Union County's warden discusses fixing 'the system'

By Cheryl Hehl
Staff Writer

Certainly Union County Jail Director Brian Riordan knew he had a big job ahead of him when he came aboard in 2008. But this former Riker's Island warden is no stranger to hard work. Nor is he to understanding that getting back to basics often is the answer to solving problems at a correctional facility.

Over the last six years his efforts, the expertise of consulting firm Luminosity and a staff that had to be guided "back to basics," enabled the problem-plagued county facility to make a turn back in the right direction. Still, there are miles to go and this correctional facility director would be the first to admit it.

In 2008 the county jail had "an air of disfunction," Riordan said last week in an interview with LocalSource. Without hesitating the director of the county jail that houses close to a thousand inmates admitted that jail employees previously were lax at their jobs and prisoners took advantage of that situation.

At the end of 2007 county officials knew something had to give at the jail after two prisoners made a daring jail break right under the noses of correctional officers who were supposed to be guarding the facility.

Mayor wants to know the 'timeline' on turf field

By Cheryl Hehl
Staff Writer

SPRINGFIELD — Mayor David Amlen thinks a lot has not come to the surface about the land swap deal between the township and school board.

The subject of contention is the nine-acre property near the intersection of Tree Top Drive and Skylark Road the school board agreed was a good swap if the township helped them get the turf field they desperately wanted and needed.

In order to delve deeper into exactly what took place last year when former mayor Ziad Shehady negotiated a deal with the school board to bond $3.2 million to fund a turf field in exchange for the 9.2-acre plot of public land owned by the school board, Amlen set up an ad hoc committee to investigate the entire timeline. The $3.2 million bonding, however, was passed unanimously by the township committee, which included Amlen.

Specifically, the mayor wanted to know why the contamination was not revealed before the governing body bonded millions for the school board, and ended up with nothing in return. The land, Amlen said, contains asphalt road remnants and other contaminants dumped by contractors and builders over the years. But even after the school district cleans the site, any profit will likely be just a drop in the bucket to offset the $3.2 million of bonding.

The cost to clean up the property will be several hundred thousand dollars, Amlen said, adding that once it is cleaned up the land will only be able to be used as open space and not have any real market value. Right now the school district is in the early stage of cleaning the land.

"What I want to know is when the board of education knew about the contamination," the mayor said Tuesday, adding that while he is certain Shehady knew long before he told the governing body, actually proving this could be difficult. But he is going to try.

"There is a timeline. A professional engineer was hired to look into this and they provided a report to the school board. We want to know what was delivered, when it was delivered, who it was delivered to and who it was shared with," Amlen said.

"With everything that is going on there is a gap between the bond being introduced in February 2012 and all the testing going on and what they knew and what they didn't know," the mayor added.

According to the school board and Shehady, it was not until November that Penonni Associates, the engineering firm hired by the school district, issued a report about the contamination.

In fact, Shehady has maintained that he never heard about the report until Nov. 16. Amlen, though, felt he knew prior to the election, or perhaps even in the summer since the engineering firm was working on the testing for several months.

"I don't think there was any overt wrongdoing, not that I'm aware of, but Shehady has been on the attack over this and it's time to get to the bottom of the entire issue," the mayor said, adding that the township could not hold anyone legally liable even if it was discovered that Shehady and the school board knew about the contamination.

Still, he feels that if the contamination was covered up until after the election last year, "people need to know."

"Residents are mad about this and they are asking a lot of questions," Amlen said.

The ad hoc committee, made up by Margaret Bandrowski and David Barnett, two members of the Township Committee who were not on the governing body last year, will appoint one member of the public to join them in the investigation into the timeline.

Amlen said it would be better if the member of the public was someone the Republicans agreed with so the investigation was fair.

According to Amlen, Shehady has been fighting Amlen's appointing of the special committee, maintaining the mayor does not have the authority to do so. The mayor disagreed, pointing out that as mayor he is the chairman of the Township Committee and can appoint a special committee if he sees fit.

Shehady, who did not return phone calls to LocalSource, said in other media interviews that he had no objection to an investigation if it was independent, impartial, unbiased and by a neutral party. However, because both Bandrowski and Barnett campaigned against a turf field at the high school, he feels they are not objective in this particular matter.

In February when LocalSource revealed that Springfield came out on the short end of the stick when it came to the land swap, it was also reported that the township backed off the deal. After seeing the engineering test results, officials decided the school board should pay to remediate the land, sell it and give the township any profit that is generated from the sale to offset the $3.2 million bond for the turf field.

Amlen estimated that after the property is remediated, the land should sell for somewhere around $200,000 to $300,000. This is not the $1 million Shehady promised residents last year, but something, at least, towards the millions the township bonded in good faith.

Mayor David Amlen has formed an ad hoc committee to investigate the timeline leading up to the discovery of contamination on a 9.2 acre parcel of land swapped to the township in exchange for bonding of a new turf field. The bonding for the field was passed unanimously amidst great pressure from the community, including young athletes holding signs up at meeting. Former mayor and current committeeman Ziad Shehady believes the mayor does not have the authority to create such a committee.

An ethics complaint has been filed against the Hillside School District's superintendent, Frank Deo, saying he should not be allowed to serve as both superintendent and as an elected local council member.

Ethics complaint claims Deo can't serve in dual roles

By Cheryl Hehl
Staff Writer

HILLSIDE — Hillside resident and county Democratic chair Charlotte DeFilippo filed a school ethics complaint against the superintendent of schools last week, saying it is a conflict for him to serve as a local council member at the same time.

The school ethics commission complaint, obtained by LocalSource, maintained there are conflicts of interest involved that could impact the financial condition of the school district and township.

"A superintendent of schools must make decisions and recommendations about the school budget based upon the education needs of the students without the conflicting concern that a proposal to raise taxes could negatively affect his re-election to or public perception of the council," the complaint charged.

Schools Superintendent Frank Deo, a longtime member of the school district who previously served as a teacher, school social worker, principal and director of special services, was hit with the ethics complaint last week by DeFilippo, Democratic political powerhouse and Hillside resident.

Last week when reached for comment, DeFilippo was not interested in discussing whether the school ethics complaint had anything to do with the fact that Deo, a former Democratic party member, switched allegiance to Mayor Joe Menza and is up for re-election.

"I've known Frank all my life and I have nothing against him," she said, adding that she was "really upset that Frank is being held hostage by the mayor."

"The bottom line is that you can't serve two masters at the same time," DeFilippo said.

Deo, on the other hand, steered clear of waging a political battle with the Democratic chair.

"I'm surprised the complaint was filed now since I received attorney advice that there was no conflict when I was appointed as superintendent of schools in March 2012," the superintendent said when asked Friday about the matter.

Deo declined to speculate on why DeFilippo decided to file the complaint at this point in time, a year after he was appointed superintendent. However, Deo's term as a Hillside council member is up this year, which means the seat is up for grabs.

Deo did not say whether he is running for re-election or not, but was willing to explain his view of the

Hehl wins first place award for investigative journalism

New Jersey Press Association, which includes both daily and weekly newspaper groups, announced the results of their annual statewide 2012 Better Newspaper contest recently.

Worrall Community Newspapers, the company that publishes the weekly newspaper Union County LocalSource, as well as papers in Essex County, announced that LocalSource staff writer and reporter Cheryl Hehl captured two awards in investigative reporting and first amendment categories.

Hehl, a reporter for 24 years, earned a first place state award in the investigative reporting category for her comprehensive in depth look into the "High price of public safety" in Union County.

The investigative article, which took several months to complete, analyzed and compared what local towns and other counties pay their police officers.

Using the Open Public Records Act, Hehl obtained the statistics used in the countywide article which explained why New Jersey police officers are some of the highest paid in the nation. The article also compared these salaries to officers in other counties.

This is the first time NJPA included the investigative reporting category in the weekly division contest, which was judged by an out of state press association.

Hehl also picked up a second place award in the First Amendment category, winning for a Cranford article that revealed how much the township actually spent in legal bills fighting a builders remedy lawsuit.

Hehl, who began her journalism career in 1989 at a weekly newspaper, has been the recipient of 23 previous NJPA awards, winning in a variety of categories including responsible journalism, first amendment, public service, education, business and column writing.

She also received the statewide Rutgers Journalism Award for Distinguished Business and Financial Reporting of New Jersey Issues in 1999 for an article that exposed the actual financial costs taxpayers were bearing for a redevelopment project in Cranford.

PARTY TIME — Clark Seniors celebrated St Patrick's Day a little early with a corned beef lunch and a game of Bingo at Clark Recreation Center. Director Phyllis Cupo coordinated the donated food, desserts and entertainment.

Warden discusses jail improvements

What followed was a shakeup that saw director Frank Crose removed from his post and former New Jersey State Prison Warden Gary Hilton brought in to take over the helm and overhaul the facility. Crose's assistant, James Dougherty, was also pushed out of his $113,303 a year job to make room for Hilton's company, Paige Plus, a correctional service and consulting company, who took over until a permanent director could be found. But the task ahead was not an easy one. And that is when Riordan came in to provide correctional facility leadership that only a former Riker's Island warden could provide.

Few understood how two prisoners managed to spend weeks boring through cement walls, break free, leap over 30-feet of razor wire and make an escape. But past problems at the jail were evidence that the inmates were running the jail, not correctional officers, and Riordan faced an uphill battle.

In 2008, a corrections officer, maintenance worker and four inmates were indicted for running a contraband ring that involved smuggling cigarettes, loose tobacco and cell phones to inmates. The 19-month indictment came just three months after the dramatic escape of the two previous inmates.

In June 2009 there was another incident when an inmate stabbed a corrections officer in the neck with a sharpened pencil. Two corrections officers were injured during that uprising. In August of that same year the county jail was put on lockdown following brawls between inmates which caused a near riot.

A month later, a 41-year-old corrections officer with 16 years seniority fatally shot himself with a handgun inside his vehicle parked down the street from the county jail.

In 2010, an inmate bolted from the county jail while taking out the trash, but he ended up being caught and doing another three years. In March of the same year another correctional officer was found not guilty of breaking an inmates jaw.

In January 2012, two county correctional officers were under investigation after a pair of inmates escaped from a jail cell Thanksgiving night and roamed freely throughout the detention area while chatting with other prisoners. Jail security cameras captured the incident and two officers were accused of sleeping on the job.

Riordan is aware of the downside of the correctional system he oversees and openly discussed the problems he faces as director.

"It is a battle against complacency," he said, adding that his job for the last six years has been to retrain correctional officers.

"I tell them they have to change it up. Prisoners watch what they do. They know that at 10 p.m. correctional officers will get up, go up the hall, turn right and make rounds," said Riordan. "They can't do things the same way all the time. I tell them walk upstairs instead of downstairs, don't create a habit that prisoners can rely on."

"We had to rebuild and reinvigorate our staff so they were aware that general vigilance is important, critical," the director said.

Riordan explained that "getting back to the basics" by being "observant, vigilant and consistent" was one of the ways to improve things. Still, as director, he said he cannot discount the impact being in a correctional facility has on prisoners.

"The reality is some of these men and women will never enter society again, while others are in here for lighter offenses, will serve their time, go home and never break the law again," Riordan said.

Part of the equation, he explained, is getting prisoners through "the system," and much of that is out of Riordan's hands. That is where the consulting firm Luminosity came in to help this director move prisoners through a system that is notorious for moving slowly.

"We're a piece of the puzzle," the director said, adding it was immediately apparent to him six years ago it was taking longer to process inmates through the court system.

Finding a solution to that problem, though, was not easy. In 2011 when Luminosity entered the picture to provide a closer look at why there were high overtime costs, a growing inmate population and problems with moving prisoners through the judicial system.

So the county paid the consulting firm $158,000 to use a computer software program that analyzed exactly where the problems were so prisoners could move faster through "the system."

Luminosity found that while the numbers of prisoners sent to the jail had dropped by 23 percent since 2005, the daily population numbers remained about the same. This, Riordan explained, was in part due to the fact that the average length of stay increased from 46 days in 2005 to more than 55 days in 2010. That, he added, had to be addressed.

Riordan said a number of factors play into how long the average inmate stays at the county jail, including court backlogs, judge shortages and high bail amounts.

Luminosity's goal was to identify opportunities to improve efficiency at the jail and find effective strategies to reduce unnecessary detention while maintaining public safety and the integrity of the judicial system; a large order for a county correctional facility with close to 1,000 prisoners on an average day.

Riordan has nothing but praise for Luminosity, who spent 2012 working with his staff and officials to figure out how to solve this problem.

One of the key components of this effort was JPAW, or Jail Population Analysis Wizzard. This program took all prisoner data and compartmentalized it so officials could understand what the slowup was and how to resolve it.

"What JPAW did was paint a picture and tell us how many inmates were in jail and for what offense," said the director, noting that with this information they were able to get on top of why prisoners were spending so much time at the county jail.

'The thing is every prisoner case is different. We will have someone come in who fails to pay a traffic fine and a warrant went out for their arrest, another for not paying child support and then, of course, there are those inmates here for more serious offenses such as murder or kidnapping.'

— Brian Riordan

"The thing is every prisoner case is different. We will have someone come in who fails to pay a traffic fine and a warrant went out for their arrest, another for not paying child support and then, of course, there are those inmates here for more serious offenses such as murder or kidnapping," Riordan said.

In 2005, 8,726 prisoners came through the jail. Of that number, some went home and others stayed for years. That number went down in 2011 to 6,169, but the average daily population of 1,017 stayed about the same as it was in 2005. That alone set off a warning bell for Riordan.

"You would hope that the average daily population would have dropped if the annual number dropped, but it didn't," Riordan explained.

"Part of the equation is a lack of judges because you need men and women in robes to reduce the caseload," he said, adding that while every prisoner has a destination, each one has to work their way through the criminal justice system.

How fast that process goes for each prisoner depends on a host of variables.

Luminosity's computerized information helped Riordan and other officials prioritize exactly how to best utilize the judicial system so prisoners did not stagnate in jail longer than necessary.

"It doesn't help me as much as it helps the courts," he said, explaining that if there are ten judges available to hear cases, Luminosity was able to help figure out the best way to utilize these judges in the most efficient manner.

"Do I send three murder cases to court that might take months to complete or do I allow 30 defendants with lesser charges to have their cases heard?" he asked, adding that with the information Luminosity provided they now know what prisoner is at the county jail on what charges, how long they have been there and how to best move them through the system.

"Luminosity gave us the capacity to see all this," Riordan said, adding that this enabled them to put together a Criminal Justice Coordinating Committee.

The CJCC involves "all the stakeholders," the director explained, including prosecutor office staff, judges and jail officials.

"Since we started sharing data the number of average daily prisoners dropped from 1,117 in 2011 to 898 in 2012," Riordan said, but he noted that considering the needs of prisoners and their families should always be a part of the picture.

"I'm working diligently to bring a video component to the jail which will enable the families of prisoners to interact with their loved ones right from their homes," Riordan said, explaining this would eliminate family members and their children from standing outside waiting for visiting hours.

"This would let them interact more with their families, which would be beneficial," he added.

The cost of such a venture would run $6 for 20 minutes but while this feature is similar to "Skype," Riordan explained that families of prisoners would have to be "vetted," or cleared, in order to use this type of interaction.

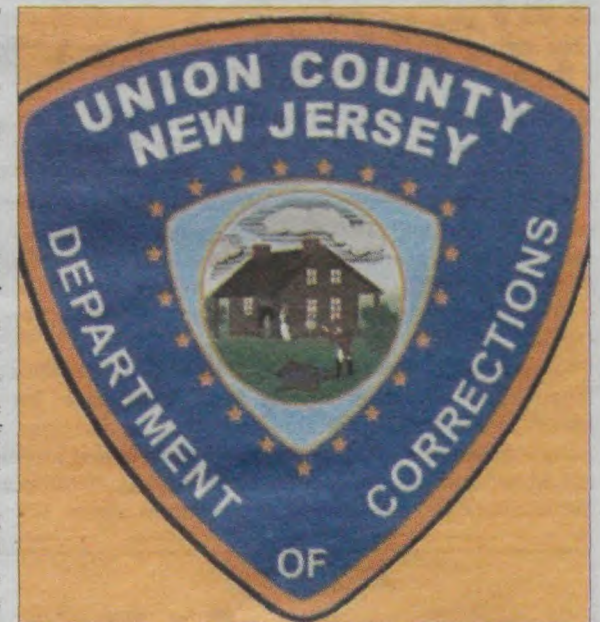

Certainly such a venture would require equipment, but the director said there is revenue to support bringing this type of technology to the jail.

With 20 years experience in the criminal justice system, Riordan is a professional who knows "the system." But he is not so jaded by the environment of a correctional facility that he forgets he plays a pivotal role on the criminal justice ladder.

"There are very few jobs in the world that you have more influence on a large number of people," he said.

"You're only as good as your last performance," Riordan said, adding that not a day goes by that he forgets this important component to being the director of a correctional facility.

Residents in Rahway, with an average home assessed at $133,000, will see a tax increase of $116 in the 2013 municipal budget, according to preliminary projections.

Rahway taxpayers to see average of $116 tax bump

By Cheryl Hehl
Staff Writer

RAHWAY — This year the average taxpayer with a home assessed at $133,000 will see a $116 increase in municipal taxes, but that does not include school or county taxes.

Although county taxes are tentatively expected to rise 4.2 percent according to County Manager Al Faella, the school tax has yet to be determined.

The municipal portion of taxpayers' three-part tax bill is a reflection of the $34.4 million needed to be raised by taxes, an increase of 3.1 percent over last year, according to city Finance Director Frank Ruggiero. The overall budget, which is offset by revenue and state aid, came to $50.7 million.

However, since the city council just received the annual budget for review last week, there still could be last minute tweaks before the public hearing and final adoption on April 8.

Monday, Ruggiero went over the details of the 2013 spending plan with LocalSource, pointing out that many factors played into the $50.7 million spending plan.

"The city lost approximately $11.2 million in tax ratables last year, which represented $25 of the average tax increase," he said, explaining there were 560 tax appeals in 2012. That resulted in more than $500,000 in tax refunds, Ruggiero said.

Another factor that weighed down this year's budget was employee health benefits, which increased 8 percent over last year, or $55 of the average tax increase.

"Only $36 of the proposed average tax increase went for the support of actual municipal operations," the finance director said.

'The Festival of the Unleavened Bread'

Passover, also known as Pesach, begins Monday at sundown. One of the major Jewish holidays, Passover commemorates the story of the Exodus, in which Moses freed the ancient Israelites from slavery in Egypt.

One of the three major Jewish festivals with both historical and agricultural significance, Passover represents the beginning of the harvest season in Israel. While the primary observances of Passover are related to the Exodus from Egypt after 400 years of slavery, it also has strong ties with Christianity, as the Last Supper celebrated by Jesus and his Apostles was, in fact, a Passover seder.

According to the Book of Exodus, God helped the children of Israel escape slavery in Egypt by inflicting 10 plagues upon the Egyptians before the Pharaoh would release his Israelite slaves. Moses and his brother Aaron went before Pharaoh to ask him to let their people go. When Pharaoh refused, Moses called forth the 10 plagues, which included turning the waters of Egypt to blood, followed by plagues of frogs, gnats and wild animals. Then came the death of all the cattle in Egypt, while all Israelite cattle were saved. Egyptians were then smitten with boils and pestilence, but still Pharaoh didn't relent. Next was a storm of hail and fire from the skies, as the flax and barley were smitten. Then a plague of locusts ate every herb of the land, but even when darkness covered the land for three days and nights, Pharaoh would not let the Israelites be free.

Finally, Moses called forth the 10th plague of God: at midnight, a spirit went throughout the lands of Egypt, slaying the firstborn male of everyone, from maid-servant to Pharaoh's own. But according to his instructions, the Israelites spread lamb's blood on the side posts and above the doors of their houses, and the spirit of the Lord knew to "pass over" the first-born of these homes, hence the name of the holiday. Pesach, the Hebrew name for Passover, translates to "he had pity," and the Passover sacrifice is often referred to as the "Paschal lamb." Following this final plague, Pharaoh did release the Israelites from captivity. Then 600,000 men, plus women and children, took their flocks, herds and cattle with them into the desert, with Moses leading them to find the promised land. They wandered for 40 years, and Moses died within sight of the Promised Land. In the modern age, on the first night of Passover, this holiday is celebrated with a seder, derived from the Hebrew word for order, the same root from which is derived "sidur," or prayer book.

Outside of Israel, the seder takes place on two nights. The seder is comprised of 14 parts, including a sanctification, washing, blessings, dinner, grace, song and closing. The day before Passover is also a fast day for first-born males, commemorating the first-born Jewish males who were not killed during the final plague. Passover lasts for seven days, eight days outside of Israel, and the first and last days, or first two and last two outside of Israel, are days on which no work is permitted. It is also known as the "Spring Festival," "Festival of Mitzvahs" or the "Time of Our Freedom."

One of the most significant observances of Passover involves the removal of chametz, or leaven bread, from homes and property. Chametz includes anything made from the five major grains — wheat, rye, barley, oats and spelt — that has not been completely cooked within 18 minutes after coming into contact with water. The removal of chametz commemorates the fact that the Jews left Egypt in such a hurry that they did not have time to let their bread rise. In fact, Jews are not only prohibited from eating chametz during Passover, but they may not own or derive any sort of benefit from it either, including using it to feed pets. The grain product eaten during Passover, also known as "The Festival of the Unleavened Bread," in place of chametz is called matzo, unleavened bread made simply from flour and water and cooked very quickly. This is traditionally viewed as the bread that the Jews made for their flight from Egypt and is also referred to as "Bread of Affliction."

The story of Passover, with its messages that slaves can go free and the future can be better than the present, has inspired numerous religious sermons, prayers and songs, including spirituals within the African-American community. It is a festival of hope, and of building the opportunities for our future on the strengths of our past. On this holiday, come together and rejoice in the unity of your family and community. Rejoice in the spirit of commonality we share with each other.

We wish you a happy Passover.

The education of Liz Sweeney

Liz Sweeney approached the microphone at last week's Cranford Township Committee meeting to address the governing body. No doubt she knew the way and the routine.

For the past seven years this always polite and by all accounts persistent advocate has become the focus of opposition to the planned 300 plus units of low and moderate income housing that neighbors contend will devastate the northeast portion of the township close to the Kenilworth border.

Sweeney's experience has included spending huge amounts of hours at site plan hearings, Township meetings and developing a remarkable website which is the keystone for those following the project. She has observed Superior Court Judge Lisa Chrystal, who has consistently ruled for the developers, and a special master assigned by Chrystal who in less than respectful terms was described by an official of another town as "her majesty."

Through it all Sweeney has been consistent, pleading her case to a changing township government which has been supportive of her role.

Sweeney acknowledges the past role of former commissioners Scott Meese and Ann Darby, who's unsuccessful efforts to get the township certification for Mt. Laurel housing may very well have avoided the fiasco.

A key Sweeney ally, Rita Labruto, acknowledges the thorough and efficient research done by Sweeney. No slouch herself in the research area, her praise of Sweeney's efforts are noteworthy.

Sweeney expresses her deep disappointment that Chrystal gives paramount importance to the builder's remedy over other points such as flooding, congestion and major overcrowding of the school system. She sees the best hope lying with the review to be conducted by the Department of Environmental Protection.

This Brooklyn College graduate, who has recently returned to the job market as her children have matured, can rattle off the terms used by developers with some clarity, another part of her education.

Sweeney is amused when told that the Bergen County group SOD "Stop Over Development" cite her efforts in their war on over development. In a recent publication, they speak about the very tricky term "negative impact." They wrote, "The reality is that once an affordable housing component's included, the courts will almost always side with the developer. So what is inherently beneficial to one group trumps the potential negative on existing residents. Just ask the people of Cranford. It has cost the taxpayers of Cranford almost $600,000 so far to try to prevent Birchwood, an affordable housing development to be built on a 16-acre parcel of land that abuts a flood plain area." Cranford residents place the dollar amount much higher.

Sweeney reflects on the "twists and turns" that have been the roadmap of the project and battle. Sweeney spoke regarding a potential conflict identifying ex-township attorney Phil Morin who represented the township in the battle. Always to the point, she says "two weeks ago I was here to ask the township committee to look into the possibility that the Florio Perrucci Law Firm (where Morin is employed) had a conflict of interest in representing Cranford in the builders remedy litigation."

It turns out Sweeney discovered that Michael Perrucci, a managing partner of the law firm, is connected as a developer to Woodmount Properties. Like his predecessors, the current mayor Thomas Hannen Jr. is an outspoken opponent of the Birchwood project along with the rest of the governing body. Hannen explained that the township is considering hiring an ethics expert to review the township position. He says he is unwilling to discuss the details, improperly asserting that an exception to the open public meetings act applies to hiring potential attorneys and not any actual litigation which might ensue.

Still, Sweeney is satisfied with Hannen's statement that more information will be available at the next meeting. No one ever said Sweeney's education was complete.

Adopt-a-trail volunteers honored at recent dinner

The work of hundreds of 2012 Union County Adopt-a-Park and Adopt-a-Trail volunteers was honored at a celebratory dinner last month, marking another year of outstanding efforts to help to preserve the County's 6,768 acres of parkland.

In addition to many on-going projects, volunteers played a key role in re-opening popular trails in the aftermath of Superstorm Sandy.

In 2012, more than 916 Adopt-a-Park stewards contributed more than 3,500 hours of labor on a wide range of tasks such as repairing fences, spreading gravel and mulch, picking up litter, removing invasive plants, and planting native species.

One highlight of the year was the removal of 401 fallen trees that blocked trails after Superstorm Sandy. No experience is needed to join Adopt-a-Park or Adopt-a-Trail.

DeFilippo alleges ethics violation against Hillside super dual position he assumed a year ago.

"I was elected as a council person and feel an obligation to the people who elected me to finish my term," he said, adding that he does not view holding the two positions as a conflict, but rather "as a way to foster much needed cooperation between the township and board of education."

"For example, we have embarked on a joint effort to open gyms for student recreation as a true shared service," DeFilippo explained, mentioning again that prior to being appointed superintendent he sought legal advice on whether this was a conflict and was told it was not.

"I was and still am serving as a township council person. The township council is a part-time position. All the sitting council members have or are retired from full-time positions, some in county government. My full-time position happens to be superintendent," he added.

DeFilippo, though, felt differently, pointing out that after waiting a year she decided "someone was being short-changed."

"How are you going to vote on anything? This is about being fair. We did considerable research and so far we haven't been able to get a copy of any letter his attorney provided saying this is not a conflict of interest," the county Democratic Chairman said.

DeFilippo's 10-page school ethics complaint, filed with the State Department of Education, maintained Deo's loyalties and duties as superintendent and council member conflict because members of council are concerned with ensuring township taxes remain as low as possible.

"Although the superintendent also must be mindful of the tax levy, his primary responsibility is to ensure the township's school-aged children receive a thorough and efficient education," the complaint said. "Certainly, the public reasonably could perceive that Dr. Deo's role as a member of council impairs his decision making as superintendent."

As council person, DeFilippo said, Deo could support spending school district funds that would lessen pressure on the municipal budget. And as superintendent, Deo could support reliance on municipal services in order to dedicate school district monies to implement certain programs.

The complaint cited multiple examples of this, including garbage and recycling services, which the township provides to the school district without cost, as well as a DARE program, public works service, gasoline and diesel fuel and pot hole repairs to school grounds.

Of considerable concern to DeFilippo was that the township is responsible for allocating a percentage of tax revenue to the school board, which could cause a problem in the future. Especially because it has in the past.

For example, in 2006 the board alleged council had "misappropriated" certain tax relief state Abbott Bordered District Aid in 2006, reducing the Hillside school district base tax levy by $1.5 million.

The complaint further charged that Deo was engaging in a professional activity that is in substantial conflict with the proper discharge of his duties as superintendent.

"Dr. Deo is using his official position to secure unwarranted privileges, advantages or employment for others," the complaint said, mentioning the superintendent has a "prohibited financial and personal interest in a service which might reasonably be expected to prejudice his independence of judgement in the exercise of his official duties as superintendent."

The complaint cited several examples of this, noting, for example, that on Nov. 19, 2012, Deo and the school board business administrator attended a meeting with the mayor to review false alarm fines that totaled $11,375.

Apparently Deo and business administrator Kenneth Weinheimer wanted a reduction in those fines, but this could only take place if council took formal action to revise the applicable ordinance.

"In doing so Dr. Deo participated in a negotiation with the council while serving as both council person and superintendent," the complaint said, mentioning that Deo used his official position "to secure unwarranted privileges or advantages for the board."

Whether DeFilippo's allegations are direct violations of the school ethics commission's conflict of interest standards is a cloudy area.

According to information obtained from the commission, "no school official or member of his immediate family shall have an interest in a business organization or professional activity, which is in substantial conflict with the proper discharge of their duties in the public interest."

One particular standard focuses on employment.

"No school official shall undertake any employment or service, whether compensated or not, which might reasonably be expected to prejudice his independence of judgement in the exercise of his official duties."

The complaint will be reviewed by the school ethics commission, a nine-member body with the power to issue advisory opinions, receive and retain disclosure statements, conduct investigations, hold hearings and order attendance of witnesses and production of documents as required by the school ethics act.

The school ethics act also sets standards for conflicts of interest, code of ethics for school board members, annual disclosure of employment and financial interests, annual filing of a financial disclosure statement and school board member training requirements.

Rahway budget comes in at $50.7 million

Of that $36, a Passaic Valley contamination lawsuit that most municipalities were a part of the last several years finally settled, requiring the towns involved to pay $95,000 each. That settlement was $9 of the increase, with Hurricane Sandy damages taking up $16. The remaining $11, Ruggiero said, went towards a general municipal increase.

"When the $36 is broken down you can see that a good chunk of that increase was for things out of our hands," the finance director said.

The 2013 budget does reflect the cost the city had to bear from damage related to Superstorm Sandy, which came to $850,000, along with $1.1 million that was bonded for municipal building repair.

Although 2013 was a difficult year for Rahway because of Sandy, Ruggiero said the city was able to stay under the state imposed cap.

"It was not too bad this year," the finance director said, but he predicted that next year could be a more difficult budget year because of contractual issues.

The council did tackle one problem that was a drain on city coffers.

In February in his annual State of the City address, Mayor Rick Proctor mentioned that in 2012, a shortfall required the city to supplement the utility with close to $700,000 from the current fund. He asked council to address the issue by raising water rates.

"While this is an unpleasant prospect it is necessary to make the utility self-liquidating and help restore the city's financial health," the mayor said in his address.

Council introduced an ordinance in February that will raise water rates by 15 percent, effective April 1. The ordinance, approved at a public hearing and final reading March 11, increases the minimum monthly water charge from $11.41 to $13.12, or 15 percent. Residents can also expect increases of 2 percent through 2016.

The increases, according to Ruggiero, would allow the utility to become self-liquidating.

The city council also introduced the 2013 Special Improvement District budget. The SID levies a special additional tax of close to 7 percent on 137 business and commercial owners. This separate tax is in addition to the regular municipal, school and county tax.

Union County hosts electronics recycling program, March 23

Union County will sponsor a recycling event for electronic equipment on Saturday, March 23, so residents can get rid of unwanted computers, televisions and other electronic equipment in an environmentally proper manner.

The special E-cycling event will take place from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Alcatel-Lucent Technologies facility located at 600 Mountain Ave. in New Providence.

All residents of Union County are eligible to participate at no cost. There is a limit of six electronic items per car.

"Computer monitors, old televisions and other electronic devices are the source of a considerable amount of dangerous material, including lead, mercury, cadmium and PCBs — and it is unlawful to dispose of them with the regular garbage," said Freeholder Vice Chairman Christopher Hudak, liaison to the Union County Solid Waste Advisory Board. "Up to 95 percent of most electronic appliances can be recycled. This is a responsible way to keep hazardous heavy metals out of our environment."

Electronic equipment that will be accepted on March 23 includes computer monitors, hard drives, modems, keyboards, CPU's, mice, printers, scanners, speakers, televisions, tablets and e-readers, VCR's, fax machines, telephones, circuit boards, CD's, DVD's and video cassettes.

All that residents need to do is drive to the site with their unwanted electronic equipment. Workers at the site will unload the vehicles.

Pre-registration is not required for this special Saturday collection.

Refrigerators, washers and dryers, microwaves, and air conditioners will not be accepted, but they are accepted at Union County's Scrap Metal Recycling Program.

A complete list of the materials that will be accepted on March 23 is available at the Union County Bureau of Recycling and Planning website: www.ucnj.org/recycle.

The electronics collection will be held rain or shine, for Union County residents only and not for businesses. Proof of Union County residency is required.

In addition to the special March 23 recycling event sponsored by the County of Union, there are local businesses as well as 16 municipalities that provide E-cycling opportunities for residents. Visit the website www.ucnj.org/recycle or call your municipal recycling coordinator for more computer and electronics recycling options. An alternative drop-off program for recycling electronics is available Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. at Newtech Recycling, located at 600-A Apgar Drive, Somerset; 732-564-3110. For more information about recycling events, call 908-654-9889.

WHAT A HOOT! — During Union County's 17th annual St. Patrick's Day Parade, which marched through Union Center on Saturday, March 16, students from Union County College were 'going green,' celebrating both the Irish heritage and the school's owl mascot with green sweatshirts. Tens of thousands turned out to see and march in this year's parade, which also included a Kids Zone featuring rides, activities and entertainers. In keeping with tradition, the parade committee and the Union County Emerald Society also welcomed officials from Shannon, Ireland and held a mass at St. Patrick's Church in Elizabeth. This year's grand marshal was Jim Tansey, and the parade was dedicated to all those who have been touched by Parkinson's Disease.

A celebration of heritage

The Union County St. Patrick's Day Parade on Saturday, March 16, featured just about anything you could expect, and then some. Above: bagpipers make their way down Stuyvesant Avenue in Union Center. Left: Students hold up seals representing different parts of Ireland. Below: A DeLorean sports cars, which can trace its roots back to Dunmurry, a suburb of south west Belfast, Northern Ireland, has a view no one could have expected.

Police presence

Police and fire units showed off their Irish side during Union County's annual St. Patrick Day Parade. The parade, which marches through Union Center, has been held by the county since 1997, and includes school bands and groups, police and fire units, pipe and drum groups, clowns, veterans groups and more. More than 40,000 people turned out last year, and early indications are that the cold and wet weather did not deter too many residents from sharing in the revelry this year.

UC Means Business is ready for 2013 kickoff

The popular Union County Means Business series starts up again in 2013 with a new slate of free events designed to help the Union County business community connect with helpful resources and information. The first UCMB networking breakfast session is scheduled for Thursday, March 28, from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. at Kean University in Union. The highlight of this year's UCMB series will be the "UCMB Women's Summit," a half-day of workshops and programs scheduled for June 19 at Union County's Galloping Hill Golf Course clubhouse.

"If you own or manage a business in Union County, or if you are planning to start one, I encourage you to put all of our 2013 UCMB events on your schedule," said Freeholder Chairman Linda Carter. "Our goal this year is to help you learn about business development opportunities, the Affordable Care Act and Internet-based business strategies, and enable you to connect with resources that can help your business thrive in Union County."

The topic of the March 28 kickoff session is "Legislative Outlook for Business." Special guests include U.S. Representative Rush Holt and New Jersey State Senators Raymond Lesniak and Thomas Kean Jr. A presentation on the impact of Superstorm Sandy on Union County businesses is also included in the March 28 session. This year, the UCMB event format has also been expanded to accommodate small group discussions on topics such as financing and e-commerce. In addition to serving hundreds of participants through networking sessions, Union County Means Business has grown to include a free e-newsletter, a website that serves as an information clearinghouse, a new workforce affiliation with Union County College, and a special loan program through UCEDC, a Union County based economic development organization.

All sessions are free and open to Union County business owners and managers, whether or not they live in Union County. Pre-registration is required, by visiting the Union County Means Business website at ucnj.org/UCMeansBusiness.

For complete event details and schedules, for and more information, visit ucnj.org/UCMeansBusiness or call 908-527-4200.

'Marching' band

The Union High School Marching Band was one of many to coast through Union Center for the county's annual St. Patrick's Day Parade on Saturday, March 16. Despite the cold, wet weather, many local residents turned out for the fun and festivities, which included delicious foods, many games, and even some rides for the kids. The marching band, however, was busy entertaining the crowd as they marched down Stuyvesant Avenue.

Aries, a mountain of responsibility has put pressure on you. Although you cannot shy away from what has to be done, you can put a smile on your face when tackling your tasks.

TAURUS, April 21 to May 21.

Taurus, something special will take place in the next few days and you will be on hand to experience all of it. Magical moments are to be made with a romantic partner.

LEO, July 23 to Aug. 23.

VIRGO, Aug. 24 to Sept. 22.

Virgo, family has been on your mind lately, and you may feel it's best to spend the majority of your free time at home rather than out. Make good use of your time.

Capricorn, it can be tempting to toss away your responsibilities and simply have fun. But then you will be so backed up it could take quite a while to dig out from under your to-do list.

AQUARIUS, Jan. 21 to Feb. 18.

Aquarius, just when you need a bit of sunshine, a satisfying piece of good news arrives. Your spouse or partner plays a significant role in this positive development.

PISCES, Feb. 19 to March 20.

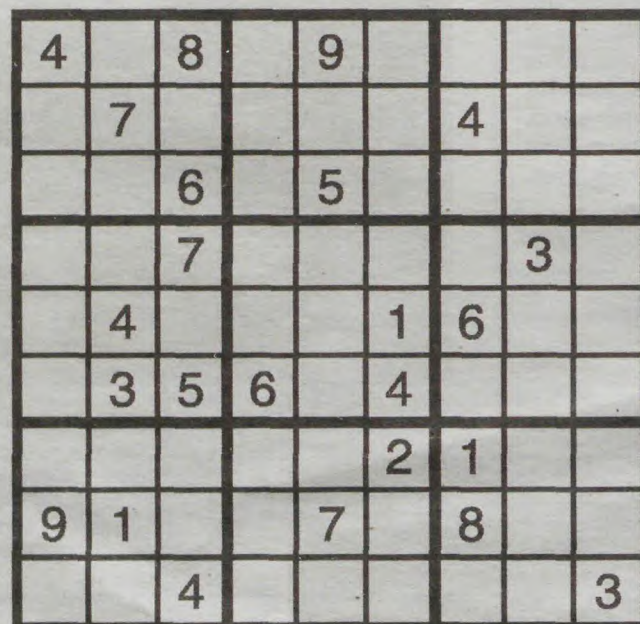

Pisces, a tangled web is forming around you, but with quick wit you will manage to steer clear of the melee.

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

KENILWORTH NEWS

'Inherit the Wind' at public library, April 12

Kenilworth Public Library invites the public to a performance of "Inherit The Wind," by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee, to be performed by members of The Hudson Shakespeare Company in the municipal courtroom of Kenilworth Borough Hall on Friday, April 12, at 7:30 p.m.

First published in 1955, "Inherit the Wind" dramatizes the furor that arose 30 years earlier when John Scopes, a teacher in the small town of Dayton, Tenn., was charged for teaching students evolution. The case received national attention as the former presidential candidate, William Jennings Bryant, took up the cause of evolution in the courtroom, facing off against Clarence Darrow and proponents of creationism. More information about The Hudson Shakespeare Company can be found at www.hudsonshakespeare.org.

Doors open at 7:10 p.m. and admission to this performance is free. Because space is limited, preregistration is required, with first preference given to Kenilworth residents. If space permits, registration will open to residents of other communities on Wednesday, April 10. Register in person at the library, 548 Boulevard, or by calling 908-276-2451.

Library book group to read 'Underwater'

The book group of Kenilworth Public Library will meet in the library's activity room at 7:15 p.m. on Tuesday, April 23, to discuss "To Be Sung Underwater" by Tom McNeal.

The novel tells the story of Judith Whitman, a middle-aged woman living in Los Angeles who questions the foundation of her marriage and has come to wonder whether or not her life would have been better had she stayed in Nebraska and married the sweetheart of her youth.

Participation in the book group is free and open to all adults, ages 18 and up, of the general public, including residents of communities other than Kenilworth. New members are always welcome and previous experience with a book group is not required. Copies of the book will be available for check out at the circulation desk and residents from other communities are encouraged to inquire regarding ways they may be eligible for borrowing privileges from the Kenilworth library. Because space is limited, preregistration for participation in the book group is requested and can be done at the library or by calling 908-276-2451.

The library is located at 548 Boulevard. More information about the library can be found at www.kenilworthlibrary.org.

Historical Society to hold tea party, April 6

On Saturday, April 6, the Kenilworth Historical Society will present "Tea at Tiffany's," at noon at the Kenilworth Gospel Chapel Hall, 103 South 23rd St., Kenilworth.

In addition to providing an array of assorted teas, tea sandwiches and desserts, the event will include a gift auction and door prizes. The featured program — "The Jewelry of Tiffany & Co." — will be presented by Janet Zapata, a former archivist for Tiffany & Co. and a consultant at Christie's auction house in New York City. She is also the author of several books on 19th- and 20th-century jewelry design. Attendees are encouraged to wear a favorite piece of heirloom jewelry to the Tea so that Zapata may comment on its historic significance.

Admission is charged, with proceeds to benefit the Kenilworth Historical Society. Advance reservations are required by March 29, as seating is limited. For reservations, call 908-709-0434 or visit Especially Yours Florist at 13 North 20th St., Kenilworth.

Resident graduates from Marine Corp training

Marine Corps Pvt. Daniel G. Ries, son of Faith and Paul Ries of Kenilworth, has graduated from recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

His 13-week training included close-order drill, marksmanship with an M-16A4 rifle, physical fitness, martial arts, swimming, military history, customs and courtesies. One week prior to graduation, Ries endured a 54-hour final test of recruits' minds and bodies. Ries is a 2011 graduate of David Brearley High School of Kenilworth.

Bus trip to shopping outlet, April 11

The Kenilworth Historical Society will host a bus trip to the Rockvale shopping outlets in Lancaster, Pa. on April 11. The trip will depart from the South 21st St. Municipal Parking Lot, across from the Kenilworth Veterans Center, at 8 a.m. and return at approximately 8 p.m. The cost includes coach transportation, approximately six hours of shopping time, a coupon book and a shopping-outlet map.

Rockvale features more than 100 outlet stores offering up to 75 percent off retail prices on popular brand names; there is no sales tax on clothing and shoes. Site amenities include eateries such as Olive Garden, Ruby Tuesday, Cracker Barrel and Bob Evans, plus trolley/shuttle service.

For further information and reservations, call 908-709-0391 or 908-709-0434. Space is limited. Proceeds will benefit the Kenilworth Historical Society's project to restore the Oswald J. Nitschke House and transform it into a "living history" museum and cultural arts center.

All bidders for the Bonds must be participants of the Depository Trust Company, New York, New York ("DTC") or affiliated with its participants. The Bonds will be issued in the form of one certificate for each maturity of each series of the Bonds each in the aggregate principal amount of such maturity and will be payable as to both principal and interest in lawful money of the United States of America. Each certificate will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee of DTC, which will act as Securities Depository. The certificate will be deposited with DTC which will be responsible for maintaining a book-entry system for recording the interests of its participants and the transfers of the interests among its participants. The participants will be responsible for maintaining records regarding the beneficial ownership interests in the Bonds on behalf of the individual purchasers. Individual purchases may be made in the principal amount of $5,000 or any integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof through book entries made on the books and records of DTC and its participants.

The DTC will credit payments of principal of and interest on the Bonds to the participants of DTC as listed on the records of DTC.

In the event (a) DTC determines not to continue to act as Securities Depository for the Bonds or (b) the City determines that continuation of the book-entry system of evidence and transfer of ownership of the Bonds would adversely affect the interests of the beneficial owners of the Bonds, the City will discontinue the book-entry system with DTC. If the City fails to identify another qualified securities depository to replace DTC, the City will deliver replacement bonds in the form of fully registered certificates.

The Bonds are general obligations of the City and are secured by a pledge of the full faith and credit of the City for the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon. The Bonds are payable, if not paid from other sources, from ad valorem taxes to be levied upon all the real property taxable within the City without limitations as to rate or amount.

Each proposal must be unconditional and must specify the rate or rates of interest per annum which the Bonds are to bear in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, provided that: (a) all Bonds of the same maturity must bear a single and uniform rate of interest greater than zero percent (0%) and no split or supplemental interest rates will be considered; (b) a rate of interest stated for Bonds of any one maturity may not be less than the rate of interest stated for Bonds of an earlier maturity. Each proposal submitted must be for all of the Bonds. The purchase price specified in the proposal for the Bonds must not be less than $26,763,000.

The Bonds maturing on or before April 1, 2023, are not subject to redemption prior to maturity. The Bonds of each series maturing on or after April 1, 2024, are subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the City, as a whole or in part on any date on or after April 1, 2023, and if in part such maturity or maturities as decided by the City shall be redeemed, at the redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount to be redeemed, plus accrued interest thereon to the date fixed for redemption.

Except as provided herein under the caption "Procedures Regarding Electronic Bidding," each proposal must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, marked on the outside "Proposal for City G.O. Bonds" and, if mailed, addressed to or in care of the undersigned at 50 Winfield Scott Plaza, Elizabeth, New Jersey 07201-2462. All bids which are submitted electronically via the PARITY Electronic Bid Submission System ("PARITY") of i-Deal LLC ("i-Deal") pursuant to the procedures described below shall be deemed to constitute a "Proposal for Bonds" and shall be deemed to incorporate by reference all of the terms and conditions of this Notice of Sale. The submission of a bid electronically via PARITY shall constitute and be deemed the bidder's signature on the Proposal for Bonds.

PROCEDURES REGARDING ELECTRONIC BIDDING. Bids may be submitted electronically via PARITY in accordance with this notice, until 11:00 a.m., New Jersey time, on the Bid Date, but no bid will be accepted after the time for receiving bids specified above. In addition, bidders must ensure that the good faith deposit check or financial surety bond referred to herein is submitted on the Bid Date by 11:00 a.m. To the extent any instructions or directions set forth in PARITY conflict with this Notice of Sale, the terms of this Notice of Sale shall control. For further information about PARITY, potential bidders may contact PARITY at i-Deal at 1359 Broadway, 2nd Floor, New York, NY 10010, telephone (212) 849-5021. The City may, but is not obligated to, acknowledge its acceptance in writing of any bid submitted electronically via PARITY. In the event that a bid for the Bonds is submitted via PARITY, the bidder further agrees that:

1. The City may regard the electronic transmission of the bid through PARITY (including information about the principal amount of the Bonds, the price bid for the Bonds and any other information included in such transmission) as though the same information were submitted on the "Proposal for Bonds" provided by the City and executed by a duly authorized signatory of the bidder. If a bid submitted electronically by PARITY is accepted by the City, the terms of the "Proposal for Bonds" and this Notice of Sale and the information that is electronically transmitted through PARITY shall form a contract, and the Successful Bidder or Bidders shall be bound by the terms of such contract.

2. PARITY is not an agent of the City, and the City shall have no liability whatsoever based on any bidder's use of PARITY, including but not limited to any failure by PARITY to correctly or timely transmit information provided by the

PUBLIC NOTICE

City or information provided by the bidder.

3. The City may choose to discontinue use of electronic bidding via PARITY by issuing a notification to such effect via TM3 News Service, or by other available means, no later than 3:00 p.m., New Jersey time, on the last business date prior to the Bid Date.

4. Once the bids are communicated electronically via PARITY to the City as described above, each bid will constitute a Proposal for Bonds and shall be deemed to be an irrevocable offer to purchase the Bonds on the terms provided in this Notice of Sale. For purposes of submitting all Proposals for Bonds, whether by hand delivery, facsimile or electronically via PARITY, the time as maintained on PARITY shall constitute the official time.

5. Each Bidder shall be solely responsible to make necessary arrangements to access PARITY for purposes of submitting its bid in a timely manner and in compliance with the requirements of this Notice of Sale. Neither the City nor i-Deal shall have any duty or obligation to provide or assure access to any bidder, and neither the City nor i-Deal shall be responsible for the proper operation of, or have any liability for any delays or interruptions of, or any damages caused by PARITY. The City is using PARITY as a communication mechanism, and not as the City's agent, to conduct the electronic bidding for the Bonds. By using PARITY, each bidder agrees to hold the City harmless from any harm or damages caused to such bidder in connection with its use of PARITY for bidding on Bonds.

Unless all bids are rejected, the Bonds will be awarded and sold to the bidder whose legally acceptable proposal specifies the lowest net interest cost for the Bonds. It is requested that each proposal be accompanied by a computation of such net interest cost to the City under the terms of the proposal in accordance with the method of calculation described in this paragraph (computed to six decimal places) but such computation is not to be considered as part of the proposal for Bonds. Net interest cost for the Bonds will be computed by adding to the total principal amount of Bonds bid for, the total interest cost to maturity in accordance with such bid and by deducting therefrom the amount of premium if any, bid. In selecting the proposal to be accepted, the City will not consider proposals under which the total loan is made at an interest cost higher than the lowest net interest cost to the City in any legally acceptable proposal for the Bonds, and if two or more such bidders offer to pay the same lowest net interest cost, then the Bonds will be sold to one of such bidders selected by lot from among all such bidders.

The right is reserved to reject all bids and any bid not complying with the terms of this notice may be rejected.

Each bidder is required to make a good faith deposit ("Deposit") in the form of a cash wire, a certified, cashier's or treasurer's check or a financial surety bond ("Financial Surety Bond") in the amount of $535,260, payable to the City of Elizabeth. If a cash wire is used, the wire must be received by the City no later than 11:00 A.M. on April 2, 2013. If a cash wire is utilized, each bidder must notify the City of its intent to use such cash wire prior to 10:00 A.M., and must provide proof of electronic transfer of such cash wire prior to 11:00 A.M., on April 2, 2013. Wiring instructions for the City can be obtained by contacting the City's chief financial officer. If a check is used, the check must be a certified or cashier's or treasurer's check drawn upon a bank or trust company and must be delivered to the City by no later than 11:00 A.M. on April 2, 2013. Each bidder accepts responsibility for delivering such cash wire or check on time and the City is not responsible for any cash wire or check that is not received on time. If a Financial Surety Bond is used, the same must be from an insurance company licensed to issue such a bond in the State of New Jersey and approved by the Director of the Division of Local Government Services in the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs and proof of such bond must be submitted to the City no later than 10:00 A.M. on April 2, 2013, at the address referred to above. Use of any other Financial Surety Bond must be approved by the Director prior to the bid and will not be accepted by the City unless evidence of such approval is provided prior to the bid. The Financial Surety Bond must identify the bidder whose Deposit is guaranteed by such Financial Surety Bond. If the Bonds are awarded to a bidder utilizing a Financial Surety Bond, then that winning bidder shall be required to submit its Deposit to the City by wire transfer as instructed by the City not later than 3:30 P.M. on the next business day following the award. If such Deposit is not received by that time, the Financial Surety Bond may be drawn by the City to satisfy the Deposit requirement. When the successful bidder has been ascertained, all such Deposits shall be promptly returned to the persons making the same, except the cash wire, check or Financial Surety Bond of the successful bidder which shall be applied as partial payment for the Bonds or to secure the City from any loss resulting from the failure of the successful bidder to comply with the terms of its bid.

Award of the Bonds to the successful bidder or rejection of all bids is expected to be made promptly after opening of the bids. The successful bidder may withdraw its proposal after 5:30 P.M. on the day of such bid opening, but only if such award has not been made prior to the withdrawal.

The Bonds will be delivered through DTC on April 12, 2013, or such other date agreed to by the City and the successful bidder. PAYMENT FOR THE BONDS AT THE TIME OF THE CLOSING SHALL BE IN IMMEDIATELY AVAILABLE FEDERAL FUNDS.

The successful bidder may at its option refuse to accept the Bonds if prior to their delivery any income tax law of the United States of America shall provide that the interest thereon is includable in gross income for Federal income purposes, or shall be included at a future date for Federal income tax purposes, and in such case the deposit made by the bidder will be returned and the bidder will be relieved of the bidder's contractual obligations arising from the acceptance of the bidder's proposal.

If the Bonds qualify for issuance of any policy of municipal bond insurance, the purchaser of the Bonds may, at its sole option and expense, purchase such insurance. Any failure of the Bonds to be so insured shall not in any way relieve the purchaser of its contractual obligations arising from the acceptance of its proposal for the purchase of the Bonds.

It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be printed on the Bonds, but neither the failure to print such number on any Bond nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for a failure or refusal by the purchaser thereof to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds. The CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of said numbers shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid for by the purchaser.

The obligation hereunder to deliver and accept the Bonds shall be conditioned on the availability and the delivery at the time of delivery of the Bonds of: (a) the approving opinion of the law firm of DeCotis, FitzPatrick & Cole, LLP, Teaneck, New Jersey, Bond Counsel, which will be furnished without cost to the successful bidder, substantially to the effect set forth in the Preliminary Official Statement referred to below; (b) certificates in form satisfactory to said law firm evidencing the proper execution and delivery of the Bonds and receipt of payment therefor, and compliance with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, necessary to preserve the tax exemption; (c) a certificate, in form and tenor satisfactory to said law firm and dated as of the date of such delivery, to the effect that there is no litigation pending or, to the knowledge of the signer or signers thereof, threatened affecting the validity of the Bonds; and (d) the City's Continuing Disclosure Certificate substantially in the form described in the Preliminary Official Statement.

A Preliminary Official Statement is being prepared and may be obtained via i-Deal at www.i-dealprospectus.com or from the undersigned at the address set forth below. The Preliminary Official Statement is deemed to be a "final official statement," as of its date, within the meaning of Rule 15c2-12 of the Securities and Exchange Commission, but is subject to (a) completion with certain pricing and other information to be made available by the successful bidder for the Bonds and (b) amendment. The Preliminary Official Statement as so revised will constitute the "final official statement." By the submission of a bid for the Bonds, the successful bidder contracts for the receipt of a reasonable number of copies of the final Official Statement within seven business days of the award of the Bonds. In order to complete the final Official Statement, the successful bidder must furnish on behalf of the underwriters of the Bonds the following information to Bond Counsel and the City by facsimile transmission or overnight delivery received by Bond Counsel and the City within 24 hours after the award of the Bonds: (a) initial offering prices or yields (expressed as percentages),

The information presented in columns 1 through 3 as well as the related descriptions of the per pupil cost calculations are contained in the Taxpayers Guide to Education Spending (formerly Comparative Spending Guide) and can be found on the Department of Education website: http://www.state.nj.us/education/under_finance, when available. This publication is available in the board office and public libraries. The same calculations were performed using the 2012-13 revised appropriations and the 2013-14 budgeted appropriations presented in this advertised budget. Total Budgetary Comparative Per Pupil Cost is defined as current expense exclusive of tuition expenditures, transportation, residential costs, and judgments against the school district. For all years it also includes the restricted entitlement aids. With the exception of Total Equipment Cost, each of the other per pupil cost calculations presented is a component of the total comparative per pupil cost, although all components are not shown.

The information presented in columns 1 through 3 as well as the related descriptions of the per pupil cost calculations are contained in the Taxpayers Guide to Education Spending (formerly Comparative Spending Guide) and can be found on the Department of Education website: <http://www.state.nj.us/education> under Finance, when available. This publication is available in the board office and public libraries. The same calculations were performed using the 2012-13 revised appropriations and the 2013-14 budgeted appropriations presented in this advertised budget. Total Budgetary Comparative Per Pupil Cost is defined as current expense exclusive of tuition expenditures, transportation, residential costs, and judgments against the school district. For all years it also includes the restricted entitlement aids. With the exception of Total Equipment Cost, each of the other per pupil cost calculations presented is a component of the total comparative per pupil cost, although all components are not shown.

The complete budget will be on file and open to examination at the Harding School, 426 Boulevard, Kenilworth, Union County New Jersey between the hours of 9:00 am and 3:00 pm Monday through Friday, excluding holidays.

This Board of Education approved "tentative" budget is being presented for advertising prior to Executive County Superintendent approval. The budget will be approved by the Executive County Superintendent prior to the public hearing.

The information presented in columns 1 through 3 as well as the related descriptions of the per pupil cost calculations are contained in the Taxpayers Guide to Education Spending (formerly Comparative Spending Guide) and can be found on the Department of Education website: <http://www.state.nj.us/education> under Finance, when available. This publication is available in the board office and public libraries. The same calculations were performed using the 2012-13 revised appropriations and the 2013-14 budgeted appropriations presented in this advertised budget. Total Budgetary Comparative Per Pupil Cost is defined as current expense exclusive of tuition expenditures, transportation, residential costs, and judgments against the school district. For all years it also includes the restricted entitlement aids. With the exception of Total Equipment Cost, each of the other per pupil cost calculations presented is a component of the total comparative per pupil cost, although all components are not shown.

RC boys' basketball sought the ultimate state crown

Vs. St. Joseph in TOC championship game

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

A season that began nearly four months ago with the beginning of official practice came down to a game of 32 minutes.

That game was to determine which of this year's six state champions was to hoist another championship trophy.

For a refreshing change we had two teams in the final game of the year for the first time.

On Tuesday night at the Sun National Bank Center in Trenton it was to be second-seeded St. Joseph of Metuchen — the repeat Non-Public A state champion — vs. top-seeded Roselle Catholic of Roselle — the first-time Non-Public B state champ — in the 25th annual Tournament of Champions boys' basketball championship game.

For the first time in three years both parochial state champions reached the TOC final and also for the first time in three years it was the top two seeds battling for the crown.

St. Joseph, which last year made its TOC debut, came in with a 27-4 record and a 13-game winning streak. The Falcons, who also repeated as Greater Middlesex Conference Tournament champions, last loss on Feb. 2, which was a 72-65 decision to the Patrick School of Elizabeth in the Butch Kowal Scholarship Games at Rahway High School.

Roselle Catholic, which was making its TOC debut this year, was 24-5 and on a seven-game winning streak since falling to underdog Union 64-63 on Feb. 16 in a Union County Tournament quarterfinal at Johnson High School in Clark.

This was to be the first meeting between the parochial powers — separated by not that far of a distance — in some time. Union County's Roselle Catholic defeated the last team that beat Middlesex County's St. Joseph — the Patrick School — three times in three tries, including in the Non-Public, South B final at Rahway.

After capturing the program's first sectional championship since the early 1960s and its first state title, Roselle Catholic was one win away from becoming the third school from Union County — Elizabeth was the first and the Patrick School the second — to capture a TOC championship.

Union County has now had a team in the TOC final for the third straight year, the fourth time in the past five seasons and for the seventh time since 2005 — the only exceptions being in 2008 and 2010.

Not only did St. Joseph and Roselle Catholic reach their first TOC final, but they also captured their first TOC wins in last Friday night's semifinals at Monmouth University in West Long Branch.

Both were very decisive in victory, with St. Joseph's first taking out third-seeded Atlantic City 63-49 before Roselle Catholic ousted fifth-seeded Newark Tech 78-64.

Atlantic City, which for the first time repeated as Group 4 state champions and won 30 games, had a 19-game winning streak snapped and finished 30-2. Its only other loss — also by 14 points — was to St. Anthony 45-31 on Jan. 19 in the Dan Finn Classic at the Jersey City Armory.

Group 2 state champion Newark Tech, which appeared in its second TOC and first since 1991, finished 23-9.

St. Joseph came back from a 31-29 halftime deficit against Atlantic City and dominated the second half, outscoring the Vikings 34-18.

While St. Joseph 7-foot sophomore Karl Towns — who will be heading to Kentucky after his junior season — produced another solid 24 points, 12 rebounds and four blocked shots performance, he received a great deal of assistance from a number of his teammates.

With Towns on the bench for more than the time of a single quarter, it was the extended efforts of players by the names of Wade Baldwin, Marques Townes, James Ziemba and Jimbo Long that helped lead the Falcons to their first-ever TOC triumph.

So no matter how hard a team prepares to try to stop or limit Towns, there was a supporting cast guided by head coach Dave Turco that had to be handled with care as well.

"St. Joseph's presents a lot of problems," sixth-year Roselle Catholic head coach Dave Boff said Sunday night. "Not only do they have great size, but they have a lot of great shooters."

"They're a unique group. When I watched them on tape they were a little different than most teams we've played."

This was to be the first time Roselle Catholic played St. Joseph since Boff took over as head coach of the Lions in December of 2007. Trying to prevent Towns from being a dominant player was to be no easy task.

"Towns is a tremendous talent," Boff said. "He's one of the better players to come out of New Jersey in a long, long time."

Roselle Catholic played in front of Newark Tech the entire game, producing the second-most points its scored in a quarter this season when the Lions won the second period 33-19.

"The Newark Tech game went the direction I was hoping it would," Boff said.

Roselle Catholic received about as balanced a scoring attack as a team could produce, with sophomore Malachi Richardson leading the way with a game-high 21 points. Senior guard Hakim Saintil added 13, senior Kory Highsmith 11 and Syracuse-bound senior Tyler Roberson and freshmen Asante Gist poured in 10 each. Freshman Matt Bullock was a basket shy of the sixth RC player in double digits, finishing with eight points.

"We went up early and then played our regular brand of basketball," Boff said of his team's first-ever TOC victory. "We've certainly had our peaks and valleys this year, but we're definitely playing the most as a team right now."

For both teams, still practicing and preparing for as big a challenge as Tuesday's game was to be was very new.

"You change the way that you practice a bit," Boff said. "You have to keep the kids fresh, with the practices probably not as long or as difficult because the kids have been playing for a really long time."

Roselle Catholic, sparked by the talents of Syracuse-bound senior Tyler Roberson (No. 21) in middle blocking a shot, went on to win division, section and state championships before playing for the TOC championship Tuesday night in Trenton.

Lions were one victory away from another championship

When the season began, Roselle Catholic was ranked among the top teams in New Jersey, but was probably not seen as one of the final two teams that would be standing past St. Patrick's Day.

That was something the Lions had to really earn, especially after they were upset in their county tournament.

"Coming into the season I thought we had as much talent as anyone," Boff said. "This season came down to two things for us.

"One, was how we would gel as a team? Two, was how good the guys would be that were new to high school basketball?"

Those newcomers included freshmen Gist and Bullock and foreign exchange student Chris Silva, a sophomore who also goes by the last name, Obama.

"I don't think our kids get as much credit as they deserve," Boff said. "With our conference schedule and 10 top 20 wins, I'm really, really proud of where we've come from."

Roselle Catholic also captured the Union County Conference's Watchung Division title at 9-1 in its second season in the league, sweeping the Patrick School, Linden, Plainfield and Union and splitting with Elizabeth.

"It was a matter of how quickly we would be able to figure everything out," Boff said.

The Patrick School in 1998 was the only Union County team to win its first TOC final. The Celtics were also the last Union County unit to capture the TOC, claiming their fifth title in 2009.

"Union County is the top county for basketball in the state, certainly recently and when I was growing up," Boff said. "We're very proud to be representing Union County.

"The teams in our league and our county beat each other up all year long."

Roselle Catholic, which began its season with games at Kean University, West Orange High School and in Philadelphia and which also played at the Prudential Center in Newark, was competing at Trenton's Sun National Bank Center for the first time."

UNION COUNTY TEAMS IN TOC FINALS:

The Patrick School: (5-1) — won in 1998, 2003, 2006, 2007, 2009; lost in 2005.

Elizabeth: (1-1) — won in 1990; lost in 1989.

Plainfield: (0-2) — lost in 2011 and 2012.

Linden: (0-1) — lost in 2006.

Roselle Catholic: (0-0) — reached final in 2013.

RC girls' basketball on strong 5-year run

By JR Parachini
Sports Editor

The Roselle Catholic girls' basketball team produced another fine season, finishing 22-5 for a Union County-best fifth consecutive 20-win season.

The Lions also captured a fifth straight division title.

Here's a closer look:

2012-2013: (22-5)

Won Union County Conference-Watchung Division at 12-2 — swept by GL.

2011-2012: (20-7)

Won UCC-Watchung at 13-1 — split with Linden.

2010-2011: (24-5)

Won UCC-Watchung at 13-1 — split with Roselle.

2009-2010: (22-3)

Won UCC-Mountain at 12-1 — split with Cranford, played GL only once.

2008-2009: (22-4)

Won Mountain Valley Conference-Mountain Division at 12-2 — split with Cranford and Hillside.

Roselle Catholic also reached the Non-Public, South B semifinals for the second straight season, falling again to Trenton Catholic.

Winning at least 20 games for five straight seasons and winning five straight division titles are a pretty impressive accomplishment.

Probably the last team in Union County to achieve those feats was Union Catholic some time ago under head coach Kathy Matthews, who has won over 600 games.

Johnson football program honors its stellar athletes

On March 4, the Arthur L. Johnson Crusader Football Team held their annual post-season awards banquet.

Head Football Coach Michael Mancino presided over the event as all athletes were honored for their contributions to Crusader Football.

In addition, numerous scholarships were awarded to deserving student athletes throughout the evening. The night culminated with the showing of the 2012 Crusader Football Team's highlights.

It was a wonderful evening to celebrate both past and present Crusaders and continues to keep the tradition of Crusader Football alive and well.

Below is a recap of the scholarships awarded throughout the evening:

The Collegiate Athlete of the Year

The Collegiate Athlete of the Year honors a former Crusader that has gone on to succeed both in the classroom and on the athletic fields. The 2012 recipient was Dan Dugan, who quarterbacked the 2008 Crusader Football Team to an NJSIAA State Final appearance. Some of Dan Dugan's honors as a player included: 1st Team All-Conference, 1st Team All-County, and selected to participate in the North — South Game his Senior Season.

In addition, he was the starter for TCNJ this past season at quarterback and broke 5 school records (Most Passing Yards Season 2392, Most Completions Season 260, Most Attempts Season 419, Most Completions Game 34, and Most Attempts Game 50) while leading his team. Dan is currently attending TCNJ where he is finishing his degree while recently completing his football career.

The Henry A. Varriano Memorial Award

The Clark Pop-Warner Scholarship

Clark Pop-Warner annually gives a scholarship to one football player and one cheerleader that have come through the program and continued their careers in their respective sports while attending Arthur L. Johnson High School. The Clark Pop-Warner Scholarship is for a scholarship and plaque.

This year's 2012 Academic Achievement Award winner is Ryan Baron.

The Dennis Carpini Memorial Scholarship

The Dennis Carpini Memorial Scholarship recipient receives a scholarship & plaque. It is presented to the senior football player who, like Dennis, overcame odds and had a true love of Crusader Football. The athlete must be a heart and soul competitor, a unifier, and a positive role model.

The 2012 Dennis Carpini Memorial Scholarship goes to...Eddie Olenick.

The Thomas Santaguida "Saint of the Year" Award

The loss of Thomas Santaguida devastated all of us. We lost a man we all loved and admired. When Mr. Santaguida came to Johnson in 1993, he had to replace one of the most respected and loved men in ALJ history in Lou Paragallo. He won everyone over with his dignity, his professionalism, his confidence, and most of all, his sense of sportsmanship and fair play. He was a mentor to us all and we became stronger from the experience.

As a high school player at Plainfield Mr. Santaguida played football and basketball. His coaches and teammates say his fiery style and zest for competition stood out even then. Those are the qualities that are celebrated in naming the 2012 Johnson Football "Saint of the Year".

The 2012 "Saint of the Year" is Lance Pecina.

Montclair State University sophomore sensation Melissa Tobie (No. 22 in middle) is pictured with this year's Roselle Catholic squad at a Red Hawks game this past December. Tobie is a 2011 RC graduate who helped lead the Lions to three straight county championships.

Player-of-the-Year Tobie lifts MSU to new heights

Melissa Tobie, the 2013 New Jersey Athletic Conference Player of the Year, clearly didn't want her spectacular sophomore season to end at Montclair State University.

A 2011 Roselle Catholic graduate and The Star-Ledger's 2011 Union County Player of the Year, Tobie finished with 23 points and seven rebounds in an 83-70 loss in the semifinals of the NCAA Division 3 Sectional Tournament at DePauw University in Greenville, Ind. two weeks ago.

Montclair State concluded one of the finest seasons in school history at 29-1. MSU, making its first NCAA Sectional - Sweet 16 - appearance in program history, reached the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1995, advanced to the Sectionals after beating Regis College, 87-47 in the first round and knocking off Lebanon Valley, 71-51 in the second round.

MSU earned its way into the NAAs after capturing the New Jersey Athletic Conference title for the first time in 18 years.

With Tobie leading the way, the Red Hawks set program records for wins in a season. The 29 wins to open the year is now the longest winning streak in Montclair State athletic history surpassing the previous mark of 26 by the softball team in 2008.

MSU also registered the second undefeated regular-season - 25-0 - in program history and the ninth in its 80-plus years of athletic competition.

Already a two-time NJAC first-team all-conference selection, Tobie garnered NJAC Player of the Year honors one season after earning the league's Rookie of the Year selection as a freshman. Entering the NJAC Tournament, Tobie led the conference in overall field goal percentage (.516), while ranking third overall in both scoring (14.9 points per game), free throw percentage (.783) and blocks (1.3 per game).

So much for the so-called sophomore jinx.

The Red Hawks, ranked as high as fifth in the nation in D-3, return all but one player from the 2013 roster next season, including 2010 Roselle Catholic graduate Jenny Malone, a junior point guard, who was sidelined this season following knee surgery in November.

Malone started 24 games as a sophomore, her first in a Montclair State uniform. Malone is well on her way to making a full recovery and being back in the MSU lineup next fall.

Tobie and Malone were starters on Roselle Catholic basketball teams that won the Union County Tournament in 2009 and 2010. Tobie was the key player on the 2011 squad that completed a UCT three-peat.
