As we open up the fresh, new pages of the 2008-2009 school year, there are countless different emotions scribbling through the minds of the Cranford High School student body. The Freshman are attempting to avoid the inevitable confusion of a new school, Sophomores can't wait to get their permits and plan their "Sweet 16" parties, Juniors are preparing themselves for their most challenging academic year, and the Seniors are trying to make their last ten months of high school an unforgettable experience. However, despite our differences in grade levels, work loads, goals, and challenges; all of us share a common bond by being part of the Cranford High School student body. Whether it is by cheering on the football team at the Friday night games, watching the fall drama Dracula, sharing a meal in the cafeteria, or making jokes with our friends, we all participate in these priceless and unforgettable memories because we realize that the only thing that really matters is what happens Write Now!

STUDENT LIFE

As the future is drawing near, high school sketches a special time to remember. While tracing through the memories scribbled in our minds, we recall the things happening "write now," like:

- Postcards from vacations
- Invitations to school dances
- Local jobs in the 'Help Wanted' ads
- Writing signs and T-shirts for the pep-rally
- Ghoulish Halloween stories
- Tracing your family tree with your siblings
- Passing notes in the hallways
- What's on the menu in the cafeteria and other places to eat
- Drawing the 'X's and 'O's for the best defense to win Powder Puff
- Taking note of different activities students perform

With these events jotted into our memories, we have penciled in a whole notebook of moments to look back on and can reminisce how high school was one of the greatest doodles of our lives.

SPORTS

From Fall, to Winter, to Spring, each season has all types of sports that mark their 'X's and O's for the best defense and offense. Cougar pride and victory can be drawn from all sorts of details, like:

- Painted faces on the fans
- Posters hung in the halls of school
- Signs waving from the crowd
- Decorative shirts worn by some teams
- The score glowing from the scoreboard
- Awards given to triumphant athletes

Whether it's getting animated before the game by having a fun bus ride, scrawling through lucky rituals, or squiggling through a pep talk and going over the design of the game, teamwork is framed on the fields, floors, alleys, ice, and courts of Cranford High athletics.

ACADEMICS

Notepads are not only books composed of doodles that are drawn while dozing off in class; they also mark a collection of the things we learn throughout the course of our school year. Other than hitting the books, students can also experience:

- PEER
- Vo-Tech
- Fall Play
- Marching Band
- Orchestra
- Chorus
- University Program
- Holiday Fest

As the spiral of the notebook twists and twirls through each page, it binds together the profiles that the academic subjects illustrate. From sitting in desks in class, to practicing hand- on activities, students grow into the characters that strive to be.

First or second year, we all come together

UNDERCLASSMEN

For underclassmen, the years in high school are illustrated like a comic strip. There is always something new being put into the picture. From:

- Taking PEER
- Going to sweet sixteens
- Getting driving permits & licenses
- Taking the SAT's and H.S.P.A.S.
- Attending Spring Fling and Fall Ball
- Getting involved in clubs
- Starting to find jobs
- Participating in the service learning projects
- Beginning college searches

As time scrolls by, these moments become a cartoon, where each student designs a different line to create his or her own unique high school experience. By tracing back to what has been framed during high school, the students create a rough draft of stories and events that will shape their futures.

"My favorite part of Junior year was getting a varsity letter for field hockey"

What is your favorite part of junior year?

SENIORS

From when the school doors first open in September, till we throw our caps in the air come June, Senior year squiggles by in a flash. It is outlined with many exciting privileges and events, such as:

- First or last period studies
- Having our own cafeteria
- Eating lunch outside
- Happy Hauntings
- Pasta Night
- PowderPuff
- Fashion Show
- Lock-in
- Exemption from finals
- Senior Service
- Prom
- Graduation

While scrawling through all these activities, we look back to the things that were important to us and helped us get through the year. We also etch out our accomplishments, which are made note of by our teachers and peers. When looking back, we realize how animated the year was for the class of 2009, and we push our pencils into the future for more excitement and success.

Cranford High School - School Song

Horary for Cranford's jolly school, the best in all the state
We're full of fun, joy, and laughter, and always up to date
We know the way to work and win, the way to laugh and play
In fun or frolic, games or books, our school will win the day
Tr---ue to the Gold and Blue, forever let this ever be our rule
Wave, wave our colors brave and defned our dear high school
Rah Rah Rah, Rah CHS and all its splendid history
We will rally all when we hear the call for victor-----y!

HAPPY

PASTA NITE

Right: HOW CAN I HELP YOU?... These humorous servers did not hold back their personality when taking the customers' orders. Thankfully, no trays of pasta were dropped when attempting these juggling acts.

Left: BACK AWAY, THE CART IS COMING THROUGH!... These dessert cart operators worked their magic to sell countless baked goods. The homemade apple pie was definitely one of the favorites.

Left: SOME BACKGROUND MUSIC PLEASE... Rockin' out to their own jam, these talented musicians set the mood for this upbeat evening. The jazz band played for both the 5 o'clock and 7 o'clock shifts and were exhausted by the end of the night.

Top: SERVE IT UP!...The five o'clock shift takes a second to pose for the camera before running off to give out more pasta to the hungry parents. Their pleasant attitudes and speedy service left the customers with nothing but a full stomach and a smile on their faces.

Top: STAYIN' LATE...The second Pasta Nite shift had their fair share of work as they raced around to serve their friends and family. The biggest hit had to be the delicious homemade desserts donated for the event.

Cougar Cruisin'

Right: NICE AND SHINY... Adoringly, Gillian Radar shows off her Infiniti G35. She said this was her dream car and couldn't have asked for a better present.

Above: DOUBLE TROUBLE... Excitedly, Katherine Vanbenshoten and Andrew Duva show off their Mustang and Frontier accordingly. Neither one of them budgeted for gas as the costs fluctuated between $2.00 and $4.00.

Left: ONE OF A KIND... Confidently, Mat Vogel proudly shows off his rare Land Rover. He told us that he constantly gets asked where he got this interesting entity.

Below: TAKE TWO: Car and truck fanatic, Quinn Cassaro, gets to have double the fun with his Acura RSX and Ford Superduty. Despite the sleekness of the Acura, he told us he definitely prefers driving the humongous truck.

Right: FUTURE CREW CHIEF: Car Savy Joe Meier stood enthusiastically near his Dodge pickup. His work experience with cars and trucks allows him to easily fix his vehicle at anytime.

Right: UNIQUELY REDESIGNED... With hard work and effort Andrew Deweever shows off his redesigned Volkswagen Passat. His self-installed stereo system is incredibly impressive.

THEN & NOW

BEST FRIENDS...

After a long day of playing outside, Jonathon VanOstenbridge and Dan Salerno stand together for a picture. Their childhood friendship has stayed strong through all these years.

GIRL'S NIGHT...

Having a great time at their first sleepover, Sara Dankowsky, Emily Luppino, and Megan Papandrea stayed up all night watching movies and eating candy. They still get together to share a few laughs.

ME AND YOU...

Cousins, Jimmy Knight and Lauren Eberling share a moment in the Eberling's backyard. In addition to seeing each other at school, they also see each other at family parties.

A STEP IN TIME...

Colorful girls Dana Fanelli and Katie Hannen performed for the Shea-Jennings School of Irish Dance. While Dana can still do the steps, Katie continued to compete internationally.

TRICK OR TREAT...

All dressed up for Halloween, Gretchen Conway and Hope Zanko sat down to check out all the candy they had received. They still love dressing up for the occasion.

THEN & NOW

Sittin' Pretty...
Neighbors Molly Collier and Jessica Zimmer sit on a fence. They loved being able to walk to each other's houses whenever they wanted.

Fish On... Getting ready to cast, Joe Diaz and Mike Gaeta always had fun fishing together. Now, they not only enjoy fishing together, they also love playing football.

GET CREWD...
Former Cranford Crew members Robby Van Horn, Peter Lordan, Dylan Hartman, and Ryan Albert stop to take a picture after their big win. They still enjoyed playing soccer in high school.

SITTING PRETTY..
Always having a great time at their playdates, Mary Kate Minitelli and Katherine Vanbenschoten sat down to watch a movie. They always enjoyed hanging out together.

CAMP OUT...
Ready for a walk in the woods, Hannah McHugh and Kelli Bruno enjoy time hiking and camping with their families. They still, to this day, love camping together.

CLASS OF 2009

WE ARE SO FINE...

As our pens run out of ink and we read the final pages of our books, the thoughts of summer fill our minds. The 2008-2009 school year ends, and the Cranford High School students make their final memories. The seniors are facing their final two months with their friends before they have to say goodbye. The memories that they have made of Pasta Night, Fashion Show and Prom will last forever. For the underclassmen, they wrap up this year and anticipate another ten months in the halls of Cranford High School.

Despite our different styles and flairs, during this year we learned to put our ideas onto the same page and connect together under one student body.

CHS has been the site of most of our memories and has formed a second home for us all. As we take the next step and begin to write the new pages in the story of our lives, no matter where we are, we will always remember the times we shared WRITE NOW!

STAFF of 2008-2009

We would like to thank the faculty, staff, and students for contributing to the publication of this book. Without the dedication and hard work of everyone, the yearbook would never have transformed into such a great piece of memorabilia. In addition, a special thanks must be given to Mr. Dugandzic who organized this staff and truly made this an amazing experience. Also, we would like to recognize Bonnie Blackman for her work with Cranford High School.
