Maguire Refutes Claim Disposal Site Would Put Rats in Residential Areas

Freeholder William J. Maguire of Clark, speaking at the "Know the People-Meet the Candidates Night" program of the Clark Republican Club on June 18 in the Franklin State Bank meeting room, refuted charges that hordes of rats would infest residential areas if a Union County garbage disposal area is established in Linden.

Freeholder Maguire, labeling such statements as scare tactics, also discredited the possibility that fires would result and that the area would cause odor pollution.

Pointing out that Linden was selected as the proposed site by Dr. Michael Disko, environmental engineering consultant, Freeholder Maguire said that as chairman of the freeholders' intergovernmental affairs committee he accepted the recommendation. The recommendation was included in the Phase I study.

The Clark freeholder, a former mayor of the township, urged all municipalities with "a stake in solving the waste problem" to consider the good of the community rather than the good of the party and adopt a resolution urging the Board of Freeholders to start the Phase II study. He pointed out that it is now "a battle against time."

Former Freeholder Arthur A. Manner of Berkeley Heights, candidate for Assembly in District 9-C, concurred with Freeholder Maguire's statements, asking that "people get complacent and think in terms of their own community."

Assemblyman Peter J. McDonough of Plainfield, a candidate for reelection, cited the record of accomplishments during Gov. William T. Cahill's administration. He said there has been "a 155 per cent increase in the state's contribution to higher education" and "legislation to protect the consumer." He added there also has been legislation to fight crime in the streets and the growing narcotics problem.

Responsive to your needs" was the way State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union described his efforts in office. He appealed for solidarity among Republicans, warning the GOP that Democrats are said to outnumber Republicans in the county.

Freeholder Donald C. Dunne of Fanwood asked reelection to continue "the progressive programs instituted by the current Board of Freeholders. He said the freeholders plan to start consultants on budget problems with the Union County Conference of Mayors and the Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce.

Matthew H. Nilsen of Elizabeth, a freeholder candidate, cited his qualifications as a businessman and administrator.

Van Dyke J. Pollitt of Fanwood, candidate for an unexpired term of state senator, stated Gov. Cahill has held the line of taxes and noted his appointment by the governor to a special tax commission.

Robert W. Lee of Plainfield, candidate for sheriff, said he would establish a program to make certain no man would be idle while in jail.

George Ebbe, club president, reported the public forum was a success and added that another such event will be held next fall.

The Clark Recreation Department, sponsored by the Clark Board of Education scheduled night programs at Abraham Clark and Frank K. Hehny schools. These playgrounds will be open each evening from July 6 to Aug. 20, excluding Saturdays and Sundays. Some of the programs to be offered in the evening are co-ed volleyball, co-ed softball, touch football for the boys, and a concert under the stars. These programs are geared toward the teenagers.

Board of Adjustment Recommends Council Grant Variance to Permit Reopening of Restaurant

Plans to reopen a restaurant at 108 Central Ave., Clark, received approval from the Clark Board of Adjustment at Monday night's hearing in the Municipal Building when the board voted unanimously to recommend to the Municipal Council that Edward Lubrano be granted a variance.

Voting in favor of Mr. Lubrano's application for a variance which would give him permission to operate the restaurant were Louis Wollman, chairman; Peter Campana, Chester Serden, Frank Svakauckas and Ralph Iozzi. Hearing on Mr. Lubrano's application was conducted on April 26 and May 24.

The board's decision came after a protest against the action was registered by Paul

R. Williams Jr., a Westfield attorney representing the Burger King Restaurant at 118 Central Avenue. Mr. Williams told the board that the hearing should have been continued to obtain additional testimony. He added that the applicant has not done so. Mr. Williams declared that he has not received the plans he expected to receive.

Mr. Wollman replied that there was no notice of a further hearing and that the minutes of the board's May 24 meeting do not mention a requirement that plans be submitted.

Mr. Williams then said he was "flabbergasted" at the failure to continue the hearing.

A variance is required for reopening of the restaurant on the property at 108 Central Avenue because a township ordinance, adopted last December, rezoned the site. The ordinance prohibits operation of restaurants in the zone. The Lubrano restaurant is subject to the provision of the ordinance because the eating place has not been operated since August 1969. Mr. Lubrano testified during the hearing that he built the building to house a restaurant in 1962, that he ran the business for three and a half years, and that he leased the building when he decided he could not run both the Central Avenue restaurant and his other restaurant, Tito's, at 1189 Raritan Rd.

Mr. Lubrano testified that if a variance is granted, the restaurant would be operated by Bonanza Restaurants.

Action on the application by Vincent Pereira for a variance which would allow him to demolish a detached garage on his property at 10 Dawn Drive and provide two off-street parking spaces was postponed until the board's July 26 meeting. Mr. Wollman explained the application was received too late for the members to inspect the property, Lot 5 of Block 64.

Graduates From Ole Miss

Stephen A. Caruso of Clark received a bachelor of arts degree in education from the University of Mississippi during commencement exercises on the University campus. Mr. Caruso majored in social studies.

JULY 4 EDITORIAL

Money Policies Foretell Of Major Readjustment

The Fourth of July is the birthday of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Every school child can so instruct. It is also a statement of resolve that guided patriot leaders through the Revolutionary War, through the instability of the Articles of Confederation, and to the point where they drafted the Constitution, giving specific powers to the central government and reserving others to the States.

Birthdays are promontories for reflection. They lead us to ask: How well have we fared to date? And what lies beyond?

Consider exclusively the vast monetary problems facing the nation today. Rarely since the foundation of the Republic has our monetary house been in such a confused state.

When the writers of the Constitution gave the federal government the right to mint monies and to regulate them, they assumed the process would be done with the general safety and welfare in mind.

Today, federal politicians have taken all restraint away. In fact, there were manifestly more controls over currency, the ratio of bullion to paper money substitutes, and the amount of lending that could be effected by banks in relation to bullion in the 1920's than there are today.

Just prior to that fateful day in October of 1929, there was eight times the amount of paper money in circulation than there was gold in government vaults. Today that ratio is, at least, 25 to one, and, without discussing complicated theories, federal money substitutes (paper and coin) have no value other than their acceptability to others, something which is on the decline rapidly abroad and less so at home.

Even at home, however, when President Johnson made dimes and quarters worthless in 1965, nearly every piece of silver disappeared, because good money, according to a principle of economics, is always removed from the market place, and the bad is left to circulate.

Central European bankers hold at least three times the number of dollars necessary to demand all gold in the federal vaults, and the position of European financial institutions is improving all the time.

On the horizon, Americans should be resolved that a devaluation of the dollar, a lessening of its worth in regard to gold and foreign currencies, is in the wind, because vast welfare schemes, inflationary banking policies established by the federal government, and other radical government policies have left us few alternatives.

Monetarily, the nation is faring poorly on this Fourth of July. So poorly in fact that national politicians will avoid the issue. Right up to the eve of devaluation of the pound in Britain in the late forties, the exchequer, the head financial administrator, repeated lied to the British people, telling them a devaluation would never materialize, and on the morning thereafter he told the press that no governmental officer could follow any course of action but lying in this case. Be your own judge.

This Fourth is a day all Americans should be preparing for a major change in the economy in the not-too-distant future. An excellent book on what is to come is available at most book stores or can be ordered. "How to Profit from the Coming Devaluation" by Harry Browne outlines steps each taxpayer can take to safeguard himself during the period of a trying readjustment to come.

Bill on Withdrawal from Regional System Is Opposed Unanimously by Councilmen

Opposition to Assembly Bill No. 1098 was unanimously voiced by township council at its June 21 meeting in the municipal building.

The council adopted a resolution which had been previously passed by the board of education of the Union County Regional School District No. 1 on April 27.

Bill No. 1098 would provide a manner by which municipalities can divorce themselves from a regional school system. The resolution passed by council says the municipal body is not against such legislation in principle, but it considers the present bill seriously inadequate.

The Legislative Index, a compilation of all pending state legislation, lists as its sponsors Assemblymen Peter J. McDonough of Plainfield, Herbert H. Kiehn of Rahway, and Hugo M. Pfaltz of Summit.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The resolution lists eight reasons why both the regional board and the municipal council are against such legislation, and we feel the following supporting remarks, lengthy, nevertheless alert the public how carefully such dissolution legislation must be drafted.)

"1. The Board of Education is of the opinion that the County Superintendent should have a greater role other than a mere Fact Finder and should be empowered to make specific recommendations; the report required by R. 12A:8-5 as to the advantages or disadvantages of such withdrawal from an education standpoint.

"2. The Board of Education is deeply concerned with the use of the 'original cost' of a facility in order to determine assumption of indebtedness. The original cost of a facility within a municipality may bear no true current relationship to the total indebtedness within the District. Some more realistic method, i.e. replacement or current value basis of debt and asset allocation, should be devised.

"3. The Board of Education is deeply concerned with respect to the possible impairment of bonds already issued in the District in the event a municipality were to withdraw and would suggest a procedure whereby the credit of the withdrawing municipality would continue to be pledged until such time as outstanding bonds are satisfied. It has been suggested by bonding counsel that it may be legally impossible to withdraw the credit of a constituent district for bonds already pledged.

"4. It is felt that auditor or auditors of the Regional District and the withdrawing district should participate in the division of assets between the new district and the remaining district rather than the county superintendent of schools.

"5. The Board of Education feels that a situation has not been contemplated in the bill, namely, a constituent district having no actual high school facility within its borders decides to withdraw. What indebtedness would this municipality assume in view of the fact that it could not be measured by the 'original cost' of the building within its borders. The act as presently drafted would permit such a municipality to withdraw assuming none of the current indebtedness.

"6. The Board of Education is also deeply concerned with respect to the possibility of several constituent districts withdrawing leaving those municipalities having no high school building within their borders. What specific provision would be made to protect such municipality? As an example, in the County of Union, the Borough of Garwood and the Borough of Mountainside at the present time have no high school buildings within their borders and yet are members of the total regional district. What provision would be made in the event the other constituent municipalities such as Kenilworth, Berkeley Heights, Springfield and Clark were to withdraw?

"7. The Board of Education is deeply concerned about the omission of any explicit provision for tenured employees. How is the allocation of staff to be regulated upon withdrawal of one school from a regional district which operate several schools? What would be the situation for tenured administrators, who may have had responsibilities at several schools within the regional district, if the entire district dissolves? What would be the status of the tenured administrators?

"8. It is recommended that paragraphs 5, 8 and 10 of the proposed bill should be expanded to apply to limited purpose, as well as all purpose, regional districts. Copies of the resolution were authorized to be sent to the Commissioner of Education of the State of New Jersey, the New Jersey State School Boards Association, the Union County legislative delegation, and the governor.

Mayor Blasts Maguire On Taxes and Garbage

Mayor Thomas A. Kaczmarek, a Democrat, has attacked Republican Freeholder William A. Maguire alleging that Mr. Maguire should not criticize tax increased in Clark which the mayor said "were brought on by necessary programs needed to stabilize previous inefficiencies and lack of planning for the future."

The mayor claimed that Mr. Maguire refused to face the garbage issue "squarely" at the June 22 meeting of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders and was using it "to divert his (Mr. Maguire's) constituents' attention away from garbage to the management of his hometown, which incidentally he left in one awful mess!"

Mr. Kaczmarek accused the freeholder of allegedly walking out on Clark at the height of a difficult period.

The mayor also castigated Freeholder Maguire for voting for the record $33 million county budget which Mr. Kaczmarek said "represents an unconscionable 25% increase over the previous year, and further increases Clark's burden of over $1 million in county taxes."

Clark Police Officers Wear New Uniforms

Director of Public Safety Thomas Kelmartin of Clark and Police Chief Anthony T. Smar have announced a new uniform change had been made for the higher ranking superior officers in the Clark Police Department.

The new uniform replaces the military-style uniform worn in the past by members of all police departments. A blue blazer with a police shield-type emblem on the left breast, grey trousers, white shirt and striped tie comprise the new uniform. Hats and coats will be worn according to weather conditions.

"It is an attempt by the Clark Police Department to keep up with changing times. Hopefully, we will be able to deal more effectively with our citizens, putting them more at ease when discussing problems with our officers," it was stated in announcing the change.

At present only the higher ranking officers, the captain and lieutenants, who have administrative responsibilities, will wear the new uniforms. Firearms and other equipment will still be carried.

The old-style uniforms will be used in emergency situations such as disasters and civil disturbances, both locally and in neighboring communities.

It was added that the new uniforms "have been enthusiastically accepted by the superior officers." Mayor Thomas A. Kaczmarek and Council President A. Charles Walano have indicated their approval of the new uniforms and of the concept which initiated the change.

Crusader Band Captures Elks Parade First Place

Last year the Clark band received third place. It is the only band to win a prize two consecutive years.

George Florian, coordinator of the Elks' Convention activities for Clark Lodge No. 2327, stated that a trophy will be presented to Andrew Jupina, director of the band, and to band members sometime next fall.

The Crusader Band of the Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark, marched to first place in the East Central Division of the annual Elks Parade in Atlantic City on June 5.

The division embraced all adult and high school bands representing Union County. Band members played the "Colonel Bogey March," by Alford, and "El Capitan," by Sousa.

Goods Grounds for Settlement

Teachers and the Rahway Board of Education have come to what we believe to be an equitable and realistic wage settlement. Obviously, both sides cannot get everything they desire, because successful negotiations require compromise. It would appear both teachers and the board had enough sense to give in a little.

The most gratifying part of the settlement was its two-year nature. The terms of the contract provide for a 6 1/2 per cent salary increase which includes increments. The average teacher will receive $670 more salary in 1971-72 than he or she did in 1970-71. In addition, a cost-of-living provision was agreed upon for 1972-73 to be based upon such a reliable source of salary statistical data as the Bureau of Labor Statistics, United States Department of Labor, for the Northern New Jersey Metropolitan Area.

Several years ago we recommended this approach in a hard-hitting editorial which some people did not like. Several teacher representatives thought it was unfair to them, and that the paper was speaking too strongly for management which in the case of teacher-board negotiations is the board.

We did not feel that was the case at that time, and we know that this new contract will do several things all of which are to the great betterment of teachers and their school system. With this two-year provision, needless wage negotiations will not be the case. Teachers and the board will be able to enjoy probably well more than a year's vacation from negotiations and turn their attentions to other and more important educational matters, such as course content and student decorum.

With reliable statistical guides to inflation levels, as we suggested two years ago, both teachers and the board can have down-to-earth yardsticks to compare their positions to and not come together in "give me everything" or a "we have nothing extra to dispense" attitude.

For all the parties concerned, we are very pleased to see an amiable solution reached that is based on reasonable evidence from a reliable source.

Guard Against Another Central Ave.

Any motorist who has attempted to navigate through the traffic mess that develops in Clark during rush hours at the "circle" where the Garden State Parkway, Central Avenue, Valley Road and Brant Avenue collide will agree that no municipality should get into such a condition.

To have the traffic enter township streets from the parkway is bad enough for any municipality. To have local streets which carry a great amount of traffic go through the area compounds the problem.

The difficulties all motorists experience in the area, especially the Central Avenue section, are multiplied by the hodge-podge of businesses which have been permitted to locate in the area. Stores which draw a great number of shoppers and drive-in eateries have congested the area beyond all reason. Property in the section undoubtedly is much desired because of the great amount of traffic but there is no excuse for the heavy concentration in one section of businesses which depend on large volume to exist.

When the area at Valley Road and Walnut Avenue is developed (as it most certainly will be in the future) the township officials should guard against saturation. A hotel and an office building at the intersection would enhance the area. One has only to look at the 1 Walnut Avenue property as it exists to realize there would be an improvement.

There seems to be no doubt that the old factory building on the opposite side of Walnut Avenue will be replaced sometime in the years ahead. The township should be alert to the possible danger of allowing another Central Avenue to emerge at the site.

God's Eternal Concern

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in the series of sermons by Rahway Clergymen. This week the sermon was written by the Rev. Walter J. Meier, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church.

"I will also speak of thy testimonies before kings, and shall not be put to shame," Psalm 119:46. "Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you rather than to God you must judge; for we cannot but speak of what we have seen and heard," Acts 4:19,20. Four hundred and forty one years ago, this week, several men dared to stand before the emperor of the Holy Roman Empire and present a confession of faith with seemed to contradict the accepted tenants of Christianity.

Were these men at the Diet of Augsburg right or wrong, and what does their conscience-motivated protest mean for us in our time?

Our affirmation of faith, along with theirs, sees the plain truth of scripture brought forth again after a period of submersion in tradition and speculation. We see the normative character of God's Word judging every act and thought of man, both in church and state.

How disconcerting this principle is? God's Word does not let us bless every wind of religious fad and national policy that blows our way. God stands as judge when we would use Him to give credence to our blinded interpretations of daily events; to wars of national honor, to hatred among men, to misuse of resources and potential, to continuation of outmoded patterns.

However, the Eternal One who is concerned with righteousness and justice among men calls us to new interpretations and understanding of His will in each generation of men. This can be hard to understand for those who always expect things to remain the same. He is the same, but the conditions of history and our attempts to respond with solutions to problems are subject to constant evaluation. The prophets questioned the religious and political motivations of their contemporaries because they were subject to a higher authority and could not condone mistakes simply because they were popular. John and Peter questioned the authorities of Jerusalem when they proclaimed the Lordship of Jesus because they knew God had sent a new day and a new way.

We also are confronted by the challenge of God's Word. Will we stay with the acceptable and attempt to make His will fit our interpretations, or will we be subject to a higher authority and be willing to suffer the displeasure of our contemporaries because our ideas seem controversial, radical or threatening? God's concern for the welfare of men is steadfast, but not always easy to discern because it does not coincide with the self-interest expressed in our views of how things should be done.

God's mastery over all of life will continue. Some men in every generation will see the implications of His will and question what the rest of us are doing. Not because they want to see change for the sake of change. But because they see God's eternal concern shedding new light on the events of their time. Men of conscience, guided by scripture and the Holy Spirit, will always be around to keep us from getting too satisfied with ourselves.

Letters to the Editor

Dietz Record Can Stand Scrutiny

In last week's edition of The News-Record, William Wanko attempted to discredit the Democratic candidate for State Senator, Christopher Dietz.

To begin with, he wondered why the Democratic city committee endorsed Mr. Dietz when not too long ago, some of them were upset with his action on the board of education. The answer is simple: members of committee are, unlike Mr. Wanko, intelligent enough to realize that Mr. Dietz always acts forthrightly and courageously. Certainly this makes Mr. Dietz controversial, but more importantly, it makes him a valuable asset to the community. Having served as chairman of the Cancer Crusade, United Fund, March of Dimes and Rahway Hospital Drive, Mr. Dietz has aided countless numbers of our citizens. Our youth have benefited not only by his legal advice but by his devoted service as scoutmaster, southern district chairman and vice president-general counsel of the Union Council, Boys Scouts of America.

Should a young friend or relative of Mr. Wanko find himself in trouble, chances are that Mr. Dietz, as former vice chairman of the Union County Children's Shelter, trustee of Youth and Family Counseling Service, member of the advisory board of Westfield Children's Specialized Hospital and a member of the State Bar Juvenile Delinquency Committee, would be the one to help. In fact, Mr. Dietz has played a role in helping all youth in New Jersey since he served on the Governor's Youth Task Force.

The only thing left to wonder about is why Mr. Wanko takes time off from his own civic service for rabble-rousing and snipe tactics of the lowest level. That type of activity our community doesn't need. My thanks to The News-Record for printing this rather lengthy, but necessary, reply.

2 Trips to Camp Set by City Y

The first two trips of the 1971 Camp Fairweather have been announced by "Scotty" Tompkins, director of the Rahway "Y" day camp program.

Friday of this week, a trip will be taken to the Bronx Zoo where the day campers will take the motorized tour of the zoo and enjoy animals individually in a complete day at the zoo.

Next weekend, July 10-11, the first overnight camping trip of the season will be taken to Camp Speers in the Pocono Mountains. This will be the first time that two overnight camping trips at Camp Speers as two or four week campers are there because they first went on "an overnight" with Camp Fairweatherites to Camp Speers, Tompkins said.

Over 80 boys and girls are presently attending the first period of Camp Fairweather. Parents interested in more information are urged to call the Rahway "Y" at 388-0057.

Marines Aid GS In Ongoing Plan Of Refuse Reuse

Junior Girl Scout troop 130 began an ecology program in November, 1970. They started collecting aluminum, steel and tin for a service project in the community. The girls cleaned areas along Union County Parkway Road and in the community parks. They visited 17 other troops in Clark and Winfield Park and showed leaders, parents and scouts the proper way of preparing solid waste materials for recycling. They passed out fliers telling the preparations to citizens in town.

In March they displayed an ecology exhibit at Bamberger's Mall and in the Clark Public Library for Girl Scout Week. They aided Third Ward Councilman Bernard G. Yarusavage in promoting a community ecology depository for all citizens and worked at the depository on numerous occasions. Through their efforts, the town has an Environmental Improvement Fund with a balance of $160 from materials returned for recycling. These materials were sorted by Junior Girl Scout Troops, and men from the public works department along with many interested citizens.

The troop was nominated for two national awards for had been made trying to loan anti-litter projects in youth cate someone to donate a group, one award through truck for the delivery of the National Girls Scouts, their materials to Reynolds U.S.A., the other award Reclamation Center, Newark through a monthly magazine. No one was willing.

Finally like an answer to a prayer, the Marines were on the scene with two trucks. This was made possible by Mrs. George Hebbe, Jr., 514 Ledgebrook Ave., Elizabeth, Sgt. Major Victor Dutka, Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, Middlesex, Cpl. William Day, Cpl. Anthony Zak.

Cicarell Resigns As Head Coach Of TJ Gridders

Frank Cicarell of 2174 New Church St., Rahway, who was appointed principal of Thomas Jefferson High School of Elizabeth earlier this year, has resigned as coach of the school's varsity football team.

Cicarell, head coach of the Tee-Jays for 12 years, compiled a record of 67 victories, 21 defeats and two ties. His greatest team in the dozen years of coaching was last year's eleven which was unbeaten and which won a state championship.

A lifelong resident of Rahway, Cicarell played football, baseball and basketball at Rahway High School and later was on the football and baseball teams of Springfield College.

Cicarell joined the Thomas Jefferson High School staff in 1951 as a science teacher and line coach for the football team. He was vice principal of the school from 1963 until his promotion to principal.

The fact that Thomas Jefferson High School is to be evaluated in the coming year by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools was cited by Cicarell as the most important factor in his decision to resign as coach. He explained that the extra conferences, meetings and additional planning would make it impossible for him to give sufficient time to coaching.

It's a better economy car than the leading import.

That's right. It's better than the Volkswagen Beetle.

How much better?

Well, it has almost twice the luggage space of the Beetle, yet it's only three inches longer.

It's got a longer lasting, more powerful engine than the Beetle, but it can still cover about 26 miles on a gallon.

In fact, the car you see before you has 89 things no Beetle ever had.

We call it the Super Beetle.

What else would you call a Beetle that's better than a Beetle?
