New Mayor— Michael V. Marotti, unanimously elected Belleville's new mayor for the next four years, takes his oath of office during the inaugural ceremonies Tuesday. Marotti's daughter holds the Bible as Judge Edward Abramson administers the oath.

Big occasion— Thirty-nine girls from junior Girl Scout Troops 591 of Christ Church and 123 of School Nine had a big day recently when they posed for this photo with Congressman Joseph Minish (bottom right) on the Capitol steps. Accompanied by their leaders, the Scouts toured a number of Washinton, D.C. sites.

Marotti is mayor after stormy week

By PAUL STERN

Top Commission election vote-getter Michael V. Marotti was unanimously elected and sworn in as Belleville's new mayor Tuesday during inaugural ceremonies at Town Hall.

Despite the occasion's solemn dignity and grandeur, however, it was the culmination of a week of reported political conflict and post-election maneuvering over departmental powers.

Though all five elected Commissioners unanimously consented to several reorganizational changes in authority on Tuesday, earlier reports indicate the final agreements were difficult to reach, and may have followed an attempted "majority bloc" take-over.

Along with the official swearing in of Commissioners Vincent Strumolo, Joseph McGreevy, Mrs. Mary Senatore and newly elected Rocco Saletta came the following changes in governmental structure:

- The Town Attorney's office, including reappointed Town Attorney John Scott, now falls under Commissioner Strumolo's Department of Public Affairs. Scott's office had formerly been classified under the Department of Public Safety.

- The Shade Tree Department, formerly part of the Public Works Department, is now part of Marotti's Department of Parks and Public Property.

- The Civil Defense Department, and the appointment of its members, comes under Saletta's jurisdiction in the Public Safety Department. Last term Civil Defense was part of Public Safety, but no specific mention of appointment authority had been made.

- The Belleville Library, traditionally headed by the Mayor, comes under (Please see "New leaders" on page 13.

Planners upset

Belleville's virtually powerless Planning Board may soon take steps to redefine and increase its authority, the Times/News has learned.

Though no official measures have yet been taken, the majority of the nine-member panel says it is fed up with the Board's present status, and agrees that improvements must be made if the Board is to properly serve the community. "Either make us a strong planning board," said one member recently, "or dissolve us." The current arrangement has apparently led to disappointment, frustration and disinterest among the members.

Legislation concerning property maintenance and land use referrals, drafted and waiting for Town Commission action, sits untouched. Vacancies on the Board have gone unfilled for as long as 15 months. Communication between the Town Commission and the Planning Board is inadequate, say the Planners; and two Commissioners appointed to the panel seldom, if ever, attend.

Please see "Planning" on page 13.

Preparations made for Memorial Day

Belleville will observe Memorial Day at three traditional sites, according to Ralph Palumbo, chairman of the Belleville Veterans Council, who says the starting point of the ceremonies will be the Rutgers Street Bridge at 8:45 a.m. Monday.

The memorial prayer there will be said by Reverend Henderson E. Goldstone, of the Second Baptist Church, followed by the placing of a wreath upon the waters of the Passaic River by Palumbo, and a salute by the firing squad of VFW Post 275.

At 10 a.m. the contingency will arrive at Greylock Parkway and Union Avenues, where the Belleville High School Band will play the National Anthem, followed by an invocation by Reverend Benedetto Pascale of the Silver Lake Baptist Church.

There will be a welcoming address by James Leary, VFW Post 275. Town historian, Allan Crisp, will be guest speaker, and all veterans posts will place flowers as taps is sounded by the Belleville High School Band bugler. VFW Post 275 firing squad will fire a salute and then services will be concluded by Palumbo, commander of Barbone Mosco Post Seven, Italian American War Veterans.

Town Hall ceremonies will commence at 11:30 a.m. at which time three wreaths will be placed in front of Town Hall; one for police, one for firemen, and one in front of the Town Monument, in honor of all deceased members of the Belleville police and fire departments.

Also participating in Memorial Day observances will be DAV Chapter 22 of Belleville and Nutley, Joseph J. Carbat Post 299 American Legion, Belleville Post 105 American Legion, Veterans Post 6265 Veterans of Foreign Wars, Belleville Amvets Post 26 and Belleville's Gold Star Mothers.

Job ads offered free to students

The Nutley Sun and Belleville Times News are happy to announce that we will run one ad, FREE OF CHARGE, for any high school or college student looking for summer jobs.

Each ad must be printed or typed, containing up to 15 words and sent in by Friday, June 6 to appear in the Classified Section under the heading of "Situations Wanted" for the issue of June 12.

We hope the people of this area will consider hiring these young people.

School sec'y groups merge

For the first time in local education history, all Belleville school system secretaries will be unified under one bargaining association, it was announced this week.

In a meeting Tuesday evening, Belleville's ten-month school secretary association merged with the 12-month organization. The new secretarial union will be called the Belleville Educational Secretaries Association.

According to Mrs. Marie Rainone and Mrs. Jean Broo (presidents of the merging bodies), officers of the newly-formed association will be selected near the end of June.

Though each association must still finish out its present contract with the Board of Education, future negotiations

Ahavath Achim: 'Not for sale'

By DAN FREEDMAN

The YMCA Suburban Council is looking to purchase Congregation Ahavath Achim's Academy Street Temple for a Y they plan to open in Belleville. But whether the Congregation will sell its 20 year-old center of Jewish life in town remains doubtful.

A Y spokesman reported the Suburban Council secured a "right of first refusal" agreement that stipulated Ahavath Achim would sell the Temple once they found a new location for their cultural and religious activity.

However, an Ahavath Achim spokesman told the Times/News the Congregation currently entertains no plans either to sell their Temple property or relocate at this time.

Temple officer David Robbins said the building could only be sold with the approval of the families comprising the Avahath Achim congregation. Robbins said the Temple was not for sale in any case.

YMCA suburban Council Director Hank Burden said the Temple first approached the Y about possibly buying the Academy Street site two years ago. Reacting to reports of Ahavath Achim's current unwillingness to sell, Burden said the Y would be content to wait "in lieu of any alternative site."

"Obviously they're calling the signals," Burden said. "But we feel confident the building will be ours."

The Belleville YMCA will be a "family type of Y", according to Burden, with programs and facilities designed to offer "something for everyone."

"We've run programs in Belleville for five years," Burden said. "We've met with a good response and we felt if an opportunity to open a Y in Belleville presented itself, we'd take it." Burden added the Suburban Council was initially attracted by the Academy Street Temple because the building offered relatively modern facilities which could be easily converted for Y use.

Beneath the surface of this possible transaction lies the sensitive issue of Avahath Achim's steadily declining membership. Put bluntly, the Academy Street Temple is underused. With only 90 families in the congregation, Robbins reports Ahavath Achim has more space than they know what to do with.

Robbins cited a number of specific examples illustrating the discrepancy between the Temple's space and its numbers. These include:

- A five-room Jewish religious school which serves only one student.

- Terminating services in the middle of the week because a mignon (a quorum of 10 men required for every religious service) could not be mustered.

Title I meetings soon on Fed $$$

Arthur M. Pico, Director of the E.S.E.A. Title I Program, in Belleville is in the process of applying for federal funds for the E.S.E.A. Title I Remedial Reading Program for the 1975/76 school year.

This program is a supplemental reading program which has proven to be advantageous to the participating students, said Pico. The Title I Program is an additional assistance in the Belleville School System in conjunction with the Remedial Reading Program offered by the Belleville Board of Education.

This Program is completely funded through federal funds. Therefore, the Federal Government has guidelines which must be followed to designate the school districts which are eligible to participate.

E.S.E.A. Title I Application meetings have been scheduled for June 17 and July 8 for interested citizens. These meetings will be held at School Number Two, 670 Mill Street, at 2 p.m. in the library.

At the present, the E.S.E.A. Title I Program's participating schools are 1, 2, 4 and 9. Children attending non public schools but reside in the above school districts are also eligible and participating. Therefore, the program is included for the Belleville students attending St. Peters, St. Anthonys, St. Marys and Holy Family. The children residing in the Essex County Children's Shelter are eligible and participating.

Students: prepare for summer school

Ernest V. Musmanno, Director of the Summer School program, has announced that summer school classes will be held at Belleville Senior High School from June 23 to August 1.

The varied curriculum, which includes English, science, mathematics and social studies for grades 6-12, plus business and foreign languages for grades 7-12, is also offered to students from other communities who have written permission from their principal.

Completed registration forms and fees will be accepted by the Summer School Director on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, June 18, 19 and 20 from 1 to 4 p.m., room 218, at the Senior High School, and also on Saturday, June 21 in the main office at the high school from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.

The cost to Belleville public and resident students will be $50 for one subject $75 for two. Public and resident grade 6 students will be admitted at $20 for one subject and $30 for two.

A subject taken for enrichment only will be $25 for one, and 40 for two.

Students who are not residents of Belleville will be required to pay a slightly higher admission fee.

All students are urged to register early to avoid a late registration fee of $5.

Seton Hall awards degrees

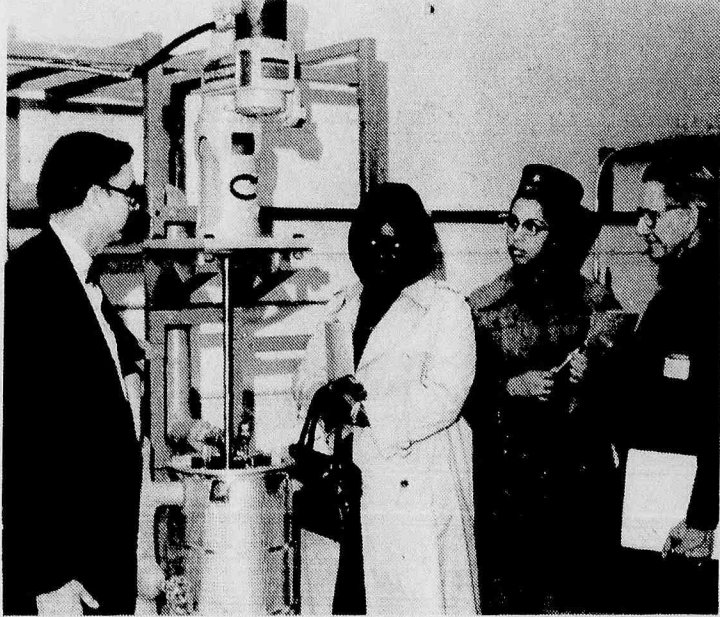

Many Belleville residents were among graduates who received 1115 undergraduate degrees and 810 graduate degrees recently when Seton Hall University held commencement ceremonies.

Masters degrees in education were presented to: Caroline Delia Abrams, 175 Delevan Avenue; Carmine Ralph Cicurillo, 486 Joralemon Street; Carmine Michael Esposito, 415 Greylock Parkway; Alan A.

Gamba, 482 Joralemon Street; Richard B. Baribell, 77 Watsessing Avenue; Benjamin Pickover, 263 New Street; Daniel Matthew Polizzano, 72 Brighton Avenue, and Josephine San Giovanni, 725 Joralemon Street.

Suzanne S. Jacobus, 128D Celia Terrace, received her Master's degree in arts and sciences, while Bronislaus Joseph Zienkiewicz, 251 Little Street, received his degree in business.

Undergraduate degrees were given to John Michael Capparelli, 170 Division Avenue, (Philosophy); Rosemary Senatore Ciccone, 68 Berkeley Avenue, (Elementary Education); June Rose Cocuzza, 94 Franklin Street, (Elementary Education); John Henry Curley, 53 Essex Street, (English); Mark Charles, 725 Joralemon Street, (English); Joseph Daniel Pisuro, Jr., 39 Tiona Avenue, (Psychology); Camille Raimo, 160 Franklin Street, (Elementary Education); Veronica Frances Rempusheski, 24 Hilton Street, (Nursing); Stephen Patrick Tague, 267 Fairway Avenue, (Sociology), and James Cornelius Michael Thomas, 45 Cedar Hill Avenue.

Touring the New Jersey Institute of Technology Chemistry Complex recently was Ralph Correll (right) of Belleville High School who along with about 50 other high school teachers visited the new facility. Also shown are (l-r) Jack McCormick of NJIT, Miss Patricia Snead, and Sharon Shabazz.

Two spouses here earn 'Ph.T' degrees

New Jersey Institute of Technology, Newark, recently celebrated a unique type of graduation ceremony, which was initiated at the college in 1950, and which bestows a degree, not on the student, but on the spouse of the graduate.

Two Belleville residents, Margaret Burbank, 37 Church Terrace, and Maria Cristina Martins, 96 Emmet Street, were among 110 spouses who received the honorary degree.

The degree originally called the Ph.T for "Pushing Hubby Through," has been amended to "Pushing Him or Her Through," since many women are now graduating from the school while their husbands take care of the household.

The ceremony, honoring the spouse is enthusiastically attended by entire families, with the NJIT student ballroom overflowing with children of all ages.

Besides receiving the honorary degree, each wife receives a corsage, a decorative Ph. T pin, and a parchment diploma acknowledging the efforts of maintaining a family operation under trying circumstances.

Although flowers were not given to the men, they did receive appropriate honors, and an altered version of the parchment diploma.

Although program details of the ceremony were organized by Alpha Phi Omega, the national service fraternity, wives of the Institute's chief administrators made the presentations.

This year, Mrs. Gwen Hazell, wife of Dr. William Hazell, Institute president, received a special Ph.T diploma in recognition of her contributions to her husband's success.

TV Discussion on N.J. Primary

The results of the New Jersey Legislative primary and how they will affect the November election will be discussed on New Jersey News: Special Report to be broadcast live Wednesday June 4 at 9:30 p.m. on Channels 50.

School Nine shown in Title I spotlight

This month the E.S.E.A. Title I Program spotlights School Nine.

The Title I program is a remedial reading program, funded by the Federal Government, which supplements the existing reading program offered by the Belleville Board of Education.

First and second graders have been studying the "Popper Words" basic sight vocabulary. They are also involved in Target Red, where they have just begun to listen for the short vowel sounds. The First Talking Alphabet, Part II, is helping them to recognize the vowel sounds in given words. They were amused by "What's Wrong Here?" an activity which is designed to sharpen the child's awareness of reality and also involves thinking, reasoning and association skills.

Third graders are busy working in their new workbooks and have almost completed their Crossword Puzzle Books. They have been involved in the Target Yellow Kit, where they are now reviewing vowel sounds. Comprehension skills are being stressed by the use of Scott Foresman Practice readers, where the child reads the story and then gives an oral or written summary. All of the Title I children enjoy the new recorded Scott Foresman Storybook Series. Here, too, comprehension skills are being reinforced.

This month's additional activity was to Madison Square Garden to see the Ringling Brothers Circus. It was the special Bicentennial edition celebrating the 200th anniversary of the United States, paying tribute to the history of America by means of color and beautiful costuming. An enjoyable day was had by both children and parents. The children are looking forward to next month's trip to Sterling Forest.

The Title I teacher at School Nine is Mrs. Maccagnan, completing her second year with the Title I Program.

The Parent Council meeting for the month of May was on Thursday, May 15, at School Number Two.

Title I also services the Essex County Children's Shelter, Saint Anthony's, Saint Marys, Saint Peters, and Holy Family and Belleville Public Schools One, Two and Four.

Crew parents report

The Crew Parents and Alumni Association, a group formed to help purchase needed equipment for the crew team, has succeeded in purchasing a new launch, new uniforms and equipment, and also a soda machine for the boys.

O. Paterno, the alumni association's president, reports that the successful year was accomplished by selling decals, collecting newspapers, sponsoring a flea market, and by the showing of the film, "Man from La Mancha."

The group already has plans underway for another flea market, to be held September 13.

Anyone interested in participating in either the indoor or outdoor booths is asked to call Mrs. Joyce Davis, 759-2378, or Mrs. Rita Forlenza, 751-0602.

Kutzelman gives recital

Gary J. Kutzelman, a music teacher at Belleville Junior High School, and a graduate student at Montclair State College, gave his master's recital on the organ recently at First United Methodist Church, Passaic, where he serves as organist and choir director.

A former organist and choir director at the United Presbyterian Churches of Lyndhurst and Cedar Grove, Kutzelman has studied organ under Russell Hayton of the college music faculty for six years.

Kutzelman resides with his mother in Lyndhurst.

Dr. Burt: one smart fellow

Michael E. Burt, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Mastromonico, 9 Clearman Place, graduated summa cum laude May 10 from the St. Louis University School of Medicine, St. Louis, Missouri.

Dr. Burt, who was the recipient of nine awards at the graduation ceremonies, also has the distinction of having received the highest grade ever acquired by a St. Louis University medical student in the National Medical Board Exam, since the founding of the school in 1818.

Among his awards is the Alpha Omega Alpha award, (the National Honor Medical Society) Missouri State Medical Association Award, Roche Award, Anatomy Department Award, Microbiology Award, Pathology Award, Surgery Department Award, Alpha Sigma Nu Award (National Jesuit Honor Society) and the Mosby and Lange Book Award.

The doctor, who will specialize in cancer surgery, will take a position in that field July 1 at the University of Washington Affiliated Hospitals in Seattle, Washington.

Joining him in Washington will be his wife and infant son, who now reside in St. Louis.

Some hair came pale yellow and some spots came a reddish color. I know I cannot restrip it. Can you tell me how I can make the reddish spots pale yellow before I put the light blonde color on it?

MARIA OFF.

A-The way to make the hair an even pale yellow is to apply either Eftasol or Wallasol on the areas that did not come pale yellow when you stripped it.

Opinion

An election to remember

Tuesday, five Belleville citizens took the oath of office as members of the Town Commission.

Commissioner Michael Marotti, high man in last week's election, was selected Mayor by his colleagues. Marotti finished first four years ago but deferred the mayoralty post to Commissioner Joseph McGreevy.

Along with Marotti, Vincent Strumolo, Mary Senatore, and Joseph McGreevy, all re-elected last week, were sworn in as Commission members, continuing to head up the departments that were assigned to them four years ago.

A new face was added to the Commission — that of former School Board member, Rocco Saletta, who finished 500 votes ahead of outgoing Commissioner Robert Laterza.

It's sad to note Laterza's defeat. A good man — a native Bellevilleite, Bob Laterza has served with the utmost of honesty and to the best of his ability. We think with Laterza it's a case of ungratefulness on the part of voters — for Laterza did serve faithfully and with dedication. He was entitled to re-election.

However, since the majority of voters thought otherwise, the election of Rocco Saletta adds new dimension to the Town Commission. Saletta is an independent in every sense of the word. Politically unaligned, Saletta brings to the Board a fresh spirit, a new broom. Great things are expected from Saletta. Based upon history, if any innovation comes to Belleville through the Commission during the next four years, in large measure, it will be because of Rocco Saletta.

All the victors earned the fruits of their labors. They worked hard in the various public offices they held — and they worked harder seeking re-election.

We congratulate the winners and hope they will work in harmony for a better Belleville.

Belleville may be in good shape financially, but its civic spirit leaves much to be desired. In large measure, the character of our community will be molded by the actions and behavior of elected public officials — at the Town Commission and at the School Board.

Members of the Board of Commission bear a heavy responsibility. They must discharge their responsibilities in a manner that will bring credit upon themselves and the community name. Commissioners can disagree without being disagreeable. All too often, scheming politics has been the hallmark of some official decisions.

This Commission got off to a bad start. A meeting was held to discuss the division of patronage with only three Commission members present when the better interests of Belleville would have been served if all five Commission members were invited to confer and decide.

The Commission is represented by five good, solid citizens. The people elected all five to office. There is no reason why some members should go off on their own and meet to the exclusion of others. It is this kind of action that has divided Belleville in the past — and if continued — will divide it in the future.

Sometimes in the past, it appeared Belleville could best be governed by this approach to Town Government. It has failed us every time.

The only two major changes in the re-organization of the present Commission were the transfer of the Town's Counsel from the Public Safety Department to the Department of Public Affairs. The other was the removal of the Shade Tree Division from the Public Works Department to the Department of Parks and Public Property.

The Shade Tree transfer was a proper and valid re-arrangement of department responsibilities. The Town Attorney could have remained with Public Safety because the Municipal Judge is assigned to that department.

However, considering Belleville's track record of department remakes, this week's results treat Belleville pretty good.

No one who has any familiarity at all with Belleville today can be satisfied with things as they are. Belleville's fortunes must be turned around if it is to survive as a decent community in which to live and work.

This objective will take all the wisdom and dedication of our people and our public officials. The Belleville Times/News is determined to make its contribution to the objective we seek — a better Belleville — a safe Belleville — a prosperous Belleville.

We ask the Lord's blessings and guidance for the newly elected Commissioners and trust each Commissioner, in her or his own way, will manifest the kind of attention to community problems that will inspire our people to acquire a greater measure of civic pride. The reputation of our town name should be as good as our own.

Dividing the pie

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

(When news broke of the planned "stripping" of newly elected Commissioner Rocky Saletta and Commissioner Mary Senatore, the following copy was submitted for publication.)

At Tuesday's reorganization meeting, however, the "stripping" was limited to sending the Town Attorney's appointment to Commissioner Vincent Strumolo and transferring the Shade Tree Department from Commissioner Senatore to Mayor Michael Marotti's department. It would appear the majority yielded under pressure to a more rational distribution of power.

It is still, however, the studied opinion of this writer (in view of the planned but aborted developments of the political schemers) that Belleville might be better off with a new type of town government so as to eliminate the many "deals" that prevail and seemingly pervade our town.—JRG)

The repercussive effects of Belleville's recent municipal election are already manifesting their ugly hydra-headed influence over what we may anticipate in the way of harmonious coordination among the commissioners who will govern our community. What we observe isn't very encouraging.

At a time when harmony is an urgently needed ingredient to extricate our town from the sprawling blight and business deterioration which has overtaken our once proud and prosperous suburban community, we observe instead the seeds of disunity, bickering and raging political warfare among divergent factions over the control of both our town government and the local school system... all disjunctive forces which bode no good for anyone.

The fact of the matter is that there is too damn much POLITICS, with its internecine results, that is largely contributing to the destruction of Belleville. Too much effort is being expended by politicians to gain power and occupy "the room at the top" while everything else is ignored and permitted to go to pot.

Surely, all towns have political squabbles, but not to the extent that it prevails here. A good illustration is the organizational meeting of the new commission which betrayed the designed, vindictive "stripping" by the "majority bloc" of almost everything but the minority's Commission chamber seats.

At the time of this writing, which is prior to the session at which they will "brew the hellish broth," (that will inevitably lead to further friction among our elected officials that will do nothing in the way of improvement for the people of our town) it appears that confirmation in the papers will establish that Comm. Senatore and newly elected Comm. Saletta will get little more than their seat on the Commission and the vote that may be overruled by a solid "bloc majority" bent upon "seizing" power and complete control over most all important departments and job appointments.

The way it looks at this point indicates that the court, presently in the Public Safety Department, will be transferred to the Dept. of Revenue and Finance headed by Comm. McGreevy who will thus be given the opportunity to appoint a new judge upon the expiration of magistrate Abromson's present term. Probably either Bob Gaccione or present town attorney John Scott.

The Shade Tree Department presently under Comm. Senatore is scheduled to be placed either under Marotti (who is in line to wear the toga of Belleville's mayor) or Comm. Strumolo who will get the building department and building inspector's appointment as well as the appointment of the town attorney to be either Scott or Gaccione depending upon who gets which position.

The engineering department will be taken away from Comm. Senatore and placed in mayor Marotti's jurisdiction. Saletta, the new-comer, will get little but a head-ache since he will be stripped of any appointive power and given the arduous task of keeping already disgruntled police and firemen happy. This seems a most difficult assignment, especially, if Bob Laterza declines, as lame-duck commissioner, to make any promotional appointments in either department leaving that responsibility up to the new director.

All of which indicates gathering signs of sullen, somber clouds of political storm in Belleville... something we just don't need in these troubled times. It just isn't good for Belleville. To be noted also is the growing trend upon the part of the newly successful forces supporting the new potent commission majority to contemplate the unseating of Comm. Senatore as the town Democratic chairman by Mayor Marotti...an ambitious undertaking fraught with numerous uncertainties.

One should not forget the great upheaval generated by Mrs. Senatore's dissatisfaction with the results of the 1966 election and her sparking the move that resulted in the change in the form of Belleville's government. What's to prevent another such move for a change? Everybody isn't happy. With the small vote turnout, only about 15,000 signatures might be needed to get such a question on the ballot. What would happen then? I wouldn't want to bet.

Letters

The Great American choice

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter in a depressed state of mind. We, as individuals, are given the rights of freedom. This freedom doesn't have any time limit (7 a.m. to 10 p.m.)

It seems that everynight at 10 p.m. this freedom vanishes. No matter where you are, you will be chased by the police — just doing their job. As an 18-year-old, I'm left with the choice of going home and watching the boobtube or else going o a bar — the Great American Choice.

I can tell you my opinion of this. The people in this town forget they wre once kids! They sit by their phones and call the police and complain about a gathering of delinquents. The police — just doing their job — chase us kids.

But where to? If you think this state of depression and feeling of being lost in No Man's Land is just in me, then look at the attitudes of the kids in the high school.

They don't care about anything — total lack of enthusiasm — the reason being: every time someone gets an idea it is suppressed because a few people wouldn't like the idea. Even if it was good for the majority, "Sorry, we got a few complaints so you'll have to break it up."

Please give us kids some freedom.

Remember, you must have been kids at one time.

Not all real estate brokers are Realtors

To the Editor:

In my position I must take exception to a headline in an article that you published on page 3 of your issue of May 15, 1975. You used the term "Bankrupt Realtor", therefore I must explain to you what the term Realtor is all about.

There is a difference between a licensed real estate broker and a Realtor who is licensed by the State, but is also a member of a local Board of Realtors which has an affiliation with a State and National association in which the membership subscribe to a code of ethics and are policed by their own organization as well as the New Jersey Real Estate Commission.

The designation "Realtor" is trademarked and can only be used by members of our organization, and I must point out that the subject of your article is not a member of our organization.

Now they want blood

It has been at least eight months that Governor Brendan Byrne has been the target of attacks — both personal and public. His critics range from the much respected to those who can't be respected.

Now at center stage comes the New Jersey Public Television. That crowd is conducting a "Poll of Governor's Support in the Legislature." The N.J.P.T. is polling members of the Legislature following a call upon Governor Brendan Byrne to resign his post "for the good of the State."

Byrne's latest critic is State Senator Barry Parker. The N.J.P.T., allegedly serving the public interest, in its memorandum to Legislators, states "Of course we realize it could be politically unwise to ask a member of the Legislature to sign a ballot indicating he no longer supports the Governor. For that reason we are enclosing a blank ballot, and a pre-addressed and stamped envelope."

The N.J.P.T. asks the legislator to indicate her or his support or non-support of the Governor. The developments of recent months from critics of the Governor almost make one believe there is an organized effort to destroy Byrne's reputation and permanently impair his ability to govern. These are fiendish acts of sick minds. The Governor has given all but his blood to his detractors — and they still ask for more.

The New Jersey Public Television should be condemned for its irresponsible effort to further destroy Governor Byrne's public image.

Will Gov. Byrne's critics never let up? Won't they permit this poor man to attempt to govern the State for sixty days uninterrupted by critics whose only concern appears to be a desire to make the headlines?

Enough is enough. We think the New Jersey Public Television crowd should quietly fold up its Byrne poll file and slip away in the dark of night unseen, unheard, and unheralded.

FLIGHT 897

Let's welcome Father John

By FRANK A. ORECHIO

WEIGHT LOSERS my office has advised the winner and the runner-up. I am postponing publication of the results, not so much because I am among the losers — but because I want to keep some of my friends in suspense. See you all next week in this column with the names of the winners and losers!

NEW YORK CITY IS LIVING beyond its means, and its Mayor, Abe Beame, expected Washington and President Ford to bail New York City out of its troubles. New York has a $1.5 billion problem. This is the amount of cash it needs to meet bills due before June 30, 1975. That's a lot of bread. The problem with New York City is that its politicians have provided too many services and created too many jobs, an expense that was beyond the homeowner's ability to pay. And so it came to pass that former mayors of New York City borrowed money from every conceivable source to meet operating expenses.

I think the answer to New York City's problem is to be found at the desk of the Mayor. He must have the courage to cut back on services, reduce expenses, and get the City in a position to live within its means.

SOL YAGED, THE WORLD RENOWN successor to Benny Goodman, whose clarinet talks, sings and dances six nights a week at New York's Gaslight Club, wants the world to know that his Gaslight "Bunnies" are not simply dumb blonds with good looks and shapes to match.

He gives us the example of Joanna Myhr, tall, shapely, attractive, vocalist from Springfield, New Jersey, who is a permanent guest on WNYC's talk show, "The Logic of Poetry." If Joanna has as much talent on the air as she displays singing to the accompaniment of Sol Yaged's combo, her destiny must be Hollywood, California.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR HARRY T. FRENCH of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce does a good job with his newsletter. However, I think with a Town Commission sworn into a new four-year term of office, the Belleville Chamber of Commerce may well re-appraise its own directions and determine if it has the ability and the will to improve its own status and thereby bring life back to Belleville's business community.

THE NUTLEY ITALIAN AMERICAN CIVIC ASSOCIATION has organized its own Blood Bank for the good of its members and their families.

Sam Grande is the Blood Bank Chairman who can be reached at 667-5389, and Sam is assisted by Phil Nicastro, whose number is 748-4212.

I imagine — in a pinch — other Nutley citizens would have the opportunity to borrow from the I.A.C.A. Blood Bank.

THE NUTLEY REINHEIMER-PERRY CLUB invites everyone to a Bohemian Night, scheduled for 4 to 9 p.m. Saturday, June 7th, at The Kingsland Manor.

I am told the evening will feature cocktails, art exhibition and sale, quick sketch artist, buffet table, music, professional caricaturist — and a lot of fun. Proceeds from the activities will be used to support the very worthwhile Reinheimer-Perry Club programs.

MONDAY NIGHT, the peerless leader of Essex County Democrats, Harry Lerner, was honored at a "Victory Dinner," which was attended by 1700 paying guests who heard presidential candidate, U.S. Senator Henry M. Jackson.

I have known many political leaders in my lifetime — bad, good, and better. Harry Lerner rates with the best. Compassionate, considerate, dedicated, no one could ask for more in a political leader. The surprise is that a gentle guy like Harry Lerner is willing to stay in the pit and continue the good fight to maintain a strong two-party system.

God bless him.

I ATTENDED THE RECEPTION for Rev. John S. Olszewski, the new pastor at St. Mary's Church.

Father John, as he prefers to be known, comes to St. Mary's Church after laboring for 26 years in the service of the Lord at a parish in Bayonne, New Jersey. Judging from the radiant faces of the hundreds of parishioners gathered to mark the occasion, it appears that Father John is going to be very comfortable at St. Mary's Church.

Father John follows in the footsteps of some great men, the most recent, Monsignor Feeley, the retired pastor, who carried the burdens of leadership so very well, sometimes under the most trying circumstances.

I wish for Father John good health and happiness as he joins us in the Nutley community.

ONE OF THE MOST EFFICIENT Eastern Airlines counter agents in Fort Lauderdale is Mrs. June O'Malley. Apart from her legendary efficiency, what makes June somebody special to Nutley is that her brother married a Nutley girl. And what do you think? I forgot to get his name. Anyway, to June O'Malley's brother — Welcome to Nutley, and to the bride — Much Happiness.

TOWN HISTORIAN REPORTS

Balloons, wild animals in town

By ALLAN CRISP

Town Historian

Belleville once was the home of Hillside Park, an amusement park which ran on the west side of Washington Avenue from about opposite the present-day Westinghouse plant almost at Greylock Parkway.

At the turn of the century, it grew from a picnic ground next to Thaller's Saloon to a full-size amusement center with a pavilion, roller coaster, swings, all kinds of games and a man-made but spring-fed lake with row boats rented by the hour.

Wild animal cages lined a whole block along what is now Beech Street.

A clear Sunday, during the park's heyday, would bring out as many as 10,000 people from Newark and its environs by way of the trolley cars which ran on both sides of Washington Avenue's dirt road.

Every Sunday afternoon during the season, there was a balloon ascension and parachute jump. The balloons were placed over a pit in which a fire had been built and were filled with hot air and considerable smoke. Some carried baskets beneath, but others just provided for the balloonist to sit on a wooden bar until he jumped.

These balloons were at the mercy of the winds, but were partially controlled by the balloonist who would tip them this way and that. A horse and carriage would set off in the direction the balloon was blown in order to bring back the operator.

The young blades in town chased the balloon, too, as there was a small reward for its return. A one-armed parachutist, who survived many jumps, lost his life in later years in a boating accident.

It was a real occasion when Belleville's Volunteer Fire Department held its annual outing at the park and hired Riley's Band to play at the dance hall.

Entertainment tastes changed over the years, but when the few remaining rides (then operating as Riviera Park) were torn down a number of years ago to make room for homes, the old pavilion was remodeled as one of the pioneer roller skating rinks in this area. I might add that during depression days, a number of marathon dances were held in the dance hall.

Closes book on 37 years

With the end of the current school year, Henry Manasian will step down as School 10 principal. In leaving his post, Manasian closes the ledger on 37 years in the school system — 33 as School 10 principal.

To say Manasian's service spans an historical epoch in Belleville schools is no understatement. Thirty-three years is a long time to be in any position let alone that of a school principal. Children six years-old when Manasian took School 10's reins in 1942 are now 39 years old. He truly has "seen 'em come and seen 'em go" yet Manasian reports things have changed less than might otherwise be expected.

Manasian will be retiring to his fully winterized home in Lavallete down on the Jersey shore. He plans to spend his time fishing and keeping things in shape around the house.

"I guess if I really wanted to stay busy, I'd stay here," Manasian said pointing out he's still three years short of the mandatory retirement age of 70.

The couple will retire to Lavallete in June, but not before receiving a royal sendoff from Manasian's many friends and colleagues.

In recognition of his many years of service, these friends will pay tribute to Manasian at a June 12 banquet to be served up at the Wayne Manor. Two to three-hundred people including many former School 10 students and staff members are expected to be on hand.

Born on February 28, 1908 in Raleigh, North Carolina, Manasian came to manhood in Providence, Rhode Island. He attended Boston University graduating in 1925 whereupon he entered Columbia University Teachers College. He came out of the New York school with a masters degree in education, but didn't stop there.

Manasian was pursuing a doctorate at Harvard when a former classmate told him teaching jobs were available in Salem, New Jersey.

"My advisor told me 'jobs are scarce' and that I'd better take it. I realized the depression was in full swing so went right down there."

Belleville School Superintendent Wayne Palmer chanced to observe Manasian in action teaching commercial subjects in Salem. He offered Manasian a job in Belleville and the future-principal accepted. That was back in 1938.

Of all the programs and special projects undertaken in School 10, none gave Manasian more personal satisfaction than the "Belleville Crier", School 10's student newspaper. Founded in 1954, the paper has received 21 awards from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Summing up 37 years of service to Belleville didn't come easy to Manasian. Trying his best to wind a thread through the experience, Manasian said, "I've never been able to please everyone. But I can safely say that whatever I've done has been for the benefit of the children. I'll miss the children and the school staff most of all, but everyone must make a decision to leave at one time or another. I felt this was the best time for me."

SEEMS ONLY YESTERDAY

Buses rollin'; the teachers sign

By JODI MASSONE

One year ago

After months of walking, balking, and perhaps even "hitching," senior citizens were finally presented with their new 28-passenger bus.

Commissioner of Public Affairs Vincent T. Strumolo and his staff were getting "writer's cramp" writing and sending out identification cards to 1,700 senior citizens, retirees and disabled persons who signed applications which would enable them to ride the bus free of charge.

The blue and gold International bus had only to be registered before it would roll the following Monday on a schedule tentatively set up by the Department of Public Affairs.

A two-year teacher's contract, which disallowed for reopening of salary negotiations after the first year, was finally signed with contract calling for a 4.5 per cent pay hike the following year, and a five per cent increase the next year to the 318 Board of Education members, the single largest group of public employees in Belleville.

The contract was ratified by the Board in a 200-44 vote, with dissenters uneasy about looking into wage increases for two years.

A "first" for Belleville was when 57-year-old Mrs. Lola Mc Dermott turned in her mercury battery pacemaker at Clara Maass Hospital for a new lithium model which would be able to regulate and stimulate the beat of her heart for five to seven years. The unit weighed just about five ounces, and cost a mere $1300 to $1595.

Belleville was preparing to unveil four more historical sites — and they all were churches — St. Peter's on William Street; Christ Church on William and Main; Wesley Methodist on Belleville and Main and the Reformed Church on Rutgers and Main.

Memorial Day rites were scheduled to be observed at three different locations May 27.

Five years ago

"Water, water, everywhere," but there was none to drink! Residents were warned that for approximately three weeks water would be discolored due to the shutting down of a 48 inch water pipe during construction of Route 280. Closing the large pipes taxed smaller lines with increased flow in the pipes stirring up sediment, and therefore producing "muddy" water.

The town paid $300 to put bumps into a road. It sounds strange, but the truth is that some speed demons were driving through Belleville High School's driveways, posing a great threat upon students and teachers, who were walking. Through the addition of macadam mounds, it was hoped that speeders could be slowed down. Signs would be placed at intervals warning drivers of the bumpy road.

Town fathers were expected to approve purchase of a $42,000 property adjacent to the library, in an expansion move.

A $42,000 bonding ordinance which would require four "yes" votes from Commissioners was tabled two weeks before when it came up for a second and final hearing.

The matter was further delayed because of the absence of Commissioner Mary Senatore who was expected to cast the necessary fourth vote for approval.

Commissioner McGreevy said he would reject the purchase.

Gamblers were happy! Exacta wagering was due to start at Monmouth Park in a few weeks.

If you didn't have a car, a bus or train would take you directly to the grandstand. Post time was at 2 p.m., with daily double windows closing at 1:50. You could make it !!!

Howie Halpern was featured in Towne Delicatessen ads. Hilarious sense of humor was no "baloney" and it had nothing to do with his being a "ham" either. His jokes were really witty. For example, his math formula was: the volume of sound in a traffic jam is in ratio to the number of squares at the wheel....

Dog Food Slogan: Tastes just like a mailman's ankle....

Last, but not least, People who drink before they drive are putting the quart before the hearse....

Over 1,000 spectators were on hand when the Junior High School put on its third annual education fair. Every department of the school was represented with its own display or activity.

Reverent Albert Alspach of Lindenwald became pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church. His first act as a newly ordained pastor was to conduct confirmation at the church the following Sunday.

The New Jersey Supreme Court decided to step into the squabble between the Belleville Chamber of Commerce and the Town Council over the set up of a new licensing ordinance.

The trouble started a year before when the idea was first proposed to raise the licensing fees from a dollar for each store to a graduated scale of from $25 to $500 to be figured on the square footage of the premises. The Chamber group thought there should be a standard fee and finally Harry T. French of the Chamber said that after Council-Chamber talks the Council voted to have one attorney from each group get together and suggest changes.

The Belleville High School Band, twirlers, and color guard arrived back in town after having performed at Canada's Expo 67's Band Pavilion.

If you took out a subscription to the Belleville Times at a yearly rate of $4, you also received 500 S&H green stamps. Where did the "boss" get them?

Ten years ago

Citizens Against Dual Control presented a petition with 900 signatures of residents vehemently opposed to the creation of a new school business administrator's position to County Superintendent of Schools William Twichell. Mrs. Anthony Izzo, spokesman for the group, commented that the citizens hopes to add one hundred more names to the petition by the time that it was officially presented to the Board of Education.

Harry Sullivan, a former Belleville Town Commissioner who was Essex County Deputy Sheriff, was to act as master of ceremonies at a public assembly on the steps of Town Hall. The meeting was sponsored and planned by members of the Belleville Civil Rights Commission, a group of citizens appointed by the mayor to "eliminate prejudice, intolerance, bigotry, discrimination, and disorders and help guarantee equal rights for all."

Fifteen years ago

Dr. Frank M. Durkee, assistant superintendent for instruction and curriculum of the Belleville School system was elected president of the New Jersey Secondary School Teachers Association at the group's 29th annual spring conference held at Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

Belleville was winding up its participation in "Operation Alert 1960," the nationwide civil defense exercise which had started on May 3. Ludwig Pesa, local civil defense director, said that traffic control was perfect, and praised Police Chief George Spatz and his force. He was alarmed, however, that problems involving radiation, fallout patterns and local resources for education were not quite up to par. Pesa said that to achieve an evacuation in time it would be necessary for a three or four day advance notice of alert.

Fifty-five years ago

It was a birthday! The First Reformed Church was 220 years old. The Reverend DeWitt Talmadge had started his ministry there.

There was an election in town. Republicans cast 593 ballots. Senator Johnson carried the town 326 to 247 for General Wood.

Summer was almost here, and commissioners were starting to "take off."

Road Commissioner John McCarthy, with his wife and two daughters picked Asbury Park as the place to spend a long week-end! It's still one of the nicest places on the Jersey shore!

Bicentennial Commission has many plans

The regular meeting of the Belleville Bicentennial Commission was held this week at Christ Church, on Essex Street and Washington Avenue.

Speaking at the meeting, Dr. Frederick Long, Chairman of the Commission and Pastor of Christ Church, made note of the projects currently under consideration by the Commission:

- application to the Federal Bicentennial Commission to have Belleville designated as a Bicentennial Community.
- plans to publish Richard

Shafter's "History of Belleville," search for a building to be used as a Belleville Heritage House.

- development of a course of study for the teaching of Belleville History.
- plans for the 1976 Cherry Blossom Parade which will be known as the Bicentennial Parade in '76.
- plans for a special 4th of July celebration, and in the near future, June 12, plans for a program at the Junior High School under the direction of Mrs. Betty Forte, Head of the Social Science Department at the school.

The recent dedication of School number one, Rutgers Bridge and the site of the first Fire House with historic markers was part of Belleville's Bicentennial celebration co-sponsored by the Belleville Historical Society, the Belleville Board of Education and the Belleville Bicentennial Commission.

Serving as members of the Commission are Dr. Frederick Long, Chairman, Gerard R. Hickey, Secretary, Mrs. Richard Shafter, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Landolfe, Miss Frances Williamson, Harry French, Joseph Doyle, and Mrs. Viola Mitchell.

The next meeting of the Commission is scheduled for Monday, June 2 at 8 p.m. at Christ Church Parish Hall.

Project SOAR is sweeping success

The Scouts of Belleville aimed at retaining communities' clean characters.

Refreshments for the boys and their leaders were provided by the Optimist Club and the Marotti Association.

Scout Troops 375 and 372 and Packs 377 and 372 participated in SOAR by conducting cleanup projects for their sponsors.

Participating in the Essex Street cleanup were: Packs 305, 322, 350, 387, and 388 and Scout Troops 302 and 364. Ralph Salzano was chairman of SOAR.

Rotary hears prof's talk on crisis

Dr. Jonathan Lurie of Rutgers Newark College of Arts and Sciences was the guest speaker recently at the Belleville Rotary Club luncheon meeting at the Fountain Restaurant.

His topic was "Crisis in New Jersey Government," a forthright examination of the state's problems in fiscal matters, administrative personnel and tax policies. Dr. Lurie has been a member of the Rutgers history faculty since 1969 except for a year's leave of absence when he was a Visiting Liberal Arts Fellow in Law and History at the Harvard Law School.

His lecture was arranged through the auspices of the Rutgers Newark Speakers Bureau.

Sabre Cadets hit parade in Connecticut

The Sabre Cadets Drum and Bell Corps. recently returned from a trip to Connecticut where they marched for the VFW in the Loyalty Day Parade.

The Cadets, who have completed their annual color guard shows for the season, have just entered their parade season, and more recently performed in the Vailsburg Festival Day and the 100th Anniversary Centennial Union Truck and Bucket Company parades.

The group, sponsored by Belleville American Legion Post 105, is comprised of 45 boys and girls ranging in ages from 10 to 18, and is commanded by Ray Kinsley, under the direction of Carol Nenzenes.

Anyone interested in joining the Cadets is asked to come to School Eight, Union Avenue, any Tuesday from 7 until 8:30 p.m., or to call 751-5097.

Local 370 honors Frank at dinner

Local No. 370, I.U.E., AFL-CIO honored past president Steve H. Frank at its Retiree Dinner-Dance at the White Eagle Manor, Bloomfield.

Frank, who previously was chief shop steward and vice-president retired from the Wallace & Tiernan Division of Pennwalt Corporation, and is now conducting an entertainment management project "Gateway to Pleasure" (Ltd.). He is a member of the Branch Brook-Belleville Kiwanis Club, L.O.O. Moose Lodge No. 237 and B.P.O. Elks Lodge No. 1123, both of Belleville.

Over 180 members of Local No. 370 were present, including Helen Connors, Harriet Hilligard, Charles Putz, Manuel Rodrigues, Asa Berry and John Daniels, also retirees.

William Murphy, President of 370 served as the master of ceremonies, while Gertrude O'Hara was chairlady of the event. Assisting were Helen Rupinski, Fran Collucci, Helynn Gilbert, James Lauduti, Elio Gonzalez and Andy Knotch.

Total eclipse of moon will be seen Saturday

There'll be no "Moon Over Miami" this Saturday in fact the rest of the United States will be "lunarless" as well.

The moon will go into the first phases of a total eclipse at 10:59 p.m.

Lions celebrate 50th anniversary

The Belleville Lions Club recently celebrated its 50th anniversary at a gala dinner dance held at the Town and Campus in West Orange.

The club's 50th years of service to the community was started on April 18, 1925, when, sponsored by the Rutherford Lions Club, it received its charter from Lions International.

During the course of the evening, during which 30 couples danced to the music of Jerry Ziering, awards for years of service were presented to members by Bob Williams, club president.

Among those honored for exceptional years of service were Charlie Gebhardt, Will Yudin, Harry Zeigler, Paul De Hagara, Donald Bray, Dave Robbins, and Bill Smith, Sr.

A highlight of the evening was Lion Bob Kennedy's congenial 'Roast' of fellow members.

The 50th Anniversary committee included Henry Louis, Frank Pomaso, Ed Howell, and Harry Ziegler, chairman.

Fifty years of public service were celebrated recently by the Belleville Lions Club. Doing the honors on the cake marking the occasion, are (left) Harry Ziegler, anniversary dinner chairman; and Robert Williams, Lions Club president.

NOTICE OF CHANGE IN BOARD OF EDUCATION REGULAR MEETING DATE AND PLACE FOR MAY

The Regular meeting of the Belleville Board of Education for the month of May, 1975, will be held on Tuesday, May 27, 1975, at 8:00 P.M. in the Senior High School Auditorium, 100 Passaic Avenue, Belleville.

FREE HEART ATTACK PREVENTION EXAM!

Sponsored by The Nutley Health Department in cooperation with the National Heart and Lung Institute*

This is good news for men in the 35 to 57 age bracket. They can have a free checkup that will tell them whether they are risking a heart attack. A team of medical technicians will test age eligible men for the primary factors: High cholesterol level, hypertension (often called the silent killer) and smoking habits.

The program is part of a Federally funded national study called the Multiple Risk Factor Intervention Trial, (Mr. Fit) which is seeking to determine whether early heart attacks can be prevented by literally intervening in these risk categories.

If a participant is found to be among those with high risk factors, he is offered two additional screenings, including a complete physical and an exercise electrocardiogram.

On the basis of these tests, if the man is found eligible, he is accepted into a program by a team of physicians, nutritionists and behavioral psychologists for a six year period, entirely free.

The best way to beat a heart attack is not to let it happen.

P.P. Perugino, carpenter

Requiem mass was held at St. Peter's Church May 17 for Patrick P. Perugino, 71, who died May 14 at Mountainside Hospital, Glen Ridge.

Mr. Perugino, who was born in Newark lived in Belleville for the past 22 years. He was a retired carpenter, having previously been employed by ITT Avionics Nutley for 27 years. He was a member of the Quarter Century Club there.

He is survived by his wife, Sylvia Matullo Perugino; a daughter, Marie Juliano of Highlands; two sons, Jerry Porcello of Bloomfield and Alfonso Porcello of Belleville; a brother, Vito Perugino of Bloomfield, and eight grandchildren.

The Gorny & Gorny Funeral Home, Bloomfield, took care of the funeral arrangement, and burial took place in Bloomfield Cemetery.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

On Thursday, May 8 we went to the Senior Citizens Jamboree at the South Mountain Arena. A good time was had by all, we think.

There was entertainment put on by seniors, very good. We were represented by Vito DelGurcio, a musician. He was the best. There were booths staffed by Federal, State and County agencies. All to inform us of their various functions.

And oh yes, Governor Byrne arrived with his entourage and gave a speech about what he hoped to accomplish for the benefit of the senior citizens of the State. When? we wondered.

He mentioned that we, as seniors, deserved to be able to afford our own homes when we retire. I'll go along with that!

A voice cried out, "How about some tax relief for the senior homeowner and the renter?" No one paid any attention. We get the feeling that we are being treated like second-class citizens by the state.

The Homestead Act has been up for consideration for quite a spell and if this piece of legislation, with or without the circuit breaker clause, would give us seniors some tax relief, I say let's get on with it! Do we have to wait until a State income tax is passed before anything else takes precedence?

If this does come to pass, we'll be collecting with one hand and paying out with the other. This we do not deserve.

Arthur Benacquista, 59; was a Belleville baker

Funeral mass was said in St. Lucy's Church, Newark, for Arthur Benacquista, 59, who died May 14 at Clara Maass Hospital.

Mr. Benacquista, who was a resident of Newark, was born in Belleville, and was a pastry baker with Alexander's Bakery, Belleville, for the last ten years. He was a Navy veteran of World War II. He is survived by his wife, Mildred; a son, Henry; two brothers, Alfred and George; three sisters, Mrs. Helen Ferraro, Mrs. Yolanda Mollozzi and Mrs. Connie Kelly, and three grandchildren.

The funeral was from the Berardinelli Funeral Home, Newark.

T.E. Byrne, 64; former resident

Funeral mass was held May 20 for Thomas E. Byrne, formerly of Belleville, at St. Peter's Church. Mr. Byrne died May 17 in Presbyterian Hospital, Newark. A resident of Belleville until 15 years ago, he was 64.

Born in Belleville, Mr. Byrne was a retired postal worker. He was also an Army veteran of World War II.

Mr. Byrne is survived by his wife, Helen C. (Hall); two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Eustice and Miss Constance Caruso, both of Newark; a son, James V. Caruso of College Park, Ga.; a brother, Daniel of Belleville; two sisters, Mrs. Julia May and Mrs. Winifred Moniot, both of Belleville, and six grandchildren.

Services were handled by the Kiernan Funeral Home. Interment was in East Ridgewall Cemetery, Clifton.

Janet Jackson, bookkeeper

Funeral services were held May 17 for Mrs. Janet Jackson, 53, who died May 14 in Passaic General Hospital.

Mrs. Jackson, who was born in Rutherford lived in Belleville for 17 years, and was employed as a bookkeeper with the Home Help Services of Passaic County, Passaic.

She is survived by her husband, Robert; a daughter,

Carol; two sons, Douglas and Scott; her mother, Mrs. Frederick Hugo; three sisters, Mrs. Betty Paten and Elsie and Helen Hugo, and four brothers, Frederick, Benjamin, Frank and Donald Hugo.

The John T. Collins Funeral Home, Rutherford, took charge of the funeral arrangements.

Local AARP to install its officers

Thursday, June 5, the Belleville Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons, just recently incorporated, will hold installation of officers at Fewsmith Presbyterian Church, with Reverend Alfred Stone officiating.

Officers elected for the coming year are: President, Frank J. Wolenski; First Vice President, Herman Horman; Second Vice President, Ernest Arvidson; Treasurer, Marie I. Wolenski; Assistant Treasurer, Robert Metcalf; Recording Secretary, Catherine Seemar and Corresponding Secretary, Evelyn Hollowell.

Roberta Wertz and Herb Orth are members of the Board of Directors of the organization. Marie Shafter serves as nominating chairlady.

Besides the installation of new officers, Mrs. Roberta Wertz, program chairlady, has arranged for a local florist to put on a program of flower arranging and decorating.

Plans are in the making for a bus ride to the Old Westbury Gardens in Long Island during the month of June.

The group does not plan to hold any meetings during the months of July and August.

Mrs. Zajac, 80

Funeral mass was said May 17 in St. John's Ukrainian Catholic Church, Newark, for Mrs. Pauline Zajac, 80, who died May 14 in Clara Maass Hospital.

Born in the Ukraine, Mrs. Zajac lived in Newark before moving to Belleville two years ago. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mary Kapuscinski and Mrs. Anna Tekula, five grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The funeral was from the Johnsee Nutley Home for Funerals.

Buying a new house isn't the only way to have a new home.

How about a luxurious, step-in, soaking tub? Or, maybe just fixtures that don't leak and a place to stash the towels?

If you need another bedroom, bathroom, playroom or fireplace-room, add it on without adding to your mortgage.

New appliances and room to move around are often the best ingredients for good cooking.

Whether you want more room, more luxury, or repairs to catch minor things before they blossom into major disasters, we can give you a loan to improve your home.

We'll arrange very livable monthly payments and if you have a checking account with us, we can deduct your payments automatically.

Meanwhile, you'll have made an investment you can enjoy living in while the value's growing. And you get to have your new house without a new mortgage, new neighborhood, new taxes and new problems.

Come in and talk to us about a home improvement loan at any office of Midlantic National Bank or call us at 266-6000.

With your imagination and our money, we can do beautiful things.

We're your size bank.

ROME OR NUTLEY?? — Is this an outdoor cafe in the heart of Rome? No, it's the garden of Kingsland Manor where a Roman Feast of heroic proportions will be offered June 1. As Mrs. Joseph Greco provides the background music, Mrs. Wallace Cox offers Mrs. William Purpura a sample of the Chianti wine which diners can enjoy with the lasagne, stuffed shells, sausage etc. Bread donated by Zinicola's Bakery of Nutley and Italian ices donated by Jackie's of Belleville, will add special touches to the banquet.

That's Italian! Roman Feast June 1 at Kingsland Manor

A Roman Feast, unlike any ever attempted by a volunteer group anywhere will be held June 1 at Kingsland Manor, starting at 5 p.m.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Community Mental Health Service of Belleville, Bloomfield, and Nutley are preparing for a Roman Holiday. Every dish will be homemade from some of the oldest recipes in our area and some of the best cooks will be preparing them. Such favorites as baked lasagne, stuffed shells, egg plant parmesian, Italian sausages, baked ziti and salads galore, fruit and melons, warm buttered Italian bread donated by the Zinicola Bakery of Nutley, Chianti wine by the gallon and finally homemade Italian ices donated by Jackie's of Belleville.

Strolling musicians playing and singing your favorite continental songs will add the finishing touches to a perfect dinner on the patio of beautiful Kingsland Manor.

Auxiliary president, Mrs. Richard Quigley has appointed Mrs. Roy Imhoff as overall chairman, assisted by Mrs. Lenora Keeney of Belleville and Mrs. John Severs of Bloomfield. Mrs. John Goodson of Nutley is in charge of reservations. All members of the Auxiliary were sent invitations but the public is invited to attend. They may do so by calling any of the above chairman or Mrs. Goodson for reservations.

Blood pressure testing done at Mountainside

The Mountainside Hospital, Montclair, joined area hospitals May 11 through 17 in celebrating National Hospital Week, and its theme, A Constant Concern for a Healthy Community.

And emphasizing this concern for a healthy community, free blood pressure testing will be given every Wednesday during the month.

"Good health of its residents is perhaps the community's most basic resource," Executive Vice President John C. Imhoff said as he announced the annual observance of hospital week sponsored jointly by the American Hospital Association and its 7,000 member institutions.

Community residents are invited to visit the Noyes Ambulatory Care Center on the first floor from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on any Wednesday in May. Blood pressure will be checked and referrals to physicians made for patients whose pressure is too high.

Ambulatory, or outpatient, care is an important part of the National Hospital Week theme because it is presently the most efficient route to the goal of more health services for more health services for more community people.

The ambulatory care unit registers patients who are sent to the hospital by physicians for a diagnostic or therapeutic procedure and go home the same day. Costs saved by not admitting patients overnight can be significant.

Ambulatory services involves many hospital departments — laboratories, radiology, radiation therapy, electrocardiography, electroencephalography, respiratory therapy, rehabilitation medicine, audiology and speech pathology, the social service department and its alcohol treatment center.

Also, the outpatient department, used by patients who cannot afford private physicians, offer a range of twenty-three primary and specialty clinics. These are staffed by the hospital's attending physicians who donate their time and medical service.

Fifty-five years ago, leaders in the health care field established a National Hospital Day to commemorate the one-hundredth anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale whose efforts led to the improvement of the hospital systems in England and America. In 1953, this day was extended to a week-long observance.

Also during National Hospital Week, the Auxiliary of The Mountainside Hospital will distribute special pamphlets to patients describing the week and Mountainside's concern for patient care.

The Auxiliary also brought corsages to all the new mothers in the maternity unit on Mother's Day.

A display in the hospital lobby during the week explains why health care cost have increased over the past few years.

"If we are to meet the needs of Mountainside's communities today, and still continue to meet the needs of tomorrow, community concern is essential," Mr. Imhoff said.

Spray saves birch leaves for miners

Do your birch trees develop brown leaves by mid-July? If they do, your trees have probably been attacked by the birch leaf miner.

Adult birch leaf miners are small black sawflies that lay their eggs in newly-expanding birch leaves. Adult activity begins in early May and continues about 2 weeks.

When the eggs hatch, the young larvae cause damage to leaves by mining between the upper and lower leaf surfaces.

There may be three or four generations of birch leaf miner during the growing season. The first two generations are the most injurious.

William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County, recommends dimethcate (Aygon or DeFend) or Meta-Systox-R, or an all purpose type garden spray labeled for birch leaf miner control.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION of Medical Assistants, State of New Jersey, Essex Chapter, elected officers for 1975-76. Above, Mrs. Veronica Daly, president; Mrs. Patricia Kosty, president elect; Mrs. Irene Hess, immediate past president and Miss Jo Anne Franciose, vice president. The first meeting for the 1975-76 term will be in September at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

MATTHEW MALUTICH, two, cuddles closer to Turtle Back Zoo's animal keeper, Helen Freiermuth for a better look at Dasha, the zoo's new eight week old Siberian tiger cub. The zoo is open all year around from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sundays and holidays. Turtle Back Zoo is located at 560 Northfield Avenue, West Orange.

BROWSING..... BELLEVILLE

with Pat Diana

(write me at 104 Overlook Ave or phone 751-6861 after 6 pm)

Met some very nice folks the other day - hello to Ralph and Marion DeBlasio...they own "The End Zone" on Franklin Avenue in Nutley - a spot to quench your thirst and have a hearty sandwich, also. One interesting thing about The End Zone is their collection of records on the juke — real oldtimers that bring back memories...they say the younger generation loves 'em, tmo. Do stop by and have some lunch, Marion's a great cook and Ralph a grand host.

I neglected putting in a special note to my mother, Doris Murphy, for Mother's Day...mom, you're the greatest, ever? When I was young and mom went to work, she would write daily instructions in a little book for my older brother to take care of me...such as: "Bill, put the pink ribbons in Patti's pigtails...here's 5¢ - you may each get an ice cream cone". In those days, milk was 9¢/gallon and eggs 43¢/dozen. I have that book which I'll treasure always for such notes as to my sister Lorraine or Eve: "Patti's cutting up today - ignore her." I hate often done the same while raising Linda and Sue, making notes to them on what to do, eat, or whatever when they come home from school and I'm at work. Wonder if they've saved any of my "jottings"?

Did you read last week's paper? On page two was an article about the Kiwanis Club of Branch Brook Belleville Inc. They had my big brudder Tom Murphy as their guest speaker. In the pic, the caption was reversed, Tom was the handsome guy on the left, Frank Pitt was the handsome guy on the right. Tom invented a golf club called The Pendulum Putter which instantly improves your putting or your money back...only thing not in the article was how to contact Tom if you are interested in a golf club or if you want him to give a program for your group. You may write him at 48 Oakley Way, Wayne, or Call 694-3080...

Tom's wife, Dorene, (they are both former residents) also has oodles of talent. With her daughter, Mickey Morley, she has opened: "Murphy's Country Store" at 409 Ramapo Valley Road (Route 202, North) and where they will feature handmade gingham and gifts. A lot of the items my mother makes will be on sale too, such as patchwork aprons. Nobody has anything around like Dorene and Mickey, so if you take a ride, they are opened Wednesday through Sunday 10-5, or you may call them OX4-3080 to make an appointment. They are in an old house which also has - for your browsing pleasure - antiques and leathercraft goods by other merchants. Good luck in your new venture, Dorene and Mickey.

Congratulations on your 40th anniversary, Uno an Gunbord Anderson of Berkeley Avenue. A surprise party was given them by their children Marilyn Nearey of Belmar, Alan of Alvonina Michigan and Ronald of Niantic Connecticut with all their families. The event was held at Ronald's home. While the title was "wedding anniversary" the couple also celebrated their birthdays. Mr. Anderson retired from Mason Metal Works of Newark recently. Friends and relatives from four states were on hand which made it a real reunion. Gunbord (nee Eliasson) and Uno met as children in Sweden; they are planning a happy 39th wedding anniversary to the ever-popular Lou and Ruth Long. The date was April 25th - hope you have many, many more.

Lou, of Olympic Lanes, tells us summer bowling leagues are getting under way - if interested, phone him at 751-2111.

Talent will out - and Marie Rainone, who was president of the Belleville Junior High PTA from 69-70 was recently installed as president of BJHS-PTA for 74-75 congratulations. She is also president of the Secretaries Association...seems a goal was reached when the "12-month girls" joined with the "10-month girls" of BOE secretaries. We'd also like to say Happy Birthday, Marie - May 24th.

Watch this paper for the announcement - the Roche Players will present "Guys & Dolls" - the employees from Hoffman-LaRoche will perform the event to benefit the community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley. Some of the participants from Belleville include Lyn Hagstrom, Mary Ann Gambacorta, Dianne Lollar and Katherine Crow.

The Belleville Elementary Instrumental Music Department, under the direction of Mr. Sellitti, Mr. Evans and Mr. Gizzi will once again present their fantastic "Elementary Instrumental Music Festival" on May 29th 8 pm at BHS...announcements are in this newspaper for complete details. The all Elementary Orchestra performed for Schools 10, 4, 5 and 7 on Tuesday May 20; and Schools 8, 9, 2 and 3 on Thursday May 22nd. On June 3, the combined Orchestra and Band will present a special concert at the Lenox School in Pompton Lakes...we surely have the finest Music Department in the State of New Jersey...do support the efforts of the kids and the unceasing enthusiasm, talent and expertise of the teachers.

I missed the General Meeting and Talent Show at School Four in April. The kids were great and talent included guitar and piano solos, songs, dancing, an Indian song and dance group, etc. Under the direction of teacher Mrs. Nagistro, the students performed admirably. Anthony Gammaro played the guitar, Ronald Charles, Matthew Pitera, Ronald Good, Dominick Papianni and Bobby Charles were some more youngsters. Sue Peppitone and Angela Saulino were at the piano while Mary Grace Salvano danced.

Announcer was Kenneth Constantino...other youngsters who took part in the show were: Tina Charles, Colleen Donnelly, Lisa Sylvestro, Mary Grace Valvano, Susanne Peppitone, Suzanne Ruglio, Angela Saulino, Lisa Procello, Toni Yobbi, Debbi LaBar, Lou Giovannelli, Anthony Gammaro, Frances Patrizio, Rosemarie Buono, Donna Pravata.

Also: Lisa Lombardi, Diane Provata, Danielle Burt, Joseph Boud, Tracey Olivio, Natalie Casale, Jodi Rossi, Vicki Raimo, Theresa Violante, Ronald Coco, Ronald Goode, Matthew Pitera and Dom Papianni.

Of dirt, sneakers and mud

Helen's thing

by Helen Maguire

ROD HAS a pile of dirt in the backyard which he is planning to use to fill in some hollow spots. The kids spent most of the weekend playing in it, constructing caves for dinosaurs and prehistoric villages and having in general, a marvelous time.

Although a goodly portion of the dirt got carted into the house ("Your kitchen floor looks like a mudpie," said Gavin) I wasn't particularly concerned since the time they spent in the dirt kept them out of our hair and Rod and I made a valiant effort to get the yard cleaned up.

I DON'T KNOW whether fatigue or poor hearing or preoccupation with planting an azalea kept me from recognizing potential disaster when Ryan carried the first pitcher of water outside and dumped it into a hole in the dirt pile. I "came to" when the fourth pitcher emerged from the house and at this point, I had enough wits to forbid any more H₂O. What I didn't have enough wits to forbid was them playing in what had become a huge mudpie until nature had taken its course and the thing had dried out. Crediting my children with a goodly measure of intelligence, I guess I just assumed that mama's disenchantment with the water bit would translate into "Stay away from the dirt and find something else to do."

Rod and I adjourned to the front yard to continue our gardening efforts and peace reigned for approximately ten minutes. Then all you know what broke loose. Shrieks, verging on the inhuman, reached our ears from the rear and as he ran around the outside of our dwelling, I took the house route and hit the kitchen just as the source of the shrieks came in the back door. It was Erin Louise and all that could be seen of her left foot from toes to ankle was liquid dripping mud. Her sneaker, less than 24 hours old, mind you, purchased only the day before and barely broken in, was nowhere in sight.

AS I COMFORTED this weeping child and stripped the sock from her foot and dispatched her upstairs for clean pants, socks and foot gear, my son, the water bearer, appeared holding at arm's length something unrecognizable. "Where's her sneaker?" I demanded. "Right here," said Ryan. "She got it stuck in the mud and when I tried to help her out, the sneaker came off and her foot and got dirty." That kid has a talent for understatement.

I laughed. What else could I do? Then I dispatched Ryan for the offending pitcher, sent Gavin into the cellar to turn on the outside water, threatened Nora with instant retribution if she mentioned sneakers or mud to her sister and surveyed the kitchen floor which now resembled the Grand Canyon of mudpies.

RYAN'S EFFORTS and a goodly amount of water worked wonders with the sneaker. The blue began to emerge from the muck after a few dunkings and a session in the washer and dryer completed the salvation. Wouldn't life be incredibly dull with kids?

Junior Woman's Club hosts learning disabilities program

The Junior Woman's Club of Belleville recently hosted a program from the New Jersey Association for Children With Learning Disabilities. The program was presented by Dr. Vincent Aniello.

Dr. Aniello's subject matter centered around the function of the N.J.A.C.L.D. and what comprises learning disabilities in children. The organization, which was formed in the 1960's by interested parents, performs numerous services for children who are diagnosed as learning disabled. Anyone interested in further information on the association may write to N.J.A.C.L.D. at P.O. Box 249, Convent Station, New Jersey.

The program was of particular interest to Belleville Juniors because the Association is one of the two year projects selected by the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs which clubs are encouraged to support through service work and contributions.

The evening was arranged by Mrs. Benjamin Pickover, Literature and Education Chairman.

Newcomers Family Picnic Sunday, June 1

A theatre party will take the place of the May meeting of the Newcomers Club of the Montclair-North Essex YWCA. A group of Newcomers will see "Irene" at the Paper Mill Playhouse. The next regular meeting will be held at the YWCA on the evening of Wednesday, June 11.

Janet Dunn of Upper Montclair was the guest of honor at a surprise luncheon on May 8. Ms. Dunn was presented with a gift from the many Newcomers attending the luncheon which was held at the home of Georgetown Caminiti, also of Upper Montclair.

Plans are being made for a family picnic to take place at Brookdale Park on Sunday afternoon, June 1. Families new to the North Essex area are invited and should phone Carol DeBeer at the Y (746-5400) for further information.

ENJOYING the Literary Tea are Mrs. Robert Mattheis, State Honor Roll Chairman of the N.J. State Federation, Mrs. David Secunda and Mrs. W. Douglas Clark.

Woman's Club enjoys annual literary tea

The Literature Department of the Woman's Club of Belleville held its Annual Literary Tea on April 30 at the Club House on Rossmore Place. Chairman of the Tea was Mrs. Richard A. Shafter, Fine Arts Department Chairman of the Club and Literature Chairman of the Clubs of Eighth District.

The Tea honors the winners of the Junior High School Essay Contest sponsored by the Club. Each winner is presented with a book award. This year the subject of the essays was a Bicentennial theme, "The New Jersey Signers of the Declaration."

The Bicentennial Chairman of the Club, Mrs. Chauncey Keeney, dressed in a Colonial costume made by her, opened the program of the day with a patriotic verse and led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Guests were then welcomed by the Club President, Mrs. W. Douglas Clark, and recognized by Mrs. Shafter.

Honored guests were Mrs. Joseph Elekes, Vice President of the Clubs of Eighth District, Mrs. Paul Witting former District Vice President, and State Federation Officers and Chairmen: Mrs. Blossom Cale, Mrs. Robert Mattheis, Mrs. Norman Ferrara and Mrs. David Secunda. And from our town, Mayor Joseph McGreevy; Miss Jean Bruno and Miss Mary Ann Vitello, representing the English Department of the Junior High School; Mario DiMaggio, Principal of the School; Seymour Grossman, Assistant Superintendent of Schools; Mr. Gallolombardi, Principal of No. 5 School; Robert Cook, Director of the Recreation Department; Donald Hock, Assistant Director of the Office of Volunteers of Clara Maass

Hospital; Gerard Hickey, Director of the Belleville Public Library; Mrs. Andrea Cohn, Assistant Director of the Library.

A review of "Alistair Cook's America" was presented by Miss Ruth J. Hogan, Vice President of the Club. The Club's Chorus then sang "Our New Jersey", an original composition by Miss Edith M. Richards, Chairman of the Music Department, which won third prize in the State Music contest for the Federation of Women's Clubs of New Jersey.

The awards were presented by Mrs. Secunda, Literature Chairman for the N.J. State Federation of Women's Clubs. Essay contest winners were: from the 7th grade, Adam Frank for his essay on John Hart, Chris Musmanna for his essay on Francis Hopkinson; from the 8th grade, Randi Paul for her essay on Abraham Clark, Gina Marie Stoia, a winner last year also, for her essay on Richard Stockton; from the 9th grade, Louise Meo, a winner in the 7th grade, for her essay on Richard Stockton, Susan Carissimo for her essay on Francis Hopkinson.

The reading of the essays by the authors received loud applause and many expressions of pride and commendation. The young people were accompanied by their parents and other family members.

The program was concluded with the singing of "God Bless America" during which Mrs. Keeney in costume formed a tableau holding the flag extended, while Miss Richards accompanied the singing on the piano.

The tea table carried out the Bicentennial theme and everyone enjoyed the delicious refreshments.

TV discussion of N.J. Primary

The results of the New Jersey Legislative primary and how they will affect the November election will be discussed on New Jersey News: Special Report to be broadcast live Wednesday June 4 at 9:30 p.m. on Channels 50.

Betty Adams, Legislative correspondent, will host an informal discussion with James Dugan, New Jersey Democratic Party Chairman and Webster Todd, New Jersey Republican Chairman.

All 8 assembly seats are up for grabs in the November election. The state chairmen will examine the implications of the primary election results on the November election, analyze the potential impact of the primary results on the composition of the legislature and discuss the possible impact on the 1976 election.

MRS. W. DOUGLAS CLARK joins Mrs. Norman Ferrara, Northern Vice Chairman of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Richard A. Shafter, Chairman of the Tea and Literature Chairman of the Clubs of the Eight District and Mrs. William Chapman, secretary-treasurer of the Literature Department of the Woman's Club of Belleville, at the Literary Tea.

Friendly House progress told by Commissioner

Commissioner Michael Marotti was the guest speaker at the workshop meeting of the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville in April. His topic was the Friendly House.

Club members were anxious to hear about the progress accomplished at the Friendly House because the Friendly House is the Club's Community Improvement Project for 1975-6. This project is entered in the nationwide contest sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Sears Roebuck Company.

Since last year Belleville Juniors have sponsored various programs to raise money to be used to help decorate the interior of Friendly House. These have included aluminum recycling, furniture sales and recycling old bowling balls from the building. To date members have raised over four hundred dollars towards the restoration of the Friendly House.

Commissioner Marotti stated that part of the building is in use at the present and that the entire building is scheduled to open in June.

Mrs. Samuel Giuffrida and Mrs. William Sayegh, co-chairmen for the CIP project presented the Commissioner with a decorated bowling pin from the Friendly House as a memento of the program.

Sisterhood met for program on fire prevention

The Sisterhood of Congregation Ahavath Achim met May 20, in Sisterhood Hall.

The program for the evening featured Captain Dunleavy of the Belleville Fire Department who demonstrated fire prevention in the home. A question and answer period followed and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Kate Dunsky is the Program vice-president and Mrs. Lila Tuchman is the Sisterhood President.

There may be nothing new under the sun but the present generation is seeing it for the first time.

New leaders divide departments

Marotti's jurisdiction.

The post of Assistant Town Attorney, not mentioned in 1971's resolutions and presently vacant, falls to Strumolo.

According to Mayor Marotti and Commissioner Strumolo, the Town Attorney's office was shifted to Public Affairs in order to "consolidate" what had previously been a divided department. Scott's secretary, noted Strumolo, was already on the Public Affairs payroll.

"Vinnie asked for it," explained the new Mayor. "He had half of it and wanted the other half. They (the other Commissioners) finally agreed on it."

Reliable Times/News sources, however, say the move may have been part of a plan by Marotti, Strumolo, and McGreevy to limit the authority of both Mrs. Senatore and Saletta. Three votes are required to effect any reorganizational change.

Though Marotti and Strumolo denied it — "You'll hear a lot of stories," said Strumolo — as early as last Friday Saletta was already taking steps to head off the plan, which reportedly included moving the Building Department away from Mrs. Senatore.

Last Thursday or Friday, Times/News sources report, a concerned and slightly annoyed Saletta visited Nutley Mayor Carmen Orechio, who was coincidentally present at Tuesday's inaugural. Saletta, sources say, was seeking advice on his position, and was particularly curious about whether he had any legal recourse under the Walsh Act against a majority bloc action. Nutley is also managed through a Commission government.

A meeting among Marotti, Strumolo and McGreevy had already been held at that time, said Saletta.

Marotti, questioned Tuesday, admitted there was a meeting, but said "We spoke on the mayorship — that's all. On departments we met Monday."

Saletta, who had been unable to reach Marotti when contacted last Friday by the Times/News, said he was prepared to hold a press conference if he did not get any satisfaction from Marotti.

"If they (Marotti, Strumolo and McGreevy) attempt to pull what I think they're pulling, they're in for a big surprise," said Saletta. "I don't feel this is right."

Mrs. Senatore, also contacted Friday, said she didn't know if anything was transpiring at all. "I haven't been to Town Hall since Tuesday," she said. Though saying she believed McGreevy and Scott were "calling the shots," she nevertheless was prepared to vote for Marotti as mayor. "The top vote-getter gets the mayor," she said. "That's the way it should be."

Mrs. Senatore also said she would be glad to be rid of the Shade Tree Department. "He (Marotti) can have it with my blessings." That portion of her job, she said, has been a constant source of aggravation. Despite her vote in favor of Scott's reappointment, it is wide-spread knowledge that Commissioner Senatore considers him a political adversary.

Tuesday, at the inaugural ceremonies (attended to overflowing by various supporters, Town employees, clergymen, school officials and the Commissioners' families) the freshly installed officials pledge future unity.

"We're back here to do a job," said Strumolo to the crowd, "and I know we're going to work together."

Saletta, particularly, stressed the importance of unity, adding that "I want to bring Belleville back to the people."

Marotti, who declined the mayoralty four years ago, said he would do his best to "move the town forward."

Commissioner McGreevy, who leaves the mayoralty after four years service there, said he was pleased "to honor a gentleman's agreement made four years ago" by nominating Marotti for the mayoralty.

"I'll second that motion," chimed in Strumolo. Marotti's unanimous election was followed by the audience's wild applause.

Mrs. Senatore, in accepting her office, promised to "do everything in my power to make it a good four years."

Planning Board wants authority

Tax dollars are being spent for professional consultants and attorneys, note the members, but little interest in the Board's progress in developing a master plan has been shown. Requests by the Board to various other governmental bodies for ideas and information have been, for the most part, ignored; and Belleville's development continues in what some Planners feel is a piece-meal and haphazard fashion.

Unlike the Planning Boards of surrounding towns, the Belleville Board, says its newly-appointed attorney Thomas DiBiasi, has no authority to review site plans or to rule on subdivisions.

Board chairman Joseph A. Grande and other members have also expressed concern over a possible duplication of efforts by the recently formed Commercial and Industrial Development Committee and the Board of Adjustment.

Politics may also figure into the Planning Board's problem.

While the Planning Board's legal authority under Belleville's governmental structure is presently being researched, the general consensus among the Planners is that the Zoning Board is presently acting in a pseudo-planning capacity, mostly by default. The Planning Board's by-laws allow for both boards to share a common member, but presently this is not the case. One School Board member may also serve on the Planning Board, and thought is being given to including a C&I committee member in the Planning Board's activity.

Initially, the Planners will most likely approach the Town Commission to request correction of their plight. Exactly when that request will be made, however, is uncertain, and may depend on the results of inter-Board discussions and legal limitations.

The beginning— Rocco Saletta, entering his first four-year term as Belleville Commissioner of Public Safety, is sworn in by Judge Edward Abramson during inaugural ceremonies Tuesday. Saletta's daughter holds the Bible.

Temple denies relocation

Limiting the weekend schedule to two services.

Membership in the congregation has dropped from 180 families 10 years ago to the current level of 90 families. Robbins attributed the dramatic decline of Belleville's Jewish population to a lack of young families replacing those which move or gradually fade away.

Ahavath Achim's declining membership in part prompted the Y's interest in the Academy Street Temple. But the Y wasn't the only party to connect the membership decline with a possible interest in selling the temple.

Robbins insisted the congregation is financially solvent. Robbins didn't deny a move may be contemplated in the future but stressed the Temple currently is not compelled to sell their property for any reason, financial or otherwise.

Although he speaks candidly of rapidly decreasing number of Ahavath Achim families, Robbins insists the congregation is financially solvent. Robbins didn't deny a move may be contemplated in the future but stressed the Temple currently is not compelled to sell their property for any reason, financial or otherwise.

Secretaries unite

The next secretarial contract will include members of both the merging groups. Both Mrs. Rainone and Mrs. Broo said they expect the merger to result in a stronger secretarial association, and more convenient negotiations.

The Board of Education and the New Jersey Education Association were to be officially notified of the change in the coming weeks, said Mrs. Rainone.

Presently, most grammar school secretaries are employed only ten months of the year, explained the association officers, while high school, junior high and others are employed year-round. Salary guidelines are slightly different, noted Mrs. Broo, and will probably remain so, though both current contracts are identical.

At any rate, added the School Eight secretary, "We're all working for the same purpose."

Some seniors are eligible for tax break on property

Belleville Tax Assessor Peter Torre, Jr., this week announced new information regarding senior citizen tax deductions on multi-family income properties.

According to Torre, the New Jersey Division of Taxation has now defined "gross income" as "income derived from a business, trade, profession or from the rental of property, to be income after deductions therefrom of the ordinary and necessary expenses attributed to the business, trade, profession or from the rental of property which are allowed by the Federal Internal Revenue Code."

Verification of the net rents received may be made through submission of claimants' Internal Revenue returns, said Torre. All other requirements remain the same.

Senior citizens who may be eligible are requested to contact Torre or the local tax collector.

A COMPLETE SELECTION OF SPECTACULAR BARGAINS THROUGHOUT OUR ENTIRE STORE

Family Playhouse 'Miracle Worker' is only one week off

Actors, actresses, set builders and costume fitters are now making last minute preparations for "The Miracle Worker," opening next Friday at the Family Playhouse.

The play, based on the true story of Helen Keller's childhood, will run May 30 and 31; and June 1, 6 and 7 at Family Playhouse headquarters, 28 Brookline Avenue, Nutley. A cast of 13 actors from Belleville, Nutley and surrounding towns will perform in the show.

Tickets, which are $3, may be obtained in advance by calling Joan Carletta at 667-4471. All performances begin at 8 p.m., except on June 1, when a 3 p.m. matinee is scheduled.

Directed by Ray Napolitano, "The Miracle Worker" stars 12-year-old Nutleyite Joan Scheckel as Helen Keller, and Betty Ann Majawski as Helen's teacher, Ann Sullivan. Both actresses have been devoting long hours to developing their complex and difficult roles.

Betty Ann, a Clifton resident, has just finished performing in a production of "My Fair Lady." Her new role as a determined Boston school teacher is a considerable switch.

As Helen Keller herself, young Joan must effectively shut off her eyes, ears and voice to perform her part. Her main means of communication, as the audience will learn, is initially through slamming things around.

Supporting these two characters are Alexander Oleksij as Captain Keller, Susan Malizia as Kate Keller, and John Introcaso as Helen's brother, James.

Introcaso brings to his challenging part three years experience with the Bergen County Players. He is a Rutherford resident.

Susan, a student at Mount St. Dominick Academy, was last seen at Family Playhouse as Lady Margaret Moore in "A Man for All Seasons." She's converting her English accent to a southern one for this part.

Oleksij, a Nutley High senior, dominates the entire Keller household as the strict father, the Captain.

Also in the play are Eileen Martorana of Belleville as Aunt Ev; Chris Oleartchick, also of Belleville, as Percy; Virginia Babick of Nutley as Viney, the housekeeper; and Laura and Pam Reicheh of Nutley who play blind students in the Perkins Institute of the Blind. Philip Monica of Orange takes the part of the doctor; and Mike Chelik another supporting role.

Director Napolitano is founder of Family Playhouse, and has directed a number of shows there.

St. Peter's Guild picks new officers

St. Peter's Parent-Teacher Guild recently elected officers for the coming year.

Sworn in by the first president of the Guild, new officers were as follows: President, Pat DuBoyce; First Vice President, Lois Laudoti; Second Vice President, Frank Corbo; Recording secretary, Arlene Dunphy; and Treasurer, Paul Reitemeyer.

At the year's closing session, the group voted to purchase science lab kits for grades four through eight, manipulative toys for the kindergarten, and gymnasium mats for physical education classes from proceeds of fund raising activities held throughout the year.

After the meeting refreshments were provided and served by first and third grade mothers, and a closing address was given by Father Anthony J. Lionelli, moderator of the Guild.

Sunday dinner's cost went down in March

The cost of preparing a Sunday dinner for a family of four in the Nutley-Belleville area declined in March, according to Herbert Bienstock, the U.S. Department of Labor's Assistant Regional Director for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, who heads the BLS office in New York.

A dinner consisting of an appetizer, a rib roast entree, vegetables, tossed salad, dessert, beverages, and bread and butter dropped 17 cents or 1.9 percent in March to $8.67, its lowest level since August 1974 when the cost of the dinner was $8.29. The same dinner with chicken as the entree cost $6.12 in March, down 6 cents or 1.0 percent, after rising in each of the six preceding months.

The lower March cost of both dinners was primarily due to declines for the roast beef and chicken entrees. The three-pound rib roast entree was down 16 cents over the month, and three pounds of chicken dropped 5 cents.

What do the experts say about figure and measurements for ladies? Many complicated methods of calculating ideal measurements have been developed, most of them for use by professional models or screen stars. But most agree on this: "When your weight is right for your height and age, the bust should measure eight or ten inches more than the waist. The hips should measure not more than two inches more than the bust." Evaluate yourself. What can you do to make yourself more attractive?

Close call

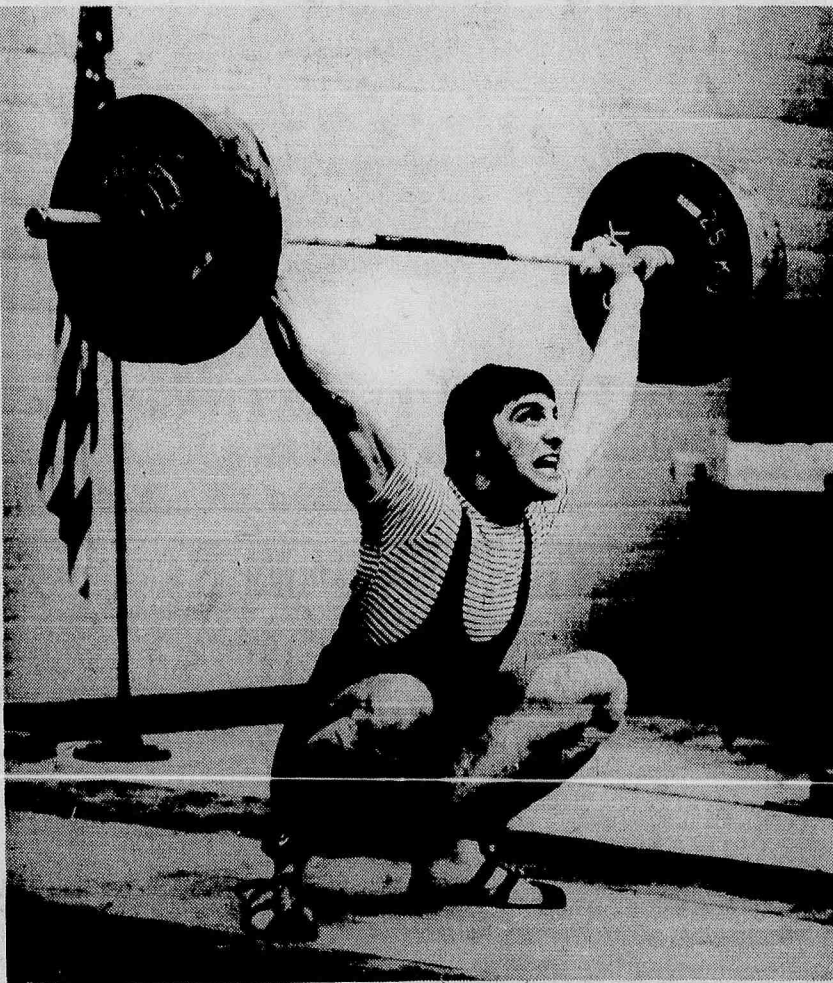

Bellboy John Guarino (above, left) beat the pick off throw in this play during last Saturday's West Essex double-header. As a matter of fact, Guarino came out ahead all last week, boosting his personal batting average despite a team slump. The Blue-Gold lost the first game, but came back to break a five game losing streak in the second.

His all

Sophomore hurler Chris Cervasio lets go a hot one Cervasio (at right) lets go a hot one on a hot day against West Essex. Despite West Essex's early 5-0 lead in the first of a twinbill, Cervasio bore down against his opponents to enable a four-run Belleville rally near the end of the first game. The Blue-Gold pitching staff was still working without the aid of injured heaver Ricky Loma, and after eight games in nine days, the collective Bellboy throwing arm was getting a little tired. Fred Racioppi pitched the second side of the dual test, along with Clarizio, who got the official win.

Going up

This 303-pound snatch by Belleville Barbell Club middle-heavyweight Bob Giordano was good enough for third place in the Junior National Weightlifting Championships last week at Cleveland, Ohio. As a team, the Belleville lifters came out second. It was their first try as a unit in National competition.

Oarsmen second in the Stotesbury!

By CHUCK JACKSON

"This is the biggest thing to happen to the Belleville high crew team since the 1950's!"

The quote comes from coach Sam Giuffrida, and he and his oarsmen have ample reason to sing out with joy following their second place showing in last week's prestigious Stotesbury Regatta in Philadelphia. The Blue-Gold strokeurs took the number two slot in a field of 55 schools, defeating some of the most powerful shells in the country.

Starting tomorrow, the boys will really have an opportunity to prove their mettle as they travel to Princeton to compete in the National Championships. The BHS crew will be pitted against teams from all over the United States and Canada and coach Giuffrida believes his men have a shot at the national title.

The team's second place finish in the Stotesbury competition was a great accomplishment in itself. This was the 49th running of the regatta, and the competition drew teams from the entire eastern seaboard, from Maine down to Florida. According to Giuffrida, "You don't go to the Stotesbury Regatta unless you think you're very good. The races attract all the major powers along the East coast, and the competition is very, very stiff."

Though the competition was rough, the four man shell entered by BHS was apparently up to the challenge. Originally, the coach had intended to enter two shells, one in the junior division and one in the senior division, but last week, the team decided to put all its eggs in one basket and go with a composite shell, one that would hopefully give them their best shot at a win. Needless to say, the strategy payed off.

The four men with coxswain shell entered by BHS went into the senior division of the race, and that placement in itself was a bit of a gamble. The senior division is made up of shells manned by boys over 17½ years-old. The Belleville boat had only one senior in the crew—Ken McDonald. The rest of the oarsmen were underclassmen, and the boat line-up consisted of Keith Waddell in the bow, Rich Budrick in the second spot, McDonald in position three, Mike Barbone at stroke, and Mike O'Connor filling in the coxswain position.

Commenting on the make up of the shell, coach Giuffrida said, "When we put this shell together, we knew it was the strongest we had, but we were a little worried. We knew we were giving up a lot of maturity and experience because of the age of most of the boys in the boat, but Please see page 22.

Batsmen on upswing

By PAT CAPUTO

The Bellboys finally stopped their five game losing streak by defeating West Essex last Saturday, 7-4.

Preceding the victory, though, were losses to West Essex, 5-4, in the first

Track team record 6-6

The Blue-Gold tracksters lost another close one last week, this one to East Orange, as they went down to defeat 61-52 in a meet that, as coach Rich Ruffalo had predicted, went right down to the wire.

The loss evened out the Bellboy record to 6-6, and the team will be looking to take their last two dual meets—one against Kearny and the other against Orange—to come out of the year with a respectable winning record.

Last Saturday, the team competed in their Essex County Track Meet, but failed to place in any of the events. This Saturday, some of the men will travel to Elizabeth to compete in the State Sectionals to try and establish some individual bests for themselves.

The loss to East Orange last Thursday was the fourth close loss suffered by the cindermen this season. Coach Ruffalo had said earlier that he expected the Panthers to offer some tough competition, but the score wasn't as close as he had expected it to be. The team gave the EO men a real battle, but the Panthers managed to thwart their advances and nip the win.

The Bellboys were competing at a slight disadvantage, since they were missing some of their personnel. In addition to their manpower shortage, the team also missed a chance to score points when the high jump competition had to be cancelled due to adverse conditions at the East Orange facilities.

Coach Ruffalo was a little disappointed with the loss, but three other close defeats have hardened him a little. Still, he admitted that he thought the meet would be even closer than it was.

"We really expected this one to be a close one. East Orange beat Bloomfield by just two points, and the Bengals only beat us by four. I had expected us to show a little stronger in some areas than we Please see page 22.

game of a twin bill; Seton Hall, 4-0, last Thursday, and a tough 2-1 decision to Millburn in the Greater Newark Tournament last Wednesday.

Yesterday's game with Montclair was played too late for the Times/News to report its outcome. It is the only game scheduled for this week.

After completing eight of nine scheduled games in nine days (Kearny was rained out Friday), Belleville is trying to pick up the pieces. The Blue-Gold was eliminated from the Big Ten conference championship, the Group IV State Tournament and the GNT, losing six of its last eight, five of the losses consecutive. It seems to be the annual "Belleville mid-season swoon" that afflicts the local squad.

Coach George Zanfini attributed the poor week to last Friday's grueling loss to Irvington in 14 innings. Irvington is 16-0 and is still rated as the best team in the state.

"The Irvington game was a tremendous letdown," said the head coach, "and playing eight games in nine days right after that didn't give us a chance to regroup. That loss (Irvington) took a lot away from us, both physically and mentally. It would have been great if we had won that game and gone into the busy week sky high, but we didn't."

"We looked like a tired team," the first-year mentor went on, "drawn out and without the pep we started the season with. The bats that were booming before became silent, and the pitching staff just grew too tired. The loss of (Ricky) Loma (injured pitcher with 3-0 record and 1.81

ERA) caught up to us."

A bright spot in the gloomy week was the fine performance of sophomores John Clarizio, Chris Cervasio and Scott Ochse.

Clarizio picked up the team's only win last week on Saturday's West Essex nightcap. In four innings of relief, he struck out five, walked just one while holding the Knights scoreless on five hits.

In the opener, Cervasio held Wessex in check for four and a third innings of relief on two hits. This allowed Belleville to almost pull the game out of the fire, losing 5-4 after being down 5-0.

Steve Gerard hit his third home run with John Guarino on base, but it wasn't quite enough as the Bellboys left nine men on base.

Ochse started the second game Saturday, filling in for the injured Chipper Biafore, the team's leading hitter. Biafore hurt a finger on his throwing hand during the first game, but was expected back in time for yesterday's game. Ochse handled the position well and showed promise for the future.

John Guarino, a junior, spiked his average up to .397 with five hits in six at bats on Saturday, slamming out a double, a homer and four RBI. Guarino has been Belleville's most consistent hitter through the average during the ordeal.

Guarino's three-run clout in the second inning of the nightcap with Joe Panlone and Vic Pasquariello aboard put Belleville on top, 4-1. However, the winning runs were driven in by pinch hitter Nick Cancelliere, who singled in Lou Please see page 16.

Barbell club ranks in Junior Nationals

The Belleville Barbell Club registered a club first last week when it placed second as a team in the Junior National Weightlifting Championships in Cleveland, Ohio.

Placing behind the perennial national champions, the York Barbell Club of York, Pa., the Belleville club achieved its success in its first national competition as a full team.

The local lifters beat out the Savannah Barbell Club of Savannah, Ga., for the second place team trophy, now safely lodged in Belleville.

The team was composed of bantamweight Frank Falgares, featherweight Jeff Cullen, middleheavyweight Bob Giordano, heavyweights Brian Derwin, Pete Dyt, Mike McNeil and George Leggett, and superheavyweights Terry Manton and Bruce Klemens.

The unit was coached by Barbell Club president, Bucky Cairo.

In addition to the second place team award, two of the lifters also placed individually. Giordano, the middleheavyweight (198 pounds), was third with lifts of a 303-pound snatch and a 363-pound clean and jerk. Manton was second in the unlimited class, snatching 292 pounds and registering a 402-pound clean and jerk.

Both Giordano and Manton will be representing Belleville's team in the U.S. Senior National Championships, scheduled for June 20-22 in Culver City, Cal.

Also representing Belleville in the nationals will be Derwin (242 pounds) as a heavyweight and Falgares (114 pounds) as a flyweight. At the Junior Nationals, Derwin snatched 275 and clean and jerked 396 pounds. Falgares, as a result of what many thought was poor refereeing, had a 215-pound clean and jerk turned down on a dubious technicality and so did not make a total.

Phil Grippaldi, the Barbell Club's defending U.S. Middleweight Champion, will defend his title at Culver City. From all training indications, he should have little difficulty annexing his sixth title.

Golfers swing like crazy in Branch Brook tourney

The tournament season is "in full swing" over at Branch Brook Golf Club reports Tournament Chairman Ralph Jr.

Four local golfers took away four first place finishes in four tournaments shot over the weekend of May 10 and 11.

John Baran took first place in the "Blind Hole" Tournament with a 21. Ray Lee finished second also with a 21 while Charles Molinaro trailed in third once again with a 21.

Bob Taird kicked in a 72 for first place in the "Kickers Tournament". He was followed by Joe Palmieri in second place with a 79 and Bill Yates in third place, also with a 79.

Tom Fryer whacked the stuffing out of his golf ball more severely than any of his competitors taking the "Longest Drive" Tournament for May 10. Tom Farewell followed suit the very next day sending his golf-ball on the longest airborne journey recorded on May 11.

Walt Neezkouski sunk a 4'8" shot in the "Hole-In-One" Tournament while Russ Bridges tapped one nine feet.

The next tournament will honor all past deceased members belonging to Branch Brook Golf Club. Two large trophies will be awarded to low gross and low net scorers.

Ralph Quelch serves as Chairman of the Club. Russ Bridges is President while Charles Molinaro fills in as Assistant Tournament Chairman.

Jayvee record best ever

By DONNA BERRIGAN

The Belleville jayvee baseball team defeated Nutley and Seton Hall last week, each by only one run. They have now broken the record of any past Belleville jayvee baseball team with an undefeated record of 14 straight wins.

The jayvee nine traveled to Nutley on Tuesday, May 13, to begin another outstanding week of baseball. The first three innings brought only three hits for Belleville. Rocco Balsamo hit a single in the first, Joe Gelpi hit a triple in the second and Anthony Speer hit a single in the third. In the bottom of the third Nutley scored two runs on two hits.

The top of the fourth brought Belleville's first run. Scott Ochse hit a double, stole third and was driven in by Gelpi's base hit. It was in the sixth inning that Belleville scored its remaining runs. Frank Mozeika led off with a single and stole second. Doug Stone followed and reached first on an error. Stone doubled and hit his second double of the game which brought Mozeika home. Stone reached home on an error. Gelpi bunted and reaching first safe he drove in Ochse.

Nutley brought their final run in with one hit during the bottom of the seventh inning John Clarizio pitched the entire game for Belleville. He gave up six hits and had a total of seven strike outs. The final score 4-3.

Thursday, May 15, Belleville captured its 14th straight win against Seton Hall by a slim score of 5-4. The Belleville diamonds began their hitting in the second inning with back to back singles by Doug Stone and Joe Gelpi. They didn't manage to score until the third inning.

Anthony Gamarro led off with a single. Anthony Speer then reached first on an error, Cervasio followed with a bunt and safely reached first. Balsamo then hit a single which drove in Speer and Gamarro. Ochse finished the inning with a double driving in Cervasio and Balsamo.

The top of the fourth included a double-play by the jayvees. Seton Hall's first batter led off with a double and stole third. The next batter then struck out. The third batter popped out to short-stop Scott Ochse who threw it to third baseman Joe Gelpi which tagged the runner out. The bottom of this inning included one hit for Belleville which was a single by John Clarizio.

The top of the first brought two runs on three hits for Seton Hall. This inning also brought Belleville's winning run which was a suicide squeeze by Ronnie Kyrch on which Rocco Balsamo scored.

In the seventh inning two runs were scored by Seton Hall off of three hits. With a man on second, Belleville's rightfielder Peter Liloia caught the last out which ended the game.

Belleville's Anthony Gamarro pitched a full seven innings giving up nine hits and having ten strike outs. Coach La Conte's jayvees were scheduled to have a game Friday against Kearny and a double-header Saturday with West Essex but due to the rain and wet fields the games were postponed.

Watch those tootsies— Bellboy catcher Gregg Dunleavy didn't want to catch it on the toes last Saturday and so moved out of the batter's box pronto. Though Dunleavy successfully avoided the low and inside curve, the Bellboys were not successful against their opponent, West Essex. The Blue-Gold got even in the second game of the double-header, though.

Bellboys split Wessex double-header

Grasso and Anthony Marino in the third.

A fine pitching performance by Guarino was wasted on Thursday in South Orange. He pitched a four-hitter against the Pony Pirates of Seton Hall, but two errors and a misjudged fly ball allowed four runs to score. The Bellboys were whitewashed for the second time this year. Guarino lowered his ERA to 1.70 but still picked up his second loss in five decisions.

The 2-1 loss to unseeded

Millburn knocked sixth seeded Belleville out of the GNT competition. Greg Petite and Bob Giordano held Millburn to three hits, but they all came in the third inning, accounting for both runs. Petite left the game in the fourth frame with a tender arm. Belleville's lone run came in the sixth.

The two out rally proved to be the old baseball proverb, "too little, too late." Pasquariello walked with two down. Biafore singled Pasquariello to third. Guarino drove in the run by beating out an infield hit. Gerard walked to load the bases, but was forced out at second on Grasso's bounce to the right of the mound.

The Belleville-log now stands at 11-8 and rates 11th place in the county.

Three former Bellboys honored by NJIT

Three Belleveillites were among 195 athletes honored May 14 by New Jersey Institute of Technology.

Receiving letters at the school's annual awards dinner were Rocco Cuzzo for wrestling, Frank Papisidero, and Roy Riche, both for baseball.

NJIT also honored two students with "outstanding senior athlete" and "academic" awards. Most Valuable Player awards were bestowed upon fifteen others.

Dairy Queen might have fed monkeys

The four million bananas used during Dairy Queen's annual banana split sale would feed 14,203 monkeys for one full year.

The nation literally went bananas over Dairy Queen's banana split sale on April 24 and 25, purchasing an estimated four million banana splits during the two-day sale.

Beck's Column

Beck's Column.
This is the time of the year to get your air conditioner in shape for the coming season. It does not require much, but whatever little has to be done is very important.

First of all replace the filter, if it is a replaceable type. Even if it looks clean, if you would take it apart, you would find that the inside is covered with particles of dust and lint. Cleaning it with a vacuum cleaner takes some of this dirt off, but not all. The particles clinging to the fiberglass and the suction of the vacuum cleaner is not nearly sufficient to dislodge them all. Buy a new one, that is the only thing to do, they are inexpensive. Needless to say that a clogged filter won't produce sufficient air and may be the reason for a frozen up unit. If your fan has provision for oiling, use oil sparingly. This is important. Too much in this case is bad. You can't do anything to the compressor, it is completely sealed. Most units have a tube that brings the condensed water which drips down into a pan in the forward part of the unit, to the rear, where a fan scoops it up and throws it against the hot coil, where it is evaporated and blown to the outside. This tube is apt to clog with dust and dirt accumulating in the pan in the front. Make sure this tube is not obstructed. Of course the dust and dirt which invariably accumulates should be wiped off. Also make sure that the front and rear coils are clean and unobstructed. Check the caulking around the window, and that is about all you can and need to do. Try the on/low cool/high cool/fan switch and watch the performance. The first time it gets a little hot, try the unit to make sure it cools properly, and if it does not, call a repairman to check it, before we are swamped when it gets real hot for any length of time. We service what we sell. Beck's Radio TV Hi Fi Appliances

MEMORIAL DAY

Time to pause and pay tribute to all the brave men, living and dead, who, in time of trouble, answered their country's call . . . gave of their energy, time and talent . . . even their very life's blood . . . that freedom might grow and prosper.

Solve-a-crime

By A.C. GORDON

You are the detective

You watch as the police photographer snaps pictures from various angles of the dead girl whose body lies in the thick underbrush near the shore of the lake. Then you remove the large, dark-lensed sunglasses from the girl's eyes and the large blue silk scarf which covers her head, and note she was an extremely attractive redhead. A further examination leads you to the conclusion she had been taken by surprise and strangled to death from behind. Going through the contents of her purse, which lies on the ground nearby, you discover that her name is Kathleen Swanson and that she was a dancer in one of the town's nightspots.

Later at headquarters you are talking with a young man, Roger Carr, who has come in with some interesting information. He is carrying a copy of the late afternoon newspaper with a story of the murder along with a picture of the smiling victim in one of her brief dance costumes. "As soon as I spotted this picture," says Carr, "I recognized it as the girl I saw with a man on the shore while I was fishing out on the lake early this afternoon. I thought it was my duty as a citizen and taxpayer to tell you about it."

"We appreciate that," you say. "Is there anymore you can add?" "Well, I could see they were having some kind of argument. She was waving her arms around, and the man grabbed her by the shoulders once and shook her."

"Could you hear anything of what they were saying?" "No, I was too far away to distinguish any words...only the sounds of their voices. I was at least a hundred yards from them. I finally rowed away and around a bend in the shoreline. I guess, from what the newspaper says, she was murdered very soon after I left the scene."

"Had you ever seen Kathleen Swanson prior to this afternoon?" "No, never. I sure hope that what I've told you will help you to catch up with the guy who did it."

"I think it already has," you say. "I'm detaining you for further questioning. In fact, I suspect that the only reason you came in at all was the possibility of your having been seen in the vicinity of the murder at the time it happened!"

What has aroused your suspicions regarding Roger Carr?

Phonetic pun

There are certain words that can be phonetically expressed with letters of the alphabet or with letters in combination with numerals. For example, the TV award of "Emmy" can be pronounced as "M-E," and the state of Tennessee can be pronounced as "10-5-E." How many of the following can you speak as letters and/or numerals?

1. Attempt.
2. Consumed.
3. Prior.
4. Image.
5. Superfluity.
6. Occupancy.
7. Predict.
8. Mongrel.
9. Foe.
10. Rapture.
11. Being.
12. Putrefy.
13. Kindly.
14. Poem.
15. Raid.
16. Vitality.

Just for the record

Tom and Jerry together have 125 records. If Tom's records are arranged in stacks of 8 each and Jerry's records in stacks of 11 each, and if between them they have 13 stacks of records, how many records has each?

How many words?

How many words of FOUR letters or more can you form from the letters in the word, "SPORTSMAN"? Words that acquire four letters by the addition of "S," as in "rats" or "mops," do not count. See if you can equal, or maybe surpass, our total of 55 words made up of letters occurring in the word, "SPORTSMAN."

That's the exact time it takes for a U. S. Savings Bond to mature. Unfortunately, most people still think it takes 10 years. Or 7. Wrong. It's exactly 5 years.
Of course, if you want to keep your money earning there's a 10-year extension privilege beyond maturity. We'd appreciate it if you'd help us clear up the confusion. Next time somebody tells you it takes 10 years for a Savings Bond to mature, smile indulgently. And then show him this ad.

Now E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

Now Bonds mature in 5 years.

Olga Knows

This Week's Horoscope

(May 24 through May 30)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): New idea presented, Ari, and you should take positive approach. Don't waste precious time fretting and stewing over past errors in judgment. Move ahead. You are a Could Be, Ari, NOT a Has Been! So there.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Door which has been closed opens ever so slightly. Get your toe in, Taurus. Soul-buddy offers good advice. Take it. Last day is a shoo-in for fun. Enjoy!

GEMINI (May 21-June 22): Don't let verbal fencing with associate disintegrate into a brawl. En garde! With logic you score points. Prepare to make some concessions, however. Opponent will doff hat and express admiration as well as "Touche!" On last day, Gem, indulge someone you know most intimately. Yourself.

CANCER (June 23-July 22): Week comes up like a dandelion. Moonbaby... gaudy, gay and absolutely wild. Better hang on to your heart, or the warm May breezes could just whoosh it away.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Romance waits around the nearest corner, Leo. If you can't handle complications in this department, then perhaps you'd better lock yourself in a closet. If you venture forth beyond your own digs, you do so at your own risk, my friend.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Prepare to unzip coded message, Virg. Get ideas sorted out. Address yourself to tasks concerning change/travel. Before week is over, your plans get stamp of approval.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): You have been blessed with an unusually original mind, Lib. In week ahead, use your originality to solve problem in novel way. Associates watch and wonder. Great. Let them. In fact, Lib, give them a cracking good show.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Problem looms which concerns member of another generation. Others stand around wringing their hands and gazing heavenward. Time for you to take action. Once again, it's SUPERSCORP to the rescue!

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Problem which has seemed impossible can be partially solved, Sag. Advice comes from unexpected source. Your private little world turns green, and green means GO! Simon says take two giant steps forward. So does Olga.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Health highlighted this week, Cap. Revise your daily habits. More outdoor exercise and more sleep may be needed. Avoid one who peddles emotional stress. Plenty of time to cope with this person when you're feeling more fit. Trust Olga... and the stars.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Try to keep things simple first part of week, Aquari. A good deal of the pressure you feel is self-induced. You are your own toughest taskmaster, you know. Last day ideal for shenanigans.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): First part of week you should raid memories' ice-box and have a little midnight snack, Pisces. You have many secret goodies hidden away and they should be savored from time to time. Busy week rumbles to a noisy close.

Plants "R" Us — Yep, that's them. Celebrating the opening of a new plant shop at 69 Franklin Street are (l-r) Lisa Coletta, Ronnie Coco, Collette Martinez and her five-month old baby Shanon, George Ferdine, Charisse Baker, and shop owners Jennifer Errico and Phyllis Johnson. The store opening, obviously, was occasion for some clowning around.

Month of April coldest since 1960

The mean temperature for the month of April broke a record in the central Jersey area and heavy winds made it seem a lot meaner.

Despite a maximum temperature of 76 degrees on April 19, the average temperature for the month of April was 46.5 degrees, according to Patrick J. White of the Union College Meteorological Station, a cooperative station of the U.S. Weather Bureau, in his monthly report to the national Weather Service.

The mean temperature set a record at the Union College station for the coldest April since the station was opened in 1960. The mean temperature for April 1974 was 53.2 degrees.

The coldest day last month was April 23 when the mercury dropped to 25 degrees. The record, however, is held by April 2, 1964, and April 1, 1969, when it was 19 degrees.

April 25, 1960 holds the record for the hottest April day when 92 degrees registered on the thermometer.

In addition to the cold temperatures during April 1975, damaging winds added to the unseasonable weather on April 3, 4, 5, 19 and 20. There was also a trace of snow noted on April 4.

Rainfall during the month totalled 2.52 inches, a full inch below normal. The greatest amount during a 24-hour period was .66 inch which fell on April 3.

The greatest rainfall on record for the month of April is 7.23 inches which fell in 1973. The driest April was April 1963 when .73 inch of precipitation was recorded.

The total precipitation through April 1975 measures 12.86 inches. Degree days for last month totalled 575, bringing the total since the heating season began on September 1 to 5,308.

New pension plan at bank

First National State Bank of New Jersey, the state's largest commercial bank, announced that it is offering a new individual retirement account providing an unusual degree of flexibility and paying six per cent interest per year on amounts of as little as $10, which may be deposited deductibly each year and will earn interest at the rate of six of the balance or how often deposits are made. For large, lump-sum deposits of $1,000 or more, the bank pays the highest interest rate allowed by law. Currently, this rate is 7.50 per cent.

Clarence J. Cook, executive vice president, said the flexibility built into the new accounts was designed to make it easy for customers to start, even in a small way, to build a retirement account.

First National State has 30 offices in Essex County. Details may be obtained at any of those offices.

Carlucci, and will include John Coles and Edward Bannigan.

Donald Grewcock will be chairman of the Americanism committee, with John Carlucci and Vincent Miria as members, and Vincent Miria will head the Flag-Day committee, whose members will be August Mitschke and Paul Mac Donald.

The National Foundation committee will have James Salmon as its leader, with members William Radziewicz and Theodore Weitzel.

Heading the Membership committee will be Warren Natusch, with Paul Mac Donald and Walter Jordan.

Other committees include: Visiting—J. Frank Krychez, chairman; Walter Fink, Edward Bannigan and Steve H. Frank; Youth Activities—Thomas Goldrick, chairman, and committee members John Mac Donald and Lawrence Dempsey; National Service—Vincent Miria, chairman, and committee members James Ryan and James Noonan; Publicity—Steve H. Frank, chairman.

Dave DeLorenzi Wins District Derby test

David DeLorenzi of Belleville Cub Pack 377 took first honors in the annual Belleville District Pinewood Derby elimination held in Wesley Methodist Church.

Kenneth Wholtman of Pack 350 came in a close second, and Mathew Coffin was judged third. Victor Canning was awarded honorable mention.

There were 36 cars in the competition — fastest from among hundreds of competitions held at the pack level throughout Belleville before the finals.

Pack 301 and Joseph Meglio were hosts to the event, which is held annually.

Packs participating in the 1975 elimination were: 301, 302, 304, 305, 307, 310, 322, 350, 364, 377, 387, and 388.

THANK YOU

My Sincere Thanks to the many people of Belleville who voted for me on May 13, 1975 for the Office of Commissioner.

Congratulations to the newly elected Commissioners, Michael Marotti, Vincent Strumolo, Mary Senatore, Joseph McGreevy and Rocco Saletta. The task of Rebuilding Belleville rests in your hands. Guard well the trust that the people have placed in you. If needed I am always available.

Patrick John Lee

Big bucks — The Belleville Jaycees this week contributed more than $200 to Camp N.J. Jaycee for Retarded Children. Camp chairman Walter Smith (left) of Nutley, accepts the moola from Belleville Jaycee Joseph Doyle (center) and Gerald Walsh, internal vice president of the local chapter. The camp, located in Effort, Pa., will open beginning June 23. Information may be obtained from the local Jaycees, P.O. Box 62, Belleville.
