SEWER CHARGE IS WITHDRAWN; RENEWAL EASY

Conditions That Wakelee Will Recommend New Voluntary Cut

A recommendation for a second reduction in sewer rates will be made to the Englewood Sewerage Company, probably by Ex-Senator Wakelee, director and counsel, who was elected this week in the handling of the sewer company's case on the complaint by Edward H. Greene for reopening of the sewer rate hearing. This complaint was withdrawn without prejudice Wednesday and the fact that Senator Wakelee, who also vice-president of Public Service, has declared that his policy is to advise a voluntary reduction in rates in an attempt to reach a goal.

The complaint which was lodged with the Public Utilities Commission can be reopened at any time, and it is probable that if a voluntary reduction is not instituted, it will be reopened. The company, however, is anxious to end the public agitation against it, and on these grounds it is believed that a new offer for a voluntary reduction will be readily considered even if there is no concurrent reduction in the taxes paid by the company to the city. The company is assessed at $450,000, which is a 50 per cent basis, would mean that the city deems its actual value to be $1,300,000.

Survey Completed

In contemplation of a possible sewer study by the Englewood city engineering department, and in any event, to aid in any sewer study which may be undertaken here, the engineering department this month completed a 100-foot scale map of the Fourth Ward, where most of the defects in the sewage system are located.

In the same connection, the department has established a series of manholes in both the Third and Fourth Wards to verify the grade shown in the sewer report and to be used for any study that may be done not only by the sanitary engineers, but also on storm sewers, pavements and curbs.

Although no council action has been taken on the proposal that the city engineering staff be authorized to make a study of the sewage system with a view toward establishing a reproduction value, the possibility of this is being borne in mind.

The work of the department for the month of November was reported in full Tuesday night. The tie-up of the Demarest avenue crossing for nearly a week now, which has caused considerable comment because of the inconvenience, was explained by Russell Hartley's report, which stated that, in return for the laying of the railroad to the tip of the crossing for the entire duration of the job of laying concrete just as at the Palisade avenue crossing, the railroad will give to the city another such crossing within a year.

When completed, the Demarest avenue crossing will be a firm and broad, similar to the Palisade avenue crossing.

Englewood Unemployed To Meet Again Monday; Ask City's Cooperation

Expect at Least 150 of 1500 Jobless to Attend Second Session of the Organization Which Hopes to Persuade Officials to Provide Work

At least one hundred and fifty of Englewood's hundreds of jobless men will band together in the second meeting of the Englewood Unemployed Association, Monday night at the Plaza building, North Van Brunt street, headquarters of the Englewood Local of the Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers Union.

The men are disappointed over the statement by members of the school board Tuesday evening that no promise had been made as to meeting out of the remainder of the landscaping job at the new high school. Lorenzo Griffin, chairman of the association, informed by the board Tuesday that "no promise" had been made about the remainder of the landscaping job at the new high school," stated that he had been under the impression such assurance had been given.

Hope Still High

But hope is still high among the men that the rest of the work will go to them, possibly through the public works department which would hire the jobless and supply the equipment. They have been assured by Irving S. Reeve, a council president and chairman of public works, that if feasible an attempt will be made, when the board gets money to complete the project, to get the job for the city. Mr. Reeve is further promised the men that an attempt will be made to finance a project, the nature of which he was not prepared to announce, to be done by the jobless of Englewood.

Mr. Reeve stated that he made an attempt to secure for the city the first part of the high school job but that when he learned that only $250,000 of the $100,000 contract was for labor, the rest for materials, he felt that it was not worthwhile. His plan would have been to use city equipment, hire what other equipment was necessary, and employ the city's jobless. It is probable, he said, that when the remainder of the contract is to be let, this will be attempted again.

Mr. Griffin made a stirring plea for cooperation Tuesday. He stated that the unemployed men of Englewood are in the spirit of cooperation, hoping that the board will realize the plight of the men and in awarding the remainder of the work.

ONLY ONE OTHER CITY POSSESSES THE FORM OF GOVERNMENT HERE

Reeve Tells Young G.O.P. Mayor's Power Should Be Increased

Englewood's strange form of government, duplicated in only one other city in New Jersey and permissible only by special charter which was granted back in 1899, was described in all its intricacies Wednesday night by Irving S. Reeve, council president before the Young Republican Club of Englewood and Republican Club of Englewood and former chairman of the governing body. Reeve, recounted Englewood financial headwinds of the past year or two. William R. Brown, Freeholder director, told of the county's ailments.

Outstanding in Mr. Reeve's talk were his remarks about the position of the mayor in this city, and his recommendation that the mayor's power be increased. In Englewood the mayor has no vote and has no voice in appointments of paid officials. His appointments are generally referred to as "the honorary appointments," but it has mayor may cast a veto, but it has no blocking ability, for by merely calling the councilmatic roll again, and merely by polling the same vote the measure will pass splitting the Second District of the First Ward, Englewood's largest voting district, was referred to by Mr. Reeve and from a member of the club came the suggestion that the Third Ward will soon have to be divided into two wards.

SOCIAL SERVICE NEEDS FUNDS TO CONTINUE GYMS

Otherwise Children, Most of Them Out of School, Can't Play at Night

Inability to pay the school board the lighting and janitor expenses installed by the 350 boys a night who use the school gymnasiums every night under Memorial House supervision may force Memorial House to deprive the youth of this privilege. Many of these boys and girls are not in school and have no other opportunity for this wholesome recreation.

Pleading its plight before the school board Tuesday, Social Service Federation officers asked that at least, if the board cannot find a few hundred dollars in its budget to finance the use of the gyms at night, it would defer payment of the monthly fee of nearly $300 until the end of the year by which time, it is hoped, the Federation can secure the money.

Expressing a deep sympathy for this work, declaring that it would be lamentable to deprive the youth of the use of the buildings at night, and thus to force them into the streets and into undesirable environments, the board agreed to do whatever is possible, but feared that it could not secure the money. The council this year has stricken from the school board budget the $1000 which had always been used for this purpose, so that almost the entire burden of financing the use of the gyms at night has fallen on the weary shoulders of the Federation.

Demand Stressed

That the demand for the wholesome recreation and exercise afforded by use of the gyms at night is great is evidenced by the report prepared by John H. Boukens, director of boys' work.

The general weekly attendance at all the gyms is as follows: white girls, 47; colored girls, 37; white boys, 208; colored boys, 71; a total of 363.

"This means," says Boukens, that 363 different boys, girls, men and women are using a year ago the same gymnasium a year ago. The aggregate attendance in one month is: colored girls, 03; white girls, 117; colored boys, 187; white boys, 647, a total of 1,044.

CITY IS PAID $36,793 COVERING FULL LOSS IN BROOKS' SHORTAGE

Whether by Good Grace or Accident, Theft Never Exceeded His Bond

Englewood deposited a check for $36,793.72 yesterday covering every penny of the monies John M. Brooks, former tax collector, misappropriated before his recent arrest a year ago. Brooks' bond was $36,793.72. The only loss to the city will be the interest on this money for the respective years in which it was taken.

Mayor Cornelius P. Kitchell was authorized to sign the release which will be followed by immediate payment by the Hartford Indemnity Company, bonders for Brooks.

The bond will remain open, however, indefinitely, to the extent of the bond, which is $45,000 or $15,000 for each of the three years during which Brooks operated, for any mistakes or omissions in tax searches conducted by Brooks.

Whether or not it was by gracious intent, knowing that the taxpayers of Englewood could always be reimbursed to the extent of his bond, or whether by accident, Brooks' defalcations did not exceed $15,000 in any of the years he presided on the city treasury. It came right up to the margin in 1931, the last year of operation, a scant $500 leeway. In 1929, apparently his first year, he also drew close to the limit by taking $13,128.04. In 1930 his defalcations dropped to $6,565.11. Of course, there was $24,568.58 not attached to any single year but which will be spread over the full period.

PUBLIC SERVICE LOSES FRANCHISE TO RUN BUS ON KNICKERBOCKER RD.

Englewood Council Votes Unanimously in Favor of Hill Company

The 1928 Knickerbocker road bus permit which Public Service never used and which was standing in the way of the Hill Bus Company, independent Englewood line, which wants to operate a bus line from Dyckman street ferry over Palisade avenue, and north via Knickerbocker road to Westwood, was unanimously rescinded by the Englewood Common Council Tuesday night.

Councilman Arnold M. Probst, public utilities chairman, presented, as a parting recommendation, the advice that the council in the future safeguard against such situations as this where a company can tie up the franchise and thus prevent bus transportation service by another company. He said that another instance of this still exists. The remedy, he said, is to pass an ordinance which automatically within a certain time after its issuance if it is not put into effect.

The council's action comes after several weeks deliberation in which Public Service pleaded for possession of the permit. The council pointed out that Public Service's application, made as recently as September 12, calls for service only between Englewood and Tenafly whereas service is needed in the other municipalities which have already granted the Hill Bus Company permission.

These years the board has been guarding its budget and that the Board of School Estimates, on which mayor and council hold the majority, has been a double-check.

Assessors Cannot Reduce Tax Ratables Because of Danger to City Bond Issues; Possible $100,000 Cut In School Figures

BOARD'S TENTATIVE BUDGET A SURPRISE; PUBLIC TO STUDY IT

Wednesday, December 21, Is Now Set For Public to Criticize Budget

With the night of Wednesday, December 21 definitely reserved as the public's opportunity to suggest governmental savings to the Common Council, and with such groups as the Englewood Property Owners Association drawing up a set of recommendations which will ask for the elimination of various city jobs and reductions in certain salaries, attention began to turn toward the Board of Education.

And, as though prepared for this, William Tierney announced Tuesday night that if the anticipations of the board are realized, the amount that must be raised by taxation next school year will be nearly as low as it was in 1928. Which means, according to a comparison with tax figures of that year, that there will be a reduction of over $100,000. All of this, of course, is purely tentative.

The Board of School Estimate will meet Wednesday night December 14, and it is probable that not only the members of that body but all the councilmen will be present. After that the school budget, still tentative, will also be open for public criticism.

Bulk Through Teachers

This, of course, will be for the year 1933-34. The school budget running from July to July, and the great bulk of it will come from the teachers' salary contributions and not a little of it from the increase in revenues expected next year from out-of-town students. By July 1, 1932, the school board will have built up a surplus of nearly $45,000, out of teacher salary savings alone, and then for the year that will be covered by the new budget there will be another $45,000 saving, amounting in all about $90,000. Out-of-town student receipts are helping Englewood a surplus profit of $15,000 this year, and next year the amount is going to be nearly doubled. So that from these two sources a huge surplus fund is being erected which will cut deep into the amount to be raised by taxation. And on top of all that will be added savings in actual budget items.

It was in that connection that George Goldstein, vice-president of the Property Owners Association, appeared before the school board Tuesday asking for a full list of school board employees and their salaries, and also for an opportunity to discuss the budget requirements such as that which the Common Council is affording.

Property Owners Active

Conditions are such, Goldstein declared, that it may not be long before it will be necessary to close one of our schools to cut school expenses. Such a move would eliminate about a dozen teachers from the staff.

The board promised to furnish the association with a list but it refuses to name employees. They will be given in classifications, i. e., the number carrying $1500, and under etc. And as for permitting the property owners to discuss the budget, the board expressed willingness, though Mr. Tierney asserted that the taxpayers should do this only out of constructive motives and that they must have concrete and practical suggestions. Mr. Cox said a copy of the tentative budget will be forwarded to the association.

Mr. Goldstein declared that the Property Owners Association would make a careful study of school board expenses and that it would make recommendations for reductions. "Undoubtedly there are items in the budget which you consider essential but which we think are utterly unessential," he said.

Eliminate Non-Essentials

Possibility of eliminating certain extra-curricular activities and some of the other non-essentials to education must be considered, Goldstein said, "for we have reached the point where we all have to cut out some of the luxuries of former times."

Mr. Tierney rushed to the defense of the board, stating that in all of these years the board has been guarding its budget and that the Board of School Estimates, on which mayor and council hold the majority, has been a double-check.

But meanwhile the Property Owners Association, whose executive committee comprising Mrs. Phillip De Fonde, Ferdinand Voranzer, Harry Weatherly, D. W. French, Sidney Smith, Harry B. McNamara, Ward Sheehan, A. B. McNamara, and Mr. Goldstein, has been meeting to study the entire situation. The complete committee, which is representative of every ward in the city, met Wednesday night in the office of Morris Wilder, and a set of initial recommendations was prepared for presentation to the Common Council. As soon as the association is able to secure the data from the school board, it will present recommendations that they body should

High Spots In Budget Making

City officials today are concerned with practically one duty, that of budget making, which is developing into two a. m. conferences.

Because a little additional time is needed, Corliss C. Hay, finance chairman, asked that the public forum on the budget be postponed until Wednesday night, December 21.

The Board of Education will bring to the Board of School Estimate conference Wednesday night, December 14, a tentative budget which is slanting at a reduction of at least $100,000.

There will be no appreciable change in tax rates this year, the same high level being necessary in order to protect the city's bond issues which are based on the assessed valuation of over $38,000,000. Tax bill reductions will be achieved through a reduction in the tax rate which, according to officials, should be lower by from 20 to 25 points.

The Property Owners Association is drawing up a set of recommendations for presentation to the council and school board for the elimination of items they consider non-essential.

ENGLEWOOD SPENDS $15,789 FOR RELIEF IN 4-MONTH PERIOD

Many Needy Seen at Dump Awaiting Fruit Trucks to Salvage Edibles

In four months the City of Englewood has spent $15,789 for relief, an average of about $4,000 monthly. From December on this will take a sharp rise. December expenditures already exceeding the weekly expenditures of other months. Anticipating this, the council has appropriated $8,000 for this month.

The state will reimburse the city to the extent of 40 percent of these expenditures, so that the city's actual expenditures since August 1, when the new system of relief went into effect, are slightly under $10,000.

An indication of the plight of many of the families in the Fourth Ward is seen in the fact that every night after trucks from the various fruit stores in this vicinity dump the day's refuse in the city dumps, an eager group of men, women, and children scurry over the dump to salvage fruit and vegetables that are still edible.

Cause Dump Fires

Frequently the dump fires, such as that which occurred on Tuesday evening, are ascribed to the fact that these food-searching parties drop lighted matches into inflammable refuse.

The work of the Englewood Reclamation Depot at 12 Englewood avenue, took a decided jump this week despite the fact that the wintry weather had receded considerably. A total of 592 units of clothing was distributed to 170 persons, all of whom were badly in need of clothes. Many were children who would otherwise have been unable to attend school.

The total distributed by the depot since it began operations a month ago is 2,777 units to 561 persons.

Representatives from Fallsdale Park and Ridgefield are coming here to inspect the Englewood depot, which is under the direction of Mrs. Fisher Howe Booth. Representatives from the state and county have already claimed that the Englewood depot is one of the most efficient in the state.

BUDGET DECREASES TO BE FELT THROUGH REDUCTIONS IN RATE

$39,839,046 Valuations in City Will Remain Almost Same

Sharp drops in real estate and commodity values notwithstanding, there will be little change this year in last year's total tax ratable list of $39,839,046, according to the Board of Assessors.

Almost coincident with this comes the announcement of results of a survey by leaders of the Property Owners Association showing that in four years there has been a tremendous decrease in the number of home and property owners in Englewood. Whereas four years ago 80 percent of the families here were owners, and 40 percent renters, the proportion is reversed: 60 percent are renters, 40 percent owners.

The result, it is pointed out, is that there are steadily fewer people left to shoulder the burden with the point rapidly approaching where the burden will be too much.

Must Consider Bonds

In regard to the tax ratable situation in Englewood, the board points out that to begin with, reduction in existing valuations is impossible because to do so would impair the city's bond issues which have reached the limit of the borrowing capacity, that capacity being determined by the city's assessed valuation.

And finally, the abnormally low valuations from new buildings will just about counteract the gain from the loss of such taxable properties as Walton street, confiscated by the state, the government's post

VIRTUAL DRY GOODS STORE ESTABLISHED BY RED CROSS HERE

Mrs. C. H. Langmuir Directs Work of Distributing 33,000 Yds. Cotton

A virtual dry goods store has been set up on West street as the central storehouse and distribution center for the 33,000 yards of cotton materials which the Northern Valley Chapter of Red Cross is receiving from the United States Government for the relief of the needy of the entire valley.

More than 6,000 yards of that material which includes light and dark colored flannels, gingham, chambray, unbleached muslin, cotton tweeds in plain colors and in figures, birds-eye, white outing flannel, white muslin, and men's dark blue shirting—is for Englewood's needy. The remainder is for the other communities in the valley where, according to Mrs. Charles H. Langmuir who is in charge of the distribution center, in many instances, there is actual destitution.

Five Assistants

The task of receiving, storing, sewing, and distributing is supervised by Mrs. Langmuir, who is at the depot on West street every morning. Working with Mrs. Langmuir are five women, one of whom has charge of one day a week, the others under her. This committee consists of Mrs. Charles De Bruyn, Mrs. Charles Wildrick, Mrs. George Hiller, Mrs. A. R. Welch and Mrs. Thomas J. George.

A paid dressmaker is making garments out of the materials as samples of what can be done for the women who come for goods. The array of articles of clothing that can be made from these cottons, which the Red Cross is sending all over the country to meet winter's cold, surprising. Dresses, children's outfits, shirts, overalls, and dozens of other articles have been made. The chapter here will also receive ready-made garments for emergency distribution.

Work Through Depot

Most of the Englewood distribution is done through the Reclamation Depot at Englewood avenue, but Englewood Red Cross in a number of instances distributes garments and materials itself whenever possible. When the Red Cross does this, however, record of it goes to the city bureau to avoid duplication.

The clothing has been a boon to the residents not only of Englewood but of the entire valley. Mrs. Langmuir states. Demands are greater than ever at this time because the rapidly approaching

ENGLEWOOD TO HEAR THOMAS JANUARY 6

Noted Socialist to Speak at the High School

Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential candidate who, though defeated, is at Washington, fighting for defeat of the sales tax and for increases in taxes on high incomes and on inheritances, will speak at Englewood high school Friday night, January 6.

The prominent Socialist is coming to Englewood through the Thursday Supper Club, group of business and professional women which meets at the First Presbyterian Church, and the Friday Lunch Club, an organization of that church.

Thomas is executive director of the League for Industrial Democracy and is contributing editor of the New Leader. He is a former minister of the Presbyterian Church, and has done extensive work among the immigrant population of the upper East side of New York.

Crowds Hilarious As Men Perform Farcical Roles

Woman's Club Will Give Entire Profit For Relief Work

If the Woman's Club of Englewood should again attempt to stage a riotous hit such as the "Dream of a Town" it is probable that there would be as great a deluge of applicants for parts as there would be for tickets.

The entire net proceeds of this show will be given to the Reclamation Depot of the Emergency Relief Association, the club has decided, for it feels that that work must be continued to relieve winter hardship.

The project which the Englewood Woman's Club staged has been tried out in many other communities in this state, but from all reports, Englewood's rendition was the most successful.

Great artistry was effected on the bridge party. Incidentally, Irving B. Reeve was married twice on two successive nights, and to different men.

The maid and matron of honor, Elton Vineburg and Donald V. Lowe, and the bridesmaids, Dr. John H. Irwin, P. Samuel Grandin, Francis Jablenski, and Howard Low, were dressed to kill, and, especially in the case of Mr. Vineburg, the semblance to women was effected skillfully.

The audience was immediately prepared for hilarity by Robert Gamba, the dreaming clown, and William Brooke and Harold Kerr as the loving Mr. Fish and Miss Tartar.

And when the six ballet girls fluttered from behind the curtain singing their sweet little song, the audience howled. For first came Claude Weaver with graceful motion and sweet-singing voice; then Harris Adriance, Nathan Johnson, Victor Marcussen, Warren M. Ingalls, and last A. Hicks Lawrence. Several encores were demanded of the sextet.

Not least among the hits of the evening was the Woman's Club band, "Englewood's Own Soule's Band," composed of club members to whose names were attached suitable suffixes. J. Kerrinski was conductor, P. Stantonissima, pianist. The band itself was as follows: N. Braditini, M. Adrianceski, F. Flitnerosky, A. Johnsonavitch, C. Taussegel, M. Pitkinoff, E. Wooruffiano, E. Duncaizick, M. Havrilova, M. Lawrence-schnitzel, E. Cumberlandmann, M. Coddingtonbaum, E. Embree-zynski, L. Cookeoni, and G. Bar-nucol.

EX-MAYOR MONNETT GETS PRISON TERM

He and Ex-Councilman Planz Sentenced

Former Mayor Nicholas V. C. Monnett and former Councilman John Planz of Lodi township, who were recently convicted on a charge of accepting graft during the construction of the $200,000 sewer system in that township two years ago, were yesterday sentenced to serve not less than a year and a half and not more than seven years in state prison.

Counsel John E. Selsor applied for a certificate of reasonable doubt and Judge W. M. Neufert ordered the defendants to jail pending his decision.

Petitions signed by 376 taxpayers in the township requested clemency for the ex-officials, the contention being there was no "criminal intent" in their accepting $1000 from one of the contractors.

The former mayor made no comment and neither seemed surprised when sentenced. Judge Neufert said people who violate public trust must expect jail sentences.

Several other cases await trial in this same sewer scandal, among them two contractors.

FREEHOLDERS URGED TO REDUCE BUDGET

Chamber President Asks $750,000 Cut

The one interesting feature in connection with the conference of the special committee of the Bergen County Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Freeholders yesterday afternoon was the absence of one of the freeholders, Col. G. M. Hurd of Leonia, who had declared earlier in the day he would not "sit in."

Edmund W. Wakelee, president of the chamber, and Donald V. Lowe, president of the chamber's executive committee, should be reduced from the best budget.

The former senator said that every business enterprise in the state and county was reducing expenses because of the general drop in revenues and county government heads must act accordingly in behalf of the taxpayers they represent.

Director Browne said the board had agreed to cut $300,000 from the budget.

The Freeholders met, Fred E. Koster and Nicholas A. Kulken, were present.

No definite action was taken, but it is expected something more in detail will be in order at the next meeting.

It was practically no "talkers" during the conference.

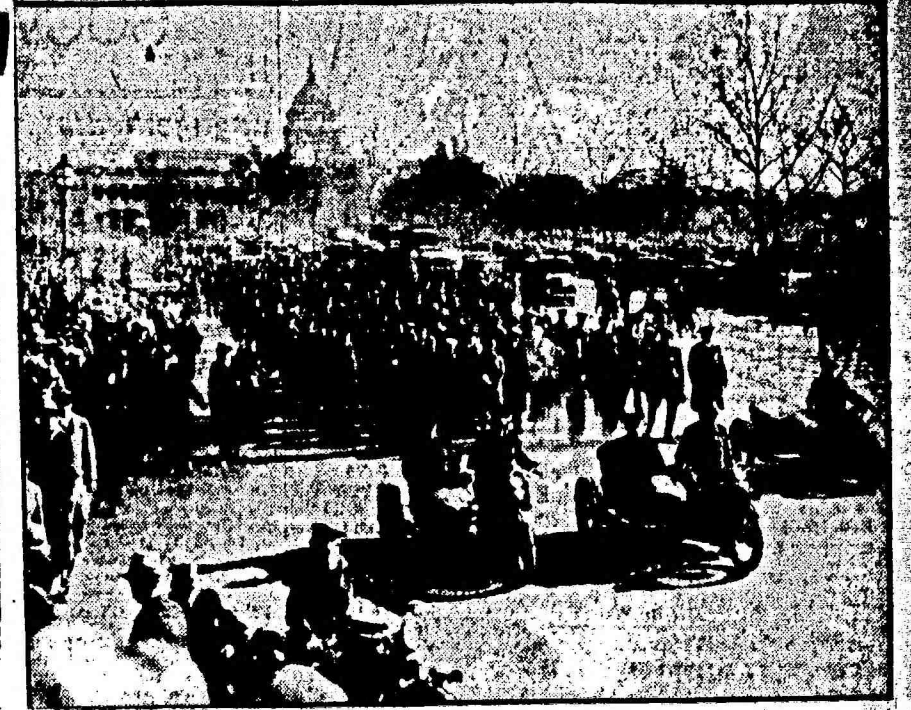

CARDY'S GIVE GAME SUPPER TO ROD AND GUN MEMBERS

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Cardy of 25 Bergen street gave a "game" dinner for the executive committee of the Englewood Rod and Gun Club at their home Friday night.

Present were: Robert T. Hall, Clinton Rogers, Harold G. Adams, Richard Gauthier, Alfred Tipping, L. K. Wakeman, and Dr. Charles F. Hunter, fish and game commissioner.

The girls, a girls basketball team, desired to book game on home or other courts. The girls are from 16 to 20 years of age. Managers may communicate with Jesse Thornton, 19 Ivy avenue, Englewood, or phone Englewood 3-1542-31 after 6 p.m.

COMMUTERS PLAN TO SEND PETITION TO WASHINGTON

Meeting at Hasbrouck H'ts. Continued on Until Midnight

Only two Bergen County mayors attended the meeting of the Hasbrouck Heights Commuters League last night, though Mayor John S. Oldfield of that borough expected many municipalities to be represented to help plan some definite action to prevent the Erie from putting the proposed 16 per cent increase in rates in effect January 1.

The newly formed Commuters League in Tenafly and Ridgewood were represented, and Judge Roy Vanderburgh represented Oradell borough.

Mayor H. W. Fish, of Woodcliff Lake, called upon Frank Adams of Saddle River borough, to tell of a conversation he had with a lawyer familiar with procedure before the Interstate Commerce Commission, and Mr. Adams read excerpts from a form of petition which the commuters could send to the Commission asking that the rate increase be suspended.

Mr. McLaughlin, of Ridgewood, talked along similar lines. It was said that the governing bodies of boroughs and townships cannot contribute to a fund to fight a railroad.

The petition read by Mr. Adams was voted acceptable and will be sent to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The next meeting will be held next Wednesday night. The discussion continued until midnight.

WANT INSURANCE RATES REDUCED

Freeholders to Revalue Their Buildings

At the Freeholders meeting on Wednesday Director William H. Browne named Dr. Samuel Alexander, Col. Orison M. Hurd and Benjamin Hansen, Jr., as a committee to revalue all county buildings and obtain data for lower insurance rates.

The chairman of the finance committee, Andrew Knos, made the recommendation.

The Bergen County Chapter of the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers informed the Board it favors the retention of the Juvenile Court over which Judge Thomas L. Zimmerman presides.

The three jail matrons who had thought of starting a suit to get pay increases wrote they had changed their minds. There was some discussion over Tenafly's request that the Freeholders pay a share of the cost of three traffic lights in that borough, and then the Freeholders received a bill for a share in the cost of road repairs at county road intersections. The matter will be adjusted.

Smalberg of 114 Grand avenue, Englewood, is in Englewood hospital suffering from an injured ankle and other painful bruises sustained when she was struck by the car driven by Abraham Chavinsky of 283 Elm street on East Palisade avenue last night. She was rushed to the hospital by Patrolman Waldron and Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Frazier of 290 Mountain road.

14-YEAR-OLD BOY IS HELD FOR MURDER OF HIS STEPFATHER

Victim, Abram Zabriskie, Long a Resident in Ramsey

Abram C. Zabriskie, for years a resident of Ramsey and a member of the Bergen County Republican Committee many years, was murdered yesterday morning by his stepson, Emmett Romaine, 14, and Peter Clapsmit, 43, who boards with the boy and his mother at 82 Paterson avenue, Paterson.

The woman, 36, who was Zabriskie's second wife, separated from the Ramsey man several weeks ago, and when Zabriskie's body was found on the roadside yesterday morning by Milton Verague, Chief Henry H. Voss recalled that young Romaine had struck his stepfather over the eye with a wrench, inflicting quite a wound, and at once phoned his suspicions to the prosecutor's office.

Detectives Walter Fraser and John Ducoff hurried to the scene and returned late in the afternoon with Romaine, Clapsmit and Mrs. Zabriskie. The man and boy at first told conflicting stories, but finally implicated each other and Lieut. Detective Nathan Allyn finally charged both with murder.

It was said the men drove to Ramsey Wednesday afternoon and invited Zabriskie to take a ride. They drove around until dark and then Zabriskie was beaten on the head with a crank handle and another blunt instrument and thrown from the car when he was unconscious or dead.

When Romaine assaulted his stepfather some weeks ago he said Zabriskie had insulted the boy's mother, but what the motive for the murder was could not be learned.

Zabriskie had no particular occupation. He was insured for $5000. He was seen in the court house often and it was said he had been promised a position on the new administration building.

The deceased had been active in Ramsey's Republican party many years and in his earlier days wielded considerable influence.

Zabriskie's wife, Anna Romaine Zabriskie, was also held on a murder charge by Lieut. Allyn for he finally succeeded in having the trio admit that on Wednesday morning the plot was hatched in the Paterson home. It was also admitted that the men drove back to Paterson with Zabriskie's dead body and took some blood-stained robes to the rear of the house and burned them.

Then the auto went to Rahway again and the body was dumped on the roadside, the auto backing up on to the body to make it appear that the victim had been hit by an auto. The probable marriage of Mrs. Zabriskie and Clapsmit was the seeming motive.

Miss Allen Talks on Table Settings

The audience at the Woman's Club Monday afternoon at which Miss Eleanor C. Allen, silver adviser to the International Silver Company, talked informally on the subject "Romance of Silver, and Correct Table Settings," under the auspices of the Home Department of the club, faced an attractive picture of a group of three perfectly set tables.

Among some of the rules left by the speaker and demonstrated at the various tables were: Furnishings to be in good taste must be simple but well balanced. Only enough flat silver should be placed at the plate's side to carry one through the salad course.

When bread and butter plates are required knives are placed straight across the edges never tipped toward the plate's center.

Of course the women of the club were familiar with the preceding rules but it was satisfying to hear such regulations told so charmingly and to learn they remain still unchanged amid so many upheavals in a radically changing world.

Other members in the Home Department include Mrs. Edward S. Rudloff, Mrs. W. C. Roper, Mrs. Harry C. Louderbough, Mrs. Earl L. Hester, Mrs. Frank De Ronda and Miss Jessie Benson.

McKinley Starts Sixth Year With 4 Veterans

Cohen Only Regular Last Year Missing From Maroon Squad

Four veterans on hand from last year, Pat McKinley's Englewood school basketball team started a preparation for the first game on December 17 with Garfield. McKinley has Captain Erwin, Levinsky, Henry Allen, Charlie Schell and George Caparelli as the men returning from last year. He has capable substitutes in Baldwin, Ritchie Young and Williams. Young was playing regularly towards the end of season when Ben Cohen was to a forward post. Johnnie, Donald Bristol, Charles, Hym Taylor and Edward are also on hand from last year's squad.

Cohen is the only veteran from last year's five. He will probably be taken by Young.

McKinley is starting his sixth year as basketball coach at Englewood. In five years he has won league championships and a title. Englewood's chances of the league diamond this year are bright. Ridgefield Park is in the league that seems dangerous. With two games under belt at the present writing, McKinley has an experienced army.

Allen Will Play

Allen star Maroon center report until Tuesday afternoon but will probably start at his pivot post when the season begins.

The scrimmage this week, McKinley has had Charlie, Le Roy Stewart, Henry, LeRoy, Dick Baldwin at the forward posts. Schellinsky and Baldwin have shown up "well" and will play team up in the front court. Tomsey and Allen have been at center with Allen almost by his position. Tomsey is a man Allen but lacks the experience and eyes that the lanky center has had in two years of play.

Levinsohn and Ritchie are working at the guard posts with Levinsohn looking as though he will have a crack at the guard post. He will be handled by a small to practice until four o'clock because classes are held in gym until that time. He will be able on Wednesday and Friday afternoons as the girls use the gym for practice then.

Cohen is assisting McKinley.

SAINTS DOWNED 6-0 AS TENAFLY REPEATS FIRST PERFORMANCE

Orange and Black Winds Up Season with 9 Straight Victories to Credit

Henafly high school ended its 1932 football activities in a blaze of glory as the powerful Orange and Black eleven went on to score a touchdown against St. Cecilia early in the second period and coast along to a 6 to 0 triumph which was the second win over Coach Red Gebhardt's charges this season. At the same time it was the ninth straight victory for Coach Eddie Robert's North Jersey Class B state champions.

It was a post-season charity game, the entire proceeds of which went for the benefit of the needy of both Tenafly and Englewood.

Tony Mazzullo, Ray Hopson, and Andy Drakeford were the outstanding stars of the game, the former taking the ball over on a line plunge for the only score of the game and gaining consistently through the St. Cecilia line. It was the forward line passing combination of Hopson to Drakeford that put the pikekita in scoring position, and was a constant threat all during the game, five out of nine Tenafly passes being successful for considerable gains.

Outstanding for St. Cecilia was the playing of De Lasa, Beattie and Carney.

Playing their last game for Tenafly were Captain Tony Magglio, Ray Hopson, the best halfbacks ever to play for Tenafly high, alternate quarterback Jack Yockers, and on the line, Bill Stratton, center, Will O'Herny, right guard, and Bob Anderson, right tackle.

The game started with Drakeford kicking to Beattie on the Saints' 25-yard line. Carney made 5 yards on two plays and DeLasa dropped back to punt, Magglio bringing back the ball to Tenafly's own 35 yard line. Magglio made 8 yards through tackle, and Hopson made 5 more for a first down. Hopson almost got away for a touchdown when he went around end for 22 yards before Carney brought him down.

In the second quarter Tenafly fumbled and Carney recovered for the Saints. Beattie passed to Carney for a 15 yard gain. Callahan ran around right end for eight yards; Carney fumbled an Anderson recovered. Hopson spun around, evading two St. Cecilia tacklers, and passed 35 yards to Drakeford who ran an additional 30 yards before he stumbled in the muddy turf. He hurt his leg and was replaced by Taska. Garrish passed 12 yards to Magglio for another first down. Magglio plowed through center nine yards to the six yard line, and Hopson made a first down on the one yard mark. Magglio plunged over for the score. Young missed the try for the extra point. The half ended with the ball in midfield.

Drakeford kicked to Beattie who ran the ball back 20 yards. It was here that the Saints made their only serious threat to score as Beattie made a 15 yard run around end, and also passed to De Lasa who was downed on Tenafly's 10 yard line. Callahan made five yards, and Tenafly backs to the wall, held St. Cecilia for downs. Hopson kicked out of danger.

St. Cecilia held staunchly every minute of the way after Tenafly had scored, and the Orange and Black was unable to again penetrate their goal line.

The line-up:
 Tenafly (6) St. Cecilia (0)
 L.E. Young N. Oonan
 L.T. Reguec Lawlor
 L.G. Zuria Jansen
 C. Stratton Conollin
 R.G. Henry Smith

TRIANGLES WIN, 24-23, OVER RIDGEFIELD

A sensational last-period spurt that netted them nine points enabled the Englewood Triangles to come from behind to defeat the Ridgefield A. A. by a 24-23 score on Tuesday night at the Englewood gym. The game was played at the Cleveland school gym Wednesday evening before a small crowd.

After trailing, 10-13, the Triangles hung up nine points in a row to take the lead. Druskin sank a hawker and Sid Vaniewsky threw in a foul shot. On a three point play Max Shafran sank a hawker and a foul shot to knot the count at 19-14. A foul by Iden Cohen and another hawker by Druskin gave the Triangles a three point lead but Ruf sank a sucker shot to get within one point. With a minute of play remaining, Cohen passed to Heigel, under the basket, and the former Englewood high school star, sank his shot. Just before the game ended Kocienski sank a hawker to make the final score 24-23.

ATHLETIC NOTEABLES AT DINNER FOR TEAM

Rutgers Director Pays Tribute to Priaso

Members of the Leonia high school football team were feted Tuesday night at a dinner given by the Hi-Y club with the aid of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church under the direction of Mrs. H. A. Owen. About 150 persons were present. Carl Reed and John Foklock provided the speakers and entertainment, and acted as toastmasters.

The principal speaker was Dr. George E. Little, director of athletics at Rutgers University and former football coach at Michigan and Wisconsin. Dr. Little paid tribute to Nick Priaso, former Leonia football star, saying he is one of the finest men to be graduated from Rutgers next spring.

Herb Kopf, former W. and J. and Georgetown football star and now assistant coach at Columbia University, said that Rutgers University should be congratulated for securing the services of George Little.

A humorous view of his impression of American football was given by "Dr. Ferdinand Spodanski" of the "League," alias Pete McNamara of the National Broadcasting company. "When 25 men jump on one poor 'guy,' is that a game?" he asked in broken English.

Roy Nickerson, former Leonia high school coach and director of athletics, praised the team for its good showing against Rutherford. Calvin Lamont, coach of the high school team, gave a summary of the season.

Assistant Coach Davy Jones paid tribute to the scrubs.

G. W. Needham of Leonia was at the piano for the accompaniment. Jack Delacy of Fort Lee was at the piano during the dinner.

Housewives are so enthusiastic about the wizardry of Patex—the way it dries a whole mound of dishes without hardly getting wet and consequently saves so much on laundry bills that it pays for itself many times over—that many of them have expressed their intention of passing Patex along to all the other housewives on their Christmas list. So Patex, flushed with the hope of becoming a member of the exalted gift class and thus attain even dizzier heights of popularity, has taken on weight, gone in for green, gold and blue borders, and dolled itself up in a two-color package swanky enough to be set under a Christmas tree. Still the same big capable 18x36, though, still harmless ready to go right to work, and still willing to turn out three times as much work as ordinary towels at the same low wages. Young Colored G. O. P. Seeks Fund To Help the Needy Through Loans

The Young Colored Republican Club has seen the necessity for extending its activities to social welfare work. Acting upon the investigation of a committee which has studied conditions among the colored of the Fourth Ward the club will raise funds for relief to be administered on a loan basis. The club will seek a fund of $500.

It is the plan of the Young Colored Republican Club to advance these loans in the form of cash vouchers to be used for rent, food, heat, and other necessities. These loans are to be made to any worthy case, without security, and may be repaid by the debtor at any future date that he finds convenient. All such repaid loans will be set aside for the organization exclusively for the use of charity. Unlimited cooperation will be exercised with all other charitable institutions in this community to prevent waste and duplication of effort.

ENGLEWOOD PRESS

Phone Englewood 3-1700

Published every Friday at 16 Eagle Street, Englewood, New Jersey, by the Englewood Press Corporation. WARREN M. INGALLS, Publisher. Member of the Post Office, Englewood, N. J., as Second Class Mail Matter.

Subscription Rates—Cash in Advance. For Four Months, $2.00. For Six Months, $3.00. For One Year, $5.00. Single Copies, 10 Cents.

The Commuters' $700,000 Problem. It is probable that the commuters of New Jersey would show considerably more animation in the matter of the proposed 15 per cent increase in Erie commutation rates if they realized that it means an additional amount of about $700,000 yearly will be extracted from the public pocketbook just as surely as if the state legislature had appropriated that amount as a public expenditure.

Englewood, with 1218 on nuters now paying a yearly transportation bill of $132,656, will suffer a yearly increase of $19,696. Hackensack, with about 1500 commuters will suffer a proportionately larger increase.

Whether the increase is justified or not, and it seems that this is a sorry time to attempt to solve the railroad's financial middle at the expense of wage earners who are now scarcely able to pay their fares, at least the commuting public is entitled to a thorough investigation of the conditions which it is alleged make the increase necessary.

Before the Public Utilities Commission anything short of a long and piercing howl is considered as silence, and silence means consent.

Englewood's Socialist Flood

Englewood—capitalistic and imperialistic—is taking its Socialism in increasingly large doses. Just what is behind this sudden flare for Socialist speakers is hard to determine. Is it that the educated residents of this city, largely the products of the capitalistic system, see a handwriting on the wall and want to become acquainted with this form of political science because they feel its inevitable ascendancy; do they merely seek out these speakers because they are unusually entertaining "ravers," or do they experience some sort of purgation in being told how terrible is the system to which they subscribe.

Standardized Municipal Accounting

The case with which dishonest tax collectors in this state have been able to "cover up" defalcations over a period of two or three years indicates that something is amiss somewhere in the systems of municipal accounting now employed. That a tax collector could, month after month, appropriate municipal funds for his own use and not be detected until the amount taken had mounted to many thousands of dollars is a thought that will have no reassuring influence upon the already very uneasy taxpayer.

CONSIDER COAL'S ADVANTAGES!

- 1. No other fuel will give you so much heat for so little money. 2. It is practically "fool proof" and will not leak, trick or explode. 3. It's burning requires no machinery which may break down. No pipes which may freeze; no pilot light which may go out. No electric current which may be shut off. 4. A coal furnace operates so simply that a child can handle and regulate it. 5. It burns with a uniform warmth and can be easily regulated to suit the season. Phone your order, while you have it in mind, to ENGLWOOD 2-8700. Household sizes advance $14 a ton, October 1. Motor vehicle violators numbered only 19, one woman and 18 men. The police extended aid to 40 persons, 21 of them women and 19 men, this aid having been administered out of individual salaries. Only $65 in property was reported stolen in November, but police recovered $120. (This is no paradox. Often police discover thefts before they are reported, or they clean up on burglaries that occurred some time ago.) For all that the number of violations was comparatively low this month. Fines totalling $170.50 were imposed, three-fourths of which are city fines.

Reminiscences of Old Bergen County

By JAMES M. SMITH

The following radio talk was given over WBNS, Hackensack, Sunday afternoon by James M. Smith, at 1:15, in the series of Bergen County Reminiscences, which talks appear regularly in this newspaper:

A week ago last night I went to Rye, N. Y., to attend the wedding of Miss Claire Smith, a daughter of the former Miss Jessie Van Blarcom, who lived with her father, Chief of Police Cornelius Van Blarcom on Essex street some years ago. Claire's great-grandfather was a sheriff of Bergen county. I was very happy when I met Mr. Van Blarcom. The older son of the chief, whom I had not seen for twenty years or more. Will was a construction engineer and served the government in the Philippines and in San Domingo. He is now one of the owners of a manganese plant in Virginia.

I got up this way occasionally and pass through Hackensack on my way to the new bridge, and so on to Rye, but Hackensack has so changed I hardly recognize the old place and I never see anybody I know," said my old friend. Continuing, he said: "One day I drove along Essex street slowly to see if I could locate the old home, and I was astounded when I saw a padlock on the door at the eastern end of the house."

"Upon inquiry I learned that Capt. James Brutt occupied the old Van Blarcom homestead after my folks moved away to Newark, and remained there many years. Then bootleggers evidently got in and continued on until raided and then came the padlock. I wondered what my grandfather, the former sheriff, would have thought had he returned and passed along Essex street to find a padlock on the building."

Essex street was one of those delightful old country town thoroughfares when we lived there 35 or more years ago. There was the old innkeeper, honestest east of us, the house painter, lived with his parents. He was a great big fellow and a great chum of Dick Demarest, a brother of Gerry and C. B. Demarest, who conducted the grocery at the corner of Essex and State street many years, living in the house that joined the street. Then there was the Rennie homestead, where Dr. E. K. Conrad lived several years after he was married and went of his city friend, Dr. Schuyler Doremus, who recently died. Hazen is the only remaining member of this Doremus family left."

"Across the street Dr. St. John lived in a modest home. It is followed by Dr. A. S. Swain, who carried on Dr. St. John's business when he died."

Herbert Yuhas A. Haring lived at the corner of Essex and Huyler streets, and the Hauvelt homestead was on the southwest corner, the home of Mrs. Hanna Hauvelt, who married Walter Ackerman, now deceased. She is now at the Old Ladies Home."

"The Hauvelt home was west of Essex street, at the corner of Huyler and Essex streets was the Hauvelt homestead. The Hauvelt family lived there for many years. I can't recall the name of the street, but I can recall the Hauvelt homestead was on the southwest corner, the home of Mrs. Hanna Hauvelt, who married Walter Ackerman, now deceased. She is now at the Old Ladies Home."

out to Main street. Frank B. Poor contributed most of the money used in building this bridge. It was because of the Hackensack Railroad Company's plan to put a trolley car on the sort of a station Frank Poor thought the town ought to have. And poverty is the railroad company's excuse for putting stores in the depot in the hope of getting a little revenue therefrom. "All old resident and I stood looking at the work of reconstruction during the week and I was asked if I remembered when the new depot was built. I know, it was about 30 years ago, but my answer was that it was about time that Mr. Poor was instrumental in having the Hackensack Trust Company built, and when he erected the Hamilton building, the big ice house in Bergen and other gas and electric offices in the county, for he believed in spending his money for the benefit of the place he was interested in. A few Sundays ago I read a letter Mr. Poor sent me from Seattle, thanking me for the kind words I had said about him in one of my radio talks. It was a surprise to me, for I didn't know anyone knew how to get to him; but my friend, Edwin Goodall, of Passaic street, did the trick and I am glad Mr. Poor knows now that there are still some people around the old town who remember and appreciate what he did for Hackensack."

KNOX CITES DANGER OF FALSE ECONOMY IN TALK TO PUPILS

Antitarian Effort Will Not Be Sacrifice in Bergen, He Says

The dangers of false economy stressed by Andrew Knox of Bergen County Board of Freeholders at the fourth in the series of lectures at Englewood high school Tuesday afternoon. A reduction of at least $400,000 in the county budget for next year was proposed by Mr. Knox but he warned that there would be little change in expenditures which were doing a good deal for the county.

The human side of the government was neglected for many years, he said, "but now that it has started we should not abandon it. The government is to take care of those who cannot take care of themselves." Mr. Knox described the child welfare work, care of insane mad, feeble-minded, and hospital patients supported by the county. The upkeep of these institutions costs about $1,000,000 a year.

Bergen Second To None

Knox told of the duties and responsibilities of some of the committees and said that due to their efforts Bergen County was second to none. There are 400 miles of roads in the county and these are kept in order by the committee. Financing of various projects is done through the finance committee. Other committees perform similar tasks.

Indifferent to Citizenship

Citizenship is one of the most serious things in life, but many ignorant citizens are indifferent to it. In the United States, all citizens have the right to vote, but the right is denied in many countries, but the people refuse to accept the honor or responsibility. Mr. Knox said that $132,000 was spent in Bergen County for elections yet the people do not realize that it is their money that is being spent.

Capitalism Victim of Selfishness, Lamont Claims In Socialistic Plea

Two more depressions stare us in the face before 1932 if we ever get over this one, says Corliss Lamont, Socialist son of Thomas W. Lamont, formerly of Englewood, who addressed nearly 200 men at the Discussion Group meeting at the First Presbyterian Church house Monday night.

Capitalism, if it does not pull itself up short, will increase unemployment here to 25,000,000 in 1934; will, through its cut-throat competition and selfish interests increase waste, increase child labor, and will precipitate revolution, if not war in the world, he warned.

WINTER SEASON EVENTS BEGIN HERE TONIGHT

Carols, Songs, Plays and Dinners for Children to Mark Next Week

Christmas week in Englewood, as in the annual round of pageants, plays, carol sings and parties concerned, starts tonight and continues through all of next week into the school vacation time.

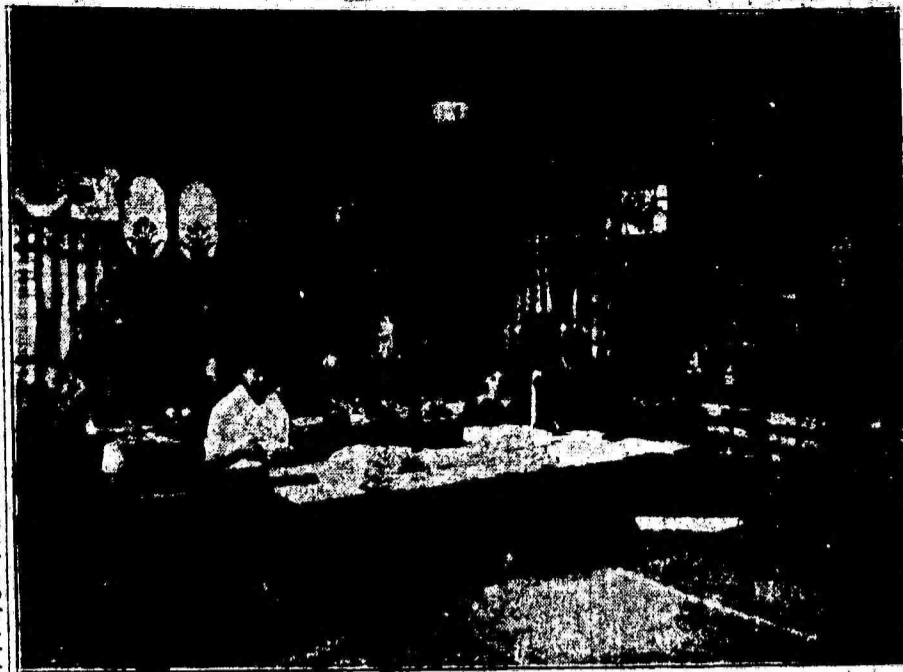

Perhaps the high light in the series of parties will be the annual Christmas Carol Sing at Englewood school Thursday night, December 22, at 8 o'clock to which the public is welcome. Choruses from every school in the city under direction of Miss Margaret Reid, music supervisor, will sing and the audience will take an active part under the leadership of William Tierney.

For the children of the needy there will be the great kiddie's dinner party from 2 to 4 o'clock Friday, December 23, at the Englewood Army through the Emergency Relief Association and another on December 25 at the Salvation Army at which the Kiwanis Club will assist.

Tonight at the Christian Reformed Church the Hungarian Choir of New York will sing. Saturday night the young people of First Presbyterian Church will present four plays, and at five o'clock Sunday afternoon there will be a musical vespers service at First Presbyterian Church, and at 8 o'clock Handel's "Messiah" will be sung by special chorists at Methodist Episcopal Church.

At 4 p. m. Sunday St. Paul's Episcopal church will hold its annual dinner service in which 40 children participate. At 8 o'clock Wednesday night the Sunday school of West Side Presbyterian Church will present its entertainment. Friday night the children of the Christian Reformed Church will give the parent "Bethlehem."

Work of the Special Classes at Lincoln School

Above is the remarkable display of the work of the special classes at Lincoln school, the results of a type of training which is making useful citizens out of boys and girls who have no great flare for "book learning." This work is under direction of F. L. McKenna and Eva G. Robinson.

These articles, which have merited state commendation, will be on sale all day Saturday at 38 West Palisade avenue. As the picture shows, the sale will include all sorts of useful articles of excellent workmanship, a workmanship which has caused a number of residents and several local furniture stores to place special orders. Of particular note in this year's work is the children's room furniture.

575 FOODHANDLERS ORDERED TO SECURE THEIR NEW PERMITS

Health Job Applicants to Be Interviewed on Sunday

There are 575 men and women in Englewood who sell, or handle, food in 250 Englewood stores. All of the 575 must secure their 1933 licenses to handle food before January 1, the Board of Health has notified them.

Health inspectors will be in the field this week to interview these foodhandlers in their respective places of business. Those who fail to appear for their interviews will be fined.

In addition to the foodhandlers, licenses for milk dealers, beauty parlors, barbers, plumbers, scavengers, restaurant owners and poultry dealers must be secured.

Englewood's allotment of these classifications is also high in practically every class. There are 23 milk dealers, 21 ice-cream dealers, 40 barber shops and beauty parlors, 30 plumbers, 6 scavengers, 40 restaurants and 2 poultry houses.

The long list of applicants for the position of health officer and sanitary inspector in Englewood has been weeded out until there are only eight men in the running, two of them from Englewood, six from out-of-town. These eight men will be interviewed Sunday at the office of the health board in City Hall, and an attempt made to complete the selection of an officer to succeed John Manson, who has already retired from active duty.

The board of health this week took up all service clubs and to the Englewood Woman's Club requests to join in demanding a correction of legislation regarding milk investigations. Under the state law, investigations are supposed to be made by the health board, but in Englewood, as in many other municipalities, it is the responsibility of the local health boards to properly inspect the sources.

Yet, as Dr. John Irwin, city physician stated, the matter of milk inspections is one of the most important in all health work, for milk can be a great breeder of disease. The law should be amended to make the state carry on these investigations, having New Jersey's inspection results accepted by New York and vice-versa.

TOWNS WILL DISCUSS HOSPITAL'S PROBLEMS

Annual Dinner Saturday in Englewood

The annual get-together dinner meeting of mayors and finance commissioners of the municipalities in the Northern Valley and members of the Board of Governors representing all these towns will be held at the Englewood Hotel at seven o'clock Saturday night.

The meeting is called for a discussion of the financial problems of the hospital in so far as they affect the various municipalities. It is a virtual necessity for the municipalities to be sponsored by the Allied Towns Committee of the Hospital Association. The committee was organized last year ago when it was first determined that the only satisfactory way of meeting hospital needs was by each town assuming obligations incurred by the patients of that town who received free hospital service.

This annual dinner has also been the occasion of the presentation of the report of the Allied Towns Committee to the Board of Governors. It is expected that the report will be a most interesting one.

The annual dinner will be held at the Englewood Hotel at seven o'clock Saturday night. The dinner will be a most interesting one. It is expected that the report will be a most interesting one.

Gymnasium Fund Lynes Memorial

As a memorial to Dr. Joseph Russell Lynes who was always deeply interested in children and their welfare, a St. Paul's Episcopal Church parishioner and his wife, with the one stipulation that their names be held secret, this week donated the sum of $400 to enable the Social Service Federation to continue to operate the school gymnasiums every night for the 850 boys and girls who find there a wholesome recreation.

Moved by the appeal as presented last week by The Englewood Press, which stated the plight of the school children in being unable to continue the expense of providing this opportunity for Englewood youth, these parishioners came forward this week with their act of generosity which assures the youth the use of the gymnasiums at least for the winter months.

MISS MORROW SCHOOL WILL CONTINUE AFTER SHE MOVES TO WALES

Director, John Erskine Addresses P. T. A.

Although Miss Elizabeth R. Morrow will make her permanent home in Wales after the holiday season, during which she will be married to Aubrey Nell Morgan of Cardiff, Wales, her Little School in Englewood will continue, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow having accepted the honorary directorship of the school, with Miss Constance Chilton active director.

This was announced at a meeting of the Parent Teacher Association of the Little School at Mrs. Morrow's home on Lydecker street Monday night at which time John Erskine, famous author of "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," "Sir Galahad," and other works, and president of the Julian School of Music and the professor at Columbia University, spoke on musical training for children.

Douglas Eliot, president of the association, presided during the meeting, which included a verbal report by Miss Chilton upon the school's activities.

After Miss Chilton had completed her report, Mr. Eliot invited Miss Morrow to speak. She said that she is to be married to Mr. Morgan during the coming holiday season, and that thereafter she will make her permanent home in Wales, with the result that it will be impossible for her to continue her active direction of the Little School. With a visible depth of feeling she gave expression to her very real regret because of this.

Miss Morrow went on to say that she had filled a real need in the community, and that it would continue indefinitely in the future. To assure this continuance for the next year and a half, or until the end of May, 1934, she said she had appointed her mother, honorary director of the school, and that Miss Chilton, who has been the school's assistant director since it was established in 1930, had agreed to accept the position of director.

Miss Morrow, referring to the school's finances, said that each year there has been a deficit which she personally has assumed. As a further assurance of the school's continuance she said that until the end of May, 1934, she would be happy to continue to assume this deficit. She stated, however, that the responsibility for the amount of the school deficit for the coming year must be borne by the community.

POLICE MARKSMANSHIP IN ENGLEWOOD EXCELS, YEAR'S RECORD SHOWS

Best Captures Leg on Moore Trophy, Quirk on Thomson Cup

The Englewood police department made a new record for itself and other departments this year, when, for the 12 monthly shoots ending Tuesday, 18 members of the department qualified in the various classes.

Had the ratings been based on any single performance instead of on the average taken from 12, all but nine men in the force would have qualified. But even on the year's basis Englewood holds one of the highest general standings in Northern New Jersey, a reputation which has penetrated to criminal circles and which is held largely accountable for the apparently wide berth given to Englewood.

Patrolman Best annexed a second leg on the Col. H. V. D. Moore pistol trophy and Detective Quirk captured a first leg on the Douglas G. Thomson trophy, a cup which, apparently, has a great deal of moving to do before entering into the permanent possession of any officer. Harry Maxwell, James Best and Captain Abrams each holding a leg on the Captains Abrams, whose shooting has declined somewhat in the last two years, also holds two legs on the Moore cup. It is necessary to win three legs to gain permanent possession.

The 'cup' ratings this year were based, not on the full year's performance, but on the last three months, because in October the commissioners ordered a change in guns, forcing all men in the department to shoot with the regular service gun. Before that the members of the pistol team used a lighter weapon.

Had the ratings been on the year record, Quirk would have captured a leg on the Moore cup, for he shot 1085 for the year as compared to Best's 1689.

Maxwell a Winner
Harry Maxwell was awarded the commissioner's prize, for he shot a total of 1633, third highest in the department. The commissioner's prize here the two cup winners from competition.

Patrolman Burgess will be awarded the commissioner prize for second class with a 1474 total, and Patrolman Reilly, with 1090, in third class.

Patrolman Gus Young was third highest in the race for the Moore cup.

Large Number Englewood Doctors Is Good for Everybody but Them

The health of Englewood residents, all excepting the doctors themselves, perhaps, should be very good. For whereas the desired average is one doctor for every 1,000 in population, Englewood has four and a half doctors for every 1,000. (No subtleties intended.)

There are in Englewood 42 doctors, to say nothing of the chiropractors, chiropractists, osteopaths, etc. That means that Englewood probably has more doctors per capita than almost any community in the state, though of course the presence of a hospital necessarily increases the number.

If Englewood had one doctor for every 1,000, it would be a very good thing. It would mean that the community would be able to take care of its own people. It would mean that the community would be able to take care of its own people.

BANKS REFUSE LOAN FOR CITY JOBLESS PLAN

But Hope Still Exists as Unemployed Strengthen Their Organization

Refusal of the banks in Englewood to consider a city loan of nearly $40,000 at this time for improvement of Tenafly road as a project to relieve increasing unemployment has temporarily halted the efforts of Irving S. Reeve to meet the requests of the Englewood Unemployed Association.

But that the plan is by no means a dead issue was asserted by Mr. Reeve this morning when he said that certainly by spring conditions will be such that the money will be forthcoming.

In the meantime, he said, the city officials will work with the new association in attempting to secure work for its members, realizing full well their plight. When the time comes to complete the Morrow high school grading, he reiterated, the city will submit a bid and, if successful, will hire the unemployed.

Seek 1000 Members
Meanwhile the Unemployed Association will seek a membership of 1,000 members, for it realizes that its influence in securing work depends largely upon its size. Lorenzo Griffin, chairman, is forming an executive committee which will discuss problems before presenting them at meetings.

More than 100 men attended the meeting in the Plaza Building Monday night when the men declared their willingness to establish a strong organization. At that meeting were men from all walks, labor, mechanics, and the so-called "white-collar man," all anxious to develop an organization which will bring them help. It must come from some place, they said.

The dominant note at the meeting was one of protest at the state law which pays the men in food orders for work which, under the constitution, should be paid in the national currency. The association feels that even though the city would lose the amount restored by the state, it should attempt to secure the money.

But it was clearly pointed out by Mr. Griffin and others that under the present system the city is bound to observe the state laws in this regard. The association made it plain that it wants to cooperate with the city officials in every way possible in return for cooperation from the city, and the temper of the meeting was remarkably just.

Mr. Griffin pointed out to the men that Mayor Kitchell and Mr. Reeve have demonstrated a real sympathy with their plight, and have demonstrated this by their attempts to secure a bank loan for a work, a loan which, Mr. Griffin said, Mr. Reeve has declared he will spare no effort in trying to secure.

Communications should be addressed to Lorenzo Griffin, 204 Englewood avenue, Phone 2-1213. Englewood 3-7854. A complete registry list has been made of all members, noting their occupations, and their readiness to take jobs of any kind.

POLICE GIVE WARNING FORBIDDING SLEDDING

Booth Avenue and Golf Club Set Aside for Sport

Determined to prevent the sleigh-riding accidents that yearly cause so much death and injury, Englewood police have set aside Booth avenue hill as the only legal sleigh-riding hill in the city, and are providing police protection there.

"We do not deliberately spoil the fun for the children," declared Chief Peterson, "but we know, and all parents should know, that accidents are inevitable if sleigh-riding is permitted on unprotected streets."

Besides the Booth avenue hill there are the Englewood Golf Club hills well protected naturally, the chief points out in admonishing parents to limit their children's sleigh-riding to these two locations. Sleigh-riding accidents have already occurred in surrounding towns though the season has just begun, and the police are anxious to prevent tragedy.

TAXPAYERS WILL PROPOSE $100,000 CUT WEDNESDAY AS COUNCIL TRIMS BUDGET

An Appeal for Christmas Baskets

"In order to provide Christmas baskets for those in distress in Englewood, Mrs. Fisher Howe Booth, chairman of the Reclamation Dept. of the Englewood Relief Administration, has been asked by the merchants of Englewood to head a committee of representatives from the various churches, fraternal orders, and relief agencies in the city." Mayor Kitchell announced this morning in an appeal for the public support.

"Lists of families needing aid will be made from names submitted before Monday, December 19 and to avoid duplication those names will be cleared through the Social Service Federation," he continued.

"Bins for the collection of food have been placed in all food stores in the city, and gifts of provisions of any sort may be placed in these bins or may be sent to Memorial House or to the Salvation Army Headquarters on South Van Brunt street.

"The churches have been asked to appeal for donations of food from the Sunday School children, and from the members of their congregations on Sunday, December 18, and arrangements for the collection of the food will be made.

"Notice of these arrangements has been given in all of the Englewood schools and the help of the children has been requested in bringing donations.

"All baskets will be of uniform value and it is earnestly hoped that any organizations wishing to avail themselves of the facilities offered by the committee to prevent duplication will do so by notifying the committee, and by sending the food that they wish to provide to the headquarters of the Salvation Army.

"Baskets will be assembled at, and distributed from, the Salvation Army Headquarters.

"Individuals are urged to remember that 'sharing is easier than suffering' and in the approaching holiday season to realize the happiness they will reap in having provided Christmas cheer for those who so badly need not only the food, but also the encouragement of this gesture of sincere friendship.

"I heartily commend this most worthy and appealing cause to all the citizens of Englewood, and urge that they give their whole-hearted cooperation.

CORNELIUS P. MITCHELL, Mayor.

SURE OF 25 POINT DROP School Cut Now $140,000 But Association Will Press Further

Recommendations whereby the Common Council can save $100,000 in the council budget alone by such measures as abolishing the ashes and garbage department and giving it to private bidders, consolidation of various departments, and general salary reductions will be presented to the officials Wednesday night by the Property Owners Association at the public forum at City Hall.

But the Common Council, more than ever, confident that with the aid of the school board it can cut the general city budget by at least 25 points, feels that the taxpayers will find that proposals they will make Wednesday have already been adopted.

$140,000 School Cut
The optimism of officials brightened considerably this week when, at the Board of School Estimate meeting Tuesday night, it was revealed that the board's tentative budget calls, not for a $100,000 reduction, as was believed last week, but for a reduction of nearly $140,000, an unheard of achievement.

If anticipated revenues are realized, the board will be able to accomplish this, it was definitely stated at the meeting. And the bulk is already assured by returns from taxpaying districts.

The Common Council was not prepared to issue any statements today regarding the new budget, but were persistent in their claims that the reduction in tax rate points will be a pleasant surprise.

The entire council meets again with the Board of Education tonight; last night the council met privately, as it did on Monday and Tuesday nights this week whittling and paring the budget.

Open Forum Wednesday
Wednesday night it will place in the hands of every man and woman in the council chambers mimeographed copies of the itemized council and school board budgets, not told in general terms, but in specific item-for-item, employee-for-employee style, according to Mr. Reeve.

But the recommendations of the Property Owners Association will be presented nevertheless, and accordingly members will call for thorough over-hauling of the budget. It is the claim of the association that the banks are with the association in the demand that thoroughgoing slashes be made.

The recommendations are being offered on a basis disregarding the 10 percent salary cut in effect among city employees, which means, of course, that part of the $100,000 reduction is already covered by the reductions in police, fire, public works, and clerical employees.

Eliminating Jobs
But the association's recommendations are far more sweeping. The association regards the present salary "contribution" as temporary, and therefore proposes the more rigorous scheme. This scheme calls, for instance, for reduction in the wages of garbage truck workers to a basis similar to what private contractors pay; for reduction in the salaries of the higher-paid officials, and, of course, a continuance of the 10 percent voluntary cut in the salaries fixed by law, i. e., police and fire.

Assumption by the engineering department of the supervision of park employees will be recommended, a saving of about $300. In the engineering department, the association will recommend a payroll of $2,000,000 instead of $12,000,000, and that for next year and some years to come there will be need for such a high-priced engineering department.

The association feels that abolition of the ashes and garbage department and granting of the contract to private bidders will save the city at least $20,000. Englewood contractors have been found, the association claims, to do the work less than half the amount that the city spends by doing the job itself.

Many Street Already
These recommendations, made purely in the spirit of being reasonable, the association declares, are the attitude of the council toward the recommendations, which are entirely upon the basis of what the council has already done in its own accord in whittling the budget. That the budget has been whittled and pared to a point before attempted, is stated by every man on the council.

But in any event, the association claims, the council should have taken the initiative to meet the need to reduce the city's expenses, and to do so in a way that would not be a burden on the taxpayers.

RELIEF COMMITTEE TO RECEIVE NAMES TILL MONDAY NIGHT

Prepare Christmas Basket Lists; Reclamation Depot Needs Helpers

The Central Relief Committee for Christmas baskets will receive names to be cleared up to Monday, December 19, the names to be sent to the Social Service Federation at Memorial House to prevent duplication.

Mrs. Fisher Howe Booth, chairman, announces today.

The bins to receive food now in the shops will be emptied and the food collected and sent to Salvation Army headquarters Wednesday morning, December 21. Donations from the schools will be collected at the same time.

Christmas baskets will be sorted and packed at Salvation Army headquarters on Wednesday and Thursday, and any members of the organizations cooperating in the Christmas basket project are asked to communicate with Mrs. Frederick Snare, Englewood 3-0537.

Special Request
The Reclamation Department is sending out a special request for donations of blankets, comforters, warm stockings, boys' clothing, and children's underwear. Comforters can be recovered in the sewing room.

Volunteer workers are needed for mending and sorting clothes. It is also announced, and anyone who can give half a day or more a week, or even a few hours for this work is urged to communicate with Mrs. Lewis Schwab, Englewood 3-1213.

Anyone willing to accept an assignment for definite hours in the work of distribution to the persons in need may be contacted by calling Mrs. Marcus Fair, Englewood 3-0438.

This week the depot distributed 758 units of clothing to 221 persons, representing 145 families. This brings the department total since opening several weeks ago to 2,633, with 782 persons, or 490 families aided.

ENGLEWOOD PROBLEM OF WIDOWS, ORPHANS, OLD PEOPLE GROWING

City Must Pay $5 Weekly For Every Child Sent To the County Home

Englewood has 25 mothers, most of them widowed, on the pension list; 23 orphaned children in private homes or in institutions; 30 old men and women on pensions, and 25 more in institutions, with 3 anxiously awaiting admittance.

This is another side of the story of relief administration in Englewood, and while state and county assume most of the burden of this state and county which pays practically all of the city's share of the burden. The task of caring for widows, orphans, and old folks is Poormaster William Cantwell's. That task has more than doubled in the past two years, the overseer says.

$5 Weekly for Children
On Saturdays, when Cantwell attempted to have an Englewood child committed to the Bergen County Home, Judge Zimmerman of juvenile court ruled that Englewood must pay $5 weekly for the care of that child until it is removed to another institution, when the weekly cost will be $3.50. The decision was rendered in spite of strenuous protests on the part of Poormaster Cantwell, and Hamilton F. Reeve city solicitor, is studying the case. It is Cantwell's contention that if Englewood is to be charged $5 a week (which he feels is too high) in the absence of only $3.50, the city should be relieved of the orphan 'tax it pays to the county for the support of the home.

For every commitment Englewood makes to the county home in the future it will be forced to pay this sum unless Reeve succeeds in over-riding the ruling.

A widow's allowance for her child.

The same procedure will be followed in the following, or New Year's issue of The Englewood Press, of that correspondence, contributors and advertisers are advised of the advanced deadline for the Christmas issue.

CAROL FOR CHRISTMAS

God rest you merry, gentlemen,
Let nothing you dismay—
Yet some there are who will be told
Upon the Holy Day,
Unless God rest you merry
As well as biths and gay.

God rest you merry, gentlemen,
And give you right good cheer;
And though the feast be slender
Than in any former year,
Yet sharing it with those who lack
Will make it doubly dear.

And if your coats be frayed and
Worn,
Which once were new and fair,
Remember there are many more
Who have no coats to wear,
And there are women who now lack
The clothing of despair.
