero, esta cuenta es increíble! (Waiter, this check is outrageous!)

At this point, we feel it's only fair to warn you that not more than 10 people can take each Spanish course at Berlitz. (The cost is $145.) The same goes for our other language courses, which start the same week. So maybe you should call us en seguida. Or in other words, right now.

FASHION MODEL—Miss Alice L. Green of 25 Tanglewood drive, is pictured as she modeled in the recent fashion show at Mount Ida Junior College, Newton, Mass. Miss Green will graduate next week from Mount Ida where she has been majoring in the executive secretarial program of study. She is a graduate of Summit High School.

Local Student to Study In Lima, Peru Under AFS

Betsy Garlen, Summit High junior, will spend the summer in Lima, Peru, with the AFS Americans Abroad program. Since Lima is 12 degrees south of the equator it will be winter there, and she will spend part of the time in school. However, the tropical winter won't be much cooler than New Jersey's summer.

Miss Garlen will live at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cesar Lanegra. There is one 17 year old girl, Cecilia, who will be Betsy's Peruvian sister. There is also an older brother living at home, and one who is married.

Betsy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Garlen of 10 Karen Way. She has not previously spent time abroad, but hopes that her two years of high school Spanish will be enough to help her get started.

The Americans Abroad program is sponsored by AFS, the American Field Service organization which sends two foreign students to Summit High School each year. This non-profit, non-sectarian organization

Each year some 3,000 students from 61 countries attend American high schools, and about 1400 Americans go to 44 countries for either the summer or a full school year. In the last 23 years over 50,000 students from 79 countries have participated in AFS scholarship programs.

May Is Senior Citizen Month

Were you aware that May 1970 has been designated Senior Citizens Month? Just how many Golden Agers are there in the United States? The answer is twenty million.

What is happening this particular month to benefit senior citizens? According to the Information Office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, this May's planning will be a springboard to community forums on the problems of elderly people. It is hoped that forums will form all over the country. Ideas coming out of these meetings will be useful material for the 1971 White House Conference on Aging.

Recent Department of Agriculture booklets were prepared to highlight the special needs of senior citizens. One is "Food Guide for Older Folks", which contains information on how to solve special diet problems. This will enable senior citizens on diets to plan nourishing meals.

Another pamphlet has to do with housing for the Golden Age Group. Specifically, it has to do with housing for people who live in rural areas or in towns of less than 5,500. If you are in this group, you are eligible for a housing loan. For further information, write for "Rental and Co-op Housing in Rural Areas", c/o Farmers Home Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250.

How do the aging fare healthwise? Many abuses seem to have crept into our care for the elderly. According to a recent TV program, nursing homes are now an industry in the U.S., and a big one. Some testimony given to Senator Muskie's National Committee on the Health of the Aging, reveals that care is deteriorating. We all know why. Drugs, hospitals, nursing homes, and physicians fees are all increasing in cost. In 1969, over 9 million was spent in the care of the elderly. Half of this amount came from public funds. Assertions have been made that there are unscrupulous physicians who overcharge patients on medicare, to say nothing of institutes and drug concerns.

It is heartening, therefore, to realize there is a Senate Committee on Aging, of which Senator Harrison A. Williams is chairman, for health, housing and food are only the major concerns of our government for the aging. In cities there are other problems, such as how to shop wisely and how long to drive a car. In the latter category, for instance, the driving record of persons over 65 is good. They account for only 5% of the nations accidents, although they are over 8% of the nations drivers.

What are the shopping prospects for the Golden Agers? The Office on Aging in Bergen County publishes a Newsletter called "Golden Gleams" which tries to include lists of places where senior citizens may buy at a discount, or banks which drop service charges.

Miss Morse, Mrs. Pannone, a resident who lives in the Roosevelt School district said: "What you've said about Roosevelt School is unfair. I think you've maligned the entire neighborhood. There are a great many people of intelligence there and the entire neighborhood is not a slum as you describe it."

In continuing the discourse, Mr. Prunty cited that there were few black teachers, no Puerto Rican teachers and no black guidance counselors.

"Black children and Puerto Rican children are still entering a hostile system" he said.

Mrs. Henry Dearborn asked the Board if it had made any special effort to recruit black teachers, such as mentioning the desire to have them in recruiting pamphlets as other suburban communities have done.

Dr. Salisbury said no such effort was being made at this time.

The Voice of Summit High

Editor-BRUCE HILLENBRAND
Assistant Editor-BARBARA STAFFORD
Faculty Advisor-MR. FRED MOORE

An Editorial

During two weeks in May, a quandary as to what to do in reference to the Cambodian issue and the Kent State tragedy was felt in Summit High School. On Tuesday, May 5, in the face of a threatened student walkout protesting the Cambodian policy of President Nixon, student and faculty leaders hastily organized a bipartisan panel assembly. The result: a general disagreement of opinions among the student body and the decision to hold a referendum the next day.

When the referendum was over, it was found that 259 students supported the President's Cambodian Policy and 563 did not, 396 students felt that a unified school expression against the policy was called for and 416 did not, and 154 students favored a unified school expression in support of the President's policy and 673 did not. In other words, 68% of the students polled were against President Nixon's move into Cambodia, but a slight majority of the students polled were against any unified action either in support of or in opposition to the policy.

The next day, a resolution was passed by the Student Council deploring the President's action and calling for "decisive action" to terminate our military involvement in South East Asia. However, this resolution was quickly rescinded because of a lack of time to consult constituents and an indecisiveness shown in the referendum. This last point was especially relevant in that only approximately 2/3 of the student body took part in the referendum.

On Friday of that week, students were given time in English class to write to the President and the Congress to express their personal views. Also, for some students Friday was "Quiet Day" to mourn for students killed at Kent State and/or to protest the Cambodian action.

The following Friday, May 18, the Student Council reached a final decision and resolution calling for the support of the McGovern-Hatfield resolution that would cut off all military funds for American troops or advisors remaining in Southeast Asia after July 1, 1971. The reasons cited for this support were the adverse affect of the war on the nation's economy, the social unrest that the war had created, and the fact that so much had been committed to the war although it had never been constitutionally declared.

A recommendation to boycott Coca Cola and Phillip Morris because of their large lobbies in Congress was also passed.

This final resolution was one of six discussed. Out of the six, not one offered the alternative of supporting the President; the closest was a motion that there be no resolution at all. The final decision was not the result of a direct referendum to the student body, but rested on the vote of representatives of the council. Whereas in the original referendum student opinion could be directly expressed—including the majority vote that no action should be taken at all—by working through the representatives, no similar opinion could be properly gauged. The constituency could have been closely divided in each case, indicating widespread dissension, yet if one side had a slight majority in a majority of the classes, the true division of opinion in the school would not have been shown.

In such an issue where each student must make up his own mind, it is the views of the student body, and not of the Student Council, that are important. It is extremely unfortunate that the true views of the students of Summit High School will never be known. Questions concerning the President's move into Cambodia and the deaths at Kent State must be resolved by each student personally and not by the political activism and coercion of others showing pictures of Kent State students lying dead or handing out liberal editorials from The New York Times. The student body was used by those students who were so anxious for a unified expression in opposition to the war. At the end of two weeks, it was not "Cambodia" but the total military involvement in Southeast Asia that was deplored, a significant shift in the scope of the resolution!

The question that we pose is this: Why was a referendum not used in determining the students' views? Admittedly, the original referendum could not be used because it represented only 2/3 of the student body, but with such obvious split among the students, and with the majority of those polled against any unified action, the circumstances merited another try at such a referendum. We believe the answer is that the Student Council saw an opportunity to exercise a little power and they took it. Also, because a number of the students against the President's policy are members of the council, they may have felt that their cause had a better chance if decided by the council. At the final meeting, we heard one such member ask the others to be free agents and not to vote according to their constituency if they felt otherwise. Fortunately, this member was quickly reminded of the responsibility others had to their votes.

Summit High students have now made a unified expression of opposition to the United States' military involvement in Southeast Asia, as represented by their representatives' majority vote in the Student Council. Is the student body that unified?

Russian Now Available At Summit High School

Russian, although it is one of the least known classes in the school, is one of most interesting language courses offered. There are presently nine students in level one, five in level two, and one in level three. Because of the small class size, the classes are always interesting, and progress in the language is made rapidly, especially in conversation.

The Russian courses, which were initiated a few years ago during Mr. Gast's administration, are taught by Mrs. Marina Summers, a native speaker of Russian.

A Dream Come True

A. Madrid
On April 18, a dream came true for approximately twenty members of the Summit High student body and faculty; the dream was a week's vacation in Madrid. That evening, they flew by chartered jet to the Spanish capitol, after weeks of preparation and anticipation, amid a flurry of passports, health certificates, suitcases, travel bags, and assorted other essentials to the preservation of the American way of life. Although most of the flight was made in darkness, the rising sun greeted the travelers with their first view of the Iberian coast.

However, there is some speculation as to whether Russian will be continued next year. You can be sure that all the students in level one, and the juniors in level two will be sorely disappointed if it is dropped. of the most interesting language courses offered. There are presently nine students in level one, five in level two, and one in level three. Because of the small class size, the classes are always interesting, and progress in the language is made rapidly, especially in conversation.

On Sunday in Madrid, the people have three major diversions after going to church. The first is the Rastro, a flea market, the second is "la corrida", the bullfights, and the third is "futbol," or soccer matches. After landing at Barajas Airport, the group checked into their hotel which, as luck would have it, was directly across from the Rastro. After taking a few minutes to unpack and change, the more courageous spent the next couple of hours browsing, haggling, and, if they were girls, getting pinched (the Spanish men were very appreciative of the length of some of the girls' skirts), and they triumphantly returned with their bargains, which included guitars, pelts, and an old Victorian coat, to then proceed to the bullfights. Ole.

During the next six days the travelers explored Madrid and visited many historical spots outside the city. One day was spent on an official tour of the city, with visits to the Royal Palace and the Prado Museum. At the Prado, selected works of Spain's three greatest classical painters, Velazquez, El Greco, and Goya, were viewed and discussed in relation to patterns and transitional changes in the painter's style. Among the great works seen were Valazquez' "Las Meninas," a painting that must be viewed in a mirror to fully appreciate the perfection of the perspectives involved, El Greco's "Hombre con Mano al Pecho," and Goya's two majas.

Other days were used in trips to Aranjuez, Toledo, El Escorial, El Valle de los Caidos, and Segovia; all towns surrounding Madrid. In Aranjuez, the group visited two summer palaces of the Spanish royalty, the Palacio Real the the Palacio de los Trabajadores. In Toledo, they saw the city's cathedral that required two centuries to build and is one of the three most important cathedrals in Spain, El Greco's house, and a small church where El Greco's most famous work is kept "El Entierro del Conde Orgaz." The following day, the group traveled north to visit Phillip II's monastery El Monasterio de San Lorenzo de El Escorial and also El Valle de los Caidos or the Valley of the Fallen, a gigantic cross and church built in memory of all those who died in the Spanish Civil War. The final day was spent on a trip to Alcazar, the castle of Isabella and Ferdinand, and a still-functional Roman aqueduct.

As the next Saturday dawned, everyone had to pack their suitcases in preparation for the trip home, and after many vows to return the group boarded the plan for home. The success of the trip could have been measured by this reluctance to leave such a beautiful and different country, or it could have been measured by the enthusiasm of all in telling family and friends about it. Certainly this trip to Madrid will be remembered for a long time.

B. Paris
During this spring vacation, twenty four students and three chaperones from the senior and junior high schools spent the week in Paris. The group left Summit On Sunday evening, April 19th, and returned the following Sunday evening. During their stay in Paris, the students took many tours in and around the city. Among the sites visited were the Louvre, Montmartre, the Jeu de Paume (an impressionist museum), the Cluny Museum, Sacre Coeur, Notre-Dame, Sainte-Chapelle, the arc de Triomphe, Fontainebleu, Versailles, and Barbizon (a small colony of artists a few miles from Fontainebleu). In the Louvre, such masterpieces as the "Winged Victory," the "Venus de Milo," and the "Mona Lisa" were on display. The Jeu de Paume was filled with the works of Degas, Manet, Monet, and Van Gogh. During the different evenings, groups saw La Boheme at the Opera Comique, the Folies Bergeres, and the Champs Elysees. One evening was spent at a small caveau-a-cafe where old songs are sung that are called Les Oubliettes. It was located in the catacombs of an old church in the Quartier Latin. The name means "the forgotten ones" for it was a place where prisoners were kept many centuries ago. Chiseled into one wall were the words, "Je seroi pendu, 1140" or translated meaning "I will be hung 1140." Les Invalides was another point of interest. It is the monument where Napoleon lies buried with his brother and infant son. One of the four small chapels was recently opened (it is the only one remaining empty), and there has been a good deal of speculation that De Gaulle may be buried there.

The trip was an enjoyable experience for all who participated.

Seniors Will Not Have Exams

During this past month a committee of both students and faculty met with Mr. Gast to make a final decision concerning the final examinations. These exams for each subject were to be held during morning or afternoon sessions on June 9-11. Each examination was to count 1/5 of a students grade for the given subject.

It was the opinion of the committee that Seniors should not have to take final exams. One of the chief reasons for this decision was the fact that Seniors had already made future plans which only required these students to pass the last semester and not necessarily do well. Since the final exam was designed to measure how well the student accumulated knowledge on the subject it was of little value to Seniors.

During June 9-11 Sophomores and Juniors will take their examinations as usual while Seniors will use part of this time for the practice of commencement exercises.

Spring Concert Success

The Music Department of Summit High School presented its annual Spring Concert on the 3rd of May in the high school auditorium. The program included the performances of six musical organizations.

The String Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Daniel Kautzman, opened the program with the first movement of Boccherini's "Symphony in B Flat." They followed this piece with "sinfonietta for String Orchestra," written by Washburn.

would take over South Vietnam and all of Indochina? Mrs. Dwyer said: yes; we have no business being there.

For those of us sitting around her office—and many of us were under 21 and therefore not able to vote—Mrs. Dwyer told us that if we wanted to apply the pressure we should begin by talking to our parents. I am ashamed to say that many faces fell at Mrs. Dwyer's suggestion. Students muttered that they couldn't talk to their parents.

But people have got to start talking to each other. Political discussion need not be uncivilized. Parties, bridge clubs, worship services are all gatherings at which the subject can and should be brought up. Now more than ever, he who is not for us is against us. Anyone who does not stand up and declare himself will be counted anyway—counted as one of Mr. Nixon's "silent majority". As Senator McCarthy pointed out to us the morning we arrived in Washington, the concept of a silent majority is something new in democracy. And so is the idea of a 51% majority.

Compelled to Write
Editor, Summit Herald:

After reading several recent letters to the editor, I felt compelled to set some thoughts down on paper.

Several of your readers were incensed at President Nixon's use of the term "bums" to describe certain groups in our college population. I don't understand their sensitivity to his choice of terms as no one should feel this reference applied to their children unless it was deserved. You will recall the old adage, "if the shoe fits, put it on." In my opinion, Mr. Nixon made it abundantly clear that he was referring only to those college students who have demonstrated a complete lack of respect for the individual, for public and private property and for our Nation. Is there a more appropriate term for students who cut the hoses of firemen, throw rocks at people in authority, destroy notes of a person who has spent ten years on a research project and use language to people in authority which is not only unoriginal, but straight from the gutter?

Another letter printed in your paper expressed concern about "repression" of those who resort to "legitimate" dissension. From the tone of the letter, "legitimate" dissension appears to include throwing stones at the National Guard, burning ROTC and other buildings, taking pot-shots at police, etc. Are these actions justifiable in the name of "freedom"?

I had intended to avoid mentioning Cambodia, but this is clearly part of the picture and cannot be overlooked. It is impressive to note the vast numbers of "experts" in the colleges on the subject of military science and the overall implementation of military strategy. I don't suppose this is too surprising, however, since that same group appear to be "experts" on how to run business, how to run the government, how to solve the urban crisis, etc. Perhaps this just confirms the saying that "a little knowledge is worse than no knowledge at all."

How can anyone realistically evaluate at this time Mr. Nixon's decision to move into Cambodia. If by making this move (which required great courage on his part) we are able to get our troops out of Vietnam at an earlier date than would otherwise be possible, we should congratulate him on making the right decision. On the other hand, if this move escalates the war, it would appear to have been the wrong decision. Only time will tell.

I have great faith in this country and in the majority of our college students. From what I have seen and heard, most college students have their feet on the ground and are making an honest effort to understand the complex problems of a complex society. They want to offer constructive criticism and solutions to these problems. At last we are seeing indications that this group is beginning to take steps to either isolate or rid the colleges of the "lunatic fringe".

Questions War
Editor, Summit Herald:

As a member of the Summit Chapter of the John Birch Society, I would like to ask a few questions about the war in Vietnam.

Since Mr. Nixon has told us our purpose in being in Vietnam is not to defeat the communists, why then are we there? Mr. Nixon tells us we are there to stop communist aggression. If that is actually true, why does U.S. foreign policy help communists everywhere else in the world, while pretending to fight them in Asia?

Since North Vietnam could not possibly withstand U.S. military might all by itself, it depends on Communist Russia and her Communist satellites to provide massive aid to uphold their side of the war. And, of course, Russia couldn't help North Vietnam without massive injections of American aid (credits) and trade. (Remember — Russia still can hardly feed itself, so how could it provide needed aid to North Vietnam, unless Uncle Sap comes to the rescue with more American aid to the Communists, as usual).

The question: if we are in Vietnam to fight Communists, why help them everywhere else?

If we are really intent on preventing communist takeovers, why does U.S. policy actually protect Communist Cuba from anti-communist attack? Why do we have to go 4,000 miles away to fight Communists? Why don't we start with Cuba?

If one big objective in the Cambodian war is to capture enemy supplies, why do we have to go into Cambodia to do it? Why not start with Haiphong harbor and place a few mines? Why expand the war to capture enemy supplies, while at the same time assuring the enemy we would not interrupt their vital supply depot at Haiphong? Why is U.S. policy so concerned about enemy supplies? Remember, it has been U.S. policy for decades to supply and support the Communists in Russian at every turn.

Why send Americans to die in Cambodia to capture enemy supplies, while at the same time send American supplies to Communists every where else in the world?

Mr. Nixon says he is concerned about the buildup of enemy supplies. This is the same Mr. Nixon who is now officially promoting shipments of jet engines, missile parts, deisel engines, radar equipment, rocket fuel materia, computers, etc. to the Communist enemy in Russia (and her satellites). It looks like U.S. policy is to fight them and to help them at the same time.

If we are in Vietnam to fight Communists, why does U.S. policy make absolutely sure Chiang's anti-community troops are actually prevented from helping us? Are they afraid Chiang might just go ahead and win?

Military people we have talked with (including some former chairmen of the Joint Chiefs of Staff) have told us the war could definitely be won — without the big bomb — in three to six weeks!

One conclusion can be reached concerning the freedoms that are being lost in America despite our democratic form of government. Today in Greece there is freedom to walk the streets day and night, freedom from radical demonstrations, freedom to obtain an uninterrupted education, freedom from dope addicts, freedom from obscenities and freedom from strikes that have a

The only ones to benefit from the war are the Communists, and the international gangsters above them made up of the highest echelons of banking, industry, and socialist planners) who are controlling both sides of war. That is what we call the Communist Conspiracy.

Reports on Greece
Editor, Summit Herald:

For the past three months I have been a voluntary advisor for a coffee and chocolate manufacturer in Athens, Greece. Upon my return on May 8, the first question put to me is — is it as bad in Greece as what we read in the newspapers? Since I had the opportunity to talk with many Greeks at different social levels and get their political and economic feelings towards their government, I find it necessary to express myself.

In America we have liberal newspapers with liberal writers and unfortunately they are widely read and have large circulations. I suspect that liberal writers obtain their information from other liberals. They exaggerate and do not tell the whole story. It is true that radicals and revolutionists, identified as liberals in the press, are imprisoned and in some cases confessions are obtained by methods considered brutal in America. The Greek press is controlled and while it is not expected to support the government it is not permitted to destroy it.

It is ironic that under the Greek dictatorship government, there are freedoms that are being lost in America despite our democratic form of government. Today in Greece there is freedom to walk the streets day and night, freedom from radical demonstrations, freedom to obtain an uninterrupted education, freedom from dope addicts, freedom from obscenities and freedom from strikes that have a direct effect on health and safety.

Nearly all Greeks object to a dictatorship. They want the right to elect their representatives. This is a matter of principle. They will also voluntarily tell you that the government is doing a good job and without graft or corruption. They well remember the attempted take-over in 1946 by the communists and the corruption in government prior to 1967. There is a great respect and love for Harry Truman and the Americans. They are more concerned with what is happening in America than in Greece.

The present government is doing an effective job to improved conditions and the standard of living in Greece.

The economy is approaching self sufficiency as exports are nearly in balance with imports. Industry is encouraged and subsidies are provided for moving factories to the poorer provinces. New schools are rapidly being built and as of now it is mandatory that all children complete the ninth grade. Slum areas are disappearing, beaches are cleaned up, new hotels are built and tourists are finding new accesses to Greek history. It is difficult to evaluate the status of employment, however, many jobs have been created by the government for the unskilled and less productive people to clean up the City of Athens. Private industry is required to employ these people regardless of their needs. While the wages are low, improvement is being made. Living costs are high, however, rent and food items are price controlled.

I was particularly impressed by the firm but friendly and apologetic manner of the police in administering the law with equitable consideration to all citizens. On March 21 the Greeks celebrated their 149th Independence Day. The police when passing in review received a tremendous ovation from the crowd. No booing or bombing of police headquarters here.

It was between 400 and 350 B.C. that the downfall of Greece began. Their independence was lost and not to be recovered until the Turks were driven out in 1821. Prior to 400 B.C. the philosopher Thucydides predicted that the radicals who were creating dissention would weaken Greece and cause its downfall. This is what he said: "To fit in with the change of events, words, too, had to change their usual meanings. What used to be described as a thoughtless act of aggression was not regarded as the courage one would expect to find in a party member; to think of the future and wait was merely another way of saying one was a coward; any idea of moderation was just an attempt to disguise one's unmanly character; ability to understand a question from all sides meant that one was totally unfitted for action. Fanatical enthusiasm was the mark of a real man, and to plot against an enemy behind his back was perfectly legitimate self-defense. Anyone who held violent opinions could always be trusted, and anyone who objected to them became a suspect. As a result of these revolutions, there was a general deterioration of character throughout the Greek world. The simple way of looking at things, which is so much the mark of a noble nature, was regarded as a ridiculous quality and soon ceased to exist. Society had become divided into two ideologically hostile camps, and each side viewed the other with suspicion. As for the ending this state of affairs, no guarantee could be given that would be trusted, no oath sworn that people would fear to break; everyone had come to the conclusion that it was hopeless to expect a permanent settlement and so, instead of being able to feel confident in others, they devoted their energies to providing against being injured themselves."

Comment on Film

by Jon Haut

"Anne of a Thousand Days" is a major disappointment to me. It is a serious and well made film about the divorce of King Henry of England and his remarriage to Anne Bolyn. The topic of the amorous life of English kings and their women (all of whom Kings and women seem almost entirely without reason) and the break with the church of Rome (a fantastically complicated topic in English History having a direct effect on our Bill of Rights) should be put away for awhile. Between "A Man for All Seasons", "Becket", and "A Lion in Winter" I have had quite enough.

The disappointment I especially felt in the case of "Anne of a Thousand Days" is the under-use the film makes of Genieve Bujold (she plays Anne). It is not that she is on screen too little (she has the controlling roll and almost constant screen time), but what she is asked to do. This lovely French Canadian actress who was so fresh and beautiful in "La Guerre Est Finie" and broad in range of talent displayed in "Isabel" is given little expression in her two dimensional character (youthful innocence, prideful manipulation) in "Anne of a Thousand Days", except purse her lips and pout.

Richard Burton (as Henry) is fine, but he must be growing awfully tired of the part.

John Huston's "The Kremlin Letter" was better than I expected (based on the wretched and sordid coming attraction, I anticipated very little). Huston's reputation has been slowly dissipated by a series of disasters, and "The Kremlin Letter" will do little to revive his auteur status.

Perhaps it would be kindly to say it is highly imperfect. Admitting that the plot is ridiculously complicated, and some of the sequences (and acting) greatly overdrawn, the story still does have some dramatic impact (much more than Hitchcock's "Topaz").

In passing, I would mention that "The Kremlin Letter" contains a fine performance by that peerless Swedish actor Max Van Sydow (as a Russian officer in the secret police). Van Sydow's forte is holding the emotions of the role under tight control, whether it be at the heights of art in "The Seventh Seal" or "Shame" or near the depths in "The Kremlin Letter".

The film version of D.H. Lawrence's "Women In Love" is ambitious, but pretentious. It tries to draw together the romanticism of an age (turn of this century), the liberation of women, and the strife between classes in a changing world but finally it bites off more than it can prepare for our digestion and becomes pure soap opera. It is graced, however, by a splendid performance by Glenda Jackson.

CENTENNIAL SYMBOL—Mrs. Florence Taylor Jones, liturgical artist from Madison, explains to Robert E. Hung, chairman of Central Presbyterian Church's Centennial Committee, a detail of the banner she created for the church's 100th anniversary. The banner, which was dedicated Sunday, is the largest liturgical banner ever commissioned in the United States.

"Loving", previously reviewed in detail in this column is now around locally. It is worth seeing.

Union College Information Center Will Again Visit Area in Summer

The Union College Information Center on Wheels will again take to the highways and byways of Union County including Summit, this summer, it was announced today by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, president of Union College.

For the third consecutive year a special Summit High PTA grant from the Bayway Refinery of the Humble Oil and Refining Company and the Bayway Chemical Plant of Enjay Chemical Company, Linden, will permit Union College to bring information on colleges, universities and other institutions offering training beyond high school directly to the residents of Union County.

Housed in a trailer provided by Humble Oil and Enjay Chemicals, the Center will contain college catalogs, brochures and other printed materials, film strips and viewers. Trained counselors will give students direct help in filling out college applications and forms for financial help.

"This center is directed toward stimulating interest among disadvantaged young people and adults in seeking higher education, toward providing an informal away-from-home place where parents can obtain information about colleges and about the means to attend college, and toward assisting current high school students in planning their high school careers so they can gain entrance into college, and toward recruiting more disadvantaged young people into programs preparing them for college," Dr. Iversen said.

Some 2,000 people visited the mobile center last summer. The Center visited 10 communities in Union County and "met a real need" in each of the communities, Dr. Iversen said.

CHAT OVER TEA—Mrs. Robert K. Keller of the N.J. Association for Mental Health, discusses a recent tour of Trenton State Hospital with the governor's wife, Mrs. William T. Cahill. The tour, led by Mrs. Cahill with more than 50 legislators, their wives and Mental Health Association members participating, was in recognition of May as Mental Health Month. The group had tea at Morven following the tour.

Hanging Around Railroad Station Isn't Much Fun, But Where To Go?

Hanging around the railroad station isn't that much fun. At least that is what a group of teenagers felt. But they knew that they still enjoyed congregating with other kids and they wanted some place where they could get together without being considered nuisances.

Diane Powers, Summit High School student, approached the Summit Urban League. Could a group meet there and discuss their problem of where to meet and what to do? The committee of the Urban League welcomed the group.

A racially mixed group of high school youngsters met one Thursday evening and planned a "drop in" for that Friday at the office of the Urban League, which is located at 15 Chestnut avenue. Volunteers for the Urban League bought cases of soda and huge bags of popcorn and potato chips. Two of them gave up that Friday evening—to serve as adult advisors. Friday night came. A very small number of high school aged youngsters showed up. They came in pairs or singly, seemed to peek inside to check whether there was in fact, any action. The record player blared with their kind of records. The record player and records had been loaned by members of the group.

Even though the venture seemed like a fizzle and the cases of soda remained almost intact and the bags of snacks untouched, they did not give up. They met the following Thursday. For another planned session with Urban League assistance. And they had another "drop in" that Friday.

This time, and the next time, more than 30 youngsters showed up. The idea was taking hold. Now the youngsters are seeking another location. They have been given a piano and a ping-pong table. But the office of the Urban League, which houses files and desks and other office equipment, cannot accommodate these additions. It can barely accommodate 30 youngsters.

A neighbor of the Urban League, the Summit Atlantic Service Station at the corner of Chestnut street and Springfield avenue, offered the group an opportunity to raise some money for this and other contemplated projects. Under the sponsorship of the Summit-New Providence Optimist Club they arranged a car wash and service open to the public, with the proceeds to go to the program. Members of the youth group performed services, washed cars. More than $75 was added to their fund.

Now they are looking for another place to have their drop-in center. They like the idea of meeting and having fun without being nuisances. They are hopeful

Suburban "Racism" Explored At YWCA Brainstorming Session

The impact of racial problems on the local scene was the focus of a brainstorming session held by the YWCA last week.

Plans were evolved to set up a six-session seminar to be held at the Summit YWCA this coming September. The topic—"Hidden Racism in the Suburbs" was inspired by the program of the national convention of the YWCA, which set "the elimination of racism wherever it exists" as the

Meeting with representatives of various religious, social services and educational organizations, the YWCA under the chairmanship of Mrs. George D. Wheeler conducted the preliminary program, to explore which areas needed attention. Concern centered on problems of housing discrimination, education, and in agencies. There was no general agreement, other than that "racism" is not evidenced openly often in the suburbs, but rather that is manifested subtly. The extent to which this occurs was considered to be large by some of the participants in the panel discussions and hardly existent by others. The intention is that pooling of information and expanding knowledge on what is happening will enlarge understanding of the problem.

No specific format for the pending seminars was determined. Rather, various ideas were considered.

The damage to its transmission was extension and expensive, but Henry could not be held responsible, because he had been given permission to push.

You are entitled to health and happiness - Come to First Church of Christ, Scientist, Sundays at 11 a.m. and Wednesdays at 8:15 p.m. - and learn why these rights are yours.

Reading Room, 340 Springfield Avenue, open daily from 10 a.m. to 4:30.

Will-power, hypnotism, and occult practices are the opposite of control through spiritual understanding, as explained in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Bible citations point out that belief in evil forces has existed through the ages, under various names. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is: "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."

One of the citations from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, states: "Christian Science reveals Truth and Love as the motive-powers of man. Will - blind, stubborn, and headlong - cooperates with appetite and passion. From this cooperation arises its evil. From this also comes its powerlessness, since all power belongs to God, good."

What is Christian Science?

It is a religion based on the words and works of Christ Jesus. It has helped many like you to prove in a measure the meaning of Christ Jesus' promise: "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also." It shows the scientific basis of Christianity and how to avail yourself of the laws of God in everyday life. If you would like to learn more about Christian Science, you are welcome to come to our Reading Room and to read this week's Bible Lesson.

YOUNG TUTOR-Pam Rancke, a high school student, and Elizabeth Junior High Schooler Elvis Wooten and Taiwan Rhodes, go over some English studies under "A Time to Teach" tutorial program sponsored by the Central Presbyterian Church.

Women to Hear Report on Church Tutorial Program

"A Time to Teach," a report on the tutorial program at the Elizabethport Mission sponsored by Central Presbyterian Church, will be the topic at Tuesday's meeting of the Women's Association. The session will be held at 11 a.m. in the Parish House.

Each Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. a chartered bus has taken 35 students and adults from Summit to the Elizabeth Presbyterian Center during the past school year. There, junior high school students have been tutored in English and mathematics. Speakers at the association meeting will be Mrs. Carman King, a former junior high school teacher in Elizabeth and present assistant to Rev. Joseph Garlic, head of the Center; Mrs. Harley Hughes, coordinator of the program and in charge of tutoring in English; and Mrs. W. Arthur Quick, in charge of mathematics.

The tutoring has been on a one-to-one basis and has been so successful during the 1969-1970 school year that plans are being made to continue the program next year.

Mrs. O. Benjamin Hander will have charge of devotions at the Parish House. Circles 7 and 9 will be hostesses. Free baby-sitting service is available at the church. For luncheon reservations or cancellations call Mrs. Ben D. Evans, 35 Blackburn place, 273-5313, by Saturday noon before the luncheon.

April Wasn't Too Bad Weatherwise

It's April in Paris that the song lyric extolls, but April in Union County wasn't such a bad month, according to Harold D. Duflocq, meteorologist at the U.S. Cooperative Weather Station at Union College.

Aviation Course Set

Morristown Prep School will introduce a state and federally approved aviation course beginning in September 1970 and will be the first school in New Jersey to include aviation in its elective curriculum.

Directed by Chatham Aviation Inc., the course will include 65 hours of ground school (pre-flight instruction) followed by 35 hours of flight training under a certified and validated flight instructor.

summary to the U.S. Weather Department, Mr. Duflocq reports that the average temperature last month was 50.9 degrees, which was 0.5 degrees above normal. Temperatures reached 70 degrees or over on five days during the month with a high of 78 degrees recorded on April 26. The low point was 23 degrees on April 1.

April showers also topped the average mark. In six days of rain, there were 4.8 inches of measurable precipitation, exceeding the average by 1.25 inches. A severe storm on April 1 and 2 accounted for 2.60 inches of rainfall.

Precipitation for 1970 through April comes to 11.84 inches as opposed to 11.90 inches on April 30, 1969.

Total degree days for the month were 420, bringing the total since September 1 to 5,409. For the first time in several months the number of clear days matched cloudy days. There were 11 clear, 11 cloudy and eight partly cloudy days reported by Mr. Duflocq.

Putting April, 1970, into meteorological perspective, Mr. Duflocq notes that the coldest April day on record was April 2, 1964, and April 1, 1969, when temperatures dropped to 19 degrees. The wettest April on record was in 1961 when rainfall measured 6.17 inches. April, 1963, was the driest with 0.73 inches of rain.

sign, leaving no room for an additional digit. Do not use a decimal to indicate cents. Instead, place the cents on a half-line over 100, such as 50/100.

When writing out the dollar amount in words, begin as far left as possible. Use the word "and" followed by the cents amount placed on a half-line over 100. Fill remaining space with two straight lines.

Make good use of the "stubs" in your checking account book. Record the check number, date, person paid, and the amount. Be careful with your mathematics in order to prevent errors in the balance.

When cancelled checks and a bank statement are returned, check your figures with those reported by the bank. This should be done every time a statement is received to keep records accurately. Banks can and do make mistakes. Ask about items which are not understood.

Remember that checks issued for your account have an identifying magnetic number. Don't loan checks to friends because the payment could be charged to your account. Likewise do not borrow checks issue for a friend's account.

If a check is lost or stolen, call your bank immediately and have payment stopped on the check. You likely will be asked to confirm the order in writing. Details of a lost or stolen check should be on your stub record for easy recall.

Guard Against Theft Of Credit Cards

By Elaine May
County Home Economist

may be by telephone initially, but the report should be verified in writing.

Some creditors have insurance with some deductible amount to cover unauthorized use of cards. Credit card insurance is available to individuals at relatively low premiums. Check on adding it to your homeowner's policy.

To expedite reporting lost or stolen cards, keep an up-to-date listing of all credit cards and the issuer's names, addresses, and telephone numbers. Also record the account number and the number of cards issued for your account.

The credit card list should be kept in a safe, convenient place. If traveling, carry a copy of the list in case of loss.

Frequently several cards are stolen together — in a wallet or purse. To minimize the problems which may be created by theft, carry only what cards you consider "essential."

Consider how frequently you use a card. Perhaps one major bank card can be used in place of several accounts with individual merchants who will accept a bank card. Only one oil company credit card should be needed regularly.

Check with department stores with whom you have an account. The store may extend credit without a card by proper identification and a call to the credit office.

Finally, the best solution is to prevent theft. Women who leave purses unprotected are particularly vulnerable. Regardless of where you are — at a party, church meeting, or office — keep your purse nearby. Outsiders may prey on women at social gatherings where purses are frequently left unguarded.

When a card is used, be certain it is returned to you by the clerk, and tuck it securely in the place it is regularly kept.

ORDINATION—Father Kevin Kortina, who has been seen serving as a deacon at St. Teresa's Church for the past year, will be ordained to the priesthood Saturday at the Sacred Heart Cathedral Newark, by Archbishop Thomas A. Boland. Father Kortina, who attended Seton Hall Preparatory School and University and Immaculate Conception Seminary, has worked with the youth of the parish since coming to St. Teresa's and serves as a Chaplain Assistant at Overlook. He will celebrate a Mass of Thanksgiving June 7 at St. Teresa's at 12:15 p.m. A reception, to which all parishioners are invited, will follow in Memorial Hall.

Ludlow Griscom, Harvard's famed field ornithologist, had told us:

"Be near Asheville, North Carolina, the third week in April and you will see the warblers pour across the mountains."

"This was the third week in April. And these were the warblers he had promised. Nearly one-third of all the species of warblers found east of the Rockies were about us that day."

Arthur A. Allen's philosophy sums it up so well, "If you really wish to feel content with your lot, enjoy a trip to the park, a drive to the country, or a visit to a neighbor's garden, seek out a bird-loving friend as you would a doctor and get an injection of "Warbleritis"... If it "takes," you will be looking at birds the rest of your life."

of the Rahway River across the street from Union College, local birders have spotted thirty-one of the tiny fellows.

The ecological distinction among five closely related species of warblers is a study in division of labor. All five feed on insects that inhabit spruce trees. Myrtle warblers feed predominantly in the tree's lower portion, black-throated green in the middle portion and outer part of the branches, Blackburnian toward the treetop and outer tips of the branches, Cape May on new growth on the top edge of the trees and bay-breasted throughout the tree concentrating on old growth close to the trunk. Some species move up and down the trees, some around the circumference and two in and out from the trunk.

Edwin Way Teale's "North with the Spring" tells the most delightful tale of these tiny birds. "During the night a great warbler wave poured over the Appalachians, spilling its gay, colorful migrants down the ridges, that, in gigantic waves of granite, descended toward the east. The fluttering wings that had carried them from the islands of the Caribbean, from Central or South America, from Mexico, had lifted them over the barrier of this ancient range. Before we had started our trip,

For the Birds

To the Chinese, 1970 is the year of the dog. To the American Indians, May's full moon is the planting moon. To the New Jersey birder, May is the month of the warbler.

Although the heavy migration of warblers coming north in spring occurs in May, black-and-white, pine, myrtle and palm warblers may beat this date by a week or two. You'll likely spot your first black-and-white searching bare branches. Myrtle warblers, the most numerous of the family, often spend the winter along the shore where bayberries are plentiful.

Of all the family, the yellowthroat is my favorite. Peering from behind a black domino mask, his call sounds loud and clear from swampy areas. It's been put in words by many, but perhaps best is John Burroughs' description, "which way, sir? which way, sir? If he says this to the ear of common folk, what would he not say to the poet."

Authorities differ as to the number of wood warbler species, the second largest feathered family in North America. Some put the count at 116. Forty-two of them breed on our continent north of Mexico. Thirty-six may be tallied, either raising a brood in or just passing through our state. Along the flood plain

Pioneer Nine Beaten By Conference Foes

New Providence High's hopes for the Suburban Conference championship this season were all but ended last week when the Pioneers bowed to league-leading Springfield Regional, 3-1, and then were edged by Caldwell High, 7-6, in a nine-inning game.

The pair of losses dropped New Providence two games behind Springfield Regional with two games to play. Springfield has clinched a tie for the conference crown and can win the title by winning either of its two remaining games.

New Providence (7-5) now shares second place with Verona (7-5). Summit (5-4) is in fourth place, but is more of a title threat than the second-place teams because it has one less loss.

Springfield came up with three unearned runs in the second inning against New Providence's ace, Walt Ortiz, to overcome a 1-0 deficit and defeat the Pioneers for the second time this season.

ONE-HIT RALLY

Springfield had only one hit in the second inning, but two New Providence errors let three runs score. Ortiz allowed only five hits, but New Providence was limited to three by Dan D'Andrea.

New Providence came up with nine hits and two three-run innings against Caldwell, but it wasn't quite enough to offset a 13-hit assault by the Chiefs on Chris Berg and Doug Rust. Caldwell got off to a 4-0 lead in the first two innings, but the Pioneers cut the deficit to one run with three runs in the third inning.

Caldwell was ahead 5-3 in the fifth inning when New Providence erupted for three more runs and a 6-5 edge. The Chiefs tied the score in the sixth inning and then won out on John Tazsek's triple and Larry Walton's two-out single in the ninth inning.

Greg Freaney paced New Providence's attack with three hits, while White had two. Bob Rivard scored twice for the Pioneers. Tazsek and Stutz had three hits apiece for Caldwell.

John Dykie

Judo Medalist

John Dykie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Dykie of 38 Badgely Drive, New Providence, won fourth place in the 10-year-old heavyweight division of the judo pre-nationals held in Fairfax, Virginia.

A third grader at Our Lady of Peace School in New Providence, John is a student at the International School of Judo and Karate, 3 Bank Street, Summit.

Joe Savage Sets State Mark for 880 Yards

Joe Savage of New Providence, competing for Roselle Catholic High in the Union County track and field championships last Saturday at Williams Field in Elizabeth, set a state record of 1:50.2 minutes for the 880-yard run.

Savage, who had been idle for three weeks, ran away from the field to break his own Union County meet record of 1:52.3 minutes which he set in 1969. The former state record of 1:50.4 seconds was set by Frank David of Montclair High, who was competing in a meet in California.

Savage finished with a 35-yard lead over Gary Proto of Scotch Plains-Fanwood High, who was timed in 1:54.5 minutes. Two Roselle Catholic teammates—Gerry Ghuzzi and Don Maffey—finished third and fourth in the event.

Savage's victory helped Roselle Catholic win the team title for the fourth straight year with 52 points. The Lions had a five-point margin over Westfield, with Union (36½) in third place. Governor Livingston Regional High of Berkeley Heights scored nine points and finished eighth.

Savage's time for the 880 was only 1.4 seconds off the national record held by Dick Joyce of Whittier, Calif. It also is the second fastest schoolboy 880 on the East Coast, beaten only by Brian McElroy's 1:49.9 minutes in the Nassau County, N.Y., championships last spring.

Regional Nine Wins Final League Game

Governor Livingston Regional High closed out its Watchung Conference baseball season on a happy note last week when Tom McCann spun a two-hit shut out as the Highlanders defeated Hillside High, 2-0, thereby avenging a previous loss.

McCann, a senior righthander, allowed Hillside (10-8) only two singles as the Highlanders boosted their conference record to 3-9 and their overall mark to 8-12.

The Highlanders managed only four hits off of two Hillside pitchers, but came up two runs in the second inning to give McCann all the edge he needed. Tom Zemla's single accounted for both runs, scoring Chuck Rundlet and Jim Murphy. Rundlet, John Piccirillo and Rich Weiss had the Highlanders' other safeties.

Earlier last week Governor Livingston had spotted Westfield a 4-0 lead in the first inning and just failed to catch up, bowing 4-3 in another Watchung Conference game. The Highlanders scored twice in the fifth inning and once in the seventh, but fell a run short of a tie.

Doug Rau recovered from a shaky start to blank Westfield after the first inning, but it was too late. Rau limited Westfield to just one hit after the first inning and a total of four. Skeeter MacCloskey held Governor Livingston to three hits.

Rundlet singled with the bases loaded in the fifth inning to score two runs. The Highlanders scored a run and had the bases loaded before Murphy grounded out to end the game. Piccirillo and Weiss had the other hits. Bob Honecker scored twice.

Langenus, Brown Help Rutgers to Met Title

John Langenus of Summit and Don Brown of Murray Hill were among the athletes who helped Rutgers University win the Metropolitan Intercollegiate track and field championship.

Langenus heaved the shot put 49 feet 10 inches to place third in that event while Brown took fifth place in the discus throw. Between them they accounted for four points for Rutgers.

Rutgers won the meet with 75½ points over Manhattan (53). St. John's (52½) and NYU (33), even though Man-Hattan and NYU had four individual winners like Rutgers. Of the Scarlets' total, 51½ points were scored by runners, jumpers and throwers who finished from second through fifth.

Rutgers scored in 16 of the 19 events to win the meet for the second year in

Try to Be A Courteous Shopper

By Elaine May
County Home Economist

One of a consumer's responsibilities is to practice etiquette in shopping. Being a courteous shopper will make shopping more pleasant, bring you better service, and help control merchant's cost of doing business.

Know what you want and how the sales clerk may help you. Wait your turn with other shoppers. If you are an impatient person or need extra help in making a choice, shop at times when stores are least busy.

Remember that returns and exchanges which are due to your change of mind are a special service and not a right to be expected from all merchants. Abuse of customer services increases business costs which are reflected in higher prices for consumer items.

Select merchandise carefully to minimize returns and exchanges. Necessary adjustments should be made promptly.

When examining merchandise be careful not to soil or otherwise damage it. Properly return or replace items you are not purchasing. If goods are accidentally damaged, inform a sales clerk.

Be considerate of other shoppers. Keep paths of traffic free. Watch where you are going and avoid shoving. Packages and umbrellas should be carried in a way that will not inconvenience others. When children and pets are taken along, keep them under control.

If you are pleased with the helpfulness of salespeople or particular store policies, tell them so. Voicing yourself positively is just as important as complaining about things you dislike.

If you have a complaint express yourself tactfully through the appropriate channels. Sales or service personnel may be able to correct problems. If satisfactory adjustments are not made, consult the department manager.

Report Pollution to Health Engineer

Hilltopper Nine Wins Pair to Remain In Suburban Conference Race - Barely

by Tom Kizzia

As the Suburban Conference championship sank slowly in the east (Springfield), the Summit High baseball team last week won a pair of conference games to keep just barely in the race. By knocking off Cedar Grove 5-1 and Madison 9-1, the Hilltoppers snapped a five-game losing streak and kept from being eliminated. But Summit is two losses behind Springfield who has just two more games to play. By press time the championship could be theirs.

Summit's crucial battle for second with New Providence was scheduled last Monday, but rain postponed the meeting. This Thursday Summit plays its last regularly scheduled game, at Millburn. There may be, however several rescheduling jobs left.

Summit whose record was 6-2-1 several weeks ago, had slumped to 6-7-1 before last week's decisive wins. Against Cedar Grove Steve Schreier bounced back from his only bad outing of the year to hurl a 3-hitter.

Summit jumped off to a 2-0 lead over the Panthers in the first Greg Pecca singled and moved on as Steve Baker reached on an error. An error by the catcher scored Pecca and Baker followed him in on Mike Mahoney's single.

The Grove tallied in the same inning, the fourth, when Madison got their only run to make it 3-1. Summit grouped three runs in the third, fifth, and sixth.

Carr opened the third with a single. He stole second, and Summit got a second man on when the first baseman missed the throw on Chris Hart's grounder. Baker, who always seems to hit best when he is pitching, unloaded a long, single to left to score Carr. Bob Triolo then hit safely to right and when the right fielder missed the ball both Hart and Baker scored.

In the fifth Greg Pecca, Baker, and Mahoney singled, and scored thanks to three Madison errors (they committed six in the game). Schroeder's single brought in the third run with two outs.

Summit jumped on the Madison reliever in the sixth. With one out Carr singled. He went to third on Hart's single, who promptly stole second. Pecca brought both home with a single up the middle. Pecca came all the way from first on Baker's booming hit to center, but Baker was thrown out trying to make

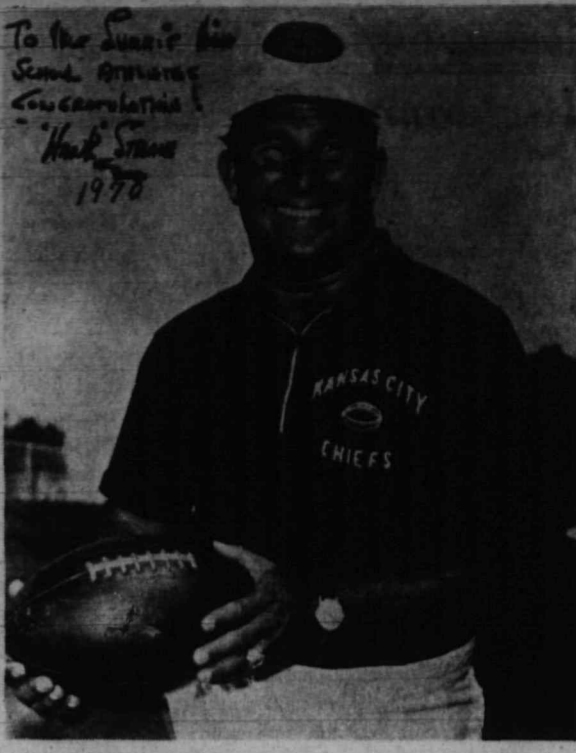

Pioneer Nine Nips Whippany

New Providence High's baseball team returned to winning ways last Saturday when Chris Berg and Walt Ortiz combined for a two-hitter as the Pioneers nipped Whippany Park 3-2, at New Providence.

New Providence boosted its record to 11-8 while Whippany Park fell to 9-7. Berg and Ortiz combined for 14 strikeouts, with Ortiz accounting for nine and picking up his seventh victory in a relief role.

New Providence managed only five hits, but picked up single runs in the first and second innings for a 2-1 edge. Whippany Park had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning.

The Pioneers added what proved to be the winning run on Bill White's fifth-inning single. It was just enough to offset Whippany Park's final tally in the seventh inning.

PERSONAL TOUCH—Next Thursday, June 4, at the Hotel Suburban, Hank Stram, head coach of the World Champion Kansas City Chiefs, will be the guest speaker at the Summit High Booster's Banquet. Each Summit High School athlete will receive an autographed picture of Coach Stram. Tickets can be obtained at Balish's, Charline's, Sperco's or from any Booster club members.

John Carr scored in the fifth thanks to the Panther catcher. After Carr singled up the middle, he made it to third on two passed balls, and scored on another error by the catcher. Summit's final run came in the sixth.

Bob Triolo led off with a tremendous triple to deep right-center, and Mike Mahoney followed with a lined single to left.

Steve Baker got the benefit of Summit's 13-hit attack against Madison. He scattered five Dodger hits, only allowing two in the

Sperco Second; Wins Two

Sperco won two games last week to take over second place in the Summit Recreation Softball League. In a rain shortened game, Sperco shutout Michaels, 5-0, behind the one-hit pitching of Cox. Sperco also overpowered Chubb and Son for an 18-3 victory.

Balish remained undefeated by scoring an 8-2 win over the Dunnder Agency. Charlines came from behind, scoring two runs in the sixth inning, to defeat Michaels, 2-1.

The Standings:

	Won	Lost
Balish	5	0
Sperco	5	1
Charlines	4	1
Chubb & Son	1	4
Michaels	1	5
Dunnder Agency	0	5

Oratory Nine Bows

Oratory School's bid for the State Parochial C baseball title was ended last week when St. John's of Paterson eliminated the Rams, 4-1, in a game in Paterson.

Mike Balady of St. John's limited Oratory to two hits, blanking the Summit team until the fourth inning. Balady struck out nine and walked two.

St. John's jumped on Oratory's sophomore Ace, Landis Graham, for three runs in the first inning and added an insurance tally in the seventh inning. Graham was touched for only five hits.

The loss dropped Oratory's record to 10-8 for the season.

Savage Breaks Mile Mark in NJCTC Meet

Joe Savage of New Providence completed a record-breaking weekend for Roselle Catholic High's track team last Sunday by shattering the meet record for the one-mile run in the 13th annual New Jersey Catholic Track Conference at Rutgers University in New Brunswick.

Savage uncorked a 4:11.3 minutes effort for the mile, which equalled his personal best. He was his own pacesetter, taking the lead at the quarter in 61.9 seconds and hitting the midway mark in 2:04.7 minutes. Savage was clocked in 3:08.6 minutes for three-quarters of a mile.

"I was satisfied with my performance," Savage said, "but I hope to do better at the Easterns." That meet will be his last as a schoolboy at the mile distance and he will be facing stiff competition. The Easterns are slated June 10 at Randalls Island, N.Y.

A day before he broke the New Jersey Catholic Track Conference mile record, Savage had bettered the State record for the 880-yard run with 1:50.2 minutes clocking in the Union County Conference championships.

Ample Parking in Rear of Building

We didn't make it any easier to look at. Just easier to drive.

You'd never know it to look at it, but that's a Volkswagen without a clutch pedal. What it does have is something called an automatic stick shift. "Automatic" because you can drive it up to 55 mph without shifting at all. "Stick shift" because you shift it when you go over 55. Once.

And that's just to help you save gas. (In keeping with a grand old Volkswagen tradition.)

As a matter of fact, this Volkswagen still gives you 25 miles to the gallon. It still takes only an occasional can of oil. And it still won't go near water or antifreeze.

If it were anything but a Volkswagen, you'd probably pay dearly for all this luxury. Instead, a Volkswagen with an automatic stick shift costs a mere $1,978*

All of which reinforces what we've been saying for 20 years. Looks aren't everything.

Ruch, Groves Pace Highlander Trackmen

Dave Ruch and Guy Groves turned in the top individual performances for Governor Livingston Regional High's track and field team last weekend in the Watchung Conference and Union County championships.

Ruch finished second in the javelin throw in both meets. Ruch failed to hit the 200-foot mark he had surpassed twice during the regular season as he trailed Union's Ron Fielding (197 feet, 5 inches) in the Union County meet and Westfield's Tom MacDowell (192 feet, 11 inches) in the Watchung meet.

Ruch gained a measure of revenge for his loss to MacDowell in the Watchung meet by beating out the Westfielder in the Union County meet. MacDowell finished fourth in the Union County meet.

Groves was second in the 880-yard run in the

Regional High Netmen Beaten By Tough Foes

Governor Livingston Regional High's previously undefeated tennis team ran into perennial state powers — Millburn and Westfield — last week and saw their hopes for two championships shattered.

Undefeated Millburn, the champion of the Suburban Conference, routed the Highlanders, 5-0, in the State Group 4 tournament. The Millers downed Governor Livingston without the loss of a set.

Undefeated Westfield won its 15th straight match in whipping Governor Livingston, 4-1. The victory clinched the Watchung Conference title for the Blue Devils. T. King accounted for the Highlanders' only point winning the No. 1 singles match from Gary Krakora in three sets, 1-6, 6-2, 7-5.

The Highlanders came close in only one other match, the No. 2 doubles. Granberry and Stu Brown were defeated 6-4, 6-4 in a hard-fought match.

Pioneers Bow For 5-6 Mark In Final Meet

New Providence High's bid for a winning record in track this season was foiled last week when Coach Fred De Muccio's team lost its final dual meet of the season, 78-48, to Springfield Regional, a Watchung Conference rival.

The Pioneers finished with a 5-6 record overall, but won only two of seven meets with Suburban Conference foes.

Al Graham provided the highlight for the Pioneers in their final meet, winning the 100-yard dash in 10.6 seconds and the 220-yard dash in 23.6 seconds. He also placed second in the broad jump to account for 13 points.

Paul Montigney was clocked in 53.5 seconds in winning the 440-yard dash, while Neil Badgely came from behind in the home stretch to win the 880-yard run in 2:06.8 minutes.

Bob Brannan Swims For Westminster

Freshman Bob Brannan of Summit this past season competed in his first year of varsity swimming at Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa.

Majoring in history in the classroom, he tentatively plans to study and practice law following graduation. Graduating from Summit High in 1969, Brannan competed in swimming one season and earned two letters under Coach Bob Greenwald. He competed in the state swim championships in the 400-yard relay.

Brannan also played both soccer and tennis, as a sophomore, in high school.

Summit Second In Suburban Track Meet

It was a day of inches and seconds for the Summit High track team, and when it was over Summit, had finished a disappointing second in the Suburban Conference track meet. Millburn won, thereby taking the crown once again.

Summit turned in some outstanding performances, but could manage only one individual champion, Phil Voetsch in the 440. Voetsch ran a tremendous 51.3 to take first. John Wiebe was second to Millburn speedster Rugo in both the 100 and 220. Wiebe's times of 10.0 and 22.4 were his best of the year, and he also took a second in the long jump. Tom Odell took a fourth in the 220.

Tom O'Brien broke two minutes in the 880, running it in 1:58.5, and placed second. In the two-mile record with a time of 10 minutes flat for a second. Tom Mobley was third in the high hurdles and fourth in the lows. Bob Conger got a fourth in the mile with a time of 4:40.0.

Summit Frosh Nine Wins Straight Ninth

Pitching continues to be the name of the game for Summit High's freshman baseball team. The young Hilltoppers notched two more wins last week, pushing their winning streak to nine games and their season's record to eleven wins and one loss.

Strong pitching was the dominant factor as Colin Leisher shut out Cedar Grove, 8-0, and Jim Gross set down Madison, 4-1.

The Cedar Grove game saw Summit gain revenge for its only loss of the season by jumping off to a four-run lead in the first inning. Big hitters in the Cedar Grove game were Sam Simpson, Mike Jimison, Colin Leisher and Bill George, each with two safeties.

Extra-base power was provided by Simpson with a double and George with a triple. Leisher coasted to his sixth victory of the season, scattering five hits while striking out 12 and issuing no walks. The shut out was Colin's third of the season. SUMMIT RALLIES

Summit had a more difficult time on Thursday with Madison. Trailing 1-0, Summit rallied for four runs in the fourth inning and then made the three-run lead stand up for the remainder of the game. Key hits in the rally were provided by Colin Leisher, Larry O'Mahoney, Jim Gross, and Mike McCullough.

Read the Herald for complete new coverage of Summit.

College Students Get Athletic Awards

Andrew J. Haspel of 124 Berkshire drive, and George F. Kraemer of 46 Briarwood drive, both of Berkeley Heights, and Barry L. Bardack of 43 Ridge drive, New Providence, were among 38 Union College students who received athletic awards at the annual Intramural Sports Award Dinner on Monday, May 11, at the Lynn Restaurant Elizabeth.

Jim Bartz also got an important run batted in when he was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded. Gross limited Madison to four hits as he chalked up his fourth win of the season.

The run which Madison scored in the second inning is the only earned run which Jim has allowed in 32 innings of pitching this season. Jim aided his own cause with two singles. Colin Leisher chipped in with a single and a double.

Leisher's two hits brought his season total to 17, tying the freshmen record for most hits in a season. With three games remaining, Colin seems like a good bet to break this record.

Summit Baseball Best in Years

It has been quite a while since Summit has had a true contender for the Suburban Conference baseball title, and this season's veteran squad is showing the rest of the league that it intends to take the top honors this year.

An excellent pitching staff is the main reason for Summit's first-place standing as of May 9. The veteran staff has completed nine of the possible ten games, and Steve Schroeder, junior standout of last year, has five. Schroeder has been the workhorse of the team working thirty-five innings on the mound, and has an earned run average of 0.20 better than his record 0.80 set last year when the Hilltoppers had an 8-13-1 record. Second in the starting rotation is senior Steve Baker, who has pitched more than his 1-1 record shows. Junior Jim Cairns, third in line, is 2-0 and is beginning to live up to expectations. Roger Hudgins, 8-2 as a freshman last year, has seen limited action, but will be working more as the Hilltoppers catch up in their schedule because of previous postponements.

In the field, sophomore Greg Pecca has pushed senior Bob Triolo to the outfield. Dick Peterson, a utility man on last year's squad, has taken over the second base position and is performing with excellence.

All-Area Shortstop Steve Baker is back at short when not pitching, and to date is batting over .400 with fourteen hits in ten games, eight hits short of Triolo's record twenty-two hits in twenty-two games last year. Steve Schroeder commands short when Baker pitches, and Chris Hart looks better than ever at third, rounding out the infield that many feel is the best around. In the outfield are Triolo, senior John Carr in center, Tom Olcott, and Steve Spenco. Not to be left out, junior backstop Mike Mahoney gives the Hilltoppers the area's best catching as well as consistent hitting.

Hitting, or should we say clutch hitting, has been Summit's only problem so far. The team is 6-3-1; those three losses by one-run scores. The sticks have been sticking, but not when the runs are really needed. Sixty-eight men have been stranded in the ten games, and something has to come around if Summit expects to continue winning.

For the latest details, see the Herald's sports pages.

Paul Montigney Wins Conference '880' Title

Paul Montigney won the 880-yard run in 1:58.4 minutes to account for New Providence High's only individual triumph in the Suburban Conference track and field championships last Saturday at Millburn High School.

Montigney's victory helped Coach Fred Di Muccio's Pioneers score 16 points, good enough for a sixth-place finish in the eight-team field. Millburn won the team title with 64 points, beating out Summit High which scored 46.

Bruce Carlson finished third in the two-mile run for New Providence, while Mark McKenna placed third in the high jump. Neil Badgely finished third in the 880-yard run. New Providence's other point came on Al Graham's fifth in the 100-yard dash.

Bill Voetsch won the 440-yard dash in 51.3 seconds to lead Summit to its second-place finish. John Wiebe finished second in three events for the Hilltoppers.

Wonderful Town, Next Overlook Musical Mrs. Ralph Witmer jr., of 25 Essex road newly elected second Vice-president, ways and means and finance, of the Women's Auxiliary of Overlook Hospital has announced Leonard Bernstein's "Wonderful Town" as the next production of the Overlook Musical Theater. It will run Dec. 3, 4 and 5.

In her new office, Mrs. Witmer's primary responsibility will be the Musical Theater, which was launched last year under her general chairmanship, reporting a record net profit of $18,000. The Musical Theater replaced the Overlook Follies, which had run for 20 consecutive years, serving as the Auxiliary's major fund-raiser.

"Wonderful Town" is the musical version of "My Sister Eileen", the Rosiland Russell vehicle set in the 30's in Greenwich Village. The director will be Al Dumais and the musical director Kevin Farrell, who are freshening the show with the modern stage and music techniques of the 70's. The dance sequences will be directed by Jerry Cummins.

Mrs. Witmer has been active many years as a hospital volunteer working on the Book Cart, acting as talent chairman for the 1963 Follies as co-chairman of the Hospital Gift Shop in 1967 and currently serving as a Gift Shop buyer. She launched the Junior League Santa Claus Shop and also served as co-chairman of the League Thrift Shop.

Mrs. Witmer is a native of Pennsylvania Dutch country and is a registered nurse.

Winners in Outdoor Show Announced by Art Center

Winners in the recent outdoor art show have been announced by the Art Center. They are: Oils: $100 from the Summit and Elizabeth Trust

When contacted, the City Clerk's office, which has jurisdiction over local voting procedures, said that another statute states that a candidate can be placed on the ballot line as being a member of a regular organization party, in this case, Regular Organization Republican of Union County as applied to Mrs. Faison.

Mr. Lachner claims that the City Committee "should represent the party after, but only after, the party candidate has been chosen in the primary election."

In response to an inquiry by the Summit Herald, Wallace W. Barnes, chairman of the Summit Republican Committee, said that there "appears to be some misunderstanding and confusion" with respect to the role and activities of the informal screening committee composed of five members of the Summit Republican Committee.

Barnes indicated that the Republican Committee had not endorsed the candidacy of any person for party nomination in the coming primary but will support whatever Republican candidate is selected.
