CRANFORD, NEW JERSEY
FOREWORD

For almost a century and a half the doors of Cranford schools have been open to the young people of the community. The increase in population during that time has brought a corresponding growth in educational facilities.

We, the Class of 1950, have benefited by the progress in educational opportunities. As we leave the newest doors for the last time, we look back with pride and gratitude on what Cranford has given us, and we look forward with eagerness to the contributions that we shall someday be able to make in return.

Dedication

We dedicate our book to two people—two people who have played a major role in nurturing us in our growing years and in shaping our destiny. They have always shown pride in our achievements and comforted us when we failed. Their judgment has always been wise, even though there were times when we thought it was wrong.

This dedication is only a small way in which to show our appreciation of people who are so deserving of our gratitude and recognition. We proudly and sincerely dedicate our yearbook to the two greatest people on earth—

Our Parents.

Realizing that class sponsorship is a position not only of great honor but also of great responsibility, we, the members of the Class of 1950, wish to express our appreciation to our sponsor, Mr. Oliver West, for the time which he has devoted to us. We shall always remember "Uncle Ollie's" friendliness and good sportsmanship. Above all, we are grateful to him for demonstrating how a group of individuals can be transformed into a class united through teamwork.

CREW

"And this morning a dead man was found on the doorstep."

"You mean there's—no hope for me at all?"

"Now listen, you girls, no fair hanging around when he comes."

"Now, you take a layout like this."
When we stepped from the Time-Machine, we stared about us in bewildermment. We were confronted by mammoth buildings and a continuing race of aerial lanes for air conveyances. Suddenly we spotted a big sign announcing:

All Types Of Morons International Convention

Opening July 1, 1975

in CRANFORD

The Interplanetary Capital

Of The World.

Before this had even registered on our minds, we were startled by a fantastic machine which swooped down and hovered beside us. A hostess on the side informed us that this revision was "Mad-Man Mcllun's Miraculous Motorship!" The Mad-Man himself leant out and asked if we wanted a ride by the future genre. Without waiting for an answer, he turned on "Morganweck's Magnetic Body-Snatcher!" and we found ourselves flying inside the vehicle from the Hands of the Conductor! Upon further interrogation we discovered that his flying license had been revoked for "Reckless speeding on a condolent conveyance!"

Looking around us we saw a lively game of Go-Fish in progress in the rear of the plane. From the sounds of it we gathered that "Diamond Jim" Footner and "Accumb-the-Hole" Robinson were cleaning out Dave Shorty, Pete Wilson and Roger Senniman.

The trip was interrupted by "M.V." MacConnell who complained to "Mad-Man" that some one had been leaving Pepsi-Cola cans out of the windows! (It couldn’t have been Grant, Starr or Sloat!) The culprits were Don Spalding and Walt Dixon who were reprimanded by James Walker, honorary president of the Coca-Cola Co.

In a matter of minutes the plane landed and we were greeted as quickly as we had been picked up. We were drawn along with the crowd and greeted at the gate by Robert McCullough Black, Junior, the official welcomer for the convention. He quizzed us about our strange appearance before he allowed us to go by...

We entered the huge memorial stadium which was erected in 1950, and soon attained to a capacity of fifty thousand, and found three seats close to the speakers' platform. The master-of-ceremonies, Joseph Hahn, opened the convention by introducing the President of the A.T.O.M.I.C., Suzanne Joerndt, who was an eminent star of stage, screen, radio, T.V. and A.V. (atom-vision).

After expressing her thanks to the famous philanthropist, Richard Austin, who donated the funds for erection of the beautiful fair grounds, President Joerndt called upon the battery of secretarial-interpreters to read the minutes of last year's meeting. All tuned their ear phones to their respective languages, as Muriel Hahn, Margaret Dolan, Jane Fennelly, Kay Fuldrod, June Fennelly, Kay Fuldrod, Irma Rainbow, Barbara Hunter and Joan Hanson translated the minutes. The secretaries described the progress being made by David Patterbaugh, head of the Department of Scenic Beauty, in cleaning up the 'Grateful slums of New York City', a suburb of Cranford.

The next feature on the agenda was entertainment, conducted by that debonnaire show magnate, M. Donald Woolley, who opened the program with some original (?) Orson Welles' ghost tales. He then grudgingly relinquished the microphone to Gerald Sanger, celebrated baritone and great dramatic actor, who smashed all world records in his latest hit!

After expressing his regrets that his co-stars, Diana Broom and Edna Eichinger, were not able to attend the convention, he delivered one of the highlights of the show. This treat, however, proved its own undoing for many feminine hearts (Grant, Starr and - Sloat!), and nurses Betty Gilling, Mary Shell and Mary Jordan were kept busy recovering those who had succumbed to Jerry's charms.

Being a part of the entertainment was Bill Lawrence's Best of Bubblers Review, including Barbara Sudimack, Pat Kelly, Nancy Goodman, Betty Owen, Diana Osmann, Sasse Morgan and Sue Clement, who were led into their routine by "Fessels!" Reupert. (How Fred Jacobs got into that line we'll never know!) He later explained that he thought he was waiting in line to pay Mr. Wilson for thirty-seven blown fuses that he burned when he plugged Gilbert O'Connor into a wall outlet). These dancers were kept stepping by Engineer Herrle at the controls of the radar-guided bubbles. Unusually, however, something went wrong with the controls (Herrle!), and "Red" Ossmann was forced to beat a hasty retreat.

Mr. Hahn then rose and introduced Bob Richards, noted explorer, who announced his sponsorship of a sight-seeing trip to the moon. The excursion was scheduled for fifteen hundred, which left us time for removing old acquaintances before departure. On the way to lunch at Schacht's and Scheimerhorn's "Steak Palace", whose cuisine was recommended to us by the world-traveled gourmet Ted Pearlman, we passed a beautifying salon. In charge were Jean Roman, Sara Milazzo and their "persuaders" Schott and Cipolla.

On our way back to the hotel after lunch, we came upon Bob Needling, perfecting his sensational "atomic-pitch" at the expense of Catcher Carroll. Then on a short cut back across the raging "ranford Channel, we found that world swimming champion, Jane Jeffries, was narrowly defending her title against the "dairyman's daughter."

We reached the plane and took our seats with barely enough time to spare. We recognized the pilot as our old friend, Bill Smiley, and the copilot was Bob Welsh. We hoped they wouldn’t make any rash wagers with each other, while we were in the plane, such as seeing who would be "chicken" first. The obvious hostesses, Joan Murray, Mary Jordan and Patti Wens, made us comfortable.

We saw many notable personages around us. Among these were the imposing German surgeon, Arthur...
Huntman, and his interlocutor, Carol Blackman; three world-renowned wrestlers, "Gorgeous George" Bordenewich and Rankin, who had just competed a benefit match at the A.T.I.J.; Roland Huntz, the eloquent orator, and the ghostly voice of his speeches, John Rankin. We also spoke to Eugene Daniel, Phil, (standing for "Folly has flown") who, with his collaborators—Liz Lennon, Ann Holland, and Janet Mass—had recently purchased the "Masked Fata Fille" to make you "see, make tunes in a week." Across from us we saw a crowd around Joan Lloyd, noted author, who was autographing her latest book entitled "Life In A Country Club" or "What a Come Basket."

Besides the famous people about the rocket ship, we also mention the housekeepers. We congratulated two married couples, Danny and Mary Page, and Bill and Nancy Merewe who were celebrating their twenty-third and twenty-fifth anniversaries, respectively.

The view from the window was absolutely nil until the plane, suddenly camerad around what appeared to be a building, suspended in the vacuum, with a sign reading "Gal." We peered through our telescopes and saw another plane, right over our heads. Jack Mosaic, James De Fabre, and Bernard Wogedson. They were repairing two planes which had collided near their filling station. We could see the two drivers, Bill Mykran, and Pat Hardy arguing over the accident, while the lone passenger, Jean Vettel, lay dying in the cockpit. But she's always dying (Og—Senior Play!). (Bet you wish Grant, Starr and Shab would!)

For several hours we fought the housekeepers' chase and announced that, although we were unaware of it, the ship had settled down on the ground. We were supplied with the proper equipment and stepped out into the rocky terrain. The next thing we beheld was Bill Kline, Gerald Park, and Jim Hale, who were long taking pictures of each other with a wide-angle lens. We stepped off a monorail at Carter, Kelsey and Beavo's luncheonette. Next we found the original "team in the moon," "Uncle Mike" in his laboratory. Mary Lee Coffee and Sue Lackey were assisting him in his experiment: production of green cheese. While Janet Wells, Jane Boone, Adele Keith, and Irene Gansman managed the human end of the journey. Telescopic views of the earth were being sold by Daisy Roderick and Barbara Solway for a time at their sidewalk concession.

Ralph Hooper, the dancing cop, was skating the "Lena Top Rouge" starting rather Mabel Prine. The room consisted of electrically charged rooms being Janet Douglas, Lisa Lewis, Frances Tracey, Pat Hadley, Jane Binkin, Joan Anderson, Mary Westmoreland and Theresa Webber. As we breathed fresh into the traffic we barely escaped annihilation at Red Royster chased Richard Varnum and the nearest magnetic pole. We got caught by that time since Bill Mykran, Bob Varley, and John Turner were also prisoners up there. That would teach them not to carry so much magnetic money around with them. After this incident we thought it best to take out life insurance from the firm of Gilkes, Tropp of, and Giliek.

We descended at the "Rocket Star Inn" built into the side of a huge crater, and stepped into the first strains of "Get It And Gone," words and music by the "Cats," singer and saxophonist handsome, personable, and of course, something of left to right—Herby Miller, John Meyer, Francis Massa, Harry Schober, Walter Keynes, and Henry Shaffer, were accompanying "Georgia-On-My-Mind" Rosenberg.

Our host, Jack Walters, came over and gently explained how he had put "The Boys" out of business. Nona Simmons, that pretty waitress, ushered us to a table, but before we had a chance to order we were interrupted by Chick "The Shadow" Newman and the lovely "Margot Lane"—alias Carol Ann Kirkpatrick. We accepted his proposition to be a space trip to Grottor, the nearest planet discovered by astronomer John Mucue. As we hurried out we bumped into Roy Lewis and Dick Mackeney with two island escorts. (Grant and Starr turned panhandle, but were dropped out the door by Shab.)

On our way to the take-off spot, we paused to wave to some friends in a passing space ship. These were Monica Ryan, Ruth Price, Dorothy Voss, and Eleanor Torkel, hostages of Fred "The Clutch" Ashcross. We reached the plane and received a sign stating that it was one of Fulton, Fulton, and Frank's Farmers, a newly formed company. We were strapped into the dubious contraption by Don Hopkins, the "Shadow's" bodyguard.

We were about to our destination when the motor began to sputter and the skill of the pilot settled us down before the engine died out completely. We were instructed to wear oxygen masks to combat the rare atmosphere. Then we climbed out and were met by Gloria Massa and Rose Froste who led us up to the observation deck. There we met the eight human genii plus hanged together. We recognized them as our old classmates: Joan Hoche, Beatrice Kusner, Ruth Fairweather, Joan Zarafa, Theresa Koton, Barbara Ford, Ruth Muncieh, and Pat Kirkland. Our guides informed us that they had all sacrificed their lives for the sake of science and posterity.

Suddenly the three professors rushed out shouting to us to run for our lives. (Ross Burke thought they were asking us to run for Congress and he immediately began to campaign for the coming vote.) The brave scientists were led by Ray Diller, who spotted us in time we couldn't stop him. However, George Shephard and "Red" Randolph (his hair turned white while he was working with cosmic rays) halted a moment to consult that Ray's experiment on an atom to end all atoms was out of control. The atomic chain reaction which would destroy the world was setting in. The eight brave girls, plus all the others from the plane took off their gravitation shoes and were immediately sent hurtling through space. But we just waited and waited and waited—(Grant, Starr and Shab, that is!) the class of 1950, being mentally and physically exhausted and realizing the uncertainty of this life, do hereby make the following requests:

I. Albie Barnes, will my "Golden Toes" to Bruce Ihle.

II. Tom Cisar, will my size 12 feet to anyone on the track team who wants to spend hours in the stock room trying to find a pair of shoes that will fit him.

We, Addie Hall and Joanne Geta, will Harris Lydon and George Lincoln a few years of experience. (You don't have to smoke Camels to know that experience is the best teacher.)

We, the graduating members of the Automobile Racing Association of Cranford High School, will our supply of drain oil, Merit gas, and bald tires to our colleagues who have one more lap to go.

We, the senior members of Cranford's first soccer team, will our headaches and banged legs to next year's squad who may learn to wear helmets and shin guards.

We, Barbara Wenzler and Pattie Fair, will our long-lasting friendship to any two girls who can stand each other long enough to get their names in the Golden C.

1. "Sonny" Edwards, will my affection for studies to any other ambitious student who would like to spend 8 years in the dear old halls of C.H.S.

We, Larry Clavin, Julius Skersich, Warren Eisenberg, Joe Turner, Ed Rouvet and Jerry Park, will the political machine of Home room 4 to underclassmen who want to control elections.

2. Al Colville, will my seat in Mr. West's Trig. Class to any boy who is going steady and who thinks he can stand the ribbing.

We, the members of Mr. Wilson's chemistry classes, will our afternoon visits with Senor Terregino, supply of "Eversharps" thumb tacks to anyone who wants to get a point with the test tubes and Bunson burners to the eager juniors who are going to take chemistry next year.

We, the members of the Class of 1950, will our beloved sponsor, Uncle Ollie (Oliver Lucius) to underclassmen who should be eager and proud to choose him as their sponsor.
With the passing of Miss Grace McAllister the people of Cranford and the teaching profession lost an outstanding teacher.

Miss McAllister was truly a master teacher. She was greatly interested in young people and understood their problems through her ability to put herself in another's place. By bringing to the classroom her keen appreciation of the arts and of nature, she was able to broaden the cultural background of her pupils.

Miss McAllister has left to us, through the example of her life, a challenge to unselfish service.

The Junior Red Cross Council has done a great deal toward its aim of promoting good will among the nations of the world. Through the active response of the students and the cooperation of the sewing classes, many projects have been successfully completed. These include the enrollment campaign, spreading Christmas cheer, collecting for the March of Dimes, and sending materials to migrants and to Europeans.

STAGE CREW

The members of the Stage Crew are a selected group, whose specific job is to operate all the intricate lighting equipment used for dramatic productions and dances. These students who donate their efforts freely deserve our sincere appreciation and thanks.

LA TERTULIA

The Spanish Club, "La Tertulia", sponsored by Anthony Terregino, consists of forty second- and third-year students interested in learning more about Spanish culture. Highlights for the year were the meeting at which Mr. John E. Jeffries and Mr. Alfred Frigola spoke on their experiences in South American countries, and the annual dance and picnic given with Entre Nous.

ENTRE NOUS

From the early morning breakfast to a French dinner in a New York restaurant, Entre Nous has had an active year. The members enjoyed a meeting with the Music Club and a dance with La Tertulia, and presented the annual joint Christmas assembly with the Mask and Bauble Club. A trip to New York climaxed the year's activities.
The Chess Club was founded to give those students interested in the game a chance to get together for pleasure and competition.

Chess, a two-handed game, is known as the "royal game" because of its pre-eminence among intellectuals. This need not frighten students from joining the club, for members are always glad to teach those who do not know how to play. The club is particularly anxious to have ninth grade students join each year in order to build up a good team to compete with other schools.

The following activities were among the highlights of the year: The library Christmas tree decorated with miniature booklets; the joint meeting with the Westfield High School Library Council when the Cranford Council entertained them on St. Patrick's Day; the first issue of "Library News"; the annotated booklist for students; the trips to Rutgers University and Trenton State Teachers College for meetings of the New Jersey School Library Councils Association.

The purpose of the Mask and Bauble is to further the knowledge of its members concerning dramatic actions and techniques. The club sponsored four assemblies during 1949-1950: their "try-outs" assembly, the annual Christmas play in collaboration with the French Club, Miss Ellen Love, and a play "Ins and Outs." The club attends a broadway play annually.

The Rod and Gun Club, of which Mr. Gerhard Kellner is sponsor, has as its purpose the promotion of better sportsmanship in the field.

Members of the club have enjoyed varied activities this year. Movies were shown at almost every monthly meeting, and members gave talks on hunting, trapping, and fishing. The second annual trap shoot was held this fall. Spring activities included a Fly Casting Tourney and a trip to the Hatchery. The club maintains a library for members only in the school library.
The Photography Club has had an active year, with guest speakers, demonstrations, and monthly competitions at its meetings. Members have taken pictures of football games, science projects, senior superlatives, and kindergarten snack bars. The Club co-sponsored the annual Salon of Photography with the Cranford Photographic Society.

The function of the Biology Club is not only to provide social activity but also to promote interest in modern science. Its yearly activities include field trips of various kinds and visits to research laboratories. So far the club has toured the Johnson and Johnson plant in Cranford, Merck Laboratories in Rahway, and the Museum of Natural History in New York City.

Throughout the school year of 1949-50, the Cranford Hi-Y Club, sponsored and guided by Frank E. Ramsey, has carried out its chief purpose, "to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

At the individual chapter meetings, its members discuss the social problems which confront teen-agers. At the joint meetings, the members are shown interesting movies and hear informal talks by guest speakers.

The club also sends delegates to the annual State Hi-Y Conference in addition to performing many service projects in the school and community.

The highlight of every Hi-Y year is the production of the Sadie and Emma Follies.

In 1949 the Blue and Gold turned out its heaviest team in years. Behind the weight of Art Huetteman, co-captain George Bochnovich, Fred Klush, Ray Pisco, and Don Hopkins, operated one of the most experienced backfields in the county. Big George Rankin headed the list in his third year as varsity fullback. Co-captain Jim Walker and speedsters Bill Lee and Bill Smiley filled out this backfield. At the ends were stationed a pair of glue-fingered feather-weights — Don Woolley and Brad Page.

In the first encounter of the season, Al "The Toe" Barnes booted a field goal and a pair of extra points as Cranford tripped a stubborn Linden tiger 17-6. After being trampled 46-7 by a strong bulldog from Regional, the Blue and Gold bounded back to whip a favored North Plainfield Canuck 21-0. Thus the season rolled on.

After losing to powerful Railroad, Cranford gained revenge at the expense of Hillside by whipping the Comet’s tail 12-0. Then the team ran head-first into a familiar rival — Roselle-Park. Pete Weiland intercepted a first period Park pass and ran 94 yards to a touchdown. This gave Cranford a 7-0 halftime lead but was short lived as Park came roaring back to win 26-7. The next two games were split — a win over Roselle, and a loss to Scotch Plains. Then along came the annual turkey-day battle with Thomas Jefferson. In the past Cranford had usually upset a favored Jeff team. This season, however, Cranford fielded its strongest team in years against a weak Jeff eleven. You guessed it — Jefferson won 33-19.

Thus ended Cranford’s best season since 1945. The team wound up with a respectable 4-5 record.

The senior members of this year’s squad all wish the 1950 team a successful season.
Hi Dicky,

If you go into T.V. or radio I wish all luck to you. Although I know you don't need it.

Sincerely,

Alec '24
This year's basketball team was expected to turn in a winning season. Advance notices were that Cranford had its tallest team in years and could be expected to average well over six feet. However, a jinx seemed to hit the squad, and before the season even started — three of its taller men were out with ankle injuries. As a result, Cranford's only starter over six feet tall was Ed Robinson. Nevertheless, the team got off to a good start and held a 3-4 record in the beginning of January.

Then the team began to be hampered by illness. After upsets by Roselle and Linden, the players couldn't get back in stride, and the season was bitterly disappointing to their high hopes.

The Selbymen fought hard all season and dropped several one-point decisions. However, the season also had its bright side. Playing one of its better games of the season, the team beat the alumni 39-35, thus becoming the first Cranford High team to accomplish this.

The future holds promise for a fine group of youngsters who are moving up from this year's J V. The senior members of this year's squad wish them the best of luck in 1951.
In 1949 Cranford fielded one of the fightingest teams in the county. Hard work and a determination not to be re-tabbed the "hitless wonders", led to a batting increase of 100 percentage points over that of the previous year. Captain Lyle Burnett, coming through consistently in the clutch, was the leader in this batting upsurge.

Even though an improved team at the plate, Cranford's main asset was its all-county pitcher, Bob Neebling. Amassing 96 strikeouts, Bob was considered the best pro-prospect in the league. In pitching 96 innings he gave up only 16 earned runs and pitched low-hit games against 3 of the counties top teams—Union, St. Mary's, and Jefferson.

The team wound up with an impressive 10-8 record — four of those losses by only one run. It ranked eighth in the county league being ahead of five other clubs.

Co-captains for this year are Neebling and his battery-mate, Mickey Carroll. With them and the many other returning lettermen, Coach Buonaguro eagerly anticipates another successful season at Cranford.
1949 marked another year in the era of good track teams at Cranford High. The Weekley men turned in another undefeated dual-meet season with five victories. They were also crowned County and State Relay Champions. They beat out Jefferson by one point to win the County Relay Championship. This was the first time Cranford had won this event although it had been second and third many times.

With trackmen like Frevort, Forster, Whoer, Smiley, Woolley, Allen, Lee, Walker, and O'Connor around, it's no wonder that Cranford had a good season. Aside from this fact, it has been rumored that a potent factor in Cranford's success is a guy named Weekley and his 'hot stuff' concoctions. Could be—there's plenty of each around during track season.

Many members of 1949's squad are leaving due to graduation or eligibility, but with the several returning members of this championship squad, there is reason to believe Cranford will have another good track team this year.
In indoor track, Cranford's team showed resilience. Practicing faithfully in the streets around school, the "indoor" track team, coached by James S. Avery, placed itself as a strong contender in Northern New Jersey track circles. Entering five combined public and Catholic high school championship meets, Cranford once again ended its indoor season with an outstanding team.

Coach Anthony Terregino faced a tremendous rebuilding project last fall. To add to his woes the team was swept with illnesses. Other than the County and State Meets, the team had only one dual meet—a close one which it lost to Rahway 26-29. Next season will be another rebuilding year for the team but we wish it the best of luck in galloping over those Warinanco hills.
SOCCER

In the fall of 1949 Cranford High inaugurated its first soccer team. A large group of enthusiastic but inexperienced boys turned out and trained hard throughout the season. After several losses they were finally rewarded with a 3-2 victory over Irvington. Coaches Courtland Daley and George Thatcher believe the addition of this sport in Cranford will have gratifying results.

HOCKEY

The 1950 Ice Hockey Team, supervised by Courtland J. Daley, played its entire schedule on the artificial ice of Princeton's Hoby Baker Rink. Although the team suffered early season setbacks at the hands of Nutley and Lawrenceville, they went on to beat Westfield and upset a strong Feddie sextet. The squad, co-captained by Fenner and Black, played its concluding game with Princeton Day School.
The Girls' Athletic Association, familiarly known as the G.A.A., is an organization for all girls in senior high who are interested in participating in intramural sports. The backbone of the organization is the council, which consists of the officers plus six members from each of the four classes. The officers for this year are: president, Beverly Lissenden; vice-president, Rose Cipolla; secretary, Ann Duff; and treasurer, Nancy Rudd. Miss Catherine Liotta and Miss Jean Voorhees are the capable and enthusiastic sponsors.

Hockey started off the program this year with the junior and sophomore girls participating fully, while the seniors were busy with the senior play. Because of the cold weather the final games were not played.

Cranford High was honored to be asked to the All State Hockey Tournament played at Glen Rock, New Jersey. Four girls were chosen to participate, and out of the four, Janice Richmond, a junior, was honored to play in the final State Team.

Under the skillful leadership of Miss Liotta archery has become a sport well liked by all. Its unfor-seen popularity made the present equipment seem scant indeed.

A short season of elimination volleyball followed, after which the winter season ushered in the ever popular game, basketball. Playdays were scheduled with Regional, Roselle Park, Roselle, Rahway, Clifford Scott, and Scotch Plains. These proved to be very successful. An intramural tournament was also played.

The girls worked hard during the winter months, not only playing basketball, but getting ready for the third May exhibition given by the G.A.A. This includes tap, modern dance, pyramid building, games, basketball finals, and social dancing. The victrola purchased with money from the sale of programs during the football season and assembled by Mr. Zimmerman proved to be quite an asset at this time.

In March the G.A.A. arranged for the girls of the modern dance group from Clifford Scott High School to present their program in assembly.

G.A.A. SONG

When the G.A.A. steps into line
We'll show the other schools we're really fine!
We've got the pep and strength and loyalty
That always brings to us a well known victory.
So pass the word around we're out to play,
We'll win the game today and every day.
The Blue and Gold is waving bright and clear,
Give a cheer —— G.A.A.!
This year the cheerleaders contributed much toward the promotion of school spirit. They introduced many new cheers, two of the most popular of which were "Slam Bam" and "Go Cranford, Fight Cranford."

The ten members of the 1949-1950 squad were: Beverly Lissenden and Barbara Sudimack, co-captains; Mary Hunn, Mary Lib Coffee, Virginia Kiamie, Patricia Van Duyne, Matilda Juracek, Nancy Stombaugh, Diane Wallace, and Susan Clement.

The entire school has become well aware of the fact that this year it had a grand group of ten twirlers led by Mary Weismantel. Even during cold fall days they were seen marching down the football field.

Cranford High thanks: Barbara Haar, Judith Cederholm, Theresa Wehrum, Beverly Blaha, Joan Zulick, Elaine Daniels, Norma Searle, Melda Segebade, and Bernardine Kurzinski.

Dear Dick:

May the years to come bring you happiness and joy.

Best wishes and
Lots of luck.

Your friend

June Morda
Dear Dick,

I don't believe you are going to meet your enemy this year. I'm looking for my enemy. Why should I wish you luck? Dick is a lucky guy.

Best of luck to a cute guy!

Rev.

Barbara

Dear Dick,

It is so nice to see you. I wish you luck in future years.

Lots of luck.

Kay

Richard dear,

I distributed the cover sheet.

Dad thought it was funny.

Mrs. Klotz and Mr. Short. Dick. You can e.g. look at Latin.

Pick. You can e.g. look at Latin.

Dick: Congratulations.

Best of luck.

Kay
