Equipment Ready for Clean-up

SUPERINTENDENT SHOWS LOADERS ... John F. Allaire Jr., Clark's superintendent of public works and engineering, displays two front-end loaders which will be used for the township's spring clean-up drive starting Monday. The older loader, left, has a one cubic yard capacity and cost $20,000 when new. The other loader, with a capacity of three cubic yards, cost $31,000 when purchased recently. Mr. Allaire noted that only large companies have three cubic yard loaders.

Township Will Have New Equipment Available for Its Clean-Up Program Beginning on Monday in First Ward

Clark will have approximately $75,000 worth of new equipment available for its spring clean-up program, John F. Allaire Jr., superintendent of public works and engineering, stated this week.

The clean-up program will begin on Monday in the First Ward.

Public Works Superintendent Allaire said a new three cubic yard front-end loader will be used for the clean-up program. The loader cost $31,000. An older loader of one cubic yard capacity also will be employed. It cost $20,000.

New equipment ordered and awaited by the township are two dump trucks, a jet pressure sewer cleaner, Econo-Vac leaf machine and salt spreader. Other equipment will be purchased by the township and bids will be sought soon. The township proposes to buy a large truck with power tailgate, a tree chopper, a leaf shredder and another Econo-Vac leaf machine. Purchase of the leaf machine would increase the number owned by Clark to three. It hopes to have four eventually.

Mr. Allaire, in announcing the spring clean-up program, said it is intended for the disposal of household refuse. He listed the regulations as follows:

1. No masonry materials, concrete, stone or dirt will be picked up.
2. Small material must be placed in durable containers that can be handled by one man.
3. Loose material not to be more than four feet in length and tied in bundles that can be handled by one man.
4. Materials must be placed at curb not later than 7:15 a.m. and not earlier than 5:30 p.m. the day before.

Mr. Allaire said that the refuse collections for the other wards will be advertised. The state code, which prohibits placing of any type of refuse in the street unless it is designated for pick-up by township employees, by the sweeper or the vacuum, will be enforced, Mr. Allaire stated. He added that putting refuse, including grass clippings, leaves and garden trash, in the streets creates additional debris and often is washed into the catch basins and sewers.

Mr. Allaire appealed to the good citizenship of the property owners to join him in the 1971 spring clean-up program to beautify Clark.

District School Board Selects Dr. Hagedorn; Outline Building Plan

Dr. Fred B. Hagedorn of Berkeley Heights was elected president of the Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District No. 1 at its annual reorganization meeting last week.

Dr. Hagedorn, a member of the board since 1969, succeeds Manuel S. Dios of Clark.

Mrs. Natalie K. Waldo, board member from Springfield, was elected as vice president.

Sworn into office for three-year terms were Edwin Little of Berkeley Heights, Manuel S. Dios of Clark and Mrs. Sonya G. Dorsky of Springfield, Mrs. Little and Mr. Dios won reelection to the board on March 30. Mrs. Dorsky, one of three candidates seeking the seat vacated by Dr. Benjamin H. Josephson, also was elected at that time.

Dr. Warren M. Davis was reappointed superintendent of schools, a post he has held since 1956. Lewis F. Fredericks of Clark was reappointed secretary of the board and assistant superintendent for business.

Dr. Minor C. K. Jones, board member from Mountainside, was renamed custodian of school monies. Irvine B. Johnstone of Westfield was reappointed board attorney.

The board will continue to meet the fourth Tuesday of each month.

Details of the expansion program proposed for the four schools in the district were announced this week. The schools are Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark; Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield; Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, and David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth. The voters will go to the polls between 2 and 9 p.m. on Tuesday, May 4, to decide whether the expansion program, which it is estimated will cost $4,730,000, should be approved.

The estimated costs of the programs for each of the four schools is as follows: Johnson, $1,643,000; Dayton, $1,902,000; Livingston, $590,000, and Brearley, $595,000.

New construction proposed for Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School would include a library-instructional media center, two standard classrooms, art room, typing room, instructional and vocal music room, cafeteria expansion, student project rooms, student activities room, administrative space, two chemistry laboratories and conference room.

Alterations to the existing Clark school building would include converting the library into expanded guidance facilities, converting guidance space for two classrooms, converting the hand room for a classroom and for departmental office space; converting vocal music room into a classroom, converting an art room as a student project room, teachers' work room and department office space; expansion of beauty culture facilities, and expansion of the health office.

New construction at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School would include library-instructional media center, auxiliary gymnasium with boys' and girls' locker facilities, cafeteria expansion, metal shop, instructional and vocal music rooms, two art rooms, three science laboratories and typing room.

Alterations to the existing Springfield school building would include conversion of existing Board of Education offices into classrooms, library into classrooms and agriculture building into fieldhouse and locker facilities. The alterations also would include expansion of guidance facilities and enlargement of the health office, and addition of student project rooms and departmental office.

New Construction at Governor Livingston Regional High School would include a library-instructional media center and instrumental music room. Alterations to the Berkeley Heights school building would include conversion of the library into classroom space, classroom space into departmental offices and student project rooms, vocal music room into general purpose music room and instrumental music room into vocal music room. The alterations also would expand the guidance facilities.

David Brearley Regional High School's new construction would include a large flexible classroom area equivalent to four standard classrooms, two health classrooms, special education room, multi-purpose business classroom, art room, student project room and conference room.

The alterations to the Kenilworth school structure would include a provision for a science laboratory, expansion of the library, conversion of art room space into student store and toilet facilities, and construction of a teachers' work room.

The expansion plan has been based upon the following student assignments and 1976 anticipated enrollments: Arthur L. Johnson, Clark students, 1,544; Jonathan Dayton, Springfield and Mountainside students, 1,513; Governor Livingston, Berkeley Heights students, 1,429, and David Brearley, Kenilworth and Garwood students, 993.

The referendum would authorize the expansion necessary for the school facilities to catch up with the enrollment. The board started planning for expansion in 1967 when there were 5,014 students. Enrollment is more than 5,500 at present and is expected to approach 5,800 in 1973. Expansion referenda were defeated in 1968 and 1970. The board maintains that the needs anticipated in 1967 are realities in 1971.

Hotel-Office Building Project Would Not Cause Flooding, Expert Testifies for Billnan

Billnan Fifteen of East Orange, applicant for a variance which would permit construction of an eight-story hotel and an eight-story office building in Clark, offered testimony at Monday night's Board of Adjustment meeting that the proposed project would not cause flooding at the site and assured the board that sanitary sewerage is adequate.

The Board of Adjustment met to obtain additional testimony about the $7.5 million project proposed for the Valley Road and Walnut Street site and will not vote again on the Billnan Fifteen application, Louis Wollman, board chairman, announced. Mr. Wollman pointed out that the board voted on Jan. 25 to recommend to the Municipal Council that the variance be granted.

Monday's hearing was conducted because the Council remanded the resolution to the board, asking that additional testimony be obtained and that the public be given another opportunity to express its opinions.

Anthony Canger, executive vice president of Canger, Spector and DeLuca, engineering consultants, told the board that he prepared a study of the site and proposed grades to eliminate drainage of the property toward the Valley Road and Walnut Avenue intersection. Mr. Canger said that the storm water could be carried from the site by a storm sewer of the New Jersey Department of Transportation or by a sewer to a branch of the Rahway River. The state's sewer runs along the Garden State Parkway, adjoining the Billnan property. A new sewer could be constructed along Walnut Avenue to the river, Canger testified.

When asked which he would recommend, Mr. Canger said that using the state sewer, which is near the Billnan site, would be preferable to tearing up 400 feet of Walnut Avenue.

The attorney for Billnan Fifteen, Robert L. Schear of Scotch Plains, stated that testimony about the sanitary sewer was presented during the public hearing. Mr. Wollman said that testimony presented indicated that the 60-inch sanitary sewer on the south side of Valley Road was "more than adequate" for the area.

Gerald F. Baroff, one of the principals of Billnan, told the board that a complete study of the sewers in the area will be made and that the information would be given to the board.

L. D. Brounell of Brounell & Kramer, 1435 Morris Ave., Union, real estate brokers, testified that construction of a hotel and an office building at the site, known as 1 Walnut Avenue, would represent the best use for the property. He said that other erection of other buildings on the four and a half-acre property would not be "economically feasible" and that the buildings would enhance the appearance of the area, would not be detrimental to other properties, and would provide meeting places for industry and office space for large companies.

Former Councilman Thomas Winters questioned Mr. Brounell about a statement that the buildings would be fireproof. Mr. Winters maintained that no building is completely fireproof. He added that "most people in Clark are opposed to high-rise construction."

Mr. Brounell later stated that the hotel and office building would provide jobs for residents and would attract additional industry and commerce to the community, thus providing additional rates and more jobs.

Mr. Baroff, who said that the Billnan principals are the same as those of Webb Associates of East Orange, testified that the company has had experience in constructing and operating hotels, including the 400-room Howard Johnson hotel at Newark Airport. Mr. Baroff emphasized that the buildings would be operated by his firm. He said that the hotel would be a Ramada Inn. The hotel would be built first and then the office structure. Mr. Baroff stated. He added that the hotel would be "medium-rise" and would have 191 rooms.

Approximately 50 persons attended the meeting.

Opposition to the project was expressed by Robert Lovejoy, president of the Southwest Civic Association, who said he felt that the buildings would not enhance the appearance of the area, that the fire chief has said that new equipment, including a 100-foot aerial ladder truck, would be needed.

Proposes Award to Honor Outstanding Police Officer

Presentation of the Emanuel Addis Memorial Award to the outstanding police officer of the year next November is being planned by Clark Local 125, Honorary Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, Steve Maytner, president, announced this week.

Mr. Maytner said the award will be a memorial for Mr. Addis, who was treasurer of the honorary unit at the time of his death early this year. Mr. Maytner said the organization believes that Mr. Addis' unselfishness, generosity and loyalty to the community should not be forgotten.

The award, Mr. Maytner said, will be presented to the man showing "the best attitude on and off the job, respect to superiors, fellow police officers and the public, and respect for departmental rules and regulations." Personal appearance and job performance also would be taken into account during the judging.

The selection committee will consist of the chief of police, director of public safety and president of the Honorary PBA. The award would be presented at the annual PBA dinner dance in November.

Police Chief Anthony T. Smar of Clark has endorsed the proposal that the memorial award be given to the "Police Officer of the Year." He said the idea was discussed with Thomas P. Kelmartin, director of public safety, and that they believe "this type of award would benefit the police department and the public as it will tend to be a motivating force for all police personnel."

Money for Scholarship

AID FROM K OF C ... Gene Leonard, grand knight of Bishop Justin J. McCarthy Council 5503, Knights of Columbus, Clark, standing, presents check from the council's charity fund to Charles Driesens Jr., president of the Clark Scholarship Fund, left. With them is William Kelemen, representative of the council to the board of governors of the fund. The fund presents annual scholarships to Clark high school seniors.

The present referendum proposal is for $2,245,000 less than the May 1970 referendum amount. The main difference is that fewer new classrooms, special purpose rooms and auxiliary gymnasiums are planned.

According to the board's architect, building costs have risen by more than 30 per cent in the past three years. The architect pointed out that a project which would have cost $3 million in 1968 now will cost approximately $4 million.

Four public hearings will be conducted on the referendum. The dates and places are: Tuesday, 8 p.m., Jonathan Dayton; Wednesday, 8 p.m., Arthur L. Johnson; Monday, April 26, 8 p.m., Governor Livingston, and Wednesday, April 28, 8 p.m., David Brearley.

In a state of over 7 million people, approximately half are covered by the Blues.

Our "city" is made up of the people (or their employers) who pay each month to maintain an emergency fund for unexpected hospital and doctor bills. Expenses no one can anticipate or often afford.

When hospital or doctor bills come up, the specialists at the New Jersey Blues help take care of the payments. Direct to hospitals and participating doctors. With next to no red tape. At no profit to us.

Taking care of the health-care prepayment for the sixth largest "city" in the nation is a large responsibility. To do it we keep an eagle eye on overhead and expenses. As a result, the combined administrative costs of the Blues is about 6 cents of each dollar. As opposed to several times that for other health insurers.

And we keep trying to reduce health-care costs in other ways. By working with hospitals and doctors to see that benefits are properly used. By expanding outpatient coverage to encourage less costly services out of the hospital. By guarding against duplication of claims.

Half the people in the state are members of "Blue Cross/Blue Shield, New Jersey" They feel it's a nice place to be.

Biology Chairman of Union College Will Address Interfaith Council

Professor John Siburn, chairman of the Biology Department, Union College, Cranford, will present an overview of the present environmental crisis on Thursday, April 22, at 8 p.m. at Mildred Terrace School, Clark. The program is being sponsored by the Clark Interfaith Citizens Council.

Professor Siburn, along with Albert F. Sherry and Edward Capasso, both senior industrial hygienists with the New Jersey State Department of Environmental Protection, will speak on "Meeting the Environmental Crisis."

Members of the Clark municipal council and the County Board of Freeholders will be present at the meeting to answer questions concerning government's role in the problems of pollution.

Information will also be available about forming a local citizens group to fight for the solution of environmental problems.

Catch 2d Suspect In Holdup Assault

The Rahway Police Department arrested the second of three men sought on charges of assault and robbery in the $55,000 theft and assault on Dr. Armand Bedikian in March at Raritan Garden Apartments, New Brunswick. He was identified as Thomas Normile, 20, whose address was listed as 1501 Roosevelt Ave., Carteret.

He was apprehended by Detective Chester Holmes at the Grand Diner, Route 1 and Grand Ave., Rahway, on a teletype warrant from New Brunswick police. Dennis Bierilo, 19, of 1511 Campbell St., Rahway, was arrested last month at his home, after he was reportedly recognized from a description following the attack.

Professor Siburn received his degree in biology from Fordham University and his M.A. in botany from Rutgers University. He engaged in a doctoral program at Rutgers and has been a faculty member at Union College since 1959. He also serves as an adjunct faculty member in the biology department of Newark State College.

Good Chance to Air a Problem

Rahway and Clark residents will have an excellent opportunity to voice their opinions about the flood problems in the Rahway River basin on Tuesday, April 27, at 7:30 p.m. in Franklin School, Rahway.

The Army Corps of Engineers will have representatives present to listen to the history of flooding told by residents who have been affected by floods in the past. The Army Corps of Engineers also will hear complaints and suggestions for improvement of the conditions along the river.

Col. James W. Barnett, district engineer, has made an outline of questions which could be answered in preparation for the meeting.

The questions are:
1. What areas or communities require flood protection and what are the types of protection desired in each area?

2. When did recent floods occur and what were the depths of flooding at specific locations for each occurrence?

3. How severe were hazards to life and health?
4. What were the extent and types of damage caused by flooding, including the estimated value of losses to property, transportation, income, crops, ecology and the environment?

5. What is the value of real and assessed valuation of lands, buildings and facilities directly affected and the anticipated increases in value thereof, if improvements were effected?

6. What related problems exist?

7. What corrective actions should be taken on recognized problems?

The Army Corps of Engineers is seeking information so it may prepare a plan to solve the flooding problems which have existed in Rahway and Clark for decades. Residents, especially those who have been affected by past floods, and organizations, such as Rahway Citizens for Flood Control, should prepare for the April 27 meeting and document any statements prepared for the Army engineers.

The meeting will provide Rahway and Clark with an excellent opportunity to present the full picture of Rahway River basin flooding before the Army Corps of Engineers. That opportunity should not be missed.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Taxpayer Strike Called Possible

In the Rahway News-Record it is amusing but very sad to read Mayor Daniel L. Martin's release about why the enormous increase in the tax rate.

On the opposite page of the same issue of the News-Record we read an article by John C. March, former mayor, relating the same old merry-go-round story of what he achieved when he was mayor of Rahway. From a taxpayer's viewpoint, one has to arrive at the conclusion that it is the same old political story of the pot calling the kettle black.

I believe the taxpaying public has had enough of these immature alibis coming from both Mayor Martin and Mr. March. Let's get down to serious business.

We, as taxpayers, are not concerned with petty politics or dealing in personalities; we are faced with hard facts and the biggest fact facing us is an increase of 219 points in our tax rate.

It seems to me that the March administration was warned and told what the net results would be, if he continued with his policies.

I also know that the present administration was advised and told what they must do to help this one taxable square mile that is named Rahway get back on its feet. Did Mayor Martin's administration listen, did they have enough common sense to heed good advice? Their record up to now scores them one big goose egg.

John March knew and Mayor Martin knows that a small city like Rahway could not or cannot afford a police or fire department the size that we have now.

Take as an example, Woodbridge and other surrounding towns, I believe you will find that Rahway is over expanded in both departments. This also holds true for our school system. Look at the expenditure for administering the few school buildings in Rahway.

The taxpayers of Rahway have finally discovered that both the Republicans and Democrats do not have the knowledge or ability to operate this taxable square mile or they don't have the guts to administer a program that could appeal to a home or business owner in Rahway.

I believe the day has arrived that will bring an end to the outmoded political machines with their plum jobs and having too many people living on the hard working taxpayers and too many sacred cows nibbling and eating up our tax dollars.

A more economic form of government could be the answer and remedy.

We read of firemen, policemen, teachers threatening to go on strike. I would hope that conditions would improve so that the taxpayers could get some relief before the point is reached that we would have a taxpayers' strike in Rahway.

In the event that taxpayers in Rahway are forced to strike, then I wonder where these perpetual $1,000 increases would come from.

Mayor Martin or Mr. March might be able to give a sincere answer to the Rahway taxpayers, if they are still in Rahway or they might have joined the great migration of Rahwayans leaving town.

Offers Priorities For Education

The recent letter signed by Dorothy Mc Fadden raised an entire series of questions about the Rahway Board of Education. While I would not presume to speak for others, I can answer for myself.

Since it is infinitely easier to pose questions than to give concise answers, I must take them one at a time beginning with the most fundamental, the question of priorities.

The American public school system celebrated its 300th birthday in 1948. Paradoxically there has been, since then, a growing confusion about its goals. Today we are further from a consensus than at any time in history.

Last year, for example, the U. S. commissioner of education set the goals of the entire 1970's as "the right to read" with the avowed purpose of focusing attention on an increasingly serious problem. At the same time, our own state department of education took an entirely different tack by launching a two-year study to determine the general goals of our schools. Meanwhile, colleges are experimenting more and more with educational concepts which are entirely new and without precedent.

It occurs to me that, if you cannot decide where you want to go, the best you can hope for is to travel in circles until you can decide. Accordingly, I find it necessary to decide upon my own set of priorities. They are:

1. The student's right to

MUSICAL EXPERIMENT

The Potted Plants Refuse to Dance!

By E. Sidman Wachter

Is today's mania for discordant music a prime cause of the increasing neuroticism of American society? The potted plants seem to be trying to tell us "yes."

A Denver experimenter tried exposing potted plants to various types of music for two years, and found that "What acid rock did to the petunias shouldn't happen to our teenagers."

Mrs. Dorothy Retallack, in a series of scientific experiments, discovered that three hours of acid rock music a day shriveled young squash plants, flattened philodendrons, and crumbled corn in barely a month.

To assure accurate, unbiased results, the experiments were held under strict scientific controls. Several groups of assorted plants, usually five to a group, were placed in controlled environment chambers with lights, temperature and air regulated automatically. At one side of each cabinet, a loudspeaker introduced sound. One group was exposed to rock music, another to semi-classical music.

As Mrs. Retallack tells it: "The petunias listening to the rock music refused to bloom. Those on the semi-classical music developed six beautiful blooms. Within a month, all the plants exposed to the rock music had died."

In a three-week experiment, Mrs. Retallack played recordings of Lee Zepelin and the Vanilla Fudge to a group of beans, squash, corn, morning glory and coleus. To another group of the same plants, she played contemporary avantgarde music, and to a third (as a control) she played nothing.

At the end of three weeks, the rock music plants were dying; the squash had almost fallen over; the morning glory had sagged and stretched limply over other pots away from the music; corn stalks sagged in the middle. All plants except the crimson coleus showed browning leaves.

The control group (no music) grew the highest and had long bushy roots.

Admittedly, people are not plants, but, as the human nervous system is far more highly developed, it seems logical to deduce that it is even more susceptible to jarring and/or over-stimulation by blaring discordant noises.

And opportunity -- for all. Whitney Young devoted his life to helping his people get jobs.

In Rahway, the "conservative" members of the board of education (sometimes called "racists" by the liberal faction) are a return to excellence in the teaching of basic educational skills. The "conservative" members' efforts will tremendously help qualify black students for better jobs with better pay.

It is perplexing that Dr. Sprowls and his liberal fellow travelers on the board of education (supposedly the champions of the black people) are trying to obstruct the opportunity to give quality education to black students. How? They would rather use school time for a "human relations project."

I guess they never heard the old adage, "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink." Good human relations between the races will evolve naturally as the Negro people move up the economic ladder and have the same job opportunities as whites.

And what about the money wasted on forced busing to achieve racial integration? This is another cause dear to the liberal heart. Yet I have talked to numerous black community leaders and black citizens and not one of them favors busing. In fact, New Jersey's own Clay Calhoun, president of the national black silent majority committee, is opposed to busing to achieve racial integration.

I wonder when Commissioner Marburger, Dr. Sprowls and their ilk are going to wise up.

Want Tab Kept On Contractors

In a recent letter, Mr. Jack Bostock chose to champion the cause of the Clark building inspector. As his credentials, he offers only his ability to compare Clark's building inspector with others that are less qualified.

We present our case, as some taxpaying citizens who have been wronged by a builder who violated Clark's ordinances and regulations. The New Jersey building codes and was allowed to get away with it by what Mr. Bostock calls a "disciplined, well-informed building inspector."

Building in Clark is covered by their own ordinances, revised in 1966, and the New Jersey building regulations. Clark's building codes are straightforward and not ambiguous, they only lack enforcement.

Certificate of occupancies were issued for our houses with the following code violations, some of which do endanger life and limb.

Stair railing, required by code, not installed, leaving open area into cellars and garages for a person to fall into.

Garages were improperly sheet - rocked and taped so that the fire protection they were to offer was negated.

Final electrical inspections were not made. When this was accidentally discovered and the inspection made, approximately nine months after the fact, dangerous violations were discovered.

Cellars were not coated with one-half inch of cement plaster. The building inspector allowed the builder to get the owners to sign a piece of paper agreeing to allow the builder to violate this ordinance. All of us, not cognizant of this requirement, were duped by the builder into believing this was an ordinance passed after construction was started and therefore could be waived. Subsequent investigation showed that this ordinance had been in effect for two years prior to contracts or construction.

Sump pumps were not installed in our houses. Those who wanted this protection quickly put their own in and were never reimbursed.

Back and front porches are sinking because poor building practices were followed and allowed.

Grading is deplorable because notes on construction grades and stakes and "as built" surveys were not demanded.

Some cellars leak as though the foundations were never water-proofed. A close inspection by the building inspector before the foundation is backfilled.

And there are others. Because of our pressures on the town council, the Department of Public Works and Engineering, and the building inspector, action was finally brought against this builder in court. He was convicted of many of these violations.

Our building inspector is a member of a very weak department. They know what is required by the codes, and the enforcement power they have, but they are not capable of making a decision without requesting an opinion from our legal department and, even then, they are reluctant to act.

Accommodating a builder, for whatever the reason, is paramount to giving him carte blanche.

If Clark is to progress, and all of this contemplated building is to go on, we need someone to keep tabs on the contractors. Builders should not be allowed to violate our codes. The Department of Public Works and Engineering, and, in particular, the building inspector should enforce our laws vigorously. If nothing else, when a violation is brought to their attention, it should be acted upon for the protection of Clark and its citizens.

Cowboy-Indian Program Given For Cub Scouts

"Cowboys and Indians" was the theme for last week's meeting of Cub Scout Pack 47 in the First Presbyterian Church, Rahway.

The flag ceremony was led by Mrs. Helen Flynn and Den 5. A skit, "First Indian Dance," was presented by Den 6 under the direction of Mrs. Mair Campbell. Den 2, directed by Mrs. Arlene Karaman, led a sing-along of western music.

As the webelos program, Joseph Borick had the boys in his den do science experiments. Ludwig Knapp had boys pack a suitcase and timed them. The nearest job of folding clothes was done by Mike Powell.

Robert Ridgway, committee chairman, presented Mrs. Ann Pilot with a certificate of appreciation for being a waitress at the Blue and Gold Dinner.

Uniforms were inspected by Sam Pilot, cubmaster. He then announced plans for swimming on Saturdays and for a family trip on April 23 to the fish hatchery in Hackettstown.

Awards were presented by Mrs. Pilot as follows: Chris Danzi, arrow of light, aquanaut, sportsman and graduation certificate; Ray Graham, aquanaut; Bob Keenan, bobcat; Roy Kendrick, one-year pin; Jeff Knapp, scholar and traveler; Greg Knott, athlete; Bernard Powell, bobcat; Mike Powell, sportsman; Tom Rosecranz, wolf; Greg Setar, showman and sportsman; Tom Sheridan, bear badge; and Mrs. Campbell, one and two-year

Lottery Was Employed in Early 19th Century in NJ To Get Funds to Pay Rutgers Professors' Salaries

The idea of using lottery proceeds to aid higher education--the policy of the New Jersey State Lottery--is not a new one.

In fact, it might be called "an old Rutgers custom." The state university resorted to lotteries as fundraising devices twice in the early 19th century.

Dr. Richard P. McCormick, professor of history at Rutgers College, in his "Rutgers: A Bicentennial History," relates that lotteries were launched in 1812 and 1824 to help the financially hard-pressed institution then known as Queens College.

The Rutgers historian explained that lotteries were held by many colleges as well as by churches and charitable agencies in the Colonial period and later. Concerning the struggling college's first lottery venture, Dr. McCormick writes:

"Permission to conduct a lottery was sought from the Legislature and, after some initial rebuffs, was obtained in January 1812. It was hoped that this device would yield $20,000."

"The trustees undertook to manage the complicated venture through a committee rather than turn their privilege over to a professional lottery agent. The consequences were disastrous. Many difficulties arose, with the result that the net proceeds, if any, fell far short of the goal."

Several years later an event occurred that inspired the second lottery project. The trustees learned from the New York firm of McIntyre and Yates, specialists in the management of lotteries, that the college still retained some rights from the old 1812 lottery. The firm proposed to buy them from the college.

In August 1822, an agreement had been reached whereby, contingent upon the approval of the state, McIntyre and Yates would conduct the lottery and guarantee a return of $20,000 to the college. Dr. McCormick writes:

"After some initial resistance, the Legislature sanctioned the arrangement, with the provision that the money obtained was to be invested as an endowment for a professorship of mathematics. Drawings began early in 1824 and continued over the course of a year, when the state intervened and enjoined any further proceedings. Despite this action, which led to involved negotiations both with the state and the lottery firm, McIntyre and Yates honored their commitment and turned over to the trustees in annual installments the total amount stipulated."

Thanks to the lottery, then, the college now had the major portion of a fund to pay a professor's salary.

The current State Lottery Law provides that at least 30 per cent of the gross income be allocated to state aid to education and institutions.

The POW Prayer

"Lord, shelter the prisoners of war in Indochina. Open the hearts and minds of their captors that they may be restored to their homes and loved ones."

"Each has carried the burden of battle."

"Each has discharged his obligation to his nation."

"Each has been subjected to hazard, pain and imprisonment--the lot of the warrior."

"But Lord, these burdens so heavy are carried by so few."

"These few must not be forsaken."

"God of our fathers, in whom we trust, humbly we petition: Lift their burden; give them sustenance and strike the shackles that deny them freedom."

service pins.

The closing ceremony was conducted by Den 1 under the direction of Mrs. Dee Knox.

Merck Changes One Price Policy Following Revolt

Merck, Sharp & Dohme Division of Merck & Co. Inc. has rescinded its three-month-old one-price policy as the result of a revolt by wholesalers against Merck products.

Merck, Sharp & Dohme announced last Jan. 15 it would no longer charge wholesale customers less than retailer customers for its prescription drug products. The discount to wholesalers, called a functional allowance, has averaged about 5 per cent.

The National Wholesale Druggists' Association newsletter last month disclosed more than 200 wholesale druggists had discontinued handling Merck products in retaliation to the one-price policy.

EDUCATION BY CHANCE ... Twice in its history Rutgers University has resorted to lotteries to shore up a shaky financial position. Lotteries were launched in 1812 and in 1824 when Rutgers was still known as Queens College. The first one met with disaster when the trustees of the college decided to manage the complicated venture through a committee rather than enlist the aid of a professional lottery agent. The college fared better in 1824 with an agent in charge.

Says Legal Gaming Would Increase State Aid Revenue

Union County's 21 municipalities could receive a total of $14.7 million in additional state aid, if casino gaming were legalized in New Jersey, according to State Senator Frank X. Mc

Dermott of Westfield, who is advocating legalization.

Senator Mc Dermott said that Rahway's share would amount to $816,078, based on an estimated revenue of $27 per capita, and that Clark would receive $524,070. The senator said the state would realize $200 million in new revenue, if casino gaming is approved.

Senator Mc Dermott is prime sponsor of SCR - 74, pending in the State Senate, which would authorize a referendum next November to permit state-regulated gaming casinos at qualified New Jersey locations. The revenue yield to the state would be dedicated to funding municipal programs for senior citizens housing, public safety and business and industrial development in high unemployment areas.

The Union County lawmaker said that he expects casino gaming revenue to produce some $200 million dollars for an average $27 per capita allocation to each community. On this basis, five counties, Union, Essex, Bergen, Hudson and Middlesex, would receive more than $95 million in additional state aid to municipalities.

"This would certainly be a boon to municipal budget planners," Senator Mc Dermott said, "and -- more importantly, to the individual taxpayer who each year faces higher costs. How each municipality expends its share of the revenue would depend on individual needs."

"In some suburban towns," Senator Mc Dermott said, "decent housing for senior citizens has become a major concern. Other communities must find the means to improve pay scales and equipment for their police and fire fighting forces. Larger cities, hard-hit by unemployment and soaring welfare costs, must keep existing industry and attract new industry or face the prospect of continuing decay. But no significant additional funds are available for state aid within the limits of New Jersey's present revenue yield. Raising the sales tax levy, initiating an income tax or hiking property taxes provides no answer. New revenue sources must be developed."

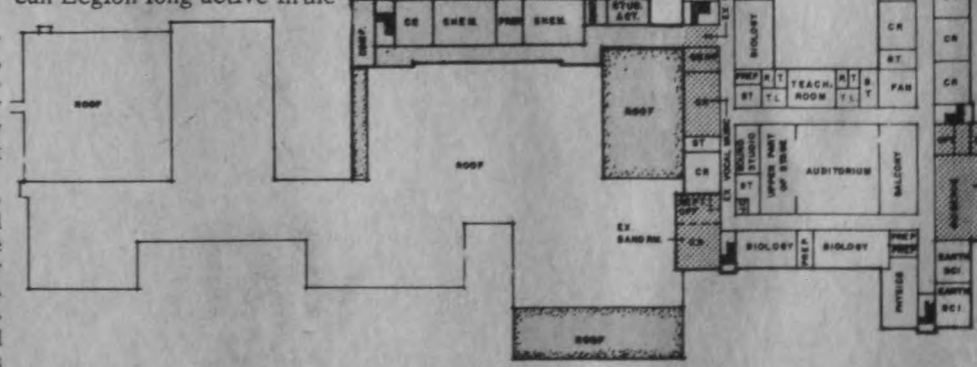

Senator Mc Dermott said that he favors state-regulated casino gaming because it will attract out-of-state money for in-state needs, generating new revenue for all New Jersey and, at the same time, creating new job opportunities in the resort communities where gaming casinos are established.

Students For Beauty Field Trip

Beauty culture students of Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Aida Vasta, visited the Kree Institute of Electrolysis, New York on April 5 and heard a lecture and observed a demonstration on the permanent removal of superfluous hair.

The following students participated in the trip: Juniors Karen Bailey, Joni Brennan, Patricia Di Giorgio, Joanne Dolinich, Patricia Horky, Valerie Huska, Sherrie Lobasco, Donna McArdle, Patricia Miller, Joanne Salvatore, Patricia Manes and seniors Kathleen Augulis, Gayle Ball, Donna Blackman, Adrian Braun, Nancy Daluesio, Deborah Decker, Denise Di Leo, Christine Krause, Karen Mielech, Joyce Svalkaukas, Joyce Traeger and Jeanine Yanetta.

The course will be introduced by Mrs. Barbara Gibbons of Cranford, a home-maker and part-time advertising copywriter who once weighed 208 and now weighs 125. Co-leader is Mrs. Janice Holtgrave of Mountainside, a graduate home economist and gourmet cook who likes to break the rules if it results in savings calories.

The low-calorie cooking class grew out of Mrs. Gibbons' lifelong battle with weight. "I tried every pill, every diet and inoculation, every new miracle that came along, but I never succeeded in conquering my weight problem until I discovered how to 'de-calorize' the food I like ... and gave up dieting! My weight reached 200 while I was still in grammar school. I remember being excused from gym because they didn't make a gysuit in size 20 1/2." Today the 5'6" Mrs. Gibbons wears a junior size 9.

"There's no miracle in this method," explains Mrs. Holtgrave, a native of Louisiana who holds a master's degree in home economics. "What we've done is compress into a six-week course all the calorie shortcuts for preparing everybody's favorite dishes and desserts in ways that aren't so fattening ... easy blender mayonnaise that's only 16 calories per tablespoon instead of 100, banana cream pie at 125 calories a slice instead of 300-plus, party dips made with yogurt at 130 calories a cupful instead of 500-calories-worth of sour cream. Chow mein, veal parmigiana, strawberry shortcake, ice cream ... why we would take almost anyone's menu for a day and pare away as much as 1000 calories they'd never notice!"

AT ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH

Worship: Cave Age to Cathedral

The women of Zion Lutheran Church, Rahway, will host a lecture entitled "The Story of Worship from Cave to Cathedral" by Dr. and Mrs. W. Andrew Wesley on Monday, April 19, at 6:30 p. m.

The study, which will be preceded by a covered-dish supper, is based on the conviction that to understand the nature of any culture it is necessary to analyze the concepts and practices fostered by religion, of which art and architecture are manifestations.

The Wesleys follow man in his quest of immortality from prehistoric rites and burial practices through such cults as sun and serpent worship to the major extent religions of today's world. Their color slides show not only many of the most famous sacred monuments, the erection of which required incredible labor and dedication, but also some of the less renowned artistic creations man has devised for the divine being he reveres and worships.

Dr. Wesley is a graduate of Cornell University, where he was elected to Sigma Xi and Phi honorary societies. He received M.S. and Ph. D. degrees at New York University. Until his retirement, he was head of the International Nickel Company's research laboratory.

He has published output of 45 technical papers and received some 80 patents in this and foreign countries. Dr. Wesley headed the American Electroplaters' Society as national president and has been a fellow of the American Institute of Chemists.

Mrs. Wesley, a past president of the Plainfield Branch of the American Association of University Women, has also served on its state board. Author of many poems, she received her formal education at Oberlin Conservatory, the Juilliard School of Music, Columbia University, where she received her B.S. degree, and Pennsylvania State College, where she took graduate courses in art and architecture.

Freeholders Adopt YR Suggestion, Establish Environmental Committee

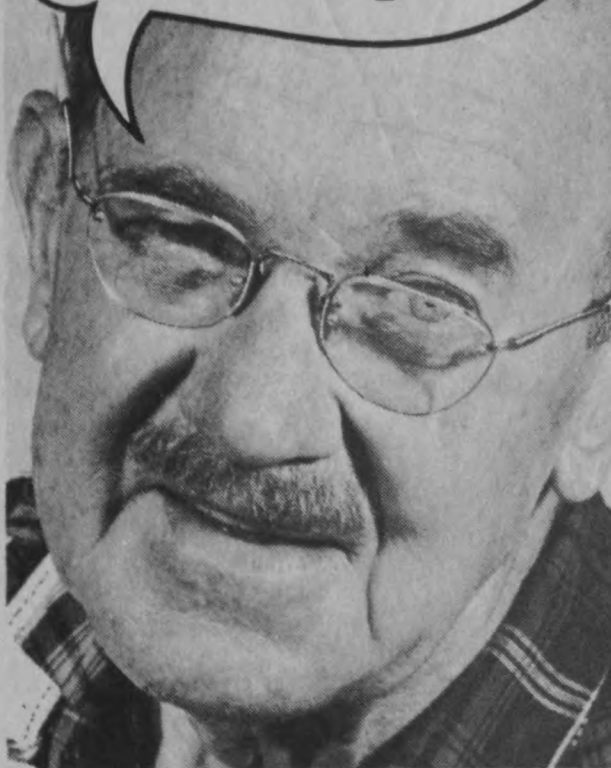

The Young Republicans of Union County through a delegation headed by James Fulcomer of 384 Raleigh Rd., Rahway, their chairman, succeeded in persuading the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders to establish an Environmental Health Committee last Thursday.

The board's resolution, which was introduced by Freeholder William J. Maguire of 20 Poplar Terr., Clark, and unanimously adopted by the board, culminates a one-year long campaign by the Young Republicans. The freeholders' resolution formerly cited the Young Republicans efforts to secure the establishment of the committee.

The committee will promote and co-ordinate governmental investigation the fight against survey the exterior from county facilities, inventory and sources of all pollution having a detrimental effect on county governmental property, encourage voluntary efforts to clean up water, air, land and noise pollution in the county, provide environmental activists with a governmental means whereby they may improve the environment in the county, and encourage citizens to promote a healthier environment.

The Young Republicans recommended that one of the committee's first priorities should be to promote and enlarge voluntary efforts to clean up the Rahway River. They are interested in joint efforts to improve the river.

If I hadn't been nagged into getting a checkup, I'd be kicking up daisies.

The toughest fight I ever had didn't happen on any big, wide screen. It happened in real life.

I was just finishing my 99th picture. My 99th ridin', jumpin', fightin' picture. Never felt better in my life.

I told the family when I'm through here, I'm going out on my boat. Sure, they said, just as soon as you've had your medical checkup. I said nonsense. I had one eight months ago. They said it was more like eighteen.

So I said okay, okay, I went to my doctor and the chest X-rays showed a spot on my lungs. It was cancer. If I'd waited a few more weeks, I'd be dead.

The first couple of months after surgery, it hurt like hell to get on my horse. Since then I've been good as new. If you caught "True Grit" or "Chisum" you've seen for yourself.

So, friend, I know what I'm talking about when I tell you, get a checkup. Nag someone you love into getting a checkup.

And when the lady from the American Cancer Society rings your doorbell, dig deep in your pocket. They're working to rid this world of cancer once and for all.

John Kulikowski, president of the Watching Conference, is expected to announce later this year the new organization for the conference. It is expected to start during the fall of 1973.

Rahway, Clark, Berkeley Heights, Cranford, Hillside and Roselle will form the Class "B" division. The Class "A" division will have Westfield, Scotch Plains-Fanwood, Thomas Jefferson, Linden, Union and Plainfield.

Scheduling plans for the conference will call for each team to meet each member of their division once during the season along with several teams in the other division.

The Roselle Rams will be meeting the Indians on the football field for the first time since 1965 when the eleven battled to a 12-12 tie.

Rahway leads the series that started in 1912 with 20 victories, nine defeats and five ties. The 1945 game was won by Rahway, 1-0, when the Rams walked off the field at the start of the third period.

Clark and Roselle have not played since 1960. During their five-game series, the Rams won four games and Clark, one. The 1958 game was the only game won by the Crusaders. The score was 25-0.

Rahway's golf team dropped its second straight match, an 18-0, shutout to the Westfield Blue Devils at the Echo Lake Country Club. It was the winner's third straight victory this season.

Dick Milligan of Plainfield scored a 44 to lead the Cardinals to a 11 1/2 - 6 1/2 victory over the winless Clark golfers at Galloping Hill.

In the Senior Bowling League at the Recreation Lanes, the top pinner was Pete Zakluk with a 645. He was followed by Bill Elliott, 641; Bob Kasalis, 244 - 638; Mike Esposito, 637; Jay Brzozowski, 245 - 633; Sam Zitterer, 633; Rich Tenneson, 247 - 630; Tom De Micco, 618; Bart Masters, 616; Chet Kobay, 613; Tom Siano, 613; Al Letso, 608; Joe Lebeda, 606; Herb Cannon, 247 - 604; and Harry Johnson, 602.

The Clark and Springfield track teams battled to a 63-63 tie in the opening dual meet for both teams.

Rick Clinton of Clark won two events, the 100 - yard dash in a 10.5 seconds and the 220 - yard dash in 23.4 seconds. A senior, Jack Schwankert of Clark, was the winner of the 440 - yard dash in 55.5 seconds and the long jump with a leap of 19 feet 4 inches. Cranford Is 2-1 Favorite To Win Conference Title

The flag is up. The teams are in the starting gate for another Watching Conference race. Before you place your bets, take a look at Hoagland's scratch sheet.

CRANFORD -- 2-1 -- Solid pitching and sound defense and offense. Veteran pitchers Harry Linderth and Steve Gachko both had winning records last season. An all-star player, John Van Brunt, behind the plate, had a .350 batting average last season. Veterans are Dennis Connolly at first, Bob Mintz at second, Richie Mazzella at shortstop and Al Di Fabio at third. Long ball hitter, Don Watson, in the outfield.

WESTFIELD -- 4-1 -- with new coach, Dave Clio, the Blue Devils are a strong contender. Third baseman Joe Moninger is a .300 hitter and Bill Napier also is good with the bat. Veteran outfielder Gist Johnson led the team last season with a .324 average. Other veterans are Jim Wheaton at shortstop and Jim Dello - Russo at first. The team has five pitchers and all have shown promise.

BERKELEY HEIGHTS -- 5-1 -- The dark horse, which could come fast on the outside to win, has a veteran pitcher in Kyle McCormick, one of the hardest pitchers in the area. Other veterans are Tom Wilson, junior Kurt Mohns and three-year letterman Richie Weiss. The team will improve on last year's record.

CLARK -- 6-1 -- The team has good speed and strong defense. The question mark is the mound. The only returning veterans are hard-hitting John Herson and letterman Art Mantie, Mike Miller and Larry Sturchio at shortstop. Chuck Kovacs and Jim Mitchell will share most of the pitching.

RAHWAY -- 6-1 -- The Indians will be better than last season, led by three-year veteran Craig Huggler, the best center fielder in the league. Rahway will have Gary Bechell at second and Joe Leone, Mike Kvarita and George Rothwell on the mound.

SCOTCH PLAINS -- 8-1 -- Last year's winner has little chance to repeat. The team has only four seniors and needs pitching help. Only letterman are John Brower and Tim Dixon.

HILLSIDE -- 10-1 -- Another first-year coach, a former Rahway High School player, Walter Hennessy, is looking for mound help at Hillside. However, he has Bob Boehm, a junior with a fast ball, good drop and excellent control. A strong point of the Comets is the double-play combination of two veterans, Jack Evan-chik and Paul Strasse.

This is how the handicapper sees the Watching Conference but the fans know that baseball is a game of inches. There is always a chance that a long shot will sneak in to capture the crown. By Ray Hoagland

Escape Attempt At State Prison On Sunday Fails

An escape attempt by three convicts serving time for murder failed on Monday when they were captured on the roof of the Rahway State Prison in Woodbridge.

Prison officials identified the convicts as Steve Balogh, 21; Raymond Pross, 28, and George Anch, 26. The officials said the trio slipped away from other prisoners while a motion picture was being shown on Sunday night.

They broke a padlock to a trapdoor and climbed to the roof of a corridor connecting the cell units with a classroom and gymnasium section. They were spotted by guards about 3 a.m. Monday and surrendered.

The three prisoners were convicted in 1969 of the slaying of James Horvath of Highland Park, a 16-year-old youth who had surprised them during a burglary at the Horvath home.

Draft Talk This Month

The Rahway Draft Information Service has scheduled a series of programs designed to help educate the community about the nature of the draft and its functioning. The role of the draft in American society has long been controversial and the debate is at its high point now because extension of the Selective Service law is under consideration by Congress.

For this reason, Dave Smith and Rick Wiesbush, local residents and members of the information service, felt that a program dealing with the nature of the draft would be vital to the community at the present time.

The theme of the program tomorrow and Tuesday will be "The Draft in America" and will include speakers, films and discussions. All programs are free and will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Second Presbyterian Church, New Brunswick Ave., Rahway.

Speech by Nixon On US Troops Disappoints Case

United States Senator Clifford P. Case of Rahway this week expressed his disappointment that President Richard M. Nixon, in his speech about withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam, failed to announce a definite date for that action. Senator Case, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, stated that the middle of 1972 would be a "reasonable" target date. He made his statement during a Channel 13 television show, "New Jersey Speaks."

The Republican legislator said he expects to support President Nixon for reelection "unless the President's conduct on matters of overriding importance to me makes it impossible." He stressed that he sees "nothing now on the horizon" that would make him decide not to support the President. Commenting on the selection of a vice presidential running mate for the President, Senator Case said that President Nixon must decide whether to retain Vice President Spiro Agnew. Senator Case voiced the opinion that it would not be proper for the President to select Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connolly, former Democratic governor of Texas, for vice president because the candidates for President and vice president should be of the same political party. The senator also noted that there are many Republicans available for the spot on the GOP ticket.

A few tickets are available for the Sisterhood's theatre party-luncheon on Wednesday, April 28, Orchestra seats for "The Rothschilds," a catered luncheon and bus transportation are included. Outsiders are welcome and tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Eugene Tendler of Clark, chairman of the event.

Tax Policy Hearings Scheduled

Leonard C. Johnson, chairman of the Property Tax Task Force of the New Jersey Tax Policy Committee, announced a public hearing will be held at 10 a.m. on Thursday, April 22, in the aldermanic chambers of the City Hall, Paterson.

These meetings are the last in a series of eight regional hearings scheduled by the task force. The task force is interested in all aspects of the property tax in New Jersey. The property tax study is one of the important phases of the overall in-depth study of the tax structure of the state which is being undertaken by the Governor's Tax Policy Committee.

Halpin Will Seek GOP Nomination As County Clerk

Walter G. Halpin of Fanwood, county clerk of Union County, announced this week that he will submit his name to the Union County Republican Policy Committee through the Republican county chairman, Richard G. Schoel, to seek the Republican endorsement as their standard bearer in the forthcoming primary and general elections for reelection as county clerk.

Mr. Halpin was first elected county clerk in 1966 and was a protégé of the late Henry G. Nulton, who served six successive terms as county clerk, from 1936 to 1966. Mr. Halpin began his public career as a Union County Court clerk on Mr. Nulton's staff in January 1958. In 1960 he was made a special deputy county clerk and in 1963 appointed deputy register of deeds and mortgages by Register Joseph F. Durkin.

When Nulton retired from public life in 1966, he recommended Mr. Halpin to the Republican Party, who gave him their endorsement to run as county clerk. After a vigorous campaign, he was elected in November of that year by a majority of 15,000 votes.

Mr. Halpin brought many innovations to the office and in his first year introduced an automated filing system for the retention and retrieval of public records entrusted to his care. His office became the first automated public record room in the United States, utilizing existing space and speeding up searching of the records by attorneys and title searchers.

Insurance Brokers On Alert

"Insurance companies are now expending more money than ever before to detect crime and fraud in the handling of claims," the Insurance Brokers Association of New Jersey reported.

Local members of the association are Raymond F. Eggers Jr. of 208 W. Milton Ave., Rahway, and Jules A. Borris of 119 Fairview Rd., Irv. T. Gordon of 336 Clayline St. and Arthur E. Lloyd of 40 Emerald Pl., all of Clark.

"Of some $10 billion in auto loss claims filed annually, an estimated 10% -- that's $1 billion -- has a suggestion of fraud."

"One speaker was quoted as saying there was an 'element of larceny' in a high percentage of homeowners' and tenants' insurance claims."

"A leading company, in reporting its results for 1970, said that it had been hurt by a substantial increase in 'false' claims for benefits for loss of time due to accident or sickness, and this company stated that this 'regularly' happened during recession years."

"Insurance companies have hired professional investigators, headed by a former police commissioner, to investigate such cases as those of individuals who make deals to get their deductibles back through overpriced repair jobs and kickbacks from repair men, and who give incorrect information -- even perjure themselves -- on facts which would establish contributory negligence."

"Fraudulent, dishonest, padded, or inflated claims which escape detection and which are paid act to increase the cost of insurance for everyone."

Teacher at ALJ Tells Of Her Trip to Ghana

Like most people, Mrs. Louria Dandy Smith, a teacher of English and Journalism at Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark, likes to travel.

But unlike most people, Mrs. Smith, who recently became the bride of Burke Smith in Newark, really gets to those faraway places. Like Ghana, West Africa.

She spent six weeks studying and traveling in that country last summer. A graduate of Clark College in Atlanta, Ga., where she majored in English, with a minor in French, Mrs. Smith is a dedicated and enthusiastic teacher who keeps pace with workshops and in-service opportunities available in this area.

Mrs. Smith arrived at Johnson Regional in 1968. This year, she assumed the advisorship of the "Crusader," the school newspaper, and the staff presented her with a gift prior to her marriage to Burke, who attended the University of Southern California, where he majored in history, and, of course, a shower of rice. Her English students also gave her a surprise party, a book of poems and household items.

But to get back to Mrs. Smith's trip to Ghana. It is one of the highlights of her life, for she traveled with a group of 130 college students and teachers from all around the United States, with a staff from the American Forum for International Study. She enrolled at the University of Ghana, where her courses centered on the culture, economy, and history of West Africa.

"In many ways," Mrs. Smith said, "Ghana is a lot like the United States. There are beautiful hotels, homes, department stores and a variety of places for entertainment. Traffic flows freely on well-built highways and expressways with tolls."

"We toured Accra, the capital of Ghana, and we traveled to the industrial city, Tema. We also went on an excursion to the Akosombo Dam, built under Nkrumah's regime."

Another outstanding visit was to the well-known city of Kumasi. There, she witnessed the installation of the new ruler, Asanthehens. This was a once-in-a-lifetime thrill to Mrs. Smith because Asanthehens will rule throughout his life.

"The climate in Ghana was very pleasant in July and August, which was winter there," she said. "The native food dish was a stew made with chicken or fish and served with rice or a dough similar to a dumpling. This dish is called, "fufu."

The most primitive living conditions were found in small villages, where there was no electricity. There was, however, always a strong sense of unity among the villagers. The educational system is different from ours in that fees are paid, but university tuition is free. Perhaps the speech closest to a universal language is one called "Twi" (pronounced "tree"). However, each tribe has its own distinct language.

Ghana's wealth lies in cocoa farms, diamonds and gold, she said. "It is a friendly country, fast growing, experimenting with the new, while maintaining respect for traditions. The entire experience was totally wonderful and very rewarding. I didn't see any lions or snakes, but I saw a lot of lizards."

Mrs. Smith is always on the go, it seems. She attended a workshop at Glassboro, and has taken her students on field trips to theatre productions in New York and New Hope, Pa., relative to their study of literature.

Mr. Smith also likes to travel and the two of them plan to go to California this summer, stopping in all states en route to visit his historical monuments.

"Too many parents are sowing their oats instead of cultivating their children."

Swift Passage of Ethics Law Is Pushed by Senator Rinaldo

By Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo
UNION COUNTY SENATE DELEGATION LEADER

For nearly a year, the legislature has been considering S-825 a bill to put a meaningful conflict of interest law on the books in this state. As one of the measure's sponsors, I am convinced that it has been studied long enough, and the time for favorable action on this bill has come. So long as this state lacks a meaningful conflict of interest law, the dark cloud of suspicion remains suspended over the head of every member of the legislature. Governor Cahill has made S-825 a priority measure. And rightfully so. The governor properly regards this bill as a keystone in his program to improve the image of New Jersey, as well as the substance behind the image.

I consider it of the utmost importance to have public officials whose integrity is beyond question, especially in these days of rampant cynicism and eroding confidence in government's ability to be responsive to the needs of the people. It should be kept in mind that officials are elected to serve the interests of the people, and if a special interest group can come first in the mind of an elected official, the people usually come off second best. It is because I believe the people should come first that I strongly favor enactment of S-825 into law.

The bill would bar public officials, elected as well as appointed, and state employees from representing any third party in dealings with the state. The measure would specifically enjoin all state employees from acting as employees, partners or principals of concerns acting in behalf of anyone engaged in negotiations with the state. Naturally, it would not preclude attorneys from appearing in court in behalf of parties other than the state.

The conflicts of interest bill would also enjoin legislators from working to enact or defeat a proposal in which he has a monetary interest unless the legislator made known in writing his interest in the matter.

The Executive Commission on Ethical Standards, which was created in 1967, would be charged with enforcing the conflicts of interest law. The seven-member body would be empowered to conduct investigations and hold hearings on alleged violations of the law. Persons found guilty of violations could be subject to fines of up to $500 and suspension from office.

The conflicts of interest law would also involve the establishment of a strict code of ethics guiding the conduct of all state employees, including members of the legislature and set penalties for any violations.

It is my sincere hope that the legislature will enact this bill into law. Those of us who are in public life have an obligation to exercise a standard of conduct far above that of the ordinary citizen. Enactment of S-825 would represent a giant step toward restoring some sorely needed public confidence in the integrity of public officials.

Mother Seton to Stage A Fashion Show Monday

On April 19 at Mother Seton Regional High School, Clark, at 7:30 p.m., a fashion show entitled "Garden of Fashions" will be presented by the freshman charm students. There will be models from the charm classes who will represent the 50 states.

Each girl made her own outfit representing her state's present, past or future, and each will be competing for trophies in the following categories: prettiest, funniest, most original, most authentic and Miss Congeniality. Trophies will be given to the winner and runner-up in each category. Door prizes will be given and refreshments served. Students will comment during the show and others will display their talents. Proceeds will go to St. Jude's Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., working with leukemia patients and in research. It is a non-profit institution.

Part of the money will be used as a scholarship for a girl who will attend Mother Seton. The students, along with charm teacher Miss Meri, are working very hard to make this show a success and would appreciate your support.

Joy and Mourning Mark Meeting of Retired Men

Pleasure and gloom combined last week in the meeting of the Rahway Retired Men's Club at Trinity United Methodist Church Recreation Hall.

President John Kochy Jr., assisted by William J. Schults, first vice president, and Aime V. Carkhuff, chaplain, led the opening rituals with prayer, flag salute and patriotic singing. Frederick E. Davis, pianist.

Birthday anniversaries of 14 members were celebrated.

Mr. Kochy welcomed the members who were unable to attend previous meetings and expressed his pleasure at the large turnout.

John R. Topping, secretary, announced gifts to aid the club's charitable program; eyeglasses from Mrs. Mary Fox and Mrs. Ellen Connonon, Rahway; toys from Mrs. Charles Neuhaus, Clark; a box of get-well cards from Leo Seller. Resolutions of appreciation were voted. Mr. Seiler won the door prize, an electric broiler donated by Le Roy Clark.

Solemnity and sorrow covered the meeting when it was reported Charles W. Heid died Sunday, April 4. He was the 55th member to pass away since the club's inception on November 6, 1961.

Suspect Arrested After S & L Holdup

Garry Klinger of 161 Jaffray St., Brooklyn, N.Y., was arrested within minutes after police said he held up the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, Clark, and fled with $1,535 in a Volkswagen. He was also charged with two robberies of another savings and loan association last year in Cranford.
