It Was as Easy as Pie

STRIKING, BUT NOT OUT ... You got to hand it to them. Tom Seaver, right, the Mets' great hurler, and Walter Maaskant, Jr., of 57 Roberts Rd., Clark, were in there pitching — banana cream pies — during Kraft show. And both lost face, Maaskant, who works at the NBC studios in New York, was merely doing his job. What wasn't in the script was Seaver pitching a pie right back. For a strike. 'Twas all in fun, though, and Seaver later autographed baseball for Walter's son, Scott.

Disabled Student Grant

A $20,000 grant to develop a comprehensive program for the physically-handicapped student beyond the usual classroom experience is being shared by the Union County Regional High School District No. 1, which includes Clark Township and the Elizabeth public schools, it was announced today.

The grant was made by the State Department of Education under Title 6A of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, according to Dr. Donald Merachnik, assistant superintendent for pupil personnel services in the regional district.

"In attempting to provide for realistic, quality education for the physically-handicapped student, we must realize that classroom educational instruction is not enough," Dr. Merachnik said.

"These students require supplementary services which will permit them to develop to their maximum capabilities—physically, sensorially, socially and emotionally. The utilization of physical and speech therapy services, as well as planned recreational and social activities, should assist in the development and enable the students to gain more from their environment as well as their classroom activities."

According to Dr. Merachnik, the grant will now make it possible to allow the physically handicapped in the regional district to participate in recreational, social and cultural trips, utilizing the district's special bus which is equipped with an hydraulic lift for students confined to wheelchairs.

The grant will also allow both school systems to provide additional physical and speech therapy services, consultant orthopedic services and materials, supplies and equipment for a tutorial program.

Industry To Study Parking

Clark industrial members of the Westfield Area Chamber of Commerce met on Oct. 27 and resolved to create a new committee to be known as the Clark Industrial Division Coordinating Committee.

It was agreed that "the purpose of the coordinating committee is to work with the community on problems of mutual interest."

Ted Hill of Celanese Plastics Co. was appointed committee chairman, and Robert Clifton of Cosmair, Inc., was named secretary.

At the group's next meeting, parking problems on Terminal Avenue will be discussed. A brief survey has been prepared by Clifton, and a report will be presented at the November meeting.

Companies on Terminal Ave. who are not members of the Westfield Area Chamber of Commerce will be invited to this meeting, so they may offer pertinent information concerning the parking problem.

The committee will meet on the second Tuesday of each month in facilities provided by one of the participating companies. The meetings will begin at 5 p.m. and last not more than 1 1/2 hours. The last meeting of the committee was held yesterday at Cosmair, Inc. in Robert Clifton's office conference room.

Copy Deadlines

The deadline for stories with pictures for The Clark Patriot is Monday of each week. The deadline for stories without pictures is 5 p.m. each Tuesday. Copy may be mailed to 1470 Broad St., Rahway, N.J. 07065, or it may be delivered by hand. Copy deposited in the box inside the Clark Police Department will be picked up at 8 o'clock sharp every Tuesday morning.

It's 'The Game' Again As Clark and Rahway Gird for Grid Meeting

The 14th annual football game between the Clark Crusaders and the Rahway Indians will take place Saturday on Veterans Field at 10 a.m.

The game will match two teams that have won a total of 10, lost two and tied two. Both teams are on a winning streak: the Crusaders have won their last six in the row, while Rahway has won four and tied two of its last six.

Both teams have played four Watching Conference games. The Crusaders have a 3-1 record, and both have met Hillside, the Clark team winning, 28-6, while the Comers won over Cranford, the Crusaders by 14-7, while the Indians had to come from behind in the final seconds 11-10.

The Indians won in the last minute over Berkeley Heights, 8-7, while Clark had no trouble with the Red and Blue, 14-0. In the Westfield games, Rahway tied the Blue Devils 20-20, while Clark lost its only game 23-15 in its season opener.

The Clark school leads in the series seven games to six. Last year Clark won 14-7.

Both Teams use the ball control style of play, with the running game over the passing game. In analyzing the play of the teams, after seeing them both play five teams this season, we feel the Clark team's quarterback senior Gary Smolyn, is an outstanding roll out man and runner, while Rahway's Craig Lugg, a junior, is a better passer. In last week's game, Smolyn carried 15 times for 15 yards, passed five times, completed three: two to Scott for 7 and 30 yards and the third to Strakele for 8. This latter pass was hit in flight by a Ram player.

Hugger was tossed twice for safeties, picked up 23 yards, passed four times, completed three for 34 yards, including one to Gary for a touchdown.

Clark's power is senior 145-pound George Scott, who scored twice last week, on a pass from Smolyn and on a 53-yard run. He drove 109 yards in 16 carries. The Crusaders have one of the hardest running backs in the conference in Jeff Tomasovic, a 5-10, 180-pound junior who carried 7 times for 23 yards. Rahway's Walter Winning, fullback, drove 25 yards in six tries last week.

The Rahway team has the speed in Cordell Green and Joel Davion, who last week picked up 53 yards last week while Mike Markovic, a good blocker, and Ed Pinkham are expected to start for the Clark team.

The Crusaders have scored 72 points in Conference play for an average of 18 points per game, while the Indians have scored 46 points for an average of 9.1. On the defense, the Clark team has allowed only 36 points while Rahway has given 50.

The Clark line will outweigh the Rahway team, lead by Steve Strakele, who tips the scales at 205 and kicks field goals and extra points.

Following him are Gil Lesko, 240, Matt Metz, 205, Tom Best, 160, and Joe Smith, 200. Rahway's biggest linemen are Robert Duffy and Ben Riggi at 175, Jack Flath, 165, Don Balogh and Jack Burket at 160 and Mike Caravella, 130.

The largest crowd of the season is expected to see the game that should match two teams that are ranked with the best in the county. Games will open at 9 a.m.

CANDLELIGHT MARCH TONIGHT

300 Sign Petitions To Cease Viet War

More than 300 persons have signed petitions circulated by the New Democratic Coalition of Clark that are critical of the U. S. involvement in the Vietnam war and urge "bold and brave steps" to end the fighting.

The petitions, which also support the goals of the Nov. 14 and 15 Mobilization for Peace, will be circulated for a few additional days and then forwarded to U. S. Senators Harrison A. Williams and Clifford P. Case, Robert Lapidus, Clark NDC chairman, said.

Tonight, members of the organization and other residents will hold a candlelight march starting at Grant City on Central Ave. at 7 o'clock. The group will then walk up Central Ave. to Raritan Road, then to Westfield Ave. and to the municipal building.

"The march is being held in conjunction with the national November moratorium observance to protest the nation's continued involvement in the war, to hasten our disengagement and end the senseless killing in Vietnam," Lapidus declared.

A delegation of Clark NDC members, he said, plan to join anti-war protesters Saturday in the scheduled massive march and rallies in Washington.

All releases sent to The Rahway News Record and The Clark Patriot must be TYPED. No handwritten material of any sort will be published due to the difficulty in deciphering and the great possibility of error.

Annual GOP Yule Party

"Bells will jingle for the Clark Republican Club at the Log Cabin, Raritan Road, on Saturday evening, Dec. 13," said George Ebbe, ways and means chairman, in announcing the club's annual Christmas party.

"We're doing things a little differently this year. We're changing from the usual do-it-yourself affair to a club-subsidized roast beef dinner, complete with cocktail hour, music, dancing, entertainment and Santa Claus. A real gala affair at three dollars off."

Ebbe was referring to the ticket price structure. Tickets for paid-up members are $4 per person and $7 for non-members, the subsidy for the paid-up members coming from the club entertainment fund.

"Space is limited, so get your tickets early by calling Mrs. Gloria Kopp at 388-7656," Ebbe said.

Drug Series Begins

An in-service program for teachers on the subject of drug abuse and control gets under way today in the Union County Regional High School District No. 1.

Approximately 30 teachers from Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School and three other regional high schools are involved in the program being offered by the Department of Public Health and Preventive Medicine of the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry.

The eight-session program is being administered by the Union County Regional Adult School, according to Dr. Donald Merachnik, assistant superintendent for pupil personnel services. Harry E. Linkin is adult school director.

Among the areas being covered are: signs and symptoms of drug abuse what drugs are and how they are used, what to do if a student is suspected of being a drug user, how to deal with parents of suspected users and the teacher's attitude toward drugs.

Dr. Stanley Einstein, assistant professor of public health at the college, is the instructor. A psychologist-specialist in the field of drug addiction, Dr. Einstein is editor of "The International Journal of Addiction" and next year will publish a high school text on drug and alcoholism education for high school students.

Dr. Merachnik said other medical specialists from the college will be utilized as guest speakers.

Student Council Named

What's new in the Abraham Clark School in Clark? The student council is new! "Since it is a child-centered school that continually seeks to communicate with its youngsters, we have organized the council as another aid to that goal," said Caesar Marrone, principal.

The student council is comprised of one member elected from each fourth, fifth and sixth - grade class. Also elected are substitute members. There are four girls and six boys on the council.

The children are currently involved with the assignment of evaluating the school, its processes and procedures. Each representative has held class meetings and compiled a huge list of those features which their classmates feel are recognized assets in the school.

Heading the top of their lists are excellent teachers, an abundance of books, and a goodlooking school. The pupils do concur, however, that strides need to be made among their peers in maintaining a clean school and in generating school spirit.

The council will study these problems and formulate plans to overcome them.

Soon the fourth, fifth and sixth - grade students will elect a president, vice president, and secretary to chair the newly - created council. And they may even be treated to some old-fashioned campaigning by the nominees.

"Growing Up With Science Books" book marks and "Books I Want to Read" brochures will be distributed to children using the library during children's book week and the most recent purchases in the children's section will be on view and available for borrowing. Children's book week is sponsored throughout the nation by the Children's Book Council.

Students in Clark elementary school are invited to attend a 45 - minute color film program on Saturday, Nov. 15, at 2 p. m. at the Sunnyside Branch of the Linden Area Reference Library at 100 Edgewood Rd. No tickets or reservations are necessary.

Films to be shown include "The Golden Fish," a suspense filled tale of a cat and a renegade fish and "The Doughnuts," the story of a boy and a doughnut machine gone wild, an episode from Robert Mc Closkey's very funny book "Homer Price."

Jones Resumes Fight For Negro Mortuary

James C. Jones of 602 Maple Ave., Rahway, resumed his fight to establish a Negro funeral home on Elm Ave. in Superior Court. Charging that the city council acted arbitrarily, capriciously, and unreasonably when it denied his variance on Oct. 14 by a 5-4 vote. He is asking the Superior Court to reverse the action and allow the first Negro funeral home in the history of the city.

Earlier this year Jones had filed suit against the city, the building inspector, and the planning board after he was denied a building permit by the inspector, and the board did not recommend to council that the variance be granted for the property at 247 Elm Ave., which is adjacent to Corey & Corey, another mortuary.

Superior Court Judge Milton A. Feller ruled on April 23 that Jones should be granted a variance, noting that all of the white funeral homes in the city were established in that manner. He told the board of adjustment to make such a recommendation which was perfected on May 19. He also cited the recent variance granted to Corey & Corey on the same block and appeared not to believe that the establishment of one mortuary next to another constituted bad planning.

At the October council meeting, council voted 5-4 to deny the variance. Voting in favor of the denial were Council President Ray A. Giacobbe and four Republicans, Mrs. Esther Forsythe, George Vansco, John Holt, and James Pickens. Voting for approval of the variance were the two Democrats,

The Long Haul From Cub to Eagle Scout

By Abram Bakker

I have been scouting for almost nine years and have enjoyed every minute of it. I started out in the Cub Scouts when I was eight years old. Those were the days of fun and games. However, the basic concepts of scouting were introduced -- working together as a den and getting a crack at leadership as a denner.

Once a boy enters Boy Scouts, he is taught to be more self-reliant and at the same time to work together still as a patrol. The first few months are the most important. This is when a boy is taught the basic scout skills. With these, he eventually becomes an expert camper.

Then the scout begins on the merit badge program. Here he gets the incentive as well as future purchases, to work on his own, meets Tickets will be available other people connected with scouting, such as counselors, and broadens his experience. To become an Eagle, during the years I worked on various fund drives and smaller community conservation projects.

I also found time to be a member of the Rahway High School Marching and Concert Band for five years. I am a member of the Key Club and am presently playing on the high school football team. And last but not least, I am an active member of the First Presbyterian Church.

I hope to use my scouting knowledge to get ahead. I plan to attend the Air Force Academy upon graduation from high school and become a career officer. I hope my he also must do work for the community to show his willingness to serve.

For my project, I worked a complete summer reconditioning the shrubbery around the First Presbyterian Church. Another summer, I worked for the city moving the old library material into the present location. Also scouting background will help me to achieve this goal. Many great people have been scouts. For example, all the astronauts on the moon mission were Eagle Scouts.

The 50th anniversary celebration of Reliance Savings at 1523 Irving St., Rahway, is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 15. The celebration is Reliance Savings' way of saying thank you to its customers for their confidence over the last 50 years. The festivities will commence at 10 a.m.

The main attraction for young and old will be Miss New Jersey, Cheryl Carter of Matawan, who will appear in person. She will be there as official hostess to greet all visitors and to sign autographs.

To celebrate the anniversary, free gifts will be given for opening or adding $50 to a new or existing savings account.

The gifts are a beacon blanket, a folding plaid travel case and a man's or lady's umbrella.

Ten thousand mailing pieces will be sent out to inform the people of a golden anniversary. In closing, I would like to thank the people who helped me to get where I am in scouting today. Most of the credit has to go to my parents. Without their help, and sometimes pushing, I probably wouldn't have come this far. I would like to thank Klars for getting me started in the first place and giving me that little extra kick once in a while.

Another highlight of the celebration will be the drawing for a 23-inch General Electric Color TV. Entry blanks are readily available to all visitors.

To the first 50 visitors who enter the building, Reliance Savings will give a mystery gift. To round out the entire program, free souvenirs and yardsticks will be given out, in addition to shopping bags.

Moratorium Post Mortems

Sufficient time has now passed for a more than cursory look at the first of what is supposed to be a series of Moratorium Days. And the results have something to say about the accuracy of television news reporting. Television stations in many areas went on the air at the conclusion of Moratorium Day with what were supposed to be in depth views of the results. But as is often the case with the rush for the scoop on the boob tube, the instant experts were not as accurate as the men who sat back and reflected on the results very carefully.

Some TV newscasters reported what was supposed to be "vast numbers" of demonstrators. But it turned out that the numbers were not as high as the promoters expected. Neither were they as high as initially reported. Pre-demonstration predictions ran as high as a million. Estimates on the night of the broadcasts ran as high as half a million. Later, and more thoughtful, estimates were scaled down to a possible high of 250,000 demonstrators from coast to coast. This may or may not be accurate. Some still say it was the greatest number of dissidents ever involved in a protest. But let's put the figures in perspective. Even if we were to concede a figure of half a million persons, this would be approximately one-quarter of one percent of the population of the United States. Or to put it another way, roughly 199.5 million did not take part. This despite the vast publicity given over modern communications media, coupled with the growth in affluence that permits our citizens the leisure time away from work, the permissiveness of some colleges which enroll students who don't study, and the ease of travel that is available to mobilize such numbers. Looking at the Moratorium in this light gives it a less spectacular image.

Other facts highlight the failure of the militant, left-leaning minority to bring out-of-proportion influence to bear on the not-so-silent majority. Note: The large majority of the members of congress who opposed the Moratorium as against the minority who supported it. Note: The large numbers of cars driving along the highways with their headlights turned on in support of the President's efforts to win the peace. Note: The flags that were flown at full staff over all New York City police stations in defiance of the half-mast declaration of Mayor Lindsay. Note: ditto at the NY Mets Shea Stadium during the World Series game that day. Note: The recruitment boards that recorded an increase in enlistees as a counter protest. Public opinion polls taken after the Moratorium show an increase in support of the President's foreign policy. Increase at the White House ran heavily in favor of Vice President Agnew's tough speech. TV in depth reporting notwithstanding, the silent majority of Americans did speak that day, eloquently, and it is apparent that the President was listening very carefully.

Look Who's Talking

In the battle taking place in the U. S. Senate concerning the appointment by President Nixon of Judge Clement Haynsworth to fill the Supreme Court vacancy left by the resignation of Abe Fortas, one of the leaders of the opposition is Senator Edward M. Kennedy. It was only a matter of time before the senator's own personality was brought into the public debate surrounding the confirmation.

In all instances that have arisen during the hearings on Judge Haynsworth, the judge has voluntarily supplied files and records involved in the questioning. He has testified and answered all questions. Many of the senators, who have announced that they will vote against his approval, state that they are so doing, not because there is any evidence that he has done wrong but, because of what they call "public doubt." This is to say that the man must be guilty of something, but we do not know what it is, or what it could be and we can find no proof that he has done anything wrong.

Now enters the fray the distinguished senator from Massachusetts, having regained his power of speech, at least in certain carefully restricted areas. And what should be his solemn requirement from Judge Haynsworth in return for a Kennedy vote of approval? We quote -- "full disclosure!"

It is difficult to find words adequate to respond to this latest Kennedy pirouette. As our readers know, it is seldom if ever that we have anything good to say about TV, but we think that WRAL-TV in Raleigh, N. C., whose managers and/or owners appear to be men of plain words put it very succinctly in their editorial aired on Oct. 20. They said: "And of all people, Senator Kennedy presumes to talk about, of all things, 'full disclosure' in connection with Judge Haynsworth's investments in small amounts of stock."

"Full disclosure, indeed! For while Senator Kennedy was last week attacking Judge Haynsworth by implication on the floor of the Senate, Senator Kennedy's attorneys were appearing in court in Massachusetts to prevent a full disclosure in the episode that cost a young unmarried woman her life last summer."

We would like to see the Senator turn over as much information to his peers as has the judge. We would

To the Editor: told him that he was "not qualified" to teach sex education. "New Jersey Speaks For It" followed their suggestions roversy over the Rahway because "they are experts in sex education program, their field."

Guests were Ronald May, Point #1. I believe that you cannot teach a child about his sex or sexuality without teaching him the part which God plays in it.

Point #2. Why is a gynecologist, an educated and Rah way program. His answer practically experienced professional, not qualified to teach sex education? Why are we asked to believe that any one of the teachers in the program is over or all the teachers in the program? who do not even live in Rahway -- people from school districts in this county -- Clark, Colonia, Woodbridge, try would be qualified to do etc. They were opposing the program.

I asked Dr. Sprowls questions last January in Colonia in my child's school. He gave me no answer. I wrote him a letter dated Jan. 17 - a letter which he said he would answer. He didn't. I became concerned. Parents should be. I'm more concerned than ever.

like to hear his answers, given in public, to all questions put to him by a panel of his critics. Judge Haynsworth did not have a battery of high-powered lawyers demanding a hearing closed to the press and the public. Can the senator say the same? He cannot.

Everybody Denies It, May Says, But SIECUS Is Always Popping Up

An Open Letter To Rev. Eugene Ebert:

In the November 1969 issue of the "Tower Times," the church bulletin of the First Presbyterian Church, you state on page 5 that I use misinformation as a weapon. I must say I was quite surprised when I read your bulletin, mostly because you never took the time to call me and inquire about my views. However, I do agree that misinformation is a weapon and should be corrected. Since I can't get space in your bulletin to reply, and since your congregation is entitled to hear my reply, I shall reply in The Rahway News-Record.

Knowing that Mr. and Mrs. William Elliott are elders in your church, your views do not surprise me, since I am aware that in most instances where the issue of sex education has become a controversy, it has been attributable to an insignificant minority of individuals behind the scenes "shaping" the destinies for the vast majority of the citizenry in the sexual education of their children. However, I feel that I am entitled to correct your views about several statements made in your bulletin. Your bulletin stated:

"Unfortunately, some of the opposition to sex education in public schools uses misinformation for its weapon. This was seen in a recent TV debate when a foe of sex education cited sensational passages from a book which he said was used in the Rahway public schools. Actually, the book was never intended for use in classrooms nor was it so used. It was one of the many reference books for teachers."

The following quotation was deleted by the publisher due to the possibility of having minors read it. It is available from Mr. May.

On page 156 Pomeroy sums up his book by speaking to the boys as follows: "The important thing to remember, therefore, is that it isn't what you do sexually that matters, as long as you're not hurting someone else; it's how you feel about what you're doing." (underscored words were italicized in the book.)

If you believe that I cited the sensational "passages" from the above book, I suggest that you read the book. And I ask this question: "Who said that the book was never intended for use in the classrooms?" At a Rahway advisory committee meeting which I attended, the committee was reviewing the high school guide (grades 7 through 12) and the book "Boys and Sex" was noted in the 7th grade bibliography as reading material for boys. A nun on the advisory committee read the book and objected because it gave "various ways to masturbate." At that time I asked "who else other than Mr. Goodstein and the nun had read the book?" The answer I received: "Nobody!" At that time the book was taken off the reading list for boys and put into the reading list for teachers.

Accordingly, a natural question goes begging. Is the philosophy of Dr. Mary Calderone and SIECUS and the assorted recent and past members of that organization to be used in the training of our teachers and in the dissemination of sex information to our children? Dr. Sprowls stated in his TV debate that Rahway does not have a SIECUS program. We must judge from his remark that he recognizes that SIECUS material is bad for our children and must be weeded out.

Misinformation on the subject of human sexuality should be avoided. And so should the many practices of deceit that abound at all levels on this subject. A cardinal rule must be adhered to at all times by all individuals and in particular those individuals who "push hard" against public opinion, and that is that all questions on the subject must be honestly answered. But the answers must come from sound principles and based on honest and complete valuations of the issue, in this case sex education. The fact is that social ills are not the result of misinformation but the result of lack of formation. No one would dispute that an informed driver who understands every intricate detail of an automobile engine -- the various engine parts, their function, operation, mutual interaction, the fuel and ignition systems, etc. -- is not necessarily a responsible driver. Neither do years of instruction regarding the human body and its functioning in reproduction bear any relationship to responsible sexual behavior.

As Dr. Sprowls pointed out on TV, SIECUS and many other organizations recommend many books relating to sex education. What Dr. Sprowls failed to mention is that most of these books are authored by SIECUS representatives. Although SIECUS represents that it is a non-profit organization, it fails to be honest in this regard, since its recommended list of books, material, etc. is almost entirely filled with SIECUS representatives, or companies with which they are associated, all of whom are in the field of sex education with the motive of profit, and not love of our children.

The bulletin also stated that the vocal opposition makes it appear that almost all citizens are opposed to sex education and that "this is simply not the case." First, I must ask what do the vast majority of parents think of when they define sex education? Without hesitation, I can tell you that parental concepts of what sex education should be is diametrically opposed to what the proponents of the new "human sexuality" fad are trying to force upon the schools in Rahway. Second, I seriously question Mrs. Elliott's statistics, wherein she revealed that 72 per cent of those responding to a sex education questionnaire were in the affirmative. On the basis that 55 per cent did not respond, this reveals that only 29 per cent of those solicitations were affirmative in some measure. But, again, what question(s) were asked of parents? I can assure you that none of the "fine points" of what Rahway experienced were brought out in these questions. Only simple, innocuous questions that some parents replied to affirmatively, those whose faith has not yet been shattered by the Rahway sex education advisory committee.

Mrs. Elliott said in her TV statement of senior high students in her First Presbyterian Church, "Each one of these girls said -- we are not able to talk to our parents about this (sex) -- our mothers won't answer us." She also said that some of these girls believed that girls get pregnant by rubbing their navels together while dancing. At this point I must seriously consider Mrs. Elliott's motive for such statements. Does she honestly believe that the parents of the First Presbyterian senior high school students refuse to answer their own children's questions, and that these young adults must turn to what would appear to be strangers or possible disinterested teachers to be apprised of the facts of life, and intimate emotions?

I cannot state what philosophy Mrs. Elliott espouses in her program for senior high students and possibly others. However, I do know from statements made by her during her TV appearance with me that during a course she attended at a local college, apparently for purposes of teaching this subject, she was advised to consult and use literature by Evelyn Duvall, a board of directors member of SIECUS. Although everyone denies any connection with SIECUS, consistently SIECUS appears and reappears.

Rev. Ebert, I wish to direct some questions to you which I am honestly convinced that if they were answered would put this whole issue in the proper perspective and prove beyond the shadow of a doubt the "real" intentions or ignorance of the Rahway advisory committee in implementing the original program for the Rahway school system:

1. Why were so many parents unaware of any sex education program in this community?
2. Since you feel that the school should supplement the parents and church in sex education, why did Mrs. Elliott state in her TV appearance that "home and church supplement the school?"

3. Since all efforts have failed over the past 12 months, including numerous requests of members of the board of education and citizens, to obtain a copy of the high school sex education guide from the Rahway advisory committee, might you not perform a community service and obtain copies of such guide for members of the board of education in order that they can make an honest evaluation, not based on what you describe as misinformation?
4. Why was my invitation by Mr. Goodstein to join the Rahway advisory committee withdrawn by this same individual? Was this due to the fact that the committee was constituted of individuals who were pre-selected for their commitment to sex education, and who could ill afford to tolerate the lonely voice of dissent on the committee?

5. Dr. Sprowls stated on TV that the slides "How Babies Are Made" were for 4th grade. If this is true, why was the Rahway Board of Education given curriculum guides where it was listed for first grade students?
6. What did Robert Goodstein mean when he wrote in the "Rutgers Bulletin" that the wise coordinator has to tell religious leaders what they want to hear, and that he has to sell the administrators of the school system?

7. Why did the Rahway advisory committee refuse to present their program for the kindergarten through 6th grade to a "closed to the public" board of education meeting?

8. What motivations prompted Mr. Goodstein to refuse to give a Rahway Board of Education member a copy of the high school sex education guide, and what did he mean when he stated that the board member many find things in the guide of an offensive nature?
9. And many others here in Rahway are appalled at the blatant lack of responsible thinking on the part of certain individuals who have without research blindly tied their reputations and authority to what parents feel are serious moral issues, but without regard to the rights of these parents. I am reminded of the following --:

"... world of doubletalking. To know and not to know, to be conscious of complete truthfulness while telling carefully constructed lies, to hold simultaneously two opinions which cancelled out, knowing them to be contradictory and believing in both of them, to use logic against logic, to repudiate morality while laying claim to it..." 1984" by George Orwell.

To the Editor:

Because Dr. Kumpf has chosen to answer my letter to him through the weekly Board of Education newsletter, my only recourse is to answer him through the medium of the press. Firstly, I am not attempting, nor do I ever intend to "censor" what has traditionally been defined as education in this country. However, the "new" sex education, which may very well be instrumental in shaping the moral fiber of my children is something, as a parent, I insist on handling myself. This is my responsibility, and no one else's. Also, when it comes to my children, you'd better believe I am a "self-appointed censor."

As for the Gallup poll, Dr. Kumpf said 71 per cent of parents being polled are in favor of sex education. Fine, but what kind of sex education, and where was the poll taken?

I don't pretend to be an expert on the highly controversial issue of sex education in the schools, but I am aware of the fact that there are over 2,000 private parent groups of all faiths who are actively opposing the "new" sex education in the schools. I am also aware of the fact that there are 14 state legislatures investigating these programs. Knowing all this, how can any parent not be alarmed over the issues of sex education in the schools, which has divided many communities throughout our land?

Kumpf accuses me of emotionalism. I admit to that. My children are involved, not his. He also mentions false information. All I said in my letter in opposition to the "new" sex education was that the schools do not have the right to teach this very delicate subject to the children. That it is a usurpation of parental prerogative." Does he consider that false information? If so, I know now how he stands on the issue of sex education in the schools. I know the majority of the people in Clark agree with me, but if they remain the "silent majority," they will see sex education in their schools. I respect the right of parents who wish their children to receive this "new" sex education, but I want my right, not to have my children receive it, respected also.

Mrs. Beverly R. Basheim

To the Editor: I hope that the public will support the bill introduced in Congress by Rep. Glenn Cunningham of Nebraska. This bill would prohibit the use of federal funds for sex education in elementary and secondary schools, unless the courses involved had the approval of the school board concerned. This would put the issue of Sex Education in the schools firmly where it belongs, back in the local community. At present, federal funds can be channeled into training sex education teachers and also setting up such courses without anyone but the professional educators aware of what is happening.

This bill further directs the federal Commissioner of Education (presently Dr. James Allen of New York City) to take the necessary steps to insure that no grant is made which would permit the use of federal funds for (1) teaching sex education; (2) training

Registrations for Church School for Retarded Open

The Rev. Richard R. Streeter, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, Rahway, has announced that the Board of Christian Education will sponsor a community-wide, interdenominational Sunday church school for retarded children.

This program is open to members of all denominations and is in no way an attempt to indoctrinate any child in the teachings of one particular church, but rather, an opportunity to gain the knowledge to lead a Christian life.

The material to be used formulated by the National Council of Churches. Fifteen denominations are participating in this ministry for retarded children.

Directing the Sunday church school will be Miss Mary Jane Decker, a graduate of Newark State College and presently teaching special education classes in Rahway's public school system. She was director of this year's special education recreation program in Rahway and has been a Sunday school teacher at Second Presbyterian Church for four years.

A special meeting will be held on Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. We will have the pleasure of meeting with Miss Grace Risley, director of Children's Ministries from the N.J. Conference Office in Madison.

This meeting, which is open to everyone, is conducted so parents, teachers,

Weatherwise, October Was Near Normal

Near normal is the way Harold D. Duflocq, meteorologist at the U.S. Cooperative Weather Station at Union College, described the month of October.

In his monthly meteorological summary to the U.S. Weather Department, Duflocq noted that the average daily temperature was 54.7 degrees, which was .4 degrees below normal. The month's high was 80 degrees, reached on the 12th and 20th of the month. Highest temperature on record is 86 degrees, recorded Oct. 5, 1967.

The month's low of 23 degrees was reached Oct. 24, which was also the coldest day of the month with an average temperature of 37 degrees.

Total degree days for the month were 328, bringing the total for the heating season which began Sept. 1 to 400, as compared to 283 in 1968.

A total of 1.85 inches of rain fell during the month, which was .67 inches below normal. Almost half of that, .94 inches, fell in a single rainfall on Oct. 2 and 3.

Wettest October on record was in 1966, when 5.31 inches of rain were recorded. October, 1963, is the driest on record with .37 inches of measurable rainfall. Total rainfall for the year through October is 43.28 inches.

To the Editor:

A world as complex as this one, with dissatisfaction dispersed, necessitates the demand for change. Although our political and industrial systems have progressed, is there any guarantee that further legislation will be formulated in the light of our insufficiencies? We, as Americans, must be instilled with the motivation to undertake, and the sagacity of innovation to utilize the material resources which exist in our country and communities to confront our inequalities and encourage preservation of the rights of the individual citizen.

I solicit and encourage all people to assist the new state administration towards a most successful performance.

Motorist Loses License for Year

Lester S. Major, 20, of 544 W. Meadow Ave., Rahway, has had his driving privileges suspended for one year, it was announced today by Miss June Strelecki, director of the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles.

Major was involved in a fatal accident. Two other Rahwayans were banned for 30 days each under the 60-70 excessive speed program. They are Cornelius P. Madler, 56, of 1512 Campbell St. and Samuel H. Black, 34, of 1761 Park St.

Moratorium at RHS Drew Mixed Response

By Richard Neubauer

"I went to school to show my support for the men in Vietnam, 'America: Love it or leave it,' was painted on my car."

"I stayed home and called all the churches in Rahway, asking them to toll their bells for five minutes to show support for the Moratorium."

These two comments expressing opposing views were among many received by the Rahway High School Student Council during its recent poll concerning the Oct. 15 "Viet Nam Moratorium Day." The student council distributed questionnaires to all English classes which read "Please explain your activities of Oct. 15, the day of the Vietnam Moratorium. Please be honest. Your signature is optional." Most of the students responding were juniors and seniors, and of these students 48 per cent said they had attended school and 52 per cent said they had not. The actual absentee rate for Oct. 15 was 40 per cent, according to vice principal Herman Kagan. "This is an increase of about 30 per cent over our normal rate." The figure ran higher in the upper grades from which the greatest number of students were absent.

Many students who did not attend school on Moratorium Day demonstrated and attended services at Rutgers University in New Brunswick. Others could be found at Bryant Park, Newark State College, Roosevelt Park, the Elizabeth Court House, and Military Park in Newark. Still others could be found at home. The following statements present a fair overall picture of the RHS students' attitudes toward the moratorium.

"I went to Rutgers and marched for peace with 10,000 other people. I listened to Senator McCarthy speak about the war, and I feel that it was a successful day."

"If I did stay home I would have gone to work early."

"I support protesting for something that you believe in. I have a boyfriend over there and want him to come home -- for good!"

"I attended school and contemplated on the fools who observed this occasion as an unmeditated picnic."

"I went to New York and saw 'Oh What A Lovely War.'"

"I came to school because I think we should support the President. I don't like war, but I think we should try somehow to prevent the Communists from taking over Southeast Asia."

"I rested all day."

"I attended school and think it is a damn shame that America is folding under pressure from a minority."

"I went to Rutgers and listened to Mr. Gross and Senator McCarthy. I believe that war is bad, but you can't always run away from it."

"I went down to the shore."

"I came to school. I would never participate in the Moratorium. The only thing it achieves is to increase the ego of the Communists and to give them more material for propaganda."

"I slept until eleven, got up, took my dog for a walk, watched the world series, then went to track practice."

"I stayed out and attended services. Men are dying in a country where they aren't even wanted."

"To be honest, I got me a bag of smoke, then I went up to my room, which is stereo equipped, and I threw on Ray Charles' Cryin Time, and within a few minutes I had developed an infatuating state of suspended animation. It was my "cryin time."

For many people Moratorium Day was, indeed, a meaningful time in which to express their true feelings about America's involvement in Vietnam. For others it was just an extra holiday. The true success of this or any other such day -- be it Moratorium or Wave or Flag Day -- can only be measured in terms of participation by people who sincerely desire to have their voice heard in a peaceful and democratic manner, within a hopefully sensitive and democratic society.

VFW Asks For Day Of Prayer

Residents of Rahway are being requested by Commander Joseph E. Kitko of VFW Post No. 681 to join in a national day of prayer Nov. 16, asking for peace, safety of our servicemen in Vietnam, national unity and guidance for the United States in this time of crisis.

Commander Kitko said he hopes all residents of Rahway will participate in this "call to worship" and that the clergy will set aside Nov. 16 for special prayers in all Rahway churches, synagogues and temples.

In announcing the day of prayer, Kitko cited a recent appeal made by the Rev. Earl Best, Indianapolis, Ind., national VFW chaplain, who said:

"In this critical time, all Americans should reflect prayerfully on the future course this nation will follow and to ask divine guidance for President Nixon as he makes decisions and sets policies that may affect untold generations yet unborn.

"All Americans should pray for peace and for the thousands of men who daily put their lives on the line in Vietnam. Let us pray for unity."

This particular day, Nov. 16, was selected as the national day of prayer because it is the first Sunday after Veterans Day and concludes the week-long VFW sponsored "Operation Speak Out" calling for unity and public support of American policies and troops in Vietnam.

Standardized College Test Season Is Near

The season of the standardized test is upon us. Seemingly, another is due before one is completed. Are these tests necessary? While many consider them all-important most colleges and universities count them as another indices for admission.

In this section of the country, the most widely-recognized standardized test used in college admission is the Scholastic Aptitude Test, published by Educational Testing Service, College Entrance Examination Board, Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

Another widely-recognized standardized test is the American College Test published by American College Testing Program, P.O. Box 414, Iowa City, Iowa 52240.

Although success in these tests does not insure college admission, it does seem to be the key that unlocks the door. Without success in admission tests, one must be truly outstanding in other categories if he is to be admitted.

first of its kind for many in the Kindergarten classes. All this and ice cream, too. Many mothers helped to put cheer in the annual event.

Each college has its own criterion for admissions. However, the most widely used is the college board result or A.C.T. score, as well as rank in class, scope and intensity of subjects completed, activities, etc. Some schools still use the personal interview, but most have discontinued this requirement.

When he was a tot, they called him Tiny.

But not anymore.

At 6'3", 220 lbs., you might say that Bill Mathis of the World Champion New York Jets had outgrown his name. One way or another, this happens to everyone. As we grow, we change. And suddenly, childhood names don't fit anymore. Nobody understands this better than we! We used to be called the First State Bank of Union, a name we wore with pride.

But as we grew and our services expanded, so did the area we serve. In the near future we'll have offices in Clark, Middlesex and New Providence as well as Union. And we're planning to extend our banking services to many other areas of New Jersey. Soon we'll be offering the popular Master Charge.

So we changed our name to First New Jersey Bank. A name that reflects the wider area we serve. And our commitment to putting the interests of you—our customers—first.

Pennant Raised

The Green Pennant program, a student-centered traffic safety program, has been launched in all of the Rahway elementary schools. The green pennant may be seen flying from the flag-staff of the school, for the children of Rahway have earned the privilege of flying it, having had no pupil-caused accidents.

The Rahway Safety Council initiated the Green Pennant program. It is a symbol of a nationwide traffic safety program sponsored by General Motors, which aims to instill good safety habits, to make youngsters more safety conscious and to reduce accidents involving motor vehicles and bicycles.

Hey Mom, we're all wet!

Hey Dad, we need an Electric Dryer... NOW!

An electric dryer saves work. No denying. It ends that time-consuming wash-day hang-up. The inconvenience of rainy, snowy days. The backbreaking strain of lugging baskets of wet laundry. But it's a special convenience besides. Like quick-drying wet mittens and snow suits so the kids can go out again after lunch. Or drying the new permanent press fabrics to perfection so they need no ironing. Stop in and shop in your local appliance store, and make this a dryer year for the whole family.

Coach Howard Mercer's Clark Crusaders upset the undefeated South River Rams, 14-8, before more than 5,000 fans at Nolan Field on Saturday afternoon. The Rams were unbowed in their last 18 games and ranked as one of the top teams in the state before the game.

Senior halfback George Scott scored both of the Crusaders' touchdowns, on a seven-yard pass from Gary Smolyn and a 53-yard run over his right tackle.

The big story of the game was the defense of the Clark team. Led by Tom Best, Matt Metz, Steve Strakele, Gil Lesko and Ken Foster, they broke through the tough Ram line to toss All-State quarterback Mike Dustal for minus 14 yards in seven carries. The Crusaders scored the first time they had possession of the ball, after forcing the Rams to a punt that carried only five yards to mid-field. Clark was set back to its 45. Scott in two tries carried to the 35-yard line, Smolyn rolled to his right for a first down on the 24-yard marker. Smolyn and Scott made a first down on the 10-yard line, and the same two carried to the seven-yard line, where Smolyn passed to Scott in the end zone for the score at 6:20 of the first period. Steve Strakele kicked the extra point.

The Rams took the next kickoff and marched 75 yards in 13 plays only to have a field goal attempt by Dave Pawlowski blocked by the hard-charging Clark line. The Blue and White took over on the 27-yard line with 1:57 left in the first period. Scott picked up six yards in two carries, then Smolyn, on the final play of the first period, made a first down on the 47-yard line. On the first play of the second period, Scott then cut over right tackle, broke in the clear and raced 53 yards for the touchdown. The play took nine seconds and Strakele's kick was good for a Clark lead of 14-0.

Following a Clark quick kick by Jeff Tomasovic that rolled out on the four-yard line, the Rams marched 70 yards only to lose the ball on the 26-yard line with 1:49 to go in the half. Taking possession on their 26-yard line, the Crusaders moved 52 yards in the final 1:49 seconds to try a field goal from the 25-yard line by Strakele.

The drive opened when Jeff Tomasovic carried to a first down at the 40-yard line. Scott, Tomasovic and Smolyn made a first down on the Rams' 45 with 0:59 left in the half. On the next play, Smolyn passed to Scott, who was hit from behind on the 22-yard line. After a pass failed, Mercer ordered the field goal team in, but Strakele's kick was low and the teams went into the dressing room. After Mike Markovic's second half kickoff run was taken back to the 33-yard line, the Crusaders reached mid field, then were forced to punt. The Rams took over on the 19-yard line. Dave Pawlowski picked up eight yards in two plays, then Mike Dustal passed out to the right side to Bob Mastromarino, who took the ball on the Clark 47 and ran the remainder of the way for a 78-yard touchdown. This was Dustal's 19th pass for a touchdown for the Rams. Dustal then passed to Phil Meltzer for the two extra points.

Early in the fourth period, the Crusaders took over on their 44-yard line and aided by two first downs seemed headed for another score with 8:06 to go when Smolyn fumbled on the 28-yard line and it was recovered by Rick Balogh on the 25-yard marker with 6:28 to go. The Rams failed to gain and then punted with four minutes left in the game. After three plays, Clark punted to the 20-yard line, picked up a first down on the 37-yard line, but two of Dustal's passes were incomplete and the Crusaders took over with .53 left in the game.

This was the first victory of a Clark team over South River in four meetings. The flag was placed over the scoreboard by the Clark Volunteer Fire Department. Assisting in the ceremonies was Raymond Hoffman, chairman of the service committee of the John L. Ruddy VFW Post #7363, whose organization donated the flag, and George Pariza, a member of the Booster Club, who contributed the flagpole.

The Booster Club also participated in "Dads' Day" Saturday, honoring the fathers of the Crusader football team by serving refreshments to the parents at halftime and after the game, when they were joined by the coaches and the victorious players.

Mrs. Rosemary Guzzo was in charge of the refreshment committee and was assisted by Mrs. Margery Tavaloro, Mrs. Jean Skorton and Mrs. Mary Scott.

Flag Flies Over Nolan Scoreboard

Through the efforts of the Booster Club of the Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, the American flag was raised Saturday over the high school scoreboard at Nolan Field.

In the ceremonies preceding the football game with South River, Albert Schaefer, president of the Booster Club, presented the flag and flagpole to Manuel S. Dios, a Clark member of the board of education of regional high school district No. 1, who accepted for the school.

The flag was placed over the scoreboard by the Clark Volunteer Fire Department. Assisting in the ceremonies was Raymond Hoffman, chairman of the service committee of the John L. Ruddy VFW Post #7363, whose organization donated the flag, and George Pariza, a member of the Booster Club, who contributed the flagpole.

Clark, Rahway Indians Win 8-4 Duel

Hoagland's Grid Flashback

Grid Picks

By Ray Hoagland

In 1963, Red Kelin replaced Timer as head coach at Clark and they defeated the Indians, 26-14, led by Ron Anderson and Jim Burg. This Clark team won six games during the season.

The 1964 Crusaders, under "Red" Kelin, had the longest win streak in the school's history with seven in a row and the most wins, seven. They walloped Rahway, 26-6, behind All-County Fran Spaziani. Rahway, under Stout, won five games.

In 1965, the Crusaders saw their 11 straight win streak broken by Berkeley Heights, but they went on to a 5-4 record, including a 14-6 win over Rahway, a team that had Dave Holland and Terry Sweeney, while All-County center Jack Howie led the winners.

In 1966, Kelin won his third in a row over the Ken Stout-coached Indians, 19-0. In a Veterans Field thriller that saw Mark McClendon pick up a fumble late in the game, the Indians scored a 13-12 win as Jim Taigia won his second game of the year as head coach. Both Taigia and Kelin left their posts at the end of the season.

Last year, with two new coaches in charge, Howard Mercer guided the Crusaders to their first win over Westfield, their first Watchung Conference title and a 14-7 decision over Jim Refosco's Indians.

North Plainfield to face an improving Berkeley Heights, but we take North Plainfield, 19-13. Linden's Tigers to win their second in a row over Madison Township, 22-12. Kenilworth - Bears too strong for Pingry Prep, 21-7. Union on the rebound over winless Plainfield Cardinals, 27-7. The Cardinals have the Westfield Blue Devils to meet on Thanksgiving Day, so it appears the Queen City team is going to lose all nine games this year. This has not happened in many seasons.

Undefeated Roselle Park Panthers too strong for the Crusaders of Bound Brook, 26-16. Wardlaw to win their second game of the season, this time over St. Bernard, 18-6. Roselle Rams all the way over the Bulldogs of Springfield, 21-7. Riding on cloud Nine after hitting five of six on last week's New Jersey college picks, giving up a season mark of 25-18, we dash right into this big weekend without fear.

Princeton to stay in the fight for the Ivy League title with a 27-14 win over Yale at Palmer Stadium. Upsala will travel to Albright and return home victorious, 18-7.

Clark's soccer team, looking for its 10th win of the season, was held to a scoreless tie by Thomas Jefferson of Elizabeth at Warinanco Park.

The Crusaders outshot Jefferson, 20-16, but goalie Glen Gartling turned back 13 of the shots. In the last period, Gartling and a Clark player collided, with Gartling having the wind knocked out of him. He refused to leave the game and went on to stop three shots before time ran out.

Coach Lou Peragallos' Clark soccer team was fourth seeded in the Union County Conference championship tournament, which started at Pingry School last weekend with the Crusaders meeting Berkeley Heights.

Charles Stelzer led the Clark Lanes House League with a set of 685. He rolled a 265 game. Bud McCutchen had a 620.

Members of the Clark Little League held their annual banquet last week at the Cranwood in Garwood. Awards were presented to the winning coaches and players. Guest speaker was Roy White, star outfielder of the New York Yankees.

The winner of the Major League was the R & F Super Market, headed by Mike Arnold. The Clark Square Club, coached by Jack Pynion, took the Minor League crown. Lou Meillillo paced his team to the Pee Wee title.

Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School has dropped from Group IV to Group III, according to an announcement made by James G. Growney, executive secretary of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association. Berkeley Heights also dropped into the same group. Both teams have been moved from Central Jersey to North Jersey, Section Two.

The CYRC Chiefs' Pee Wees won over the Newark Bears at Veterans Field on Sunday, 13-6.

Buzz Fazio, a member of bowling's Hall of Fame, will appear at Amorelli's Sports Shop on Dec. 12 at 6 p.m.

Rahway's freshmen football team scored a 14-0 win over Clark last Friday afternoon at muddy Veterans Field. Tim Soloman and Phil

Bakum In Grid Adieu At Albright

Tom Bakum of Clark, a four-year letterman, will play his final game for Albright College, Reading, Pa., when the Lions oppose Upsala in their 1969 football windup this Saturday.
"A passing team, Upsala has a better-than-average offense", John Potsklan, Albright coach, said. "Their defense also has been playing good football, and any weakness in their game might lie in the defensive secondaries."
"Posing some threat to Albright's defense will be the Vikings' junior QB, John Bottari, who has a 470 percentage for passes completed this season and has thrown more touchdowns than any other QB in the conference. On the other end of the toss is Gary Madlinger, a sophomore end who rates high among receivers this year.
Heading the list of Albright seniors in their final is tailback Dennis Zimmerman, co-captain, a good prospect for Small College All-America honors this year. Zimmerman has set a national collegiate career rushing record of 899 carries for a total 3,148 yards over four years.

Gallagher Urges Action On Credit Reporting Bill

"When my special subcommittee on invasion of privacy initiated formal congressional consideration of the credit industry in March, 1968, we began the legislative process which marked a significant milestone when the Senate passed the Fair Credit Reporting Act on Nov. 6, 1969," Congressman Cornelius E. Gallagher said. "This bill represents a victory for the privacy of the American consumer.
"The names, financial and personal histories of more than 110 million Americans are in credit bureau and credit reporting agency files around the country. At this moment, there is little the consumer can do to gain access to or alteration of records which have been used to unjustly deny him deserved credit, insurance or employment.
"I believe it is vital that the voluntary guidelines, developed under the responsible leadership of the Associated Credit Bureaus, Inc., in response to the information disclosed at a special subcommittee's hearings, be made universally applicable and legally enforceable. Legislation is essential to protect the consumer and, perhaps equally important, to prove the government's willingness to respond to the legitimate demands of our people."

Costs — Funerals cost money. And we believe there is only one proper way to treat the subject of costs. At The Lehrer-Crabiel Funeral Home, every family we serve is presented with a complete and straightforward explanation of all costs at the time of making arrangements. With this knowledge, they are better able to select funeral arrangements to meet their desires and circumstances, and we are better able to serve them in accordance with their wishes.

No PBA Unions: Heffernan

"There'll be no unions for police if I have anything to say about it," John J. Heffernan, president of the New Jersey State Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, Inc., asserted when he heard of plans of 16 cities to try to form a national federation of unions.

Heffernan took issue with John Cassese, former president of the New York City PBA, who announced in Omaha, Neb., that a national police union will be formed.

"Creation of a labor union for police would be a direct conflict of interest...we couldn't do our jobs at a picket line and face union brothers," Heffernan pointed out. "This is strictly taboo. Like oil and water, police and unions don't mix well. It's contrary to everything that uniformed policemen are trained and educated

Vets Get Flood Control Group's Next Meeting Nov. 17 Invites

The Rahway Kiwanis Club has announced a plan to invite every returning service veteran to one of its weekly luncheon meetings at the Italian American Club.

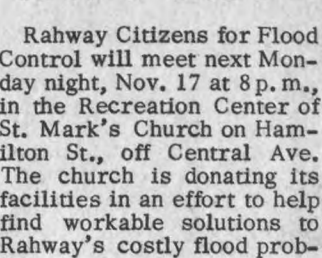

President Arthur J. De Lorenzo said that in order to make the program a success, he is soliciting the aid of every citizen, parent, relative or neighbor who has knowledge of the return of a veteran from an overseas tour of duty.

"I ask that anyone hearing of the return of one of Rahway's servicemen to get in touch with me at 388-6787 or with Willard Taylor, Kiwanis secretary, at 381-7800," said DeLorenzo.

"Our plan is to invite returning veterans to meet our members and to enjoy lunch with us. We would like to have an opportunity to salute them and let them know that we appreciate what they are doing for their country."

"Too often, our boys go into battle, are wounded, perform heroic exploits, are killed or maimed for life with only passing acknowledgment from the public. We'd like to take one small step to change this apathy," declared DeLorenzo, "and we're not necessarily looking for heroes. We think any boy who has served his coun-

The Rahway Citizens for Flood Control will meet next Monday night, Nov. 17 at 8 p. m., in the Recreation Center of St. Mark's Church on Hamilton St., off Central Ave. The church is donating its facilities in an effort to help find workable solutions to Rahway's costly flood problem.

"We want everyone interested in this matter to come to our meeting for a detailed report of progress to date," remarked Howard Baker, president of the citizens' group. He added that his recent discussions with Republican Freeholder Walter Ulrich were most favorable. Ulrich says the county will move in to restore bridge areas just as soon as the City of Rahway is ready to start the Robinson's Branch clean-up as planned by Mayor John C. Marsh and City Engineer Frank Koczur.

This project will entail widening, deepening, and general clean-up according to specifications officially designated by the Division of Water Policy and Supply in Trenton. One of the primary targets is the silt-ridden bridge on St. George Ave., off Central Ave. The Rahway Citizens for Flood Control are directing their efforts mainly to removal of existing encroachments on the Robinson's Branch. Already the Hamilton Laundry and Dr. N. B. Cole of Perth Amboy have received notices to comply with Trenton directives for removal of their river blocks. Action is forthcoming regarding the L-B-K Corporation and Ari Homes, Inc.
