Budget, Management Triggered Resignation of "Lonely" Bd. Member

Donald H. Bagger, whose March 15 resignation from the Board of Education has caused some local comment, issued this statement to the Leader yesterday:

"One year ago, three-quarters of Westfield's voters in the school election chose me for membership on the Board of Education. Two weeks ago, in near-total frustration, I resigned after casting the only negative vote against the board's 1983-1984 budget. Since the decision to leave was based on more than opposition to the budget, I should explain this action.

"My election last year was assisted greatly by a special campaign group. These community leaders included former board presidents and members, former town mayors and councilmen together with several dozen other citizens with long records of local leadership. This town-wide movement represented a general belief that the Board of Education obviously needed additional managerial perspective about this community's real goals for its public schools.

"In this intervening year, the Board of Education and the Superintendent of Schools paid little attention to the electoral message that more money does not solve all problems. Nor were the unique experiences absorbed by me over three decades in public management, both state and local, used by an educational establishment badly in need of help in purpose, direction and method.

"I am not made with the inner self-assurance that fights on unaided. The board candidates now running are its incumbent president and others who seem to be duplicates of my recent colleagues. Management and finance are not issues amongst them or the present members. So I have ended through resignation my lonely efforts.

"Here are my capsule comments on our local public education:

1. Westfield continues, as in the past, to have first-rate schools, but the town now deserves a far more objective and reflective Board of Education. Elements of some long-term observation of — and participation in — the constructive and productive direction of Westfield's progress would be useful, if not essential.

2. School board members in recent years have been products of the PTA-PTO hierarchy, veterans of single-issue campaigns or friends of incumbents who were willing to run. Westfield should give serious thought to wider-based procedures for the selection, evaluation and support of its Board of Education members.

3. The Superintendent of Schools is an able staff administrator, but he should be restrained by the board to be its operating officer and not its guiding mentor.

4. The board should not accept so easily the staff's equation that expense equals excellence. Declining enrollments and increasing budgets are not inevitable partners. Maybe too many taxpayers are buying too much capacity for ever-fewer users.

5. In recent years, the board's budgets have ultimately thrown off annual million-dollar-plus surplus balances. These provide the 'honey pot' for intentionally unbudgeted capital items. The repair and renovation payouts are unidentified in advance (to assist in the much-promoted "pass the budget" efforts of the staff).

6. The board's 1983-1984 budget, constructed like its predecessors, deserves electoral defeat so the Town Council, according to law, may give it some objective analysis. Perhaps a special group of former Board of Education presidents could be enlisted to help the municipal government in a review useful to the community.

"A personal postscript: In lifelong residency, I've been honored to serve my hometown as an elected member of the Town Council, the Charter Commission and the Board of Education. It's additionally been good to be appointed as Recreation Commissioner, Fire Commissioner and Local Assistance Board President. But enough is enough, particularly in the mixed-up muddle of local school management. So I leave for other folks our educational work for Westfield."

May 30 Memorial Day Parade Plans Underway

Plans are currently underway for the Memorial Day Parade, cheduled for May 30. Any organization which would like to participate in the parade is asked to have a representative at the initial planning meeting on Tuesday, April 12, at 8 p.m. at the American Legion Headquarters, North Ave. at Crossway Pl.

Participating organizations are encouraged to enter a float or banner depicting a Memorial Day theme. There will be a plaque for the winner of the banner competitions among the youth organizations and certificates of appreciation to all youngsters who march.

This year the parade committee is planning two separate float categories for competition. A trophy will be given to the best float in each category which will be based on the float size. The event is co-sponsored by the American Legion, V.F.W. and the Westfield Jaycees.

If further information is needed, readers may contact George Vavoulis, 515 Grove St., or Stan Cuba, 638 Coleman Pl.

Library Closed On Good Friday

The Westfield Memorial Library will be closed tomorrow in observance of Good Friday and will reopen Saturday at 10 a.m.

No Suspect Clay In Westfield Schools

School Superintendent Laurence F. Greene announced today that the Westfield public schools do not have any Fibro Clay on hand.

Fibro Clay, produced by Milton Bradley Company, is a gray/white powdered product that may contain asbestos. Clay ordered for the school system's art classes was made by Amoco and Harbutt.

Poultry Clues In Chicken "Heist"

Town police received a report of foul play on Tuesday when Dr. Charles Hely of Stoneleigh Park called and told them five of his bantam chickens had been stolen. Investigation revealed that the stew may have been unwarranted.

By Tuesday evening four of the banties had returned. Dr. Hely said that he expected the other to return by sundown.

Police theorize that the chickens simply had taken a pre-Easter stroll.

An Expanded "Safe at Home" Show Set for April 23

The Westfield Area Chamber of Commerce has announced that the third annual home safety and security show has been expanded to include exhibits of consumer electronics products and home services.

"During this period of rapid advances in communications technology, the consumer wants an opportunity to gather more information about home computers, video tape equipment, and phone sets," says Susan Jardine, executive director of the Chamber, "which is why we are inviting the consumer electronics industry to participate." Any business interested in exhibiting should contact the Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 81, Westfield, by April 8.

"Safe At Home," which is free to the public, will continue to offer area residents information about the latest devices available to make the home safer and more secure as more than 20 exhibits are planned. Activities will also include safety and security demonstrations by the Fire and Police Departments: free blood pressure screening by the Rescue Squad; and the opportunity to make a blood donation at the Red Cross Chapter's Blood Mobile parked outside from 9 to 2:30.

The show's hours are from 9 to 3 at the Westfield High School Cafeteria, 550 Dorian Rd., April 23. Refreshments will be served. Norman Greco is chairman of the show.

Susan Jardine and "Safe At Home" show chairman Norman Greco expect to attract exhibitors from the consumer electronics and home services industries to expand this year's show.

Site of Proposed Substation Arouses Fears of Residents

Residents of the Summit Court-Bell Drive area are expected to attend Monday night's meeting of the Planning Board to voice their concern over Public Service Electric and Gas Co.'s application for permission to build an electrical sub-station in Westfield.

According to PSE&G plans, the proposal calls for use of an area south of the tracks and soccer field in the southwest corner of Westfield adjacent to the Clark line. St. Helen's Church and a large residential area are located in the immediate vicinity.

Several years ago the same block of residents amassed an area-wide group of objectors to the placement of the utility's construction of overhead wires along the railroad tracks which abut their homes. The issue eventually went to court where actions of PSE&G were upheld.

David Haack, a speaker for the Summit Court group, noted that, "The site plan for the new facility shows a small substation set back about 120 feet from the road. Although we are not too pleased to have such a structure in our neighborhood, it in itself is not all that objectionable. What we do find frightening is that on the same site that there is also an area which is the location of the proposed 230 kv station. That facility is a great deal larger. We feel that once the utility company has one thing built on the land, they will have carte blanche to build whatever they wish.

"To get an idea of what an electrical substation looks like, a group of Summit Court residents took a trip to the Aldene Station in Cranford. We took the Parkway north from Exit 135 and as we approached Exit 137 we could see the facility to our right. We were on an overpass at the time and it was clearly visible from the car - which means that the structures on it were quite tall. We than left the Parkway so that we could see what it looked like from ground level. The first thing we noticed was a humming noise which was continuous and quite loud. The entire fenced-in area appeared to be as large or larger than a football field."

Other residents of the area have voiced strong objections to the building of the facility. They feel that "aside from being ugly, the facility may present health and safety hazards as well as lowering property values in the area."

Haack contends that the proposed site for the substation should be used. "It seems a sad commentary that the citizens of a lovely place such as Westfield should be continually called upon to fight for the integrity of our town - the overhead wires, the mall and now an electrical substation. We hope that residents of other parts of Westfield will join us in this endeavor as whatever effects one part of our town eventually effects all of us."

Mothers Win Favor with Planners, Signs Do Not

Mothers and signs were the main topics of discussion at Monday night's Board of Adjustment meeting. Mothers emerged as winners while signs received mixed reviews.

Two separate applicants petitioned the board to allow them to construct additions to their homes so that their mothers would be able to move in with their families while each retained a certain amount of privacy.

The appeal of Frederick Gruen was initiated at the February meeting of the board and was continued to Monday night. Gruen was seeking to build a 14 ft. by 22 ft. addition to the side of his residence at 805 Knollwood Terr. He said the area would be used as a combination sitting room-bedroom by his mother. Although the addition would leave his property with a 16 ft. side yard rather than the required 20 ft., Gruen's real estate expert A. George Rogers pointed out that many similar properties in the neighborhood had the same or smaller side yards.

Board members granted unanimous permission for the extension to Gruen as they did for Paul Bantz who requested an addition in which his mother-in-law could live at his residence, 1755 Florida St.

Approval granted to Bantz was conditioned on the caveat that no doors, walls or barriers were to separate his current living quarters from those he planned to construct. Because a kitchen and a rear exit on to the deck of his home are included in his plans, the board questioned whether he was seeking a use variance for an apartment. Members concluded that is intention was to retain a single housekeeping unit on his property which is partially located in Clark. As the house was to remain one-family as required in its RS-70 zone, Bantz was given a green light by the board.

Signs were introduced at the meeting before any appeals were heard. The board unanimously adopted regulations for sign variance applications. Included in the new requirements are submissions to the board of photographs of the present site, a list of existing signs, drawings of the proposed sign complete with dimensions; and a photograph of the signed site within 20 days of project completion.

Of the two applicants requesting sign variances, one received permission to place a sign at his place of business, the other was told to remove an existing sign.

Thomas Pintozzi, a sign maker, told the board that he needed a sign to identify his business, A.B.C. Studio, located at 201 East Grove St. In addition to just recently having moved to the site from Central Ave., he shares the building with several other firms and the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council, the primary occupant. Because his entry is at the rear of the building, he said his customers often wander into other offices looking for him. "I'm just totally out of the way," he explained.

Agreeing that he "had a problem," board members suggested he place the sign near the front of the building when they granted him unanimous approval.

Prospect Construction Corp. did not fare so well. A sign currently standing in front of the eight unit condominium at 257 Orchard St. was characterized as "that Steak and Ale" sign by Chairman Mary Herberich. William Lane and A. George Rogers, who represented the applicant, described the sign as "aesthetically pleasing and complementary to the condominium structure."

Herberich said, "The condominium developer already has received a substantial variance from this board. We now have a large entity in a one and two family zone and the 37" by 42" sign does change the character of the neighborhood. Besides the sign is not needed. An address number is sufficient." Other board members agreed and the appeal was unanimously denied.

In the only other hearing, Max and Mary Ann Jones were granted permission to "open up" their Cape Cod home at 1036 Columbus Ave. by erecting a second story addition. They will not increase the current dimensions of the house.

Officer Hurt In Crash

A town policeman and a Fanwood woman were taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, following a collision Monday at about 12:45 p.m. at South Ave. and West Broad St. Both were treated for their injuries and released.

Elaine C. Leone, 59, received a summons for failure to observe a traffic device. She told police that she was traveling east on South Ave. approaching the intersection when the light turned red. When she applied the brakes, her vehicle slid and collided with a police car driven by John J. Dugan, 24, of Watchung.

More Fingerprinting Saturday Morning

Voluntary fingerprinting of town schoolchildren will be offered Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon at police headquarters.

The free program, which is available to children between the ages of 5 and 17, is held the first Saturday of each month.

Identification is not required and older youngsters need not be accompanied by an adult. Copies of the prints will not be kept by police; they will immediately be handed over to parents or students.

Duncan Succeeds Kupfer As United Fund President

T. Milton Kupfer, 1982 board of trustee president for the United Fund of Westfield, passed the gavel to his successor, newly elected President Robert L. Duncan Jr., at the 26th annual meeting held recently in the Council Chambers of the Municipal Building. Other newly elected officers for 1983-84 include Austin B. Sayre, first vice president; Richard D. Rippe, second vice president; Sally Allen, secretary; and James Messersmith, treasurer.

In his annual report, Kupfer noted: "For the eighth year in a row, the United Fund of Westfield achieved its campaign goal. Our 1982 goal of $417,000 was an all-time high and 8.9% above the 1981 level. On behalf of our member agencies, much appreciation is extended to Alex Williams, the general campaign chairman,. to Ann Robinson, co-chairman, and to more than 400 volunteers for another outstanding job. Our thanks to each of them.

"1982 was the 25th anniversary of our fund. In that time it has grown from the original six agencies to our present 18 and annual contributions have increased from $230,000 to 1982's $417,000. The record speaks well for the wisdom of those who founded the fund.

"The purpose of the campaign, of course, is to raise funds for our member agencies. The very important function of allocating the funds to the member agencies is the responsibility of our budget review committee. The committee recommends allocations to the agencies based on financial data and future plans as provided by the agencies. The committee spends a good deal of time over several months in reviewing the material and coming up with recommendations. We are especially grateful to the committee and its chairman, Austin Sayre, for a difficult job well done.

"No new agencies were admitted to the fund in 1982. After considerable deliberation, the board concluded that, in fairness to our present member agencies, we should assure ourselves that our responsibilities to the two

Lions' Annual Easter Egg Hunt Saturday

The Westfield Lions Club, celebrating its 59th anniversary in Westfield this year, has announced that plans have been completed for its annual Easter Egg Hunt which has become a tradition in the town since 1939.

The Easter Egg Hunt will be held in Mindowaskin Park on Saturday at 11 p.m. As in the past, it will be limited to children seven years old and under.

Colored eggs will be hidden in the park surrounding the bandstand area. Immediately following the egg hunt, jelly beans and novelties will be given at a stand on the east side of the park. As an added feature this year, colored plastic eggs will be hidden and the lucky finders may redeem them for a special prize at a designated stand in the same area.

In case of rain or muddy park grounds, the Lions Club will have a stand near the Broad St. entrance where the children may come to get eggs and gifts.

At the start of the hunt, children will be divided into groups as follows: Children six and seven years old will gather at the Euclid Ave. entrance and at the Broad St. entrance. Children five years and under will gather at an area between the two entrances as designated by the Lions in the Park.

All Lions usually participate in this affair. President of the Westfield Lions Club, Edward Renfree, has appointed William Villane as chairman of the Easter Egg Hunt.

Schools' Spring Break Begins Today

Mrs. Mary Jane Booth, head of the Adult Circulation Department, works behind the changed circulation desk at the Westfield Memorial Library.

Changes at Library

A change recently took place in the Westfield Memorial Library - the circulation desk was moved to the center of the Adult Department entrance. The circular desk now divides the flow of library traffic as books are returned on one side and checked-out on the other. The desk is more economical and easier to staff - one person can handle returns and check-outs, except at peak service hours, when additional help is added. This arrangement was three months in the planning and incorporates ideas from all the library staff.

Dental Service Plan Appoints Dr. Ott

Robert J. Ott of Westfield, D.D.S. has been appointed to the post of vice president, professional services with New Jersey Dental Service Plan, Inc., a not-for-profit dental service corporation.

The announcement was made here today by Dr. Joseph Pollack, the service plan's president who said that Dr. Ott's appointment is effective April 1.

For the past 10 years, Dr. Ott was a dental consultant for the Plan, reviewing dental claims covered by the group. In his new capacity, he will participate in the administrative decisions regarding processing policies and group contractual provisions, as well as have an active role in the professional relations activities on behalf of the Plan's participating dentists.

A graduate of Georgetown University's School of Dentistry in 1956, Dr. Ott served in the United States Navy for two years at Little Creek, an amphibious base in Norfolk, Va. Following his discharge, Dr. Ott opened a general practice in Westfield and has been a dentist here for the past 26 years.

Dr. Ott has been active in community affairs and has held various positions including chairman of the Westfield-Mountainside chaper of the American Red Cross, deputy director of the Westfield Civil Defense, chairman of the Locust Lake Village Property Owners Association, Poconos and the Scoutmaster of Troop 73 of Holy Trinity Church.

His professional activities include being past president of th Plainfield Dental Society and member of the American Dental Association.

Dr. Ott and his wife Mary have five children.

Architects' Officer

Dennis Bator of Westfield has been installed as first vice president of the Central Chapter of the New Jersey Society of Architects.

Russo Fundraiser Set for Apr. 22

The Russo for Senate Committee has announced plans for a dinner-dance April 22 to help finance the New Jersey State Senate campaign of Union Township Mayor Anthony E. Russo, who is seeking to return to the body in which he served from 1978 until 1981.

Russo, was chosen March 19 as the senate candidate by a Democratic screening committee, which selected former Mayors Eugene Carmody of Roselle Park and Barbara Brande of Cranford as his running mates.

Joseph W. Streit of Union, chairman of the fundraiser, said plans call for a cocktail hour to be followed by a dinner and dancing. The affair will be held at the Town and Campus, Morris Ave. Union.

Reservations can be made by writing or calling to the Russo for Senate committee, 2000 Morris Ave. Union.

Harbinger of Spring:
Annual Hydrant Flushing

For many the first robin is a harbinger of spring, but for customers of the Elizabeth Water Company, the coming of spring is announced by its annual hydrant flushing program. Each spring, Elizabeth Water Company flushes its hydrants to make sure they are functioning and ready for service when needed.

This program, although necessary for fire protection, is sometimes annoying for the water company's customers. As a hydrant is flushed, the water which in most cases has not moved in 12 months, is rusty and discolored. When this passes through the hydrant and is replaced by clear water, the force of the new water rushing through the pipes loosens small particles of rust and sedimentation.

For a period of eight to ten hours, the water coming from the taps in nearby houses may be discolored. It is safe to drink but not aesthetically pleasing. Users can overcome this problem by placing a filled bottle in the refrigerator. As the sediment sinks to the bottom, the water regains its aesthetic quality.

Very few customers are affected by the flushing operation, because the company makes every effort to prevent inconvenience. All flushing is accomplished between the hours of 10 p.m. and 6 a.m.

The flushing program which starts on April 4 will be completed by June 5 and the company will place advertisements in local newspapers indicating the dates when flushing is scheduled for specific areas.

Woodward Elected SAR President

Willard Newell Woodward was elected president of the West Fields Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution at the annual dinner meeting held at Echo Lake Country Club.

The following officers were also chosen: First vice president, Donald Widdows of Cranford; second vice president, Harold A. Mellen; third vice president, Stephen M. Clarke; corresponding secretary, Harold R. Beck; recording secretary, Raymond L. Jackson; treasurer, John H. Wachter; chaplain, Ranald G. Dunning; historian, Philip S. Keeler Jr.; and captain of the color guard, F. Clayton Kynes, all of Westfield.

Woodward is a graduate of Colgate University, a World War II veteran, the State Historian of the Society of Mayflower Descendants of Washington's Army at Valley Forge, a member of the Genealogical Society of the West Fields and also of other patriotic groups. He has resided in Westfield for 26 years.

Model Railroad Show Dates Set

Model railroad enthusiasts should mark their calendars for three April weekends for the Annual Spring Model Railroad Show, co-sponsored by the Model Railroad Club, Inc. and the Union County Dept. of Parks & Recreation.

The dates and times of the show are: April 8,9 and 10; April 15,16 and 17 and April 22,23 and 24. The show will run from 7-10 p.m. on Fridays and from noon-6 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays, at the Model RR Club headquarters, Jefferson Ave., Union.

There will be continuous running model trains on display and club members will be on hand to discuss and explain the finer points of model railroading.

Seashore Habitats — Sandy Wooster of Westfield shows Greg Schneider and Charlotte Rhee, students of Janet Mikionis's fourth grade class at McKinley School, a giant horseshoe crab, as part of a presentation on the plants and animals of our seashore. Mrs. Wooster showed the students how to identify the diverse habitats of the seashore and explained the importance of conserving and improving this great resource. This program was scheduled through the school system's STS (Sharing Talents & Skills) office.

On County College Day Committee

Serving on the Community College Day committee from Westfield are Robert Dobbins, coordinator of the mathematics/physics program; and Maureen Grimes of the Office of Public Affairs.

Kick-off the College Week celebration will begin at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, April 17, at the Cranford campus of Union County College.

The Westfield Police Department is presented with an Accident Prevention Award by the St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Company. The award given March 7 was in recognition of the efforts of both the employees and management to curtail and reduce accidents. Pictured from left are Charles W. Seabright, general manager, St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co.; Alfred Vardalis, Police Captain, Westfield Police Department; John F. Malloy Jr., Town Administrator, and Charles Frankenbach of Pearsall & Frankenbach.

Colonial District Elects Towns

William Towns of Westfield was elected the 1983-84 chairman of the Colonial District of the Watchung Area Council at its annual election meeting March 16.

Also elected were William Hahn of Fanwood, first vice-chairman; Henry Lloyd of Westfield, second vice-chairman; and a slate of 49 district members-at-large. Joseph Knapp was endorsed for district commissioner. Elections were conducted by Jerry O'Neil of Scotch Plains, chairman of the nominating committee.

Chairman Towns appointed George Ruskan to the position of Cub commissioner; Barry Kelly, Explorer commissioner; Owen Waltman, SME chairman, assisted by John Dalton, Russell Brown and Harriett Donnelly; Don Forbes, activities chairman; Jerry O'Neil, advancement chairman; George Johnson, camping chairman; John Glockner, training chairman, and Kathleen O'Neil, publicity chairman.

The nominating committee consisted of Jerry O'Neil, chairman; George Andres, Gerry Brunnquell, Wayne Hampton, Irwin Smurak, and Karl Ziegler.

Kovacs Completes Recruit Training

Navy Seaman Recruit Kevin R. Kovacs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kovacs of 810 Broad St., has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Children's Films At Library Apr. 7

The Children's Department of the Westfield Memorial Library will show Picture Book Films for boys and girls, ages three and up, on Thursday, April 7 from 10:30-11:15 a.m. in the Wateunk Room. The titles of the films to be shown are: "Anatole and the Piano," "The Great Train Robbery" and "Isabelle and the Magic Flute."

Milan Krisznanski, vice-director of the Old Guard of Westfield, introduces Joyce Rita Mulhall as the speaker of the morning. Mulhall is the program associate in agriculture of the Union County Extension Service in Westfield. She resides in Cranford, graduated from Rutgers University and she has worked in several local nurseries. She has worked on a farm in Pennsylvania and also at the Rutgers Research Farm in Adelphia. Her talk on Thursday was illustrated by slides showing the proper way of preparing a vegetable garden.

SANE Slide Show Monday

"The Day the Bomb Went Off"--a slide presentation on life after a nuclear attack--will be shown at the regular monthly meeting of the Union County SANE organization on Monday. Scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Westfield Rescue Squad building, the program is open to the public without charge.

Created by Tom and Susan McNevin of New Providence, the slide presentation depicts the predictable effect on the metropolitan area, including Union County, of a 20 megaton nuclear explosion over New York City.

The meeting will also include discussion of plans for SANE's participation in Westfield's Memorial Day parade, and for a public meeting on the nuclear arms race, to be held in June.

Newcomers are always welcome at meetings of Union County SANE, and involvement in group activities is open to people of all ages with either a little or a lot of time to give to the cause of preventing nuclear war, reports Robert Berenson, president.

Dance, anyone? — Karen Urbano, Westfield resident, shows Marnie Lewis and Marcy Hermiston of Diane Morris' sixth grade at Washington School, some Guatemalian masks used in ceremonial dances in Central America. Mrs. Urbano also showed the students a slide presentation of some of our neighbors to the South. This presentation was scheduled through the school system's STS (Sharing Talents & Skills) office.

Friends Head "Friends" Book Sale Committee

Lincoln Road friends and neighbors Charlotte Hurley and Arlene Pearce are chairpersons for the upcoming Friends of the Library Book Sale. The duo had worked together, prior to accepting the Friends' challenge. Arlene had been Franklin School Fair chairperson a few years ago; Charlotte was Fair treasurer.

The pair head a corps of volunteers; many of the committee members have a decade of used book sale experience. Marian O'Brien is volunteer recruiter; Homer Clinch is treasurer. Advisors include Friends' President Joan McDonough, 1982 sale chairman Dee Jasuta, Barbara Derrey, Frances Palmer and Carol Dreizler.

The week-long public sale begins Friday, April 29, at 1 p.m. and continues through Saturday, May 7. Friends of the Library members may purchase books during sale preview hours April 29, 9 a.m. to noon.

Sale proceeds benefit Westfield Memorial Library.

A corps of volunteers has been collecting book for several weeks. Area residents, many planning to move, have donated a carton or two of books. Some have given a roomful. The committee welcomes donations of used books (hardcover and paperback), records, classics, children's books, encyclopedias, reference books and cookbooks. Textbooks, Reader's Digest Condensed Books and National Geographics will not be accepted. Workers will receive books in the Wateunk Room of the Municipal Building Saturday, April 23, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Deliveries may be made Monday, April 25 through Wednesday, April 27, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Thursday, April 28, 9 a.m. to noon. The committee will be organizing the sale during these hours. Additional sale information of pickup arrangements can be made by contacting Mrs. Pearce or Mrs. Hurley.

Friends of the Library Book Sale Committee members meet to plan 1983 event. Site of sale is the Wateunk Room of the Town Hall. Seated are chairpersons Charlotte Hurley and Arlene Pearce. Blood Pressure Screening Apr. 6

The Westfield Board of Health will conduct a free blood pressure screening session from 7 to 8:30 p.m., Wednesday in the Civil Defense Room of the Municipal Building.

More than 23 million Americans have high blood pressure and many are unaware they have it. In most cases high blood pressure is painless and produces no symptoms.

Individuals should be screed for high blood pressure if they:

1) are 35 years of age or older;

2) are not under a physician's care for high blood pressure;

3) have a family history of high blood pressure;

4) have not had a blood pressure test in over a year, or

5) have stopped taking blood pressure medication without their physician's approval.

The early detection and treatment of high blood pressure can enable a person to lead a normal life.

Bank Promotes Mrs. Morrison

Shirley B. Morrison of Westfield has been promoted to manager of the new Piscataway branch of the Harmonia Savings Bank, located at 1032 Stelton Rd., opposite the Middlesex Mall. Her election took place at the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Elizabeth based institution.

Mrs. Morrison joined the Harmonia Savings Bank in 1974 and has worked as a supervisor in the Scotch Plains and Metuchen offices. Prior to joining Harmonia, she was employed by National State Bank in Sprinfield and in the Westfield office of the Surburban Trust Company, now Fidelity Union Bank.

At its annual dinner dance at Echo Lake Country Club, the Westfield Chamber of Commerce awarded Norman Greco the Chamber's Service Award. Greco served the organization as president from 1969 until 1983. The current Chamber president, Warren Rorden, is shown presenting Greco with an engraved silver tray.

The Chamber of Commerce also extended its formal appreciation to the Westfield "Stop the Mall" committee in recognition of the committee's efforts in opposition to the proposed Springfield Mall development. Assemblyman Charles Hardwick, above speaks in praise of the committee's work at the Chamber dinner dance last week.

- International Folk Dancing - ethnic dances of Europe and the Mid-East.
- Introduction and Advanced Fashion Modeling - self-improvement courses taught by professional models.
- Creative Writing for Profit - for the individual serious about published written material for extra income or as a career.
- Dog Obedience - will teach the owner to train his/her dog to obey commands and to develop overall "good dog manners".
- Hypnosis to Stop Smoking - behavior modification, hypnotic and self-hypnotic techniques are taught to help break the "smoking habit."
- Hypnosis to Lose Weight - hypnosis as a successful method to lose weight safely and keep the pounds off.
- Managing Stress through Hypnosis - sessions to help understand stress experienced in daily living and business, and to learn to relax through hypnotic techniques.
- Tai Chi Chuan - exercising the body without strain and developing the mind as in meditation.

Four new courses are being offered this session.

- Body Language - to develop personal body
- Time Management - using available time more effectively to allow time for more productive work, self-improvement, recreation and relaxation.
- Get That Job! - a workshop designed to help make sensible career choices and to prepare for a successful job interview.
- Risking Intimacy - learning to choose "the right" partner and enjoy meaningful relationships.

Completes Divorce Mediation Course

Westfield resident Sheldon Scher has completed a five-day training course in divorce mediation sponsored by the New Jersey Council on Divorce Mediation. He joined a group of attorneys and mental health practitioners who were trained to help couples negotiate directly with one another to reach agreement on the issues that arise in separation or divorce.

Scher maintains a private counseling practice in Westfield.

Gaston Award Presented to Leader Editor

The fifth annual Kenneth S. Gaston Award was presented to Gail Trimble, Editor of the Westfield Leader, at ceremonies Sunday, March 20, at the library in recognition of the support and publicity the Westfield Leader has given to the Westfield Memorial Library.

The award, established by the Friends of the Library is given to an individual or group which has contributed significantly to the facility, and is named in honor of the late Gaston, who served as president of the trustees of the Library. The award was presented by Mrs. Robert P. McDonough, president of the Friends of the Library.

Recipients of the award in past years have been Dr. Tex Ewan, member of the board of trustees, The Garden Club of Westfield, Mrs. Linley Clark, and Miss Ruth Tubby.

Gail Trimble, editor of the Westfield Leader, is pictured with Paul Kolterjahn, president of the board of trustees of the Memorial Library, after receiving the Gaston Award for service to the library.

Paul Kolterjahn, president of the board of trustees of the library gave a brief speech about the history of the Gaston Award and outlined some of the needs of the library.

The presentation took place following a dramatic presentation by Lynn Middleton depicting the late Italian actress, Eleonora Duse.

Mountainside Plans Class For Pre-School Handicapped

The Mountainside School District is now conducting a search for pre-school handicapped children, in order to plan for a class to begin in September, 1983.

The Board of Education has granted approval for such a class to be held at Deerfield School. A new state law which goes into effect next fall requires local districts to provide an educational program for handicapped children between the ages of three and five.

According to Dr. Margaret H. Kantes, "establishing a pre-school handicapped class in our district should prove to be less costly than paying tuition and transportation fees to send the children out of the district for help.

"With such young children, it is far better for them to attend a class close to home in a familiar setting," she notes.

Parents of a young child with a handicap should contact the school district's special services department concerning eligibility requirements and screening for the class. Those having a child who would benefit from early educational help, are requested to call between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. on weekdays.

Some Pay... ...Some Play

Last week's confrontation at the meeting of the Town Council on which - the town or the YWCA - should be entitled to offer a summer soccer program for children under the age of 13 is disturbing, not just because it divides townspeople on which should have a "franchise" on such programs as summer sports camps, but because the issue raises other questions as well which might become future issues.

These could include such remote questions as "When does recreation become instruction and is instruction a function of the municipality?" "Could the future of little leagues be affected?" "On what basis are fields for 'camps' assigned?" "Should the Recreation Department of the town be merely an 'unbrella' agency or actively involved in providing the services?" Should, indeed, government offer any services which are, or could be, as well done by the private or quasi-private sector?"

Many of the fields and facilities utilized by various recreation programs are owned either by the town or the Board of Education - both of which are supported by mandated taxpayers' dollars.

Our only indoor pools, however, are supported, in part, by voluntary contributions through the United Fund, the rest by the YMCA.

There appears to be a confusing mix of fees and rentals attached to various programs. The Y apparently receives some remuneration of use of its pool facilities by the high school swim teams. The town pays the school board $1 year for rental of Elm St. tennis courts but is responsible for their maintenance, yet as far as we know, the school board pays the town nothing for use of Tamaques tennis courts by the high school tennis teams. Residents, however, must pay for permits to play.

The town rents space from the Board of Education at Elm St. School for various activities (restricted to when schools are open) such as an aerobics program, painting, ceramics, etc., all of which are free to residents. Taxpayers, it seems, both win and lose on this one, depending on whether or not they participate.

There are, it appears, many duplications in recreational programs offered in Westfield both at schools, town facilities and publicly-supported private agencies. Success of each probably varies from year to year, dependent upon which is the "in" thing that season. Some are manned (or womanned) by volunteers, others have paid instructors.

Westfield is proud of its Ys, its community centers, its school programs, its Recreation Commission, its "little leagues" and its other non-profit agencies which offer so much to so many for so little.

We depend on them - and their many volunteers - for some of the "good life" unique to Westfield.

To help all of them survive, and to enable them to offer the best services possible, we suggest that a cooperative attempt be made to survey all our town's tax- and publicly- supported recreation facilities and their use. . . .

. . . With a measure of "good sportsmanship" from all as an example to all.

Everardo Goyanes Joins Forest Oil

Forest Oil Corporation's President, David F. Dorn, today announced that Everardo Goyanes of Westfield has been appointed financial vice president and treasurer and will be located in the company's headquarters office in Denver, Colo. Goyanes will be responsible for all financial matters of the company.

For the past 16 years, Goyanes has been employed by the Chase Manhattan Bank in various planning and petroleum financing positions. In 1973, he was promoted to vice president and, in 1981, also assumed the position of executive, technical services for the Global Petroleum Division of Chase Manhattan.

Goyanes received a master's degree in business administration in finance and investment from Babson Institute in 1967, and an A.B. in economics from Cornell University in 1965.

Goyanes, his wife, Elena, and their two children, Sarah and Everardo, will be moving to Denver from Westfield.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

All letters to the editor must bear a signature, a street address and a telephone number, so authors may be checked. If contributors are not able to be reached at local phone numbers during Leader business hours, the writer's signature may be notarized.

Letters must be written only on one side of paper and typewritten.

Letters endorsing candidates for office in the April 12 school election will be limited to one per candidate per week. None will be accepted for the issue (April 5) immediately preceding the election.

All letters must be in the "Leader" office by Friday if they are to appear in the following issue.

SUPPORTS MARTIN

Editor, Leader;

I was delighted to learn that Kathleen Martin is a candidate for the Westfield Board of Education. As liaison from the board to the Roosevelt P.T.O. board this year, I had a first hand opportunity to observe what a capable, intelligent and sincere person Kathleen is.

Her own fine education background and her present pursuit of an M.B.A. demonstrate her personal interest in education. She has proved her dedication to Westfield's schools through ten years of involvement in school curriculum committees and P.T. presidencies at both Washington Elementary and Roosevelt Junior High schools. Her business and curriculum interests will stand her in good stead on the Board.

Kathleen will be a full-time board member who will listen, motivate and lead. She deserves our overwhelming support on April 12.

BACKS BRECHER

Editor, Leader;

We are pleased to endorse the candidacy of Lewis Brecher for the Westfield Board of Education. We have known Lewis and his family for several years and believe that he will be an asset to the board.

In his 15 years as a Westfield resident, Lewis has been an active PTA member and has coached several teams in our town-wide sports programs. Lewis has three children in the Westfield schools, one child at each level of instruction. He has had an opportunity to observe the continuity of the system, and as a result he has developed a strong interest in curriculum.

Lewis, a CPA, and controller and treasurer of Hansley Industries in Manhattan, has the business and financial experience so valuable in meeting the various challenges of board membership.

We urge you to join us in supporting Lewis Brecher by casting your vote for him on Tuesday, April 12.

PRAISES SHOW

Editor, Leader;

One of the purposes of our school system is to teach children teamwork, each with his or her responsibility, striving to attain the common goal. Pure academics do not serve this purpose but many of the extra-curricular activities perform this function very well. Sports is the activity thought of first when teamwork is mentioned but last week we saw another outstanding example of teamwork. Roosevelt Junior High presented "Brigadoon" involving approximately 75 children functioning as a highly disciplined, highly motivated "team". This team "won" by putting on a superb show which was enthusiastically received by the audience including many who were not parents. Westfield Schools can be very proud and we look forward to next year's production.

THE STATE OF THE STATE UNIVERSITY

Editor, Leader:

Michael is 18.

He's a senior at Westfield High. He's a "B student." He's editor of his high school year book. He's a member of the Choraleers — a select group of young people who perform not only in school but sing for community groups. They've traveled to Europe for an international competition and came home winners.

Michael is active in other community projects. He has done work with the elderly, collected papers to earn money for townwide projects, and tutored a Russian teenager who had emigrated with his family to the United States. Michael has also traveled to many parts of the United States with the family and on his own to Israel.

Michael has been accepted in college. Ohio University, Ithaca, Syracuse, Emerson and Boston University have accepted him for Fall '83. His first choice is Syracuse. (Being a Penn State grad it's going to be tough rooting against him this October when my alma mater plays Syracuse in the Carrier Dome.)

I would have liked Michael to go to Penn State. But it was not to be.

Michael also applied to Rutgers. We moved to New Jersey in 1970. In my mind, it is our State University. Rutgers was Michael's "safety" school. But Rutgers was not interested in Michael. They wished him good luck wherever he went or wherever he was lucky enough to get in. So far that has been his only turndown.

I've had a hard time understanding "what's with" Rutgers admission policy ever since the letter came to Michael a week ago. Having gone to a State University that went out of its way to give its in-state high school seniors every chance for higher education, the decision by Rutgers in Michael's case must be repeated many times over for other New Jersey kids who have proven they are good citizens who will enhance their own State University community. In my mind a State University is supposed to provide young people of promise with an opportunity ... particularly young people that live in-State. No wonder New Jersey's higher educational system is considered to be among the worst in the nation.

If Rutgers does not accept a Michael, who are they after?

Are they after kids who can bounce and shoot a basketball? Are they after kids who can carry a football? (My alma mater takes a good many of the kids in the latter category out of New Jersey.) Or, are they after kids who have potential, are involved, and can contribute to the total college community?

Where is this State going in higher education if kids like Michael all want out and on top of that, if the State University does not want them? In Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania and California, residents with the kind of background Michael has would have been accepted without question in the State University system. Yes, his SAT's were only at the 1000 level. So what! SAT's are not and should not be the sole measure of acceptance. I'm living proof of that. But that issue was never raised by Rutgers admission in their letter to Michael.

I believe New Jersey has some serious soul-searching to do. Should young people with potential be forced out-of-state with a good chance they will not return to contribute to the business and professional communities? This State should make every effort to keep the brains, talent and potential in-State. It's time the Governor and the Legislature decide that this State, one of the most populous in the Union, develop a higher education system that meets the needs of its population. It's time that New Jersey takes the cue from New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, and California to keep young people like Michael interested and excited about their own State University.

If not, Ellen, who is 15, will be carrying the banner of the Orangemen or even the Nittany Lions (hopefully) in three years.

ENDORSES SENUS

Editor, Leader;

It is, with great pleasure, that I endorse the candidacy of Leo Senus for a second term on the Westfield Board of Education.

Leo's first term has provided him and Westfield with the experience and know-how needed to handle the very busy year ahead for the board.

Labor relations: The board is currently negotiating with all its bargaining units. Leo, as president, has been absolutely au courant with the progress the board has made. Continuity, therefore, is not merely nice to have; it is essential!

Physical plant: Leo chaired the operations and facilities committee last year and sits on that committee this year. He and the committee are committed to upgrading and maintaining the board's properties in a sensible and financially orderly fashion. He has been at the forefront of this maintenance schedule and can continue to contribute to the betterment of the district.

Finance: Leo has been on the finance committee since coming to the board. In addition to having been vice-president last year and serving as operations chairman, he also chaired the finance committee. Substantial work in revamping the business office, in tackling the problems of property and health insurance, and in formulating a sensible budget were due to his conscientiousness and knowledge. His financial experience will continue to be invaluable as the district contemplates lower caps, increased numbers of residents without children in the schools, and necessary changes in the instructional organization and methods.

Staff Relations: Leo believes that our staff is of a high professional caliber and wants to continue providing an environment conductive to continued excellence in education. This holds true for all levels of the board's employees. He is sincere, objective, and has the confidence of staff and board alike.

It is imperative to return Leo Senus to the board if this district is to maintain its leadership in education, and its belief that our children are tantamount to the continued quality of life in this country.

BRIGADOON "BEST"

Editor, Leader;

Last week's Roosevelt Junior High production of "Brigadoon" was scholastic theater at its best. The singing, acting, choreography, staging design were outstanding.

Special thanks are due to producer-director Drude Roessler and musical director Peter Bridges, who gave unstintingly of their after-school hours at a minimum reuneration. Without their talent and dedication, the show could not have gone on.

And thanks to all the students and adults who brought the magic of Brigadoon alive. The show was a joy. I hope school productions like this will continue for may years to come.

MORAN RESPONSIVE

Editor, Leader;

A major realignment in our Westfield educational system is scheduled to occur within the next few years. However, the critical planning and decisions are being discussed now. That is why it is essential that we make the right choice in voting for members of the school board on Tuesday, April 12. Fortunately for our children, we have an outstanding candidate in Carolyn Moran who has demonstrated that she puts the needs of our children above everything.

During a decade of teaching and P.T.A. service in Wilson School, Roosevelt Junior High and the high school Carolyn has been a strong advocate for the vital emphasis on teacher-student relationship and has exhibited not only a willingness to work hard but to do her homework to assure that she has all of the facts before she takes a position. These qualities are vital to the kind of advance planning needed to build a curriculum for the future that will best serve all of the students and guarantee that they will not be ceremoniously herded like cattle from school as untried experimental programs have so often done.

Carolyn makes a point of listening to everyone, asks questions and makes in-depth studies so that she is truly knowledgeable on all issues. Then, with intelligence and expertise she relies on her stout heart, firm backbone and compassion to fight for the principles she feels will best serve out students.

These are only a few reasons why we support Carolyn Moran as the positive contributing asset she will be as a member of our Board of Education. We urge you to add your vote to ours to give our children and teachers the support Carolyn guarantees.

FOR BUDGET

Editor, Leader;

The Tamaques School PTO voted unanimously to support the 1983-4 school budget.

As parents active in the school, we have faith in the education being taught to our children. This budget directly affects not only our children, but also all those who live in Westfield.

Westfield has an excellent school system. Your YES vote is needed to maintain and improve upon this excellence.

STARSCOPE

by Clare Annswell

WEEK OF: MARCH 31, 1983

AQUARIUS — January 21-February 19
Tighten the money belt and avoid speculative ventures. Bringing skills up-to-date and planning for the future are worthwhile tasks. Friend's memory cannot be relied on.

PISCES — February 20-March 20
It's easy to underestimate the expenses of a trip or the work involved in a fitness program. You can face professional challenges with a determination that wins applause.

ARIES — March 21-April 20
Important challenges greet you as the month gets under way. Detective work engaged in this week proves highly rewarding. Financial news — brighteners are arriving in pairs.

TAURUS — April 21-May 22
Expressing your ambitions to a trusted relative can prove therapeutic. Bold and creative touches are accented in your new spring look. Weekend presents series of delays.

GEMINI — May 23-June 21
Friends may catch you off-guard, so avoid controversial subjects unless you're backed up with facts. Financial restraint is critical through the week. Loved one wants pampering.

CANCER — June 22-July 22
Staying informed of community and workplace happenings is all-important. Romantic fog begins to clear by weekend; you're starting to see where the relationship is headed.

LEO — July 23-August 22
Leo people can be a shade too independent now. If you don't open up, you may wind up on a lonely limb. Unexpected communication solves a mystery or answers a complex question.

VIRGO — August 23-September 22
Finance-related tensions start easing up, and it's possible to make money from a hobby or take on a profitable sideline. In requesting professional favors, timing is absolute.

LIBRA — September 23-October 22
One of the luckiest weeks in months. Also, a time to be more receptive to the wishes of loved ones. Friends of the opposite sex help you articulate important goals.

SCORPIO — October 23-November 21
Joint efforts bring satisfying results — a fine week for entering into partnerships. Financial prospects gradually improve through the period. Property matters require new opinions.

SAGITTARIUS — November 22-December 22
Discreetly question the motives of super-eager friends or colleagues. Healthwise, dress appropriately for changing conditions. On-the-job success rate increases dramatically.

CAPRICORN — December 23-January 20
Tend to minor ailments promptly — procrastination is your enemy. Feeling of being cooped up can be overcome with spontaneous jaunt. Offbeat ideas begin to prove their worth.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK
A born leader, naturally aggressive, ready to take charge in any crisis. Sometimes you look forward to a challenge for its own sake. New partnership activities spotlighted in late spring. Financial picture brightens when you learn when to quit.

BORN THIS WEEK
March 31st, actress Shirley Jones; April 1st, actress Debbie Reynolds; 2nd, actor Alec Guinness; 3rd, singer Tony Orlando; 4th, actor Anthony Perkins; 5th, actor Gregory Peck; 6th, conductor Andre Previn.

1983 School Board Candidates Express Views

A wine and cheese party was held Sunday at the home of Joan and Bill Unger for Westfield Board of Education candidate, Kathleen Martin. Pictured are Joan Unger, Kathleen Martin and Joan Houlihan.

Martin: "Reactive to Needs Of All School Children"

Commenting on the issue of the place of the average child in the Westfield school system's curriculum, Kathleen Martin today made the following statement: "It is difficult for me to think of any child in the system as being 'average.' Each child is unique in his/her physical, emotional, and intellectual growth. I am more comfortable in strengthening existing curriculum and planning for new curriculum which can and will deal with individualized guidance for the education of each child as an entity of his own. This is what the Board of Education was planning for when they recently appointed a K-12 director of guidance, Evelyn Maloney.

"Children need not feel that any group is special or elitist. It is important that all students have the psychological and emotional support that their teachers and administrators, working in concert with their parents, can supply. I believe that realizing each child's potential and helping him to set realistic goals is the primary function of those who participate in planning for his school life.

"Presently, on the elementary level, principals are particularly interested in having their staff address special programs of enrichment for the regular classes when ALP's youngsters are attending their classes. Through a 'spin-off' process, all students are offered the opportunity to utilize materials and techniques which have been successfully used in the ALP's program.

"At the junior high level there is a plethora of electives which are open to all students; offering a variety of experiences can be helpful in high school and college course selection. Of course, it is at this time that the individual guidance counselors are assigned to each student so that there is additional professional input complementing parental suggestions and guidance.

"The high school has the most potential for the sensitivity to the needs of all students. In addition to professional counselling and a choice of 190 electives, students have numerous opportunities to pursue their interests through clubs, organizations, and athletics. Public education in Westfield cannot offer the small class sizes available in some private schools. It can, however, teach basic skills, add immeasurably to a child's knowledge, and impart to each student the feelings of success and accomplishment.

"It has become fashionable in Westfield to ask, 'What is being done for the average child?' I feel that these children are the backbone of the system, and the largest portion of the school budget is vested in the education of these students," Mrs. Martin concluded, "If I'm elected to the Board of Education, I will always work for the delivery of curriculum which is reactive to the individual needs of all of our children."

Senus Stresses Board's "Responsiveness" to Public

"A great deal is said these days about the board and its members' responsiveness to the public. During my three years on the board, I have listened and evaluated the input from various sectors of the community regarding the various decisions facing the board. Without a dialogue between board members and the community, a sufficient breadth of information simply is not available to formulate decisions generally acceptable to the public. Obviously, there will be disagreement with our decisions on occasion — even among the board members themselves," incumbent Leo J. Senus, candidate for reelection to the Board of Education, said today.

"The board is sometimes criticized for being too responsive to the parents, too responsive to interest groups or too responsive to perceived 'power blocks' and, thereby, fails to represent Westfield as a whole. One lesson quickly brought home to most board members, however, is that a board member is an extension of his or her public to represent the interests of children. The school system belongs to every Westfielder and it has been my experience that the board earnestly tries to accomplish what is best for the community, not what might be politically expedient at the moment.

"During the preparation of the 1983-84 budget, the board asked for increased citizen participation. As president of the board, I was often questioned about various aspects of the process, not to mention the impact on the tax rate. Although I claim no converts to increased taxes, the discussions were of value — certainly to me. I believe the result of the public's input is reflected in a budget that is less than what is permitted under the state's CAP law. Second-guessers will undoubtedly question the board's rationale for this decision.

"Throughout the campaign period, I have often heard citizens commenting on the need to continue the two-way communications between the community and the board. I firmly believe such communication, responsiveness if you will, has to continue for education in Westfield to advance. Members of the board must become more informed about their system and continue the liaison with those segments of the community interested in education. People sometimes forget that there is a good deal 'right' with our district and board members must take the opportunities to let the public in on our successes.

"While the electorate ponders their selection of those to serve on the board, I ask that they also consider their own responsiveness to the needs of the student population. One important means of demonstrating your support is to vote for the budget.

"While my main goal is to serve the children of the Westfield school district to the best of my ability, I also recognize that the responsibility carries with it the need to represent all of Westfield. I care, I listen, I often times seek your counsel before the board sets goals or reaches decisions. The public's opinions and ideas are important to me and will continue to be in the future."

Collegians

Heidi Hyland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hylan of 159 Harrison Ave., achieved the deans' list this past semester at Kean College, in Union.

Heidi, now a junior, is enrolled in the fine arts program and is majoring in interior design.

Leo J. Senus and Lewis Brecher, candidates for the Westfield Board of Education recently shared their views at a coffee given by Bill and Martha Canata.

Lewis Brecher Urges Large Voter Turnout

"Public education has made American democracy possible. It must be strengthened, not assaulted. When barely 18% of the electorate comes to the polls, we abuse the privilege of voting and thereby also directly assault public education," admonished Board of Education candidate, Lewis Brecher, today.

"The future belongs to those committed to learning. Our nation is leaping in giant strides towards new horizons never before imagined. Every newspaper and magazine speaks of the need to revitalize education to meet the challenges that lie ahead. Each of us has the opportunity of answering these challenges through the decision-making process of voting. When we abuse this privilege, we really say that we don't care. Having lived in Westfield for 15 years, I am certain our citizens do care!"

The candidate continued, "I have spoken of the caring and reaching out that is so much a part of Westfield. We are also a highly educated community, aware of the importance of local school control. But local control weakens when the local citizenry does not give input through the electoral process. We cannot continue to demand educational excellence and fiscally sound management while at the same time relinquishing our right to vote on these important matters!

"Strong local school control allows our voices to be heard in Trenton. Every child that attends the Westfield school system is counting on our voices to stand up for them; to speak for their needs and insure their future. We are the solid foundation of what happens in education. By our vote everyone benefits from an educated society."

Brecher concluded, "Every one of us must continually talk about the importance of voting in the upcoming school election. It is vitally important to each of us as citizens of our country concerned about the future of the human race. Your vote does matter; your interests are deep and your concerns are sincere.

"The newly seated Board of Education will be making decisions that will effect the entire townspeople of Westfield for many years to come. Let us begin the business of education by interacting at the voting polls where our interests and concerns in education will truly be reflected by the largest voter turnout we can muster. The children of Westfield are reaching out to us — reach out with me and show them we care. On April 12th we must all remember that voting is our privilege."

"Voting is the first duty of democracy."
— Lyndon Baines Johnson

Moran Urges Restudy of "Average" Students

Westfield schools might benefit by re-assessing the needs of the so-called "average" student, school board candidate Carolyn Moran suggested today.

The process of adjusting curriculum for the changeover to the middle school-four year high school system could provide an ideal time to re-examine the requirements of the "average" pupil, the former teacher said.

"Our system focuses much special attention on the 'gifted' and the student with learning problems," Mrs. Moran noted.

"Parents of children viewed as 'average' — the largest number in our enrollment — have voiced concerns that the needs of the group in the middle are contrastingly overlooked."

Many parents question the "labelling" of children at an early age when their development may be erratic, on the basis of tests that attempt to quantify knowledge, and segregation into "fast" and "average" classes.

"The pupil who is reminded each day that he is in an 'average' class may lower his expectations and stop trying to achieve excellence, parents report. Segregating students sometimes robs the slower of the stimulation of quick minds, and the faster student of the review and reinforcement which might deepen his understanding of class material.

"The student labelled 'average' may be capable of achieving as much — or even surpassing a student ranked higher, but at a slower pace. But if he picks up a negative view of his learning capacity, he may give up trying.

"This is particularly true if locked in a track where it is hard to get in or get out.

"It's regrettable if we give the majority of our students a view at an early age that they are less worthy, that there are limits to their abilities which they cannot overcome."

Moran suggested a restudy of the treatment of the "average" child as the curriculum is reviewed. "We might wind up with a program that serves all our children better."

The boards of directors of the Westfield YMCA and the YWCA marks the signing of a three year lease at a wine and cheese reception. Members of both boards and representatives of the staffs were present last week to celebrate this event.

"As we begin our 63rd year as tenants of the YMCA, we look forward to continued cooperation and increased communication between our agencies," said Gloria LaBelle, YWCA, executive director.

Walter Goldt, YMCA general director said, "In moving from an informal relationship to a more formalized one we hope to assure that the values of our relationship will be sustained in the future."

Balloon from Kutztown Brings Prompt Response

Mrs. Polly Doerrer, library assistant in the Children's Department of the Westfield Memorial Library, found something setting on her car when she left work last Thursday — a balloon containing a message which read:

"Hi, Balloon Finder:

Our school is participating in Weekly Reader's Writing Pals program. Please put this card in an envelope, along with your name, address, telephone number and the city and state in which you found your card. Then mail the card to us at:

Weisenburg Elementary School
R. 2, Box 253
Kutztown, Pa. 19530

Please tell your local newspaper that you heard from me. If you write to me, I'll write back.

Hobbies: Rocketry and Swimming.

Mrs. Polly Doerrer, the Memorial Library's "balloon finder," prepares to mail response to Kutztown, Pa., youth whose air-born message was found on her car Thursday.

Mrs. Doerrer followed the instructions, returning the card to Kutztown and writing a letter to the young man.

Pool Office Updating Members' ID Cards

The Westfield Memorial Pool Office is now open and operating at high gear, according to Ruth V. Hill, director of recreation.

The pool office, located in the Municipal Building, is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and the second and fourth Tuesday evenings of every month from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

All members with I.D. cards with yellow or blue backgrounds need a 1983 stamp affixed on their cards while those having the red or other backgrounds need new pictures taken. To avoid long lines on the opening of the pool approaches, Mrs. Hill suggests that previous members renew as soon as possible and all new members to the Westfield Memorial Pool get to the pool office as soon as possible.

Would Ban Open Liquor Bottles in Cars

Legislation sponsored by Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick (R-Union) to make it illegal for a driver or passengers to have access to an open bottle of liquor in a moving motor vehicle has been approved by the Assembly Judiciary Committee.

The bill, (A-2051), will next month be merged with a similar bill and sent to the full Assembly for a floor vote where it is likely to get favorable action, said Hardwick, the minority whip.

"I was astonished to learn that there was no law like this in New Jersey," said Hardwick, who learned of the absence of such a law while researching drinking issues.

"This bill is another important step in keeping drunk drivers off the road," he said. "Police are finding open containers of beer and hard liquor in more and more cars involved in accidents," Hardwick said.

An Eagleton Institute survey last fall revealed that one out of every four New Jersey drivers admitted to having consumed alcoholic beverages while driving, Hardwick said. And, the federal Department of Health and Human Services has estimated that half of the nation's high school students drink in cars, he added.

The bill would permit alcohol containers to be transported only if they are sealed or, if the seals are broken, then capped, Hardwick explained. No alcohol container without a top would be permitted in a moving motor vehicle, he said.

The law is supported by the Division of Motor Vehicles and the State Police. It would impose a minimum fine of $100.

Redeemer Paper Collection Apr. 2, 3

Redeemer Lutheran School of Westfield is sponsoring a drive for tied or bagged newspapers on Saturday and Sunday. No cardboard or magazines will be accepted.

Those interested in participating are asked to bring their newspapers to the truck that is parked in the rear of the school between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The Redeemer Lutheran School is located on the corner of Clark Street and Cowperwaite Place. The proceeds from the drive will support various school activities.

233 Attain Honor Ranking at Edison

Results of the second marking period show that the following 233 students at EDISON JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL have achieved listing on the distinguished honor roll or honor roll.

To be included in the distinguished honor group, a student must obtain a grade of "A" in all of his or her major academic subjects and no grade below "B" in any minor subject.

To be enrolled in the honor group, a student must obtain grades of "A" or "B" in all subjects, major or minor.

Jeanne Landy

New VNHS Health Educator

Jeanne C. Landy has been appointed as health educator for visiting nurse and health services. She holds a B.S. degree from Springfield College, Mass. and a master of public health from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. She will provide health education services for the Westfield Health Department and others in Union County as well as for VNHS programs.

VNHS is a comprehensive home health care agency which serves 15 communities in the county, including Westfield. It is a voluntary, non-profit agency, formed by the merger of the Westfield District Nursing Association and the Visiting Nurse Association of Eastern Union County.

Williams Nursery Spans Four Generations

David Williams, a fourth generation nurseryman, will join his family's Springfield Ave. firm this spring.

David, who is completing his final year at Cook College, is studying horticulture and plant science at the State University. He will become manager of Williams Nursery.

William Nursery was founded in 1920, and has devoted its energies to the beautification of its environment. Many of the plants which enhance Westfield and neighboring towns had their origins at the Springfield Ave. establishment.

"We not only welcome David to the 62-year-old business," Ed and Joan Williams said, "but thank our customers who have made it possible for us to continue to supply the best and most beautiful plants to enrich their homes and grounds."

SAR Honors Eagle Scout

Eric C. Stogner

Eric C. Stogner, Eagle Scout of Troop 77, Watchung Area Council, St. Paul's Church, was awarded the SAR Good Citizenship Medal at the West Fields Chapter annual dinner.

The National Society of the SAR and the Boy Scouts of America have joined to form a scholarship award for those scouts who have become Eagles. Each New Jersey SAR Chapter has been assigned a Scout Council, and will select one outstanding scout who submits the best patriotic theme.

Seventy-three Eagle Scouts of the Watchung Area Council were given recognition certificates and the basic Eagle Kit by the West Fields Chapter.

Eric C. Stogner was the chapter's choice for the Eagle Award and the medal was presented by F. Clayton Kynes, district commissioner of the Council and captain of the SAR Color Guard. Eric Stogner will now be eligible to qualify for the New Jersey Society's Eagle Award to be given in April at the SAR State Dinner.

Brochures Available For Summer Workshop

The Westfield Summer Workshop for the Creative Arts has released its brochures of course offerings for the 1983 season and will begin accepting registrations this month. The five week instruction program in the fine and performing arts opens June 27 and continues through July 29. Registrations are accepted by mail and in person beginning April 11 from Monday through Thursday, 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., in room 133 at Edison Junior High School.

Classes are offered in instrumental and vocal music, dance, drama, writing, fine arts, crafts and special interest fields including photography, chess, magic, computers and twirling. The workshop schedule includes five periods daily, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Students may elect classes from any department and may elect to attend for selected periods or selected weeks but must attend for a minimum of two weeks. The curriculum provides for students at the beginning level of performance through advanced. The drama department will present a junior musical, "The Truth About Cinderella," and Broadway musical, "Sweet Charity."

Workshop students are accepted from Union County and surrounding towns ranging in age from preschool through adults.

Brochures will be distributed to public and private schools, the Westfield Recreation Department and Memorial Library and local music and art supply stores. For preferred scheduling and 5% discount, students must register by May 1. For further information or brochure, contact the Westfield Summer Workshop P.O. Box 507, Westfield, N.J. 07091.

JCC Play Camp Signup Underway

The JCC of Central NJ is taking registration for Play Camp '83. A well-balanced and carefully supervised program of indoor and outdoor activities specially geared for the younger child, the camp will be run for seven weeks from Monday, June 27 to Friday, Aug. 12 at Temple Israel in Scotch Plains.

Play Camp is run under the direct supervision of JCC Early Childhood Director Doreen Kirshner. Each group is staffed by an experienced teacher and an aide. The programs are designed to involve play campers in exciting and stimulating activities throughout the week. Two year olds will meet two mornings a week - Tuesdays and Thursdays. Three and four year olds have a choice of three or five mornings per week. Three day groups will meet on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. All three and five day campers will participate in weekly music instruction and weekly field trips. Oneg Shabbats are celebrated by the entire group. Camp hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Registration will be taken on a first come-first served basis. A current JCC family membership is required. Applications are available at the JCC, 922 South Ave. West.

College Holiday

Students, faculty and administrative staff of Union County College will have a holiday tomorrow Good Friday, April 1.

Classes will resume and offices will reopen at all locations on Monday.

To Reactivate Beacon Fire on April 15

During the years when Union County was part of the original colonies fighting the Revolutionary War, A system of "Beacon Fires" was established along the Northeastern United States to act as a signal that British Troops were on the move.

General George Washington had experimented with flags and bonfires from the Watchung Mountains to Princeton in 1777, and news was spread in this fashion from Newburg, N.Y. to the Delaware within 15 minutes. Beacon No.10 was located in Summit.

On Friday, April 15, the reactivation of the Revolutionary War Beacon System will take place at Briant Park, Summit, chosen for its proximity to the ridge where the original beacon was located. The ceremony will begin at 6:30 p.m. with an opportunity for the public and the press to take photographs. An arms, weapons and music demonstration will also be included. The rain date for this historic event will be Saturday, April 16.

According to Elizabeth Pate of Westfield, head of Cultural and Heritage Programs in Union County and a noted local historian, this Beacon Fire will be "the chance of a lifetime" to view an authentic part of our state's history. The date was chosen to coincide with the 200th anniversary of Congress' ratification of the treaty which Elias Boudinot of Elizabethtown signed as president.

The modern version of this fire, built to Revolutionary specifications, is being constructed by the Union County Dept. of Parks and Recreation Maintenance Division and numerous volunteers.

Spolarich Commissioned

Jeffrey W. Spolarich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Spolarich of 1035 Rutgers Rd, Mountainside, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air force upon graduation from Officer Training School at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

The 12-week course consisted of selected college graduates applying communicative skills, professional knowledge leadership and management to meet the needs of the Air Force.

Spolarich will go to Reese Air Force Base, Texas, for pilot training.

He is a 1978 graduate of Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University, Daytona Beach, Fla.

Scott Johnson, of Westfield, center, is presented with a certificate and a bond by Chairman Vice Cmdr. Bill Barnes and Cmdr. Anthony DeMarco of the V.F.W. Westfield Memorial Post #6297 for his participation in the V.F.W. Voice of Democracy program. Scott represented the Westfield High School in the 5th District run-off of the V.O.D. competition for seniors in the V.F.W. scholarship fund, top prize being $14,000. This is one of the many programs sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars for the youth of the nation.

Resque Squad Offers First Aid Courses

The Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad offers many services to the town of Westfield. Most residents are familiar with the emergency care provided because they frequently see one of the squad's ambulances responding to an emergency situation in Westfield. One of the less familiar services, however, is the training program in first aid scheduled by the Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad on a regular basis.

"During the month of March when the Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad conducts its annual appeal for funds, we would also like to acquaint Westfield residents with the courses in first aid, cardiopulmonary resuscitation, and defensive driving which we conduct," stated Captain James Englert. All of these courses are offered at no expense to the public and are instructed by trained members of the Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad or other organizations. The courses are fully certified and successful completion is acknowledged with a certificate from the sponsoring agency.

All of the members of the Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad undergo extensive training when they join the squad and receive retraining in all of the procedures and techniques of first aid on a regularly scheduled basis. These programs are always open to any interested individual and are publicized in the local media.

Don Crow, training lieutenant of the Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad, advises, "One of our primary goals is the prevention of accidents and illnesses as well as initiation of first aid procedures by family and bystanders prior to the arrival of our ambulances and their trained crews. To this end we want to train as large a percentage of the public as possible in emergency first aid procedures."

Contributions to support this and all of the activities of the Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad are now being solicited. Westfield residents are asked to send their donations in the envelope which they received from the direct mail appeal. Alternatively, contributions may be mailed to Westfield Volunteer Rescue Squad 1983 Fund Drive, c/o Central Jersey Bank and Trust Co., 177 East Broad St., Westfield, N. J. 07090.

School Psychologist Attends Conference on Single Parent

Janet Hussein, school psychologist with the Department of Special Services of the Westfield public schools, attended the first National Conference on Single Parent Families and the Schools held in Washington, D.C. March 24-25. The conference brought together representatives from national education and parent associations, congressional and senate committees, research institutes, universities and law school and members of the press and publishing organizations to address facts and questions about family life and schools today.

Issues involving what the schools are doing now and what they can do to support more fully the development and achievement of children from single and working parent families were addressed along with those involving how these families can help the schools, ways that schools, community agencies and families can collaborate more effectively, and how related interest groups can join forces to strengthen the relationship between families and schools.

"Attendance at the conference provided valuable information about current research, coping strategies, and innovative approaches in working with single parent families and school personnel," said Mrs. Hussein.

She has run groups for single parents and is currently serving as consultant and group facilitator to the Single Parent Network, a group recently developed in Westfield which involves children as well as parents.

Floy Bakes Speaker At Computer Program

Registration is underway for a state-wide limited-enrollment day-long conference May 14 on computer uses in business education to be held at Kean College of New Jersey.

Among the speakers will be Floy Bakes of Westfield, who is associated with Dow Jones News Retrieval.

Marie Bryne's first grade class at McKinley School put on a "Language Arts" Show for their parents and the other students. They performed two plays, Henny Penny, and the Little Red Hen. The children also sang several songs and pantomimed three of their favorite poems. Pictured above are: Standing, Rebecca Clark, Briony Carr, Rae Lopresti, Kimberly Gablehouse, Jennifer Topolewski; kneeling, Colin Carter, Jaime DeChellis, David Villalobos.

Judging Children's Art Show: The first art show by patients of Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, was held last week in conjunction with the hospital's programs marking National Children and Hospitals Week. Members of the Westfield Old Guard, a group which does considerable volunteer work at the pediatric rehabilitation hospital, judged the competition. Pictured awarding ribbons to winning entries are, from left, Milan Kriznansky, Harry Grander and Gardner Wilson.

RCAC Backs Reagan Defense Budget

The night after President Reagan's address to the nation, the Republican Conservation Action Club met in executive session at 720 Lawrence Ave., and called upon the U.S. Congress -- and especially those members representing New Jersey -- to give solid bipartisan support to the Reagan defense budget.

"We must all recognize that the Reagan defense budget is the bare-bones minimum for meeting the security needs of the United States and our Free World allies," declared RCAC First Vice President Stephen J. Sipe of Union. "The first duty of the Congress is to provide -- adequately -- for our national defense.

"As President Reagan has wisely stated," explained Sipe, "our nation seeks only to preserve the peace. History has repeatedly demonstrated that peace can be preserved only by deterrence of would-be aggressors.

"Had Great Britain heeded the warnings of Winston Churchill in the 1930's and rebuilt its military power instead of supinely appeasing Adolph Hitler, World War II might never have occurred. Just think how many young lives would have been spared in that case."

To Discuss Fetal Alcohol Syndrome

The Union County Council on Alcoholism Executive Director Teresa McGeary has announced a seminar on fetal alcohol syndrome to be held Friday, April 15. The seminar, to be held at the council offices at 300 North Ave., East in Westfield, will begin with coffee and registration at 8:45 a.m.

Fetal Alcohol Syndrome is the third leading birth defect associated with mental impairment. Scientists have found that many children born to women who drink excessively while pregnant have a recognizable pattern of physical and mental birth defects. Most affected youngsters have small brains and show degrees of mental deficiency. Many are jittery and poorly coordinated, and have short attention spans and behavioral problems.

It is estimated that there are more than one million women of child-bearing age who are alcoholic.

QUALITY NOW COSTS LESS.

During a time when car prices are skyrocketing, Peugeot quietly offers unequaled value. Consider the Peugeot 505's standard equipment: air conditioning; power-assisted disc brakes; fuel-injected gasoline engine; reclining front seats; 5 speed overdrive gear box; and Michelin steel-belted radial tires.
Now consider the price:$12,260. Compare its finish, strength and ride to cars costing much more. And now you can see, first hand, that a European sedan doesn't have to cost the moon during our OPEN HOUSE. Come in and test drive the 505, and discover that true quality can cost less!

Trailside Center Offers Varied April Programs

Easter Sunday is one of the few holidays during the year when the Trailside Nature and Science Center, Coles Ave. and New Providence Rd., Mountainside, a Union County Dept. of Parks and Recreation facility, is closed to the public.

The remainder of the Sundays throughout April, however, offer a variety of programs for the entire family - all low cost and close to home.

There's still time to view the free exhibit of the Clay Works of Gloria Valenti of Summit, which will be on display in the Visitor's Center through April 17. The remainder of the April schedule is as follows:

April 10 - Natural History Truths and Spoofs - Join two members of the Trailside staff as they detail information about natural history items from the center's collections, 2 p.m.

April 17 - Indians of New Jersey - Dan Bernier will provide an illustrated account of the Lenni Lenape Indians, 2 p.m.

April 24 - Arbor Day - E.F. Schumacher's film, "At the Edge of the Forest", followed by the planting of a tree at Trailside, 2 p.m.

The planetarium show for April is "Stellar Zoo," which will be shown on Sundays during April at 2 and 3:30 p.m.

See What's School's All About - Chris Mackay, fourth grade student in Theodora Ritter's class at Franklin School brought his neighbor Mrs. Lynda Harrigfeld and her three-year-old twin sons Jacob and Carl to school last week for a special "Be a Kid for a Day" program. In photo, Chris shows Jacob some of his school work while Carl was off investigating another part of the classroom.

Police Report...

Town police arrested two men following a burglary Friday on Wyoming St. Frank Balogh, 34, of Woodbridge and Joseph Emery, 25, of Perth Amboy were held in lieu of $25,000 bail.

The arrest was effected when the resident of the burglarized home heard someone breaking into her house. She called police and stayed on the phone until Officers William Murphy, Stephen Bilous and Kevin Maloney arrived. The officers accompanied by Detectives Bernard Tracy, Patrick Gray and Terence Gillespie, pursued the suspects on foot and apprehended them.

According to Det. Sgt. Robert Kenny, a local man currently being held in the Essex County jail has been linked to a recent rash of burglaries on the south side of town. Kenny said that as a result of an arrest in Newark, Michael Scott of 455 West Broad St., was found to have in his possession a loaded 38 caliber hand gun, which had been part of the proceeds of a south side burglary. Detectives Bernard Tracy, Patrick Gray, Frank Brunnell and Terence Gillespie executed a search warrant and recovered stolen property including jewelry and additional items associated with the weapon. Scott is being held in Newark pending a hearing on a weapons charge.

Burglaries reported to police last week included homes on South Euclid Ave. and the Boulevard Monday; a home on First St. Saturday; and a residence on Summit Ave. and Portasoft on South Ave., Monday.

Break-ins were attempted on East Broad St. Saturday and the Chevron Service Station on Central Ave. Tuesday.

Thefts from cars were reported. A battery was taken from a car while it was parked on East Broad St. Thursday. A burglary and theft occurred at a South Ave. body shop Sunday. A car parked on Boynton Ave. was entered and $20 and a flashlight taken and a theft from a car on Massachusetts St. was reported, both on Tuesday.

A 40-year-old Cranford man was arrested on North Ave. Thursday night. He was charged with drunken driving.

Reorganization of NJ Transit Draws Plaudits

Senator C. Louis Bassano (R-Union) today praised Governor Thomas Kean's announcement of a re-organization of NJ Transit and the State Department of Transportation, expected to cut the cost of managing the two agencies by 40%.

Bassano has campaigned since last fall for a study of NJ Transit operations and management practices to assure efficiency, eliminate duplication of services and cut costs of mass transit for commuters and taxpayers. He said he was "delighted" by the Governor's action.

The Senator noted the reorganization proposed by the Governor will save $3.7 million a year. Under the plan, 385 DOT managers and 161 NJT managers will be reclassified as workers, with salary cuts where appropriate.

Additionally, 30 jobs at NJT and 50 at DOT will be eliminated.

"The Governor's action serves the interests of both the riding and the non-riding public," Bassano asserted.

"Forty-five cents of every transportation dollar was used to cover administrative costs. Under the reorganization, that amount will be cut to 27 cents, and the cost will drop from 12 cents to 7 cents.

"A leaner, streamlined management will interrupt the ever-soaring spiral of higher fares, increases taxes and tunnel fares to subsidize rates and equipment, and may prevent further cuts in service.

"Following the strike, there will be a need to re-examine the mass transit system in light of the lessons learned from the shutdown," the Senator asserted.

"Some rail commuters have expressed a preference for the buses they now ride over trains they have used in the past. We may need to rethink some services.

"Huge traffic jams predicted in the absence of train service in some areas have not materialized. The post-strike period will be an ideal time to review the needs of the commuters."

In the meantime, Bassano said he "Looks forward to speedy implementation of the Governor's program of reorganization."

The plan would reduce the number of managers at DOT from 1179 to 794, while increasing the number of workers from 3,953 to 4,308.

At NJT, the number of managers would drop from 400 to 239, while workers would increase from 4,430 to 4,591.

The changes were designed following recommendations by high-level executives and management consultants. Since a blue-ribbon panel will not be available to restudy the situation every few years to assure continuing good management, Bassano said a procedure for public accountability of NJT seems warranted.

Chemocare New At Muhlenberg

Chemocare services are now available at Muhlenberg Hospital in Plainfield. Chemocare is a program of personal support and encouragement offered to people undergoing chemotherapy treatment by people who have experienced chemotherapy themselves.

Support people who offer their help are trained in orientation sessions by volunteers from the Junior League of Elizabeth-Plainfield and oncologists at two Union County hospitals.

Those in need of support or who would like to volunteer services may call Chemocare at 321 Elm St.

Science Panel at High School

By Melissa Dobbins
WHS News Bureau

A Woman in Science panel discussion was held recently at WHS. The panel consisted of Dr. Dorothea Hoffman, Mrs. Virginia Thomas, Dr. Sheree Starrett and Miss Jo Ellen Macicjewski, all of whom are involved in scientifical careers. The topic of discussion was women in non-traditional careers involving math and science. Each panelist shared her job experiences with the audience.

Throughout the discussion there was a recurring theme of the panelists being discriminated against and "tested" when entering technical careers in the past. Some of the panelists recalled confrontations that they had with their coworkers due to the ingrained belief in the society that women could never be qualified to enter scientifical careers. They were sometimes discouraged by their high school and college professors and often experienced conflicts with their male classmates. Basically, the panelists agreed that in the past there has been a great amount of prejudice towards women entering male dominated careers.

When questioned about the present and future working conditions, the panelists believed that the atmosphere between working males and females has improved, but there is still some discrimination. They also see an optimistic future because more women are entering careers involving math and science and support groups, such as women chemists, are being organized. They all suggested that any woman slightly interested in science look into the field because, once one negates that part of one's life, it is difficult to return to it.

This panel discussion had been organized by Evelyn Shen, a WHS student, Paula Roy and R. Hoffman, teachers at WHS. It was an attempt to make female students aware of the career options open to them. Roy States, "I'm very pleased with how the discussion went. It was a beginning of new activities that we can initiate in the high school"

Stephanie Prial, a student who attended the discussion, says, "I think that the discussion was very interesting and informative. I think it's necessary to have seminars like this because we're all brought up to think we should be housewives. It's good to hear about women who did the unconventional."

United Fund

agencies admitted in 1981 and those previously-admitted are being fulfilled before considering further applications.

"During the year we sponsored a presentation of Up With People! This contributed to a financially successful year but, more importantly, the spirit engendered by having these young people among us helps us to maintain focus on the fact that our principal objective is that of assuring that Westfielders continue to help Westfielders.

"I appreciate the opportunity of having served as President for the last two years. It has been a most rewarding experience.

The 1982 annual report also contained additional notes from Austin Sayre, the 1982 budget review chairman: "A major responsibility of the United Fund is to represent the people of Westfield and to be accountable to them for the manner in which the money that is collected is apportioned among the member agencies of the United Fund. To fulfill this responsibility, an analysis must be made each year as to how significant and essential are the services of these agencies in meeting the health and social welfare needs of the community, and a determination must be made as to the financial needs of the agencies. It must also be decided of there is sufficient dedication and efficiency in the operation of each agency to make it a worthy recipient of the money so generously contributed by Westfield citizens.

"Towards those ends, the budget review committee, a committee of 12 Westfield residents, representing a broad cross-section of the community made a thorough analysis of the operations and needs of each member agency. Over a four-month period in 1982, the committee reviewed financial reports and operational histories, visited agency headquarters and interviewed directors and officers of the agencies. The result of the study was a recommendation to the board of trustees of an allocation of funds to each agency. This recommendation reflected the collective judgement of the budget review committee as to the needs and value of each agency.

"Because the members of the budget review committee took their responsibilities very seriously and deliberated in an open and fair manner, the contributors to the Westfield United Fund can be assured that their interests have been protected and their money is being wisely used.

"In his annual report Alex Williams, the 1982 campaign chairman, added: "This achievement was especially gratifying in 1982 because the objective of $417,000 was the highest planned increase every achieved. Our 18 member agencies can now be assured of receiving the most dollars ever distributed the United Fund of Westfield.

"It is impossible to single our individuals, but the spirit and energy of our fellow Westfielders from the division chairmen to the individual residential solicitors, has been an inspiration, and certainly accounts for our success.

"Unlike many United Way campaigns, our campaign success is finally measured by the generosity of individual Westfielders and members of our business and professional community who give their dollars to support this effort. The 1982 results are a testimonial to the generosity of Westfielders. We live in a most unusual town!

"High community visibility was achieved by outstanding weekly news coverage by both the Westfield Leader and The Suburban News; the Commuter Coffee was again enthusiastically received, and our campaign thermometers continued to provide awareness to all Westfielders. The brokerage houses of Wood-Walker, Butcher-Singer and Merrill Lynch offered the use of their phones; Westfield merchants displayed our posters; the substantial support of the Westfield Foundation and the many service and civic organizations added impetus to our appeal; and the United Way of Union County and the Tri-State United Way were able to increase their generous allocation. Schools, churches, businesses, public works, agencies - Westfield people - all joined together to help!

"It has been a privilege to be part of this very important effort by serving as general campaign chairman. On behalf of our member agencies and the people of Westfield who enjoy their services, we of the 1982 campaign organization offer our heartfelt 'Thank You'."

Social and Club News of the Westfield Area

Deborah Lambert Weds Frederick Nelson At St. Helen's

Martino Studio

Mrs. Frederick Nelson

Deborah Ann Lambert and Frederick Groom Nelson were married Saturday at St. Helen's Church by the Rev. Mario Pascarello. A reception followed at the Summit Suburban Hotel, Summit.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown trimmed in re-embroidered chantilly lace and seed pearls with narrow multi-ruffles on the puff sleeves. The A-line skirt of the dress softly flowed into a chapel length train. She wore a double tier silk illusion veil and carried a bouquet of white orchids and pink and white freesia.

Denise Chambers of Scotch Plains was matron of honor. Andrew T. Nelson of New York City was best man.

Serving as ushers were Kenneth Heider of Westfield and Thomas Gelrich of Morristown.

The bride, who received a BS degree in 1979 in forensic science from the University of New Haven, is the senior forensic chemist in the Union County Prosecutor's office.

Her husband received a BS degree in chemical engineering from Clarkson University, Potsdam, N.Y. He is a project engineer with Exxon Chemical Co. in Florham Park.

The couple will reside in Westfield.

Mr. Herbert E. Lambert of Baltic, Conn. and Mrs. Ethelyn Lambert of Taftville, Conn. are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson of New Haven, Conn.

Peter Sansom Kate Sherman Are Married

Peter Sansom, formerly of Westfield and Kate Sherman of Yarmouthport, Mass., were married Saturday, March 12 at Yarmouthport Congregational Church. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Sherman Jr.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Edward F. Babbott, formerly of Westfield and the late Edward M. Sansom.

The bride was attended by her sister, Krista, as maid of honor.

Margaret Babbott and Irene Jones were bridesmaids. Sarah Philbrook, the bride's niece, was flowergirl.

Thomas Tolley was best man. Serving as ushers were the bridegroom's brothers, Lee Sansom, Douglas Sansom and Stewart Babbott.

The bride was graduated from Cedar Crest College, Allentown, Pa. Her husband is a graduate of Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa.

Following a trip to St. Croix, the couple will reside in Liberty Corners.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Chamberlin

Penn State Graduates Wed In Pittsburgh

Philip Chamberlin, son of Dr. and Mrs. Earl Chamberlin of Westfield and Jean Fields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Fields of Pittsburgh, Pa. were married recently at the First Unitarian Church in Pittsburgh. The Rev. Paul Beattie, a friend of the family officiated at the afternoon ceremony. A reception and dinner followed at the Holliday House in Monroeville, Pa.

Venetian lace motifs on the bodice and fitted sleeves and a lace trimmed cathedral train distinguished the bride's gown of white organza with a high illusion neckline. A lace tiara caught the fingertip veil. She carried a cascaded bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her sister, Eleanor Fields, was maid of honor and Martin Chamberlin, the bridegroom's brother was best man. Serving as ushers were the bridegroom's brother Geoffrey Chamberlin of Portsmouth, N.H. and Bruce Hauptman the bride's cousin of Fayetteville, N.C.

The bride and bridegroom are 1981 graduates of the Pennsylvania State University with degrees in marketing. The bride is employed by the San Antonio, Texas, Police Department as a programmer. The bridegroom, a graduate of Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School, is in sales management with Pepsi Cola Corporation.

The couple resides in San Antonio.

Medical Students Marry At Historic Temple

Deborah Ann Schiller of Flourtown, Pa. and Ralph Matthew Schrager of Westfield were married recently in Philadelphia. Their marriage took place in Congregation Mikveh Israel on the day commemorating the 200th anniversary of the founding of the Congregation, which has been designated a national historical landmark. A reception followed at the Philadelphia Academy of Music.

The bride wore a gown of organza trimmed with Alencon lace and an heirloom train. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and ivy, and a bible which has been in her family for many generations, brought by her grandmother from her birthplace in Ireland.

Her maid of honor was Judith Levenstein, and her bridesmaids were Dr. Alison Binder-Haimes, Amy Levine, Nina Kaleska and Barbara Szczesniak. Best man was Dr. Lewis Schrager, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were David and Daniel Schiller, brothers of the bride, Seth and Eric Schrager, cousins of the bridegroom, John Kinast and Jeffrey Saunders. The services included selections from the Hebraic liturgy sung by Mme. Nina Kaleska of the Philadelphia Opera Society and Amy Levine, who is associated with the Wolftrap Concert Center in Virginia.

Both bride and bridegroom are senior medical students at the University of Pennsylvania College of Medicine. They will receive their medical degrees in May and will continue their training in Philadelphia: the bride as a resident of obstetrics and gynecology at Pennsylvania Hospital and the bridegroom as a resident in pediatrics at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Schiller of Fourtown. Dr. Schiller practices family medicine in Flourtown and Roxborough, Pa. His wife, Ruth Schiller, is director of services for senior citizens with the YM-YWHA of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schrager

The bridegroom is the son of Drs. Alvin and Gloria Schrager, of Westfield. Dr. Alvin Schrager practices internal medicine and is a former chief of the Department of Internal Medicine at Overlook Hospital in Summit. His wife, Dr. Gloria Schrager, is director of pediatrics at Overlook Hospital and associate clinical professor of pediatrics at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Yo-Yo Ma To Appear At Community Concert Season Finale

Yo-Yo Ma

Yo-Yo Ma, internationally celebrated cellist, and friends James Buswell, violinist and Heiichiro Ohyama, principal violist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic, will appear Monday evening at 8:30 in the auditorium of Westfield High School in the final program of the current series of Westfield Community Concerts. Although attendance is limited to members of associations in Westfield, Summit, Plainfield and Parsippany Troy-Hills, area residents who become new subscribers for the 1983-1984 series either at the door or with the membership chairman Mrs. Frederick, D. Walters will be welcomed as guests at the concert.

Born in Paris in 1955 of Chinese parentage, Ma emerged at a very early age as one of the prodigious musical talents of the century. He has appeared as soloist with all of the major orchestras of the world under most of the famous directors. He was the featured soloist at the inaugural concert of London's Barbican Center. Glowing reviews of his concerts have appeared in the major newspapers of America and Europe and he has been the subject of innumerable feature articles in popular and cultural magazines across this country.

One of his favorite programs among the hundreds of concerts he plays each year is his appearance with "friends" such as Buswell and Ohyama. The cello he uses is a Matteo Goffriller made in Venice in 1722. With that priceless instrument he uses a bow with which Leonard Rose made his career and later presented to Ma as a gift from teacher to student.

Members of the Westfield Association of Community Concerts received their invitations this week to renew their subscriptions for the 43rd season next year and to invite any other music lovers in the area to become new members. In his letter to the membership Dr. Robert L. Foose, president, reminded them of Charlotte Montgomery's column in a national magazine last fall in which she wrote "The program has been remarkably successful bringing us concerts performed by top professionals . . . at a cost which is downright cheap."

During the 1983-1984 season the Westfield season will have four programs. Together with four in Plainfield, three in Summit and three in Parsippany-Troy Hills, members will have as many as fourteen concerts available to them for a single membership fee. The Westfield concerts will inlcude the Canterbury Trio with violin, cello and piano; Stephen Dickson, Metropolitan Opera baritone; the Linden Woodwind Quintet and the internationally acclaimed pianist, David Bar-Illan. Other programs they may attend include the Taburitznans Folk Ensemble, the American Ballet Comedie, Laredo and Robinson, Two Gentlemen of Opera, duo pianists, the American Ragtime Ensemble and the Solisti New York with Ransom Wilson as soloist.

Subscribers may join at the door, Monday evening or at membership headquarters at Auster's during the week of April 11.

Library Opera Trips Announced

The Metropolitan Opera Trips sponsored by the Friends of the Library have been announced for the 1983-1984 season. The subscription series consists of seven operas. They are: Oct. 19, "La Fille du Regiment," Nov. 23, "La Traviata;" Jan 4, "Fidelio;" Jan. 25, "MacBeth;" Feb. 15, "Tannhauser;" Mar. 7, "Don Giovanni;" Apr. 11, "Manon Lescaut."

Westfield residents interested in having their names added to the waiting list for the subscription series may do so at the reference desk in the library or by contacting Mrs.William Lauritsen, 615 Maye St.

Round trip bus service is provided from the library to Lincoln Center at a nominal cost. It is possible to share the series with a friend, thus dividing the cost.

"Commedia Dell'Arte" At Kean College

The New Conservatory Theatre will present "Commedia Dell'Arte" at 12:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. May 3 at Kean College. The first performance will be on the College Center Green and the second in the Little Theatre.

The performances are free and no tickets are required.

Michael and Janice Metzger Exhibit At Juxtapose

Juxtapose Gallery is welcoming in spring with a special exhibition of current works by Westfield artists, Janice and Michael Metzger.

Michael Metzger is well known through-out the tri-state area, having participated in numerous exhibitions and one-man shows. An associate professor of art at Kean College, his most recent one-man show was held at the Educational Testing Service in Princeton. His large, abstract oils are included in many private and corporate collections.

Janice Metzger teaches art, ceramics and crafts at Governor Livingston High School in Berkeley Heights. She is a member of the Kean College adjunct faculty and chairperson of the art department of the Westfield Summer Workshop. Her watercolors, oils and unique hand-crafts have been exhibited widely.

The Metzger exhibition will continue at Juxtapose through April. Juxtapose, 58 Elm St., is open Tuesday through Friday, from 9:30 to 5:30; Saturday from 10 to 5; Thursday 'til 9 p.m.

Lyric Opera Presents "Rigoletto"

Walter Schonwald of Scotch Plains, producer of the Jersey Lyric Opera Company, has announced that Sandra Giambalvo-Alesi, lyric soprano, will sing the role of "Gilda," the daughter of "Rigoletto," in the opera of the same name Saturday evening April 9 at the Eugene Wilkins Theatre, Kean College, Union, at 8 p.m.

Mezzo-soprano Roxanne Onori of Montclair will sing the second female lead, the role of "Maddalena." James Clark will be The Duke and Miguel Andoor, Rigoletto.

Directing the company is Vern Henry Smith of Scotch Plains, professor of Theatre Arts at Rutgers, Newark.

Conductor is Fedor Kabalin of the Manhattan School of Music, formerly chairman of the Music Department at Kean College.

Orchid Show At Mall

The North Jersey Orchid Society's 20th annual Orchid Show will be held at Menlo Park Mall on Route 1 in Menlo Park Thursday, April 7 through Sunday, April 10. The judging, will take place on Thursday morning. The show will be open to the public immediately afterwards at approximately 1 p.m. and will remain open the same hours as the mall throughout the weekend.

Cho-Liang Lin

Ken Noda

Noda and Lin To Perform Here April 16

Ken Noda, the 20-year-old pianist who was chosen by Itzhak Perlman to perform at the White House for President Reagan, and Cho-liang Lin, the 24-year-old violinist who performed at President Carter's inauguration and is a protegee of Isaac Stern, will both appear in Westfield on April 16 at Temple Emanu-El.

Lin and Noda, each an acclaimed "superstar" in the world of music, are personal friends and enjoy performing together. However, their busy solo careers keep them flying around the world and they rarely have the opportunity. Ken and Jimmy (as Cho-liang is called by his friends and fans) are currently recording all the Mozart Sonatas for violin and piano for CBS Records. Their program in Westfield will include the Sonata in A of Mozart, a Beethoven Sonata and two works by Brahms.

Jimmy Lin's premier album was recently released by CBS. His playing of the Haydn and Vieutemps Violin Concertos with Neville Mariner and the Minneapolis Symphony was greeted by critical raves. On March 12, he performed the Saint-Saens Concerto with The Baltimore Symphony in Carnegie Hall. Again he was greeted by a sold-out hall and brilliant reviews. Projects for 1983 include a six-concert engagement with The Israel Philharmonic, guest appearances with The Detroit, San Francisco, Houston and Helsinki Symphonies and the Royal Philharmonic as well as a busy recital schedule in the U.S. and abroad.

Ken Noda's appearances include guest performances with the greatest orchestras in the world. This season, he played with the New York Philharmonic, the Toronto Symphony, the Boston Symphony, the Chicago Symphony and the London Philharmonic. Of his White House appearance, Noda said that it was "the high point of his career." He studies with Daniel Barenboim in Paris and Rudolph Firkusny in New York. He is the composer of five operas, one of which was produced by The New York City Opera.

The public may reserve seats by calling Claire Angel, 625 Willow Grove Rd.

The concert begins at 8:30 p.m. There will be a reception after the concert.

Varied Program At Musical Club

The Musical Club of Westfield will meet at the home of Ruth Berger, 2046 Arrowwood Dr., Scotch Plains, at 1 p.m.

The program has been prepared by soprano Friedel Graef, who now lives in Toms River, and Anne Fritz, mezzo-soprano of Westfield. There will be a Mozart four-hand piano sonata performed by Claire Angel and Jean Prebluda of Westfield and a Bach trio performed by Lubove Schnable, violinist from Fanwood, Lily Harvitt, violinist from Mountainside, and Elma Adams, pianist from Cranford.

Registration Ending For YWCA Spring Classes

The final week of registration for YWCA spring and summer classes is underway. The following classes and tours are being offered:

• Wok Cooking: Instructor, Michelle Teo will focus on the Szechuan and Cantonese styles as well as proper cutting and preparation techniques. This six session class will begin Monday at 7:30 p.m. Registration closes today. Call the YWCA for more information.

• Women's Success Center: Directors of the Women's Success Center, Betsy and Adrienne Zipkin, will provide class participants with a motivational program designed to explore the potential of women in all areas — careers, community, family and personal. Registration ends today for this five session class which begins Tuesday.

• Spring Flower Arranging: This six session class is designed for beginners only who do not consider themselves to be artistic or creative. Some basic materials are provided gratis and others are available for purchase. Participants will be using silks, polyethelene, dried and live flowers and greens. Sadie Peterman is instructor. Class begins April 7 from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., registration ends tomorrow. Class size is limited.

• Career Interest Testing: A day of occupational testing, using the Career Assessment Inventory will take place on Saturday, April 9 at 9 a.m. at the Westfield YWCA. Interpretation of the test results will be arranged by the individuals and test instructor. Fees cover test and interpretation session. Registration must be made by today. Testing also will be offered at the Plainfield YWCA on April 23.

- Take Charge of Your Finances: This three session class, beginning April 14, teaches how to establish guidelines on budgeting income and expenses, net worth, banking, checkbook balancing, credit, buying insurance and investing.

Dr. Marie Tracy, a financial planner with Investors Diversified Services will lead the class. A limited number of scholarships are available. Register by April 8.

- Conversational English: A new series of eight classes will begin Monday for international members of Westfield and surrounding areas. Instructor, Muriel Valji will assist participants with basic practical conversational skills. All newcomers welcome and child care is available at a nominal fee.

- Trips for April: "Brighton Beach Memoirs," Neil Simon's new play. Bus will leave the YWCA at 10 a.m. on April 20 and will return after the show.

"From the Cradle to the Grave." A tour of Paterson will include a visit to the Great Falls historic district to view the second largest falls east of the Mississippi and several churches. Lunch will be at the Bonfire, one of Paterson's landmark restaurants. After lunch a stop will be made at Victorian Cedar Lawn Cemetary. Tourists should wear walking shoes. Professional tour director, Bill Boir will be the guide for the April 28 trip. Bus leaves the YW at 9 a.m. and returns by 5:30 p.m.

"Trouble at the Golden Garter Dance Hall." Thursday, May 5 is the day for a full course lunch and show at Hunterdon Hills Playhouse. Bus leaves the YWCA at 10:30 a.m. and returns by 4:30 p.m.

- The YWCA offers short term counseling for women on a sliding scale fee. Those suffering the loss of a mate through separation or divorce, comtemplating divorce, re-entering the job market or any other specific problem or situation for which guidance is needed, may call the YWCA to make an appointment with Blanche Roth, Women's Counselor director. Pruning Demo Set

The North Jersey Rose Society in cooperation with the Essex County Park Department will present the annual public pruning demonstration in Brookdale Park Rose Garden, Bloomfield, on Saturday, April 9, starting at noon. Rain date is Sunday, April 10 at noon.

Attendees should wear warm clothing and heavy gloves, preferably leather, and bring sharpened pruning shears or lopping shears or both.

The garden is located in the northern section of Bloomfield across from the tennis courts.

Dot Herold of Westfield, a Spaulding for Children Volunteer Auxiliary member, initials check cards of participants in last year's Spaulding Walkathon. The Walkathon is set for April 17 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Forms are available at the Spaulding office and the Music Staff.

Prizes Readied For Spaulding Walkers

The Music Staff of Westfield is donating at $25 gift certificate as the grand prize for the person who collects the largest amount of contributions from his or her sponsors for the Spaulding for Children Walk-athon, April 17 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Some of the other prizes will include T-shirts and every walker who submits a minimum of $25 will receive a stuffed animal donated by Crestmont Federal Savings and Loan Association.

In the past, Spaulding's walkers have consisted primarily of youngsters from the junior and senior high schools of this area. This year, a special invitation has been accorded to all those adults who walk for health or pleasure to walk for more than their own personal gratification. They may help "walk a child home." (A man who recently had quadruple bi-pass heart surgery will be walking as will a 79 year old woman who will be walking the third time for Spaulding's annual even. Families are encouraged to walk as families.

There will be check points almost every mile or so along the 15-mile route. Walkers may stop at any one of them. The Spaulding Volunteer Auxiliary and local community clubs, including the Jr. Women's Club of Westfield, will be checkers and a continuous caravan of cars will be circling the course.

Sponsor forms are ready now at the Music Staff and the Spaulding office at 36 Prospect St. as well as local schools. A contributing sponsor may make a flat donation or pledge a per mile amount.

Spaulding for Children, the free adoption agency for special needs children, finds homes and families for some of the more than 105 thousand American children who are legally free for adoption. They include older children of all races and religions, physically, mentally or emotionally handicapped children or brothers and sisters who should remain together.

Jazz Age Revisited At "Delightful" Program

By Esther Hallada

The Westfield Historical Society, on March 23 in Edison Junior High School auditorium, presented to the public the production, "Meet Me Down at Frutchey's: Westfield in the Jazz Age." Frutchey's was a drug store, meeting place and a great place for boy or girl-watching at the corner of Elm and Broad Sts.

The program, ably written and produced by Ralph Jones, vice-president and program chairman of the Society, included readings, music and films depicting Westfield from World War I through the twenties.

Paul Houck, president of the Westfield Historical Society, in white tie, tails and top hat, as moderator brought dignity and a glow of humor to the entire program.

To set the mood, songs and dances of the period were beautifully performed by Marc Acito and Eve Yohalem with Mia Ginsberg accompanying them on the piano. The audience was delighted by their performance.

The first part of the program was comprised of a series of readings depicting Westfield's participation in the "Great War." Bob Jonas, portraying Bert Pearsall, a resident of Westfield in 1917, told of the Home Guard patrolling the town nightly as protection against German spies, the establishment of the Westfield Battalion and the loss of 18 young men in the war.

Dr. Laurence Greene, superintendent of schools, portraying Charles Philhower, described one of the greatest disasters in this area. On the night of October 4, 1918, the shell-loading plant at Morgan, the largest munitions plant in the country, blew up. After providing assistance to about 300 injured in the explosion, Westfield was struck with influenza, with a death toll of 25.

Carol Stewart as Beatrix Budell carried the program forward by describing the celebration of the Armistice in Westfield and Welcome Home Day on Oct. 12, 1919, viewed by 20,000 people in the plaza at North Ave. and Clark St.

The development of the plaza underpass and the plaza monument was well-described by Bill Gordon as Robert Hoffman. Bill Wilson, portraying Senator Arthur Pierson, told of the development of Mindowaskin Park. A pageant in the park in 1920 to commemorate the 200th anniversary of Westfield's founding was described by Jessie Plant Brown.

Betty Pate and George Rounds covered the national scene in the Jazz Age. Kathryn Nicholas Platt and Gladys Wewer Smith in their gym outfits described their participation in 1924 with the Westfield Girls' Basketball Team that played Guthrie, Okla. for the national championship and how their pictures appeared in New York papers and Pathe and Fox Films newsreels.

Bill Frolich

Ralph Jones, (right) vice president and program chairman of the Westfield Historical Society, and author of "Meet Me Down at Frutchey's" watches the program unfold with committee chairmen, Bruce Baker (left) and Houghton Birdsall Jr., both of whom assisted with the show.

Bill Frolich

Eve Yohalem and Marc Acito pose after completing a number. The two danced and sang songs of the twenties, accompanied by Mia Ginsberg. All are students at the Westfield High School.

Betty Harvey Birdsall told about life as a teenager in the twenties and how the boys in front of Frutchey's Drug Store "watched all the girls go by." Lois Welch Wight and Story Lee told of changes in Westfield after the war.

Margot Valentine, who has lived in Westfield 74 years, told of her "Reminiscences" and life in the twenties. All were in colorful, interesting costumes of the time.

The program ended with home movies of the Welch family taken in the twenties.

The program was delightful in all its facets. The music and dancing of the era set the mood for an entertaining portrayal of life in Westfield in the twenties.

Vivid performances were given by those who portrayed Westfielders living during that era. The feeling of the time was further reinforced by descriptions of life and changes that took place in Westfield by those who actually lived here than and now.

Increasing interest in Westfield's past produced an auditorium filled to capacity. And about a third of the audience lived in Westfield in the twenties (the moderator asked them to stand at the beginning of the show). Hank Glass did an excellent job as director.

It is suggested that a larger auditorium be used or more performances given to accommodate the many Westfielders who couldn't get tickets to this fine show and those who want to see it again.

Concert Set In Summit

Christ Church, Summit, will be the setting for a spring concert by the Concord Singers Sunday, April 17, at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend free of charge. Christ Church is located at the corner of Springfield and New England Aves.

To Confirm Ten Tonight

Ten young people will be confirmed at the Community Presbyterian Church in Mountainside, Deer Path and Meeting House Lane, at the Maunday Thursday Service tonight at 8 p.m.

They are Bart Christopher Barre, Suzanne Burdge, David Blackwell, Kevin Everly, Leigh Anne Hanigan, Caroline Hedrick, Mary Huelbig, Guy Koppe, Stephen Souders and Kimberly Swanson.

The Easter Sunday Service on April 3 at 10:30 a.m. will be augmented by a Brass Ensemble consisting of Randy Holcombe, Paul Dumont, Tomas Nonnenmacher, Robert Van Voorhies, Mathew Swarts and guests. There will be no Sunday School on Easter Sunday; children will join their families in worship.

Good Friday Service For Children

A Good Friday worship service for children will be held at the First Congregational Church, 125 Elmer St. tomorrow.

The service will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. John Wilson and the Rev. Richard Plant, ministers of the church, and is designed to help children understand why Good Friday is called "Good," even though it is the day on which Christians celebrate the death of Jesus Christ.

Through music, readings from the Bible, and the acting out of the story of the final day in Jesus' life, the meaning of Christ's death will be shared and conveyed to children in a meaningful way.

Although the worship service is aimed at young people, adults and persons from the whole community are welcome.

The Chancel Choir

"Hallelujah!" at Congregational Church

The Chancel Choir of the First Congregational Church of Westfield will sing the "Hallelujah!" chorus from Handel's "Messiah" as the climax of the 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. worship services at the church on Easter Sunday.

In addition to the "Hallelujah!" chorus, which is one of the great devotional pieces in church music, the choir will sing "Forth He Came At Easter," by David Williams, and "Christ the Lord is Risen Again," by John Rutter.

Mark Brombaugh, organist at the church and a member of the faculty at Westminster Choir College, has organized a brass ensemble which will accompany both the choir and the congregational singing. For the Postlude, Brombaugh has selected Widor's "Toccata in F" from Symphony # V.

Dr. John Wilson, the minister at the First Congregational Church, will preach the Easter message at each service. His sermon is entitled "The Risen Lord."

Child care is provided at both worship service, and the public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Reno H. Seiders lights the memorial candleabra at the Presbyterian Church.

Tenebrae Service Tomorrow At Presbyterian Church

A Tenebrae Service of scripture and music will be held at the Presbyterian Church, East Broad St. and Mountain Ave. on Good Friday evening at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Tenebrae is an ancient service of shadows and candlelight in which the story of the last hours of Christ's life are re-told. Candles are gradually extinguished until, at the moment of His death, the church is in total darkness.

Interspersed with the scriptures, which will be read by Dr. Jeffrey Wampler, will be special music sung by the Chancel Choir, under the direction of Marilyn J. Herrmann. Selections will include "O Vos Omnes" by Pablo Casals, "God So Loved the World" by Stainer, "O Come and Mourn" by Hopson, "All in an April Evening" by Roberton. Contralto and bass soloists Mary Beth Minson and Donald Eaton will sing "Lonesome Valley," and tenor soloist Douglas Woodfield will sing "Christ Went up into the Hills Alone." Annette White is the organist.

A special candleabra will be used for the first time in this service. It was given in memory of Reno H. Seiders by his family and friends.

Recital to Benefit World Hunger Programs

The Sanctuary of the Presbyterian Church will be the scene of a violin and chamber music recital given by Lisa Tipton and friends on Saturday, April 9, from 5:30-6:30. Opening the program will be the Telemann Solo Fantasy in Bb for violin played by Tipton. She will be joined by Mary Jo Pagano in the Schumann Sonata in A Minor for Violin and Piano, and by David Feurzeig and Dan Magyari in Bartok's Contrasts for Clarinet, Violin, and Piano. Closing the recital will be Saint-Saens' Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso. Donations given at the door will benefit the World Hunger Programs of the Presbyterian Church and St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Mary Jo Pagano, a graduate student of Arthur Balsam and concerto competition winner at the Manhattan School of Music, has also studied with Constance Keene and John Browning. David Feurzeig, pianist in the Bartok Trio, is a scholarship student of Anthony di Bonaventura at New England Conservatory Preparatory Division. Magyari will receive his master's degree from Manhattan School in May. He has studied with Joseph Allard, Leon Russianoff and William Blount. He has held a fellowship at Kneisel Hall String and Ensemble Music School in Maine and has received Manhattan School's Krauter Award for Outstanding Achievement in Chamber Music.

Lisa Tipton

Lisa Tipton, a candidate for the master's degree in performance at the Aaron Copland School of Queens College, CUNY, graduated from Westfield High School and Cornell University.

She studied violin with Hazel Mueller and Stephen Wolosonovich in this area and has recently studied with Marvin Morgenstern and Roman Totenberg. She holds a teaching fellowship at Queens College and was instrumental in founding a string quartet fellowhsip program at Queens. The quartet of which she is a member, has been offered a residency at the college for 1983-1984. Ms. Tipton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Tipton of Westfield.

Local Pianist Featured In Bach Marathon

Steven F. Greene

Steven F. Greene, formerly a piano student of Noel and Betty Tipton, and currently a senior at Amherst College, will be among the featured performers at the Bach Marathon Sunday, April 17, at the Presbyterian Church in Westfield. He will perform the English Suite No. 2 in A Minor during the first hour (from 3 to 4 p.m.) of the five-hour marathon.

Greene is a music/economics major and recipient of the Graduate Music Fellowship for the 1983-84 year at Amherst. He will be giving his Senior Honors recital in May. In addition to his piano studies, Greene has performed in the Five College Orchestra and in chamber groups as a violinist, and is the assistant conductor and principal accompanist for the Amherst College Glee Club.

Other artists performing during the first hour of the marathon are: Annette White, organist, who will play the Prelude and Fugue in D Major; Jan Hedden Godlefski, soprano, who will sing "I Follow Thee Also" from "St. John Passion," "Bleed and Break" from "St. Matthew Passion," and "Bist Du Bei Mir;" and William Taylor, Edward Fowlkes, and Phyllis Fox, who will play the Sonata for Two Recorders and Harpsichord.

The Bach Marathon runs from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. with short intervals between each hour so that people in the audience may come and go as they please.

Community College Week April 17-23

Community College Week will be observed in Union County from April 17 to April 23, opening with a community-wide open house at the Cranford Campus of Union County College from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. April 17. Demonstrations, scientific and technological exhibits, drama excerpts, musical presentations, and information on all programs will be offered.

During Community College Week, mini-Open Houses will be conducted at the College's Scotch Plains Campus, the Elizabeth Urban Educational Center, and the affiliated Schools of Nursing and Radiography of Elizabeth General Medical Center and Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield.

"We invite all Union County residents, all parents of our more than 9,000 students and their friends and families to attend our Open House and to participate in the many activities available during Community College Week," Dr. Orkin said.

YOUR PHARMACIST SPEAKS
by Kitty Duncan, Pharmacist

When you need information concerning prescription drugs give us a call at JARVIS PHARMACY, 54 Elm St., 233-0662, 0663, 0664. You can still find greeting cards for Easter, as well as Timex watches, franchised cosmetics and toiletries, wallets and stuffed animals. We also have Whitman's candies. Hours: 9am-9pm Mon thru Fri, 9am-6pm Sat, 9am-1pm Holidays. Easter Greetings from the staff at JARVIS PHARMACY.

You should be aware that many drugs, both prescription and non-prescription, can affect the results of clinical laboratory tests. For this reason it is necessary for you to be forthright with all pertinent medical information before undergoing such tests. For instance, excessive use of laxatives can affect the outcome of tests that determine calcium or bone metabolism. Ingesting penicillin can trigger a false reading of protein in the urine which is a sign of kidney disease. Large doses of vitamin C can lead to false results in a urinary glucose test for diabetes. Inform clinicians of your smoking status as well.

HELPFUL HINT:

Ask your doctor whether a prescribed drug should be taken after the symptoms have been relieved.

Residents to Participate In Holocaust Memorial

The commemoration of the 40th anniversary of the Warsaw Ghetto uprising will be the theme of this year's Holocaust Memorial Observance to be held in Central New Jersey on Sunday, April 10, at 7:30 p.m., at the Wilkins Theatre for the Performing Arts, Kean College, Morris Ave., Union.

Known also as Yom Hashoah, the program is sponsored jointly by the Jewish Federation of Central New Jersey and the Union county Board of Rabbis.

Life in the Warsaw Ghetto will be recalled by four survivors, now residents of Union County, whose personal experiences during the Nazi occupation of Poland will form the central portion of the program. They are Nathan Spinner of Elizabeth, Jola Hoffman of Mountainside, Lisbeth Brody of Westfield, and Zachary Schwartzberg of Hillside. Assisting in the narrative portion will be Irving Clark of Hillside and Alan L. Rubin of Rahway.

The Memorial Observance Committee is chaired by Harold A. Cohen of Westfield and Rabbi Ronald Hoffberg of Temple Beth-El, Cranford. Members of the committee include local residents Robert Mansfeld of Mountainside, and Richard Bennett of Westfield, Outreach; and Jola Hoffman, Temple Emanu-El and Aliza Margulis, Westfield, National Council of Jewish Women and Hadassah.

The choir of Temple Emanu-El. In memory of the six million Jewish victims of the Holocaust, six candles will be lit. Participating in this ceremony will be Zygmunt Gottlieb of Mountainside.

An exhibit of Holocaust artifacts and memorabilia has been arranged by the Second Generation for public viewing one hour before and after the program.

Divorce Recovery Workshops Begin

The first in a four-part series of Divorce Recovery Workshops will be held Monday evening from 7:30 to 10 p.m. in the Parish House of the Presbyterian Church on Mountain Ave. The topic of this first workshop, open to the public, will be "Facing Anger and Depression."

One member of the team heading this self-help group will open the workshop by giving a very brief description of a personal experience with divorce/separation as it pertains to the topic of the evening. Dr. Jean Orst will discuss aspects of anger and depression on a professional level. After a short break for coffee/tea, those attending the workshop will form small groups for discussion for the balance of the evening.

The following three workshops will be conducted with the same format. Topics of the other workshops are: "The Grieving Process" with Dr. Anne Burton, April 11; "Guilt and Forgiveness in Divorce" with Dr. Jeff Wampler, April 18; and "Rebuilding Your Identity" with Dr. Richard Sulston, April 25.

Interested persons may call the Church Office or the Presbytery of Elizabeth for further information.

Lead Poisoning Screening April 7

The Westfield Board of Health in cooperation with the Visiting Nurse & Health Services and the Westfield Neighborhood Council will conduct a free lead poisoning screening session April 7 from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Westfield Neighborhood Council located at 127 Cacciola Pl.,

Health Officer Robert M. Sherr has stated that lead poisoning is a serious crippler and killer of young children. A study by the National Bureau of Standards estimates that 600,000 children may have unduly high levels of lead in their blood. The Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare estimates that 100 children die each year from lead poisoning, and 30,000 annually endure the symptoms of lead poisoning.

All children between the ages of 1-6 years old who live in, or frequently visit poorly maintained housing units, day care centers, or other sites which have been constructed prior to the 1960's should be screened at least once a year. Those who know children have eaten paint or even suspect that they have, should have them screened immediately.

Children who have lead poisoning may show the following symptoms:

1) unusual irritability
2) poor appetites
3) stomach pains and vomiting
4) persistent constipation
5) sluggishness or drowsiness

Many victims, unfortunately, show no symptoms until it is too late. These symptoms also could be indicators of other childhood illnesses.

Lead poisoning can be prevented and must be treated early if it is to be cured. "Please take advantage of this important preventative health service," urged Sherr.

Members of the cast of "The Magic Flute" as they appeared on Franklin School's stage during the Etcetera Night performance are standing, Patrick Arnheim, Regan Lanahan, Danny DiClerico, Michelle Maraffi, and kneeling, Timothy Wooster and Athalie Paynting.

"The Magic Flute" Plays at Franklin

Etcetera, Franklin School's after school enrichment program has once again been able to afford children from kindergarten through third grade the chance to participate in the Children's Musical Theater. This group of 26 children, under the guidance of Mrs. Jeannette Ferrell Maraffi, a professional singer as well as a Franklin parent, performed an adaptation of Mozart's, "The Magic Flute."

Mrs. Maraffi, lyric soprano, has performed extensively in many European countries including Belgium, Italy, and Ireland. Her repertoire includes opera, oratorio and recitals. She has appeared on National Radio in Dublin and in Rome. Her musical preparation includes a degree in music education and a B.A. and an M.A. degree of music in voice.

Mrs. Maraffi adapted this relatively lengthy opera to the needs of the young performers. She feels that children between the ages of four and eight years are relatively free of inhibition and are therefore responsive to music and performing. Too often, children of this age are underestimated, according to Mrs. Maraffi.

Several of the mothers of cast members helped with the production. Mrs. Pam Paynting was involved with making costumes. Mrs. Joseph Sachs did make-up for the performance and Mrs. Mary Ellen Legan acted as stage manager and assistant to Mrs. Maraffi.

The Rev. Philip R. Dieterich of The First United Methodist Church of Westfield arranges for the use of the church choir robes and Franklin School families supported the undertaking.

Florio to Speak at Jaycees' Breakfast

Congressman James J. Florio (D-1) will be the guest speaker at the Westfield Jaycees annual membership breakfast Saturday, April 9, at Geiger's Restaurant, President Stan Cuba announced today.

The chairman of the House Subcommittee on Transportation and the author of the $1.6 billion Superfund, Congressman Florio will discuss the current controversy surrounding the Environmental Protection Agency's efforts to clean up toxic waste across America and recent Congressional investigations of abuses within the boxing industry.

The breakfast will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. and is open to all Jaycee members and their guests.

"The Jaycees are an active community group totalling about 125 members. If you want to get involved in a variety of activities to improve your community, your management skills, or to just have fun with a good group of young men (age 18 to 41) plan to attend the breakfast free of charge as our guest. The Jaycees provide many rewarding opportunities. Come out and get to now us better. Do not miss the first opportunity. Contact our membership chairman, Dr. Marty Cohen to say you will attend, at P.O. Box 517, Westfield 07090," Cuba said.

New Lab Equipment At Rahway Hospital

Rahway Hospital has recently purchased a Guilford Impact 400 machine for the laboratory, according to Albert Marshall, Laboratory Administrator.

This machine now makes it possible to do SMA-12s (SMA stands for Simultaneous Multiple Analyzer) on the premises and to get the results the same morning or afternoon. Previous to this, the hospital had an arrangement with a neighboring hospital where it sent all of the blood samples for the SMA tests.

Cliffhanger for Georgetown

Georgetown captured the Sixth Grade Division A Basketball championship beating North Carolina 28-26 in a real cliff hanger.

The lead flip flopped throughout the four quarters and went to Georgetown in the final two minutes, when the outstanding defense, which marked the Hoyas' season, enabled them to hold on to it.

Jeff Kopelman capped the season the way he had played throughout. He was high scorer with 8 points, followed closely by Daryl Robinson and Charles LaRosa with 6 points each. Mike Conheeney, Greg Kilroy and Michael Pushko kept Georgetown's aggressive offense rolling by chipping in 2 points apiece. Pat Quill, whose outstanding playing helped move the Hoyas from underdogs going into the playoffs to champions, was sidelined with an injury in the final game, leaving the burden of defense in the capable hands of Erik Markey and David Stravach. Coach LaRosa attributes the Georgetown rebound to the self-confidence of each player, saying: "It was an erratic season, but when the chips were down the players dug in and earned their first place trophies because of their abilities and their belief in themselves."

Freshman lacrosse players practice in preparation for spring season.

Freshman Lacrossemen Ready for Season

The 1983 freshman lacrosse team is preparing for its premier season, with daily workouts under the direction of coaches Matt Mc Dermott and Ed Lauerman. This is the first season that the freshman lacrosse players have had their own schedule. In the past, they played on the junior varsity team. In 1983, the freshman team is sponsored by the Westfield Recreation Commission and the Westfield Lacrosse Association. In 1982, it is hoped that the freshman team will become part of the Westfield school system athletic program.

The 1983 team consists of boys from Edison and Roosevelt Junior High School. Many of these boys have played lacrosse in the past years in the Westfield Junior Lacrosse League. The players by position are: Goalie, Paul Koltyka; midfielders, Shawn Delhagen, Fred Hansen, Chris Kopf, John Macaluso, Rob Schmalz and Paul Schirmer; attack, Dave Gelfand, John Koltyka, Jim Russell; defense, Tom Donnelly, Nick Helander, Jerry Kasunic, Andrew Krihliwy and Rob Martorina.

The 1983 freshman schedule is as follows:

Today - St. Joseph - Home

April

4 - Mt. Lakes-Away
14 - Montclair-Home
19 - Montville-Home
21 - Columbia-Away
26 - Clifton-Home

May

2 - West Morris-Home
13 - Peddie-Away
20 - Bridgewater East-Away

All games will be played at 4 p.m. Home games will be played behind Tamaques Elementary School.

Eisenmann on Golf Team at Lycoming

James Eisenmann a 1982 graduate of Westfield Senior High School is a member of the 1983 Lycoming College gold team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Eisenmann of 120 Park St.

The team, which finished at 0-5 last season, hopes to have a more successful campaign this year with a host of underclassmen on the roster to add needed depth.

DAR Honors Patricia Kukan

Patricia Kukan was honored at the New Jersey State Society of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution Annual Awards Day at Rutgers University last week for her American History essay.

She was presented with a second-place award by Mrs. Bernard Navatto, State American History Month Chairman, who commented on the excellence of the state contest entries.

Writing on the topic "Everyday Life in Early America," students in grades five, six, seven, and eight each chose some aspect of everyday life during the period 1750-1850 and discussed how it differs today. Miss Kukan selected "Clothing" as the subject of her prize-winning essay.

Miss Kukan, a seventh grade student at Our Lady of Lourdes School, qualified for the state contest by winning first place in her grade from among the entries submitted to Westfield Chapter NSDAR. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kukan of Mountainside.

Patricia Kukan (right) is congratulated on her NSDAR American History Essay Contest award by Mrs. Bernard Navatto, State chairman.

National Competition Culmination Of Memorable Year for Gottlick

The 1982-83 wrestling season will be one not soon forgotten by Westfield native Phil Gottlick of Drexel University.

Gottlick, a graduate of Westfield High School, won 21 of 24 matches during the '82-'83 season just completed. All three of his losses came to wrestlers who participated in the NCAA Division I national championships March 10-12 at Oklahoma City, OK. Included in Gottlick's victories were championships in both the Philadelphia Metropolitan and University of Delaware Invitational tournaments.

The highlight of Gottlick's sophomore season at Drexel, though, was his participation in the national championships in Oklahoma -- a trip he earned as an "at-large" representative from the 142-pound competition of the East Coast Conference championships.

"It was a big thrill to be on the mat wrestling in front of all those people (at the 15,000-seat Myriad)," Gottlick commented. "Just to be there felt so good."

But the administrative systems management major at Drexel was not satisfied with just being there -- he went out and won his first match at nationals to become the first Dragon Grappler to score points in a national wrestling tournament. And he won in impressive fashion, pinning the tournament's eighth-seeded wrestler, Jeff Barksdale of Caly Poly-SLO in 4:23.

"Pinning the eighth seed felt really great," Gottlick beamed. "I was just thrilled to have wrestled up to my ability, but I was happy for myself and for Coach Childs. To win and score points for Drexel was quite an honor."

Gottlick recalls what happened in the process by which he recorded his pin.

"I went into the match with the attitude that I would give it all I've got, but I had a doubt that I'd win. Once I got the chance to turn him over on his back, though, nothing was going to stop me.

"I was down, 2-0, after one period and was a little pessimistic about my chances. I was on top and put a 'power half' on him and drove forward with it. I thought I might have gotten too high on him and I think he thought he could pop his arm out, but I adjusted a little and got tighter on him and there was no way he was going to get out. I drove forward and knocked his hips out, which caused him to go over and I just went with him and finished it off."

The slight doubt in his abilities made the difference between himself and the top finishers at nationals, Gottlick said. "I need more confidence in myself if I am to do better," he remarked. "The real good wrestlers go into the tournament with the attitude they're going to win and then go out and do all they can to reach that goal.

"I know what it feels like to win at nationals now, so I won't be satisfied to win one or two. Next year, I want to go back and place at nationals," he continued. "I saw what the real good wrestlers go through to prepare for a match and now I realize we all start the same. The guys that placed at nationals don't look any different or act any different, they just work a little harder and believe in themselves. That's what I want to do next year -- work harder and gain more confidence."

Although Gottlick was pinned in his second national match by Albany State's Andrew Seras (Division III national champion), the personable New Jersey native said he was "very pleased" with his '82-'83 season.

"I feel I matured both personally and as a wrestler this year," he commented. "Last year, I was nervous because I did not know if I could live up to the reputation of being a two-time state runner-up and I think my lack of expereince showed. But this year, I felt more comfortable and I think I wrestled more to my capabilities.

"One thing I learned is you can never give up. You have got to keep working right to the end. A lot of matches at nationals were lost in the final seconds because a wrestler either gave up or did not want it bad enough. I hope that will never happen to me."

There should be no doubt Gottlick "wanted it bad enough" this season. Neither stretched ligaments in his shoulder or a bruised nose (which necessitated his wearing a protective facemask the entire season) could stand in his way. Only Hofstra's Tony Arena -- a national quarter-finalist who beat Gottlick in dual-match and ECC championship action -- and Seras came out on top in battles with the Dragon co-captain.

An eighth-team freshman All-American honor and a trip to nationals as a sophomore behind him, Gottlick can look forward to more accolades in the future.

United Beats Rowdies

Westfield United Div. II Soccer team opened its Mid N.J. Season with a hard fought 3-2 victory over a tough Hazlet team Sunday. Westfield started the scoring on a goal created when Bob McTamaney crossed the ball to Steve Botulinski who, along with a Hazlet player, helped the ball across the line. Hazlet evened the score late in the first period with a goal from its left side. Two minutes later Rob Schmalz and Erik Berger worked the ball to Jamie Petrik who's goal put Westfield back in the lead.

The second half was played even until the 77 minute mark when Hazlet scored on a shot screened from Westfield's goalie. 12 minutes later, with the score still tied, Mike Drury was fouled in the penalty area. Rolfe Gotsch placed the penalty shot inches from the left post for what turned out to be the winning goal. Kevin Houlihan had a super game in goal making 8 saves.

Cougars Open With a Win

The Westfield Cougars, Division IV National boys team, opened their season Sunday at home, a day more fit for polar bears than soccer players, with an impressive 5-0 win over a skilled Randolph Township team.

Mike Smith opened the scoring in the first period on an exciting breakaway, a near half-field run to the goal. Dan Haag scored earlier for the Cougars, but his goal was nullified by a penalty. Later in the second period, Kyle Bergin fed a beautiful pass to Jonathan Sherman who drilled the ball past the Randolph goalie. Another Westfield goal by Chris Hanlon was also nullified by an off-side penalty, thus leaving the score 2-0 at the half with the Cougar keeper, Jamie DelGuidice, never touching the ball.

The second half was a different story as Randolph kept the new Westfield goalie, Mike Loffredo, busy on several occasions. He had plenty of support, though, from Westfield defenders Blake Sturcke, Matt Fontana, Larry Vasco, Doug Kris and Mike Dodd. Mike Smith scored again in the third period on an assist from Tom Cassidy and Jaime D'Almeda, who scored later on a classic header assist from Chris Hanlon.

The Cougar teamwork continued into the fourth period as John Sturnagel, Kevin Schultz and Dan Haag kept constant pressure on the Randolph defense. The Cougar's final goal was scored by Jon Sherman on a crossing corner kick by D'Almeda. Next stop on the tour is at Mountain Top in West Orange on April 10th, with a possible make up game on April 9 at home against Chester.

Starfires Win in Sun And Lose in the Rain

The Girls Division III Westfield Starfires opened their Spring season by splitting weekend games. They traveled to the sunny shore on Saturday and conquered Union Beach 7-0 and then on Sunday lost to Rockaway 3-1 in the driving rain.

Starfires 7
Union Beach 0

The Starfires wasted no time in establishing their dominence in this game. In the first period, Karen Berry intercepted a pass at midfield, drove downfield and scored with a thundering shot from twenty yards out. The next period saw Jennifer Comstock score twice with assists from Mary Alice Duthie and Christi Carpenter. The scoring barrage continued in the second half as Krissy Jeremiah scored from eighteen yards out and then Christi Carpenter scored twice with another asisist from Mary Alice Duthie. Maureen Hanna finished the scoring on a breakaway in the final period. Defenders Kristina Pouch, Chris Pereira, Meredith Fahey and Sue McLynch contributed strong games in registering the shutout.

Rockaway 3
Starfires 1

This game, which was played entirely in driving rain and sleet, saw the Starfires jump out to an early lead. The Starfire midfielders fed the ball upfield to the right wing. Mary Alice Duthie took the ball and deftly pushed a pass through the fullback line to Kerry Hertell who then broke in on the goalie and scored. Rockaway countered with a second period goal to knot the score at 1-1 at the half.

In the second half the rain continued and the conditions got worse. Rockaway won the ultimate battle of endurance and mental toughness as they scored two second half goals. Starfires Krissy Jeremiah and Maureen Hanna are to be congratulated for their second half play. Jeremiah provided the driving force behind the Starfires second half comeback effort and goalkeeper Hanna made several fine diving saves in the sea of mud surrounding the keeper's area.

Eggs are Hatching In E'Town Window

Children and adults alike can see the wonder of a live egg hatching display through Easter Sunday in the showroom windows of the Elizabethtown Gas Company's headquaters building, One Elizabethtown Plaza, Elizabeth.

Viewers can see ducklings and chicks struggle their way out of the eggshells and start their adjustment to their new environment.

The "Miracle of Life" hatching display is uner the supervision of Roy Dwyer Sr., manager of operation services for Elizabethtown Gas. Dwyer said that after the hatching display is over the ducklings and chicks are sent to a "very happy retirement" at Pondview Farms in Hunterdon County, where they raise their own families. "None of them is ever sold or eaten," Dwyer said.

Stickmen Open Season Wednesday

By Dave Coates

The 1983 Westfield High School varsity lacrosse team will open its season this Wednesday at Summit, against a traditionally tough Summit squad. Six year coach Shaun Cherewich returns several starters from last seasons 7-9 team, but he has many questions still unanswered.

Returning from last year's squad is the entire midfield lines. Senior Brendan McDermott and captain Hank Prybylski, along with junior Dan Gilday will make up the first line; seniors Pete Bourque, captain John McElroy, with junior Paul Goski will complete the second line. These two lines display quickness, speed, and great stick handling ability; which will give opposing defenders plenty to worry about.

Although the stickmen possess an experienced midfield, they are talented, but inexperienced at defense and attack; which could create some problems. The defensive line consists of former outstanding junior varsity members, juniors Dave Lovejoy and Chris Goss, and senior Mike Hone. Backing up the trio will be experienced senior goalkeeper, captain Pat Burgdorf. But possibly the biggest question in Coach Cherewich's mind is his attack line; junior Ron McGann and sophomore Dave Hone proved that they could score goals at the JV level, but can they adapt to the caliber of varsity play? Coach Cherewich seems to believe that their talent will make up for their inexperience.

According to the coach, the experienced midfield is the key to victory in the early part of the season, while the defensemen and attackmen adjust to varsity competition. But with a schedule that highlights perennial state powers Summit, Columbia, and Montclair; the new comers to varsity must adjust quickly in order to help the team win. If this happens, the Blue Devils might complete their goals this year; win the Gibbs division and qualify for the state tournament.

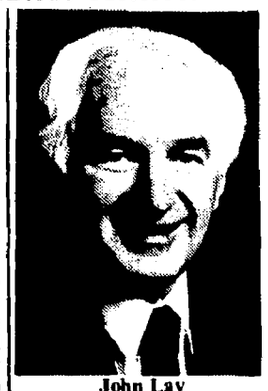
Coach Cherewich stressses, "Once again, the key to the season is how quickly the inexperienced players get used to varsity play. If everything falls into place, then we should have a very successful season."

Hank Prybylski, seen here in recent scrimmage with Boonton, tries to elude an opposition midfielder, as Dave Lovejoy looks on. Goalie Pat Burgdorf, below retrieves the ball and then looks for help, as a Boonton attackman bears down on him.

To Honor Athletic Director

John Lay, Westfield High School Athletic Director will be honored at a retirement luncheon on Sunday, April 17, at 12 noon at L'Affaire Restaurant, Rt. 22 in Mountainside. John was a physical education teacher, basketball, baseball, and golf coach at WHS for 12 years before becoming athletic director 19 years ago. Many of his former players have gone on to successful careers in athletics and business and will be on hand to honor him for his past service to the Westfield community.

One of the more well known athletes who played for John is Jeff Torborg, former Dodger catcher and presently a coach with the New York Yankees and captain of John's 1959 baseball team.



John Lay

The number of WHS athletic teams has increased from 22 to 60 teams during the time Lay has been Athletic Director. Westfield's impressive statistics include 93 Watchung Conference championships, 71 Union county championships. New Director of Athletics Gary Kehler states that, "During the past 19 years, under John Lay's leadership, Westfield has achieved successes in high school athletics second to none in New Jersey. The cooperation and guidance John has given to his coaches is directly responsible for that success."

To honor "The Silver Fox," tickets may be purchased from Gary Kehler at Westfield High School or Roger Love at Century 21 Taylor & Love, Realtors, 436 South Ave.

Local Athletes S.U. Golfers

Greg Cordasco and Gregg Wichelns, both of Westfield, are members of the golf team this spring Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, Pa.

Greg Cordasco

Gregg Wichelns

Cordasco, a sophomore liberal arts student, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cordasco of 705 Tuxford Turn, and a graduate of Wardlaw-Hartridge School.

Wichelns, a junior accounting major, is the son of Linda Wichelns of 410 Harrison Ave. and Donald Wichelns of Newark, and a graduate of Westfield High School.

Trout Stocking Begins Locally

The New Jersey Division of Fish, Game and Wildlife has begun the 1983 preseason trout stocking program.

Locally, rainbow trout will be stocked in the lower Echo Lake Park pond, in the Rahway River, and Seeley's Pond in the Watchung Reservation. Brown trout and rainbows will be stocked in Green Brook, from Route 527 to Route 22.

Trout fishermen are reminded that the state's trout streams will be closed to fishing until opening day, 8 a.m., Saturday, April 9.

The closing is to allow for personnel of the Division's Bureau of Freshwater Fisheries to complete the stocking of the state's streams, lakes and ponds. This year the division plans to stock 168,290 trout prior to opening day.

Stocking will continue in-season for seven consecutive weeks. In all, the division anticipates stocking a total of 578,490 trout for the 1983 season, with an average size of 9.7 inches. These will include brook, brown and rainbow trout.

JV Lacrosse Lookin' Good

By Ken O'Brien

Wednesday and Thursday of last week, the J.V. lacrosse team went up against both Boonton and Suffern in unofficial games.

Although losing both scrimmages, the team still has quite a bit of enthusiasm. As more than two thirds of the team have never played lacrosse before, coach Ron Barner commented, "They did very well for a beginning team. They showed more positive points than negative," and later went on to say, "There's a lot of potential for this year's squad."

Wednesday's scrimmage against Boonton proved to be a physical one with a lot of action. On a fast break, Jerry Chen '85 scored an unassisted goal, and later, first season player Chris Capano '85 scored on a ground ball which he was able to recover and shoot. However, the end result was Westfield 2, Boonton 3.

On Thursday, the New York State Champs, Sufern, came down to play Westfield. The J.V. team played a much better game than the day before, but again, were defeated 6-1. Junior Rob Cantania, a veteran player, assisted Chris Aslanian '85 with a beautiful feed that resulted in an awesome shot and goal for Westfield. A strong defense was played by Mark Prybylski '85, Doug Unger '84, Tom Barton '84, and John Rochford '84.

The starting attack, consisting of all returning players, Jeff Heintz '85, Ken O'Brien '85 and John Aslanian '85, also performed well in both scrimmages. The starting midfield of Jim Miller '85, Chris Capano '85 and Rob Catania '84, played well controlled, organized games as well. Throughout both games, goalie Steve Ciarrocca '85 did a tremendous job in the net shouting encouragement as well as making outstanding saves for the team. The J.V. lacrosse team is looking forward to a winning season, and as Coach Barner told them, "You have the talent, it's there and you can do it."

Wins Matches

Double winner at the University of Wisconsin is John Norfolk of Westfield, a freshman, who with his partner Jim Holcomb won two recent doubles matches against Carthage and Carroll.

Summit First Target Of Batsmen

By Todd Slamowitz

The 1983 WHS varsity baseball team opens its season Tuesday against Summit. This year, the team is comprised of a new group of players as well as a new head coach. The coach, Robert Brewster, has to look toward a grueling 24 game schedule that includes Union County powers Linden, Union, Irvington and Scotch Plains. The following information, obtained from Coach Brewster, gives a brief description of each player and the position he will play:

Roger Brewster: The only returning starter from last year, he batted .375 and drove in 16 runs which earned him 3rd team Union County honors as a catcher. A contact hitter, he also is an outstanding baserunner. Most importantly, he is a team leader and a coach on the field.

Jack Fialla: The leading hitter through the first three scrimmages, he will occupy 1st base. Last year, Jack hit .360 on JV and demonstrated his ability as a fielder as well as his intelligence as a ballplayer.

Dave Faris: Primarily a 2nd baseman, he is an all-around player. Despite batting .250 on JV last season; Dave rarely made a mistake and proved to be gutsy.

Dan Hauck: An outstanding shortstop, he has good speed and range. Dan also demonstrates intelligence as a baserunner. Last year, he hit .340 on the JV squad.

Dan Grasso: Even though he lacks experience due to an injury which sidelined him last year, Dan will spend time either catching, pitching or playing 3rd. He has good speed and as a pitcher, shows a strong arm and a lively fastball.

Joe Derosa: A member of last year's team, he will either play leftfield or fill the designated hitter role. On varsity last season, Joe batted .395 for only a half year's work and demonstrated outstanding speed.

Pete Murphy: Despite limited varsity action as a rightfielder last year, he still managed to get 3 hits on 9 at-bats. Defensively, Pete has a good glove and a very strong arm. At the plate, he is a power hitter and most likely will bat clean-up.

Mike Parrish: Defensively, he is an outstanding centerfielder who boasts a strong arm as well as good range. A leadoff hitter, Mike batted .460 on JV last year. As a baserunner, he stole 30 of 32 bases.

Kevin Price: Another ballplayer who can either pitch or play the field, primarily left, Kevin played JV last year and batted .460 and led the team in rbi's. As a pitcher, he throws from the side with good speed.

Ken Miller: A very hard worker, he hit .390 on JV last year. An outstanding back-up to Brewster at catcher, Ken is a solid hitter and a leader.

Chris Troy: Primarily he will be used as utility man. Chris can either play 2nd, 3rd or shortstop.

Mike Padula: A back-up to Fialla at 1st, he has outstanding speed and a good glove.

The pitching staff is comprised of five players who will all see action at one time or another during the season. One of them is Dean Luckenbough, a very intelligent pitcher with a good overhand curve. Rob Rotunda, a hard thrower, also has a good breaking ball. Another hard thrower is Steve Garvey. The most surprising pitcher on the staff is Steve Buontempo. He combines an outstanding curve with good speed to produce great control. When the Devils want to spell relief, they will look toward Jack Feeney. He is a side-armer who has a lot of movement on his fastball.

Georgetown, Princeton win Grade 6 Titles

Georgetown and Princeton were winners of the sixth grade WBA cage titles in recent playoffs.

Georgetown 28
North Carolina 26

North Carolina lost a tough one in the final playoff game 28-26, to a solid Georgetown team. The North Carolina team played without its leading scorer, Ted Hobbie, who missed the last month of the season with an injury. Because ofgreat effort by all the players, North Carolina made it to the finals and almost won the playoffs. John Pushko and Sean Lucas each scored six points and led the team in rebounding. John developed a strong offensive game during the season and Sean was a determined rebounder. Tommy Cassidy scored four points and played a sound all around game setting up plays and switching off on defense as he did all season.

Rich Poller scored four points and as usual played a strong defensive game. All season Rich had the skills and the determination to play the leading scorer for every team North Carolina played against.

Chris McEvily, Mike Smith and Tom Marshall each scored two points and helped keep North Carolina in the game. Chris made many steals, showing great hustle on defense. Mike, as the floor leader, kept the offense moving and scoring. Tom Marshall fought hard getting rebounds and loose balls, continuing the great improvement he made over the last part of the season.

Chris Shea, who made so many important plays during the season on the defensive backboard and defensivly, contributed to North Carolina's over-all game. Mike Shoemaker played well at guard, helping to set up plays despite an injury which limited him in the last two games.

North Carolina players had every reason to be proud of the team's effort and improvement during the season.

Princeton 20
Notre Dame 13

Using the well balanced offense, effective rebounding, and tight defense which characterized their play all season, Princeton defeated Notre Dame in the final playoff game by a score of 20 to 13 to capture the league championship. Leading rebounders for the winners were Mark Kumpf, Keith Graf, and Phil Gallagher while once again Mark Gorbaty, John Bomba, Jennifer Baldwin, and Bruce Lowe displayed sound ball handling. Bruce Lowe was also the high man for Princeton with six points with the remaining Tiger scoring being spread among Steve Dzury, Mark Kumpf, Phil Gallagher, and Lisa Clevenger. John Bamba, Lisa Clevenger, Steve Dzury, and Keith Graf were especially effective in leading the Princeton defensive efforts.

Catherine Alexandrou Third In International Ski Race

Catherine Alexandrou, owner and chef of Chez Catherine's Restaurant and Market in Westfield, recently represented the United States in the International Chefs' Ski Race in Leysin, Switzerland, finishing third.

The American team took first place in the women's division and in the overall results.

Catherine earned her place on the U.S. Chefs' Team by finishing second in the women's finals at the Hunter Mountain chefs' race in January.

The U.S. team included chefs from New York City; Seattle, Wash.; Denver, Colo.; Lake Placid, N.Y.; and Hyde Park, N.Y. Next year the international finals will take place in Japan or Europe and Catherine's aim is to bring baack a gold medal for the U.S. team in 1984.

Defeeters Win

The Division 4 Westfield Defeeters, co-captained by Kim Caruana and Justine Ceklosky, played an excellent offensive and defensive game Sunday, defeating the Union Beach Firebirds 3-0.

Despite the cold, rainy weather and poor footing, Anne Wampler scored on a pass from Aliza Best in the first half. Throughout the game, Jen DeRosa, Kim McGowan, Cybill Wooster, Justine Ceklosky, Krissy Johnson, and goalie Kim Kumpf played outstanding defense.

The second half saw two breakaway scoring drives: the first by Anne Wampler for her second goal of the day, and the second by Megan Kelly. Michelle Carratura, Aliza Best, Laura Jimenez, and Anne Wampler narrowly missed additional scores.

As usual, Danielle Nolas, Regan McGonigle, Kim Caruana, and Kim McGowan added strong offensive support to another hard-fought and muddy victory.

Holy Trinity Upsets Two To Win Whalen Trophy

The Holy Trinity Blue Braves won the Monsignor Whalen Tournament by pulling off two major upsets over the two Divisional League champs, St. Agnes (Clark) and undefeated St. Vincent's of Sterling.

After a 14-4 season record and finishing second to St. Vincent's in the National Division of the Suburban Catholic League, the Holy Trinity Blue Braves were seeded third in the tournament. Holy Trinity breezed by their first round game with an easy victory over Holy Spirit (Union) 55-25. Coach Domenick DiIorio knew his team was up and the motivation to go all the way was ignited.

On Tuesday, Holy Trinity went up against the American Division Champs, St. Agnes (Clark) and came from behind to pull off a 52-51 victory. Chris Freer had 27 points and kept the Blue Braves close. However with one second to go and the score tied at 51 all, St. Agnes fouled power forward Teddy Dombrowski in the backcourt. After St. Agnes used all three of its time outs, Dombroski went to the line and sank the free throw and Holy Trinity advanced to the finals.

On Sunday evening, Holy Trinity went up against the league champions and undefeated St. Vincent's. Holy Trinity's game plan was to play a deliberate game and not run. The score at the end of the first half was 19-18 with Holy Trinity being behind as much as eight points at one time.

Holy Trinity's coaching crew decided to change the game plan and attack St. Vincent's zone by penetrating and shooting short jump shots. Chris Freer, all-Tourney and MVP, pumped 24 points in the second half. This outstanding performance, coupled with key baskets from Teddy Dombrowski kept Holy Trinity in the game. With the score tied at 50-50, St. Vincent's planned to hold the ball for the last shot. Coach DiIorio put in his best defensive team and waited for the last 50-seconds to tick away. At 12 seconds St. Vincent's made their move to the basket, Donnie Reeves and Johnny Pirich blocked the middle, with Nolan and Dombrowski not giving the baseline, Chris Freer intercepted a pass to St. Vincent's Shumaker and drove the length of the court for a basket and a 52-50 stunning upset win for the championship.

Holy Trinity also won the foul shooting championship with Todd Della Rocco averaging 12 made shots per contest. Johnny Pirich rebounded for Della Rocco and he averaged 17 rebounds per minute. All of Della Rocco's and Pirich's matches were won in overtime.

To cap-off this great week for Holy Trinity, the Holy Trinity cheerleaders won second place in the Suburban League Cheerleading Contest Saturday. Coach Domenick DiIorio congratulated his team by awarding tournament trophies to each player. Playing their last game for Trinity were John Burkowski, Neil Bradley, Todd Della Rocco, Donnie Reeves, Johnny Pirich, Teddy Dombrowski, Tim Nolan, Captain Glen McSweeney and (MVP) Chris Freer. Returning letterman next year are Mike Czorhn, Daryl McVey, Chucky Wenthers, Chris Roy, Dennis Joy and the undefeated 5th and 6th grade junior Blue Braves.

Coach Domenick DiIorio paid tribute to the support of the cheerleaders, the parents, the student body and its number one fan Mrs. Bonevento, principal of Holy Trinity School.

Matawan Defeats Diplomats 2-0

In a tightly played first half, the visiting Aberdeen-Matawan team squeezed in 2 goals over the Westfield Diplomats Saturday. Diplomat goalied Rich Poller held the number of goals to two despite slippery conditions to end the 2-0 game. Other strong defense came from Josh Klein at fullback, Brian Mellon and Danny Driscoll at midfield. On the offense were David Hancock, Wes Osborne and Martin Dau each with shots on the visitors' goal during a Diplomat - dominated second half.
