Winton White's Report Is Encouraging; Few Regret Training

Not more than 30 percent of Englewood's high school graduates of the last five years are idle, according to an estimate this week by Winton J. White, superintendent of schools here.

Mr. White said that while 30 percent would make a large number of individuals and that their problem is acute, it is a somewhat surprising and to a great extent gratifying to see that so many are not idle.

Mr. White bases his estimate on answers to questionnaires sent out to graduates of the last five years and upon the steady stream of reports that come to him of the activities of recent graduates.

Answers to the questionnaire which Mr. White prepared for graduates show that most of those who graduated from Englewood high school in the last five years have no regrets over the training they received.

Mr. White reports that the number of Englewood students going to college took a considerable jump this year, with more members of the June graduating class going on to college than from any class in the last five years.

Police, Fire, Health Departments In Demonstration Of Equipments

Many residents who have never visited police, fire or health department headquarters in Englewood received an enlightening glimpse of these departments Saturday through their exhibits at the Merit Badge Show of the Boy Scouts.

The police department display, largely because of its intriguing collection of firearms, was the chief attraction. Police gave demonstrations of the firing of Thompson sub-machine guns, hand grenades, tear gas bombs and many other weapons.

The health department exhibit was really in two sections, one by Dr. John Irwin, city physician, and one by H. R. H. Nicholas, health officer. The former set up an operating room, equipped with operating table and dummy patient.

The fire department display was unique. The city's repainted 1000-gallon pumper was set up on the Army floor. In addition there were numerous items of fire fighting equipment, including a first aid demonstration, rescue devices, hose and engine appliances, a miniature fire alarm system, etc.

The health officer's demonstration showed a sanitary camp set-up, proper latrines, water supply, etc., and pointed out the dangers that lurk in field and stream.

Bulgarian College Head Addresses Schools Here

President Floyd H. Black, who has for the last nine years been the executive head of the American College of Sofia, Bulgaria, will speak today at meetings at Dwight School and Englewood School for Boys.

Not only has Dr. Black lived for more than 20 years in the Near East, but Mrs. Black is a Bulgarian, the former Miss Zaratidka Zivov, or at Robert College in Constantinople, now Istanbul, Turkey. In 1918, Dr. Black was called from Turkey to the capital of Bulgaria, where he now heads an institution containing 507 boys and girls, nearly all of whom are Bulgarians from almost every town in that country.

Founded 75 years ago, the present American College of Sofia was at Dr. Black's accession two mission schools, one for boys and one for girls, situated outside of Sofia. It is today a modern college with 22 up-to-date buildings on a 100-acre campus and with a faculty of nearly 50 members.

There was a great deal of interest in the announcement that the educational committee is arranging for many prominent speakers to talk at future meetings and that a dramatic society will be formed.

The M.H.A. already has a membership of 62 and the interest displayed indicates the necessity for an organization of that type, according to Secretary Leo Schechter.

I. Hyman presided Monday in the absence of the chairman, Bernard Turtlebaum.

To Build Endowment Fund At 1st Presbyterian Church

Want To Guard Against Changes The Future Is Certain To Bring

An endowment fund as a guarantee against whatever changes the future may bring in Englewood is to be built up in the course of the coming years by the First Presbyterian Church.

Announcement of this was made Sunday by the Rev. Carl Hopkins Elmore, pastor, as the church celebrated its seventy-first anniversary.

In this way, according to Mr. Elmore, the church will guarantee the maintenance of its educational and recreational activities for the youth of the community.

Robert C. Post will serve as chairman of the endowment fund which, it is hoped, will in the course of time reach the point where it will provide an annual income for the church large enough to insure continuance of the church's broad program whether or not individual incomes are less or whether or not apartment house life continues its gradual encroachment upon the hillside in Englewood.

Mr. Post today stated that plans for the endowment fund are still in process of formation, and that there will be no special drive or campaign for funds.

Stirring Sermon In a stirring address to an overflow congregation, Mr. Elmore on Sunday pointed out that by this action the church on its anniversary was not only expressing its gratitude for the past, but is making an important contribution to the future.

His announcement followed a description of what the First Presbyterian Church has done since its beginnings; of how closely allied its history has been with the history of the community; and how it has succeeded in creating a powerful influence for good. He showed how the spirit of the congregation today is a counterpart of the spirit of old. And in announcing the decision to create an endowment fund he pointed out that in that way the same spirit could be guaranteed for the future.

Mr. Elmore's sermon Sunday was preceded by an address by Frederick S. Duncan, chairman of the anniversary committee, who traced the church's growth from the beginning and expressed tremendous satisfaction over the fact that so many members of old Englewood families were present to join in the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary.

Following are excerpts from Mr. Duncan's address: Joyous Celebration "This morning we—the present members of our congregation, former members, and families of founders and of early members and of former pastors—are met with friends from other churches in joyous celebration of the 75 years of our church life, to rejoice in the rich heritage that has been handed down to us, and to render grateful thanks to those of the early days of Englewood whose vision and devotion shaped and guided the destinies of our church and of our community.

"We are glad the affection for our church and loyalty to the ideals upon which it was built have brought to us today so many former members and their families. It is a good thing that those of the present Englewood should thus come into intimate contact with those in whose hearts and minds the legends of our past history are still fresh and the ideals of our founders are still alive. We have indeed a glorious record over which we may well rejoice together and from which we cannot fail to draw courageous inspiration.

"The congregation and its pastor and officers extend to our visitors and guests a most cordial welcome. "First of all we would express to you who are of the families of the founders of our church our unending gratitude for their lives and deeds. Without them our church and our Englewood as we now know them would not exist.

Our Roll of Honor "On the original minute book there is entered in the handwriting of Sheppard Homans Sr., the record of the organization of our church. From it is taken the names of the founders—our roll of honor.

MRS. DWIGHT MORROW DEPARTS FOR MEXICO; ISSUES CHEST APPEAL

Goal Must Be Reached, She Tells Second Ward At Special Meeting

Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow left yesterday for Mexico with her youngest daughter, Constance, but not without leaving a personal appeal for city-wide support for the Community Chest which she has directed for two years.

At a meeting of Second Ward workers at Roosevelt School Sunday evening, Mrs. Morrow expressed her deep regret at having to be gone during the height of the Community Chest campaign. But she explained that plans were definitely made more than a year ago and that it was impossible for her to change them.

But though she is physically absent, she said, she will be here in spirit, anxiously awaiting the news that Englewood has heeded the call for neighborliness by surpassing the Chest goal and thus enabling its institutions to carry on.

Goal Must Be Reached Mrs. Morrow called upon workers and upon contributors to remember that the goal, as announced, will represent budgets that have already been deeply cut. She explained that the Chest budget committee pares down the requests of the individual agencies, so that the amount that is finally allotted to each agency is already cut. And her appeal was that the public prevent the necessity of another cut.

Asserting that there is nothing stronger than success, Mrs. Morrow urged the workers to see to it this year that the Chest succeeds. Last year, she pointed out, the city fell short of its goal. This year it cannot fail again because, she said, it is necessary to build up a tradition of success. A tradition of failure would be fatal. Failure, she explained, simply means curtailed work on the part of the city's institutions, until they reach the point where they become second-rate in their work, a condition, she said, which Englewood does not want.

Enthusiastic Over Chest Mrs. Morrow was enthusiastic over the results of the Community Chest in Englewood. She said that with two years of experience behind it, it should sweep on to new success. She said that the best proof of its effectiveness is to be obtained from the agencies themselves, all of which are delighted with the results, delighted chiefly because they are now free to devote themselves exclusively to the purposes for which they were founded rather than spend half the time worrying about collecting funds.

Other speakers at the Second Ward rally were Norman Cook, Second Ward chairman, and James J. Ferris, campaign manager. They expressed optimism at the spirit that has been shown so far, but pointed to the dangers of over-confidence.

Mr. Ferris revealed that there have already been a number of unsolicited contributions, showing that the public is Chest-conscious and anxious to help.

strength. With deep affection we honor his memory. With him came other Booth families, William T. Booth, Charles Booth, William A. Booth, J. Hugh Peters and others, whose activities in our church added greatly to its welfare.

"Time will permit only of mention of our succeeding pastors: Rev. James Ellis, Dr. Samuel M. Hamilton, Rev. Robert Davis and Dr. Thornton B. Remfield who was our acting pastor just before the call of our present minister. Each of them handed on with increased brightness the torch received from the hand of his predecessor. To all of them we pay our tribute of affection and honor.

To Carl Hopkins Elmore "Of our present beloved Carl Hopkins Elmore and his wonderful pastorate, we can only say, 'If you ask for comment, look about you.' Examine the buildings themselves, watch them in constant hum of activity on Sundays and on week days, and listen to the expressions of regard and affection that fall from the lips of young and old alike."

Mr. Duncan also welcomed representatives from St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Norwood Presbyterian Church, Teaneck Presbyterian Church, Bethany Presbyterian Church, Highwood Chapel and West Side Presbyterian Church which were all connected with the First Presbyterian Church in early stages of their histories.

Tribute was paid to the character of the "splendid men and women who conducted the church's affairs during the first quarter century and indeed for the fifty years thereafter." Among those whom Mr. Duncan mentioned were Charles A. Nichols, David Hoadley, Washington R. Vermilye, Livingston K. Miller, John Van Brunt, J. Wyman Jones, Sheppard Homans, I. Smith Homans, James O. Morse, Lebbens Chapman Jr., Robert Bayles, Ashbel Evenen, George S. Cole Sr., William D. Cole, Vincent Tillyou, and the family names of Phelps, Banks, Lyman, Stanley, Cory, Mackay, Brinckerhoff, Story, Duncan, Miller, Wetmore, Park, Dillingham, Corliss, Waterbury, Foster and others.

"We are indeed surrounded by a great crowd of witnesses from whom we cannot fail to get inspiration to run well the race that is set before us," Mr. Duncan said.

Leads St. Paul's Forward Movement

THE VERY REV. JOHN M. MCGANN

St. Paul's Church, as its part in a great movement throughout the Episcopal Church, will hold an eight-day period of intensive spiritual activity from November 17 to 24. This Forward Movement will take the form of a series of services, mass meetings, discussion groups, and personal conferences under the leadership of an experienced missionary, the Very Rev. John M. McGann, D.D. During each of the eight days there will be events of interest to varying groups throughout the parish, the emphasis always being upon the spiritual. The keynote of the Mission will be "Lord, Revive Thy Church, Beginning With Me."

There will be four great mass meetings: on two Sunday mornings at eleven and on Wednesday and Friday nights. At these the missionary will make the addresses, his topics being "The Abundant Life," "What is God Like?", "Prayer," and "Lay Evangelism." At the Sunday services the music will be by the full choir of men and boys, but at all services during the week there will be congregational singing of well known hymns, led by Captain Hall of the Church Army, who is trained and experienced in this work.

Every weekday throughout the Forward Movement there will be Holy Communion in the Chapel at 9:30, and intercessions at noon, when prayers will be made for those who have especially requested them. Dean McGann will have a room in the Parish House where he can be reached every morning for personal conferences, and in the afternoon he will visit in the homes of request.

Discussion Groups Another feature of this Forward Movement will be a series of discussion groups, planned to meet the special religious problems of particular groups in the parish and community. On Sunday night the young people from a dozen parishes in this section have been invited to attend supper and to hold a meeting relating to their special problems. All the young people of St. Paul's and the community are invited to this assembly. A special quartette of the Church Army men will sing. On Monday evening the topic will be "Christianity and Social Work." Special invitations will be extended to all social workers, to doctors and nurses, and to the volunteer workers of the Junior League. All who are interested in the social problems of the community will be welcome. On Tuesday night the married people will be urged to attend, as the subject will be one connected with the problems of the home life and the children. On Thursday the subject will be "The Church Life of the Women," with particular reference to the part women's organizations play in the Christian life of the parish. There will be a Question Box in which assigned questions affecting any problem of the Christian life may be placed. These will be answered on the discussion group evenings.

The missionary, the Very Rev. John M. McGann, D.D., was at one time Dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Springfield, Mass., but has devoted the past six years to the holding of parochial missions. He is a graduate of Trinity College, Hartford; of the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Cambridge, Mass.; and received his doctor's degree from his Alma Mater. He has had large parish experience, having been in charge of churches in Boston, Erie, Columbus, and Chicago, before going to Springfield as the Dean of the Cathedral. He was a deputy to the General Convention of the Episcopal Church for four sessions. He is a man of great personal charm and of large experience both in the pulpit and in the individual problems of people.

SELF-RESPECT STILL CHIEF FAMILY DESIRE, SOCIAL WORKER SAYS

Federation Department In Report Tells About Families On Relief

Does relief tend to make men and women want something for nothing? Family social workers who deal daily with the actual problems arising out of unemployment and maladjustments answer this in the negative, according to Miss Rose Lawrence of the Family Welfare Federation of the Social Service Department who reported today the findings of a conference of family social work societies of the Middle Atlantic States held last week.

"Economic security is a basic human need, but not the only basic desire," Miss Lawrence states. "Not merely keeping life in the body, but happy human relationships and opportunity for satisfaction of the desire for self-respect are equally vital. What people want is opportunity for living satisfying and useful lives."

The report questions any relief program which tends to close the doors of opportunity for usefulness and for self-esteem. This does not mean, however, that reduction in relief, unless accompanied by genuine opportunities for self-maintenance, is a solution. The report also predicts that the effects of the depression will be felt in the lives of men and women for several generations, even though full business is restored.

Workers Lose Skill "The present effort to substitute a work program for a relief program is uncovering the extent and character of the demoralization which has taken place in the lives of many who have been subjected to the pressure of long periods of unemployment and to subsistence upon relief," the report says in this connection. "Now that opportunity for work has come, demanding it some instances high degrees of skill, we are seeing that many who have learned to think of themselves as useless can no longer do good work."

Family social workers believe that for this reason there will be greatly increased need for the services of private societies, not in giving relief but in helping men and women to reestablish themselves in their own minds as useful and needed members of society. This constructive and preventive task would be rendered impossible by any attempt to assume a larger share of the community relief burden.

The report also points out that the family society is much more than a group of professional workers. There are at least two other important groups who do and can more and more effectively share with the staff the responsibility of the family society service, that is, to understand and interpret what is happening in the lives of individuals and in the life of the community; these two groups are lay citizens who participate in the work of the society and the many persons whom the society serves. The family society's function, the report in further states, is to assist people in the development of their own capacities to live satisfying and useful lives. This involves, first, service both to individuals and to families in the development of their own abilities; and, secondly, a program for community social action.

ST. PAUL'S TO HOLD INTENSIVE SPIRITUAL DRIVE NOV. 17 TO 24

Prominent Missioner Will Lead Series Of Services

St. Paul's Church, as its part in a great movement throughout the Episcopal Church, will hold an eight-day period of intensive spiritual activity from November 17 to 24. This Forward Movement will take the form of a series of services, mass meetings, discussion groups, and personal conferences under the leadership of an experienced missionary, the Very Rev. John M. McGann, D.D. During each of the eight days there will be events of interest to varying groups throughout the parish, the emphasis always being upon the spiritual. The keynote of the Mission will be "Lord, Revive Thy Church, Beginning With Me."

There will be four great mass meetings: on two Sunday mornings at eleven and on Wednesday and Friday nights. To Serve Englewood Back in 1890, a group of public spirited citizens---merchants, commuters, business and professional men---gathered together and put up some money to form a bank to serve this beautiful suburb. A National Bank, the first in the county, was organized by the citizens for mutual benefit, and called The CITIZENS National Bank, which is exactly what it was---and is. For mutual helpfulness has always been the motivating power back of the bank. May we serve you in some way? The CITIZENS-NATIONAL BANK AND TRUST COMPANY

Miss Trowbridge was given in marriage by her father. She wore an ivory satin gown of classic simplicity, tightly fitted, and with long sleeves. A soft pleating released from reversed tucks which fitted a yoke, turned over to form a soft ruff at the throat, and a tulle veil extending from a Breton headress fell in deep folds over a court train and to some length beyond. Lilies-of-the-valley with purple orchids were carried. Miss Mary Trowbridge was her sister's maid of honor. Her slim-fitting rennaissance velvet gown of tangerine shade was gathered at the throat to allow a soft frill. The back of the gown was collarless, its opening joined by a single clasp. The skirt was evenly long. Gowns of the bridesmaids were of deep jade green rennaissance velvet fashioned similarly to that of the maid of honor. Each attendant wore a headband of silver leaves and carried Talsman roses combined with Mideunhair fern. Bridesmaids were Miss Clara W. Trowbridge, another sister of the bride; Miss Harriet G. Trowbridge of Montclair, a cousin; Miss Barbara D. Bonelli, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Marion H. Titus of Elmira, N. Y.

FOLEY BEATS SMITH IN MAYORALTY VOTE IN LEONIA; ALL G.O.P. Republican League's Ticket Given Plurality of About 300

The Leonia Republican League candidates were victorious at Tuesday's election by about 300 votes. Joseph H. Foley, former councilman and finance chairman, won by 282 votes from his Democratic opponent, Frank S. Smith, for the mayoralty, tallying 1,295 votes to Smith's 1,013. George S. Mills, present mayor and councilman candidate, was elected with 1,240 votes. His opponent, Charles A. Anderson, was elected by appointment, trailed with 1,174 votes. The Democratic councilman candidates, Charles H. MacMichael and Eugene E. Vann, received 897 and 802 votes, respectively.

Unusual Campaign

The victorious Republicans waged an unusual campaign by issuing only two last minute statements and conducting a house to house campaign and committee meetings. On the other hand, the Democrats held open meetings once or twice a week, issued numerous statements and attempted to capitalize on Mr. Foley's absence in the Philippines, where he is financial adviser for the new national government.

The Republican candidates carried every district with Mills running ahead in all but the second in which Mr. Foley resides. Mr. Foley carried the second by 320 votes to Mr. Smith's 282 votes. In Mr. Foley's district, the third, Mr. Foley won by more than 100 votes, tallying 1,245 votes to his opponent's 1,145. Mr. Foley carried the first district by 349 to 257 and the fourth by 221 to 147.

In the councilman contests, Mr. Foley carried his own district, the second, by 340 votes. Mr. Anderson, 1,000 also resides in the third district, totaling 317 votes there. Mr. MacMichael and Mr. Vann totaled 222 and 206 votes respectively. In the third district, Mr. Vann was elected by a margin of 200 to 180. The count was as follows: Mr. Mills, 1,240; Mr. Anderson, 1,000; Mr. MacMichael, 276; and Mr. Vann, 276.

Other Tallies
In the fourth district, where Mr. MacMichael lives, the count was as follows: Mr. Mills, 222; Mr. Anderson, 212; Mr. MacMichael, 150; and Mr. Vann, 142. The first district tallies were as follows: Mr. Mills, 1,245; Mr. Anderson, 1,145; Mr. MacMichael, 276; and Mr. Vann, 276. The county Republican ticket was given an overwhelming vote, winning by more than 2 to 1. The assembly vote was as follows: Lawrence A. Cavinato, 1,358; J. Parnell Thomas, 1,238; Mary MacG. Smith, 1,192; Horace Bogie, 1,037; Frank C. Osmer, Jr., 1,034; Blanche Van Saffin, 629; Raymond Pagan, 627; Fred Heckel, 627; Herman G. Honig, 604; Frank J. Clark, 596. POLICEMAN INJURED IN PARK ACCIDENT

Police Car Is Rammed by Leonia Driver

Central boulevard and Roff avenue, Palisades Park, was the scene of an accident Saturday afternoon, which resulted in the serious injury of Patrolman Anthony Ribello and the wreck of the police car which he was driving. Ribello, who received a gash on the forehead, contusions of the head and body injuries, was unconscious for nearly an hour. He received immediate treatment from Police Surgeon Joseph Pedevill.

Ribello, going west, had come to a stop at Roff avenue to allow a car going in opposite direction to pass. He had just shifted in gear when his car was struck in the rear by a car operated by Ladislavo Zlotkowski of 554 Grand avenue, Leonia. "Be A Good Neighbor"

The Englewood Community Chest will begin its third annual drive for funds next Thursday. To those who are acquainted with the work of the Chest in this city during the past two years, the mere announcement of the beginning of the drive should be sufficient to assure wholehearted support.

In the Fall of 1933, six established organizations of Englewood,—the Englewood Hospital, Social Service Federation, Salvation Army, Citizens Employment Committee, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts,—joined the Community Chest movement, already a long established institution in this country, to solve their fund raising problems.

The first Community Chest campaign, conducted under the direction of a large group of leading citizens led by Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, was a great success, as was the second drive last Fall. Peter S. Duryee is now chairman of the Chest, and under his guidance a third successful campaign is anticipated.

It is remarkable that in each of these drives, 500 persons gladly volunteered their services as workers. This alone would be ample testimony of the esteem in which the Chest organizations are held and of the Chest itself as their financial medium.

The national Community Chest slogan this year is "Be a Good Neighbor." This slogan was originated in Englewood, where the phrase is a rule rather than a needed admonition.

Republican Unanimity

The state of Republican unanimity which exists in the governing body of Englewood is not without reason. It exists because there is no strong demand for a change of government. This satisfaction with the Republican administration here also is reflected in the insolidarity of the Democratic Party.

This year's General Election in Englewood was the quietest in a decade. With only one contest in Englewood, that in which Councilman C. W. Floyd Coffin defeated Garrit Lydecker in the Second Ward, activity here was comparatively light. Next year, although there will be a presidential election to stimulate interest, the local significance of the election will reach a new low, not a single local vacancy occurring.

In one respect this situation is ideal. It permits local officials to completely forget all thought of local political campaigns for almost two years, devoting their entire attention to the problems of city administration. We feel that the line-up of city government is an excellent one, and extend our congratulations and best wishes to Mayor-elect Charles B. Hayward, Councilman-at-Large-elect Robert S. Tipping, to the two reelected councilmen, Mr. Coffin and Clarence A. Clough, Councilman from the First Ward, and to Councilmen Charles N. Dezer and Albert Moskin, now serving their first year as councilmen from the Third and Fourth Wards, respectively.

Perpetuating The Church

If we could be assured of the unending influence of the Christian Church in this country, we would face the future with fewer misgivings. While the spiritual structure of the Church ever strengthens, particularly in adversity, it frequently is true that the physical structure is weakest when greatest strength is essential.

It is to guard against any possible impairment of the physical or institutional structure with the resulting curtailment of its spiritual influence which has prompted the First Presbyterian Church of Englewood in this, the year of its 75th Anniversary, to establish an endowment fund. Through this far-seeing move, the present leaders of the church will seek to provide insurance against any exigencies,—the unpredictable problems of a changing social and economic order, among others. There will be no drive for funds, but the objects of the endowment will be made known to members of the congregation, they to make whatever voluntary contributions they wish, through bequests or gifts of any sort. In this way, over a period of years, a substantial sum will be accumulated.

It is a splendid thing to dedicate, such a fund to the perpetuation of the influence of this institution of God. The First Presbyterian Church has meant much to Englewood, and it is unthinkable that it should ever, even temporarily, cease to grow as a power for good in this community.

It is hoped that other churches, here and elsewhere, will find it possible to adopt a similar plan.

Munitions Makers and Wild Life

Much has been written and said of the munitions makers in their relationship to war. But few persons stop to consider the munitions makers' relationship to another form of slaughter,—the slaughter of wild animals and birds.

It is the munitions maker, speaking through various publicity mediums, usually operated under the guise of sportsmen's organizations or conservation groups, who relentlessly fights all efforts to enact proper wild life conservation laws in this country. The hunter usually is willing to cooperate for, loving the sport, he wishes to see it perpetuated. But the munitions maker, being interested in quick and immediate profits, wants the killing unrestricted. "When the game is exterminated," he reasons, "we'll find something else to shoot at."

Although every reputable conservation group in the country foresees the speedy extinction of American waterfowl unless adequate protective measures are taken, it becomes increasingly difficult to obtain even mild restrictions on hunting. To obtain a closed season, which is desperately needed to give

S.P.C.A. Pet Column

It has come to the attention of the S. P. C. A. that someone is spreading the story that we supply stray dogs to laboratories for experimental purposes. This is a deliberate and malicious lie started by someone wishing to discredit our organization. One of the most important things that the S. P. C. A. has consistently battled against is the turning over of animals to laboratories for cruel experimentation. We have fought this abuse for years and shall continue to do so.

We wish to assure the public that any animal picked up by our driver or turned in to the S. P. C. A. is in absolutely safe hands. We spare no effort to provide medical attention for any sick animal and our strays are kept in clean surroundings and are adequately fed and cared for until a new home is found for them. We do not sell dogs indiscriminately. Our kennelman is instructed to obtain the name and address of all persons wishing to adopt a dog, and before the dog leaves our shelter the new owner has to sign a paper promising to assume proper responsibility for the animal. After a dog has been placed one of our workers follow up the case to be sure that everything is satisfactory. S. P. C. A. workers have driven many miles to check up on dogs adopted outside of Bergen County.

We are sure the public does not realize that there are men who buy dogs just to turn them over to laboratories. If you have to get rid of your dog please bring him to us if you do not have a trusted friend who can give him a home. And if your dog has a litter of puppies please be sure that the people to whom you give the pups really want them and will give them a proper home. And remember the S. P. C. A. is ready to help every forsaken animal. The "forgotten dog" is safe with us; don't let anyone tell you otherwise.

The following poem was sent in to us by Miss Clara B. Bagg, 229 Engle street, Tenafly.

WE ARE THE HUNTED and feathered Co-horters to your land; Why do you hunt us from it? We do not understand.

Why do you seek to kill us? We do not ask our due— A right to the earth in our land of birth, Brothers, the same as you.

When you go out with your horses When you bring out a gun It may seem sport to you, clever folk, To us it is Death, not fun.

We love the wind and sunshine, We love the rain and the dew, But we cringe with fear that death is near, Brothers, when we see you.

We have the following dogs for adoption at the S. P. C. A. Shelter on Tryon avenue, Englewood, phone 3-1700.

Males: Wire haired terrier, Irish terrier, red chow, German shepherd, brown setter, puppy, part border collie, fox terrier, black and white, small white terrier, and small terrier, female.

waterfowl a chance to overcome the depleting effects of hunting, drought and decreased breeding grounds, is virtually impossible.

It cannot be urged too strongly upon woman's clubs, sportsmen's clubs and civic groups interested in conservation to bring their influence to bear upon state and national legislature to obtain adequate conservation laws. Particularly necessary is more adequate regulation of the hunter, who not only costs the country millions of wild fowl and animals yearly, but also millions of dollars in loss of life and property through forest fires.

He that walketh uprightly, and worketh right-ousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart" (Psalms, 15:1, 2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works" (II Timothy 3:16, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science separates error from truth, and breathe through the sacred power the spiritual sense of life, substance, and intelligence. In this sense we discover man in the image and likeness of God. We see that man has never lost his spiritual estate and his eternal harmony" (p. 248).

Englewood Press Tested Recipes by Clara Lee Barton

Some foods (like some people) are meant for each other. They are flavor-mates—like the combination of chocolate and peppermint in this triumphal cake. You cut down into that shell-pink frosting with its pretty garland of chocolate shavings and its subtle aroma of peppermint—down into a velvety-dark cake—made with sour cream for richness and only one egg—for economy. Either light or heavy cream may be used. The oil of peppermint to flavor the frosting can be purchased at any pharmacy.

Chocolate Peppermint Cake
2 cups sifted cake flour; 1 teaspoon soda; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1/3 cup butter or other shortening; 1 1/4 cups sugar; 1 egg, unbeaten; 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted; 1/2 cup thick sour cream; 1/2 cup milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together well. Add egg and beat very thoroughly; then chocolate and blend. Add about 1/4 of flour and beat well; then add sour cream and beat thoroughly. Add remaining flour, alternately with milk, beating well after each addition.

Add vanilla. Turn into two greased 8-inch layers, pans and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Spread Peppermint Frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Decorate with a 1-inch border of chocolate shavings. Double recipe for three 10-inch layers.

Peppermint Frosting
2 egg whites, unbeaten; 1/4 cup sugar; 5 tablespoons water; 1 1/2 teaspoons light corn syrup; red coloring; oil of peppermint (about 10 drops); unsweetened chocolate, thinly flaked.

Combine egg whites, sugar, water, and corn syrup in top of double boiler, beating with rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, beat constantly with rotary egg beater, and cook 7 minutes, or until frosting will stand in peaks. Add coloring to red frosting to give a delicate shell-pink tint. Just a tiny speck of coloring on the end of a knife, or a few drops of liquid coloring is enough. Remove from fire, add peppermint, and beat until thick enough to spread. Spread on cake. While frosting is still soft, but cold, sprinkle chocolate flakes around top of cake to form 1-inch border.

Wash rice thoroughly, combine with milk, sugar, salt and butter in greased baking dish. Bake in slow oven (325 F.) 2 hours, stirring well every 30 minutes. Add coconut and mix well; then continue baking 1/2 hour more. Serve hot or cold.

2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla

Red Cross First Aid in the Home

Hot oven doors constitute an every-day hazard. When little hands get burned, the mother trained in Red Cross First Aid cools them quickly under the tap, and applies a dressing of ordinary baking soda solution.

ONE-THIRD of all fatal accidents occur in homes, according to the American Red Cross. In excess of 30,000 deaths, many of which could be prevented, resulted from falls, burns, poisoning, electrocution and other accidents taking place in homes. First Aid Service of the Red Cross conducts courses in first aid through Red Cross chapters throughout the United States. It teaches how to prevent accidents and what to do in emergencies. The Red Cross points out that the wrong kind of "first aid" is worse than none at all, for unintelligent handling may convert simple fractures into compound fractures, shock may be aggravated, or other complications ensue. Under Red Cross first aid technique victims are turned over to doctors in the best possible condition for treatment.

Chance to Knock Mailmen From Pedestal Is Missed

Office Team Goes Into Game Lead With None Lost

A high game of only $85, the office bowlers offered a wonderful opportunity to Field Club No. 1 to end the mailmen's long streak. But the Field Club muffed the chance, and the Post Office into a five-point lead with fifteen and none lost. Although P. O. missed 800 by the third, they won the game by pins.

Hallinger, Englewood Press, rapped off the best single clean 245, which he commuted with a clean 196 for average for the night. But he excelled this average, with a high 224.

Elks 1 and 2 and 2 wound up in second week and there are plenty all down the line. Men's Club matches next week.

"BURT" SMITH PLAYED WITH LITTLE SCHOOL THAT BEAT BIG ONES

Produced Englewood's First Championship Track Team in Decade

This is the fifth of a series of articles dealing with the Englewood athletic coaches.

Wilbur J. Smith, known as "Burt" to his intimates, was hailed as the Englewood High School "miracle man" this year when his track team won the Northern New Jersey Interscholastic League championship for the first time in a decade.

The quiet, modest Maroon mentor has been turning out good track teams at Englewood since 1920, but he has been overlooked in the rush. He has sometimes been referred to as the "Forgotten Man."

Smith was born in North Tonawanda, N. Y., starting his athletic career at the North Tonawanda High School. Tonawanda used to take on the bigger high schools and give them a sound licking until Buffalo and Niagara institutions refused to schedule them.

Four-Letter Man

While at North Tonawanda, "Burt" established an enviable reputation as a four-letter man. He scintillated on the football and track teams for four years and starred for the basketball and swimming teams for three seasons. He was also the only athlete ever to be elected captain of four teams. The present Englewood coach captained the football team in his junior and senior years; the basketball team in his junior year and the swimming and track teams in his last year.

In 1920, Smith was honored with a halfback post on the All-Western New York Scholastic football team. Upon being graduated from North Tonawanda, "Burt" received a scholarship to the University of Buffalo. He was able to stay at the New York school for only one year but found time to play halfback on the varsity football team.

The next year found him athletic director of the Y. M. C. A. in his home town. He stayed in North Tonawanda for a full year and then matriculated at Springfield, entering in 1923.

Smith entered Springfield as a freshman and promptly made the first-year football, basketball and track squads. He then spent three years on the football team as a halfback and a quarterback and an equal number of years as a sprinter on the track team. He was also a member of the basketball squad for two years.

Smith also found time to capture the inter-class 158-pound boxing championship.

Coch at Lakewood

In 1927, after his graduation, he secured a position as coach and physical training director at Lakewood High School. He spent two years at the South Jersey school and turned out good football, basketball and track teams.

Princeton High School was his nemesis, keeping him from winning state championships in football and basketball. Over a period of two years his football teams won 12 games while losing only three contests. The basketball team copped 27 games and lost only five, being eliminated from the state tournament in the final round of the sectional contests by Princeton both years.

Smith's basketball team played Manasquan High School, which was coached by Jim Kirkland, present Englewood baseball coach, and defeated them by a 74-14 score. His track squads were also undefeated over a two-year period.

In 1928, Smith came to Englewood, succeeding Jimmy Sanderson as football and track coach. He came at a time when Englewood was in the doldrums of a terrific football slump and was the victim of a lack of material. After coaching for three years he was forced to resign due to his increased physical training program.

During the six years that he has coached the track team, Smith has turned out several prominent stars and also kept the local tracksters in the first division in every year.

Produced Good Players

Among the football players turned out during the Smith regime was Ben Cohen, All State guard; Frank White, all County halfback; Larry Owens, present captain and star end of the Hampton College eleven; Norman Ruble, present Hamilton College fullback; George Capone, All-League end; Quentin Capone, and Willie Aspinwall.

Bill Peterson, captain of the 1931 Columbia University track team and holder of the metropolitan half-mile record, was a product of Smith's, being adjudged as the best half-mile runner in the state during his high school career.

In addition to Peterson, Smith has also coached such track stars as Howard Brown, Jim Fraser, Tom Graham, Sander Hillman, Bela Hampo, Bill Baker, Quentin Cudney, Bill Herbert, Dave Francis and the Princeton Alumni relay record-holders, Ritchie Suter, Ralph Westcott, Charlie Dever and Gordon Meyer. Meyer, now a student at Michigan State College, was also the state quarter-mile champion.

Tenafly Beats Teaneck After Trailing 2 Quarters

The margin of a point after touchdown gave Tenafly a hard-earned 7-6 triumph over Teaneck Tuesday afternoon at the Teaneck Field.

Overcoming a 8-point deficit, the Tigers started to go to work in earnest in the third quarter and with Captain Jimmy Conti showing the way, pushed the tying touchdown across. Al Lavedon's placement kick gave them a 7-6 victory.

ESKIMOS TRIUMPH OVER BRUNTS STARS

Carl Zenk Responsible For Both Touchdowns

The Fallades Park Eskimos, defeated only once this season, scored their most notable victory of the season Sunday afternoon, when they hung up a 12-7 victory over Art Brun's Rutgers All Stars at the Fort Lee A. C. field before a capacity crowd.

Carl Zenk, burly halfback and former Leonia High School ace, supplied the power as the Eskimos won. The backfield powerhouse got off for dashes of 42 and 71 yards to rack up both Eskimo scores.

Eskimos Score First

The Eskimos drew first blood in the opening quarter. The touchdown caught the All Stars. Johnny Hellock, Eskimo guard, reached up and intercepted a pass thrown by Jack Liddy. The interception came deep in Eskimo territory. However, on the next play, Jimmy McHollan fumbled back and tossed a forward to Carl Zenk, who took it on the dead run on the Rutgers 42-yard mark. The big halfback threaded his way down the sidelines to cross the goal line. Federer's placement kick was blocked by three Rutgers linemen.

Rutgers came back in the same session to take the lead. Liddy tossed a pass to Lou Hernandez for a touchdown and Martin Remore, former Fort Lee All-County end, converted with a drop kick to give the Rutgers eleven a 7-6 lead.

Zenk Gets Away

Zenk again got going in the second quarter to give the Eskimos a victory. After an exchange of punts, Fallades Park took the ball on its own 29-yard mark. Zenk took the ball, cut off tackle, veered to the sidelines and sprinted 71 yards to score and give the Eskimos a 12-7 lead.

Both teams battled valiantly to score in the second half but bitter goal line stands kept the scoreboard free.

Alumni Still Angling For Sunday Opponent

The Englewood Alumni football team, victorious in its last three starts, will seek its fourth consecutive win Sunday afternoon at White Stadium against a still undesignated opponent. The Alumni are angling for a game with either the New Milford Crusaders or River Edge.

Frank White, who returned to action last week to dash 80 yards against the Teaneck Mercuries, will again be in the line-up.

In addition to White, the Alumni will have "Nip" Gallione at quarterback; Andy Dalla Pozza and Al Romney at the halves and George Hanges at fullback with Al Mollis and Vic Cosmal in reserve.

The forward wall will be made up of Mebert and Davies, ends; Tarditi and McDonald, tackles; Holmgren and Hoescher, guards, and Mulrany at center. Terhune, Hillman, Stewart, Gachone and Becker will be in reserve.

Substitutions: Eskimos—McDonald, Platt, Sivals, Davidson, Saffins, Lutz, Vetro, Rutgers—Abbott, Rooco, Shott, Christenson.

THREE IN A ROW SOUGHT BY SAINTS IN MONDAY CONTEST Will Play Ridgefield Park At White Stadium; Start Local Reserves

St. Cecilia, with two consecutive victories to its credit, will attempt to make it three in a row Monday afternoon, meeting Ridgefield Park at White Stadium.

The Parkers, defeated for the first time in their last start against Rutherford, will furnish "Red" Gebhard's eleven with plenty of opposition. Despite their 20-0 defeat, Ridgefield Park still ranks among the leading teams in the county.

The Park's main weapon will be a passing attack that has gained them triumphs over Tenafly, Tenneck, Leonia, Cliffside Park and Ridgefield. With Henry Reis on the throwing end and Gibson, Feltri and Ross on the receiving end, the Scarlet boasts of one of the best passing attacks in the county.

However, the Saints will combat this with a passing attack of its own. Captain Bill Murray and Joe Echols are accurate tossers and Joe Echols like Joe Carney, Don McKeever, Smith and Hulton to do the catching, the game is likely to develop into an air battle with the best pass defense coming out on top.

Coach Gebhard's starting backfield will have Captain Murray at quarterback; Joe Carney and Jim Echols at the halfbacks and Jim Cantini at fullback. These four men have been doing a fine job all season and with Danny Gordon and Don McKeever as reserves, present a capable ball-carrying sextet.

The St. Cecilia second team line has played in the last two games and Gebhard has been well satisfied with their performance. With the exception of Dominick Gregano, the reserves will take the field Monday against the Park.

Miler and Kover will get the call at the wings with Hulton and Smith, former ends, taking care of the tackles. Gregano and Conkley will hold down the guard posts with Di-Orto at center. These seven boys have played well in the two chances given them by Coach Gebhard and they will probably stay in the game until they weaken.

The first-string line of Doolan, Murphy, Gregano, Wurm, Quinn, Hart and Smith will probably take over the job when the Scarlet starts to wear the lighter suits down.

Ridgefield Park's starting backfield will have "Steady" Koenig at quarterback; George Gibson and Joe Feltri at the halves with Frank Heil at fullback. Gibson and Feltri are among the leading scorers in the county and they hope to increase their total against the Saints Monday.

The line will feature Walsh and Ross, ends; huge Jerry Perry and Hamilton at the tackles with Lewis, Captain Wemerholm and McKinney guarding the center trio.

Stars Already Signed For Six-Day Bike Race

New York's fifty-ninth International six-day bicycle race will open in Madison Square Garden, December 1 and run one week to December 7. HARVARD FOOTBALL TEAM AT PRINCETON SATURDAY

When the Harvard football team comes to Palmer Stadium on Saturday for the 31st contest of its long-standing series with Princeton, it will be making its first visit in a decade to the campus of the New Jersey university.

Saturday's contest is the second in the two-game-home-and-home series arranged to end the hiatus in football relations between the two universities which had existed since 1926. Princeton won the first game of this series, played in Cambridge last fall, 10 to 0.

Tenafly Grads Lose To Ridgewood, 20-10

The Ridgewood Alumni had one good quarter last Sunday afternoon and succeeded in climbing to the top of the county football heap by defeating the Tenafly Alumni, 20-10, at the Glen Rock Oval, Ridgewood.

Eddie Pond was sent into the fray late in the game and promptly proceeded to score for Tenafly. Added off small gains, finally taking a pass from Zurla for a touchdown. Tenafly (10) Ridgewood (20)

HACKENSACK ALUMNI IN SURPRISE VICTORY

Coffey's Passes Lead to Win Over Rutherford

With Bill Coffey again playing the star role, the Hackensack Alumni scored a surprising triumph over the Rutherford Alumni Sunday afternoon at the Rutherford field. Coffey's passes led to a 14-0 victory.

Hackensack took the lead in the second quarter when Coffey whipped a 30-yard pass to Rychie, who had only a few steps to go for a touchdown. Rychie was in the clear when he caught the ball and had little difficulty scoring. Coffey dropped the extra point.

Rutherford failed in the same quarter, using a passing attack to good advantage. Matty Love tossed a 20-yard pass to Curcio, who was downed on the 1-yard mark. Love then crashed off tackle to score.

In the last session, Hackensack assured itself of victory when Rychie broke through to block Keyes' punt and fell on it in the end zone. Coffey again drop-kicked the extra point to make the final score 14-0.

The Hackensack High School second reversed the score of the varsity game, defeating the Englewood reserves by a 6-0 score Monday afternoon at the White Stadium.

The Comet battled on even terms in the first half but led by Perry Sawyer drove down the field to score in the third quarter. Sawyer early maxed the drive by punning off tackle from the 1-yard stripe early in the third session. For Englewood, Norma Trask, blonde sophomore, will fullback was the chief ground gainer while Ed Aubry glittered on the line.
