ADDRESSES BY PROMINENT MEN

"I fear we are sitting too much at ease in Zion instead of going out to war—to hope the widows—the man with an appetite and those struggling against all forms of sin and temptation. If we take the church to the multitudes we will soon have the multitude coming to church."

Superintendent Bickell discussed the church in connection with the public school. He considered these both asset to the community. He set forth the object of the school as the education of youth and the aim of the church as the development of the religious consciousness and the leading to a better spiritual life. He said that some believed the school is for the training of the mind and the church for the training of the soul. He did not agree with the old conception that "the soul is mind-and-two-thirds parts of the human being, but that the mind, soul and ego or whatever term may be applied to the inner self are one and the same thing. Therefore he considered that the church and school are endeavoring to train the same thing. Stress was then laid upon the fact that we are realizing our training every minute of our existence and that it is a mistake if the primary object of the church or school is simply to enable the person to pass into the unknown world and receive the "well done good and faithful servant."

"In some cases the church is an asset and in some a liability. If the church with all its influence does nothing more than to lead the boy or girl on Sunday and makes no attempt to control street conditions, the sale of tobacco, moving picture shows and in fact all kinds of entertainment in order that the child may have that which is helpful—then that church is a liability rather than an asset. If the church must conduct entertainments that cause the child to neglect the school work—then that church is a liability. On the other hand if the church insists on continuous—twelve-by-twelve—on the child as far as possible every day in the week—then that church is an asset."

Water Commissioner Langstroth spoke chiefly of what Rahway would be without a church, referring to it as a dream he had experienced. He showed how the rents and value of real estate would go down. The speaker then expressed his belief that the church should be as much the same as a secular business enterprise—where the workers are busy all the time. He did not think the opening of the church on Sunday and one or two nights a week sufficient and believed the church should be open every night if possible and should be made a social center with the minister as the head and leader. He was opposed to allowing the minister to do all the work and thought that each member of the church should do his or her part. He considered the church an institution for all.

Captain Perry, after congratulating the pastor on his four years of success, called attention to the book, "The Inside of the Cup," written by Winston Churchill, with whose ideas he agreed to a large extent. If all churches were out of existence the best men would be glad, we would have double the number of saloons, crime would increase, restrictions and regulations would vanish and life and property would be worth little compared to what they are now. He called attention to the time when France abolished Sunday and the great injury it did to the nation. He compared a community without a church to an early mining town where greed and passion ruled. In conclusion he said the church is the greatest asset ever known and that he expected it to accomplish greater and grander work that has ever been done. He considered the church a liability only when it becomes a stumbling block rather than an aid to religion.

Pastor Washabaugh spoke briefly and an excellent musical program was provided by the choir under the direction of Miss Ruth Babel, a feature of the music being a solo, Kipling's "Recessional," rendered in meritorious manner by George W. Minaux.

The morning service at the First Methodist church was also well attended. The Lord's Supper was observed and three new members received, including Edward Blore, Miss Emma Carlson and Mrs. Horace D. Sheppard.

The Sunday school session showed the largest attendance in the four years that Dr. Washabaugh has been pastor.

WILL PETITION COUNCIL

A petition is being circulated among the Hungarian citizens and will probably be presented to Common Council next Tuesday evening, asking that the Hungarian citizens be allowed to enjoy their constitutional rights as "citizens of our country." The petition then refers in detail to the recent decision in the police court against Paul Lagler and four others who were fined for alleged gambling. The petition further sets forth that the department has a right to accept unsigned complaints against any citizen or set upon them. "We therefore request your honorable body to arrest Mr. Lagler proper protection against unfair and unjust attacks on the business and the innocent amusements of the Hungarian residents who patronize his restaurant and hall. These Hungarians are law-abiding residents and wish to be allowed the usual freedom and rights of ownership of citizens." The petition already has twenty or more signatures.

CLASS REUNION

Members of the class of 1910 of the Rahway High School held a delightful reunion at the home of Miss Marion Baker, of 82 Bryant street, on Friday evening. Reminiscences were presented by the various members in an interesting and pleasing way. Plans were discussed for continuing the reunions. Six of the nine members of the class were present, including: Clifford W. Ludlow, Adolph Baumann, M. Joseph McMahon, Miss Loretta Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Lukens and Miss Marion Baker.

"THE ETERNAL CITY"

Popular Film Production by Junior Mechanics Next Monday

The Flag and Banner Committee of the Union Council, No. 31, Jr. O. U. A. M., have completed arrangements to present another artistic film success at the Empire Theatre on Monday afternoon and evening Oct. 11. In line with the policy of offering nothing but the high price productions at a popular scale of prices the committee have decided to present the distinguished American actress, Miss Pauline Frederick, in Hall Caine's immortal drama, "The Eternal City," which was first offered in this country for an extended engagement at the Astor Theatre, New York City, at dollar prices.

The play was made into the screen version by the Famous Players Film Company under the direction of Daniel Frohman in Rome and is 7,000 feet in length. The scenes are of wondrous beauty including the Coliseum at night and the cast supporting Miss Frederick was carefully chosen so that every point of Mr. Caine's intense story could be depicted in detail. There will be a matinee at 3.30 with the evening performance scheduled at 8.15. The advance sale will start at the box office on Friday and patrons are advised to obtain their seats early as capacity houses will undoubtedly witness this extraordinary attraction. Next Friday's issue for special musical features and soloists that are being arranged for.

FORTUNE TOLD FOR $20

Kruzof Lachmann, of Main street and Elizabeth avenue, keeper—of a dollar-seem store, came near paying $20 for having his fortune told yesterday. An elderly gipsy woman entered his place of business and after getting him to empty his pockets wanted to see his hands. Mr. Lachmann wisely clung to a roll of bills which he had in his pocket. The woman then resorted to the usual incantations and gestures and told Mr. Lachmann many pleasant things that are to happen to him. She then left the store. Mrs. Lachmann came in a little anxious and asked her husband to count his money. He did so. There were $20 missing. A hurry call was sent to police headquarters and Desk Sergeant Gless responded quickly. He captured the woman near Miller and Hoffe's lumber yard. She had already given the four five-dollar bills to her husband, but they were quickly returned when Sergeant Gless accused her of the theft. As he had recovered his money Mr. Lachmann would make no charge. He is still mystified as to how the woman got the money.

PREPARE FOR EMERGENCIES

"We have not good reason to be ashamed of the combinations of nations created by the war. We have no intentions of doing so. But after the war the combinations which were created for the purpose of the war will in all probability be perpetuated for the purposes of recuperation from the war, for recovering trade mastery and commerce, so as to lighten the burdens incurred. Not having been a partner during the war, we need not expect to be taken into partnership after the war, nor do we desire it. But we may have to play for our trade and commerce a lone hand against combinations.

The point is simply that before peace comes the United States should take all reasonable and proper means to fortify itself in its foreign trade. Up to the present we have not done much more than talk about it, but even that is evidence that we are awake to the situation. No man can tell what will be the situation in Europe when the war is over. We cannot prepare to meet a definite condition, because we do not know what that condition will be. But what we can do is to develop an efficiency and a flexibility which will fit us to meet any condition we may have to face.

It is absolutely certain that Europe will strain every nerve to recover its commercial prestige. It does not coincide with German thoroughness and foresight to assume that Germany will not swing her compact and centralized organization to a reconquest of trade with an efficiency equal to that she has shown in war. Its efficiveness will be measured principally by the internal conditions that Germany will have to meet.

Neither does it coincide with logic to assume that the national powers have learned nothing from the war, that they will think that the end of the war means that they can go back with Germany, or that they will not do their best to prevent Germany from being in a position to do to them what proved to be. And when they are not struggling with each other the world will be a strange place for them to be taking away from us again whatever of trade the fortunes of war have made us any conquest for us."—Newark News.

RALLY DAY OBSERVED

Rally Day was fittingly observed at Milton Chapel Sunday school on Sunday afternoon. An inspiring address was delivered by the Rev. C. S. Kemble, pastor of Trinity church, and prayer was offered by the Rev. C. E. Merrill, of the First Baptist church. Recitations were presented by Joseph Price, Julia Mauser, Dora Price and Edith Mauser. A fine duet was rendered by Miss Ethel Price and Miss Grace Cornish.

Vote NO on Woman Suffrage

Special Election, Oct. 19th to Vote NO on Woman Suffrage

"When I deprecate female suffrage I am pleading for the dignity of women; I am contending for a sphere, for a place, for a position which women alone can fill, those charms and graces which exalt womankind and make her the ornament and coveted consort of man. Woman is queen indeed, but her empire is the domestic kingdom. The greatest political triumphs of her sex, those charms and graces that are her peculiar province, are those which are illustrious and worthy of her exalted station, those which illumine and wave her sceptre over her own peculiar empire of public and private life, those like the fabled fairy beholding mills transformed into a palace, at her touch, those which, like the fabled fairy, by a touch of her magic wand, can transform a desert into a garden, a wilderness into a fruitful field, a forest into a stately grove, a barren rock into a pedestal where nature and Christianity have placed her and will fall to her lot the glorious opportunity from the strong-hand-of-her-male-competitor."—Cardinal Gibbons.

TAKE STEPS TO HAVE PURE MILK

PASTEURIZATION OR TUBERCULIN TESTS

Title was taken to an ordinance at the meeting of the Board of Health on Wednesday evening that should prove a big step forward for the people of this city the purest milk supply possible under present conditions. The new measure will compel all milk dealers making deliveries in this city to show their cows have the tuberculin test or else have the milk pasteurized. It is planned to have this measure become effective January 1, 1916. Some time before that it would be taken this fall was given by the Board of Health at its meeting in May, when which time the members of the board have looked into the matter quite thoroughly and convinced that this action is advisable.

The alternative of the two methods of assuring a better milk supply is given the dealers in order that no hardship will be worked upon them. In many places the pasteurization is carried out at a central point, where the necessary machinery is installed. For each dealer to install apparatus might prove a hardship to some. Pasteurization, however, gives the best general results. The tuberculin test only shows the condition of the cow in regard to tuberculosis, but as this is considered one of the greatest dangers is with the assurance that the supply is free from tubercular germs is considered of great value. These are the gist of statements made by President Brickell in discussing the matter before the board.

Health Officer Dr. F. W. Bell described the manner in which the tests are made, and also the manner of pasteurization, and read a measure recently adopted by the City of New York, which is said to be similar to the regulations made by the Government bureau. Dr. Bell also pointed out that provisions should also be made concerning the purity of buttermilk, butter, and other fluid milk products. The measure adopted by the discussion, Commissioner W. H. Randolph, took title to the ordinance mentioned.

Gratifying progress was shown in reports made to Health Officer Bell relative to the campaign for the removal of unsanitary outhouses in sections of the city. This is at about a number in Grand street, Elizabeth avenue, Lawrence street, Central avenue, New Brunswick avenue, William, and Adams street had lately been removed.

The monthly report of communicable diseases showed the following: Typhoid fever, one; diphtheria, two; scarlet fever, one; complete removal, four; no cases, one; abated, two; in process of abatement, one; quarantined, two; recovering, fifteen; water tests of plumbing, five inspections, seventeen; milks examined, 1,011; new cases, one; pedesal where nature and Christianity have placed her and will fall to her lot the glorious opportunity from the strong-hand-of-her-male-competitor."—Cardinal Gibbons.

REJECT BIDS FOR CONVENT

Specifications Will be Altered and Structure Erected at Less Expense.

CONSTRUCTION DEFERRED UNTIL SPRING

Decision has been made by the Rev. P. A. Maher to delay the building of the proposed large convent on the parish property in Central avenue until next spring. The contract for the construction of the building ranged from $13,750 to $16,200, while the glazing work would cost about $2,000, besides the architect's fees and other incidentals. The cost of the convent, "it was thought, could not comfortably above the mark indicated. It was therefore decided to reject all bids and alter the plans and specifications to meet the requirements.

It was originally planned to have the structure complete cost not more than $16,000 and the majority of building bids were reached this mark, not including any of the other work. It is understood that Rev. A. Jeanjean was the lowest bidder. As it is now so late in the season it was thought advisable to defer building the convent until next spring when the bids will be asked for in accordance with the specifications to be revised by Architect Lee F. Pigott, of Newark.

MUCH ACTIVITY BY CIVIC CLUB

Mrs. Charles Stockton, President State Federation Will Speak at Next Meeting

That the Civic Club is planning a particularly active fall and winter was indicated in various plans divulged and steps taken at the first fall meeting held on Tuesday afternoon at the High school auditorium. Announcement was made that Mrs. Charles Stockton, of Morristown, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, will speak at the next meeting to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 2. It is also expected that during her stay here Mrs. Stockton will be given an opportunity to view the local sanitary conditions and a subsequent chance to express her opinion on conditions of the building, etc. A speaker of prominence will address each meeting of the club during the season.

Another indication of activity was shown in the report of the entertainment committee made by Mrs. David Joseph, chairman, who stated that a number of "good times" had been in store for members at intervals during the season had been planned and that the use of several houses had already been offered.

Upon the suggestion of President Mrs. Brearley the club decided to ask the Board of Education to reconsider its stand in reference to the use of the high school auditorium by Cheiron A. M. E. church for the presentation of the dramatic cantata, "Hallelujah, I's Free." The board, making the maximum charge of $30 for the use of the auditorium. After calling first Vice-president Mrs. I. F. Wood to the chair Mrs. Brearley offered a motion that a letter be sent to the board asking a reduction of the amount to $10, the regular fee charged for other varieties of entertainment of an educational nature. Mrs. Brearley and other members considered that the entertainment planned is of an educating and developing nature so that the minimum fee should be charged, the same as had been done in other cases.

Mrs. A. Edward Woodruff supported Mrs. Brearley's attitude, stating that she is southerner and had been raised among them and learned to love them. "They may be black outside but many of them are as white inside as any of the white people. I know of no people who have shown greater love and faithfulness than they. During their great trials they were just as patient as the children of Israel," Mrs. Woodruff exclaimed Mrs. Brearley's motion. The latter stated that she had not been approached by the colored people on the matter and that she had taken it up as a matter of justice and thought the appeal to the board ought to be made in that way.

Secretary Miss Rachel Robinson of the State Department gave the name of school buildings and Mrs. H. G. McCallion made brief remarks on the subject.

In calling the meeting to order Mrs. Brearley feelingly thanked the members for the honor and confidence they had bestowed upon her by continuing her as president for another term. She pledged her best service to the affairs of the club and asked the members to be absolutely loyal to the club in every way. She pointed out that a number of things started by the club had been taken up by others and carried out, but that the club deserved credit for starting them and felt gratified at their accomplishment. She felt that members should be loyal in the fullest sense of the word only to the attitude of some who are not members and attempt to belittle and belittle the work of the organization. Hope was expressed that the club would continue to work along progressive and permanent lines, exerting a wholesome influence for the general upbuilding and welfare of the city. She called attention to the public playground, visiting nurse, annual concerts by the united choirs and various municipal actions they had advocated, some of which have already been accomplished.

Mrs. Brearley's words found hearty accord among the members and her straight-from-the-shoulder talk proved most effective.

That the city should compel compliance with the long-standing ordinance relative to the separation of garbage from ashes and other refuse was the general sentiment of the meeting. It was pointed out that garbage if properly and made the garbage a source of revenue as a fertilizer and that in ten years Los Angeles, Cal., had realized over $1,000,000 from this source. Although Rahway is not expected to make any large sum by the proper handling of the garbage it is estimated that a small profit can be had and the material not entirely wasted as at present, besides being an eyesore to citizens residing in the vicinity of where the ashes and garbage are dumped.

Mrs. H. G. McCallion reported concerning her partial investigation into the cost of a garbage disposal plant and stated that the apparatus alone, without the building and cost of maintenance would be from $5,000 to $15,000 and stated that approved apparatus could be obtained for either price. As this was considered prohibitive for the city at the present time, it was decided to continue the the immediate efforts to the separation of the garbage and ashes to see if a small income to the city could be realized from this source.

Report was made by Mrs. Woodruff that the street commissioner had been interviewed relative to the dumping of garbage and the use of lime. It was stated that the street commissioner said the people objected to the lime being around and that this is the reason why it had not been used more extensively.

One of the important features of the meeting was an address by Mrs. Charles D. Freeman, president of the Mercy Committee of New Jersey, who reviewed the work of the organization since its inception on May 4, and told in part what had been done for the relief of the French ballies, for whom 2,750 articles were forwarded by the first shipment. She spoke eloquently and feelingly of the work and was warmly applauded at the end of her remarks.

Upon motion of Mrs. Joseph H. Hoffman Mrs. Freeman was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for her eloquent address. In these times further the women of the Civic Club to join the Mercy Committee and participate in its work, remaining the place of meeting unchanged.

Mrs. Joseph reported for the entertainment committee that she was to convene to the united church choirs of the city would be held the first week in November. She also reported the receipt of $20 from the Mercy Committee in appreciation of the work done by the club members at the recent outdoor fete.

For the visiting nurse committee Chairman Mrs. Carl Helsenberg presented a report for the past three months, showing great activity and much accomplished. During that period there were 683 visits, of which 201 were nursing visits and the remaining eight were friendly visits. She reported that the third year was connected with a new city nurse, Miss Kemsley Carey, who has already done good work and has found favor with the local physicians.

Mrs. A. D. Brearley was named delegate to the semi-annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs to be held at Woodbury on Oct. 30. Mrs. I. F. Wood, first vice-president, was chosen alternate.

Mrs. Brearley stated that she had appeared before the Shade Tree Commission as a substitute for Mrs. R. C. Hallor, who is ill, and that a plan had been laid before the commission for the planting of flowering trees where advisable and also the encouragement of planting flowers and hardy shrubs between the sidewalk and curb line in streets where the plan is feasible. This plan was advocated by Mrs. Hallor and the Shade Tree Commission concurred with it. Deep regret was expressed at the continued illness of Mrs. Hallor.

Announcement was made that the Junior Civic League had started work energetically, but a report was not received owing to the absence of Superintendent Mrs. Harold L. Robinson.

Three new members were received, including Mrs. Waldo Berry, Mrs. Leon Grand Hedges and Mrs. R. D. Love, meeting which prevented her attendance Miss A. W. Lupton resigned as an active member, but remained on the contributing member list.

The treasurer was authorized to pay $20, appropriated at the previous meeting, to the woman's college fund.

The meeting was well attended and much interest was shown in the work.

BUSY SEASON BEGUN AT YMCA

Religious and Physical Work to be Pushed With Great Energy

According to reports made and plans advanced at the meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening there will be a much larger use of the association building during the fall and winter than ever before. The largest bowling league tournament in the history of the city will be run off, a physical director will be secured at an early date and gym classes started for boys in the afternoon and men in the evening and other branches of physical activity taken up while the religious work department will be busy in providing special attractions, one of which will comprise a series of Sunday afternoon meetings at a local theatre addressed by prominent outside speakers on live topics. The use of one of the local theatres has already been offered.

The bowling committee reported on the polls for the conduct of the new alleys, which will be open for tournament use, but restricted to members, subscribers and those otherwise entitled to their use, or to those to whom a limited membership is issued to cover the use of the alleys at $2 per year. The bowling league schedule will be started next Monday evening.

Reports received concerning the financial campaign showed that excellent results had been obtained.

The house committee authorized the rearrangement of the rooms so that provision could be made for a proper meeting place in lieu of the one eliminated by the construction of the new bowling alleys.

General Secretary Overton reported on the summer activities, showing that the tennis course had been result and used to a large extent and that two new bowling alleys had been constructed as authorized. Other routine matters were also reported.

Much interest and enthusiasm was manifested by the officials during the meeting at the general progress being made by the association. The members of the board of directors present were: J. M. Brookfield, former Police Commissioner John H. Williams, Health Officer Dr. F. W. Bell, Thomas Fitzpatrick, Frederick L. Mintel, James Smith, Harry W. Cleary, W. C. Carter, Health Commissioner H. C. Terrill and General Secretary John A. Overton.

TEST USE OF NAME

Standard Oil Company After Competitors Who Use "Standard"

Three dealers in fuel oil in Atlantic City were served this week with preliminary injunction issued on the application of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, by Chancellor Stevens, restraining them from using "Standard Gas," and "Standard Gasoline" as the names of a product they offered for sale. The interesting question of the difference between a noun and an adjective in the promotion of trade is brought up.

The papers in the case allege that the term "Standard Gas" has been used widely through the State to describe the gasoline manufactured by the Standard Oil Company.

Many garages which sell the Standard Oil Company's product were shown to have erected signs of their own which read "Standard Gas," despite the fact that the Company furnishes signs describing its product as "Standard Gasoline" and "Standard Motor Gasoline."

The injunction restraining the defendants from using the terms "Standard Gas" and "Standard Motor Gasoline" was granted to sustain the plaintiff's claim to the use of the words which have become familiar all over the State, meaning "Polarine and Standard Gasoline."

The Company contended that the claim "Standard Gas" and "Standard Gasoline" have now become peculiar trade names of its product and that persons who use the words under these names in practically every instance are seeking to buy its product, to identify it and to get the benefit of its right to use the word "Standard" in the manner it is used, as an identifying term.

Competition in the gasoline business in New Jersey is very active, and various dealers who do not sell the Standard Oil Company's product have sought to increase their business by displaying signs reading "Standard Gas," and at the same time have furnished the public not with genuine Oil Company's gasoline, but with something else which, whatever its merits, is not "Standard Gasoline."

The papers in these cases show also that one at least of these defendants, on being remonstrated with by the Standard Oil Company for his use of this name, vigorously asserted that it was within the law. The question is the very question that the Standard Oil Company wants to test, and have settled by a legal adjudication.

Church, Central avenue, where an address will be delivered by Attorney James H. Hayes, of Richmond, Va., at 8 o'clock.

LETTERS FROM THINKING PEOPLE

Communications of General Interest to the Citizens of Rahway.

Editor of Record: This slogan, "Nothing too good for Rahway," would better read "Anything good enough for Rahway." Better bear the ills we have than fly to those we know not of." If the policy of your paper is to be carried out on the suffrage question. In your issue of Tuesday afternoon, October 5th, an editorial says: "The Record believes that the extension of the suffrage to women will not be an improvement over present conditions and urges the rejection of the proposed amendment.

James H. Nugent says the same thing and more. That gentleman boasts that he can "Allow 42 per cent. of the Essex County vote to get suffrage on October 19." How will he do it? A trick to have one vase which has been made by the suffragists waves that a majority of the voters favor passing the amendment. Two vases "Only one" over the State. On the other side a vase of good men, national leaders, will cast a majority against it. "Only two" we pass to a statement made in social circles President Wilson said:

"Women in New York, women and New Jersey because I believe they feel that the time has come to extend that privilege and responsibility to the women of the States, but I shall vote, not as the leader of my party in the nation but only upon my private conviction as a citizen of New Jersey called upon by the Legislature of the State to express his convictions at the polls.

I think that New Jersey will be greatly benefited by the change. My opinion will weigh in the way in which this great question should be handled is well known. I believe that it should be settled by the States and not by the National Government and that in no circumstances should it be made a party question, and my view has grown stronger at every turn of the agitation."

Another convert to the Woman Suffrage cause is administration "Wet" Joseph P. Tumulty, Secretary to the President. "Tumulty" Tuesday afternoon issued a statement to the effect that he would cast his vote for the amendment. It is not a party issue. Colonel Theodore Roosevelt says in a message to the Royal Suffrage League of New Jersey:

"I want to speak to the men who have the right to vote and who are the fathers of our children. Tell them that the women share it with them," says Colonel Roosevelt. "I ask every decent, self-respecting citizen who has the right to vote to join the movement to secure for women the suffrage now denied them. We have woman suffrage in the Western States. I don't think that the East will permanently lag behind. Civilization is spreading. Conservative friends tell me that woman's duty is in the home. Certainly. So is man's. The duty of the woman to the home isn't any more than the man's. If the average man has more leisure to think of public matters, than the average woman has then it is a frightful reflection on him. If the average man tells you that the average woman hasn't the time to think of these questions tell him to go home and do his duty."

The Woman's Political Union has the word of many local leaders that they will vote "yes" on the amendment. The outlook is hopeful that Rahway may on October 26 be listed with the live, progressive towns of the State, having taken an honorable part in aiding to New Jersey a majority vote favoring "Votes for Women." This is not a question for one party to decide. It is not a political issue. It is a moral issue, one of simple justice. Thousands of women pay taxes. Is it not common justice that they should have a voice in making the laws which spend those taxes?

ANNIE DENIKE BREARLEY.

Mr. Editor: In fairness to the candidates and to the voters, would it not be well to offer your columns to Messrs. Savage and Simmons to state their positions on various municipal questions, so that all may know just where they stand, what they believe in and what, if anything, they will promise to do if elected. A platform in relation to municipal affairs is not so unusual that they need hesitate, and surely the voters will be better able to make a choice at the election.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the payment of $1,995 to the Barbers Foot Comfort Co. for the purchase of corn plasters for the 1916 band issue. The contingent fund was restored by an appropriation of $134.84. Collections and accounts amounting to $1,240.35 were ordered paid. A balance of $4,937.08 was reported on hand.

The report of Bacteriologist N. S. Hill, Jr., showed the water to be in excellent condition, and that the minimum rainfall of all bacteria for one day during the past month was 95-per-cent.

Engineer David Gage reported 61,307,710 gallons of water pumped during September, or an increase of 1,844,250 gallons, a daily gain of 61,456 gallons.

Vote NO on Woman Suffrage

Special Election, Oct. 19th
Vote NO on Woman Suffrage

"Equal rights do not imply that both sexes should engage promiscuously in the same pursuits, but that each should discharge those duties which are adapted to its physical constitution. The insistence on a right of participation in active political life is undoubtedly calculated to rob woman of all that is amiable and gentle, tender and attractive; to rob her of her grace of characterand give her nothing in return but masculine coarseness and offensivery. Its advocates are habitually preaching about woman's rights and prerogatives, and have not a word to say about her duties and responsibilities. They withdraw her from those obligations which properly belong to her; and fill her with ambition to usurp positions for which neither God nor nature ever intended her."—Cardinal Gibbons.

THE VOTERS' CALENDAR

October 19—State referendum election, and third registration day.
November 2—General Election Day.

SHOULD BE ADJUSTED

For over thirty years the cities and towns of New Jersey have been groaning under the illegal Discrimination in freight rates in favor of New York City and the great trunk lines that the Governor Mellor has appointed a committee to consider the matter and submit a proposed amendment to the present law so as to equitable to New Jersey. This is one of the most important undertakings in the history of the state and it should be handled by men and if successful means a tremendous impetus to the commercial development of the Garden State of New Jersey and incidentally relieve Rahway and all other cities likewise. From time to time efforts have been made to solve the problem but thus far they have been futile.

It is generally recognized and renounced that railroad tariff rates are a necessity and that any point within a radius of a certain number of miles from the central point shall pay the same rate, but under the equalizing circumstances New York, Hoboken and the surrounding cities on the New York water front have a decided advantage over the cities of northern New Jersey, included in the zone of discrimination. The advantage is the fact that the railroads low or figure on New York and Hoboken freight from the West across the Hudson river from the New Jersey railroad terminals free of charge.

This service involves a cost of over half a million dollars to the railroads. The cost to the railroads is not less than three cents per hundredweight or sixty cents a ton, and from that to six cents a hundredweight or a dollar and a half a ton, and from that to six cents a hundredweight or a dollar and a half a ton, instead of compelling the New York and Brooklyn merchants to pay the cost of freight carried across the Hudson river, absolutely free, thus compelling the freight shippers to pay proportionately in the freight charges, the equivalent of the cost of receiving or shipping goods in northern New Jersey to and from the West.

Justice should be rendered to northern New Jersey merchants by equalizing the New York and Brooklyn merchants to pay the cost of their own lighterage instead of compelling all of northern New Jersey including the New York zone to contribute to this tax.

One or two principles already laid down by the interstate commerce commission apply to the present situation. One is to the effect that every city is entitled to the advantage of its location and may not lawfully be subjected to high rate charges merely because carriers, for reasons of convenience or otherwise, include it with a number of other points in surrounding territory, which points are not similarly situated.

Another principle is that a carrier may not properly or lawfully engage in transportation at a rate less than the cost of the service, since to do so would cost of the service, since to do so would shoe an improper and unlawful burden upon other traffic. This principle applies directly to the free service which carriers give Brooklyn receive and for which New Jersey pays.

Although the present injustice against the commercial interests of New Jersey has existed for many years it is time to ask why it should continue and every effort should be made to support the work of the committee named by Governor Fielder or in obtaining an equitable adjustment.

PARTY LINES DISAPPEARING

That Edward S. Savage, candidate for Mayor, is the citizens' choice rather than a party nominee, is becoming more evident daily through the fact that a goodly number of property owners of all parties are rallying to his support because of his acquired ability and qualifications to fill the highest municipal office in the power of the city.

They are polishing to the fact that it is a waste of time to the Democratic leaders of the city and that a man with experience and sound business judgment is needed at the helm to steer the municipal ship safely past the shoals that are appearing on the business horizon. As Theodore Savage has had a wide and valuable experience in municipal, county and state affairs that should prove an irrefutable asset in handling the affairs of Rahway, and to which the interests of Rahway may be likened, cannot be gainsaid and his candidacy appears to be growing in strength daily on this account.

The present campaign promises to wipe out party lines locally and elect those best qualified for the respective positions.

SHOULD HAVE ATTENTION

Pieces that should be heard before City Attorney Robbins at the meeting of the Democratic Club last evening, not because of any political significance, but because of the fact that from the city is handling its finances within the limit for years. Assemblyman Wilson brings the bonds for the building of Washington and Columbian schools, that are refunded within two years and within less than five years the adjustment bonds amounting to about $450,000 must also be refunded. These matters also indicate that a definite financial policy must be adopted and adhered to in a way that will make possible the meeting of these obligations in a proper way. These are matters of vital interest to every citizen and property owner and should receive sober and serious thought.

FAMILIARITY WITH CAR BEST ECONOMY

Owner Who Understands Mechanism of Automobile Able to Cut Down Expenses

Every driver should familiarize himself with every detail of his car, as this will not only add to the safety of all involved, but it will give comfort and ease of mind when the driver is able to avoid, almost automatically, the various emergencies which make and do arise, observes a practical motorist in Motor Print. It will also add to the life and the usefulness of the car, will save fuel and will prevent unavoidable and expensive repairs bills, which we all like to avoid.

In this connection the writer has been driving a five-passenger automobile for more than three years, and his expense for repairs during all that time has been less than $5, one item being for a new bronze bearing for the cam shaft and the other for tube keys caused by broken balls in the front wheels.

The number of repairs which gave him the most trouble occurred during my first year with the car, or while I was learning the ins and outs of the proposition and was stopped for a few minutes while I went to attend to some little trouble I was unable to start the motor. Of course, I investigated carefully before undertaking any repairs or adjustments, and thus was able to avoid compensation and wiring.

"Gas was being delivered to the carburetor, but not enough to start the motor. An expert happened to be driving by at this time and, after tinkering a bit, said that it was trouble which of course was evident. He worked for half an hour to start the motor without "nothing doing."

"Then, at night was coming on, he offered to pull me in. We again took up the search and after working until about midnight, I had to switch the distribution wire, but finding nothing amiss, we finally gave a turn on the crank which set the motor spinning as of yore, but leaving us in doubt as to what we had done.

"After disposing of the expert and replacing myself in a hearty mood, thinking my troubles were ended, I thought to take a spin and confidently tried to start, but no life developed within the inner recesses. With disgust I left her to pout it out.

"The next morning I got up before breakfast with a "Pennsylvania" or ruin. I this time attached the magneto and cranked and cranked and cranked with the crank and the engineer turn set her off, but as per accustomed functions only to balk again the next time I attempted to crank and start and after that I could not start it with the crank.

"But to make my story shorter, in about two hours I found the trouble, and what do you think it was? Simply the wire had broken at the face of the coil box, which button I used to start the motor with the starter. This button was too tight and I had to have used it it would stick and therefore break the circuit.

"Certain jars about the car would loosen it, and allow the current to operate again. I simply reamed out the aperture in which the rod button operated and have had no trouble in this little niche.

"This incident simply shows how a very little thing may give one a great amount of trouble.

"The peculiar thing about an automobile is that one very seldom has the same trouble the second time, and when one comes to the conclusion that he has learned all of the little things which may occur he is very likely to soon to have a new symptom to puzzle over.

"Most people send for he repairman and let him figure it out, when possibly it is as simple as the little red button trouble. There are two objections to this, one being that you miss the knowledge that would be valuable for you to discover yourself, and the other is the expense.

"A motor should never be taken down unless it is absolutely necessary. On three different occasions I have had to almost fight off the repairman, who wanted to take my motor down to make some slight repair. As an instance, one time I noticed oil on the front side of my pump would not back off far enough to insert my packing. At "work" would strike the crankshaft of the frame before it left the threaded spindle.

"I consulted several repair shops and they all agreed that I would have to take the machine down, take out the nut and dress it off. I made the repair myself in less than an hour without any interfering with the motor, taking anything apart or off the car. I did this by simply turning the nut in contact with a die until I had a space sufficient in which to insert the packing.

"I believe the principal thing to do is keep your machine in first-class condition for. Don't be afraid of oil and grease. Oil it frequently and liberally. Use only be careful to adjust the oil so that it will not be important and not let squeakes appear, avoid a squeak as you would a mad hole; eradicate them by frequent oiling.

"Naturally, the most trouble is experienced with the wiring, so take care not neglect to fill all small cuts with the proper dope to keep out moisture. A 1,000 miles the tubes should be taken out, as by that time they will begin to stick to the inside of the casing.

"Inspect the inside of the casing and tubes, and inner patches will places where the fabric seems to be showing a weakness. After 2,000 miles of travel an inner-liner should be placed in the casing. I make these from old cannot have blown out. An inner can be made from an old casing by an hour of two of work, simply cut the casing crosswise at the break. Then cut off the beads or beads as close as possible. Then by overlapping end of the tire in a vise, you can peel back the rubber and cloth layer of fabric.

"It is a hard job to take the rubber only from the fabric and it is not worth the work to try it, but if you should have one layer of fabric to remove with the rubber, then it can be peeled off in a few minutes, and you will also have an inner liner that will add many hundred miles to the old casing.

"In this connection the edges of the liner and its ends should be beveled. This is easily done by ripping off about an inch all around from the outer layer of each edge, and then in the same manner take off half an inch from the middle layer, thereby leaving the outer layer only at the extreme edges.

"Or if the tire has more or a less number of layers then the process may be varied accordingly. The best part of the old rubber, with the one layer of fabric which has been ripped off, can be used to make inner tubes, patches to cover blowouts in another casing, or can be placed under the inner to prevent injury to the tube.

The Priscilla White Wash.

The boiler, bubble bubble, or Turkish water pipe, is always being smoked by Burmese women, partly because they use it for sanitary to supply the men with nicotine water. This bubble bubble alcoholic water habit is, in fact, a lazy form of tobacco chewing. The month of the nasty beverage is held in the mouth as long as possible. They carry about pounds full of it and claim it preserves their teeth.

There is a capital hotel system in vogue in certain parts of Norway. In villages where no hotel exists one of the more prominent inhabitants is subsidized by the Norwegian government and is ready to furnish a good accommodation for not fewer than four travelers. He may take in more if he chooses, but four is the minimum. The accommodation and food supplied are excellent and the charge moderate.

RAHWAY LOSES TO BARRINGER

CRAVATH, PHILLIES' DEMON SLUGGER, TOO OLD FOR MAJORS FIVE YEARS AGO

Light, Inexperienced Local Eleven Scored Against Only Once by Newarkers

Displaying a strong defensive and weak offensive, the Rahway High School football eleven suffered its first defeat since 1913 by the score of 7 to 0 in a hard-fought gridiron battle against Barringer High at City Field, Newark, Wednesday afternoon. The result should have been a scoreless tie, but in the last two minutes of play the Barringer boys negotiated a successful forward pass and a short run of five yards by Hummell placed the ball behind the Rahway goal posts for the only touchdown of the game, from which Dempsey accurately kicked an easy goal.

Several times previous to that play the Rahway goal line had been endangered, but a stiffening of the line held the visitors for downs, or the Rahway team held the ball on backfield penalties.

In the final fourth quarter the play started with the ball in Barringer's possession on Rahway's seventeen-yard line, somewhat the worse for wear, as Rahway had kicked off to the left side of Rahway's line for five yards and then the line stood like a stone wall and the home team was forced down on the ten-yard line. Captain Edwin Durand attempted to punt the ball on the first play. The tackle was lined up at the extreme edge of the field and instead of kicking the oval toward the center of the field the ball was lost on bounds at the twenty-yard line and was again in possession of the Barringer eleven with only a fairly long way to go that on their previous drive for the goal line stopped on the last period. Had the kick been well directed the goal would not have been in any great danger for the remainder of the game.

Albright's failure to stop the runner or intercept the forward pass that decided the game was the final fault dest of the several that led directly to defeat. Hummell played his cut on the end in good position to receive a forward pass, and Albright was placed opposite on the Rahway defensive, while the remaining players of both teams were near. The ball was thrown to the center, who paused a moment as the opposing line crashed through, the ball held the ball to Hummell, and the latter intercepted the pass, as he had every opportunity to do, he would have had a clear field for a dash to Barringer's goal.

From the twenty-yard line where the play started after Durand's futile kick the Barringer boys worked the ball slowly to within two feet of the Rahway goal line. Line plunges by Schneider and Foster netting two, three and four yards at a time, were responsible for the advance. With the ball only two feet from their goal line the Rahway players held successfully on two downs, when Quarterback Blanond, of Barringer, was caught by Umpire David Armstrong attempting to crawl over the line after the ball had been downed. The Newark team was penalized five yards for this infringement, after which the successful forward pass that decided the game was executed.

With less than five minutes to play the Rahway boys made a desperate attempt to retrieve themselves. The home eleven kicked off to Walter Dunn, who ran back ten yards before being downed. A forward pass from Durand to Albright netted twenty-five yards, one of the longest runs of the game. Two more forward passes were intercepted, the second by Hummell just as time was called.

Near the close of the first quarter Barringer narrowly missed scoring. The same opened with Barringer kicking off. Durand caught the ball and ran back fifteen yards before being downed. On Rahway's thirty-five yard line. After two futile attempts to go between and tackle and a forward pass had been fumbled, Durand punted, as Schneider made a fair catch. He was tackled by a Rahway player, with the result that Rahway was penalized. After two slight gains against the Rahway line the ball was punted to Rahway's four-ten-yard line. Lou Mantlo tore off ten yards between end and tackle on Barringer's left side. Albright hit the line hard without result. Captain Durand carried the ball five yards. A forward pass from Durand to Albright netted five yards more. Mantlo made a yard on the next play and fumbled on the succeeding start, with the result that eight yards were lost. A forward pass was incomplete and Durand punted to mid-field.

Dempsey took the ball on the first play for five yards between Rahway's right tackle and end. Schneider worked the left side for fifteen yards. Dempsey added five yards more and Schneider came back with four yards. No gain was made by Schneider on the next play. A forward pass to Schneider netted five yards, and Foster shot through the Rahway team for ten yards, being downed on Rahway's two-yard line. The Rahway boys braced and threw the Barringer lads back for a two-yard loss on the next play. A forward pass was attempted, but Conover intercepted the ball behind the Rahway goal, saving a possible touchdown.

The ball was put in play on the twenty-yard line and Conover made twenty-five yards on a forward pass.

LIKE the elevator man, we all have our "ups and downs" in life. Consider the case of Gavvy Cravath, outfielder and slugger of Pat Moran's "Philling Phillies." Five years ago Cravath was considered too old for the big leagues, and he drifted to the Minneapolis American Association club. For three years he remained with that team until his reputation as a long-distance slugger came to the notice of the Philadelphia nationals, and he was promptly signed by a Fall City contract. Now Gavvy is one of the most valuable men in Pat Moran's outfield. At Cincinnati he was unusually busy on the occasion of the last present series of their opponents, the Reds. Gavvy is the most potent factor of their offense and his long drives have broken up many ball games this season. Cravath is also a member of the major leagues. He is the season's "home run king," having over twenty already to his credit, and he hopes to add a few more to the total before the final curtain.

BASEBALL PLAYERS TO REAP HARVEST

Owners and Players Expect to Divide More Than $300,000 this Year

The Philadelphia Nationals and the Boston Americans, respective pennant winners in their leagues are about to reap the financial rewards of their season-long efforts in the coming World's Series. Owners and players are expected to divide more than $300,000 paid in at the gate, by the baseball fans of the two cities most interested in the series. With the immense seating capacity of the Boston Nationals' new stadium which will be used for the games in that city, the receipts should be larger than in any previous contests in one park.

The Braves' stadium will seat more than 30,000 and the gate is not likely to exceed $30,000 per game. In Philadelphia the Phillies' park will not hold more than 20,000 and the gate is not likely to be more than $20,000. Even under these conditions the players and magnates will split the major portion of a gate so near the large little to win the series. Receipts will be more than double that sum should the series go six or seven games. In any event it appears probable that new gate receipts records will be established, since the present high figures are $490,148 collected in the eight-game series between the New York Giants and Boston "Red Sox" in 1912, while the individual game record is held by the opening contest of the Athletic-Giants series of 1911, played at New York, when 38,281 spectators paid $77,339 to witness the contest.

It is certain that players and stockholders of the two contending clubs in the coming series will find a cause for complaint regarding the financial returns and division of the gates. The Fealty of the players and the interest of the fans assures big gate receipts and the National Agreement and National Commission rulings provide for the distribution of the same along the following lines: The National commission receives ten per cent. of the receipts of each and every game; of the remaining ninety per cent. the players take sixty per cent. and the club owners forty per cent. of the first four games. After four games have been played the players cease to share in the receipts and the club owners take the full ninety per cent. remaining after the National commission has levied its assessment.

Since the World's Series came under the official control of organized baseball the total receipts have amounted to $2,163,373. Of this huge sum, the twenty clubs participating in the game between 1903 and 1914 have divided $1,004,817, while the players who won and lost the championships in these years, split $872,056, on a basis of sixty per cent. to the winning team and forty per cent. to the losing organization. The National commission has received $211,564 and the coming share of the Ned Sox-Phillies series will be welcome for the large reserve of the commission has mulled away in the past ten years, owing to heavy expenses incurred in the struggle between organized and independent baseball interests.

Year	Attendance	Receipts
1903	100,429	$55,000
1904	91,721	45,408
1905	92,245	106,580

1909	124,232	173,959
1910	178,855	142,146
1911	251,001	490,448
1912	150,953	323,950
1913	111,009	215,773
1914	1,296,547	$2,163,373

QUALITY GASOLINE WHEREVER YOU GO

THE fuel question is an important one for the motorist. The veteran tourist makes sure of getting, not merely good fuel, but the same fuel, every time he has his tank filled.

Standard Motor Gasoline is the best motor fuel the Standard Oil Company, with its dependable sources of supply, its costly equipment, and its improved refinery methods, can produce. It is sold by the best garages and supply stations everywhere, and it is uniform wherever you buy it.

Standard Motor Gasoline is a straight-distilled product—not a "blend" or a "mixture." It is absolutely homogeneous—every drop like every other drop. It costs no more than others by the gallon, and less by the mile, because there are more miles in a gallon.

Remember this too. Good oil costs less than a worn out engine. Use Polarine—the Standard Oil for All Motors—obtainable wherever you see the "Standard Motor Gasoline" sign.

BUILDING LOAN IS HELP TO BUSINESS

Exerts Good Influence on Banks, Wages and Great Variety of Trades

"There can not be found any more vitally effective stimulant of the business activity of any community than a live, successful building and loan association," is the opinion of K. Y. Haymaker, one of the leading building and loan men of Ohio. He has for the last quarter of a century been an active worker in the ranks of building loan men, an officer of the largest association in his home town and a student of business and economic conditions generally. In a recent discussion of the relations between building and loan associations and banks he told many interesting things that men in every walk of life will do well to ponder over.

"One topic which gives rise to occasional contention is that of the reciprocal relations existing between building and loan associations and other financial institutions operating in the same communities, and the influence exerted by these relations," he said. "There is still a lurking idea in the minds of a few men that building and loan associations and commercial banks are competitors in business and rivals in trade; that the success of building and loan associations in any community means that neighboring banks are thereby curtailed in their growth and restricted in their business. After more than twenty-five years of constant, active work in the management of building and loan associations, and careful watching and studying of their operation in many communities and in different States, I have been firmly convinced that this idea has no foundation in fact.

"On the other hand, I have become thoroughly satisfied that successful building and loan associations are an important aid and feeder to the neighboring commercial banks and to their prosperity. The building and loan association has no treasure vault of its own in which it stores up idle money, withholding it from the regular channels of business, but all its funds are kept on deposit in some bank. Commercial banks are most prosperous when business is lively, when trade is flourishing; when the lumber yards and the hardware men and the implement dealers and other lines of trade are busy handing out their goods to cash buyers.

"Further, a minute look what happens when a building and loan association is busy making new loans that is, when it is most prosperous. Each new loan means a new house, and the building of a new house means that the lumber dealer, the carpenter, the brickmason, the lumber dealer, the hardware man, the painter and the plumber. It means more work and more wages to men in every line of business and that part expended for wages finds its way into all lines of retail trade and thence back to the commercial banks, while stimulating activity is exerted right at home in the local community where the commercial banks must look to obtain their business.

"Throughout the East this is so well understood and recognized that many commercial banks and trust companies have, to my knowledge, have exerted themselves to organize building and loan associations to operate as a savings bank department of their institutions and cultivate and encourage the associations, to their own great benefit and profit. The investments of a building and loan association are not scattered about in distant communities or used to build up far-off localities, but are turned loose in the local channels of trade, to relieve local business conditions.

"One pointed illustration of the helpful, beneficial results flowing from the operation of building and loan associations is found right in my home town in Ohio. We have three such associations, which are now carrying mortgage loans aggregating about $2,000,000. Twenty years ago this volume of mortgages was being carried by outside insurance companies or other financial institutions of other places.

"The activities of these building and loan associations has resulted in transferring this volume of debt owned abroad into an equal volume of debt owned at home. The annual interest of $120,000, which was formerly drained out of the community, has been transformed into an annual addition of that amount to the local circulating medium. That is, these three building and loan associations are carrying at home that volume of indebtedness rather than leaving it in the hands of foreign lenders, and it is making a difference of $240,000 annually in the wealth of our community."

WILL GO TO METUCHEN

—A Magic Stone.

Procure a very smooth writing stone, weighing about one and one-half feet long, and fill them well with soap. Prepare a brine by dissolving three tablespoonfuls of salt in a cup of water. Place the stone in the brine and allow them to soak for two hours or longer. It is necessary that they be thoroughly saturated with the brine.

Upon taking out of the brine and thoroughly dried suspend one of them from a bath on a lodge and hang a flat iron on the other end. The stone will hang in the bath.

Concerning Suffrage

LOGIC FOR THE BUSINESS MAN

Women have proved their business sense, their honesty, their ability in thousands and thousands of business positions—as owners, managers, and in office work.

How many women cashiers have you known to run off with their employers' money?

Aren't the women in your office as intelligent, as steady and as reliable as the men?

Isn't it "good business" in your line of work to build up an experienced, trained, loyal force of experts?

Is the best business or legislation for women and children wouldn't it be "good business" to get the help and vote of women who are experts in those needs?

As 85 per cent. of those who buy are women, wouldn't it be "good business" to give women an interest in tariff legislation and in conditions that affect the making and the sale of goods?

Would any business man endure being bound by contracts to which he was not a party? Isn't that what every woman is obliged to do who is "taxed without representation"?

Do you have a take much time away from your business to prepare for voting, or to vote?

Because you have the ballot, does it make you want to run for office, or neglect your duties or your home?

POPULAR PROGRAMS

Paramount pictures continue to make the Empire the mecca of large crowds of amusement seekers every night, with the long line of automobiles in front of the theatre nightly vouchsafe. To-night the popular comedian, John Barrymore, is to be seen in the famous farce comedy, "The Man from Mexico," one of the biggest laugh producers the stage and screen has ever known.

To-morrow there will be another high-class vaudeville show, featuring four standard acts, together with a number of excellent photoplays, including the second episode of "The Broken Coin," with Grace Cunard and Frances Ford in the leading roles. A complete synopsis of the first chapter will be shown, allowing all those who missed the first instalment to miss no part of this thrilling and gripping story.

Although the announcement is not positive, the management feel sure of obtaining the famous Tom Brown's Sextette to headline to-morrow's program. This is one of vaudeville's best musical acts, and will be a rare treat for all. The matinee is scheduled for 2.15, with the admission of five cents for children and ten cents for adults, while the evening performance will start at 8.15. Reserved seats for the evening performances can be obtained by calling 240-R, the new telephone just installed at the Empire.

On Monday, "The Eternal City" will be offered under the auspices of the C. U. A. M. and on Tuesday Edward Abeles will appear in the big comedy success, "Ready Money."

Next Wednesday the management announce that ladies will be admitted free with all reserved seats purchased before six o'clock Wednesday evening. This special inducement has proven very popular with the different stock companies, and the Empire management is going to try this for next Wednesday to encourage patrons buying seats in advance.

BLACK OPALS.

These Gems Fairly Blaze With Myriad Shades of Color.

Black opals are exquisite gems. Black opals are precisely unknown to the public. Black opals are not commercially recognized. Black opals are rarer than diamonds even, while experts declare that they are infinitely more beautiful.

And for this reason—for it may be pointed out that the term "black opal" is distinctly misleading. It was coined to distinguish it from the familiar light opal. As a matter of fact, the black opal is alive with myriad shades of flaming splendor, from brightest flame of green glowing fire to metallic gold or lavender that is as lustrous as quivers or stings like some molten ruby or sapphire as the angle of light alters.

Black opals are dear, not only because they are so beautiful, but because they are so rare. They are found only at one spot, a comparatively small tract of ground in New South Wales, adjoining the Queensland border.

The field is called Lightning Ridge. It is a wild and desolate spot. The nearest towns to it are Walgett and Collarendabri, and it is about 500 miles from Sydney as the crow flies.

Black opal mining is about the hardest possible estate. There is really nothing to guide the miner in selecting a "likely spot." The work of sinking shafts average forty feet in depth, and all real has to be "tackled" at the top. Water is scarce, fuel almost unobtainable. On the other hand, the prospector who is lucky enough to stumble upon a pocket of fair, sized flawless stones reaps a fortune forthwith.—Pearson's Weekly.

How We Read.

Oliver Wendell Holmes owned up to his preference for reading in books to reading through them. "When I set out to read through a book," he says, "I always feel that I have felt that I had a task before me, but when I read in a book it was the page or the paragraph that I wanted, which left its impression, and became a part of my intellectual furniture." If we were only thinker most of the time, and not to help the Holmes in this matter of her reading.—New York Tribune.

HALL BACK TO MAJORS.

St. Louis Cards Sign Old Sox Pitcher, Who Won Sixteen Games.

Winner of sixteen straight games, the same constituting a new American association record for consecutive wins, is Grover Cleveland Alexander, full-fledged Cardinal, again, this time with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hall was with the Boston Red Sox for several years and was one of Stahl's emergency hurling crew during the series between the Giants and the Sox in 1912.

This Alex with St. Paul has been the greatest sensation since Rube Marquard. He will report to the Cards next season.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF TWO COUNTIES

OLDE ALLOWS HOME NINE TWO HITS

It Olde pitched although call to the first game of the series against the Perth Amboy Pacers in the second contest on Sunday afternoon at Perth Amboy he twisted in remarkable form, allowing only two hits and retiring the home nine in one, two, three order for seven of the nine innings. During the entire game the members of the home nine came to bat only twenty-nine times. Olde was given plenty of support and with the exception of a very excusable error by O'Rourke he received faultless support.

Applegate gave Olde a hard tussle for pitching honors and held the Rahway sluggers to six scattered hits in the first inning Rahway won the game on an error by Beatty, a wild pitch and an error by Applegate, a single by Grimes and an error by Ruddy, giving them two runs and the game by the score of 2 to 0. After the initial session Applegate was given unwavering support and the Rahwayans could not score, although they threatened to cross the plate in the seventh and ninth innings.

Throughout the game it was a brand of baseball that kept the rooters alive at all times and they made the most of their opportunities to cheer the sensational plays. Despite the fact that Mosca, of the New York Yankees, and Beatty, another leaguer, had been added to the Perth Amboy line-up they did no better than the men they replaced. Rahway's line-up was same as the preceding week, with the exception that Ernleben replaced Conti in right field. O'Rourke, Emery and Hochman created off the fielding honors for the Rahway nine, while Ruddy, Tamm and Worth did the best for the Pacers. In batting, Grimes and Ernleben led, with two safeties each. Worth and Ruddy were the only Amboyans to locate Olde's shoots. After the second inning not a hit was secured off the Rahway pitcher.

The game started at 2.26 with Mullin at bat for Rahway. The first ball pitched by Applegate got the plate and Mullin was called. The second ball Mullin sent to the bulks toward Beatty, the leaguer juggled the ball and then threw wildly over Worth's head, Mullin reaching home on the play. Mullin advanced to third on a wild pitch by Applegate. Grimes was given the signal to bunt and smashed a pretty single to left field, scoring Mullin. Rothfuss bunted the ball and reached first safely, the second base to head off Grimes, the ball going to center field and Grimes continuing to third. Ernleben made a hard one at Tamm and Grimes crossed the plate, Tamm throwing to Ruddy, forcing out Ernleben. Hochman Roettiner struck out. Davis was thrown out at first on a grounder to Ruddy.

For the Pacers, Worth followed the example set the week previous and hit toward center field. Emery tried hard to get the shaker, but it took a nasty bound and rolled into center field. Tamm secured down the first base line, Rothfuss coming in on the run and getting the ball while Emery covered the bag. Mosca, of the Yankees, although urged by the rooters to send Worth in with a hit, could only knock a grounder to O'Rourke and failed to reach the initial station. Beatty duplicated his hit and suffered a similar fate. This was the only time in the game in which the Pacers were able to get a runner as far as second base.

Rahway started the second inning for Rahway by driving a high fly to Loeser in left field. Ernleben hit safely to center field, Ernleben and Ruddy made a great slap, but could not recover his equilibrium in time to get the runner at first. Olde struck out. Mullin went out at first on a grounder to Tamm.

In the last of the second Rahway gave a brilliant sample of its fielding ability. Davis was retired on a grounder to O'Rourke. Ruddy clouted the ball to right field for a single. Loeser hit safely, Ruddy reaching first base. Rothfuss secured the coveted touched first base and drove to O'Rourke on second, completing the last double play.

Grimes opened the third inning by drawing a base on balls. Ernleben he stole second through the slowness of Beatty. Rothfuss struck out. Davis was thrown out at first, Worth to Davis.

The home nine fell down easily. Hayes struck out. Applegate sent a speedy grounder to Mullin and was certainly safe out at first. Worth to Davis on a fine play.

NEW BANNERS FOR JR. O.U.A.M.

Enjoyable Celebration Held by Progressive Organization to Mark Their Arrival

WILL PARADE AT NEWARK TOMORROW

Banner Night was fittingly celebrated on Saturday evening by the members of Union Council, No. 31, Junior O. U. A. M. and a large number of invited guests. The occasion marked the arrival, setting up and unfurling of the handsome silk banner which the lodge presented last year as a testimonial of the things for which the order stands, together with a Betsy Ross flag and a new American flag, all at a cost of $300. The set and case for the equipment representing an expenditure of $250. The banner is one of the most up-to-date and modern up-to-date in the district of the State of New Jersey, which is plenty of high praise for the Rev. C. S. Kinney, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, aroused much interest and many words of commendation. Herman Graves made a hit with his rendition of "The Little House Upon the Hill" and "The Sea is My Sweetheart." George Graves acted as accompanist. A brief address by Geo. O. Miller closed the program, after which refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed. During the evening the contest for the Evendollar gold piece was won by Edward Hetfield.

Among the visitors were William Mannion, of Reliable Council, Hoboken; Herman, Frank and William Nickan, of Palisade Council, Jersey City.

In order to raise the balance of the funds necessary to pay for the new banner the "Eternal City" was presented at the Empire theatre last evening, the surplus of the receipts benefitted of Thirteen. The show was well attended.

The lodge meeting last evening only routine matters were transacted. Announcement was made that fully 100 members will take part in the big parade of the Councils of the State of New Jersey, to be held in Newark on Thursday, Oct. 14. Drum Corps will be in evidence.

TO RECEIVE NEW MEMBERS

Plans for the reception of new members on Monday evening, Oct. 18, were made last evening at the meeting of St. Mary's Alumni Association. A committee of arrangements was appointed consisting of John Geyer, Patrick McCoe, Jr., Clifford Walker, the Misses Margaret Fox, Mae Ryan, Sullivan, Katherine O'Rourke and Ethel Burns. This committee will also act in conjunction with the other church organizations in the plans for the parade on Monday, Oct. 25.

Running out from behind a wagon on which he had been stealing a ride, Raymond Gindrick, 7 years old, of Main street, was knocked down by the Hughes Jitney automobile near the Lyric theatre on Saturday afternoon. The lad was taken into Timothy Dunn's drug store, where it was found one hand was injured, besides a number of cuts and bruises on the children head and body. No bones were broken. The accident was unavoidable as the boy ran from behind the wagon directly in front of the automobile.

ATTEND SCOUT RALLY

Troop No. 3 Makes Fine Showing at East Orange

To take part in a grand Boy Scout rally, members of Troop No. 3, journeyed to East Orange Saturday. Joe Heidt, patrol leader of Troop 4, was also present and registered with Troop No. 3.

Although no prizes were won the local troop attracted considerable attention in the water-boiling contest by being the only one to have their pail suspended over the fire by means of a forked stick stuck in the ground at an angle. The other contestants merely held their pails in their hands over the fire. Hopper and Boulton were congratulated on all sides by Scout officials who said they had made the only practical camp fire in the contest.

With Heidt as horse and Boulton as rider the local boys received applause for the fight they put on. Hopper and Heidt showed up well in the fireman's lift race. Hopper was the patient and had to be picked up from a lying position by Heidt and carried across the shoulder for fifty yards.

In the cook stretcher race Olson, Hall and Wilkins were first in speed but last on other points.

Heidt took part in the tilting contest. The object was to dislodge your opponent from his position on an upended soap box with a twelve-foot pole.

After supper all the scouts gathered around the huge camp fire to sing and give their yells. Rahway was up, headed by the Rahway Record boy who remembered last year's football game. Incidentally it might be mentioned that Troop No. 3 is going to present Troop No. 1, of East Orange five pounds of candy if East Orange wins the Rahway game. The local Scouts are not looking up the parcel post rates.

Scout Beard, known to all the boys of the United States, addressed the Scouts. There were sixty-five troops and 3,500 Scouts present at the rally.

POPULAR COMPANY RETURNS

Arthur Chatterdon Company Will Appear at Empire This Month

The week of Oct. 25, will bring back to this city Rahway's favorite stock company, the Arthur Chatterdon and his splendid company return for a week's engagement at the Empire in a complete new line of late Broadway successes. The announcement will bring much pleasure to the playgoers of this city as Mr. Chatterdon and his entire supporting players made many friends both on and off the stage during their stay here last February.

Manager Miller learned late yesterday afternoon that the engagement was a certainty but has not yet received a list of the plays to be offered, but it is needless to say that they will be of the same high order as seen during on the previous engagement. Daily matinees will be held every afternoon starting Tuesday and the show will be changed daily. Friday's Record will contain further details of the return of this popular favorite.

Work is progressing rapidly on the completed improvements completed by the time that the Chatterdon engagement opens.

"THE ROSARY" WILL RETURN

Owing to the great popularity of the film production of "The Rosary" as exhibited at the Lyric theatre last evening when it was impossible to accommodate the large number who desired the thrilling screen spectacle being turned away, Manager Pettingill announced today that he would again present the thrilling screen spectacle as soon as an open date could be secured. Last night's crowd exceeded expectations and the second performance ran so late it was impossible to give a third production. A big attraction has been booked for Friday when "Under Two Flags," dramatized from the popular novel will be present and Manager Pettingill has again manifested his progressiveness by the installation of an attractive electric sign.

FLAG PRESENTED TO ST. MARY'S

PATRIOTIC EXERCISES BY CHILDREN

Impressive exercises were held at St. Mary's school ground today at 10 o'clock when the large American flag donated to the school by Rahway Council, No. 1184, Knights of Columbus, was unveiled to the breeze. The occasion was marked with patriotic songs and recitations by the school children, a brief address by Rev. P. J. Maher, pastor, remarks by Shade Tree Commissioner John C. Blom, a member of the Grand Army, and a short talk by Excise Commissioner William J. Browne.

Accompanying the unfurling of the flag by Thomas A. Roarke, a member of Rahway Council, the children sang "Star Spangled Banner." A very excellent recitations were given by Cecilia Sackrider, Loretta Keenhan, Charles Bader, Hilda McCabey, Elizabeth Duff and Marion Walker.

Father Maher then made a stirring address in which he called attention to the fitness of having flag raising on Columbus Day, linking the discovery of America and honoring the flag representing the nation. He paid tribute to the qualities of Columbus, referring to the discovery of America, mentioning his skill, energy, steadiness of purpose and adherence to his beliefs regarding the shape of the world. His life work in connection with the life of Columbus were alluded to.

Father Maher then referred to the flag and what it means in American life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, showing how it stands for virtue, justice, honesty and the right and how these qualities should be interwoven in the lives of the people. He urged the children to attain the qualities of virtue, justice and honesty and become useful citizens and an honor to the country and its flag. In conclusion he most heartily thanked the Knights of Columbus for their appropriate gift.

It was expected that former Judge Alfred Cooke, a member of Rahway Grand Army, would be present and make an address, but he was unable to attend John C. Blom was called upon. Which much feeling Mr. Blom detailed the history of the flag and sought to impress upon the minds of his hearers the things for which it stood and the need of patriotic service necessary to preserve and protect it. He also paid high tribute to the efforts of Father Maher in behalf of the parish and the school.

Excise Commissioner Browne was called upon and made a forceful and intemperaneous speech dealing largely with the respect due the flag, urging the children to take off their hats whenever the Stars and Stripe passed them in parade and when they heard the strains of "Star Spangled Banner." He referred to the present efforts to uphold the flag and preserve proper respect for it during the present great European conflict, but that it is necessary to have honor with peace. He laid upon the rising generation the duty of preserving, protecting and honoring the flag.

FIRE ENDANGERS THREE FAMILIES

Occupants of Marsh House in Lewis Street Escape in Scanty Clothing

STRUCTURE DAMAGED ABOUT $3,500

At least long caused a serious blaze that threatened the lives of members of three families occupying the dwelling at 14-16 and 18 Lewis street, belonging to the Tom Marsh estate, at 4 o'clock Saturday morning. The fire started in the apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William Chordas. In the Lewis street apartment Mr. and Mrs. Chordas there were three boarders. The fire spread so rapidly that Mrs. Chordas in her anxiety to escape leaped from a second-story window, landing on a battery and badly injuring one limb besides receiving several cuts and bruises.

In the middle apartment of the house lived Mr. and Mrs. Morris Dunlap and two daughters, the Misses Minnie and Anna Dunlap, who escaped from the flames in scanty attire. Mrs. Dunlap suffered considerably from nervous shock and from the suffocating smoke and had to be assisted from the building. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dyhne and three daughters, the Misses Elsie, Marcia and Mary, occupied the top floor. The smoke and heat from the flames were terrific, particularly in the Dunlap apartments.

The basement where the fire started had been the scene of much festivity through the night and as near as can be ascertained the lamp was upset during the frolic. An attempt was made to turn in an alarm from box 13 by Charles Nagle, 14 years old, who lives in Lewis street, but he experienced difficulty in handling the alarm properly. A telephone call was sent in from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kerr, at 26 East Milton avenue, the home of whose home is only a short distance from the scene of the blaze. Washington Council and Washington Hose Companies, whose headquarters are in Milton avenue, were first on the scene.

Great headway had been gained by the fire before the alarm was given and the firemen were given the stiffest kind of a fight. Chief Fritz and his energetic work was required before the flames were under control. The house was badly gutted. The damage is about $2,500 and is partly covered by insurance. The building is insured in the Rahway Mutual Fire Insurance Company. The furniture and a small stock of dry goods belonging to Mr. Dunlap were destroyed. This loss was partly covered by insurance. A large number of the flames was removed from the Dunlap home and the remainder was badly damaged by water. This loss is not covered by insurance. The eastern end and central section of the building was badly burned.

The plant of the Egyptian Lacquer Company is in close proximity to where the fire started, but fortunately there was no wind to blow the flames toward the plant, where there is considerable inflammable material.
