School Board, HA Discuss Project Plans

The Housing Authority attended the Board of Education meeting Monday night to discuss the proposed 50-unit project planned for the township and to request that the board pass a resolution stating that no population shift would result from creation of the project.

The board approved the resolution by a 5-2 vote with John Kelly and Walter C. Campbell voting against the action.

THE SPLIT VOTE resulted in disagreement between Kelly and Campbell and authority members. In referring to the board's approval of the plans, Kelly stated "It looks to me as though this will make good headlines."

John Carlano, authority member pointed out that approval of the plans is not required by the board. He said members decided to attend the meeting only to cooperate.

THE NEW HOUSING project will occupy a five-acre site between Somerset and Hamilton Streets near Millstone Road.

Another member of the authority, Leonard H. Ruppert, explained that for each new unit built, a standard unit would have to be removed. This would not mean that all would be ripped down. He explained that dwelling units could be removed from the sub-standard category by improvements.

Kelly and Campbell claimed that the units vacated by families related

With the current building program not slated to start until next month, the township Board of Education Monday night began discussing plans for additional expansion of school facilities.

Board President Leonard Bardsley, mentioning the anticipated shortage of classrooms, suggested the board's planning committee begin looking into the situation. It was also advised that Planning Chairman Lytle Hagmann might look to the Lay Advisory Committee for assistance in the project.

Township Talk

If you have anything to say about the new schools, speak Monday night or forever hold your peace.

That's when the Board of Education will meet to receive bids for the two elementary schools voted on by the citizens of the township last winter. Presumably the Structo Corporation will be the only bidder, as this organization is the only one known to be equipped to meet the specifications called for. In fact, the specifications were drawn for Structo.

The meeting, which the public is urged to attend, will be held at Pine Grove School at 8 p. m.

The Board of Adjustment, which ordinarily meets the third Thursday in the month, will get together a week ahead of time next month, meeting on June 14, in order to get a quorum. Later in the month, several of the members will be out of town. There are no new applications pending at the present time, but the board expects to clean up a couple of left overs at its June meeting.

Postmasters Edna Bowen of Franklin Park and Raymond Woolf of Kingston attended the meeting of the New Jersey Postmasters Association in Lakehurst Wednesday afternoon, which was followed by a dinner that evening.

ROBERT COURTNEY

Lay Advisory Group Names Courtney Head

Robert Courtney was elected president of the Lay Advisory Committee to the Board of Education at a meeting held Tuesday evening in Pine Grove School. Other officers elected were Mrs. Frank Vomacka, vice-president, and Mrs. Hubert G. Schmidt, secretary.

The committee meeting was attended by two members of the Board of Education, who have been designated as liaison officers from the board, Lytle Hagmann and Walter Campbell. Both are former members of the Lay Advisory group and advanced suggestions from the board for ways in which the committee could assist in planning for future school development.

It was suggested (1) that the committee take up the problem of the growing need for more school buildings and (2) the matter of obtaining a township-wide scholarship fund for a teacher

Residents of East Franklin had the township committee on the ropes for two hours last night while they voiced violent opposition to the proposed use by the Housing Authority of land set aside for a park.

THE CROWD of about 100 people overflowed the township hall and the meeting was transferred to the auditorium of Middlebush School. As the meeting opened, Mayor James G. Maher announced that the citizens could have their say first, before the routine business of the committee was taken up.

James Perri objected to reversing the order of the meeting on the ground that it would be good for people who do not get to meetings often to hear the entire proceedings. Mayor Maher replied that the people could stay for the rest of the meeting if they wished to do so.

Several mothers protested that the 20 acres, land lying between Somerset and Hamilton Street, set aside for park development several years ago, were no more than adequate for playground and park needs in the area.

One mother asserted that in the Franklin Hills development there were 44 children on one street alone. Another said her son had been reduced to fishing with a pole and string in a drain from someone's septic tank. One father from the area said that sometimes 17 boys were jammed into his ten by twelve foot back yard.

A LETTER WAS READ by the mayor from L. W. Kimball, former chairman of the planning board, protesting the use of the land for a housing project.

Township Clerk Fred Bascom explained that it had opposed the use by the Housing Authority of part of the park land. He said that it had been gradually acquired, part by tax foreclosure and part by purchase. He thought the proposal to take five acres of the 20 should have been brought before the Planning Board before an application for federal approval of the project was made.

"I don't understand the urgency of this," he said. "The executive secretary of the Authority came into the township board and select-

Twp. Man, Hit by Car, Dies

Gaston Flowers, 34, of Gurley Ave., Franklin Township, became the township's first traffic fatality in 1956, when he died Sunday at Middlesex General Hospital from injuries suffered when struck by a car here last week.

According to Police Chief Ed Voorhees, Flowers is the first traffic fatality in the township since Nov. 4, 1955, when a man was killed in a Franklin Park wreck.

FREDDIE CLIFFORD Davis, 22, of Piscataway Township, driver of the car that struck Flowers, will be summoned for causing death by auto, the police chief said. The charge is mandatory under state law.

The driver, Davis, reported that Flowers ran in front of his car in Somerset Street near Oak Street. Voorhees said another driver had reported to the investigating officers, Patrolmen Neaman Williams and Thomas J. Lee, that Flowers only a few minutes before the accident had run into the path of his car. The driver, however, avoided striking him, he said.

FLOWERS HAD BEEN under treatment for a severe head concussion and a fractured skull until his death.

A township resident for two years, Flowers had been employed as a machine operator by the Celotex Corp., Metuchen. He was a member of Sharon Baptist Church and an Army veteran.

He leaves his wife, Gladys; a son, Gaston Jr.; four daughters, Eva Mae, Gloria Mae, Marjorie Ruth and Catherine, all at home; two half-brothers, Woodrow and Clarence Burnett; and a brother, Jason Flowers, all of North Carolina, and two sisters, Mrs. Roxanna Dorsett of North Carolina and Mrs. Core Ann Williams of Newport News, Va.

The body was sent to Paimyra, N. C., for service and burial.

Fight Two Fires In Four Days

Township volunteer firemen worked overtime this week as fires struck a home on Lewis St. and a wooden building on the Danehauser farm at Pleasant Plain and South Middlebush Roads.

The Sunday afternoon fire at the Danehauser farm, which destroyed about 75 per cent of a 50 by 30 foot candler and egg candler building, was answered by engines from the Franklin Park Fire Company, Middlebush, Community, East Franklin and Monmouth Junction companies.

THE SECOND FIRE Tuesday afternoon struck the home of Mrs. Julia Leinback, only three months ago damaged by fire. Firemen from Community and East Franklin companies fought the blaze for more than an hour.

Police Lt. Russell Pfeiffer said the fire at the Leinback house must have smoldered some time before it was discovered. When he arrived, flames were shooting through the windows and roof. Much of the interior was gutted.

Mrs. Leinback, who lives alone, cated in the housing project would be filled by "new" families.

Mrs. Elizabeth Neibyl, temporary secretary and executive director of the authority, said that problem would be handled by Board of Health and zoning officials who would be able to take action against property owners.

When Campbell said he would like to see "something in writing" about the enforcement of township zoning and health laws as regards relocation of families from substandard units, Mrs. Neibyl pointed out that a contract had already been signed by the authority and the Township Committee agreeing to the wiping out of a substandard unit for every standard unit erected.

THE BOARD HIRED five new teachers and accepted the resignation of one teacher.

Those hired were Walter Plutkiss, a graduate of Duquesne University, who has five years experience, $4,050; Marjorie Wm., a graduate of Temple University with 18 years experience, $3,900; Robert T. Gavin, who will graduate from Rutgers University in June, $3,450, and Mrs. Ruth Varney, who holds a BA degree, $3,300.

The board accepted the resignation of Miss Louise Ruchl, first grade teacher at Pine Grove Manor School.

The board voted to refuse to pay a bill of approximately $1,600 submitted by Arthur N. Starin Associates of Basking Ridge who designed the ill-fated Junior high school.

The $1,600 bill was submitted in addition to the $22,000 paid by the board to plan and specifications which were not used after voters twice rejected bond issues to finance the project.

Starin said the $1,600 covered "extra" work ordered by the board.

UPON THE recommendation of Arthur S. Westcott Jr., board member, authority was granted to Dr. James M. Lynch to hire teachers without getting approval other than that of Leonard Bardsley, board president.

The move which was taken last year enables Lynch to hire teachers quickly without waiting possibly a month until a board meeting.

Lynch agreed to investigate a complaint that children not buying lunches at Hamilton School are being refused the purchase of ice cream.

Courtney told the RECORD that he feels the committee should look into its organizational setup and seek ways to increase the membership of the committee and to relieve the Board of Education of some of the details of planning for future school development.

It is expected that the board will send a letter to parents of school children urging their interest in the Lay Advisory Committee.

In the music festival presented last week, the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades performed under the direction of Joseph Poohay.

Grade five opened the program with a patriotic hymn, "God Bless Our Land." "Jacob's Ladder" was sung by Clarence Robinson, Robert Jackson and Donald Williams.

John Grammeloni sang "White Buffalo" and Daniel Varady and David Matern gave a vocal duet, "Red River Valley."

"Angels in the Sky," a vocal solo by Lynda Montesari and piano solo by Richard DeBlasi followed. Dancers to a Czech dance song were Brenda Hart and David Matern. An original version of "Are You Sleeping?" was done by the class. A trumpet solo by Otis Arnold was also presented.

Grade six began with "The Orchestra," an Austrian folk tune. "The Rock and Roll Waltz" was sung by Jessie Ann Radd and Carol Krause; danced by Carol Ann Hart and James O'Boyle, and played by accordionist Thomas Grbac.

"The Great Pretender," a solo by Michael Baker had the dreamers in the background. "The Old Soft Shoe" was danced by Christine Kircher and Alice Takacs. "Cherry Pink" was a trumpet solo by Leonard Mhehuk. "He" was a vocal solo by June Horvath.

Grades seven and eight began with "The Heavens Resound" by Cheryl Jarsky, Janet Schaeffer, Eileen Monser and Linda Rowley. "Singing Low, Sweet Charlie" was sung. "Daddy's Little Girl," a vocal solo by Kathleen Degnan followed. Linda Stevenson played a piano solo.

"When I Was Single" was pantomimed by Steve Suznovich, Jacqueline Jenkins and Dawn Edwards. A guitar duet was done by Ed Farnish and Michael Difiede. "Why Do Fools Fall in Love" was sung by Nathan Sanders. Jerry Swan offered a trumpet solo, "A Trumpeter's Lullaby."

"Love is a Many Splendored Thing" was a vocal solo by Sam Grammeloni. "Calm As the Night" was sung by the group. Al Redding gave a vocal solo. "Suddenly There's a Valley," "Now the Day is Over" was sung by Arlene Uro, Rose Marie Allo, Kathy Tupin and Nathan Sanders. Horace Jackson, Jerry Swan and Donald Brooks. "America the Beautiful" was the close of the program.

Carole Pastor of grade five, Katie LaMar, grade six, Linda Stevenson of grade seven, Edwina Pastore of grade eight, and Gail Peinck of grade eight were accompanists.

He also reminded the committee that there is no place, under the present zoning law for multiple housing, and that the zoning ordinance would have to be changed to allow it.

"This thing needs further study" is continued.
RUSSELL LAIRD, chairman of the Housing Authority who is also a member of the Planning Board and the Township Committee, denied that the executive secretary of the Authority, Mrs. Elizabeth Neihyl, had anything to do with the choice of the site. He said that the fact that the township already owned the land, that sewage and water were available and that the land was unoccupied were determining factors in its choice.

Mrs. Neihyl also denied that she had any voice in choosing the site, but did say that she agreed with the Authority that it was the best one.

LAIRD explained that the reason for the urgency was that if application were not filed by June 30 it would be held over a year. At this several citizens in the audience said that the park had been waiting 20 years, and nobody had become very urgent about it.

CARL DOKTORICH, a resident of the East Franklin section, drew applause when he said that the only way to clean up the slum area was to tear it down first, and replace it with the low cost housing project.

This was disputed by John Carlan, a member of the Authority, who said you could not tear down the sub-standard houses until there was a place to put the people.

Doktorich continued his argument that the authority would bring in more people unless blighted areas were disposed of before getting the new housing units.

He said that part of the land was sure eventually to be needed for a school, and said that tenants in the project, if unable to pay their rent, could not be evicted, but that the welfare department would have to pay their rent for them, thus cancelling out any profits the township would make from the arrangement.

The Housing Authority will meet with the Planning Board at an executive session Monday night to discuss the project. A public hearing on the matter is slated for June 6.

Following discussion of the Housing Authority, the perennial complaint of the township dump was worked over. Residents did acknowledge that the smoke and odor have been eliminated, but as one of them said "it's still a dump, and we don't want it in our neighborhood."

Operation Deep Freeze

You don't have to be with Admiral Byrd at the South Pole to observe "Operation Deep Freeze". Sleet storms and 20-below-zero temperatures are being reproduced the year around here at home in giant refrigerator test rooms. Many products are constantly being perfected through research made under manufactured arctic conditions.

Such experiments must be made under rigid scientific control. That's where J-M people help. They have developed many of the highly efficient insulations that make these controlled-cold tests possible. They have helped, too, by creating insulations that safeguard even the most sensitive food products from the packing and cold storage stage to the home refrigerator and dinner table. In fact, wherever it is necessary to maintain cold at required temperatures, ranging as low as minus 400 degrees Fahrenheit, J-M people are ready with the correct insulation.

Refrigeration - whether for safeguarding food and perishables or for improving industrial products - is only one of the major industries which the J-M team of research scientists, production people and sales representatives serve continuously. Their contributions help these industries make our standard of living more efficient, modern and enjoyable.

Budnarik Quits As Rec Head

Michael Budnarik, township recreation director for the past several years, submitted his resignation to the Youth Guidance Council at its meeting Tuesday evening.

Budnarik cited the increasing pressure of his work as a teacher in the Pine Grove School as his reason for quitting the position. The council is seeking a replacement for the opening of a summer recreational activities. A junior recreation leader is also needed in the Kingston area.

Budnarik will retain his membership on the Youth Council. Applications for his former position will be considered when the council meets June 5 and persons interested in the position may telephone the home of Council President Alex Sider, KI 5-6732.

Assistant recreation directors who have been employed for the summer season are Miss Betty Barbee, Donald Randolph, Miss Ellen Peters, James Takacs and Mrs. Vance Dunn. Assistant directors will observe the recreation program in Highland Park for two weeks before taking up their duties in Franklin Township.

Plans have been made to put blacktop on a section of the Middlesex schoolyard. Efforts are underway to obtain swimming facilities for the children of the township during the summer, according to Mrs. Salvatore Pappalardo, secretary of the council.

Son to Fischers

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fischer of Lake Ave., Franklin Township, are parents of a son, Mark Francis, born May 15 at St. Peter's Hospital. Mrs. Fischer is the former Miss Marian De Marrais of Bogota.

quite obvious," Bardsley said. Bardsley and Hagmann discussed the "mix-up" that will occur this fall prior to the opening of the two new Strueta schools.

Hagmann warned parents that there must be a "great redistribution" of pupils and he asked for cooperation in carrying out the moves which will be necessary. He said the added classrooms will represent a 80 per cent increase in plant facilities and residents should know the changes are coming.

Bardsley added that the transportation committee will face many problems in the same situation until the new schools open Oct. 15.

TO MEET THE NEEDS of expected increased enrollment in the fall, prior to the opening of the new schools, the board will seek permission to use 21 substandard rooms located in Middlebush, Phillips and Pine Grove Manor schools.

Upon the recommendation of John Kelly, the board settled on a plan to erect two rooms as an addition to the Laurel Avenue School at Kingston.

By building the addition at the rear of the school, instead of at the end, the project can be done for approximately $42,500, a saving of $5,000 over the other plan, Kelly said.

It was also reported by Kelly that the building and grounds committee is seeking estimates on the cost of grading and spreading 72 yards of topsoil at the site and end of Pine Grove Manor School. He said the job would not cost more than $500.

It would be another step toward landscaping the building, Kelly said.

a Girl Scout Court of Awards will be held in Pine Grove School Tuesday evening. Parents and friends of the Scouts and Brownies are invited. Be there at 7:30.

We haven't heard much about the Fire Chiefs' Association lately, but that doesn't mean they aren't on the job. The chiefs have been working on a constitution and by-laws for their organization and lists of all firefighting equipment in the township.

They will meet next at Second District Firehouse June 6, according to Secretary John Currey. Recently the Township Committee passed an ordinance authorizing the chiefs or their authorized representatives to inspect any property except living quarters, in their districts to determine if fire hazards exist.

VILLAGE PICNIC

The Ukrainian Village will hold a public picnic June 3 at their village on Cedar Grove Road. There will be dancing from 2 until 8 p.m. returned to the house only a week ago. She had been repairing the damage caused by the previous fire.

PELHAM STEWART, chief of the Franklin Park company, reported that the fire in the farm building was burning between the inner and outer walls and spread to the roof as firemen reached the scene.

An addition at one end of the building was saved by the firemen. Three firemen from the Franklin Park company suffered slight cases of smoke poisoning in the Sunday fire. They were Fred Brenner, Robert O'Connell and James Rickert.

Plan Free Chest X-rays for County

For four days in June, free chest X-rays will be available to residents of Somerset County if arrangements can be completed. It was announced today by Mrs. Mildred Everett, executive director of the Somerset County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Four days' use of mobile X-ray equipment has been allotted to Somerset County by the Northern District of the New Jersey State Department of Health. A tentative schedule has been set up as follows: Thursday, June 14, Manville; Tuesday, June 18, Somerville; Wednesday, June 20, Bound Brook; and Friday, June 22, Manville.

Locations of the units are being determined by local officials.

"When Kids fly Kites—the String is the Thing"

Follow these simple Safety Rules and avoid serious electric burns or fatal electric shock!

- Stay away from electric power lines!
- Never use wire in place of string and never use cord with metal strands. This type of string is a conductor of electricity. If it comes in contact with electric power lines you will receive serious injury.
- Use cotton, silk or nylon string. It must be dry!
- Never climb poles or trees near electric wires to retrieve a kite. It's better to lose a kite than a life.
