tween the river and canal could be undertaken by the township. Aid of the committee was sought in the association's request to have the Somerset Board of Freeholders take over Canal Rd.

Nichols pointed out that if the Canal Rd. between Griggstown and Rocky Hill were improved it might be possible to divert the bus which now travels out the Bunker Hill Rd. to include this area which really requires such service. Nichols also pointed out that the bridge over the canal will shortly be closed for repairs, considerably increasing the traffic load on that portion of Canal Rd. The petition which the association plans to submit to the County Board states that the township is not financially able to assume the burden of improving the road.

Following a discussion the delegation was advised to petition the county for improvement of the causeway as well, at the regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders Oct. 22, at 11 a. m. It was arranged that members of the township committee accompany the petitioning delegation. Henry Hohl, chairman of the association's road committee will make the presentation.

Pope, township attorney. Mr. Pope explained that an act of Congress last year had freed all pipe-line equipment from retable tax but that real estate held by the company could be taxed. A conference with company representatives had resulted in their agreeing to pay back taxes if the interest on these taxes were waived.

A balance of $135,739.84 was reported by Alice Hageman, township treasurer.

Russell E. Watson, chairman of the committee, reported that the committee had requested the telephone company to take some action following a petition received from residents last December. Company officials informed the committee at that time that improved service would be in effect by October. The change-over to dial phones and choice of service to residential phones has been completed on schedule. All business phones are now on private lines.

New Edition Of Mrs. Carlson's Book

A revised second edition of a book on the planning of children's parties was released Monday by the Abingdon-Cokesbury Press. The author is Bernice Wells Carlson, wife of Dr. Carl Carlson of Wheeler Place, R. No. 3, Franklin Township. The book was originally planned for joint use by adult leaders and children but the "Junior Party Book" was found to be so simply and attractively presented that the children themselves have taken it over. In her planning Mrs. Carlson indicates that the children should have an active experience in the party. They help with plans, act the host and help with the cleaning up. Refreshments are scheduled so as not to interfere with meals, and game activities are geared to the age level of the children participating.

The book is dedicated to the Carlson children, Christine 10 and Philip, 5, who have themselves contributed many suggestions for party planning.

The first edition is listed in the Children's Catalog and the American Library Association. Mrs. Carlson has recently completed a 15,000-word piece on "Planning a Party" for a new volume "Creative Play" as part of the "Childcraft Encyclopedia" published by the Quarrie Corporation.

Mrs. Carlson has been active in local organizations. She organized and is leader of Brownie Scout Troop 2, is on the executive board of the Middlebush P.T.A. and a member of the Women's Bible Class of the Presbyterian Church. When Dr. Carlson was teaching at Rutgers, Mrs. Carlson was active in the Newcomer's Club of the Women's League of Rutgers University. Dr. Carlson is now associate professor of chemical engineering at the Newark College of Engineering. The Carlsons came to Franklin Township four years ago from East Lansing, Mich.

suitable for use on the compost pile.

If you have grown corn, destroy the stalks before winter. They can be played under, of course, but the small garden does not usually permit this treatment. They can be dug under, and in this way the organic matter is preserved, but this is a job. The stem and roots need to be covered with 4 to 6 inches of soil.

The easiest way is to burn the stalks and the crop of insects. This is best done before winter sets in.

This pleasant fall weather affords opportunity to do the preliminary pruning on raspberries and blackberries. Those canes that bore fruits should have been removed as soon as the crop was harvested. If you haven't done it, do it now. The fruiting canes are biennial. That is, they grow one season, fruit the next and then die. Unless you get rid of them, the plants will suffer.

Smallest calf ever delivered to the Milwaukee, Wis., stockyards is this Black Angus bull, which workers have tied to a fire hydrant. It is two or more years old, weighs 155 pounds and is only 28 inches high. The average calf of similar weight would be from three to four weeks old.

YOUR GARDEN

There are still some Mexican bean beetles around, so if you have beans growing, keep on dusting with rotenone. If you have bean plants that have finished cropping, get rid of them.

The best way to do this is to dig them under, making sure that the old plants are covered at least four inches. This will prevent the escape of the insects in the spring. This material is not

IMPROVED POLICE COVERAGE REPORTED

It is indicated that the new system of police patrol inaugurated in the township this month has been giving much better patrol coverage without adding to cost of operation of the department, according to Police Chief Ed F. Voorhees.
In the past night patrol was given on the weekend and advantage was taken when this fact became known by drivers. Under the new system patrol hours are staggered so that night patrol is available every day of the week over a two-week period. In spite of this far more adequate coverage the police traveled a total of 1,214 miles while spending 185 hours on duty as compared with a total of 1,480 miles covered in patrol while spending 192 hours on duty during the month of August.
Twenty-seven arrests were made during the month of September but with the exception of motor vehicle arrests the township has been quiet, said Chief Voorhees. Nineteen of the 27 arrests made for motor vehicle violations, five for disorderly conduct, one for building code violation and two for other department. In addition three accidents were investigated and eight warnings were issued. Under the new policy two warnings will warrant an arrest.

4-H Exhibits Held

Exhibits of 4-H Club activities were held at the State Agricultural Experiment Station Saturday. Approximately 100 young participants from all parts of the state demonstrated various phases of 4-H Club work, including preparation for canning, the making of baked goods and sandwiches, methods of washing, care of animals, inoculation practices and other homemaking and agricultural techniques.
Francis Stults and Gail Purdy of Kingston demonstrated the proper methods of preparing fruit jars for canning. Robert Stults, also of Kingston, gave an illustrated talk on the killing of turf weeds.
Following a picnic lunch the 4-H Club members were the guests of the university at the Rutgers-Temple football game held in the Rutgers Stadium.

Good Telephone Service requires GOOD TRANSPORTATION!

- How many cars and trucks do you think are needed to take care of New Jersey's telephone system?
- Actually, well over 2,500—ranging in size from neighborhood installation or repair trucks, up to 10-ton giants that can dig a hole and set a pole in a few minutes' time. Altogether, telephone cars and trucks cover more than 18,000,000 miles a year—with accidents, even a dented fender, few and far between.
- Safe, efficient transportation is an important factor in providing your telephone service and keeping it dependable.

Two planks for every pop's platform

YOU'RE A CINCH—a shoo-in—a sure thing to win top spot in your family's eyes if you follow this 2-point campaign:

1. Tell 'em you've discovered how to save money AUTOMATICALLY! They'll think you're wonderful, and you will be!

For you will have signed up with the Payroll Savings Plan, and part of your earnings will be going surely, steadily, automatically into U.S. Savings Bonds.

2. Tell 'em what Savings Bonds mean—TO THEM! Explain how those regular Bond purchases are the quick, easy way to build an emergency fund, and a nest egg for their security!

Show them how it means money for their futures—for a home in the country, for trips and travel, for college educations, for all the things they really want. (There's actually no need to tell them about that retirement fund for yourself.)

Then, of course, you can also talk about the generous interest these Savings Bonds earn—$4 for $3 in just 10 years. And about the way buying Bonds helps fight inflation. And about being able to buy extra Bonds any time, at any bank or post office.

Why, with a campaign like that, you'll be elected to the American Family's Hall of Fame. And you'll deserve it!
