Fun With Apples.

Do you live near any apple trees? If you do you can print your friends' initials on the growing apples. While the fruit yet hangs green on the tree select the biggest apple for the fun. Cut out from this tough paper your initials, with round dots for periods. Now paste these letters and dots on that side of the apple which is most turned to the sun, taking care not to loosen the fruit's hold upon its stem. As soon as the apple is ripe take off the paper cuttings, which, having shut out the reddening rays of the sun, have kept the fruit green just beneath them, so that the name or initials now show plainly.

Boy Scouts in the Pacific.

Scout Commissioner James Wilder of Honolulu, who recently visited Philadelphia and other cities to study the boy scout movement, does not confine his work entirely to the city of Honolulu, but is active in other parts of the Hawaiian Islands as well. He is also in close touch with the scout movement in New Caledonia, Tahiti, Fiji, Samoa, New Zealand, Australia and, in fact, all of Polynesia. In virtually every one of these countries the movement is a flourishing condition. In many instances having been established several years.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

An Interesting Little Boy Who Appears to Be Happy.

PLEASED WITH A TOY DOG.

He Doesn't Own a Real Dog, but Makes Believe One is Almost as Good Pussies and Goos to Amuse and Instruct the Small People.

The happy looking boy in the picture was snapped by the camera man just after he had been given a little toy woolly dog. All children seem to be fond of dogs, especially after they get acquainted, but sometimes little folks are afraid of big dogs that they have never seen before. There are very few dogs that are vicious and inclined to bite, but sometimes when they are ill treated they are suspicious and resent a advances of strangers. This spirit is mostly always caused by cruelty. Dogs, as a rule, are intelligent, good tempered and fond of children and like to take part in their sports. Many people, little owners, their lives to the cougar and devotion of their canine friends. The sturdy dog of the little boy will never be able to do him such a favor, but it will doubtless be a source of pleasure, and in time he may own a real dog. It is to be hoped that he will treat him kindly.

Game of Four Pin.

Four pin is a lively outdoor game that all will enjoy who have a chance to play it. Number the pins 1 and 2 down backed by a fence, or pin 10 a board on letting. About six feet from the fence drive four stakes well into the ground ten inches apart. Number the stakes 1, 2, 3 and 4. Measure out from the stakes anywhere from thirty to eighty feet, according to the condition of the ground and the strength of the player. Mark the point so that it may not be overstepped.

Let one player in order step to the starting point and roll the croquet ball from his hand with full force at the middle space. Keep the score as follows: Ball between stakes 3-and-4 counts 5, between 1 and 2 counts 4, and between 3 and 4 the same. If the ball touches 1-or-2 it means a loss of one point; touching 1 or 4 counts loss of 2 points. If outside of 1 or 4 the player loses 3 points. The number of points to make a game can be determined by the players. Contributed.

Common Council Has an Evening of Debate and Light Business Transactions

ALKSHOUSE REPAIRS START LIVELY TALK

A combination of primary election and matters of civic import caused the city fathers to assemble in the council chamber last Tuesday night, to indulge in an exuberant display of rhetoric, which kept city clerk Charles Lambert and a large number of citizens on the anxious seat for nearly two hours, while the deliberations were in progress over the proper method in which to obtain a few pieces of tin for gutters, spouting, roof, and other places, which, amounting in the aggregate, according to councilman George M. Gage, to approximately $20.

The debate was prolonged on technical points until after midnight, ballot boxes from the various wards arrived, and today, after the smoke of battle has cleared away, not even the citizenry is able to tell just where the question under debate stands.

The wrangle came as a fitting sequel to a long and unfruitful session of the council. At the close all members were present, Councilman Chas. Schaefer was the last to arrive, as he was busy on the election board. Councilman Harold S. Buckley was also a late arrival. Councilman Gage, present before the meeting, was not in the chamber when the roll was called, but responded afterwards.

New If Commenced

The trouble commenced when councilman Gage stated that the city property committee, of which he is chairman, had paid a visit to the city alms-house last Sunday, and that "considerable work needed to be done." Freeholder Director Charles H. Brewster said that at the alms-house conditions had not improved, but were "worse if anything." Mr. Gage said that some repairs were badly needed at the almshouse, but that the committee had tried the items down as much as possible. The gutters were leaky, he said, and when it rained hard, down came the water, and the leaders were not in place, and were getting into the house, and into some of the rooms occupied by the inmates. The roof, he added, was comparatively a small one, and he thought it could be repaired for a sum not exceeding $200;—possibly not over $150. He suggested sheet iron gutters instead of wood, and advised the installation of two tin roofs and a sheet iron chimney stack. These improvements, he thought, would make the inmates fairly comfortable for at least another year. He moved that the work be referred to the city property committee, with power.

Councilman Gum immediately objected, and moved to amend the motion by referring it to the city purchasing agent, treasurer and M. S. Gill. Mr. Gage stated that the idea was in order to lose no time, and avoid unnecessary hardship to the inmates, but if it was the place in good condition before winter, the committee had already obtained several bids for the repair work. The fat was in the fire immediately. The motion was put, declared carried, or lost according to the individual opinions of the council, the decision of president S. B. Moffett, on the ruling was called into question, and at the close of the session no advance towards prompt repairs had been accomplished.

Food For Firebugs

Another lively tilt happened when councilman Buckley drew the council attention to two old buildings in rear of the Empire theatre and Public Service building, Mr. Morton stated that in company with George M. Smith, chief of the volunteer fire department, he had looked at these two buildings last Sunday, and that they were a menace to public safety, inasmuch as a fire might easily be started there and endanger the lives of those attending the performances in the Empire theatre or residing in houses nearby. He described the condition of a fire in a similar way. In one of these buildings, he recommended that "the roof should be torn down, for it is very dangerous."

It was proposed to refer the matter to the building committee, but councilman Morton stated that the chief's recommendation was that the building should be torn down. Councilman Gum asked why not look around the city and tear down a few more? Councilman-at-large Frank C. Engelhart said, "we can't make an iron law in this case." Mr. Morton said that the chief's recommendation was "promoting Mr. Smithers.

In order to relieve crowded conditions existing in the first grade at Columbian Avenue school, it was recommended that those classes be placed on part time, one half the class to attend from 9 to 12, the balance from 1 to 4 p. m.

This arrangement, in view of the congested conditions, was deemed preferable to the only other plan of appointing two additional teachers and building two temporary sessions although it is recommended that $10 per month additional salary be paid to the teachers owing to the extra work and time required of them. It is further necessary that a number of the children be transferred from one school to another throughout the city in order to overcome congestion in classes and rooms.

Careful study has been made of this matter and a plan worked out whereby the number of children necessary to transfer will be reduced to a minimum, it is therefore recommended that this matter be now referred to Superintendent Bickett with authority to make the necessary changes.

Superintendent Bickett's report was as follows: The enrollment in the various schools during September is as follows: Columbian school, boys, 161; girls, 157; total, 318.

Franklin school, boys, 158; girls, 129 total, 287.

Lincoln school, boys, 150; girls, 142; total, 292.

Washington school, boys, 136; girls, 137; total, 273.

High school, eighth grade, boys, 80; girls, 66; total, 146.

High school, boys, 143; girls, 152; total, 295.

Total enrollment, boys, 830; girls, 785; aggregate, 1615.

The following were elected by your board reported for duty on the opening day, except for the high school, who was retained by a personal acquaintance, Miss Pritchard, of the eighth grade, and appointing Miss Edyth Patterson, of Orangeville, Pa., at a salary of $500 per year to fill the vacancy caused by promoting Mr. Smithers.

In order to relieve crowded conditions existing in the first grade at Columbian Avenue school, it is

City Attorney Francis V. Dobbins quoted at length from the city ordinances, and said that the fire chief and the street commissioner had the power to order the building removed, or put into proper condition. Mr. Dobbins further suggested, locularly, that it might be a suitable matter for the Civic Club. Finally, after a heated wrangle in which councilmen Buckley, Gage, Morton and Dunn took part, the city clerk was advised to notify the owners of the property to put it into proper safe condition. No one at the meeting seemed to know to whom the property really belonged. There was much talk of razing the property, but it was stated that under normal conditions such action would not be upheld legally. A report will be entertained at the next regular meeting of council.

Want a New Safe

Councilman Dunn spoke as to the need of a new safe in the offices of the city tax receiver. After argument, it was voted that the city clerk advertise for bids for a modern fire-proof safe.

Councilman Morton said that if such a report be made at the next council meeting, Councilman David H. Trembley, member of the finance committee, who is ever hunting for more tax, and the number of his mouse, would have a chance to meet and reply by other members of the board, the stray dog must take a chance, and there appeared to be no way by which the city could offset the difficulty.

Kick From Whittier Street

A lengthy petition was received signed by a number of residents of Whittier street, and which was ultimately referred to the street committee for investigation, seeking for improvements in certain sections of that thoroughfare. The petitioners stated that in "Whittier street, between Scott avenue and Linden avenue, the taxpayers and those served by that end of Whittier street leading to Linden avenue, have paid in respect to the proceedings of the common council on Sept 13, a motion was made to resurface Whittier street, between Underwood and Scott avenue, and they seek to be informed why the block from Scott avenue to Linden avenue is not included in any street repairs which are to be made on Whittier street, and why the 'lowest' section reaches only to where the outlying residences on Whittier street stand.

"We only require to have our street," the communication says, "have been a few loads of cinders dumped in the middle of the street and left even rolled down, or a report continued. We would also like to know why the street commissioner had the weeds cut down between the sidewalks and paved road, up to Scott avenue, and neglected this section. We respectfully think we should be entitled to some consideration when street repairs are being made, and respectfully petition your honorable body to have this short block of Whittier street put in as good condition as the balance of the street. The petition was signed by Edward Milnes, Mary A. Wood, Jerry A. Wood, John T. Davis, Hester F. Davis, Richard F. Cross, Clarence S. Milnes and John J. Wood.

Appoint Special Officers

Mayor Thomas A. Fytte recommended, and his recommendation was duly approved, the appointment of a number of special officers. These men are required by the Mack Co. as watchmen, and their duties in this capacity are, it is understood, to be confined to the properties of the company. Those named are: William Wakeham of 8 Underhill place; Charles Post of 33 Seminary avenue; John Crosby of 21 Stone street; John Barta, 14 Whittier street; Camille Mercier of 70 E. Grand street; John Healy of 17 Stone street and Joseph J. Nolan of 43 Ivy street.

William Cornelius of 159 Hamilton street applied for a place as special police officer. Request referred to the mayor.

Want White Way Signs

William A. Hogran of the St. George hotel asked permission to install an electric sign at his place of business on St. George avenue. Fred J. Pettingill of the Lyric theatre also wanted permission to hang an electric sign in front of his theatre, the Lyric, in Main street. These requests were referred to the lamps and police committee.

City treasurer F. M. Stillman reported the following balances in the several funds—Contingent, $8,797.55; roads, $2,418.74; poor, $825.13; police, $2,779.95; lamps, $1,648.67; fire, $3,054.13.

Avenue to Keep Old Name

A petition, bearing the names of a large number of residents, was read, protesting against any change in the name of St. George avenue. The petition stated that (1), the avenue has always been known as St. George avenue, and (2), that the change would be a hardship to the residents, who would have to change their letterheads, and (3), that a public hearing on the matter of the proposed change, which was ordered by the council, had not been held

MR. SAVAGE'S CANDIDACY

Yielding to a sense of public duty and to the importunities of a large number of Rahway's most representative citizens, Edward H. Savage consented to be a candidate in the Maywoodite contest.

Mr. Savage is a native of Rahway and the Maywood district. He would be an able and fearless executive and would give Rahway an efficient and businesslike administration.

Though nominated on the Democratic ticket Mr Savage is really a citizen candidate and should be supported regardless of party by all citizens interested in the advancement of Rahway.

His opponent, Mr. Simmons, is a worthy young man, but has thus far shown no special qualifications nor had the necessary experience for this important office.

GRAVIFYING OUTLOOK

With the sales of the master in chancery and the receiver of the Remson Steel Corporation completed there should now be few obstacles in the way of opening the big plant in this city which has been idle so long. There are indications that business will soon be resumed at the big factory and if these are true it will mean much to the business interests of the city. The purchase of the buildings and grounds and practically the entire equipment as it now stands by one party seems to suggest that plans are under way to reopen the plant. If this is not so the successful bidder would not have been so anxious to outbid everyone at the sale yesterday and keep everything intact. It would have been much easier for him, if he had other plans to allow another to outbid him on undesirable articles and have the other fellow shoulder the expense of their removal.

The keeping of the plant intact also shows that the steel industry is undoubtedly to be continued, and the story circulated some time ago that ammunition was to be manufactured there is considered merely a myth. Another fact that probably points to an early start of some kind is that the original plan of the master in chancery to allow sixty days for the removal of any equipment purchased at the sales was changed and now only thirty days will be allowed to this week. The steel business in this country is now the best it has been in several years and with the increasing demand for all kinds of steel products the quicker the concern gets busy the better will be its business opportunities.

With the plant running in full there would be from seven-five to 100 employes and many of these earning good wages. The natural benefit this would mean to the city in general and to the property owners and merchants in particular is readily understood and Rahway citizens are anxious to again see the wheels turning at the big factory.

That at least some of the members of the local police department are awake to their duties was evidenced by action of Officer Joseph Gerlach on two or three occasions this week. He's naturally the moving picture shows and often forced the curfew law in their earnest to bring about. Last frequently slipping past the ticket-taker who pay little attention to who enters the Maywood chute. He would be as able and fearless executive and would give Rahway an efficient and businesslike administration.

Though nominated on the Democratic ticket Mr Savage is really a citizen candidate and should be supported regardless of party by all citizens interested in the advancement of Rahway.

His opponent, Mr. Simmons, is a worthy young man, but has thus far shown no special qualifications nor had the necessary experience for this important office.

LETTERS FOR THINKING PEOPLE

Communications of General Interest to the Citizens of Rahway.

Editor Record:—In the Record of Sept. 3 there appeared a letter from Mr. S. E. Nelson, State Superintendent of the National White Cross League, in which objections were made to an article relating to that concern published in the Record of Aug. 27. This article was based on statements made by me as a representative of the Board. My sole source of information was the investigation Service of the Jersey City Chamber of Commerce, an influential and conservative body of business men of which Col. Austin Colgate is president, Judge Robert Carey, Counsel and Ernest H. Howe, secretary. This investigation Service sent a Letter to the Rahway Board of Trade "we have made a very careful investigation" and offered to furnish interesting information and advice. At the suggestion of the Executive Committee, I asked for the information.

Since that time I have had an interview with Mr. Nelson who presented a different report which showed that the National White Cross League had turned into the anti-Saloon League and that $4,445. 14 has been presented endorsements from Commissioner Byers of the State Charities Commission and from the New Jersey Association for the Suppression of Vice and Injustice. The secretary of the Association is Mr. Adolphus H. Corwin, a man who has done much to protect the people of this state from bunkoed and to punish evil doers. In an interview he tells me he has investigated the National White Cross League and gives it his hearty endorsement. The Jersey City Chamber of Commerce has not changed its decision as stated in the first report. I make these corrections and additions to previous statements in the interests of truth and justice. "With malice toward none and with charity for all."

Concerning Suffrage

AS MAN TO MAN

BETWEEN OURSELVES
Can man represent woman at the polls?

BETWEEN OURSELVES
Do not represent women at the polls?
Men think chiefly of home interests when they vote.
Many of our own opinions will affect the home.

BETWEEN OURSELVES
Would we be satisfied if only women chose the officials who were to represent us?

BETWEEN OURSELVES
Is it a figure dead that women to be satisfied when only man chooses the officials who are to regulate their home?

BETWEEN OURSELVES
If we trust women with our children can't we trust them with the vote?

BETWEEN OURSELVES
Let us admit that laws are made as Voters demand and that laws are enforced as Voters habit.

BETWEEN OURSELVES
LET US GIVE WOMEN THE VOTE
and Vote for the Woman Suffrage Amendment.

WHY WOMEN OPPOSE SUFFRAGE

Views of Anti-Suffrage Women in Many States of the Union

Ninety-seven per cent. of the women in this country have no servants, and you don't hear that ninety-seven per cent. clamoring for the vote, and they have enought to do in the home without dabbling in politics.—Mrs. H. E. Talbott, President of the Ohio Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

Not the Whole of Government

Pure milk and clean streets are not the whole of government; they are a most desirable part of our civic order, but if the financial resources be sapped, if the government be weakened by emotional legislation, all records of welfare and reform legislation, lacking the means to put them into operation, are not worth the paper upon which they are written.—Mrs. A. J. George, Field Secretary of the Women's Anti-Suffrage Association of Massachusetts.

A Partnership in Miniature

All society is our vast partnership of men and women. The family is that partnership in miniature. I have always looked at a partnership according when both members of the firm tried to do exactly the same work to carry exactly the same part of the responsibilities and to work for the good of the firm through exactly the same means. And I am sure that no partnership could succeed which did not have a united policy toward the outside world.—Miss Lucy J. Price, Field Secretary of the Ohio Anti-Suffrage Association.

The Hope of Our Land

To Anti-Suffragists the scientific housewife and mother seem more and more the demand of the day. We have to sympathy with the band of women, affiliated with suffrage, who declare servitude and injustice are expressed in the world home, husband and duty. We have to sympathy with the doctrine of trial marriage, public rearing of children, and mothers who prefer to be wage-earners—ideals of these same women. We believe the hope of our land lies in the mother-love and the father-love over the home and in the home, permeating the development of childhood and youth.—Mrs. J. H. Gildlian, President of the Minnesota Anti-Suffrage Association.

A One-sided Idea of Chivalry

Some men are possessed of a singularly one-sided idea of chivalry. Having the means to refuse what they consider a slight courtesy to the women who make them their relative, they do so, but when the same men refuse to grant the chivalrous to the anti-suffragists—or they want to vote for them, "it is said, as if voting were a matter of special privilege rather than public policy. This is the group who think these ladies ought to stay at home and not hinder those who do. A misconception of the whole situation so extraordinary that it shakes one's faith in the value of democracy and reveals a strangely superficial knowledge of this subject by our boys and men.—Miss Anna L. Dawes, Vice President of the Women's Anti-Suffrage Association of Massachusetts.

The Core of the Movement

Here is the core of the movement. The suffragists place the home second in importance, their individual achievement coming first. They do not object to children as a rule, but the latter must at least not absorb a mother's entire time and attention; and by emphasizing individual achievement they set a premium on spinsterhood or childless marriages. Their opponents, on the other hand, place home first and foremost, and seek to conserve woman's strength for motherhood, her true service to the State. All other interests must fall into line but not lord or drop out entirely if they interfere with the home in any way. We hear too much about the rights of women in this so-called progressive age. What about the rights of children?—Mrs. Edith Shell, President of the Wage-Earner's Anti-Suffrage League.

A Woman's Business

First—To give children good souls, bodies. Women do not need to vote for pure, wholesome food. Seventy five per cent. of all food contamination takes place in the home. A woman's business is to keep her own house clean and to see that the board of health looks after her unclean neighbors. This doesn't need a vote.

Second—To give children good minds. In 37 states women already have a vote on school questions, and only two per cent. use it. But no vote is necessary to watch what children read, and to answer their questions. It is easier to vote than to do this. But a child's mind is its mother's business.

Third—To give children good morals. Woman do not need a vote to keep their children off the streets.—Mrs. W. H. Williams, Chairman of Press Committee of Connecticut Anti-Suffrage Association.

The Burden of Proof

The burden of proving that the enlarged electorate would be an improved electorate rests on those who demand the change. Many women are more intelligent, more moral than many men, but the morality and intelligence of women and men of the same opportunities and environment strike about the same average, and it has yet to be shown that the doubling of the electorate, the wise, the foolish, the patriotic, the self-seeking, would improve the electorate. The ostracized woman seems to give her best attention than man to political duties. If we are to trust election returns, woman suffrage is to increase the danger which confronts us today in the indifferent and stay-at-home voter, the patriotic woman have the right to decide.—Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, President National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

Is It Worth While?

If woman is to be merely an irresponsible element in the electorate the character of government will be weakened and not strengthened by giving her the ballot. If she is to be a responsible elector then she must qualify herself to vote wisely, not only upon questions classified by the suffragists as municipal housekeeping, but on those questions of grave, yet not referred, concerning finance, international disputes, tariff, etc., and she will be able to do this only by entering the school where men acquire such knowledge—through the experience of daily work out in the world. There is no question but that the whole social structure of our state will be weakened in this attempt to equalize and identify the activities and responsibilities of the two sexes. Is it worth while to bring about a social catastrophe because some women want a change?—Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, President of New York State Anti-Suffrage Association.

SAVAGE AND SIMMONS NAMED

ward 31, 2nd, dis. 34; 1st dis. 4th ward 41, second dis. 45; 5th ward 71. Total 152.

Edward B. Savage's vote was—1st ward 31, 2nd, dis. 34; 1st. of 2nd. 3; 2nd of 2nd 14; 1st of 3rd. 13, 2nd of 3rd. 14; 1st of 4th. 9, 2nd of 4th. 19; 4th dis 13. Total 117.

There was on this ticket quite a scattering complimentary vote. Mayor Thomas A. Fyfe had 17 of these in all, and city treasurer F. M. Stillman fleshed several,—never all told.

George N. Tagg's vote was scarcely up to the full strength of the Republican party, but he made a big showing. He had, in the 1st dis. 1st ward 37, 2nd of 1st. 35; 1st. of 2nd. 43, 2nd of 2nd—39; 1st. of 3rd. 32, 2nd of 3rd. 42—1st. of 4th. 41, 2nd. of 4th. 43; 4th dis. Total 441. His Democratic opponent, David K. Total 191. A few complimentary votes were also cast for David H. Trembley on this part of the ticket.

For water commissioner, Francis W. Langstreth, the Republican candidate, had also the present president of the board, had a total vote of 446, made up as follows: 1st. of 1st. 30, 2nd of 1st. 37; 1st of 2nd. 43, 2nd of 2nd. 33; 1st of 3rd. 35, 2nd of 3rd. 74, 1st. of 4th. 41, 2nd of 4th. 44; 4th. 70. His Democratic opponent had a total of 110.

The contest for the Republican nomination for councilor was a lively one, a few hailed duel, with Randolph and Gehring as the principals.—Scores—with all Mr. Randolph's personal popularity, he was hard pushed by Mr. Gehring, and if Clifford B. had not been necessarily absent in the South for a week or more, that part of the election would have been even more exciting than it was.

The vote stood thus:

GEHRING—1st of 1st. 17, 2nd of 1st. 20; 1st of 2nd 34, 2nd of 2nd. 15; 1st of 3rd. 34, 2nd of 3rd. 11; 1st of 4th. 30, 2nd of 4th. 12; 4th. 34. Total 211.

Scattering votes were shown on this part of the ticket for Frank E. Ross, Charles L. Kelly, James Daly and Charles H. Leonard.

For councilman in the First ward, John A. McCoy, who represents the ward at present, and us up for reelection, on the Democratic slate polled the most votes, as the Republican ticket was split between two contestants. Mr. McCoy got 18 votes in the first district, and 21 in the second, a total of 39. William L. Bodine and Charles C. Pilser tried it out for the Republican nomination, Bodine winning by a single vote. Mr. Bodine had in the first district and 21 in the second; total 36. Mr. Pilser had 18 in the first and 20 in the second district; total 35.

The second ward showed a strong Republican lead. Henry W. Cleary, one of Rahway's most popular young men, and occupying a prominent position in the city in regard to athletics, and with the Wheelsons Co. polled 41 in the field district and 31 in the second, as against 7 in the first district and 14 in the second, a total of 21, for his Democratic opponent, Joseph V. Bacchelli.

In the third ward J. Jervis Vail made a brave showing for the Republican ticket. He had 23 in the first district and 73 in the second, representing the full party strength. Total 141. His opponent, R. C. Carson, who had 5 in the first and 4 in the second district. Total 9.

Vail, who happens in the fourth ward on the Republican ticket, was accredited with 42 votes in the first and 41 in the second district. Total 83, a little under the full party vote. His opponent on the Democratic side, Henry C. Kettner, had 10 in the first and 20 in the second istrict. Total 30.

Frank L. Foulks, Republican polled 44 in the fifth ward, and Otto Hamitt, Democrat, got 19.

The general vote for county and city committeemen was not satisfactory to either party, as the tendency on the part of voters to write in names horizontally, or possibly with the chance of making a distinguishing mark on the ballot, was very much in evidence. The same condition was very noticeable on the names written in for justices of the peace and for constables.

In Clark Township, the primary vote came out Republican, by about three to one. On the county ticket, Morgan had 18, and Pierson and Bunnett each had 19, for assembly. The Democratic candidates Leonard and Meek each got 7 votes, and Bunnett 6. The Prohibition and Socialist tickets failed to attract a single vote.

On the local ticket, Benjamin King, jr., for county committeeman, received 20 votes, and Frederick Ritter, D., 4. For freeholder, William J. Thompson, R., had 20, and John Kelly, D., 4. For collector, Andrew Holland, R., received 20, and Albert D. Lambert, D., had 4. For assessor William J. Thompson, R., had no opponent, and received 20 votes.

For township committee, three years Andrew Gibson R., had 19 votes and Fred Schiefenstein, D., had 7. For one year Jacob Cordes and Isaac Walker had each 4 votes.

The appropriations—$500 for the contingent fund, $500 for poor money, and $400 for road money were passed, all parties agreeing upon the sums

DON'T BUY "JUST GAS"

STANDARD Motor Gasoline is so much better than "just gas" that it is worth while to be particular when you are having your tank filled.

"Just gas" makes trouble in the form of constant carburetor adjustments necessitated by varying grades of fuel. "Just gas" makes further trouble in the form of cylinder carbon. Much of the carbon trouble that comes to the repair man is caused by the use of an inferior and varying gasoline.

Standard Motor Gasoline is a straight-distilled, homogeneous product—every drop like every other drop. It is absolutely uniform wherever you buy it, and it is cheaper because there are more miles in a gallon.

Use Polarine, the Standard Oil for Motors. Obtainable wherever you see the "Standard Motor Gasoline Service Station" sign.

SELECT DATES FOR AUTOMOBILE SHOWS

The sixteenth annual National Automobile Show, in New York, which will show as usual, the acme of perfection in all makes of cars and accessories, will be held at the Grand Central Palace, from December 11 to January 8. Two weeks before the Chicago automobile show will be staged at the Coliseum and Armory in that city, the dates being January 22 to 29.

Decimie plans are well under way for both big exhibits. Application blanks and diagrams for these shows of 1916 have been sent by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce to those manufacturers who have been invited to participate with the announcement that those desiring space must apply not later than October 2 to be considered in the first allotment, which will be made on October 7. It is planned to stage the shows on an even greater scale than former efforts.

A. A. Miles, manager of the shows, has adopted a new rule this season which will afford protection against the companies that have been in the habit of applying for space in former years and then failing to exhibit. The rule provides that applicants for space must make a deposit of 25 per square foot of space applied for. Under this plan companies will be protected against those who secure space with less with the intention of exhibiting, but which fail to comply with the contract requirements. Space for other applicants into less desirable allotments and leading to confusion and changes which can not always be made with perfect fairness. The change simply means that the unpaid space will be given earlier than it has been in the past.

MAP OF UNITED STATES CENT Geological Survey Issue Map of United States Adapted Especially to School Use.

School-teachers who are not familiar with the many and various maps published by the United-States Geological Survey will be interested to learn of a small map of the United States which is sold by that bureau at the nominal price of 1 cent. This map shows rivers, lakes, State boundaries, State capitals and principal cities, but not the less important features, whose numerous names and symbols tend to create obscurity and confusion. This map does not show heights of mountain ranges. It measures about 24 by 13 inches, and its scale is 240 miles to 1 inch. Five copies of the map are sold for 5 cents or at the rate of 1 cent for each. Orders for these maps are 3 cents and 2 cents, respectively.

A relief map of the United States measuring 18 by 28 inches, on a scale of 110 miles to the inch, is sold for 25 cents, or for 9 cents if an order for it is included in an order for maps amounting to $2. This map shows the rivers, principal cities, and State boundaries, and is shaped in colors to show the heights above sea level of all parts of the country.

Orders for these maps should be addressed to the Director, U. S. Geological Survey, Washington, D. C., and accompanied by remittance, in cash or postal money order.

Live Discussion of Church as a Community Asset at First Methodist

PASTOR CELEBRATES FOURTH ANNIVERSARY

In observance of his fourth anniversary as pastor of the First Methodist church the Rev. J. Edgar Wasgatt on Sunday evening gave the congregation a unique and interesting program in which several prominent men took part in the consideration of the question "Church as a Community or Liability?" Pastor Wasgatt was in charge of the service and the speakers were Water Commissioner F. W. Langstroth, Captain Frank I. Perry, superintendent of the First Baptist Sunday school; Superintendent of Schools William J. Hickey and Superintendent Frank Moore, of the New Jersey Reformatory. Some particularly interesting points were brought out by each speaker and music food for reflection provided the big audience which taxed the seating capacity of the church.

Dr. Moore brought out some unique and telling points in his handling of the subject and showed that not only from a spiritual but from a financial standpoint the church is an asset to the community. He estimated that it costs $35,000 a year to run the various church in Rahway and that according to the tax receipts it costs $140,000 to run the city. It costs $300,000 a year to run the saloons of the city and estimating the number of homes at 2,500 it costs $120 a year for food the city spends $40,000 for coal and $20,000 for water. With a population of 10,000 and the cost of running the churches placed at $15,000 it costs per capita $120 a year to run the churches. He placed this on the liability side of the account.

An enumeration of the assets was then undertaken. He pointed out that all property would be of less value were there no churches in the city and that the city taxes would at least be reduced $25,000. "Churches because they add to the value of property, are in that one item alone. Besides this the church is a police force. It is a remunerative force. Many more crimes would be committed if we had no churches. Nine-tenths of the boys who are in the New Jersey Reformatory are those who have not been going to church, have neglected their training in the home of Mary."

"The cost of our police force is $15,000 a year. We would need, to double it if there were no churches. It would not only be a question not especially popular police force, but larger. Mile, perhaps the new name for police. It now costs $1,500 for every conviction, and if only twenty more criminals escaped it would pay the entire cost of our city churches.

"The church is also a tremendous offset to another powerful force, against the saloon. It is figured that $10,000 a year is spent in each saloon. If ten churches were removed you would without doubt have ten additional saloons and would therefore spend $100,000 additional. These are some of the financial assets of the church.

"Then we must consider that moral and spiritual power and the quieting and steadying influence it has on the community. It keeps men from drinking, makes us work harder and develops us into better men and women. We need to thank God in this present great crisis that he has as President a man who a few weeks ago while the heavy burdens of government were pressing upon him said to his Cabinet: "I don't know whether you men believe in prayer or not, but I do." And right then and there he laid his burdens before the Almighty. I believe the steadying and quieting influence of religion has helped him greatly to keep us out of this terrible carnal strife now going on in Europe."

Dr. Moore then emphasized the fact that the church is not merely the four walls, but the principle for which it stands. He pointed to the hereafter as an asset of the church to every human soul, that it reaches from ruin and changes life from everlasting ruin to everlasting joy. In his work he called attention to an asset far beyond the power of computation." After a recapitulation of his previously mentioned figures, Dr. Moore figured that the church was an asset because it returned 400 per cent. on the money invested.

In conclusion he expressed his belief that the church could be a still greater asset by going outside of its members more than it does and working to save what it can from lives of sin and misery.
