POETRY.

OUR CROW.

There's Jane Sepple,
And Ann Marie,
With Obadiah,
And Jedediah,
In our class.

And Jane Sepple supposes dogs
So high you'd think her voice had wings
To see them shoved off society (dogs),
When the lands off on Sunday,
With a face Hundred's one class.
Dogs not in such humble classes votes,
That sneers in the church service,
And also sneers dog on Hungry.

Then Obadiah's inner high
Is unexpressed beneath the sky:
Just near this step (pronounced "ky-ant-By,"
And you will see in wonder,
While Jedediah's tone profound
Goes down so low it jars the ground,
And upon the school room sound,
Like thunder rolling distant.

Talk not to me of dogs, I pray,
Or Sunday's inner hate,
Or Cary's sermon that is same—
Or Hungry's poetic name;
They sing no more like Jane Sepple,
And Ann Marie, Obadiah,
And Jedediah in our choir,
Then cats sing like Tomcat!

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

RUNNING "PILOT."

"Who is standing pilot this evening?" said the superintendent or "boss," as he was called.

"Seth Martin," was the foreman's reply.

"Tell him to come here, will you, and say so?"

Seth Martin is a few minutes, stood before his chief.

"There's a special train up out of Collins ville to-night, Seth."

"I know that," was the curt response.

"And it will require close watching," continued the chief.

"Now you must run pilot to the special train and see that the line's clear up as far as Dartford City. Tie one street at the Trenton Bridge-siding and wait to pull the wagons up the Bunker hollow through the cuttings. Once safe there you can retire along, and mind ye keep a good lookout."

"You bet!" was Seth's reply. "I'd better take my six-shooter, I suppose.—We'll have to fight, maybe?"

"Most likely," replied the Superintendent, "Keep this quiet. I've got men on the lookout along the line. Who's your mate?"

"English Tom Atkins," was the reply.—"He's grit!"

"All right, then," said the chief. "Now, don't drink; keep a full head of steam; bring back the spikes safe, and—"

"Wal?" inquired the other, coolly.

"I'll provide for your family if you've been or shot, if not, I'll reward you."

"Is that all, then? Well, good-night, boss, and thank ye."

"Good luck," was the answer; "I'll not forget you."

Seth Martin turned away with a nod of acknowledgment and descended his sledge to the shop where his engine was "standing pilot." This means that the engine had steam up (or was "on steam," to speak technically) and was ready to run at any emergency. The driver was just as well pleased to run a couple of hundred miles on a dark night, even with the chance of being shot, as to have an invitation to the "White House" itself.

"Tom!"

"Hello!" came back in as unmistakable English voice.

"Fire up a bit; we've bound West; special on o'clock. Keep it quiet."

A man moves by the driver put up his head to listen.

Seth won's man of action; and so was his mate, Tom Atkins. They looked to the gun and their revolvers; put a dozen cartridges in a tin can; filled a similar one with some old Bourbon whiskey at a saloon whither they were followed by the man who had been listening to their conversation, and who noted their preparations.

After communicating with some scoundrels, this mysterious individual hurried home, and while his wife was asleep, he signal box, which stood some distance down the line.

As soon as the engine driver and his mate were recognized, they were warmly welcomed, for they were favorites. Many drinks were tendered for their acceptance, and declined on various plea, till at length, one man declared that the Britisher would to fix an insult on a free born citizen. He offered Seth and Tom a glass apiece, saying:

"What's up mate? Brace off, sh?"

"For this evening," replied Seth, "but as I'd rather drink than fight just now, I'll take your beat." So the man took back the proffered glass, but scarcely tasted it; and soon afterward Seth, feeling that some inkling of his intended mission might leak out, and, knowing that his Bourbon was as good as gunpowder, and then left the saloon. He, as his wont, climbed up into the "cab" of his engine (all American locomotives are so fitted), and began to smoke.

He smoked in comfort for about a quarter of an hour, then he felt "queer."—"There is stronger stuff than usual," he mutered, and he threw the pipe down. He the oppression on his brain became heavier; he felt very sleepy.

"I think I'll have a nap; it's only about nine o'clock. I wind, that's an hour yet.—I wonder where Tom is. It's my opinion Tom will drink too much, or—"

The train of thought was suddenly interrupted. All at once it flashed upon him that he himself had been "drugged" in the saloon!

"That's it; what a thundering idiot I am!" He emptied to rise, but felt quite bewildered. He made negative attempts to stand upright, but could do nothing; he was as useless as a child. He was helpless! He was the victim of his inability to his duty. Too o'clock rang out. He struggled to his feet. His hand was upon the signal, and he was "heavy as leaden weights. He opened the sliding-door, but as he could descend, a blow from behind sent him flying into space, was upheld, and down he sank into a large pool containing a quantity of surplus water for the locomotive tender.

At the same moment three men stumbled up on the engine, and with a low but hearty chuckle, mounted it out from the siding.

"I think we did that neat," said the chief-fat of the party. "I didn't listen to the boss for nothing, you see. Oh! they mistake us are not tripping. Eh, sir?"

"The Scraps will do the bridge, I suppose," said another. "He's as dark as sin by Tom, isn't he?"

"Hey, only on that side. To did that Britisher pretty, I must say. He and Seth were bitter enemies, too."

"Yes, and he's sorry for the other, with a savage laugh. "Did you notice the signals, Abe?"

"Aye; telegraphed ourselves on special, and then cut the wires and cut down the telegraph. We've done nice to Dartford City. What's that?" he added, hastily, as the engine lurched for a second and lifted.

"Only a little water in the tank, sir. We can run easy, I s'pose. The man's hurt, I hope. Here goes!"

The speaker, who knew little about engine driving, turned on the steam and away they went. He leaped his hand for a moment. There's something moving yonder they've found Seth, most likely.

But this portion of the gang of desperadoes had met their mate in English Tom Atkins. For a moment or two he had been overcome by the drugged whiskey, but a sleeps and very effective remedy cured him in the cool of a few minutes afterwards. Creeping along the ground, for he could not well, he recovered of following these men, who, he knew, had "drugged" and left the "treasure" away into the night on the up line. He proposed to give the alarm and follow (on the down metals) with a superior force. He had the advantage, the fugitive is destruction. The up line was cut at the bridge.

"Send a hand, mate, I'm downlin!" This he what Tom heard as he scrambled rather than walked across the metals to seek assistance.

"Seth—Seth Martin; what's happened to you?"

"Those varmints knocked me in more when I was half stupid, but the water has done me good. Help me out, Tom, and we'll be off quick."

Tom, who was rapidly recovering, lent all the assistance he could; and then the drugging driver, quickly wringing the water from his clothes, said, when his mate had laid him what he had done—"Don't breathe a syllable to a mortal man. I know Bob Franklin's engine is in steam by now for the cross traffic. We can be up and off on them down. We may save the special yet. Hurry down to the signal box while I get out the engine."

The two men stood as ordered, but then came back with the intelligence that the box was smashed and the wires cut.

"We doesn't say a word now," said Seth. "What fools we were to take them drinks! Now, Tom, elves in some wood while I off the cranks. I'll leave word with foreman; we are ready."

All these preparations were performed almost as quickly as they are here described. In ten minutes the engine was ready, and in ten minutes more the special train, which was brought out of the shed, but tender first.

"Never mind," said Seth, when Tom asked him, "I'm sure not about as quick. Now, are ye ready?"

The foreman came up at that moment. "It's go on demand," he said, "your fuse's are ready, and the signals objects distinctly, so the glare of the engine furnace lit up the scene below. The engine dashed along—a roar, a creaking noise, the flame leaped, and the engine and the engine gone over. The down line had not been wrecked.

As they slackened speed a long drop whistle was heard, and a dim speed light, and a pale's head on the line in front.

"There's the spesie, Tom. We've done very. Run down easy and then see if we can't help the unfortunate Indian down the bridge. It was a narrow escape!"

It was, indeed. The special train was saved, though, and the Indian was found in the act. Three was drowned, and four more so terribly injured that they died soon after from the effects; Seth and Tom were commended by their chief, and promoted to made inspector; but he and Tom felt guilty that summer night when they were nearly killed while running pilot.

"Good night, Tom."

"Good night, Seth."

"Another day."

"Yes, sir, sorrow that bridge. I'm a going to try it," replied Seth. "Will you chance it?"

"Yes," was the brave answer; "it's kill or cure!"

"Here goes, then; shake hands. God bless ye, mate; if we don't meet again, tell them I died as my post like a man."

The driver and fireman clasped hands in silence, and Seth turning on the full pressure of steam, the engine gathered itself up for the final rush.

Not a sound escaped either of the men. Side by side they stood. The bridge had sought for a weak point, and that post, a form no two hurried quickly out of sight—some of the desperate band now cowed and crushed. In a moment more the bridge was in full view, and the engine dashed on, the flame was all burning around the mighty monster engine, which still emitted sparks and flame. As it flash of lightning will in one brief second reveal all surrounding objects distinctly, so the glare of the engine furnace lit up the scene below. The engine dashed along—a roar, a creaking noise, the flame leaped, and the engine and the engine gone over. The down line had not been wrecked.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR CONGRESS—THIRD DISTRICT.
Hon. MILES ROSS,
OF MIDDLESEX.

FOR CONGRESS—FOURTH DISTRICT,
Hon. A. A. CLARK,
OF SOMERSET.

MILES ROSS.

The Third Congressional District made a wise move when they nominated Hon. Miles Ross for Congress last Tuesday. The unanimity with which the Convention decided that Mr. Ross should be the standard bearer of the Democracy for the Third District in the approaching election evidences that he has many warm friends in the District.

That Union County was entitled to the nomination, no one conversant with politics of the County, can gainsay, but inasmuch as there was no available candidate to present before the Convention from Union County, we have failed to secure the nomination. The record of Mr. Ross, however, for the past two terms in Congress is first-class, and there can be no question of his re-election if the Democracy stand firm for him. He ought to be elected by an increased majority over his last election. He is a discreet representative and looks after the interest of his constituents and district, as is evidenced by his securing the handsome appropriations for the Third District for the construction of a Light House in Raritan Bay, and the dredging of that river to make it navigable. Miles Ross should be returned to Congress by a handsome majority.—We believe that he will be.

The Second Congressional District Democratic Convention will be held at Bordentown, on Wednesday, Sept. 11th, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for member of Congress.

A treasure has just been discovered in the ancient ducal palace of Andria, near Naples, which belongs at present to the Spagnoletti family. It consists of 400,000 ducats, $180,000 in gold. The present owner, in examining a plan of the building, noticed a door marked where none now exists. He had the wall pierced and found an entrance into a chapel, in which was deposited a coffer containing the coin. It had been concealed there by the Duke d'Andria when he emigrated to Germany at the time of the French invasion of Italy.

Dr. William F. Carver, the celebrated marksman, was married Tuesday evening, Aug. 20th, to Josephine Dailey of New Haven Conn., a very popular and accomplished lady. Only a few friends of the contracting parties knew of the intended marriage. Nevertheless, a number of prominent citizens were in attendance. Dr. Carver became acquainted with the brother of the bride in California, and formed an acquaintance with Miss Dailey since he has been east. The bridal party left for New York and Philadelphia the same evening. The presents were costly and handsome.

What is the matter down in New England? All the first-class financial "irregularities" seems of late to be reported from that centre of power and culture. Some of the best of Puritan blood runs through the veins of the delinquents, which constrains the Boston Herald to rise up and remark: Pond, Chace, Hathaway, Winslow, Wright, Jackson, Tappan. You don't recognize any German names in that list, do you? Nor is one of this list an "ignorant Irish Catholic." Not one of them is a Hebrew. They all sat in the best pews of our Protestant Churches.

The Yellow fever scourge has become an epidemic in New Orleans. From one hundred to one hundred and fifty new cases occur every day with the deaths in the proportion of one to five. Already the plague has spread, and daily it can be seen how it marches North. At first a few isolate cases occur in a town, then the cases become more numerous, and then the disease becomes epidemic. This was the case with Grenada, Mississippi, Vicksburg and Memphis. The isolated cases have stretched farther North, and one has even occurred at the head of navigation in the city of Pittsburg.

The West Jersey Press says: It appears from the best attainable evidence that the wheat crop in New Jersey this year is the largest in acreage, the best in quality, and the most prolific in yield, of any ever harvested in the State. There may be some sections where the quality is not fully up to the standard, but taken as a whole there is a larger ratio of good wheat than ever. As much can hardly be said of the oat crop, although that is believed to be equal to the average. The recent soaking rains have placed the corn crop beyond injury, except from early frost. This condition of things leaves the farmers nothing to complain of except the low prices, which, it would appear, have about reached the bottom.

The Connecticut Greenback-Labor Convention has nominated a State ticket and adopted a platform similar to that adopted by their co-thinkers elsewhere. Charles Atwater is the nominee for Governor. Nearly every evil complained of and every reform demanded is the subject of National legislation. This is entirely so as relates to the financial question, and it would puzzle the leader of this movement to substantiate their charge that the Democratic party is in any way responsible, either for the mischief or the failure to apply the remedy, in view of the fact that it has had no power to do or undo in the past twenty years. It would also puzzle them to explain what State officers or Legislatures have to do with these national grievances.—True American.

The Fifth Fall Exhibition of the Woodbury Park Agricultural Association will be held at Woodbury on the 17th, 18th and 19th of September.

3d Congressional Convention.

Miles Ross Nominated by Acclamation.

The centre of anxiety of the Democracy of the 3d Congressional Dist. of the State of New Jersey, was the vicinity of Library Hall, Elizabeth, on Tuesday morning last. At an early hour delegates began to arrive from all parts of the district, retiring at once to their headquarters, the Middlesex county delegates at Library Hall, Monmouth at the Sheridan House, and Union County at the Court House.

In the Middlesex delegation they were led by such old war-horses of the Democracy as ex-Assemblyman Campbell, Assemblyman Convery, Alderman O'Gorman, of New Brunswick, and Gordon, of the Times, and others.

Monmouth sent in such men as Col. Austin Paterson, John H. Paterson, Assemblyman Bennett, Doctor Conover and others.

The Union County delegation was led by Gen. Fay, Jr., backed by such staunch men as Director Martine, County Clerk Vosseller, Counsellor Maxson, Captain Gill, of Elizabeth, Daniel Hetfield, of Rahway, and the best Democratic stock of the county.

Each delegation held caucuses at their headquarters, but their deliberations were secret. After the Monmouth delegation met it was rumored that they conceded to Union county the candidate, and had resolved to support Judge Robert S. Green. This was a good augury for the success of the Union county man, but needed a further confirmation by the convention. Up to the time of the call of the convention the result of the other caucuses was not learned.

Bets were freely offered, two to one, that Ross would be the candidate, but found no takers. Other bets were offered, but there was very little money passed hands. Everybody, even to the smallest ward politician, seemed to know just how the convention was going, but as they differed considerably, their veracity was somewhat doubted. Middlesex, it transpired later, resolved by a vote of 46 to present the name of Miles Ross.

The candidates were numerous, and were flying around and button-holeing at a great rate. Mr. Hazeltine had his headquarters at Schwartz's, but had but few callers.

Promptly at 12 o'clock the delegates began to take their allotted seats in the body of the hall, there being also numerous spectators.

Capt. W. H. Gill, in the absence of the chairman of the last convention, being chairman of the Union County Executive Committee, called the convention to order, and called for a chairman.

Gen. J. A. Fay, Jr., nominated Maj. James S. Yard permanent chairman, and he was elected unanimously, being led to the chair by Gen. Fay and Mr. Deshler.

Maj. Yard, in taking the chair, thanked the convention for the honor conferred upon him.

For Secretary, Union presented Geo. C. Grundy; Monmouth, David S. Crater, and Jas. S. Parsells, of Middlesex.

Mr. Patterson, of Monmouth, moved that one Vice-Pres. from each county be selected. Carried.

Middlesex nominated Judge A. P. Provost, Union, C. W. L. Martine, Monmouth, Thos. S. Cook.

Gen. Fay moved that three committees be appointed—one on rules, one on resolutions, and one on Constitution. Carried.

The following were selected Committee on Rules: Oliver Kelley, of Middlesex, A. S. Clark, of Union, J. L. Whelan, of Monmouth.

Committee on Resolutions—Henry Farmer, of Middlesex; T. B. Kingsland, of Union; Alfred Walling, of Monmouth.

Committee on Credentials—Wm. H. Price, of Middlesex; Jas. S. Vosseller, of Union, and G. U. P. Cooper, of Monmouth.

The several committees reported their delegates all correct without opposition, and these reports by the several chairmen were accepted by the convention as the report of the Com. on Credentials.

Gen. Fay moved that the Convention take a recess to half-past 1 o'clock, but a delegate from Middlesex moved it be 2 o'clock, which prevailed, and a recess was then declared to 2 o'clock.

AFTER THE RECESS.

Pursuant to adjournment the Convention was called to order at two o'clock by the Chairman, Major Yard, and the first business was the report of the Committee on Rules. These rules, for the government of the Convention, were read and approved. Counties to be called in alphabetical order, with vote by chairman of each delegation.

The Committee on Resolutions made the following report:

The Democrats of the Third Congressional District, in Convention assembled, declare:

First—Their adherence to the time-honored principles of the Democratic party and their entire opposition to the principles and practices of the Republican party.

Second—They remind the people of the continuous National and State prosperity under Democratic rule prior to the year eighteen hundred and sixty; they point with pride to the immense reduction in National expenditures accomplished by a Democratic House of Representatives in the face of the opposition of a Republican Senate; and the great decrease of one-third in our State taxation under a Democratic Administration should receive the commendation of all good citizens, irrespective of party.

Third—The universal stagnation in business affairs; the widespread distress among the laboring and other classes, all call for remedial legislation; the Democratic party has always protected these interests and these classes, while on the contrary, in the language of one of the noted leaders of the Republican party, "The misery of the poor in the land to-day is due to the infamous legislation and the accursed system of laws enacted by the Republican party in the interest of capitalists; every law enacted by the Republican party being for the rich and against the poor."

Fourth—That the business prostration; the financial depression; the trials and vicissitudes of the laboring interests; the misery of the working man; the frauds and thievery and corruption that now blight our nation, originated with the advent to power of the Republican party, which for eighteen years has controlled the affairs of our Government and brought it to the verge of moral and financial ruin.

Fifth—That we hereby condemn the fraudulent manner in which Hayes was placed in the Presidential chair, after having been repudiated by a large majority of the popular vote, and we approve the action of the House of Representatives in appointing a committee to investigate these frauds which robbed the people of their political rights, and we earnestly recommend that measures be taken to punish all who aided or abetted in this infamous business.

Sixth—That our present representative in Congress, Hon. Miles Ross, has faithfully and honestly labored for the interests of this District during the past four years, securing at the last session liberal appropriations for long needed improvements, that entitle him to the thanks of the people of this District, and of the State.

The resolutions were adopted, altho' Mr. James E. Martine offered an amendment incorporating a strong Greenback plank in the platform, but not being a part of the report of the Committee was not considered, and referred back to the Committee.

Upon a call of the Convention for nominees, Mr. Deshler in a glowing speech on behalf of forty-six members of the Middlesex delegation, put in nomination the Hon. Miles Ross, two for ex-Governor Parker and one for Mr. Thompson.

Monmouth county nominated Miles Ross, and the entire fifty three votes were cast for that gentleman.

Union County's delegation announced 28 votes for Miles Ross, 21 for Hazeltine, 2 for Thompson and 1 blank.

General Fay moved that the Hon. Miles Ross be unanimously nominated by acclamation. Which was carried. Whereupon the Hon. Miles Ross was declared the nominee of the Convention.

Mr. F. W. Bauer tried to speak, but was declared out of order.

A Committee of one from each County was nominated to inform Mr. Ross of his nomination.

While this motion was prevailing Marsh N. Tucker, an Elizabeth delegate, insisted on making a stump speech, interrupting the proceedings of the Convention, and at last was quieted by the police.

The Hon. Leon Abbett being present, made an address, by request, but the irrepressible Tucker again interrupted and was carted out by the police.

Mr. Abbett was at last heard, and said that a man who entered the Democratic party must learn that if the majority of their choice name a candidate, it is their place to work, and not to balloo. Every man had a right to his choice, but if he fails, it is his duty to stand by the choice of his fellow Democrats.

And now, beyond all times, it is the duty of the party to follow those principles that honest government may again follow in these United States. What we want is Union, to give a solid front under such leaders as the majority may select. It is necessary for the perpetuity of the free institutions of this country. We want men to sink personal considerations and men to stand shoulder to shoulder a solid barrier against Republican fraud and corruption. We want eternal bearing testimony against that Fraud in the White House. We want to see that party buried from power, and whatever we may believe as to the candidates of party, we want a House of Representatives politically composed of Democrats.

The next President may be elected by this House of Representatives and we want this House to see that no Hayes creeps in again. A man of a different calibre from Hayes' has got to be fought, and that is the man on horseback. You had better have a Democrat five terms, rather than a Republican one term. I see in these delegates, men who have fought for the Democracy in good and ill, in victory and defeat. Why is it that Miles Ross is nominated? Because it has fallen to his lot, to do what it has never fallen to a predecessor to do. He has secured more money for the improvement of this District than all the money ever before secured. The interests of the people will be best subserved by returning Miles Ross where he is, for he is a sterling Democrat, and a man for the times. The only traitor in a Democratic camp is one who tries to stab a candidate in his back after he is nominated. It is better for the Democratic party to have years of defeat than to truckle to traitors. Some people when they don't get what they want, make a row, but when the crowd comes around they fall into line. For the rank and file of the Democratic party, they are all in favor of the Hon. Miles Ross, who can be elected.

The chairman announced that by one hundred and twenty-seven votes against twenty-eight votes, the Hon. Miles Ross was nominated the candidate of this Convention for the Third District. The chair also announced the appointment of Messrs. Paterson, Deshler and Martine to inform Mr. Ross of his nomination.

Col. Zulic, of Essex, was then introduced, and gave a glowing address, full of good meat, and to the point. He referred to the fact that the Hon. Miles Ross was the solitary vote of New Jersey, against that damnable Electoral Commission. This, if no other, should commend him to the Democracy. As the Democracy value free institutions, sink all personality, and join hand in hand to uphold the man who has done more for this district to assist its material interests than any other man. He who has proved a true, a tried member of the Democracy, will be found a true man throughout for the Democracy. This next Congress may be called upon to decide who is the legally elected President, and it becomes necessary to rebuke that fraud by an earnest and sincere Democrat like Miles Ross.

The Convention was then declared adjourned by the Chair, and the members dispersed with the exception of the irrepressible Marsh H. Tucker, who insisted on making a speech to the empty benches.

WHEN a man whistles like a mad or a peppermint and then sends his job printing out of town to be executed, his sincerity is about as thin as a sheet of lightning, which subsequent proof of the proof of the pudding is the eating thereof.

THE following named gentlemen were elected delegates to attend the Democratic Congressional Convention held at Elizabeth Friday evening last: James S. Cornelier, James E. Mattine, Wm. B. Maxson, Jonas H. Pierson, R. C. Morse, John Rafferty.

DR LOWRIE'S horse seems to have a preference for the City National Bank. Last Sunday was the animal ran away and brought up at the above place, no damage. Monday last he arrived at the same spot, the carriage behind him minus the two hind wheels.

THOMAS Clery, an employee of Wallace Vail, shot a large crane near the spring on top of the mountain, known as Vail's spring, on Tuesday morning last. It measured six feet from wing to wing. Mr. Vail said the bird to taxidermist Jacob Van Winkle, of this city, to have the same stuffed.

AN exchange remarks: It's funny that when you ask a man to advertise, he generally declines with the statement that "no one will see it." But if you advertise some little paper or site in the new edition gratis, he gets indignant over the certainty that everybody will see it.

WHILE running to the fire on Mr. Wilson's property, last Monday evening, Charles Long fell from the upper floor of the hose house and was run over by the wheels of the machine, his left leg being badly bruised. Dr. Tomlinson attended the case, and "Charley" is getting along all right, with no bones broken.

HON. ALDERMAN SULLIVAN, of New York, has notified Mr. Chas. ZEPHYR H. & L. Co., No. 1, will give a picnic in College Grove, Thursday, Sept. 5th, 1878. Menzhen's Band of New York will furnish the music for the occasion. Tickets 50 cents. This is the first picnic under the auspices of the above mentioned company, the "Zephs" are noted for their hospitality and generosity, coupled with the public in this, their first effort, to give a pleasant day's enjoyment. When duty calls then they are always ready to respond.

On one occasion, at a public dinner in Boston, Daniel Webster, the late Judge Story, of the United States Supreme Court, and Mr. Everett was present, the former presiding. In one of those felicitous little speeches for which he was distinguished, he concluded by calling Mr. Everett up, and saying, "Time travels where Everett goes." Mr. Everett's remarks, bright and scholarly, as was always to be expected, were duly set by the reporter, "However far and high my name may go, it can never rise above our Story."

Drunken Thieves.

On Wednesday evening of this week a horse was stolen from the stable of Mr. John Lindsay, the Front Street florist, and the same night a set of harness, second wagon and two barrels of potatoes were taken from the barn of H. C. Randolph, in the North Hills. Mr. R. tracked them to New Brunswick and found the place where they had sold the potatoes, and purchased whiskey with the money. Lindsay (Thursday) met James Kilmer, of the city, not then in New Market, and had offered to trade horses. Mr. Lindsay at once recognized Mr. Lindsay's horse immediately, and seeing that the man was intoxicated, allowed them to talk and drink until they were pretty well stewed, and then, in the presence of getting them to come to this city for the purpose of getting money to make the trade, locked them up in the office of Dodd and Hope, who had been notified of the affair and the property in question was owned. They gave their name as John Kilmer, of Dunellen, and Jacob Van Fleet, of Middlesex, and Rahway.

Personalia.

Mr. W. S. Smalley, son in law of George E. Rowley, E. q., sailed for Europe on Saturday last in the "Egypt." He intends to be away about three months.

Our recorded townsman, Wm. B. Maxson, Esq., is spoken of in connection with the Democratic nomination for Senator of Union County, who they say would accept the nomination. Union County could not proud of her Senator, in his person. He meets all the necessary requirements, for an able, upright Senator.

Col. Cogswell, a former resident and ex-Commissioner of Plainfield, is visiting friends in this place. Col. C. is Governor of the hotel-dom's Home, Washington, D. C.

Wm. B. Maxson, Esq., returned to his home late on Friday, after a two week's visit to Port Pleasant, Ocean Co., looking and feeling better for his respite from business cares.

Thanks to Father Walters (father-in-law of G. Hyde, Esq.) for peaches, and a handsome specimen, grown under his wakful care in "Dora's" garden.

La Crosse.

The heavy dark clouds that rolled up from the west and south-east on Saturday last threatened rain at intervals during the day, and the otherwise threatening appearance of the weather deterred many from visiting the Plainfield Athletic grounds to witness the La Crosse games which came off as announced on that day; nevertheless, a fair attendance greeted the two clubs who engaged in the sport, and expressed their enthusiastic admiration of the game which goes to this truly exciting and admirable game.

The free tickets issued by the B. A. C. to give a exhibition of this game to Mr. Ravenswood and New York La Crosse Clubs the former from Ravenswood, L. I., City, headed by E. Ehall, a noted player from Canada, with a number of other players as follows: W. P. Hoby, G. Goldsmith, A. D. Hoby, A. A. Nichols, Robt. Graham, W. H. Journey, R. J. Slater, W. H. Atwood, Geo. Cockfield, and Jas. Cockfield, and the latter, comprising many of the members of the N. Y. Athletic Club, Captain, E. Lockington, assisted by H. Lockington, C. W. Lockington, Wm. Cockfield, C. Hall, M. T. Pryer, E. M. Hammond, H. E. Fisher, J. Letts, J. M. Mitchell, M. La Montagne and Geo. Cockfield, with Mr. Geo. Cockfield as the services of Michael Dorcheste the celebrated Iroquois Indian as coacher. It was arranged that four games out of seven should decide the contest, the play was commenced. The first goal was won by the Ravenswood club after some pretty hard fighting, in seven minutes; the same club won also the three others in 26, 16 and 5 minutes respectively. At the conclusion of the games a handsome silver cup, valued at fifty dollars, was awarded to the winning club, and after an original design presented for those games. It was noticeable that while the N. Y. Club had a majority of the players, and the second of the Canada club, the Ravenswood boys played all around them, showing more activity and a greater understanding of the game than the N. Y. Club. This is attributable to the fact that the members of the Ravenswood team all reside in one town, and are consequently under the instruction of their accomplished captain during practice, while the New York team are composed of men on the other hand the N. Y. team are consequently scattered, and practice together is almost impossible. They have the material, however, and under the tuition of Dorchester, there is no reason why they should not become a very formidable club.

La Crosse is a French game for an Indian game, and is purely an American sport, having its origin with the aborigines of America; it is destined to take the place of cricket, foot ball and base ball, being more graceful, less dangerous and more interesting than any of them.

Undue prominence has been given the Athletic entertainment in connection with the La Crosse games by many of the New York dailies, and a few remarks of dissatisfaction have been made by spectators as to the management of the Athletic features of the day. There were not the annual games of the Club, and were they anything more than a few exercises introduced to fill up the intervals between the goals in the La Crosse match, it was therefore necessary to smooth the movements of the two teams before starting them, which accounts for the delay in a few instances. The events were four only. 1st, one hundred yard dash, 1st heat, J. W. Murray, jr., F. V. Smith, (Harlem), C. E. Arnold—win by inches; 2st in 12 seconds; J. W. Murray, jr., second. 2d Heat, J. Harvey Dunn and Jno. DeCamp, who came in together in 12½ seconds. The winning of the final heat was won off first and second in trial heats taking part, this, the judges said, resulted in a dead heat between Murray and Dunn, Cockfield, Arnold and Freeman ran. Cockfield winning, very pretty, in 16¾. Atwood second. Jos. W. Gavett and E. P. Morris contested the one mile walk. Gavett taking the lead and keeping it to the finish, and winning quite easily in 8 34½.

The hurdle race followed, by far the prettiest exercise of the day, and the contest called forth many complimentary remarks. J. W. Gavett, C. E. Arnold and Jno. DeCamp were the contestants, the first two taking the lead, but at the fourth hurdle Gavett dropped out. Arnold and DeCamp ran well together, Arnold leading slightly till the fourth hurdle was reached, here Arnold struck the hurdle and fell with it, DeCamp winning in 21 seconds.

The three mile walk between J. W. Gavett and E. P. Morris, was won by the latter in 29 min. 30 sec. The relay race was not run owing to the lateness of the hour.

After the exercises of the day were finished the company, the Club visiting clubs, the committee adjourned to Letag's Parlor, where a plentiful hot meal was spread. They then marched in line to the depot. When the last train rolled from the depot, every window and from the platform of the rear car, Sombreros were set off, continuing until the train passed out of sight, and thus ended a day of great that was present to see our visitors off.

WASHINGTON ROCK NEWS.

The readings, recitations and vocal and instrumental at the Washington Rock House on Friday evening last were most enjoyable. Miss Turner, of New York, rendered "The Parish Boy" with her usual effect. Mr. Dubell rendered a humorous selection and was loudly applauded. Mr. J. H. Steele gave the Trial Scene from Pickwick Papers, entirely from memory, and he had laughter, with a decided display of disruption of "A Visit to the Sisters" by Mr. Townley, of Elizabeth, was most decidedly funny. Mrs. Philbrick's singing received an encore which it got, and Mrs. Kelsham's execution of "Baby Mine," was received with the most marked approval. A very novel feature of a "CAKE WALK" in full full costume of the band by all the guests of the house was engaged in with the greatest enjoyment by all concerned. The Judge, Mr. Kelsham, of New York, awarded the prize for the most graceful imitation of a "Cake Walk" as constitutionally modest that he declines having his name mentioned. This is the second time the Judge has been at Uncle Jack's, New York, was then decided and delightful speaker and witty economic by Mr. Kelsham, and the entertainment concluded with lively and prolonged dancing.

Dispute as to election between Gen. Dodge and Edward Kennedy in front of Mr. D's store on Somerset Street, Wednesday afternoon last they came from words to blows, during which Mr. D. received a stroke on the head by Kennedy, receiving two ugly wounds. It was at first thought that Mr. D. was fatally injured, but a careful examination by Drs. Tomlinson and O Hara revealed no serious injuries. K omisly was arrested by Constable Warren the same evening and taken before Justice Stagg, and he had bail in the $200. Patrick Gunner became his bondsman and Kennedy was released. The matter will probably not come before the court until further evidence bring to light.

Vote of Thanks.

Relief Hose's P. A. S. Society of Plainfield, N. J., desire to express their thanks to Mr. Wm. Hall, of Somerset, for his generous offer to allow the use of his grounds for the purpose of a Picnic, and the otherwise threatening appearance of the weather deterred many from visiting the Plainfield Athletic grounds to witness the La Crosse games which came off as announced on that day; nevertheless, a fair attendance greeted the two clubs who engaged in the sport, and expressed their enthusiastic admiration of the game which goes to this truly exciting and admirable game.

SCOTCH PLAIDS SCRATCHING.

The Government of Spain has granted at the request of Queen Victoria, twenty stamps, and the five ministers are at loggerheads with the three other ministers, who want the stamps to be given out immediately, and the Queen and Queen Victoria, who want the stamps to be given out immediately, but it very seldom that planning event.

Mrs. Cornelia S. Bedell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was one morning recently opening the morning mail, Mr. Joseph H. Osborn, her then conjugating lord, was seated at the breakfast table, when he heard the wife exclaim, "Oh! the dreadful statement of Dr. Abram Cohen, who is confined in the city prison, upon our arrival in Brooklyn, I saw the advertisement of his wonderful discovery. Here, Hi, it is the only surviving child of the late Hezekiah Osborn."

The Rev. Joseph C. Beckwith, who has been Pastor of the Baptist Church since July 1st, last, preached his farewell sermon to his flock, and at the Church on Sunday next, Aug. 25th. The Church and congregation, with great unanimity have given a hearty call to Mr. Beckwith, and expectations from the interest Pastor. He goes on Tuesday next to Bergen Point, Hudson County, to take charge of the Baptist Church at Pemberton, Burlington county, New Jersey.

Mr. Jno. Ferguson, of Mr. Hohnsteiner from Europe, in and his brother in law, Theodore Rai, left for Europe on Saturday last, their residence at their old home, "Mountain Cliff."

The Sunday School connected with the Baptist Church, Rev. L. R. Scarborough, pastor, went to a picnic to Bergen Point on Tuesday, at about 7.30 o'clock, A. M., the concern had arrived, with their goods, in all about forty feet long, gathered at the appointed place and had their carriages unloaded, and their tents, ready to be convenient to the beach. Capital of all description were drawn up and wagons quickly loaded with "provisions, drinks," and by 8 o'clock were winding their way, and shouts of joy and laughter rang out from the merry crowd. The roads were in excellent condition, no dust, no mosquitoes; the weather was delightful, the air cool and bracing, and all were merry and happy. The distance, thirteen miles, was made in about two hours, and the ride was delightful. It happened the day was a Baptist Baptist day "set back Winter," for here came there in great numbers, Brothers Pitman, Morris, Hopper, Ferguson, Vanderbilt, Cole, Bonnell, Dunham, Ayres, Hunter, the conductor, Mr. Hunter, who was the universal rule of action. Although the Sunday School had carefully entered into the arrangements of the grounds for his School, yet he did what he could for the pleasure and comfort of the Baptists, and in the most way at the popular resort, including, bathing, swinging, music, dancing, &c., &c., and at 4 o'clock P. M., the order for returning was given at six o'clock, and speedily all were aboard for the homeward ride, and at 7 o'clock the cars were in Plainfield, and the excursion, the Sunday School picnic, was over.

Hunter, the conductor, was a great favorite with the Baptists.

Dr. J. A. Coles, who has been abroad on a tour through Europe and Palestine for the past year and a half, is expected to return home next month. He is now in Scotland.

Thomas R. Mead, Esq., of the firm of Baker & Mead, takes a leave of absence from business cares and activities some time this week. He proposes going to central New York, and to be away about one month.

Dr. Bethuel Dodd, of Newark, paid a visit to some friends in this village on Tuesday last, and he says the yellow fever has taken up his residence here again at no distant day.

Owing to the absence of Abner J. Harvey Esq., from the city, on Saturday, that gentleman and his wife were prevented attending the Masonic Picnic at Bergen Point, but for this circumstance they much regretted it all. We are glad to learn however, that under the treatment of Dr. Scott, of Newark, they are in recovering.

On Sunday morning last Administrator Rev. Mr. Hewitt, pastor of the Baptist Church that owing to a break in the bell of the church, it would be well to postpone the morning service. The people of this village will therefore be under the necessity of relying upon current time pieces as the sun, to call them to the sanctuary.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

Mr. Dartmuth is out with a new wagon. Rent is said to be lately purposes with a hand to assist. The wagon was made under his own supervision by Mayor Ragland, and the painting and trimming done by Mr. Lewis, of Irving's Carriage Manufactory.

The Town Committee met Tuesday, Aug. 20, at the Republican headquarters, and transacted the business of the Assembly, and such other business as came before them.

Steps are being taken by some of our commuting citizens to place two additional lanterns at the Depot, one at each end of the platform, early after midnight. We still keep inquiring, notwithstanding all that is said to the contrary, the Trinity Church Sunday School held a Picnic in Bergen Point on Tuesday last, and the cars were filled with the Sunday School scholars, and the Baptists, but not deter the friends of the Trinity Church from their Picnic.

Town drinking voters that were not favorable to giving anything toward the town and pump yet have made to order at Smith's at 24 W. Front St. the real, and told us "it went amount to much," are about right. It is now nearly a week since any one has set in to fill the pump in the old hole in the alley, the dust is 2 feet, and the cobwebs fell on, "if I dare say."

Mr. Geo. Conklin is building a fine residence on Elm Street, near Dudley Ave. Mr. J. N. Wood is doing the carpenter work and Mr. Geo. Conklin masonry. It will be one of the finest buildings on that street.

Mr. J. T. Lawrence who has been absent from our village for the past three months on his annual western tour, has again returned.

Mr. Chas. Cornelison has taken over town for a short visit through the Eastern States. Mrs. L. H. Wilcox attends to Mrs. Conant's business during her absence.

The Overseer of Road Dist. No. 2 has repaired Brown Street, through to the gutter, and Grant Street above to The Crescent Avenue. We hope he will continue on in his good work and extend, I fear it will be a long job, Grant Street, Dudley to Quimby St.; they have completely escaped from his work as it has it is impossible to get along that side of the street.

Mr. A. Mrs. J. G. Bidard, a young married couple from New York, spent a few days in our south-West over Sunday and Monday. Their destination is San Francisco, Cal.

MONTEVIDEAN.

Our road overseer is very cautious; the road running past R. T. Halsted's is a terrible condition, the overseer has spent a day or two there through the hill into the centre of the road, and wagons are liable to upset in this particular place.

Gen. Savage is the lucky man now. By latest advices from England he will soon receive a Revolver of from Hartley & Hilliard of this city. He has let him and his sister as parent of this. We congratulate Gen. Savage, but hope that he will not be so much over-fatigued, but continue to use the pump of the heart's side before cooking or stirring up the fire.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

(Enter the above heads two small matters each week to give items and news of interest to the lovers of sport, and the fraternity, and to collect sport. We shall be pleased to receive communications from the Sportsmen on matters connected in such matters.)

The Gentle game company, (Victoria Reserve) of Elmira, General Ira Spencer Drake commanding, will visit Plainfield, Sept. 4, at the greater of the Washington Continental. The company will parade at branch landing cities and their battery of Gatling guns, in the use of which the command is strongly practiced, each member being a sergeant of the last war.

John H. Stock is the champion fisherman of Lamertville. He is the fellow who, in the Delaware, one day recently, and threw in his line and hooked a fish weighing 3 pounds. He soon noticed a "nibble" at his line and upon landing in found that he had a fine fish on each hook. The incident set them in a concerted motion, saying Sorry this is five quart home! This is not a "fish story," but is just as necessary true as any history ever built.—Hunterdon Co. Democrat.

Bell's Life, Aug. 3, 1878:—"Mr. G. Bowen has left his employment and and real estate, Bank St., to Mr. Lewis Bowen, the latter gentleman for the last year past for a single notice. It will be remembered that Mr. Bowen engaged to game for sport at Abingdon, and from the time he was with him the Hamilton Sports the Kennel Club Gladstone Club, and a number and third state of Kennels and Shrewsbury, added to which he was the Open Dog Show and the Gladstone Club at Shrewsbury before Mr. Bowen bought him. Dash has been rightly considered the best looking setter that has ever commenced a field trial, and as he is now a years Lamertville, combining the two best qualities of a dog, viz., beauty and work, he will be a great accessory to a most invaluable club at the time he was tried by John Armstrong, and was got by the late Mr. Malcolm's Ross Pilot out of Gladstone by Mr. Laverack's Old Dash out of Kate, by Mr. Field's Dash, and he is now five years old.

The Commissioners of Sportsmen's Commission for the summer after to many years absence recalls an incident in the business of Mass that, perhaps, ought to endorse the commission of the Commissioners of Sportsmen's Commission, which was refused from Boston to Albany, which shows that the sportsmen of the State are not the sport of that time. By invitation of the Commissioners of the road, the executive officers and Legislatures of New York and Massachusetts met in the Hall on the fourth of the month and dinner was served at the Hall, at which time, the Governor was called "the father of the New York Senate," gave this toast:—"The happy union of the sister states of Gotham and Gothic; may their joyous prosperity and mutual benefit be the enduring foundation of the superstructure of the Commissioners Sportsmen."

A moneyless, but arithmetical darkey, has just counted the ties on the narrow gauge railroad to Atlantic City. There are 142,500. The signal service officer now proposes to send him out on the shore to count the mosquitoes.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

INTERESTED FOR RAILROADS MEN.—I suffered for more than a year with indigestion, and during the last six months I was very ill from constipation, becoming a victim to Liver Complaint, which I pronounced incurable. I was Remedy, your Regulator was recommended to me, I tried it, and it cured me. I feel it my duty to make this statement for the benefit of others, hoping they may be induced to try the medicine, and be cured of their sufferings, as I was. I have no interest in the matter, only that of my friends and of all, and have spoken of the virtues you claim for it. Respectfully yours, JOHN F. HOLT, Conductor M. and W. R.R."

"CONSIDERATION POSTPONED.—Our Stock of Clothing will meet your case. It is simply the old story of the Lion and the Mouse. Call and see for yourselves. It is cheap. Yours, &c., BAKER & BILLOTT, Proprietors, 1194 Broadway, New York.

ELEGANT GARDENIC SHIRT, the Colorado and gold in the hand, has received unprecedented success. Its wearers are enthusiastic from the centre of a celebrated physician, it was made to order for a gentleman who has worn it for years, and he says it is the most comfortable shirt he ever wore. Sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.50. Address, BAKER & BILLOTT, Proprietors, No. 1194 Broadway, New York.

A new enterprise is talked of in Warren county. A line of railroad from the Kingsnub Mine, near Danville, to the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, near Hackettsville, a distance of between five and six miles, is contemplated.

This the time, and that's the place, at Yeager's, to buy your Stoves and Tinware. Yeager's Stove Store, 24 Cherry St.

Preliminary work has been commenced on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad for laying a double track. It is intended to lay an additional track to Hadonfield so soon as possible, and thence it will be continued to Atlantic City, probably by the opening of the season of 1879.

The census taker of Philipsburg has completed his labors and reports the number of children between the ages of five and eighteen at 2,721. The approximated population is 7,132. The largest families found by the census taker was that of George Heater, who has twelve children, and Jas. Thompson who has fourteen.

COMMUNICATED.

For "The Constitutional."

MESSRS EDITORS:

Here am I perched up as an object of derision—like a convict in a pillory—with his ears exposed and hidden by the jeering multitude with contempt. Hitherto have I not been a faithful servant of the public? Out in all kinds of weather, night and day, feeling all the ills of the elements, and yet my hands pointing to and my tongue pointing loudly each passing hour both day and night, with but little or no compensation? And this have I done for years, and continued to do until forbearance had wound to a value. Yet a number of times I have been unkinded and stroke high and long, and on reflection concluded to go on in the same limited track, until really I came to the conclusion that the public did not appreciate the value of the use of my time, so held up my hands with disgust and concluded to stop. I once had a faithful servant, a French man, and during the time he was with me I kept my tongue, but as the citizens did not contribute or compensate me for my time and labor, therefore I could not remun

Miscellaneous Reading.

THE FIRST LOCOMOTIVE.

The average citizen will be taken by surprise when told that the first locomotive engine ever placed on a track on this continent was "steamed up" and started just fifty years ago on the 8th day of August. The trial trip was made at Honesdale, Pa., by the "Stourbridge Lion," an engine built in Stourbridge, England, and the credit for this pioneer enterprise belongs to the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company.—Mr. Horatio Allen, now 77 years of age, and a resident of South Orange, N. J., was the man who pulled the first throttle valve on that day, and to whom the charge of building the engine was intrusted by the company when he was sent to England.—Washington Republican.

The following, from the New York Express editorial on the political complexion of the House, is such a careful review of the political prospects at the present time that we re-print it for the benefit of the readers of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST:

"The country is being repeatedly informed by the 'loyal organs' that the majority in the next House of Representatives will be Republican. Where this majority is to come from they do not state, and when an attempt is made to pin them down to facts and figures it is noticeable that on those occasions the loyal organs are invariably not there. They, however, have admitted one point, namely, that the South will return a solid Democratic delegation. With this in the start, it is easy to perceive how embarrassing it might be to make an explanation as to where a Republican majority was to be obtained.

"In the present Congress, there was, on certificates of election, a Democratic majority of thirteen. The political division of the Southern delegation—including Missouri and West Virginia—is divided into ninety-three Democrats and thirteen Republicans.—If this delegation was solidly Democratic, as it is admitted it will be in the next Congress, the majority in the present House instead of being thirteen would amount to thirty-nine. But it is possible that in Missouri, North and South Carolina the Republicans will carry one district in each State.—Deducting this, there would still be left a Democratic majority to overcome of thirty-three. Where the Republicans hope to make sufficient changes in the North to overcome this adverse majority it is difficult to imagine. In the Western States there is no probability of their making any gains. On the contrary, Ohio, which now returns a delegation composed of eight Democrats to twelve Republicans, is certain through the re-districting act of last Winter to send eleven Democrats to the next House, with even chances that that number will be increased to thirteen. In Indiana and Illinois, and even in Iowa, the Greenbackers have joined with the Democrats on the Congressional ticket to beat the Republicans. If these promises are true, and accounts from those States leave no room to doubt their correctness, it drives the Republicans to look for their gains in the Eastern and Middle States.

"As far as the Eastern States are concerned they could only make a gain of four, as that is the number of Democrats from that section in the present House. But this is not enough, and as last resort they must fall back on the Middle States, composed of thirty Democrats to thirty-seven Republicans. Such a radical change as would give the required gains in this section of the country is beyond the range of possibility. And it is upon this condition of things that the Republican journals are figuring out a majority for their party in the next House. It may be, however, that they base their figures upon a big Congressional campaign fund, that factor which the easy character of Hayes allows to be made a part and parcel of his civil service reform. But without considering the potency of such a factor it seems that the loyal organs are only whistling to keep up their courage."

A most atrocious case of rape is reported as occurring near Bethlehem, in this county, a short time since. A young girl 16 years of age, whose name we did not learn, had gone out to pick blackberries, when she was approached by a man who drew a pistol and told her if she made any outcry he would shoot her. He then tied her hands behind her and gagged her with a handkerchief, after which he outraged her person. The scoundrel made his escape, and at last accounts had not been apprehended. The man was a stranger, but the girl could identify him. He is supposed to be a hand employed in one of the mines in the neighborhood.—Hunterdon Republican.

The apple crop in Sussex, bids fair to be one of the best in years. The same may be said of pears. The unusually prolific show of blossoms last Spring, and the subsequent frost which caused so many settings to drop to the ground, seems to have increased the bearing capacity of the trees, and they are now bending beneath the weight of the ripening fruit.—Register.

Mr. Wm. Sayre of Madison is one of the oldest, if not the oldest, Freemason in the State and probably in the country. He is ninety-four years old, and has been a Mason since 1803, when he joined Cincinnati Lodge at Whippany. Mr. Sayre is still quite a vigorous man, and oftens reads without glasses. He removed from Elizabeth to Madison in 1799.

No further developments have occurred in the case of the murdered policeman Smith, at Jersey City, to fasten the terrible crime on any person. The police are reticent, but claim they have a clue.

Josephus Sooy, the defaulting ex-State Treasurer, was released from State Prison last week after serving out his sentence. He has removed to Kentucky, having lost his citizenship here.

"What are you about?" angrily exclaimed a country editor the other day to his wife, who was touching up her complexion before the mirror. "Only getting up my patent 'outside,' dear," was the reply.

Why don't Communist Schwab practice a little of his preaching and divide up his beer among his followers gratuitously, instead of charging five cents a glass, and the glasses not "schooners" at that!

Twenty persons killed in the storm at Wallingford, Conn., have been buried.

About 126 persons have died during the prevalence of yellow fever at New Orleans.

Odors complained of in Jersey City were traced to a cemetery.
