GOLDEN C

1955

Published by
THE SENIORS
Cranford High School
Cranford, New Jersey

We, the Golden C staff, have attempted in this book to show how the various activities, both scholastic and extracurricular, prepare the student of Cranford High School to take his place in modern society. By teaching us to think objectively and by developing our personal interests, the faculty has prepared us to take the step into the future, whether college, work, or service, with confidence. Therefore we, the class of 1955, do dedicate this book to the ideals of citizenship and democracy as presented at Cranford High School.

*Best Wish
Scutro*

MR. THOMAS SCUTRO

We thank you, our homeroom teachers, for the important part you have played in our school life as friends and advisers.

Especially we thank you, Mr. Scutro, our class sponsor. During the past four years, you have been indefatigable in your efforts to help and advise us. We are very grateful.

Gateway to the Orient.

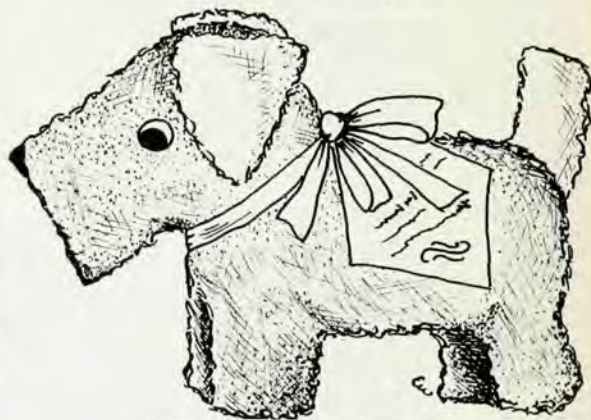

Transformation Completed!

THE PROM

The transformation had been completed! Then, on that special evening in May, we danced in a breathtaking oriental garden to the wonderful music of Johnny Long and his orchestra.

The authentic motif of the Far East, the wonderful music, and the special favors, plus the fact that it was our prom, all blended perfectly to make that night of "Oriental Fantasy" memorable for all of us.

The Class of '55 wishes to express its most sincere gratitude to the PTA, teachers, parents, and to all whose efforts helped to make our prom a success.

A Garden Must Have Flowers.

Where East Meets West.

SENIOR PLAY

"Seventeenth Summer"

"Gee Daddy, doesn't my bicycle look spiffy!" — Dorece Hann, Jerry Kotlarz.

"Summer is almost over, Jack, and I'll be going off to college soon." — Lee Ferguson, Patricia Bailey.

"More gray on Mrs. Morrow, Marion," instructs Miss Mathews.

A teenage summer romance, mixed with the joys of a wonderful family, and the excitement of venturing off to college as summer slowly fades, all combined perfectly to make up our production of "Seventeenth Summer" by Maureen Daly. So wonderful was the performance of the entire cast under the direction of Miss Alice Mathews, that we seemed to adopt the Morrow family with their joys and sorrows as our own.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL BAND

Expression through music, both individual and group, is the aim of Cranford High School's Music department, which includes Miss Olga Specht, Mr. Louis Haar and Mr. James Lenney. The joy of harmony and the appreciation of music are motives never overlooked as our teachers weave music, both instrumental and vocal, through the student life at C.H.S.

GAA COUNCIL

The G.A.A., under the sponsorship of Miss Florence Alp and Mrs. Eda Sharenow, offers to each girl the opportunity of active participation in some form of athletics. Not only are girls' sports featured during school, but they are extended to include after school and intramural contests.

The athletic year is ushered in with an all-time favorite, archery. As the season progresses field hockey and soccer are added to the outdoor agenda.

With cold weather, the classes turn to the indoor games and spend much time playing basketball, or volleyball. Modern dancing and tumbling are introduced with much enthusiasm.

Spring means baseball on both sides of the gym partition and the girls are soon outside batting .1000.

The G.A.A. Exhibition has the biggest cast of any CHS production. Sophomore, Junior and Senior girls don the traditional Blue and Gold, and attempt to outdo each other in preparing a spectacular competitive show.

Don't let her fall, Judy!

This is Cranford High . . .

We, as Seniors, realize now more than ever before how much more Cranford High has given us than just four years of the 3 R's. CHS has so many different activities that everyone can find some activity to interest him. The administration and faculty give very generously of their time to develop the individual interests of the students.

Our Student Council is the voice of the student body. It is run by, and responsible to all of us. We are very fortunate to have one of the strongest Student Councils in the state, because of the confidence that the administration has placed in us.

All of the different departments in the school have contributed in some way to furthering our education. The members of these departments have helped us put on shows and assemblies. They have built and decorated the stage settings for performances. They have helped carry out town projects, and have given us the experience of putting out our own newspaper and yearbook.

Each club and organization helps direct the interested student toward a goal. This goal covers everything from international understanding to the appreciation and mastering of some art. It is possible that many of the avocations could become vocations, thanks to the skill and patience of the faculty sponsors. Every club and activity contributes something to the wholeness of high school education.

Both boys' and girls' sports teach something more valuable than skill in some certain field. They teach the members how to cooperate with one another. Whether we win or lose is not of paramount importance, enjoyment of the game and the personal satisfaction of being a good sport are the goals toward which we strive.

We, the Seniors, wish to thank the entire faculty for helping us so much throughout our four years in Cranford High School. You've been wonderful to us, and your patience and guidance have been invaluable.
