RAHWAY ELKS ROLL HIGH AT BLOOMFIELD

Plaster Two Nine Hundred Games on Hosts. State Race Close

At the expense of the West Ends the Mohawks of the city bowling league climbed up a little in their standing Friday night, taking two games out of three and placing themselves only one game behind the third-place Elderan Seconds. The Indians won the first two games by big margins but were forced to taste defeat in the last tilt when the Blissco five rallied and shot the biggest game of the night.

Only two twin-century counts were registered during the evening, Price leading with 210. Madden got the other, 203. Not a West Ender entered this select class. Madden was best average man of the match with 181.1 followed by Price with 170. Gibbons led the West Ends with 168.1.

READ THE RECORD.

NEW EMPIRE NEARLY READY

The Record has followed the work from the tearing down of the old building to the present situation of the new one, and it can be truthfully said that from figures furnished and information from reputable persons and material used in the make-up and the kind of workmen on the job, that the new Empire Theater is one of the best playhouses in the Metropolitan area. The public will appreciate this face at a glance in making their first entrance.

Every department of the work is moving along smoothly and when considered what has had to be done and the exactness of the way it had to be done, rapid time was made and is being made to a quick finish.

Mr. Heiman, when asked what kind of a show he would book as the opening attraction, said, "It will be more than likely a good picture and variety show, but things have not advanced far enough yet to tie up with any production. Netherless, just as soon as the contractor names a definite date of completion, I will secure a play that will jibe with the rest of the theater and make every effort to continue just such good brand of shows as the public demands."

Mr. Heiman stated that everything has been done to make the theater, safe, comfortable and attractive. Walls, roof and all materials have met with State and local inspectors' approval. The heating plant is in a concrete walled basement and a complete fire-sprinkling system has been installed and will be connected with a special high pressure water main.

Of the seating capacity Mr. Heiman said: "Planning a theater with only the box office in mind is bound to rob the structure of much beauty and spaciousness which rae indispensable to the comfort and enjoyment of the public. The wide spaces between the seats, the artistic curves, the roomy aisles, the lobby, restrooms and crossovers of the New Empire meant the sacrifice of many seats, but the New Empire Theater was built for comfort.

"The big thought was to make the New Empire permanently alluring for years to come. It was designed to be charming, roomy and comfortable so that it would always be a pleasure for the people of Rahway to go there. And only in this way could the large investment in the New Empire Theater be justified. When the Rahway theater-going public is being entertained at the New Empire, they will be impressed by the fact that infinite attention to detail was devoted to secure comfort for all.

Police Court Notes

the machine after he had taken several "stiff drinks" from the bottle the driver had been carrying.

According to the story told by the Newark man, he had been superintending some work for the Newark concern in New Brunswick on October 23, returning at night with the regular driver of the truck, whose name he gave as Eagan. Grady testified that Eagan had taken a number of drinks, and that he, Grady, had also taken several drinks. Following an accident on St. George avenue, the driver, Eagan, is said to have disappeared, and Grady drove the car to the side of the road.

Dr. George L. Orton had testified that Grady was in an intoxicated condition when examined by the Rahway physician a few minutes after arrested. Officer Henry Miller and Motorcycle Officer Neil Crowley who arrested Grady testified that he drove the car. When placed in a cell, he broke a bench and created a general disturbance.

Other motor vehicle cases were acted upon as follows: Herman Bluehime, of Philadelphia, charged with speeding, by State Inspector Gechler, was fined $25; Samuel Pason, of Newark, also charged with speeding, by tSate Inspector Coleman, was assessed $15.

The charge made by Ernest Marhold, of 212 Jaques avenue, against Water Plant Engineer David Gage, alleging that the latter was a disorderly person, was dismissed because of insufficient evidence.

Engineer Gage testified that Marhold had entered the driveway to the water plant with a truck loaded with six tons of coal, and had operated the truck in such a manner that cars parked along the sides of the drive were in danger. Mr. Gage contended that when he remonstrated with Marhold; the latter called him names and struck at him. The water engineer told Judge Dey thta the blow did not strike him and when he struck back, his right hand hit the side of the truck, breaking two fingers.

City Commissioners Russell S. Hoff and H. T. McClintock were in court, but took no part in the hearing. Judge Dey dismissed the complaint against Mr. Gage, although Marhold denied the story told by the water plant head, and stated that Mr. Gage struck him after calling him names. Mr. Gage, on the stand, called attention to the fact that although he had handled the thousands of cars at the municipal swimming pool last summer, he had never been accused of vile language or physical violence.

Keen Competition In "Y" Swimming Meet

Keen competition marked the swimming meet held at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon. Roy Smith was the winner in the one event of the meet chosen for championship rating, the breast stroke for twenty yards, and was awarded a gold medal for his performance. In each of the meets to be held one will be so rated. Smith's time was fourteen seconds. Kenneth Hoffman was second and Julius Swierk, third.

Other results were: Twenty-yard stroke won by J. Swierk, time 14 2-5 seconds; John Francisky, second; Raymond Haberle, third; Forty-yard swim, won by Arthur Chase and John Francisky tied, time 23 2-5 seconds; third, E. Roberts; 100-yard swim won by Roy Smith, one min. 12 sec.; second J. Swierk; third, Raymond Haberle; fancy diving won by John Francisky; second, Haberle; third, Norman Dempster.

High point score was held by Julius Swierk with 121. Other point scores follow: Francisky, 110; Haberle, 89; Smith, 83; Dempster, 68; Roberts, 48; Chase, 42 1/2; Hoffman, 30; Robert Barnet, 20; Cavanaugh, 16; V. Koszul, 15. All points made by the contestants in the five meets will be registered and a season's prize to each of the highest three.

Masonic Temple Opening

one of the prime movers in obtaining the temple; Paris R. Forman, who was general manager of the finance campaign which was successfully put across early this year; Harry Simmons, chairman of the finance committee; Fred C. Bauer, for his diligence in inspecting the building operations and for his work as chairman of the equipment and furnishings committee; Architect Seymour Williams, who though unable to be present sent a letter congratulating the lodge; his tribute being by all the acknowledgment of a beautiful temple; Harold S. Gibbons, treasurer of the Craftsmen's Club, and to the late William J. Opdyke, for everything they did to make the temple possible, which was by no means small. Worshipful Master Mintel also lauded the work done by Ralph F. Ritter, P. M., of Phoenix, Ariz., but formerly of this city, who did yeoman work during the earlier days of the building campaign.

Acknowledgments for Gifts

Worshipful Master Mintel acknowledged special gifts and services from the following who were not called upon to arise: Henry H. Jardine, for his services in preparing the cornerston for the temple, the stone having come from the ruins of a former headquarters of General Lafayette; C. G. Terrill for redecorating the candlesticks and rods; George R. Hoffman for the presentation of the letter "G" which has such peculiar significance in Masonry; Charles Koenig for his gift of bronze, brass knockers for the doors leading into the lodge room; Miss Nellie Martin who presented the lodge with a handsome altar in memory of her brother, the late Worshipful Brother Henry V. Martin; the Harmin Trio which gave its services gratis to play at the opening exercises; Frank C. Woodruff for his services on the organ also given gratis.

It was at this point that Rev. Loyal Y. Graham gave his prayer, which was followed by the "Doxology" as the closing ode. Among the five hundred or more Masons who attended the ceremonies were five past grand masters, including: Frank C. Sayrs, of Camden; Arthur Potterton, of Jersey City; William Thompson, of Trenton; Austin McGregor, of Newark; William N. Daniels, of Newark.

Worshipful Master Mintal announced that next Monday night, December 1, would witness the initial conference of the Master Masons' Degree in the new Temple, while on the following Monday night the annual Past Masters' Night will be observed. Monday night, December 15, will be the occasion of the annual election.

After the session of the lodge was over the huge throng adjourned to the banquet hall of the Temple where a buffet luncheon was served by the women of the Eastern Star. Selections were given by the Appollo Male Quartette and the Harmin Trio. Inspection of the building followed. The most beautiful gem in the entire setting of the new Temple is the lodgeroom. Its beauty is indescribable as words could not do it justice. It is indeed a triumph for Rahway Masons; a possession of which they may justly feel proud. Dancing was enjoyed in the banquet hall when space permitted.

Master Highly Honored

Too much credit cannot be given to Worshipful Master Frederick L. Mintel, whose untiring efforts and intelligent direction made both the cornerstone laying ceremonies and the dedication exercises the marked successes which they proved. Mr. Mintel's had an honor seldom if ever accorded to one Master, having two such monumental tasks in one administration and he carried out his part with rare distinction.

In addition to being Master of Lafayette Lodge, Mr. Mintel is King of Lafayette Chapter, No. 26, Royal Arch Masons, Deputy Illustrious Master of Adoniram Council, No. 9, Royal and Select Masters, of Elizabeth, a member of Almas Shrine, of Washington, D. C., and has received his thirty-second degree at Caldwell Consistory, Bloomsburg, Pa.

Thanksgiving Program By Home Reading Club

In keeping with the Thanksgiving season the meeting of the Home Reading Club held Friday afternoon with Mrs. Fannie DuRie, of 56 Jaques avenue, included an interesting literary program on the "Pilgrims." Mrs. J. A. Macclary gave an account of these early founders and also displayed pictures on their life.

COURT PREMIER SOON

College star, will no doubt take the place of the Queen City Association five, as will the Queen City Wheelmen, who are booked to appear in Rahway in January.

Following the opening game on Saturday evening, the "Y" will clash on December 6 with the Elmsdorf Aces, of New York City. On December 13 the Kappa Five will play here in the first of a series of games. One of the strongest court teams in the east, the United States Marines, which team defeated the strong Elizabeth A. C., composed of last year's Elizabeth "Y" players, will play in Rahway on December 20. A team of Hudson county stars, playing under the name of the Acme Five, are booked for December 27.

Fans who have followed the fortunes of the "Y" team for the past few years will remember the annual New Year's night struggle with the Woodbridge Big Five. Practically the same team that was nosed out by one point as the whistle blew last year, with the addition of several new players, will be here on the first day of the new year, under the name of the Wodbridge American Legion Five.

On January 3 the crack Queen City Wheelmen team will play on the Irving street court, followed by games with the Perth Amboy Y. M. C. A., Connecticut Farms Field Club and Stuyvesant Five, of Jersey City. Efforts are being made to get several college teams to play here.

Expect to Reach Goal

At a meeting of the executive board of the Girl Scout Council held yesterday morning at scout headquarters in the Woman's Club, reports on the drive to secure $3,500 for the 1925 budget indicated that with a little follow-up work made necessary by inability to find some prospective donors at home on the occasion of other visits, the goal would be reached. The Scout Council is very grateful for the response which has been given in the drive and looks forward to the greatest year in the history of the Girl Scout movement here in 1925. Members present were: Mrs. F. V. Dobbins, Mrs. Frank Sandman, Mrs. George L. Orton, Miss Julia Meration, Mrs. H. M. Searles, Director Miss Irene Applegate, Mrs. J. J. Hough, Miss Edith Collins, Mrs. Milton D. Martin.

Former R. H. S. Teacher Passes Bar Examinations

The many friends of Fayette N. Talley, of 14 Seminary avenue, former instructor in science at the Rahway High School and a well-known member of the Business Men's gym class at the Y. M. C. A. will rejoice with him in the announcement that yesterday he successfully passed the oral examination before the New Jersey State Bar to become an attorney. As he successfully passed the written test about six weeks ago he has earned entrance to the bar.

The accomplishment of Mr. Talley is the more remarkable when one considers that he has been able to pass his examinations after only two years of preparation. Under a new law examinees have been allowed to take the bar exams in two years instead of the three ordinarily required. Mr. Talley served with the U. S. Navy during the World War. For the past two years he has been studying law at the New York Law School from which he will graduate in June of next year.

For some time past Mr. Talley has been connected with the law firm of Leavitt and Ulbrich, of Elizabeth, and for a time at least he will continue this affiliation. He is a graduate of Dickinson College and Carnegie Institute of Technology, also a former professor at the latter institution.

Will Renovate Church

There was a meeting Friday night of the congregation of the Zion Lutheran Church to consider extension plans. It was decided that at the present time nothing will be done toward erecting a new church but that instead the present building will be remodeled extensively and new pews installed, the interior redecorated and other general improvements made. The meeting was presided over by J. H. Fiathmann, while Henry Hackman served as secretary.

Bats' Habits

As bats are only rarely seen in the daytime, people, as a rule, know very little about them. When attracted by a light, and a window chances to be open, one will, during the warmer parts of the year, fly in and cause considerable mental distress, says Nature Magazine. The best thing to do is to allow it to make its escape uninjured, as the interesting little mammal preys upon no end of harmful insects.

The resignation was accepted after tribute had been paid to Miss Melick for her splendid work. Miss Grace Jackson was elected to the vacancy. One of the features of the meeting was a talented exposition on the work of the Rahway Branch since its organization, by Miss Mary Robinson.

WILL BANQUET R. H. S. ELEVEN

School Board Will Provide Event for Football Team. Schools Growing Fast

SECRETARY'S ANNUAL REPORT IS RECEIVED

That the board of education plans to honor the 1924 football team of Rahway High School, winner of All-County honors and claimants to the State Class B title, with a banquet was made known Tuesday night at the meeting of the board, in the report of the educational committee. Originally the date set was Friday night, December 12, but this is expected to be changed to another night that week. Coach Brooks' charges this fall have made an enviable record, second only to that of the great State Championship eleven of ..., and the dinner is a well-deserved tribute.

The great difference between educational methods of today and those of thirty years ago is remarked in the monthly report of Superintendent Dr. Little. Dr. Little reports a number of special observances in the schools ... The modern tendency is to bring the pupils in contact with as many things as possible in order that he might be prepared to meet any emergency when the time comes to take his place in the active walk of life.

Among the observances in the schools during the past month have been those of Conservation Week, Educational Week and Fire Prevention Week as well as various other observances that come from time to time, such as special programs for legal holidays. All of these exercises in connection with the social and extra-curricular activities, plus the ordinary required work, have combined to furnish an exceptionally busy program, Dr. Little points out.

The school's head notes an improvement in attendance for the past month over the corresponding period last year. His report shows that at this date there are 107 pupils more enrolled than a year ago. The registration ... of October 31 is ... With 260 more pupils expected to enroll during the remaining seven months of the school year, the total for the year is expected to reach close to 3,600.

CLARK'S LIGHTS BREW TROUBLE

Minority Opposes Improvement On Cost Grounds—To Provide House Current

On Wednesday evening the John ... Association held its annual Thanksgiving celebration by entertaining members and their friends at the Clark Township Inn. The local ..., Michael Cahill, with the help of his majordomo, Theodore ..., saw to it that everything was ready for the proper celebration. A more detailed account of the live turkey awards will appear in the Record next week.

The question of placing lights on the principal streets of the Township promises to be a live topic for the next few months. A majority of the residents are in favor of the lighting project, in the well-founded belief that the added expense will be more than balanced by the advantage of having lighted and therefore safer streets as well as by the enhanced value of all adjoining or abutting properties. A minority, it seems, there is always such a thing, is opposed to the project claiming that its cost is excessive. The leader of this minority, it is alleged, has gone abroad seeking signatures to a petition opposing the lighting project and has secured many by misrepresenting the facts, especially by telling prospective consumers of current that the projected line of street poles will not carry commercial current to householders. This is plain misstatement since Chairman Lang will insist on including a provision for commercial line in any contract which he makes with the Public Service Company for street lighting.

Mr. Lang hopes that all citizens interested in having the lighting project put through will attend the Township meeting on Tuesday evening next and there give him and Mr. Leighton their aid and support in combating the arguments of the minority ...

Personally, we favor the lighting project and hope it goes through. Its cost on each householder will not amount to ten dollars a year, while its benefits will be over ten times this amount.

Anent the thoroughness of modern high school education the following may not be amiss: On Monday a young high school graduate seeing Mr. Roland White with a letter in hand addressed "R. J. White, Esq.," said: "Gee, Mr. White I had heard you were a Canadian but now I see you are supposed to be an Esquimau."

Recorder Maxfield has in hand the case of a young resident of Rahway, who is accused of trespassing, during ... hickory ...

Thanksgiving Is Observed In City's Public Schools

Fitting Programs Praising Merits of Pilgrim Fathers Held in Numerous Classrooms. Sketch at High School

Thanksgiving Day was fittingly observed by the pupils of the several public schools in elaborate programs Wednesday morning. The schools closed at noon for a vacation continuing until Monday morning. The programs follow:

High School

The observance at the high school consisted principally of the presentation of a sketch, "In the Good Old Day" under the direction of Miss Helen Aurand, instructor in elocution and public speaking. The sketch dealt with the desire of two modern children who wanted to adventure into the land of long ago. A dream came to them and they lived for a time as they had wished but upon awakening were glad that they lived really in the present. The setting was a scene in an old New England home, very cleverly arranged, on the auditorium stage.

The cast included: "Peregrine Brewster," Frank Little; "Pricilla Brewster," Anne Andrasky; "Aunt Abigail," Colleen Moody; "Uncle Ezra," Stephen Gyory; "Father Time," Charles Ivans; "The Hour Glass," John Francisky; "Neighbor Dunham," Foster Orton. Nicholas Coppola provided a special feature with several talented violin solos.

Welfare Association Plans to Hold Bazaar

Arrangements for holding a big bazaar early next month were made at an important meeting Tuesday afternoon with Miss Mary C. Blanchard, of 84 Maple avenue, of the Welfare Association of the Second Presbyterian Church. The scope of the affair will include the sale of food, aprons, fancy articles and children's dresses as well as various novelties. A goodly portion of the time at the meeting was given over to the preparation of articles for this bazaar and a special meeting will be held next Tuesday with Mrs. Arthur B. Hull, of Colonia, for the same purpose. President Mrs. George L. Orton presided with Mrs. Jan Van Herwerden serving in her capacity as secretary.

Quantity Liquor Stolen

Report was made to the police on Tuesday by Edward S. Savage, of West Milton avenue, that on Monday night a thief or thieves had gained entrance into the cellar of his residence and had broken into the wine cellar taking a case of Haig & Haig, four bottles of Mount Vernon and some bottles of wine. Detective Sergeant Thompson investigated and found that entrance had been gained by removing a screen and forcing the window. A lock on the rear door was broken off and exit made from the cellar that way. The open door led to the discovery of the robbery. No clue to the missing liquors has been found.

Those attending the executive meeting were: Dr. Ralph G. Stillman, Ross O. Fowler, county commander; Alfred Giroud, Elim F. Neugebauer, Jesse F. Wright, C. G. Saal, J. E. Glendenning, Hal B. Alston and Lester Crane.

Game's Report Tuesday

Owing to the press of work incident to the Thanksgiving holiday and the consequent loss of a full day's time for putting articles into type, a full account of yesterday's football game between Rahway High School and the Alumni eleven is not possible in today's paper. The teams battled to a scoreless tie on a muddy gridiron. For the football fans interested in the details of the game, which only the Record has provided all season in its play by play accounts, this paper will publish on Tuesday, the usual play by play account and analysis of the contest.

Reports Blackmail

Antonio Jacobbo, of 89 Main street, known as "Tony, the Barber," reported to the police Wednesday that he had received a letter demanding that he be at the bridge over the Lehigh Valley Railroad in Frelinghuysen avenue, Newark, at 10:30 Wednesday night with $1,000. Chief of Police Smith and Detective Sergeant Thompson took Jacobbo to the Newark police headquarters and reported the letter, which was postmarked, Belleville. The Newark and Rahway police are investigating.

The Harry Simmons Association will meet tonight at Republican headquarters, 128 Main street.

BILLS PROVIDE IMPROVEMENTS

Commission Pushes Forward Street Work. New Paving Bids Are Asked

Passage of a number of ordinances for various improvements about the city and the introduction of still further bills for that purpose was the chief business before the board of commissioners at their weekly meeting Tuesday night. Sewers, sidewalks and the construction of concrete pavement in one street were included in the several ordinances. The particular sections of the city benefiting are the Lincoln Park and Rahway Gardens divisions.

Three ordinances were introduced which will bring about additional improvements in the Lincoln Park tract. The first provides for laying of a twelve-inch vitrified tile pipe sewer in Jefferson avenue from Central avenue to Stone street, then west in Stone street for a distance of 200 feet, and an eight-inch sewer from Jefferson avenue east in Stone street for 150 feet. This bill which passed on first and second readings carries a temporary note or bond issue of $8,000.

The second ordinance covers the laying of a four-foot cement concrete sidewalk on the east and west sides of Thirza place from Central avenue to Stone street. The temporary note or bond issue authorized is $2,250. This was passed on first reading only. The third ordinance calls for the construction of a seven-inch re-enforced concrete pavement in Thirza place from Central avenue to Stone street; also concrete curbs. The temporary note or bond issue amounts to $3,500. The abutting property owners especially benefitted by the laying of the paving are to pay for the entire cost of the improvement with the exception of engineering and inspection costs. The sewer and sidewalks are assessed in accordance with the law.

A number of ordinances for improvements, including the new sewers in the Rahway Gardens section were supplemental bills, appropriating further monies to cover jobs contracted for but for which sufficient funds were not provided in the original estimates. These were passed on third and final readings. When the bill for $700 additional for sewers in the Rahway Gardens came up, A. C. Kightlinger asked the reason for the added expenditure, being told, as stated above, that the original estimates were too low.

The supplemental ordinances passed on third and final readings include: To construct a twelve-inch vitrified tile pipe sewer in Hamilton street from Jefferson avenue westerly for approximately 258 feet. Under the original ordinance $1,400 had been temporarily appropriated but this has proved not sufficient and the new ordinance makes a further temporary appropriation of $600.

COUNCIL CAUCUS OUTLINES PLANS

Report Has Armstrong As Choice for City Attorney. Expect Group Unison

There was an important caucus Wednesday night of members-elect of the Common Council which takes office on January 1, at the home of William Bliss, of 67 Jaques avenue, when it is understood, preliminary outlines were made for the work of the new governmental body.

When questioned by a representative of the Record, Stanly W. Jones, who was elected councilman-at-large usually, according to custom, chosen president of the council, stated that it was not felt at this time wise to disclose to the public the proceedings of the meeting.

Several reports which have reached the office were told to Mr. Jones and verification asked but in each instance he replied that this was not the time to say "yes" or "no" to the questions. One of the reports which have come as a result of the meeting is that David Armstrong, former city commissioner and city attorney, was unanimously agreed upon, for city attorney.

One of the councilmen-elect told a Record representative that the council hoped to accomplish much for the city, as they expected to work harmoniously together. He said that Republicans and Democrats, Loyal Citizens candidates and independents were represented at the meeting. Mr. Jones stated in answer to a question as to those attending the caucus, he did not feel at liberty to give that out at this time.

Fund Heads Confer

A meeting of the Sinking Fund Commission was held at the city offices Wednesday morning, when it was decided to put to use $20,000 of the funds of the commission now in the Rahway National Bank to take city improvement notes. Two water bonds retired was another matter reported. A report was submitted showing the annual balances. Various other routine matters were given attention. In attendance were: President Frank M. Stillman, Secretary Frank J. Foulks, Commissioners Arthur R. Wendell and E. J. Grossman.

Heavy Toll in Damages In Series Auto Crashes

Four Machines in One Smash-up, Three Persons Being Painfully Injured—Woman Breaks Arm and Leg in Another Crash

The toll taken in automobile accidents in this city Wednesday and yesterday approximated that of unusually heavy accident periods in midsummer. Several persons were injured in the crashes and had to be taken to the Rahway Hospital.

Four machines figured in a multiple crash about ten o'clock Wednesday night in St. George avenue in front of Mauser's Garage. A truck was parked in the highway heading north, when a Chevrolet coupe, driven by Bernard Bachman, of 403 Park avenue, Perth Amboy, accompanied by Miss Rose Hoff, of 353 High street, Perth Amboy, ran toward the truck too far to turn out before sighting the parked vehicle.

Bachman attempted to turn sharply out of the way of the truck but could not, and the Chevrolet was completely wrecked. It was hurled broadside into the highway into the path of a Chevrolet Baby Grand car going south. This machine was driven by Robert H. Robinson, of 74 South Fifth street, Clifton. In it besides the driver were his wife, Agnes, and John Fanning, of 18 Clinton avenue, Clifton; Sarah Berry, of Glenridge, Pa.; Miss Lillian Sullivan, of Lanno, Pa. This car was badly wrecked.

On top of that a Ford car also heading south, crashed into the rear of the Chevrolet Baby Grand. This fourth car was driven by Wallace Kessler, of 900 Washington avenue, Perth Amboy. In it were his wife, Marion, and daughter, Anna. The windshield of the Ford was shattered and the steering wheel broken, also the front axle was broken and the curtains and top badly torn.

Three persons were taken to the Rahway Hospital as a result of the quadruple crash. They were Miss Hoff, who had a bad scalp wound which required three stitches; Miss Berry and Miss Sullivan, both of whom suffered considerable shock and scalp bruises. Others in the several cars suffered minor injuries.

Joseph Bassin, of 114 Vedmont avenue, Vailsburg, and Tony Lamrello, of 194 Academy street, Newark, were riding on the truck. Bachman and Miss Hoff told Patrolman Nathan Farber, who investigated, that the truck had no rear light, but Lamrello and Bassin claimed it had. All the parties in the crashes said they would take the matter into court in an effort to have the blame placed. No arrests were made.

About five o'clock yesterday morning another crash between a truck

Relatives Meet After Twenty-eight Years

Not having seen each other for a period of twenty-eight years, it was a great surprise Sunday last when Mr. and Mrs. D. Mendelowitz, of 95 Irving street, greeted Mr. and Mrs. Beris, their uncle and aunt, and their youngest daughter, Miss Celia Beris, of Chicago, Ill., who came here to pay the Mendelowitz an unexpected visit.

An impromptu party was arranged to celebrate the occasion. Pleasant social features, including dancing, made teh evening pass quickly. Refreshments were served. One of the features of the evening was a dancing and singing exhibition by Miss Celia Beris. Other guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Graber, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldberg and Mr. and Mrs. Storn, all of New York.

"Tell Him Now"

Editor, Record:

"If with pleasure you are viewing
any work a man is doing;
If you like him or you love him tell him now.
Don't withhold your approbation till the parson makes oration
And he lies with snowy lilies o'er his brow.
For no matter how you shout it, he won't really care about it;
He won't know how many teardrops
you have shed;
If you think some praise is due him
now's the time to slip it to him,
For he cannot read his tombstone
when he's dead.

"More than fame and more than money is the comment kind and sunny,
And the hearty warm approval of a friend;
For it gives to life a savor, and it makes you stronger, braver,
And it gives you heart and spirit to the end.
If he earns your praise bestow it; if you like him let him know it;
Let the words of true encouragement
be said;
Do not wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover,
For he cannot read his tombstone
when he's dead."

Now, Mr. Editor, I think the above lines are very fine and very expressive. I am going to change the title a little bit and instead of saying "Tell him now," I am going to say "Do it now."

If the people of Rahway want to make a little contribution to the Bonnie Burn Fund, Do it now.

Don't wait to brighten and sweeten the lives of those at Bonnie Burn "until they are underneath the clover"—do it now. Give them some flowers now. Give them some Christmas cheer now. Give the children there some clothing, etc., now. Make some little sacrifice yourselves in order to benefit the unfortunate and the under dog. If you do it, it will also make you feel much better and happier.

Still the Bonnie Burn Fund grows.

KIWANIS CLUB PICKS OFFICERS

Eugene G. Smeathers Chosen President of Organization In Annual Election

JUDGE O. H. DEY NAMED AS VICE-PRESIDENT

Eugene G. Smeathers, principal of the Rahway High School, and one of the younger members of the organization, was honored Wednesday at the noon luncheon of the Kiwanis Club, which was the occasion of the annual election, by being chosen President. His election as well as that of his supporting officers was unanimous, tellers casting one ballot in favor of the report of the nominating committee as told in Tuesday's Record.

The election of Mr. Smeathers is a tribute to his splendid services during the past year as vice-president, during which time he has shown marked ability as an executive. The election was indirectly a tribute to the retiring president, Rev. R. W. Elliott, whose foresightedness in surrendering the chair at times to his right bower, gave the vice-president ample opportunity to display his qualities for leadership.

Those who will lead the Kiwanis Club in various other capacities than the presidency during the coming year, as elected Wednesday, are: Vice-president, Judge Orlando H. Dey; treasurer, Jan Van Herwerden; district trustee, J. Willard Urmston; directors for three years, Henry Herman, Morris Pachmann and Howard Pendleton. President Rev. R. W. Elliott becomes Immediate Past President, an executive officer, at the installation of officers around January 1.

A special committee to make arrangements for a big installation service, probably an evening affair, was named by President Elliott, including Henry L. Lamphear, Abe Weitz and A. Bruce Cook. This committee is planning to make the installation this year one of the notable events of the coming year and promises a program of rare interest both to the newly elected officials and to the membership at large. To audit the books of the retiring treasurer, George R. Hoffman, as is the usual formal custom, a committee comprising Harry A. Stutzlen and William T. Jones was named.

Appreciation of the honor bestowed upon him was fittingly ex-

PLAN TO SELL HEALTH SEALS

Christmas Sale Committee Workers for Rahway Are Announced

The 17th annual Christmas Seal sale to raise the funds to carry on the fight against tuberculosis will start today. This sale is conducted every year by the National Tuberculosis Association through its affiliated organizations all over the United States. The branch in Union County is the Union County Tuberculosis League with headquarters in the Court House in Elizabeth. The committee in charge of the sale of seals in Rahway is composed of Harry Simmons, chairman; Jan Van Herwerden, treasurer; Mrs. A. D. Brearley, S. C. Terrill and Dr. G. E. Galloway.

The goal set for the county this year is $25,000.00 of which amount $1,400.00 is the quota for Rahway. Approximately 1,800 letters have been sent out containing these little messengers of Good Health and it is hoped that the citizens of this community will make a generous response to this appeal.

The Union County Tuberculosis League covers the whole county except Plainfield in its work of ferreting out the undiscovered cases of tuberculosis and endeavoring to get the unfortunate victim to go to some institution for care and treatment and prevent the infection of other members of his or her family and the general public. It is hoped next year to extend the scope and number of the clinics conducted by the League with the co-operation of the staff and management of Bonnie Burn Sanatorium. To do this means additional workers and it is for this purpose that the goal has been set at the figure given above so the work as now carried on may be continued and much needed expansion taken care of.

Last year the citizens of Rahway responded to the appeal in the amount $1,054.13 and in view of the fact that a considerable number of new names have been added to the mailing list it is thought that there will be no difficulty in reaching the quota. For those who may not receive Seals by mail there will be booths in one or more prominent place to be announced later, where seals can be purchased in any desired quantity.

All persons are urged to purchase their Seals through the local committee as out of every dollar received in the county, seventy-seven and one half cents are spent right here in the county and local conditions are benefitted directly to that extent which is not the case if Seals are purchased outside of the ...

RAHWAYANS ATTEND INITIAL BULL FIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Reeves Among 32,000 Who See Gory Mexican Pastime

The following interesting account of a Mexican bullfight, written to his parents by Albert N. Reeves, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Reeves, of 151 Central avenue, was received Wednesday. Mr. Reeves is assistant manager of the United States Rubber Export Company's Mexican branch and is located at Mexico City. He and Mrs. Reeves witnessed the fighting of the ferocious animals, which is the national sport of Mexico. The letter follows:

Mexico, D. F., November 19th.

Dear Mother and Dad:

Helen and I saw our first bullfight the other day, and you can believe me, it was the most exciting thing I have yet witnessed. The ring holds about 33,000 people and it was filled to capacity, two exceptionally good fighters being the cause. Obregon and Calles were there and we sat right behind them. I am sending you a magazine and newspaper description of the fight which will give you a good idea of the chances those fellows take. The photographs are particularly good. You will see Obregon and Calles in one of the first pictures. The camera just missed us.

Six bulls consist an afternoon's killing. The fighter with his assistants are in the ring as the bull is let in, a snorting animal just raring to go and he goes, head down for the first thing he sees, man or horse. I forgot to say that three or four horses horses with riders are also in the ring as he enters. As soon as he enters, they begin to play him with the cape and in a few minutes have him doing most anything they want him to do. He gets madder and madder but more and more comes into the control of the fighter. After playing him a few minutes, they let him tackle one of the horses, who by the way are blindfolded on the side toward the bull. This is the sad part of the whole affair as the poor horses are simply gored and ripped from one end to the other. Of course, if the bull does not finish the horse, he is killed shortly after with a dagger in the top of the head.

As the bull goes for the horse his enormous strength is demonstrated and at times both horse and rider are lifted clear in the air. Of course, the more blood the bull smells, the worse he gets. The idea of horses is to tire out the bull. The next step is to place a half dozen darts in the bull's back which is a mighty ticklish job. The man stands in the middle of the ring with a dart in each hand, arms outstretched. He attracts the bull's attention toward him and on he goes head down intending of course to tear his victim to pieces. Just as the bull reaches the fighter, the man stands on his tiptoes, reaches forward and the darts are placed just in the proper place, and the man is out of the way before the bull touches him, although he is coming on at full speed. One of the pictures in the magazine, very clearly illustrates this part. In most of the pictures you can see four or five of these darts sticking in the bull's back.

The cape work is the prettiest part. The man stands, feet planted in one spot and as the bull charges he simply leads him out to one side, the horns barely clearing his body. You see, the bull follows the cape and not the man. Now it is time to kill the bull. The fighter takes a sword covered with a red cape and plays him some more until he gets his undivided attention and after a few charges gets him coming right for him head down. The fighter reaches out with the sword and sends it between the bull's shoulders up to the hilt. This vital spot is very small and requires great skill and a steady hand to hit, the point of the sword hitting the heart. The old bull stops in his tracks, wobbles a bit, and rolls over.

The crowd goes crazy and the hero takes the applause very graciously. He not only gets applause, but dozens of hats, canes, women's fur pieces, and even parasols. One man was particularly excited and insisted in tossing his straw hat into the ring over and over again as fast as it was thrown back. I don't know whether he was a particular admirer or not, but in any event, the fighter cut off one of the bull's ears and gave it to the fan. Of course, this was a very proud moment, no doubt.

I have told you just about one bull, but you can imagine the excitement when this is multiplied by six, making six bulls in all which are brought in for the fun. In addition to six bulls, at least eight or ten horses meet the same fate, their deaths however, not being a pleasant sight by any means. Helen turned her head every time a bull went for one of the horses, but I managed to stick it through. When you come to Mexico, your trip won't be complete without seeing a bullfight, and the thousands of excited fans who attend those performances weekly.

Doctor Raises Wolves as Pets in Private Park

Kane, Pa.—Dr. E. H. McCleery of Kane has an unusual hobby—the domestication of timber wolves.

His sixteen wolves are of the largest type in North America and housed in a half-acre park. This park is surrounded by a four-acre playground for the wolves.

"The United States government had about extinguished the 'buffalo wolves' so I got a few to save the species," Doctor McCleery explained.

"I am at times an accepted member of the pack. Sometimes on moonlight nights I let the wolves into an outside inclosure, where the big gray fellows take turns playing 'deer.' One of the wolves will run down hill, imitating the bounding of a deer. The pack take after him, and overtake the mock deer at the foot of the hill, pulling him down and rolling him over, but all in fun.

"Finally my turn comes, and I go hopping down the hill, imitating a deer as best I can. The wolves spring after me with great bounds. I try to drop just about as they spring at me, to save being knocked down. It's all friendly play, but the wolves enjoy it."

SEEK TO PRESERVE FAMOUS SHOT TOWER

Baltimore Plans to Buy Ancient Structure.

Baltimore.—The Shot tower, which has stood as a landmark at Fayette and Front streets in Baltimore for almost a hundred years, will be purchased by the city of Baltimore and preserved, if efforts of a number of citizens and organizations are successful.

When the owners of the tower announced last June that unless the city took over the structure it would be demolished, Mayor Howard Jackson said that if the public showed genuine sentiment for preservation of the shaft the city would buy it.

Following the lead of the Daughters of the American Revolution, numerous patriotic and other societies and many individuals appealed for the preservation of the old landmark.

Representatives of these societies held a conference with the mayor and it was decided to acquire the tower by public subscription.

Late in August, when the owners of the tower and the mayor failed to agree on a purchase price, an ordinance was passed by the city council providing for condemnation of the tower in case the committees seeking funds had not raised the necessary amount within a certain time.

With this time limit approaching expiration, and the committee still in need of several thousand dollars, the tower seems likely to come down.

The tower is the highest of its kind in the world, and is regarded as the oldest munition factory in the United States. From a base 40 feet in diameter the shaft rises to a height of 246 feet. The column tapers as it ascends, so that the diameter at the top is only 20 feet. It was built in 1828, Charles Carroll, signer of the Declaration of Independence, laying the corner stone.

The interior of the structure was destroyed by fire in 1878, but was rebuilt and shot-dropping continued until 1892. The the tower was abandoned for shotmaking because of the advent of improved methods of manufacture.

NEW WAY TO BANISH RHEUMATIC PAINS DISCOVERED BY ALESSANDRO VOLTA

Rids You of Rheumatic Pain Without Drugs or Medicines.

Until recently, the real cause of Rheumatism has evaded scientific inquiry. And, naturally, the old-fashioned methods of treatment with internal remedies were uncertain and sometimes dangerous.

Now it has been definitely established that rheumatic pains are caused in many cases by the absorption of poisons into the blood.

Alessandro Volta, the well-known physicist, for whom the electric volt was named, has produced an entirely new and revolutionary method of treatment for Rheumatism. He discovered a scientific combination of certain ingredients that produces a fine powder which, when shaken into the shoes or stockings is intended to be immediately absorbed into the blood. This is due, no doubt, to the fact that the soles of the feet contain 10 times as many pores to the square inch as are found in other parts of the body.

He has called this powder Volta. Its use has given immediate relief in many instances, from the terrible crippling, torturing pain even in stubborn, long-standing cases.

The use of Volta powder has demonstrated such astonishing results in literally thousands of cases, many of which were considered hopeless, that the American distributors have authorized local druggists to dispense Volta to rheumatic sufferers in their city with an unqualified guarantee to return the full purchase price of the first box in any rare case where the rheumatic pains are not wonderfully relieved.

All who suffer from rheumatic pains, no matter how long-standing their case may be, should take immediate advantage of this liberal offer. You can get Volta from Kirstein's Pharmacy.

LESSON NO. 5
LIGHTING THE LIVING ROOM

The living room is usually not only the largest room in the house, but it is also the room that is most used. In most homes it serves as the sitting room, the parlor, the library and the music room.

Because we do so many different things in this room, we need lighting that can be changed and varied to suit our purpose. For example, if we wish to entertain our friends by dancing or playing cards, we should be able to flood the whole room with plenty of soft, cheerful light; if we wish to read or sew, we should be able to have the light come over our shoulder from behind a favorite chair; if we wish to play the piano and sing, we should have the music well lighted. At all times the lighting effect should be pleasant and attractive.

To get these effects, we need three different kinds of lighting equipment in the room. First we have a fixture hung from the ceiling with which we can flood the room with light; then we have table lamps and floor lamps which are portable and can be moved about as furniture is rearranged, to give a good reading light. Finally, we may have bracket fixtures on the walls, which give us charming spots of colored light—never too bright and only used to add attractive decoration to our other lighting.

"Bulbs" are known by the amount of electricity it takes to light them. The unit by which they are classified is the "Watt," and bills for electric lighting current are rendered in terms of a "kilowatt-hour," which is one thousand watts for one hour, or one hundred watts for ten hours.

The total watts needed in any room depends upon the size of the room, the kind of fixtures used, the color of the decorations and the lighting effect wanted. In most rooms good lighting may require as little as one or as much as five watts of bulbs for each square foot of floor area in the room.

Here are the things to think about when we want to be sure we have good lighting in the living room. 1. Do we have plenty of light where we need it? 2. Are all the bulbs well shaded so that we do not have any glare? 3. Does the lighting equipment look well in the room, and does it fit both lighted and unlighted with the furniture and woodwork?

THE CEILING FIXTURE

Unless the living room is very large only one fixture is needed on the ceiling. However, if the room is long and narrow, perhaps twice as long as it is wide, two ceiling fixtures should be used.

There are several kinds of fixtures which will provide good lighting in the living room. Some of these are shown in the Home Lighting Primer on page 22. Some are shown in the next picture.

The bulbs in these fixtures vary in number, but the total watts necessary for good lighting is from 100 to 250 watts.

The shades may be of glass, silk or parchment. They should completely hide the bulb and should be dense enough so that the whole surface of the shade is evenly lighted. A bright spot in the center of the shade means that the shade is not dense enough, and that some glare is present.

The use of all frosted bulbs will often do away with shadows of chains which would otherwise be cast on the ceiling.

PORTABLE LAMPS

Portable lamps include floor lamps, table lamps and small pedestal lamps, candlesticks, torcheres, etc., for mantel and bookcase. The best portable lamps have shades which are deep enough to hide the bulbs and dense enough to prevent glare. Some are built to send more light up toward the ceiling as well as down toward the table or floor. These use large bulbs and are designed to provide general lighting by reflection from the ceiling as well as local lighting. Portable lamps from which more is required than merely decoration will need bulbs which have a total of 50 to 100-watts or more; in the interests of economy, those which are merely a decoration do not need more than a 25-watt bulb. Duplex outlets in the baseboard permit the greatest convenience and use of portable lamps for lighting.

WALL BRACKETS

Sometimes people try to provide general lighting for the entire room with wall brackets. Except under unusual circumstances, this leads to one result—the use of larger bulbs whose brightness is annoying.

Bracket fixtures on the walls are merely decorative spots of colored light. Since they are almost always directly in front of the eyes of someone in the room, a light bright enough to furnish useful light soon becomes annoying and causes eyestrain.

It is most important that these be well shaded, so that glare does not prevent their effectiveness as a beautiful decoration. The use of bulbs larger than the 15 or 25 watt size cannot be recommended.

TELLS OF TORTURES NEW DRUG INSPIRES

Gruesome Night Ritual in Colombia Described.

New York.—No woman is allowed to participate in or even to witness the ceremony of caapi drinking, as practiced by the aborigines of southeastern Colombia, the penalty for violating this tribal law since time immemorial having been death, said Dr. Henry H. Rusby, dean of the Columbia University School of Pharmacy and honorary curator of the economic collection of the New York Botanical garden, describing the manner of using the drug caapi and its effects.

Caapi is used by the aborigines of South America to cast out all fear and to impart "the valor of a warrior," said Dean Rusby of the drug which he discovered in the jungles during his recent explorations with the Mulford expedition. A quantity of caapi brought home by Doctor Rusby is in the hands of laboratory investigators, whose conclusions are being awaited with keen interest by scientists.

The region in southeastern Colombia where caapi drinking prevails is called by a name which signifies in English "the Land of No Regrets," which suggests the "Land of the Lotus Eaters" of ancient mythology.

"The use of caapi is based upon the native belief that all tribal misfortunes and impending dangers are the work of a personal devil and that these dangers can be escaped and the injuries remedied only through the exorcising of the evil spirit," said Dean Rusby.

Users Submit to Torture.

This exorcising, he said, they believe can only be effected through courageously facing danger and patiently enduring suffering. The action, too, must be entirely voluntary, and it usually takes the form of an ordeal of torture. The caapi is drunk to impart the courage and fortitude necessary to sustain the chief actor in the ordeal.

The matter is first submitted to the ... medicineman, who decides whether or not a council meeting will be called. If his decision is favorable, the inhabitants of the surrounding villages are summoned by the great signal drum made by hollowing out an immense tree trunk, and the ... of which can be distinctly heard for several miles.

The council meeting is preceded and accompanied by dances and other elaborate ceremonies in which both men and women participate.

"For this occasion," said Dean Rusby, "the men of the tribe gather and seat themselves in two rows, the individuals facing one another, but no woman is allowed to participate or even to view the ceremony. The penalty for violating this law has always been death, although I cannot say of my own certain knowledge whether this extreme severity still persists to this day.

"The caapi may be prepared by only one individual in the tribe and only certain specified officials are permitted to offer it to the drinkers. Under its influence the men develop a very warlike spirit, recounting their various exploits in battle or when subject to other dangers.

Ceremony in Forest at Night.

"As their 'courage' increases, one after another will volunteer to undergo the ordeal. When a sufficient number have thus volunteered, they will retire to some remote portion of the forest, where the torture is inflicted."

This ceremony usually takes place at ... of night. The dance which accompanied the ceremony was what is known as the Dance of the Owls and ...

The men, stripped for the occasion, are supplied with huge gourd-like musical instruments and produce as they ... music which, if it is monotonous in tune, is full of rhythm, being described by the explorers as very accurate as to time, pitch and quality of ...

The dance having continued for some time, one of the participants will hand his companion a cruel whip made of ... tough splints from a palm leaf, which inflicts an intensely painful stroke. He then turns his back while his companion lashes him.

It is required, said Dean Rusby, that he continue to play his instrument without the loss of a note or any variation in time or tone, and without flinching or manifesting any other sign of suffering, however slight. Should he fail in this particular, it is a sign that so far as he is concerned the evil spirit triumphs and the efforts to exorcise it will be of no avail.

If he successfully endures the scourging he takes the whip from the hand of his companion, who in turn must receive blows similar to those which he has inflicted. The ceremony continues for a considerable time, until every man has been repeatedly scourged and his entire body covered with welts or bloody marks.

If all goes well, and the scourging has been properly endured, they return to the council and report a successful result.

"In Bolivia," said Doctor Rusby, "caapi is used chiefly as a mere exhilarating and stimulating beverage, somewhat like tea and coffee. Its use is very limited and the amount taken at a time is very small."

FIRST WOMAN TO BE DIPLOMATIC ENVOY

Appointment by Russia Makes New Step.

Washington, D. C.—"The recent promotion of Madame Alexandra Kollontai to be the full-fledged envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary from Soviet Russia to Norway at the same time that Professor Timothy A. Smiddy is given a similar position in Washington from heretofore envoyless Ireland, makes diplomatic history," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"Madame Kollontai is the first feminine 'minister plenipotentiary' to enter the diplomatic corps," continues the bulletin, "since that specific position and body were recognized by the congress of Vienna in 1815 and the follow-up congress of Aix-la-Chapelle in 1818; and she is one of the very few women ever to become an envoy of a sovereign state. Catherine of Aragon is the most famous predecessor of Madame Kollontai, and she hardly ... a similar classification. While she was princess of Wales, her father, Ferdinand the Catholic, named her his ambassador to the court of Henry VII. It was a hollow honor, largely to increase her prestige with the English.

Woman Minister Real Worker.

"Madame Kollontai is considered to have won her laurels by real work on behalf of her government while serving for the past two years as charge d'affaires in Norway. She successfully negotiated recognition of the Soviet government by Norway, settled the controversy between the two countries over Spitsbergen, and obtained an official Norwegian guarantee of Soviet credit in purchasing huge supplies of fish for Russia.

"The appointment of Professor Smiddy is somewhat less precedent-smashing. From the Sixteenth century until the beginning of the Nineteenth the component states of the so-called Holy Roman empire sent envoys to foreign courts. The situation was not entirely parallel with that of the modern British 'empire,' however, for the Holy Roman emperor, was never represented by envoys—on the theory that his dignity was too great. The simultaneous existence now of an ambassador from an over-state and a minister from one of its component parts, sets a true precedent.

"The growth of the diplomatic corps as an institution has been slow. Special envoys undoubtedly were sent from court to court of the earliest historic empires such as those of Egypt and Babylonia. Later in Grecian, Roman and Byzantine days the practice was fairly common. But in all such cases, as far as history discloses, the messengers were sent to transact specific business and returned as soon as possible to report the results of their mission.

"In the west the republic of Venice seems to have been the pioneer in the establishment of embassies. In the Twelfth and Thirteenth centuries the terms of Venetian envoys were limited to two or three months. Strict rules hedged them round. Any gifts received from courts visited must be turned over to the republic and written reports had to be filed with the senate. In the Fifteenth century the ambassadorial term was extended to a maximum of two years and in the Sixteenth century, to three years.

First Embassies in Italy.

"The earliest record of the appointment of a resident ambassador—though probably this was not the first ambassador so appointed—was in regard to the sending in 1455 of an envoy from the Duke of Milan to reside at Genoa. One of the first permanent embassies outside Italy was created in 1494 when Milan sent a minister to take up his residence at the court of France. In the same year a Spanish ambassador went to reside in London. This is believed to be the oldest surviving diplomatic post in existence. By the second half of the Sixteenth century resident embassies had become the normal means of intercourse between important countries.

"The term, 'ambassador,' was given to the world by Venice where it first appeared in the form 'ambasiator' in a decree of 1268. At first there were no degrees among the envoys of states. The ambassador was considered the vicar of his sovereign and was received with royal honors and had to maintain a sort of little court. This became embarrassing both because of the expense and because it was a handicap in attending to business. The custom grew, therefore, of sending less important individuals as envoys or messengers. These, not hedged about by pomp, proved much more efficient agents. Later again it became customary to accord the rank of the envoy to the importance of the country sending or receiving him, and a gradation in representatives grew up."

Royal Mounted Again Runs Down Quarry

Prince Rupert, B. C.—The end of a long, long trail which three members of the Royal Canadian Mounted police have been following since early in June, and which had led them through more than a thousand miles of the untamed northland of Canada, where canoes and pack dogs were the only means of transportation, was almost in sight when the three left here aboard the steamship Princess Alice for Vancouver with five Indian prisoners.

The Indians, said to be virtually savages, are charged with the murder of a seventeen-year-old Indian boy whom other members of his tribe suspected of practicing witchcraft. According to the story told, the boy was hanged, head down, and stoned to death.

A young girl of the tribe, likewise suspected of witchery, is said to have been suspended for three days and nights by one foot and one hand, as a result of which she was crippled.

The prisoners live chiefly on meat, regarding bread with suspicion.

INITIAL BASKETBALL TUSSLE TOMORROW

"Y" Big Five to Entertain Hoboken Tossers In Court Premier

The opening whistle for the 1924-25 basketball season in this city will be sounded tomorrow evening at the Y. M. C. A. court when Herb Stine will bring the big Red team of the "Y" and the Mitchell Club, of Hoboken, together on the court. A preliminary game will be played between the Y. M. C. A. Reserves and the Cardinal A. C., of Elizabeth, while the main game will be followed by dancing with music by Al Ritter's Society Orchestra.

The record of the Mitchell Club is a remarkable one, this being the twelfth year that the club has been represented by a court quintet. The team has lost only five games during the last ten years the quintet has been in existence. The players have been with the team for five years and are credited with perfect team work. Practically the entire team is made up of former Hoboken High School players.

The team will include F. Kusch and Romy, forwards; Applegate at center; J. Kuusch and Weibolt, guards. The two forwards have played together for five years as the scoring aces of the Mitchell Club, while Applegate, the center, is regarded as regarded as teh greatest court star ever turned out at Hoboken High School, and a player of two years' standing among the substitutes of the standing at Brown University. The two guards have played as such on the Mitchell team for three years. Included among the substitutes of the Mitchell team are Hehr, Gerdts and Glenn, who starred on last year's Hoboken High team when it copped the State championship.

The Triangles will play at seven o'clock against the Celtics, of Elizabeth.

and a touring car occurred just a few feet away from the scene of the multiple crash. A truck owned by the Primo Trucking Co., of Newark, and driven by Joseph Griffo, of 445 South 16th street, Newark, was parked in the highway, while the driver went to get some gasoline. A Cadillac touring car, owned by Nathan Pazzamant, 74 Louis street, New Brunswick, driven by Louis Chatte, of 19 Albany street, New Brunswick, crashed into the rear of the truck, smashing the right rear side and top and denting the right rear side panel of the Cadillac. No one was hurt. Chatte claimed the truck had no rear light. The driver of the truck told Motorcycle Officer McIntyre, who investigated, that the light was lit when he went in search of gasoline. No charges were made.

Last night about eight o'clock John Monahan, of 1016 Laura street, Newark, driving a Ford commercial car, drove down Park street, a dead-end thoroughfare, and into the meadows along the banks of the Rahway river. Motorcycle Officer C. J. Crowley investigated and reported that he found the man acted "dopey." He took Monahan to police headquarters. Dr. Gallaway examined Monahan and said he was not drunk but acted "dopey." Crowley gave the man a summons to appear in police court this afternoon on a charge of reckless driving. The police report says that Monahan claimed not to have eaten in several days.

When his motorcycle and sidecar crashed into a heavy truck on St. George avenue in Woodbridge last evening, Fred Pialo, of 255 W. Grand street, was badly cut and bruised, while his wife, Mary Pailo, had her right leg and left arm broken. Mr. and Mrs. Pialo were taken to the Perth Amboy Hospital by passing motorists.

Pialo, according to the Woodbridge police, drove his motorcycle out of Colonia Road and on to St. George avenue. The Rahway machine ran head on into a truck operated by George Graco, of 571 Greeley Road, North Bergen. Mrs. Pialo is in a serious condition.

HEALTH SEAL SALE

county the money received benefits local conditions only indirectly. This work is for the portion of our local population which commutes daily to other cities and who are more than likely solicited at their places of business.

The other twenty-two and one-half cents out of every dollar contributed goes to the State and National Tuberculosis organizations to help out their work and to pay for that portion of the seal sale supplies that are furnished to the local associations free of charge.

Let us all put our shoulder to the wheel and make this year's seal sale the largest one in the history of Rahway and Union County. These little seals have been one of the greatest factors in reducing the death rate from tuberculosis in Union County over forty-three per cent in the period from 1913 to 1923. Think what a saving of human life this means not alone in the county but all over the country.

This is a public duty and service of every citizen because tuberculosis is no respector of persons and if allowed to spread unchecked is a menace to those near and dear to all of us.

Elks Seconds Sweep Over Quartz Quintet

With big margins in every game the Elks Seconds of the city bowling league Wednesday night made a clean sweep over the Philadelphia Quartz quintet. At no time were the Bills ever in danger and their margins of victory were 173, 142 and ninety-eight pins. George Weber's 211 was high single count for the night and the only twin-century rolled. The best average for the match was that turned in by Donnelly, who registered 182 for the three games. Long led the losers with 164.1.

Senior Moose Bowlers Nose Out Junior Five

Victory in two games out of three was registered by the Senior Moose pinners last night in a match with the Junior Moose five on McCartney's alleys, the victors taking the first and third games. The deciding tilt was close, the winners having a margin of only thirteen pins. Stevens' big 233 in the first game carried the Seniors to a win in that contest. The Juniors were handicapped by having to roll two absentee scores. Stevens' game was by far the highest single count of the match. Louis Crowell had the best average, 158.2, with Stevens next with 153.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR GROUP REORGANIZED

First Presbyterian Society Given New Life, Officers Are Selected

At an enthusiastic meeting held Tuesday night the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian Church was reorganized. State Field Secretary Frederick L. Mintel, of 33 Campbell street, directed the movements of the re-establishment quite effectively, being ably assisted by Miss Mary Ewing, of the Second Church C. E. He served temporarily until officers were elected, as did George W. Mingus, as secretary.

Those who will be at the head of the re-organized group are: President, Miss Helen L. Squier; vice-president, Charles A. Schultz; corresponding secretary, Miss Edith A. Story; recording secretary, Miss Elsie Mundrane; treasurer, Earl Graves.

Secretary Mintel gave an inspiring talk on the aims and purposes of the society and of the possibilities for work at the old historic First Church. His talk was replete with suggestions of much worth as to how the reorganized group could make its work lasting and effective. The initial meeting of the society will be this Sunday night at the church at seven o'clock.

Adoption of the standard constitution and by-laws of the Christian Endeavor Society was consummated and one of its pledges form approved. A happy social hour followed, refreshments being served by the Misses Carolyn Schultz and Beth Squier.

Those present were: Rev. Chester M. Davis, the Misses Ada Smith, Verna Bunn, Hilda Nienstadt, Betty and Freida Seitz, Mary Lang and Arthur Prichard and Thompson Lang as well as the officers and others mentioned above.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Councilmen-elect, Feakes, Ulbrich, McCollum, Helmstadter and Hull have taken the oath of office before City Clerk Weyhrauch.

Former Supt. of Schools and Mrs. W. J. Bickett, of Trenton, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Girtanner, of 18 Mora, former residents, motored to this city yesterday to visit old friends.

Andrew J. Chambers, of 78 Central avenue, spent the Thanksgiving holiday with his son, Charles, and family, of Greenville, Jersey City.

A delightful family reunion was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Cook, of 75 Central avenue, yesterday. Those present were: Miss Harriet Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Cook, of Elizabeth, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Bruce Cook and daughter, Elizabeth Carol.

Chief of Police and Mrs. John A. Smith, of 50 Union street, entertained his father, a resident of Brielle, over the holiday. He will return to his home tomorrow by automobile, accompanied by Mrs. Smith.

Walter Felter, of Clinton, N. Y., was the guest of his son, Arthur C. Felter, of Lafberry street. Mr. Felter attended the formal opening of the Masonic Temple. He is a former past master of Lafayette Lodge, with which he has been affiliated since 1836.

Rev. W. E. Saunders, pastor of the First Baptist Church, spent the holiday at his mother's home in Providence, R. I.

Irving Engelman, a freshman at Dartmouth College, spent the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Engelman, of St. George avenue.

The memorial exercises of Rahway Lodge of Elks will be held at the High School auditorium, Sunday, December 7, instead of at the New Empire Theater, which will not be ready for use, as was expected.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Curtis, of Elizabeth, spent Thanksgiving with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Van Pelt, of 55 Milton avenue.

KIWANIS CLUB ELECTION

passed by President-Elect Smeathers. He paid high tribute to his predecessor, Rev. R. W. Elliott, and stated that he has hopes for one of the biggest if not the biggest years in the history of the local Kiwanis Club for the next twelve months. He expressed his desire to see the Kiwanis Club grow and to have those who are members grow with it; for the members to attend more regularly the weekly meetings and to put more energy than ever before into the program of activities. Similar thoughts were expressed by G. H. ... and Howard Pendleton. Mr. Urmston saw a big chance to help the club through the district trustee meetings, where he expects to get new ideas from contact with other clubs. He saw the main object of the club is to seek Rahway betterment.

Retiring president, Rev. R. W. Elliott bespoke the hearty support of every Kiwanian for the new officers and particularly urged that every shoulder be put to the wheel to put across the "Know Your Home Town" and "Boost Rahway" exhibit which the club is planning. It had been expected that Frank Galland, an exhibit producer, would be present to explain plans for an exhibit here, but he was unable to attend. Judge Doy, who is chairman of the exhibit committee, reported that that group is marking time at present until Mr. Galland can explain his plan to the club, which is expected to be done at the meeting next Wednesday.

Thanksgiving talks were made by M. P. Quinn and Rev. Chester M. Davis. Hearty welcomes were given to Messrs. Quinn and Howard Pendleton who have just returned from extended trips. Both remarked their happiness at being in Rahway once more. There will be another speaker at the meeting next week, besides Mr. Galland. On December 10, Ed Morrell, an ex-convict, and a well-known lecturer and reformer, will tell of prison life. The attendance prize was won by H. A. Stutzien.

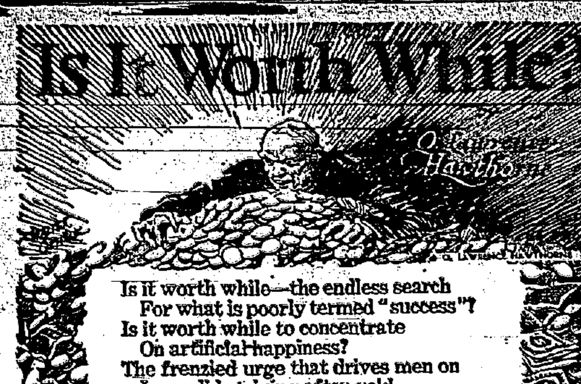
Is It Worth While?

O. Lawrence Hawthorne



Is it worth while—the endless search
For what is poorly termed "success"?
Is it worth while to concentrate
On artificial happiness?
The frenzied urge that drives men on
In sordid striving after gold—
I wonder if they find in it
The satisfaction life should hold.

I wonder if each day for them
Contributes something truly grand.
Can men whose hearts are slaves to greed
And selfish purpose understand
The great abiding peace of mind,
The priceless ecstasy of soul
That are the glorious reward
Of those who seek a higher goal?

Is it worth while? Will any man
Confess that he believes it pays
To sell for things material
A life of precious nights and days?
We know such plan is not worth while!
We know that men are richly blest
Alone when they begin to learn
That wealth of character is best.

FAKE FURNITURE IS NEWEST OF SWINDLES

Seekers After Antiques in England Are Duped.

London.—Of the making of many different kinds of fakes there seems to be no end.

There have been faked pictures ever since artists first began to use paints. There are so many faked Rembrandts in existence that few prospective purchasers will complete a deal for one of the great Dutchman's works without consulting an expert.

Just now an unusually active business in faked furniture is reported.

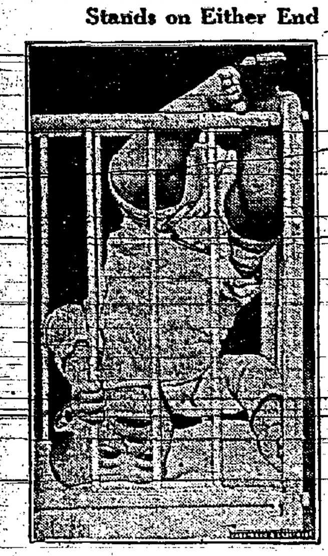
"This is an age of faked furniture," said the proprietor of a West End gallery. "One comes across it everywhere. It is certainly more plentiful than genuine furniture.

"Most of it is sold in the first place for what it is, accurate imitation, but later it comes into the market in the ordinary way to be sold as the real thing. Some of the modern faking of Jacobean furniture is so good that it frequently deceives experts.

"The number of Tudor tables which are on the market is enormous. There is about one for every six houses of Tudor days. Of course, most of them are clever fakes."

A favorite device of the fakers just now is to plant their reproductions, carefully matured and dust-covered, in rural English homes, where they are eagerly snapped up by unsuspecting purchasers who go through the countryside looking for antiques.

Head or Feet—Eileen Stands on Either End



Meet Eileen, who looks at the world from an unusual angle. The year-old acrobat was never taught the trick; just does it because she enjoys it and she stands on her feet with equal ease, if not with equal pleasure. But the nuns at St. Ann's Maternity hospital, in Cleveland, where Eileen (as yet she has no surname) made her bow, are worried, for all the other babies in the ward are trying to learn the trick and, as one doctor said, "Imagine a whole ward full of babies standing on their heads." Eileen has been performing this stunt since she was eight months old.

Whole Village Converted

New York.—Salvation Army headquarters here received word from Commandant Howard McGrath and Capt. Samuel McGill of Plainfield, N. J., that the entire population of Samptown, N. J., a mill community five miles from Plainfield, had been "captured" and enrolled under the army flag.

Should Be Merry

Old King Coal is a merry old soul.
A merry old soul is he—
When you consider the size of his bill—
Why in the world shouldn't he be?

True

"Why, is it only one o'clock? I thought it was two," said the mistress as the clock gave a single stroke.

"No, mum," said Bridget, "it's niver later than wan at this toime o' the day."

Site of Bat Cave to Be Held

Washington.—Discovery of mineral deposits in Bat cave in Arizona has prompted the Interior department to retain for the government the site, embracing about 500 square feet, which was sought by the Santa Fe railroad. Mineral in the form of guano, it was explained, is reported to be present in large deposits, and the original rock debris in the cave appears to be saturated with nitrates and phosphates. The mineralization is ascribed to the fact that the cave for many years has been the breeding place for millions of bats.

MICKIE, THE MYSTERY

MICKIE, THE MYSTERY

(Written Entirely By Meself)
Midnight, Tuesday.

Dear Mister Editor:

I am shure late gettin' me Ranting ready for your Friday comeout. Hope they reach yer office in time fer publication, 'cause I need the money and yer paper needs the Rantings. So we split 60-60. Thanks!

'Course I s'pose yer're curious to know what makes me late. Well, happened this-a-way. Ma she had decided ter have the national bird fer our Thankfulness dinner, and us kids was already feelin' the gravy dressin' runnin' down the corner crease between our dimples and lower jawbone, when like a stick of dynamite out of a hair bobbin' parlor, our specs fell complete-like ter earth; Ma decided, or rather changed her mind. Yer know she is like all the wimmen who can change her mind oftener than the wind durin' April shower weather. Instead of havin' turkey as I said afore, she got it inter her head she wanted fried eels. 'Course nothin' doin', but Mickie must take his eel pot down by the Central R. R. bridge and shoo the slippery slidin' wigglers inter the pot. Well, they didn't shoo fer a darn, and the result was after I got home and succeeded in pickin' the pinfeathers from offum, I was tarnation late. So there yer are. That explains me delay.

Yer know, folks, I shure wuz comet-like knocked clear off center in readin' in last Friday's comeout of the old home town newspaper that them there soldier boys of ours wuz considerin' the startin' of Sunday movie pictures in Mister Louis Helfer's new theater. I allus wuz a movie worshiper, and take it from Mickie them fellars what went across the seas ter lick the setdown clean plum off Kaiser Bill's pants has ever since been the apple of me eye. And now—ter think, after God permitted 'em ter knock the stuffin' out of them political hijackers on the other side of the ocean, brought 'em back safe and sound ter dear old Rahway, they would undertake ter transgress His own day, by attemptin' ter make money in givin' movie pictures. I ain't much on Scripture, but I remember two paragraphs which I think Sunday school teacher said was given direct ter Moses on Mt. Sinai, ter wit:

"And God spake all these words—"Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

"Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy. In it thou shalt do no work, etc."

Them's plain words, even a Hottentot could understand the meanin' of, and they ain't man-made either. Come direct from the Almighty, and like the reberation of some of those Kaiser Bill shells heard comin' over Flanders Field and through the woods at St. Mihiel, while waitin' the zero hour, they're just as rumblin' now as when they wuz handed ter Mister Moses.

Now listen, boys of the khaki, please don't do it. I know yer has been treated not just all yer wuz deservin' since yer came home. But two wrongs never yet made one right. Yer move fer Sunday shows is shure wrong. Yer has lots of good friends in Rahway who would go the limit ter help raise money fer yer relief fund. Begee, yer can put me own little self down fer a ten-dollar annual subscription, and there are lots of other folks who would help raise what is necessary for yer departments' needs.

Let's get together, but for the sake of your wonderful deeds on foreign shores; for the sake of your fathers and mothers; and for the sake of your future inheritance of better things forget the Sunday movies—you'll be better off financially, held in higher esteem, and happier if you do.

Anything is worth tryin' once, or that is what Steve Brodie said, when he jumped off'n the Brooklyn Bridge. So there!

Merciful heavens, without the splendor of a comet what ain't as yet sprouted a tail, but I shure did get handed a pulsatin' gyration in Tuesday's comeout of the home town newspaper. Begee, I been so swelled up with pride since I read it—well, if I don't stop swellin' sumthin' shure is goin' ter happen. 'Cause I reminded a certain fellar who wuz ravin' four ways at once, 'bout the stop-watch put temporary-like on the huntin' season, he comes back and says, "Mickie reminds him of a crossbilled, cockeyed, lopeared, tongue-tied parrot tryin' ter whistle." Gosh! ain't that sumthin'. Think I'll take that compliment over ter Mrs. Anna Hughes' catsin' shop and have its culture taken. I think it is sorter troubled with diacetic acid, contaminated by epithelium amorphous which after a certain period develops into polychromatophilia as a first stage then [illegible] congulation time [illegible].

Gee, but I'm proud of that, and a prominent citizen fellar once said I couldn't be elected dog-catcher. Shure must be improvin', as I grow older. Thanks, Mister "H. J." I hope the first time yer go huntin' yer kill a big jack rabbit, but for mercy sake see if he is afflicted with valids or inherents, 'cause they're catchin'. Nuff said!

Just want ter congratulate Mister Judge Day in the prescription he handed ter an alleged drunken auto driver. Thirty days in jail for the offense should prove sustainin' grace while thinkin' it over. But 'tis a pity the guy what sold the driver-man the stuff what made him irresponsible-like couldn't be given the same prescribe in an adjoinin' cell. They both better darn sight be cellmates than possible victims of their misdeeds has ter be bedmates in a hospital. Ma says when rum's in, wit's out, and yer need all the wit the good Lord has given yer these days dodgin' the fellars what let rum supersede their wit.

Has anybody as yet heard whether or not my mayoralty nominee wuz willin' ter accept. Pussonally I ain't as yet received any notice pro or con.

I see where Mister Fred Williams has succeeded in getting his auto unjacked and has served notice that all births in the old home town must be [illegible] Great Beyond without tellin' anywhat she did with the family Bible, how old we are in case of an argument. Hit 'em hard, Freddie, we need that data, 'Tis vital statistics.

Then again three dealers is servin' us home town citizens with milk what is short of fats and solids. Begee, 'tis hard these days of prosperity ter get all that is rightful-like comin' to you. There's one exception however, —our tax bills.

Folks, in concludin' me Rantings fer this comeout, I shure do hope yer all had a pleasant Thanksgiving. That you succeeded in gettin' yer stomach straps tight before risin' from the festive board, and that yer didn't forget ter thank the Lord for providin' such a meal. 'Course not everybody, but a whole lot of fellars, if they had their just deserts, wouldn't even had fried eels.

MICKIE.

PROCTOR'S, ELIZABETH

Since there was such a place as "the City," young men from the country have been soaring forth in search of fortune and finding out that they left the real thing behind them at home. That's what the young couple in "It's a Boy" discovered after they have tackled New York. You'll have an opportunity to enjoy their laughable adventures by attending a performance of this famous New York comedy success as presented by the Proctor Players at this theater next [illegible] including the measles. In "It's a Boy" the reason for the pilgrimage of the Blakes to New York is the first son and heir plus the ambitions of the youngster's mother. The visitation in the big town is productive, in "It's a Boy," of more side-splitting fun and wholesome sentiment, with a little mighty sane observation by way of good measure, than you've found in a theatrical entertainment in a long while.

Vets and Sunday Movies

"Will the Rahway Federation of Churches oppose the proposal of Mulvey-Ditmars Post, No. 681, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to put on Sunday movies at the New Empire Theater?" is a question quite actively discussed at the present time.

Whether the church federation takes cognizance of the innovation or whether it assumes a passive attitude toward it, is yet to be determined, but, that many friends and admirers of the vets are surprised and grievously so, at the determination of the Post to go into the Sunday movie venture for monetary gain, is conclusively certain, and condemnation of the proposal is heard from many quarters.

In the first place, is the relief fund of the post in such straitened circumstances that it would seem necessary to invade the sanctity of the Sabbath to replenish it or keep it from hitting the rocks altogether?

It is doubtful if any other non-sectarian organization should attempt to do what the vets propose, that it would create the same feeling as in this particular instance. There are few citizens, indeed, who do not hold the veterans of the World War, or in fact any man who has donned the uniform of the U. S. fighting forces and gone forth in defense of the realm, in a rather semi-sacred atmosphere of esteem and gratitude. They are looked upon by the layman as fighters for principle and upholders of nobler and higher ideals of country-wide benefits. In the World War we were told it was a death grip to make the world safe for democracy; the end of all wars, etc., and the beginning of a better era for all mankind.

These brave boys of ours who shouldered a gun, sacrificed their futures and in thousands of cases their very lives, must have firmly believed in American ideals and American customs, or else they would not have been able to crown their efforts with the wonderful victories they did. It was the better things of life which inspired their valor and led them to superdeeds of daring.

In the list of distinctively American customs since the days of the Pilgrim Fathers has been the American Sabbath. It has always been recognized as a day set apart for religious observance and spiritual benefit. It was the intent of our forebears that all possible labor should cease and man as well as beast be given a relaxation from daily toil and enjoy a period of rest.

Can our soldier boys as an organization afford to be the promoters of means which will ultimately tend to break down this beautiful and hallowed observance and turn our American Sabbath into a Continental Sabbath with all of its demoralization and distressing results. Instead of being a break in the road of toil and permitting rehabilitation, spiritually and physically, it will add to the fatigue and wearisomeness of the human family and finally cause the cessation of a rest period altogether, and the resultant abandonment of spiritual things with their uplift and hallowed influences.

We think not.

The whole move seems inadvisable, unnecessary and strictly against the best interests of all concerned.

The Record, in its admiration for the boys who went over seas, and in full sympathy with their every move toward higher and nobler ideals, sincerely hopes that the plan for Sunday movies will be abandoned. There are other and better ways for raising necessary funds for carrying on their work in Rahway.

In the words of the Blessed Master: "The Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath."

While There Is Life There Is Hope

"To market, to market, etc.," is an old-time jingle and a popular one to amuse the children of former days. In the present instance we might substitute, "To Trenton, to Trenton," etc., not to buy, but to get merely justice in our endeavors to prevent the pollution of the city's water supply by the inhabitants along the watershed.

Someone has said "It's a long road that has no turn," and it would seem that Rahway's road of disappointment in endeavors to secure the necessary protection against intrusion upon the city's potable water, should surely be near the turn of success, judging primarily from the number of years it has been existing.

The latest attempt is a move by the city's consulting engineer, as revealed at last week's commissioners' meeting, in formally requesting the State Board of Health to exercise its powers by adopting drastic measures against those responsible for allowing phenol-bearing wastes and other chemical impurities to pollute our supply of water. Mr. Waldo S. Coulter, consulting engineer for the city, has previously pointed out the factors involved in the situation are so complex that there is small likelihood of the city being able to go into court with a strong case against any particular individual or company on a charge of polluting the river. What is needed, according to the consulting engineer, is a careful supervision of the stream and its tributaries by the State health officials.

It matters little to the citizens of Rahway just how this relief is brought about. We have been pleased to note that the Newark Sunday Call in commenting on the latest protests by Rahway against the river pollution recalls that the Legislature last winter passed a law providing for a new commission, the duty of which is to investigate alleged cases of both fresh and salt water pollution. The commission is to be composed of a member of each of the following bodies: The State Board of Health, the Fish and Game Commission, the Bureau of Shell Fisheries, the Board of Commerce and Navigation and the Department of Conservation and Development, together with the Attorney General. The Governor is directed to appoint the commission, but so far as we are aware he has never done so. It is provided that "the commission shall have power to inspect and make analysis of any of the fresh and salt waters within the jurisdiction of this State, to investigate cases of pollution of fresh or salt waters of this State, to subpoena witnesses and to enforce any of the laws relating to the pollution of fresh or salt waters of this State, which are now or may hereafter be enacted."

Viewing the present exasperating situation from this angle, it is possible we may get relief from our oppression through the regard State authority has for its fish and game preserves and the dangers of ruinous pollution of the State's rivers by those who selfishly ignore the rights of others and utterly disregard the law prohibiting such pollution.

"The End Is Not Yet"

Judging from developments at the commissioners' meeting last week the rolyboly of new school buildings has a pretty good start and it will require some stiff opposition to check its speed onward.

The new Franklin School which made Rahway "famous" in school circles of the nation as an advanced city as far as school building architecture was concerned, had not gotten its kinks of newness worn off when the Board of Education presented the city with a proposition and later acquirement of a site for the erection of the proposed new Roosevelt School. An ordinance, which was passed at the commissioners' meeting last week, provides for the issuance of school bonds to the amount of $248,000 for this purpose.

The ink was still moist on this measure, when a demand was made from the Parent-Teacher Association of the Washington School that a new building be erected in the First Ward, and assurance was given by education board member as well as commissioners that the request for a new school in that section would shortly be satisfied. So it would seem that we are in for a merry program of school construction.

At the meeting of the State Teachers Association held at Atlantic City the fore part of the present month, Governor Silzer made an address. When the question of whether present school expenditures are justified was raised, the Governor stated, "The problem to his mind is not whether we are spending too much—but whether we are getting enough for what we spend.

"In government, we drift along, more or less. There are many who are deeply interested in the school; but we have had no survey of the situation made since 1911, and since that time there has been a great war and countless changes."

So, to determine this, to make any changes found necessary, and with a view of avoiding costly mistakes, the Governor believes that a survey—"a survey, not an investigation"—be made of the school system of New Jersey.

He says: "During the last few years there has been a great deal of criticism of our schools. They have been criticized, in a popular way, by the statement that there are too many 'fads and frills' taught.

"I do not prteend to say that these criticisms are well founded, but they are being made and they are growing, and no institution can prosper and advance where there is growth of criticism.

"There is only one way to stop it and that is to meet it face to face with an authoritative reply such as only the proposed survey can give."

National Housing Survey

That an actual building shortage of more than $4,000,000,000 exists in 280 cities of over 10,000 population in the United States is shown by reports to S. W. Straus & Co. In 148 cities out of the 528, where building conditions were studied, no shortage was reported.

That the $4,000,000,000 figure does not represent the entire housing shortage of the country was indicated by reports from towns under 10,000 population. Inquiry by S. W. Straus & Co. in 20 typical towns of this type in various parts of the United States revealed a shortage of $14,591,000. Of these cities surveyed, 12 showed shortages and 8 revealed normal conditions.

The investigation also revealed definitely contemplated expenditures during the next two years of $787,303,000 for the construction of churches, hospitals, charitable and educational institutions or other public buildings. These figures are not included in the reports of actual shortages now existing.

The survey was undertaken by S. W. Straus & Co. through its Educational Department because of the uncertainty now felt as to the extent of the building shortage throughout the United States. Investigations were started in 574 cities, principally through the Chambers of Commerce, but where results were not quickly obtained the local real estate boards or the building departments of the city governments were consulted. The reports were made between the period of June 1 and October 1, 1924.

The 380 cities report shortages which will take an expenditure of $4,050,820,000 to restore normal conditions. Of this amount, $2,102,698,500 is needed for residential types of construction, $1,130,851,560 for commercial types, $870,270,000 for Federal, state and municipal buildings. The remaining 148 cities reported that no shortage existed.

The total shortage is greatest in the eastern section of the United States, which shows a need for building construction amounting to $2,312,510,000 with the residential types demanding more than 71 per cent of the total, or showing that $1,653,837,000 must be expended in these eastern cities reporting to restore normal living conditions. Of this residential shortage, $695,000,000 is represented in the boroughs of Brooklyn, Bronx, Queens, and Richmond, New York.

Rahway's requirements are listed as follows: Amount needed to meet building requirements of all types, $500,000; amount needed for residential types, $150,000; amount needed for commercial types, $200,000; amount needed for Federal, state and municipal types, $150,000. Value of other projects contemplated such as public buildings, etc., $200,000.

To become a self-made man it is necessary to work at the job a long time.

When it comes to getting out of debt nobody breaks any speed regulations.

WORTHY OF HIS HIRE

If there is one class of workers which has been overlooked in the readjustment and general increase in incomes it is the great class which occupies the pulpits of the churches in the United States. Their profession forgotten, they are abandoning it for the trades which gives them a living wage. A clergyman resigned his charge and declined a college professorship to earn $500 a month as a plasterer. He hal learned the trade when his income as a minister of the gospel required him to plaster his own home that it might not disgrace his congregation and his religion.

It is true that many of the churches have been moved to do their duty and have increased the salaries of their pastors. But the cases of hardship are still numerous, and the comparison of the money returns of clergymen with those of skilled and even casual laborers reveals some astonishing disparities. A writer reduces the figures to a weekly basis and gets some surprising results. Thus the average weekly salary of a minister of the Baptist Church is $35. But even a hod-carrier gets more than $30, while a mason gets $51, a bricklayer $55, and so on. These later figures be it noted, are also the average for the entire country. Everybody knows that the rates in various cities are very much higher.

It would seem obvious that both justice to self-sacrificing ministers and a proper sense of the dignity of their profession, duly impressed upon the churches, would lead to further steps toward making the salaries of clergymen more nearly adequate to their needs.—"Newark Ledger."

WHY NEWSPAPERS PREACH ADVERTISING

To the critical observer it might appear selfish for a newspaper to continually spread the gospel of advertising. But no matter how much the newspaper urges the public, particularly the potential advertiser, to a more constant and consistent method of serving the people at large through the medium of the paid ad, it can hardly go too far. The reason is that the more advertising the newspaper carries the more the public is served.

A very elementary problem in logic presents itself. First of all, it is a world-wide admission that all legitimate advertising is a direct form of service to the particular class of buyers or general clientele it seeks to reach. It follows, then that any suggestion, argument or persuasion that increases the number of advertisers or the amount of space used is a very vital factor in causing or helping this advertising service to be rendered.

"Enterprise" is the biggest word in commerce; and advertising is enterprising because it shows energy, progression and the inventive spirit in practical affairs. Men who study advertising scientifically all agree that "suggestion" is a fundamental of all true advertising. Therefore, if the newspaper can suggest to the advertisers that they themselves use the fundamental of suggestion by increasing it through advertising, a genuine service has been rendered.

There is service in suggestion if it is timely and proper. Thus the great fabric of trade and commerce has been woven into American business life because the press has laid aside false modesty and has been foremost in urging advertising as indispensable to commercial stability and progress.—Valley Stream (N. Y.) Record.

HERE I've been tucked away in the attic ever since they put a Thatcher Round Boiler in the cellar. In the old days they used to depend upon me pretty regularly to help out when the mercury kept close company with the thermometer bulb. But I have not shown myself since the Thatcher arrived. Take it from me, there's no need for extra heating equipment with a Thatcher Round Boiler on the job.

Commissioners' Meeting

For eight-inch tile pipe sewer from existing eighteen-inch sewer on city property at the water works near Harold avenue southwesterly through Clarck street 463 feet; through Harold avenue northwesterly 870 feet; northwesterly 160 feet and northeast-southwesterly 100 feet, $700, $7,500 having been previously appropriated.

For constructing four-foot cement concrete sidewalk in New Church street, the westerly side, south from the bridge 325 feet, an added $150 to $550 originally appropriated; for ten-inch tile pipe sewer in Scott avenue from Whittier street northwesterly 1300 feet, $500 added to original appropriation of $5,000.

After Mr. Kightlinger's question on the cause for further appropriations, he informed the commissioners that the contractor who had laid the sewers hasn't as yet replaced the cinders removed in digging nor has he filled in the holes properly. Mr. Kightlinger asked that this be given attention before winter sets in for fear that residences in the section will be marooned because tradesmen can't get their delivery wagons into the streets in that section nor could the fire apparatus approach in case it was needed. Commissioner McClintock will look into the matter.

Mrs. A. C. Kightlinger asked the Commissioners if better lighting facilities could be made available in Rahway Gardens, citing that it is dangerous for a woman to be on the streets there after dark, dangerous to get off trolley cars and that the condition has resulted in about every home in the neighborhood being entered at times by thieves, the latest entry being made, she said, only that day. This phase of conditions in the Rahway Gardens section which lies back of the city water plant and just this side of Clark Township, will also get attention. Commissioner McClintock assured the Kightlingers and other residents from that section who attended the board meeting.

A resolution by Commissioner McClintock which was passed, authorized the city engineer to advertise for bids for paving Pierpont street from St. George to Central avenues; to reset existing curbstones and install new concrete curbing where none now exists. Bids are to be received on two types of pavement, including six-inch concrete base with two-inch Nasphalt top, and the six-inch base with two-inch asphalt block top laid on one-half-inch mortar bed. Eight-inch reinforced concrete type pavement is not asked for in the authorized bids.

County Clerk Martin certified for the Board of County Canvassers the result of the November 4 general election, all of the offices being filled as previously told in the Record, no contests having occurred or recounts asked. The official registration in the city is 6511 and the ballots cast numbered 6,134 of which twentysix were rejected.

An ordinance was passed on first and second readings authorizing the issuance of temporary notes or bonds in an amount not to exceed $20,000 for the purpose of purchasing a school site in East Milton avenue. Formerly a resolution had been passed to cover this purchase but City Attorney Cor- informed the commissioners an ordinance was necessary to legalize such expenditure.

Financial resolutions offered by Commissioner Hoff authorized the city treasurer to draw warrants as follows: To Providence Institution for Savings, $1,125, six months' interest on 1911 funding bonds; to Rahway National Bank, $375, six months' interest 1911 funding bonds; to A. T. Crane, chairman Armistice Day committee, $50, on 1923-24 appropriation; to Board of Education, $16,500, on 1924-25 school appropriation.

A resolution by Commissioner McClintock instructed the Public Service Electric Co. to change several lights in Elizabeth avenue and install a new one.

A communication was received from Seymour Williams, architect, stating that upon his return from Florida, about December 20, he will be glad to take up with the commissioners the matter of either completing the work of remodeling the East Milton avenue firehouse as police headquarters or of making changes at the present headquarters in Main street. The city has practically received an ultimatum from the State Department of Institutions and Agencies that the cells at the local police station must be changed.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of our brother who departed this life, November 24, 1923.

Short and sudden was the call
Of a dear brother who was loved by all;
The blow was great, the shock severe;
We little thought his death so near.
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of departing without farewell.

Gone but not forgotten by sister and brother,

MRS. EMIL SCHAEFER,
J. ORVILLE WAY.

NEWARK THEATER

"The Fast Worker," with Reginald Denny and Laura La Pinate in the leading roles, will furnish the thrills and comedy at the Newark Theater, commencing Monday, December 1.

The story, adapted from George Barr McCutcheon's novel "The Husbands of Edith," tells the tale of a man who impersonates a friend as a favor, has to travel clear across the continent, then he finds he's been saddled with a wife and a family and doesn't know it until he is on board the Continental flyer. And to make matters worse, his pretended wife has a sister with whom he promptly falls in love. Then the fun becomes fast and furious.

The Pantages vaudeville bill is a novel and rollicking sketch entitled "The Conductor." There are other excellent acts on the program as well as comedy picture and a showing of World's Pictorial Events.

SHUBERT'S THEATER, NEWARK

Next week's theatrical attractions include Victor Herbert's last operetta, "The Dream Girl," starring Fay Bainter and featuring Walter Woolf, which the Messrs. Shubert will present at the Shubert Theater on Monday evening for an engagement of one week.

With music by Victor Herbert whose scores have not been heard in Newark in several years, and a story by Rida Johnson Young, who wrote "Maytime," the operetta which comes direct from its long engagement in New York should meet with a ready welcome on the part of local theatergoers.

BRANFORD THEATER, NEWARK

The Branford Theater will present an unusual program for the week commencing Saturday, November 29th, when Richard Barthelmess in "Classmates" and "Football Week" will be screened. Briefly, "Classmates" is the story of a poor boy of the North Carolina Mountains who wins an appointment to West Point, loses his commission in a quarrel with another chap and finally redeems himself in an expedition into the South American jungle.

"Football Week" is again being celebrated at the Branford and the motion pictures taken this year will total almost twice that of last year of the high school football games.

MINER'S EMPIRE, NEWARK

A regular Pandora box of mirth, melody and gorgeousness is said to exist in Joseph Hurtig's "Hollywood Follies" scheduled for a week's engagement at Miner's Empire Theater next week, Sunday Matinee, November 30. For many weeks this snappy show delighted capacity audiences in New York where it ran at the Columbia Theater, Times Square. And it is being transported to this city with its original greatness and attractiveness intact. Frank Dupree, a skillful craftsman has contributed a book that is fast moving in its action and well filled with comedy. James Johnson has provided some delightfully tuneful and pleasing musical numbers which Dan Dody has staged in a graceful manner.

Week Sunday Matinee, December 7, "Step On It."

DO GROWN-UPS READ THE COMICS?

Funny papers, like cross-word puzzles, used to be followed solely by children, and their mental level was usually kept down to that audience. But, perhaps because the babies kept insisting that daddy and mother read the comics to them, and grown-ups found that they were fun, too, comic strips became more sophisticated, characters in them became more lifelike, and the fun in them became more subtle.

Good examples of a comic written for children, and one for older readers, are "Peter Rabbit," by Harrison Cady, and "Mr. and Mrs." by Briggs, both of which run in the Sunday colored comic section of The New York Herald Tribune. Peter Rabbit is purely a comic for kiddies, the kind that is read aloud well, while Mr. and Mrs. has become the classic comic on American home life, with as many addicts among older readers as the cross-word puzzles. Its fun and its entire, however, are clean and wholesome, and children everywhere enjoy the line "Papa loves Mama!" as well as older folk.

Rewards Firemen

Fire Chief Ritzman on Tuesday received a check for $25 from F. M. Stillman as a reward for the efficient services of the local fire department in preventing a threatening brush fire last Thursday afternoon from reaching buildings on his farm in W. Inman avenue. The check will be deposited in the pension fund.

Hospital Auxiliary Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Rahway Hospital will be held next Tuesday morning, December 2, at ten o'clock at the Rahway Woman's Club, 100 West Milton avenue, corner of Jaques avenue. All members are urged to attend.

Wins by Knockout

Elmer Perry, crack fighter in the stable of Maurice L. Moran, of this city, and champion of his class in Middlesex County, kayoed Al Coughran, of South River, in the third round of the main bout at New Brunswick Tuesday night. Perry floored his opponent in the second round but the bell saved him. A number of local fight fans witnessed the scrap.

AT THE LYRIC

Today's feature at the Lyric is "Half A Dollar Bill" with Anna Q. Nilsson. A comedy "Rough and Ready" and Topics of the Day conclude the bill.

Saturday's program comprises "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" with Barbara LaMarr and Lew Cody, a comedy—"Bright Lights" and the race of "The Fast Steppers."

The extraordinary attraction for next Monday and Tuesday is "Three Weeks."

Having made one of the biggest screen successes of the year out of Elinor Glyn's "Six Days," Goldwyn Pictures Corporation has now transposed her most famous novel, "Three Weeks," to the screen and has given the public another production which ranks among the best things the films have yet given us. The production itself is a thing of beauty both in its simple settings, and in its photography, which ranks with the best of the season, and is often surpassingly beautiful.

The acting of the cast is in keeping with the beauty of the settings and photography. Aileen Pringle gives a remarkably vivid and forceful interpretation of the Queen. Her work in this picture marks her as one of the coming luminaries in the screen world. Playing opposite her is Conrad Nagel, doing the best work of his career.

BANQUET FOR ELEVEN

The increase already noted and the still further increase expected, Dr. Little writes the board means, "three full classes of an increase over the preceding year, and since there is no reason to expect any decline, but rather an advance in enrollment for the coming year; everything warns us that we should not delay in the construction of the new Roosevelt School, and that immediate steps should be taken towards the construction of a school in the eastern part of the town."

According to Dr. Little the Evening School, for the month of October, had a better attendance than on any previous occasion. The average attendance by actual count, was 160; while a year ago it was 141; the year previous to that it was 135. He says "There was noted, however, a falling off during the month of November that, for some reason or other, we are unable to prevent. The first two months of Evening School, as a rule, are well attended, but after the break of Thanksgiving the pupils begin to disappear until by January our attendance drops to from 115 to 125. The gradual disappearance of the pupils is due to a number of causes. Some are unable to attend because of work. Others by reason of sickness, personal or in the home. While still others simply lose their ambition and settle back to the old habits that have dominated their life and kept them from advancement, despite the fact that opportunity knocks at their door."

The superintendent's report further stated: "In order that the parents might have an opportunity to see just how the work is conducted in our schools and what their children are doing, we held an evening session last year on one night during the week. It was discovered that many parents were thus prohibited from visiting the High School, if they were fortunate enough to have children both in the grade and high schools. We arranged, therefore, that Washington and Franklin schools would hold their session on Wednesday night, Lincoln and Columbian on Thursday night, and the High School on Friday night.

"I took occasion to visit each of these schools on these evenings and was surprised to see the number of parents who availed themselves of the opportunity thus presented to see the pupils at work. Exact figures are not as yet at hand, but I was impressed with the interest and enthusiasm shown by the parents who came out to see their children at work. It seemed to be the unanimous consensus of opinion that not only the scope of our work, but the accomplishments of our schools were far beyond their preconceived opinions or expectations. In short, the plan has been a marked success.

"Our schools and their success depend as a matter of fact upon the enthusiasm and support of the public, and if by this means we can awaken the parents of our pupils to a new and higher interest in their children, we will have done much toward creating a better Rahway in the years to come.

"The general health of the community has been good as is indicated by the report of the supervisor of this department for the month of October. There have been a few contagious diseases and yet when they are distributed among nearly 3,400 pupils the percentage is very small."

The health report showed the following contagious disease cases reported: Scarlet fever, two; mumps, fourteen; chickenpox, eleven; impetigo, four; ringworm, six. Eighty-seven home calls were made. Twenty-one attended the dental clinic, opened October 30. Thirty extractions were made. Attendance Officer Miss Annie Shotwell's report showed an active month.

The annual reports of Guy M. Howard as secretary and business manager of the board were received and accepted. His report as secretary showed: Balance on hand beginning 1923-24 school year, $5,373.65; receipts from State and County, $57,615.83; receipts froc City, $139,384.97; receipts from City, $139,384.87; total receipts and balances, $312,073.26; expenditures, $309,339.16; balance on hand end school year, $2,733.10.

As business manager, Mr. Howard's report showed a total savings of $1,903.43. Of this he says:

"This report shows a still further increase in savings over the previous year, which is accounted for by the increased amount of printing done for the schools by the Printing Department, and the excess receipts in the Manual Training Department over the previous year, together with the saving on repairs in the various school buildings that have been supervised by the Business Manager, thereby saving the architect's fees. In fact the general savings this year are very much in excess of any previous year since the establishment of the office in 1916."

Cost of maintenance of the several schools for the year was shown in Mr. Howard's report as follows: Columbian, $37,510.28; Franklin, $40,703.05; Lincoln, $29,944.95; Washington, $27,972.54; Eighth Grades, $17,236.39; High School, $53,497.24; Night school $2,290.68.

Per capital cost of maintaining the several schools, based on total enrollment follow: Columbian, $69.05; Franklin, $65.75; Lincoln, $65.81; Washington, $65.20; Eighth Grades $93.17; High School, $143.81; Night School, $12.65—based on average attendance—Columbian, $84.91; Franklin, $80.76; Lincoln, $81.83; Washington, $78.58; Eighth Grades, $104.46; High School, $166.14; Night School, $21.61.

There was a discussion on an offer to the board to purchase a part of the Foster property in the rear of the high school. It was decided to lay the matter on the table indefinitely, some board members favoring it; others feeling that it was only a question of time before a new high school building must be secured.

The visiting committee reported attendance at the several schools during Education Week and they praised the work emphatically, being very well pleased with conditions as they found them.

Mrs. I. W. Thorn was delegated to attend the meeting of the State Federation of District Boards at Trenton December 5. Permission was granted the Delta Alpha Class of the First Baptist Sunday School to use the Franklin School auditorium, afternoon and evening, January 23, to show the picture, "The Sky Pilot," for the benefit of the building fund of the Sunday School. A fee of $15 will be charged.

Mrs. Marie Hollings was named as a substitute teacher in Washington School in place of Miss Bella Ritchie, who has been given a leave of absence. She will receive $140 per month. The business manager was authorized to draw a warrant for $500 in favor of the board's attorney to complete payments on the fire escapes for Columbian and Washington schools. The board has retained $250 of the contract price for the Columbian School in order to have the concrete pillars rebuilt.

Tunes In On England

Using an excellent triple circuit, two-tube, regenerative set with a close-coupled variometer in series with the antenna and an Amrad variometer in the plate circuit controlling regeneration, Arthur M. Spencer, of 57 Cherry street, Tuesday night, listened in on music from two British stations, but was unable to get the station call of either. Tremendous interference was caused, he reports, by scores of oscillating receivers, and it was necessary to tune to other wave lengths which were not being so eagerly sought by the host of D. X. hunters.

Von Tirpitz to "Tell All" About Lusitania

Berlin.—Details hitherto unpublished concerning the inside facts leading up to the sinking of the Lusitania have been promised in a new book to be issued soon by Admiral von Tirpitz, the former navy head, who has been credited with having given the final order which resulted in the destruction of the steamer.

According to the announcements, Admiral von Tirpitz, now leader of the Nationalists in the reichstag, has consented to the publication of all the secret archives in his possession, which covers some 30 years prior to 1914.

The first book of Admiral von Tirpitz appeared some years ago, and caused quite a stir despite its tone of reservation, but in the new volume the admiral, it is said, has promised to "tell it all."

Man, 78, Starts on Grizzly Hunt

Long Beach, Cal.—The "one-shot grizzly king," at the age of seventy-eight, still has the "call of the wild" in his blood. Chester Ellsworth, known to his friends and members of the Adventurer's club by that appellation, sailed recently with his gun packed for the wilds of British Columbia to hunt the grizzly.

He will travel to the furthermost outpost of civilization, and accompanied by one man to chop wood and tend camp, he is to go into the heart of the woods for big game.

"Let those at my age who want it have their wheeled chairs and tepid airs. Give me the air like mellow wines, the spirit of the silent place, the feel of a gun in my hand and I am content," Ellsworth said.

3 BLAZES IN 70 HOURS FACED BY FIREMEN AS WINTER STARTS

Cooper and Lynch Injured in Menacing Fire In Woodruff Building—Chief Injured in Hilton Blaze—Store Wrecked This Morning—$15,500 Damages

Property damage of upwards of $15,500 was done and thousands of dollars more was placed in jeopardy in this city in a record series of three fires within seventy hours, beginning with a blaze in the Woodruff Building, at Irving and Lewis streets, at three o'clock, Saturday morning, which was followed by a fire at the Rahway Clothing Company plant, Main and Coach streets, at seven o'clock Saturday evening, and including a blaze in the neighborhood store of Mr. and Mrs. William Christian, of 2 Lennington street, at one o'clock this morning.

Coming as did all of these fires in very cold weather, they gave the firemen strenuous battles and took a heavy toll in injuries, both of temporary and more serious natures. Two firemen are in the Rahway Hospital as the result of a fall into a ten-foot airshaft at the Woodruff building fire Saturday morning, where every man on the paid force and a number of callmen were overcome by smoke and had to be carried from the building. At the blaze at Joseph Hilton's plant, Fire Chief Walter H. Ritzman suffered a badly gashed hand from broken glass. There were no casualties from the fire this morning although the firemen were subjected to extreme cold and exposure, a number of them being covered with ice from falling water by the time they had been fighting the blaze but a few minutes.

Estimates made by Fire Chief Ritzman of the damage done at the several blazes were Woodruff building, $4,000; Hilton plant, $10,000; Christian store, $1,500. The firemen injured in the fall at the Woodruff building fire were: Assistant Fire Chief Harry Cooper, who got an ugly scalp wound on the back of his head and who inhaled much smoke; Lieutenant Edgar Lynch, broken nose and severe cuts about the face and head.

The fire this morning was from an unknown cause, the likely explanation being rats and matches, as the store had a sizable stock of matches for trade and the occupants reporting that they have been bothered of late by rodents. The store is a one-story affair about fifteen by twenty feet and contains in addition to the store which runs across the front of the building and is about ten feet deep, a kitchen and dining room. Fire Chief Ritzman is inclined to believe the rats and matches theory as the blaze appeared to start on the shelf where the matches were kept.

The flames must have had a long start before being discovered by John Schade, of Elizabeth, who is director of the Empire and Lyric orchestra, and who was on his way home by automobile when he saw the blaze in passing. By the time the firemen arrived in answer to an alarm from Box 53 on the nearby corner of Grand and Lennington streets, the place was a mass of flames, the roof being burned in and one side of the building burned through.

All of the paid men with the exception of the two in the hospital were on the job as well as a goodly number of callmen. Fire Chief Ritzman directed their movements and they quickly had two streams from the hydrant at Grand and Lennington streets on the flames. Despite the great headway the fire had gained, the firefighters made quick work of it. The building is a frame structure and those who watched the firemen battle the blaze wondered that they were able to save as much of it as they did. However, the place is badly gutted.

Patrolman Joseph Kelly who was on duty last night on the first ward post was near the other end of his beat at the time the alarm sounded. He jumped a passing cab and was early on the scene. He summoned the Christians from their residence nearby. Motorcycle Officers Crowley and McIntyre and Patrolmen Edwin Payne and George Pinfield were also on the scene as well as Special Officer John Conger.

Mr. Christian stated that his loss of about $1,000 to stock and fixtures and furniture is covered by insurance. The building is owned by Louis A. Mistey, of 244 East Grand street. The building is probably damaged to the extent of $500 or more, but whether covered by insurance or not was not ascertained this morning.

Fire at the Rahway Clothing plant was discovered about six-thirty o'clock Saturday night by Thomas Doyle, of Whittier street, the night watchman. Doyle had just come on duty and had started to make his rounds when he discovered smoke coming from the basement. Investigating he discovered fire climbing up to the first floor around the chimney of the oil-burning furnace.

Doyle rushed to the office telephone and notified police headquarters of the fire, from whence fire headquarters was notified. About the same time Motorcycle Officer C. J. Crowley was coming down Irving street and noticed the smoke. After telephoning the alarm the watchman ran to the box at Main street and Elizabeth avenue and rang in a general alarm, Crowley arriving at the box at almost the same time.

When the firemen arrived fire was eating its way into stock on a table on the first floor and was vivid against one of the big daylight windows which surround the big plant. The flames were on the side of the building next the residence of Jacob Zuman, at 37 Main street. The firemen got one line on the flames from the alleyway between the plant and the Zuman house, and another in the front entrance and a third down into the cellar from the Coach street side.

Their fine work confined the flames almost entirely to the cellar about the furnace where the fires seem to have broken out and to a small area on the first floor just above. No flames reached the second floor of the plant although the place was filled with smoke which did some damage. Just how the fire originated is not definitely known but it is supposed to have started in some refuse alongside of the furnace, probably from a carelessly tossed match.

Owing to the nature of the contents of the building, cloth, silks for lining and kindred materials used in the making of suits and overcoats, the water which had to be poured on the flames did considerable damage, although the firemen held this down to a minimum.

SUNDAY MOVIES MEET CONCERTED OBJECTION

Lincoln P. T. A. Latest Group to Oppose Veterans' Plan

CHURCH FEDERATION IN VAN OF OPPOSITION

Upholding of Sabbath Observance Insisted Upon

Another strong factor was lined up against the stated plan of the Mulvey Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to run Sunday motion picture shows in Rahway, when the Lincoln School Parent-Teacher Association yesterday afternoon went on record as being strongly opposed to "commercialising the Sabbath by Sunday movies in Rahway." Whether the other Parent-Teacher organizations of the various schools in the city will take similar action is not known, but the Lincoln group is backed by the other organizations, the Veterans will find a powerful group of citizens opposing their plan.

The action of the Lincoln group followed the lead of similar action taken by the Rahway Federation of Churches at a meeting of the church held on Sunday. Sunday moving pictures have been attempted in Rahway before and have always met with similar opposition, so strong in fact that such shows have never been produced. The Veterans' plan calls for benefit performances in the new $125,000 Empire Theater, which will be opened around the middle of the month.

It was also decided at the meeting to raise the sum of $100 as part of the amount being subscribed for the Arguimbau Memorial Scholarship at the Woman's College at Rutgers. The sum of $6,000 is being raised to provide a principal on which the interest, $300, will provide the scholarship each year. The money will be subscribed by the school groups all over the county. The Lincoln P. T. A. will hold a food sale on December [illegible] as an initial affair to raise the $100 quota for the scholarship fund.

Mrs. Thomas H. Roberts, Jr., heads the committee to plan for the food sale and will be assisted by Mrs. John J. Huffman, Mrs. W. B. DuRie, Jr., Mrs. [illegible] Fiero, Mrs. Frank Roberts, Mrs. [illegible]andes, Mrs. John Overton, Mrs. [illegible] D. Person and Mrs. Ralph Miller.

It was decided also to present the children of the school with the usual Christmas gifts, a committee being named to secure these. Mrs. Edward [illegible]hop and Principal Miss Ada M. [illegible]rrell comprise the committee.

A very interesting talk on safeguarding the children's health was given at the meeting yesterday by School Nurse Miss Clara Chapin, who warned especially against diphtheria. Following her talk Miss Chapin distributed leaflets on "Diphtheria," put out by the State Department of Health. Superintendent of Schools William F. Little was present and gave encouraging remarks on the work of the Association throughout the State.

Mrs. Ralph C. Miller was introduced as the new secretary to fill out the term of Mrs. C. O. Keagy, who moved recently to Wilmington, Del. The report on the membership of the association indicated that the roll contains about one hundred and twenty-five members, the largest in the history of the organization.

Preceding the business meeting the children of the school gave a short program appropriate to Thanksgiving. President Mrs. J. L. Ewing presided and announced the committee for the next meeting as follows: Mrs. Carl [illegible]raves, Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. Bertram Barry, Mrs. Corson, Mrs. Russell Cartwright, Mrs. Crane, Mrs. [illegible], Miss Barnhardt, Miss Mana [illegible]lark and Principal Miss Ada Farrell.

FEDERATION FIRST OPPOSES

Prior to the action of the Lincoln P. T. A., the Federation of Churches of the city, which began the opposition to Sunday movies, expressed itself as determined to block every effort made by the Veterans or any other organization to stage Sunday motion picture benefit concerts in this city. Representatives of the Federation reported meeting with the Vets' leaders and exchanging views. Although they have not definitely stated their intention of withdrawing their plans, the post made it understood that their stand is unsettled and that no real determination has been made to carry out the plan.

That all the majority of the work on the religious census of the city has been completed was reported at the meeting by H. C. Pray, who has handled the bulk of the big task. The final steps in completing the work are about to be taken and Mr. Pray asked that a representative from each church meet him at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night to outline the last step, a house-to-house canvass where no church membership is indicated from the rolls plotted in to date. Upon motion of I. W. Story, a vote of thanks was given the First Baptist Church for use of their building for Federation meetings, and for furnishing without charge month after month light and heat when needed.

Plan Christmas Party

Rahway Rebekah Lodge held a well-attended meeting last evening, plans being made at that time for the annual Christmas tree treat, which will be held on December 30, the affair to be held jointly with Essex County Lodge, No. 27, I. O. O. F. The Good and Welfare Committees of the two organizations have charge of arrangements.

Sunday School Leaders Plan Xmas Festivals

Christmas observance was the chief business before the officers and teachers of the Second Presbyterian Church at their monthly meeting held last night with the Misses Smith, of 98 Bryant street. Superintendent F. W. Hanson presided. The primary department entertainment will be held, Friday afternoon, December 26, in the lecture room of the church while the senior department of the home school will be held Monday night December 29.

The Sunday preceding Christmas December 21, will be the time for the presentation of a pageant by members of the Sunday School entitled "Under the Stars." Miss Mary L. Ewing is in charge of this event. There were about twenty present at the meeting, which was followed by a delightful social hour.

FAMILY FRACAS AIRED IN COURT

Father Bonded, Mother Reprimanded by Judge Dey. Care Of Child In An Issue

A father was put under $500 bond to keep the peace, and a mother was given a severe reprimand by Judge Orlando H. Dey in police court Friday afternoon, when the father was arraigned on a charge of beating his wife, while the latter after the hearing indicated that she did not care to take their child. Following the local magistrate's bitter reproach the mother said she was willing to take the child.

The husband, Patrick J. Polin, 40 years old, of 87 West Grand street, declared that he only struck his wife in self-defense, when the latter attacked him in a manner that threatened his life. Mrs. Polin denied that she had attacked her husband, also stating that she only struck him in self-defense. The mixup occurred on Sunday evening, November 23, and is alleged to have started over some bedding that Polin took from his wife's room. When Mrs. Polin declared that her husband, to whom she has been married for six years, had not provided for her for nearly a year, the defendant vigorously denied this. He said he had paid a grocery bill of $46 for a period of thirteen days.

All during the hearing the two-year-old child of the couple romped around the railed-in portion of the court room. When the father was unable to produce a bondsman at once and was held by the police, he asked Judge Dey what would become of the child, whom he had brought into the station with him.

"His mother will take him, I presume," said Judge Dey.

"I don't see how I can, Judge," said Mrs. Polin.

"If you don't think enough of your child to take him," continued the magistrate, "leave him here and I will see that he is taken care of."

"I did not think you wanted a charge of cruelty to children lodged against you," said Judge Dey, when Mrs. Polin quickly changed her mind.

Spectators in the Rahway court room, Friday, believe that Andrew Degen, of 520 Maple avenue, Elizabeth, talked himself into being fined $15 for reckless driving. The Elizabeth man was arraigned on a charge of failure to stop when the Milton avenue drawbridge was open, his car breaking the chain across the road and going to within a few feet of the edge of the bridge. Judge Dey started to give Degen some advice, but the Elizabeth man kept on talking, stating that his foot brake did not work and that rain on his windshield prevented him from seeing properly. The magistrate told Degen that the more he talked the worse thing appeared, both the excuses he offered being violations of the law in themselves.

Lady Foresters to Elect Officers December 12

Plans for election of officers in connection with the next meeting of the organization were made Friday night at the meeting of Rahway City Circle, No. 11, Lady Foresters. The Circle received and accepted invitations to attend receptions to Grand Lodge officers at New Brunswick this Thursday night and at Elizabeth, with Pride of Success Circle, next Monday night. Arrangements were furthered for the Christmas party to be held Friday night, December 26. This affair will be in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. Walter I. Springer. The meeting Friday night was honored by a visit from District Deputy Mrs. Elizabeth Stillwell, of New Brunswick. Mrs. Stillwell gave an interesting talk.

Cards and other diversions were enjoyed and refreshments were served during the social hour which followed the lodge session. Mrs. Edward J. Best was the winner in cards. Mrs. Charles Carroll captured the "dark horse" prize.

AWARD RAHWAY NORTHERN TITLE

State Athletic Solons Favor Red and Black Claims To Gridiron Laurels

NO STATE CLASS B. TITLE TO BE AWARDED

Hail, to the football champions of Northern New Jersey's Class B. contenders, Rahway High School! The Red and Black was officially acclaimed the titleholders last night at a meeting of the State Athletic Solons at Trenton, at which time Principal E. G. Smeathers and Coach Alfred C. "Johnny" Brooks, put forward Rahway's claims which received the favorable action over the claims of Dover and Garfield high schools.

The State Athletic Committee powers held that there can be no such thing as a State Class B. title since the schools in this class are small and cannot afford to book games all over the State which would give a chance to base title-awarding on comparative showings. Therefore they have decided only to award sectional championships. In Class A, it was pointed out the matter is different, since the big schools play schedules all over the State and the comparisons can be made.

It is pointed out that the schedules played in the southern section of the State cannot compare with those in the northern part of the State since the schools there are on the whole smaller and the opposition is less. G. A. Falzer, sporting editor of the Newark Call, and head of the State association stated that Rahway is without question the outstanding team in Northern Class B titles, this despite Garfield's and Dover's contentions.

Since there is to be no State Class B. title awarded the proposed game with Red Bank becomes no longer necessary. When the local representatives left Trenton last night the State body had not yet decided at eleven o'clock to whom the central and southern Class B. titles should go. It is likely that Milville will get the southern honor and the central title lies between Princeton and Red Bank with the chances that the last-named two may play off the tie to settle the claim.

The date for the banquet to the champion eleven has been changed from Friday night December 12, to Thursday night, December 11, this event to be given by the board of education.

Church Altar Guild Elects New Officers

Miss Helen Williamson was again chosen to lead the Altar Guild of the Church of the Holy Comforter at a meeting last night of that organization held at her home, 7 Irving street. To support the president the following officers were also chosen: Vice-president, Miss Lettie Thompson; secretary, Mrs. Walter Jackson; treasurer, Mrs. George Thorne.

Report was made that a committee headed by Miss Clara Garcia is to purchase purple hangings for the altar. All members are to co-operate in decorating the church and Sunday school room for Christmas. A main committee, headed by Mrs. Daniel Walker, will take care of the sale of candy to raise funds for the Guild.

In the enjoyable social hour which followed the business meeting numerous diversions were provided, among which were games. Prizes in games were won by Mrs. George Thorne and Miss Clara Garcia. Consolation awards in the same events were given to Miss Lettie Thompson and Mrs. George Cotter.

Those present were: President Miss Helen Williamson, Mrs. Lester Crane, Mrs. Walter Jackson, Mrs. Daniel Walker, Mrs. George Cotter, Miss Lettie Thompson, Mrs. George Thorne, Mrs. Emily Garcia was a visitor.

City Officials Study Water Plant Conditions

Following the warning issued in last Friday's Record by Health Officer Fred M. Williams that all city water used for drinking should be boiled first, the members of the water board-elect, Commissioner McClintock, Mr. Williams and several of the councilmen-elect made an inspection at the water works on Sunday.

The result of the visit is that especial efforts will be made by Superintendent David Gage to protect the users of the city supply, which is admittedly a hard task since the watershed is constantly being polluted in one form or another.

Mr. Williams advises users of the water to continue the boiling process until further notice, for although analyses taken daily at the Rahway Hospital by the city technician show marked improvement over the worst condition marked, the water is not yet as it should be for use without such boiling.

Enjoy Turkey Dinner

A delightful social gathering was that of Friday night at Odd Fellows' Hall when more than fifty members of Rahway Rebekah Lodge, No. 67, and Essex County Lodge, No. 27, I. O. O. F., held a joint turkey dinner. An appetising menu was served. During the social hour which followed the dinner guests enjoyed vocal and instrumental selections. The committee on arrangements comprised: Mrs. Edwin Payne, Mrs. Fred Herman, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Harry D. Perdin, Clarence Johnson and David [illegible]

City Officials Begin Work on 1925 Budget

Most of the time at the weekly meeting of the board of commissioners as a committee of the whole, held last night at the city offices was given over to the initial sifting in preparation of the budget for 1925. The members of the board were joined by members-elect of the new common council, City Treasurer William H. Wright, and by auditors of Mills & Co., who audit the municipal accounts.

The task of fixing the budget for 1925 is a huge one, owing to the change in government and governmental officials, making the proposition quite complicated. No more than the surface was scratched last night and some strenuous work is ahead in getting the budget in shape before the end of the year.

Tonight at the commissioners' meeting the ordinance to give all members of the police department a flat increase of $200 in salaries will come up for third and final reading and public hearing.

ELECT SUNDAY SCHOOL HEADS

George Schaefer Returned As Superintendent 1st. M. E. Group With Able Aides

Election of officers featured a meeting of unusual interest held by the Sunday School Board of the First Methodist Church last night at the parsonage with Rev. and Mrs. George A. Law. A goodly portion of the time at the meeting was also given over to the completion of arrangements for the annual Christmas observance.

The election resulted as follows: Superintendent, George Schaefer; assistant, George Chamberlain; missionary superintendent, Mrs. Julia Vincent; primary superintendent, Miss Marjorie Chase; assistant, Mrs. Wallace Redman; cradle roll superintendent, Mrs. George A. Law; temperance superintendent, Miss Miriam Brewer; secretary, Philip Ackerman; treasurer, Nelson M. Turner; pianist, Miss Ruth LaBar; assistant, Miss Lillian Carlson; librarians, Edwin Packard and Herbert Schaefer.

The Christmas party for the First M. E. Sunday School will be held Tuesday, December 30. TWO CHILDREN HIT BY AUTOS

Local and Bellville Girls Suffer Injuries In Pair of Highway Mishaps

Two children were victims in auto accidents i athis city Friday and Sunday. Little Ruth Kemp, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Kemp, of 5 Meadow avenue, was struck by a Ford delivery car driven by Paul Maurer, of Portanpeck, at the corner of Lake and St. George avenues about 11:15 o'clock Sunday morning.

The little girl was cut on her nose and had two bumps on her head and cuts on each knee but was not seriously hurt. She was treated by Dr. B. W. Hoagland, of Woodbridge. Maurer told Sergeant Frank Remer who investigated that he was turning into Lake avenue and did not see the child until too late to stop his machine. He agreed to pay all damages.

A similar accident occured in St. George avenue, Friday, when Miss Ruby Griffin, 13 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Griffin, of Belleville, was struck by an auto driven by Peter Veitch, of Asbury Park. The girl had just gotten out of her father's car and had started to cross the highway when she was struck. She received severe cuts and bruises but no bones were broken. She was taken to the Rahway Hospital for treatment.

There was a collision at Main street and Milton avenue, about three o'clock Sunday afternoon between one of Brennan's trucks, driven by Ira Smith, of Leesville avenue, and another auto driven by John Ijnor, of Elizabeth. The truck had its left rear and front mudguards smashed and left rear hub cap broken. When Detective Sergeant Thompson arrived the Elizabeth man had driven on.

Bonnie Burn Fund

"Feel Sorry For Someone Else"

Editor, Record:

"The best way to get rid of all of your troubles is to feel so sorry for somebody else that you forget to feel sorry for yourself."

The above lines, Mr. Editor, I think are appropriate when thinking of the Bonnie Burn Fund. Let us feel so sorry for the patients and the kiddies at Bonnie Burn that we shall forget our own little troubles—most of them probably imaginary. Somebody once said that, "I have had a great deal of trouble in my life, but most of it never happened."

So a great many of us are apt to "cross bridges before we get to them." In any event, if we have our health and even a reasonable degree of so-called prosperity we may well congratulate ourselves, and can certainly afford to take some interest in the under dog and the unfortunate. So let us at this time help to swell the Bonnie Burn Fund. A dollar or five dollars, contributed to this fund will do much good, and will help to inject some cheer into the lives of those at Bonnie Burn. So help the fund along, Mr. and Mrs. Blank, of Rahway.

Am exceedingly grateful for the contributions so far made.

MORGAN LAUDS LOCAL POLICE

Former Judge Commends Two Officers for Diligence In Hunting Bootleggers

Chief of Police John A. Smith this morning received a communication from former District Court Judge, Charles L. Morgan, of Elizabeth, in which he spoke in terms of highest praise of the courtesy and vigilance of two members of the local police department in their actions last Saturday morning, in halting his machine in St. George avenue, because they were suspicious that it was a car engaged in bootlegging, the back of the runabout resting on the springs giving the police this belief.

Ex-Judge Morgan's communication gives a version of the affair in exact contradiction to another account which has been circulated in this city, in which the officers were alluded to as overbearing, discourteous and officious. The report which gained public print in some manner incensed the two officers, McIntyre and Farbre, greatly.

Judge Morgan's communication follows:

"Coming through from Woodbridge to Elizabeth, early Saturday morning, I was stopped by two of your motorcycle policemen, who suspected that I might be transporting liquor because of the way in which the back of my runabout seemed to be resting on the springs.

"The officer who came up to my car was very courteous and introduced himself to me, but I have forgotten his name.

"I want to tell you that I appreciate the fact that the men of your department are on the job and I wish you would officially extend to these officers my commendation for their courtesy and also for their watchfulness.

"I believe it is the duty of all citizens to co-operate in every way with the men who are trying to see that our laws are enforced."

Found Unconscious After Fall on Steps

Wondering what had become of Ira C. Cowie, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Cowie, of Bryant street and Elm avenue, who is connected with the Central Garage in Main street in which his father is financially interested, P. T. Rosenblum, another mechanic, went to the furnace cellar outside of the garage where he found the missing youth unconscious on the concrete floor.

Young Cowie had gone yesterday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock to attend to the furnace which is located in a basement structure adjoining the garage. In some manner Cowie must have lost his footing and in falling struck his head on the concrete. It was fully a half hour before his absence became so marked that a search was made for him.

He was still unconscious when Rosenbaum found him. The police whose headquarters are directly across Main street from the Central garage, rendered first aid while Dr. L. M. Randolph was summoned. Cowie was revived and upon examination was found to have an ugly bump on his forehead but was not otherwise injured. This morning he was reported getting along nicely.
