Taste Buds Herald Spring As Garden Club Conducts Gardener's Night Out

Spring is just around the corner, and you'd better believe it. The surest sign that it is only three days away are the garden clubs, which are just beginning to blossom.

One such is the Clark Garden Club, which observed its annual Gardener's Night Out at the Squires Inn, Rahway, where members put their taste buds to a true test. After the dinner, the green - thumb set went to the home of Mrs. Michael Armstrong at 1 Franklin Ter. for coffee and dessert.

This was topped with a brief business meeting. Tonight's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Chester Smith at 27 Willow Way, where eggs will be decorated for the Clark Public Library for Easter.

An Area 4 - 5 meeting of state garden organizations was conducted on March 11 at Black Burn Hall, Watchung. Members who attended were Mrs. Frank Scanniello, Mrs. Patrick Franciotti Jr., Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Robert Tudor, Mrs. Victor Joffe, Mrs. Leonard Hill, Mrs. Anthony Prisco, Mrs. Salvatore Giammanco and Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Giammanco reported on the Shackamaxon Garden Club Show they attended last month.

Township representatives at the Mountside Garden Club last month were Mrs. Franciotti and Mrs. Prisco. Members also attended a lecture on home and garden conditions in this area by Mr. Peterson of the Union County Extension Service.

Mrs. Franciotti and Mrs. Prisco, incidentally, were also on hand when the Westfield Men's Garden Club spoke on the proper methods of growing orchids in the home.

The club's next big affair will be the New Jersey Garden Show, which begins tomorrow at the Morristown National Armory and runs throughout Thursday, March 25.

GOP Club Polls Members on Taxes And Proposed Multi-Story Building

The Clark Republican Club is polling its members on issues of vital concern to the township's taxpayers.

George Ebbe, newly elected president of the club, told members their opinions and facts were needed to help Third Ward Councilman Bernard G. Yarusavage, the only Republican on the Clark council, make crucial decisions, especially that regarding the proposed eight - story motel and eight-story office structure at 1

Walnut Avenue.

The first question was, "Do you feel local taxes are too high?" The second asked, "How do you feel about multi - story office buildings? For ... Opposed ... Reasons: ..."

The following was asked of members, "Write your opinion of the office building proposed for Walnut Avenue (Newark Ladder site)."

Space was also allotted for "other comments or suggestions." Postal cards were included in the newsletter which also carried two short articles, one outlining the 1971 proposed municipal budget which was aired last night at a public meeting. The report of that hearing will be featured in the next issue of The Clark Patriot.

The other article dealt with the proposed eight - story motel and eight-story office structure.

Since the newsletter was written, council remanded the variance to the board of adjustment and asked for additional reasons for approval.

The newsletter noted that the board of adjustment's "recommendations are based on evidence presented at public hearings that include: municipal benefits in new public facilities; providing additional ratables; preservation of land values; raising land residential values and providing local employment opportunities.

"Included in the motel would be an auditorium, meeting rooms, restaurant facilities and a large banquet hall. The 4 1/2 - acre tract could net the township approximately $200,000 in taxes annually.

"There are many factors to consider before a clear determination should be made by the governing body.

The traffic impact would have to be carefully calculated; parking facilities would certainly have to be measured; water supply as well as sewerage and storm drainage would need close scrutiny; public safety would have to be insured and public opinion weighed, too.

"Amendments to the present building code would have to be incorporated to properly regulate this proposed type of construction. The long - range effect on the characteristics of the township will also have to be evaluated."

Richard Schoel, county GOP chairman, will attend the next meeting of the Clark Republican Club tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at the new meeting place, the Franklin State Bank.

State Putting Pressure on Schools To Submit Their Educational Plans As Guide for Disposition of Funds

Local school districts will have less control of their school systems under the requirement that districts submit their education plans, curricula, goals and evaluation to Trenton, Dr. Carl H. Kumpf, superintendent of schools, told the Clark board of education at Tuesday night's meeting in the board's offices on Schindler Road.

All districts are being pressured into the state educational program, Dr. Kumpf stated. He explained that the pressure is being applied through the Bateman Bill which sets criteria for payment of state school funds to local districts. The aim of the legislation is to improve the quality of education by offering incentives to the school districts, Dr. Kumpf said.

Dr. Kumpf stated that next September will be the starting date for submission of educational plans by the districts to the State Board of Education. The state board will determine whether the district's school system is approved for a higher level and a large amount of state aid.

The next step will be to have teams visit schools to evaluate the educational plans, Dr. Kumpf said. The evaluation will determine eligibility for more funds, he noted. The state also would determine whether the school district is accomplishing the aims set forth in its educational plan, Dr. Kumpf told the board.

The board voted to sell $987,000 worth of bonds to the Community State Bank and Trust Company of Linden, which submitted the low bid of 4.45 per cent interest. Six bids were received on sale of the bonds to finance additions and improvements to the schools. The projects were authorized at a referendum on Feb. 23, 1969.

The other bidders, the amount of the bonds to be purchased and the interest rates were: First New Jersey Bank, Union, $987,000, 4.65 per cent; Franklin State Bank, Somerset, $986,000, 4.55 per cent; J. B. Hanauer & Co., Newark, $986,000, 4.7 per cent; National State Bank, Elizabeth, $986,000, 4.75 per cent, and Summit and Elizabeth Trust Company, Summit, $987,000, 4.55 per cent.

A resolution reducing the 1971-72 school budget by $53,000 was approved by the board. The approval, which reduced the amount to be raised by taxation to $2,508,378, followed the municipal council's directive that the current expense account be cut by $53,000. The council approved the capital outlay amount, $40,076, and the bonds and interest item, $324,927.50.

The proposed budget was referred to the governing body after the fiscal measure's rejection by the voters at the Feb. 9 school election.

John Swintek, commenting on the council's action, said his first recommendation to the council was not to cut the budget. He noted that the budget had suffered defeat by a narrow margin. The

Senior Citizens Told About Hike In Tax Deduction

Tax Assessor Frank W. Naples of Clark this week reminded persons who are 65 years old or older that they do not have to include Social Security benefits when computing the income requirement for property tax deductions.

Assessor Naples also noted that the tax deduction has been increased from $80 to $160. It was explained by the assessor that an applicant, to be eligible for a deduction this year, must have reached his 65th birthday anniversary no later than Dec. 31, 1970; must have resided in the State of New Jersey three years prior to Oct. 1, 1970; must own and live in his own house, and must not have an income which exceeds $5,000 a year, excluding Social Security benefits.

The tax assessor said the changes in the law were made on Feb. 3 to assist the state's senior citizens.

council felt it was incumbent upon it to reduce the budget, Mr. Swintek said. Notification of the council's action was received by the board in letters from Township Clerk Edward R. Padusniak.

A talk about an experimental program of school personnel utilization was given for the board and the public by William Norris, a teacher.

Proposed Ordinance Would Create 4 Alternates on Township Planning Board

Four alternate members of the planning board were proposed to be added to that body by the municipal council at a special meeting held March 8 in the township hall.

The ordinance received the unanimous backing of councilmen who were taking advantage of a state law that permits the creation of alternate positions.

Township Clerk Edward R. Padusniak said the law was passed in 1970, and township attorney John P. Higgins had been asked to draw an ordinance to permit greater staffing of the planning agency.

Second Ward Councilman Richard C. Burger said at the March special meeting that alternates will not be paid.

Presently, the board consists of nine positions, eight of which are filled. The planning board members are President Jerry P. Fontenelli, Mayor Thomas A. Kaczmarek, Council President A. Charles Walano, Building Inspector John Doenzelmann, Alvin C. Ratzman, Raymond P. Leonard, John L. Roloff, and F. Donald Paris.

The ninth position is vacated due to the resignation of Frederick J. Giegrich. The mayor is planning to name a replacement in the near future.

The present board is composed, as one can see from the above members, of the mayor, one of the township officials, a member of council and six citizens.

Alternates were provided for the township official, the council member, and two for the citizen members.

The terms of the 13 members and alternates are established in the measure as follows: the mayor, the councilman, and councilman's alternate correspond to the elected term of office of the respective official, and the township official's term terminates with the mayor's term.

For the six citizen members, the first appointees were given terms as follows: one member for a term of one year, one member for a term of two years, and so on for the six members up to a term of six years. After the terms of the first six appointees expire, all subsequent appointments shall be for terms of six years. The two alternates created for citizen members shall be designated alternate number one and alternate member two and shall be appointed for annual terms which expire on the 31st day of December.

The ordinance will be considered for public hearing and final adoption at the April 19 meeting of the council, unless a special meeting, not now contemplated, is convened.

Tax Assessor Naples Will Be SCA Speaker

The Southwest Civic Association of Clark will have Tax Assessor Frank W. Naples as its speaker during the monthly meeting to be held on Monday at 8:30 p.m. in Frank K. Hehnlly School.

Robert Lovejoy, in announcing the name of the speaker, said that the tax assessor would answer questions such as the following: How is my house's value determined? What adds to its worth when the tax assessor comes to call? What type of improvements require a building permit?

Mr. Naples, who has been the township's tax assessor for the past 10 years, has resided at 22 Sunset Drive for 24 years. He and his wife have four children.

"I've been around in Clark long enough to really watch the town grow," Mr. Naples commented in accepting the invitation of the association.

Three-hundred mothers attended the Charles H. Brewer School annual fashion show on Friday, March 5.

Fashions were supplied by Fabric Land and the entire show was narrated by Miss Patricia Koval, FabricLand representative.

Models for the spring fashions were Mrs. Janet Dulk, wife of Mr. Peter Dulk, a teacher at Brewer, Barbara Goff, Diane Goff, Jane Klett and Deborah Melli, Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School students, Robyn Melli, Charles H. Brewer student, and Mrs. Gloria Taback and Mrs. Lorraine Krupowies.

The program was highlighted by Brewer students wearing garments made by themselves in their home economics class under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Ehret, teacher.

Waste Eyed As Source Of Profits and Resources

Recovering wastes could be profitable as well as beneficial to the environment. According to Mrs. Wenzel Dousa, leader of Girl Scout Troop 130, over 200 Girl Scouts have been attending lectures during the past several weeks to learn ways of preventing pollution of the environment.

In addition, Mrs. Dousa stated, they have been distributing flyers, saving solid waste materials, and sorting and working at community clean - up projects.

Mrs. Dousa noted that the major problem of waste centers on its disposal, not the problems of collection. Landfill areas are becoming scarce, she said, and recycling is the only way to prevent excessively fast consumption of natural resources and a littered environment.

Mrs. Dousa stated that Clark will be producing 250 tons of refuse a day in 1980. Of this, she estimated that two tons are non-ferrous metals worth $350, 18 tons are steel worth $200, 19 tons are glass worth $230, and 55 tons are paper worth $700.

"When you see that the total value of these recovered wastes from our small community approximately $1,500 a day, then it should be realized we are facing a great challenge and opportunity," she said.

Mountainsiders Finish in First In Bridge Play

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Isserlis of Mountainside came in first at the duplicate bridge game held at the Mildred Terrace School, Clark, on Thursday.

Tied for second place were Mrs. Rochelle Surett of Clark and her partner, Mrs. Roz Goodman of Watchung, and with Mrs. Jo Miller and Mrs. Vera Taylor, both of Clark.

The game, sponsored by the Clark Board of Education, is held every Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Thomas Reynolds, director, has offered to "help anyone make the transition from rubber bridge to duplicate."

Taxpayers Association Head States $48,319 Could Be Cut From Budget Proposed for Rahway by Council

A total of $48,319 should be cut from the appropriations in the proposed 1971 municipal budget, Alonzo W. Lawrence of 1343 Madison Ave., Rahway, stated at the public hearing conducted by the Rahway Council last Wednesday night in City Hall.

Mr. Lawrence, who held the floor for approximately 30 minutes during the three and a half-hour hearing, declared that the governing body and the mayor should feel "compassion for the taxpayers," adding that he had asked that the status quo be maintained when the budget was prepared.

The taxpayers' leader explained that status quo should be held until "we can find out where we're going as taxpayers," and "consider where Rahway can get additional revenue." He declared that ability to pay should be a consideration.

Proposed cuts in the budget were listed by Mr. Lawrence as follows: $5,000, salary of executive secretary to the mayor; $600, court stenographer for the Board of Adjustment; $600, stenographer for the Planning Board; $2,000 consultant to comptroller; $2,000, janitor for police station; $2,000, clerk-typist salary; $7,064 purchase clerk salary; $5,000, clerk-typist for city yard; $7,009, second senior operator for pumping station; $3,100, new car for public works superintendent; $1,000, beautification program; $3,050, air pollution control; $9,896, foreman for the Water Department. He pointed out the Water Department now has two foremen.

Mr. Lawrence, noting that the appropriation for the Rahway Valley Truck Sewer has been increased from $106,927.63 last year to $213,425.68, said the Rahway Prison Farm, Woodbridge, should be charged for use of the sewer according to the amount of sewerage contributed. City Comptroller Eugene F. Kenna said the state pays a flat rate at present for use of the sewer by the prison farm.

Air pollution control was termed "a farce" by Mr. Lawrence who said that it was "a burden to be taken from the backs of the taxpayers." He added that federal money is available to the air pollution control agency and there was no need for the city to contribute to the project.

Concluding Mr. Lawrence suggested that if costs of the city government cannot be reduced, then a "less expensive" form of government would have to be considered.

Philip J. Carr of 921 Richard Boulevard said the city administration is "putting money where it is needed" and that the voters rejected the previous administration last November. Mr. Carr declared that services are important. He continued by stating that salary and wage increases should be "across-the-board" and that adequate and equal increases should be granted to all employees.

A public hearing on amendments to the proposed 1971 budget will be conducted tomorrow at 7 p. m. in City Hall by the governing body. The amendments increased the budget, introduced on February 9, from a total of $4,806,189.50 to $4,814,193.50.

Weight Watchers Get Medical Head

All Weight Watchers eating programs are now completely under medical guidance, according to the program's area director, Lester S. Fein, with headquarters in Livingston. Fein said that Dr. William H. Sebrell, Jr., director of the Institute of Human Nutrition at Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons, has been appointed medical advisor to the international Weight Watchers program.

Dr. Sebrell was U. S. Assistant Surgeon General, director of the National Institute of Health and consultant to UNICEF.

Council Should Cut Budget

When the Municipal Council considers its proposed 1971 budget again at tomorrow night's hearing on budget amendments, councilmen should take a hard look at the fiscal measure and keep in mind its possible effect on the city's taxpayers.

The budget appropriations as proposed, together with the expenditures by the Board of Education and the Union County Board of Freeholders, would result in an increase of 219 points in the city's tax rate, which was $10.56 per $100 valuation last year. This means that property owners would pay close to 22 per cent more in taxes this year. One must also consider that settlements with firemen, policemen, and teachers are still unresolved and could boost the tax rate even higher.

A tax rate increase of such proportion certainly will place a heavy burden on the majority of the city's taxpayers. The tax rate increase, coupled with the ever-increasing cost of living, is a serious matter to those who purchased homes with the idea that monthly payments would be at a certain level. It is even a more serious matter to property owners whose income does not increase with each jump in the tax rate.

Among those whose income does not increase each year are the city's residents who are retired. Those who own their homes must pay more for taxes as well as for repairs. Those who rent are subject to higher monthly payments to keep a roof over their heads. The problem of older residents with fixed incomes is a serious one for Rahway is shown by the fact that the 1970 Census revealed that 3,276 Rahwayans are 62 or older.

There also is the problem of attracting more ratepayers to the city. Will businesses and industries be encouraged to move to Rahway by a 219-point increase in the tax rate? Will businesses and industries remain in Rahway, if they figure to gain by moving elsewhere?

The great increase in budget appropriations has come at a time when many Rahway residents have lost their jobs, have been laid off and have been facing the possibility that they may lose their jobs or be furloughed.

Certainly essential services must be maintained and improved whenever possible. But unnecessary expenditures should be eliminated, and the city payroll should not be padded by the hiring of employees who are not needed. The administration, in office only two and a half months, should study the personnel needs before acting to add more employees.

The budget was introduced by a 5-4 vote on Feb. 8. Democrats voted in favor and Republicans against. Since then there has been little comment about the proposed budget by the Republicans. Perhaps tomorrow night, when the record $4,814,193.50 budget is considered at the hearing on the amendment, the Republicans may have more to say.

A large representation of Rahway citizens at the hearing also would be of value. Perhaps it would influence the Council in its deliberations concerning imposition of a 219-point tax rate increase upon already heavily-burdened citizens.

Squad Flag Project Merits Support

The Clark Volunteer Emergency Squad is to be congratulated for availing township residents the opportunity of flying flags on the lighted pole at the squad's headquarters.

The pole is illuminated 24 hours a day, and as the organization stands in The Clark Patriot last week the American flag stated as a visible reminder of support for "this country's efforts at home and abroad."

Squad members and Americans of all backgrounds are more aware today than ever before of the threat that tensions and violent factions pose to the orderly development of the Republic, its institutions and people.

The squad was wise in seeking broad citizen participation, not that the act of flying the flag will cure the nation's ills nor will it erase from the minds of extremists their desire to establish chaos and violence, but it does direct Americans of constructive intent to reaffirm their commitment to the traditional and orderly ideals of the Founding Fathers.

So often, we have heard extremists lay claim to the ideals of the American Revolution. Indeed, some of the latter day saints of the radical community have seen themselves as reincarnated Washingtons or Jeffersons, although they totally forget that the American Revolution was conducted by orderly, clear-minded men who objected not so much to the relationship the Colonies had with Great Britain, but that the mother country had abrogated the rights of Englishmen to govern their lives and their properties.

In an age when senseless radicals mouthing insults and curses can attract national publicity, the squad's purpose of affirming "one's dedication to national unity and those ideals which have fostered the growth and leadership of the American nation" is deserving of full support.

For those families in Clark who own four- by- six foot flags and would like to have them flown at the squad's headquarters, they are asked to contact John Quinn at 382-2822.

FINANCING THE PAST ... Mrs. Richard M. The affair was held in early December of last year. The money will be used to help in the purchase of the Girl Scout House.

Here's How To Choose Accountant

By Ronald J. Orlick

"The more successful a new small business is, the more likely it is to go broke within a year or two."

That statement was made by a partner in one of the nation's major accounting firms. And strange as it sounds, it makes sense if you consider the reasoning and experience behind it.

Virtually all business, small and large alike, involves credit. Even small retail establishments usually have charge customers; if a business is engaged in wholesaling or selling to other businesses, almost all transactions will be on a 30, 60, or 90-day basis. Consequently, the more successful the business is, the more receivables it will have outstanding.

And that's where the danger lies. Many small businessmen who thought they were doing very well have discovered one day that they didn't have cash enough to meet their payrolls and pay their own bills while they were already over-extended at the bank. So they go broke because they have done too good a selling job while neglecting the financial aspects of the business.

What's the answer? A little knowledgeable foresight could almost always have prevented the disaster. But very few small businessmen have a sufficient combination of buying, manufacturing or processing, selling and accounting skill to take care of all aspects of their businesses themselves. Hiring an independent CPA or public accountant is usually a wise and comparatively inexpensive investment.

After putting the books on a professional basis, the accountant should prepare simple monthly statements which show the businessman just where he stands and how he is doing financially, as well as in sales and cost of sales. These statements can also be used at the bank to work out a line of credit which will take care of future cash needs so long as the business is in a healthy state of growth.

The accountant can also, on request, prepare another statement "aging" the business's receivables -- showing at a glance which customers should be required to make at least some payment on account before receiving further credit.

How should the businessman go about selecting a competent accountant, assuming that he does not know one personally? The simplest way is for the businessman to ask his banker to recommend someone, or to call the local accountant's society.

Following the banker's recommendation may be of special value if he is ever in need of a loan.

In addition, there are a few facts about accountants worth keeping in mind: (1) if the accountant is a certified public accountant -- a CPA -- it means in every state of the union that he must have passed a demanding two-and-a-half day examination testing his competence (2) in some states, but not all, public accountants are also registered by a state board, and must at least have had a certain amount of experience (3) in most states, the CPA, and in many states PAs also, are bound by a code of professional conduct which is a real protection for their clients. Ask your CPA or PA if he is bound by or subscribes to such a code.

Finally, the public accountant through his knowledge of the tax laws can usually save the businessman more than the amount of his fee in perfectly legal ways and with a bonus of added peace of mind.

Spring Fashions

Shown by PTA;

Prizes Awarded

"Tune into spring" was the theme of the successful fashion show given by the Franklin School Parent-Teacher Association in Rahway. The show was sponsored by Selwan Fashions of Roselle. Wigs were shown by Fredric of Rahway and furs by Steven of New York City.

Door prizes were donated by merchants and businessmen and members of the PTA.

The models were Miss Suzanne Kertz, Mrs. Patricia Michaels, Mrs. Marion Hall, Mrs. Gloria Wilmot, Miss Janice Lucas, Mrs. Judith Valvano, Mrs. Doris Zakow, Mrs. Mary Youngblood, Mrs. Jeanne Dwell, Mrs. Elenor Pearson, Mrs. Mary Gornick and Miss Joan Van Grailis, teachers of Franklin School. Mrs. Rosemary Wlazlowski of the ways and means committee and Mrs. Edith Mc Keown, who filled in at the last minute for one of the teachers, also were models. Mrs. Robert Ridgway was the commentator.

Mrs. Judith Valvano and Miss Jane Mc Carten were the pianists. The mink stole, designed by Steven, won by L. R. Mundy of 406 Elm Ave., Rahway.

The refreshments served were made by members of the PTA.

Mrs. Thomas Turek and Mrs. Herbert Schlecht were co-chairman for the affair.

Dads Enjoy PTA Science-Art Fair

The emphasis was on male call at the combined Father's Night and Science and Art Fair of the PTA at Rahway's Franklin School last week.

The men, and there was a goodly turnout, took over the spotlight and the duties of the officers for the twin feature. Robert Ridgway presided, Herb Schlecht was spiritual leader and secretary and Charles Oxman, who replaced Mrs. Ronald Sekley, was treasurer and nominating chairman. And all enjoyed their new roles.

The nominating committee consisted of Ronald Sekley, chairman, Mrs. Gladys Schlecht, Mrs. Ruth Morosi, Mrs. Diana Simmons and Mrs. Pat Skotek. Mrs. William Wanko is president of the new slate of officers for the 1971-72 term. Mrs. Charles Oxman is first vice president, Mrs. Herb Schlecht second vice president, Gary Busse honorary vice president, Mrs. Pat Keenan recording secretary, Mrs. Louis Zrinski corresponding secretary and Mrs. Sekley the treasurer.

The guest speaker, Dr. Dudley Roberts, was introduced by Wade Likens, program chairman, and his topic was the rheumatic fever control program in the Rahway school system. Dr. Roberts said he was pleased with the number of applications, but felt that every school child should take advantage of the program, which is sponsored and paid for by the Union County Heart Association.

This type of fever is the only disease that can be diagnosed early, Dr. Roberts said, and for that reason every child who is forced to stay away from school because of a sore throat or a respiratory illness should have a throat culture test. He called the procedure simple and painless.

Mr. Busse, principal, urged parents to study the exhibits in the Science and Art Fair in the gymnasium. The stress was on the space age, and it was obvious that much thought and hard work went into the projects.

After the business part of the meeting, the men staged a mock fashion show called "March Into March." The models were John Imhof, Henry Winkle, Robert Brandner, Mr. Schlecht and Joseph Borick. Mr. Ridgway was also the commentator.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria. Mrs. Vincent Tyrrell and Mrs. Robert Mills were the hospitality co-chairmen.

Hyatt Pact Approved

By a vote of 1,163 - 662, Local 736 of the United Auto Workers, which represents 3,200 workers at General Motors' New Departure-Hyatt Bearings Division in Clark, approved its new contract with management. The Clark plant, said Vincent Tavalaro, Local 736 president, was the last GM plant, and there are 157 in all, to come to terms.

A breakdown of the vote showed 262 in favor of the pact and 166 against in the skills trade sector, while it was 901 for and 496 against in the production skills division.

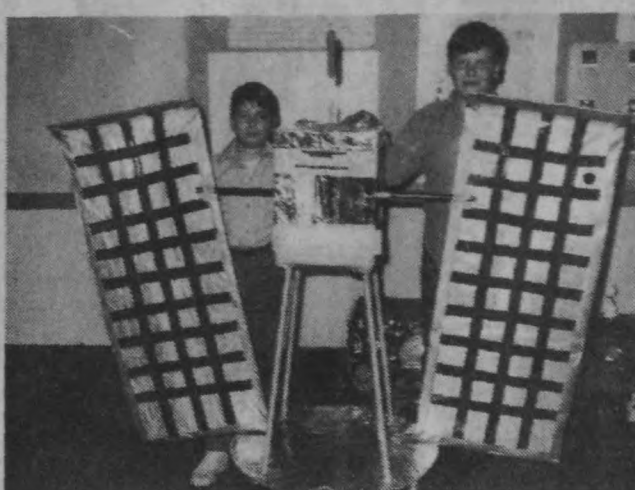

Tavalaro, who reported satisfaction with the settlement, said the overall feeling of employees was that they had acquired the best terms possible. He added that changes had resulted in clauses on working conditions and grievance cases, two areas in which the membership defeated a tentative agreement last month.

HS Snags Discussed

Assemblymen Herbert H. Klehn of Rahway, John Ewing of Somerset County and six representatives from Union County Regional High School districts discussed legislation that was termed inadquate at a meeting last week in Clark. It was agreed that the two bills now being weighed by the Assembly education committee, of which Assemblyman Ewing is chairman, would have to be re-drafted before an agreement could be reached on the dissolution of any regional system.

The thought that the Union County system might be disbanded was squashed by Manuel S. Dios, of Clark, president of the regional board, who also said legislation would have to be improved in order to fit into the regional picture.

The bills are without provisions for communities in regional systems without home schools, Mr. Dios said, and are incapable of dividing a system's accumulated debt.

ON YOUR TOES ... Miss Susan Elishbarger, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elishbarger of 110 Richard St., Clark, will perform in the Student Showcase, March 21 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City. She will give a toe routine to the overture from the "Nutcracker Suite." Susan is a student of the Joyce Academy of Dance and Theatrical Arts, 347-349 South Ave., Garwood, where she is a ballet major.

Letters to the Editor

A Very Special Kind of Courage

The King James version of the Bible is one of the great literary triumphs of English. The translators did, however, commit a few errors. One that has done grievous harm to Christianity over the centuries is the beatitude "Blessed are the meek."

"Meekness" has become an unattractive word to us. We identify it with softness, weakness, passivity, with almost a propensity to enjoy insult, injury, and self martyrdom. To be meek is nearly to be cowardly in the modern lexicon.

This is not at all what the original wording meant, either in the Hebrew of the Old Testament or in the Greek of the new. The French Douay Bible does come closer when it translates the beatitude as "Blessed are the debonaire," strange as that sounds to Anglo-Saxon ears.

Debonair is of pleasant manners, courteous, gracious and charming, gay and carefree. What we fail to understand is the moral and spiritual courage it takes to be "meek" in the fullest and deepest sense of the word. It requires a heroism few are capable of. Indeed, only a few of the Apostles themselves were able to follow it. Jesus was asking his followers not to be grim and sour, or belligerent and argumentative as so many people of his time were, for it was easy to defend one's beliefs with name calling and the brandishing of arms and to commit injustices.

The meek or debonaire possesses an internal strength that permits suffering without retaliation as did St. Paul when Jesus enjoined "Pick up your cross and follow Me." He was calling for the supreme bravery of setting an example of heroism. This is the exemplification of the quiet smile and sure step of a free man among men.

Praises Wachter Defense of U.S.A.

What a pleasure it was to read the editorial by E. Sidman Wachter. I get so angry at people downgrading this great country of ours, especially the leftwingers, who, if they voiced the same opinion in a country behind the iron curtain, would disappear suddenly from the scene, never to be heard of again.

The editorial mentions international communism which is not a "mere political philosophy." How right that is. Communism is not just another ideology, or apolitical party, but a criminal conspiracy to enslave the world.

Communists should no more be given a collegiate platform than murderers, dope pushers or smut peddlers. Discipline, order and character are the foundations of learning, not permissiveness, anarchy and perversion.

Love of country should be taught in the home, along with morality and love of God. These three should be the heart of the home, and by these three shall we survive as a republic, and the lack of them will be our downfall. "My country, may she always be right, but, right or wrong, my country!"

RCFC Plans to Hold Dance And Buffet Supper on May 1

To raise funds, the Rahway Citizens for Flood Control Inc. have started to plan for a spring dance on Saturday, May 1, at the Columbian Club, on E. Inman Avenue, Rahway.

Mickey Sir's orchestra will provide musical entertainment and a buffet supper will be served. Door prizes will add enjoyment to the occasion, according to Roy Hansen, dance committee chairman.

Other committee members include Rhea Turcotte, co-chairman, Mrs. Helen La Via, refreshments; Charles Muringer, purchasing; Howard E. Baker, tickets; and Mrs. Stephanie Cederwall, publicity. Other members are expected to participate as needed.

Donations for the RCFC dance and supper party is $5 per person. All residents of Rahway and neighboring communities, especially those interested in flood control, are being urged to attend. Tickets may be obtained at the office of the group's attorney, George Bartell, 1313 Esterbrook Ave., Rahway, or any member of the organization.

Latest flood control news includes a letter from United States Senator Harrison A. Williams, offering the RCFC assistance in getting a separate one million dollar fund for comprehensive Free Measles Shots Will Be Given For Children Up to 8th Grade Sat.

An immunization clinic will be held this Saturday at the City Health Department in City Hall, 1470 Campbell St., Rahway, from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. for all pre-school and school aged children from one year old to those in eighth grade.

The immunization shot is for regular measles, not German measles. The program was adopted because of the rise of measles cases in the state and Rahway. Shots for measles are being dispensed without charge.

JC-ettes Slate Vet Party March 27, Garage and Cake Sale April 16-17

Rahway Jaycee-ettes scheduled two important dates on their Spring calendar at their March meeting held in the Claude H. Reed Recreational and Cultural Center.

Vice President Ellie Brandner said Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes will hold a ward party for veterans March 27. On April 16 and 17, the membership voted to have a garage and cake sale, with the profits going to the Rahway Building Fund.

Anyone who has old books, furniture, toys, dishes and bric-a-brac would like to donate them is asked to call chairman Maureen Abrams at 381-7133 or president Norene Rack at 382-5347. State director Betsy Hourihan gave a report on the Distinguished Service Award Assembly held in Asbury Park.

Mrs. Rack said the Rahway chapter ranks eighth in the state, and she complimented members for their efforts.

Membership approved the donation of some of the profits of the recently held fashion show to be donated for chairs and tables in Cottage 17 of the Woodbridge State School. Mrs. Abrams, who was chairman of the fashion fete, asked the membership to approve the donation.

The cottage is used by Rahway, Clark and Woodbridge Jaycee-ettes when they hold three parties a year for children of the school.

Phyllis Rithaler led the membership in the invocation, flag salute and Jaycee-ette Creed at the march meeting, and secretary Lois Brachhausen read a letter from the American Cancer Society thanking the Jaycees for their donation which was approved at the preceding meeting.

Thirteen members of the Clark Girl Scout organization assumed posts in the municipal government of the township last Wednesday as part of the observance of Girl Scout Week.

Scouts of Troops 73, 386, 391 and 387 met with township officials after school hours and then went on a tour of the municipal offices. Mayor Thomas A. Kaczmarek presented the girls with certificates designating them honorary mayors for the day.

In the past, the Girl Scout Week program has involved girls taking part in a meeting of the municipal council. This year, instead of emphasizing the legislative branch, the executive duties in connection with local government were highlighted. Mrs. John Wesner, Troop 391's leader, was coordinator for the program.

Public Schools of 1870 Flunked Sanitary Tests

(This is another in a series of articles to commemorate the 100th anniversary of New Jersey's free public schools.)

"Here are great works to do," So wrote New Jersey's highest educational official in 1870 to the governor of the state. His crusade? Putting a proper outhouse behind every public school.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Ellis A. Aggar stated the problem this way: "In 133 districts in this State, respectable parents send their children to school where the demands of nature cannot be answered without open exposure. They are sent to a school where at every call of nature the exposure is made to the children of both sexes of the whole neighborhood."

To end this "evil," Aggar assigned each county superintendent of schools the task of inspecting the sanitary conditions at every school house in his county, reports the New Jersey Education Assn. Where outhouses existed, they were to be graded "suitable" or "indifferent." A third category was "none at all."

As was usual in those days, the directive included few standards to help the county officials make their judgment. Aggar gave help only in the definition of one category. An "indifferent" outhouse, he said, was one needed to be rebuilt or repaired or which had "but one apartment for both sexes."

As of Aug. 31, 1871, only 945 of New Jersey's school houses had "suitable" outhouses. Another 432 had "indifferent" ones. The remaining 133 had none at all. "Great indecency, wickedness, and crime must inevitably result from the fact of a school with 50 to 150 children in attendance being without any outhouse," Aggar wrote in his annual report to the governor. "I feel confident that there is not a district in the State where such a shame exists in which, by simply calling attention to the fact, some influential man could not, in 24 hours, raise by subscription enough money to erect such a building as is required."

Aggar singled out Sussex and Warren counties as worst in the state in the outhouse department, NJEA reports. Sussex had 35 schools with "none at all," and Warren had 25.

"A man would be considered no better than a brute who should build a good dwelling house and refuse to provide any out-building or place of retirement for the members of his family when called to perform the most private office of nature," he told the governor.

"How can parents subject their daughters to such exhibitions of shame and incur the terrible risk of the loss of their children's personal character?"

"The paupers in our poor houses and the criminals in our prisons are better provided."

The outhouse totals jumped in the desired direction when education in New Jersey became free in 1871, NJEA reports. On Aug. 31 of 1872, Aggar was able to report that 1,117 schools now had "suitable" outhouses, 259 had "indifferent" ones and only 110 still had "none at all."

For one year, the state had been paying a sizable share in the cost of educating New Jersey's children. This apparently made school-district residents more willing to vote the local taxes needed to erect and improve schools and the houses out back.

Expansion At Merck's Nears End

Rapid progress on construction of important new facilities to accommodate current business and anticipated growth is highlighted in the annual report for 1970 of Merck and Co. Inc., which is being mailed to stockholders of the health products firm.

Expansions of Merck's research facilities at Rahway and West Point, Pa., are nearing completion at a total cost of more than $8,000,000. Completed are a headquarters at Rahway for the firm's international division and a major expansion of chemical production capacity at Merck's plant at Albany, Ga. Merck's world-wide program of new construction and modernization is reflected in record capital expenditures of $67,793,000 for 1970, according to the report.

A major project underway is a $28,000,000 plant in Barcelona, Puerto Rico. Merck's ability to produce chemicals and chemical intermediates for rapidly-growing overseas markets will be substantially increased upon its completion early in 1972, the report added.

R. Benson Will Discuss Soviet Plot Against U.S.

The positive side of our American heritage, and what can be done by concerned citizens to strengthen and preserve this nation, will be stressed in a public lecture on Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Park Avenue Junior High School, Scotch Plains, by Reed A. Benson, Washington representative of the John Birch Society and eldest son of former Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

The meeting is sponsored by Union County members of the controversial anti-Communist organization residing in Rahway, Clark, Scotch Plains, Fanwood, Westfield, Roselle and Plainfield in order to give the public the opportunity to hear the Birch viewpoint on current events.

The title of Mr. Benson's speech will be "Our Troubled Land." After pointing out that American citizens have enjoyed more of God's blessings than any people on earth, he will show why the John Birch Society believes that the communist conspiracy is the most dangerous enemy our nation has ever faced.

Hodgkins Disease is a cancer of the lymph glands which strikes with random terror at persons of all ages. At the present time, there is no certain cure.

The Todd Belnick Hodgkins Disease Foundation will support a specially-formed research project at the Mt. Sinai Hospital School of Medicine, New York City.

Dr. Rausen is the author of many leading articles and papers in that field.

The Belnicks said that several prominent public officials in New Jersey have already contributed to the foundation. Among them was former Speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, John McCormack, who met the Belnicks and Todd during a trip to Washington, D. C. in 1969.

The public is urged to send contributions to the foundation at 106 West Henry St., Linden.

The annual book fair will be held on April 6, 7 and 8. All parents are being invited to visit the bookmobile which will be at the school the three days.

Everyone should have the Blues when away from home.

Blue Cross if you have to be hospitalized... Blue Shield for the doctor's care... should serious illness or accident strike when you're away from home. Your Blue Cross and Blue Shield ID cards are protection against health care costs virtually anywhere. It's a fact more doctors and hospitals work with the Blues than with any other plans. That's because we're the plans that deal directly with hospitals and doctors. Because we're totally non-profit. Because we're the only specialists in the prepaid health-care field. Because our combined operating costs are about 6 cents of every dollar we receive... and we pay out over $1 million every day. Some 3.5 million New Jerseyans avoid doubt, confusion and red tape by carrying ID cards from the Blues. Whether they're at home or away.

Joseph Maslizek

Ex-Addict To Talk On Abuses

The nationwide drug epidemic has hit Clark, but instead of hiding their heads in the sand or sweeping the issue under the carpet, Rev. Donald L. Wayland and his congregation of the United Church of Christ, Clark-Colonia, have elected to confront the problem—cause and cure—at this Sunday's 11 a.m. worship service.

Joseph Maslizek, a former addict and graduate of the Drug Addiction Rehabilitation Enterprise, Inc., has consented to bear witness as to the dangers of drug abuse, to attest to the fact that it can happen to our youngsters and to explain the DARE program.

Area residents are invited to attend this service, which promises not only to be controversial, but enlightening. Maslizek will answer questions from the audience.

Magicians to Be RHS Teachers Court Opponents

Local 33, Firemen's Mutual Benevolent Association, which represents Rahway firemen, will sponsor a basketball game by Marques Haynes and his Fabulous Magicians and the Rahway High School teachers on Friday, March 26, at 8 p. m. on the high school court.

Proceeds will go toward a scholarship to be presented in memory of Max Lilienfeld, who was a Board of Education member at the time of his death. Mr. Lilienfeld was active in planning activities for youth and in supporting sports events. A scholarship is presented each year to a RHS senior.

Ten door prizes, donated by Rahway merchants, will be given away at halftime. Tickets are being sold at firehouses and at Rahway Junior High School. Key Club members also are selling tickets, which are priced at $2 each.

Car "Cocoon"

Automobiles are now being containerized and shipped on railroad flatcars. Each container holds three cars horizontally, and has but one open end.

Rahway Girls Receive Prizes At Twirlerama

Rahway Recreation Department twirlers won two first places, two second places, six third places, a fourth place and two fifth places at the second annual Greater Delaware Valley Sno - Flake Twirlerama in Hamilton Square last week. The Rahway girls performed under the direction of Kathy Pierce.

The Popinjays won first place in the dance twirl team contest, scoring the highest number of points they have ever received.

Jayne Hand took first place in the novice flag twirl.

Other Rahway winners were: Second place -- Advanced small team, Sprydettes; novice small team, Royalaires; novice flag twirl, Maryann Sheehy; intermediate solo, Maryjean Thorn.

Third place -- Intermediate solo, Peggy Corridon; novice military marching, Maryann Sheehy; intermediate solo, Leslie Paskowitz; novice military marching, Debbie Chaillet; novice junior duet, Adrienne Swedler and Terri Stefank; advanced senior duet, Marijean and Maureen Thorn. Fourth place -- Novice solo, Marybeth Yurick; fifth place -- Novice solo, Debbie Chaillet; novice basic strut, Judy DeMasi.

Volleyball Team Of RITAC Wins

The Rahway Italian American Club volleyball team defeated the Rahway Kiwanis Club team in three games, 15 - 6, 15 - 5, and 16 - 14, last week.

Bernard E. Plungis Jr. is captain of the RITAC team. Players are Harry Sica, Joseph Gesumaria, Frank Boti, Marty Spangle and Bruce MacIntosh.

Trout Aren't Out

The state will again stock the Rahway River with trout this year, it was announced by Bob Hayford, head of fisheries for the Division of Fish, Game and Shellfisheries, to council members who met last week at Hackensack Hatchery. The only obstacle, he said, was the rhubarb which resulted from charges by the Young Republican Club of Union that the water was unfit. The council approved a $2 across-the-board license hike and an increase in license fees for non-residents.

CYRC to Have Registration Sun.

Final registrations for the softball program of the Citizens Youth Recreation Committee of Rahway will be accepted on Sunday between 1 and 3 p. m. in the rear parking area of Madison School, Rahway.

Girls must be between the ages of 9 and 13 and must not reach their 14th birthday anniversary before Sept. 1 to be eligible to play. Boys must be between 7 and 9 and must not have their 10th birthday before Sept. 1.

Woo Young Vote, Dems Are Told

"We should go all-out to woo the 18-year-old vote," said John F. Allaire, Jr., at the regular monthly meeting of the Clark Democratic Club.

"I have been concentrating on getting the 18-year-olds throughout New Jersey since my Assembly candidacy in 1969. For the past five years, I have visited colleges throughout the state, with the assistance of my daughter, Norine, a Wilkes College graduate. I was enlightened and campaigned for the adoption of the 18-year-old vote. "That 16-year-old baby-sitter you have at home tonight with your children will be eligible to vote for officers in 1972," Allaire said. "Just think about it for one moment. Whether or not you favored the 18-year-old vote, there is no validity in arguing the point now. It is the law."

You know, with these young voters, you must treat them with reservation and kindness. You cannot tell them you do not want them to vote out of one side of your mouth, then tell them since they can vote, they should vote a certain ticket.

"The young voter of today is educated and has a deep insight of political history. They are sharp, and I have great admiration for their determination. We need their vote and their appraisal."

Allaire told the club membership that younger voters tend to be more conservative.
