One Meaning of November 5

At first glance the presidential election seems to indicate that the country is split down the middle politically. As this is being written, the difference in the popular vote between President-elect Richard M. Nixon and Hubert H. Humphrey is about four-tenths of one percentage point. Indeed, so close were the tallies all evening that the lead seemed to shift back and forth, and it was not until noon on Wednesday, some thirteen hours after the polls had closed, that the outcome was finally determined. "Cliff-hanger," "paper-thin edge," and "hairbreath lead" were typical descriptions used by the commentators as they reported the returns on election night.

But if one considers the phenomenon even a little bit, he begins to realize that the election returns do not at all reflect the popular conception of the "state of the Union." The problems facing the country are no nearer solution as a result of the election than they were last spring. At that time, things were so bad that President Lyndon B. Johnson had to announce his intention not to seek re-election. They were so bad that public opinion polls showed Nixon, the likely Republican candidate, to be 16 percentage points ahead of Humphrey, who was given practically no chance at all of winning the election. Then as now the country had the same problems — astronomical government spending, crushing taxes and inflation, racial tension, riots, the rebellious youth, and the war in Viet Nam. How has it come about then, that the conditions which in April were thought to have guaranteed an overwhelming Nixon victory, brought him instead in November to a photo-finish?

I think the answer to that question lies in the fact that the election of the president has become in our time something detached and separated from the political life of the nation. In 1968 it developed into a kind of sporting or athletic event, a contest in which there was the odds-on favorite and the underdog making a gallant effort to win, even if it did seem hopeless. The voters became rooters and supporters of one "side" or the other, and their allegiance was influenced considerably by the "old school tie" or political party affiliation.

Of course it was the candidates themselves who determined that the campaign would develop as it did, for they never really got around to discussing the issues. Nixon avoided them for fear that he might blunder into

SERIES DEADLOCKED AT 6-ALL

It's THE Game: Clark vs. Rahway!

By Ray Hoagland
(Sports Editor)

The 13th meeting between the football teams of Rahway and Clark will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. on Nolan Field.

The series between the teams is tied at six games each, with Rahway winning last season's game, 13 - 12. The series first began in 1956. Clark, this year's favorite, has won five of the last six games.

This week's game is one of the most important in Clark's history, for they must take their next two games if they are to bring the Watchung Conference flag to the school for the first time.

The teams are currently at opposite ends of the conference standings. The Crusaders have a 4 - 1 record for eight points, while the Indians have yet to win a conference game.

In conference play, Clark has scored 108 points to Rahway's 13, while the Crusaders' defense has permitted 39 points to 71 for the Indians.

Schaefer is a fine passer and has good ends in Ron Ruta and junior Mike Nisky, while the Indians have had no passing attack.

In last week's game with Scotch Plains, the combination of Hugger and Baker passed 23 times, completing six for a total of 43 yards. The Indians made more first downs than the Raiders, 10 - 9, in losing their sixth game of the season.

What little offense Rahway has had has been supplied by Green, who carried for 74 yards last week. Hugger's punting should help keep the Crusaders deep in their own territory.

In other Watchung Conference games Saturday, Cranford plays Scotch Plains - Fanwood and Westfield travels to Hillside. Both games begin at 2 p. m.

Saturday's game between Clark and Rahway is sure to remind football buffs of the two schools of the great stars of yesteryear who went on to stardom on the college level.

Some of those young men from Clark who played in this game were Edward Anderson, who was All - County tackle in the 1961 game, Jim Burg and Ron Anderson who played a leading role in 1963 when the Crusaders won, 20 - 14; Frank Spaziani who was the back of the Year in 1964 when Clark walloped Rahway, 26 - 6.

In 1965, Jack Howie, was a tower of strength in the Clark line that held for a 14 - 6 victory and last season it was Doug Proe's line-play and kicking that kept the Crusaders in the game.

On the Rahway side, the fans can look back to the first st meeting of the teams in 1956, when a powerhouse led by Bob Scarpitto and Joe Natson was upset, 13 - 0, on a very bitter and cold day at Nolan Field.

Joe Nation and Joe Williams led the Indians to a 40 - 0 rout in 1957. In 1958, the Indians again ran roughshod over Clark, 34 - 0. They were inspired by All-County Dave Jenkins, Russ Natson, Hall Gibson and Joe Williams, who tallied 191 points during the season for a Union County record.

In 1959, the most one-sided game of the series, the Indians romped, 53 - 0. Bill Bodine, was the star line-man of that team. Rahway took the 1960 game, 28 - 0, with such fine players as Steve Deutsch, Bob Finn and Bill Jaworovich, who tallied 79 points for the season.

Who will be the new stars to write their names in the book of fame?

Ex-Police Chief Decorated After 50-Year Wait

By K.C. Bauer

You might remember the name ... George W. Stewart. It should sound a little familiar, especially to you oldtimers.

At one time, shortly after he was discharged from the Army in 1916, Sgt. First Class Stewart decided to pursue a career in police work. And he did all right. He became acting police chief of Rahway.

Today, George is 72 years old and still winning his battles against life ... and the United States Army.

While serving near Bois de Consenvoye, France, in October, 1918, Stewart earned the nation's third highest award for valor in combat during World War I. But, somehow, the medal was never presented.

Then, this year, 50 years after his gallantry in action, his dream finally became a happening. At the U.S. Army Flight Training Center at Fort Stewart, Georgia, he was awarded the Silver Star Medal.

The Army invited Stewart to come to Fort Stewart recently and there Brigadier What's the latest in fashions? You'll be among the first to know when Nan's Fashions, which is located at 1120 Raritan Road, Clark, stages its pre-holiday preview on Nov. 26 at 8 p.m. at Roosevelt School. of gallantry in action, in part:

"While under heavy bombardment of artillery and gas, and without regard for his own personal safety, Sergeant Stewart courageously continued to lay wires and maintain communications between the front-line battalion and regimental headquarters of the 113th Infantry."

Sgt. Stewart was then serving with Company C, 104th Field Signal Battalion, 29th Division. It was the identical outfit with which he had been attached throughout the duration of the war in such unforgettable places as Alsace-Lorraine and the Argonne Forest.

Sgt. Stewart, who is now a native of Delray Beach, Fla., was wounded a total of six times and received many other awards and decorations besides the Silver Star. He won the Purple Heart, the New Jersey Distinguished Military Medal and 22 civilian citations in the area of first aid and life-saving.

When Stewart retired as head of the Rahway Police Department in 1932, he still

CLUB'S TRUMP ... This trio, all members of the Clark Rotary Club, played "foster fathers" to 22-year-old French student Christine Labryere, seated, who came to America to improve her English. Christine had no place to stay, but Matthew

Aid Fire Victims

The Rahway-Clark Chapter, American Red Cross, came to the aid of Mr. and Mrs. William Walker, who were burned out of their home last week at 336-340 Cottage Pl. Emergency accommodations were located for them for the first night and, with the cooperation of the Rahway Welfare Department, continued over the weekend. The Red Cross also provided clothing. Deputy Fire Chief Maurice Moran, chapter disaster chairman, who was at the scene of the disaster, also assisted the family the following day. Left homeless by the blaze besides the Walkers and their daughter, Rose, were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Walker, their daughter, Cindy, and niece Miss Jeannette Cole.

Mrs. Moore Killed In Auto Accident

Mrs. Richard Moore, nee Helen White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. White, of 10 Meiner St., Avenel, formerly of Rahway and Avenel, now of Kounonga Lake, N.Y., was killed last week in an automobile accident.

Mrs. Moore was a graduate of Rahway High School and prior to moving to New York State was employed by Merck & Co. as a secretary in animal science. Besides her parents, she is survived by her husband, Richard Moore, and a brother, Thomas C. White, of the Woodbridge Police Department.

'Lost' French Miss Finds Haven With Rotarians

One of the goals of Rotary International is "the advancement of international understanding, goodwill and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service—and the Clark Rotary Club has had an unusual opportunity to foster this objective by serving as temporary "foster" parents for the daughter of a fellow Rotarian from France.

Mlle. Christine Labryere left her native Macon, France, a couple of months ago for a short visit to the United States to improve her English and gain new experiences. Christine's father, Maurice Labryere, a distributor of petroleum products in eastern France, arranged a temporary position for her with Cosmair, L'Oreal of Paris, manufacturers of women's toiletries with facilities on Terminal Ave. in Clark.

Where to stay once she was here posed a problem for the attractive, 22-year-old graduate student, but it was a problem soon solved when one of the secretaries at Cosmair discovered that Christine's dad was a Rotarian.

The secretary called Rotarian Robert Hanger, export manager with Kelco in Clark, to explain the girl's plight. Hanger grasped the opportunity to live up to the Rotary standard and with Victor Clark, executive vice president of the Clark State Bank and Trust Company and president of the local club, and Matthew Minnicino, manager of Howard Johnson's Motel, they set up a schedule which enabled Christine to live with each of the families for two weeks.

All three agreed, however, that their wives and families played an important role in the decision-making.

Christine, who is a chemistry and biology major at the University of Dijon; is one of three children in the Labryere family. Her older brother, Jean Pierre, is secretary of the 171st Rotary District.

"Having Christine as our guest," said Clark, who explained that he was also speaking for Hanger and Minnicino, "has been a warm and enlightening experience. She has been extremely grateful for the opportunity to live with American families and in so short a period of time, has managed to become a part of us. We all feel that we also have gained by knowing her."

TAKING STOCK OF THINGS ... Mayor John C. Marsh buys a share of stock in Quinco, a Junior Achievement company that is sponsored by Quinn & Boden Co., Inc., of Rahway. With Marsh are (l. to r.) Keith McDougall, management adviser; Rodney Hendricksen, president of Quinco, and Hugo Marocchi, sales adviser.

Don't Install a New Humidifier in Your Home Until You Read This Ad!

It can save you a lot of hard-earned dollars - and prevent disappointment from a faulty installation! 9 times out of 10, we find that humidifiers break down simply because they are not designed to cope with local water conditions.

George Ketzenberg, President of Ketzenberg & Org., one of New Jersey's oldest and largest installers of home heating, Air Conditioning and Humidification equipment.

Check these points before you buy any automatic Humidifier!

- ☒ BEWARE OF FLOAT-VALVE UNITS! Minerals in the water build up fast on a float valve. If the valve gets clogged in the open position, you get a flooded basement. If it sticks in the closed position no water vapor is produced. In addition, this type of unit demands a fixed water level in its reservoir, which calls for frequent maintenance and cleaning by the homeowner.
- ☒ BEWARE OF SPRAY OR ATOMIZER UNITS! Minerals remaining in the water vapor are carried throughout the house, covering everything with a powdery residue of lime dust.

Here's why we recommend and install

RP Aprilaire® and RP Chippewa®

Humidifiers exclusively

NO FLOAT VALVE to clog and stick. No reservoir to be cleaned. An exclusive Water Panel Evaporator traps most of the mineral hardness. The rest of the deposits go down the drain... never into the house air!

HUMIDISTAT CONTROL installed in your living area (instead of in the duct system) lets you dial your own humidity-comfort level. Humidistats in the duct system quickly collect dirt and become mineral encrusted and inoperative.

MAINTENANCE-FREE as a humidifier can be! Requires only once-a-year replacement of the inexpensive Water Panel.

To Respect the Law

While law enforcement officers seldom mention the fact, all are keenly aware that the specter of death rides at their side during most of their duty hours. Brave, dedicated men are not deterred from worthy public service by danger alone. But how long can we ask officers to risk their lives when they and the law are not respected?

As a rule, men who have no respect for the law have nothing but contempt for those charged with enforcing it. Thus, the law enforcement officer's task becomes harder and his personal safety diminishes as more crimes are committed and less criminals are brought to justice.

Last year, 76 police officers were killed in the line of duty. This is 19 more than the number slain in 1966. Since 1960, 411 law enforcement officers have been murdered, an average of more than 51 per year. Of the 539 offenders involved in these killings, 77 percent had been previously arrested and 67 percent had been previously convicted. Two-thirds of the police killers previously convicted had been granted parole or probation, and 3 out of 10 were actively on parole or probation when they killed a police officer.

Along with the ever-present danger of death, the enforcement officer faces personal injury with increasing frequency. Encouraged, no doubt, by judicial leniency and public indifference, more and more suspects resist arrest and resort to violence when approached by officers. In 1967, police officers were assaulted, an increase of 11 percent over 1966.

The rule of law is in jeopardy when law enforcement officers are regularly attacked and slain in the line of duty. Our concept of self-government is endangered when policemen must frequently win a physical struggle while making arrests. And our democratic processes are weakened when officers are publicly condemned and ridiculed for protecting the peaceful against violence and disorder.

In 1967, policemen were slain on the average of one every 5 days. This is a disgrace. It is particularly shocking when officers are gunned down by convicted criminals who, after exhausting all possible legal relief, are still on the streets. In one such instance, a convicted robber remained free more than 3 weeks after all of his appeals and petitions had been denied by the courts, a process requiring nearly 2 years. On the 23rd day after the date that he should have been jailed, he murdered a police officer. Is this balanced justice?

Ours is a government of law. Our Nation's survival depends on effective enforcement of the law. But law enforcement, to be fully effective, must receive more public support.

doing or saying the wrong thing, and this, to be sure, was all right with the Vice President, since his party was responsible for the policies and conditions which brought the issues about. Consequently he would be embarrassed by any reference to them.

Now it seems to me that there were three unfortunate consequences of this Nixon strategy. In the first place, his all-but-invincible lead at the time of the Democratic convention just melted away and led to the painfully narrow win of Nov. 5th. Indeed if the election had taken place a few days later, he probably would have lost the race. Secondly, the country was denied an opportunity to come to a better understanding of its problems—perhaps even to a solution of some of them—which might have resulted from a thorough discussion of them. And lastly, if Nixon had won by from 3 to 5 million votes, as he had predicted, his "coat tails" would have brought victory to great numbers of Republican candidates who, as things turned out, went down to defeat in state and local elections.

This last point is perhaps the most important lesson the Republican Party can learn from the election, namely, that it is almost impossible for the GOP to win when it does not run on issues. The reason is not hard to find. When there are no issues, the only difference between the candidates is their party affiliation. Therefore, since there are more people who are registered Democrats, or who identify with the Democratic Party than there are Republicans, a vote along party lines has to favor the Democrats.

This explains why, in my opinion, New Jersey Republicans failed to defeat any incumbent Democratic congressmen, despite the fact that they had at least two outstanding candidates in nominally Republican districts. Despite the fact too that the GOP had won spectacular victories in the 1966 and '67 elections, and that they held a 3-to-1 majority in both houses of the State Legislature. This year, unfortunately, the New Jersey Republicans depended on Nixon to "pull them through," and failed to do very much state-wide to help themselves.

Had they used the same issue that brought them the smashing victory of 1967—the tax-and-spend record of Gov. Hughes and the Democrats—they would not only have increased considerably Nixon's state-wide plurality, but in all probability, they would have elected several of their congressional hopefuls.

This year too, the Republicans should have championed the cause of the taxpayer and "viewed with alarm" the appalling spending record of Governors Meyner and Hughes. They could have "pointed with pride" to the last Republican Governor's budget, that of Gov. Alfred Driscoll, which amounted to a reasonable $219 million. Since then, two Democratic Governors have upped annual spending to $1.15 billion, an increase of 425 per cent. During these same years, however, the per capita income increased only 82 per cent. In other words, the Republicans could have pointed out, the state's income increased five times as much as that of the average citizen. During this same period, the state's income increased about 13 times as much as its population.

Statistics like these, and commission reports such as the Governor's Committee on Efficiency and Economy, the 1964 Joint Legislative Highway Committee Report, and the Booz, Allen and Hamilton Report, all of which found evidence of waste, duplication of services, over-staffing and the like in the state government, might have been cited by the Republicans as reasons for voting against Democratic candidates for office.

Instead, N.J. Republicans "went along" with Gov. Hughes this year and supported the billion-dollar bond issue. By so doing, they deprived themselves of the most effective issue they had against the Democrats on the state level. As a consequence they could not then criticize the tax-and-spend record of their opponents because by endorsing the bond issue they were saying in effect that the Hughes Administration actually needed an additional billion dollars to operate the state government properly. It is hardly surprising therefore that the N.J. GOP not only failed to unseat any Democratic congressmen, but also had some difficulty carrying the state for Nixon.

It is also interesting to note in this regard, that while seven Republicans defeated incumbent Democratic Governors on Nov. 5th, two prominent GOP Governors lost their state houses to Democratic challengers. And in both cases the reason was the same. The Republican Governors had increased state taxes. GOP Gov. John Chaffee of Rhode Island sponsored an increase in his state's income tax from 5 to 8 per cent and was defeated by Democratic challenger Frank Licht. Gov. Tim Babcock of Montana engineered the adoption of a sales tax in his state and was ousted by Democrat Forrest Anderson, who ran on the slogan, "Pay More? What For?"

It is ironic that a Democrat should run for office and win on an anti-tax slogan because it is so out of character. Nevertheless my hat's off to Governor-elect Forrest Anderson of Montana! A Democrat who got himself elected on an anti-new-tax stand!

Finally as taxpayer citizens of our great state, let us hope that the N.J. Republican Party has learned a lesson from President-elect Nixon's paper-thin margin of victory on Nov. 5th. If it has, it will once again espouse our cause and declare itself on the right side of the most important issue facing us today—the preservation of our freedom by means of a hold-the-line posture on state spending in New Jersey.

Johnson Regional Offers School Play, 'The Gazebo'

This year's school play, "The Gazebo," starring Gerry Treacy, Celeste Harrison, and Richard Rand, will be presented on the stage of the Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark, N. J., tomorrow and Saturday, at 8 p. m.

"The Gazebo" is a comedy about a nervous television script writer, Elliott Nash, (Gerry Treacy) who is being blackmailed by a gangster. Celeste Harrison plays his loving wife, Nell, and Richard Rand portrays the all-too-neighborly District Attorney Harlow Edison. Mr. Nash decides that he has paid enough blackmail money to this gangster, who threatens to release damaging evidence about his wife, so he plans to dispose of the blackmailer and hide the body under the gazebo, or Koe the Black.

summer house, that his wife wants installed in the backyard.

Miss Dorothy Kreglow, speech and drama teacher and director of many of AFJ's past successes, is in charge of production. Karen Kline is the student director and props chairman.

The rest of the cast includes: Diane Wood as Mrs. Chandler, the haughty realtor trying to sell the Nash's home; Mike Lawrence, as Mr. Thorpe, a backwoods farmer-type builder who puts up the gazebo; and Karen O'Shanny as Matilda, the maid. Other parts are carried by Bill Kreamer as Louie, Randy Jenkins as Jennings, Bill Zimmermann as Dr. Wyner, Chris Schott as Druker and Alan Oatley as Koe the Black.

Children's Week at Library

With National Children's Book Week scheduled for Nov. 17-23, the juvenile department of the Rahway Public Library is making plans for a real go-go observation, the theme being "Go Places with Books." The first stop will be directed toward the "Kiwani's Korner," where some very distinctive books will be on display as well as a fine collection of 1968 titles, all ready for circulation.

"The Golden Fish," an enchanting color fantasy of a gold fish, a little boy and a big, hungry alley cat, will be a special treat for the Magic Circle Story Hour on Friday, Nov. 22 and in the morning and afternoon on Saturday. Because of limited space, it will be necessary to issue tickets, which will be free.

The American Spirit: John Merrick

The closest John Merrick ever came to being "part of a college" came when he almost helped to build Shaw University in North Carolina. At that, he never did get the job. But he proved eventually that honesty, self-confidence and self-initiative can be more valuable than a diploma.

Merrick was born in Clinton, N.C., in 1859. His formal education never went very far, and at the age of 12 he went to work as a bricklayer. It was the prospect of a job building Shaw that brought him to Raleigh, N.C., at 18, and his failure to get this job led to his first step upward—to a job as a bootblack in a barber shop.

There he became a friend of the shop's owner, John Wright, and learned the barber's trade from him. When Wright moved into the expanding town of Durham in 1880, Merrick came along as his partner. When Wright moved to Washington in 1892, Merrick bought out the business from him, and within a few years had expanded it into a chain of five shops—three white and two black, in keeping with current style. From this beginning, Merrick invested in other fields. He bought real estate and built houses on it with his own hands. In 1901, he helped

Dr. Aaron McDuff Moore found Lincoln Hospital. In 1908 he established the Mechanics and Farmers Bank and the Bull City Drug Company. In 1910 he, Dr. Moore and C. C. Spaulding set up a real estate company.

The most dramatic of Merrick's achievements, however, was the North Carolina Mutual and Provident Society, the first Afro-American insurance firm. Seven men originally paid $50 each to begin the business in 1898. When customers refused to trust an Afro-American insurance company, and their partners became discouraged, Merrick and Moore brought out the others.

They held on, with C. C. Spaulding as their only salesman. They were down to $29.40 in finances when one of their clients suddenly died, and they were presented with a $50 policy claim. Merrick and Moore borrowed the money, and the claim was paid off promptly. This setback actually proved to be a boon, for it established the business as an honest, dependable one.

Policies began to sell, and the firm was on its way to becoming the million-dollar enterprise it is today, as the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Merrick could now look back on a successful career that was based, not on formal schooling, but on a never-ending program of self-education. The benefits that today's youngsters could enjoy if they were instilled with a similar thirst for knowledge are so exciting to think about that many educators are suggesting a return of the family library to stimulate such an interest in learning.

Aside from setting a useful example to others as a successful, self-educated business man, Merrick helped the Durham community in many other ways.

"FLOWERS"

We sow the seeds and imitate

Nature's way to germinate

Moisten and cultivate the soil;

Get satisfaction from our toil.

When we behold a lovely flower,

Nodding its head in a summer shower—

Giving to us its aroma sweet—

Find me a tonic that this can't beat,

Colors mixed with shades of pink

Humbles one to stop and think.

In mysterious ways God will perform,

From a tiny seed a flower is born.

The marigold and the hollyhock

No artist would attempt to mock.

A beautiful purple ten-week stock

Could adorn the hem of our lady's frock.

A mixture of pansies of rainbow color,

Everyone different, unlike the other.

Oh, give a flower to one who lives,

A message from the heart it gives.

Don't wait to give a flower, 'tis said,

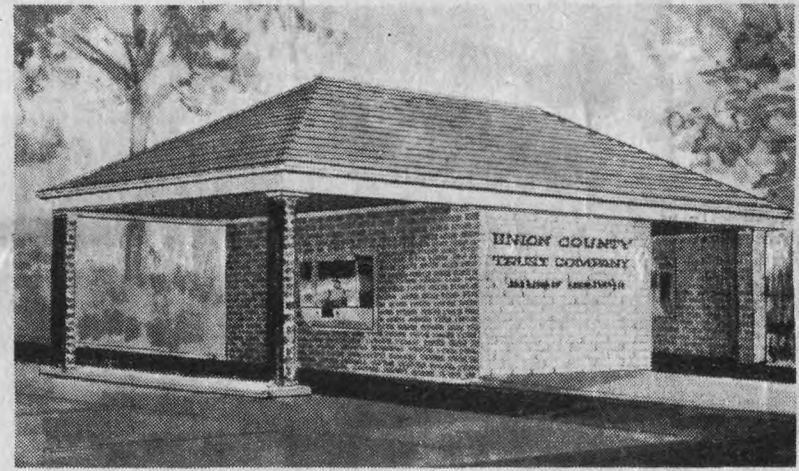

To a loved one when he is lying dead.

Rahway Gets $39,295 for Flood Assist

Federal aid of $39,295 has been approved for the City of Rahway as a result of the severe floods in May and June, it was announced by Robert A. Roe, commissioner of the New Jersey State Department of Conservation and Economic Development. The city had requested a federal grant-in-aid of $39,294.40.

Union County was one of seven counties in this region of the state that President Lyndon B. Johnson declared a major disaster area. In Rahway, the money was dispersed for four categories--debris clearance, dikes, levees and drainage facilities, public buildings and related equipment and public utilities.

Rahway is eligible for federal emergency assistance under Public Law 875 (Disaster Relief Law) which provides federal grants-in-aid to municipalities, public agencies, for emergency repairs to and temporary replacement of damaged public facilities.

Gov. Hughes signed into law a special appropriation fund bill which provided $5,000,000 on a fifty-fifty matching fund basis to help relieve damages in flood-stricken municipalities and counties in northern and central New Jersey, specifically and particularly for the permanent repair, reconstruction and replacement of public roads, works, facilities and structures damaged or destroyed during or as a result of the flooding.

To date, 89 applications have been received from county and municipal agencies for federal help amounting to $3,000,084, of which 45 applications for $870,650 have been approved. And 38 applications for $3,592,000 have been received from the counties and municipalities for 50 per cent matching state funds.

Freeze Thanksgiving Pies Now

Now is the time to do some pre-planning and preparation for your festive Thanksgiving dinner. The relaxed hostess is the one who has utilized the time before a holiday to decide what foods she will serve, and has done advance preparation where it is possible.

Pumpkin, mincemeat and apple pies are the popular harvest desserts for the Thanksgiving holiday. Let your freezer come to your rescue by preparing these pies now and freezing them until Nov. 28th.

Depending on the type, pies and pastries may be frozen either baked or unbaked. Fruit and mince pies can be frozen either way. Pumpkin pie is better when the filling is frozen unbaked, separate from the shell, and the spices not added until it is baked.

Double crust pies are prepared in their usual way. If into a parked car in Clark, they are frozen before baking, do not cut vents in the top crust. When ready to use, make steam vents, bake in a 400 degree F. oven for about one hour or until lightly brown.

If the double crust pie is to be frozen after baking, follow the directions for your favorite recipe, cool, wrap and freeze. To serve, warm in a 325 degree F. oven for 25-30 minutes.

For a pumpkin pie, thaw the filling just enough so you can add the spices and pour it into the shell. A pint of filling is needed for an eight-inch pie. Add about 10 minutes to the regular baking time because the filling is cold.

To wrap a pie for the freezer, cover it with a paper, aluminum or foil pie plate to protect the top. Fasten this plate in place with tape. It should then be wrapped in freezer paper, sealed and labeled.

Deborah League To Hold Meeting

A paid-up membership get-together has been planned for the Deborah League of Colonia by chairmen Ruth Rudowsky, 381-6745, and Terry Briante, 382-5439. It is to be held at the Royale Oaks Lounge, Oak Tree Rd., Edison on Thursday, Nov. 14 at 8:00 p.m.

Awards will be presented by president Mrs. Sara Warner. All you have to do to attend the membership tea is to pay dues. That is your admission. Financial secretary Chris Arcidia, 381-4032, will be glad to take payments. Highlight of the evening will be a new film which will show the work hospitals are doing.

Nab Plains Driver On Drunk Charge

Robert A. Paddock, 50, of 1201 Springfield Lane, Scotch Plains, was charged with drunken driving last week after he allegedly ran over a parked car in Clark. The accident occurred on Valley Road near Park Ridge Drive. Patrolman James Koeller took Paddock to headquarters, where he failed a drunkometer test, police said. Paddock's face was cut, but he refused medical treatment.

Cable Blackout Hits 250 Users

An underground cable failure deprived about 250 users of the Public Service Electric & Gas Co. in Rahway of electrical service for 90 minutes last week. The failure affected those residents on New Brunswick Ave. between St. George and E. Milton Ave., a company representative reported. The blackout was lifted at 10:27 a.m.

LWV Schedules Talk By Slocum on Regional Plan

Mrs. Samuel Lease of Rahway, president of the Linden League of Women Voters, announced today that Robert P. Slocum, director of the Metropolitan Regional Council, will be guest speaker at a public meeting on Thursday, Nov. 14, at 8 p.m. at the Sunnyside Library, 100 Edgewood Rd., Linden.

Mr. Slocum will discuss regional planning and the goals for the New Jersey, New York and Connecticut region.

In 1961, the league adopted a state program item to evaluate the need for regional planning and those regulations and procedures which would promote public understanding and participation. Members were aware of the pressures and problems being created by the population growth and urbanization of formerly partially developed areas.

The state league committee wrote "Time to Plan," copies of which were presented to the then Rahway and Linden mayors and planning board chairmen. Local league activities were responsible for the creation of a regional planning board, a planning board, and a master plan.

Mercer, Refosco Have Magic Touch

Two football coaches with a reputation for winning, from two different sections of the country, will meet on the gridiron at Nolan Field in Clark on Saturday afternoon in the 13th renewal of the Rahway - Clark football series.

Harold (Toad) Mercer, head man at Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, who has had 10 years' experience as head coach at Barnesville and Cardington High School in Ohio and was named the 1966 Eastern Ohio Coach of the Year, has guided the Crusaders thus far to a 5-2 record.

The Crusaders opened their season with a never-to-be-forgotten victory over the Westfield Blue Devils, 12-6, and have been a contender for the Watching Conference title since that memorable day. If the Crusaders win both their remaining games, against Rahway and Scotch Plains, they will package their first conference title in the school's history.

Jim Refosco, in his first season at Rahway, has not had the success that Mercer has had. His team has won one and lost six and are in last place in the conference.

The 27-year-old graduate of Concord College, of Athens, W. Va., in the last three seasons at Chopticon High, Morganza, Md., won 23 and lost five and his team was the champion of the Southern Maryland Athletic Conference for two seasons.

Both Rahway and Clark were listed as also - runs at the beginning of the season by The Rahway News Record and The Clark Patriot and have proved a surprise both to the fans and their coaches. Clark for its winning ways and Rahway for its great fighting spirit that led to many close battles.

Both coaches are looking to a thrilling, close game Saturday, with the VFW Trophy as the big prize for the winner.

So the big question will be answered Saturday, which first-year coach will win the big one?

Twirlers: Register!

Registration for the 1968-1969 Rahway Recreation Department's free baton twirling classes for girls who are of school age and are residents of Rahway, or attend a Rahway school, has been extended until Friday, Nov. 22.

The program consists of 18 weekly lessons to be held at the Quinn & Boden Co. gym., 1924 Elizabeth Ave., and points toward an exhibition night in May.

John Meeker rolled a 300 game at Clark Lanes. Meeker, a 41-year-old senior engineer with New Departure-Hyatt, of Clark, hit 192 and 193 before his perfect game. Meeker was a member of the Inman Golf Range, which won, 2-1.

Marty Walsh of Clark led his teammates in the 31st annual Union County Conference championship, finishing 21st, while his team tied for 15th spot with the Yellow Jackets of Edison. Rahway was 17th. There were 18 schools in the meet that was won by Roselle Catholic.

Teddy Likowski lead the Future Stars League at Recreation Lanes with a 653 series on games of 225, 237 and 191. Other leaders were Jim King, 615, and Mike Reakus, 610. Regina No. 1 leads the league by five games.

Rahway's hockey club scored a 3-2 win over the Woodbridge Chiefs in a Jersey State Hockey League game at Brick Town's Ocean Ice Place.

Clark's High School soccer team dropped an Election Day game to Thomas Jefferson, 2-1, at Clark. Walt Jimenez sent the Minutemen in front with a goal in the second quarter on a pass from Phil Russo. Then Russo sent home his 24th goal of the season on a pass from Jack Di Grado. With seven minutes left in the game, the Crusaders broke into the scoring column on Fred Bauer's shot from the right side after a pass from Jack Mycz.

Coach John Moon's cross-country squad scored a 23-

42 win over Roselle Catholic's third team. Rahway's Bill Smeltzer turned in the best time by an Indian runner of 13.19.

Marty Walsh of the Clark Crusaders was the winner in 13:52, but his teammates dropped a 20-39 dual meet to the powerful Westfield Blue Devils. It was the 10th victory in 18 meets for the winners.

Warren Griffin was top bowler in the Intercity Industrial League at Recreation Lanes with 650. He was followed by Dan Tarantino with 655, Tony Derzewitz, 654; Steve Deak, 248-652; Jim Coppola, 641; Pete Bilinskas, 640; Jim Cole, 621; Ned Gochenour, 242-618; Ray Mc Kay, 609; Ange Miele, 249-606; Bert Goldstein, 245-603; "Doc" Berman, 603; Joe Lucas and Steve Kazmer, 602.

Joe Zarro's 625 led in the Intercity League at Recreation Lanes and was followed by John Gudor's 611, George Davidson had a high game of 246. The Rahway Lanes are in front of the league by a one-game margin.

Greg Gorski, former Clark Regional football star, leads the University of Connecticut freshmen football team in rushing with 336 yards in 55 carries and in touchdowns with five. He has thrown four touchdown passes, connecting for 14 of 27 for 245 yards. He has been intercepted twice. The Huskies have a 3-1 record.

Eight teams will play in the City Adult Recreation League on Monday and Thursday evenings at the senior high school.

CHAMPING AT THE BIT

Rutgers a 'Cousin' to Holy Cross

Rutgers has beaten Holy Cross only twice in the 12 games which have been played between the two football teams. As a result, when the Knights and the Crusaders square off Saturday, Rutgers will be eager for a victory, especially its seniors, who have played in losses the last two years.

The action, set for 1:30 p.m., will take place at Rutgers Stadium.

The Scarlet Knights, who are enjoying their winningest season since 1964, when they went 6-3, won five times prior to last week's game with Connecticut.

The Rutgers record looks impressive when compared to the 1-4-1 mark which Holy Cross had going into its game with Massachusetts last Saturday. But figures can be deceiving. Most of the Crusader losses have been tight ones and Holy Cross has had Rutgers' number.

This year, Holy Cross again has the services of quarterback Phil O'Neill and end Bob Neary, who last year caused havoc in the Rutgers defensive unit. In that 21-10 Crusader victory, O'Neill connected for two touchdown passes before settling down to a more conservative ground game on a rain-soaked Rutgers Stadium field. Rutgers, which has had outstanding play this year in its defensive secondary, will be depending on its linebacking corps to help contain whichever game plan O'Neill pursues. Drew Forghash has twice been named the outstanding Rutgers defender this season. He is joined by Larry Clymer, who holds down the most difficult linebacking position, capt. Rich Bing and Lee Schneider.

Indians Just Can't Find Happy Hunting Grounds

The Raiders of Scotch Plains-Fanwood needed one drive of 80 yards and five plays to hand five plays to hand Rahway's punchless Indians their sixth loss of the season, 7-0, before a small crowd at Veterans Field.

After the teams had battled to a scoreless tie in the first half, in which the local defense was aided by two interceptions by Fred Stuber, the Indians took the second half kickoff and marched to the Raiders' 20-yard line, where they lost the ball on downs.

Ricky Williams took the kickoff on his 10-yard line and ran up the middle to the Indians' 40-yard line. An offside penalty set the Indians back to the 35-yard line. Cordell Green and Jim Baker made a first down on the Scotch Plains' 46. Gabor Danchetz lost four on a reverse, then Green, on a "draw," ran over the right side of the Raiders' line for 35 yards. He was pushed out of bounds on the 15 yard line.

Baker was dropped for a five-yard loss on a roll-out and three passes were in complete. The Blue and White took possession of the 20-yard line Joe Lanza hit left tackle for 11 yards and a first down on the 31. Lanza hit the same spot for seven more yards and Dennis Reed drove up the middle for five yards and a first down on the 42.

After Lanza made three to the 45, Chris Graves cut over his left tackle and raced 55 yards for the score. Tom Davis cut the cross bars for a 7-0 lead.

The Indians took the kickoff and marched, with the aid of two first downs, to the Raiders' 45, where Baker was thrown for a 14-yard loss and the Indians were forced to punt. Scotch Plains carried to Rahway's 29-yard line, where the Indians took over.

A Huger to Stuber pass was good for 12 yards and a first down on the Rahway 41. Another pass from Huger to Stuber was good for 11 yards and a first down on the Raiders' 47. Three passes failed and Huger's punt was downed on the 15.

With less than four minutes to play, the Raiders punted to Stuber, who was dropped on Rahway's 39-yard line. Huger passed to Stuber, who pitched out to Green for eight yards. Baker hit right tackle for six yards and a first down on the Raiders' 43. Green, on a reverse around the right side, went 13 yards for a first down on the Raiders' 30-yard line. There was less than two minutes to go in the game. A Huger to Stuber pass was completed for no gain. The Indians picked up five yards on an offside penalty, placing the ball on the Raiders' 25-yard line. On the next play, Huger, on a rollout, was

Crusaders Beaten, But Unbowed

Clark's Crusaders dropped their second game of the season. But before they gave out, they battled powerfully South River to a standstill, losing, 13-9, before more than 5,000 frenzied spectators at South River.

The Crusaders took an early lead on a safety in the second quarter. Mike Dustal went back to punt and then had to do some fancy fielding when the ball sailed high over his right shoulder. He caught it off balance in the end zone, but fell and Clark received two points.

The Maroon and Gray came storming back to score two touchdowns before the half ended. Big John Skarzynski set up the first score when he picked off a pass from Scott Schaefer and returned it 16 yards, aided by a 15-yard penalty. The Rams were on the 16-yard line. Eight plays later Drew Pearson slipped off two Clark tacklers and scored from the two-yard line.

Skarzynski kicked the extra point and Clark trailed, 7-2.

The second touchdown also came from out of the blue when Pearson bombed to Skarzynski, who ran the remaining distance to the score. The play covered 54 yards. Pearson's try for the extra point was wide.

Skarzynski now has 84 points for the season with two games left on the schedule.

Clark cut into the lead in the third period, when they marched 48 yards in nine plays to send Mark Markovic over from the one-yard line. Steve Strakele made good the extra point. The Clark defense held the Rams at bay, stopping them on the four-yard line late in the game.

Pearson, the All-State quarterback from South River, hit on 17 of 32.

Coach Toad Mercer's fine defense held South River to only 46 yards on the ground. The Crusaders passed for 123 yards and picked up 100 on the ground. Clark is now 5-2, while South River is undefeated in seven games.

Decision To Police

Credit the Rahway Police Department for bringing to a quick halt the brawl that erupted between the football teams of Scotch Plains-Fanwood and Rahway just two minutes before the final whistle last Saturday. The flareup ignited in the middle of the field after quarterback Craig Huger was tackled near the sidelines. Both squads engaged in the fistcuffing, but four policemen separated all the combatants, after which officials ended the game.

Hoagland's Football Picks for Saturday's Games

It's the final Saturday of the high school season and the Watchung Conference title is still up for grabs. Berkeley Heights has completed its conference race and will play North Plainfield at home this week and should win, but it will be close. We take the Highlanders, 14-6.

Clark, which can still win the crown if they take their two remaining games, will host Rahway and should win, 21-6.

Scotch Plains - Fanwood, which still has a chance, will face a Cranford team that is tough. We like the Cougars in an upset, 13-6.

Westfield will close its conference schedule by beating Hillside, 21-14.

Summit should stay at the top of the Suburban Conference by nipping a strong Verona team, 13-7.

Bound Brook, leader of the Mountain Valley Conference, to defeat the Roselle Park Panthers in a non-league contest, 21-7.

Thomas Jefferson to add the Barons of Woodbridge to their list, 27-18.

Pingry Prep too strong for the Kenilworth Bears, 13-7.

In a game of losers, Madison Township to win over Linden's Tigers, 14-0.

New Providence, still hoping for a change at the Suburban Conference title if Summit should lose, to score over last-place Chatham Boro, 21-0.

Springfield Bulldogs over a weak Roselle Ram team, 13-0.

Union and Plainfield, once the county powers, but now a couple of also-rans, play in the Queen City and we pick Union, 14-7.

Our record after seven weeks shows 61-29 for a .661 average. Our New Jersey college record is 34-9, about .750. There are only four games this week, when most teams close their season. Holy Cross will invade Rutgers Stadium and suffer their fifth loss in eight games, 27-14.

The game of the year for the Tigers will be another loss, this time to the Ivy League champs from New Haven, Yale by 21-10.

Montclair State to close on a high note, 13-0, over the Profs of Glassboro State.

Albright, with a 7-1 record, to add Upsala to its list, 21-6.

Mayor Lauds Voters On Council Choices

In the wake of a resounding GOP victory, Rahway Mayor John C. Marsh issued a statement in which he both thanked and congratulated the voters of Rahway.

"Everyone knows," the Mayor pointed out, "that the positive and progressive efforts we want to make on behalf of the people of Rahway depend upon the support of a dedicated harmonious council."

"I am confident that the age of bickering and backbiting has come to an end in Rahway," said Marsh. "The people of Rahway have made it clear that there is no room in our local government for those who prefer petty wrangling over progressive effort."

"Now, we can get down to business. Now, we can devote our full attention to such things as waking the redevelopment giant that has been sleeping on our civic doorstep for over a decade... cleaning up the polluted Rahway River... providing decent and suitable facilities for our Police and Fire Departments and City Hall... and modernizing our water plant."

"I thank the voters of Rahway for manifesting confidence in our administration by bringing the vigorous leadership talents and fresh approach of Dick Voynik and Jack Holt to the council. By returning Jim Pickens and Don Forsythe to office, our citizens have shown their appreciation for the hard work these men have done on their behalf."

"I congratulate our voters," said Marsh, "on turning away the arguers, dissenters and obstructionists and rallying round the voices of progress."

"Now the job is up to us," the energetic young mayor declared, "and I mean to see that we get it done."

THE PARTY'S OVER ... But it will be a long time before Diane Huff and Phillip Bellinger, who are shown holding their trophies, forget the Halloween party at Rahway High School. Going the honors are Mayor Marsh, left, and Nick Belmont.

Some of the children came in costumes, such as spacemen, nurses, batmen, hobos, etc. Many brought their own records, which were played that night as part of the special program. So a good time was had by all. The program was under the Supervision of Walter Cymansky, Steven Marcink and Miss Dorothy West.

Clark State Bank Has Art Contest For 5th Graders

Planning for the fourth annual Thanksgiving Art Contest for fifth-grade students in the Clark Public School System is under way, it was announced this week by Dr. Carl Kumpf, superintendent of schools. The annual event is sponsored by the Clark State Bank and Trust Company.

Victor W. Clark, executive vice president of the bank, said savings accounts will be awarded to the three students whose work is picked as best in each of the township's four public schools. Those schools are Mildred Terrace, Abraham Clark, Frank K. Hehney and Valley Road.

Entries from the four schools will be judged by teachers and supervisors. The winning entries will be placed on display at the Clark State Bank and Trust Company's Raritan Road office during the week of Thanksgiving.

14 Area Educators At Fall Meeting

Rayway educators who registered for the fall meeting of the Union County Personnel and Guidance Association were: Arthur L. Johnson, Regional High School; Kenneth Moritko, Edward Ammanns, Mrs. Susanne Hornath, Charles Kuhlman, and Irwin Pearson.

Clark Gets The Boot

Thomas Jefferson's fourth-seeded soccer team eliminated the fifth-seeded Clark Crusaders, 2-1, in an opening round game of the Union County Conference tournament at Pingry Prep in Hillsdale on Saturday morning. The Tees had defeated Clark last Tuesday by the same score in a regular-season game.

Walt Jimenez sent the Jeff team in front in the first period, then Clark's Mike Loffa rapped on in from the right side to tie up the game in the second period, but Phil Russo, of the Tees, scored his 25th goal of the season in the third period that wrapped up the game.

Clark will now play Morristown in the opening game of the NJSIAA tournament later this week.

Bloodmobile Stops Here

The annual Red Cross Bloodmobile will be held from 1 to 6 p.m. Monday, Dec. 2, at the Colombian Club, W. Inman and Jaques Ave., Rayway.

This was announced today by Mrs. Marguerite M. Compton, executive director of the Rayway - Clark Chapter. Mrs. George M. Kutby is blood program chairman.

Fourteen church and civic organizations which have regular blood bank programs are recruiting donors, but the Bloodmobile will be open to the general public as well.

Individuals wishing to volunteer may donate blood for the Family Plan, making blood available in the future for a family member or for any group now in the plan, for hospitalized persons anywhere in the country or for the armed forces. Those who wish to donate may make appointments by calling the Rayway-Clark Chapter at 381-2800. Early reservations will be appreciated to facilitate efficient scheduling.

West Grand Ave. for the ground-blessing ceremonies on the site where a new church edifice will be built.

The program for the day will begin at 10:45 a.m. with a solemn procession from the parish rectory to the vestibule of the church, where Bishop Martin will be met by the president of the congregation, John Petronko, Sr., with the traditional bread and salt, and also by the pastor, Father Michael Polanichka, who will greet the bishop with the Holy Cross.

The Pontifical Divine Liturgy will begin at 11 a.m. Celebrant will be Bishop Martin, assisted by Father Polanichka and the clergy from the New York - New Jersey Diocese. Responses will be sung by St. John's Choir under the direction of Prof. John Dickson. At the conclusion of the services, Bishop Martin will bestow upon those in attendance, individually, his episcopal blessing.

At 12:45, a procession will take place to the site of the new church for the ground-blessing ceremony.

A banquet in honor of Bishop Martin will be held at 2 p.m. at the Polish National Hall in Linden. Among the speakers will be the toastmaster John Petronko Jr., Mayor of Rayway, John C. Marsh; Rev. Elias Kozar, speaking on behalf of the clergy; Mr. Jerome Eisenberg and Mr. Philip Adler, attorneys - at law; Councilman John J. Gilgannon of the First Ward and Bishop John R. Martin who will deliver the main address. Concluding remarks will be made by Father Polanichka, host pastor.

Construction of the new church will begin in the spring of 1969. The present church building, now in existence in the city of Rayway for the past 32 years, was established in 1916.

GOP Pledges 'Spirited Leadership'

"Victory isn't just getting elected," Rayway's four winning GOP council members pointed out this week. "It's accomplishing what you've set out to do."

The quartet included two successful challengers, Richard Vovnik in the 3rd Ward and John Holt, 5th Ward, and two returning council members, James Pickens, 2nd Ward, and Donald Forsythe, 6th Ward.

"The standard routine may be to follow a winning vote count by dusting off a worn-out platitude," the statement said. "But we want to assure the people who placed their confidence in us that our tenure will be devoted to producing a visible, measurable improvement in our town ... not empty promises."

"For us to tell our constituents that we're going to give them honest government or any of the other stock phrases of victory tells them nothing. If they expected anything other than honest government, they would never have expressed confidence in us."

"Let our first official words as councilmen-elect be a very sincere and heartfelt 'Thank you very much.'"

"And let our minds, our intentions, our emotions and every drop of our capability be turned to re-laying the foundation of this community ... to joining with the energetic efforts of Mayor Marsh and Councilmen Jacobbe, Vansco and Weaver in forming a united, active policy of progress ... to assure our two minority councilmen of our cooperation and support ... and to the accomplishment of our stated goals with regard to redevelopment, downtown Rayway, the river, the water plant, the city yard and the prudent, frugal use of the taxpayers' money."

The statement went on to say, "We believe that there was an 'RSVP' on every ballot cast in our favor ... and we mean to respond."

"If any citizen of Rayway has any question on any subject concerning the government of Rayway at any time, we urge you to call us. If we don't have the answer when you call, we'll be glad to get it for you."

"Our earnest desire at this time is to assure every voter, whoever he may have supported, that we are in your corner for a better Rayway."

Our ads get you action. Call The Rayway News Record at 388-0600.

Mayor - Elect Thomas Kaczmarek, appearing more relaxed than he has in the last few months, will switch the emphasis from partisan bickering to teamwork during his four years in office.

Kaczmarek, the first Democratic mayor in Clark in three decades, will discuss his new job with William J. Maguire, the outgoing mayor who was elected to the Union County Board of Freeholders, during the latter part of this month.

Kaczmarek did not comment on the terms of four department heads, all of whom are Republicans, which expire at the end of the year. They are Charles Grunder, public safety director; Joseph Brunquell, revenue and finance director; Robert Walsh, business administrator, and Anthony Belluscio, director of public works. One choice will not be Kaczmarek's. That's the naming of a councilman to fill his old job.

Kaczmarek's teammates, Angelo Walano, John Pisanky and Stanley LeWand, all Democrats, will be seated on the township council with two other Democrats, John Boyle and Richard B. Gerger, and one Republican, Edward Getchis, a Republican.

"All jobs in town hall will be evaluated," Kaczmarek said, "because it will help the morale and it might make things more efficient."

Kaczmarek said his aim is to provide "better service at a lower cost."

"This is why the people elected us ... and these people included Democrats, Republicans and Independents."

Two members of the board of adjustment who appear headed for the exit are William Assell and Ralph Iozzi, both of whom backed the Independents. Their terms expire in five months.

Meanwhile, the jobs held by Municipal Judge Joseph Pozitzi, Prosecutor Ernest Lebowitz and attorney I.B. Johnstone, Jr. do not expire until Jan. 20, 1970. The decision on what will happen in their cases has not been made.

Kaczmarek said he would live up to his campaign promises and that he would attend every meeting of the Union County Conference of Mayors.

He was very determined about one thing, though, from now on, it's out with the bickering and in with the harmony.
