PUBLIC IS SCORED FOR ITS APATHY IN CITY AFFAIRS

Mayor Asks Service Clubs To Show Interest; He Deplores Dumps

A complaint against the apathy and indifference to city affairs of the average Englewood resident was voiced by Mayor Irving B. Reeve in an address on 'Community Service' given before the Rotary Club on Tuesday.

He cited the death of men willing to run for office. He spoke of the mere handful of persons attending meetings of the Common Council, although he paid tribute to the women's organizations which, he said, show a much more lively and vital interest in important issues that do the men.

The general lack of interest in public affairs is really appalling. Not a man among you would invest $250 yearly in a business which each of you pays in taxes to the city—and then utterly ignore that business, so completely indifferent to what happens to your money.

The Mayor made the specific request that in one matter the members of the Rotary Club take a vital interest. He asked that they investigate the need for an incinerator in Englewood, and that, if they find it is as certain they will that an incinerator is essential for the health and economy of the city, they should take the lead in raising public funds for the project. He said that the city is now in a position to raise money for such a project.

See Changes Coming
The Mayor said that there is a great opportunity for the service clubs to become vital forces for civic work in the city. He said that, while there are among the members of the Rotary Club eight members on the committee who are active, they do not take an active part as a whole.

Mayor Reeve predicted many wide changes in Englewood in the next few years, and he asserted that every one-minded effort must start at once to interest himself in the city's changing those changes.

He also recommended to the club that they attend the meeting at City Hall on April 8 when Mayor Reeve will outline the plans for the rapid transit scheme for Bergen County.

RICHARD CROOKS

CROOKS OUT OF DANGER, WILL BE ABLE TO APPEAR IN ENGLEWOOD MAY 14

Civic Music Association Will Not Be Disappointed; Campaign Opens Today

It will not be necessary for the Civic Music Association to forego its opportunity to hear Richard Crooks, popular Metropolitan Opera Company tenor, it was announced this morning.

By postponing the concert to Tuesday night, May 14, it will be possible to hear Mr. Crooks, and the Talent Committee of the Civic Music Association today states that it is happy to say that it will not be necessary to cancel Richard Crooks' engagement, for the strong, robust constitution of this great singer has enabled him to overcome the effects of the acute appendicitis operation which he underwent a week ago.

The concert had originally been set for April 22. The singer's physicians announced today that Mr. Crooks is out of danger and that he may resume singing in May. In view of the seriousness of the appendicitis attack which cut short his most active period of the season, Mr. Crooks' recovery is held to be remarkable.

Mr. Crooks was anxious to sing in Englewood, he told members of the talent committee and he is glad that the committee has been able to secure a postponement for the concert. The committee also publicly expressed its thanks to the authorities at St. Cecilia for granting the postponement.

Cancelled Engagements
Mr. Crooks was forced to cancel his appearances with Damsch, and several other important engagements likewise.

Meanwhile, the Civic Music Association is pushing plans for its third membership campaign. Membership headquarters opens today at 20 Engle street, the office committee announces. Hours will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily. Mrs. Alois Havrilla is in charge of the office committee, which includes Mrs. Henry G. Plisk, Miss Jean Frazier, Mrs. Josephine B. Hebert, Mrs. E. N. Huff, Mrs. Leon Johnson, Mrs. Floyd E. Keir, Mrs. Howard A. Lown, Mrs. Frank E. Blaus, Mrs. Edward S. Rudloff, Mrs. George Tennant, Jr., Mrs. Claude Weaver and Mrs. Gordon Weaver.

Five More Are Taken In Bootlegger Raids
Five more were taken by Englewood police in further raids this week on illicit liquor dealers. What police consider the "prize" catch was the arrest of Marshall "Big Boy" Turner, whom they have long suspected. Turner, according to Chief Charles A. Peterson, was one of the chief bootleggers during Prohibition and he has not let up since.

WEEK-END ACCIDENTS TOOK A HEAVY TOLL; TWO YOUTHS KILLED

One In Motorcycle Crash On Ivy Lane, Other in Route 4 Smashup

Accidents took heavy toll this week. Two youths, one a boy of 18, who was about to enter West Point, the other a young man of 27, just two years married. The first died at Englewood Hospital after a crash while riding a motorcycle. The other was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital as the result of a terrific crash on Route 4.

Stewart A. McElroy, 18, senior at Tenafly High School, was riding his motorcycle on Ivy Lane, Englewood, late Saturday afternoon. Going east, he swerved to avoid running into a car driven by Eli Lounsbury of 61 Ivy lane, as he backed from the driveway. His motorcycle skidded, he was thrown to the pavement, and died two hours later at Englewood Hospital.

President of his class at high school, and a member of the 104th Engineers, the youth was accorded a full military funeral and was buried in the Army uniform. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart A. McElroy of 18 Hamilton place, Tenafly. He is survived also by two brothers, Arthur and Howard.

Killed on Route 4
The second death was that of Benjamin Proctor 3rd, who was killed early Monday morning when the car he was driving on Route 4 swerved at the point where Route 4 branches into Englewood, throwing him to the pavement. His wife, the former Laura Merritt Greig, of Hackensack, from Westley Hills, Mass., their home, the next day to claim the body. A companion of Mr. Proctor, Sherman T. Glendonning of Teaneck, miraculously escaped death. For after the car had sidwiped the car driven by Miss Florence Johnson of Fort Lee, it careened driverless 100 feet across the highway, crashing against the curb. He, however, stepped from the car without any injuries.

There were many minor accident cases treated at Englewood Hospital this week. Several children fell on broken glass and rocks, suffering bruises and abrasions. Two young women—Helen Remers and Ruth Baum, both of Closter—were in an accident in Pearl River and came all the way to Englewood Hospital for treatment. E. H. Mansfield, 78, of Tenafly, came to the hospital Friday night suffering from foreign matter in his eye. Two particles were removed.

The hospital was called upon to administer first aid treatment to two Englewood Negroes who had gotten into separate fights. Frank Marshall had been in a cutting match and Frank Corbett in a hammer match. Both were released.

1st Presbyterian Church To Mark 75th Anniversary

Memorial Service Will Be Held May 30th, With Celebration In Fall

Seventy-five years ago this Spring, just a few months after the founding of Englewood, the community's first church was organized. On May 30, 1860, organization was completed, and the First Presbyterian Church came into being to be followed later by the other churches, all of which have contributed substantially to the growth of the community.

On May 30 this year, in the original chapel, which in 1877 was removed from Dwight place and re-erected in Brookside Cemetery, a memorial service of interest to the entire community will be held.

The following article recounting the establishment and growth of the church, was prepared by Frederick S. Duncan, who is in charge of arrangements for the observance of the seventy-fifth anniversary:

On May 30, 1860, there met in a little stone chapel that had just been erected at the corner of Dwight place and Palisade avenue a group of worshippers who later in the year formally joined the Presbyterian Church and became the Presbyterian Church of Englewood. In the list of organizers of this congregation are names that were prominent in the development of the village of Englewood which was then in process of formation—J. Wyman Jones, Sheppard Homans, John Van Brunt, J. Smith Homans, Cornelius Lydecker, Isabella S. McCulloh, Charles A. Nichols, M. H. Church, Jeffries A. Humphrey, James Vanderbeck and others.

Plan Celebration
The first Presbyterian Church of Englewood, which is the name of this organization which now occupies the church chapel and parish houses, later erected on the site of the original chapel, will in October of this year, celebrate the 75th anniversary of its founding.

This church was so closely associated with the early history of Englewood and has ever since participated so actively in all that has pertained to the development of Englewood and the Northern Valley that the celebration of its 75th anniversary will be a notable event. Special invitations will be sent in the course of those of its early members who are still living and to families of deceased founders and early members.

In the meantime there will be held on May 30 in the original chapel, which in 1877 was removed from the Dwight place site and was re-erected in Brookside Cemetery, a memorial service that will be of great interest to our entire community and of deep significance to the older residents of Englewood and to the families of the founders of the Presbyterian Church. This service will be held Thursday, May 30, in the building where, on May 30, seventy-five years ago, the congregation was formed that shortly thereafter became the Presbyterian Church of Englewood.

Early History
In 1858 the territory now occupied by Englewood was a country of farms and forests. Indeed, between Weehawken and Schraalenburgh there were only a few widely scattered farm houses, mostly built of field stone, of the Dutch Colonial type and belonging to the Dutch, Huguenot and English families who had settled the eastern edge of Bergen County. From what is now Fairview to what is now Tenafly the name English Neighborhood was applied, perhaps because of a number of families of English descent who had settled to the north of Fairview. To the north and south of the wood road that is now Palisade avenue lay some six or eight farms, originally owned for the most part by members of the Lydecker family, that extended from the brook in the valley east to the Hudson river. Surprising as it may now seem, there were comparatively few trees on these farms except east of what is now Braxton street and Jones road. The Northern Railroad was in process of construction but was not finished until the early part of 1859. The only way of reaching New York City was by private conveyance or by stage that ran daily from the Liberty Pole Tavern (corner of Palisade avenue and Tenafly road) to the ferry at Hoboken. The nearest churches were the North and South Dutch reformed Churches at Schraalenburgh and the Old Church of English Neighborhood (at Rutgers field).

J. Wyman Jones
Into this truly rural district came in the early part of 1858 J. Wyman Jones born in New Hampshire, and then living in New York city. It was he who had the vision of a beautiful country village or hamlet, schools and churches. Entering here, over the beauties of this spot and its possibilities, he enlisted the interest of J. Smith Homans, and his sons, I. Smith Homans Jr., and Sheppard Homans. Mr. Jones took up his residence at the Van Brunt home (of Grand avenue) in the summer of 1858, followed soon after by the Homans families. By fall of that year, six farms, two south of the wood road that is now Palisade avenue and four to the north extending from the valley to the top of the Palisades, were acquired and the map of what is now Englewood was laid out. Soon thereafter gentlemen made plans for the erection of their own residences; Mr. (Please turn to page 4)

DWIGHT SCHOOL LEADS IN GARDEN CLUB DRIVE AGAINST CATERPILLARS

Outclasses Public Schools; Total of 184,698 Nests Taken in Englewood

Dwight School for Girls has outclassed all other schools in the Northern Valley in the tent caterpillar war that was sponsored by the Garden Club of Englewood, according to figures announced today by Mrs. Pierre Jay Wurts, chairman of the committee in charge of the drive.

Dwight School's total collection amounted to 46,831 caterpillar nests, which was 17,000 more than the highest other school. Englewood Junior High School had previously held the distinction, with 29,822 nests.

The all-high individual record was achieved by the Lowe sisters, Mary Jane and Patsy, who together collected 18,508. Even when their total is divided equally, that is, 9254 for each, they would be each other for first place individually.

As a matter of fact, the record made by the private schools was proportionately greater than that of the public schools. The total private school collection was 72,775 as compared with the public school total of 111,923. The city total is 184,698.

The private school returns were as follows: Dwight, 46,831; Englewood School for Boys, 18,000; St. Cecilia, 7,831. Public school results were announced in the last issue of The Press.

Garden Club satisfied
The Garden Club feels that the school children have done a remarkable job of ridding the area of all these tree destroyers. The club has awarded a considerable sum of money as prizes for the students, prizes of $5 and $3 in each school. The club has done likewise in Tenafly and Leonia, results of their campaign appearing below.

Dwight School returns as submitted this week are as follows: Mary Jane and Patsy Lowe, 18,508; Janet Sinker, 8,945; Jane Clark, 8,000; Sue Finlay Dohy, 7632; Mary Jane Lowe, 4168; Marie and Molly Gallup, 3207; Mary Ellen Mackay, 2604; Nancy Criss, 1251; Jacqueline Arrowsmith, 215; Ann Britton, 205; Alice Colonna, 157; Julia Lou Diale, 135; Juditha Doversberg, 115; Patsy Duncanson, 110; Doris Hager, 105; Lita Irwin, 11; Dorothy McCloskey, 14; Mary and Delby Miller, 1340; Anne Pierce, 22; Betty Rome, 19; Florence Sullivan, 51; Ann Uebelacker, 141; Cynthia Woodruff, 100; Peggy Jane Wakelee, 11.

Englewood School for Boys: Warren Sullivan, 888; James Wornser, 5078; Wescott Gallup, 4027. St. Cecilia: Thomas Walsh, 5742; Wallace Godfrey, 1311; others, 500. Results from the Leonia schools are as follows: Total of 27,437 for the high school, with 4064 for Raymond Marsh and 4339 for Jack Foster; total of 18,000 for the grade schools, with 5532 for Elsie Hermy and 4985 for Robert Lynch.

Tenafly results are as follows: Junior High, 16,239; Browning School, 30,170; Maunahan School, 24,852; Mr. Carme, 8448.

MR. AND MRS. CARVETH WELLS

BIRTH CONTROL CLINIC CONCLUDES FIRST YEAR; IT HANDLED 287 CASES

About Third Of Women Are From Englewood; Mrs. Keir Named By State

Following out a full year's service this week, the Englewood Birth Control Clinic announces that with Tuesday's patients included, it has handled 287 cases since it opened its doors that have been turned away either because there were no legitimate health reasons, or because those who applied were financially able to pay for assistance.

Little more than a third of these cases were from Englewood. In all, 37 municipalities were represented. The average Tuesday morning attendance at the clinic, which is located at 1 North Dean street, is now 15, although in the beginning it was much lower.

The anniversary of the Englewood clinic is almost coincident with the anniversary of the national birth control movement as led by Margaret Sanger. The national movement is 21 years old this month. The local clinic was founded amid a flood of protest but its backers persisted.

A member of the Englewood Council on Birth Control, Mrs. Floyd Keir was honored this week by the New Jersey State Council, which has asked her to serve as recording secretary for the State unit. The State Council sent to the Englewood Council a letter praising Mrs. Keir for her work. Mrs. Keir has accepted the new post.

Two Distinctions
This makes two distinctions for Englewood, for only a few months ago the State Council appointed Mrs. LeRoy Merrill, who assists every week at the Englewood clinic, as organizer of a Bergen County Council. The Englewood Council has made remarkable headway in its work this year. Dr. Thomas B. Protzman, who is in charge of the clinic, this week stated that there has developed a broader attitude and that there is considerably less opposition.

NO F. H. A. LOANS HAVE BEEN MADE IN THIS CITY YET

But Three Institutions Report Many Granted On Their Own Terms

Not a single Federal Housing Administration loan has been granted by any of the three financial institutions in this city. Although, according to the officials here, many loans are being made on their own terms. The local bank heads feel that this is achieving the spirit and purpose of the F.H.A.

State F.H.A. representatives were in Englewood this week. It was learned, inquiring why no F.H.A. loans have been granted.

Englewood's financial institutions—Citizens National Bank and Trust Company, Palisades Trust and Guaranty Company, and Englewood Mutual Loan and Building Association—have chosen rather to follow their own banking policies and grant loans entirely apart from the Federal Housing Administration provisions.

It is admitted, however, that the fact that the F.H.A. plan has been in operation has resulted in an increase in applications for loans. But according to the local banks, the majority of the applicants do not merit loans under sound and safe banking policies, and far more loans have been refused than have been granted.

Not Promiscuous
Under the provisions of an F.H.A. loan, the bank is insured to the extent of 20 per cent. Englewood bankers revealed today that there are altogether too many banks in the metropolitan area that are granting F.H.A. loans promiscuously on the gamble that most of them will be paid in full, and that the total loss of those that "become sour" will be borne by the government. (The government will pay 20 per cent of the amount, so that if a bank grants 50 loans, 10 of them can go entirely bad without any loss to the bank.) Further, the Federal Housing provisions encourage mortgage loans up to 80 per cent of the total value.

The Englewood practitioners assert, however, that they will not go in for anything like that, for they claim that it was such prominent lending that brought on the bank crisis.

As an example of the increased activity, the Englewood Building and Loan Association reports that on Monday night seven loans were granted. None of them were F.H.A. loans, but were based on the association's own provisions. J. A. Thomson, president of the association, stated that the increased activity is in large measure to the effect of the F.H.A. He said the major effort of the F.H.A. was to force private institutions to come forward with more inviting terms.

State Federal Housing authorities say that the F.H.A. program is meeting with considerable success throughout New Jersey.

Continuing their active pace, the Young Republican Club of Englewood, which two weeks ago attracted a crowd of 135 young people, will on Wednesday night, April 3, host to the Mayor and Common Council at the Municipal Building.

At that time the city officials will meet the members. The principal talks will be given by Mayor Irving C. Reeve, and City President Gerrit Weston, themselves young Republicans.

The Mayor will speak on the government of the city, naming the departments and sketching the various functions, illustrating the work of the Council as a unit and as the head of the various departments.

Mr. Weston will speak on "The City of the Present Administration." Mr. Weston is now serving his second year as the president of the Council.

Morrow League Relief Committee Investigates
The Italian-American Club of Dwight W. Morrow League's relief investigation committee reported Wednesday night that it has several matters under investigation. One of these concerns a local food store which, according to the League, recently fired four local employees and hired outsiders. The committee claims that 80 per cent of the store's present help comes from other towns.

The League inducted two new members Wednesday night—Louis Deane and Anthony Deane. The oath of obligation was administered by Frank Puglia, president, assisted by John Julliano and Joseph Guarino, past presidents, and Joseph Cicco, leader.

The League is preparing for its May 1 ball. A committee of 40 is working for its success.

Included in the program will be The Secret Marriage, Four German Dances, three movements from Liszt's symphony in G major, Suite for Suite, L'Arlesienne, Music for the People, an Alka, and Hungarian Dance.

All Fourth Division members are entitled to a medal to be awarded by the City of Chateau Thierry, France, in which that division played so great a part.

Commander Dawson also suggests that all Legionnaires visit at 8:30 p. m., Saturday.

District Court Here Clears Most Cases in Bergen; Wait Appointment
There were 12 Englewood disposals, including one involving a woman, and average being six a week. Disposal cases have become more frequent because it is only after such judicial action is taken that a family can be placed on the rent-roll lists at their headquarters.

The recent report on District Court cases shows that in the last five years the five Bergen County courts handled 18,918 district cases, involving amounts up to $5000, and 31,029 small claims cases. This made an average of $100 for each of the courts, whereas the yearly average for the Englewood court has been $300, the highest of the five.

The Englewood court can handle district cases from any part of the county, although it has jurisdiction in only 10 municipalities—Englewood, Tenafly, Englewood Cliffs, Leonia, Palisades Park, Fort Lee, Fairview, Cliffside Park, Edgewater, Ridgefield.

Mr. Holly Selects Licht to Design High School on Seeing Work Here
Lawrence C. Licht, Englewood architect, was selected from among a list of 31 prominent architects in the metropolitan area to design the new Regional High School for the Mt. Holly, N. J., regional district. It was announced this week.

The contest between architects had reached the point where five of the 31 were chosen as the best, the successful one to be picked from this smaller group. Mr. Licht was one of the five.

Then the nine members of the Mt. Holly Regional High School Board, representing five municipalities, went on an inspection tour of schools designed by the five architects. They went to more than a dozen schools, several of them that cost over a million dollars.

They came to Englewood, and found the turning point here. For on viewing Dwight Morrow High School, the work of Lawrence C. Licht, they felt that their mission was ended, and Mr. Licht was selected.

The building to be designed by Mr. Licht will be Colonial in design, for Mt. Holly is an old Colonial community where such a building will blend perfectly. It will accommodate 850 students. Selection of Mr. Licht for this new building is added recognition for him as a designer of school buildings. He has designed buildings here, in Princeton, Rye, and several other places in New York.

Ask Many Questions

During the course of the four day cooking school, scores of questions were presented to Miss Kennedy, demonstrating the deep interest in the art of cooking. Following are a few of the leading questions, with comments:

How do you make plenty of meat gravy? Please tell me how to make a good meringue for pie that will stand up when taken from oven. Do you know of any way to prevent the strong odor when cooking cabbage? What much trick do you use so as not to soil your dress when you cook. Why does meringue get tough when cold? How do you keep cookies crisp? Please tell me how to make a noodle ring? Can you give an inexpensive recipe for cookies for daily use for children? As we do not use liquor or any kind, could I use grape juice in the wine 'em you made yesterday? Why is it that seven minute long become twenty after a day or so? Please tell me how to make light dumplings? Is there anything to do with stale rye bread? What is the difference between baking powder and baking soda in baking? When ever I bake a loaf cake it cracks across the top. Why is this?

Mrs. Artur Nikoloric and Nicola Thomas Guest Artists

The Englewood Woman's Club Choral appeared before a large audience in the First Presbyterian church house Monday afternoon in its second annual concert under the direction of William Januszek.

The choral, made for weekly practices, had been in preparation since October 1, and the group of 21 selected voices from the club members, although less in number than last year, brought illness and absences out of town, revealed an increasing in quality.

At the first appearance of the chorists a group of four included "My Johanna," "Gloria," "Snow" (vocal soloist), "Mummers' Dance," "Neville's Breeze," "The Rose Tree," and "Woodpecker."

Part of the second group was sung in French and part in German. They were "Bon Espoir," "L'Esperance," "Mon petit coin de France," "Bergerie," "Serenade," "H. Strauss," and "Wellington."

Women of the club, each wearing a corsage of sweet peas presided by the club, included Madeline Roy L. Alexander, Alfred Brady, James J. Cullen, William Dean Embury, Edward Fischer, Charles W. Frazier, James D. Kerr, Edward N. Little, Ernest H. May, Robert Parker, Joseph G. Pitt, H. J. Roy, Arthur Charles, and Robertson, W. J. Schickel, Alfred T. Taylor, Z. M. Vanelinas, William Walter, Benjamin Woodard, and Misses Edna Arnold and Helen Elliott.

Warm Reception Given Artists Mrs. Nikoloric was warmly greeted. Living in Englewood she is recognized as belonging to the first rank of the city's musicians. As she played, showing herself complete mistress of the keys, the audience received her performance in admiring silence giving at the first of each number a tribute of unstinted applause.

Mrs. Thomas also has appeared here many times. Her interpretations are most satisfactory, and the skilful handling of her bow brought its own reward of applause. Her group consisted of "Nocturne" Op. 9, Chopin; "Scherzo in E-flat Major," Chopin; and "Prælude in G Major," Liszt.

College Women at Calvert Home

The Northern Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. William J. Calvert, Lincoln street, with Mrs. J. A. Garretson, president, presiding. A short business meeting preceded the talk on Social Security by Dr. Ellen Potter, Director of Medicine for the State of New Jersey, Department of Institutions and Agencies. Among the notices given, Mrs. Garretson called attention to the radio program sponsored by A. A. U. W. over WEAF Sunday evenings at 10:30 called "An American Fireside." The club was urged to support the Civic Music Association and the lecture "Adventures in Red Russia" by Carveth Wells at St. Cecilia's auditorium the evening of April 8.

Changed by Civil War

Dr. Potter began her talk by reviewing the just security of women by marriage, with a husband and home, or if unmarried, protection by some member of the family. Then followed the Civil War and the gradual popularizing of higher education for women. Many found security in the independence of a career as teacher, nurse, doctor or other professions. Later with the right to vote and greater freedom came security in a sense of equality with men. However, since 1929 the status of women has been challenged and prejudices against them have been exercised.

Dr. Potter pointed out many statistics some of which are listed.

The social effect and practice of birth control is now felt in the first grade and it is estimated by 1940 there will be one million less children in our grade schools.

Many Women Unemployed

There are today two million unmarried unemployed women in the United States.

Ten per cent of the heads of families in relief are women.

One out of 7 families in New Jersey are on relief.

Of the 105,000 families on relief in New Jersey, 75 per cent are white, 25 per cent colored, although of the total population of the state only 5 per cent is Negro.

Dr. Potter explained the federal program for social security and opened the meeting to discussion which brought out many interesting questions.

Tea was served with Miss Edna Davos and Mrs. Arthur Clyde Lewis presiding.

The next meeting will be Monday, May 6 at the home of Mrs. W. W. Cumberland. It will be an annual meeting when reports will be read. A music program is in preparation.

MONAGHAN VEToes TAX LIEN MATTER IN PALISADES PARK Says Definite Fee Should Be Established For Attorneys

At a meeting of the Mayor and Council of Palisades Park Tuesday night Mayor Thomas J. Monaghan vetoed a resolution passed by the council on March 12, which authorized the tax lien committee of which Councilman Frank Rhone is chairman to foreclose eight tax liens at a cost not to exceed $250 each.

In a letter to council he said: "I believe a definite fee should be established upon, rather than an indefinite figure which ultimately will mean the full fee of $250. I further feel that the price at this time is greater than the borough would have to pay for the attorney's fee."

Plan Approved A resolution approving a municipal financial plan submitted recently by John J. Dickerson of Palisades Park to state and county legislators and to the local council was presented by Councilman Peter A. Backstrom. It was moved to send this resolution to the U. S. Senators, the Bergen County Board and to the Congressmen of this district, urging those individuals to exert their influence toward the adoption of the plan.

Borough Being Sued For Property Damage

A hearing on injunction proceedings instituted by Theodore A. Driscoll charged that the borough's drainage sewer had caused water to flood his cellar, doing considerable damage to his property and personal belongings.

BRIDGE TRAFFIC UP 40,000 FOR QUARTER All Port Authority Crossings Show Increase

An increase of seven and one-half per cent in traffic for the first quarter of the present year over the corresponding period of 1934 and an excess of 100,000 over early estimates is announced on inter-state-vehicular facilities owned and operated by The Port of New York Authority.

Not only the Holland Tunnel and the George Washington Bridge are "in the black" on a comparative traffic basis with last year, but each of the three Staten Island bridges presents an advance in the totals over the first quarter of 1934. Authority for the first quarter was 3,301,465 vehicles for all five crossings. It is indicated now that this estimate will be bettered by fully 100,000 and by 240,000 over the corresponding movement of somewhat less than 3,200,000 a year ago.

The report of $20,000 for the George Washington Bridge represented an increase of 40,000, or 5 per cent. The Bayonne Bridge with 75,000 was up more than 6,000, or 9 per cent. The Arthur Kill bridges ran 110,000, an improvement of 8,000, or almost 8 per cent divided between the Goethals Bridge and the Outerbridge Crossing. The former with 80,000 was up 5 per cent and the latter with 30,000 increased 12 per cent.

CREEK COMPLAINT IS HEARD AGAIN IN RIDGEFIELD COUNCIL Resident Says Course Of Stream Was Changed, Menace Resulting

The Wolf Creek matter was aired again in the Ridgefield council on Tuesday evening, when Thomas Favorito of Maple avenue complained to the mayor and council of the course of the creek, which borders his property in the Morsemer section. Mr. Favorito blames the trouble on his neighbor, whose property adjoins in Palisades Park, at the border line. He stated that his neighbor had filled in the property at the creek, thus diverting its course until it bordered his property.

Mr. Favorito seemed to think the borough could assist in solving the problem, and Mayor Holmes asked for a ruling from Lloyd Schroeder, counsel, who stated that it was not a borough matter and that the best plan would be for the persons interested to get together and take the matter to the courts. Mr. Favorito stated that the water of the stream was polluted and this caused unhealthy conditions, making him fear for the health of his two little daughters. Mr. Favorito also said that trees in that section had been affected by the polluted waters.

Police Code Approved The amendment to the police ordinance in Ridgefield was approved. The ordinance now provides for the appointment of a chief of police, instead of a supervisor, and the council will appoint a new officer to serve in this capacity at the next meeting. The police department has been under the direction of acting Chief Walter Galtner since the death of Supervisor G. P. Darow on February 8. The ordinance also defines the powers of the chief, and sets the salaries of chief, lieutenant and sergeant, and places the head of the department in a position from which he cannot be removed for political reasons.

Englewood's First Church
 It was about this time of the year, seventy-five years ago, when a handful of the leading residents of the beautiful little hamlet that was later known as Englewood formed the nucleus of an institution that played and is playing a leading part in the spiritual and cultural life of the community.

When this small group of pioneer Englewood residents laid the foundations that were to result in the formation of the First Presbyterian Church, they hardly could have conceived the church as it is today—an institution fully equipped to serve the spiritual requirements of a large and influential congregation, and offering in addition educational and recreational facilities equalled in few suburban churches.

Throughout this year, the Seventy-fifth Anniversary of the First Presbyterian Church will be observed, the first event being a memorial service on May 30 in the chapel at Brookside Cemetery which, until 1877, served as the church edifice. It is fitting that the entire city observe this anniversary which commemorates one of the most important first-steps in the history of this community.

The organization of the First Presbyterian Church was followed in future years by the founding of other churches—splendid institutions conducted by splendid people who have done so much to bring to Englewood its far-flung reputation as a city of homes and neighbors.

It always has been our contention that a city in which the churches and schools do their work—conscientiously, constantly,—has little to fear from the evil influences of an unsettled world. Englewood, with its comparative absence of juvenile delinquency, crime and untoward elements of any kind, is proof apparent of this contention. In Englewood, both the churches and schools are doing their good work, and both deserve utmost commendation.

And so, on this auspicious occasion, we join with the city at large in extending to the First Presbyterian Church not only our congratulations, but our heartfelt thanks for its wonderful contribution to a wonderful city.

Is it Legal, or Isn't It?
 Something must be done to clarify the gambling machine situation in this state. Present conditions are bound to have an unfavorable effect upon the preservation of law and order. First the machines are permitted to be operated willy-nilly. Then they are taken out; then they are put back; now they are permitted to give prizes; next they can be operated but not for prizes; today the police confiscate machines; tomorrow the courts order the machines restored. The police in the decent, law-respecting communities are willing to do the right thing, but under present conditions, any action they take may be countermanded almost immediately by higher authority. The result is that the police are being made to play the fool in one of the country's most lucrative rackets.

Now certainly, if the laws of this state are worth a copper, (and evidence often points to the contrary), some action should be taken to obtain a binding decision on this point. Then the games may be eliminated once and for all, or be permitted under some definite and sensible plan, with a proper tax being exacted by state and municipality. Aside from the moral issues, the matter of taxation in connection with this form of gambling is extremely important. Many persons are inclined to consider the bagatelle game as an innocuous little plaything into which one places a nickel for the privilege of a little entertainment and the chance of winning a small prize. They do not realize that these machines, placed in dining cars, saloons and similar places, often gross more than one hundred dollars weekly, about ten dollars of which is returned in prizes. When it is considered that there are hundreds of thousands of these machines in play throughout the country, with a weekly "take" amounting to millions of dollars, the importance of adequate taxation becomes apparent.

Being almost completely convinced of the utter impossibility of suppressing the various gambling rackets,—lotteries, slot machines, punch boards, bagatelle and pin games, book making and the like,—we are inclined to forego a discussion of the moral issues of this problem, although admitting that the moral issues are definitely drawn. We do feel, however, that the officials of this state are inexcusably lax in their failure to place the gambling racket under proper control.

Less time spent in an endeavor to permit the introduction of new gambling rackets, such as horse racing, and more time spent in an effort to control the gambling rackets that already exist, would result in greater public benefit.

 Pet Column

The S. P. C. A. has frequent (read daily) state of economic distress in a hamlet could there are not fortunate people in our midst. A recent example is worth mention. Several weeks ago we found a pup in a dilapidated, half-rotten shed. We took him to our shelter and made a great effort to locate his owner without success. The dog was in bad shape and had developed pneumonia. One day a man came to us from Yonkers, saw the dog, said he was fond of Russian wolfhounds and volunteered to take the dog home and give him a lot of love. He took the dog, placed him in the hands of a veterinarian and carefully nursed him back to health. The dog is now entirely recovered and we sincerely trust that he will prove a faithful friend and companion to his benefactor. May we also add that in addition to caring for the dog, this man also is a generous donor.

COLONEL
 One story for this week is about Colonel, a wonderful terrier owned by George Kaffel. Last Friday afternoon Colonel disappeared, and when he had not returned by dinner time, the Kaffels, particularly the little girl, were much disturbed. Unfortunately they had an engagement for the evening and had to go out, although Mr. Kaffel made an extensive search of the neighborhood before they left. When they returned home Colonel was still missing, and their daughter was in tears and unable to sleep because he was gone.

Finally Mr. Kaffel said, "I know my car and the horn I'll find around and see if I can find him." So he drove through the streets, stopping frequently to honk the horn or whistle for the dog. At last he came to a neighborhood a short distance from home and by chance stopped before a high fence. When he passed the car horn rang that time from behind the fence came a bark and a white dog barked and called "Colonel!" There was no mistaking the dog's response. Colonel was behind that fence and he recognized his ears.

Mr. Kaffel with much difficulty got into the yard and rescued the dog. How Colonel had gotten through there was not known but Mr. Kaffel returned home with a delighted white dog beside him.

Please send your pet stories to Mrs. C. E. Bradshaw, 229 Eastwood Ave., Englewood 3-7075H.

MISTAKE CAUSES DEEP CONCERN TO SCHULTZ
 Immigration Authorities Release Him

It was a cruel mistake, and one that caused William "Doc" Schultz no end of needless concern Friday, when immigration officers arrested him at the Palisade House on the belief that he had jumped ship six years before. Mr. Schultz is a licensed motor ship captain and has handled the yachts of several prominent persons.
 The authorities, taking his belongings with him just in case he was unable to convince them. But he was back in town that afternoon, free again to live in this country rather than be shipped back to Nazi Germany.
 It was a complete surprise to him when on Friday morning, police placed a hand upon his shoulder and told him he was "wanted."
 The mistake occurred when immigration authorities, scanning the man's application for citizenship papers, could not find out when he made his last entry, and assumed that he had jumped ship. But the man was able to show his discharge papers, his navigator's license, and his entry recordbook and, of course, authorities immediately freed him.

DECEPTIVE COUNTERFEIT FOUND IN CIRCULATION

The Secret Service Division of the Treasury Department, New York District, warns of the appearance of a new counterfeit $1 Silver Certificate described by the Secret Service Division as follows:
Counterfeit $1 Silver Certificate Series of 1934; Check Letter "H"; Face Plate No. 45; Back Plate No. 2790; Serial No. E792121541; bearing facsimile signatures of W. A. Julian, Treasurer of the United States, Henry Morgenthau Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, portrait of Washington.

This is a deceptive counterfeit printed on one piece of good bond paper, apparently from well-known photo-mechanical plates. However, the bill purports to be of the Series of 1934, but has the Treasury Seal at the left of the face of the note instead of at the right, and does not bear the large blue numeral "1" which appears on the genuine issue of the Series of 1934. In the counterfeit, the legend which appears on the genuine $1 note of the Series of 1934, reading "This Certificate is legal tender for all debts public and private," appears across the Treasury Seal, which is smaller than the genuine seal. The serial numbers of the counterfeit are printed in dark blue in a type face and size noticeably unlike the genuine. Care should be exercised in handling notes of this denomination.

as this counterfeit is calculated to deceive the experienced handler of currency.
Detecting one of these counterfeits, you should forward it with all available information to the office of the U. S. Secret Service having jurisdiction in your territory. Such offices are located in the Post Office Buildings at 85 Avenue and 127th St., N. Y., and Newark, and in the Creation House Building in New York City.
