The Kingston Presbyterian Church celebrated its 100th anniversary of the building of its church with a homecoming of parishioners.

The original church, built in 1852, stood in what now is the Kingston Cemetery.

Mrs. Ralph Snediker, Mrs. William Silvers, Mrs. Eugene Purdy and Mrs. C. C. Van Voorhes served noonday lunches and snacks to the many visitors who attended. Friends and former members of the church who have moved away were made especially welcome.

In the morning service, the Rev. Earl L. Fritz spoke on the theme, "Faith of Our Fathers."

In the afternoon program, a history of the church compiled and written by Dr. E. VanDyke Wight was read by George V. D. Perrine, who prepared the afternoon program with assistance of Harold Freeman and Charles Stults.

The accident occurred at the corner of Bristol and Central Aves. in New Brunswick.

2 Area Men Join Donor Tribute To Navy Dead

Two area men were among the crew of the USS Helena who recently contributed a pint of blood to the Armed Forces Blood drive as a tribute to 30 victims of an accidental gun-turret explosion aboard the USS St. Paul.

They are: Henry F. Buser, electronics technician, third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buser, Route 4, Box 165, New Brunswick; and Robert Bork, Bork's mate, second class, 432 Donalson St., Highland Park.

The St. Paul is a sister ship of the Helena. The explosion in the gun turret of the St. Paul took place shortly after the Helena left Korean waters for the United States. The crew-wide blood donation marks the second time this year that the Helena's men have made donations to the blood drive. The Helena is now in repair dry-dock at Long Beach, Calif.

Plane Spotters Last 'Dry Run' Set for July 11

From 125 to 150 persons are expected to attend the July 11 meeting of the Griggstown Ground Observer Corps to make final plans to go on a 24-hour-a-day schedule for the Air Force.

Observer Director Edward Fornquist said the meeting will be the final "dry run" for observers who will be called upon to watch the skies for airplanes night and day.

The meeting will be held in the Griggstown firehouse, where telephones will be set up and persons will work in pairs to relay information about airplanes to the Air Force filter center in White Plains, N. Y.

The air spotters' shed which was donated to the group has been placed in the Sunset Hill section of Griggstown. Telephones and electric power will be installed by July 14, at which time the post is scheduled to begin daily work.

The air spotters group is now renovating the 9-foot-square shed.

Horvath Lifts City Water Ban As Usage Drops

City officials yesterday lifted the water ban which prevented residents from washing cars, sprinkling lawns and gardens and hosing porches and sidewalks during evening hours and weekends.

At the same time, however, Commissioner Luke Horvath urged that the public be careful in its use of water.

and particularly the merchants, industrialists and other large users of water has been excellent," Horvath said.

He estimated that cooling systems operated locally are using as much as 1,500,000 gallons of water daily. However, cooling systems have been inoperative since last Friday, causing consumption to drop considerably.

THE CITY was faced with the possibility of water rationing last week when the mercury hit over 100. Water consumption then rose to 15 million gallons a day.

According to Horvath, water consumed Monday was down to 11,334,000 while Tuesday it hit 11,231,000.

"All we ask is that water be used with care," Horvath added. "Although the water department can handle the situation without much trouble, we're still making arrangements to tap the Delaware and Raritan Canal to meet future emergencies."

Heat Wave Death Toll In Area Among Highest

The heat-wave death toll in the New Brunswick area was among the highest in the state where a total of 60 deaths from heat was recorded last week.

Area death total came to six persons, of whom four were residents of this city. They were Howard J. Layton of 74 Remsen Ave., janitor at Rutgers University, found dead in his library annex; James Howard Reynolds, 49 Commercial Ave.; George Diehm of 261 Commercial Ave.; and Henry A. Nelson of 262 Sandford St. The latter three died in their homes.

The four-day heat wave brought thermometer readings in New Brunswick to the hundred mark and kept it between 90 and 100 until a cool air mass from Canada moved down to the northeastern states to bring relief.

Law to Solve Parking Problem

A new ordinance designed to settle New Brunswick's parking problem was adopted Wednesday by the City Commission.

The measure provides that new buildings erected in the future must provide parking facilities.

Dwellings must provide either indoor or paved outdoor parking as there are families in it. Restaurants, theaters, churches or other places of assembly must provide parking facilities for at least one third as many car spaces as there are seats in the building.

In the case of banks and business offices, space must be provided for at least one car for each 150 square feet of floor space and one car space for each 200 square feet of retail merchandise area in a store or similar establishment on the first floor of a building. For stores or similar establishments above or below the first floor, one car space for each 400 square feet of retail merchandise area must be provided.

Public Safety Director James T. Shine announced the appointment of Nicholas Grisehuk of 181 Seaman St. and Kenneth Delner of 213 Lawrence St. to fill vacancies in the fire department.

Other actions of the commission included: converting the lower section of New Brunswick, blueprint by the Housing Authority for re-development by private capital into a residential area extending from Burnet St. to John St. and from Albany St. to Clifton Ave.; re-

Millstone Squad Gets Nine Calls

Sidney Ruppert, chairman of the squad's fund drive, announced that a total of $1,600 of a $2,000 fund goal has been collected.

Squad President Walter Paris said the former ambulance, used by the squad is now for sale. It is a 1938 Cadillac. Interested squads or persons are invited to bid on it.

The building committee of the squad reported that a garage which was being built, is finished and now harbors the new ambulance, formerly kept in a barn.

PATKO BACK ON DUTY

Petty Officer 3c Joseph S. Patko of Franklin Park has returned to naval duty in Norfolk, Va., after spending a week at home.

Rent Controls Left To Municipal Governments

Once again, the burden of retention of rent controls in this area has been thrown on the shoulders of County municipal officials by the new Federal Controls. These officials have until Sept. 30 to move on this issue under the new Federal law passed last week.

Jobless, Disability Payments Jump

Local residents gained with the remainder of the state's workers when new state laws went into effect July 1 increasing state unemployment benefits and disability payments to workers from a maximum of $26 a week to $30.

About 18,000 state employees also started to draw higher pay under an $8,500,000 general cost-of-living adjustment of salary scales and title revisions.

Meanwhile, despite reports to the contrary in the daily press, Somerset County landlords may still petition for the right to raise rents under the new law, as the area has not been declared a "critical defense area for rents" but only for housing, according to Paul Z. Kamed, associate area rent director attorney.

UNDER THE NEW LAW, Federal rent controls will end Sept. 30 except in critical defense areas, and except in those municipalities whose governing bodies before that date ask for the continuation. The controls in any case would expire March 31, 1953, unless further extended by Congress.

Under the previous law, any municipal governing body could de-control rents by certifying that an acute housing shortage did not exist.

THE DIFFERENCE under the law is that governing bodies still having control will have to take affirmative action before Sept. 30 to have them continued. No action by that date means the end of federal restrictions on increases and evictions.

This would mean also that petitions would no longer be required for such increases, giving a free rein to landlords.

That there would be strong pressure forthcoming for retention of controls appeared probable from the consumer and labor elements. County CIO officials had already indicated the matter would be discussed at their July 18 session. AFL representatives were also planning to follow suit.

IT APPEARED almost certain that larger communities such as Newark and Jersey City would vote to retain curbs. Some believed that, in smaller communities, there might be strong pressure by landlord and real estate groups to eliminate controls completely. Some communities have taken decontrol action through their governing bodies recently. Rutherford is one of them.

The government recently declared an acute housing shortage in Middlesex County and authorized construction of 250 houses.

New Jersey has a stand-by rent control law still on the books, but this would not take effect even if the controls were lifted, as it has a provision under which local governing bodies have the final say.

Park Landfill Plan For Garbage Lauded

"We have never received a complaint," said Borough Council President Lloyd P. Burns of Highland Park yesterday in describing his borough's use of the sanitary landfill system for the proper disposal of garbage and refuse.

The system, which was recently reviewed by health and municipal officials of New Jersey, is simple in operation.

Neptune Twp., the first New Jersey municipality to establish the system, was host to the officials at the demonstration. It was arranged by the State Department of Health and the U. S. Public Health Service.

Burns told of Highland Park's introduction to the system:

"It took us nearly two years before the public was ready to accept the system. A great many of the residents feared living too close to a 'garbage dump'."

But persistence paid off and when Highland Park had to vacate its old fire dump in Raritan Twp. because of the protest of citizens there, the borough bought a piece of meadow land near the Raritan River.

Borough officials decided to establish the sanitary landfill system.

They bought a tractor and attached a shovel to the front end of it. The tractor digs trenches 6 feet deep, and 12 to 14 feet wide. Then the garbage is dumped into the trench. The tractor runs back and forth compacting the garbage in the trench. Then it is covered with dirt from the trench.

"A great many mid-West and Western communities use this system," Burns said, "and it seems to be catching on in the East."

It does away with the usual complaints of smoke, fire and rodents voiced by people living near the fire dumps most often used in New Jersey. And it doesn't take

UAW Int'l Officers Join Lincoln Mercury Parleys

Strike Vote Taken; Talks Resume On Reopening

International union officers will be called into the current negotiations for pact clause changes by United Auto Workers Local 980, CIO, when it resumes talks with Lincoln-Mercury officials next week following re-opening of the plant.

The members recently took a strike vote by an overwhelming 967 to 272 count, according to union chief George Nixon.

The union has been demanding important work condition changes, mainly improvements in heat and ventilation conditions and in the speed-up system, and production standards, as well as clarification of certain ratings, which have been the subject of bitter opposition, according to Nixon. Under the present five-year pact, which will expire in 1955, certain questions are left for arbitration, and others for bargaining. No pay increases except for a few involved in reclassification are being sought. About 1,700 men are involved.

According to Nixon, further talks may be carried on at top levels with company officials and International Union officers meeting in Detroit. International representatives have sat in during the last few sessions until talks were halted.

Union Elects William Foley

William Foley of 923 W. Third St., Plainfield, was installed as business agent of Local 18, Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers Union, AFL, last week in Elizabeth.

The night before the election he defeated Albert Doyle of Clark and Thomas Clark of Elizabeth in what turned out to be the union's first election contest in 15 years.

Foley has held the office since Jan. 3, when Albert R. May was resigned. The Plainfield man was also elected state conference delegate.

William Gerity of Woodbridge was elected president of the local while incumbent B. A. Mullen of Linden defeated Robert Fernbach of Westfield for the position of financial secretary.

Bus Drivers Now On 40-Hour Week

Public Service bus drivers, members of the AFL's Amalgamated Motor Coach Employees Local 824, are now enjoying the benefits of the 40-hour week plus a new high of $1.87 an hour pay.

This was the second step-up in pay, according to the state-wide agreement. Local 824 chief Harold Clyde revealed. A total of 17 cents in hourly hikes was gained in the two pay-jumps.

Barbers Continue Pact Conditions

A one-year renewal pact continuing the same pay and working conditions was signed recently by AFL Barbers Local 854 with the Master Barbers Association.

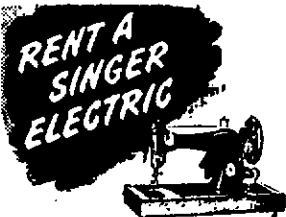

Effective until June 1, 1953, the contract involves about 120 employees in the 104 shops of the Association, according to Peter Kuhnst, union secretary-treasurer. He announced the union would also consider details of a proposed outing and dinner at its next meeting July 21st.

Bartenders Gain At Roger Smith

An organizing drive at the Roger Smith Hotel by Bartenders Local 193 is reported making headway, according to union officials.

Annabelle Kwiatkowski, union secretary-treasurer, indicated that a number of the girls had already signed, but the union was not yet ready to consider representation demands. Meanwhile, the local will hold a session Sunday evening to conclude plans for its clambake Aug. 31 at the Pines.

Personal Products Workers Win 4-Cent Pay Increase

Cost-of-living wage rises, which will increase Personal Products Co. payroll more than $40,000 annually, and fringe benefits, have been agreed upon by representatives of the International Brotherhood of Papermakers, American Federation of Labor, Milltown Local 535, and the management of the Milltown plant of Personal Products, it was announced today.

The agreement was signed formally in the plant offices this afternoon by representatives of the union and management.

Cash benefits, retroactive to June 21, total 4 cents an hour for regular employees. Also won by the union were a super-seniority clause for stewards and office employees on a six-hour weekday. They will get overtime pay for work over six hours.

No "Technological" Layoffs

The company agreed also, that in the event of layoffs due to technological advancement, no employee with two or more years of seniority will be laid off—a majority of the plant workers have attained such seniority—but will be assigned to other jobs which they are willing and able to perform.

Three days of paid death leave are provided under the contract in the event of death in the immediate family of a worker.

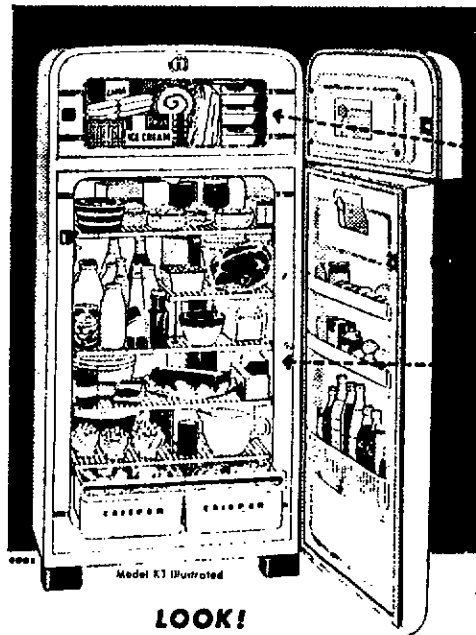

The contract also includes a wage reopening clause which may be resorted to by either of the two parties at any time.

According to Frank Cavolius, representative of the local's International, the rise was made possible by a Wage Stabilization Board ruling which advanced the base date upon which the cost-of-living (Continued on page 8)

One-Minute News from Johns-Manville

Land of the Free Home of the Brave

On July 4, 1776, a voice was heard around the world with a message that was destined to ring forever in the ears of free men. This was the Declaration of Independence, one of the greatest political documents ever written.

Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness were defended as unalienable rights. Taxation without representation, absolute despotism, and tyranny were described as the evils of the day.

And now for July 4, 1952, we can see the self-evident truth in the oft-repeated phrase, "There's nothing new under the sun." For here today we who are devoted to the great American traditions still believe in the unalienable rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness as we in like manner oppose tyranny, absolute despotism, and taxation without representation.

In our own way we must be as alert as our founding fathers. But this time our alertness must be one of preservation not revolution. We must be on guard against those who, without realizing it, would destroy the great tradition bestowed upon us by our great men of 1776.

Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness will not be replaced by taxation without representation, absolute despotism, and tyranny if we carry on in the tradition of the men who signed the Declaration of Independence.

This is one of a series of brief articles bringing you facts of community interest about Johns-Manville or about conditions affecting our national economy.

GOP's Internal Struggle Seen Aid to Democrats, Democracy

The United Nations was upheld as the best protection and insurance of the well-being of the United States in an address this week by Democratic Senatorial candidate Archibald S. Alexander before a meeting of Americans for Democratic Action in the YWCA.

Alexander condemned isolationists' views that their philosophy is the only one designed for the nation's protection and warned that America could find no security in abandoning its allies and withdrawing within its own borders.

The candidate for the office of U. S. Senator from New Jersey said the Democratic Party could take heart from the intra-party struggle for the Republican Presidential nomination now being waged by Senator Robert A. Taft and General-of-the-Army Dwight D. Eisenhower. Their struggle is working to the advantage of the Democrats, Alexander stated, and the advantage of democracy in general.

Stating that often times "we overdo our political bitterness" he called the criticism "a small price to pay for the advantages" to democracy inherent in the right to criticize. It is an advantage, he pointed out, which the one-party system of the Soviet Union cannot understand. The single-party system of the Soviet Union cannot understand. The single-party system of Russian and the American two-party system, he added, make Communism and democracy incompatible. He called for the maintenance of the two-party system. "It must not be allowed to degenerate," he declared, "as it has in the Democratic South and in some northern Republican states".

Simon Baumrind, manager of Locals 150, 157 of the ILGWU was spokesman for the union. Also present were Herbert J. Ulmer, executive director of the fund and Mrs. Cyril Nelson, the fund's public relations director.

Mr. Anderson lauded the union's members for their spirit in collecting the money "at a time when the needle trades were suffering a seasonal slump."

$2,500 Bail Set For Man Charged With Assault

Magistrate Joseph J. Takacs this week held Almon Meredith, 33, who gave his address as 51 Codwise Avenue, in $2,500 bail for grand jury action on two charges of assault and battery.

The complaints against Meredith were signed by Malcolm T. Cooney, 29 of 38 Lee Avenue and Ignatius Messores of 328 Suydam Street.

Cooney alleges Meredith shot him in the arm in front of his home early last Sunday when he attempted to question Meredith about his presence near Cooney's home.

Messores alleged Meredith beat him up on March 23 during a fight.

Meredith was arrested by Detectives Lt. Ralph C. Petrone and Capt. George F. Kane.

Bail was set when pleaded "not guilty" to both charges. Meredith is a former cab driver from Kentucky who came to this city two years ago.

Vote Registration Sought at Plants In Lunch Hours

The CIO's Political Action Committee is stepping up its drive in Middlesex County to get all voters registered with a new program of having election deputies visit industrial plants at lunch hours to register the men.

According to George Nixon, local PAC chief and sponsor of the program, the main opposition has developed from plant managers he has contacted. He is asking all plants for such consideration. An approach to a registration official has met with favorable responses to the idea, he indicated.

'Spokesman' Call Informs Dr. Jones of Presidential Praise

It took a telephone call from the New Brunswick SPOKESMAN yesterday afternoon to inform Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of Rutgers University, that he had been commended by President Harry S. Truman for his work in a water resources survey made while he was president of the University of Arkansas.

President Truman, speaking at Bull Shoals Dam, Ark., dedicated two hydroelectric dams as "symbols of the progress that has come to the South under my administration."

IN THE course of his remarks, President Truman praised Dr. Jones for his outstanding work while a member of the Water Resources Commission.

The President said: "I have been studying the report of the commission. It is probably the best and most comprehensible report ever made on the development of water resources.

"Before I leave office, I expect to have some important recommendations stemming from that report to be presented to the Congress."

DR. JONES, an extremely busy man since he took office at Old Queens in November, said he had practically "forgotten" about the report, which he had "worked hard at preparing two years ago."

It was Dr. Jones who developed the philosophy behind the recommendations of the report, which analyzes the water resources of the United States.

"I am delighted to learn that the President feels we have made a contribution to the water problem," he concluded.

Library Receives Gift of 'Alice' Masks, Prints

The Public Library has announced the acquisition of two gifts from local citizens.

One of these is a collection of masks of "Alice in Wonderland", presented by Mrs. C. Douglas Hunt to the children's room. The masks of "The White Rabbit", "The Mad Hatter", "The King", "The Walrus" and "Tweedledum and Tweedledee" have been hung on the walls of the downstairs library.

The second gift, presented by Miss Grace Holton, retiring from the art department of the New Jersey College for Women, consists of art magazines and prints which will be catalogued and mounted during the summer for addition to the circulating picture collection in the fall.

The library's series of noonday recorded concerts will begin Wed. 9. The concerts will take place on the lawn of the Welton street side of the library between Noon and 2 p. m. daily, except Saturday and Sunday, weather permitting. Some new recordings, recently purchased, will be among the old favorites which will comprise this year's program.

Women Gets 60 Days In Knifing

Found guilty of stabbing a male companion in the back during a tavern argument, Mary Darby, 28, of 18 Commercial Ave., was given a 60-day workhouse sentence Tuesday by Magistrate Joseph J. Takacs in municipal court.

The woman had been arrested the night of June 19 after plunging a knife into Arthur Parker, 23, of 225 Burnet St. in a Burnet St. tavern. She was arrested a short distance from the scene by Ptl. Walter Poplelaski.

Lewis D. Busch, counsel for the defendant, consented to have the case heard in lower court and tried to establish a self-defense plea. She admitted she had kept company with Parker and refused to accompany him the night of the assault.

Raymond Hall, of 198 Burnet St. a tavern employee, also testified.

Unions Warned to Guard Against Rent Decontrol

The Central Labor Union has received a warning from the New Jersey Federation of Labor to "be on guard against decontrol attempts emanating from the real estate lobby."

The federation's executive board also condemned the attempt to end the tri-partite composition of the Wage Stabilization Board and urged Senators Smith and Hendrickson to battle for controls.

Parents, Schools, Churches Charged With Failure

The failure of parents, schools and churches was cited as the cause of juvenile delinquency by Fred Fitch, superintendent of the State Home for Boys near Jamesburg, this week.

Speaking before a meeting of the Optimists Club Tuesday, Fitch charged that grown-ups too often set a bad example and urged that the Optimists Club and other service groups should aid in rehabilitating delinquents. They could do this, he said, by taking a personal interest in those at the institution and helping them to gain self-confidence.

Fitch disclosed that 75 percent of the youths under his care came from homes where conditions were poor. Ninety percent of the boys committed to the institution had been convicted of theft, he said. He concluded his remarks with a report on the progress of the Home's program and the work done by outside organizations.

Knights of Columbus Delay Office Election

New Jersey Chapter 4 of the Knights of Columbus held its annual meeting last week, with President Frank Postarak of Somerville presiding.

The election of officers for the coming year was deferred until the July 18 meeting.

Grand Knight-elect Francis Phadden of New Brunswick Council 257 headed a group of newly elected officers of the various councils.

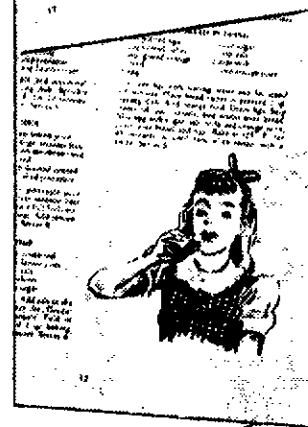

Delegates from New Brunswick Council 257 were William D. Stillwell, district deputy; Voorhees Cox, Ralph McDermott, Vincent Riccardi, and John Rizk.

We're in Tune with Teenagers

WE KNOW their fads and their fancies and we cater to them. We know how they like to eat (and so they should). We know, too, (better than some other people) that they like to cook. Our classes for junior chefs are popular with both boys and girls. Many a teenager has surprised and delighted his family with his cooking prowess gleaned in these classes.

We have compiled a cook book for this age group. The recipes are excellent and are not complicated. This book is used in our teenage classes. If you would like to have a copy, write to room 8311, 80 Park Place, Newark, N. J.

Some Reslotted Upward
 Cavolius pointed out that because of a job classification survey which the union and company have been conducting together during the past year, some employees who have been reslotted upward will obtain additional wage rises.

The agreement effects more than 500 workers at the plant. Statements were issued by both the union and management hailing the agreement.

Local 535 President Krupa said: "Contract negotiations this year were much more difficult, faced with government and WSB regulations. However, we resolved our differences across the bargaining table."

"I wish to point with pride to our contract. And to the changes accomplished. This year it contains many features which may be considered pattern-forming for this area."

 up a lot of space.
 "Only an acre and a quarter are needed each year to supply the needs of 10,000 people," Burns said.

"At present we have 57 acres at our disposal. Besides we can use the same area after three years because of decomposition of the garbage in that time," he continued.

"The project costs only $7,000 a year and that's a lot cheaper than anything else we could get. We thought of having scavengers come in and cart the refuse out of the borough but the cost was excessive. We also considered using grinders in the sinks and then having garbage disposed of through the sewer lines, but this would put too much of a strain on our sewers," he said.
 At present Raritan Twp. and East Brunswick officials are considering this new, easy method of sanitary waste disposal, the landfill system.
