Clark School Board Favors Vaccination

After considerable discussion it was decided at the meeting Tuesday night of the Clark Township School Board to recommend to all parents in that community who have their children vaccinated as a preventative measure against smallpox.

That the failure of the voters of the township to vote additional school facilities will result in overcrowding and improper accommodations for the pupils, was the opinion of the board that such a situation would result in a decided setback to enjoying an extensive growth and its school population is growing so extensively, the problem is rapidly becoming more and more serious a thing with have to be done toward more classrooms before any great length of time has passed.

Thomas Martin, superintendent of schools, presented the following names for President Henry Infeld, District Clerk C. H. Brewer, School Commissioner Herman Graves, George Holland, Roland J. White and Henry Meisner.

REEL TOPICS

The Reel Topics Mailbag is another way to give sport-lovers in general and fishermen in particular a chance to express themselves on varied reports on time to which local outdoorsmen have or intend to repair; any item that you read fishing report or any other item of sport, any question you may contribute thinks might be of interest to the followers of Izaak Walton. The Reel Topics Mailbag is open to all readers; any column can be made. Address your communications to REEL TOPICS EDITOR, Rahway Record.]

The fishing trip via Sheepshead Bay boats is one of the most recent and efficient local anglers, a motor-car boat; the journey, leaving from Rahway, is made in two hours. Anyone who likes beach fishing grounds at 5 a. m. daylight spring times, it is necessary to take the local train due at Rahway at 3:09 standard time. For those preferring to make a more leisurely trip, the Rahway train, leaving in Sheepshead Bay dock at 12 a. m., is more convenient.

Fishing from the boats, the fishing boat, as nothing, is practically all the boats prefer to dock at from 4 to 5 a. m. Fishing up to now, the 15th, has been good, but the fishing has been small and it has been possible to get at any hour of the day to touch now boats and even cances visit through the surf, which helps way has got.

Although they outfish the home team in a game at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon, the East Orange Police nine was badly outfoxed by Rahway A. A. the final count registering 9 to 2. The visitors played listless ball and after the third inning offered practically no opposition to the Westfield team. Rahway made every opportunity count to pile up the big scoring for victory.

Campbell, as usual, proved no pushover to his opponents and was hit at will. Excellent fielding behind the local mound-man gave him credit for another win, some of the catches being particularly brilliant, notably one secured by Smith after a long run, cutting off what had seemed a certain double to deep left near the foul line. Schultz also contributed a fine catch. The defensive work of the home team was very powerful, with Campbell, every inch a fighter, throwing down the cross-fire, assisting at one-second, when they meant little.

On the other hand, the Rahway batters discovered their aims when the three counted for the most damage. The big count turned in by the A. A. was aided materially by Radcliffe's wildness, four walks given out by the lanky East Orange heaver and one with three bases in the home team's scoring, not to mention eight safe drives, of which one, was a triple, three doubles.

Three yielding honors were captured by Manager Earl Worth, of the Rahway A. A., who alone got a three-ply wallops and two two-sack clouts. One of his terrific slams went clean to the street in deep right field. Mahnke and Gutter also hit heavily for the locals. Hoffman led the East Orange contingent with the ash, followed by Henderson and Solomon. Solomon played a hang-up fielding game for the visitors.

Yellow Springs, Pa.

I believe you are still addicted to your old more or less antiquated one, tube set, and I know that you don't care for your set, don't want to, but I know you have it. I know it because I hear it, even if you reside a half mile away from me. My one, five tube neutralized tuned radio frequency set may be giving me the pure, sweet strains of Calaiaris, Rudolphe, from the Hotel orchestra in New York City. My radio enjoyment is complete—until you decide to have some radio over your regenerative set. My ear, attuned to the galantic strains of the musical classic which is being reproduced by my own non-regenerative set, is suddenly assailed by some of the most raucous and discordant howls, shrieks, moans, groans and wails. It is possible, he thinks, but it is merely you, my neighbor, trying to send

Chrysler Adds 700,000 Sq. Ft. of Floor Space

The purchase of the Detroit property and plant of the American Motor Car Association by the Chrysler Corporation is announced by Walter P. Chrysler, president of the company. The board, according to Nelson L. Taylor, local Chrysler dealer.

The liability of the Chrysler Corporation with its various plants to supply the demand for its products necessitated the purchase, Mr. Taylor says. The plant of the American Motors Corporation, which is directly adjacent to the Jefferson Avenue plant will add 700,000 square feet of floor space.

The first and second floors of the new plant will be used for general manufacturing purposes by the Chrysler Corporation and the other floors will be used for building open cars including four-cylinder-touring cars and six-cylinder phaetons and roadsters.

During the past year, Mr. Taylor says, the Chrysler Corporation experienced a big shortage of covered cars, along with a consequent unavoidable slowing up of production. With the new plant which is regarded as one of the finest body plants in America, an adequate supply of quality bodies is assured.

Mr. Taylor did not report amount of the purchase price.

Interesting Game

Some local fans may be interested in a diamond tilt to be played at the home grounds of the Scotch Plains C. C. this Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when the General nine will invade that territory. Cantorel pitches for the home team, Cutsinger will manager while it has not yet had, with Frank Bruggy behind the bat and Cantorel on the mound. Both the Scotch Plains and the Cantorel teams have met the Rahway A. A. this year and both lost to the visitors. Anything may happen however when the Rahway Scotch Plains will have the following lineup: Poole, 2b; Salas, ss; Simpson, 3b; Lee, 1b; Rousseau, p; Jones, lf; Cousins, c; Alberts, cf; Lahlaey, rf; reserves, Mayo, p; Dennison, ss.

City Schools and Vaccination

A short time ago Rev. Father Kane of St. Mary's Parish issued an ultimatum to the effect that no child of the parish would be admitted to the parochial schools unless it had been vaccinated. It was by-laws, nor granted that the program was generally followed among the parishioners.

City Superintendent William P. Little, of Rahway public schools, some time before the summer recess issued advice or rather suggested to the Board of Education that they body make vaccination compulsory also before any child would be admitted to school. At the conclusion of the last meeting the matter was not definitely acted upon at the time, but later on notice was given through the local press as to the advisability of parents seeing to it that children were inoculated to vaccination before fall. Public schools opened again last week but from what we can learn but very few children have been vaccinated.

Smallpox in New Jersey thus far this year is analyzed in the current number of "The Journal of the Medical Society of New Jersey," and the conclusion reached that timely measures taken will prove a return of this cold-weather disease.

From January 1 to May 1, this year, 123 cases were reported to the state Board of Health. Of these thirty-nine, or nearly one in each three affected, died, the great majority were in the southern counties, but 12 occurred in Hudson, Union and Essex.

May added thirty-seven cases, but June's advent curbed the outbreak, and it has since been little prevalent; however, says the Journal:

"It is one of the inexplicable characteristics of this dread disease that it occasionally seems to lie dormant during the summer months, and to occur as a serious outbreak on the return of cold weather . . . and a later increase is not impossible.

"When we come to consider its protection, we run the statement, 'It is observed, that among the seventy-nine unvaccinated patients, the mortality was 44.7 per cent; among those who were vaccinated had been wounded or exhausted, it was 12.5 per cent; while among the two instances occurring to properly vaccinated persons there was no mortality, both patients recovered.'

The "Newark Evening News" takes exception to the arithmetic of the Journal's article and comments thus:

"But 44.7 per cent of seventy-nine in round numbers is thirty-one and 12.5 per cent of forty-one, likewise rounded, fourteen, a total of thirty-five, while as a matter of fact only thirty-nine, according to the Journal, did. On the other hand, seventy-nine is approximately 64.3 per cent of the total cases reported, January 1 to May 1, or 123, and forty-one is approximately 33.8 per cent of the same number.

"What seems to be meant, then, is that the proportionate susceptibility of the unvaccinated was 64.7 per cent and that of the too remotely protected 33.8 per cent, which suggests a contrast or thought on the Journal's part, but still shows clearly that in the group of cases what is almost generally accepted as true in relation to vaccination—its protective character—is demonstrated."

While the vaccination theory is far from being acceptable to a surprising number of persons, yet in view of the stand of the medical profession the layman can hardly but accept its value as a preventive and a protection against certain forms of disease. It would seem the part of common sense to resort to vaccination widely, both as to school children and adults who have not this protection. Small box is a most virulent disease, for contagion, and as a preventive, it is a small thing to do. In fact it is the insignificant act which we think makes people skeptical of its worth. It is the bathing in the Jordan River for cleanliness to them.

The Jordan Plan

"As the history of the future shall be written in the schools of today, it is vital that the teacher lay in the minds of children the foundation of a sane and wholesome background from which to develop international amity and intelligent abhorrence of war."

In the above statement, by David Starr Jordan expresses a profound truth and adds a profit to a great plan of international peace.

The plan of Education for Peace took courageously toward the ultimate abolition of international war as a legitimate sequence of disagreements between nations, or between individuals of different countries. Its central purpose is the mobilization of teachers in all lands, more immediately in America, in order that their combined influence and that of their pupils may be thrown solidly on the side of peace.

After receiving the Raphael Herman $20,000 award, Dr. Jordan's plan of education to develop International Justice and Friendship was adopted by the World Federation of Education Associations at its meeting at Edinburgh, Scotland, last month. The plan received hearty indorsement by the attending delegates from most of the countries of Europe and North and South America. Twenty official and forty unofficial delegates attended from the United States.

Dr. Jordan's plan of education for peace covers the world, stabilizing as far as possible by teaching the trend of the future toward peace and international understanding along lines of the Jordan Plan with the ultimate goal of a long journey toward disarmament and moral disarmament which leads towards and accompanies military disarmament, and also brings about a better understanding among men.

Mussolini's statement that Julius Caesar was the greatest man who ever lived you'd make much of, if his with the author's followers at Al Smith.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle predicts that the Senate will be composed of 51 per cent in favor of a dictatorship and 49 per cent against it.

Movies and the Children

Producing movies is one of the biggest businesses in the United States. Attending them is another one. Watch the crowds any evening in front of the New Empire Theatre or waiting in hay their tickets to the super features in a metropolitan cinema palace. It's always the same. The movies offer entertainment that people want, and that puts a big responsibility upon the movie producers.

One of the most troublesome problems the picture industry has had to meet is the production and presentation of films for the children. According to an article appearing recently in the Christian Science Monitor Saturday morning movies for children will be offered regularly in many cities this coming fall. "This is undoubtedly but one step toward catering to the youngsters who at present comprise about 15 per cent of the national moving picture audience. And it has been estimated that 75 per cent of the pictures in active circulation are not suitable for the child mind. Obviously it is well that this situation is being changed.

As a result of several visits to the Saturday afternoon matinees at the New Empire Theatre, with their attendant crowds of little folks, making the walk and noisy, playing with their bonus money and general lack of discipline, we are almost forced to the conclusion that Saturday morning movies plus especially for the youngsters who at present comprise about 15 per cent of the national moving picture audience. And it has been estimated that 75 per cent of the pictures in active circulation are not suitable for the child mind. Obviously it is well that this situation is being changed.

HENRY BUFFA

Teacher of the Violin

Opens a Studio in Elizabeth

Up to very recently music had to be considered a luxury by those who found the rates of the New York instructors inaccessible and since able teachers were not within the home vicinity it was almost impossible for people here to think of music studies which are such an important and essential part of life.

This fact led to the establishment of the Henry Buffa Violin Studio in Miller Building, 376 Monroe avenue, room 32, Elizabeth, which will provide for the scholars lessons private instruction on the violin, theory of music, orchestra. The 3rd and concerts for end by Gobbers may register daily at Studios from 3:30 to 4:30.

Fence Around Riverside

of the A. A. a prominent merchant brought a party of friends to see the park. They motored the view to paying patrons and refused to give a cent to see the park. There are many more like that.

It has been a common practice for certain class of individuals who have no consideration for just debts to wilfully ignore all efforts to collect them. Some are so brazen as to boast openly that they will not pay, and long as the fact was open, this condition was to be expected, but now that the park is closed and the owners are in a position to get something for nothing by getting the fence up, they are in a position to do so, and they are doing it.

KIWANIANS PAY HARDING HONOR

Novel Memorial to Late President at Vancouver, British Columbia

The President Harding tableau and Good Will Memorial, located at Vancouver, Washington, is now nearly completed and will be formally dedicated on October 4 by the Kiwanians of Washington and Canada, with the dedicatory address delivered by the president of the United States, officials of both the United States and Canadian governments and a musical program.

The Kiwanis Club of Vancouver, which conceived the building of the memorial, has contributed the bronze statue of President Harding, the symbolic statue of fortification, symbolic of the Kiwanis ideal of the complete consecration of the three-million dollars entrusted to the Kiwanis from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and the Good Will Memorial.

"But the world is hoping, too, that the Kiwanis Good Will Memorial, the concrete and tangible expression of the hearts of the citizens of both nations, will be a great inspiration to the people of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, great city of Kiwanis, to carry on the work of this understanding that is its gift. Milwaukee Kiwanians have pledged to the Ideals of Good Will to the world this fall, particularly which is now hoped to be the Good Will Memorial of Kiwanis to Kiwanis.

"Plans are made for the Vancouver Kiwanians to be recognized as Rally Day in the Sunday school and services of Fifth Baptist, Rev. Mr. A. Comstock, of Brooklyn, who was speaker in the Sunday school on Rally Day last year, will again address the school. A special train will be chartered for those who desire to attend the morning service. Special services will be held in the evening for the Kiwanians. The Kiwanis Rally Day at the young people's meeting will be in charge of Miss Grace Hoffman, president of the society, who will give short addresses on the Kiwanis Good Will Day. Miss Hoffman will also deliver a series of five addresses on the life of Christ at community meetings in Summit.

Protection Is Our Security

"Our protection is in our fraternity, unique in its ideal, and in the hearts of our people. Only a society of the high ideals of Kiwanis could have the invisible boundary line had been drawn around it, and the invisible barrier, which has kept it so free from the taint of selfishness, which so many of our societies have felt, is as fine as the modern newspaper. Kiwanis has spread its influence to the ends of the earth, and it is the only society, recording kindly, more than a hundred-fold, the good deeds of men and properties on the Great Beyond. Kiwanis has spread over the invisible boundary line and is now in other lands, and it is the only society that has spread its influence beyond the seas.

"Our deceased comrades! Kiwanis has set down in history the names with which the old order of fraternity, which has proven their worth, and a copy was ordered spread on the resolutions follow:

"Resolved, That the Vancouver Kiwanis Club, in its regular meeting and number of members of the U. S. Army, Navy and Marine Corps, who have been called to answer the last roll call, and that the Vancouver Kiwanis Club will unite with the Kiwanis Club of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in the Kiwanis Good Will Memorial, will give short addresses on the Kiwanis Good Will Day at the young people's meeting and services of the Fifth Baptist Church, and will also deliver a series of five addresses on the life of Christ at community meetings in Summit.

Kiwanis Ideal Is Universal

"Our ideal is universal, and it is the only society that has spread its influence beyond the seas. Kiwanis has spread over the invisible boundary line and is now in other lands, and it is the only society that has spread its influence beyond the seas.
