Willard, Rey Score Victory In Democratic Primary

Democrats Francis H. Willard and Edward R. Rey will be pitted against Republicans Leonard H. Ruppert and Brandon Pusey for the Township Committee next November.

Willard Tuesday captured 553 votes, Rey, 544, and the third Democratic candidate, Herbert W. Wheeler, received only 294 votes.

OF THE 1,818 voters who turned out at the polls for the local contest, only 793 were Democrats, while Republican voters numbered 1,023.

GOP candidates, Ruppert and Pusey, were unopposed. Ruppert received 806 votes, and Pusey, 815.

Highest vote-getter on the Democratic ticket was Committeeman Mayo A. Sisler, candidate for freeholder, who received 688 votes.

IN THE ONLY contest for executive committee, Democrat Herbert Greenberg polled 107 votes to represent the Fourth District, defeating Norman Deitz and Steven Corwin who received 31 and 25 votes respectively.

Congressman Robert W. Kean and Harrison A. Williams swept the township for the Republican and Democratic nominations for U.S. Senate.

Kean polled 528 votes, Bernard S. Shanley, 338 votes, and Robert Morris, 154 votes.

Democrat Williams polled 412 votes, Hoboken Mayor John J. Grogan, 208 votes, and Conservation Commissioner Joseph McLean, 111 votes.

Kean scored an upset in Somerset County by defeating Shanley.

Ruppert Tells Of Resignation From Authority

Leonard H. Ruppert yesterday announced that he is resigning from the Housing Authority because of his Republican nomination to run for Township Committee.

Ruppert said he felt his work on the authority would conflict with his efforts to win election to the committee. He pointed out that the authority's 50-unit apartment project between Hamilton and Somerset would be completed in July, and that many persons he would meet during the campaign would be seeking admission to the project.

HE SAID he did not wish to be charged with favoritism at a time when the authority's program "will depend upon maximum public support and complete bipartisanship."

In sending an early letter of resignation to Mayor Michael Peacos, Ruppert explained that he felt the committee might need the time "to begin thinking about a replacement." He asked his resignation become effective upon receipt and acceptance of this letter by the committee.

Ruppert suggested the committee appoint either a Republican or an Independent to his term in order to keep the authority on a bipartisan representation basis.

HE STATED in the letter, "In view of the importance and special character of its duties, representatives of both parties have decided to lay aside their partisanship so

Socony Application Denied by 5-3 Vote

Preliminary approval of a subdivision of approximately 450 building lots sought by Socony Construction Co. Inc. of Newark Wednesday night was denied by the Planning Board, when board member Albert Milchanoski changed his vote to one of disapproval.

The controversial subdivision application was rejected by a 5-3 vote during a very brief and quiet 30-minute special meeting. The application had drawn heated objections during the past four months from residents who did not want Socony to bring a housing development into the township. The board several times had deadlocked on a decision.

BOARD MEMBER Mayo A. Sisler moved the application be denied on the basis of board attorney Arthur Meredith's opinion that Socony had not met requirements of sewer and water connections and certain technicalities regarding land uses.

Voting to reject were Wendell W. Forbes, Henry Ness, Michael Peacos, Sisler, and Milchanoski, who previously had voted to grant the approval. Against denial of preliminary approval were Lyle E. Hagmann, board chairman; Fred L. Bascom, secretary, and Charles Siorca.

Jack Cohen, attorney for Socony, spoke briefly prior to the vote. He said he felt the applicant had complied with all requirements. "Every time the board has asked us to rectify something, we have done so," Cohen declared.

THE ATTORNEY requested sufficient time to remedy items in question. He asked that the board act upon "the merits of the application, and not technicalities."

A letter of resignation signed by Board member Frank Lynes was turned over to the board secretary by Hagmann, who suggested the board accept Lynes' resignation with regret. The letter will go to the Township Committee for action.

An application by H. Malcolm Adams of Rt. 27 to subdivide an 80-acre tract into 50 building lots was referred back to the subdivision committee for further study.

ACTION was deferred on final approval of Lakeview Estates, a

Zoning Board Denies Two Variances

The Board of Adjustment last night rejected two variance applications to permit erection of dwellings, one on Amwell Road, near the Elizabeth Avenue intersection, and the other at Jefferson Street and Dober Avenue.

Peter Kowachka sought permission to build a single-story dwelling on a lot of 150-foot frontage on Amwell Road. The zoning code calls for lots of 240 feet frontage in that area.

SOMERVILLE ATTORNEY Robert Thompson, who represented Kowachka, said his client proposed to build a dwelling similar to an existing building on the 5 1/2-acre tract.

A nearby resident, Mrs. Peter Juntick, complained that the proposed dwelling leading to the intended driveway would be too close to her house. She commented, "We built in a rural area for room."

Also objecting to granting of the variance was Joseph Nowak.

KOCSI SOUGHT permission to build a dwelling on a lot of insufficient size, 70-by-100-feet, at Jefferson Street and Dober Avenue.

Fleckenstine To Speak To Millstone Grange

The Millstone Valley Grange 209 will hold an open house meeting in Grange Hall in East Millstone at 8 p.m. Monday, N. L. Fleckenstine, manager of the New York Region of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, will be guest speaker.

Fleckenstine will discuss the Hoover Commission's recommendations for putting an end to wasteful spending by the federal government.

The program will include special musical features and brief talks by well-known grangers. Refreshments will be served.

CBA Constitution Change Extends Greater Power to Directors Board

The Civic Betterment Association Tuesday night gave greater authority to its board of directors by passing several revisions to the group's constitution.

At its second regular meeting of the year at the Sportsmen Grill, Rt. 27, the association passed a major revision authorizing the board to act as official spokesman of the CBA on controversial issues.

PRESIDENT Joel Weiss said, "It is absolutely necessary that the CBA function as an action organization. In order to do this, the board of directors must have the authority to act on major issues when it is not possible or practical to get a vote of the entire membership."

Laurence Geiber, a member of the Charter Study Commission, gave a general report on the progress of the commission. He pointed out that it is too early for the group to make specific recommendations to the township on what form of local government would best serve the interest of the community.

Geiber said the commission is doing everything possible to gather all the facts concerning various forms of local government. He urged greater public participation in the unit's activities.

"IF FINDINGS of the commission are not popular," Geiber stated, "the people of Franklin Township will not get a new form."

Township Talk

Republicans are happy over the number of GOP voters that turned out at the polls Tuesday, but Democrats do not appear worried at the smaller amount of voters registered with their party that cast ballots.

One Republican pointed out that his party had no local contest in the primary, but that of the 1,818 voters which went to the polls, 1,023 were Republicans.

A usually well-informed Democrat said she believed the Democratic vote was actually a heavy one. She felt the GOP vote was much lighter in proportion, considering the large amount of voters registered Republican.

Another speculated reason for the comparatively low Democratic turnout was reported due to the fact that the party primary was a friendly one with no mudslinging among candidates. Spokesmen for both parties said there was little effort to get out the vote.

The Township Committee soon will have the job of appointing a replacement to the Housing Authority seat which is being vacated by the resignation of Leonard H. Ruppert.

There is more than a rumor in the air that Dr. Milton J. Hoffman of Amwell Rd., Middlebush, will be the man nominated to replace Ruppert on the authority.

Minor Little League To Be Started

The township Little League voted to establish a minor league to back up the major Little League teams last Thursday night at the East Franklin Firehouse.

Last season the league consisted of four teams of fifteen players each. This year another four teams, each having twelve players, will make up the minor league. If the final player turnout is large enough, and if enough adult help can be recruited, the minor league may be increased to six teams, a league spokesman reported. In this way from 108 to 132 boys will be able to participate in Little League baseball, as compared with 80 players in 1957.

THE GAMES of the four major league teams will be played Monday through Thursday evenings. Fridays are held open for rained-out games. Minor league games will be played on Saturdays.

There is still an urgent need for adults to participate in Little League activities. Although participation is open to all township residents, particular stress is placed upon active participation by the parents of the players. In addition to men, the league needs the help of mothers, particularly at the refreshment stands which is open at all games and which is an important source of revenue for the league.

Plans for the expansion of the present field house at the Little League field were discussed. It is proposed that the building be enlarged to include a meeting room, rest rooms and a scorekeeper's balcony in addition to the existing refreshment stand and equipment storage facilities. Plans for the expansion are being drawn by James E. Thompson, township architect.

OTHER improvements in facilities include the completion of grading and the sodding of the field, the replacement of the field fence and the addition of more bleachers. Grading of the field could not be completed last weekend as planned because the ground was too soft from the recent rain to permit heavy equipment to enter the field. As soon as weather permits, the fence erected and billboards replaced.

Several billboards are still available for this season. Local advertisers may contact league chairman Oil Lattanzio, assistant chairman Richard Miller, or any other league member, to arrange for a billboard.

The next meeting of the Little League will be held Apr. 24 at 8 p.m. at the East Franklin Firehouse on Pine Grove Avenue.

Stock Car Races Set Sunday Afternoon

The regular weekly NASCAR stock car races featuring pre-war cars with postwar engines will be staged Sunday afternoon at Old Bridge Stadium, the big hard-surfaced speedway where 80 mph speeds are common.

YOUR GARDEN THIS WEEK

By Your Rutgers Garden Reporter

You can pamper a lawn almost to the extreme of "killing it with kindness" but usually this does not apply to lime.

It's possible to over-lime a lawn, but most lawns suffer from too little rather than from too much.

AMONG the thousands of new property owners in New Jersey especially, and even among old-time gardeners, a frequent question is:

"Is liming a lawn necessary? If so, why and when?"

Liming really is a lot simpler than a lot of people try to make it. To begin with, says Dr. C. R. Skogley, extension turf specialist at the College of Agriculture, soils here in the Northeast are naturally acid.

LAWN GRASSES do not thrive on acid soil, and so the soil must be neutralized or "sweetened." Lime does this job well, and provides calcium and magnesium, both essential plant foods.

But that's not all. Lime also improves the structure of the soil so that grass needs less water to grow.

The best form of lime to use is ground or pulverized limestone. Dolomitic limestone is best if you can get it, Dr. Skogley says, because it's rich in magnesium as well as calcium.

YOU KNEW what you were doing if you applied lime last fall. That's the best season, according to our specialist, but lime can be spread at any time at all. One of our old bulletins on lime used to say to spread lime "anytime but Sunday."

Lime will not burn the grass. How much to use depends on how acid and how heavy your soil is.

If you want to know exactly how much lime your lawn needs, you can find out by getting a soil test from your county agricultural agent.

BUT YOU MAY want to get on with the job. In that case, you can play by ear. If you have not limed your soil and it is heavy, spread 50 to 80 pounds to 1,000 square feet every year for two or three years and then 25 pounds to 1,000 square feet afterward.

Dr. Skogley says these are average figures and can be safely used if you do not have the results of a soil test to guide you. Light, sandy soils need only about half as much lime as heavy, clay soil.

If you think your lawn needs lime, better put it on as soon as possible.

Garden Center Opens Facilities

New expanded facilities, including a civic-center auditorium capable of seating 200 persons, are being opened to the public this weekend at the DeVries Garden Center on Rt. 27.

The auditorium, which will be used by various organizations and civic groups, includes complete stage and kitchen facilities.

ALBERT S. De Vries, the owner, has announced that the center's physical facilities are being expanded to accommodate and foster increasing interest in home improvement and individual landscape design. In connection with that, De Vries said, a graduate landscape designer has been added to the center staff in recent weeks.

The new facilities will be open to the public throughout this weekend, De Vries said.

Rose Plants Need Feeding Four Times Annually

Roses need special nourishment four times a year to achieve their maximum size and beauty.

A dependable tested plant food, preferably one which has been formulated especially for roses, is recommended. The four feedings should be timed as closely as possible to the following schedule:

1. EARLY SPRING: As soon as the ground can be worked, spread fertilizer around the rose bush and work it lightly into the soil.

2. BEFORE BLOOMING: A second application at this time helps the healthy bush produce bigger blooms.

3. AFTER BLOOMING: This feeding replaces the nourishment consumed during the heavy blooming.

4. END OF GROWING PERIOD: Apply the fourth feeding in the fall about two weeks before the end of the growing season to assure a better start the following spring.

When you buy your fertilizer, follow the directions on the package as to amount to use.

Briets

It pays to make price comparisons when buying cheese. Extension Service marketing specialists say a pound of cheese in a large-size package usually costs less than a pound of the same cheese in smaller units. Also, the style of packaging may influence the cost. Look for the cheese you want in simple wrappings if you wish to economize. Imported cheese costs more than the same kind made in a mild processed cheese. Imported cheese is not likely to affect cost.

New Jersey Population Rise Tops National Average, Survey Shows

The most detailed study of New Jersey's economy ever undertaken was made public today.

Written by 24 members of nine Rutgers University colleges under a contract with the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development, the 20-chapter survey of New Jersey's economy covering areas from agriculture to education, contains more than 300,000 words and 150 tables and 40 charts.

The State's economic profile as presented by Dr. Salomon J. Flink, Professor of Economics at the State University's School of Business Administration here, also carries projections of ten major economic indicators for 1960, 1965, 1970 and 1975.

Among the survey's highlights are:

1. POPULATION—One of the most densely populated states with 720 persons per square mile, New Jersey is increasing more rapidly than the national average. Population is 83 per cent urban and moves frequently inter-state. Females outnumber males 103 to 100. Southeast and seashore counties will contain 30 per cent of population by 1975; eight northeastern counties will have 67 per cent and will absorb 1,405,000 of estimated state increase of 2,225 million. Essex and Bergen will be over one million by 1976. Hudson will stabilize at two-thirds of a million. Union and Middlesex will be over half-million. Bergen will be over half-million. Total population will be over seven million.

2. CLIMATE—The State's climate is unique; hotter in summer and colder in winter than its latitude indicates. Its rainfall reliability is one of its most important climate factors. "Fluctuations" in annual climate are seasonal. There is no evidence of tropicalization.

Air pollution is becoming a significant weather factor. Much research remains to be done on the State's weather and climate which

24 Experts Put Report Together

In January of 1957, Dr. Joseph E. McLean, New Jersey Commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development, asked Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, Rutgers president, if the State University would make a comprehensive survey of the state's economy.

Dr. Jones assented to the university's undertaking the assignment. He named Dr. Salomon J. Flink, professor of economics at Rutgers School of Business Administration, Newark, as project director.

Dr. Flink assembled 24 experts in fields from agriculture to education from nine Rutgers colleges and the survey began. It involved over 5,000 miles of travel for the project director and untold thousands by other members of the team.

Results of the study are to be published in June by the Rutgers University Press. The report will be over 300,000 words, have more than 150 tables and 40 charts.

has not been examined thoroughly since 1888.

3. WATER RESOURCES—New Jersey's future growth will be significantly retarded unless quick and effective measures are taken to solve its water problem. New Jersey is blessed with plenty of water but needs storage facilities. Current (TAMS) engineering studies are too conservative in forecasting future water needs; 500 million gallons a day for industrial use rather than 403 million forecast is estimated. To this must be added residential demands which will bring the total to over 1 billion gallons per day by 1975.

4. EMPLOYMENT—Gain in New Jersey has been faster than the national average since 1900 (77 per cent against 107). Economy is crucially tied to manufacturing. Since World War II New Jersey has lagged behind national increase rate in manufacturing. Gradual manufacturing decrease, and the increase in service activities are not only inevitable but favor stability. Growth resumed, which is sound, augurs well for the future. Total non-agricultural employment will increase 31 per cent by 1975 to 2,48 million. Manufacturing employment will be 1,09 million of that total.

5. PERSONAL INCOME—New Jersey's per capita income in 1936 was nearly 23.5 per cent above the national average and was fifth in the country. Since 1929, the State's per capita personal income, measured in constant prices, has tended to grow more slowly than the U.S. This is due to high growth rate in formerly underdeveloped areas and forces peculiar to State's economy. Personal income per capita of state residents in 1956 dollars will rise 40 per cent by 1975 to $3,340. Total state personal income will rise 84 per cent to $24.3 billion.

6. MANUFACTURING—Manufacturing in the State between 1900-50 grew at a faster rate than U.S. overall and faster than the average growth rate of the 10 most important manufacturing states. Despite the optimism must be tempered by a slowing up in second quarter of the period and this causes some concern for the future. In a special study, the survey found that new manufacturing plants located in New Jersey because of availability of space, adequate transportation, adequate labor supply and reasonable taxes

In that order. Labor supply conditions in the State—particularly from a quality standpoint—were more disappointing than any of the others. The State's tax picture is definitely attractive to industry.

7. INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH—New Jersey plays a major role in U.S. research. Over nine per cent of funds and 10 per cent of (industrial) research manpower are invested in State's research units. Research best typifies growth industries. It also is desirable because it brings high-level, well paid personnel and demands less in utility services. Jersey firms spend significantly more per scientist than national average. Chemical industry leads in number of firms in research; electrical industry leads in numbers employed in research.

8. LABOR RELATIONS—Growth rate of State's labor movement between 1939 and 1956 exceeded that of the nation as a whole, membership trailing in those years. Currently there are about 700,000 union members in the State, about 38.5 per cent of total non-agricultural employment; U.S. per centage is 33. Seventy-three per cent of collective bargaining agreements in the State provide for union shop; 61 per cent have checkoff. For the period 1930-56, New Jersey workers on strike lost, on the average, less time per worker than strikers in every major industrial state other than Michigan. In the ten years since the Taft-Hartley Act was passed, New Jersey has averaged 219 strikes per annum. Excluding potential intra-state industry strikes from total potential strikes on the basis of Taft-Hartley notices filed, New Jersey averages approximately one strike in every 10 potential strike situations.

New Jersey Population Rise Tops

State is one of 30 states and territories which have minimum wage laws. By American standards, New Jersey has a complete social insurance program. It is one of four states which provide cash sickness benefits for persons unemployed as a result of non-work-connected illness or accident.

10. COMMERCE AND TRADE—New Jersey's retail record over three decades has been "highly satisfactory." With few exceptions, State has shown more favorable growth pattern than nation. Notable has been 21.3 per cent increase in wholesale establishments while Middle Atlantic states dropped 6.3 per cent. Jersey's small size, fine transportation network and high per capita income add up to a good market.

11. RESORT INDUSTRY—New Jersey is in a good position for making the most of her resorts. But despite some growth in dollar volume, the State's resort business has actually been dwindling in recent years in terms of per capita usage. The State is in keen competition with other states and for the future it is necessary that studies be made to determine accurately facts about the resort business.

12. FINANCIAL COMMUNITY—New Jersey is the only state in the union in which the number of bank accounts exceeds that of the population. Future State banking and finance developments will be determined by what happens beyond the State's borders. An ungent and widespread need in banking and finance is the training and development of executive talent.

13. TRANSPORTATION—The State's highways are badly overloaded. Highways are safer than the national average; the New Jersey rate was 3.8 deaths per 100 million vehicle miles; the national average, 6.4. Fears that the modern controlled access turnpike or parkway entails loss of routes have proven groundless. The State will be eligible for about $1.5 billion in federal highway construction grants in the next 13 years. Electric power sales will rise 158 per cent from 1956 to 1975 and in the latter year will be 34.1 million kilowatt hours.

14. HOUSING—New Jersey needs to build 330,000 new homes in the ten-year period ending in 1965. The $4,000 to $7,000 per year family is the forgotten one in New Jersey housing. Dwelling units will rise 32 per cent to 2,445,000 by 1975.

15. AGRICULTURAL ECONOMY—New Jersey cash receipts from farm marketings top all states on a per acre land basis. Figure has tripled in 20 years and in 1956 was $336. Agricultural income will rise to $770 million by 1965 and to $410 million by 1975 but all branches will not share equally. Egg production increased 231 per cent from 1940 to 1956, greater than any other state. Monmouth County tops the nation in number of laying birds.

16. DIRECT PRICE regulation by New Jersey—An unfair competition statute potentially could cover price stabilization of all branded commodities but has remained dormant and not actually provided a floor for prices.

17. GOVERNMENT FINANCE—Despite its reputation as a low tax state, New Jersey's combined local and state taxes are about the same as other Middle Atlantic states and more than the national average. Tax system lacks elasticity. State is vulnerable to inflation because tax revenues trail costs. Per capita expenditures have risen from $33.10 to $69.21 in 1956, same as national pattern. Road building absorbed five times its proportionate share in 1956 compared to 1946 but State lagged in education and public welfare. New Jersey residents' 1956 State taxes were lowest in U.S.—$48.50 but combined State and local taxes were $167.32, exceeding the national average of $162.05. Total government expenditures in 1975 will be up 84 per cent over 1956 or $940 million. Budgetary expenditures alone will be up 96 per cent or $600 million in the same period. Both figures are stated in 1956 dollars.

18. EDUCATION—Schools: New Jersey is cheating its children and cheating itself. The educational system has been allowed to lag behind the economy. Percentage of 14-15 age group in school has risen 70 to 80 per cent since 1910. In 1940, 18.4 per cent of those 25 and over had high school education; in 1950 percentage was 21.5 (above national average). New Jersey high school enrollment will increase 80 per cent from 1956 to 1975. The State is short on classrooms and the number of teachers with sub-standard certificates rose from 2,800 to 4,600 between 1948 and 1957 (37,000 teachers in State). State aid is $92 per pupil, half of New York. No incentive provided for consolidation of school districts into economically and educationally sound units.

Colleges: In 1900, 1 in 25 persons of the 16-21 age group went on to college; now it is 9 out of 25. By 1975, it may well reach one of every two persons. New Jersey will feel problem even more acutely because of rapidly-expanding population, high income level, urbanized population and industrial demand for professional and scientific skills. New Jersey has 39 of nation's 1896 colleges, enrolls 2.12 per cent of nation's college students. Too little attention paid to graduate study—70 per cent of Jersey's graduate students study out of the State. Only 14 colleges offer graduate work.

Public junior colleges hold great potential for alleviating future problems. Only ten now operate in the State. Tradition of free society demands that both public and private channels of educational opportunity be kept open.

township students to enter the teaching profession. An applicant who already holds another scholarship is still qualified to apply. Scholarship holders will not be required to accept a teaching position in this township.

Although these scholarship were first established several years ago, this will be the first year in which an award has been made. Qualified township students are urged to submit their applications as soon as possible.

Administration of the scholarships is in the hands of the scholarship committee. It is composed of one member from each of the sponsoring organizations, plus a school board member. Mrs. W. G. Pattison, member of the Board of Education, is committee chairman. Kurt G. Leuser represents the Lions Club, Mrs. C. J. Schwabe is representative of the Parent Teachers' Associations, Mrs. Phyllis Adams represents the Teachers' Association, and A. G. Sidar is member-at-large from the community.

FUNDS FOR THE 1958-59 scholarship awards are currently on hand. The Lions Club, which has pledged to underwrite one four-year scholarship each year, has funds set aside to guarantee completion of its scholarships.

The principals of the several high schools attended by Franklin students have received application forms and details for applying.

of government. The commission will try to make the right decision, as well as the most popular," he added.

In answer to a question by board member Victor Torris, Genber said he felt it is important to have a good workable form of local government, no matter what type of community one is dealing with—whether it be industrial, residential or rural.

Several chairman of CBA committees reported on activities of their groups.

WEISS announced that a special meeting of the CBA would be held prior to May 20 to examine issues of the school transportation referendum which voters will decide upon on that date.

New Linden Generating Station

In answer to New Jersey's growing desire to Live Better Electrically, Public Service this week formally opened its newest generating station—Linden.

Built at a cost of $100,000,000 the new station initially has two units of 225,000 kilowatt capacity each. The station is so designed that additional units can be built when the demand for more electricity arises.

Since the Spring of 1915, Public Service has increased its generating capacity by more than 100%, so that today with its new Linden Station it has a total generating capacity of about 2,500,000 kilowatts to serve our electric customers.

Here is an excellent indicator of the expansion of the economy of the State of New Jersey, for the growth of industry, of commerce, of homes can be measured in the increased demand for electric service.

Public Service believing in the steady growth of New Jersey's economy, is building at the juncture of Overpeck Creek and the Hackensack River, the new Bergen Generating Station with two initial units of 290,000 kilowatts each. This station will be in service in 1959 and will represent an estimated expenditure of $105,000,000.

Work has started on the new Mercer Generating Station on the Delaware River. This station costing an estimated $130,000,000 will have initially two units of 320,000 kilowatts each, one of which will be in service in 1960—the other in 1961.

Be assured that Public Service looks to the future with confidence and is building to meet the electrical demand it will bring.

"The Big Swap"

Little League Tryouts Finished

The township Little League Saturday completed tryouts for its 1958 baseball season. A total of 147 boys were registered for four major Little League teams and four minor league teams.

Each major team this year will be supported by a farm team. Younger boys and those lacking experience are expected to be assigned to the minor team. The better players will go directly into the major team. As the season progresses and the boys gain skill it is expected that some players will move up to the major squad from the minor team.

THE SECONDARY teams serve the function of training boys to fill major Little League vacancies during the season, of providing experienced players for future seasons, and to avoid the need for turning away boys for lack of facilities.

A short practice session was held Saturday following team assignments. Due to inclement weather, not all boys who had registered were present at the field. Team assignments were completed from registration rosters.

All boys who have registered for Little League baseball were asked to be at the league field this Saturday at 9 a.m. for practice. Those who do not know their team assignments may find out at that time.
