

Joins Prayer Pilgrimage

MRS. IDA MAE WILLIAMS of Churchill Avenue is congratulated by Municipal Chairman Francis H. Willard after her recent appointment to head a committee which will represent the Democratic Party of the Township at the Prayer Pilgrimage for Freedom in Washington today.

Heart Fails As Churchman Gives Prayer

After leading 125 persons in prayer at a ground-breaking ceremony Sunday for a new Lutheran Church, 67-year-old Otto Olsen, church committeeman, dropped unconscious and died of a heart attack.

A resident of Washington Rd., Norseville, Olsen dropped on the spot from which he was speaking before the congregation of the Bunker Hill Lutheran Church and was taken to Princeton Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

The ceremony continued, with the Rev. Torre Aorgensen, pastor of the Brethren Lutheran Church in Brooklyn, and Lowell Salire, professor at the Lutheran Seminary in Sentor, Minn., later encouraging the congregation in their project to aid construction of the new church.

FUNERAL SERVICES were held Tuesday for the Norseville resident in the Kibbe Funeral Home, Princeton, with the Rev. Tergesen officiating. Burial was in Valhalla Burial Park, Staten Island.

In-Laws Go to their Corners; Come Out Fighting In Court

In-law and family trouble reigned at Township Court Monday night with wise Solomon, Magistrate George Shamy, clearing the air and settling disputes.

Twenty-three-year-old Thomas Styles of Oak Street was sent to the county jail for 90 days on a drunk and disorderly charge preferred by his mother, Mrs. Idella Styles.

Far from being a first offender, Styles had spent a total of 272 days in jail within three years on drunk and disorderly charges, most of them preferred by members of his family. The last charge stated that Styles had created a disturbance and was drunk and disorderly at his home on Oak Street.

When Styles told Judge Shamy he wanted to get a room somewhere, the magistrate replied, "You've got the same old room," then ordered the 90 day jail sentence.

Township Talk

Few Sunday afternoons offer leisure in this season when lawns and gardens are crying for attention. But the next time you have a choice between doing the Sunday paper's crossword puzzle or doing a little sight-seeing, toss the paper aside, pack the family into the car, and take a little tour.

First drive over to Easton Avenue, turn in at Rutgers Heights and slowly observe the houses and grounds on Emerson and DeMott Lane and all the roads between. When you have a pretty good idea of what individuals have accomplished in planning and building their own home, it is time to leave the impressive semi-rural beauty of Franklin Township and go to see some other homes.

As a standard of comparison, choose a housing development similar in cost of homes to those in Rutgers Heights, say Lawrence Brook Manor in East Brunswick. Again drive slowly, give the developers the benefit of the doubt, remembering that the men who operate the bulldozers for housing developers got their training clearing airstrips on Guadalcanal. Remember too that the residents in the project houses have had less

Board Receives Tentative State Approval On School

The Board of Education received tentative approval Monday from the State Department of Education of its proposal to build a 21-room school using the plans of the new Elizabeth Avenue school on a 39-acre Franklin Boulevard site. The Board met in special session Tuesday evening at Pine Grove Manor School for passage of a resolution setting the date of the election on the school and describing the school and properties in detail. The resolution was passed unanimously by the six members of the Board present.

Dr. Lyle E. Hagmann and Walter Campbell were absent.

The resolution called for acquisition of lands bounded by Franklin Boulevard, Hollywood Homes, Vanderbilt Street and an unnamed paper street on the western boundary. It also states that the total amount of the bond issue shall not exceed $950,000, an amount which will push the debt load of the Township $1,491,321.79 beyond the borrowing margin.

BOARD MEMBER Joseph Takacs suggested that the polls be opened at 3 p.m. instead of the usual 2 p.m. because of the light voting between those hours in school elections. Arthur Westcott and other Board members disagreed, saying that the voters should be given every opportunity to express their wishes, and the

Carelessness Costs Youth License, $20

A 24-year-old youth's story in Township Court Monday night of being caught between two oncoming, racing vehicles being the cause of his losing control of his car and crashing, was not swallowed by Magistrate George Shamy. David B. Lawson of Blackwells Road thus lost his driver's license for 90 days and paid a $15 fine and $5 costs for careless driving.

Lawson testified that as he drove along Blackwells Mills Road late one night, he noticed a car in his lane coming from the opposite direction. The motorist said he then steered to the left lane, but saw another vehicle, and swerved back to the right, losing control.

JUDGE SHAMY said he believed Lawson came around the curve at too great a speed, thus losing control of his car.

Attorney William Rosenberg, Manville attorney, represented Lawson. The summons was issued by Officer A. Canavasio.

Shooting Suspect Caught, Jailed

Thomas Ayres, suspected in the shooting of Samuel Smith of Del Moncia Avenue on April 29, is being held in the Somerset County jail on $5,000 bail pending grand jury action.

Ayres was apprehended in Philadelphia Tuesday after a two-week police search for him and a companion, Edward Bell. Bell has not yet been found.

Both Cranbury men, Ayres and Bell reportedly argued with Smith when the latter found his wife Mary with them in a car at Annapolis Avenue and Hamilton Street. According to Lt. Russell Pfeiffer, Smith, said Ayres shot him in the left shoulder with a bullet from a caliber revolver.

Last night's Board of Adjustment meeting exploded into near fireworks when Thomas Brady, speaking for the Civic Betterment Association, asked that J. Thompson's resignation from the board be read to the public. As chairman Wendell Forbes explained the letter was not immediately available. Alex Katchen shouted that it was the board's business, then, directly at Brady, "Shut up" and "grow up."

Katchen stalked through the room an dour the door before the meeting was adjourned. The CBA was instrumental in securing Thompson's resignation, since he missed more than half the meetings since his appointment in January, 1956.

Michael Peacos, Democratic candidate for Township Committeeman, asked that Forbes, in the future, "restrain Katchen from being a public bully." Otherwise, he

From The Mailbag

To the editor:

Last night I had the unpleasant experience of attending a meeting of the Board of Adjustment, unpleasant because of the utter lack of common courtesy shown the average citizen. Chairman Wendell Forbes seems to be like a broken record. He duplicated and surpassed his performance at the Planning Board meeting of May 1.

The main source of information for the average citizen concerning procedures of the Board of Adjustment is whatever he can gather at their meetings. When Mr. Forbes acts in an arbitrary, dictatorial manner toward the honest question of any citizen, he is denying the right of all citizens to freedom of speech and their right to know what their government is doing and why it is doing it.

I recommend that Mr. Forbes re-assess his attitude and bring it more into conformity with the usages of courtesy and our democratic ideals.

Tent Caterpillars Burn, So Does Resident's Shed

Middlebush residents were roused from the hot, dry torpor of a spring afternoon last Friday when the sound of crackling flames reached them. J. E. McConnell, visiting the property which he rents to Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Specht at 5 Olcott Street, was in town just for the day, burning off caterpillars on a tree at the rear of his property. The tree was next to a storage shed at the back of the property of Robert Bering of 23 South Middlebush Road. The fire, which started in the shed, was thought to be put out, and Mr. and Mrs. McConnell left for Pennsylvania.

Gaynor: RECORD Is Legal, BUT...

Township Attorney Robert E. Gaynor has ruled that THE RECORD is published in Franklin Township and is a legal newspaper, but since its office is not in a commercial building he advises the Township Committee to publish its ordinances in the "Franklin News" because "there is no question" regarding its publication status.

His ruling will be contested by THE RECORD and Leon Gerofsky, Somerville attorney, has been engaged by this newspaper to institute court action to resolve the question, according to an announcement by Publisher Warren Glaser.

Mr. Gaynor ruled that both newspapers—THE RECORD and "Franklin News"—meet all tests of the statutes regarding publication, with the exception that THE RECORD uses, (the home of the editor as its publication office while the other paper is in a commercial building. He left no doubt, however, that he felt a court would establish the legal rights of THE RECORD. He ruled:

"... It is my conclusion that a court could determine that the RECORD is published in Franklin Township and its publication office is in the township."

As to the "News," he said: "Therefore, it can be concluded that the Franklin News is published in Franklin Township and its publication office is in the township." But he advised the Township Committee that "Inasmuch as it is not absolutely clear that the publication office of THE RECORD is located in the Township... it is my recommendation that the News be used for all legal advertisements which are required to be advertised in a newspaper published in the Township."

Record Is Legal

(Continued from Page 1) printed in a newspaper "published and circulating in the municipality," and Mr. Gaynor's ruling referred only to those legal. Other legal requirements only that the newspaper be a legal newspaper, and he did not question THE RECORD's status as a legal newspaper. THE RECORD has been publishing Franklin Township ordinances for more than 23 years and has always maintained a publication of-rice in the Township. It has always been mailed from the Middle-bush Post Office, which is one of the legal requirements. As to the office of THE RECORD, he ruled: "However, my inquiry has disclosed that the editors have carried on regular office work of the newspaper in their home-office. News items are gathered and written there, subscriptions and advertisements are solicited by telephone from this office, the telephone number of the editor's home is listed in the newspaper, and other general and miscellaneous newspaper work is done at the home-office. In view of the newspaper work which is carried on by the editor from the home-office it is my opinion that such a place, although not an office in every sense of the term, could be considered an office of the newspaper as used in the statute."

Publisher Glaser said: "We take exception to Mr. Gaynor's conclusion and feel certain that any proper court will confirm the legal status of this newspaper for the publication of all legal advertisements and we have asked Mr. Gerofsky to represent us in this matter for a quick adjudication."

"Seems like every place you go—you see a telephone truck!"

That's true! You're likely to see telephone crews on the job anytime—day or night—these days.

Keeping New Jersey's telephone system in A-1 order while we continue to expand—keeps over 4,000 telephone trucks on the roads.

In fact, New Jersey Bell vehicles traveled over 20 million miles last year. That's equal to 60 round trips to the moon.

And telephone drivers are safe drivers. This year, for example, awards were made to 8,688 telephone men and women—included were 200 who have accident-free records of 20 years!

1 CHILD IN 12

WILL BE IN A MENTAL HOSPITAL FOR TREATMENT DURING HIS LIFETIME

Strange as it may seem children and teenagers have a high incidence of mental illness. Treatment centers and health clinics — properly staffed and equipped — are desperately needed.

Right now — today — there are 22,000 children, men and women in New Jersey mental hospitals — more people than in all other hospitals combined!

Ring the Bell

said, "Katchen should be asked to resign."

The application of Louis Katko to erect an addition to a garage on Hamilton Street and Highland Avenue was approved.

Though the garage is, and the addition will be, in an industrial zone, nearby residents had objected to the fact that the addition will be only 12 feet from Katko's property line. The Board's decision was unanimous.

Karl Doklitch of 42 Juliet Ave., asked about illegal building on the property of Lazzaro Products Corporation on Somerset St. Zoning Officer Carl Erbacher explained that a notice of their violation of the zoning ordinance, asking for demolition of the building, had been served upon the bakery. He went on to explain, however, that action on the notice had been delayed since the corporation was in the process of seeking a variance which would make their building legal.

George Madsen of Morris, N.Y., and Ben Lawson of R.D. 3, New Brunswick, asked for a variance to permit the subdivision of one acre of land on Wilson Rd. into two lots having a frontage of 76 feet each. The zoning regulations call for a minimum of 100 feet of frontage. Chris De Lar of Franklin Park stated that he was representing Madsen. Madsen appeared by mistake at the last meeting of the Planning Board but could not make the trip from New York again. Forbes asked De Lar for his power of attorney and declared De Lar out of order when De Lar could not produce it. Action on the application was tabled.

Brady read parts of a mimeographed letter sent to Rutgers University personnel by the Foundation for Cooperative Housing, advertising the Pine Grove Cooperative Apartments. The letter stated that "an organization for a cooperative swimming pool" was being formed. Since the Board of Adjustment had turned down the application of the cooperative apartments to build such a pool at their April 16 meeting, Brady, speaking for CBA, asked if the letter was not "false and misleading advertising." Forbes suggested that Brady consult the Federal Trade Commission.

Mrs. Carl Meier of Marion Ave., Franklin Park, representing her husband, an insurance broker, applied for permission to erect a business sign on their property in an agricultural zone. She asked for a sign three by four feet and was granted permission for one not to exceed one by two feet. She was opposed by Paecos who declared that the zoning laws were "slowly being broken down."

The application of Rudolph Winnicki of Charles Street, Middlebush for a minor subdivision of his property into two lots was denied. His property is on Charles St., opposite Middlebush School, and the variance was opposed by the Board of Education.

time to improve their yard than most of the residing of Rutgers Heights.

Now compare the two areas, similar in age, cost of houses, taxes, convenience to shopping and commuting facilities. Can there be a question of which is preferable?

When you get back home, don't just settle down with the magazine section, shrug your shoulders, and say, "So? I can't do anything about it." You can do something about it. Franklin does have leaks in the dike, but this doesn't mean that a flood is inevitable. You are the very one who can use his hands and his head to stop the leaks and prevent the flood. Join the homeowners' associations, the Civic Betterment Association, or any other organization dedicated to seeing that Franklin's housing growth does not outstrip the growth of its school, police, and road facilities. Attend meetings of the Planning Board, Board of Adjustment, and Township Committee, and let your opinions be heard.

There are some Township residents who believe that people should be allowed to build what and as they choose on their own land. The so-called "blighted areas" (a disreputable and blighted term, in our opinion) of the Township will illustrate to them that zoning regulations are necessary. There are others who believe that orderly growth can only come to our Township with large-scale developments. The beauty, individuality, and orderly growth of Rutgers Heights should refute this viewpoint.

Franklin must grow, of course. As long as families have the desire to live in homes of their own, growth will occur on the undeveloped lands of the Townships, and that is as it should be. But must that growth be characterized by row upon row of nearly identical houses, ("Jerry-built cracker boxes on slabs"), they have been called, on ¼ acre lots, with inadequate recreational facilities and over-crowded schools? Communities in New York, Connecticut, and Maryland have found ways to prevent and halt the flood. We too can, and must. And the way to preserve the beauty, the individual character, and the convenience of Franklin Township.

Just a few last words on housing developments — a few hundred pages that should be required reading for every resident of Franklin Township who has pride in his community and concern for its future—a book published in 1936,

"The Crack in the Picture Window" by John Keats.

See you Saturday at the Middlebush Carnival. Due to unprecedented unresponsiveness from Record subscribers on suggestions for use of ancient porcelain sink legs, they will again be made available at honorable white elephant booth. Don't miss your last chance, come early!

Carelessness Costs

to ten days in the county jail for contempt of court about two weeks ago, was ordered an additional 30 days in jail and fined $100 Monday night for driving while on the revoked list, preferred by Officer Naaman Williams.

ROBERT LITTLE, 22, of South Bound Brook lost his license for 30 days and paid $15 and $5 costs for careless driving. Little was charged with striking bicycle rider Anno Neumann on Canal Road.

A Middlebush motorist who was in a hurry to make a golf date lost his license for 10 days and paid $25 and $5 costs for speeding 50 miles an hour in a 25 mile zone on Hamilton Street. The summons was issued to Ronald E. Miller, 26, of Amwell Road, by Officer James Brown.

Alba Van Winkle, 53, of New Brunswick was fined $50 and $5 costs for failing to stop after being involved in an auto accident on Easton Avenue. Winkle's car scraped the side of a vehicle driven in the opposite direction by Frank Wilhelm.

Winkle claimed he realized he had hit the other vehicle, but "froze and couldn't bring the car to a stop." He was represented by Carl Srahn, New Brunswick attorney.

SPEEDING 60 miles an hour in a 30 mile zone on Easton Avenue cost Thomas Burrows, 47, of Pennsylvania, $15 and $5 costs, preferred by Officer Naaman Williams.

Edward Klotz of New Brunswick was fined $10 and $5 costs for speeding 60 miles an hour in a 30 mile zone on Cedar Grove Road, preferred by Officer Williams.

Careless driving cost Lewlyn Jenkins, 51, of New Brunswick $10 and $5 costs. Jenkins was issued the summons by Officer Joseph Marles after being involved in an automobile accident at the corner of Juliet Avenue and Route 27.

the fire which had not been thoroughly squelched, burst into 30-foot flames which required the services of four fire companies to extinguish. The shed on the McConnell property was empty, though parts of a fence on adjacent properties were charred.

Antiques, photographic equipment, and other furniture stored in the Bering shed were completely destroyed. Bering stated that his insurance would cover no more than 20 per cent of his loss. Old time residents of Middlebush were reminded of fire which cleaned a path a block long along the fences and sheds separating properties fronting on Olcott Street and South Middlebush Road. The fire occurred more than thirty years ago, and though many of the houses along the streets date back almost to colonial times, the out-building, garages, and sheds have been erected since the "great fire".

Board Receives

suggestion was dropped.

Takacs also suggested that legal notices of the election to be held on Thursday, June 27 be posted in groceries, gasoline stations, and other places throughout the Township where many people congregate. His recommendation was accepted.

The election districts will vote in the following places: 1, Phillips School; 2 and 10, Second District Fire House; 3, East Millstone Fire

The "pop" denied this, saying Donomirsky struck him on the knee with his fist, then pushed him out of the car and drove off. Judge Shamy decided that it was still technically an assault and battery charge, no matter how you looked at it, then ordered the fine. Donomirsky was defended by Attorney Israel Salliman, Perth Amboy lawyer.

Robert White of 15 Cooper Avenue was given a suspended sentence with a warning and fined $10 costs for using offensive language and threatening the life of Mrs. Elaine Mislyan of 39 Hawthorne Drive, a relative by marriage.

A countercomplaint signed by White against Miss Mislyan was dismissed. Magistrate Shamy reserved decision on an assault and battery charge against Donald Jones, which claimed that Jones illegally threw his sister-in-law out of his home.

Jones claimed that he had asked his sister-in-law three times to leave his house, and when she refused, escorted her to the door. The sister-in-law said she had been invited by Jones' wife, therefore had a right to be in the home.

Jones is also scheduled to appear in court this Monday night on a charge of spitting at Mrs. Elizabeth Newton in the Township Hall two weeks ago.
