

Knifer Nabbed in Red Bank

David E. Davis, a negro who stabbed E. Henry Lunnon while Mr. Lunnon was standing in his own front yard, has been apprehended by police. Now awaiting action by the Grand Jury, Davis was arrested in Red Bank and brought back to Franklin Township by Police Chief Ed Voorhees last week.

Davis had been on the loose since the stabbing occurred, May 10. He had two addresses, in Franklin Township and on Burnet St., New Brunswick. The RECORD ran periodical wanted columns about the assailant.

Mr. Lunnon was in his home on Delmonica Ave., the night of May 10 when he heard some unusual noises on the front porch. He investigated by going to the street.

As he headed back for the house, he encountered Davis. They grappled for an instant before Davis plunged a knife into Lunnon's side repeatedly.

The injured man cried for help and his wife rushed to his aid. He was bleeding badly from the left side near the heart. Rushed to Middlesex Hospital by police and Mrs. Lunnon, the injured man was in critical condition for many weeks. He lost several pints of blood.

Lt. Russell Pfeiffer was dispatched to the case, and he began picking up bits of Davis' trail. It was rumored that Davis intended to go into hiding until he found out if Mr. Lunnon would recover from his wounds or not. Police learned that if the charge against Davis was to be murder, he would have headed west.

NEW BRUNSWICK POLICE reported periodic contacts with Davis whereabouts, but were unable to arrest him. Meanwhile, Pfeiffer expected to hear from him in the township.

After Lunnon apparently recovered, Davis was no longer seen in the area by associates questioned here by police.

A general alarm was sent out, with the result that Red Bank Police apprehended the stabber and he was arraigned in municipal court before Magistrate Vernon D. Hazemann.

Fred Ostergren, a Franklin Township man who is lifeguard at East Brunswick municipally-operated swimming hole, accepted a lifeboat from the township Lions Club last week. Fred is a basketball recreation director in Franklin Township.

School for Retarded Children Ends Sessions; 17 are Helped

"Happy Day School," a school for retarded children, closes today after conducting a successful two-week clinic at which time 17 children were helped learn useful things for future living.

Mrs. Lyle Hagmann, teacher of the school, said that many persons, including Dr. Anna Starr, Rutgers University psychologist, asked to have the school extended. "But," she said, "I can't do it this year, perhaps we'll have a longer program next summer."

As a result of the local program, a school for retarded children and an organization to help parents and children in Warren County. A mother from Warren County whose child attended the Middlebush school plans organizations there.

The school was conducted in the basement of the Middlebush Reformed Church. Beginning with only simple entertainment, the program closed out with retarded children doing such things as buttoning shirts and tying shoes — commonplace to fortunates, but difficult for retarded children — and completed puzzles.

Mrs. Hagmann was exhilarant. She had completed a good job and could see the evidence. Children were able to get interested in work projects. That could not happen in their original, un-schooled stage.

When the school first opened, only four of 17 children could work with concentration at any project.

Yesterday, all present were working on a single assignment for one hour and 15 minutes before the teacher broke the spell of individual concentration.

Mrs. Hagmann has been recognized as doing such a fine job that she will be asked to address the Maritan Valley parents organization for retarded children in the near future.

Originally, children were allowed to dabble with paint, toy and several mothers headed by Mrs. Frank Thompson, taught them how to hold tools of art. This week, children advanced to intricate designs and worked picture puzzles to successful conclusions.

Self-confidence was stressed in the closing days of the school. One of the biggest problems confronting the school was a Latvian refugee, who could not speak English and was retarded. As a result with an English vocabulary suit of careful instruction, he does of about 250 words. An amazing feat by the teaching staff at Middlebush.

Early this week children were taken to the playground at Middlebush School. Mrs. Hagmann, in closing the school for this year, expressed her thanks for help from many adults, Middlebush Reformed Church, and Middlebush people, all who helped make the school a success.

Lightning Wrecks TV Sets--Chief

Warnings to residents in the West Brunswick area of Franklin Township have been given by Community Volunteer Fire Co. Chief Vincent Calvo concerning their television set antennae.

Chief Calvo warned that many houses in the area have been struck by lightning through antennae which were not grounded. "Ungrounded TV aeriels can cause a lot of trouble," said Calvo. "In most cases it burns out the TV set, blows fuses in homes and starts a fire."

More than a dozen calls have been made for help from the department as a result of lightning blasts.

Citing cases, the chief described how an entire wall was set ablaze, an attic ceiling caught fire, and in one case, shotgun shells exploded doing serious damage.

In one of the most serious cases, a telephone was knocked out, preventing a family from contacting the fire department when a fire resulted from a lightning bolt.

Here's What to Do About It—

Chief Calvo gave advice to township residents on what to do. "Run a wire from the pole on which your antenna is mounted, down the side of the house and attach it to a pipe which goes into the ground. Either drive the pipe in or attach it to one which is grounded." He added that adapters are sold in most hardware stores.

Air Spotters Need 4-8 a.m. Aid

Hours just before and during the first two hours of dawn are the most important hours for Ground Observer Corps. Edward Torquist, Griggstown Post director has been informed by the Air Force.

As a result, Torquist has shifted some observers to the very essential 4-8 a.m. period. He complained that the dawn hours are the hardest to find volunteers for, and during most of stands during the week, one observer works alone.

Pointing out that those hours are lonely, Torquist again appealed for additional help.

The Griggstown director has been spending many hours per week at the post himself. Each volunteer is to work only two hours every week, according to the Air Force. Being short of help, Torquist has tried to fill gaps himself.

Meeting Friday, Aug. 15

An important meeting of all observation volunteers and for the general public will be held in the Griggstown Firehouse one week from tonight. A special film showing the latest air spotting methods. "Everybody is welcome," announced Torquist. "Maybe if they see how easy it is to report airplanes, we'll get more volunteers."

This Your Fault?

It was revealed today that Somerset County has the fourth most unregistered voters of New Jersey Counties.

Somerset County has 68,026 potential voters; 46,388 have registered while 21,638 have yet to vote. This means that 21.5 per cent of the voters in the county can not vote.

Executive Board PTA Meeting

An Executive Board meeting of the Pine Grove Manor PTA was held Monday night in the home of Vice President Mrs. Phillip Bennett of 60 Ambrose St.

Plans for future PTA meetings of the entire membership body were discussed. The first general meeting of the Pine Grove Manor group will be held in October.

NB Cashiers Revamp Bill-Changing Methods After Swindler Hits Twice

Cashiers in the New Brunswick area are putting "reverse English" on their bill-changing methods as a result of a smooth short-change artist.

A cashier usually puts the bill given him on the shelf of the cash box in plain sight until his customer accepts his change as being correct. In that way, if a swindler tries to make a fast dollar by claiming to have turned in a bigger bill than he received change for, the cashier can refer to the specie lying at hand.

Now cashiers are placing their change of a bill on the counter before the customer and asking that it be counted before he leaves the counter.

THIS SWITCH was all brought about by a husky, well-dressed six-footer with a smooth line. Here's what he did at Pennsylvania Railroad Station and Public Service cash window:

Presenting a $20 bill, the man asked for change. He took change and turned his back to the window for a moment. As he did, he duck-ed $10 of the change and whirled again to the window.

"Say, you haven't given me the right change." In his hand were a few bills, adding to $10. Presented with "evidence," cashiers at both places handed out another $10, only to find at the end of the day that they were $10 short.

Park Woman Determined To Do Top Job As Port's 1st Lady Comptroller

"I hope to make a real contribution and perhaps one day to be known as the best comptroller New York ever had." These were the brave words spoken last Saturday by a Highland Park mother and business woman as she undertook one of the toughest government posts ever held by a woman.

Mrs. Margaret D. Campbell of 300 Grant Ave., is completing her first week as comptroller of customs for the Port of New York. She is the first woman ever to hold this office. The quiet-voiced grandmother will be responsible for all auditing of the U. S. Customs Service in Connecticut, New York State, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

"I WILL ATTEMPT to bring an objective viewpoint to this job," Mrs. Campbell pledged as she was sworn in Saturday. Obviously thrilled by her new post, she told guests the ceremony "makes me feel like a bride."

SHE WAS UNUSUALLY modest about her qualifications for the tough job, however. She told well-wishers, "I am here just because I happened to be the lucky one on the stage when the quiz game came along and I knew the answers. I'm sure there are many women more capable than myself."

An active Democratic worker here for years and a recently resigned state Democratic committeewoman, Mrs. Campbell was nominated for the comptroller's post by President Truman. She has been engaged in business since the death of her husband, William Thornton Campbell, in 1935.

Although she is overjoyed at her chance to show what a woman can do in a custom comptroller's office, Mrs. Campbell still looks back on her years as a wife and mother as the happiest of her life. It is already finished — that of raising her four children. She now has four grandchildren "which I love like my own children."

Dzielinski Sent To Reformatory

Richard Dzielinski, 19, of 25 Prentice Ave., was sentenced to an indeterminate term in Annandale Reformatory Tuesday morning in County Court by Judge Kleimner Kalleissen. He pleaded non vult.

He had been arrested April 20 following a brutal assault on Adelaide Ruzzano of 24 Water St. He beat her so severely that her lip was split, stitches had to be taken inside her mouth and she fell unconscious in a pool of blood.

Judge Kalleissen told Dzielinski that he belongs in State Prison and that he regretted that, because of his age, he could not be sent there.

Pound Mgr. Irked By Phony Agents

A pair of self-appointed "agents" for the Society for Prevention of Cruelty for Animals did a lot of complaining to Mrs. Minnie Bunn, manager of this city's Animal Shelter Saturday.

The couple let go verbal salvos at Mrs. Bunn for "turning dogs over to laboratories for vivisection." Mrs. Bunn denied the accusation.

Called a liar by the pair, she was willing to take an oath on her Bible denying such action. The two women who said they were SPCA agents persisted and became hard to handle.

Mrs. Bunn headed for the nearest policeman and returned to find the two women had left. Mrs. John R. Weber, South River SPCA agent, denied knowing of any other county agent.

The woman said they were from Ocean County, Newark SPCA headquarters could not identify them.

Seek Housing For GI's

Appeals for housing are higher than they have been for the last six months. Gerard Radice, director of the USO here, issued a call for rooms or apartments available for soldiers and their wives.

Radice said that many wives follow their husbands to Camp Kilmer, and will need rooms for residents of this area to inform the only a short time. He urged area USO headquarters, 78 Carroll Pl., by telephoning CHarter 7-0035.

The Man's A Real Artist--But Cops And Ex-Boss Don't Appreciate Him

Back in medieval times, his expert penmanship would have won Ferrando De La Haz a soft berth in some monastery or scholar's study. But in 1952, it only got him into plenty of trouble.

Ferrando would have done alright with his penmanship, except that he employed it in someone else's handwriting—and on someone else's checks.

As a result of his indiscreet fountain pen artistry, the 36-year-old De La Haz, who lives at 43 Claremont Ave., is being brought back from Chicago to face forgery charges in Bergen County.

FERRANDO'S TROUBLES all started a year and a half ago in Florida when he became friendly with Jeffrey B. Baker, a Newark paint dealer. Ferrando confided in Mr. Baker that he was unemployed and almost penniless.

To Ferrando's surprise, Mr. Baker offered him a job. The New Brunswick man worked hard for the Newark firm and soon rose to the position of office manager.

Having climbed to the top in a short time, De La Haz became restless and turned his attention to another field—Mr. Taylor's checks.

HE CAREFULLY SIGNED Taylor's names to many checks, one for $2,200. Before he flew off to Chicago, Ferrando had cashed over $30,000 in Mr. Taylor's checks.

So expert a penman was Ferrando that even Taylor himself was not sure some of the signatures were forged. De La Haz fled to Chicago in such haste that he left his wife behind at the Claremont Ave. address.

Her only comment this week was that her husband didn't live there anymore. As for his artistic accomplishments, she didn't want to talk about it.

Faced with some pretty stiff charges, Ferrando had one consolation today: "What other artist ever made $30,000 in a hurry with only a fountain pen?"

WCTC Bids For New TV Channel Sought by News

A FCC announcement this week revealed that the Chanticleer Broadcasting Co., operators of Station WCTC, have applied for an ultra-high frequency television channel. The FCC has tagged it Channel 47. This new application will compete for the channel with one already made by the Daily Home News Publishing Co.

Chanticleer Broadcasting wants its transmitter located near its radio transmitter on the north bank of Raritan River in Highland Park. The radio company intends to spend $125,714 for construction and $195,000 annually.

The FCC is expected to hold hearings on the disputed channel sometime during the coming months.

School Repair Work Listed

Maurice W. Rowland, superintendent of New Brunswick schools, outlined in his annual report this week an eight-point work program which is termed "vital."

Work which must be done was listed by Rowland:

- The cooking laboratory at Roosevelt Junior High must be renovated. Corridor ceilings in Senior High Schools must be renewed.
- The fire escape at Washington School must be renewed, relocated or given serious attention. Gymnasiums in Bayard and Livingston Schools must be given acoustical repairs.
- Several elementary schools are in need of new electrical wiring. Paving, fencing, and treatment to land around the High School is necessary. Lockers at Junior High School should be given heavy repairs or replaced, and modernization of existing classrooms should be done.

Warns Of Phony Ad Book Salesmen

The old "business directory" racket is back in town again, according to Chamber of Commerce officials.

Local businessmen have complained that salesmen have tried to sell them listings in "classified directories." The representatives give the impression that the merchants are advertising in the "familiar yellow pages" of the local telephone directory, the informants report.

These bogus directories have no connection with any established phone book or city directory, the Chamber points out. Don't sign contracts for unknown directories, the C. of C. men warn, and always demand credentials from salesmen claiming to represent the yellow-page directory in the telephone book.

Chamber officials hint they may refer the matter to the Federal Trade Commission, which prohibits such misleading publications.

Weekend Crashes Put 4 In Hospital

Three East Brunswick accidents placed four persons in Middlesex General Hospital during the weekend.

Three Raritan Township persons were taken to the hospital by the East Brunswick Rescue Squad when the car in which they were riding collided with one driven by William Labonak of 81 Jeffrie St., South River.

A North Brunswick woman suffered a fractured hip when a car in which she was riding knocked a telephone pole into Rues Lane near Hall's Corner. She was taken to Middlesex Hospital by the Milltown Rescue Squad.

John Mayo, 48, of Riva Ave., was given a ticket for careless driving when his car struck a telephone pole.

350 Brave Storm To Attend Picnic

Fain proved only a slight deterrent Saturday when 350 members of the Ten-Year Club at DuPont Photo Products Plant attended the club's annual picnic at Burke's Park.

Prize-winners included Robert Hoffman of Parlin, Stanley Kolodziecki, Fred Armstrong and Louise Unkel, all of South River, Joseph Szeliga and Katherine Fuller of Sayreville, Norman Kriesmer of Laurence Harbor, Bonnie Yaeger and Leo Harsc of South Amboy and Julia Lapshinsky of Perth Amboy. Joseph Cole and Arthur Quirk had charge of arrangements.

SWIMMER'S AUTO RIFLED
Valuable papers, a wallet with $22 in cash and a $70 wristwatch were stolen from Albert J. Prongay of Montclair while he was swimming in Horseshoe Lake, Sayreville, Sunday evening. He had left the articles in his car without locking it.

Food, Fun Slatd For Huge Crowd At Du Pont Picnic

Last year's record attendance of 2,300 employees and their families may be eclipsed Saturday Aug. 16, at the annual plant picnic of DuPont Photo Products in Burke's Park from 2 to 6 p. m.

Games for children will include potato races, sack races, blind men's event and three-legged contests. There will also be pony rides, a merry-go-round, a whip and an old fashioned pony drawn buggy.

For the adults, there will be dancing to the music of the Blue Rhythm Boys, softball games, horseshoe pitching, and other special events.

The menu will include hot dogs, corn on the cob, cherrystone clams steamed and on the half shell, ice cream pops, soft drinks and beer.

The picnic will be held rain or shine. If there is a really severe storm, however, it will be postponed until the next day, Sunday, April 17.

Owner Baffled As Kitty Gets Haircut

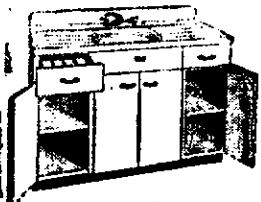

In Spotswood, it was the baffling case of "who shaved the kitty last week."

Mrs. E. Eckhart of William St., called Police Chief Vincent Woodmansee and pointed to her cat. The long-haired Persian feline was sporting a crew cut.

The chief was ready to call Mrs. John Weber of South River, county SPCA agent, when he learned it was an attempt at a good turn by some future boy and girl scouts.

It seems some local children thought the weather was much too hot for such a large coat to be aboard a little cat. And so they barbered the apparently unconcerned animal.

AFL Will Dedicate McGuire Memorial

The State Labor League for Political Education, political arm of the AFL, has completed a factual study of the legislative voting records of U. S. Senator H. Alexander Smith and New Jersey representatives, together with the views of candidates opposing them.

From the findings, formal endorsements for the coming election in November will be announced.

Louis Marcianite, president of the state organization, declared today that specific breakdowns of Congressional votes of New Jersey representatives are being submitted to Middlesex County members of the LLPE.

Analysis of views concerning labor of Archibald Alexander, Smith's opponent, are also being made known.

They added that the object, of course, will be to elect "our friends and defeat our enemies."

ILGWU Will Give Kiddie Camp $800

Simon Baumrind, business manager of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, and a committee of chairladies will be guests at the annual luncheon of the Kiddie-Keep-Well camp at Roosevelt Park next Thursday. Mayor John Fitzpatrick, director of the camp, extended the invitation.

At this luncheon, Baumrind will turn over a contribution of $800 to the camp. The money was donated by union members at the time they received their vacation checks.

The International Ladies Garment Workers Union, under Baumrind's leadership, has contributed to a great number of civic causes, including the South River Rescue Squad, Red Cross, Recreation Center, cancer fund, heat fund, United fund etc.

Baumrind met yesterday with Prof. Ervine Kerrison of Rutgers to develop plans for the autumn educational program.

Miss Marion Levine has succeeded Miss Barbara Friscione as secretary to the business manager. She is a graduate of New Jersey College for Women.

N. J. Turnpike Employe Buys E. Brunswick Home

An East Brunswick home of seven rooms and two baths on a lot 100 by 200, located at Hillside and Woodland Aves. in the Pine Ridge section, has been conveyed to Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Wismer by Dr. and Mrs. Paul R. Noble who have moved to Pittsburgh, Pa.

Wismer, a teller with the New Jersey Turnpike Authority, and his family have taken possession. Heston N. Potts, New Brunswick attorney, represented all parties to the transfer.

BRRR—IT'S NICE—If you're interested in cool sleeping in hot weather, Betty Cox passes on her recipe. The blue-eyed blonde television actress puts sheets in the refrigerator before she leaves her New York apartment in the morning. Result: Cool sleeping on hottest night.

Thomas E. Gibson

A former clerk of the Franklin Township Board of Education, Thomas E. Gibson, 68, of Rocky Hill Rd., Ten Mile Run, died Tuesday in his home following an extended illness.

Mr. Gibson was a retired farmer and insurance salesman. Born in the township, he was a member of the Six Mile Run Reformed Church, past master of Somerset Grange No. 7, and a member of county, state and national granges.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Guy A. Benzinger of Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church at 2:30 this afternoon in Cole Funeral Home, Cranbury. Interment will be in Elm Ridge Cemetery, Franklin Park.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Nellie Wycoff Gibson; daughter, Miss Jessie May Gibson, and a sister, Mrs. John Wycoff of East Millstone.

Record Storm Drenches Area

One of the heaviest rainfalls in recent years pelleted the New Brunswick area late Wednesday afternoon, flooding roads and homes.

More than a dozen calls were made to firemen requesting a pump to clear water from cellars.

Rt. 25 and Highway S-28 were flooded with sheets of water, forcing heavy traffic to slow down and causing one of the greatest 5 o'clock traffic jams at the Burnet St. traffic circle since construction work there began.

Downtown New Brunswick streets were flooded badly. George St. in the Remsen Ave. area was loaded with water to such an extent that buses were forced to discharge passengers at other than regular bus stops. The latter were inundated.

The rain poured the hardest at 4:45 o'clock when it was estimated that it fell at a rate faster than five inches per hour.

ONE-MINUTE NEWS FROM JOHNS-MANVILLE

J-M Profits Were 10% in Sales Dollar First Half of 1952

'Many persons ask: "How much are Johns-Manville's profits?"

In the first six months of this year, J-M's profits amounted to 10 1/2 cents of each dollar taken in. In comparison, J-M employees received in payroll 37 1/2 cents of each of those sales dollars.

Of $116 1/2 million in sales the first half of the year, $12 million were profits and $43 million went for payroll.

Less than half of the profits were paid in dividends to the owners of the company, the stockholders. More than half of the profits were plowed back into the business.

Plowing back or reinvesting profits in the business enables the company to grow and helps assure steady jobs in this community and better products to serve the public.

This is one of a series of brief articles bringing you facts of community interest about Johns-Manville or about conditions affecting our national economy.

Trunk Sewer Opponents Get Rebuffs

Somerset County interest opposing the plans of the Middlesex County Sewerage Authority took two heavy blows on the chin this week as a counter-attack against this opposition appeared to be gaining strength.

The first disappointment suffered by the Somerset industrialists, who have banded together as a "Citizens' Committee," came at a joint conference with Governor Driscoll and representatives of the Middlesex sewerage authority.

THE GOVERNOR evidently did not favor the Somerset group's plea for a nine-months delay in the Middlesex authority's plans for a trunk sewer along the Raritan Valley. Driscoll apparently sided with the local authority's opinion that it should proceed with its work despite Somerset demands for a new regional authority.

The governor also told the Somerset representatives they didn't have to join the trunk sewer but could handle their sewerage problem their own way. But, Gov. Driscoll made one point clear: he expects all industries to meet Department of Health standards soon.

THE CONFERENCE WAS soon followed by a strenuous attack on two of the industries included in the opposition group. Frederick F. Richardson, former New Brunswick mayor, blasted away at Calco Chemical Division and Johns-Manville with charges that the two companies have created "a smoke screen to obscure their real objection" to the proposed trunk sewer. Mr. Richardson was angered by the Citizens' Committee's assertion that the trunk sewer would deplete the water supply in the Raritan Valley.

Contral over dumping of industrial wastes is the real issue disturbing these two firms, the former mayor asserted. THEN, THE TWO FIRMS got a final warning from Mr. Richardson to "get busy and come down to earth and cooperate with the Authority."

At a meeting of the "Citizens' Committee" Wednesday night hand-picked speakers adopted "strategic withdrawal" tactics. The group proposed negotiations with the Middlesex Authority and a study of a possible authority for Somerset County alone.

The group also decided to ask the State Department of Health to hold off prosecution of their industries for stream pollution pending "engineering studies."

He has been succeeded by Albert Mueller, who has been a supervisor of the semi-works on the new polyester film base. Mueller has been employed since 1943 at the Parlin plant.

Robert Miller, now shift supervisor in the casting area at Parlin, will succeed Mueller.
