Welcome To Cranford

While this year's end seemed to take us all by surprise, life's journey continues to take us where it may. The road that lies ahead is paved with our past triumphs, waiting to be explored by our willing minds. Though for many, the time has come to move onto our next destination, we leave with unforgettable memories to learn from and cherish till the end of our road. This book honors a year in everyone's life, including the strife and accomplishments we faced this year. Although some of our peers are moving on towards a new and exciting experience, always remember, there is a light at the end of every tunnel. During the 2006-2007 school year, we would like to remember the friendships that guided us from dead ends, the teachers who sent us on smooth trails, the great times paved on weekends, and the thrills created by the athletic teams. Congratulations to everyone for completing another year at Cranford High School, and best of luck to the graduating class. Do not fear the crossroads that lie ahead, and never forget to follow your heart as you continue to ride through life.

As students, we embrace the curves and bumps of the road of life as a necessary bridge between our different academic activities. On our journey towards new opportunities, we take several detours to hear the music of the band and chorus. As we continue toward the future, we turn down roads filled with different plots and characters, bringing us into their world and encouraging us to grow through our emotions. Some students, while traveling the road of life, take the express lane to learn different vocational skills at Vo-tech or help children develop important life skills in Child Development. The constant changing of lanes helps us to expand not only our academic knowledge but, through the help of our PEER's, ourselves. While we grow, students always take time on the journey to help other travelers in need whether it's through Holiday Fest or raising money for Biloxi. Every journey includes different breaks, but, at any light we stop at, we are guaranteed to see the engines of every mind hard at work to reach their final destination.

Underclassmen enter an unfamiliar place without directions or a map. However, they find their own way and learn more about life than they had in all of their previous years. New bonds are created and self-identities are solidified. The once unsure students will enter their final year with the confidence and the knowledge they gathered during their freshman, sophomore, and junior years.

NOW & THEN

RUBBERNECKING...

Watching their older siblings from the sidelines, Elizabeth Woglom and Ryan Wise enjoy a baseball game. These two soon became team mascots for their enthusiasm and cheer.

AMERICAN GIRLS...

Finding their favorite toys, Hannah Van Why, Julie-Anne Garretson, and Haley Brown sit down for one more picture. Endless hours of fun were spent between these girls and their dolls.

WEEKEND EXTRAVAGANZA...

These friends take advantage of a beautiful afternoon to bask in the sun and enjoy a bowl of ice cream. Leaving for college was a scary thought for these seniors, as they have always been friends and neighbors.

CARPOOL BUDDIES...

Brittany McGinley and Allison Hearn hang out with a few friends after a long day at school. Since then, the girls said that not much has changed; they still have a strong friendship and difficult school days.

U-TURN... Graduation caps will soon be replacing the baseball caps of these senior boys. Unforgettable memories were shared well between these friends, with or without their hats.

NOW & THEN

NEXT EXIT...
Dressed up in cap and gown attire, Tom Klimek and Amanda Heller prepare for another graduation. Although CHS graduation was their last one together, they look forward to new experiences.

ROAD TO THE RUNWAY... Carefully applying blush and lipstick, Corinne Brown and Alonda Braxton sit down together for a photo to remember their dress up days. The girls agreed that this was their favorite activity to do, as long as they weren't yelled at for taking their mother's makeup.

END OF THE ROAD...
For Melissa Zak and Caitlin Krenak, graduating has simply been another stage of life for them to undertake together. For these girls, high school graduation was not the end for their friendship, it only made them more appreciative of each other.

WINTER WONDERLAND...
Jeb Dennis and John Westcott get festive for the holiday season. Wearing their annual snowman shirts never failed to give them holiday cheer.

NEXT STOP, METRO STARS...
Congratulating each other after a soccer game, Dan O'Hara and John Martines show off their skills. Sports games on the weekend were always a great way to spend time with old and new friends.

REMEMBER WHEN...

Leaving Cranford

As we travel down the road that we all must inevitably drive on, we look back and remember the paths that have pointed us in the right direction. The teachers that have inspired us, the lessons we learned that made us stronger, and the unforgettable experiences of the exciting times that we shared with our peers will forever be in our memories. To the underclassmen we leave behind, high school may seem long and confusing, but the end comes faster than expected, so make the most of it. Seniors, on our highway called high school, we experienced and developed friendships that have determined and shaped who we are today. We will always remember Happy Haunting's terrifying nights, serving pasta to our friends and family, and supporting our class in the spring fashion show. But the most vivid memory that will cross our minds is the final walk on stage during our graduation ceremony. On that final boulevard where diplomas will be taken and caps thrown in celebration, we will forever say goodbye to not only our childhood memories but also to the adventures we have experienced in Cranford High School.

Soon, we will be traveling on a new highway, a route where we define where we go and how we get there. We have gone past the limits and expectations of those around us; the class of 2007 will never be forgotten. No matter where we travel or what course is taken, we will always recall the many memories that have been made in our years at Cranford High School.

Many thanks to the time and effort that Cranford High School's staff contributed to the publication of this yearbook. Without the generosity and effort of everyone involved in the making of the book, the final product could have never been accomplished. The participation and cooperation shown by everyone is greatly appreciated. In particular, we would like to thank Mr. Dugandzie for helping every step of the way, without his guidance, we would not be where we stand today.
