VIEW BROCHURE—Carl Meier, Mayor James G. Maher, Robert Smock and Edmund Jenkins examine new brochure published by the Industrial Commission.

UNKNOWN IMPORTANCE—Franklin Township is shown as the heart of the mainline on the cover of this brochure prepared by the Industrial Commission.

'Sell' Franklin Township Plan Of Commission

A new 18-page pictorial brochure in color, designed to "sell" Franklin Township to industry, was unveiled by the Industrial Commission this week.

The brochure was made public at a session hosted by the Chamber of Commerce at the Franklin Park Grill, where key officials of government and industry gathered to receive copies.

Other copies will be made available to industrial officials all over the country.

THE PURPOSE of the attractive brochure is to outline the advantages of locating industry in Franklin Township.

It is largely the product of Robert Smock, public relations chairman of the Industrial Commission and a professional TV writer.

Other members of the commission are Alex Katchen, chairman; Wendell W. Forbes, Edwin Garrettson, Chester Leeora, Carl H. Meier, Milton Stoll, Edmund F. Jenkins and Mayor James G. Maher, who holds the position ex officio.

ATTENDING the affair were: Frank E. Hamler, Somerset Co. Planning Board; John J. Senesy, Construction Service, Bound Brook; Robert B. Hesson, Bound Brook Trust Co.; Emery Drake, Bound Brook Trust; S. N. Sanner, Wesley H. Owens Agency; Roy E. Reed, National an. of N.J.; Assemblyman Wm. E. Ozzard, Somerset.

Township Talk

Turning down the Franklin Board of Ed's request for some free school plans, Dr. Frederick M. Raubinger said it was "far-fetched" to invoke a law passed in 1903 which has never been used by anybody.

Well, it seems pretty silly to have a law kicking around all those years without ever using it, and this would be a good time to begin.

Whether the State Bureau of Architecture is still in the Department of Institutions and Agencies, or the State House attic, or out in the middle of State St., it still has on its payroll competent architects who could design standard schools at a fraction of the cost of having them tailor-made.

Schools all look alike anyhow, and the state requirements are so specific they all have to be built just about alike. The local board has little choice, or little chance, to cut costs.

Of course the architects' associations will fight this to the bitter end, but many an architect who does not happen to be a school specialist will tell you off the record that school architecture is a big racket.

It just might be that the Franklin board, if they are persistent enough, might bring this thing to public attention and save not only Franklin, but other school districts, a lot of money. Or they could get the State Association of School Boards interested in plugging for free plans.

One more question, Mr. Raubinger: If the law was intended for small country schools, how come there is a provision for providing plans for schools up to 24 rooms?

The criticism that our schools are getting "more quantity than quality" comes with ill grace from the lay advisory committee, because if memory serves correctly, it was that body which insisted last spring that the bond issue for new schools be held below a million dollars.

There was even the tacit threat that any proposal calling for more than that sum would be killed.

There was that painful breakfast-time session with the board and the lay advisory committee, beating the cost down by every means possible, and finally getting it down to $988,000 before the committee would agree to go along.

Now we can't have it both ways. Either we get high quality schools and pay a high price for them or (Continued on page eight)

600 New Voters Register In Twp.

There will be at least 600 new voters and possibly more in the township this year.

Mrs. Mercer D. Smith, secretary to Township Clerk Fred. L. Bascom, made this announcement following the closing of registration.

Three Wives Bring Assault Charges Against Spouses

Three assault charges, preferred by Franklin Township wives against their husbands were tried Monday night by Magistrate George Shamy in township court.

Wesley Moate of 681 Somerset St. was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for abusing and assaulting his wife, Mrs. Zurland Moate.

Magistrate Shamy warned Moate that a similar charge in the future would get him a year in jail.

Another husband, Karine Levin, 212 of Voorhees Crossing, Franklin Twp., was given a suspended sentence and fined $5 court costs for assaulting his wife, Mrs. Ann Lewinski.

Lewinski's wife made a recommendation to the judge that her spouse get another chance.

A third complaint, against Peter Dowbachuk of Ninth St. and Hawthorne Ave., was dismissed by the judge on testimony of the married couple's son.

The boy said the father did not assault his wife, Mrs. Ludmyla Dowbachuk, with a chair as she had testified.

$50,000 Curbing To Be Installed On Hamilton St.

Curbs and gutters for Hamilton Rd. from Mile Run, the township line, to Franklin Blvd., were authorized in an ordinance passed by the township committee last night. The improvement will cost $50,000, of which $45,000 will be paid by assessment of the property involved, and the remainder by the township. It is understood that Somerset County, which maintains the road, will pave the shoulders.

There were no objectors at the hearing held just prior to passage of the ordinance, but Edward Gillum, Smith Rd., questioned putting in the curb and gutters when sewers would be coming soon. He was told by William Remy, representing the township's engineering firm, Raymond Wilson Co., that the sewers would run under the sidewalk area. Gillum then said that property owners should be warned not to put down sidewalks until after sewer pipes are put in.

The Fidelity Construction Co. of New Brunswick was retained as bid bidder to pave Section 2 of Demutt Lane, from Easton Avenue to Emerson Rd. This will be done with state aid money at a cost of $11,500, subject to approval of the bid by the State Highway Commission. The township has in hand $20,000 for the road, $18,000 of which comes from state aid formula funds.

Mayor James G. Maher announced that the committee has scheduled a meeting with officials of the Millstone Bus Line, which has slowed down service through the township to the point where there are numerous complaints. The line's contract for a franchise will be examined to determine whether more service can be demanded. Mayor Maher said, however, that the line runs many empty buses already, so some fair adjustment will have to be made. (Continued on Page 7)

Judge Shamy Refuses to 'Let Woman, 60, Is Killed By Auto Charge Slide' Near Own Home

A New Brunswick man, who pleaded guilty to two separate charges of driving while on the re- in the county jail if he is unable to voked list, faces a 45-day sentence raise money for fines totaling $205 by the next session of Franklin Township Court.

Magistrate George Shamy levied a mandatory fine of $100 on each offense against Leonard Schneider, 22, of 588 Waldorf St. Monday night in court. The charges were preferred by Officer Walter I. Adams and Lt. Russell Proffler.

I. H. Nieves, 35, of Rocky Hill was fined $50 and $5 costs for allowing an unlicensed driver, his wife, Mrs. Joan Nieves, to operate his car. Mrs. Nieves paid $5 and $5 costs for driving without a license. Officer Walter I. Adams issued the summonses.

The license of Herman Young, 37, of New Brunswick was revoked for three months on a charge of speeding. He also paid a $20 fine and $5 costs.

Young's plea to the court to "let it slide this time" did not help his cause so far as Magistrate Shamy was concerned.

"It's my duty to protect the citizens of Franklin Township against your life if you haven't the sense to protect your own," the magistrate replied.

Judge Shamy, who said he was tempted to lift Young's license for a year, warned he did not do so only in consideration of the de- (Continued on page 2)

Woman, 60, Is Killed By Auto Near Own Home

Somerset County's 11th traffic victim was recorded Tuesday when a 60-year-old Little Rocky Hill woman was struck by a car within sight of her home.

Mrs. Filimina Pinelli of Route 27 died at 11:45 a. m. of injuries she sustained shortly after 8 a. m. when attempting to cross the highway. She reportedly walked into the path of the vehicle.

Township Police Chief Ed Voorhees said she is the township's second highway accident victim this year. The accident took place a mile north of the Raymond Road intersection.

State police at the Princeton barracks reported that Mrs. Pinelli walked out from behind her husband's truck which was parked at the side of the roadway.

The driver of the car that struck her was identified as Edward J. Robinson, 27, of Trenton. Police said he was traveling North and did not see Mrs. Pinelli until she was but a short distance from his car.

Police said Robinson answered in an attempt to avoid the woman but struck her with the right front fender of his car. Trooper Leon Slicer investigated and on the advice of the Somerset County prosecutor's office did not issue any summonses.

Mrs. Pinelli was rushed to Princeton Hospital by the Princeton First Aid Squad but did not recover from her injuries.

Lay Comm. Suggests It Disband

A motion to "Disband the Lay Advisory Committee, subject to the School Board's approval" was passed by the Lay Advisory Committee Tuesday evening during a meeting at Kingston School. The school board set up the lay committee, therefore only they can disband it.

Reports were given of the various committees. Chairman Louis Loeb reported on the planning committee activities. The school board intends to receive bids for the new school building program on Monday, Oct. 8, at 8 p. m. Pine Grove Manor. Architect Alexander Mickelwright is doing the new Elizabeth Avenue school and in that connection it will have to be decided whether Mickelwright or Structo Schools Incorporated work on the Franklin Park School.

Loeb also reported on the safety committee. Some months ago the committee had consulted the school board on the provision of markers bordering the highways on the approach to each of the township's six schools. The school board, the Township Committee and Freeholder C. I. Van Cleef had approved and it was stated that the markers would be in position in time for the schools to go back in September. It was reported that nothing, however, had been done.

A special report was given by the education committee sub-committee of the Lay Advisory Committee. Last June it had been asked to report on physical education in the elementary school system. Early in July it turned in a report to the school board, the gist of which was that where financial resources were limited it was better to spend the money on classrooms rather than on elaborate gymnasium facilities.

defendant's five children and the fact that Young needed a license in order to get to work.

Young was convicted on testimony of Officer James Brown, who said he reached speeds between 80 and 85 miles an hour while attempting to overtake Young during a chase on Amwell Rd.

After sentencing Young, the judge instructed police to issue reckless driving summonses in the future to any persons driving that fast.

The magistrate fined H. H. Dries, 31, of New Brunswick $20 and $5 costs for careless driving on Amwell Rd., preferred by Officer John W. Burtis Jr.

'Parking Cavaliers' Warned

The arrogance of "free-whooping parking cavaliers" was cited today by Robert L. Sheldon, Chief of the Bureau of Traffic Safety, as contributing to accidents on New Jersey's already congested roads, particularly in shopping areas located on or near heavily traveled streets.

"The worst of these offenders", Sheldon said, "is the motorist who nonchalantly double parks his car in the moving traffic stream so that he may take 'just a minute' to dash into a store to buy a paper or a pack of cigarettes.

"In this all-too-usual picture, traffic is brought to a standstill while the villain of the piece dawdles—in the inconvenience and justified annoyance of other and better-mannered drivers.

"In addition, following vehicles, if they are to move at all, may be funneled into the opposing lane of oncoming traffic, a serious hazard to all concerned. The motorist with manners—and his kind vastly outnumbers the 'parking cavalier'—deserves a better break."

Reminding that State law on the subject provides penalties for a variety of parking violations, the Traffic Safety Chief, listed these as "for the greatest good of the greatest number" and added "that even 'parking cavaliers' should be able to observe these reasonable restrictions."

- In general, parking is prohibited in any of the following places:
- within an intersection
 - on a crosswalk
 - between or within 20 feet of a curb and opposite safety zone
 - in front of a driveway
 - within 25 feet of a street intersection
 - on a sidewalk
 - within 50 feet of a STOP sign
 - within 10 feet of a fire hydrant
 - within 50 feet of the nearest rail of a railroad crossing
 - within 20 feet of the driveway entrance to a fire station or on the opposite side of the street to a fire station entrance within 75 feet when properly sign-posted
 - alongside or opposite any street excavation or obstruction where parking would obstruct traffic

LEGION CHIEF . . . Wilbur C. Daniel, 42, of Danville, Va., World War II navy veteran, was elected national commander of American Legion at Los Angeles convention.

JULIA MEADE

'Double in Hearts' Bows Tomorrow At McCarter

Julia Meade, a weekly favorite with the millions of TV viewers of Ed Sullivan's show and last seen on Broadway in "The Tender Trap," stars in "Double in Hearts," the new Paul Nathan comedy to be unveiled at Princeton's McCarter Theatre tomorrow and Saturday.

Sharing honors with Miss Meade, who plays the role of a beautiful and brainy model, are William (Billy) Redfield, currently holding forth in the popular film "The Proud and Profane," Mack Daniels, remembered for his villainy in "Stalag 17" on the stage; and Neva Patterson, another TV favorite who has also graced Broadway hits as "Ring Around the Moon," "I Know My Love" (with the Lunis), and many others.

The sprightly comedy, which has its premiere in Princeton and is slated for its Broadway bow in October, is being produced under the banner of Bernard Straus, Paul Vroom and Aida Karns.

John Gerstad, represented previously on the main stem with "The Seven Year Itch," has been assigned the directional chores—keeping the playwright's lines and action flowing with comic snap—and Sam Leve, veteran designer of many shows, has supplied the setting for "Double in Hearts." Nathalie Walker has designed the costumes.

Seats for the show are now available by mail order or directly at the boxoffice of the McCarter for the two evenings (8:30) and for the thrift matinee on Saturday.

 NEVER UNDERSOLD

Legally, a car is "parked", Sheldon observed, whether or not a driver is behind the wheel, unless stopped in obedience to a traffic officer, sign or signal or taking on or letting off passengers or merchandise.

"About the best that can be said about 'parking cavaliers', particularly double parkers, is that they are ill-mannered and inconsiderate," he concluded, "but the worst about them is that their actions contribute directly to accidents—by leaving a vehicle standing on the traveled part of a street or road is a threat to the safety of all law-abiding highway users."

Conquering the world looks comparatively easy when viewed from a graduation platform.

Jersey Farmers Raise Fewer Turkeys in '56

New Jersey farmers are raising about 274,000 turkeys this year, 18 per cent fewer than in 1955 and the smallest crop since 1949, the New Jersey Crop Reporting Service has reported.

Decreases were noted in most of the North Atlantic states for a nine-state average drop of nine per cent. However, the North Atlantic states are the only ones in the nation with fewer turkeys this year. The national crop is expected to reach a record 78,340,000 turkeys, 16 per cent more than in 1955, thus assuring an ample supply.

Following the national trend New Jersey farmers this year are raising 60 per cent fewer light breeds, weighing 8 to 12 pounds, while a 9 per cent increase is reported among the heavy breeds. About 52,000 or 19 per cent of all turkeys in the State are the light breeds such as Beltsville Small White and Jersey Buff. Last year they comprised 40 per cent of the total crop.

TOMMY JENSEN'S teacher was coming often enough to the home of his parents in Jacksonville, Florida, to give those elders concern. Tommy played truant. Tommy got several thrashings because of his truancy. But Tommy still played truant. He wasn't a bad boy at home. In fact, he wasn't bad in school—when ever he was there. He got his lessons; it seemed little trouble for him to learn or to recite them. His homework was taken care of promptly, and in time for Tommy to have happy periods of play before bedtime. WHY didn't Tommy want to go to school? He didn't seem to know the answer himself. Mr. Jensen himself had always been interested in history, a subject in which Tommy had shown more interest than in most of his school subjects. Mr. Jensen went into a huddle with the teacher, Might Tommy, when he finished his school work ahead of time, apply himself to gathering some facts for his father. The baffled teacher was ready to try practically anything. So Tommy went to school every day armed with an additional book—a history book. And Tommy came home every afternoon with quite a list of interesting facts on what had happened in the world. Tommy no longer played truant. All because Tommy's father had discovered why Tommy's great fault persisted. A little understanding had done what many thrashings had shown no signs of ever achieving.

JOHNS-MANVILLE "Close-Ups"

Tiger on the Wing

ROARING THROUGH SPACE at supersonic speeds, the Grumman F11F-1 has all the qualities of its namesake, the "Tiger" — speed, maneuverability and deadliness. The advanced ideas incorporated in such planes are a vanguard for the design and future of missiles that will tackle the future problems of flight in outer space.

Creating enough power to stab through the sound barrier posed many problems for the Aviation Industry. Both plane and pilot had to be protected from the great heat generated by powerful turbojet engines. J-M people had an answer. They developed a special new type of lightweight insulating shroud that shields the plane from terrific engine temperatures. They also developed firewall seals and asbestos-metallic gaskets to block passage of flame and combustibles between compartments, and to contain hot gases under a wide range of temperatures.

The next goal for the Aviation Industry is to crack the heat barrier. This time plane and pilot will have to be protected from air friction heats capable of melting a plane constructed with today's materials. J-M people are now busy developing new and improved insulations against such super heat conditions.

J-M people are glad to be of service to the Aviation Industry in helping to make our country strong. The company team of research scientists, production people and sales representatives are proud, too, of their assistance to other American industries. Their development of many new industrial products has aided industry in achieving higher efficiency thus contributing to a higher standard of living.

Examine Shirt Before You Buy, Expert Warns

A correctly dressed man will tell you that a shirt is not just a shirt. It's a symbol of good taste and efficiency.

To recognize marks of quality in a shirt, Miss Florence Gessler, extension clothing specialist of Rutgers University, suggests you examine it closely, read the label and ask questions of the sales person when necessary.

"NOTHING IS MORE uncomfortable than an ill-fitting shirt, so be certain to ask for the correct neckband size and sleeve length," she advises. "The shirt should be cut full. The body should be long and smooth fitting over the torso, flat on the chest, yet roomy enough for comfort.

"Examine the back yoke and cuffs to see that fullness has been gathered properly. Stitching is a good indication of workmanship. Seams on a good shirt will have 17 to 20 stitches to the inch.

"Collar points should be sharp evenly stitched and lie flat. Buttonholes should be evenly and closely stitched. Well-made buttonholes will not fray out. They should slip easily and securely over the button.

"DON'T OVERLOOK the buttons. Lustrous pearl buttons of uniform thickness with four holes securely sewn on, are very satisfactory for a good business shirt.

"Even a full-cut shirt with good workmanship will do you little good if the fabric quality is not there. The label should guarantee there will be no more than 1 percent shrinkage, and the guarantee should cover the whole shirt, not just the collar. Colored shirts should be fast to light, washing and perspiration."

Curbing

A recommendation of Wendell W. Forbes, chairman of the planning board, that the committee employ a professional assistant to the board for a temporary period was taken under advisement.

The action of the board of health in giving a 90-day leave of absence of Health Officer Stephen C. Reid and the appointment of John Hansen as a temporary replacement at $28,000 a year was approved. It was announced that a hearing on the proposed sewer authority ordinance would be held at the next regular meeting of the committee. A card for bicycle registration will be sent home by the school children, in preparation for drafting a bicycle ordinance.

The perennial question of the dump came up and was argued back and forth for some time. This time the people from the new dump area were not represented. Mayor Maher said, on questioning, that this was not necessarily a permanent site, that nothing was being paid for use of the site, that the State Board of Health had approved the location, and that the committee was still looking for places to dump refuse.

Herman Calvin, owner of the site, which is between Easton Ave. and the Canal near the BOA building, said in answer to questions about the arrangement to dump on his property, "All I get from the township is abuse."

Michael Lisi argued that there should be some permanent plans for rubbish disposal and said that he advocated getting together with other municipalities and seeking to work out plans for a disposal plant.

We pay less and get less.

Wonder whom the board of ed will tap for that vacancy created by the resignation of George Carr. Whoever gets the nod will have a big pair of shoes to fill. George Carr was so quiet and unassuming that sometimes one forgot, at meetings, that he was there. However, he did a whale of a job in organizing and supervising the cafeteria. He will be missed, and he will be hard to replace.

Eleanor Rowe gave some very interesting information about the difference between a county park system and municipal parks when she spoke in the township this week.

Municipal parks, she tells us, are for local use as playgrounds. They have ball fields, tennis courts, wading pools, possibly a swimming pool (oh happy day), and room just to turn the kids loose. Very good, very necessary.

A county park system, on the other hand, has all these recreational facilities, but also contains large tracts of land which form a barrier between highly developed areas, provide a forest reservation, allows for drainage, water retention, firebreaks, and wild life refuge.

If we don't get a county park system before the land is all bought up by developers, we never will get it.

Eleanor suggested that anyone wanting to see a real county park system should visit those in Union and Essex counties. Most of us have already visited those parks, for the simple reason that there aren't any in our own township or county to go to.

Eleanor also pointed out that you only have to vote on the first of the three-part county park system question.

Incidentally, the cost per year will be 45 cents per person. Did you ever get into a public park for that?

lic; and Bob, a TV huckster by trade, has just come up with a brochure hymning the glories of Franklin as a place for industries to locate.

The brochure is terrific. Bob, (U) you got to the last page, where somebody up and misspelled the names of Charlie Slocra and Alex Katchen.

The pictures of those great towers of learning, Rutgers, Princeton and Pine Grove School, would sell any old factory owner on moving right in. And where did you say that "executive zoning strip" is?

Incidentally, if a third public relations man who is willing to donate his time and energy can be found, it might be a good idea to turn him over to the planning board.

(Scuse us please, Joe Marics, for putting the wrong name under your picture last week. Blaming it on Epaminondas, as usual.)

The Middlebush Library, which is a branch of the Somerset County Library, is about to be evicted from its home at the basement of Township Hall, to make room for the Police Department to expand its quarters.

The police certainly need more space, but it does seem too bad to sacrifice the library which has been open one afternoon each week.

Wednesday afternoon, 119 books were taken from the library, 98 of them by children. It would seem with this number of books being read, that the library is a force against juvenile delinquency. We hope some way can be found to keep it going.

After all, we have to pay our share of county library tax whether we use the books or not. The township has no obligation to provide for quarters, but it's a darn good thing to do, as soon as possible.

'Twp. Dump Merely Moved,' Lisi

"The dump hasn't been closed," declared Michael A. Lisi, Democratic candidate for Franklin Township Committee, at a dinner of the Men's Democratic Club, "it has merely been moved."

"And the ironical part of it is that it has been moved to the neighborhood of people who are paying a private collector to haul away their refuse."

LISI ADDRESSED an assemblage of 100 persons at the dinner, held at the Franklin Park Grill, Franklin Park.

Lisi scored poor municipal planning of private negotiations and "deals," and finalized plans presented to the public on a "silver platter" without giving the public the facts.

"The township dump still smells as much as it did when it was in my back yard," Lisi continued. "I am not going to quit demanding the whole story of this smelly situation just because it has been moved out of my neighborhood and into somebody else's."

REFERRING to the silence maintained on the issue by the chairman of health and welfare, Lisi asserted: "If the rats, the roaches, the smell, the pollution don't constitute a public health problem, then I would like to know just what does."

He said "nobody wants to live near a dump," but admitted he had no ready solution. The situation, he said, must be "approached boldly and imaginatively."

Lisi called for action to plan for a disposal plant and suggested a conference with neighboring municipalities with the same disposal problem in an attempt to work to get expert advice and work out some cooperative plans for "a scientific, sanitary refuse disposal plant."

PTA Plans Hobo Party Next Month

The East Millstone P.T.A. will meet the second Wednesday of every month, beginning Oct. 10, at 8 p.m. A hobo party, slated to follow the business meeting, will be next month's feature.

Officers for the year are president, Mrs. Howard Stevenson; vice president, Mrs. Harold Smith; secretary, Mrs. John Martinek and treasurer, Mrs. Walter Paris.

Mrs. Stevenson has appointed the following committee heads:

Budget and finance, Mrs. J. Galas; historian, Mrs. J. F. B. Hart; Founders' Day, Mrs. A. Axt; and publicity, Mrs. George Brokaw and Mrs. Walter Paris.

Publications, Mrs. W. Biefeld; hospitality, Mrs. T. Hellyu, assisted by Mrs. W. Lepoll and Mrs. L. Jersewiski; program, Mrs. C. Nizalk and membership, Mrs. W. Paris and Mrs. G. Rotolari.

Safety, Mrs. Thomas Iluic; reading and library, Mrs. D. Slanker; goals, Mrs. Richard Reilly and ways and means, Mrs. C. Nizalk.

A rummage sale will be sponsored by the PTA Oct. 19 at 10 a.m. in the East Millstone Fire House.

LISI CONCLUDED: "If elected to the township committee, I shall constantly seek ways in which we can cooperate with and invite the cooperation of other municipalities, to solve this and many of our other common problems more cheaply and more speedily by concerted action."

Michael Peacos was the toastmaster at the dinner. Mrs. Eleanor R. Rowe, Democratic candidate for freeholder, was a guest.

In The Mailbag

Dear Sir:

I know I am safe in saying that the entire community of East Millstone was greatly saddened this week to hear that our local priest, the Rev. John Adamowski of St. Joseph's Church, will be leaving soon for another parish.

In the nine or so years he has been here, Father Adamowski has truly done wonders. He has built up his little church into probably our township's largest—at least from the standpoint of membership. He has helped it to achieve a number of dreams, including an outdoor shrine and a much-needed basement meeting hall.

But these are only the physical things. More by far, to all who have come to know him, is the fine and inspiring example that Father Adamowski has set as a man. Since the first week he arrived here fresh from his service in the Army, our community has come to admire him as one who has lived out his preachments.

Catholic, Protestant and Jew alike have learned that his words on brotherhood are a personal way of life. His smile and constant good works have been high in our list of landmarks.

The writer himself is not a Catholic. But he and a host of others join with their Catholic friends in regretting Father John's departure.

We wish him the best of success wherever his calling may take him—knowing that wherever he is, people will benefit greatly from his presence.

Sincerely,
Len Guppert
East Millstone

Parishioners of St. Joseph's Church saddened by the departure of their beloved "Father John," will be comforted by knowing that he will be doing for others what he has done so well for them—built up a strong, active church, where a small and weak one previously existed.

"Father John" is a man of God who is also a man among men. He was a personal friend as well as a spiritual adviser to his people, and the impact of his personality will be felt in the parish for many years.

It isn't every town that can get a couple of smart cookies like Bob Smock and Len Ruppert to donate their services to do the public relations for local projects.

Len, who owns a newspaper outside the township, has been seeing to it that the housing authority is interpreted to the public.

Recreation Field Is Site Of Picnic

St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church will hold its annual picnic Sunday afternoon at Johns-Manville recreation field in Manville at 2 p.m. Mrs. Stanley Broszos and John Liedl Jr. are co-chairmen of arrangements.

There will be games, kiddie rides, food stands, and dancing to the music of Walt Wengry's orchestra. Tickets may be obtained at the gate.

I've guaranteed my family a home, no matter what happens!
