Remembering those who sacrificed for freedom

Memorial Day ceremonies were held Sunday morning throughout Belleville as veterans, the Belleville High School Band, and other assorted guests and spectators gathered at the Passaic River, Town Hall and the memorial monument on Union Avenue to pay respects for those lost in war.

The contingent of band members, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Amvets, Italian/American Veterans, Pearl Harbor Survivors of the United States and the Disabled American Veterans marched to the river for a wreath laying ceremony, followed by a similar ceremony in front of Town Hall with Reverend Gerald Fortunatto of Silver Lake Baptist Church leading the prayers.

Police and Fire were also remembered Sunday as representatives from each civil service branch remembered those lost in the line of duty with wreaths, placed in front of Town Hall.

Senator Carmen Orechio (D-Essex) was the featured speaker at the monument, with Nicholas Raimo also saying a few words. After Orechio's and Raimo's speeches, representatives from each of the veterans' groups pinned flowers on a wreath in front of the monument.

Former addict hopes to help others avoid pitfalls

John R. Thomas experienced a living hell for almost 17 years and now that he has overcome difficulties in his life, he is going to try and see to it that others won't have the same problems he had.

Thomas, a drug addict and later an alcoholic, in an attempt to make Belleville children aware of the horrors of these diseases, sponsored a 300 word essay in the middle school and awarded savings bonds of $100 for first place, $75 for second and $50 for third. Thomas was very impressed with what the children knew about drug abuse.

"I wanted to personally find out what the kids knew about drug abuse," said Thomas. "I'm very satisfied with all three." He was so impressed, in fact, he sent copies of the essays with a letter to President Reagan and his wife, stating how proud he was of them and the other 47 who entered the contest.

All the winners, Domenica Grippit, Crista Trippode and Leigh Ann

Herschell, said they applied many of the things they learned in the drug program. According to Middle School Principal Mario DiMaggio, the program, which runs for three weeks every year, begins in third grade and is a continuous process throughout their education.

The three also said personal feelings about drugs were included in their essays, which were part of an assignment by English Teacher Milly DiNardo, who said this assignment was treated a little differently.

Very proud

"I'm very proud of them," expressed DiNardo. "On this one (assignment) I gave them no assistance. On others I do but on this one I didn't."

"It's in keeping with having more writing in the classroom," said DiMaggio. "I'm very proud of these girls."

Thomas said he chose the middle school for two reasons, the building

Washington Ave. parking a possibility as private owners discuss feasibility

By Pat Brightman

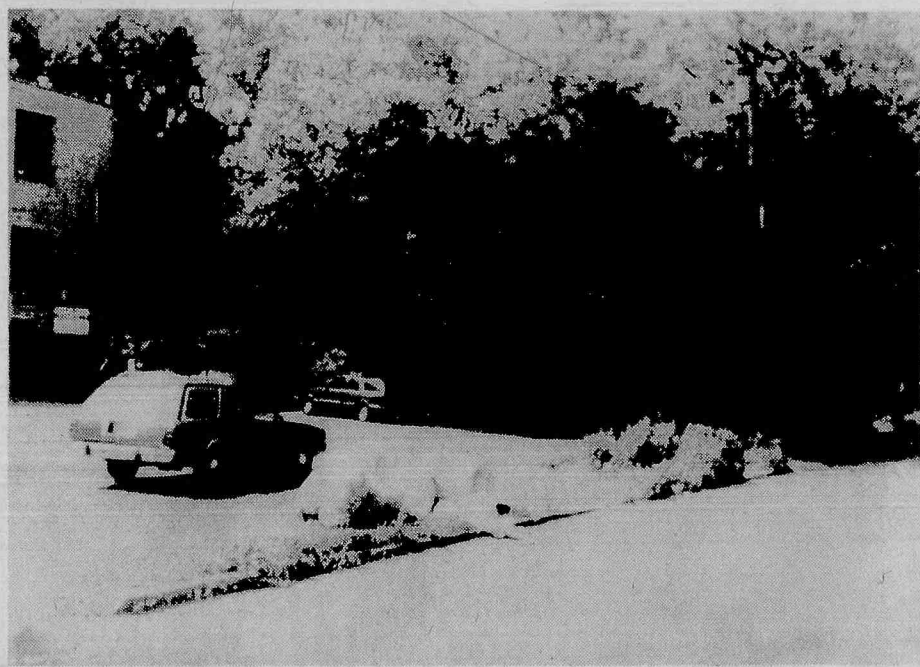

It may not be in the literal sense, but groundwork has been laid on a possible parking lot for shoppers of Washington Avenue, according to Commissioner of Parks and Public Property Vincent Frantantoni.

The lot would be on Valley Street, behind 246-258 Washington Avenue, and would cover almost an acre of land, said Frantantoni. It would be privately operated by the five landowners and Frantantoni said it would be up to owners as to the specifics.

A meeting was held Wednesday, May 18 between Frantantoni, Housing Inspector Joseph Fornarotto, and the five owners, Norman Trought of Morristown, James Dolnick of West Caldwell, Robert Gruhin, Arthur and Anthony DeGeorge and Steven Raleigh, to discuss code violations on the property. The area has been used as a dumping ground by contractors and Frantantoni felt he could clean up the area and solve the parking problem with one action.

"I said to them, 'you people should come as a common unit and make a contiguous parking area,'" recalled Frantantoni. He feels by having the owners work as a group it can be done quicker than if the town purchased the land.

"We would have to buy the land, get estimates, go out for bid. It would be two years down the road if we did it," reasoned Frantantoni. "But if they do it privately, it can be done faster."

"We told them if they were to clean-up the area they could put the debris on the curb and we'll pick it up," he said.

As added incentive, Frantantoni noted, the owners could apply for low interest loans as part of the Valley Rehabilitation Program and lighting may also be installed at a reduced rate.

"PSE&G does a free lighting survey and they install lights and Jerry Russo, Brian Villano, Mike Mc Guire, Tom Eccles and Sue O'Donnell. Those five athletes etched their names into the Belleville crew record book last weekend when they led the midweight four to a national championship at Virginia.

For the Belleville crew program, it's the fourth national title in the 80's. The girls won championships in 1982, '84 and '85. The last time the boys captured a national crown was back in 1952.

Needless to say, head coach Scott Fabian was ecstatic about the crown, but preferred to extend the credit to the coach of the midweight four, Bobby Cassin.

"Bobby has done a great job with that boat all year long," Fabian said. "It was a great win for the boat. They've been undefeated all season long. I can't be happier."

The midweight four won the race with a strong burst in the final 500 meters. Its time in the mile was 5:21.3. Belleville defeated T.C. Williams of Virginia, Garfield of Virginia and Atlantic City High School in that final stretch to take the title.

While the midweight four made most of the news for Belleville, there were some good performances turned in by the remaining

Two-day trip

Bush brings campaign trail to Essex County

By Pat Brightman

Vice President George Bush brought his campaign train steaming through the Essex County area last week in the hopes of gaining votes for the June 7 state primary, saying he wants to be known as an educational president and issuing strong anti-drug words, but he did not give any specific indications of what he would do for the area or for the state as a whole.

Bush, who has already won the Republican nomination, spent last Wednesday and Thursday in Jersey City and Newark hoping to appeal to the blue collar workers in the urban areas, a group often considered to side with Democrats.

He arrived at Teterboro Airport late Wednesday afternoon and proceeded to a Republican ceremony in the Jersey City Central Railroad Terminal Museum in Liberty State Park. Thursday, Bush visited The Boys and Girls Club of Newark and the Mount Carmel Guild in Newark. After the visits, the GOP candidate attended a luncheon in his honor at Biase's Italian Restaurant on Bloomfield Avenue in Newark.

Bo Sullivan, chairman of the New Jersey Republican Committee, said the goal of the campaign is to break the 40 year precedent of not having a president from the same party for three straight terms. Other Republican luminaries appeared and voiced their support for Bush and Senate hopeful Pete Dawkins.

Gloomy alternative

"I am tired of listening to pessimistic Democratic rhetoric," said Bush. "The Democrats offer gloom. Yes people are hurting, hurting right here in this state, but the answer is not to turn to the record of past failure." Bush then recited how more people and a greater percentage of the working force have jobs than at any other time in history.

Bush predicted a tough, close race against the Democrats but felt with the Republican Party showing strength and unity he will prevail in November. "I've been inspired and lifted by the attendance tonight," he told the crowd in the museum. "The people who ran against me have done exactly the right thing for party unity and have joined me. After the primary we'll shift gears towards the Democrats and bring 'em on, I'm ready."

During his speech, Bush said there was an all-out war being waged against drugs and said, if elected, his vice-president would be a "drug czar" and he would bring heavy penalties to not just dealers, but users as well.

"Let Dukakis and Jackson join me in calling for the death penalty for drug kingpins," he said, which was greeted by resounding cheers from the audience.

According to Bush the best answer to employment problems is to educate the youth. He called for a return to educational values and the four R's "reading, writing, arithmetic and respect in the classroom." As well as being known as an educational president he said other areas he would like to be remembered for included preserving the environment, ridding the world of chemical warfare and family ethics.

"I wouldn't ask you for your vote, and I am, if I didn't think I was the best man with these ideas," he said in conclusion.

Belleville POLICE BEAT

By Pat Brightman

A disruptive patient caused in excess of $500 in damages in the Emergency Room at Clara Maass Medical Center May 26.

Officers Rory Schumeister and William Palatella were detailed to the Emergency Room and upon arriving were told by a nurse that Thomas Mennicucci, 38, of Bloomfield had become irate, pulling apart an air conditioning vent from the ceiling and ripping the nurses call unit from the wall. Mennicucci had been brought to the Medical Center by Bloomfield Police.

grandmother called police May 26, informing them her grandson had illegal drugs, with police charging the 17 year-old with possession of controlled dangerous substance.

Officer Victor Linfante arrived at the woman's home on Washington Avenue and was led to the teenager's bedroom. After receiving permission from the grandmother to search, Linfante found a bag of marijuana, white tablets and cocaine residue.

A resident was a victim of a purse snatching May 20 when she was thrown to the ground on her way home from Washington Avenue.

The woman said she was walking to her house on Overlook Avenue when a man described as black, in his mid-30s with a slim build, came from behind, pushed her to the ground and stole her wallet from her purse. The man fled in a green car and drove west on Overlook.

On May 24 a 23 year-old woman was a victim of an exposure while she was in the Grand Union parking lot. The suspect, described as a white male with a slim build, wearing army pants and a blue shirt, came from behind the woman, grabbed her and exposed himself. The woman kicked the suspect and screamed, causing the person to flee. Detective Peter Fraone is leading the investigation.

Earlier that day, a man made sexual gestures to a woman on Davidson Street. A man, fitting the same description as the suspect from Grand Union, ran up to a woman and made sexual gestures to her. He quickly fled the scene and Detective Fraone is investigating the matter.

DeWitt stockholder meeting

First State Financial Services, Inc., parent holding company of First DeWitt Savings, held its first annual meeting as a stockholder institution, at Mayfair Farms in West Orange, Wednesday, May 25. The Company converted to the stock form of ownership in December, 1987.

The stockholders approved the election of Directors Herman W. Leitzow of Upper Montclair, Clarence R. Lommerin of Branchville, John L. Plansoen of Pompton Plains, and Michael J. Quigley, III, of Tewksbury to a serve a three-year terms. Also approved by the stockholders was the appointment of the Company's independent auditors, and the several stock-related compensation programs.

Michael J. Quigley, III, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of First DeWitt, told the group the Company had consolidated assets of $395.5 million up $53 million from a year earlier and a 15 percent increase. Stockholders' equity also reached $36.5 million, Quigley reported.

Quigley also stated First DeWitt was looking forward to serving the business community with a newly-installed commercial loan and business development department. He said a complete line of services will be offered by an experienced staff of commercial personnel who recently joined the company.

First DeWitt Savings, an FSLIC-insured Association, conducts business through its headquarters in West Caldwell and through 11 full service banking offices located in Essex, Sussex, Morris and Ocean Counties.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

In the April 21 column we commented about the writers of the "Times" Washington bureau's proposal for a balanced budget which, among others, included the proposal that Social Security recipients with $12,000 income for individuals and $18,000 for families be taxable on half of their Social Security income...presently those individuals with income over $25,000 and families with over $32,000 income are required to use a Social Security worksheet to determine the amount of taxable Social Security benefits to be recorded on the 1040 income tax return, line 20b.

We complained that lowering to $12,000 for individuals and $18,000 for families the thresholds to determine at which Social Security would be taxable would "reduce everyone to a poverty level of living" and that no longer only higher income Social Security recipients would be taxed, only welfare cases would escape taxation on their benefits.

It was clearly stated that "Jim Golden's complaint is not that those in the higher income bracket have half of their Social Security benefits taxed, but that they are now thinking about taxing Social Security benefits below the present threshold levels that would be unjustly unfair to those recipients with below that level of income."

Mr. Vander Zwan had cited a hypothetical case of a husband and wife with income of $32,000 and Social Security benefits of $14,196 which he adds for a total of $46,196, then using the tax tables lists $5,207 as tax on the $32,000. Then he adds 50 percent Social Security, increasing their taxable income to $39,098 with taxes in the amount of $7,181 overall...incorrectly ignoring the Social Security Benefits Worksheet.

Had he used the worksheet in his illustration the total amount of income to be reported on line 20b would have been $34,250 with a tax of $5,837 from the tax tables...$1,344 less than he presented it, which was incorrect. We were not trying to "prove" how wrong he was; we didn't want others to wrongly do their taxes that incorrect way.

It was very gracious of Mr. Michael Capaneer to come forth as an apologist for his brother-in-law, Mr. Vander Zwan in his Letter to the Editor, however, he attempts to distort facts in falsely suggesting we calculated incorrectly, as pointed out in the foregoing information as to who was in error.

At no point had we ever suggested we were attempting to figure the payment of the hypothetical case illustration Mr. Vander Zwan offered...we only used the figures he presented of a married couple with $32,000 income and $14,196 Social Security income, as it would be applied to 1040 form line 22 TOTAL INCOME. The basic figure from which computation of tax could be arrived at depending upon exemptions and deductions (standard or itemized). If that figure were wrong it would result in an incorrectly filed report.

Since Mr. Vander Zwan states that he used the services of a tax consultant, I'm sure his filed tax return was in order. We also observe his recognition of our predicting and assignment of the newly elected commissioners last year was predicated upon fact and not from some conjured up occult mystical magic, as he had erroneously suggested originally.

We did not need Mr. Capaneer's P.S. that, "You do not have to have $32,000 to pay on S.S." As previously stated, if filing as an individual and your income is over $25,000 it becomes taxable.

When we entered into paying Social Security back in the '30's, it was a commitment of the U.S. government that the Social Security payments we'd be eligible to receive would be, at the proper age, fully "tax exempt." The Reagan reign repudiated that solemn covenant which we regard a breach of contract which should have been challenged in the courts.

We find it presumptuous for Mr. Capaneer to suggest how we should vote in the impending Presidential election...a sacred privilege of the people which we regard as a sacred rightful prerogative. We hope to vote the way we believe best.

Optimists honor basketball team, police

The Belleville Optimist Club honored the Belleville High School basketball team and two police officers at its meeting at Branch Brook Manor last week.

In honor of Respect For Law Week, co-chairmen Mayor Michael Pizzi and Thomas Zampino, Assistant Town Prosecutor, presented officers Arthur Connelly and Vincent Celfo for their arrest of an armed suspect without firing a shot. Doug Cantarella presented Head Basketball Coach Donald Roll and assistant Thomas Bianchi along with seven players from this past year's 15-10 record.

The players honored were: co-captains Ted Sochaski and Leon Puentes; Steven Schwed; Chris Chiramoto; Raymond Zamloot; Dominick Straface, and Anthony Rodriguez.

Connelly and Celfo responded to a call of an armed suspect in the Grand Union Mall on Main Street. Upon their arrival they noticed the suspect in the parking area, who grabbed a woman as protection. The two officers eventually freed the woman and captured the suspect, who was wanted by U.S. Marshalls and the Scranton, Pennsylvania Police Department and had a long police record.

"It's a big honor to have the people of the town recognize what we did," said Roll of the team's first winning season since 1975. He said it was a warm feeling to be honored after the many cold hours in an empty gym. "The kids put their heart and soul into our work."

Among the other accomplishments of the Buccaneer basketball team were winning the tri-county Christmas Tournament, defeating Montclair at home for the first time in 20 years, beating Nutley at home for the first time this decade and having two 1,000 point scorers on the same team for the first time, Sochaski, who broke Abdel Anderson's school mark, and Puentes.

Last week's festivities were only the most recent of what has been a busy year for the chapter, which was founded in 1974 by Rocco Saletta. Among the other events were an Easter Egg hunt, essay contest, oratorical contest and Friends of Youth dinner. Still to come is a J.V.

baseball tournament later this month.

This has been a continued effort by President Emil Nardachone to make more people aware of the club and, in turn, create a greater membership, which has gone from 27 members when he took over last year to the present 43.

"It had been on a bit of the downside when I became president," he said. "I wanted to make the club more visible." He said he and a number of other members, including Secretary/Treasurer Thomas Spillane attended a meeting with the state membership chairman who gave hints to acquire new members. The best, and easiest hint, was to just ask people. "I asked Mike Marotti why he never joined and he said because no one had asked him," stated Spillane. Marotti is now a member.

Part of the reason for the increased membership is because of the events. According to both Spillane and Nardachone people have inquired about joining after attending one of the affairs. In fact, one of the musicians who performed at the Friends of Youth dinner has recently joined.

"It will not necessarily be a yearly event," explained Nardachone, "but we have discussed the possibility of holding one next year."

Friends of Youth is the slogan most aptly suited for the club, with the many events honoring academic and athletic achievements. Along with the awards honoring the basketball team, the club, early last month, honored the high school wrestlers who advanced to the state tournament, Joe Cerreto, Michael Iuliano and Armando Nardone. They have also given scholarships to Tracy Marie Doyle and Tricia Serio at the Raymond O. Smith Scholastic Awards Presentation and Essex County Academic Awards respectively.

Other winners of events included FIRST NAME Fraone (essay) and Melanie Spillane (oratorical). "We try to promote optimism," said Nardachone, who described the Easter Egg hunt as another example of promoting something positive in the town.

was his high school, and he feels these are the best ages to begin drug awareness. The idea of writing came from a friend who convinced him that writing out his feelings was best for him.

"I've had a wide past," he explained. "My true endeavors came out when I began writing."

"He came right off the street so I didn't know if he was serious or not," recalled DiMaggio. "In the beginning I was slightly taken back."

"I learned the hard way," commented Thomas. "My initiative for this is to help people avoid the pitfalls I've experienced. Many aren't all that deep but they all hurt. "I can't cure them but I can help."

Vietnam veteran

Thomas was sent to Vietnam in 1966 when he was 19. After a 13 month tour of duty in the infantry he returned, no longer a teenager, but a troubled man. "They didn't send me over there as a drug dependent but I certainly came back drug dependent."

After eight years of addiction he finally overcame the chemical drug dependency but had acquired another habit, alcohol. In 1974 he sought help for this problem and for the last four and a half years has been "clean" of any drug or alcohol.

"My biggest regret is that I waited so long," lamented Thomas. "I'm 37. It took me from 20 to 37 to get my life together."

Now that it is together he plans on doing many things to make children aware of the horrors of addiction. He hopes to establish another drug program in the schools, convince businesses in town to help out, hold more essay contests and go back to school to earn a degree so he can be an counselor.

"This is a release to me," he explained. "By helping others, I'm helping myself."

charge a fixed monthly rate" explained Frantantoni. "That rate includes electricity, maintenance, everything. We don't even have to change the lightbulbs."

With these benefits and present conditions, Frantantoni feels it is the best alternative for everyone involved. "The town will benefit, the people benefit and the taxpayers don't have to lay out a single dime."

"The ironic thing," he continued, "is that it was right hear under our noses and nobody thought of it."

Exactly when, and if, the parking lot will be constructed will be up to the five owners, despite all the incentives that can be offered. While most of the owners feel it can be done, they have not met since the initial meeting with Frantantoni and Fornarotto.

"With the holiday we haven't planned anything," said Gruhin. "After Memorial Day we may try to get together. I think it's an excellent idea."

"The primary purpose is to clean up Valley Street," explained Anthony DeGeorge. "Whether or not it can be used for parking, I'm not sure."

"It leaves a lot to be desired, public parking on private property," he continued. "There are some unanswered questions and there is a little bit of a legal question. We'll take it one step at a time."

Gruhin agreed, saying there may be some minor problems that must be worked out. He said he is taking a wait and see attitude towards the proposal.

Fabiano named president

Michele Fabiano of Belleville has been named president of the 2,500-member Prudential Insurance Company Athletic Association (PICAA).

Fabiano joined The Prudential in 1963. Currently, she is an executive secretary in the District Agencies Department.

Also named to the board of governors were Mary Lou Panzano of West Orange, vice president; Ron Sabol of Union, vice president; Carol Kravette of Bridgewater, secretary, and Peggy Keil of Wall Township, treasurer.

The PICAA has been one of the largest organizations in the corporate athletic/recreational field for more than 70 years. Besides its athletic activities, it offers self-improvement, travel and entertainment programs for employees and their families.

A NASTY HABIT

Many people have a misguided notion of what it means to be "regular." They may believe that passing a movement each day is necessary when, in actuality, there is no such "rule." These people usually turn to over-the-counter laxatives in an attempt to deal with their perceived constipation problem. Despite the fact that most laxatives carry a warning that "continued use may result in dependency," many laxative users become addicted to taking laxatives. If the active ingredient in the laxative works by irritating the intestinal lining, continued use will lead to degeneration of the nerves that control intestinal muscles. As part of the vicious cycle syndrome, laxative abusers turn to greater doses. This can lead to a real problem that may only be surmounted through a program of gradual withdrawal.

There will be no problems getting prescriptions filled if you bring them to ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We have a complete prescription department and are Blue Cross and Medicare approved. Cameras, film, toiletries, cosmetics and greeting cards are available for graduation and Father's Day gifts. Open: 9am - 10pm daily, 9am - 9pm Sundays.

SIMPLY CORNY

Everything about corns seems simple enough. They are kernal-shaped protrusions of thickened skin. They form in response to the skin on the toes rubbing against the inside of shoes. They are simply painful, as well. Yet, all the simple facts about corns should not lead a person to a simple remedy. Many corn sufferers treat their problem toes at home with over-the-counter corn removers and medicated pads. These remedies most likely contain acids, and therefore should not be left to the non-professional. Nor is it wise for people to cut their own corns with a razor. This raises the risk of infection by way of an unexpected cut. Instead, allow the podiatrist to trim corns with sterilized instruments. Things are seldom as simple as they appear on the surface.

"Bathroom surgery" can be dangerous. You wouldn't try to do your own dental work. Your feet deserve equal treatment. Whenever you have even a minor foot problem, see your podiatrist. For a consultation, call DR. PAUL A. CAPUTO at 759-6560. My offices, including X-ray facilities, are conveniently located at 345 Washington Ave., Belleville. Hours by appt. Most medical plans accepted. I am director of the Adult and Juvenile Diabetic Clinic, United Hospitals, Newark.

Hint: An infected ingrown toenail should be treated immediately by the podiatrist.

OUR OPINION

'Managerial bankruptcy'

That's a new term that has arisen out of the state's ongoing takeover of Jersey City's school system — "managerial bankruptcy" — and it could apply to other agencies of government besides this embattled one in New Jersey's second largest city.

For the moment, though, all but those most vitally concerned with operation of that school district should take heart at the action, because the hard evidence exists there and elsewhere in the form of test results that the job of schooling the young is not being done.

If it can be proven that this failure occurs because key administrative posts have been filled with incompetent political hacks drawing astronomical salaries, then by all means let's be rid of them. Allowing hapless superintendents and their assistants, principals and curriculum coordinators to deny an education to their young charges while hiding behind the outmoded framework of tenure is not acceptable in the 1980's.

When he signed the takeover order, State Education Commissioner Saul Cooperman said he had reviewed the report of an independent auditor who found "...principals are not in control of their buildings and students and teachers are often not found where they are assigned and not focussed on instructional purposes. The school climate is not conducive to learning, as facilities are poorly maintained and discipline is lacking."

The order told the Board of Education that it must accept a takeover within 10 days or make a sufficiently strong case to the state why the order should be set aside. Members of the board vowed to fight the action, but Mayor Anthony Cucci said that welcomes the takeover if it improves education for the city's 32,000 students, though he did say he thought there were unsubstantiated allegations in the auditor's review.

Truth to tell, we hope the takeover goes ahead with all due speed, and the experience leads Dr. Cooperman and his crew to target other profligate school districts where the money is spent but the end product is not produced, not only because we are destroying our future by turning out poorly educated students, but also because these corrupt school systems are getting the lion's share of state funds.

Help is on the way

After years, perhaps decades of debate, a House-Senate conference committee has finally agreed upon terms for a sweeping catastrophic health insurance bill.

Once in place, it will assure full 365-day a year coverage after a one-day deductible. The current deductible is $540.

The out of pocket deductible for doctor bills covered by Medicare — the amount paid by each recipient before government aid takes over all costs, will be $1,400 maximum.

The new prescription drug benefit will pay 80-percent of prescription costs after a $655 deductible.

Currently Medicare pays for only a small list of very expensive prescription drugs, for 60 days of hospital confinement and 80-percent of doctor's bills, regardless of how high they climb.

Once the Senate and the House approve the measure, which seems assured, an additional flat premium of about $4 a month will be required of Medicare enrollees, beginning next year, and it will rise to $10.20 in 1993.

Having seen how some unscrupulous doctors have ripped off the existing coverage program for millions of dollars, we have to worry about how they will react to this, but it is a sorely needed coverage and long overdue.

Congratulations to champs

Belleville has something it can be very proud of, it's crew team as for the first time in 36 years the boys midweight four team won the national championship in rowing. The five member team, Jerry Russo, Brian Vilan, Mike McGuire, Tom Eccles and Sue O'Donnell and their coaches, Bobby Cassin and Scott Fabian deserve special congratulations for a job well done.

The girls midweight four team also made it to the national championships, finishing sixth. This was just another in a long list of achievements for the girls as they rowed away with the championship in 1982, 1984-85. Congratulations to them and the junior four crews who also competed in the nationals, with the girls finishing fifth and the boys finishing four.

Crew is a very select sport, only a handful of schools in the state have programs. After long hours of dedication and hard work, much of it in animinity, everyone involved with the program should be very proud. By capturing the national championship, they did something no other school accomplished, and they can walk away from this season knowing they are the top of the litter, the very best in their field. So, once again congratulations, not only to the five who won the national championship but to the entire crew team, for in the truest sense of the word team, by the five winning the championship, the whole team came away winners.

Medicaid's odd values

To The Editor:

On June 16, 1987, my 37-year-old sister, Elaine, mother of two young daughters, suffered a closed head injury which left her severely brain damaged. This was as a result of a boating accident on Lake Hopatcong. Prior to the accident, Elaine, who is divorced, was a recipient of welfare and Medicaid. During her stay at Dover General hospital in Morris County, Medicaid paid her bills as any adequate insurance coverage would.

In September 1987, Elaine was moved to a head injury facility in New York state to begin a long road of rehabilitation. By January 1988, Medicaid informed my family that we must find a head injury facility in New Jersey of "equal or greater therapeutic value" to that which Elaine is presently in in New York state. This was necessary because policy does not permit New Jersey Medicaid to pay for out of state care for any length of time. My family agreed to search for a facility and after extensive researching, reviewing and time taken off work to visit 10 institutions, we found Brain Injury Center at Plaza Medical, Camden.

Once the administrators of Plaza Medical reviewed Elaine's records, they accepted her into their program and informed us of an available bed. However, Medicaid has denied Elaine admittance to Plaza Medical because, instead, it wants her in one of the state institutions we visited, which is grossly understaffed and provides much less therapy than she presently receives. Worse than renegeing on our original agreement, they are denying Elaine the care she requires.

My family, including Elaine, are lifetime residents of Belleville and Nutley. We have all been employed in New Jersey throughout our adult lives. Our late father was a disabled veteran who served his country in World War II. I am outraged both as a resident of New Jersey and a U.S. citizen to watch our system reject one of its own because of her economic standing, yet we offer Beth Israel, Sloan Kettering and other facilities to foreigners residing outside the U.S. as gestures of goodwill. I have enlisted the help of Congressmen, Senators, Assemblymen, the Public Advocate and the National Head Injury Foundation. I am sure I speak on behalf of many New Jersey taxpayers when I say that we would prefer Medicaid to help a woman whose children will also some day contribute to this state's economy instead of squelching our much needed dollars and services on something of a lesser priority.
Debbi Memoli,
Belleville.

Thanking the stars

To the editor:

Let us not belittle, nor deride, Nancy Reagan's apparent dependence upon the Astrologer's crystal ball.

Let us, instead, "thank our lucky stars," that the First Lady had the good sense to seek out the advice of Astrology's seers — rather than have Ol' Ron rely upon his own wisdom, or the questionable counsel of some of his past and present, Presidential Advisers.

Chet Dobkowski

Using the back door

To the editor:

Fearing outrageous increases in their property taxes, an aroused citizenry, united under the banner of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville, battled "Townhall" for some 2 years to defeat the infamous "Taj Mahal" project.

While making this valiant stand at their front door, they were being robbed via the back door by decisions of a majority of the Board of Education, making changes and appointments without obvious need or consideration for taxpayers having their backs to the wall, even going through three business administrators in short order, and finally coming back to square one, after squandering all that money, better spent on educating the children.

Learning of the 29% pay raise over 3 years for the teachers and clerical staff, approved by that Board of Education, they overwhelmingly defeated the proposed school budget, as well as dumping the incumbents running for reelection...What is particularly galling about this obscene pay raise is the fact while teachers spend 180 days in the classroom, most everybody else is "on the job" for 240 days of the year and are lucky to get a 3% raise in this day and age of cutbacks and give-backs.

The Mayor and Commissioners have answered the mandate delivered at the polls by proposing cuts in the school budget, documented not to affect the quality of education of Belleville's students, which is all that counts, including for those (misguided) teachers and parents who even brought their youngsters to demonstrate at the last commissioners meeting. We can forgive their action with the words of the greatest teacher of all.

Understandably the police and firemen are expecting (and deserving) a pay raise. A package to offset the cost of living increase would be both fair and equitably for all concerned. If, on the other hand, the Board of Commissioners perpetrate the same crime the Board of Education inflicted on the good citizens of this town, already facing an average property tax increase of over $450!!! They certainly will vent their wrath on them as well.

Summer movie season is underway

By Tom Sullivan

YOU'D THINK WITH with 36 channels on a cable tuner and all the treasures of the movie world available for as little as 99-cents a rental in neighborhood video stores everywhere, attendance in theaters would be down dramatically.

But it happens to be the other way around. Attendance is reaching record new levels, as is the money, with a national average of $4 per admission and tickets commanding as much as $7 in major cities such as New York.

So with the Memorial Day weekend, the first wave of big summer attractions is upon us and more entries will follow in rapid succession, so here is a guide to viewing.

Of the first three openings, we have an unqualified hit in "Rambo III," a squeaker in "Crocodile Dundee II," which barely manages to snatch victory from the jaws of defeat, and a major disappointment in "Willow," the ultimate derivative, with producer George Lucas borrowing from every fantasy film in history, including his own "Star Wars" trilogy.

Despite inspiration from "Gulliver's Travels," "Snow White and The Seven Dwarfs," "Star Wars," "The Wizard of Oz," "The Old Testament," "The Lord of The Rings" and on and on, plus a $35 million budget, Lucas and director Ron Howard still managed to come up with a humorless epic that is probably too intense and scary for its only appreciative audience, first graders and younger.

"Rambo III"

LET US WARN YOU right off that this is a violent film, with one totally gratuitous scene of gore that will cause the hardest to shield their eyes, and yet, it is so well made and such an incredible spectacle that adult audiences are going to find themselves fascinated with it.

Scripted by Sheldon Lettich and Sylvester Stallone, with the latter again playing John Rambo, the alienated Vietnam veteran created by novelist David Morrell, this fast moving epic takes us from Thailand to Afghanistan with reportedly the biggest budget in movie history — and you can see almost all of it on the screen!

Rambo, that one-man war machine, goes in to an isolated Afghanistan province to rescue his only friend, Colonel Trautman (Richard Crenna,) from the clutches of a despotic Russian general who has been pursuing a mindless policy of scorched earth.

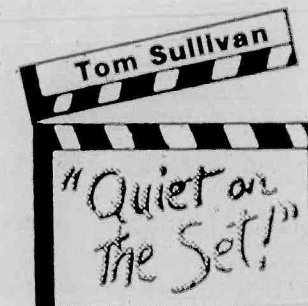

A Look at

'WILLOW'

and

'CROCODILE DUNDEE II'

It is nip and tuck for a while but those evil Russkies are no match for Rambo, with as much ammunition, rocketry and napalm being expended in the film as in the real war.

Peter MacDonald directed and has made himself an instant reputation as one of the world's top notch action helmers in the process. No one but the singleminded Stallone could have pulled this project off in the manner it has been accomplished, and it deserves its big box office. It's a much better movie than "Rambo II."

"Crocodile Dundee II"

WHEN LAST WE saw Mick Dundee (Paul Hogan,) he had been reunited in a Manhattan subway station with his lady love, Sue Charlton (Linda Kozlowski), and when we re-join them, she is keeping him in style in her $5,000-a-month pad, paying the bills with a reporter's salary from her father's newspaper.

He is dying of boredom but not for long. Sue's estranged husband falls afoul of Columbian drug barons and manages to mail her incriminating photos before they kill him. The Drug Enforcement Agency wants the pictures, but so does the chief drug baron, Louis Rico (Hech-Hechter Ubarry,) and killing Mick and Sue to get them would be no problem.

Knowing he's in a death match, Mick decides he can best handle the villains and protect Sue on his own turf, so off they go to Walkabout Creek, then into the crocodile country, with Rico and his henchmen in hot pursuit.

Mick snares them one by one, with poor, hapless Wally (John Mellon) held hostage part of the time.

Hogan's manager, John Corniell, directs in competent fashion, but the script by Hogan and his 28-year-old son, Brett, is too drawn out and too predictable. It is 90 minutes worth of film in a 111-minute running time, lacking the pace, humor and innocence of the original.

But Mick Dundee is still endearing, though we agree with Hogan that this should be the last of the Dundee movies.

"Willow"

WILLOW UFGOOD (Warwick Davis) is a little man with a wife and two children, living in a mythical country long ago and far away. The wicked Queen Bavmorda (Jean Marsh) learns that a baby girl about to be born will eventually take the throne, so she orders all newborn girls killed.

A kindly nursemaid floats THE baby, Elora Danan (twins Ruth and Kate Grenfield), downstream in her crib, and Willow's kids find her in the bullrushes. The family decides to keep her, but upon counsel with the tribal elders, it is decided she must go back to her own kind.

Thus the mission begins, with the diminutive but brave Willow in command.

He meets soldier of fortune Madmartigan (Val Kilmer), who becomes a full sized ally, and they do battle with weird animals and cruel henchmen of the queen before assuring Elora Danan of her heritage.

There is even a Darth Vader type on the queen's staff, Vohnkar (Tony Cox,) wearing a skull mask, but pleasingly free of emphysema.

Special effects abound, ranging from mind boggling to chintzy, and the New Zealand locations are fresh and different. But we can't say the same for the story by Lucas or the script by Bob Dolman.

It was opened a week earlier than originally planned to avoid a headon collision with the two movies reviewed above. A wise move. Competition for them it isn't, sad to say.

BOOKMARKS

At their annual meeting, the Friends of the Belleville Public Library reported the results of their 1987-88 fund raising. $2,500 was raised to be used by the Belleville Public Library for improvements to enhance the services to the people of Belleville. Mrs. Dorothy Charen, president of the Friends said, "It is a pleasure to present to library director David Bryant the fruits of our annual fund raising. After all, Belleville is fortunate to have such a fine, busy library which can also serve as the town's cultural center."

Bryant, speaking of the Friends said, "Their hard work and devotion to the library is inspiring and has helped us make progress by mixing this kind of private support with the Township of Belleville funding."

Friend's treasurer, Lillian Westcott said, "Let's begin planning for trips and programs and sales that will make 1988-89 fund-raising even more successful."

Information Please

by Adrea G. Cohen

The following questions were answered this past week at the information desk of the Belleville Public Library.

1. Do you have any books on the works of Edgar Allan Poe?

Books available in the library are: "Complete Stories and Poems of Edgar Allan Poe," "The Complete Edgar Allan Poe Tales" and "Great Tales of Horror," to name a few.

2. Do you have any information on the Kellogg-Briand pact?

Yes, information can be found in encyclopedias. "The Record of America," "Dictionary of American History," "A History of American Foreign Policy." The Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact, originated by the French foreign minister Aristide Briand, condemned the use of war to solve international problems.

3. I need a recipe of Colombian food. Do you have any?

The book "The International Cookie Jar Cookbook" by Anita Borghese has a recipe on Cucas, dark sugar cookies.

4. Do you have a critical evaluation of characters in "The Scarlet Letter"?

Look under 810.92, Hawthorne, you will find several books that are critical evaluations of his works, characters, as well as "Masterplots."

5. I have to get to Middletown, Delaware. How do I get there?

The answer was found in the North American Road Atlas.

6. Is St. Andrew's School a college?

No, it is an Episcopalian coeducational boarding school, offering a demanding college curriculum, according to "Private Independent Schools."

7. Do you have any information on fashion design as a career?

The library has "Fashion Industry Careers," "Opportunities in Fashion," "Your Future in New World of American Fashion," among others.

Fiction into Film

The "Fiction Into Film" series at the Belleville Public Library will continue June 8 with "The Red Shoes," a film depicting the tragic story of a young ballerina, torn between the love for a composer and her devotion to her career. Spectacular sets and dance sequences, star Moira Shearer and Anton Walbrook, directed by Michael Powell.

On June 15 the film "Till the Clouds Roll By" will be shown, a Hollywood musical biography of Jerome Kern.

Showtime is 1 p.m., and a discussion will follow. The public is invited to attend.

Incoming Garden State Films

Each month the Belleville Public Library receives a new collection of circulating 16 mm films from the Garden State Film Circuit. A samplings of the films coming in include "Circus in Europe," all phases of bringing a circus to town; "Golden Twenties," the extravagant tempo of the jazz age and individuals who made it a high point in history; "One Wish Too Many," a warm-hearted story of a boy who discovers a magic marble; and "Where Ideas Grow," historical re-enactments from New Jersey's colonial period.

The Belleville Library card is needed to book a film.

Friends' Auction upcoming

"Going once, going twice, sold to the highest bidder." These will be the words echoed on June 7, beginning at 12 noon by library director David Bryant, when the Friends of the Library hold their second annual fun auction.

The auction will be held in the library's meeting room, 221 Washington Ave.

Any new, or almost new items should be brought to the Belleville Public Library this week, as well as gift certificates from business establishments. A list of the contributors to the auction will be distributed.

Monies raised will go to support the library. Persons wishing to donate items, please call David Bryant or Adrea Cohen at 450-3434.

Summer programs

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings this summer, the Belleville Public Library will provide crafts programs for teens and adults to be held at 11 a.m. Call the Library at 450-3434 to register. Students will take home a project a day.

Plan for College now!

Some important titles to check are "Barron's Profiles of American Colleges," "The Best Buys in College Education," "Insider's Guide to the Colleges, 1987-88" and "Selective Guide to Colleges."

For further assistance call Mrs. Cohen at 450-3434 or the information desk.

Craftman's Fair winners

Winners in the 31st annual North Jersey Student Craftsman's Fair include eight Belleville High School students. The fair serves as a showcase for student projects completed in Industrial Arts, Art, Home Economics and Vocational Education classes. Judging takes place during the four day fair which is hosted by Paramus Park Shopping Center and held at Paramus Park Mall.

Anthony DePrimo and Louis Pereyra each won a second place award in the Mechanical Drawing 1 category. Jeff Caruso won a third place award in this same category. Carmen Rizzi won a third place prize in the Mechanical Drawing 3 category with a sheet metal development drawing.

Four carpentry students won awards in the Vocational Specialties Division with scale house construction models. John Borowski won a first place award, Louis Coco won a second place with Frank Wendling and Nick Turano each winning a third place award in this division.

These eight students will be recognized at the Annual Scholastic Awards Program at Belleville High School May 25. The projects of these students, as well as student projects from the Fine Arts, Industrial Arts, Home Economics and Vocational areas will be on display in the high school gymnasium during the evening of June 7 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. The Fine and Related Arts Exhibition is open to the public and all are encouraged to come and view the excellent work completed by Belleville High School students.

Varsity Club dinner scheduled

RELIGIOUS VIEWPOINT

Gerald Fortunato, Pastor
Silver Lake Baptist Church

Pastor Gerald Fortunato
Silver Lake Baptist Church

Did you know the word "gossip" does not appear in the Bible? I have always assumed that it did, so when I recently started to research the word, I was amazed to learn that it does not appear in one of the 66 books of Scripture in the authorized King James Version.

Nevertheless, the Bible does say: "A whisperer separateth chief friends" (Proverbs 16:28). The Book of Wisdom also advises "Where no wood is, the fire goeth out; so where there is no talebearer the strife ceaseth" (Proverbs 26:20).

In the second letter to the Corinthians, the Apostle expresses concern over the presence of "... debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings (which means conceits), and tumults (disorder)" among believers (Cor. 12:20). Actually God is concerned about our tongues; He wants them free from negative things such as slander, vain babbling, talebearing and scandal. God wants you and me to have good speech. He says, "A wholesome tongue is a tree of life" (Proverbs 15:4). I like what Isaiah said: "The Lord God has given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary" (Isaiah 50:4). Don't you love to be in the presence of a person like that?

Your tongue is important to God because it is powerful. "The tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth" said James, who also warned, "The tongue can no man tame" (James 3:5-8).

The Bible instructs us, "Let your speech be always with grace (pleasant and winsome), seasoned (as it were) with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man" (Col. 4:6).

Let us ask God to help us, you and me, to be people who use our tongues wisely; that our speech will bless every one we meet. If that is a true desire the answer to such a request is found in the counsel of Jesus who said "A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is evil: For out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh" (Luke 6:45).

That's the way words flow... from heart to mouth. Good speech is the overflow from a good heart. A mouth which speaks good words is a result of regeneration, the new birth. By the Holy Spirit, the "love of God is shed abroad in our hearts..." (Romans 5:5). The character of this life is detailed in 1 Cor. 13:4-8, "... Love suffereth long... is kind... envieth not... vaunteth not itself... is not puffed up... doth not behave itself unseemly... seeketh not her own... is not easily provoked... thinketh no evil... rejoiceth not in iniquity... rejoiceth in truth... beareth all things... endureth all things... never faileth."

Such love in the heart will produce good words on the tongue; seasoned with love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, and temperance (Gal. 5:22-23).

The words of your mouth, and mine, are acceptable in the sight of the Lord when the meditation of our hearts are fed from the living Word, which is Christ Jesus, by the Holy Spirit.

Teacher's Day at School 9

On Friday, May 13, School 9 celebrated National Teacher's Day

by honoring their teacher's with a luncheon.

A luscious feast of all homemade specialties was served to the teachers, including a hot and cold buffet and yummy desserts. The P.T.A. would like to extend its appreciation to all the hard-working teachers and to thank them for a job well done.

Kelly appointed to commission

Chuck Hardwick, Speaker of the New Jersey General Assembly, has announced the appointment of Assemblyman John V. Kelly (R-30) to the New Jersey Fire Safety Commission.

The Fire Safety Commission assists and advises the Commissioner of the Department of Community Affairs in the administration of the Bureau of Fire Safety which operates within the State Department of Community Affairs.

The Commission is comprised of 15 public members. Seven of the public members are appointed jointly by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly. Eight public members are appointed by the Governor. Additionally, two members from the Senate and two members from the Assembly are appointed.

"I am pleased to serve as a member of this commission which provides advice on the fire codes in the state as well as offers educational tools to the public on fire safety," stated Kelly.

DENTALLY SPEAKING

By Drs. James D. Muglia and Paul N. De Maio

Mrs. R.: "I'm deathly afraid of dentists but I need work done. What shall I do?"

Mrs. R., statistically only 40 percent of the population seek dental care. The other 60 percent, it is thought, are too fearful. So you are in the majority. Believe me, the entire dental profession is very sympathetic towards your feelings and you'd be relieved to know it has made great efforts to reduce fear. The most significant is that the numbing substance (xylocaine) is a strong pain reliever. Also the method in giving an injection is more improved and in many instances, patients don't even feel the injection. Another advance is the use of tranquilizers and/or gas to calm patients psychologically prior to the anesthetic. Often a patient may be asked to put a stereo head-set on, again in an attempt to make him relax. Of course, the dentist knows one of his responsibilities is to calm you by his chairside mannerism, along with his staff.

I'm confident, Mrs. R. that you should take that step into dentistry now. You'll be pleasantly surprised. Thank you.

KARL'S

111 Washington Avenue
Belleville, N.J. 07109
759-6700

Karl's has been selling appliances in Belleville for nearly half a century. This family-owned and operated business is located at 111 Washington Avenue and offers prices that are competitive with and generally lower than the big "highway discounters."

Karl's provides service for every product it sells and has established a tradition as a locally managed firm of dealing in top name manufacturer's products.

Whether you need a major appliance or want to upgrade your television, video cassette recorder or audio equipment, Karl's offers tremendous selections and opportunities for savings.

Karl's began its distinguished history in Belleville in 1941. This growing and successful business has since opened stores in Fairfield, Montclair, Watchung, Maplewood and Perth Amboy.

Consumers looking for good quality at good prices without leaving Belleville, will be very satisfied with Karl's. This enduring family business is pleased to join nearly 180 other members of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce in saying, "It's Better in Belleville!"

Diplomatic Mothers

By Eric Quinones
25 Years Ago

May 29, 1963...The mothers of the School 10 PTA visited the United Nations this week. The 48 members sat in on the General Assembly meeting, took a guided tour through the building, and had lunch in the delegates' dining room.

A five year old Belleville boy was listed in good condition after getting hit by a car last week. The driver of the car said that he did not see the boy but stopped when he felt a "thump." He stopped to check on the noise and found the boy lying in the street.

Plans for a new park in the Rutan Estates area were made this week. The site of the new park was the area along the Third River between the Glendale Center to the Nutley Town Line, west of Franklin Avenue. Residents had been complaining about the unsanitary conditions in this area and it was hoped that the park would help improve conditions.

The Clara Maass Professional Building staged an opening ceremony this week. Mayor Robert M. Latorza cut the symbolic ribbon. The Professional Building vowed to concentrate on quality patient care, with thirty custom designed medical suites, central air conditioning, a clinical laboratory, a pharmacy, and modern X-ray facilities. This building was another important step in the progress of Clara Maass since the hospital moved to Belleville in 1957.

History came to Belleville on wheels this week as the New Jersey Historymobile rolled into town. The Historymobile, sponsored by the New Jersey Tercentary Committee and the Kiwanis Club, displayed re-enactments of the signing of the Constitution, famous revolutionary battles held in New Jersey, and many other blasts from the past.

The Belleville Veterans Committee has dedicated the upcoming Memorial Day Parade to the memory of Pervis Robison, Jr., a former Nutley High School student who was killed when the United States Submarine Thresher went down in the north Atlantic Ocean. The parade also included band and vocal music and a naval tribute.

energy in making this important project successful.

Chamber members who donated the wire litter baskets placed along the Avenue are: Crown Chevrolet, Good Health Pharmacy, Troise Insurance, Pariso Bros. Furniture, Gondola Ristorante, Aqua Linen, Century 21-Homes R Us, Belleville Times, Sussex Barrel & Drum, Technion Inc., Dr. Sbarra, Franklin Medical Associates, First DeWitt Savings & Loan, J.P. Cleaners, Rainbow Beauty Supply, Bella Casa Caterers, Verna Printing, Wallace & Tiernan, Sherman's, Corporate Communications Inc., Charles Jewelers, Clara Maass Medical Center, New Jersey Bell, Trust Co. of N.J., Three Guys From Italy Ristorante. Many thanks for your support.

We hope this activity can become an annual event, and during the interim months, this exercise in community pride will manifest itself into an every-day occurrence.

We ask at this time, that the merchants who have a basket in front of their establishment, not use them for their personal use, but for their customers to deposit their garbage in them instead of littering the streets. We would appreciate your help in keeping our town beautiful. The chamber stands by our slogan...we feel "It's better in Belleville!"

Jaye Tarantino, President
Belleville Chamber of Commerce

Social Security by phone

To The Editor:

The Social Security Administration is interested in bringing the best possible service to the public. As part of our ongoing public relations program we want people to know they can file for benefits by phone.

Teleclaims is a method of filing for benefits using the telephone. We find that most people can use this service, avoiding visits to district offices and savings themselves time and travel problems.

If a claimant will be at least age 62 in the next three months and is thinking of retiring, they can file for social security benefits by mailing to the Social Security Administration a simple letter listing full name, social security number, date of birth, full address with zip code, work and home phones and an indication which is the best time to be reached.

Within 10 days they will be contacted by a social security representative and arrangements will be made at that time to take the application.

Our address is: Teleclaims, The Social Security Administration, Post Office Box 1201, Newark, N.J., 07101.

Arne H. Tornquist,
Area Director.

Veterans Council thanked

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Belleville Historical Society, I want to thank the Belleville Veterans Council for having a very fine program on Sunday, May 29th.

The program in the Belleville Reformed Church cemetery was super. We want to thank the Belleville Veterans Council for the flags and the wreath which was placed on Captain Spear's grave. Also we thank the Belleville High School band who helped make the event a real success. This is the third year services were conducted in the Reformed Church cemetery. There was also a very fine turnout, including Mayor Pizzi and many dignitaries.

Our freedom that we enjoy today was started by these Revolutionary Veterans whom we honored. Pamphlets were passed out naming the 62 veterans who are buried in the Belleville Reformed Church cemetery. The history of a few of the veterans and their deeds were also described.

So once again, thank you Belleville Veterans Council for a job well done.

Ed O'Neil, President
Belleville Historical Society

Belleville girls invited to sign up for camp

It's not too late for Belleville parents to make camp plans for their daughters this summer. Exciting outdoor adventures await girls entering grades one through 11 this season at camps owned and operated by the Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County.

Imaginative, creative and fun are the key words to describe the OVAL Day Camp program. Girls entering grades one through eight will enjoy participating in activities ranging from singing songs, hiking, making arts and crafts, taking exciting trips, inventing games and even creating new worlds in the "Imagination Center." Everything is done with a special flair and a lot of laughter.

Girls entering grades three through 11, who wish to participate in a resident camp setting, will have a unique opportunity to spend a part of or their entire summer at Eagle Island, the council's 32 acre camp located on an island in Upper Saranac Lake in New York state's Adirondack Mountains. Campers at Eagle Island will have fun exploring, dreaming and discovering their own abilities and self worth. Although many of Eagle Island's programs are primarily water related, not all sessions are centered around waterfront activities.

Both the OVAL Day Camp and Eagle Island are accredited by the American Camping Association. Remember, girls do not have to be Girl Scouts to attend Girl Scout camps.

To obtain a brochure, call 746-8200.

Hadassah to install slate

The Belleville-Nutley Chapter of Hadassah will install officers June 5 at Temple B'nai Israel, 192 Centre St., Nutley. President Ruth Linz will present a year-end report of the chapter's projects, a brunch and special refreshments will be served and musical entertainment will offer the ceremonies. Prospective members are invited.

Officers to be installed include Ruth Linz, president; Estelle Stein, vice-president membership; Barbara Hirsch, vice-president education; Rosette Halpern and Bonnie Cohen, vice-presidents program; Dina Edelman, vice-president fundraising; Roselle Kirshenblut, treasurer; Ruth Goldberg, corresponding secretary; Alice Goldberg, financial secretary and Sylvia Fleischer, recording secretary.

Linda Thaller, Northern Region chairperson, will be the installing officer. Rosette Halpern is program chairperson for the event.

Shopping by television: ask questions, be cautious

In 1988, nearly one-quarter of all the families in America will be able to go shopping simply by turning on the T.V., watching one of several T.V. shopping programs and calling in their orders by phone. That's 18 times more than could "teleshop" just three years ago. With growth like that, millions more consumers will be taking advantage of this new, convenient, time-saving way of purchasing products and services without ever leaving their homes. It's clear that consumers must educate themselves about how to get the best value from this booming new industry.

The first step in an all-out education effort is to do a survey of the potential problem areas for consumers. The Council of Better Business Bureaus completed just such a survey last December and found that a potential problem consumers should be aware of: that is, many of the T.V. shopping shows they surveyed tended to exaggerate the savings claimed in comparisons with regular "retail" prices. In fact, of 255 cases where a cable shopping program product was available in a retail store, the actual retail price was lower than the claimed price 96% of the time.

But pricing is just one area of potential concern for consumers shopping from home by television. As consumers, we have the right to choose the convenience of armchair shopping over the ability to physically touch the items we purchase. But making an intelligent decision requires access to all essential information. So here are some items to check BEFORE buying.

1. Is the product or service available at a lower price in a catalog or retail store? Call around and check. Be aware that it may be difficult to make an exact comparison, but look for model numbers and other descriptive information so you can at least try to compare. Also, be sure to add shipping and handling costs to the teleshopping program price, if they haven't already done so.

2. How long will it take to receive the item once you've placed your order? If you give the operator your credit card number when you call, the company usually begins processing your order on the same day. On the other hand, when you place your order by mail, you gain some protection under the Federal Trade Commission Mail Order Rule. The Mail Order Rule requires the seller to ship within 30 days (or specify another shipment period). If the product cannot be shipped within that time, the seller must give you a chance to get a refund or agree to a different shipping schedule. All you have to do to gain Mail Order Rule protection is send your order through the U.S. mail.

Susan Fitzgerald — Raymond Kimble

Susan P. Fitzgerald to wed Raymond Kimble

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald of Belleville announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Pamela, to Raymond Anthony Kimble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kimble of Belleville.

The troth was made known Feb. 27 at the Tavern on the Green, New York City. A family party was held May 1 at the Bella Casa, Belleville.

The wedding will be held Apr. 7, 1990.

Miss Fitzgerald is a graduate of Belleville High School and Kean College, Union.

Mr. Kimble, an alumnus of Belleville High School and Montclair State College, is an accountant with Prudential Asset Management Corp., Florham Park.

Nursing school applications

The Clara Maass School of Nursing invites applications during the summer months for its fall semester. Recent high school graduates and men and women who are looking for a rewarding second career, can choose from full-time or part-time programs held during the day or on weekends and evenings.

Academic courses are conducted at Upsala College, East Orange. Students take their nursing courses and gain clinical experience at Clara Maass School of Nursing and at Clara Maass Medical Center in Belleville. It is possible for full-time day students to graduate in only 22 months, ready for employment and prepared for the State Board Licensing Examination for Registered Nurses. Full-time students in the evening and weekend division can complete the program in 33 months.

Tuition costs are reasonable. Financial aid, tuition reimbursement and loan programs are available to qualified students. For students with prior hospital experience, and for those who have completed the first nursing course, part-time employment is available at Clara Maass Medical Center.

For more information or application forms, call 450-2250.

Looking for 2nd straight

Conference title still within reach as Bucs begin final week of season

A conference title is on the line for the Belleville baseball team as the final week of the season begins. Nick Grande's team took a 13-10 record into this week and battled Passaic and Kennedy earlier in the week. Tomorrow, the Bucs play host to Kennedy and next Monday, it's the season finale, at Bloomfield.

Entering this week, the Bucs were tied in the loss column with Montclair and Bloomfield. Montclair had a tough game scheduled with Nutley this week and Bloomfield has a game with Clifton that could be a difficult assignment.

The Bucs won the NNJIL title last spring, capturing the crown on the final day of the season. Belleville had to battle back in the final weeks to win the title after it appeared that Clifton had all but sealed up the championship.

The '88 Bucs have come on strong the past four weeks. Although they have been eliminated in county and state play, the Bucs have a good shot at the conference crown, which certainly would make the season a success.

Mike Finan, the Bucs catcher, had an excellent week last week, delivering key hits in the Bloomfield and Kennedy games. However, Grande might not have Finan's services for part of this week. He has been hampered by a sore thumb for most of the season, but it has gotten worst and Finan might miss some action

Buc Shots

By Mike Lamberti

this week.

Jeff Spillsbury has done very well at shortstop this year and the Bucs are receiving another steady performance from Jay Marchese. Grande has also seen good hitting by Paul Grande, Anthony Rodriguez, Gary Villano, George Speer and Mike Di Biase.

On the mound, Michael Thompson has put together some impressive credentials. In his last outing, Thompson defeated Eastside, 9-1. He allowed just three hits and struck out eight in gaining the complete game victory. Thompson's W-L record entering this pivotal week was 5-0 and his ERA was well under 2.

Frank Orrei and Marchese have also done well on the mound, and the Bucs will need timely pitching if it hopes to win the remaining games.

Belleville baseball in the 80's has produced some excellent teams. The 1980 club was 17-7 and advanced to the finals of the GNT and the state sectionals. In 1981, George Zanfini's club was even better, posting a 21-7 mark and winning the GNT championship.

An interesting side line to the '81 club occurred the final weekend of the season. The Bucs were slated to play Livingston for the sectional championship on Saturday, May 30 and Glen Ridge for the GNT crown the following day, May 31.

It just so happened, that the annual Belleville prom was scheduled for Friday night, May 29, so the players were a little tired when they showed up at the team bus for the game with Livingston.

Zanfini gave Anthony Coco, the Bucs top pitcher in '81, the option of working the sectional game, or the GNT.

Coco, who had started every GNT game for Belleville in '81, decided on the GNT finale. Belleville traveled to a neutral site for the Livingston game and were beaten soundly, 7-1.

The following day, the Bucs, a little more rested, went to Verona for the final game of the season, the GNT championship game. Coco hurled a fine ball game and the Bucs won the title by a 10-4 count.

In 1982, Belleville struggled to a 12-11 record. Frank Fazzini, who would go on to an outstanding collegiate career at Florida State, was injured for a good portion of the year and the Belleville offense sputtered. After the '82 campaign, Zanfini announced his resignation as coach and Ralph La Conte, a long time assistant to Zanfini and Charlie Travers, took over the reigns.

La Conte had a young team in '83 and the Bucs struggled. The team finished 9-17 that year, but better times were coming. Belleville re entered the American Legion summer league after a two year hiatus and the experience began to pay dividends.

The '84 club went 16-9-2 and the '85 team finished 18-8-2 and tied for the conference title. In 1986, Belleville posted a 20-11 mark and made it to the GNT championships, where it lost a tough game to Columbia.

The La Conte era ended after the '86 season and Zanfini came back for what would be a one season return. Under Zanfini, the Bucs were 21-9 in 1987 and won the NNJIL crown. Zanfini went back into retirement after the '87 campaign and Grande took over the program.

Good luck to Grande and his team on this final week of regular season play. The Bucs can pretty well control its own destiny by winning the final four conference games.

TINA MILLER CONTINUES SURGE

Tina Miller, a senior shotputter for the Belleville girls' track team continues her fine season. Miller, who set a school record in the shot put two weeks ago at the NNJIL championships, broke her own record at the state sectionals last Saturday. Her throw of 31'6" was good for fifth place in the section.

Thus, Miller will advance to the All Group Championship this weekend. Miller is the first girl from Belleville to advance to the All Groups since Cecilia Graham went to the championships in 1981. Graham, a high jumper, won the county crown that year, then finished fourth the following week at the sectionals.

SCHOOL YEAR COMING TO A CLOSE

It's hard to believe, but we're already into the month of June. Next week, we'll start our wrap ups of the spring varsity sports and in two weeks, we'll begin the re cap of the sports year at Belleville High, beginning with the fall sports.

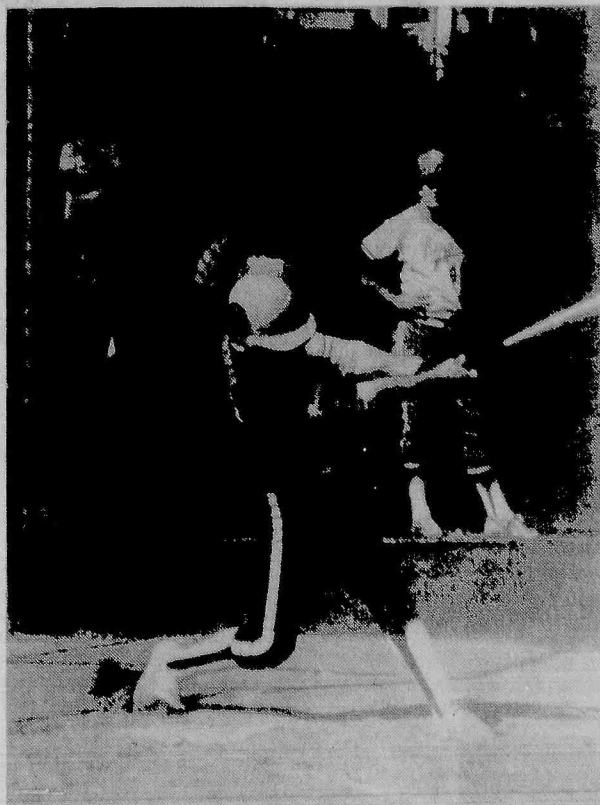

Over the summer months, beginning in the July 14 issue, we'll have our summer lineup. The feature this summer will focus on womens athletics at Belleville from the early 70's to the present. In addition, we'll have weekly stories on the legion baseball team, the Belleville boys and girls' basketball teams in various summer leagues and the weekly Flashback story.

In addition, the Little Leagues and Recreation Leagues will be profiled, so there should be plenty of action to fill those lazy hazy days of July and August.

Lady Bucs fall in county finals, 7-3

Despite a strong effort, the Belleville softball team lost in the county championship game to Caldwell, 7-3, last Saturday at Pulaski Park.

The loss ended the season for Carl Corino's troops. The girls finished the year with a very successful 21-8 mark. It was the seventh straight season that Belleville has won 20 or more games.

"What can I tell you," Corino said last weekend. "The kids played a gutsy game. They gave it everything they had. Caldwell is a very good team. I thought it was a very well played game."

It was the third straight county championship for Caldwell, and all three years, the Lady Chiefs have stopped Belleville in the finals. Belleville was appearing in its seventh straight county title game, but had not won the championship since 1983.

The game was scoreless for the first two innings, but Caldwell got on the board with two runs in the top of the third off Belleville pitcher, Tricia Donnelly.

In the bottom of the fourth, Belleville came storming back, tallying three runs and missing a golden opportunity to score even more.

The inning started with a single by Michele Milano. Jennifer Bridge singled and both girls advanced one base on a wild pitch. Simone Edwards lined a single to score Milano and put runners on the corner. Edwards then stole second and Laurie Moyer drilled a double that scored Bridge and Edwards and put Belleville into the lead, 3-2.

Natalie La Bella singled, moving Moyer to third and La Bella then stole second base, putting runners on second and third base, with still no one out.

However, the Caldwell pitching bore down from that point and the next three Belleville hitters were struck out. The inning ended with Belleville ahead, 3-2.

"That was a big inning," said Corino. "We could have scored a few more runs, but it didn't happen. What can you do, we were aggressive at the plate, but we couldn't get the hit."

Caldwell tied the game in the top of the fifth, then broke it open with four runs in the sixth.

A single and Belleville error put runners on second and third and a second error pushed across the go ahead run for Caldwell. With runners on the corners, a walk loaded the bases and a second walk forced across the second run of the inning and extended the Caldwell lead to 5-3.

A sacrifice fly accounted for the sixth run and a double led to the seventh and final run of the game for Caldwell.

Belleville was retired in order in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings and the Lady Chiefs celebrated its third straight title.

Tennis surge continues as team ends season

The Belleville tennis team won its fifth conference match of the 1988 season by defeating Kennedy, 4-1. The Bucs were stopped by Montclair, 5-0 and lost an exciting match with league rival Passaic, 3-2.

Tony Salese's club will close out the season tomorrow with a match at Bloomfield, beginning at 4 p.m.

In defeating Kennedy, Belleville received victories from Jonas Imprago at first singles and Andy Cueva at second singles. The first doubles team of Dawson Bloom and Gus Lijo and the second doubles of Mark Mellinger and Hao Ly were also victorious.

Although Belleville lost to Passaic, Salese was happy with the Bucs performance.

"It was an excellent match," he said. "It was a lot of fun for both clubs, because we were both very competitive. There was a lot of cheering in that final doubles match. I thought it was a good experience for our kids, playing in that type of match."

Imprago was defeated in first singles, but Cueva came back to win at second singles, 6-1, 6-3. At third singles, Khoi Pham played well, but he was defeated in three sets, 3-6, 6-2 and 4-6.

The first doubles team of Bloom and Lijo tied the match at two with a three set, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3 victory. That victory left it up to the second doubles, where Mellinger and Ly lost a heartbreaker in three sets, 3-6, 7-6 and 2-6.

The Bucs have played well in the NNJIL this spring, and with a number of youngsters set to return next season, there's hope that Belleville will continue its surge in the sport of tennis.

Although the Belleville baseball team was eliminated in state tournament action, the conference title is still very much up for grabs. Last week, the Bucs won a key game with Paterson Eastside to move closer to a showdown this week for the championship.

Belleville took a 13-10 record into games with Passaic and Kennedy earlier this week. Tomorrow, the Bucs are host to Kennedy at 4 p.m. Belleville needs to win all three games this week to set up what could be the deciding game for conference supremacy next Monday. Belleville and Bloomfield meet at Foley Field, at 4 p.m. Entering this week, the Bucs, Bloomfield Bengals and Montclair Mounties all have three losses in conference play. Based on scheduling, Belleville should have the smoothest ride to next Monday's game, although head coach Nick Grande will tell you that every game is considered vital now.

"We know what we have to do this week," Grande said. "We have to win three games, then go to Bloomfield next Monday. It's as simple as that. Montclair has a tough game coming up with Nutley (played yesterday at Nutley) and Bloomfield still has to play Clifton. So we have a shot."

Last year, Belleville captured the conference championship on the final day of the season when the Bucs won at home and Clifton, who seemingly had the title in the bag two weeks before, lost its final four conference games.

Last week, the Bucs were defeated by Bloomfield, 5-3, in the first round of the Group IV, Section II championships.

It was a tie game until the sixth inning, when Bloomfield pushed across a run to gain the lead for good. The Bengals added another run in the top of the seventh to win by two.

Ernie Brodie was the starting pitcher for Belleville. He hurled the first five innings, allowing four hits, five walks and striking out one. Frank Orrei, just coming off the injured list, pitched the final two innings and was the losing pitcher.

Orrei allowed four hits, two runs and two walks in his two innings of work. He struck out two batters.

Both teams tallied runs in the first inning. Belleville's run was produced by three straight singles. Jeff Spillsbury singled and Jay Marchese lined a single, moving Spillsbury to third. Mike Finan then singled to drive home Spillsbury.

The Bucs gained a 3-1 lead in the third inning. Paul Grande singled, but was erased at second when Spillsbury hit into a fielders choice. Marchese hammered a triple, scoring Spillsbury and Finan came through again, drilling a single to bring in Marchese.

The Bengals tied the game in the top of the fourth inning, then gained the lead in the sixth.

Belleville tallied eight hits on the day. Marchese was 3 for 3 and Finan finished 2 for 3, with 2 RBI.

Belleville breezed by Eastside, 9-1 last week. The game was actually a make up of an earlier contest when the two teams played to a five all tie. League rules dictate that a tie game be re played, in its entirety.

The Bucs took control early, scoring once in the first and five times in the second inning.

In the first, Spillsbury walked and Marchese singled. Both men advanced one base by stealing and Finan singled to score Spillsbury.

In the second, Gary Villano started things with a single. Steve Iannuzzi walked and Grande singled to load the bases. Spillsbury doubled to score two runs and Finan (again) had a key hit, a double that scored two more runs. George Speer then singled to score Finan and boost the Belleville's lead to 6-0.

Eastside scored its only run in the bottom of the third. Belleville scored a run in the fourth on back to back doubles from Marchese and Finan. In the sixth, the Bucs scored two more runs. Speer started things with a walk and Nick Turano came in to pinch run.

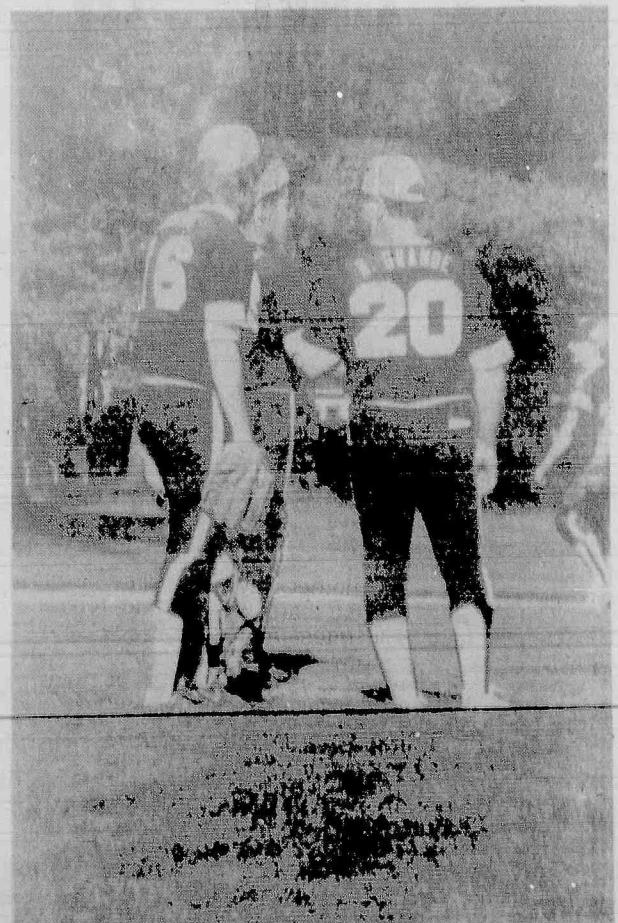

Orrei singled and Turano came around to score when the Eastside centerfielder committed a throwing error. Mike Di Biase singled Orrei to third and Orrei scored on a hit by Steve Tice.

Hitting stars for Belleville included Spillsbury (1 for 4, 2 RBI), Marchese (2 for 4), Finan (3 for 5), Speer (1 for 3), Di Biase (1 for 3) and Tice (1 for 3).

The winning pitcher was Michael Thompson, who has been superb on the hill this year. In beating Eastside, Thompson improved his mark to 5-0 and lowered his ERA to 1.76. Thompson allowed just three hits, walked one and struck out eight. The one run that scored for Eastside was unearned.

Belleville tallied 13 hits in the game and committed two errors.

So it has come down to a one week season, with a possible conference crown on the horizon.

boats.

The girls senior four made it to the finals, where it placed a strong sixth.

"You have to remember," said Fabian, "that just getting to the finals is a job in itself. That boat did very well. I'll take those kind of results any time. We got two boats to the national finals and won a title."

Although it's a senior four shell, there are three underclasswomen on the roster. Kristine Villano is a freshman and Joyce Burke and Laura Nardone are just sophomores. The two seniors in the shell are Kim Trefsgar and Carolyn Giuffrida.

Two more boats made it to the petite finals after good performances in the national semis. The girls junior four and the boys senior four finished its season with fifth and four place finishes respectively.

The boys senior four received a gritty performance from Vinny Colaninno. The senior, who has been hampered by a sore knee all year long, re injured the leg during the semi final round.

"It was really bothering him," Fabian said of Colaninno's injury. "But he said he was going to row, and he did a good job in the petites. He could easily have stopped, but he felt the team needed him. He feels the team stands for something and wanted to be a part of the finals."

In addition to Colaninno, the team lost the services of coxswain Heather Apruzesse in the semi finals. She, too, had been ailing and couldn't make the final round.

"Heather had been injured earlier and missed the past week of action," said Fabian. "She tried to come back, but didn't feel too well after the semi final race. We didn't want to chance it, so we made the change."

Tom Pontrella came on to cox the shell in the finals, and did a good job.

"It's tough for a new cox, especially in that position," Fabian said.

"It's like a new quarterback into the game. Our kids responded well, however."

The remainder of the boys senior four are Dale Watkowski, Len Linfante and Gus Leming. Linfante will attend Wisconsin University next fall and will continue his rowing career.

The girls junior four finished in a time of 6:27.27 in the petite finals. That boat is made up of Denise Ives, Charlene Santora, Liz Morris, Sue Aufiero and Jessica Nappi.

The boys junior four rounded out the weekend at the nationals. The team did not make the finals, but Fabian was happy with their effort nonetheless.

"It was a good season," Fabian said. "We didn't have a lot of numbers, but the kids who did row were just outstanding. The quality is there and we proved that all year long."

Next week, a look back at the 1988 season and a look at the new national champions.

Bloomfield College finishes season

If Bloomfield College coaches Nancy Bottge and Al Restaino, Jr. could summarize their 1988 spring seasons with one quote, they might borrow it from Yankee great Yogi Berra, "It ain't over till it's over."

Nancy Bottge's Lady Deacons fell short in the NAIA District 31 softball tournament, being defeated by number one seed Georgian Court College of Lakewood, N.J. The Lady Deacons came out of the gate strong in the opening round of the tournament at Ocean County Park on May 5, with a 10-0 win over

Dominican College of Blauvet, N.Y. Advancing to the second round, the bats remained overpowering for Bloomfield, leading the Deacons to a 7-2 victory over Georgian Court. The final round of the double elimination tournament matched top seed Georgian Court once again with Bloomfield, with Bloomfield only needing one win to advance to the Bi-District tournament. The Bi-Districts would pit the winner of the Georgian Court-Bloomfield game against the District 5 champion

Western New England College.

Georgian Court handed Bloomfield their first loss of the tournament, defeating them by a score of 2-0. In the final championship game, the Bloomfield Lady Deacons were leading the Lions of Georgian Court by a score of 3-2 with two outs in the bottom of the seventh. What appeared to be the fourth District 31 championship for Coach Bottge and her Lady Deacons turned into a second place finish. What should have been the third out to clinch the series - a foul ball caught in front of the Deacons bench - was ruled to have been caught in dead territory, thus nullifying the out and giving the batter another life at the plate. Georgian Court used this new opportunity and went on to score two runs, beating Bloomfield by a final score of 4-3 and advancing to the next round on the road to a national tournament bid.

Al Restaino Jr.'s squad entered the NAIA District 31 baseball tournament seeded second behind Dominican College of Blauvet, N.Y. In the first round of the tournament, the Deacons defeated STAC by a score of 7-1. In the second round of the tournament, Bloomfield appeared to be upsetting the number one seed. With Bloomfield leading Dominican 8-7, the bottom of the ninth turned into another heartbreaking finish, with Dominican winning by a score of 9-8. Bob Sasso retired the number 4 and 5 batters for the first two outs in the bottom of the ninth. With the next batter hitting what appeared to be the third out - a hard shot to the hole at shortstop - the throw from the Deacon's shortstop pulled Matt D'Amato off the bag, allowing the runner to reach first. Ramces Grieroo, second baseman of Dominican College, took a 1-1 curve ball to deep centerfield for a two-run homer, to give Dominican the 9-8 victory. The Deacons dropped to the loser's bracket but survived 11-10 an eleven-inning game with the College of St. Rose from Albany, N.Y., to put them in the final championship round with Dominican.

Resolution of the Belleville Planning Board: Case No. PB97

PREMIUM HEALTH SYSTEMS INC. Clara Maass Medical Center One Franklin Avenue Belleville, New Jersey Construction of Professional Building and Parking Deck.

Approved: December 10, 1987

FINDINGS OF FACT & CONCLUSIONS

WHEREAS, in reviewing the application, the Belleville Planning Board finds as fact:

1) The proposed professional building development will serve as offices for medical doctors and house diagnostic equipment that will provide enhanced health care to the community.

2) The facility will be built by Premium Health Systems Inc. and leased to doctors of Jersey City Inc., a sister corporation of Clara Maass Medical Center.

3) The plan is consistent with the intent of the Master Plan to have within the boundaries of the Township the best health care facilities possible.

4) On the site, parking for patients, visitors and a limited number of employees will be served by the proposed parking garage located within reasonable distance to the hospital and the proposed building. Further, with assignment and policing of employee parking, better utilization of the northwest section of the parking lot (near the 5 Franklin Ave. professional building) will be accomplished.

5) Consulting traffic experts agree that the proposed plan, yielding 1,340 spaces, will be more than adequate to cover present peak demand of 900 spaces plus 207 spaces generated by the new professional building. These estimates are based on professional consultants making on-site counts at peak hours and projections for the new building. (The zoning ordinance requires 1,533 spaces.)

6) With the proposed entrance, widening of Belmont Avenue will be necessary. The widening also should improve the Belmont/Franklin Avenue traffic situation as it now exists. In addition, testimony indicates a willingness by Essex County to change the timing of the traffic signal at the intersection to improve flow from Belmont Avenue.

7) Clara Maass also intends to work with the County of Essex in pursuing ideas and improvements that will further enhance traffic conditions in the hospital's immediate area.

8) The Medical Center has stated that it will agree to dedicate whatever future right-of-way is required and will cooperate in the relocation of bus stops and crosswalks around the intersection of Belmont Avenue/Franklin Avenue. (This is in accordance with testimony by consulting experts.)

9) A chronic drainage problem in the vicinity of Newark and Belmont Avenues should be improved with the planned drainage system and landscaping.

10) According to the Planning Board's consulting engineer, if not monitored and cleaned periodically, the proposed drainage system could cease to function efficiently.

11) According to expert testimony by both the planning consultant and traffic consultant of the Planning Board, the development could have serious impact on the surrounding neighborhood parking if a fee is charged by Clara Maass for parking on the campus. It is feared that visitors and patients, to avoid paying, will park on neighborhood streets and deprive residents of space now available.

12) Construction of the parking garage, which has the benefit of improving the parking situation, is the primary reason that a variance for excessive lot coverage is required.

13) The Medical Center intends to increase security on the grounds with better lighting, greater camera surveillance, extra hours for security guards on foot and vehicle patrol, etc. The new garage will also have security and fire protection systems as well as patrols on the premises.

14) The primary reason for the urgent widening of Belmont Avenue is due to this application. The widening will allow construction of the new entrance and exists with minimal interference with street traffic.

15) Construction of a second parking deck near the Franklin Street professional building - as shown on original plans - could possibly aggravate Franklin Avenue traffic and cause other circulation problems. Planning Board traffic and planning consultants stated that this concern may be overcome if consideration is given to construction of an internal roadway connecting the northerly parking lots and Sanford Avenue to provide good circulation.

16) The application was revised to eliminate construction of a second deck.

17) The approved Belmont Avenue parking garage will not intrude on the lot line more than the present parking lot arrangement.

18) Landscaping in the proposal will improve the appeal of the parking area which is now dominated by asphalt.

19) The proposed office building frontage will be in line with other buildings existing on Newark Avenue and should not prove unattractive or out of character with the neighborhood.

20) The Belleville police and fire departments have raised no objections to the Planning Board regarding the planned development.

21) The width of curb cuts at nine locations are existing conditions and would not serve to the detriment of the area and the development.

22) The front setbacks of two proposed lots are deficient at present. It will not be to the detriment of the area and the development if permitted to continue to exist. Changing the setbacks, however, could affect the arrangement and number of parking spaces and could have adverse results.

Now, therefore, the Belleville Planning Board hereby grants approval for the site plan with the following conditions:

1) Submit a revised site plan showing the precise development plan after elimination of the second parking garage. Show surface parking and any other revisions.

2) The Planning Board shall indefinitely retain jurisdiction over parking, so that the daily distribution and pattern of all Medical Center campus parking activities shall be monitored and, as a cooperative effort between the applicant, Clara Maass and the Township, adjusted and modified as needed to maximize the efficiency and convenience of parking for both all Medical Center activities and the parking needs of surrounding residential neighborhoods. The Planning Board may, from time to time, consult with appropriate officials at Clara Maass to agree upon necessary improvements.

3) Designate areas for employee parking to minimize competition for spaces with visitors, patients and doctors. Create an overall parking system which will provide for maximum control of assigned areas and which will not impact negatively on neighborhood streets.

4) Prior to future alterations of the parking site, elimination or realignment of spaces, the plans must be brought before the Planning Board for approval at a public hearing.

5) No parking fees may be charged for a minimum of two years after issuance of the final certificate of occupancy. Any intentions to charge for parking thereafter, must be reviewed and approved by the Belleville Planning Board and may be subject to a trial period decided by the Planning Board.

6) Devise traffic control techniques to discourage all-day parking by outsiders on campus grounds. The consultant suggests designating tow-away zones and areas stipulated "no parking" or limited parking time during certain periods of the day, particularly from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

7) Comply with all recommendations of the Township Engineer, its consultant engineer or other engineers designated by the township or Planning Board.

8) Dedicate any hospital land necessary to implement plans for improving the capacity of Franklin Avenue and Belmont Avenue in accordance with plans for the intersection approved by the Essex County engineer, or its consulting engineer, and the New Jersey Department of Transportation. It will be the responsibility of the applicant to pay for the widening and other improvements connected with this aspect of the project. This will be in accordance with testimony and expert reports.

9) Seek and cooperate in relocating bus stops and crosswalks in the vicinity of Franklin Avenue/Belmont Avenue intersection if the Essex County Engineer and Department of Transportation agree that such changes will be an improvement. This will be according to testimony and expert reports.

10) Seek adjustment of the timing of the traffic signal at the above named intersection to allocate approximately 45% of the green time to Belmont Avenue and 55% of the green time to Franklin Avenue, as recommended by Planning Board consultants. This requirement is understood to be subject to approval of the Essex County Engineer and Department of Transportation.

11) Areas must be marked by a unified signage system including identification signs, traffic control signs, signs governing use of parking areas, etc. Existing signage will be exempt, meaning that it will not be necessary to remove previously installed signs that are in good condition and appropriately placed. However, other new signs and replacements for old signs, must henceforth conform with the uniform signage system. This will be subject to review and approval by the Planning Board prior to issuance of a certificate of occupancy. This aspect will be considered a continuation of this application and will not be subject to application fees. All other procedural requirements for appearance before the Board, however, must be followed.

12) Install a fire control system in the parking garage. All other aspects of the plan must meet approval of the fire department. Any modifications to the site plan suggested by the fire department must be reviewed by the Planning Board.

13) As noted in the consulting engineer's report of October 28, 1987 (attached), Item No. 3 - a), b), c) - approval of points a) and b) must be made by the Township Health Officer.

14) The Planning Board will retain jurisdiction over the drainage system to ensure that it is maintained and functioning as proposed. The consulting engineer suggests, and this is a condition, that the Planning Board receives an annual report that the drainage system has been cleaned and maintained. The first report shall be due one year from the date of installation and approval by the Township, and each year on that date thereafter.

15) Extend the sidewalk on the northerly side of Newcomb Street to Magnolia Street and the walkway in front of the Nurse's residence in the northerly direction to the parking area. (see sheet SD-1).

16) Approvals must be sought by the Essex County Planning Board and the Essex County Engineer. Modifications to the plan by those Boards must be brought to the attention of the Belleville Planning Board for review and input.

17) All escrow fees must be posted for the planning consultant, engineer, traffic expert, recorder (if necessary), and other expenses legally billed by the Township or others in accordance with the Belleville Township escrow account ordinance.

18) Construct the entrance 12' wide with a 15' radius.

19) Install wheel stops for the eight parking spaces on the southerly side of the Extended Care facility in order to keep the walkway clear of parked cars.

20) Obtain authorization from the Township of Belleville to place three parking lot gate installations within the right-of-way of a public street. There are exit gates for lots E, F, and L on the site plan.

21) Receive approval of the Hudson-Essex-Passaic Soil Conservation District.

22) Expand an electronic surveillance system within the parking lots and garage for continual monitoring from a strategic point within the hospital. Provide vehicular and foot patrols on the premises to provide maximum security.

AND, WHEREAS, with Planning Board review and findings of fact, the application is approved with the following variances:

1) Number of parking spaces.
 2) Front setback of proposed office building.
 3) Side setback of the proposed Parking Structure.
 4) Front setback of two proposed parking lots.
 5) Width of curb cuts at nine locations.
 6) Lot coverage.
