

Kinlin Seeks Dem Nomination For Committee Candidacy

Joseph M. Kinlin of 44 Roberts Rd. has announced that he intends to seek the Democratic nomination for one of the two vacancies this year on the Township Committee.

Kinlin advised the Democratic Executive Committee of his availability for candidacy in the primary election in April. He asked for individual support of the members Tuesday.

COMMITTEE terms will end this year for Committeemen James G. Maher and Casimiro Calvo, the two Republican members of Township Committee.

A resident of the township for two years, Kinlin is married and the father of four children. He is 34 years old and a former resident of Jersey City.

A graduate of Pace College in New York City, he is a veteran of 3½ years in the U.S. Coast Guard during World War II.

HE IS vice president of the Civic Betterment Association, a special police officer and member of the Police Reserves, and a member of the Community Volunteer Fire Co. and First Aid Squad. He also belongs to the Jersey City Council of Knights of Columbus.

Kinlin is employed as advertising manager of Construction Specialties Inc. of Cranford.

He said that his platform would be that of the Democratic party. If nominated, his special interest is on development of public safety committee, Kinlin added.

ACTIVE in last year's Democratic campaign, Kinlin served on both the special events and public relations committee. He is now chairman of the organization's victory dinner to be held Feb. 2 at Far Hills Inn.

Willard States He Will Not Seek Re-election to Post

Francis J. Willard Tuesday night announced that he would be unable to seek reelection as Democratic municipal chairman because of an illness in his family.

Willard, who will serve his remaining three months in office, told the Democratic Municipal Committee that he would not be able to devote sufficient time to the 1958 campaign.

HE SAID that he was considering running for a place on the local committee from 11th district.

Meeting at the Fairlawn in Route 27, the committee discussed obtaining candidates for the April primary election.

Petition forms will be available for local offices and candidates for municipal committeemen and women at the February meeting, according to Willard.

CANDIDATES filing the Democratic primary will be invited to speak and answer question at the committee's March meeting.

The committee named Herbert W. Wheeler of Gates Rd. committee chairman for the eighth election district to replace a vacancy created by the resignation of Lester H. Shapiro.

An S. O. S. To Friendly Townshipites

There's nothing like living in a small township if you want to have friendly people for neighbors. Only trouble with Franklin is that it's not such a small township and it isn't possible to know most of the people living here.

However, when someone is in need of help or is very ill, you can bet people here will be just as friendly and helpful as in a very small town, providing they know when and where they are needed.

A woman who may be a neighbor of yours is very ill and is spending much time in Somerset Hospital, Somerville, as a patient. Mrs. John French of Amwell Rd., Middlebush, is this particular woman who has already spent three months in the hospital.

Mr. French has told the RECORD that his wife is very depressed. Receiving friendly get-well cards can be a real lift, and getting visits from friendly people is even better. Mrs. French who is in room 245, may receive visitors from 1 to 6 p.m. Need any more to be said?

PTA EXECUTIVES TO MEET

The executive committee of the Middlebush Parent-Teacher Association will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Frank Wisenborn of Den Herder Drive.

Woman Found Guilty of Disorderly Conduct

A South Bound Brook woman, charged with disorderly conduct, was given a 30-day suspended jail term and placed on probation for one year by Magistrate George Shamy Monday night in Municipal Court.

The woman, Laurena Nevius of 129 Warren St., was involved in a row with two men, Colston Wade of 144 Warren St., South Bound Brook, a brother-in-law, and John Anderson of 681 Somerset St.

AFTER an argument, Anderson charged Miss Nevius and Wade with disorderly conduct, and Wade filed a counter-complaint against

Proposed School Budget Indicates 30.8% Increase

The Board of Education tentatively adopted its 1958-59 budget totaling $1,454,505 Tuesday night during a special meeting in Pine Grove Manor School. This total figure indicates an increase of 30.8 per cent or a $342,928 hike over the current budget.

The portion of the total budget to be raised by taxation is $1,097,401, an increase of $282,802 over the $814,799 raised on property to support the 1957-58 budget.

BOARD President Leonard J. Bardsley has declared that the new budget for the first time reflects the full cost of the township's new schools.

A public hearing on the proposed new budget is slated for Thursday, Jan. 23 in Pine Grove School, at which time the measure will be up for adoption by the board. A special board meeting to discuss the budget was held last night.

Along with public decision on Feb. 11 on the proposed new budget, voters will also elect three new members of the Board of Education. Deadline for filing for candidacy for the School Board is Wednesday, Jan. 22 at 9 p.m.

THE BOARD Tuesday night, sold its $960,000 bond issue to finance construction of the recently completed Elizabeth Avenue and Franklin Park schools. Successful bidder was Phelps Penn, a Newark bond firm. Three other bonding institutions submitted bids.

The firm will pay the bond $960,112, which includes a $2112 premium. The board will pay 3.75 per cent annual interest on $958,000. Unsuccessful bidders were the National Bank of New Jersey and the Bound Brook Trust Co., both of which offered interest rates of 3.8 per cent a year.

CONCERNING the 30.8 per cent hike over the current school budget, Bardsley said that the instructional cost increase is $197,000 or 17.7 per cent; the debt service increase is $69,509 or 8.05 per cent, and the balance of $50,500 or 5.08 per cent covers all other school costs.

In order to accommodate the enrollment, which has almost tripled in 10 years, Bardsley said it was necessary to approve the construction of three new schools.

The board president said that voters will be asked to approve two public questions on the ballot:

1. The transfer of $15,000 from current expenses to the capital account.
2. Approval for purchase of five additional lots for the Hillcrest School site at a cost not to exceed $1,500.

Calvo, Jackson Fail to Appear Before Charter Study Unit

Committeeman Casimiro Calvo and former Committeeman Charles T. Jackson failed to appear Monday night before the Charter Study Commission.

Lawrence Gerber, commission secretary, said the commission has no plans to recall either man because the group is working on a tight schedule and is racing against an Aug. 5 deadline, which time the hearings must be completed and the report drawn up, printed and ready for distribution.

Gerber said both men were invited by letters sent two weeks earlier to explain their respective duties as committeemen.

CALVO, who was in the Township Hall attending a meeting of the Board of Health Monday, told Gerber he had to attend a meeting of the Community Volunteer Fire Company.

Jackson said his understanding was that he was scheduled to appear Tuesday night.

After checking his records which, according to Gerber, showed that Jackson was invited to appear Monday night.

THE OTHER PERSON invited, Committeeman Michael List, appeared at the executive session and for two and a half hours discussed the operations of the road department and other problems with which he is familiar.

Gerber said the normal practice is to mail invitations to those whom the commission wishes to appear about two weeks ahead of time. If the time is inconvenient, the persons invited are asked to contact Gerber to make other arrangements.

Neither Calvo nor Jackson did so, said Gerber. The secretary explained the commission does not have the power of subpoena, but that no other persons have failed to respond to invitations.

ORIGINALLY, the commission began holding its executive sessions on a bi-monthly basis. But when it became obvious the schedule had to be lightened up, meetings were scheduled on a weekly basis.

Jackson, a Republican, was defeated in his bid for reelection last November. The commission had wanted to question him on the operations of the water department, garbage collection and the municipal dump.

Calvo, also a Republican, was to be questioned about the police department, which headed until Jan. 1, when Democrats assumed control of the municipal government. List is a Democrat.

Taxable Ratables In This Township Near Double '57's

A marked increase in county tax ratables was caused by a huge return from Franklin, where an $8,131,484 increase boosted the total for this municipality to $16,758,049. Total 1957 valuations of ratables in Franklin were $8,566,555.

Net valuation of taxable property in the county rose $13,625,593 to a new high of $128,693,807.

Assessments in this township, which were filed Wednesday morning with the County Tax Board, placed it second in Somerset, next to Bridgewater Township and ahead of North Plainfield.

Stephen Reid, retiring township assessor, credits the increases here to rapid population growth, increased number of large developments and to appreciation of real estate values as reflected by 1957 sales.

Mrs. Fernandez Named President Of Women Dems

Mrs. Dan Fernandez of Coppermine Rd. was named president of the township Women's Democratic Club Monday night at a meeting in Woodlawn on the Douglass College campus.

Retiring president is Mrs. Kenneth G. Wolfson, who declined nomination.

IT WAS decided in December to change the term of officers and elect them in June instead of January. All of the officers stayed in office except Mrs. Wolfson.

Vice-presidency of the club also was changed to create four regional officers representing four designated areas of the township.

Officers are now: Vice presidents, Region A. (south) Mrs. John J. Panek; Region B. (west) Mrs. Frank Wolsborn; Region C. (north) Mrs. Michael Surina; and Region D. (east) Mrs. Mayo A. Sleser. Other officers are: Mrs. Torold Hazel, recording secretary; Mrs. Arthur E. Slickel, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Charles McCloskey, treasurer.

Anderson. In court, Wade and Anderson withdrew their complaints against each other, leaving Miss Nevius to be tried.

All three were assessed $5 court costs each.

In traffic matters, Carol J. Stay, 31, of 84 Stewart St., South Bound Brook was fined $20 for careless driving, preferred by Officer James Brown. The magistrates dismissed a drunken driving charge against Stay, which was preferred by Patrolman William J. Kelly, Jr., owner of a car which was involved in a collision with Stay's.

CARELESS driving cost Whiting

R. Willner of Nantuxet, Mass., a $20 fine. The summons was issued by Trooper P. L. Ruggiero.

Fined $10 each were Oliver Miller of Neshanic Station, speeding, and Leo Cusumano of 38 Holly St., careless driving. Both summonses were issued by Officer Naaman Williams.

Failure to have his vehicle registration in possession netted Albert S. Ferguson Jr. of Elizabeth $10 fine. Officer Lawrence Collier issued the summons.

EACH OF the defendants found guilty was assessed $5 court costs.

Middlesex Has 2 Road Deaths

Middlesex County had two traffic fatalities from Jan. 1 through Jan. 12, according to Atty. Gen. Grover C. Richman Jr. Five other counties in New Jersey had a similar total.

Middlesex had no deaths during the comparable period of 1957. Monmouth, with six deaths, leads the state.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Leo Gehlinger, Watkins, Minnesota: How vividly I remember practically flying down the stairs in winter to the old "Round Oak" heater with its large convex windowed door, in the living room. We took turns in the dark shadows getting dressed, then out to the kitchen where mother had a roaring fire going in the kitchen range.

The oven door was left open for a little while, to hurry the process of warming up the room.

The graminias, begonias and water pill were moved back to their respective places. Butter and syrup were placed in the warming oven above if pancakes or cornbread were on the menu.

After assisting with the milking or bed making and cleaning (depending whether we were boys or girls), we sat down to eat.

Then it was off to school with a simple but hearty lunch, consisting of several jolly sandwiches (wild plum butter was our favorite spread) two or three pieces of sausage, an apple (home grown), and a cookie or two.

I still love those raisin-filled oat-meal cookies!

ACROSS the DESK

clips from other editors

From The Catskill Mountain Star: Saugerties, New York: Time was when the milkman was "the man nobody knew." He came in the pre-dawn darkness, and only the milk on the doorstep gave evidence of his visit. Now that he works during the day like a normal citizen, it develops that he is the most popular salesman.

Results of a nation-wide survey of milk consumers, revealed at the 50th annual convention of the Milk Industry Foundation, have inspired an industry spokesman to proclaim ecstatically, "Mrs. American Homemaker just loves her milkman" . . . and to add quickly, "But husbands needn't get jealous—it's purely platonic."

Six out of ten housewives reporting that they had opportunities for chatting with the milkman rated him "above average" in friendliness and courtesy compared with other sales people. Four out of ten said he was "average," none rated him lower. In honesty and integrity, the report was the same.

It seems possible that this attitude had much to do with the further fact that 84 per cent of all those interviewed considered milk the most nutritious of all foods; and that these consumers ranked milk at the top of the six foods—milk, meat, bread, cereals, frozen foods, coffee—as the biggest money's worth and the most dependable of comestibles. There would also seem to be a connection between the persuasable milkman and the fact that those who have it delivered drink more milk (an average ten quarts a week) than those who buy it at the store (six quarts).

It is a pleasant thing in this day and age when too many people are too busy hating each other, to find that friendliness and honesty are not only recognized and appreciated, but are actually rewarding to their possessors. Further, the evidence suggests that it might be at least a small gesture toward world peace if the representatives of all the various and sundry enterprises who contact the American home were to emulate the purveyors of milk. Brings to mind, in fact, that old-fashioned expression, "the milk of human kindness."

From The Remington Press, Remington, Indiana: Almost any kind of weather can be encountered, as changeable as things are at this season and particularly where long distances are involved. Too tight a schedule should not be set up, because an attempt to make time under adverse conditions might bring disaster.

"MY DAD REMEMBERS WHEN THE FIRST JUKEBOX CAME TO TOWN."

THE OLD HAT TALE

By C. Phelan

EVERY morning at eight I would take my paper from old Jake the 'newsboy' and step into Manny's for a cup of coffee. Manny was always good for a story or two and a laugh, and the day seemed better for my having goss there. The other morning, however, Manny unloaded a tale heavy with pathos. I haven't been able to forget it all week. Thought you might like to hear it.

"See that old hat on the hook by the telephone?" asked Manny after I'd taken my first sip of coffee.

"The one that looks like it's ready for the rag bag?"

Manny didn't bat an eye. "Remember Marvin Miller?" he asked. "It's Marvin's hat."

"So he's dumped it on you? Don't blame him."

"Marvin's always forgetting his hat; he'll be back for it. But I was talking about the hat. The other morning Marvin's in here, sitting just about where you are now, telling me his troubles. Seems he has a deed for a farm his father left him. He leased the thing for awhile but the tenant ups and buys his own place—so Marvin's farm is going to seed."

"Why doesn't he work the land himself?"

"I think he'd like to, but he's got his eye on some girl here in town she doesn't hanker to be a farmer's wife."

"Give me another cup of coffee."

"Coming up. So who walks in while Marvin and I are talking but Red Burke—you must have seen Red in here. Anyway, as soon as Red hears about this farm he's all questions. Seems Red's got his eye on a girl too, only this girl is wild about country life. So Red tries to talk Marvin into selling out."

"Seems like a good idea," I said.

Manny nodded. "That's what I thought. But Marvin's not so sure. Anyway he said he'd let Red know in a day or two. Then he

"Where's the old hat come in?"

"I'm getting to that. When Marvin left he forgot his hat like he usually does. I told Red about it, so Red runs after him and gives him the hat."

"Very interesting," I said dryly. "Well, I'd better be going."

"It was a windy day," continued Manny, "and as Marvin was walking along with his head down the hat blows off his head. He chased it for half a block—and right there his luck changed."

"It got worse?"

"None. Better. Who should stop his hat for him but the prettiest girl he ever saw—so Marvin says. She picks up his hat, and without making any cracks about the shape it's in she just stands there looking at him real starry-eyed. 'What's wrong?' asks Marvin. 'Your hair—it's exactly like somebody else's I used to know.' This didn't flatter Marvin because he felt like a shaggy bum at the time, but he was happy to find out that her somebody else had run off with another girl."

"This is touching, but I've got work to do," I said.

"Anyway," Manny continues stubbornly, "Marvin came in for supper that night walking on a cloud. Seems this girl has made him forget every other girl he ever knew. She must have, because they'd already arranged to get married."

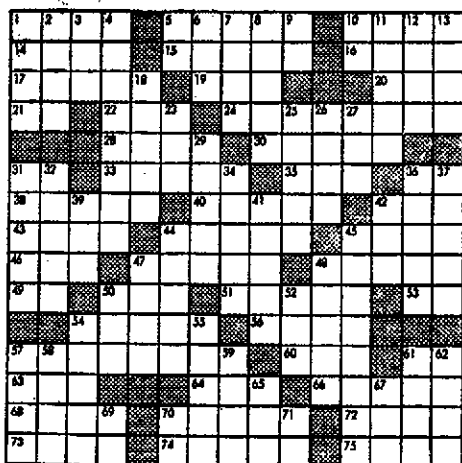

"Married? This Marvin's a fast worker. And Red? Naturally he didn't get the deed to the farm."

"Naturally. Marvin and his wife plan to move out to the farm before the weeks up. But you haven't heard the saddest part."

"It gets sadder?" I asked incredulously.

"For Red it does. Not only does Red lose the farm, but it turns out that the girl who picked up Marvin's hat is the same one he'd planned to marry himself. Ain't that a coincidence?" asks Manny with a sigh.

Answer to Puzzle No. 480

Accident Forum Scheduled Feb. 4

Plans are being made for a series of four night conferences on Industrial Accident Prevention to be held in the auditorium of the Middlesex County Vocational School, Woodbridge, from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. starting on Feb. 4 and each successive Tuesday through Feb. 25.

The sessions will be conducted jointly by the Professional Industrial Safety Association of Perth Amboy and the Middlesex-Somerset Industrial Safety Committee and sponsored by the Middlesex County Safety Council, a division of the New Jersey State Safety Council.

THE SESSIONS will be open to foremen and supervisors from industries in the Middlesex-Somerset counties area and certificates will be awarded to those who attend three of the four sessions. The program committee arranging for speakers and topics at the meetings consist of: William G. Blair, International Smelting & Refining Company, Perth Amboy; G. Harold Buttler, Johnson & Johnson, New Brunswick; Albert R. Hasbrouck, Jr., Art Color Printing Company, Dunellen; Edward F. Szymanski, National Lead Company, Titanium Division, Sayreville; Robert L. Tarbox, New Jersey State Safety Council, Newark; Forrest A. R. Willis, Synco Machine Company, Perth Amboy; Joseph Dwyer, Synco Machine Company, Perth Amboy; Peter Kostic, Mercury Division, Ford Motor Company, Meluchen. Topics and speakers at the four sessions will be announced in the near future.

A sidewalk is rather simple to build and makes a good project for teenagers of the family to help construct. Here are a few construction ideas:

Dig the sidewalk bed about three inches deep. Check the drainage. If the soil holds moisture and drainage is poor, dig another six inches and fill with gravel or cinders. If the earth is well drained, concrete can be poured after the earth has been packed solid with a tamper.

A sidewalk is a good project for teenagers.

Construct forms of 2 by 4 inch stock. Drive 1 by 2-inch stakes at regular intervals to support the forms. Cross-pieces should be located every four or six feet.

The top of the walk should be at least an inch above the ground surface and should be angled from one-fourth to one-half inch for the proper drainage.

Now you're ready to pour the concrete. Be certain to use the concrete mixture for the full depth of the sidewalk.

If you've used cross-pieces, pour concrete into alternate forms—leaving every other form empty until the filled sections are solid enough to hold their shape. Then take out the cross-pieces and fill the empty sections.

Contractors speed the completion of their cement work with power-driven trowels that are operated almost as easily as power lawn mowers. Perhaps you can rent one from a local tool supply house.

Depending on your proficiency with cement finishing tools, you can level the edges or scrape in designs as finishing touches. Then heap burlap, cotton mats or straw on the surface and keep this covering moist for at least 72 hours. This "curing" gives the sidewalk strength.

(Questions from readers about do-it-yourself problems or projects are welcomed. Send them to Thor Research Center, Marango, Ill. They will be answered in these columns or by letter.)
