Agreement Reached On Teacher Salaries; Cost Seen at $212,500

The Board of Education and the Cranford Education Association have reached agreement for the 1968-69 school year on salary improvements and other benefits, it was announced today by Robert P. Biunno, school board president, and Irwin L. Billet, association president.

Mr. Biunno said the proposed agreement is contingent on approval of the 1968-69 school budget by the voters at the February 13 school election.

The package agreed to by the board and the association will cost an estimated $212,500 to implement, and these funds will be provided in the proposed budget, Mr. Biunno said.

The agreement was reached Tuesday at a meeting of the entire school board and the salary committee of the Cranford Education Association, and was referred yesterday to the association's executive committee.

The major improvement provides for increasing the minimum salary for a teacher with a bachelor's degree from $5,600 to $6,400, and for increasing the maximum salary from $10,000 to $10,700.

The agreement also calls for increasing the differential between teachers holding a bachelor's degree and a master's degree from $400 to $500, and those holding a master's degree and a master's degree plus 30 credits from $500 to $500.

The proposed salary guide also increases increments past the 12th step from $200 to $300. In addition, the board has agreed to pay half the cost of major medical, Blue Cross and Blue Shield benefits for dependents of teachers.

The board also agreed to reduce the number of steps to reach maximum salaries from 17 to 16.

"We were striving for realistic salary policies to help Cranford maintain its present status in today's competitive market in attracting high quality teachers," Mr. Biunno said.

No Epidemic Of Flu Here

Although a wave of Asian flu was reported to have hit Union County this week, a check of the Cranford Public Schools yesterday did not indicate any undue increase in absences here because of illness.

Dr. Clark W. McDermith, superintendent of schools, said the 420 pupils absent yesterday out of a total enrollment of 6,282 is about normal for this time of year. In fact, yesterday's total pupil absences were 19 less than Tuesday's figure of 439.

The superintendent also mentioned that only 24 members of the administrative staff, faculty, clerks and maintenance crew were absent yesterday because of illness out of 1,200.

Speaker at UC Sees Vietnam Conflict War Between Free World, Communism

By CAROL BUNCK
Is the Vietnam war a civil conflict in which the United States has no business?

Not according to Prof. Vita J. Caporale, history professor at Paterson State College, who spoke last Thursday at Union College. In his opinion the war is being fought by the United States on one side and the Soviet Union and Red China on the other, or between the free world and communism.

Prof. Caporale's speech came two days after one by Dr. J. Spencer Kennard, retired Princeton University professor, who advanced the civil war theory and compared North Vietnamese leader Ho Chi Minh with Abraham Lincoln. The two-part forum was sponsored by the college's Day, Session Student Council and a new student organization, SCOV (Students Concerned Over Vietnam).

"The war in Vietnam is not a civil war because in the modern world there are no civil wars," said Prof. Caporale. "What civil war do you know of in the last three, four or five decades? Was the Span-

Recreation Supervisor Leaving Post

Mayor Edward K. Gill reported yesterday that Recreation Supervisor Robert R. Shupin has submitted his resignation to accept a position as director of the department of parks and recreation in South Orange.

The salary for the newly-created post in South Orange has been set at $11,500. Mr. Shupin's salary here was $8,400 this year and was scheduled to be $9,100 for 1968.

"This gives us and the people of Cranford a good idea of the fierce salary competition at the municipal level," Mayor Gill said in announcing the resignation.

Mr. Shupin, who was appointed recreation supervisor here on September 1, 1964, said he plans to finish up here on January 12 and assume his new job on January 15.

Now residing at Parkway Village with his wife and two children, he plans to move to East Orange in the near future.

Committee Formed to Support Incumbent Board Candidates

Announcement was made this week of the formation of a "Cranford Citizens' Committee for the Re-election of Robert Biunno, George Rubino and James Williams to the Cranford Board of Education." Harry Baron of 405 Walnut Ave. was named chairman of the newly-formed committee whose aims and objectives will be to work for the re-election of the three incumbent board members whose terms expire in February.

Mr. Baron made the following statement following the organizational meeting of the committee:

"A recent national survey on Board of Education members showed that every year, 50,000 men and women in this country take office as new school board members. Most of them serve only one or two terms. By their own admission, most of the first term is spent in getting acquainted with the local school problems and the vocabulary and machinery that surround them.

"The committee feels that Mr. Biunno, Mr. Rubino and Mr. Williams have been dedicated members of the Cranford Board of Education, have overcome the obstacles that surround board members during their first term, have proved

Board Member Accompanied Kiamie on School Inspection, Concurs With His Findings

School Trustee John Vassallo admitted at Tuesday night's Board of Education meeting that he accompanied Forum League Chairman Edmond Kiamie on a tour of Cranford High School and Orange Avenue Junior High School which resulted in a published statement by Mr. Kiamie that "filthy conditions" exist in the two schools.

Mr. Vassallo was asked to confirm his part in the inspection by Kenneth McGrath of 3 Normandie Pl.

"I did accompany Mr. Kiamie on tours of both schools on October 28, and I'll have to say that I concur with his findings," the board member said. "Actually I found them light."

He said he wanted to discuss the problem immediately, but the issue got sidetracked by other board business.

According to Robert Biunno, president, the board has been kept too busy with work on the 1968-69 budget.

"I asked the superintendent at the time the article appeared to gather all the information he could, but we haven't had time to consider it because of the budget," Mr. Biunno explained. "Even if the report were ready now, I doubt if we would have time to read it."

But Mr. Kiamie, speaking after the meeting, accused the board president of deliberately evading the issue and "putting off" Mr. Vassallo.

"We didn't want to mention Mr. Vassallo's name until he'd had a chance to discuss the situation with the board. Biunno is putting him

Four Juveniles Face Charges of Vandalism At Junior High School

Police Chief Matthew T. Haney reported yesterday that four Cranford juveniles had been apprehended in connection with a wave of vandalism which struck Hillside Avenue Junior High School over the weekend. Damage estimated at $1,300 was caused in two separate entries at the school.

Police were called to the school at 12:30 p.m. Saturday after a custodian discovered that entry had been gained by breaking a window in Room 36 in the northeast wing and that gas jets had been turned on in Room 35, the chemistry room. Acid and chemicals also had been spilled on the floor.

It was discovered further that nine desks had been overturned in Room 31 and papers from a cabinet strewn about. Two world globes also were broken there and the in-

Billy Ford Fund Now Over $400

Contributions to the Billy Ford Fund this week had reached a total of more than $400.

The fund was established by a group of local citizens to help defray expenses for the treatment of Frederick Ford, Jr., known to his friends as Billy, who has been hospitalized since he was injured in an automobile accident in July, 1966.

Billy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ford of 20 Park Ter., spent six weeks in critical condition in Fitkin Memorial Hospital, Neptune, paralyzed from the shoulders down, after the accident, and later underwent five operations at Lankenau Hospital in Overbrook, Pa.

He was moved to the Magee Rehabilitation Center in Philadelphia last March, but infection developed in his hip recently, necessitating additional operations at Lankenau Hospital on November 27, December 5 and last Tuesday.

After last week's operation, Billy was informed that the condition of his hip will not permit his hoped for return home for Christmas, and that it might mean that he will never walk again.

The plucky youth declared that he has not given up hope and that he will continue to fight to regain use of his limbs. The 20-year-old youth has been hospitalized since an automobile accident in July, 1966.

HE HAS NOT LOST HOPE — Billy Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ford of 20 Park Ter., manages a smile despite hip condition expected to prevent his return home for Christmas and which may mean he will never walk again. John S. McCaskill, 36, of 105 Anchor Pl., Garwood, was arrested Tuesday night by Patrolman Leo J. Schaeffer on charges of drunken driving, possession of a stolen car and operating a motor vehicle while on the revoked list.

Brought before Judge Charles J. Stevens in Municipal Court yesterday morning, he requested assignment of counsel and was sent to the Union County Jail in default of $1,000 bail pending preliminary hearing scheduled for next Wednesday night. He will be represented by the assigned public defender, Philip Dean Cohen of Elizabeth.

Patrolman Schaeffer reported that he observed a car being operated in an erratic manner on South Ave. at 9:55 p.m. Tuesday and that when he followed it the car turned into Lincoln Ave., E., and took off at a high rate of speed to Centennial Ave. and then onto the Garden State Parkway.

He said the driver ignored the police car siren and flashing light and the car did not stop until it left the Parkway by the Central Ave. exit in Clark, jumped a curb and ended up on a safety isle. The car, owned by Theresa McCann of 21 Lincoln Ave., was reported stolen from South Union Ave. near Cherry St. on December 10.

State Aid for Education To Be $58,401 Less Here

Cranford's state aid for education for the 1968-69 school year will be $58,401 less than the total for the current school year, it was reported yesterday by G. Frank Zimmerman, director of business and plant operations.

State aid for the next school year will total $702,795, including $471,150 for formula aid, $65,000 for special education programs, $38,000 for transportation and $128,645 for building aid.

In addition to the decrease in State aid, the school system anticipates a reduction of $55,994 in appropriation balances. This means the school system's anticipated revenues for the 1968-69 school year will be $114,395 less than a year ago. This amount, as a result, will be added to the amount to be raised by local taxation, which is the figure in the budget which determines the 1968 school tax rate.

Mr. Zimmerman said the total anticipated in appropriation balances was reduced primarily by the new state law requiring public school systems to provide transportation for local students attending parochial and private schools. This program will cost the local school system about $40,000 this year.

The reduction in state aid was attributed by Mr. Zimmerman to the township's increase in ratables. Under a complicated formula, a school district receives less state aid as its ratables increase.

Dr. Clark W. McDermith, superintendent of schools, submitted a proposed budget for the 1968-69 school year to the Board of Education increasing appropriations by about $350,000 over the 1967-68 total. Dr. McDermith's proposed budget, however, did not include any funds for improvement in systems in six schools as required salary and fringe benefits policies, by state law.

with representatives of the board of trustees in January to discuss Union College's future status. The committee also will serve a liaison role between the trustees and the faculty to keep all faculty members informed of the fast-moving development in New Jersey's higher education scene, Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, dean, reported.

Committee Named To Chart Future Role of College

The faculty of Union College has elected a four-man committee to work with the board of trustees and the administration in determining the role of the "two-year college of the academic disciplines" should play in New Jersey's system of higher education.

Named to the committee were Prof. Oscar Flishtein of Jackson Township, a member of the English department; Prof. Farris S. Swackhamer of Cranford, chairman of the chemistry department and director of the evening and summer sessions; Prof. Elmer Wolf of Cranford, chairman of the engineering department, and Prof. Francis J. Javel of Hillside, an instructor in the evening session. The faculty committee will meet Appropriations for next year total about $5.2 million, as compared with $4.85 million a year ago. Dr. McDermith said the major increases are about $110,000 to implement existing salary policies, $40,000 to provide transportation for Cranford residents to non-public schools, $30,000 to implement the Beadleston Act, which requires educational programs for all handicapped children, $110,000 for 18½ additional personnel, including 14 additional teachers, three custodians, a maintenance man, and a half-time teacher aide, $20,000 for fixed charges like increased Social Security and workmen's compensation costs, and $42,000 for fire alarm systems in six schools as required by state law.

Importance of Breakfast Stressed in Clerical Class

A recent unit of work in Thomas Scuto's clerical office practice class at Cranford High School included the importance of nourishment and its contribution to efficiency at work. Particular attention was given the matter of a substantial breakfast as a foundation on which to build a good day's work.

As a follow-up, the members of the class were guests of Dr. Charles Post, principal, at breakfast. Student host and hostess were Michael Koon and Kathy McAteer, assisted by Hope Finkel, Maria Ortiz, Sue Messersmith and Joan Simoons.

The breakfast consisted of orange juice, cereal, bacon, egg, tomato, toast, beverage and Danish pastry. It was prepared and served by the following members of Mrs. Jane Van Vranken's foods class: Candy

Carmella, Diana Collalto, Patty Dooley, Elaine Gerstman, Diane Keller, Karen Kozlar, Karen Mercer, Julie Moses, Sue Nassberg, Donna Poszyler, Cathy Tinnes, Sandy Stanton, Lin Van Jaekel and Linda Van Scholck.

After breakfast, Mrs. Van Vranken addressed the office practice and foods classes on the values derived from a good breakfast, on different kinds of breakfasts, et-

JAMES M. BELL

Bell Again Heads MOD Drive Here

The March of Dimes this week announced the appointment of James M. Bell of 21 Morse St. as the Cranford community chairman for its 30th anniversary fund raising campaign, which will commence in January. Mr. Bell, who is an attorney practicing law in Newark, also served as community chairman of the March of Dimes during the 1967 campaign.

It was also announced that Harold Seymour will serve as the business and industry chairman and that Frank Tamino would serve as publicity chairman for the 1968 campaign.

"Birth defects are the second greatest killer in the United States," Mr. Bell said. "Every year they cause the death of 60,000 children and adults and kill more than a half-million babies before they're even born."

"Research is an important weapon in our fight against this killer."

"The National Foundation-March of Dimes allocates a substantial part of the country. We're proud to support the men and women engaged in these undertakings. They're all distinguished leaders in the field of medicine."

Scientists associated with the March of Dimes are now investigating a number of hereditary and environmental factors that interfere with the development of the unborn child, such as the effects of infections during pregnancy, relationships of drugs to birth defects, and other errors of body chemistry and structure.

"If our nation is to produce stronger, healthier babies, research must be expanded as quickly as contributions permit," Mr. Bell added. "At the same time, the results of research must be translated into techniques for treating or preventing birth defects. We, therefore, urge the public to give generously."

The merger agreement has been approved by the Board of Directors of both associations and will be consummated upon official endorsement by the members of the Representative association.

Committee Formed

 their abilities during the past three years, and it would be in the best interest of Cranford, its school system and the pupils attending our public schools to keep Mr. Biunno, Mr. Rubine and Mr. Williams on the board for another three-year term.
 "Furthermore, the committee feels that education is one of the most central issues of the day and of our time; that it requires the support of dedicated members of our community, and that the three incumbent members of the Board of Education seeking reelection have worked for and will continue to work for an educational system in Cranford that will meet the needs, desires and wants of Cranford parents, citizens and taxpayers."
 Mr. Baron reported that the committee had adopted two slogans for its reelection campaign. "Experience Is the Best Teacher" and "One Good Term Deserves Another."
 "The committee feels," he concluded "that the school board election to be held next February 13 will provide the citizens of Cranford with an opportunity to continue leadership and progress in the Cranford school system by the reelection of Mr. Biunno, Mr. Rubine and Mr. Williams."

 off," Mr. Kiamie declared, adding that "Biunno can run, but he can't hide."
 "The two men got into another argument over Mr. Kiamie's request for a maintenance report covering work done in the schools during November. The report was presented by G. Frank Zimmerman, director of business and plant operations and distributed Tuesday night to board members who asked for it.
 Mr. Kiamie's demand that he also receive a copy annoyed Mr. Biunno, who pointed out that board members had not even had a chance to read it.
 "This happened in November.

It's a public record," the Forum League leader retorted. "I have a right to have it."
 He then asked Board Attorney George Sauer to make a legal judgment in the matter. Mr. Sauer said he would give his decision at tonight's workshop meeting.
 On another subject, Fred E. Lund of 104 Columbia Ave. presented a comparison of teacher salaries in Cranford with those in other communities. The study covered 128 school districts in Union, Essex, Middlesex, Morris and Somerset Counties.
 "Starting salaries range from $5,100 to $6,850. The median is $5,800," Mr. Lund said. "Cranford exceeds the median by $100. One hundred thirteen districts pay as much or less than Cranford. Fourteen out of 128 pay more."
 When normal increments of $600 are added next year, he continued, "the average Cranford teacher salary will be approximately $8,078.55, or $9,694 on a 12-month basis."
 Mr. Lund concluded that since "these figures appear to indicate that current Cranford salary guides are comparable to or better than salaries paid in other areas, a large adjustment at this time does not appear necessary or warranted."

 Miss Tarby, who is doing graduate work at Seton Hall University, earned a bachelor of arts degree from Douglass College. In the summer of 1964, she completed courses on Shakespeare at Oxford University, England. Miss Tarby has three years' experience in the Scotch Plains - Fanwood High School, and her annual salary will be $7,000.
 Mrs. McNally is an experienced Cranford elementary teacher and recently served as a substitute remedial reading instructor. Her annual salary will be $7,200.
 The board accepted the resignations of Miss Roberta Bussom, junior high school science teacher, and William McClung, Jr., junior high school social studies teacher, both effective November 22. Mrs. Margaret Salway, high school English teacher, effective December 8, and Mrs. Lucy Guglielmino, junior high school English teacher, effective December 31.

 The board also hired a custodian, Phillip Zulauf, Jr., from January 1 to June 30, 1968, at an annual salary of $4,400.
 A resolution was adopted expressing sympathy on the death of Charles P. Litten, head of the guidance department at Cranford High School.

 answer: "I agree that it is immoral, but I don't know of any moral way to fight a war. If you're fighting Nazis, you have to out-Nazi them. If you're fighting a guerilla war, this is the way you fight. It's barbaric, but that's the way things are. I don't mix politics with morality."
 "As for the war being illegal, this is irrelevant. War is not legal or illegal. It's an abandonment of legal means and a resort to violence."

Agreement Reached

 Biunno said. "We believe we have achieved this goal in cooperation with the Cranford Education Association."
 "We are pleased that our policies and concepts represented in this proposal were recognized and approved by the Cranford Education Association," Mr. Biunno added.
 Mr. Billet praised the "close cooperation" between the school board and its association.
 "The proposals made by the Board of Education recognize their efforts to provide a more professional salary guide for teachers in the Cranford public school system," Mr. Billet said. "This agreement indicates our efforts to work together to provide the highest possible quality program and our concerns for the needs of children in our public school system."
 The board also is incorporating in the budget, funds to improve the salaries of all other categories of school employees, Mr. Biunno said. He added that the details of these improvements are still being worked out.
 Another workshop meeting on the budget will be held tonight in Lincoln School.

dents did not let him escape without answering their questions. Like Dr. Kennard, he was challenged by several who disagreed with him.
 One student, noting that Vietnam is only one small country, asked if it were really worth all the sacrifice of money and lives.
 "How many lives will it take, two million, ten million?" the student asked.
 "Two hundred million?" another chimed in.
 "Whatever it takes," Prof. Caporale told them.
 Further argument ensued over the professor's assertion that the Vietnam war should be waged with as much determination as World War II.
 "But we're not fighting the Nazis," a student argued.
 "They're the same as Nazis," Prof. Caporale insisted. "They're enemies of my country."
 His statement brought a round of applause from the audience.
 It was not until 2:45 p.m., 45 minutes longer than scheduled, that the debate ended.

What of those who argue the United States is not directly under attack?
 Prof. Caporale replied that the frontiers of a country are not limited by geographical boundaries but include the frontiers of its allies.
 "Some say the war can't be won," the lecturer continued. "I say why not? The only thing required to win this war is the resolve to win it."
 Specific steps he said should be taken included occupation of the demilitarized zone, more systematic bombing of the north, bombing of the dikes, mining of the harbors and employment of terror bombing "to break the will of the civilian population."
 Civilians, he noted, are a legitimate target in a guerilla war.
 Continuing his attack on peacemaker arguments, he agreed with those who contend the Saigon government is corrupt.
 "Politics by its nature is corrupt," he pointed out. "I think all governments are corrupt. These people demand a degree of purity for South Vietnam which they don't expect of themselves."
 His opinion of world opinion, which is said to be against the American action?
 "Toward the rich and powerful, weak nations can only feel two things—fear or envy," the professor replied. "If you don't want to be feared or envied, then give up everything you have."
 In some respects Prof. Caporale agreed with Dr. Kennard. Both contended that the United States' actions in Vietnam and elsewhere are motivated by self interest.
 "We are an imperial power," Prof. Caporale admitted. "By that I mean we buy cheap and sell dear. We invest where the returns are highest."
 Of those like Dr. Kennard who cry "exploitation," Prof. Caporale said, "It's hypocrisy to condemn the system and at the same time enjoy its benefits. Try to get some of these professors to work twice as long for half the pay."
 Prof. Caporale, scheduled to speak for 40 minutes, to allow 20 minutes for questions, continued for nearly an hour, but the stu-

Many Local Residents Assist In 'Lift for Learning' Project

"Lift for Learning," a program in which grammar school children are helped to improve their reading and basic skills by teenage tutors is involving many people from Cranford. The program, now in its fifth year, has as its main theme, "Learning Can Be Fun!" About 65 children and their tutors meet every Tuesday from 3 to 4:30 p.m. at Greystone Church in Elizabeth.

The key tutor who helps recruit others is Sue Baldwin of 9 Woods Hole Rd. Other tutors from Cranford are:

Pat Beadle, 31 John St.; Phyllis Dunlop, 715 Willow St.; Toni Esposito, 10 Arlington Rd.; Mary Fleckenstine, 16 Tulip St.; Mary Lou Gilroy, 828 Springfield Ave.; Pam Humphries, 112 Glenwood Rd.; Nancy Hunter, 122 Oak Lane; Carol Miller, 8 Central Ave.; Cindy Mueller, 831 Lincoln Pl., E.; Thomas Rau, 16 Hillside Pl.; June and Jane Rocky, 12 Yale Ter.

Jeanne Seelbach, 53 Beech St.; Gale Swinton, 204 Oak Lane; Susan Wait, 120 Herning Ave.; Carol Weisberger, 208 Oak Lane, and Susan Wilson, 431 Manor Ave.

A number of Cranford adults are present at Greystone Church on Tuesdays to help run the program. They include Mrs. Stanley J. Dwyer, 3 Indian Spring Rd.; Mrs. Charles Goodfellow, 403 Claremont Pl.; Mrs. Albert E. Johnson, 15 Madison Ave., and Mrs. W. G. Philippoff, 51 Nomahegan Ct.

A Cranford schoolteacher, Mrs. R. D. F. Steinhart of 149 Independence Dr., Roselle, also participates. Two Cranford ministers who assist in this work are the Rev. J. P. Sapp of the First Baptist Church and the Rev. Paul Letiecq of the First Presbyterian Church.

Behind the scenes doing office work for "Lift for Learning" are Mrs. Stanley Dwyer, 3 Indian Spring Rd.; Mrs. Norman Goringe, 115 Columbia Ave., and Mrs. Dan Swinton, 204 Oak Lane.

Last week "Lift for Learning" put on an African Festival. William Knox of 22 Doering Way, a former Peace Corps worker in Malawi, Africa, loaned a number of items he had brought back from there.

Mrs. Robert Seavy, 26 Tuxedo Pl., also arranged bulletin boards for the festival.

Anyone who would be willing to spend some time with these children on Tuesday afternoons, or who has a special talent he would be willing to share at some Tuesday session, is requested to call Rev. Mr. Sapp at his home, 392 Centennial Ave.

Tips on Recliner Chair Selection For Your Santa

Planning to buy a recliner for your own private Santa? Here are some tips from G. F. X. Geier, vice-president and general merchandise manager of Koo's, the Furniture Showplace, Rahway.

Today's recliner is no longer a big clumsy lump of a chair to hide away from company, Mr. Geier points out. All dressed up by the designers, today's recliners are welcome in any style of living room.

No longer is recliner upholstery limited to shiny plastic or mouse-color fabrics with a hair-shirtitchiness, Mr. Geier observes. New embossing techniques in wipe-clean vinyls give that practical material a whole new look simulating every breed of leather.

Those who prefer genuine fabrics will find a range of coverings every bit as varied as in standard upholstered furniture both as stock item chairs or those covered-to-order.

According to Mr. Geier the best test of a recliner is to recline in it — running it through all positions to see that it's comfortable. It should go from sit-up to sit-back to stretch-out with no resistance, gliding silently into each setting with only slight body pressure.

A recliner, of course, should fit its occupant, the space and the place! If dad is extra tall or extra wide, so should be his chair. Make space available for the maximum enjoyment of a recliner; you'll need an extra two and a half feet of clearance behind an upright recliner. Fit the place by choosing a style that blends in with the room where a recliner is likely to get the most use, whether it be living room, family room or dad's den.

Heyburn Appears In Benefit Show

Daniel H. Heyburn of 25 Sylvester St. is a member of the Easternaires, a famous barbershop quartet which was featured in a recent show held in Jersey City for benefit of the family of Jersey City Police Lt. Stanley Przygocki, who was killed in the line of duty.

Also appearing on the show were the Rocket-Tones, the Chorus of the Palisades and the Sweet Adelines, a female barbershop chorus. The show was sponsored by the Jersey City Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America in cooperation with the Jersey City Police Department.

As a member of the Easternaires, Mr. Heyburn appeared on Broadway in Meredith Willson's "Music Man" and later toured the country with the show's road company.

Cerebral Palsy League Forms Speakers' Bureau

Speakers may be obtained by calling or writing to James L. Simpson, program director, at the Cerebral Palsy Center, 216 Holly St.

The Story of the First Christmas

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David),

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her first born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said to them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly hosts praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

Answer to the Skepticism of a Skeptical Age

(In response to a number of requests and as a stimulus to Christmas spirit among young and old, the Citizen and Chronicle herewith reprints the famous "Virginia Editorial" which appeared in the New York Sun in 1897.)

"We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of the Sun:

Dear Editor — I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus.

Papa says: "If you see it in the Sun it's so."

Please tell me the truth: Is there a Santa Claus?

Virginia O'Hanlon
"Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or little children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth or knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus. It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no child-like faith then; no poetry; no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

"Not believe in Santa Claus? You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You may tear apart the baby's rattle to see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, or even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

"No Santa Claus? Thank God; he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay ten times ten thousand years from now he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

Help Brighten the Holidays for Less Fortunate Families

Did you ever go hungry on Christmas Day?

Did you ever stare with an empty feeling into a corner of the room and see no brightly lit tree with presents piled high beneath?

There are families in Cranford for which this bleak view will be a reality this year unless their friends and neighbors act to share a little with them now.

The Cranford Welfare Association was founded to help those in need and with no one to turn to for aid. In the past, with the assistance of many community organizations and individual citizens, the Welfare Association has been able to brighten the lives of those most in need of help.

Now again, residents of Cranford can help brighten the season for less fortunate families by sharing their good fortune with them. Donations of food, clothing and even gifts for the children will be distributed by the Welfare Association in time for the holidays.

Take your contribution to the Cranford Welfare Association office in the Municipal Building today and your own Christmas will be a happier one too.

Nature Notes

By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER

The eerie cry of a loon, the high-pitched whistle of a white-throated sparrow and the hammer of a flicker echoed through the living room. I was stretched out in my favorite chair. This was bird-watching de-luxe. The bird sounds faded out and the voice of Alexander Scourby took over: "In all of man's time on earth, there has never been a sky without birds." Let's hope there never will be in our generation or those to come after us.

"Winged World," the National Geographic's documentary on the feathered kingdom that was seen a week ago last Monday on Channel 2, was one of the best programs I've seen on TV. Peter Scott opened the program with a few words on the evolution of birds from reptiles. There were pictures of the earliest birds as reconstructed in the museums of the country. High speed photography pictured one of evolution's end products, an Anna's hummingbird. A half second in the air before a flower was stretched on film to a full minute, showing the tiny bird hovering and backing up in the air.

The program's commentator pointed out that there were about 8,600 living species of birds in the world today and in the neighborhood of 100 billion individuals. There were shots of a fight between a red-tailed hawk and a raptor. The hawk was the victor. Mr. Scourby's voice brought home the fact that man was the only real enemy the birds had.

The intelligence of birds was commented on. A cockatoo rang a bell seven times on cue. The use of tools by several varieties was dramatically illustrated. Vultures threw rocks at ostrich eggs to open them so they could eat the yolk and white inside. Woodpecker finches used cactus needles to dig elusive larvae out of their holes. There were views of an Australian bower bird, building a highly complicated bower in which to woo his lady friend.

One of the incidents gone into in some detail was the homing instinct of the Manx shearwater. These scenes were done with the help of the fellow who had done all the research in this area, Ronald M. Lockley. If you want to read more about his work, he has written a book titled "Shearwaters," available in paperback from Doubleday's Natural History Library for $12.50.

Another book by Lockley has recently become available: "Animal Migration" (Hart Publishing Co., Inc., New York, $5.00) tells the story of migration of all sorts of animals. I haven't had a chance to read it yet but as soon as I do I'll bring you up to date on its contents.

That world traveler, the cattle egret, that I spotted in Cape May County a summer or two ago while watching dairy cattle feed, has spread westward to California. The latest number of the Condor tells of sightings in Ventura and Humboldt Counties in that state. The birds were seen during the fall of 1966.

Although we've been feeding the birds in the backyard I hope to put up a feeder that will double as an outdoor studio for birds. Part of my spare time this winter, I hope, will be spent trying some new photographic techniques I read about this past summer.

Junior High School
Cranford, N. J.
December 12, 1967

Dear Sir:

We would like to comment on the front page article of November 30 about the "filth" in Orange Avenue Junior High School. As students at Orange Avenue, we feel that we are well qualified to testify to the cleanliness of the school.

We students have a pride in our school. Consciously or unconsciously, we find ourselves trying to keep our modern school as clean and well-kept as possible.

We do not take it lightly when our school is unjustly criticized. We know that our school is not in the condition reported by Mr. Kiamie. At Orange Avenue Junior High School there are many evidences of our pride and our efforts to make our school more beautiful. An example is the Patrick Marotto Memorial Court, established as a memorial to the life and death of a young teacher. So highly do we feel of Mr. Marotto and the idea of the court that we and the student body donated over $700 to the development of it.

A look at the Memorial Court and many other examples of the beauty of our school would show you that it is very hard to find places where "the desecration and destruction of the junior high is almost beyond credibility."

A Backward Glance
Children of this go-go day,
Beneath your modernistic tree;
Knee-deep in gifts, yet so blasé,
Bored with life as you can be.
How we'd like to take you back
To our Christmas, years ago;
To see the many things you lack
In this synthetic age we know.
High above the bright stars
twinkled,

Each little house sent out its glow;
All silent, save when bells
tinkled
As distant sleighs went through the snow.

In the parlor we danced with joy
'Round our modest Christmas tree;
Strange that a simple game or toy
Could produce such ecstasy.
Children of this atomic day,
Beside your artificial tree;
You are December, we are May,
Eager for life as we can be.

Secondary school students in Cranford were to return to single sessions with the opening of the new junior high schools on Orange Ave. and Hillside Ave. in the fall, it was noted in an up-graded curriculum schedule released by the Board of Education. Seventy-seven minutes were to be added to the senior high schedule (grades 11-12), and 22 minutes to the junior high day (grades 7-10), with classes at all three schools running from 8:20 a.m. to 2:50 p.m. The revised curriculum was to include an increased physical education program and enlarged music, arts and industrial arts programs.

Members of 38 needy families in Cranford were to be remembered in some manner through Christmas gifts from local organizations and residents channeled through the Cranford Welfare Association. It was announced by Mrs. Arthur G. Lennox, executive director. The gifts included fruit baskets, food baskets, clothing and toys, Christmas parties also were planned.

Federal aid to education would be one of the first controversial issues to face the new 88th Congress, according to Republican Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer, who spoke to government students at Union Junior College. She predicted that a bill for aid for college construction and possible federal scholarships would be adopted. "We on the state level could do a good deal more in the field of education rather than running to the federal government," Mrs. Dwyer said. "We ought to do it for ourselves. If we don't watch ourselves, we'll be a have-not state, because federal aid to education would help the poorer states." Other "hot" issues the congresswoman said would come before Congress included an amended Peace Corps, a tax cut, medicare and a youth conservation corps.

Wendell A. Compton of Clark was installed for his second term as president of the Cranford Board of Realtors and Mrs. Anne Willoughby was seated as president of the Women's Association of the board, succeeding Mrs. Mary Kuehling, at the annual Christmas luncheon party at Echo Lake Country Club. Other re-elected officers of the Board of Realtors were: Vice-president, Edward J. Shabben; secretary, Mrs. Laura Swackhamer; treasurer, Gilbert E. Howland, Sr., and directors, Henry A. Detering, Sidney L. Nunn and Mrs. Dorothy McPherson.

The best interests of the community would be served by a single township-wide fund drive for both local and national agencies, it was decided by a study committee looking into the problem of multiplicity of drives. The 1957 Cranford United Fund Campaign served only four agencies — Boy and Girl Scouts, Cranford Welfare Association, Visiting Nurse Association. Robert M. Crane was chairman of the study group.

The Rev. Alexander H. Shaw of 41 Elizabeth Ave. had been elected general secretary of the New Jersey Council of Churches.

A reply to the township's request for use of MacConnell Park on Eastman St. as a site for a new public library was expected from the Union County Park Commission by January 15. Mayor John L. Brennan revealed. It had been pointed out to the commission that the site would be ideal for a library because it was outside the congested town center and would permit retention of more centrally located and commercially valuable property in the ratables column.

Poinsettias for Christmas Started Many Months Ago

The poinsettia that brightens your home this Christmas has been a long time growing.

Ever since last spring, when you may have been just getting into the mood for a season of outdoor gardening, Garden State florists were at work in their greenhouses preparing for this holiday season.

First they planted what looked like nothing but dry sticks with roots. From such unlikely beginnings grew "mother" or stock plants.

A florist could take as many as 100 cuttings from these, beginning in July and continuing into September. Plants that grew from the July cuttings became the larger plants that you see now, while plants started in September are more compact — about 15 inches tall.

All during these months florists have had to do a truly scientific job of trying to match the climate and light conditions of the poinsettia's natural home in the tropical jungle.

According to Malcolm R. Harrison, floriculture specialist at the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, poinsettia breeders are producing new varieties in white and shades of pink. There is even a bicolor that is mostly white with a pink center.

But still the most popular red variety is Barbara Ecke Supreme. It has extremely large bracts — the showy part surrounding the inconspicuous yellow flowers.

Harrison offers some suggestions for buying your poinsettia. Consider first where you will place your plant and choose one of a suitable height. Poinsettia bracts are most attractive when viewed from above rather than from the side.

Look for a plant with a strong stem covered with dark-green leaves. Bracts should be large and symmetrical.

Florists produce two general types of plants that they call "branched" and "unbranched."

They produce a branching plant by removing the growing tip early in the season. This results in the development of side shoots so that each individual plant has two or more flowers.

Several branched plants usually are planted together in a single pot to form a typical Christmas specimen.

An unbranched plant has only one flower, but are grouped together.

Bracts of the branched plants usually are smaller but more numerous. In general, these plants have an informal appearance.

Unbranched plants are more uniform and have large bracts in proportion to their size.

New Jersey has about 75 florists who specialize in growing poinsettias. Most of these are in Bergen, Middlesex and Mercer Counties.

Laughter of children, greetings of friends, make a Merry Christmas! Best wishes.

roots in plastic film to help them hold moisture. This is a trick that Mr. Lacey uses to keep plants and trees fresh for the duration of an indoor flower or garden show.

Finally, rather than plant the tree where it's to stand, just put it in a corner of an unheated garage and leave it until late March. Keep the roots inside the plastic moist. Or put the balled roots in a tub with damp peat moss.

Besides, you'll be too worn out after Christmas to dig a hole. Or maybe too tired from shoveling snow.

'Dolls for Democracy' Shown At Walnut Avenue School

A program entitled "Dolls for Democracy" was presented to the fifth grade classes of Walnut Avenue School on Monday by Mrs. Alvin Krevsky, past president of B'nai B'rith Women's Northern New Jersey Council and Kadimah Chapter of Cranford.

Mrs. Krevsky, who also is on the B'nai B'rith regional boards of the Anti-Defamation League and vocational service, explained to the children that the dolls represent famous persons of all ethnic and socio-economic backgrounds. They share a similarity in that they have given of themselves for the betterment of the world, demonstrating their belief in democracy.

Among the figurines, whose costumes are accurate and handmade, are Abraham Lincoln, Juliette Low, St. Francis, George Washington Carver and many more. The audience was asked to participate in the discussion.

The program was sponsored by the international relations committee of the Walnut Avenue PTA. Churches and organizations wishing information about the "Dolls for Democracy" program may contact Mrs. Gerald Gross of Cranford, Anti-Defamation League chairman for Kadimah Chapter.

School Staff Receives Influenza Inoculations

Nearly half of the employees of the Cranford public school system took advantage of a free program of inoculations against influenza. Dr.

Dr. McDermit said the other employees had already received the inoculation, planned to have it done elsewhere, were absent or declined because of health or other reasons. He said the cost of the program will be closer to $500 than the $920 originally estimated.

The program was carried out at the Hillside Avenue and Orange Avenue Junior High Schools over a six-day period with the assistance of the school physician and school nurses.

Boys' Camp Report Given For Rotary

The Cranford Boys' Camp, located on Silver Lake, near Hope, is a "definite asset to Cranford," David Naylor, social science instructor at Cranford High School and director of the camp last summer, told members of the Rotary Club last Thursday at their luncheon meeting in Marisa's Restaurant.

Mr. Naylor spoke enthusiastically of the camp facility and said it provided a valuable experience for Cranford boys, including "learning to live with other boys, participation in sports, crafts and nature instruction." He said the camp was 97.4 percent filled this past summer. Frank J. Dooley, president of the camp trustees, said the camp was founded in 1927 and that the Rotary Club was a moving force in starting and continuing the camp down through the years.

Mr. Dooley credited Rev. Kenneth D. Martin, first president of the Rotary Club and former rector of Trinity Church, with starting the camp. Originally used by local Boy Scouts and junior police, it soon became a camp for Cranford boys.

He explained that the weekly tuition covers only operating expenses and funds for capital improvements are raised in a separate fund drive.

Mr. Dooley said the Rotary and Lions Club today are the moving forces in keeping the camp in operation and he paid tribute to J. Walter Coffee, Robert M. Crane, Patrick J. Grall, Charles M. Ray, Nelson M. Lightcap, Anthony Sordill, Rev. Robert G. Longaker, Boris Bergen and Malcolm S. Pringle of the Rotary Club for their present and past service on the camp's board of trustees.

Glenn Klinefelter, vice-president, conducted the meeting in the absence of President Edwyn M. Lewis, who has been hospitalized with an emergency appendectomy.

UC Students Deck the Halls For Holidays

The Union College campus took on an air of Christmas last week. Students under the leadership of Miss Candy Lindlaw of Westfield decorated four Christmas trees, in the main entrance of the Nomahegan Building, in the two lobbies of the new Science Building and in the Student Lounge of the Campus Center.

Wreaths were placed in the corridors of the three buildings. They were trimmed by the students with bows, pine cones and artificial fruits.

In the college dining hall, a large replica of Santa Claus was hung on the wall and decorated with gold cord done in scallops.

Visitors to the campus are greeted with a large wreath decorated with a large red ribbon placed in the main entrance to the Nomahegan Building.

Serving on the committee with Miss Lindlaw were: Miss Marilyn Chelborg of Maplewood, Miss Rita Hawkins of Cranford, Miss Patricia Cueman of Scotch Plains, Michael Berg of Cranford, and Harry Tisch of Plainfield, president of the Day

Session Student Council.

The Christmas trees were contributed to charitable organizations following the annual Christmas dance on Saturday evening. The other decorations will be kept up through the New Year's holiday.

Symphony Receives Gift From Foundation

The Suburban Symphony Society of New Jersey today announced receipt of its first gift from a foundation.

Mrs. Gustave Cohen of Summit, president, said the society has received a grant of $250 to support the Suburban Symphony Orchestra of New Jersey from the Elmer L. and Eleanor J. Andersen Foundation of St. Paul, Minn. The gift was obtained through H. B. Fuller Co. of Edison.

"We acknowledge with thanks the generous contribution of the Elmer L. and Eleanor J. Andersen Foundation, and we hope this will be the first of many our orchestra will receive to enhance the arts and to broaden our cultural endeavors," Mrs. Cohen said.

Mrs. Cohen said the gift will be used to help reduce the orchestra's deficit for the 1967-68 season.

"We share your concern for the arts and are glad to cooperate in support for the Suburban Symphony Society of New Jersey," Elmer L. Andersen, chairman of the board of the H. B. Fuller Co., said.

The 75-piece Suburban Symphony Orchestra makes its home in Cranford. It presents three major concerts and a family concert each season under the baton of Henry Block, conductor and musical director.

The orchestra's next concert on February 7 in the auditorium of Cranford High School will feature violinist Irving Nussbaum of Cranford, the orchestra's concertmaster.

Township Employes Commended

Municipal employes were commended by Mayor Edward K. Gill at last week's meeting of the Lions Club at the Coach and Four Restaurant.

"Cranford has had a most successful year with most of our goals having been met," the mayor declared. "However, we have to remember that new parking lots, newly-paved streets and rejuvenated shops are material things. I sometimes think we don't give enough credit to our very fine municipal employes who keep the town running smoothly."

Mayor Gill pointed out that over the past two years Cranford has lost eight key personnel, six through death or retirement. These losses included the township treasurer, court clerk, police chief, police captain and two key clerks. The tax assessor and building inspector resigned for higher paying positions.

"I think we have seen not only the appointment of capable replacements," the mayor said, "but a level of performance has been reached that would be hard to match anywhere. Such performance, backed by the knowledge and experience of our long-served township clerk and township engineer, is a credit to good municipal government."

College Representatives At Cranford High School

A representative of the Milwaukee School of Engineering will visit Cranford High School today at 8:30 a.m. to meet with students who might be interested in attending the men's privately-controlled, non-profit technical institute and engineering college.

Other institutions which sent representatives to the high school this week to meet with interested students included U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.; Monmouth College, West Long Branch; Kalamazoo College, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Robert Morris College, Carthage, Ill., and Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.

Saturday Is Deadline For College Boards

Miss Helen Scott, chairman of the guidance department of Cranford High School, reports that Saturday is the deadline for high school seniors to register for the January 13 College Boards.

Those who fail to register now will have to pay a $2.50 late fee, Miss Scott reported.

The next College Board examination will be March 2, 1968, and the deadline to register without paying a late fee is February 2.

Three on UC Staff Attend Conference

Three members of the Union College staff recently attended a conference on "Planning the Future of New Jersey's State Campuses" at Princeton University.

The conference was sponsored by Higher Education—Chancellor Ralph A. Dungan and Princeton University's Research Center for Urban and Environmental Planning.

Union College was represented by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, dean; Prof. Elmer Wolf, chairman of the engineering department, and Roy Smith, director of public relations.

Students Sponsoring Party for Children

Students from two fraternal organizations at Union College will give up Christmas Eve with their parents and friends to sponsor a Christmas party for children in Pioneer Homes, Elizabeth.

Sigma Alpha Pi Sorority and Alpha Sigma Mu Fraternity will provide gifts, refreshments, a Christmas tree and entertainment. Santa Claus is scheduled to appear to distribute toys to all the children. The party was arranged through the CAPEO Social Services Center in Elizabeth.

Local Pupils Hear Student From Greece

A young foreign student from Sparta, Greece, speaking at Brookside Place School on Friday, captured the interest and attention of the students at all grade levels.

Miss Panagiopitsa Ladopoulou, a freshman at Douglas College, New Brunswick, engaged the children in a lively question-and-answer discussion on the history of Greece and its customs, both ancient and modern. Speaking at the assembly, she was introduced by Phillip Cea, principal of Brookside. In addition to her appearance at the assembly, Miss Ladopoulou visited the lower grade classrooms and again gave the children an opportunity to question her about Greece.

By coincidence, the appearance of Miss Ladopoulou was particularly timely in view of the present political crisis in Greece.

Arrangements for the appearance of Miss Ladopoulou were made through the Rutgers Speakers' Bureau by Mrs. Herbert Reichman, Brookside PTA, culture and art chairman.

Miss Ladopoulou was entertained at luncheon at the home of Mrs. T. E. Murray, president of Brookside PTA.

Boy Scouts of Troop 78, sponsored by St. Michael's Church, completed a 20-mile hike over the historical trails of the Morris County Boy Scout Council recently.

Included were a tour of Jockey Hollow National Park and a walk through Schiff Reservation, site of the Boy Scout training headquarters.

The scouts began their hike early in the morning, had lunch on the trail and completed their long walk late in the afternoon. They were accompanied by Assistant Scoutmasters Henry Ushay and Benedict Morelli.

Scouts completing the hike and receiving credit which can be applied toward the hiking badge were:

Bruce Carolan, Peter Canavari, Thomas Porter, Jeffrey Kantner, Michael Ushay, Patrick Durning, James Hodge, James Lowell, Steven Delikat, Mark Dooley.

Thomas Morrison, Robert Fuller, Michael Fuller, Thomas McNish, Alan D'Andrea, John Storch, Paul Canavari, William Stratton.

Family Awaiting Arrival Of Unusual Christmas Gift

If you hear George Baron of Linden, superintendent of building and grounds of Union College, humming a happy tune these days it might sound like "All I Want for Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth," but he's really thinking "All I Want for Christmas Is My New Right Arm."

Through the efforts of the Cranford Junior Woman's Club of the Village Improvement Association, Mr. Baron is getting an artificial arm. It will be obtained from the Upper Extremity Amputee Fund of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mr. Baron, who lost the lower part of his right arm in an industrial accident in 1927, has been fitted for his first artificial arm at the Kessler Institute, West Orange. He hopes to receive the completely operable arm before Christmas from a Newark firm.

Once the artificial arm arrives, Mr. Baron will return to the Kessler Institute for full instruction in its use.

Mr. Baron joined the Union College staff as a part-time custodian in 1955 and was appointed superintendent of building and grounds in 1959. Prior to that, he worked for 17 years as a chemical operator with General Aniline and Film Corp., Linden.

A resident of Linden for the past 17 years, Mr. Baron now supervises a staff of 16 custodial, maintenance and grounds personnel. They take care of Union College's 30-acre campus and four buildings.

Mr. Baron was born and educated in Bayonne. He is married to the former Cecelia Sharkey of Bayonne, and they are the parents of two sons, George, Jr., of Iselin, and Richard of Linden, and a daughter, Mrs. Edward Porbansky of Colonia. They have seven grandchildren.

It will be a merry Christmas for the entire Baron clan if Santa Claus can come through with one new arm.

Art Show, Music Slated For Symphony Soiree

The second annual soiree of the Suburban Symphony Guild will be held on Sunday, January 14, at 6:30 p.m. at the Campus Center of Union College. The event will be the major fund raising effort for the Suburban Symphony Orchestra.

There will be art, music and refreshments. Seymour Bernstein, an outstanding American pianist, will be featured. In addition there will be a string quartet consisting of Henry Bloch, the Symphony conductor, on double bass; Irving Nussbaum, violin; Mrs. Mary Gill, cello, and Nernard Latuchie, viola.

The art show will be entitled "Esays: Black on White."

Christmas Seal Reminders Sent

Dr. Stephen M. Ayres of Westfield, Union County, chairman for the Christmas Seal campaign being conducted by the TB-Respiratory Disease Association of Central New Jersey, announced that reminder letters to citizens who supported the fight to stamp out tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases in previous years, but who have not yet sent in their 1967 contributions, were mailed last week.

"We have heard from 13,000 of our dedicated and loyal supporters," Dr. Ayres stated; "however, the stream of donations already received by the association is approximately $5,000 less than the total at this time last year."

The 1967 Christmas Seal Campaign, now in its 61st year, is a tri-county effort in which all communities in Union, Monmouth and Hudson Counties are participating, and it is the initial attempt by a tuberculosis association at raising funds on a regional basis undertaken in New Jersey. The three-county campaign is a result of the merger of the tuberculosis association in the respective counties.

Films Scheduled For Children's Holiday Party

"The Magic World of Topo Gigio" will be the featured film at the annual holiday children's party sponsored by Kadimah Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women, to be held at the Walnut Avenue School at 1 p.m. next Wednesday.

The famous "Italian Mouse" will star in the color film. Also appearing will be his magical friends, "The Kind Puppet-Maker," "Little Rosy" and "The Evil Magician." Candy and popcorn, and cakes and cookies baked by the B'nai B'rith Girls of Cranford will be sold.

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Martin Stern of Clark, who is chairman for this event. They also will be sold at the door.

Proceeds will benefit philanthropic projects of Kadimah Chapter.

Red Oak Club Holds Party

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Adam Vennettilli, Mrs. Jack Tilson, Mrs. Joseph Laurent, Mrs. Wayne Peters and Mrs. Leon Ferencz. Mrs. Werner Speer was in charge of the en-

Last Meeting of the Year Held by Borough Council

KENILWORTH — A 90 x 100 foot parcel of borough-owned property on Market St. was sold at public auction Tuesday night by Borough Council at its last meeting of the year.

Sole bidders were George Liddy and Pasquale Vizzoni of 292 S. Michigan Ave., who purchased the land for $7,500.

A resolution was passed introducing the 1968 capital improvement budget, which calls for an appropriation of about $135,000 over a five-year period. Mayor William J. Ahern, Jr., will elaborate on the budget in his New Year's address at the reorganization meeting January 1.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at noon. The mayor will be sworn in to his fourth term, Councilman Frank Mascaro to his sixth and Mrs. Mary Kelly to her first. Mrs. Kelly will replace Councilman Frank J. Jodhos, who is retiring after serving one term.

The retiring councilman, who is leaving because of increased job responsibilities at the Camp Kilmer Job Corps Center, where he was recently promoted to coordinator of the vocational program, made the following statement Tuesday night:

"Tonight is the last night in which I shall sit on council. This concludes my three-year term of serving the taxpayers of Kenilworth as councilman. I have deemed it an honor to serve on council. Due to circumstances in my employment, I regret that it was impossible to seek reelection at the present time.

"Serving on the council has been both enjoyable and educational. For the past three years I have served to the best of my ability. My opinions and voting on all questions and issues were always my own beliefs and were never influenced by any member of the council.

"Kenilworth is very fortunate to have a mayor with the capabilities, devotion and honesty of William J. Ahern, Jr., who is devoted to his responsibilities as mayor, freholder, husband, father and friend. I am very happy that the people of Kenilworth chose him as their leader in the past election. At my first meeting with him I developed a deep respect for him. This respect shall continue even stronger upon my departure.

"I wish the governing body success for the ensuing years, and I convey my heartfelt thanks to all the people of Kenilworth for the confidence and trust they have shown in me. God bless each and every one of you."

Incinerator Near Kenilworth Still Under Study

KENILWORTH — According to a letter read Tuesday night at the Borough Council meeting, Union Township is still considering erecting an incinerator near the Kenilworth border.

The incinerator would be located off Jefferson Ave., only 1,000 feet from Kenilworth residences but a mile from the nearest home in Union. The proposal has been opposed by both the Health Department and Planning Board here, and letters to that effect have been sent to Union.

Students may enroll at Union College in three classifications: Transfer, those who plan to attend four-year colleges; terminal, those who plan to complete their college work after two years, and special, those who follow a program of special interest without regard to degree credit.

A business meeting of the PTA was held just prior to the musical presentation. At this time, the "Gourmet Cookbook," which was prepared by members of the Association, was placed on sale.

Mrs. Ruth Janovick, principal, extended her best wishes for Christmas, Hanukkah and the New Year to all present.

On Tuesday, December 12, a Holiday Shopping Spree was held at the school. All items were donated by members of the PTA and the teaching staff. This event gave all the children a chance to do their own shopping for the entire family and the day was a huge success for both the students and the PTA.

The school chorus, trained and directed by Miss Janice Haer, entertained with their holiday program yesterday morning. Parents were invited to attend as well as the entire school body and the selections left everyone with the true holiday spirit.

Mouse Collection Used in Unusual Christmas Display

"Not a creature was stirring — not even a mouse!" and the 200 mice owned by Mrs. Jane Eron of 105 Lincoln Ave., E., won't be stirring either until after Christmas.

Mrs. Eron's unusual hobby collection of mice (most live ones, of course) is featured in a holiday display in the office of Barrett & Crain, Inc., Realtors, at 43

Elm St. in Westfield. Mrs. Eron, who works in the trust department in the Westfield office of the Suburban Trust Co., has been collecting mice for 18 years, and her friends are never at a loss for ideas on birthdays and Christmas.

Among the many interesting ones are a set of mice from England representing characters in the Beatrix Potter (of Peter Rabbit fame) books; a trio from France, which are copies of museum pieces; several familiar cartoon characters, including, of course, the ubiquitous Mickey Mouse; several teams of baseball-playing mice, and two sets of families of the City Mouse and the Country Mouse, characters in one of Aesop's Fables.

Stop Street Arrest Leads To Grand Jury
Charges of possession of a firearm and failure to register as narcotics users brought against two men arrested here on November 22 after they were stopped by Patrolman William F. Crissey for a stop street violation, were referred to the Grand Jury by Judge Charles J. Stevens in Magistrate's Court last week.

James H. Varlow, 19, of New Brunswick, identified as the driver of the car, also was charged with driving without a license and unlawful possession of a hypodermic needle.

James Zvolensky, 23, of Somerville, also was charged with unlawful use of a motor vehicle.

Two New Brunswick boys, 16 and 17 years old, who were in the car with the two men, were sent to the Union County Juvenile Detention Center to await Juvenile Court action on charges of being in a stolen car and possession of concealed weapons.

When police checked the car and its occupants after it was stopped by Patrolman Crissey they reported finding a loaded automatic pistol, two knives, a hypodermic needle and other indications of narcotics use.

Local Man in Huntsville, Witnesses Tornado Havoc

Leonard Wirkus, son of Mrs. Alice Wirkus of 3 Mitchell Pl., arrived home Tuesday morning, safe and sound, from Huntsville, Ala., where he had been visiting prior to coming home for the holidays. A senior at the University of Alabama, Leonard was witness to the destruction wrought by the tornado which spun through Huntsville on Monday.

The local man stated that the area reminded him of pictures he had seen of Vietnam. The tornado, unusual for this time of the year, caught the people totally unprepared. Torrential rains which accompanied the twister caused extensive flooding and hampered rescue and cleanup efforts. Three persons died as a result of this catastrophe. Damage in the Huntsville area has been estimated at over $1 million.

Mrs. Wirkus stated that "the Red Cross did a beautiful job and was most cooperative" in efforts to get information concerning her son after the devastating tornado had passed. Leonard was finally able to fly into Kennedy Airport, arriving at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday. However, his luggage was not aboard the plane and for the time being, at least, he is without a wardrobe and certain textbooks which he had planned on using to study for semester-end exams.

Leonard will return to the University after New Year's. He is a member of the Honor Society and the Student Government.

Pedestrian Struck By First Aider Answering Call

Mrs. Caroline Wolf, 72, of 31 Hollywood Ave., who was struck by a car at Centennial Ave. and South Ave., E., at 7:50 a.m. last Wednesday, was reported in satisfactory condition at Rahway Hospital yesterday.

According to the police report, Mrs. Wolf was struck by a car driven by Miss Elsie C. Reilly of 32 Grove St., a member of the Cranford First Aid Squad, while Miss Reilly was on her way to the first aid building in answer to an emergency call.

Mrs. Wolf, who suffered fractures of the nose, facial bones, left knee and pelvis and abrasions of the arms, was taken to the hospital by the First Aid Squad.

Miss Reilly was given a summons charging failure to yield to a pedestrian.

Patrolman Robert A. Guertin investigated. Also assisting at the scene were Patrolmen William F. Crissey, John P. Korsch and Samuel W. Cymbaluk.

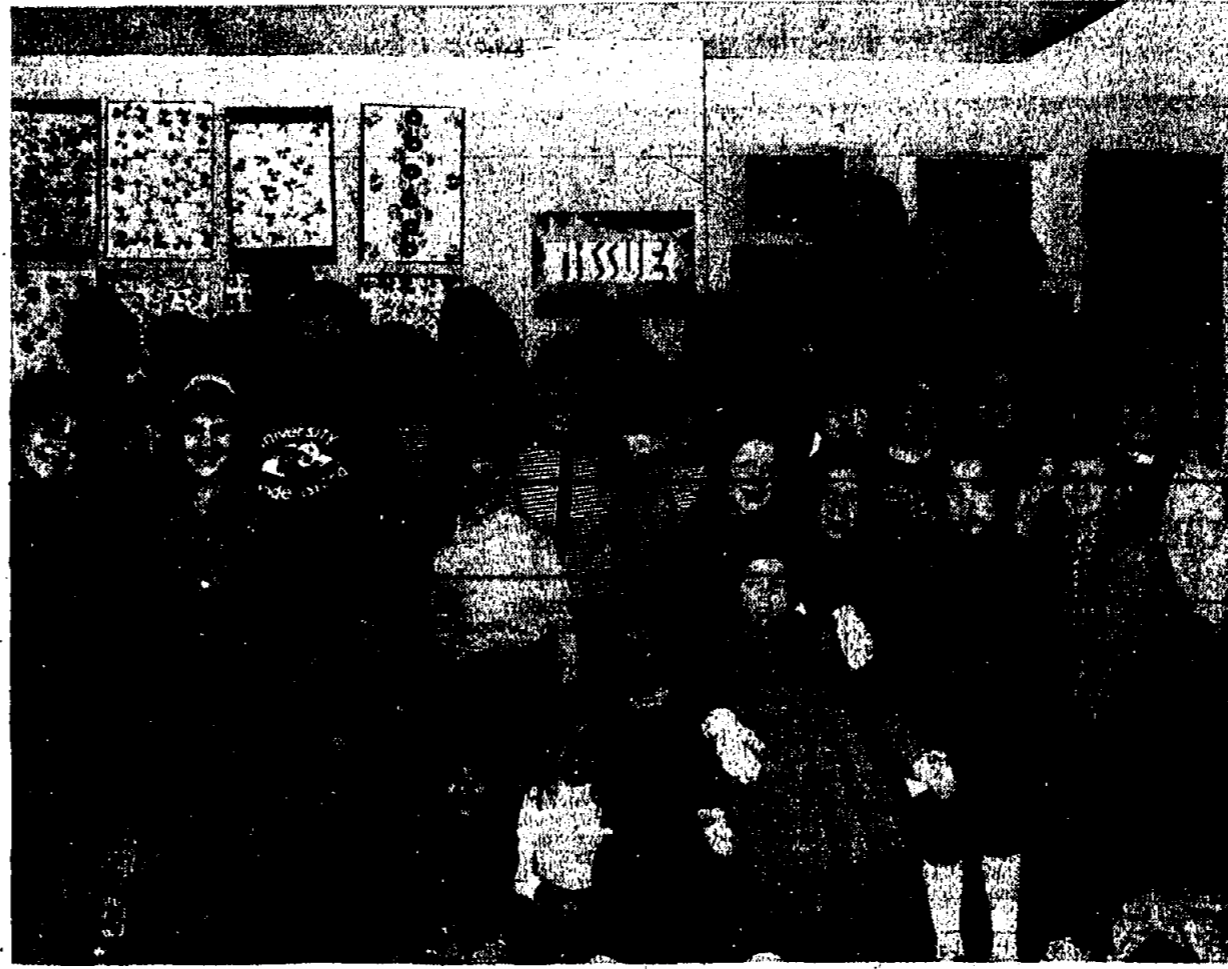

American Bible Society service to members of the armed forces began in 1817 with the presentation of 65 Bibles to the crew of the USS John Adams, a corvette of 24 guns.

RECREATION ART DISPLAY — A magic touch was given the community room of the Municipal Building on Saturday as members of the Recreation Department's art classes displayed their work. The exhibit featured works in media such as siltchery, string drawing and tissue paper from Mary Jane Austin's art education classes, as well as puppets and masks done by members of Peter Jones' puppetry class. Many parents, in addition to the youngsters, visited the display.

Survival Supplies Placed In Additional CD Shelters

Survival supplies were placed in two additional Cranford shelters this week, at the Union County Cerebral Palsy Center on Holly St. and the Riverview Apartments on Riverside Dr., it was announced by Charles S. Patterson, director of Civil Defense and Disaster Control.

These provide an additional 1,112 stocked shelter spaces in Cranford, Director Patterson reported.

During the fall, 1,200 spaces were stocked at the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. Accounting Center on Orange Ave. Shelter spaces in Cranford stocked with survival supplies now total over 7,200, Mr.

Patterson said. He added that several shelter areas are not completely stocked because of lack of storage space.

"Supplies in fully-stocked shelters are intended to sustain the occupants for a two-week period in the event of a nuclear attack on the nation," the director said. "The survival supplies include food, medical supplies, sanitary supplies, radiation measuring instruments and containers for water. These supplies are furnished to the Township of Cranford by the Federal Government."

Santa Claus in Uniform

The sixteen squadrons of McCoy AFB, Florida, select the names of one or two airmen who can't get home for Christmas. The Mayor of Orlando then selects two of these airmen by drawing their names from a hat. One gets a round trip ticket to his home and the other's family is flown to Orlando to spend the holidays with their son. The city pays all transportation costs. Santa Claus will come to Orlando this year!

Incinerator

(Continued from Page 1) the incinerator plans have not been dropped. Council members asserted that they were getting the run-around.

The meeting was held a week early because of the Christmas holidays. Following the brief public session, council went into private session for budget talks.

Cougar Five Trounces Clark, 61-42, for Season's First Win

After opening the season with three losses, Cranford High School's basketball team overwhelmed Clark Tuesday afternoon, 61-42, in a Watching Conference contest at Clark. The Cougars bowed to a strong Linden aggregation, 81-54, last Friday evening at the local gym.

Ron Schwartzbach, who paced Cranford with 18 points, opened the Clark game with a three point play and the Cougars were never headed. The closest the Crusaders came to the Cougar team was at 13-9 near the close of the first quarter. But Cranford closed with an eight-point spurge, four by Craig Sands, to hold a 21-11 bulge at the end of the period.

The second quarter was a saw affair with each club scoring 12 points, and Cranford took a 33-23 lead at halftime.

The Cougars outscored the Crusaders 14-10 in the third period and 14-9 in the final quarter. Sands and Joe Haddad contributed 14 and 11 points, respectively, while Bill Sorge chipped in with nine.

The Cougars showed great improvement in their defense. Using a 1-1-2 zone with Sands guarding Melli, who came into the game averaging 30 points, the local club was able to hold the Crusaders' star to nine points Tuesday. The Cougars also outscored their opponents, 39-18, with Haddad pulling down 14.

Linden romps Linden, rated as one of the best teams in the state, jumped off to a 9-0 lead over the Cougars before a capacity crowd in the local gym Friday night. The visitors held Cranford to the field goal and two free throws in the first quarter as they ran up a 21-4 lead and the Cougars were never able to come close.

Sands, high scorer for Cranford with 11 points, scored seven of his tallies in the second period. John Orencek paced the Linden attack in this period with 11 points as they took a 46-19 halftime lead.

Cranford rallied in the third period and outscored Linden 20-13 with Bill Miller throwing in five points to bring the count at the close of the third quarter to 57-39. Linden rolled again in the final quarter and held a 75-42 margin at one point. Coach Bill Martin cleared his bench, using a total of 13 players in the game. Senior Skaters Rack Up Two More Wins; Face Alumni Sunday on Branch Brook Ice

The Cranford Hockey Club's senior skaters racked up their third and fourth consecutive victories of the season over the weekend, taking the measure of the Riverdale, N. Y. hockey club, 9-2, Saturday at Warinanco Park rink and shutting out the Mountain Lakes seniors 5-0 Sunday at Branch Brook rink.

The annual holiday contest between the senior skaters and the alumni will take place at 7:30 a.m. Sunday at the Branch Brook rink. The alumni aggregation outskated the seniors in a preliminary practice scrimmage at the outset of the season but the seniors now have four games under their belts and are expected to give a good account of themselves. Coach Bob Crane said a large and enthusiastic group of rooters is expected to watch the contest.

Skating for the alumni will be former star players Wub Foreman, Dwight Weeks, Bob and John O'Reilly, Bill Hayes, Mike Clare, King Ward, Dave DeLonge, Bruce Anlebeck, Charles Krippendorf and Peter Crane.

On Tuesday, the juniors are slated to face the strong Livingston juniors on the Branch Brook ice at 6:15 a.m. and on Wednesday they have a return contest with the West New York juniors at 7:15 a.m., also at Branch Brook. Next Thursday, the juniors play the Newark juniors at Branch Brook rink at 6:15 a.m.

Temple Beth-El Teams Take Top Spots in Church League

Temple Beth-El teams finally took over the three top positions in the Inter-Church Bowling League Tuesday night by scoring sweeps. Temple Beth-El 2 took three from lead by five and a half games, Temple Beth-El 1 took Calvary Lutheran for three and are in second place.

Leaders Lose Two Games in Local Loop

The leaders in the Cranford Bowling League did not encounter much holiday spirit in their opponents Friday night at Clark Lanes as both teams dropped two games. First place Crawford's Gulf lost two squeakers to Standard Lumber while second place Swan Cleaners also lost a pair of close games to Barnett's Liquors and only won the first game by a single pin.

Third place Howland Realtors picked up a game on the leaders by taking two from the Cranford Firemen while fourth place Friendly Barbers won two from Coach and Four.

Only two sweeps were recorded Friday night — Cranford Hotel took the measure of Errico Trucking and Lind's Pharmacy belted Builders General.

Henry Holland of the Citizen and Chronicle posted a 227, high game of the night. Other games of 200 or above were rolled by: Figuerelli, 200, Crawford's Gulf; VanBrunt, 222, and Pells, 210, Lind's Pharmacy; Kielbasa, 211, Friendly Barbers; Mead, 207, C. L. Fritz Insurers; A. Six Inducted As Brownies

Brownie Troop 541, under the leadership of Mrs. William D. Locke and Mrs. R. T. Hunt, inducted six new members in a recent ceremony. Those inducted were June Blair, Karen Boring, Donna Coons, Meighan Lynch, Annette Strittmatter and Paula Williams.

The troop, consisting of 20 girls in second and third grades, includes Cathy Beadle, Janis Boring, Joanne Bowden, Jane Buonaguro, Janet Hunt, Christine Kowalski, Nancy Locke, Betsy Petrick, Noelle Potts, Susan Simonsen and Robin Stone, as well as the newly inducted.

Among other activities, the troop recently visited the Post Office, where Postmaster Arthur Boertmann guided the girls through the path which mail travels, explaining just what happens when a letter is mailed. Each Brownie was made an honorary Junior Postman, and mailed a letter to herself to watch it being processed.

As holiday activities, with the assistance of Mrs. Sheila Williams and Mrs. Joseph Potts, the girls have made tissue paper Christmas trees and felt doorknob plates decorated with sequins and braid. The last meeting of 1967 was a holiday party, with gingerbread men, candy and punch, celebrating Noelle Potts' birthday.

Why it's a bore to own an Accutron® timepiece.

1. You have just two chances a year to fiddle with it. One, when you turn it ahead an hour for daylight saving time. And
 2. When you turn it back again for standard time. Because the springs and things that make a watch run fast or slow have been taken out of the Accutron movement.
 3. And that's why it's a bore for us, too. We can't show off by repairing sprung springs, stopped wheels and worn watch-works. Accutron has replaced them with a precise tuning fork that may never need replacing.
 4. You can't bet on Accutron time. At least not without feeling guilty. Because we guarantee you'll be right. Within one minute a month. (And that averages out to two seconds a day.)
 5. You'll yawn when the boss presents you with a gold watch 25 years from now. Because your Accutron timepieces will still be accurate.

dend of 40 cents per share to stockholders of record January 5, 1968, to be disbursed February 1, 1968.

During 1967, Union County Trust Co. effected distributions to its stockholders of $1.35 per share in cash and a stock dividend at the rate of one share for each seven owned, payable August 1.

distribution to the bank's stockholders.

Hanukkah Festival Starts Tuesday Night

Hanukkah, the Jewish "Festival of Lights" holiday, will begin at sundown on Tuesday.

Like many Jewish holidays, Hanukkah has a clear-cut historical and political origin. The event which it commemorates, the Hebrew struggle for religious freedom from the tyrannical regime of the Greco-Syrian emperor Antiochus Epiphanes, occurred in 165 B.C.E.

Regular services will be held at Temple Beth-El throughout the eight-day festival. Children will attend the annual Hanukkah celebration at the temple on Tuesday afternoon at 1 p.m. The children's party committee of the Sisterhood will entertain with a puppet show and refreshments.

For the Jewish people, Hanukkah symbolizes the victory of a spiritual ideal over military and political despotism. A handful of Jews, determined to preserve their faith and culture, openly defied the power of Antiochus, who was determined to suppress Jewish monotheism and its proper observance.

Under the leadership of Judah Maccabee (Judah the Hammer), the Jews revolted and after a long struggle managed to drive the Syrians out of Israel.

According to the story found in the book of Apocrypha, "The Maccabees," all the oil for the holy lamps of the temple in Jerusalem had been defiled by pagan worshippers. Only one untouched cruse of oil was found, sealed and hidden away. The oil, which was to last one day, lasted miraculously for eight days.

In commemoration of the miracle and man's fight to worship as his conscience dictates, every Jewish home lights the menorah. Each night, during the eight-day celebration, the Hanukkah candelabrum is kindled — one candle the first night, two on the second and thereafter until on the eighth night eight candles blaze in the menorah.

This progression is also a symbol of Judaism's belief in the gradual, constant increase of intellectual light and the slow, steady victory of spiritual enlightenment over darkness.

The Hebrew word Hanukkah means "rededication" and the holiday is also known as "The Days of Rededication." During these eight days, Jews throughout the world remember their ancient struggle and rededicate themselves to the ideal of freedom for all men.

Many Cranford Witnesses Plan to Attend Convention

Develop, rehearse and produce a ten-hour program involving 85 people for a weekend convention! That's the job facing Clayton I. Peace, newly appointed circuit supervisor over the Cranford area for Jehovah's Witnesses. The occasion is the three-day semi-annual assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held at the Metuchen High School December 29-31.

Mr. Peace is a member of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of Brooklyn, N. Y., world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses.

The convention program is designed to build spirituality into the many local ministers and aid them in their work of teaching the Bible to others.

Over 100 persons from the Cranford congregation will attend and a number of local people will be on the program. Local residents will be working behind the scenes helping to man the more than 20 departments functioning to care for the needs of visiting delegates from 19 congregations.

Niven McAfee of 111 Shadowlawn Way is head of the auditing department, Frank Capece, Jr., of Cranford is an assistant in the trucking and equipment department and Donald S. Dieffenbach of 154 Mohawk Dr. is an assistant in the attendant department.

The program gets underway at 6:45 Friday evening and concludes Sunday at 6 p.m.

For the past several months Mr. Peace has been working on the three-day program, rehearsing and writing parts for the various sessions, this in addition to his full-time job of visiting a different congregation each week.

"Getting to know the people associated with the various congregations makes for a close relationship and full cooperation," said Mr. Peace, "and everything always comes off pretty smoothly."

High point of the assembly is the public talk, "Will God Intervene in Man's Affairs?" by Christian H. Weining, district supervisor from the world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses.

English Service Scheduled At Trinity Christmas Eve

The Festival of Lessons and Carols, based on a service which has been sung in King's College Chapel, Cambridge, England, at Christmas time for nearly 40 years, will be presented at Trinity Episcopal Church on Sunday at 10 a.m.

The service will be preceded by a celebration of the holy eucharist at 8 a.m. The midnight eucharist will begin at 11:30 p.m.

The festival was devised by Very Rev. E. M. Milner White, then dean of King's College, using as a model a service instituted by Archbishop Benson at Turo Cathedral and itself drawn from ancient sources. Through Scripture and music, the message is told of the first days of man's disobedience to the redemption brought by the Holy Child, Jesus.

The nine lessons of the festival will be read by members of the parish, with music sung by the combined choirs. In addition to the special chorales and anthems, the traditional Christmas carols will be sung by the congregation.

A coffee hour will take place in Sherlock Hall immediately following the service. The public is invited.

The Men and Boys' Choir will sing at the midnight eucharist. On Monday, Christmas Day, celebrations of the holy eucharist will take place at 8 and 10 a.m. The St. Cecilia Girls' Choir will sing at the 10 o'clock service.

There will be no Church School classes on Sunday, but the nursery will be open during the 10 a.m. service for pre-school children.

Cranford Raceway's Answer To The Unresolved Gift Problem:

Have you ever thought about the many merits your child may derive from model car racing? From a child's point of view this hobby is for enjoyment — pure and simple — and it is just that and more. . . . But the "more" is from the parent's standpoint, and the child doesn't care. He is here for fun, and he gets it with a determination and persistence that would do your heart good to see.

Everyone knows that our society revolves around the automobile and to get through to a youngster — to meet him where he lives takes only a slight push and a few words about responsibility . . . then stand clear and be amazed at the release of energy and the drive to excel. Resourcefulness — imaginative problem-solving — automotive, electrical, mathematical basics all suddenly lose their academic standing and become a matter of moment to moment existence. He will develop mechanical ability and driving skill, for he must learn to work with his hands, master proper braking, acceleration and cornering in order to compete successfully. Here the little guy who can't quite "cut the mustard" in the sports arena may shine like a star. At the least, he will be developing a sense of fair play — friendly impersonal give and take with the gang.

The Raceway provides a clean, warm, well-supervised and disciplined environment. We invite you to come down and see for yourself.

We stock popular cars and controllers and a full line of equipment and materials for scratch building. We service what we sell — ninety-nine times out of a hundred — with no charge, so naturally, we are especially pleased when you buy your equipment here. All purchases of equipment of $7.00 or more receive a one-hour track time certificate worth $1.50. We maintain a small fleet of cars and controllers to allow inexpensive probing of a child's leaning.

To help parents pass the time — should they stay with their children — and for our own sanity — we provide adult-oriented hi-fi background music — living room quality at public address level. Sound interesting?

We shall be closed Christmas Day. However, we shall be open the entire week between Christmas and New Year's (December 26 through January 1) from 11 a.m. until 11 p.m. The Cranford Raceway is located on North Avenue, east of the mid-town congestion and a few blocks before the Parkway Overpass on the railroad side.

We Wish You All A
Warm Holiday and A New Year
Filled With Happiness.

'FITNESS FOR LIVING' COURSE TO BEGIN — Pictured above is a fitness session at Livingston Avenue School. The next eight-week session will begin the second week in January. Classes are held for first and second grade boys in local elementary schools.

'Fitness For Living' Course For 1st, 2nd Grade Boys

The Cranford YMCA announces the second of three "Fitness for Living" courses for boys in grades 1 and 2. Since development is continuous, children may take the course without duplication.

Fitness for Living will be taught for one hour a week for eight weeks. All classes are from 3 to 4 p.m. The schedule is as follows:

Livingston School — Monday, January 8 to March 4. No class on Lincoln's Birthday.

Lincoln School — Tuesday, January 9 to February 27.

Roosevelt School — Wednesday,

January 10 to February 28. Sherman School — Thursday, January 11 to February 29. No class on Washington's Birthday; make-up class on March 4 at Livingston School.

Walnut School — Friday, January 12 to March 1.

Boys from Brookside Place and Cleveland Schools may enroll for the program at any of the schools listed above.

Brochures describing the program and registration forms will be issued through the schools in the near future. For further information, contact Gerard Paradiso, 22 Beech St.

Girls in Home Aided by Cranford Jr. Women's Club

Since last March, members of Cranford Junior Woman's Club of the YWA have been making weekly visits with teenage girls at the Janet Memorial Home in Elizabeth. Girls at Janet range in age from 13 to 18, and are there through some circumstance which has separated them from their families. Cranford Juniors are there because they feel they might help by guiding the girls in basic sewing, cooking and grooming — or just by being friends and companions.

An atmosphere of friendliness has been created which club members hope to expand this year. With a new electric kitchen being installed, and a refurbished sewing "boutique" facilities with which to work will be much improved.

On a recent tour, however, the Juniors noted that there is still a need for such things as furnishings for the girls' bedrooms and lounges, utensils for kitchenettes, rugs and lamps. They reported that donations from interested citizens would be appreciated.

Windsor Place Strip to Be Sold At Public Auction

Public auction of a township owned strip of land on Windsor Pl. will take place at the December 26 meeting, it was announced at last week's meeting of the Township Committee. Mrs. Charles Paterson has offered $900 for the land.

Adopted on final reading was an ordinance vacating portions of Windsor Pl. and Birch St., which now are in the municipal pool property.

In reply to a query at the November 28 meeting by Fred Lund of Columbia Ave. as to how much was spent by local officials at the New Jersey League of Municipalities Conference in Atlantic City November 14 to 17, Mayor Gill reported all of the vouchers are not yet in but that it appears that 11 officials who attended spent $900 to $950.

"The annual conference represents, in my mind," Mayor Gill declared, "the greatest opportunity for Cranford officials to learn what's new, to develop new programs and to develop relationships which will be advantageous to their jobs. To Cranford it represents an opportunity to train its municipal officials at the lowest possible cost."

He said sessions were held in municipal accounting, budget preparation, police and fire training, air and water pollution, waste disposal, property, tax administration, recreation, senior citizen programs and nearly 100 other areas.

Girl Scouts

Cadette Troop 447
Eleven girls of Cadette Troop 447 recently completed the requirements of the First Aid Badge. They are: Lisa Olsen, Beverly Macbrone, Theresa Jones, Adele Padner, Kimberly Gallagher, Jane Friedman, Cynthia Doer, Linda Racey, Janet Kuhn, Sandra Koenig and Theresa Folinsz. They were instructed by Carl Schauer and Fred Nye of the Cranford First Aid Squad.

The seventh graders participated in a roller skating party at Twin Cities Arena, Elizabeth, recently, and an ice skating party with members of Cadette Troop 95 is planned for next Thursday.

Seventh and eighth-grade scouts are working on the requirements of the hostess badge while ninth-grade girls are working on the Challenge of Emergency Preparedness.

Cadette Troop 447 meets Monday evenings in the educational building of the Cranford Methodist Church under the leadership of Mrs. Eugene H. Koenig.

Brownie Troop 951
Members of Brownie Troop 951 have been busily preparing for Christmas. Paper bag hand puppets were created and used in the presentation of impromptu "Santa Claus Visit" skits. Cards and Christmas trees also were made by the girls as decorations for their homes. The Brownies have decorated and filled a Christmas stocking to be presented to a needy Cranford child. Profits from their recent calendar sale and contributions from troop members provided funds for this community service project.

The girls have planned a Christmas party for their final meeting of the year. Refreshments will be provided by troop mothers.

Mrs. Howard Sheldon, is leader and Mrs. James Conroy co-leader of Brownie Troop 951 which meets Wednesday afternoons at Lincoln School.

It's Christmas, and time to greet good friends... time, too, to count our blessings. One of the greatest of these is the friendship of those whom we are privileged to serve.

A not-so-funny thing happened on the way to Christmas last year. We ran out of Accutron® timepieces. So the customers who came in at the last minute had to settle for a conventional watch. Some didn't. And we know why. All conventional watches—wind, self-wind and electric—keep time by the gyrations of a balance wheel. But Accutron is not a watch. It's a precise timepiece that keeps time through the vibrations of a tiny tuning fork. The tuning fork splits each second into 360 equal parts. And keeps time so accurate, we guarantee monthly accuracy within 60 seconds—which averages out to about 2 seconds a day. Every second counts during December days. Because what happened last year could happen again. So run in before we run out. Use Our Convenient Charge or Budget Payment Plans.
