Trial Starts in Elizabeth To Upset Building Ban

Hearing of the suit against the Township of Clark and Building Inspector John Doenzelmann to have the township ordinance against issuance of permits for commercial building declared invalid started on Tuesday before Superior Court Judge Milton A. Feller in the Court House, Elizabeth.

The suit was instituted by property owners after the Municipal Council on July 12 adopted an ordinance banning construction in commercial zones for six months. Judge Feller last month denied a motion to have the moratorium set aside and set Oct. 12 as the date to begin trial of the case.

The plaintiffs started the suit after Building Inspector Doenzelmann denied requests for building permits. The plaintiffs named the township, Mr. Doenzelmann and the Planning Board as defendants. Judge Feller eliminated the Planning Board as a defendant in the case since all of the plaintiffs had obtained approval of site plans before the moratorium was imposed.

The suit was started by Stanley A. Warner of 719

Vote by Students In College Towns Blocked by Court

The Appellate Division of Superior Court on Tuesday turned down a request that could have permitted students to register to vote in their college towns in next month's general election.

The students, five Morris County residents, were represented by Arnold J. Gold of 55 Stonehenge Ter., Clark, an attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union. In an "emergency" decision, the state's second highest court upheld a Superior Court denial last week of a show-cause order that would have paved the way for student registration in time for the Nov. 2 election. Arguments were held on

Walter Johnson Awarded Club Medal for Heroism

Walter J. Johnson, proprietor of the Johnson Funeral Home at 803 Raritan Ave., Clark, was given Kiwanis International's Robert P. Connelly Medal for Heroism at the installation director and chairman of the Ethics and Arbitration Committee of the Realtor Association for the past two years.

Mr. Stemmer's public service included 10 years on the Township Committee of Clark as mayor, clerk and commissioner of finance.

He was a member of the Union County Board of Freeholders for nine years, six as the board director, and for the past three years he has been county treasurer.

While in county government he was a vice president and the legislative chairman for the State Freeholders Association. He was instrumental in obtaining governmental support for the expanded Union County Technical and Vocational school system. He organized and obtained the first banking institution for Clark and was instrumental in the creation of the Planning Board for the Township of Clark and the County of Union.

Mr. Stemmer has filled many offices in the Kiwanis Club and is a member of the American Legion.

No Action On Course Application

Planning board chairman Jerry Fontinelli told representatives of Oak Ridge, Inc., owners of the Oak Ridge Golf Course, to amend their map for development of the course before the board would consider industrial and residential development of the site.

Mr. Fontinelli said the maps are deficient in the following regards: (1) they do show an offset of 150 feet from Oak Ridge Road when, he said, 200 feet is required; (2) the map is drawn to the scale of one inch equals 100 feet when the scale should be one inch equals 50 feet; (3) proper contours of the land at two inch intervals are not shown, and (4) streets within 200 feet of the proposal industrial subdivision of 72 lots and residential subdivision for 23 lots are not shown.

Mayor Thomas A. Kaczmarek said the entire subdivision "reeks with conflict of interest" because he maintains that it is a conflict of interest for Irvine B. Johnstone, Jr. former township attorney, to represent the owners of Oak Ridge, Inc. and be an assistant county attorney.

Allvin Skopp of 68 Wheat-sheaf Road thanked Mr. Fontinelli for recessing the last meeting to Tuesday night to give Jews who were celebrating Yom Kippur a chance to be heard. He read a letter from the township planners saying that development of the course was "not in the best interest of the community."

He urged the planning board to wait until the $65,000 flood control study of the Army Corps of Engineers was submitted before making a decision on the application for subdivision.

He further suggested the area be zoned "O" for conservation. Mr. Fontinelli indicated this course of action would not be proper because a man's land would be condemned by the action.

Tuesday morning in Trenton. The decision was rendered by Judges Sidney Goldman, Milton K. Mintz and Donald G. Collaster. The judges stated there would be little chance of "relief in time for this election," the appeal was "too late" and would upset election procedures, and the students would not be disenfranchised since they could vote in their hometowns or by absentee ballot.

dinner dance of the Rahway Kiwanis Club in the Colonia Country Clubhouse, Woodbridge.

The medal was awarded to Mr. Johnson, a member of the club, for his rescue of a seven-year-old girl from drowning in the Middlesex Water Company reservoir.

Mr. Johnson saved the life of Patricia Campbell of 25 Kent Pl., Summit, who was skating on the ice of the reservoir when she fell through the ice into the water. Mr. Johnson was seated on a log on the reservoir property with his wife and their two daughters when he heard someone scream.

"There's somebody in the water under the bridge," Mr. Johnson, who had one shoe off when he heard the scream, ran on the ice and went under the bridge. Feeling the ice cracking beneath his weight, he clung to the top of the bridge with one hand and used his other hand to extend a hockey stick to the child who was flailing about in the water. The water at that point was more than six feet deep.

When the child was rescued and he had to leave the ice, Mr. Johnson was advised by others at the scene to run on the ice as fast as possible. Mr. Johnson ran across the cracking ice but was able to reach safety without going in the water.

The Connelly Medal is awarded by Kiwanis International to persons who risk their lives or physical harm on behalf of others when they might just as well have passed along the way."

The committee's main areas of concern are:

1. To educate parents concerning drug use and abuse and its ramifications;
2. To persuade the township youngsters not to use drugs by providing alternatives for their energies as well as opportunities for airing their problems;

The Mayor's Committee on Drug Abuse consists of 24 members. They are Edward Ammann, Dr. Joseph P. Cillo, Mrs. William M. Elliott, Philip Foster, Mrs. Henry W. Graveman, Howard F. Hickey, the Rev. ## Board of Adjustment Will Hear Appeals For Residential Buildings

Two applications by William Capotosta for variances to permit construction of one-family dwellings on Hawthorne Drive and Byron Place will be given public hearings by the Clark Board of Adjustment when it meets on Monday, Oct. 25, at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

The variances are required because plans submitted by Capotosta to Building Inspector John Doenzelmann would result in front depth violations if the houses were constructed. Mr. Capotosta plans to erect the Hawthorne Drive house on Lot 4-A of Block 14 and the Byron Place house on Lots 19 and 20 of Block 38-H.

The board also has scheduled hearings on applications by Clifford Kohler to erect a carport on property at 642 Raritan Road and Joseph DeLuca to add an attached two-car garage to a house at 211 Hawthorne Drive.

Junior Scout Troop 1030 Wins Award for Service

Junior Girl Scout Troop 1030 of Clark has been honored by Parents Magazine for its outstanding service to the community during 1970-71.

The troop consists of 28 girls, four leaders and nine committee members. The girls' ages range from 9 to 11.

The award was presented to Troop 1030 by Mayor Thomas A. Kaczmarek of Clark at a special awards program on Oct. 6 in the Clark Municipal Building.

The honor was given because of the outstanding work of each girl in Troop 1030. The girls promoted a solid waste recycling program for the township. They spoke at numerous troop meetings on the need to preserve our natural resources and to re-use those already on today's consumer market. The scouts also cleared many public areas in the township of litter.

The scouts were chosen for the magazine's Youth Group Achievement Award for its work in conservation and action through recycling. In national recognition of its excellent service, the group has received an honor plaque. There will be announcement of the award in the October issue of Parents Magazine.

Leaders of Troop 1030 are Mrs. Wenzel R. Dousa of 16 Valley Road, Mrs. Charles Schmidt of 21 Hillside Drive, Mrs. John Suba of 94 Liberty Street, and Gerald Kaminsky of 3 Linda Lane, all of Clark.

The awards were inaugurated by the magazine to encourage and give recognition to young people engaged in useful public service. This is the 17th consecutive year the awards have been made and it is believed to be the first award of this type to be given to any organization in Clark.

NJ Agency Gives Permission to Halt Two Bus Routes

The State Board of Public Utility Commissioners this week agreed to permit Transport of New Jersey (formerly Public Service Coordinated Transport) to discontinue its Avon Avenue Bus Route No. 56 and the Clark Township-Elizabeth-Kearny Bus Route No. 35-40.

William E. Ozzard, PUC president, commented that "the board believes that discontinuance of these routes not only allows economies to a company suffering serious monetary loss but also, and more importantly, furthers the board's goal of eliminating routes which unnecessarily duplicate other bus or rail transportation. These routes are each duplicated several times - a situation which precludes any company from reversing its loss situation."

Transport of New Jersey sustained a net loss of more than $3,000,000 in 1970 and has experienced a loss in excess of $2.3 million for the first five months of 1971. While out-of-pocket expenses for the operation of buses is $9.43 per hour, revenue of the No. 56 route averaged $7.13 in 1970 and revenues of the No. 35-40 route varied between $5.27 and $7.94 per hour.

Transport estimated an annual savings of $70,000 from discontinuance of the No. 56 route and $17,000 from discontinuance of the No. 35-40 route.

Alternate service to the No. 56 route will be provided from Irvington to Newark by Transport routes 13, 70, 25, 42 and 8. In Irvington, alternate service is provided by independent bus routes 5, 6, and 94.

Alternate service to the No. 35-40 route between Clark and Elizabeth is provided by the Somerset Bus Co. Route No. 15 and between Roselle and Elizabeth by Transport's Route No. 49. Both routes duplicate No. 40 service street by street. Service between Elizabeth Center and Elizabethport will be provided by Transport's routes 30, 11, and 24.

Bill Martin To Compete In 2 Races

Other Story on Page 8

Bill Martin, proprietor of Martin's Furniture Store of 67 Westfield Ave., Clark, will compete with his 25-foot Magnum speedboat, Hustler II, in tomorrow's ocean race from Miami, Fla., to Nassau, Bahamas Islands, and in the America's Cup Race in Florida during December.

Mr. Martin, who holds the single-engine Class III championship in speedboat racing, said he does not "expect to do too much" in tomorrow's race. He explained that he is hoping for fourth place in the overall competition over the 184-mile course between Miami and Nassau and second place in points.

Hustler II, with Mr. Martin as the driver, is expected to give the favored speedboats stiff competition, however. The leading competitors are Bill Wisnick of New York, who won the world championship; Bob Magoon of Miami Beach, the national powerboat champion, and Vincenzo Balestrieri of Italy, the world champion off-shore powerboat driver. Mr. Martin said that he has started the Miami-Nassau race five times and finished once. In 1970, he noted, Hustler II blew an engine only three miles from Nassau.

The entrants are expected to cover the 184 miles in a little less than three hours and to average 72 to 74 miles an hour, according to Mr. Martin.

Bob Dewan of Elizabeth, formerly of Rahway, and Herb Bopp of Point Pleasant will be aboard Hustler II with Mr. Martin when the race starts tomorrow.

Dr. Merachnik Lauded For School Leadership

Dr. Fred B. Hagedorn, president of the Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District No. 1, in a statement about the appointment of a new superintendent of schools, commended the appointee, Dr. Donald Merachnik, who served as the acting superintendent and as assistant superintendent.

"In selecting Dr. Donald Merachnik to be superintendent of schools, the Regional Board of Education is confident of his success," Dr. Hagedorn said. "Dr. Merachnik's talents, leadership, and dedication to fulfillment of educational opportunity for each child have long been recognized within the regional district. The district was indeed fortunate to have an assistant superintendent of Dr. Merachnik's caliber and capabilities to serve as acting superintendent while the board evaluated applications from more than 100 candidates for the superintendency.

"As has been previously announced, the board did not decide in favor of any of these candidates. Rather, the board has concluded that Dr. Merachnik is best qualified for the permanent appointment to the superintendency. Among the more important factors which entered into the board's decision were Dr. Merachnik's obvious and extensive abilities, his first-rate performance in his previous assignments, his character and integrity, and his detailed knowledge of the regional district. The board believes that these and the many other outstanding characteristics which Dr. Merachnik has shown will serve him and the district well in providing the educational leadership necessary for the 1970's.

Dr. Merachnik was appointed by unanimous vote at a special meeting on Oct. 5. His contract will run from Oct. 1 of this year to June 30, 1972. The regional district comprises Berkeley Heights, Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth, Mountainside and Springfield, and operates four high schools.

DOING HOSPITAL WORK ... Miss Ruth Dengrove of Rahway, who teaches school on Okinawa, is shown as she worked in the medical records department of Rahway Hospital last summer.

Rahway Woman Likes
Okinawa Teaching Job

A Rahway teacher, who has been working on the island of Okinawa for two years, has found that the position there has provided her with wonderful opportunities for travel to faraway places.

Miss Ruth Dengrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Dengrove of 1453 New Church Street, took the third grade teaching job on Okinawa after having been a teacher in Frank K. Hehly School, Clark, for five years.

Since taking the Okinawa teaching job she has visited Australia and New Zealand during a Christmas vacation and Korea during an Easter vacation. She also has been to Thailand, Singapore, Malaysia, Japan, the Philippines, Hong Kong and Taiwan. Over Labor Day she went on a trip to Hiroshima.

Miss Dengrove is planning to visit Afghanistan and Kashmir when she has two weeks vacation at Christmastime this year.

When not traveling or teaching school, the Rahway woman likes to crawl pictures and pillows.

A teacher in the Kadena Elementary School at Kadena Air Base on Okinawa, Miss Dengrove describes her surroundings as similar to those of a midwestern city of 30,000. She said that the Japanese culture which has existed on Okinawa for many years undoubtedly will become more prevalent when Japan again takes control of the island next year.

Miss Dengrove returned to Okinawa in mid-August. She spent the summer doing volunteer work with microfilm in the medical records department of Rahway Hospital.

Miss Dengrove is a member of the American Educators Association of Okinawa, the Overseas Education Association and the National Education Association.

Car Prices
Are Hiked
By VW

Retail prices of Volkswagen being sold in the United States will increase by between 4 and 5 per cent as a result of the new surcharge imposed on imported cars by President Richard M. Nixon on Aug. 16, a VW official reported today.

Richard Hamilton, vice president of Jenewein Volkswagen, authorized VW sales, service and parts facility at 900 E. Elizabeth Ave., Linden, said that while the duty on imported cars had been boosted from 3.5 per cent to 10 per cent, the 6.5 per cent increase applies only to the import duty and not to what heretofore were VW's suggested retail prices.

"Many people have been misled into believing that our retail prices would have to be increased by 0.5 or 10 per cent," he said. "The fact is that when you apply what the increase is on the import duty to what our suggested retail prices were prior to Aug. 16, the increases work out to only between 4 and 5 per cent."

Further, he pointed out, if Congress, when it reconvenes September 8, rescinds the 7 per cent Federal Excise Tax retroactively to Aug. 16, the rebate to customer's would more than offset the price increase and the cost of a VW now -- to the customer at least -- would be virtually the same as it was before the President acted.

New prices for VW's announced here today showed that the firm's "Custom beetle," which had sold for $1,899, was increased 4.2 per cent to $1,978. Its popular station wagon, or "bus," model, also went up 4.2 per cent, to $3,193, and its new 400 series, which includes VW's first four-door sedan, rose by 4.9 per cent to $3,302, from $3,149.

Income Nearly $4 Million
W. Emlen Roosevelt, president of the National State Bank, Elizabeth, reported net income for the period ending Sept. 30, of $3,946,731.63. This represented an earnings of $1.31 per share.

Local School Controls Will Be Topic Oct. 27 Of Conservative Club

The only independent member of the Westfield Board of Education, Dr. Joseph E. Kalbacher, will address the Republican Conservative Action Club of Union County on Wednesday, Oct. 27, at the Union County Republican Headquarters, 610 North Ave., Westfield, at 8 p.m.

Choosing "Do We Have Local Control of Our Schools?" as his topic, Dr. Kalbacher will explore what he sees as the excessive powers of the state commissioner of education, Dr. Carl

L. Marburger. Title 18A, which sets forth the powers of the commissioner, as well as the operating rules for the state's school system, was composed in an era when people did not envision excessive and arbitrary powers being exercised by Dr. Marburger, Dr. Kalbacher contends.

State Senator Frank X. McDermott, R-Union, who introduced a bill in the spring session of the State Legislature to curb the commissioner's extensive powers, stated that in criminal hearings the defendant is not sentenced until he has been convicted, but with local boards of education, Commissioner Marburger makes edicts by which boards are presumed to be guilty and from which they have no place to appeal.

NJ Has Failed In Crime Fight Dietz Declares

Christopher Dietz of Rahway, a Democratic candidate for state senator in Union County, declared this week that the state has failed in efforts to prevent juvenile delinquency or to rehabilitate youthful lawbreakers.

A "realistic revision" of the state's Juvenile Delinquency Law, which has remained essentially unchanged since the 1920's, was advocated by Mr. Dietz. He said the juvenile delinquency rate has increased since the beginning of 1970.

Nearly 81,000 persons under 18 years of age were arrested in 1969, Mr. Dietz reported, adding that the figure represented an increase of 36.1 per cent over the previous year's total. In Union County, he continued, juvenile arrests rose 104 per cent between 1968 and 1969, and formal juvenile court hearings increased by 23.8 per cent between 1968 and 1970.

Service League Topic Is Scholarship Party

Plans for the eight annual scholarship cocktail party and a couples party were discussed by Mrs. Arthur De Lorenzo, ways and means committee, at the Rahway Service League's first meeting of the season on Oct. 4 in the Claude H. Reed Recreation and Cultural Center, Rahway.

Mrs. William Assell, president, welcomed the new provisional members, Mrs. Hans Jensen, Mrs. Angelo Marconi and Mrs. Joseph Peter.

The Thrift Shop manager, Mrs. Raymond Moeckis, reported business was "doing well" but there is a need for more housewares, small appliances, baby equipment and other taxable items for the store.

Donations from the profits from the shop over the summer were reported by the treasurer, Mrs. Malcolm MacFarlane. The recipients and the amounts given were: Rahway Twirling Club, $100; Retarded Children's Summer Program, $850; Rahway Hospital, $1,350; camper-ships, $170; Mobile Meals, $140, and Rahway Public Library, $630. The library will use the money to purchase a stereo console.

110 Absentee Ballots for Rahway And Clark Among 1,586 Mailing

The first batch of absentee ballots were mailed out by County Clerk Walter G. Halpin Friday. Among the 1,586 absentee ballots were 74 for Clark and 36 for Rahway.

The ballots are mostly for college students, Mr. Halpin said, and noted further that 800 more were mailed out Tuesday.

Mr. Halpin observed that the number of absentee ballots is nearly double what it was in 1967 when the state senators were up for election.

Absentee ballot breakdowns of the Friday mailing for other towns are: Westfield, 475; Union, 268; Springfield, 168; Cranford, 111; Berkeley Hgts, 111; Linden, 89; Fanwood, 72; Mountainside, 66; Plainfield, 64; New Providence, 42; Winfield, 5, and Garwood, 3.

District Officers Plan Visit Today To VFW Women

The Fifth District president, Mrs. Harry Snyder of Cranford, and the senior vice president, Mrs. John Busa of Linden, will be guests of the Ladies Auxiliary of Mulvey-Ditmars Post 681, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Rahway, at the meeting tonight in the VFW Hall.

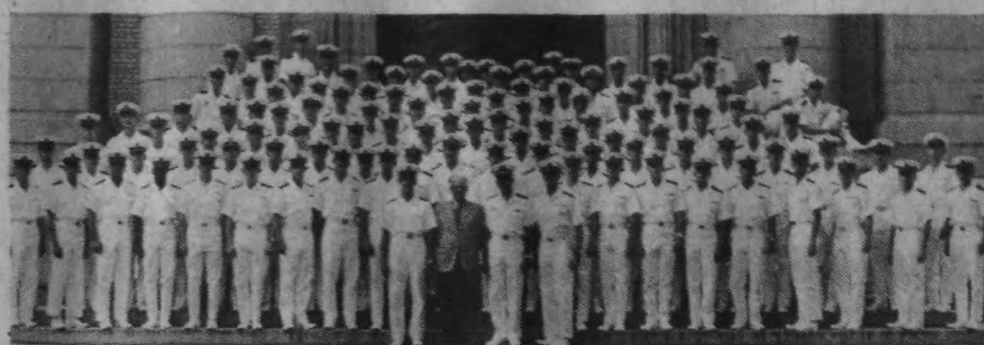

The purpose of the official visit will be to inspect the books of the auxiliary secretary and treasurer and to promote the programs of the national organization.

Mrs. Snyder will speak on behalf of the department president's special project, Deborah Hospital. A goal of $10,000 has been set by the Department of New Jersey's Ladies Auxiliary to be raised for the hospital. To reach the goal, funds will be solicited from the 280 auxiliaries throughout the state.

Mrs. Rudolph Szollar Jr. will be in charge of refreshments.

Save 17.5 Acres

Christopher Dietz, Democratic candidate for State Senator, has urged the state to employ the Green Acres program to purchase a 17.5 acre site in Berkeley Heights which about 200 citizens have formed an organization to save as open space.

ACADEMY CHOIR TO SING ... On Sunday at 5 p.m. the United States Naval Academy choir of Annapolis, Md., pictured above, will present a program of anthem and song in the Second Presbyterian Church, 1221 New Brunswick Ave., Rahway. The public has been invited to attend the concert by the 135-male voices. The choir will be singing for the first time in Union County. Following the program, the young men of the academy will be served dinner as the guests of Second Presbyterian Church before their return to Annapolis. There will be a few minutes between the program and dinner for guests to meet the midshipmen.

Strict Enforcement Cuts Speeding

Reappearance of the Rahway Police Department's radar unit on the city's streets is heartening.

The Rahway News-Record has long advocated strict enforcement of traffic laws, particularly the law against exceeding the speed limit.

There is no substitute for law enforcement as a deterrent to willful disregard of all safety precautions. There is no excuse for having the city's citizens, particularly the pedestrians, subjected to the hazards of careless and reckless drivers.

The Rahway Police Department should continue operation of its radar unit to control traffic in the city. If a sufficient number of speeders are caught and fined in Municipal Court, an improvement in the wanton disregard of traffic laws will be the result.

Patrolmen in cars also should be diligent in their apprehensive of speeders and other breakers of the traffic laws. Especially noticeable in Rahway is the careless manner in which buses and station wagons transporting schoolchildren seem to be among most irresponsible in their failure to keep within the speed limit and to operate their vehicles in a manner designed to get their young passengers to school safely.

Perhaps in the months to come we shall see an increase in the number of summonses issued in Rahway to speeders and other violators of the traffic laws.

Take Your Time To Vote Nov. 2

I read recently that only 65 per cent of the eligible voters are expected to bother voting this year. Although they call it a so-called "off-year," we are electing the whole state legislature, controlling power of the freeholder board, the sheriff and the county clerk -- not to mention our local contests.

With so many important offices at stake, it's difficult to understand how 35 of every 100 voters would "sit it out" and let someone else make their decisions for them. I hope that every eligible voter who reads this letter will resolve now to vote on Nov. 2. If you plan to be out of town, apply for an absentee ballot now while there's still time.

Our greatest American heritage is our right to vote -- to give a vote of confidence to those who are doing a good job for us or to replace them.

The five or ten minutes spent in a polling place is the best investment in America I can think of.

Suggests Dietz Investigate Cost Of Government

I see by state senatorial candidate Christopher Dietz's press releases that he is promising anything and everything to anybody except relief to the overburdened taxpayer.

He is ready to reform anything he thinks is wrong within the state of New Jersey, regardless of the cost to the poor taxpayer.

He is ready to set up all kinds of commissions to investigate anything and everything in New Jersey, except the high cost of running the state government for the poor taxpayer.

No wonder he came out in support of imposing an income tax on the people of New Jersey.

Ask any overburdened Rahway taxpayer about Christopher Dietz's costly programs in Rahway. By the way, when is Christopher Dietz going to admit publicly that he was a member of the Rahway Board of Education?

Denies Writing Journal Letter

Many comments and telephone calls have called my attention to an item which appeared in The Daily Journal's "Letters to the Editor" column on Sept. 27, 1971, over the signature, "James Smith, Rahway, N.J."

The writer would like it known that James Smith, 457 Elm Ave., Rahway, New Jersey, was not the author of the letter. JAMES SMITH President Rahway Savings Institution Rahway

Mayor Is Hit On High-Rise, Course Stands

It is with great interest that I, a 20-year resident of Clark, watch the current developments in our township.

In the last 20 years, my taxes have multiplied eight times, from a low of $126.27 in 1951 to nearly $1,000 for the year 1971, and I am sure this is not an isolated or abnormal case.

I truly believe in the adage, "a fair day's pay for a fair day's work." I also want to see our municipal employees well paid and desire to contribute my fair share. I am sure, however, none of these employees are receiving eight times the salary of 1951.

So, where is the rest? The police protection is no better or worse than 20 years ago. The school system is no more or less adequate than it was when my children were enrolled. The fire department is still a volunteer group, efficient, dedicated, and underpaid for their efforts. The employees of the road department are continually complaining, and the U. S. Postal Service in our town -- well, that's a complete story in itself.

Now, Mr. Kaczmarek, what have you done in the past three years?

You have told us we need more ratables, and as reported over Radio Station WJDM, you were quoted as saying we need multiple story buildings, and on the other hand you are trying to give away a half million in ratables to please a few golfers from the rest of the county, not just Clark.

Your constituents can hardly afford this luxury!

Mr. Mayor, I think the time has come for you to realize you are an elected official of all the people in Clark. By commercializing the areas of the second, third and fourth wards with high rise buildings, you are hurting the very people who supported you.

Mr. Kaczmarek, what have you done?

We read in the newspapers of the scandal of 1964; convicted officials have created a legacy of problems that no one wants, and most people do not know about. Have steps been taken to correct these inequities or to compound the felony?

Mr. Kaczmarek, what are you doing? You are now trying for the next step in the political ladder of success -- a candidate for freeholder. If you are successful, will you wear two hats half cocked on your head, a part part-

38 Homes and 300 Apartments Oked In Rahway and Clark During 1970

Twenty-two homes were constructed in Clark during 1970. All were single family dwellings. In Rahway, 316 units were permitted to be constructed: 16 one family dwellings and 300 apartments which are part of the Redevelopment Agency project.

The foregoing statistics were released by the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry, Division of Planning and Research.

Statistics are gathered from local building inspectors by the state department and compiled. The report also uses statistics of Division of Housing, New Jersey Department of Community Affairs.

Democratic Freeholder Candidates Slam GOP Freeholders on Spending

A strong anti-Republican trend is rapidly gaining momentum throughout Union County, according to the Democratic Board of Freeholder candidates.

In a joint statement, Clark Mayor Thomas A. Kaczmarek, Mrs. Matilda McGowan and Joseph L. Garrubio pointed out that they are "receiving a warm welcome and strong support wherever they go, including visits to communities which in the past have supplied large pluralities for Republican Party candidates."

"There is no doubt about it," the Democrats declared, "the taxpayers have had it with the Republican Freeholders' record-high county budgets."

"The people have learned from sad experience that in county government it's the Republicans who are the big spenders, and they are now determined to throw out the big spenders."

In 1967, with the Democrats in control, the tax increase was slightly more than $500,000. In succeeding years, under Republican control, the taxpayers have been whacked with annual county tax increases in excess of $2 and $3 million dollars.

The trio contrasted the "Republican big spending, waste and inefficiency with the economy and accomplishments achieved in the county under Democrat control."

According to the Democratic freeholder candidates, Union County taxpayers "now realize that the Republicans' multi-million dollar courthouse garage white elephant was not an isolated blunder."

"They recognize the fact that it typifies the wasteful big or miss type of programs and projects provided by county government when the Republican Party is in control."

Requests Views On Transit Plan

Assemblyman Peter J. McDonough of Plainfield has urged local governing bodies and civic groups to "speak out" regarding the proposed routing of the PATH rapid transit system in Union County.

Assemblyman McDonough met with Nelson Slaton, deputy commissioner of the Plainfield Area Chamber of Commerce, and Sam Damiano, the chamber's executive vice-president, this week.

"Local sentiment favoring the extension of the proposed line at least to Plainfield is invaluable to the state officials and they are actively soliciting these opinions," the assemblyman said. He noted that current plans extending the link to Cranford using the trackage of the Jersey Central railroad "are still in the feasibility study stages" and that decisions can not be made until ownership of various Jersey Central properties and agreements with other rail lines are resolved. This is expected soon.

Miss Curran Will Address Township Republican Club

The Clark Republican Club's monthly meeting will take place Friday, Oct. 15 at 8:30 p.m. at the Franklin State Bank, Raritan Rd., Clark.

Richard Weber, program chairman, invited Miss Barbara Curran, executive director of the New Jersey State Republican Committee, to speak on the accomplishments of the state legislature under the administration of Gov. William T. Cahill.

Forum to Hear Talk on Economy

Thomas D. Sayles, president of the Summit and Elizabeth Trust Company, has announced that Dr. Paul S. Nadler, nationally-known economist, will be the speaker at SETCO's annual business forum and luncheon on Oct. 28 at the Canoe Brook Country Club.

Dr. Nadler's topic, "The Economic Outlook for 1971-1972," will focus on trends and changes in the economic picture with emphasis on the current wage and price freeze.

Will Senate's New Child Bill Set Children Spying on Parents?

By E. Sidman Wachter

If the action of the Senate during the week of Labor Day is any indication of the legislation it will be enacting for the balance of 1971, it might better have remained in recess. Once again, the "heavenly twins," New Jersey Senators Harrison A. Williams, Jr., and Clifford P. Case, though members of opposing political parties, stood cheek by jowl on the wrong side of an important measure, indifferent to the desires of their constituents.

This time it was on S. 2007 that the two senators saw eye to eye. This sweeping new social engineering scheme for child development would not only extend federal day-care services to children in all income groups, it would also authorize the federal government, away off there in Washington "To involve itself in comprehensive physical and mental health, social and cognitive development services, food and nutritional services . . . identification and treatment of physical, mental and emotional problems, including a full range of health, education and social services . . . use of child advocates to assist children in securing full access to other services and other activities." (Report of Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare)

This so-called "Child Development Program" was part of a $6 billion bill extending federal anti-poverty projects for two more years. Incredible though it may seem, the bill was passed by the Senate 49-12, with Senator Williams voting for it and Senator Case announcing for it. Incidentally, one wonders where the 39 non-voting Senators were. Surely not all were ill. Could they have been junketing at taxpayers' expense on the other side of the world?

The Child Development Program, if passed by the House of Representatives, would involve $100 million in fiscal 1972 and commit taxpayers to a $2 billion program by fiscal 1973. However, the cost, astronomical indeed, is not the worst feature of this bill because it is the children of America who would be victimized by it. Big Brother wants your children and intends to get them! Under this measure, parental authority and even the institution of the family might well be destroyed.

Just the child advocate provisions make one shudder. The government would be empowered to confront and defy parents in the raising of their children and teach the youngsters to do likewise. This smacks of Nazi Germany, where the young carried favor with Nazi authorities by spying on their own mothers and fathers.

The day care centers funded, staffed and programmed by the federal government would also constitute a real danger to the family unit. In America, we believe that a child belongs to his parents, who are his natural protectors and guides. If temporary arrangements must be made for his care outside the home because of financial need, far better that he be placed in a religious or philanthropic day care center, locally funded, than in a national government institution hamstrung and tweaked by dogmatic directives disguised as "guidelines." Better still that the pre-school child be tended by an older relative or a neighbor, where "L.I.C." rather than "corrective intervention" may be given.

New York Senator James Buckley pointed out that the Child Development Program "would revolutionize the concept of child-rearing in the United States." He had the courage and good sense to vote against S. 2007.

Similar legislation is already being studied by the House Education and Labor Committee, America's children are in danger of being treated for "mental and emotional problems" that may or may not exist, by way of powerful experimental drugs, brainwashing, and psychoanalysis. All who oppose the provisions of S. 2007 should take time to write to their Representatives (Rep. Cornelius Gallagher for Rahway and Rep. Florence P. Dwyer for Clark) requesting that they vote against any bill setting up a Child Development Program.

Male Teachers in 1870 Received $57 a Month

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of articles written by the New Jersey Education Association to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the State's free public schools.

A century of free public education has not changed the lot of the teacher, according to the state teachers' organization. Then, as now, teachers considered their salaries too low.

"We have not enough experienced teachers," commented Cumberland County Superintendent of Schools A. R. Jones. "And why? Because we will not pay them. There are young men and women who love the work, but they soon learn that they will not be paid as they deserve. Who can blame them if they quit about the time they learn how to do it?"

In 1870-71, salaries for male teachers in New Jersey averaged $57.34 per month -- fourth highest in the nation. California led the pack with an average of $81.33. California also had the highest average salary for female teachers, $62.81, as compared to $32.43 in New Jersey, the New Jersey Education Association reported.

That was the average. The highest salaries were paid in the cities. But in Cape May County, one female teacher was earning a mere $16 per month.

In the 1870-71 school year, New Jersey's public schools had 1,979 female teachers and 952 males. In the 1871-72 school year -- the first year of free public education in New Jersey -- the total rose to 2,120 female teachers and 955 males, and average salaries climbed to $34.66 for females and $62.11 for males.

Male teachers commanded higher salaries than females. As a result, budget-conscious local school boards preferred females to males -- despite recommendations from state officials

Rinaldo Favors Aiding Elderly

State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo said this week that he favors the proposal that merchants grant discounts to senior citizens when they make purchases in the area's stores. Senator Rinaldo pointed out that most senior citizens live on fixed incomes that seldom keep pace with the cost of living increases.

Candidates Cite Narcotics Fight

Freeholders William J. Maguire and Donald Dunne, and another Republican freeholder candidate, Matthew Nilsen, pointed out this week that Union County's pioneering work in the field of drug abuse and narcotic addiction is just one of the many new concepts and innovations brought to county government during the past three years.

The three candidates said creation by the Board of Freeholders of a department for the prevention of drug abuse and narcotic addiction brought the county national recognition and won an award at the annual convention of the National Association of County Officials.

that hiring be done on the basis of qualifications and ability, not gender, NJEA reported.

Wrote Maurice Beesley, Cape May County's superintendent of schools: "May all our energies be directed to secure the services of competent teachers, where by the ends of the law may be answered, in dispensing knowledge free as the dew of heaven to every child within the borders of the state."

High teacher turnover worried E. A. Stiles, superintendent of schools in Sussex County, where few if any school districts had more than one teacher.

"One of the most glaring evils," he wrote, "is the frequent change of teachers. In a single district, six teachers have been employed during the current year. The average has been nearly two to each district, and there are hardly half a dozen in which the same teacher has presided for more than one year."

Those teachers who remained in the profession were attending meetings intended to improve their instructional skills. After the Warren County Teachers' Association met at Washington in August 1871, County Superintendent Ephraim Dietrich gave this report: "There was a goodly number in attendance. The exercises consisted of essays, class drills, and discussions and were highly interesting and profitable."

County superintendents periodically conducted "teacher institutes." Alexander Gilmore, the outgoing superintendent of schools for Camden County, conducted an institute on Nov. 1, 1869, in Williamstown, now in Gloucester County but at that time in Camden.

"Dr. Hart, principal of the Normal School at Trenton, N.J., read a lecture on the Method of Teaching which was replete with great research and deep philosophical knowledge," Mr. Gilmore wrote.

Mr. Gilmore gave this description of a presentation by a Camden County teacher: "Miss Hillman delivered her deep and well-propounded essay on school government. It was replete with naive and vivacious argument, and was one of the most striking of the essays of that species of scholastic erudition, and in the publication of which the public will have a mental treat of very rare character."

Vote Cost Defended

Mrs. Jerry English, Democratic candidate for the unexpired term in the State Senate from Union County, defended her estimate of $73,000 for conducting a special election to fill one State Senate seat and an assembly seat from GOP attacks which said the cost would be exorbitant. Mr. English stated that Burlington County which is roughly one third the size of Union County conducted a special election for about $24,500.

GOP Freeholder Candidates Say Dems See Impossible Dream...Low County Budget and Purchase of Oak Ridge

Two Republican candidates for re-election to one and one seeking his first term on the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders have charged their opponents with "political hypocrisy" for urging the county to spend millions of taxpayers funds to purchase the Oak Ridge

Golf Course in Clark.

They also noted the county has enough space at the Ash Brook course owned by the county to build a third golf course.

The Republican incumbents are William J. Maguire of Clark, a former mayor of the township, and Donald C. Dunne of Fanwood. The third candidate, Matthew H. Nilsen of Elizabeth, is in his first bid for a freeholder slot.

"In one breath, they complain about the county budget and in the next, they urge a giant expenditure for a third county golf course," Freeholder Donald C. Dunne said. "In their attempt to be 'all things to all men,' they didn't bother to point out that the budget is essentially 80% mandated and that it received wide, bipartisan support when it was adopted," he said.

"In these times of soaring tax rates, it is irresponsible to consider an expenditure of this magnitude," Freeholder candidate Nilsen said.

"A third golf course would benefit considerably less than 1% of our citizens while hitting everyone in their pockets," Freeholder candidate Matthew Nilsen said. "We simply aren't impressed with Mr. Kaczmarek's petitions, signed by golfers from inside and outside Union County, because the tax burden was not explained to them prior to signing."

The GOP candidates explained a third golf course can be developed at the site of the existing Ash Brook course in Scotch Plains, "but not until the tax climate is considerably better than it is today. The county already owns the land at Ash Brook."

"In their attempt to curry favor with the golfers who use the Oak Ridge course, the Democrats have turned their backs on the taxpayers who must foot the bill," they said.

The GOP candidates said there are eight golf courses in Union County, some private and some public. They are: Plainfield Country Club, Echo Lake Country Club, Roselle Country Club, Scotch Hills Country Club, Suburban Country Club, Oak Ridge Golf Club, Ash Brook Golf Club, and Galloping Hill Golf Club.

Mrs. Paul Moffett, a representative of the state office of the League of Women Voters, will present a slide lecture on tax reform in New Jersey. Time will be provided for questions and discussion.

The League of Women Voters in New Jersey has taken a four-point stand on tax reform. They believe New Jersey needs tax reform which will (1) reduce dependence on the property tax, (2) reduce disparities in tax rates and services among communities, (3) raise the overall level of state services, and (4) encourage state development that meets the needs of New Jersey citizens.

The executive board of the Linden League of Women Voters held its September meeting at the home of Emily Dooley, 948 Milton Blvd., Rahway.

Mrs. Ethel Mastracola, a consultant from the state league, was a special guest. She conducted an orientation program for the benefit of new board members.

The league is also planning a special United Nations meeting for next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Julia Greitz, 218 Palisade Rd., Linden. Mr. Behrooz Sadry, the administrative officer in the executive branch of the Department of Economic and Social Affairs of the United Nations, will be guest speaker.

Unit meetings on housing with focuses on zoning laws will also be held later this month.

Wants Bounties On Drug Pushers

TIP—Turn in a Pusher—a program placing a cash bounty on the heads of drug pushers was advocated by John T. Connor, Jr., Democratic candidate for State Senator from Union County. Under the proposal for TIP, the state would allocate money for the bounties—$500,000 for a start—and then have county prosecutors or sheriffs administer the program.

Rahwayan Member of Study Team Which Develops New Plastic Film

Dr. R. B. Isaacson, 2105 St. George Ave., Rahway, was a member of Celanese Corporation's 10-man research team that developed a microporous plastic film that was termed "one of the most significant advances in membrane technology since the introduction of cellophane in 1924." He is technical manager-resins at Celanese Research Company, Summit.

The new polypropylene film, known as Celgard, "breathes" but it is waterproof and bacteria resistant. The pores are small enough to prevent the passage of bacteria, water and selective fluids but allows air and water vapors to pass through.

Celgard will be marketed by Celanese Plastics Company for diverse applications in the medical, industrial processing and electric battery industries. Celanese said plastic membranes made of Celgard could be the basis of "totally new types of engineered devices for pollution control."

The Celanese inventors put five years of research and development effort into Celgard. At times it seemed it might remain a laboratory curiosity. However, they persisted and now, Celanese says, "out of it all came a truly uniform microporous film."

CHAIRMAN FOR TEENS APPOINTED ... Miss Virginia McKenney, chairman for the March of Dimes campaign in Roselle Park, has been appointed Union County chairman for teenage activities in behalf of the fund by Christopher Dietz of Rahway, chairman of the executive board of Union County chapter, National Foundation March of Dimes. Miss McKenney, member of the chapter's executive committee, said that it is "only natural that teenagers become aware of and involved in the March of Dimes and its fight to prevent birth defects since they are potential parents."

Pollitt Wants Some Tax Revenues Dedicated for Educational Uses

Constitutional dedication of certain tax revenues for education is an essential step to restore public confidence in government taxation, said Van Dyke J. Pollitt, Republican candidate for the unexpired term in the State Senate.

He called for an amendment to the State Constitution to make dedication possible. "I hope the public has the right to vote on this essential matter in a public question in 1972," he said.

Mr. Pollitt said if dedication would have been Constitutional in 1965 when the sales tax was first promulgated, "measurable property tax relief would have occurred instead of the frustration all taxpayers felt because that relief was pledged but not delivered." Mr. Pollitt stated. He explained that without dedication, all tax and non-tax revenues flow into the general fund. "I believe the taxpayers will be much more receptive to any new or expanded revenue producing measures if they know that the funds will be used for education or other essential purposes," he said.

Mr. Pollitt pointed out that New Jersey has the highest effective property tax rate in the country, and the cost of education represents some 70 to 75% of property tax bills. "Funding of public education and the burdensome property tax are two of the state's most pressing problems." Meaningful property tax relief in the form of greatly expanded direct aid to education from dedicated tax revenues would solve both problems," he said.

Mr. Pollitt noted that many legislators resist dedication because funds could become unusable if the purpose for which they are dedicated disappears. "I cannot imagine this ever being the case with education," he said.

"If we first make dedication Constitutionally permissible, I would support a plan that would allow the legislature to dedicate all or a portion of tax revenues by a 3/5 vote of both houses and 'lift' that dedication by the same 3/5 vote. This would eliminate the problem of unusable funds and would prevent the public from being deluded as occurred in 1966," he said. "Any removal of dedication would be publicly debated."

Mr. Pollitt contends that the credibility of any fiscal measure is in direct proportion to the public regard for its fairness, equitability and need. "Constitutional dedication would take a giant step in the direction of placing our State's fiscal house in order," he said.

Mr. Pollitt is running with Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo, Senator Frank X. McDermott and Jerome M. Epstein.

Dem Duo Want Recent Car Data To Aid Safety

Better and accurate vehicle accident statistics were urged by Democratic Assembly candidates, incumbent Henry F. Gavan of Linden and Donald Lan of Springfield, seeking his first term.

Engineering and safety problems would be made easier, they felt, with up-to-date data. The duo said that the last year for which county-by-county accident analysis was available was 1968.

"From 1960 to 1967, economic loss in our state for traffic accidents totaled $1,403,091,840. During this period the number of vehicle miles traveled annually on New Jersey roads increased by 40%, while estimated road accidents soared by 135%," the candidates explained.

Major State Role Seen To Stop Ecology Abuses

"Pollution" used to mean contamination of atmosphere or water, now it has become a close relative of waste disposal and flood control. And all are out of hand, Councilman-at-large A. Charles Walano of Clark warns.

Mr. Walano is running as a Democrat for the State Assembly in District 9C.

Mr. Walano's message was directed not only to Clark, but to all eight municipalities in Assembly District 9-C. "Pollution," he reminded, "smites all eight -- Clark, Plainfield, Scotch Plains, Fanwood, Westfield, Berkeley Heights, New Providence, and Summit."

The state increasingly takes a hand in flood control matters, still a painful topic in much of our district. It has given strict control of public scavengers to the Public Utility Commission and it invokes penalties on industries which contaminate the air and water.

"We do need sterner measures," Mr. Walano conceded, "but these must be tempered with equity and justice. For instance, the scavengers have sizeable investments in equipment, weekly outlays for personnel, without which demands a fair return on their investment, or garbage will stand on our doorsteps and in leaseholds of dumping sites.

"Similarly, effective flood control demands major outlays. Land acquisition and construction are more than a chore for a single community."

"Whatever we do, we must do in concert, often with the county and the state shouldering much of the responsibility for deliberate and intelligent, longrange planning. That applies, too, in acquiring property and construction of dams, retaining walls, bridges, and whatever may be necessary."

New Racing Speedboat Being Built for Martin

Bill Martin, owner of Hustler II and holder of the single-engine Class III speedboat championship, is having a new boat, Hustler III, constructed by a Florida company. The new speedboat should be ready in three weeks, Martin said.

Hustler II, a 25-foot Magnum, with a single engine, a 496 cubic inch Merc Cruiser, will be raced tomorrow by Martin in the 184-mile Miami, Fla., to Nassau, Bahamas, race. The new speedboat will be driven by Martin proprietor of Martin's Furniture Store at 67 Westfield Ave., Clark, in the America's Cup Race in Florida in December.

Hustler III, a 33-foot Magnum, will have two 496 cubic inch Merc Cruiser engines. While Hustler II has a top speed of 70 miles an hour, Hustler III's top speed is expected to be from 85 to 90 miles an hour, Martin said he expects Hustler III to be the fastest speedboat in deep-water racing.

Hustler II's record in competition has been made against speedboats much longer and with more power. When he competes in the America's Cup Race, a 190-mile event off the coast from Miami, Martin is looking forward to being a match for every competitor with Hustler III's speed.

The Union County Figure Skating Club, in cooperation with the Union County Park Commission, will conduct figure skating clinics next Monday, from 6 to 8 p.m., and on Monday, Nov. 1, from 6 to 8 p.m., at the Warinanco Park Ice Skating Center, Roselle.

Conducted annually, the clinics include instruction in figure skating fundamentals and techniques for all skill levels, to include novice, intermediate and advanced levels.

Each clinic will be limited to 100 boys and girls of Union County who are in fourth grade through high school.

All those wishing to participate in the first clinic must register at the Warinanco Park Ice Skating Center before Monday. Registration forms also will be available for the Nov. 1 clinic.

On Saturday, there will be a canoe trip on the Raritan River in Hunterdon County.

On Sunday, a trail-clearing hike, and a bicycle tour are scheduled by the Union County Hiking Club for the weekend.

The Crusaders of Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark, who took it on the chin last Saturday from the Cranford Cougars, will face the Hillside Comets, undefeated in Watchung Conference competition in their 15th annual gridiron contest at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon in Hillside's Woodruff Stadium.

Clark, which holds a series lead of 10-4, is expected to have difficulty this year in stopping the Hillside attack. The Crusaders have won the last nine games of the series. They stopped the Comets, 22-6, last season.

The Comets started well this year, beating Rahway and Governor Livingston Regional High School of Berkeley Heights in Watchung Conference play. The Hillside eleven was beaten by South Plainfield.

The Clark line that has given up 89 points in the first three games will have to contain the good set of backs who run and pass for the Comets. They are led by Gary Stukes, who has a good passing mark and who rolls out well to both the left and right; 5-10, 185-pound Jim Quinlan, who has scored 20 points so far in Watchung Conference games, and Rudy Rosenkrantz, who is a hard-running fullback for coach George Dee's team.

In Saturday's game, the Cougars outplayed Clark in most departments. Cranford was ahead in yards gained rushing, 204 - 146. In the passing department, Pkna tried 13 passes and completed four for 50 yards. Cranford's Gary De Longe passed 10 times and completed five for 63 yards. In first downs it was 8-7 in favors of the losers.

Clark, which has lost two games and tied Springfield, has been getting some power from Jerry Scaturro, 5-11, 170-pound halfback; Bob Pkna, quarterback, and Dick Lockwood, hard-running fullback.

Roll on Thou Dark Blue Ocean Has Varied Effects on Man's Attitudes

If you've just come back from a vacation at the Jersey shore, you may have noticed that there was just a little less shore, and a little more ocean than there used to be.

And if you have a beach house of your own, there's a Rutgers researcher who's finding out how you -- or people like you -- feel about this creeping advance of the Atlantic.

He is Kenneth Mitchell of the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, and his field of inquiry is a new one. It's called the perception of environmental hazards, and it means finding out how people feel about a whole range of natural disasters -- tornadoes, floods, earthquakes, droughts, and, in this case, eroding coastlines.

The way people view these risks to their necks or, at least, their pocketbooks may shed light on an age-old puzzle.

Do people feel they are in control of nature? Do they feel nature dominates them? Is nature an ally, or an enemy?

Poets and philosophers have been musing over such questions from the earliest times, but only recently have scientists begun to ask the man in the street.

Americans' attitudes toward nature, Mitchell says, are typically optimistic and aggressive. Either they feel they dominate nature, or they feel themselves in conflict with it.

Except when it comes to the ocean.

"People who live along the shoreline feel themselves subservient to nature," Mr. Mitchell says. "They may also feel themselves in conflict with nature, but they don't feel hopeful. They don't feel they can do anything to stop the sea, though they may work very hard at trying to."

Mr. Mitchell, whose study is reported in the current issue of Re: Search, the college's quarterly publication, points out that erosion is common along the Atlantic seaboard, from southern Maine to southern Florida. Nationally, coastal erosion causes at least $150 million worth of property damage a year, and the costs are going up as seaside resorts and retirement homes become ever more popular. Ocean County, New Jersey, for instance, is the fastest-growing county in the nation.

But while the people keep coming, the land is slowly washing away. Erosion losses of 5 to 10 feet a year are common all along the Atlantic coast; in some spots, the ocean eats up 20 feet of beach in a single year.

To find out how it feels to be a property owner in such a situation, Mr. Mitchell has been interviewing a number of sample communities from Main to Florida. He's been using an extension of a psychological tool, the Thematic Apperception Test, as part of his study.

In these tests, people are shown a picture -- in this case, a house perched at the top of what appears to be a badly eroded sandbank, with waves breaking just below -- and are asked to make up stories about the picture. The stories often reveal the emotions and perceptions of the storytellers themselves.

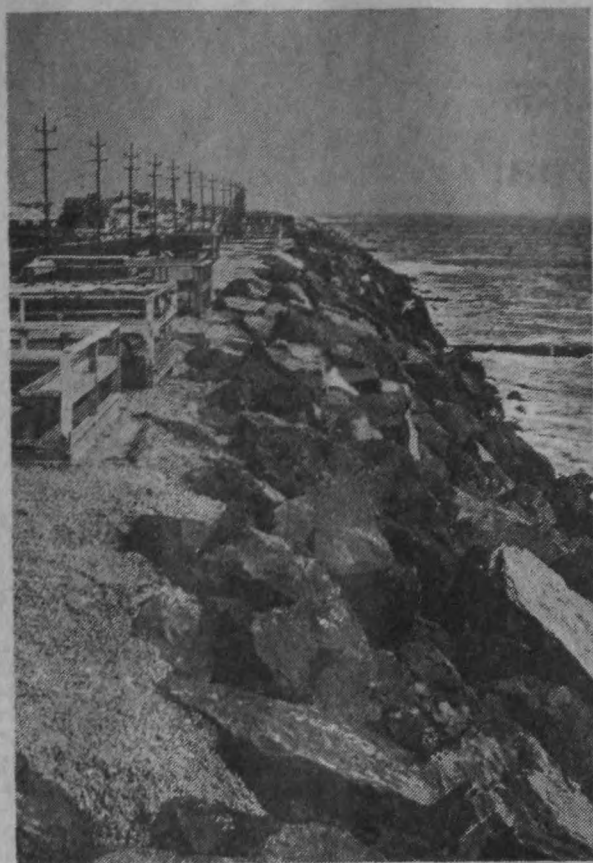

"There'd be nothing but depression here. Like Hans with his finger in the dike, once you walked away what can you do? Futility. This is nature," said one of the storytellers.

"The state or county will come in and bring relief of some sort," predicted another, more optimistically.

"The only remedy there would be to get tremendous rocks. To build a seawall with something to take the brunt of it is what should occur here," said a third.

"The ocean can do these things. This building can be carried away in a night. You cannot beat the ocean with concrete or steel," observed a fourth.

Along with this sense of the power of nature, Mitchell is also finding what he calls "a misplaced faith in engineering" among many of the residents he has talked with.

Seawalls or bulkheads are the most common recommendations, but there are interesting variations between communities, he finds. With a well-developed local government, he says, there is a tendency for people to rely on a one-shot protection scheme such as a seawall. But all devices have their weak points. When community organization is looser, the residents are more likely to come up with flexible solutions that handle the erosion problem better.

Beach nourishment -- adding sand to replace what is washed away -- is an effective but expensive answer. Some people work with nature by planting sea grass to help hold the shore in place. Some anticipate the problem by building their homes on pilings, or setting them well back from the ocean's edge.

But however they try to come to terms with the sea, they are all impressed with what this particular aspect of nature can do.

As one storyteller points out, "It eludes anything that we can foresee or prove. The power of the old water is terrific."

And another adds, "Every year you get out of a house on the ocean is one year to be thankful for."

Fire Captain, Mayor Address Township Lions

Fire Captain Anthony Malanga was the guest speaker at the Clark Lion's Club Monday night meeting. Capt. Malanga cited the importance of each home having a periodic fire drill to assure a speedy evacuation in the event of a fire.

The captain stressed the following points: remember in a fire seconds count; have a planned escape route; plan two different escape routes from each room; leave the house immediately -- do not linger to take valuables or call the fire department; and use a neighbor's phone or street alarm.

Mayor Thomas A. Kaczmarek was also a guest of the club. The purpose of the mayor's visit was to circulate a petition urging the Union County Park Commission to purchase the Oak Ridge Golf Course.

Game Rained Out

Go Easy on Reducing Driving Fines, Sentences Dietz Tells Governor

State Senate candidate Christopher Dietz yesterday urged Gov. William T. Cahill and other state officials to move with "utmost caution" in considering a proposal that would ease drunken driving penalties in the state.

Mr. Dietz, a Rahway attorney, directed his statements at the recommendations of Ray J. Marini, newly-appointed State Motor Vehicle Director, that all those convicted of drunken driving be treated as addicts in need of rehabilitation. Under the proposal, violators could recover their licenses by successfully completing special rehabilitation classes.

Second offenders would have to prove they have overcome their habit.

"I certainly praise and endorse any rehabilitation program directed at the true alcoholic," Mr. Dietz continued, "but we would be misplacing our efforts by considering the average drunken driver as a real alcoholic."

"Under existing state laws, first offenders are subject to a fine of not less than $200 or more than $500, 30 to 90 days imprisonment, or both, and license suspension for two years. Second offenders are subject to a mandatory 90 days in jail and 10 years license suspension," Mr. Dietz concluded.

Rahway River Authority Program Gets Outlined

Louis Bassano, Republican candidate for Assembly in District 9-B, this week continued his efforts aimed at the creation of a Rahway River Authority by outlining a program of priorities he feels should be followed.

"Every municipality struck with the awesome truths of flooding over the past few weeks has embarked on separate paths for what they hope will be control within their own boundaries," Mr. Bassano said.

"But this is not the answer. We must have a Rahway River Authority appointed and financed by the state which can oversee and correct the problems along the entire course of the river in Essex, Union and Middlesex counties."

First priority, the candidate emphasized, would be flood control. "The debris filling the Rahway River was more to blame for the flooding than the rains," Mr. Bassano said.

"We must immediately institute a program of siltation and debris removal from the river bed, then, after it has been reasonably cleaned out along the entire bed dredging operations should begin to deepen the channel. Another measure which should be considered immediately, particularly in Union and Springfield along the path of Route 78 condemnation, is the planting of trees. Such stands of trees are natural water retention areas," the candidate explained.

Still another step which must be taken, Mr. Bassano said, is "strict enforcement of encroachment proceedings against industries, homeowners and municipalities in violation along the river."

"Correction of the flooding problem can not be accomplished without the understanding and cooperation of all affected municipalities. The Rahway River Authority should be authorized to institute a study by the Army Corps of Engineers along the entire river."

Another area of respon-

Find Wrinkle Remover Falsely Represented by Florida Resident

The Postal Service has determined that a Miami, Fla., man falsely represented a wrinkle-removing procedure as safe and successful when in fact it could cause burns and scars or accidental blindness.

The case, presented before the Postal Service's judicial officer, involved Vernon McGuire of 3127 S. W. 27th Ave., Miami, doing business as "Skinpeel."

Mr. McGuire was charged under the administrative postal false representation statute, (39 U. S. Code, 3005) with misrepresenting that the use of a solution containing phenol (carbolic acid), as directed by him, would enable an inexperienced lay person to diminish wrinkles and discolorations of the skin, regardless of their cause and without serious risk of adverse effects.

Among other things, Mr. McGuire advertised that "I believe people are capable of peeling themselves the same as I believe people are capable of using a stove without blowing themselves up, or crossing the street without getting run over by a car. Non-medical people have been peeling for years, and the number of people injured by this has been negligible, mostly because of extreme carelessness."

The Postal Service's medical witness testified, however, that there are many causes of wrinkles and that use of chemicals in removing them is applicable only to the fine rather than deep wrinkles. The chemical procedure depends for its effect upon selective destruc-sibility for the proposed authority, is pollution, Mr. Bassano said, adding the authority should undertake a study of all storm drains entering the river to determine the sources of pollution. He said municipal boards of health would be enlisted to assist in this phase of the program.

"Weekly surveys of water samples should be taken along the entire length of the river and tested for bacteriological content. Such a program could very well improve the quality of the drinking water," Mr. Bassano said. Also important if pollution and flooding are to be controlled, would be institution of weekly maintenance patrols by the Rahway River Authority.

The third area of responsibility for the Authority would be beautification of the river. Though not as immediately pressing as flooding and pollution, "beautification is important if we seek to maintain some natural beauty for the Rahway River," Mr. Bassano said. "If we follow some of the suggestions which I have heard about control of the Rahway River, including concrete channelization, our children will never know the fun of fishing in the river or the experience of a quiet walk along the bank where one could think things out," the 28-year-old Mr. Bassano said.

"In our haste to correct flooding problems, let's not make mistakes our children will have to suffer for. A Rahway River Authority, with jurisdiction over the entire river, can afford the luxury of taking all aspects of this program under consideration to the benefit of all the people."

I believe it is the responsibility of our elected officials to lead and I urge local and county officials not to react too quickly with stop-gap measures which could in the long-run be detrimental to their neighbors in other communities," Mr. Bassano concluded.

tion of skin tissue by causing a chemical burn, which the inexperienced lay person would find most difficult to control, he said.

If misapplied, the medical witness testified, it would be likely to result in changes in skin pigmentation and cause unsightly scars, which might be further complicated by infection. Accidental spilling of the solution in the eye could cause blindness, he said.

Based on the testimony, the Postal Service's judicial officer found that the "Skinpeel" program would not greatly diminish wrinkles or skin discolorations regardless of cause and that it would be hazardous to inexperienced users.

Wants Day Care Centers

New Jersey could improve its attraction for new business if its communities supported establishment of day care centers for children of working mothers, according to Mrs. Jerry F. English, Democratic candidate for the State Senate from Union County.

Surveys Ordered By Freeholders Called Wasteful

Union County Democratic freeholder candidates have accused the Republican-controlled Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders of "shortchanging the taxpayers with its poor planning and the spending of thousands of dollars on ill-vised studies and surveys."

In a joint statement, Clark Mayor Thomas A. Kaczmarek, Mrs. Matilda McGowan of Elizabeth and Joseph L. Garrubio of Union, cited the controversial Disko solid waste disposal study as "a perfect example of the Republicans' wasteful spending of taxpayers' money."

"Even if our county's 21 mayors had approved this report back in April," the Democratic hopefuls declared, "phase two could not have been properly implemented because the Republicans had failed to include funds for it in this year's budget."

"Only through an emergency appropriation of funds, or by a transfer of money, could there have been continued progress in the county's effort to find a solution to the solid waste disposal problem."

For the past two years he has served as curate at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Livingston. While in Livingston, he served as the coordinator of Episcopal chaplaincies at St. Barnabas Medical Center. Union County Trust Company, Elizabeth, announced yesterday that neither the bank nor its cardholders will be affected by the recent decision of two major New York City banks to restrict their Master Charge service to New Jersey agent banks. The bank has administered its own Master Charge credit card program since its inception in February 1970.

According to John W. Strough, assistant vice president in charge of the bank's Master Charge department, only the banks who have acted as agents have the difficult decision whether or not to continue to offer Master Charge.

Mr. Strough said, "The Union County Trust Company's Master Charge program is on sound footing. We have never issued credit cards indiscriminately and have always followed accepted banking practices in our credit investigation procedures. As a result, our experience on fraud and credit losses has been kept within reasonable bounds."

New Rector Assumes Grace Church Duties

The Rev. G. Edward Bowden has assumed duties as rector of Grace Episcopal Church, DeWitt and Robbinwood Terraces, Linden. The church also serves Clark.

Father Bowden was elected by the vestry of Grace Church. His election has been approved by the Rt. Rev. Alfred Baynard, Episcopal bishop of New Jersey. Father Bowden replaces the Rev. Charles A. Cesaretti, who has taken a position on the staff of St. Paul's Church, Westfield.

A long-time resident of Phillipsburg, where his father is rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Father Bowden was graduated from Lehigh University in 1965 with a bachelor of arts degree. Father Bowden also attended the General Theological Seminary in New York from which he graduated in 1969 with a bachelor of sacred theology degree. He was ordained both deacon and priest by the Bishop of Newark the same year.

For the past two years he has served as curate at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Livingston. While in Livingston, he served as the coordinator of Episcopal chaplaincies at St. Barnabas Medical Center. The Medical Center also asked him to serve on the board of advisors for the St. Barnabas School of Practical Nursing. He has served for two years on New Jersey Council of Churches Board for Migrant Ministry and has delivered illustrated lectures on migrant work in the state. He recently was elected secretary of the Livingston Ministerial Association. He is participating in a three-year course in pastoral counseling sponsored by the continuing education department of Princeton Theological Seminary.

Father Bowden is married to the former Miss Helen LaPointe of Plattsburgh, N.Y. His wife, a registered nurse, has been active in church work, serving as district chairman of Christian social relations for the District of Essex in the Diocese of Newark.

Father Bowden and Mrs. Bowden will reside at the rectory, 240, Robbinwood Ter., Linden. Father Bowden stresses that he is always available when needed, and that people should not hesitate to call.

SEA SCOUTS Show Navy

How to Keep a Vessel Shipshape

Boys Learn Ins and Outs Of the Seafaring Life

Ship Commander, Capt. R.J. Giess of Rahway

EVER SEE AN 85-FOOT SEA HORSE? ... Many boys who are members of Sea Scouts have spent many pleasurable hours aboard the 85-foot "Sea Horse" pictured above. The vessel was acquired from the Navy in 1968 in not-too-shipshape order, but the Sea Scouts put the ship in tip-top condition. The vessel has a displacement of 70 tons, has a 20-foot beam, and cruises at 70 knots. The Sea Scouts unit sponsored by Rahway Elks has 49 members from Rahway, Clark, Linden, and Cranford, who are between 14 and 17 years of age.

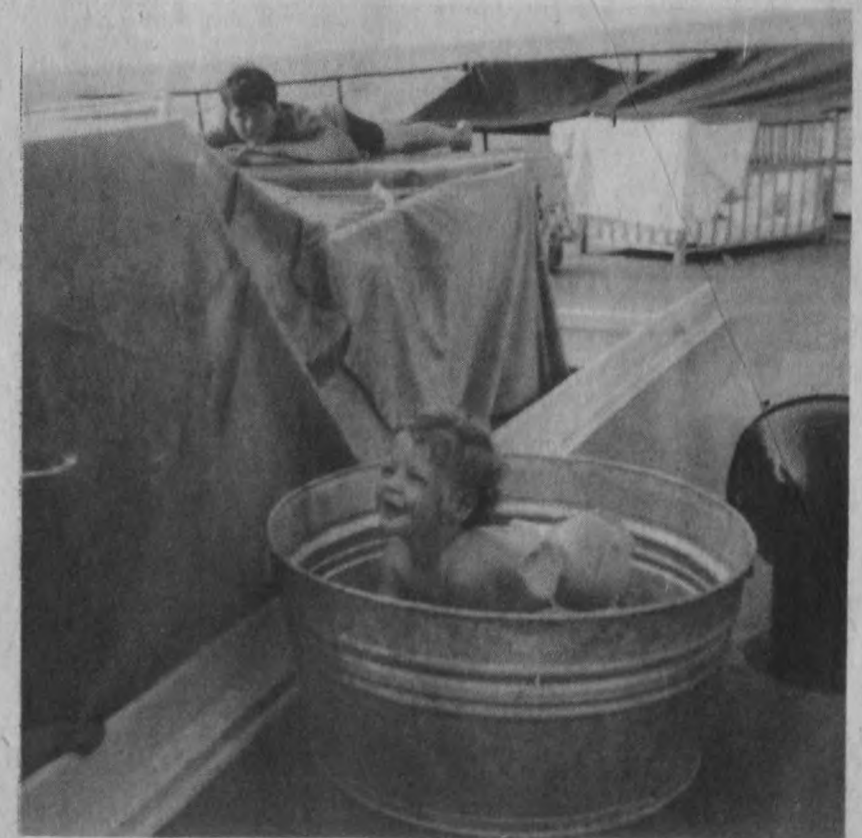

CHOW TIME ... Salt air might not help everybody's skin, but it produces big appetites. Here, Kenneth Matta dispenses goodies, as Russell Reptke tries to warn him that the camera's evil eye has them zeroed in. Behind Mr. Matta is Carolyn Beaudy chatting.

ON CUTTING EDGE ... Jerry Gambino, left, Wave, the St. Bernard, and Richard Buckner, like the fresh and cutting breeze of the bow of the Sea Horse.

TOT'S BATH ON DECK ... Carolyn Beaudy has little trouble adjusting to her new and expansive bathroom. The tot was aboard on a cruise leaving from Atlantic City. Richard Buckner looks on.
