

Dog Situation Discussed By Commissioners

Meeting informally to clear up a number of issues and discuss plans, the East Millstone Board of Commissioners met in the schoolhouse Wednesday night.

Commissioner Harry Hough informed the board that he had heard numerous comments concerning the enforcement of the dog ordinance.

In November it was brought to the attention of the board that packs of stray dogs had been roaming the town, disrupting sleep, and that dog owners were not obeying the laws. Several people having been bitten, the commissioners decided to act to enforce the ordinance.

A notice was posted prominently throughout the town saying that the town had engaged the services of Joseph Sanfratello, dog catcher, and that the warden would make frequent, unannounced visits to pick up all dogs which were running at large.

The town dog ordinance states that all dogs running at large and not on a leash accompanied by a responsible person, all dogs who are running free without a suitable muzzle, and all unlicensed dogs will be impounded by the dog warden in conformance with the state health laws.

According to Hough and other members of the board, there has been much unfavorable comment by local residents since the warden made his first unannounced visit at the beginning of this week. The commissioners said that this comment was uncalled for, since notices had been posted and that the people should, by this time, be fully aware of what is going on.

Commissioner Reilly informed the board that several people had inquired as to whether or not the warden could chase a dog through their yards. Reilly said that, if the warden was chasing the dog at the time, he was allowed to chase it through someone's yard, since it was improbable that the dogs would stay on the roads while being chased. He said that it was just the same as a police case; if a fugitive is being chased, the officer can follow him into a different community. However, he also said that the warden could not take a dog that was already in someone's yard unless he first asked the house owner whether or not the dog belonged at the home.

All dogs picked up by the dog catcher are kept for seven days in the warden's new, modern pound. If they are licensed, if they are unlicensed, they are kept only seventy-two hours. During these periods, the dogs may be claimed by their owners if the owner pays a fine and the pound boarding costs. If they are not claimed, the dogs are destroyed in a humane gas chamber.

Discuss Snow Removal

Commenting on the recent snowstorm, Commissioner William Brokaw told the board that two local residents, Alex Busky and Norman Hiles, had borrowed a county snow plow and cleared the town roads themselves. Otherwise, he said, it was improbable that the streets would have been opened immediately, since no work had been done up until that time by county or township roadmen on the town streets. The board proffered the two good Samaritans a vote of thanks and discussed what would be done in the event of future storms so that the streets could be cleared as quickly as possible. Brokaw was

At long last, the curtain has gone up on the 1948 basketball season in Franklin Township. The league that we've been harping on for the past two months finally got going Wednesday night. From now on, action is expected to be fast and furious, with both the senior and junior loops facing heavy schedules. Interest is high in the league and we have a strong feeling that it will increase even more in the weeks to come.

When the circuit made its debut last year, there was action aplenty, but one thing, a very important thing, was missing. There was no cheering.

But by the end of the season, things were decidedly different. The players began to bring along their own cheering sections and basketball lovers from the Pine Grove and Hamilton St. sector started turning out in droves when they realized what they had been missing. Many of them were older folks, too, believe it or not!

That's what we like to see. Wednesday night saw a turnout of only about 75 fans because of the lack of publicity for the opening date which originally was to have been last Friday, but had to be postponed because of the weather. But we fear that the tiny court will be packed to the rafters when the standing straighten themselves out and interest really begins to mount.

It's wonderful! There is nothing finer, in our book, than the spirit of competition. Of course, there is a limit to everything and we hope that fans and players alike will not overdo the partisan angle. After all, it pays to remember always that "it's only a game."

And while we're talking about the league, we'd like to say that we think it's the greatest thing to hit these parts in ages. As our cohort, The Onlooker, one said, "Heaven knows, it's been needed for a long, long time."

But a basketball league won't solve the recreation problem all the year 'round only for a few months. No, much more in the way of recreation is needed.

Last year, rumors were numerous about having a baseball league to keep the fellas occupied during the long summer months. When the league was to be formed last July a number of fields were selected for the purpose of transforming them into baseball diamonds. Three fields were scraped by township vehicles, but, after this had been done, the league rumor died. A few pieces of equipment were passed around in late August, but the league idea apparently fell through completely.

We feel that a baseball league is definitely needed. So, just purely as a suggestion, we say, why don't the managers of baseball clubs in the township get together before spring and lay careful plans for the coming season?

Of course, with basketball. To this, we have only one answer. It's not wise to wait until the last minute to act. That's what has happened things up in the past.

For instance, if the basketball hoop had been organized during the summer and the schedule made up during November, one whole month of play might not have been lost.

How about it? Get in touch with the RECORD if you're interested in a baseball league and we'll arrange a meeting.

The Onlooker

By Len Ruppert

Gosh! We can't believe that another week has zipped by already. . . . But it has, believe it or not, so we'd better get to work right now. . . . Before we do, however, we'd like to straighten out something we said last week. . . . We have you our views concerning people who retard all efforts to provide an adequate recreation program for the boys and girls. In reading over the column, we noted that we condemned the churches and certain school board officials for not co-operating, saying that "as it now stands, they (the churches and the schools) are lifeless and backward". . . . This is only partly true. The churches, or at least some of them, it is true, do not help the effort very much. But we fear that we've given you the impression that the school board is also following this misguided path. If we have, we're sorry, for it is not true. . . . We said that certain members of the board were apparently against the program, and that is correct, but the board as a whole is behind the project 100 per cent; in fact, it couldn't have been possible without the group's aid. To those progressive members of the board who are backing the program wholeheartedly, we give our laurels for this or any other year. . . . We hear that Dick Rupper (no relation) has resigned his job as clerk of the East Millstone Board of Commissioners. Too bad. He was doing a wonderful job and will be sorely missed. His shoes will be filled by Fred Bishop, Sr. . . . Say, while we're on the subject of the E. M. Board of Commissioners, we'd like to offer a suggestion. . . . For a long, long time there has been a definite friction between the Township and East Millstone governments, although it may not be admitted. As things now stand, nobody in East Millstone knows "what the score is" concerning just how much power the township has over East Millstone affairs. Frequently, arguments are held about whether the township police officers can operate in the town, whether a Franklin Township building permit has to be obtained before a house can be erected there, etc., etc. . . . The people are completely in the dark and even the commissioners are vague on the subject. . . . To us, it appears the only sensible thing to do is to arrange a meeting between the Board and the Township Committee to straighten everything out for heaven knows, there's plenty to straighten out. . . . We know the two organizations equally well and we have the highest regard for the members of both. They are sincere in their desire to make the township a better place to live in; that is unquestionable. So why not have such a get-together and talk things out over the table. . . . Then the next thing to do would be to have an open meeting in East Millstone, presided over by the commissioners, at which the people could be informed as to just where they stand. . . . Did you hear the one about the army veteran who attempted to hold up another veteran? Well, the hold-up guy sez, "If you don't hand over the dough, I'll drill ya!" . . . "Oh year," sez the victim, "Go ahead, I dare you." . . . "Okay," sez the hold-upper, "you asked for it!—Hup, two, three, four—Hup, two, three, four. . . . Ouch! . . . Police Chief Ed Voorhees

PHONE CO. TO ADJUST ACCOUNTS

The New Jersey Bell Telephone Company has announced that all of its customers who were without service for a day or longer because of the sleet storm of January 1 and 2 will receive an adjustment in charges for services.

Due to the volume of work involved in checking individual accounts, the amounts credited will be indicated on the February rather than on the January bills, the company noted.

Dog Pound Opens

The new dog pound erected on Church Hill Ave. by Joseph Sanfratello, township dog catcher, was officially opened on Monday after being approved by the State Dept. of Health the previous week.

The pound, constructed to conform with state health laws and cited by the New Jersey Dept. of Health as one of the most modern buildings of its type in the state, will replace the pound which Sanfratello now operates at Franklin Blvd. and Hamilton St.

The bulletin discusses in easy-to-understand language the problems faced by the farmer in figuring his income taxes. It shows how to fill out forms, and answers many tricky questions.

tells us that Russ Pfeiffer is looking for us. In case you don't know Mr. Pfeiffer, he's the patrolman whom we called the "Dick Tracy" of the township force in the policemen article last week. Maybe that's what he wants to see us for . . . Gee, we hope he don't carry his gun when he's off duty! Hey, fellas, if you're single and looking for a gal, we know where they've been hiding. We took a ride through Franklin Park about a week ago and we had to stop the car and put our eyes back in their sockets when we saw the array of beautiful wimmin running around that section . . . Wow! No wonder the Franklin Park fellows didn't enter a team in the township basketball league; they've got plenty of recreation right at home . . . Say, we were talking about East Millstone a while back and we forgot to say that those people who are wondering what the dog catcher is doing up around those parts for the first time in years had better read the article dealing with the subject which is elsewhere on this page . . . So we'll say it now—Walt a minute, we just said it didn't we? . . . For the yummiest bake shop stuff that you've had in a long time, try the bake shop which is located behind the Colonial Farms restaurant in Middlebush. You won't be sorry. Nellie Hart does much of the baking and if you don't believe that she knows how to cook, just take a look at her husband Jack and you'll change your mind in a hurry . . . It's too bad that this isn't a gossip column. Boy, we could rattle off the latest "coosome twosomes" all night long. Oh well, maybe it's a good thing; a libel suit wouldn't be very welcome just now. Neither would a black eye! . . . And when you're saying your prayers, kiddies, be sure to remember Joe Staudt and Stephen Reid, Sr., who are doing so much to provide you with something to do at night so you'll stay off the streets. They deserve your thanks . . . That's all folks!

Swishers Romp Over E. Millstone

Another new entrant, the Swishers, also came up with a victory, flogging off the East Millstone A. C., 39-28, in the cleanest setto of the night, only four fouls being called.

The outstanding performer of the meeting was, without a doubt, Walt Mazurak, former Bound Brook High School luminary, who singled the cords for 18 points. Mazurak seemingly couldn't miss and nearly everything he shot went in.

But when it came to fancy shooting, the display put on by George Wilmot and Frank Nagle of the losers undoubtedly took the cake. Finding that the Swisher defense made it impossible to work the ball in under the basket for lay-up shots, the two Millstoners took to the air—long range. They were putting them in from half and three-quarter court with equal ease and only the scoring efforts of Mazurak and Frank Kemp, combined with the absence of John Shedden, one of last season's leading scorers, made the difference between a win and a loss for the A. C.'ers.

Boy's Club Tops Middlebush, 41-28

Functioning like a smooth, well-oiled machine, the Boy's Club smothered the Middlebush five, 41-28, in the night's most one-sided meeting.

By winning, the Home Streeters, newcomers to the circuit, served notice on the rest of the entrants that they are definitely one of the teams to beat for titular honors.

Right from the beginning, there was little doubt as to the game's outcome as the Middlebushers fell rapidly behind, seriously hampered by the absence of Mel Thompson, their ace performer and a member of last season's all-star five.

The first half saw a scoring duel between Frank Shirley and Roy Reynolds take the spotlight. The two finally tied for the game's scoring laurels, finishing up with 13 counters each.

The floor play of the well-oiled winners was something to see.

Their defense was impene- for most of the game, the ers being forced to take many long set shots. During the first half, play was fast and scoring prolific, but, by the time the third and fourth periods had rolled around, both teams were breathless and the pace slowed to a comparative walk. Only fifteen points went through the cords during the last half.

For the winners, the story was all Shirley, Tornello, Zangara, and Yetsko. Zangara was especially peppy on the floor and his four points belie his effectiveness.

The Middlebush standout was very definitely Reynolds. The capable center did yeoman work on the boards and connected with a number of tricky shots. Reid was his old self when he handled the ball, very tricky, but his long shots, which netted many a point last season, were missing the rim. Dunham also looked good.

Sportsmen Nipped By Eagles, 29-26

Confident and cocky, the Franklin Eagles took the floor to officially open loop play Wednesday night opposed by the equally confident Sportsmen cagers.

The game was a tight affair, surprising many "experts" who expected the Eagles to romp home easily. In fact, the only member of the winning team who looked up to par on shooting was Elmer Lucas who netted 14 counters. In floor play, however, it was a much different story. Pritz, Gross, Gobac and Sabo, all familiar names from last season, sparkled when they handled the ball and all played a good defensive game.

The game left little to choose between the two opponents. Both played a rough game, although only ten fouls were called. The Sportsmen were equally as adept on the floor as the Eagles and only their superior speed and wealth of subs saved the day for the champs.

Leading the Sportsmen were Halasz and Forti. Halasz kept the losers in the game time after time with his unerring shots. But Forti was the brightest light for the Sports, holding his own under the basket and leading the team in scoring with nine counters. Dunsenko controlled many of the rebounds for his mates although he went scoreless.

Basketball Loop Makes Its Debut

The Franklin Township basketball league, sponsored by the Township Committee's Youth Council with the co-operation of the School Board, was officially opened Wednesday night in Pine Grove School.

Committeeman Joseph Staudt and Tax Assessor Stephen Reid were on hand for the opening, which was under the direction of Michael Bednarik, an instructor at the school, who will be in charge of league activities.

The loop was originally formed last year when the need for a recreation program was brought to the attention of the Township Committee and the School Board, partly by a group of interested boys. The two organizations considered the proposal carefully and decided to follow the idea through. A league head was appointed and a schedule mapped out. Then, in December, play began with six teams seeing action. Interest in the league began to mount rapidly and more and more boys took part as the season progressed.

The schedule was highlighted by a play-off between the first half winners and the second half winners which was won by the Franklin V.F.W. The victors received jackets denoting their championship and the runners-up, the Blazers, also were rewarded.

This year, the Township Committee, seeing the value of such an undertaking, laid its plans even more carefully. A Youth Council, composed of interested citizens, was appointed to direct a recreation program. The league, now under the jurisdiction of the council, was reformed and another circuit is being assembled to give the boys under the age of 17 a chance to take part. The school board has again co-operated by allowing the use of Pine Grove

ON THE RAILROAD

How many railroads operate in New Jersey?

You're correct if your answer is fourteen . . . that's right, 14 lines operate throughout our great state. What's more, eight of these railroads run trunk lines to all parts of the nation. More than 1000 passenger trains and 300 freight trains operate within the state every day, on the most concentrated trackage per square mile in the country.

These are some of the facts contributing to the diversified industrial might of New Jersey. With more than 200 classifications of skilled labor, our state ranks sixth in the country in total value of manufactured products.

Public Service Electric and Gas Company, public servant of a great state, commends the railroad industry on its accomplishments and its plans for continued growth.

He outlined his organization's activities since its birth last year, stating that nineteen members had successfully passed a recognized first aid course and now held state first aid cards. He said that an ambulance had been purchased and many calls had been answered during the squad's first months of operation. He discussed the benefits of the squad and said that an organized drive for funds would soon get under way.

He asked the board whether or not it would cooperate in financially aiding the squad and was told that his proposal would be given serious consideration. The commissioners expressed their approval of the first aid project and praised Dusky for his fine work.
