

Bodnarik Gets Principal Post by Close Board Vote

Michael Bodnarik Monday night received a 5 to 3 vote of confidence from the Board of Education in his appointment as acting principal of the New Franklin Park School. The vote reversed the August decision of the board which then turned down Bodnarik's candidacy by a 4 to 3 vote. The changed vote was caused by the switch of junior board member Norman Fisher and Mrs. William Pattison's return from vacation. Charles Papp, Civic Betterment association representative, asked the board members if any political pressure had been applied in furthering Bodnarik's candidacy. All answered that they had not been directly approached, except Dr. Lyle Hagmann who said that he could not be "pressured," but that the attempt had been made.

Board member Walter Campbell said that he had received several phone calls from people who were trying to change his vote but that he didn't "give a da—for that stuff."

FRANCIS SCHIRER, a spectator and president of the township Men's Republican Club, stated that it was not political pressure if an individual approached a friend on the board to "push the appointment of another friend to office." Mrs. Hubert Schmidt of Olcott St. said that it was not a question of pressure one way or another but a question of professional and ethical standards. She asked if the board was familiar with the valuation standards for school principals set up by the New

B of E Awards Construction Contracts For New School

Contracts for construction of the Franklin Boulevard School, which was approved in an election on a $650,000 bond issue referendum June 27, were awarded Monday night by the Board of Education. The total of the contracts was $32,711 less than the total of the same contracts awarded in November, 1956 for the nearly identical Elizabeth Avenue School, now under construction.

this week. Micklewright expressed his optimism concerning the readiness of the school for occupancy in September, 1958.

THE STEEL AND Iron work contract went to the Industrial Engineering Works of Trenton for $7,895; the plumbing and drainage work to the Richardson Engineering Company of New Brunswick for $37,864; the heating and ventilating work to the Central Plumbing and Heating Co. of Westfield for $74,354, and the electrical work to the Molnar Electrical Construction Co. of Woodbridge for $39,234.

The five contracts awarded totaled $455,887 and are subject to a check by the architect. A sixth contract not included in the total building contracts was awarded to the Arkey Co. of Jersey City for cafeteria and kitchen equipment at $11,576.

Sister Brothers Construction Company of Route 18, East Brunswick, was awarded the general construction contract for a low bid of $296,520. The next low bidder was William M. Connolly and Sons at $324,742. Architect Albert Micklewright stated that construction could start within two weeks, and was told by Mayo Sister that the bond could be ready this week and construction begin possibly on Wednesday of

Lay Advisory Unit Requested To Study School Bus Problems

Leonard J. Bardsley, president of the Board of Education, has sent letters to 29 local organizations asking them to name members to a lay advisory committee which will aid the board in studying transportation and safety problems.

Duties of the proposed committee and the problems involved were enumerated by Bardsley. The president said that the board hopes the committee can be organized this week and reach agreement on a recommendation to the board within a month.

A MAIN question involved is furnishing bus transportation for elementary pupils living within two miles of schools they attend. Should this service be provided, the local district would be ineligible to receive 75 per cent of the cost of the transportation from the state Department of Education.

Bardsley said that parents of some pupils have asked that:

1. Bus transportation provided for pupils within two miles of schools, except where walking conditions are safe.
2. Transportation provided on side roads where children now must walk up to 1½ miles to points where they board school buses.
3. Providing buses for high school pupils who live within 2½ miles of their schools, possibly on a contributory basis.

THE TRANSPORTATION policy "unchanged for many years," according to Bardsley, follows a state (Continued on Page Three)

Township Talk

It would be wonderful to have fully equipped and staffed libraries, daily instruction in physical culture, and well equipped rooms for the study of science and geography throughout all the schools of the township and for all pupils. By the same token it would be wonderful to have unlimited school bus transportation for all children without regard for the distance they live from school. But we can't afford the last item any more than we can afford the first three.

D. C. Forry, speaking for the citizens transportation committee, recently commented at a Board of Education meeting that many people could not afford the 20 cents a day for public or chartered buses and that the township should pay the bill. Where would the township get the money? The money would come from the same pockets that would pay the 20 cents "bus"—it would be marked "taxes."

Ruth Schmidt has suggested that if buses were to be provided for all students, the possibility of using pink leather upholstery in them should be considered. One is a "plushy" luxury, we will ad-

Zoning and variances were again the chief topics of discussion last night in Middlebush School as the Township Committee again faced a crowd of 60 vocal citizens. The long sought final approval of the Lazzara Products Corp. for a variance to house a boiler on property along Somerset and Main Streets was granted, in a welter of protest from spectators, by a vote of 3 to 2.

Carl Nitto of Paterson, attorney for Lazzara, delivered a lengthy dissertation in which he presented his firm's history in the township and arguments favoring the variance.

"The present boiler is unsafe. . . . Replacement of the half-built housing would be uneconomical. . . . The variance would not impair the zoning ordinance," he stated.

DEMOCRATIC Committeeman Michael Lisl, opposing the variance replied, "At no time did the Board of Adjustment (which recommended the variance) ever designate Lazzara as a manufacturing bakery. It grew from a neighborhood bakery to a manufacturing industry."

Miss Mary Miskovitch, a neighbor of the bakery, declared, "The whole thing is illegal," referring to the fact that construction of the boiler room had begun without a building permit. Nitto explained that the old boiler had become obsolete and, "We simply began to build a place for a new one not knowing we were in violation." Miss Miskovitch asserted that the old boiler was condemned three months after construction of the new one had begun.

"We have spent upwards of a quarter of a million dollars here," Nitto warned the Committee, "and (Continued on Page 3)

1,000 Unionists Attend Meyner, Meredith Rally

Industrialist Charles W. Engelhard told a Labor-for-Meyner-and-Meredith Rally at Far Hills Inn Monday night that industrial expansion and fair treatment for labor are the factors upon which New Jersey's prosperity is based.

A crowd of close to 1,000 AFL, CIO and Independent unionists attended the affair which was held on behalf of the candidacies of Governor Robert B. Meyner, who seeks re-election, and Arthur S. Meredith, Democratic assembly candidate in Somerset County.

ENGELHARD, the featured speaker, issued a challenge to Senator Malcolm Furbus, Republican gubernatorial candidate, to show where he would reduce Governor Meyner's budget, and asked if he contemplated reductions in the fields of education and treatment for the mentally ill.

In New Jersey, said Engelhard, "we have strength for charity, strength for industry and strength for freedom."

He also told the crowd that "the only way we can convince the world that our way of life is the (Continued on Page 8)

Township Committee OKs Variance

If you rule this occupation is illegal then we have taken a grave and grievous damage, much more than money, and our only recourse will be to the courts."

He continued, "We have been plagued by complaints from the day we opened our doors. We have been thrown deeper and deeper into the political machinations of this community. . . . We just want to conduct our business and ask an end to bickering."

Mayor James Maher, Russell and, and Casimira Calvo voted to grant the variance. Lisi and Jackson, who made no comment during the discussion and who is running on the Republican ticket to renew his seat on the Committee in the November election, voted against the variance.

IN ANOTHER zoning hassle, the Committee voted unanimously to postpone action for further study. The question concerned the rezoning of 13 acres on lower Hamilton Street at the intersection of Hawthorne Drive from residential to business. John Blaszak of 489 Hamilton St. stated that residents of the area assumed zoning in the area would remain the same when they bought homes and that reduced tax rates would result from the proposed change.

Mayo Sialer, Democratic candidate for Township Committee, presented a petition from 275 residents of the area protesting the rezoning and said, "There are many other uses to which the land could be put. What are the advantages of this particular spot as a shopping center?"

Frank Willard of 28 Arden Street added, "The Committee should not consider any rezoning unless it would benefit the entire township and unless it is part of an overall plan for development of the township." Maher said that the Committee would study the question of whether both sides of the street should be rezoned.

Township Engineer William Rinty recommended payment of $3,949.78 to the Janneane Engineering Company for improvements to Wilson Road, Christy Lane, streets in Rutgers Heights, East Millstone, Twin Pines Manor, and Kingston. Payment of $3,884.00 to Caruso Brothers of Elizabeth for sewer and water main connections to the Housing Authority Apartments was also recommended. The Committee agreed to apply to the state for $18,000 for the improvement of Section 3 of De Matt Lane.

ON THE recommendation of Police Chief Ed Vanders, Leonard Carmella was appointed school traffic officer at the intersection of Hamilton Street and Highland Avenue effective Monday, September 30. The Committee will study the construction of walkways along Elizabeth Avenue two miles on each side of the school now under construction there. It is understood that the county is not responsible for walkways along county roads.

Armand Petriflo presented a letter from the Kingston Businessmen's Association, protesting the no parking ban along Route 27 in Kingston, since, as he declared, "There is no ban on Route 27 (Nassau Street) in Princeton." Maher explained that the Route 27 ban would be only from New Brunswick to How Lane, as far as he knew.

Dr. Morgan Upton of Olcott Street suggested a parking ban on Amwell Road in front of Township Hall and Middlebush School. He explained that parked cars in the area obstructed the vision of drivers who might be unable to see children starting to cross the street in the school. The ban will be in effect from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Sialer, who was awarded the general construction contract for the new Franklin Boulevard School Monday night by the Board of Education, asked how long the township had owned the 35 to 40 acres on which the school will be built. When told that it had been five or six years, Sialer declared that topsoil had been taken from the citizens of the township in the last three or four years.

"If the soil was taken, then we should prosecute. If it was sold by the township, where is the money?" Miss Barbara Bilinski, who lives next to the site, said that the soil had been taken in the last two years. The Committee took no action on the matter.

Judge Vernon Hagmann last night read a statement to the Township Committee in which he charged that township attorney Robert Gaynor had failed to define the powers of the Board of Adjustment and to cite a single reference to statute or ordinance to uphold recent decisions of the board.

"I congratulate the attorney on his extra-ordinary efforts to befuddle the issue," he continued, "but it is understandable that the attorney could not find what doesn't exist."

HAGMANN READ, "Most citizens realize we have a zoning mess in Franklin Township. There are many violations, but there is no move by the attorney to put them on the court calendar. . . . There is virtually no enforcement of zoning regulations. . . . Summons for violation would jam the municipal court for months."

After an interruption for applause from spectators, Hagmann concluded, "If the job isn't done by you, it will be done by others! What are you going to do about it?"

Maher stated that violations of the zoning code would show up on records of the firm which has recently completed a property re-appraisal in the township. Then, in spite of several raised hands in the audience, Maher asked for a motion to adjourn and rapped his gavel.

Michael Peacus, who is a Democratic candidate for Township Committee, and whose hand had been in the air for several minutes, said to Maher, "I think you're very rude, but it's typical of the machine you've been running around here. You're not fit to be a public servant. . . . You ought to take another leave of absence, this time for 10 years."

Lay Advisory

Board of Education resolution adopted in 1950.

This policy permits bus operators to pick up "courtesy riders" if space is available on the buses "on the basis of distance from the school and the age of the pupil," Bardsley said.

He added: "The resolution of the safety problem, whether by buses, sidewalks or other means, can be costly. It is important that this problem be solved effectively and with minimum drain on tax moneys."

BARDSLEY SAID that the board desired the help of an advisory group to study the problem and reflect the wishes and capacity of the municipality.

He pointed out that the committee would be advisory only in nature since the board "cannot delegate the responsibility of making a final decision . . ."

The advisory group would have four steps to take:

1. Define the problem.
2. Determine possible solutions.
3. Evaluate the cost and practicability of possible solutions.

4. Submit a specific recommendation to the board.

BARDSLEY ANNOUNCED the recommendation will be discussed at a public meeting before any board action is taken. At that time the advisory committee would be dismissed.

The committee would be composed of five members of the Citizens Committee for School Transportation and Safety, a self-appointed group of parents involved; two members from each of the township's PTAs, one member from other civic organizations and delegates from the Township Committee and the board.

Groups which have been invited to name representatives to the advisory committee are as follows:

CIVIC BETTERMENT Assn., Millstone Grange, Griggstown Improvement Assn., Franklin Club, Lions Club, Somerset Grange, Hollywood Homeowners Assn., Georgetown Improvement Assn., Shefield walks, paths, police protection or Park-Franklin Hills Assn., Pine Grove Manor Cooperative Apartments and Kingstons Town Improvement Assn.

Little Rocky Hill, Kingstons, Franklin Park, East Franklin Middlebush, Millstone Valley Griggstown, Second District and Community volunteer fire companies; East Millstone, Kingstons Phillips, Elizabeth Avenue, Hamilton, Pine Grove Manor and Middlebush PTAs, the Citizens Committee for Schools Transportation and Safety and the Township Committee.

Susan Margaret Reid of 13 Holly St. was graduated from Muhlenberg Hospital School of Nursing Plainfield, Thursday, Sept. 18. Congratulations to Don Sisler of 142 Rogers Ave. His firm was low bidder at $27,000 on the new 21-room school to be erected near Hollywood Homes. Work has already started.

Billy Janovsky of 22 Holly St. had his tonsils out at St. Peters Hospital, New Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. John Goodman of 24 Holly St. have announced that they had a group of neighbors over on Wednesday night to meet Mike Peacos and Mayo Sisler, Democratic candidates for the Township Committee.

President Morris Epps of the Hollywood Homeowners Association has announced that he would like to appoint a committee to keep the association informed on matters of mutual concern to Hollywood Homes, Pine Grove Apartments, and Franklin Hills-Sheffield Park. This seems like a move in the direction of good neighborhood relations.

WANTED: THE WELL-ROUNDED MAN—College admissions directors like Rutgers' George Kramer, right, are working with king-sized headaches, literally and figuratively, as enrollment potentials begin to exceed college capacities. Kramer, shown here counseling Robert P. Schlosser, a transfer student, believes that only students with extracurricular as well as academic abilities will get into college during the next 10 years.

Junior May Have to Be Track Star To Get Through College in 1973

Will your son or daughter be able to squeeze through the closing door to college?

If he or she is a good student and comes armed with evidence of accomplishment in some other field, whether it be music, scouting, cross-country running or dramatics, the answer is yes.

THAT IS THE OPINION of George A. Kramer, Rutgers director of admissions. He should know—he's the fellow with the foot behind the Rutgers door.

Director Kramer, who brandished a incense stick and barked football signals for Rutgers teams of early '30 vintage, said worried parents everywhere want to know how a youngster can best prepare for college entrance in the face of an anticipated avalanche of applications which will gain momentum yearly through the next decade.

According to a survey by the New Jersey State Board of Education, the closing door to college will shut out some 83,000 New Jersey students in 1973 unless something tangible is accomplished before then. That year the potential enrollment will be 155,000 as opposed to a college capacity of 72,000 in the existing and planned facilities in New Jersey.

"THE COMBINATION of academic promise plus extracurricular leadership is the thing," Kramer emphasized.

He said the day is fast approaching when the academically-able student with nothing else to offer will fail to gain admittance at the college of his choice. And the "well-rounded" type who has neglected his studies will encounter the same barriers, he warned.

Kramer suggests that high school students observe the following "schedule" if they plan to seek higher education.

1.—Give thought early to the kind of college you want to attend.

2.—Tailor your high school courses, with the aid of a guidance counselor if possible, to fit the requirements of the colleges you would like to attend.

3.—Learn the mechanics of making college applications correctly—and make them early and carefully.

LILI DARVAS
Darvas Shares Princeton Billing

Lili Darvas, one of the foremost continental actresses, shares the billing with Melvyn Douglas and Paulette Goddard in the prize-winning French comedy, "Waltz of the Toreadors," which opens tonight at Princeton's McCarter Theater.
 Mme. Darvas was born in Hungary and was the wife of the late Hungarian playwright, Ferenc Molnar, who wrote "The Swan," "Lilom," and "The Play's the Thing."
OPENING NIGHT curtain is scheduled for 8 p.m. The curtain will rise tomorrow and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and for the Saturday matinee at 2:30 p.m.
 While playing the contemporary dramas of Molnar, Mme. Darvas was simultaneously playing most of the theater's classic heroines under the aegis of Max Reinhardt.
 In America since the war, Mme. Darvas has played the queen to Maurice Evans' "Hamlet," the lead in the George S. Kaufman-Edna Ferber "Bravo," and the long run in Rose Franken's "Soldier's Wife."

THE STARS
 By LYN CONNELLY

NOW it's Glinger Rogers who's busy outting records... She's making an album of some of the hit tunes from past musicals with Fred Astaire... Never much of a singer in her prime, we can't imagine Glinger cutting up now... Anyone for records? Glinger Connie Russell will star in "Candy," a TV comedy series which is currently being filmed... The situations revolve around a modern jazz combo and will feature great artists from the music world... Different approach anyway.
 Slinger Guy Mitchell will have his own weekly TV show on ABC starting in September, rounding out an ABC triumvirate which also includes Frank Sinatra and Pat Boone... The show is to be a "jive" music and variety series on Saturday evenings... Mitchell recently climbed back onto the hit record rosters with "Singin' the Blues."

PLATTER CHATTER

CAPITOL—Stan Kenton has a new big album, his first featuring voices... His vocalists are pretty Ann Richards and the Modern Men and their blend of voices with Stan's outstanding work combine elegantly in new renditions of old songs... His selection of songs shows wide variety from "Sophisticated Lady," "Dancing in the Dark," "Softly," "Templeton," "Lullaby of the Leaves" to the faster tempo "Eager Beaver" and the more exotic "Opus in Charisma"... This is Kenton at his best.

Capitol has some capital bits on music from motion picture sound-track... There is the dramatic music of "The Pride and the Passion," composed and conducted by George Amick; the mood music of "The James Dean Story," composed and conducted by Laith Stevens with the theme, "Let Me Be Loved" done expertly by today's prime example of youth.

Emotions are valuable, but civilization teaches self-control.

Bodnarik Gets Principal Post Memorial Service

Jersey Education Association. "Bodnarik doesn't stack up with the NEA qualifications," Mrs. Schmidt declared. "And to illustrate only one small point, he cannot cope with our own language."

Augustus Grykien, identifying himself as a spokesman for the Franklin Park P.T.A., said that his group was opposed to the appointment of Bodnarik. Arthur Westcott and Chairman Leonard Bardsley explained their negative votes on the appointment of Bodnarik by such phrases as, "doesn't meet personal view of qualified principal," "doesn't measure up," and "not the best candidate."

HAGMANN AMPLIFIED his negative vote with a description of the desirable qualities of a principal whom he called the "key to the school system." Hagmann continued, "He must be responsible for the quality of the curriculum and a salesman for the school. . . articulate, personable, and with a knowledge of educational views and practices."

Mrs. Patterson, Fisher, Joseph Takas, Milton Stoll, and Campbell voted in favor of the appointment of Bodnarik, who will receive a salary at the rate of $6,090 per year for the remainder of the year. Jack Kleur, who has been acting principal at the new Franklin Park School since Sept. 4, will receive $4 per schoolroom per month for his services. Since Bodnarik's appointment was effective immediately, Dr. James Lynch, superintendent of schools, was instructed by the board to find a permanent replacement for Bodnarik's teaching position at Pine Grove Manor School.

The board okayed the application of the Township Committee for the use of Middlebush School on Sept. 26 for a meeting and referred the question of fees for such use to the building and grounds committee.

FISHER REPORTED that County Engineer Donald Styres stated that the county was not responsible for construction of walkways along county roads. "We have waited four months to get started on walkways on Elizabeth Avenue," Fisher said. "And nothing has been done." Hagmann said that if the township built the walkways, proper assessments to pay for them would be necessary.

Elizabeth Cuddy was hired at a salary of $200 per month for a period of ten months for clerical work at the new Franklin Park school. Miss Cuddy will assist in clerical duties at Middlebush and Pine Grove Manor Schools as well as, as soon as she is not needed, full time at Franklin Park.

Karl Bokarich of Juliet Ave. submitted a brochure distributed by the developers of the Somerset Hills project. The wording of the brochure implies that the new Elizabeth Avenue School is being built by the developer rather than by the Board of Education with tax monies, as is the case.

LOUIS LOEB of the citizens transportation Committee reported that parents of pupils along Amwell Road, in the Cedar Grove and Inglebush areas had hired a bus for the transportation of youngsters to Middlebush School within the two mile limit where the board does not provide free transportation. The cost of $3.80 per child per month was too high for parents of many children to afford. Loeb stated, and instead of the 120 pupils expected to use the chartered bus, there were fewer than 70. Loeb asked that the board consider the hardship involved and set up some sort of relief.

Bardsley replied that whatever the board did would have to become a matter of policy for all the schools. The matter will be discussed by the advisory committee now being set up to study the transportation problem.

Affidavits from family physicians of Estelle Perri, Edgar Slosar, and Susan Quagliano, all pupils at Middlebush School and all residing on Cedar Grove Road, were submitted. The statements described physical defects of the children which made their walking to school a health hazard, forcing their parents to ask for free school bus transportation.

BARDSLEY SAID that he thought the medical reasons given were weak, and Westcott asked that School Physician Dr. Samuel Sklar reexamine the children "to make sure the expenditure of township money for transportation is in order." Board secretary Mrs. Florence Randolph was directed to discuss the question of free school bus transportation for children within the two mile limit who were "susceptible to respiratory ailments" with County Superintendent of Schools Ernest Gilliland.

mit, but the other is a luxury nonetheless.

The difference between paying for unlimited bus transportation and providing for off-street walkways or paths is compared to the difference between paying rent and paying off a mortgage. The walkways would become a permanent part of the assets of the township, while, according to School Board President Leonard Bardsley, the annual cost of bus transportation within the two mile limit might increase from year to year and still provide no tangible asset but temporary convenience.

Have you read the reports on comparative studies of the physical progress and endurance of children in Europe and the United States? The results are shocking, and our own poor standing is blamed, for the most part, on the easy life our children lead, the heated rooms, the door-to-door transportation, and the lack of physical challenge. "Nuff said!"

Last week at the Planning Board meeting Lyle Hagmann said the motto of Franklin Township should be, "Don't confuse me with facts, my mind's already made up."

The general construction contracts for the new Franklin Boulevard School was awarded last Monday night to the Siskel Brothers Construction Company at a figure some $20,000 less than the next lowest bidder. The same company just completed a 23-room school in East Brunswick six months before the scheduled completion date. Mayo Siskel, co-owner of the firm and Franklin's own "local-boy-makes-good", has assured us that our own school will be ready for occupancy long before classes convene in September, 1958. To realize how important this is, just drive by the 300 nearly completed cooperative apartments just a stone's throw from the site of the new school.

Everytime a new reporter shows up in Township Hall to cover a meeting of one of the governing bodies, we carefully remind that "the Republicans sit at the table" and "the Democrats sit back there in the audience." Last week's meeting of the Planning Board
