

First Township Fire Code Offered

Township Talk

One big pain in the neck on the township committee scene is that minutes of the previous meeting must be read.

It seems that if one person demands it, a half hour has to be killed. Township Clerk Fred Bacon has to run the risk of getting in trouble, despite the fact that the meetings are covered by three newspapers and detailed minutes are posted on two bulletin boards in the township hall.

Press and public sit there and squirm while the previous session is rehearsed. Our suggestion is that silent movies be shown to keep the audience entertained during the reading.

One interesting event of last week which didn't make our pages was the square dance given by the Pine Grove PTA a week ago last Friday night. Mrs. Henry Behrend, the PTA publicity chairman, sent in her usual good story on the Board To Get Plans For Structo Schools At Open Meeting Monday In Pine Grove

Plans for the proposed two Structo schools will be received by the Franklin Township Board of Education Monday night at a special meeting in Pine Grove Manor School at 8 p.m. Residents are urged to attend the open meeting.

If the plans meet with the approval of board members and no serious objections are voiced by the audience, the board will advertise for bids on construction of the two buildings.

Plans will also be received on the two-room addition planned for Kingston School.

IF NO OBJECTIONS are raised to the plans Monday night, it is expected that the bids should be awarded by the middle of May.

Structo Schools Corporation of Boston, submitters of the original idea of the specially constructed schools, is expected to be the only bidder. However, there are several other firms throughout the country

An ordinance empowering the nine fire companies in the township to inspect premises in their districts for fire hazards was introduced by the township committee last night.

THE ORDINANCE provides that the fire chief or his authorized representative may inspect and cause regular inspections to be made of all buildings, premises and properties except the interiors of private dwellings, to determine if there are any inflammable or explosive materials or rubbish or dangerous accumulations of waste paper or other inflammable materials. They are to determine if there are obstructions to fire escapes, doors or other exits, and to notify the person responsible for the condition.

Persons who are notified that fire hazards exist on their property, and who do not correct the conditions, may, under the new ordinance, have a complaint filed against them with the magistrate. The penalty for violation of the ordinance is a $200 fine or ninety days in jail or both.

The ordinance further prohibits the kindling or a bonfire or other exposed fire without a permit, to be obtained from the chief of the nearest fire company. Trash burners will be permitted, provided they are of metal, stone or cinder block, and have a cover of wire mesh or other material which will prevent the escape of wire mesh or other material which will prevent the escape of burning particles.

A HEARING on the proposed ordinance will be held at the regular meeting of the township committee on Monday night.

Buckley Quits Election Race, Moving to Ala.

Francis K. Buckley, nominated in last week's primary election as Democratic candidate for township committee, has resigned his nomination. He and his family will move to Alabama where he will take a new position.

Buckley notified Democratic Municipal Chairman Charles McCloskey of his change in plans yesterday. McCloskey said that Buckley's formal resignation will be presented to the municipal committee at its regular meeting Friday evening. Action will be taken as to replacing him on the ticket.

POSSIBLE CANDIDATES are being screened, McCloskey said, in the hope of announcing a new candidate as soon as Buckley's resignation is accepted.

Buckley, who has been a salesman for Sherwin-Williams Paint Co. for a number of years, has accepted a position as superintendent of a branch plant of the Chipman Chemical Company of Bound Brook, manufacturer of agricultural chemicals.

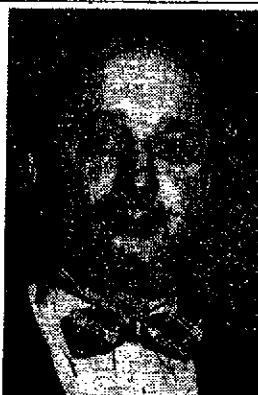

He will leave this weekend for his new post in Bessemer, Ala. His family will remain at their home in Carleton Lane until the end of the school year, at which time they will join him in Alabama.

According to the election laws, a replacement candidate's name must be filed with the county clerk with the signatures of a majority of the municipal committee members.

McCloskey and Petrillo Head Twp. Municipal Committees

Charles McCloskey of 8 Cooper Ave. was named Democratic Municipal chairman and Charles Petrillo of Kingston was elected to head the Republican municipal committee this week.

McCloskey succeeds Miss Beate Feller, who was elected late last year to fill the unexpired term of Charles Goban, who resigned to take a position with the state. Miss Feller was named vice-chairman.

Petrillo was named in his second term as municipal chairman. John Carls was elected to the new post of Republican vice chairman and also named publicity chairman. Mrs. Mercer D. Smith was elected to a second term as secretary of the local GOP organization and Mrs. Alice Hageman, township Tax Collector, was named chairman of the advisory board.

County Workshop Held For School Board Members

A county-wide workshop for new Board of Education members was held by County Superintendent of Schools Sampson G. Smith at Somerville High School Tuesday evening. Dr. Chester Reibohm, retired assistant Commissioner of Education, spoke to the group on "Duties of a School Board Member."

Dr. James M. Lynch, superintendent of schools of Franklin, and Leonard Bardsley, member of the Franklin Board, were on the panel which led the discussion on transportation, as was Dr. Smith, who lives in the township. Bardsley was also on the final panel which was open to discussion of any school board problems.

Sewers Are The Answer

Developer Granted Variance for 30-Homes

A developer's plan to add sanitary and storm sewers in the section where he intends to build 30 homes, had residents of the area siding with him against the township board of Adjustment, in his request for a variance.

As a result the board approved the granting of a variance to permit Carragher Home Improvement Co. of Iselin to begin construction of the development off Somerset Street.

BOARD MEMBERS voted a resolution passing favorably on the developer's application Wednesday night following an hour-long hearing during which a dozen persons living near the site supported Carragher down the line.

Neighbors to the development opposed Alex Katchen, board member, because he wanted to hold off giving approval until he could gauge the effects it would have on traffic in Somerset Street.

The usual procedure is that the developer gets a direct opposition from surrounding property owners.

Such was the case with Anton Auth, who represented the firm.

Township to Hold May 1 CD Drill

"Operation May Day", state-wide Civil Defense test, will be participated in by the Franklin Township Civil Defense and Disaster Control officials.

The test, set for Tuesday, May 1, is a pioneer plan to provide Ground Observer Corps posts throughout the state with continuing communications when their lines are knocked out in emergencies.

It has purposely been slated for May 1 to distract public attention from the anticipated communist holiday demonstration.

The public will participate during the 10-minute drill, between 7 and 8 p.m.

when he first brought his plans in the Planning Board on Feb. 1. Since then, however, they have been looking forward to construction of the development.

CARRAGHER INTENDS to build a sanitary sewer which will serve portions of Lawrence, Prospect and Henry Streets and a storm sewer which will drain Lawrence Street. The development site fronts on Somerset Street and is bounded roughly by Franklin, Henry and Lillian Streets. The latter street would be extended through the tract and into Somerset Street.

Drainage has been a major problem for residents in that area for some time. As one woman told Katchen:

"I've been living here for 27 years and this development will finally solve our drainage headache."

MEMBERS of the Planning Board jumped with favor on the developer's plan.

Malt Industry Lions Club Topic

The Franklin Lions Club met Wednesday evening at Franklin Park Grill, and following the business meeting, were shown a color film on the development of the malt beverages industry by Charles Sicora.

Melville Hulse, chairman of the teenage dance which the Lions sponsored last week, reported that the affair was a success and that there would be another in the near future under the chairmanship of John Carlano.

The Lions will hold their next meeting Wednesday evening, May 9, at Fairlawn Inn, Lincoln Highway.

Slate Annual Meeting

Dr. A. M. Balter, chief of medical service of the Veterans Administration Hospital at Lyons will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Somerset County Tuberculosis and Health Association Monday at the Fair Hills Inn. It will be a dinner meeting, beginning at 6:45 p.m.

"Emotions and Physical Health" will be the topic of Dr. Balter's address.

Addresses Radio Engineers' Meet

Arthur S. Westneat Jr. of Ruckey Hill Road, was speaker last Wednesday at a joint meeting of the Institute of Radio Engineers held at the Norden Laboratories Auditorium, White Plains, N. Y.

Westneat, who is assistant chief engineer of Applied Science Corporation, Princeton, discussed the problem of the so-called "communications barrier", the stage at which the requirements for transmission of information from a high-speed missile, such as a rocket or aircraft, begin to conflict with the performance of the vehicle. The Applied Science Corporation is active in the field of missile telemetering of missiles and satellites.

Westneat is a member of the Franklin Township Board of Education.

Rossi, a graduate of Middlesex County Vocational High School, is employed by Sicora Motors, Inc. He is a member of the First Aid Squad and Community Fire Company.

Developer Granted

velopment, as its construction would result in cleaning up the drainage and sewage problem for many of the surrounding homes.

The variance is necessary since 18 of the development's 30 lots have frontages of 66 2/3 feet instead of the required 75 feet. Planning Board members expressed the opinion that the variance is worth the value of the sewers.

In this opinion the nearby homeowners concur.

CONSTRUCTION of the storm sewer, would also eliminate an open drainage ditch across the land now owned by the developer.

When Katchen raised a question concerning the safety factor of traffic from the development flowing into Somerset Street, he also raised the danger of the dozen in-terested property owners.

They maintained that the development would not prove a safety hazard, despite Katchen's statements that he only wanted to investigate the problem.

ONE WOMAN TOLD him that further delay might cause Carraglier to withdraw his application and his sewers. "And I wouldn't blame him either," she added.

Another woman told Katchen that the existing drainage ditch was an ever present danger to children and should be eliminated as soon as possible. She said the short delay asked by Katchen is unnecessary.

Katchen did not even get much support from other board members.

John Thompson Jr., board member, said he could not see how one more street opening into Somerset Street would create a much more serious traffic problem.

Thompson and the board's attorney, Robert E. Gaynor, pointed out that decisions on traffic problems were not in the realm of the zoning board but belonged solely to the Planning Board.

WENDELL W. FORBES, Board of Adjustment chairman, said he did not understand how traffic entering or leaving the development could be rearranged.

But he reasoned that Katchen should be permitted to clear up the problem in his own mind before voting on the question.

It was not until the board went into executive session that he decision was reached on recommending the variance.

Forbes said he would take up Katchen's suggestion on the traffic problem with the Planning Board of which he is also chairman. Katchen said he would also be present at the next Planning Board meeting Wednesday to present his views.

THE BOARD TOOK two other actions. Mr. and Mrs. Sabino Molinari of Cedar Grove Rd. were denied a variance to erect a two-family dwelling in Cedar Grove Road.

The board granted a variance to the Bunker Hill Realty Co. which intends to build a dwelling on a plot only .05 short of an acre on Crescent Dr., Griggstown.

An acre is required under the zoning ordinance. The company said an eight-foot strip on one side of the tract was shaved off due to a mistake in surveying.

which specialize in this type of pre-engineered construction. Architects who will submit the plans Monday are Micklewright and Mountford of Trenton.

Structo has assured the school board that the buildings will be completed by Oct. 15, if contracts are awarded by June 1.

A 10-room school is slated for construction on 17 acres of property acquired by the school board from Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ewers in Franklin Park at a cost of $12,500.

The township is now in the process of buying nine acres of land off Elizabeth Avenue for the other school, a 21-room building. A 25-acre section of the Elizabeth Avenue school area was owned by the township and deeded to the board.

Township Comm.

 The township committee meeting May 24.
 The committee introduced two other ordinances, one authorizing the Housing Authority to carry out the redevelopment program for which it was established, and the other an amendment to the building code. The latter would require that sheathing on all buildings be of wood 3/4 inch thick or plywood 1/2 inch thick, and sub-flooring be 3/4 inch wood or 1/2 inch plywood.
 A resolution was passed appropriating $150 to pay Township Tax Assessor Stephen C. Held for the use of his car on official business for the first quarter of the year.

POLICE CHIEF Edwin F. Voor...

hees was appointed administrative officer of the police force. The appointment was made at the request of the county prosecutor's office to standardize working procedures and will not change the duties of the chief. The committee passed a resolution setting Chief Voorhees' salary at $1,200 yearly. Herebefore, he has been paid at an hourly rate.
 A letter from Herbert W. Wheeler, inquiring about steps he must take to obtain a license to operate a taxi service, was read to the committee, and referred to Township Attorney Robert E. Gaynor for a ruling. The township has never had occasion before to license a taxi service.
 Several residents were at the meeting to inquire about getting streets paved. Committeeman Casinero Calvo, who is in charge of streets and roads told them that paving would have to be done on an assessment basis, and could be carried out if the signatures of 51 percent of the residents on any street could be obtained on a petition.

MAYOR JAMES G. Maher announced that plans for a clinic to administer the Salk polio vaccine were under way, and asked that parents watch the newspapers for dates, as the program would include pre-school children and pregnant women, who might not receive the information through school channels.

Mayor Maher also announced the rabies vaccine clinics for dogs, will be held at the township hall on May 26, June 2 and June 9.

To inquiries about the condition of township roads, Committeeman Calvo explained that the road crew was behind schedule in oiling and scraping roads because of the unusual number of rainy days this spring.

The committee held a hearing and passed an amendment to the plumbing code which changed some of the requirements for installations and clarified the question of persons who are not plumbers being permitted to do the labor jobs on a plumbing installation.

Survey Shows Consumers Hazy About Nutrition Values of Food

What do consumers know about the nutritional values of the foods they buy and eat? A recent survey of city homemakers in a nearby state shows they know least about the importance of fruits and vegetables high in Vitamin C and Vitamin A.
 The report also showed a lack of information on the need for milk by adults and the nutritional importance of breads, cereals, butter and fortified margarine.

The leafy, green and yellow vegetables are rich in vitamin A. We should include at least one serving from this group in our meals each day, says Mrs. Anna Lewis Logg, home agent of Middlesex County Extension Service.

"We need vitamin A for healthy skin and good vision in dim light," she points out. "It protects the lining of nose, mouth and throat and so helps ward off respiratory infections."

"The fruits and vegetables high in vitamin C (ascorbic acid) are needed every day because the body cannot store this vitamin. At least one serving should be included in each day's meals. Choose citrus fruits, tomatoes or raw cabbage."

BOTH OF THESE groups are in the Basic 7 food groups. The other five, from which we should choose some food each day are:

• Potatoes and other fruits and vegetables. Have 2 or more servings.

NOTICE OF HEARING, DIVISION OF WATER POLICY AND SUPPLY OF THE DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT, Trenton, N. J., April 2, 1954. The Elizabethtown Water Company, Consolidated, 22 West Jersey Street, Elizabethtown, New Jersey, has made application to the Division of Water Policy and Supply to purchase a supply of 20,000,000 gallons of water daily from the Delaware and Raritan Canals for a period of 25 years from Nov. 1, 1955. The water would be withdrawn from the canal at approximately the location of the Raritan and Millstone Rivers and would be used for potable and other purposes after purification by the company. The quantity requested is in addition to the 225 million gallons daily the company has already contracted for. Notice is hereby given, pursuant to Chapter 168, P. L. 1949, that all interested parties will be heard on the said application on THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1956, at 2:00 p.m., in the office of the Director, 225 South State Street, Trenton, N. J., at which all persons, corporations and civil divisions of the State may be heard for or against the granting of the application. Written objections to the application may be filed with the Division at any time prior to the date specified for said hearing, but each objection filed shall necessarily specify the ground thereon. No objection can be entertained unless these provisions of the law are complied with. It is required that a copy of the objections, also sent to the applicant. The application and pertinent data may be examined in the office of the Division, by order of the Water Policy and Supply. JOHN WYACK, Secretary. R 4-13,37 affair, and she mailed it in plenty of time, but the poky old mail service let us down.

The dance wasn't as well attended as it should have been, but the people there had a swell time and will doubtless tell others, so the next one will be better attended.

Politics should quiet down for a while, now that the primaries are over and the political parties have organized and elected their officers at the municipal and county levels.

Franklin got its share of the county positions in both camps, and we can all relax and hope the politicians will too, until the picnic and speechmaking season gets underway sometime around the fourth of July.

Several weeks ago we told you about Piscataway Township employing a firm of professional appraisers to revalue the property of the township for taxing purposes, and how they would more than save the cost of the job during the first year.

Now the East Brunswick Business Men's Association is agitating for the same kind of a job there. They feel that if taxes were spread equally over the township a lot of tax dollars would be gathered.

This is especially true in a farm-farming area, where big old farmhouses, which used to be simple inside and not too valuable, have been restored by well-to-do people and are now very luxurious, but the assessment hasn't been changed.

The Business Men's Association in East Brunswick also claims that many people have just left off the front steps of their homes, or some other outside equipment and are living in them without paying full taxes, thus putting an extra burden on the people who do keep their places in apple pie order.

Whether this situation applies here, we wouldn't know, but it's an interesting question.

We understand that South Plainfield had a reassessing job done, spending $20,000 on the project, and got an additional $17,000 in state school aid the first year as a result. Middlesex, Burlington and Edison have also taken steps to get a reassessment.

Rutgers Dean To Address Guidance Center Meeting

Dean Wayne Vasey of the Graduate School of Social Work at Rutgers University will be guest speaker at the second annual meeting of the Somerset County Guidance Center, Wednesday, 8:30 p.m. at Organics Chemical Division, American Cynamid Company, Bound Brook.

Dean Vasey will speak on "Social Climate for Mental Health." A member of the Rutgers staff since 1954, Dean Vasey has taught at the University of California School of Social Welfare and at the New York School of Social Work. Prior to his association at Rutgers he was director of the School of Social Work of the State University of Iowa. He is a member of the executive committee of the National Conference of Social Work and a member of the Council of Delegates, National Council of Social Work Education.

citizens and community groups in Somerset County, to provide county residents with a full-time mental health clinic, staffed by professional workers.

Clinic services became available in September, 1954, when the Guidance Center opened offices at 217 West Main Street, Somerville. It became apparent immediately that the need in Somerset County was greater than had been anticipated.

For many months the staff had to concentrate their efforts on diagnosis, so that Somerset residents often had to wait weeks and even months before therapy could be given. Even now, with a staff consisting of a psychiatrist, a full and part-time psychologist, and two full-time and one part-time psychiatric social workers, a patient may have to wait some time for therapy to begin.

MOST OF THE PATIENTS who come to the Guidance Center for help are children who have been referred by the schools they attend. Referrals also come from relatives, physicians and county social agencies. The organization of the Somerset County Guidance Center is regarded as something of a model, and other communities have shown interest in its "50-50" basis of support. About half of the funds for the Guidance Center come from the State of New Jersey, and half from Somerset County through the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

J. L. Archibald to Wed Teacher

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Norma M. Lessor of Ridgewood to John Lauren Archibald, also of Ridgewood, formerly of Middlebush.

Miss Lessor is the daughter of Mrs. Harold Lessor of Burlington, Vt., and the late Mr. Lessor. A graduate of the University of Vermont, she holds a masters degree from Columbia University and is a teacher of languages in Benjamin Franklin Junior High School in Ridgewood. Archibald is the son of Mrs.

Lauren S. Archibald of Middlebush, and the late Mr. Archibald. He is a graduate of Rutgers University and holds bachelor's and master's degrees. He served three and a half years in the Army Air Corps. Archibald is principal of the Irwin B. Somerville Elementary School in Ridgewood.

The wedding will take place May 19 in Ridgewood.
