Fleming Stamps State for Bonds

Introduced by the leadership of local state-wide organizations to present an issue to the citizen who has had the most for the education in Florida the past three years, Thomas F. Fleming Jr., chairman of the Board of Palm Beach Bank and Trust Company, has presented this to the state. This is the volunteer organization that has become a strong force for the purpose of increasing the crisis in high education due to critical attention that has been approved of, by state constitutionists, this year for the college construction bond.

Fleming repeatedly stressed as the Boca Raton city that Florida Atlantic University Health South College, are nearly all during the past of his extensive visits, that all of Florida will lose, in the inaction that is "Our greatest natural resource, the potential brain power of our society.

The majority of the leaders of the state's universities are establishing a headquarter in Fort Lauderdale, to make sure that the college construction bond was to be voted on.

"Sinister Stomp" Next on Agenda for Teen Age Center

By Anna Fitzgerald

A change of scenery will take place next week when Saturday's "Sinister Stomp" Halloween Dance, this is the first of the Boca Raton Teen Age Center's monthly dance events that are planned and organized by the junior committee chairman, Judy Wolfe, with the help of the Teen Age Center board members, Eve Stumph and Sandy Severs.

The dance will be held at a private residence in Boca Raton from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. on Saturday, October 30th. The theme of the dance is "Sinister Stomp," and the dress code is costume or formal attire.

In addition to the dance, there will be a silent auction featuring a variety of items, including raffle tickets for a chance to win prizes such as gift cards, movie tickets, and home decorations.

The proceeds from the silent auction will be used to support the Teen Age Center's activities and programs, which focus on providing social and recreational opportunities for teenagers.

The Teen Age Center is open to boys and girls who are between the ages of 13 and 18 and is located at the Boca Raton Community Center. The center offers a range of activities and programs, including sports teams, music lessons, and community service projects.

For more information about the "Sinister Stomp" Halloween Dance or the Teen Age Center, please contact Judy Wolfe at 555-5555.

The Chamber's Inclusion Committee has met practically every week for the last two years, and besides a number of accomplishments in bringing in new industries and businesses, they have also published valuable data and statistics, "Meredith said.

In the new budget, being compiled at this time, the City Commission has no provision for funds for the chamber, according to Mayor Joe DeLong, the commissioner chairman.

Meredith reports that among those who have already accepted the committee's invitation are Dan Hinderliter; Joe Brinson, six new model homes for the chamber. In previous years, the city has purchased approximately 70 new homes just one year ago.

With most residents were Stewart Glenn, five Boca Ratonites brought back a memorial to John F. Kennedy. Some Things Belong in a Fine Setting

You and your family do... and so does your new home.

Here, in the heart of Boca Raton, Florida's finest residential city... you have all the facilities and luxuries that are so desirable. Here, in the heart of Boca Raton, Florida's finest residential city, your new home is waiting for you.

The Danish shipping industry operates in 40 ports around the world and the company's president, Mrs. George V. Warren, said that the company is always looking for new ways to serve its customers.

At Camp Lejeune

Marine Private First Class Russell M. Homey Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Homey of 400 E. Palmetto Park Road, Boca Raton, took part in a four-day amphibious landing exercise on Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 9:00 a.m.

The training will be held at the shore station for on-duty officer candidates and will last until Wednesday, Oct. 30.

The exercise will be conducted by the 4th Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, Florida, and will involve the training of reservists and active-duty personnel.

Voters League to Study Amendments

The three constitutional amendments to be voted on Nov. 2 will be discussed as a general meeting of the League of Women Voters of South Palm Beach County, Oct. 29, at 9:30 a.m.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D.M. F. Elmore, 247 South Ocean Blvd., Delray Beach.

The amendments include an amendment to the state constitution that would change the method of selecting state senators, and an amendment to the city charter that would change the method of selecting city council members.

A Well Informed Electorate

The opening election on Nov. 5 is the first mention of two governmental bodies that are a must in the modern and most efficient in the nation, despite the fact that we are destined in the state convention of the latter years of the 19th century.

Florida's legislature is the third "baptism" in the nation, based on the number of bills acted upon, only New York and California handle more.

These figures are not entirely dependable, though, for the legislatures of New York and California are not satisfied with the "flat rate" system.

In the Sunshine State, county governments have practically no budget, and each additional appropriation of power must be approved by both houses of the legislature, even though the bill may affect only one county. These "local option" accounts for more than one quarter, or sometimes much more, of the total bills handled by the legislatures.

Government students use the local problem as one of the real weak points of Florida's set-up. Politicians being what they are, it is likely to be years before legislation mitigates this power over local affairs.

Experts lament the Florida Constitution of 1835 from more angles than anybody has ever before, especially the later years, though, voters have not seen any significant improvements. These governmental problems are ones that the new voters must know before they go to the polls.

We hope they've read this column, learned well, and are truly satisfied with their government. The irresponsible electors could very well be put to work immediately, for certainly any government's best security.

Amendment Three

Though Amendment Two, the college bond issue plan, has been gaining widespread support, the Amendment Three, which has great promise, has not been so successful in the minds of many.

In fact, it is said that the Amendment Three would permit the Outdoor Recreation Commission, the "hat" for the State Cabinet as far as the education of the state's youth is concerned.

This is because the state is different than any other in the nation. More than half of the teaching and recreation are performed by the state government.

In the opinion of many experts, the Outdoor Recreation Commission is a good idea, a modern and most efficient in the state.

They've found a truly unique state, for knowledge of government to the part of the electorate in reflected in better government for all.

A well-to-do neighbor with children has said, "I want to send my kids to a school where they will be taught the essentials of government." They want to be useful members of the community, and are willing to work hard to achieve that end.

Many biographies are written about great leaders, who through their efforts have made the world a better place. It is important that we, as citizens, take an active role in our government.

In the words of one such young leader, "You can make a difference in the world if you want to."
Cheerleaders Produce Parody of 'Little Red Riding Hood'

By Cary Kammerman

The cheerleaders treated us to a clever skit during our pep rally last Thursday. It was titled "Little Red Riding Hood," I never knew the cheerleaders had such acting ability.

Once again our Warhawks opened the regional and played at a home game of football.

We have an "away game" of football.

We are looking forward to your fifth game of the season in the state of Florida.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1961 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. This has been replaced, better frames are planned for the 1964 models, and the simple design also makes it easier to move goods inside the truck. Its closed side walls are stronger.

Greater market. The better-cheaper该院 has some of the features of conventional trucks and fewer of them: its simple design also makes it easier to maneuver inside the market. Its closed side walls are stronger.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more than they were a few years ago. Those who buy for the best will find it a simple matter to find a cheaper item at the new Chevrolet dealer, for the type of work it returns. As delivery trucks for commerce, it is the best choice for the wider field of use. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular boxes and pickups, we have always different sizes of ready-made workhorses, trucks with full-width rear doors.

"Seat belts make the critical difference," says The National Safety Council.

This arrow represents the critical distance between life and death, health and injury.

When your car stops short in a collision—or even in a panic stop—your body shoots forward. Seat belts can save you by maintaining the critical distance between your head and the nearest obstruction: windshield, dash or back of the front seat.

Seating belts can save your life
Use them.
