Despite disagreement, county approves ice rink

By Paul Greulich
Staff Writer

A plan to move ahead with developments at Oak Ridge Park was the subject of a rare disagreement among members of the Union County Freeholder Board last week.

Freeholders Angel Estrada and Vernell Wright voted against a measure to award a construction management contract not to exceed $800,000 to Pinnacle Consulting and Construction Services, based in Newark.

Freeholder Dan Sullivan, who serves as chairman of the county's fiscal committee, acknowledged it is uncommon to see dissent on the board.

"They're entitled to their opinion and their vote, so I respect that," he said.

Chief among the proposed improvements to the park is the ice skating rink projected to cost between $15 and $25 million.

Located in Clark, the 90-acre Oak Ridge Park has much undeveloped space. At present, the facility features an archery range, bicycle path, fitness trail and restrooms. There is copious amounts of open space where visitors engage in activities ranging from informal soccer games to kite flying.

The park previously served as the location for the county's annual fair, featuring MusicFest, which was discontinued after 2011 due to financial burdens facing the county. In addition, an investigation by the county prosecutor's office one year ago found the event to be mismanaged, but the county never acknowledged this as a reason for the annual event being canceled, maintaining that MusicFest became a burden on the county coffers which have been stressed from a continued poor national, state and local economy.

County Spokesman Sebastian D'Elia said the county is "leaning toward" the construc-

The Union County freeholders, with a split decision, decided to move ahead with the initial steps for building an ice skating rink in Oak Ridge Park.

New stage opens at Union County Performing Arts Center

By Paul Greulich
Staff Writer

RAHWAY — The city celebrated the expansion of Union County Performing Arts Center last weekend as Hamilton Stage launched its inaugural season with a series of short performances and a benefit celebration.

The site is owned by the Rahway Redevelopment Agency and located on Hamilton Street, about a block and half away from the main UCPAC building in the Downtown Arts District.

"We're really excited," Council President Samson Steinman said. "Basically the whole town is talking about it. We sold out tickets for the opening night."

Hamilton Stage was designed by the architectural firm of Farewell Mills Gatsch of Princeton. Construction took just more than a year and cost about $6 million, an expense bonded by the city about two years ago. Steinman said there is no timeline for paying back the bond, but the city will soon begin "chipping away" at it using proceeds earned from the stage.

Steinman said he is confident this is a good investment, as evidenced by the city recently receiving a National Endowment for the Arts grant to help get the stage's first season underway. The "Our Town" grant was for $75,000.

"It's basically programming money for shows at Hamilton Stage, but it will be combined with educational components, including some taking place at local schools," Steinman said.

Hamilton Stage will be home to six Artistic Affiliates this season. It features a 199-seat Proscenium Theater as well as a smaller 60-seat Front Room Theater.

This new building represents a significant expansion of Union County Performing Arts Center.

"This gives the Union County Performing Arts Center five different performance spaces at the Rahway facility," said Richard Bryant, Managing Director of Hamilton Stage.

Moreover, local officials hope the stage will fill an important niche for spoken theater, dance, and small concerts.

"It allows the arts district to bring in smaller venues without opening the big theater," Rahway Redevelopment Agency Chair William Rack explained. "If you put them in the big center, there's 1,500 seats in there. You don't really need that huge building for some of the productions they are doing."

New turf field project finally hits its stride

By Paul Greulich
Staff Writer

SPRINGFIELD — The long-awaited project to build a turf field in Springfield has begun after the initial round of bids were rejected last month for being too costly. Construction on the $3.4 million playing field began earlier this month.

Board of Education President Pat Venezia said it was “amazing” to see the process finally begin and it made her think back to the township’s very first turf field committee, which she sat on over 12 years ago.

“This has been the dream of so many Springfield residents for a very long time,” Venezia said. “It’s gratifying to see that perseverance does work.”

The work is being undertaken by Rochelle Contracting Company Inc., based in Landing, N.J. Township Administrator Anthony Cancro said this company came in number two in the first round of bidding in July.

Venezia said the initial rejection of the bids was a bit of a disappointment, but it is not an unusual circumstance to have bids come in too high at first. She expressed confidence in Rochelle Contracting Company.

“This contractor has a good reputation and was obviously motivated to get the job,” Venezia said. “He sharpened his pencil after the first bid and came in with the lowest price.”

Construction began Sept. 7 and is expected to be completed in late Fall of 2013, according to Cancro.

Work has already begun on installing a new turf field at Jonathan Dayton High School in Springfield. The project has been one the district and town have been hoping to complete for a long time, and many are happy to finally see progress on the project.

The completed field will be used for many different sports activities, as it has been in the past. These activities will include tennis, football, soccer, cross country and softball. The project will also include amenities such as bleachers, a snack bar, five tennis courts, and athletic field lights. A baseball diamond will not be included at the site.

The project received the unanimous support of the Township Committee. Local officials have stated the field will increase property values as well as community pride. The township has not had a serviceable athletic field for many years, instead paying neighbor Union a fee to use their facility. Cancro estimated these expenses, combined with transportation costs, to be about $40,000 a year.

Earlier this year, the project faced some uncertainty due to fears the impervious surface of the field may exacerbate flooding in the township. However, the specifications of the project incorporate a hollow underground space designed to safely hold stormwater. Township officials stated they believe the field will not pose any health or flooding-related risks to residents.

The ongoing construction work has resulted in major changes to the drop off and pick up procedures at the school, but Venezia said parents and students are coping with the inconvenience.

“I am happy to say that both parents and students have been extremely cooperative, with very few complaints,” Venezia said.

Committee member Jerry Fernandez said he is proud of the way the township has worked with the Board of Education and the community to set this long-overdue project into motion.

“It shows you what we can accomplish when we work together,” Fernandez said. “All three organizations came together to make this dream possible.”

County offers Take Back Initiative

The Union County Freeholders encourage Union County residents to rid their homes of unwanted and expired medication at the Drug Enforcement Administration’s National Take Back Initiative on Saturday, Sept. 29, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Union County Police Department, 300 North Ave. East, Westfield.

Take Back events are a tool for reducing the abuse of prescription and non-prescription medications. The goal of the program is to allow citizens to turn unused, unwanted or expired medications in to law enforcement officials who will dispose of the substances in a safe and non-hazardous manner. During October 2011, Operation Take Back New Jersey collected 9,831 pounds of medication state-wide.

Union County Police Department will be staffed for collection in addition to various municipal police departments throughout the County. For a full listing of participating locations visit <http://ucnj.org/medication-disposal>. For additional information on the National Take Back Initiative contact Union County Police Department at 908-654-9800.

In the story titled “County plans to approve study on privatizing Runnells Hospital,” published Sept. 13, Page 1, LocalSource incorrectly represented the employment of three individuals at Runnells Hospital.

Barbara Baldasare and former hospital administrator Joseph Sharp both stopped working for the facility about two years ago, and Joan Wheeler was hired by the hospital in 1991 and received her Nursing Home Administrator License in 1996.

County: Renewable energy project 90 percent complete

The Union County Renewable Energy Program is now 90 percent complete, with 28 of 31 facilities already installed and generating renewable energy savings for 15 governmental agencies, Union County Improvement Authority Director Charlotte DeFilippo has announced. The final installed systems size will total 3.37 megawatts.

The last three facilities, scheduled to be opened in Roselle and Berkeley Heights, will be operational by mid-October, DeFilippo added. “Our local governments and public entities who are participating are at the vanguard of the green energy revolution,” said DeFilippo. “This is a generational accomplishment for Union County.”

Freeholder Chairman Alexander Mirabella has agreed.

“Our solar installations are saving taxpayer money on energy costs, creating a renewable energy source and reducing pollution,” said Mirabella. “These are accomplishments all Union County residents can take pride in.” Tioga Energy owns, operates, and maintains more than 13,800 solar panel modules providing Union County facilities with renewable energy generated from their systems through a Power Purchase Agreement, or PPA. Through the use of PPAs, Union County facilities are able to reduce their cost of energy by approximately $5 million over 15 years. Tioga’s installation partner, a joint venture between Pro-Tech Energy Solutions and Huen Electric Inc., is engineering and constructing the systems.

The participating governments and public entities are Morris-Union Jointure, Berkeley Heights; Berkeley Heights Board of Education, two pending; Cranford; Garwood Board of Education; Hillside Board of Education; Linden; New Providence Board of Education; Plainfield; Rahway; Roselle, one pending; Roselle Board of Education; Roselle Park Board of Education; Union County Vocational Technical Schools; Scotch Plains; Union County College; Cranford; and Winfield Board of Education.

Ice skating rink to be built in Oak Ridge Park in Clark tion of the ice skating rink. However, he stressed that the county has a master plan in place that features a number of recreational options and improvements the community would desire to see in place at this facility, including a playground, picnic grove, and road, utilities and access improvements.

"Our task will be to analyze these options to determine what will bring the best usage for the community, bearing a final cost in mind," D'Elia said. "Pinnacle is going to meet with county officials and go over the master plan for the park."

The contractor will assist the county in formulating cost estimates and plans for the various items the plan involves. The construction manager will also help the county choose which contractors perform the actual work itself.

D'Elia said the county feels the rink would be in strong demand as a location for playing hockey. The ice rink option is estimated to cost between $15 million and $25 million, D'Elia said. Construction could begin in 2013.

To help fund the work, the county plans to use a $1.3 million Green Acres grant from the state. County officials are also applying for an additional $9 million from the state.

Oak Ridge Park was previously a golf course. In 2009, freeholders closed the golf course, citing declining usage and a $20 million budget deficit. The change was met with mixed response from residents.

Sullivan said he feels Oak Ridge Park has "a lot of potential," but among the many possible options for the park, the rink is the most appealing to him.

"That to me is what I feel is going to be the centerpiece of the park," Sullivan said.

County officials were looking for a site for a new ice rink before Oak Ridge became an option, due to shortcomings and problems with the existing ice rink located at Warinanco Park, he added.

"The issue of the rink and Warinanco was ongoing for a number of years before we chose to close Oak Ridge as a golf course," said Sullivan.

Oak Ridge Park is currently used for archery. The county is moving ahead with a plan to make the park more 'active,' including building a brand new ice skating rink.

Located in Roselle, Warinanco Park was initially an outdoor, open-air ice rink and the structure was later built around it. Sullivan said there have been major issues with the roof as well as the chiller device that creates the ice.

The facility is still using a temporary chiller.

"It all adds up to the problems we've had there," Sullivan said.

Sullivan said much initial work will probably need to be done at Oak Ridge in order to bring vital utilities like gas and electricity to the site, which is now simply open space.

He said the rearmost portions of the park near the train tracks is partially wetlands and will probably never be developed.

Clark Mayor Sal Bonaccorso said county officials made a presentation to the town about three years ago that included the ice rink component. He said the proposal was well-received by local residents and officials.

"I think that would be a great addition to the town," Bonaccorso said.

However, Bonaccorso added that many Clark residents enjoy using the park for activities like jogging and walking their dogs and hope it will not become too developed.

"Right now a lot of people are enjoying Oak Ridge as a passive park," Bonaccorso said.

Bonaccorso said that as mayor of the hosting community, he is happy to work with the county in the development process.

"If they are concerned about costs, I would be glad to give input about what the town would or would not like, and still keep it affordable," he said.

Kenilworth town-wide garage sale set for Oct. 6

A community wide garage sale will be held in Kenilworth on Oct. 6 and Oct. 7. A major event, it will be sponsored by the Kenilworth Historical Society and will take place, rain or shine, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. each day.

Nearly 200 residences participated in Kenilworth's community wide garage sale last fall, and this year's participation is expected to equal or exceed that of last year, it was reported.

Residents who register and pay a fee to hold garage sales at their homes anytime during the weekend will receive a certificate representing the borough's permission to proceed and will benefit from the Kenilworth Historical Society's statewide advertising of the community wide event by way of major newspapers, websites and prominently placed signage and fliers.

The addresses of registered participating residences will be included in a Kenilworth community wide garage sale listing and map that will be available in quantity, free of charge, at the Kenilworth A&P Customer Service desk, 801 Boulevard; Borough Clerk's Office, 567 Boulevard; Public Library, 548 Boulevard, and Especially Yours Florist, 13 N. 20th St., after Oct. 3.

Community wide garage sale registration forms with instructions can be obtained at the Kenilworth Borough Clerk's Office/Borough Hall, Public Library and Especially Yours Florist.

For further information, call 908-709-0434.

The Kenilworth Historical Society is sponsoring the Community wide garage sale as a service to the community. Any proceeds after borough permit fees, advertising and other related costs are paid will benefit the organization's ongoing project to restore the 19th-century Oswald J. Nitschke House and transform it into Kenilworth's first "living history" museum and cultural arts center.

Other upcoming Kenilworth Historical Society events this year include "Four Centuries in a Weekend" at the Nitschke House, Oct. 20 to 21; and bus trips to Mohegan Sun Casino, Oct. 27, and Rockvale Shopping Outlets, Nov. 8.

Scouts help with Eagle project, paint and repair local fence

By Paul Greulich
Staff Writer

SPRINGFIELD — Drivers passing through Springfield this past week have probably noticed local Boy Scouts Henry Anthony, Matthew Jurczak and Chris Lahser hard at work repairing and repainting the fences around the township's historic Cannonball House on Morris Avenue.

Their efforts are part of Matthew Jurczak's Eagle Scout project. Jurczak, a senior at Jonathon Dayton High School, has been in the Boy Scouts since he was 11. He said the sad condition of the fence could hardly escape his notice, especially being that his mother and grandmother are involved in the local Historical Society as well as the Daughters of the American Revolution.

"The fence is in serious disrepair," Jurczak said.

The members of Springfield Boy Scout Troop 73 have painted and replaced many boards, but still have a long way to go before Jurczak's project is complete. His plan also encompasses a separate fence located behind the historic building. This will be a much more taxing job, as most of the wood is badly rotted and will need to be completely replaced. The scouts anticipate another two or three gallons of white paint will probably be required to complete the project.

Anyone who is interested in donating to the troop's efforts can contact Matthew's father Steven Jurczak at jurczak.t73.spfld@gmail.com.

Hamilton Stage opens to large crowd

Steinman said the site has been eyed as a possible location for an art component for about nine years.

Rack said the site previously served as an old telephone repair garage, but sat vacant for many years. However, the original building has historical and architectural significance that the city made a point to preserve, he said.

"The original structure was maintained in the theater. They just added some rooms to it," Rack said.

The inaugural performance last weekend was entitled "Hello Hamilton!" It was well-received, with all tickets sold out. The show took the form of a fast-paced variety show, featuring vignettes by its six Artistic Affiliates who offered previews of the performances scheduled during Hamilton Stage's upcoming season.

Stage and screen actress Suzzanne Douglas and World Beatbox Association Founder Chesney Snow hosted the opening night celebration, with performances from the American Theater Group, American Repertory Ballet, StrangeDog Theatre Company, Vital Theatre Company, Ballets with a Twist and the Good Music Mostly Classical series, featuring Grammy nominee pianist Ursula Oppens.

Songwriter Drew Gasparini played a compilation of songs from his original musical, "Crazy, Just Like Me," named the "2011 Best in Show" at the New York Musical Theatre Festival. American Repertory Ballet contributed a piece from their professional-track program, Princeton Ballet School, titled "Once Upon a Summer's Day."

StrangeDog Theatre Company's performance included a comedic 10-minute play by the Kennedy Center's David Mark Cohen and award-winner Ben Clawson with direction by Artem Yatsunov. The Vital Theatre Company put on an appearance by cast members of "Pinkalicious: The Musical" and Ballets with a Twist presented its newest cocktail-based ballet, "The Mint Julep," to include cameo appearances by youth dancers selected in a recent local audition.

The "Hello, Hamilton!" celebration culminated with a special guest appearance by Broadway star, Liz Callaway, who performed songs like "Memory" from "Cats" and others from her impressive repertoire.

The performance was followed by an after-party at the theater featuring music, a mixology bar and surprise pop-up performances. Many more performances and events are scheduled for the coming months at Hamilton Stage.

On Oct. 10, the National Endowment for the Arts chairman Rocco Landesman will be visiting the center during a series of events run by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts.

The youngest performers to grace the stage on opening night at Hamilton Stage in Rahway belonged to a ballet group called Ballet with a Twist. They put on a performance of the Mint Julep dance, from a piece called Cocktail Hour. Left to right are: Crystal Mosquera, Ashley Corujo, Gina Feldmann, and Madison Ihasz who pose as they prepare to hit the stage Saturday night.

Let your voice be heard

Too often, things happen to us which seem beyond our control. Gas prices increase or decrease and we are helpless to do anything but find the gas station with the best price. Young men and women from our neighborhoods fight and die in wars we don't understand against enemies who were once our friends. And no matter how many promises we hear, the taxes keep on coming.

But then the first Tuesday of November comes along and we are reminded that this is a nation "of the people, by the people and for the people." We do have the power to decide who we put in charge and, this year, Election Day carries an additional significance. Recognizing that not nearly enough voters were participating in school board elections when they occurred in the spring, some New Jersey school districts, including 12 in Essex County, have moved their annual elections to the same day as the general elections. Now, you simply can't afford not to go and vote.

But voting is more than just walking into a booth, pulling a curtain and pushing some buttons. If you're going to vote, you need to do so responsibly. Yes, it's your civic duty, but you need to know who the candidates are and what they have said they stand for or intend to do. To vote on your "gut instinct" is about as reliable as closing your eyes and throwing a dart at where you believe the dart board is, hoping it hits something worth a lot of points.

With the approaching election, the first thing voters need to do is register. The deadline to register is 21 days prior to Election Day or Tuesday, Oct. 16, for this year. You must be a U.S. citizen, at least 18 years old by the next election and a resident of Essex County. Each voter must fill out a voter registration form. There are many ways to register. You can visit www.njelections.org/voting-information-voter-registration-forms.html, print the application, enter the required data and mail it to the Commissioner of Registration office, 83 Spring St., Suite 304, Newton 07860. You can also pick up forms from the Division of Elections, the Commissioner of Registration office, located at 83 Spring St., Suite 304 in Newton or from your local municipal clerk. Registration forms are also available at Division of Motor Vehicle offices.

You can also register to vote at the same time you are applying for assistance or service at the following agencies: NJ Medical Assistance and Health Services Program; WIC or

EDITORIAL

Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children; Work First NJ Programs; Division of Developmental Disabilities; Office of Disability Services — Department of Human Services — Public Offices; Armed Forces of the United States Recruitment Offices; Division of Vocational; Rehabilitation Services - Department of Labor; Commission of the Blind & Visually Impaired; and County Welfare Agency or County Board of Social Services. For more information, call the NJ Division of Elections at 609-292-3760 or visit njelections.org/voting-information.html.

Once you are registered, it's time to educate yourself about the candidates. In addition to President Barack Obama and Gov. Mitt Romney vying to be the next president of the United States, there will plenty more names on the ballot. Get to know them and get to know who they are and for what the stand.

In New Jersey, any registered voter is able to Vote-By-Mail in any election. Applications are available from your local municipal clerk or online at www.njelections.org. To have your ballot mailed to you for the Tuesday, Nov. 6, general election, the Vote-by-Mail application must be received in the Essex County Clerk's Office by Tuesday, Oct. 30. Applications are available in person at the Essex County Clerk's Newark Office until 3 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 5, the day before the election. All Vote-by-Mail ballots must be received by the Board of Elections by the close of polls at 8 p.m. on Election Day.

Time is short and, before we know it, Election Day will be upon us. Take the time to learn about the candidates. Read newspapers, check online sites and watch the news on television, keeping in mind that even purveyors of information might have an ulterior motive. So compare and contrast the information your different sources provide until you can best determine the truth. Then consider where you stand with these issues and candidates and make a decision. In the end, no matter what you're told, the final choice is yours.

President Lyndon B. Johnson said, "The vote is the most powerful instrument ever devised by man for breaking down injustice and destroying the terrible walls which imprison men because they are different from other men." Take this opportunity to do the research, make up your mind and let your voice be heard.

The talk on Evergreen Avenue

Marc Krauss, a Republican Committeeman running for re-election in Springfield, knows, better than most, the axiom "all politics are local." Campaigning last Sunday on Evergreen Avenue in his township, he faced the normal pleas over high taxes, an occasional reference to the township's long-stagnant downtown, and some personal gripes.

Krauss approaches the task for re-election with the precision expected of a long-time military man, something that helps define his life.

At almost every door, his mantra was to remind, or usually inform, residents of the million-dollar-plus savings gained by shopping the township's health plan. He was careful to detail the relatively small portion of residents' tax bill that is actually the local township's responsibility. He also reminded residents of the big jump in the school district's ratings, according to New Jersey Monthly.

LEFT OUT

BY FRANK CAPECE

Krauss listened politely to a critic of the local police, and responded with details of the personnel changes in a department that has been in a state of controversy for years.

Another resident spoke positively about a plan to cut down on the recycling days in an effort to save money.

When the county government was the target of criticism for wasteful spending, Krauss readily agreed, but repeated, far too often, that party politics don't play a major role at the local level.

"The truth is that, without crossover Democratic votes, we wouldn't be victorious," he said.

He acknowledged the frequent, positive references to his running mate, Jerry Fernandez.

At each door Krauss was patient. There was not the usual candidate's rush to cover a lot of ground. When a neighbor pitched for a wheelchair ramp, he pulled out his camera phone, promising to raise the issue on Monday.

A retired Army colonel who now works on procurement issues, Krauss laughed easily when asked how a Springfield resident can be a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

"I gained my degree while in the military," he said.

That military experience also included a stint in Operation Iraqi Freedom.

Krauss was poised and ready for that most common of gripes: taxes. It was not a hostile audience, but there were concerns.

"The simple truth is that my taxes have continued to rise while my house value has declined," said one resident.

Krauss' response included a description of the complexity of public contracts, and the state-mandated, 2-percent cap.

This was generally received with nods of understanding.

Krauss enjoyed meeting with one family who immediately recognized him from the sports in which both their children participate.

Another witty neighbor opened his door and, without missing a beat, said, "OK, what are you gonna do for me?"

When the lack of improvement in the Springfield's weak downtown is raised, Krauss spoke about new revitalization efforts, including a financial stake by business owners.

One resident asked, "I don't expect Springfield to be either Millburn or Westfield, but could we at least try to compete with Kenilworth?"

Only one resident asked whether there will be any debates. Actually, there will be two debates between the four candidates for the two seats. In their handout, the Republicans list "downtown redevelopment and revitalization" as their No. 1 issue.

In a neighborhood with a mix of older houses — from when Springfield was a farm town — and newer houses, manicured lawns are the common feature. While houses aren't luxurious, late-model imports are parked in many driveways. Garages serve as storage facilities rather than places to put cars.

When Krauss stops to take a water break, he reflects, "You know I really enjoy the public service and the give and take with the people." This is pretty obvious.

Vote by mail in Union County

Union County Clerk Joanne Rajoppi has announced that a "one-stop" service is available for Union County voters at the Westfield and Elizabeth offices of the county clerk.

"Eligible voters are able to apply for a vote-by-mail ballot for the Nov. 6 presidential election in person at either one of my offices, receive their ballot and cast the ballot at the same time," Rajoppi said. "This one-stop voting service is available at my Westfield office as well as at the main office in Elizabeth."

"The service in Westfield and Elizabeth makes voting more accessible, particularly at the Westfield office with its convenient Saturday office hours and evening hours during the week," she added. "With the important Nov. 6 presidential election approaching quickly, my office is working to make the voting process as fast and convenient as we can for everyone who is registered to vote."

The opportunity to vote by mail in Westfield and Elizabeth is another service available at the county clerk's two offices, along with passport application and renewal services, registration of trade names, and the application and swearing in of notaries public.

The Westfield Annex of the County Clerk is located at 300 North Ave. East, Westfield. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays.

Union County Clerk Joanne Rajoppi

The main Office of the County Clerk is located at the Union County Courthouse, 2 Broad St., Room 113, Elizabeth. Regular office hours in Elizabeth are Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Voting by mail is an easy, secure process that has replaced the absentee ballot. Voters do not need to give a reason why they wish to vote by mail.

Voters may pick up the form at their local municipal building; download it from www.ucnj.org/government/county-clerk/vote-by-mail, or contact the Union County clerk at 908-527-4996. The clerk's website includes a video explaining how to fill out the vote-by-mail application form.

Still time left to honor vets by buying bricks

Bricks honoring veterans from all past wars can now be ordered to form part of the walkway to the Hetfield House, Mountainside's historic 1760s building. The bricks will be dedicated on Veteran's Day, Sunday, Nov. 11. The deadline for ordering bricks honoring veterans has been extended to Sept. 30.

"This year, we're hoping for more recent veterans to be represented, from Vietnam, up through Desert Storm and beyond," said Don Jeka, Historic Preservation committee member.

It was announced that family members can "chip in to pay for each brick. This would allow brick purchasers to include the veterans name, rank and branch served and other information. It is a wonderful way to recognize their service as a lasting tribute." An example of a typical brick honoring a veteran might be inscribed: John Doe, US N, 1943-45 or George Smith, US MC, 1968-69. A typical brick can be seen in the window of the Mountainside Deli, honoring Jim Debbie.

Brick application forms can be picked up at the Mountainside Public Library or Borough Hall. All proceeds go to support the Hetfield House, Mountainside's "own historic treasure."

"We will be planning a special dedication service for the veteran's bricks," said Cindy West, committee member, "so get your order in by Sept. 30. That way, the bricks can be ready for installation along the walk in time for Veterans Day. We will be reading each veteran's name as in the past during the short ceremony. A small American flag will identify the veteran bricks."

All proceeds from the brick sale go to preserving and maintaining the Hetfield House.

Play Ball for Miracles raises more than 10K

Play Ball for Miracles, a charity softball tournament and community fun day, raised more than $10,000 in its eighth year for Children's Miracle Network Hospitals local beneficiary, Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside.

The eighth annual Play Ball for Miracles charity softball tournament was held Aug. 25. The event began in 2005, when founder Erin Kelly-McGuinness began to raise funds for the organization after a family friend, Patrick Macnab, was diagnosed with a rare blood disorder. Kelly-McGuinness started the tournament to raise awareness for Macnab's disease and all other illnesses affecting children.

Over the course of eight years, Play Ball for Miracles has raised more than $80,000 to support the local Children's Miracle Network Hospitals beneficiary, Children's Specialized Hospital. Children's Specialized Hospital has nine sites in New Jersey.

"Play Ball for Miracles is always evolving, looking for ways to get more people and players involved and constantly looking for ideas on how we can expand our efforts," said tournament founder Erin Kelly-McGuinness.

The ninth annual Play Ball for Miracles charity softball tournament is scheduled for May 4. For more information, contact Erin Kelly-McGuinness at playball4miracles@yahoo.com

THE "ABCDE RULE"

If you have a brown-colored spot anywhere on your body that seems to be growing larger, it should be brought to the dermatologist's attention. While most brown spots aren't serious, some are melanoma, a potentially fatal skin cancer, so it pays to adhere to the "ABCDE Rule." Concern should be raised if a skin lesion displays Asymmetry (one half looks different from the other half); Border irregularities (edges that are not uniform); Color variation (instead of a consistent brown color, the skin lesion has some brown, red, gray, or white sections); Diameter (6 millimeters or more across); or is Evolving (changing size, color, or shape). The more of these five characteristics a skin spot has, the higher your concern should be.

The best defense against skin cancer is thought early detection. We strongly recommend you become familiar with your skin and your own pattern of moles, freckles, and beauty marks. Be alert to any changes in size, shape or color. Consult a dermatologist for a yearly skin cancer screening. For additional information call 908-925-887. Evening and Saturday appointments are available. Our office is conveniently located at 822 North Wood Ave., Linden. New patients are gladly accepted.

P.S. If melanoma is caught at an early stage, it can be surgically removed before it has a chance to spread. Some melanomas are not brown, but may be pink or even purple.

Roselle library has much to offer

Several programs are offered at the Roselle Library this summer. Visit www.lmxac.org/roselle, call 908-245-5809, or stop in to pick up a brochure and a complete calendar of events. All programs are free.

Children and teenagers can also join the Summer Reading Program throughout July and August. Participants must sign up for the program in person at the library. Children are asked to record reading time, and they earn prizes based on the number of hours they read. Teenagers record the number of pages they read; write two book reviews and earn tickets to enter a drawing for several prizes including gift cards and the Grand Prize, a Kindle.

"Kids who continue reading and exercising their minds during the summer gain such an edge over those who don't. We want it to be fun, not overwhelming so we break it down into small increments of time. This way, kids can see how much they accomplish just by committing to reading for 15 minutes per day," said Library Director Tammy Lee.

The Roselle Public Library is open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. except Thursday, when it closes at 6 p.m., and Saturdays from 10 a.m.

Doctors give lecture on ADHD at Springfield Library

On Wednesday, Oct. 17 at 7 p.m. at the Springfield Public Library Dr. Frederick Hallowell and Dr. Michael Pine, of Pine Chiropractic Associates, will offer a lecture on an holistic approach to managing the challenges associated with ADHD. The public is invited to attend.

ADHD is typically characterized by impulsivity, inattentiveness and hyperactivity, making it difficult for those with this trait to reach their highest potential. Hallowell considers ADHD to be a trait, not a disability that, when managed effectively, does not rule out extraordinary success. But, without treatment and diagnosis, it can be damaging.

For more information, call 973-376-7600.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES, March 21 to April 20.

Someone is not telling you the entire story, Aries. However, you will find a way to fill in the missing details. What you learn will come as a big surprise.

TAURUS, April 21 to May 21.

Taurus, reach out to friends and family members for some support. A helping hand always can lift the spirits, and those closest to you will be happy to help.

GEMINI, May 22 to June 21.

Gemini, you are strong and determined, so the obstacles that arise this week will be no match for you. Just keep up the positive thinking and you will prevail.

CANCER, June 22 to July 22.

Cancer, this week is not the time to harbor secrets. It's a good policy to always be open and honest with the people with whom you interact on a regular basis.

LEO, July 23 to Aug. 23.

Leo, allow a friend to be the center of attention so he or she can enjoy his or her moments in the sun at an upcoming social event. Your magnetism can be addicting.

VIRGO, Aug. 24 to Sept. 22.

Virgo, all that time and effort you put into past projects is certainly paying off now. It probably feels good to be back in the game and going along successfully.

LIBRA, Sept. 23 to Oct. 23.

Libra, you are ready to take a leap of faith, but make sure your parachute is on before you do so. Sometimes you tend to err on the side of risky.

SCORPIO, Oct. 24 to Nov. 22.

Scorpio, sometimes you take on too much. But you have a funny way of making it all work out. You will find this to be the case with a situation that presents itself this week.

SAGITTARIUS, Nov. 23 to Dec. 21.

Sagittarius, if you keep pushing someone to their limits you may not be happy with the results. It might be a better plan to go with a softer method of inspiration.

CAPRICORN, Dec. 22 to Jan. 20.

Capricorn, you are ready for a change, but haven't zeroed in on just what to do as of yet. A deep conversation later this week just might reveal all of the answers.

AQUARIUS, Jan. 21 to Feb. 18.

It's best to act while your motivation is high, Aquarius. Otherwise you are prone to extended periods of inactivity. Make the most of your productive moments.

PISCES, Feb. 19 to March 20.

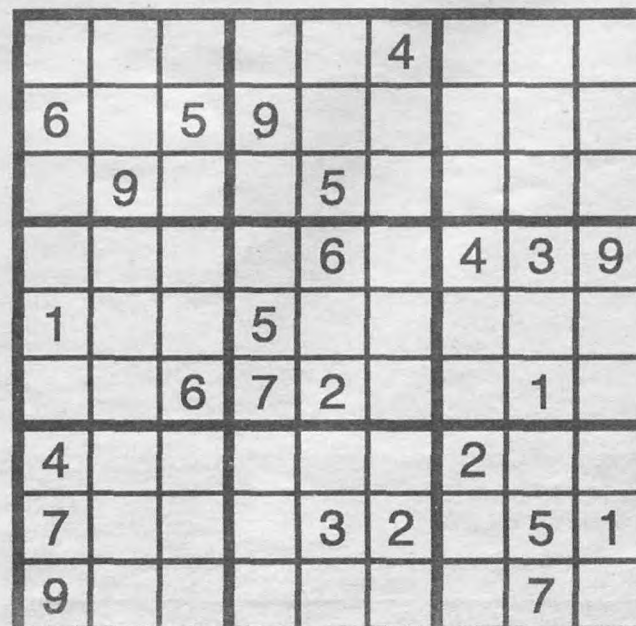

Pisces, you serve as educator this week, and it suits you just fine. It boosts your spirits to help others in unique ways.

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ARTS & LEISURE

Make the right 'move' and skip this digital ballet

By Bea Smith
Staff Writer

It takes a lot of chutzpah to present a monotonous, repetitive piece of work to a receptive audience. Such an offering was shown on the screen at the "Ballet in Cinema" production at the Cranford Theater on Sunday afternoon.

"Move to Move" was filmed at the Nederlands Dans Theater, The Hague, on May 31, and featured four contemporary ballets. In them, expressionless young men and women danced, in perpetual motion, until the audience was thoroughly exhausted; they twisted their bodies in agonizing movements, their unhappy faces matched their unhappy turns.

It reminded this reviewer of patients in a psychiatrist's office, working off their frustrations with frantic body movements. Actually, during its 168 minutes, several members of the audience simply walked out before the end.

Before the beginning of "Move to Move," the Cranford audience was subjected to repeated shots of people entering the lobby of the huge theater, checking their coats, then of the complicated mechanical elements that allow the production to run smoothly.

The screen also came alive during brief rehearsals in an echo-filled hall, and some background conversation with the choreographers, Paul Lightfoot, Alexander Ekman, Sol Leon and Ohad Naharin. Later, there was a surprisingly loud applause from the filmed audience.

Some of the music, when there was music, was written by various composers, including Philip Glass.

"Move to Move," is comprised of four distinct ballets. The first was choreographed by Ekman, and exhibited a more modern dance pattern than any ballet one has ever seen.

The timing by the group of young dancers was exceptional, and featured originality, but too much rhythm, leaving the performers — and audience — panting with exhaustion.

In "Silent Screen," choreographed by Leon and Lightfoot, featured the strange music of Glass's "Glassworks." The background showed three screens, a couple gyrating miserably, and a little girl who ran in and out of the film, endlessly.

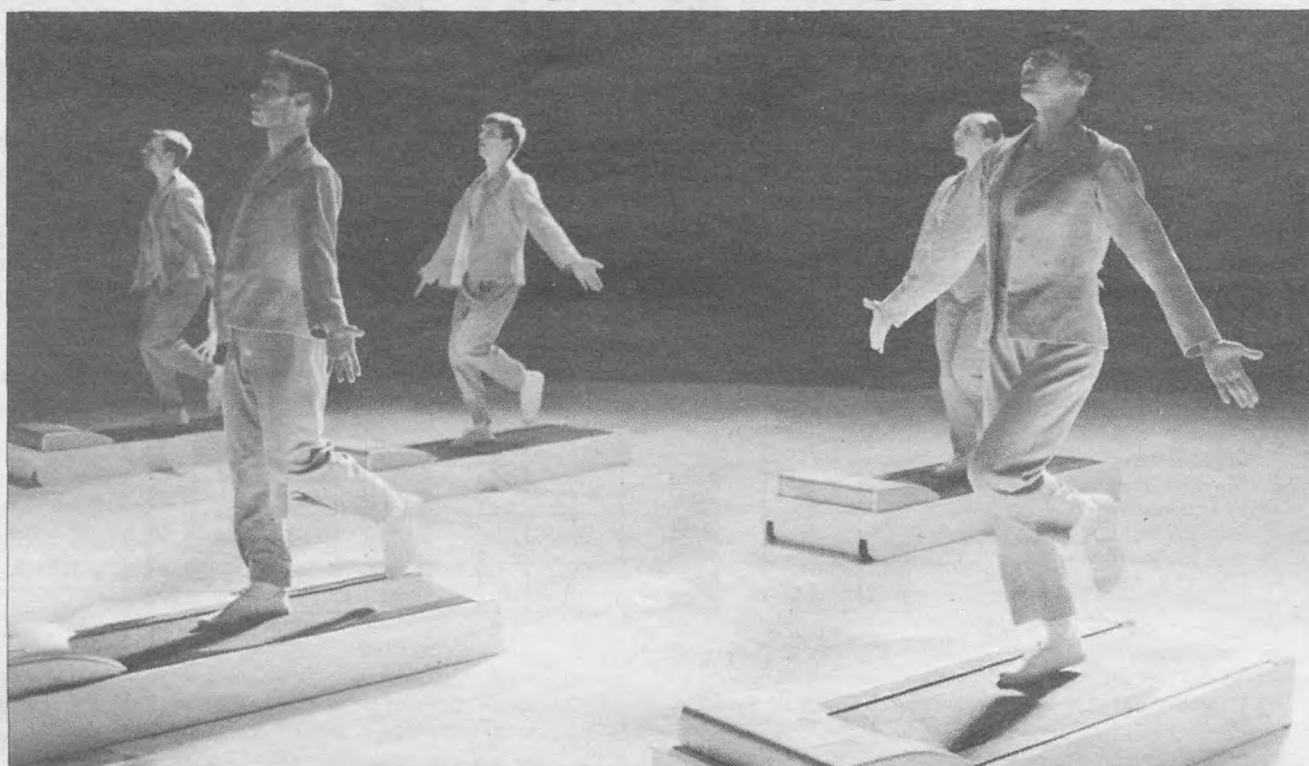

In "Secus," choreographed by Naharin, part of the ballet was notably called "Three." The dancers' body language practically exploded on the screen, much to the dismay of the Cranford audience in a dance language that even its performers appeared not to understand.

The world premiere of "Shine a Light," also by Leon and Lightfoot, combined dance language with set designs.

The most astounding costume was worn by the star performer: a gown that appeared to be made of a theater curtain, which continued to spread across the stage as she walked forward.

The costume was designed by Leon with Joke Visser and Hermien Hollander. Tom Bevoort provided the light design, which was dismal.

Accordingly, for the first time in the history of filmed ballet productions in Cranford, the tiny audience walked out, disappointed. In fact, the "move to move" out of the theater and into the sunlight was a sheer necessity.

At the Cranford movie theater on Sunday, audience members were hoping to be treated to a pleasure-filled afternoon of ballet. About a dozen turned out to watch 'Move to Move,' but a few decided they had better things to do, and walked out of the 'monotonous' production.

Spinach and Cheese Egg Strata

Looking for a crowd-pleasing brunch recipe? This dish can be made ahead and simply placed in the oven before guests arrive, eliminating morning stress. It is also a great way to use stale bread and leftover cheese.

Ingredients

- 1 10-oz. package frozen spinach, thawed, water squeezed out, and finely chopped
- 1 1/2 cups finely chopped onion
- 3 Tbsp. unsalted butter
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. black pepper
- 1/4 tsp. freshly grated nutmeg or already ground nutmeg
- 8 cups French or Italian bread crumbs in 1-inch cubes
- 2 cups coarsely grated Gruyere or Swiss cheese
- optional: 1 cup coarsely grated Parmigiano-Reggiano cheese
- 2 3/4 cups milk, heavy cream or half and half
- 12 to 13 large eggs
- 2 Tbsp. Dijon mustard

Method

In a large skillet, saute the onion in the butter over moderate heat, stirring, until soft, four to five minutes. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, and the nutmeg. Cook, stirring, for minute.

Stir in the spinach, and remove from heat.

Spread one third of the bread cubes in a buttered, 3-quart gratin dish or other shallow, ceramic baking dish. Cover with one third of the spinach mixture. Sprinkle with one third of each cheese. Repeat, ending with a cheese layer. Whisk together milk, eggs, mustard and the remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper in a large bowl and pour evenly over the strata. Cover dish with foil. Chill for at least eight hours.

Preheat oven to 350.

Allow strata to stand at room temperature 30 minutes.

Bake, uncovered, in the middle of the oven until puffed and golden brown, 45 to 55 minutes. Check it by putting a fork in the center; if the strata is still runny, cover with aluminum foil and continue baking until cooked through. Allow to stand 15 minutes before serving.

THIS IS H.S. FOOTBALL

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

Summit continues to find ways to win regular season games, so there is nothing new there.

The Hilltoppers saw a 15-point lead disappear in the final five minutes at Cranford last Friday night only to come back and beat the host Cougars on a 42-yard field goal by standout senior placekicker Mike Badgley with less than a minute remaining.

Summit's 30-27 Mid-State 38 Conference-Raritan Division victory at Memorial Field was its 30th straight regular season triumph, which is a school record.

The Hilltoppers are one of only three Union County teams still undefeated. Summit, Elizabeth and New Providence are all 3-0.

Summit and Elizabeth were defeated in state championship games last year, while New Providence fell at home in a sectional semifinal.

New Providence now has Union County's longest winning streak at four games, while Summit and Elizabeth are next at three.

Cranford, which is now 2-1, had a five-game winning streak snapped.

In contrast, for the first time since I can remember, as many as six Union County teams are 0-3 heading into Week 4.

Those squads include Brearley, Dayton, Governor Livingston, Hillside, Westfield and Plainfield.

Brearley will tangle with Dayton tomorrow night at 7 at Union's Cooke Memorial Field, while Hunterdon Central will play at Westfield Saturday at 2 p.m. in two 0-3 vs. 0-3 matchups this weekend.

Hunterdon Central lost its first two games by one point - including the first one in overtime - and then lost at home to Elizabeth 24-17 last Friday.

GL will next play at Rahway (2-1) and Hillside will host Warren Hills (1-2) on Saturday, while Plainfield plays at North Plainfield (2-1) tomorrow night.

One of the top all-around players in Union County again this season is Summit senior Mike Badgley (No. 5 in the middle). Badgley kicked the game-winning field goal - a 42-yarder through the uprights - in last Friday night's thrilling 30-27 Summit win over Cranford at Cranford's Memorial Field. Badgley also scored a touchdown, kicked three extra points and intercepted a pass at the 50 on the game's final play.

Can Summit extend a regular season winning streak to 31?

Will attempt at North Plainfield tomorrow

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

CRANFORD — Can the Summit Hilltoppers - after consecutive close calls - continue their school record regular season winning streak this weekend? Summit has now won 30 straight regular season games.

Summit is preparing for a North Plainfield team it will face tomorrow night at 7 at North Plainfield's Krausche Field on Route 22 East.

North Plainfield is 1-2 and coming off a 28-12 home loss to Somerville last Friday night.

Summit opened with a 41-7 home win over Somerville on Sept. 8 and then came back to beat Johnson 17-13 at home seven days later before topping a 2-0 Cranford squad 30-27 last Friday night at Cranford's Memorial Field.

This will be the second matchup between Summit and North Plainfield since the formation of the Mid-State 39 Conference in 2009.

It's now the Mid-State 38 Conference this year, with both teams situated in the Raritan Division.

Summit is 3-0 and leads the Raritan Division at 3-0.

North Plainfield is 1-2 in the Raritan.

Summit's last regular season loss was a 37-12 setback at West Essex on Nov. 7, 2008 in Iron Hills Conference-Hills Division play.

In 2009 on Oct. 31, Summit defeated North Plainfield 48-21 at home to improve to 8-0.

The visiting Canucks, still coached by Robert Lake, fell to 2-5.

Here's how last Friday night's victory was accomplished:

Summit senior Mike Badgley thought the 40-yard field goal he attempted in the first quarter was good, even though the refs called it wide right.

SPORTS

Green excelled for Cranford with an outstanding game

So when he lined up for a 42-yarder to give Summit the lead once more with just 26 seconds left, he was completely confident he was going to put this one clearly through the uprights.

"I wasn't thinking much when it came time to kick it," Badgley said.

Long snapper Nick Liberato got the ball perfectly to holder Andrew Masterfano and Badgley then came through with his second field goal of the season to lift visiting Summit past Cranford 30-27 Friday night in a Mid-State 38 Conference clash at Memorial Field between undefeated Raritan Division squads.

To put an exclamation point on the victory, Badgley - on the game's final play - intercepted a pass at the 50-yard line.

The game-winning field goal was set up by a return of a squib kick to the Cranford 45 by Masterfano, who is the holder for Badgley on all of his extra points and field goals.

Badgley gained three yards on first down and then the ball was moved to the Cranford 27 after the only Cougar penalty of the second half, which was a face mask call.

Two plays later, Badgley gained two more yards before Summit and then Cranford called timeouts. Badgley made his kick on third-and-nine from the Cranford 25.

Badgley, who this time next year could be kicking field goals 3,000 miles away, set the Summit single season record of most field goals with seven last year. Two years ago in a 17-13 come-from-behind division home win over Cranford, Badgley kicked a school-record 49-yard field goal to extend his team's one-point lead.

Summit improved to 3-0 overall and 3-0 in the Raritan Division. The Hilltoppers have now won 30 straight regular season games - which is a school record - and could be on their way to a fourth consecutive division championship.

Four of Summit's wins in the streak have come over Cranford.

Cranford had Union County's longest winning streak snapped at five games and is now 2-1 overall and 1-1 in the Raritan Division. Since winning the final game of their 2010 season, the Cougars are 13-2, with both losses coming at home to Summit, including last year's 52-21 setback.

In addition to Badgley's heroics, the game featured dynamic performances by seniors A.J. Iarussi of Summit and Reggie Green of Cranford.

The Colgate-bound Iarussi, who was held to 38 yards on 12 carries in the first 24 minutes, finished with 150 yards on 26 carries and three third-quarter touchdowns.

"This was a tough game," Iarussi said. "Both teams really went at it."

"He's a beast," Summit head coach John Liberato said. "He's very hard to tackle once he hits the hole."

Green, who in the first half rushed for 67 yards on 13 carries including a 20-yard touchdown run in the second quarter, finished with 227 yards on 29 attempts. He carried 16 times for 160 yards in the second half, including a thrilling 84-yard TD run in the third quarter and an equally exciting 10-yard scoring run in the fourth.

"Six times we had him bottled up and then he changes direction," Liberato said. "What's even better about Reggie is that he's a great kid."

Green, who has not given a college a verbal commitment yet, also completed a 45-yard touchdown pass and an ensuing two-point pass both to senior Chris Folinusz when Cranford made a valiant comeback attempt late in the fourth quarter to tie the game with 15 unanswered points.

Cranford turned the ball over four times - twice on fumbles and twice on interceptions - in the second half and had five turnovers for the game. Recovering two fumbles for Summit was senior linebacker Austin Carbone, while Badgley and senior defensive back Will Shamm picked off passes.

Coming up with an athletic, one-handed interception of a Badgley pass in the first quarter was Folinusz.

Summit played the game minus the services of senior quarterback Tyler Carbone and senior running back-punter Kyre Negron, who were out with injuries sustained in last week's come-from-behind 17-13 division home win over Johnson. Liberato said that Carbone (ankle) and Negron (shoulder) did not practice at all this week and that he hopes to have both of them back for Summit's division game tomorrow night at North Plainfield.

Summit's only completed pass of the game was thrown by junior Charlie Terry and it was a big one. The third-quarter pass - thrown perfectly over the shoulder of Austin Carbone, who came down with it against single coverage - was a 37-yard reception to the Cranford 3.

On the very next play, Iarussi followed with the second of his three third-quarter TDs.

For Summit, it was a second consecutive victory that was produced very late in the fourth quarter.

"The field goal was very satisfying because we faced adversity again and found a way to win once more," Badgley said.

Liberato predicted that Badgley would make a game-winning field goal the way he did.

"I knew it," Liberato said.

Liberato also said that he would have attempted a field goal of a maximum 50 yards.

"Cranford is well-coached and you have to give them credit for the way they came back," Liberato said. "We also showed that we have the desire to play hard until the end."

NOTES: Cranford junior placekicker Troy Kettler could not have kicked a better onside kick to help give Cranford the ball back with 4:52 left.

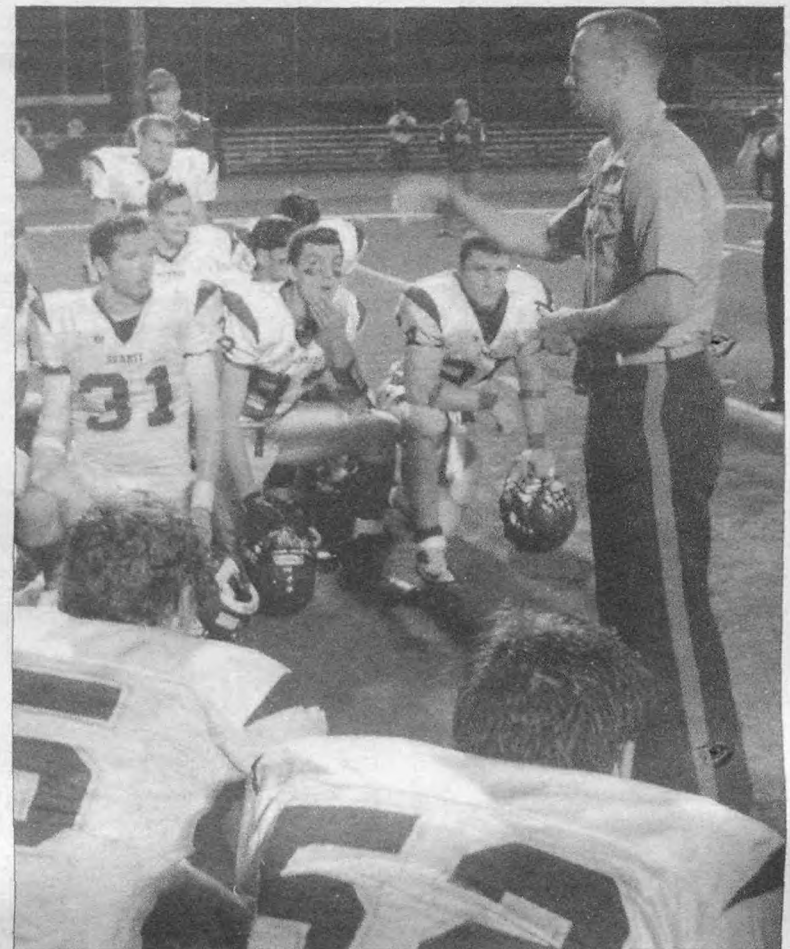

He kicked the ball from the right side of the field to the left, with the ball bouncing high up in the air and actually hitting off the helmet of a Summit player.

Cranford senior Robert Kessler recovered the loose ball, giving Cranford a first-and-10 at the Summit 45.

Kettler also made two tackles on Summit kickoff returns and tied the game at 27-27 with his only extra point when Cranford decided to go for the tie instead of the win with a two-point attempt.

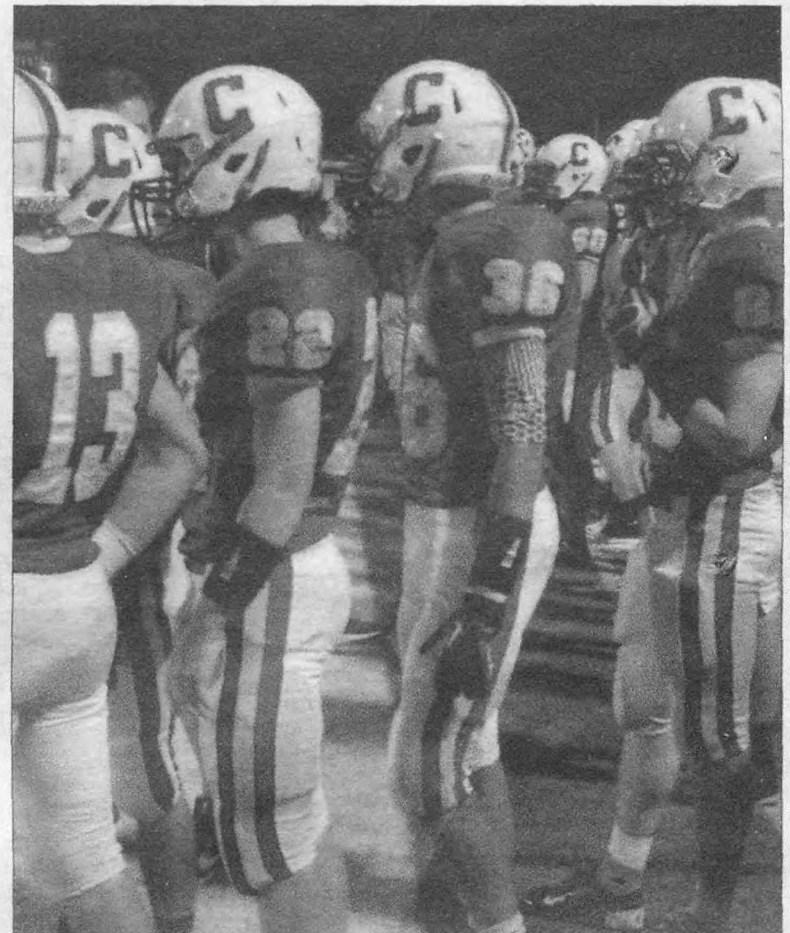

In essence, Cranford went for the win with Kettler tying the game with his extra point. First Cranford wanted to tie the game and then hope to make something happen in the final seconds of regulation or overtime.

At left, Rahway junior quarterback Jeff Bost had an outstanding game for the Indians in last Saturday's 39-14 Mountain Division triumph over visiting Scotch Plains. Bost completed 11-of-13 passes for 146 yards and one touchdown and also carried eight times for a game-high 124 yards, including an electrifying 69-yard TD run.

Lifts Indians to dominating triumph over Scotch Plains

RAHWAY - There wasn't much of anything that Rahway couldn't do offensively vs. Scotch Plains last Saturday afternoon.

The Indians, led by junior quarterback Jeff Bost and junior running back Gabril Gross, scored on their first four drives, averaging 74 yards.

It was text book offense.

Rahway received the necessary blocking, with running backs Gross, senior Michael Stradford and senior Justin Becker gaining chunks of yardage.

Then when a pass was called to either side of the field, Bost completed them to Becker, senior tight end Colin Quinn, junior split end Thorne Roberts, Stradford and sophomore Majid Abdur-Rahman.

Bost was outstanding, completing 11-of-13 passes for 146 yards and one touchdown and carrying the ball eight times for a game-high 124 yards and one TD, which was an electrifying 69-yard sprint.

Gross carried 19 times for 117 yards, including two first-half touchdowns where he blitzed his way up the middle for runs of 14 and 34 yards.

Rahway's defense allowed only one touchdown.

From the second quarter on the game was more like a scrimmage for Rahway as the home team Indians cruised to a dominating 39-14 Mid-State 38 Conference-Mountain Division triumph at Veterans Field.

Rahway vs. Scotch Plains last four years:

2012: Rahway 39, Scotch Plains 14 - at Rahway

2011: Rahway 24, Scotch Plains 17 - at Scotch Plains

2010: Rahway 19, Scotch Plains 7 - at Rahway

2009: Rahway 34, Scotch Plains 0 - at Rahway

Rahway, which defeated Scotch Plains for the fourth straight season, improved to 2-1 overall and 2-0 in the Mountain Division, while underdog Scotch Plains slipped to 2-1 overall and also 2-1 in the Mountain.

"Our line really played well, with Stephan Watkis-Davis, Ruben Pierre and Austin Jackson providing the pancakes (blocks)," Bost said. "They just kept pushing."

After scoring on their first three drives and then defeating division rival Hillside 39-6 at home two weeks ago, Rahway traveled to non-division foe Delaware Valley last week and was upended 27-20.

Determined to bounce back immediately, Rahway was too quick and physical for a Scotch Plains team - which is trying to improve - to handle.

"Our play action was working and we were getting guys open on the flats," Bost said.

"Their corners were bailing and we took advantage."

Pierre, a 6-1, 250-pound senior tackle, was also all over the field defensively, bottling up Scotch Plains running backs all day.

At one point late in the first half, Rahway had more points, 26, than Scotch Plains had yardage, 20, which all came on the ground. Scotch Plains only completed one pass in the game, which was for exactly no yardage.

"I think we could have played better," Pierre said. "They didn't see us coming."

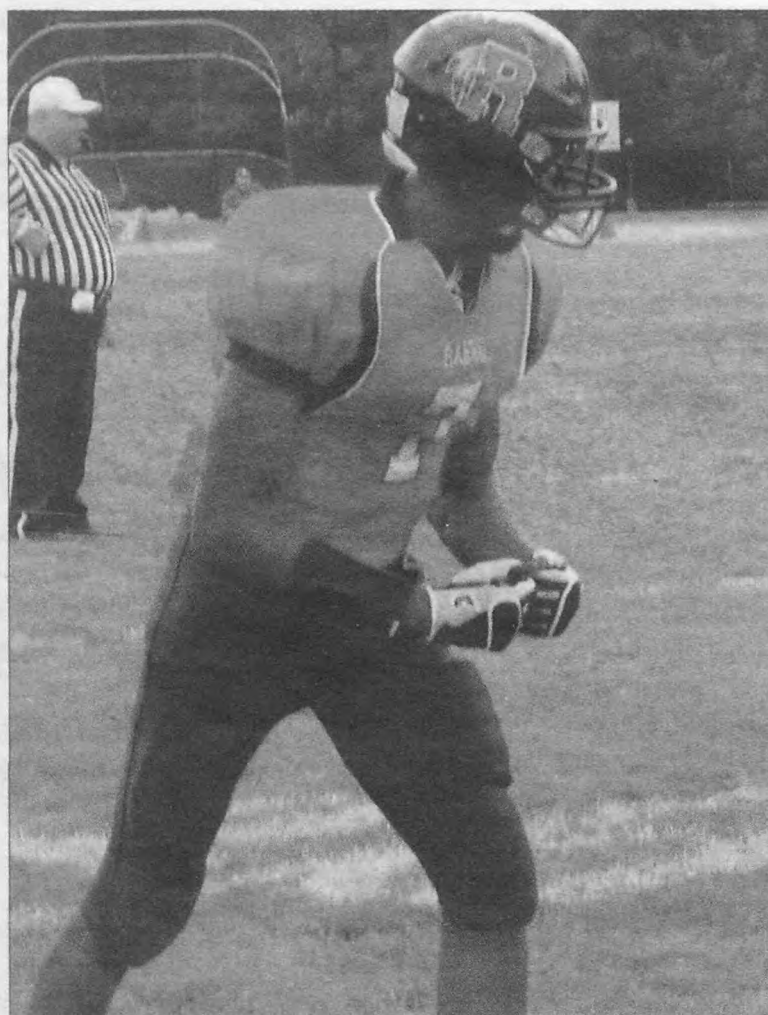

"We should have wrapped up more."

Rahway held Scotch Plains to just 113 yards of total offense - all on the ground. Scotch Plains had 39 in the first half and 74 in the second.

"We lost to DV, so we had to come out here ready to go again," Pierre said.

Watkis-Davis came out of the game in the second half with an injury to his left knee.

Rahway junior split end Thorne Roberts had one catch in last week's home win over Scotch Plains. Rahway, with an overall record of 2-1 and a 2-0 mark in the Mid-State 38 Conference's Mountain Division, will host Governor Livingston this Saturday at 1 p.m. at Veterans Field.

Linden standout RH Santiago will play college ball at Adelphi To sign his letter-of-intent in November

By JR Parachini

Linden senior TJ Santiago, a starting varsity pitcher for the Tigers since his freshman season, will continue pitching on the collegiate level at Adelphi University in Garden City, N.Y.

Santiago, with a career varsity record of 11-6 and an ERA this past season under 2.00, gave the Division 2 school a verbal commitment Friday.

Santiago plans on signing his letter-of-intent during the first month of the signing period in November.

TJ are not initials that stand for two names. Santiago's first name is simply, TJ. He does not have a middle name.

"The coaches were very welcoming and had a lot of nice things to say," said the 5-10 1/2, 150-pound hard-throwing right hander.

Santiago, who will turn 18 in the middle of his senior season on May 3, went 5-4 for Linden this past season after fashioning a 3-0 record his freshman year and a 3-2 mark as a sophomore.

Santiago said that Adelphi first saw him pitch this summer in a tournament he pitched in at Baseball Heaven in Long Island. The team he played on participated in five games, with Santiago earning a complete-game victory in the only contest he pitched.

"I had a very good outing," Santiago said.

About a week or two later Santiago said he received a call from Adelphi head coach Dom Scala.

"He said to come down," said Santiago, who took a campus visit right before school started.

"It's a small campus, but really nice," Santiago said. "It's also not that far from home, which I like as well."

Santiago, as a member of the New Jersey Tigers travel team, next competed in a tournament in Staten Island earlier this month. Scala and Adelphi assistant coach Bill Ianniciello saw Santiago pitch again and this time they offered a scholarship.

"Adelphi's a high Division 2," Santiago said. "Playing at a Division 1 or Division 2 school, you can get drafted from either one, it doesn't make a difference."

Santiago is the second scholarship player in the past four seasons from Linden's program. Kyle Frazier, a 2010 graduate, is now a junior at Division 2 West Chester University in West Chester, Pa.

Frazier was one of three catchers on West Chester's first Division 2 national championship squad this past spring, with the Golden Rams finishing 46-10.

As a Linden senior, Frazier caught Santiago during Santiago's freshman season.

"TJ's work ethic makes him as good as he is," said former Linden head coach Pat Migliore. "That's the most important thing with him."

"We tried to instill in him, going back to his freshman year, to have a stronger work ethic than anybody else on the field if he wanted to be a successful pitcher. He took that and rolled with it."

Back on March 31 on a cold and rainy Saturday afternoon in Hudson County, Santiago began his junior season in fine form. On Opening Day he tossed a complete-game four-hit shutout in blanking host Hoboken 7-0.

While Hoboken senior lefty Kenny Roder, who went on to earn all-state honors, struck out 16 in 6 and 2/3 innings, Santiago struck out 13, walked just one and only allowed four singles. Santiago was perfect in one inning, struck out the side in three and of his 101 pitches, 75 were strikes.

"I put in a lot of hard work during the off season," said Santiago, who earned Second-Team All-County and First-Team All-Conference honors. "I didn't have a great junior year, but I was satisfied with what I did."

Santiago said his fastball topped out at 89 mph this summer.

"I'm going to continue working on that," Santiago said. "My off speed pitch, my splitter, is my other go-to pitch."

Santiago will work with a trainer this winter.

"I'm looking to put on some weight and hoping to get my fastball to 92 by the spring," Santiago said.

For the last three of the four seasons he was Linden's head coach, Migliore - a fine pitcher himself on the high school level at Elizabeth, who during his senior season pitched the Minutemen to the 1991 Union County Tournament championship - had complete confidence every time he sent Santiago to the mound.

"He pitches like a 25-year-old man in an 18-year-old kid's body," Migliore said. "I wouldn't say that we did a lot with his mechanics, they didn't really need work. It was more cerebral work and that's what the Adelphi coach liked the most. He found TJ to be a very smart and knowledgeable pitcher."

"For example, when guys came up to the plate in certain situations, it was TJ learning how to throw the pitches needed to get those batters out."

Those pitches - explained by Migliore - include a fastball, a curveball, a very hard split finger fastball and a very good changeup.

"TJ really listened and adopted a lot of things that we told him would work," Migliore said.

"He took his work ethic - on his own - to a whole other level. I've never seen a kid work like the way he does."

Also an excellent batter, Santiago hit .400 as a junior. He became a switch hitter his sophomore season and this past year started his junior campaign batting second before moving up to leadoff.

"The team is looking pretty good for next year," Santiago said.

Although he will be playing for a new head coach, Santiago was thankful for the guidance he received from Migliore, who was 37-50 in four years.

"He always gave me the opportunity to show what I have," Santiago said. "He also always helped me out if I was interested in a school and which coach to contact."

NOTES: Migliore said he was let go of his position as Linden's head baseball coach at the end of June. Before that, he was an assistant coach at Linden under Dan Mondelli, who is now the head coach at Holmdel.

"Steve Yesinko (Linden's Athletic Director) said he wanted to go in a different direction," Migliore said. "He said he didn't feel the baseball program was making the improvements that he wanted."

Migliore is a physical education teacher at Linden's McManus Middle School. He will be coaching basketball there this winter for the 15th year.
