Township Talk

Mrs. Fred Hatley wants her friends and neighbors to know how much she appreciated all the holiday greeting cards she received. It would be quite impossible for her to answer them all, but they made her very happy.

They are going to print plenty of copies of that School Budget Work Book, so if you don't get one it's your own fault. It's a wonderful piece of work, so simply arranged that even your townier, who probably couldn't pass eighth grade arithmetic, can see the whole plan and purpose of the school budget. They will be distributed at the various candidates' meetings which the PTAs will hold next month, or can be obtained from the office of Mrs. Florence Randolph, Secretary of the Board of Education, at the Pine Grove School.

We called Dr. Sampson Smith, County Superintendent of Schools, to ask him about one of the provisions of the law setting forth the requirements for a candidate for the Board of Education. The law says the candidate "shall not be directly or indirectly interested in any contract with or claim against the Board." So where does this leave the men whose wives teach in the township school system, we asked Dr. Smith. He had the answer.

The 70-year-old Adrain was taken to Middlesex General Hospital and placed in an oxygen tent but failed to respond.

An ardent hunter and fisherman, Adrain was regarded as one of the leading sportsmen of the area. For many years he raised pheasants as a hobby and kept a rare collection of the birds on his Hamilton St. estate. He was a charter member of the Ornamental Pheasant Society of America.

Adrain married the former Jillian A. Murphy of New Brunswick on June 7, 1939. They have no children. Besides his wife, he is survived by a sister, Miss Fay Adrain of Stamford, Conn., and two nieces and one nephew.

Army Weather Instrument Makes Parachute Landing In Twp. Yard

An Army radiosonde, an instrument for recording weather, released by parachute from the Lexington Signal Depot at Lexington, Ky., came down on the property of Willard Potter on Villet Road near Franklin Park yesterday morning.

The instrument, a white box about 10 inches square, had a green plastic cylinder about three inches wide in one side of it.

Instructions printed on a tag requested the finder to mail the radiosonde back to the Lexington depot. On the tag was the information that the instrument was intended to record weather conditions as high up as 14 miles. Potter, who brought his find into the Franklin Park Post Office for mailing, said the parachute looked like an elephant cawing over his field before it collapsed.

The first regular meeting of the new five-man Township Committee took place before an audience of about 15 people.

Best news of the evening was the report of Assessor Stephen C. Reid that his appeal to the State Board of Tax Appeals had resulted in an additional $32,000 state school aid to compensate the township for low real estate assessments, on which the grants are based.

The Committee introduced and gave a first reading to an ordinance creating a shade tree commission. This body would consist of three members appointed by the Committee, serving without pay, and would have the power to regulate the planting and maintenance of trees on all township owned property.

A resolution was passed to charge a fee of $20 per year per dwelling unit for sewer rentals. Mayor James C. Maher explained that the service actually cost the township $15 per home, paid to New Brunswick, and the additional five dollars would compensate the township for the maintenance of the sewer lines.

The quarterly installment of $30,000 school tax funds was paid to the Board of Education. A letter was received from the dog wardens requesting a salary increase of $13.34, which would bring their pay up to $80 a month. (Dog wardens serve a number of municipalities).

Mayor Maher told the audience that plans would be made to post copies of the minutes of the Committee meetings, so that the reading of them would be unnecessary at the regular sessions.

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Myrtle Grogan, Terra Haute, Indiana: I remember an emigrant train coming to the end of the line in a little prairie town in North Dakota after coming miles and miles by team and wagon over land dotted only here and there by a house or barn made of prairie sod.

It was a hot, dry day when we arrived at the little one-room tax paper shack made by my father before we came. It was sixteen miles to the store and post office, six miles to the nearest neighbor.

I remember the prairie fires—when my mother and we children were put on a plot of plowed ground amid a sea of flaming grass.

Five years later there was a little country school several miles from our home. We kids would ride horses in spring and fall, drive a sled in the winter.

There were no phones, no power, no lights, no radio, no cars, and no TV's.

The other day my daughter saw a coal oil range in a camp. She called "Oh, Mom, come see this stove—a fire in one end and water in the other."

Are our children happier with it all? I say "no."

From Mrs. Rhodes Ingertan, Center, Texas: When we were old enough to go to the grades and high school, did we have fine dresses of the latest style like the children must have today or else be plained by the ones who do have them? We had our blue serge skirts and middie blouses and a "Sunday" dress. That was the extent of our wardrobe but we always had a good time.

Will you explain to me why the children of yesterday were contented and the modern child does not seem happy, no matter how much is spent on them?

THE STARS
A PEAK OF

WITH the recent trek of the Marlens quartet to Cadence, that label becomes an even larger ex-Arthur Godfrey stronghold. Other former Godfreys who wax for Cadence are Julius La-Rosa, Marion Marlowe, the Chordettes, and conductor Archie Bleyer, founder of Cadence (it was that founding that aroused Godfrey's ire). By the way, don't be surprised if the McGuire Sisters aren't next on the growing Godfrey ex-friend list. Their popularity doesn't set right with the master who doesn't like to have anyone equally as well known as himself hanging 'round. With all his fringes, the redhead's show is actually worse than it ever was. His only really talented acquisition is young Pat Boone but one more hit record and his welcome will be worn thin, too.

A musical version of "It Happened One Night," produced by Dick Powell and co-starring June Allyson and Jack Lemmon, prompted RCA-Victor to ask Powell and Allyson to vocalize on an album of tunes from the picture's score—written by Johnny Mercer and Gene DePaul. "The Briny Goodman Story," the movie based on the life of the popular king of swing, acquired a number of the cast from the musical. Burgess Lee, Tommy's daughter, Julie, has a part in the production. Incidentally, wouldn't "King of Swing" make a better title than the overworked "So-and-So Story"?

You-never-know Dept.: In New Haven, Conn., a few years ago, producer Mike Todd described "Away We Go!" as "the worst show I've ever seen." Little did he then suspect that in 1945 he would be filming in his first Todd A-O process the retitled version of the same story which today is known as "Oklahoma." Sinatra will make a western next, "Johnny Concho" by name, but the real news about it is that he has signed Gloria Vanderbilt as his leading lady. This will mark the debut of the acting socialite.

NJ Hunters Hit All-Time Record In Past Season

An all-time record was achieved by big game hunters in New Jersey during the 1955 firearms season from Dec. 12 to Dec. 17 when licensed hunters bagged 6,114 buck deer, or 1,338 more than the 1954 kill, the State Division of Fish and Game, Department of Conservation and Economic Development, reported today.

In addition, bow and arrow hunters bagged 368 deer in New Jersey this year during the season devoted to bowmen exclusively from Oct. 15 to Nov. 4. This total of 6,482 deer harvested legally in New Jersey during the 1955 open seasons, compares with a total of 5,006 during the 1954 firearms and bow and arrow season.

Commissioner Joseph E. McLean of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development, credited game wardens and wildlife managers for contributing materially to the all-time record harvest of deer during 1955.

"We are most gratified with the successful season and feel the combined efforts of our wardens who have definitely stepped up their protection of the deer herd, and wildlife managers who now have a statewide program of deer management in full swing, have contributed materially to the record harvest," said Dr. McLean.

"To maintain a deer harvest of this size in a State as small and heavily populated as New Jersey will require the utmost cooperation of the farmer, sportsman and the general public as well as an expanding program of deer management through the creation of diversionary food patches, furnishing of fencing to protect vulnerable crops; trapping and transfer; the stepped up development of deer habitat on public hunting and fishing grounds and ever vigilant law enforcement to control the depredations of illegal hunters."

Youthful Hunters Advised to Save '55 NJ Licenses

Young hunters who completed a course in gun safety and secured their 1955 hunting licenses, were reminded today by the State Division of Fish and Game, Department of Conservation and Economic Development, to save their licenses for renewal in 1956.

Under the law, no person between 14 and 21 years of age, unless he can produce a previous regular firearm hunting license can secure a current hunting license without furnishing a certificate showing he has successfully completed a course in gun safety.

Commissioner Joseph E. McLean of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development, and Dr. A. Heaton Underhill, Director of the Division of Fish and Game, issued the joint reminder today to the youth of the State to hold on to their 1955 hunting licenses until they have secured their 1956 licenses.

Otherwise, both officials asserted, the youngsters will be required to secure a certificate through participation in the 1956 Hunter Safety Program.

The Army is not only the hard core of our own national defense, but is also one of the central elements of the collective strength of the Free World.

Heart Was NJ's No.1 Killer

Heart ailments and allied diseases of the blood vessels and circulatory system accounted for 28,357 deaths in New Jersey during 1954, the last completely tabulated year, the New Jersey Heart Association reported today. That represented 53.4 per cent of all deaths in the state, which totalled 51,203.

Cancer ranked second as a killer, but its 9,504 deaths represented only about one-third of the heart toll. The Heart Association report was based on official statistics obtained from the State Department of Health.

OTHER LEADING causes of death during the year were respiratory ailments, 1,235 or 2.4 per cent of the total deaths; diabetes, 1,106 or 2.2 per cent; motor vehicle accidents, 743 or 1.4 per cent, and tuberculosis, 538 or 1.1 per cent.

Of the 28,357 deaths attributed to heart and allied ailments, arteriosclerosis and degenerative heart diseases accounted for 18,269 and vascular lesions 4,897. Other types of heart and allied death causes mentioned in the report included hypertension, 2,773; diseases of arteries and veins, 1,229; chronic rheumatic heart disease, 771; rheumatic fever, 40, and other diseases of the heart, 378.

An analysis by the Heart Association showed that mortality due to heart and allied diseases increased sharply in the 25-44 age bracket, where it claimed 1,064 lives or 31.8 per cent of the total for the age group. In the 45-64 age range, heart deaths totalled 8,094 or 53.2 per cent, and in the group 65 and above, the heart toll soared to 68.8 per cent of all deaths at 19,666.

HEART TOLL statistics first showed up in the 1-4 age bracket, where vascular lesions claimed nine lives, or 2 per cent of the total. In the 5-14 age group, circulatory diseases accounted for 21 deaths, or 0.1 per cent, and in the 15-24 year category, heart deaths totalled 38, or 7.7 per cent.

The report showed 1,305 fewer deaths due to heart disease in 1954 as compared with the previous year when the heart toll reached 29,662, or 56.2 per cent of all deaths for 1953. However, the total mortality from all causes dropped 1,591 from the 1953 total of 52,794.

A building boom in the 60's is assured and it's likely to be almost twice as big as the present one. Marriages are the major factor in the demand for new houses. Ideas from other editors

From the Warren Record, Warren, North Carolina: We were asked a few days ago why we didn't write an editorial jumping on the Highway Patrol and other officers to stop speeding on our highways. We told the friend that the reason that speeding has not been stopped was because our people don't want it stopped.

Furthermore, one will find a large number of people, who in spite of statistics and reason to the contrary, still insist that speeding is not the main cause of the shameful slaughter on our highways.

That people don't want speeding stopped, largely because it will stop their own speeding, is borne out by the lack of cooperation members of the Highway Patrol receive from the general public. This is not only borne out by the fight made in the last General Assembly upon the whammy and the difficulty of obtaining convictions in the court, but by the general attitude of the public regarding the whammy, one of the Highway Patrol's most effective weapons. It is not unusual to meet cars and trucks on our teeming highways with blinking lights, sometimes sounding horns, warning motorists that a highway patrol car or whammy is around the next corner or over the next hill. If this does not show a sympathy for speeders and a lack of understanding of the dangers of high speed, we hardly know what would show it.

We will admit that a modern car, racing at 70 miles an hour may be under better control than was the old Model T at 40, but this does not remove the fact that such a car colliding with another running at 50, within the speed limit, has a total impact of 120 miles an hour, and that when two tons of steel collide at 120 miles an hour the impact is something terrific. Unfortunately such head-on collisions are not too rare.

Few people stop to think that an automobile traveling at 60 miles an hour is going at the rate of 88 feet a second. No reaction is fast enough to suddenly check this speed, and if it were the momentum would cause serious injury to the passengers. Cats, dogs, opossums and hens daily meet their death on highways because they dash into the path of motorists who unwillingly kill them. Usually the motorist knows a second or more before he strikes such animal or fowl that he is going to do so, but is powerless to prevent the collision. The same would hold true should a child dart into the highway, or should other emergency arise.

"We won't make definite appointments—but if you're still around next week drop in and see me."

CAUSES BOB'S DOWNFALL... Comedian Bob Hope was injured during GI show in Iceland when he fell from shoulders of Joan Rhodes, British strong woman.

One thing that schools should teach is that you can't spend more than you make and still have money left.

Phillips PTA To Stage Play

"The Dutch Detective," a three-act play, will be given by the Phillips School PTA Feb. 3 and 4 at the Middlebush School auditorium.

"The play idea originated last year in the search for some money-making project other than the usual cake sales, bazaars, etc.," Mrs. Arthur Westneat, publicity chairman, said.

"The PTA was fortunate in having among its members a group of amateurs, the Norseville Players, who had operated with some success. By combining their efforts, last year's play was successful, and played to an audience of 700. We hope to better that record this year."

The group, now called the Phillips Players, are: Roy Brookes, Mrs. William Cook, Mrs. Henry Arneson, Mrs. Edward Nowak, Ralph Thompson, Augustus Grycken, John Langfeldt, Marlin Townsend, Mrs. Townsend, and Mrs. Richard Leahy.

The first paddle-wheel steam warships were the USS Mississippi and the USS Missouri in 1841.

swer right on the tip of his tongue. Seems the question was resolved in a court case a couple of years ago. The courts ruled that it's okay for the wife of a man board member to be employed by the board, because by law, a man has no legal right to any part of his wife's salary. However, the husband of a lady board member could not work for the board, because according to New Jersey law, a wife does have a right to part of her husband's salary. Nice, isn't it, girls?

Where are all these people who had so much to say about how the schools are run? So far, only two people, present board member Mrs. Catherine Pettison, and Lay Advisory member Lyle Haggmann have signified their intention to run for the Board of Ed. There should be at least two candidates for each of the three places open, so the voters will have some choice. Deadline for filing petitions is Feb. 25, and they may be obtained from Mrs. Randolph during school hours.

Nagging note: Don't forget your dog license. Township hall open tomorrow, Jan. 14, and next Saturday, Jan. 21, from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. for THAT PURPOSE ONLY, by courtesy of Township Clerk Fred Bascom.

2nd District Co. To Burn Christmas Trees at Bonfire

Discarded Christmas trees will be burned by firemen of the Second District Fire Company behind the firehouse on Elizabeth Ave. Sunday afternoon, Jan. 22.

Prizes have been offered to children in the area for bringing in the most trees.

The firemen are doing this as a public service, to prevent home tree burning which causes field fires, and to point up the fact that careless burning of trees can be a great hazard. The public is invited to come out and see the carefully controlled bonfire, and to bring their own trees to toss onto the flames.

Choral Group Seeks Members

A campaign for new members was planned at the meeting of the Franklin Park Choral Group at its meeting last Friday evening. High school students in the area will receive personal calls from members inviting them to join the group.

A committee was appointed to study the makeup of by-laws for the organization: Colin Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brenner, Alden Small, and Mrs. Arthur Westneat.

The goal of the group was stated as not to compete with other organizations, but to provide a musical outlet for those who like to sing.

Plans for the coming year's program include an Easter cantata during Holy Week, a spring concert of Early American music, a performance of "The Messiah" next Christmas season, and the annual carol sing at Franklin Park.

Next week's meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Archambault in Franklin Park.
